City tables signing contract for water line rehabilitation

Snyder City Council again tabled signing a contract with In-Place Linings, Inc. for city water line rehabilitation during its meeting Monday night.

The council voted 3-1 to table any action on the contract after a motion to enter into a lease with the company was defeated 3-1. Council woman Vernest Tippens was the dissenting vote both times.

"You have to start somewhere. I don't know how much more education we can get on it (water line rehabilitation)," said Tippens.

In-Place Linings, Inc. leases equipment by which water lines are cleaned and lined with cement. The council has previously viewed a video on the process and talked with C.O. Davin, owner of the Fort Worth based company. The council has also heard a report from Parkhill, Smith and Cooper of Lubbock on water line repair as contrasted to water line replacement.

But other council members expressed concern about signing a contract because the city does not have a "game plan" for using the equipment after a proposed project along Ave. T is completed.

Included in the tabling motion were instructions to city staff to draw up a 12-month plan of implementing the rehabilitation equipment.

Mayor Troy Williamson presented the council with a city map on which he plotted complaints received by city hall over the last 12 months regarding city water.

Part of the plan to be formulated by city staff will be a priority list of water lines to be rehabilitated.

Rough estimates brought out in the meeting revealed that rehabilitating city water lines would cost approximately $5 per foot as compared to $12 per foot for pipe replacement.

Leasing the rehabilitation equipment and contracting a crew to run it would cost the city an estimated $250,000 for one year. The money would come from $302,000 budgeted by the council for general water system improvements.

In other action, the council approved on first reading a resolution opposing a hazardous waste facility in Mitchell County.

"It (the facility) can't spell any good for Snyder or Scurry County," said council member Mike Thornton.

COUNTS HERE — State Rep. David Counts spoke to Western Texas College faculty members in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus Monday. Counts also addressed WTC students, and was the guest of an

Counts says Scurry pivotal in his effort for re-election

Calling Scurry County pivotal in his re-election bid, State Rep. David Counts Monday called on supporters to be visible in the period leading up to the Nov. 6 general election.

Speaking at a $25-a-plate appreciation luncheon at Willow Park Inn, the Knox City Democrat said the 78th House District seat would be decided in Scurry County.

Counts said his opponent, Republican John Pennington of Sweetwater, is expected to run strong in his hometown. "I have to do well in Scurry County."

Pennington, an insurance man and Sweetwater school trustee, has attacked Counts for his vote on school financing.

Counts defended that vote saying he voted in favor of the first bill that would have meant $19 million more in state support for schools in his house district. The final bill, however, which he also supported, earmarked $13 million for schools in the 78th District.

"Not one person in the 78th District asked me to vote any other way. I have received commendations and letters of appreciation from every school board or superintendent in the district with the exception of Sweetwater where my opponent is on the school board."

Counts said Pennington called him early in the year to commend him for his representation of the district. Counts recalled that Pennington told him he intended to run because of things he wanted to implement.

"It's hard to implement per-

14 indicted by grand jury; two for aggravated assault

Fourteen indictments were returned against 11 individuals Monday during the October session of the Scurry County grand jury.

Two former Snyder men were each indicted on two separate counts of aggravated assault in an incident involving a city of Snyder police sergeant.

The grand jury met for more than 12 hours Monday, completing its work about 9:30 p.m.

Herman Lawrence Malone, 40, and Rayfield Anthony Cooks, 39, both who now reside in Lubbock, were arrested early Saturday morning following an incident in the 3400 block of 34th St.

Police officer Trevlyn Pitner answered a disturbance call about 2:30 a.m. in which a 34-year-old Snyder man, James Wells, sustained a shotgun wound in a disturbance with Malone and Cooks. Wells was treated and released at Cogdell Hospital.

Malone and Cooks were each indicted for aggravated assault by shooting Wells with a deadly weapon. Bond for both men was set for $10,000.

Malone and Cooks also were each indicted for aggravated assault on a peace officer. A gunshot was fired at the police car. The suspects, driving a 1983 Cadillac, also struck the patrol car and caused extensive front-end damage. The collision caused the squad car's air bags to activate, resulting in minor injury to Pitner's left arm.

Malone and Cooks left the scene and later turned themselves in to the Scurry County sheriff's office. The pair were originally charged with attempted capital murder.

Bond for each man on the second indictment was set at $25,000. Both remain in the Scurry County jail.

Also indicted Monday was 28-year-old Robert Dale Wood of Rt. 3, Snyder. He is charged with the Iraq has strengthened its forces in southern Iraq and Kuwait and has now deployed nearly half its 1 million-man army to defend the occupied territory, U.S. military sources said today.

In the Persian Gulf, meanwhile, the aircraft carrier USS Independence entered on a visit intended partly as a "show of force" against Iraq, a Navy officer said in Saudi Arabia.

The 79,000-ton carrier and several ships of her battle group passed through the Strait of Hormuz, the only gateway to the gulf, today and are now operating in the waterway, a statement from the Pentagon said today.

"The Independence and its escorts will remain in the Persian Gulf for a short period to conduct normal operations," the Pentagon said.

More Egyptian soldiers also were headed to Saudi Arabia today. Two ships passed through the Suez Canal headed for the Saudi Red Sea port of Yanbu. Canal officials said they carried troops and military hardware but gave no details.

At the United Nations, Iraq unexpectedly postponed its speech to the General Assembly on Monday just hours after President Bush hinted that an Iraqi withdrawal from Kuwait could help resolve Arab-Israeli tensions.

Iraq's U.N. Mission gave no explanation for rescheduling the address to Wednesday. Diplomats speculated, however, that Baghdad wanted time to evaluate Bush's message.

Earlier Monday, Iraqi Ambassador Abdul Amir al-Anbari praised Bush for saying he preferred "a diplomatic outcome."

In his speech, Bush said Iraq's

Routine topics face appraisal district board

Scurry County Appraisal District board of directors met this morning at Willow Park Inn for routine business.

Minutes of the September meeting and bills payable were presented for approval to the four board members present.

L.R. Pevler, chief appraiser, discussed the pension plan, stating that he had been approached by a representative of a company with an alternative plan to the existing one. Board members discussed the pros and cons of changing and decided to talk with a professional consultant before making a decision.

Pevler reported that the new tape drive and graphic terminal approved during the last meeting had been received and were being installed.

Board members present were Bill Voss, Mickey Sterling, John Reed and Julius Roemisch.

unconditional withdrawal from Kuwait could create "opportunities; for Iraq and Kuwait to settle their differences permanently; for the states of the gulf themselves to build new arrangements for stability; and for all the states and peoples of the region to settle the conflict that divides the Arabs from Israel."

The U.S. military sources in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, said analysts estimate there are well over 400,000 Iraqi troops in southern Iraq and Kuwait, compared to 360,000 a week ago.

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "One of the wonderful things about Democracy is that we have complete control over how we pay our taxes—cash, check or money order."

Last year, Americans spent just under $100 million on exercise equipment. That's something over $2.5 million per day, and that doesn't count other sporting equipment such as basketballs, diving gear, bowling balls, golf clubs, tennis gear, ski equipment and sports shoes.

We suspect that more than half of these items purchased for fitness are stored in the guest bedroom closet behind the card table used for dinner parties.

It seems that weight gain simply can't be separated from what we eat and how much. A recent survey concluded that men worry less than the gals about what they eat and how it affects their physics.

The national poll says fewer than a third of the men interviewed feel guilty about chomping down on food they like. This may account for the fact that women generally outlive men by seven years.

Some health nuts have suggested that persons should carefully read food labels before consumption. This exercise will result in the burning of eight calories if done while running in place for five minutes.

Watching other people eat doesn't do much for caloric intake, especially since it motivates most of us to join in—nobody wants to appear impolite. It's irritating to watch some people eat. School teacher Bobbie Taylor, for example, feeds an appetite fit for a derrick hand. She can eat anything and as much as she wants—yet remains sinfully thin. Some of us can gain two pounds by watching her eat.

It appears evident that eating and exercise are closely tied to becoming fit and trim. What we need is a potato chip sack so difficult to open that it burns off the necessary calories to make eating chips okay.

Ask Us

Q—Why can't we have more speakers at the football field so that we can hear more clearly?

A—Superintendent Dalton Moseley said that the addition of more speakers is expected to be costly and in past budgets the school board has been forced to cut back. However, he did add that he considers the sound system at Tiger Stadium a "priority item" and believes the board will look into correcting the problem in the near future.

Grid contest

The Snyder-Big Spring tie spoiled the chance for a perfect score in last week's SDN Football Contest. David Lovett of 3107 Ave. U had four misses to win the first place $50.

A number of entrants had five misses, and even the tie-breaker procedure produced a tie for second and third places with both predicting the correct total score of 28 points. Charlie Morrow of E. 308 E. Hwy. and Jo Alyce McMullan of 2804 35th St. will each receive $20.

Another contest appears in this issue.

Architect of SAC dead at 83

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Retired Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, the gruff, cigar-chomping "Iron Eagle" who built the nation's global nuclear strike force and suggested the United States threaten to bomb North Vietnam "back into the Stone Age," is dead at 83.

The four-star Air Force general died of a heart attack Monday at the base hospital.

In addition to transforming the war-weary Strategic Air Command into a force that could deliver nuclear weapons anywhere in the world, LeMay dropped the order to drop the A-bomb on Japan and directed the Berlin Airlift in 1948.

In 1968 he ran for vice president as George Wallace's running mate.

During World War II, LeMay was instrumental in pressing the daylight bombing offensive against the Nazis. He led missions personally, demanding bombers not use evasive maneuvers over target areas thick with anti-aircraft fire.

Transferred to the Pacific, he organized the B-29 bombing campaign against Japan. His planes dropped the atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. But he said later that Japan had already been beaten by incendiary bombing.

"We went ahead and dropped the bombs because President Truman told me to do it," he said in a 1985 interview.

LeMay was in charge of the Air Force in Europe in 1948 when the Soviet Union cut off access to West Berlin. His management of the Berlin Airlift kept West Berlin supplied and dismayed Stalin.

He became Air Force vice chief of staff in 1957 and chief of staff in 1961.

Contending strategic air power held the key to U.S. security, LeMay pushed for a modern bomber force. He ushered in the B-52, still part of the nation's nuclear deterrent.

Lubbock Downs gets 2 more months to secure financing

AUSTIN (AP) — Lubbock Downs has two more months to arrange its financing or face loss of its Class 2 horse racing license, the Texas Racing Commission decided.

The commission's horse section voted 3-0 on Monday after Lubbock Downs board member Louis "Bud" Farr said the track would voluntarily surrender its pari-mutuel permit if financing can't be fully arranged by Dec. 1.

"I want it understood that December ... is it," said Commissioner Hugh Fitzsimons.

The track has been struggling to secure financing for more than a year.

So far, only two other Class 2 tracks have conducted pari-mutuel racing — Bandera Downs north of San Antonio and G. Rollie White Downs near Brady. Bandera Downs is racing, but G. Rollie White lost money and didn't reopen this year.

Also Monday, officials of Manor Downs and the commission decided to delay that track's opening date from Friday until Oct. 11.

Angie Roberts, commission spokeswoman, said that although construction at the track east of Austin should be finished by Friday, the officials decided the extra time would "ensure that all systems are up and running" before racing begins.

The commission's horse section voted 3-0 on Monday to renew the track's Class 2 license.

Your Birthday

Oct. 3, 1990

Under most conditions you function extremely well in partnership arrangements, but in the year ahead some of your greatest successes are likely to be achieved independently of others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) In order to appease another today, you might feel compelled to make a promise you know you will not be able to keep. Unfortunately this tactic will only make matters worse. Libra, treat yourself to a birthday gift.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) This is one of those days when the spirit might be willing while the flesh is weak. Your power to rationalize your way out of not doing it may be much more formidable than your good intentions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Within a group with whom you'll socialize today there may be someone in particular you're anxious to impress. The best way to do it is to be yourself; the worst way is to be pretentious.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Deep down you might not be as sure of yourself today as you would like associates to think. These feelings may induce you to do something by way of foolish bravado which could affect your image.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Consider carefully today the terms in which you express yourself in verbal or written statements. Questionable comments could be grossly misinterpreted to your detriment.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It is not a good policy at this time to spend in advance funds you hope to be receiving shortly. If your schedule is disrupted, it could put you in a tight pinch down the line.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) People you are especially fond of might be the very ones who let you down today. Their reasons will be difficult to comprehend, even when explanations are offered.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) There is a possibility you might become involved in some type of clandestine misadventure today. What appears intriguing romantically could end up as a heartache later.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try not to overwhelm your social calendar at this time. Instead of attempting to meet all of your obligations in one fell swoop, take into consideration there might be too many accounts to settle.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You'll be aware of your ambitious objectives today, but your motivation might not be strong enough to successfully fuel your intentions. Half-hearted efforts won't cut it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be extremely careful today that you do not treat your peers in a condescending manner. They will resent it if they sense you feel you are just a little bit better than they are.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Commercial conditions could be a trifle more complex for you than they initially appear. Don't try to handle serious business matters without first doing your homework.

Study links drinking with death before reaching 65

NEW YORK (AP) — Women who took at least two alcoholic drinks a day were three times more likely than abstainers to die before age 65, a study found.

The difference was nearly two-fold for men in the study, which was based on a national sample of people who died in 1986.

For women, 40.7 percent of so-called heavier drinkers died before age 65 versus 13.2 percent of abstainers. For men, the figures were 42.3 percent versus 22.4 percent.

Even people classified as moderate or light drinkers showed higher death rates than the abstainers.

The numbers cannot be interpreted as indicating risks of early death because of the way the study was done, cautioned co-author Darryl Bertolucci.

The study began with people who were already dead, and it worked backward to classify them according to their drinking habits, rather than starting with people of known habits and following them to find their risk of early death.

Nonetheless, the study "does show a relationship that needs to be looked into," he said.

Bertolucci, a statistician at the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, presented the results Monday at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association.

The study used data on the drinking habits during adulthood of 8,303 men and 7,158 women, ages 25 or older, obtained several months after their deaths from next of kin or other knowledgeable sources.

Those who had fewer than 12 drinks a year were classified as abstainers. Light drinkers were those who had averaged up to three drinks a week, moderate drinkers were those taking four to 13 drinks a week, and heavier drinkers were those who took two or more drinks a day.

Among men, 33 percent of moderate drinkers and 32 percent of light drinkers died before age 65. For women, the figures were 29 percent and 26 percent respectively.

As expected, cirrhosis of the liver was a more frequent cause of death in men for heavier drinkers than lighter drinkers or abstainers. Cancers of the trachea, bronchus, lung and esophagus increased with greater drinking for both men and women.

Similar increases were seen for suicide among women. But deaths from motor vehicle accidents were not related to drinking levels in either sex. Bertolucci stressed that the study focused on long-term drinking behavior, while traffic deaths might be more related to how much a person was drinking just before the accident.

Bertolucci said 25.2 percent of the men and 7.6 percent of the women in the study were classified as heavier drinkers, 17.1 percent of the men and 8.3 percent of the women were ranked as moderate drinkers, 27.2 percent of the men and 23.1 percent of the women were light drinkers, and 30.6 percent of the men and 61 percent of the women were called abstainers.

spade to dummy's ace, dropping East's king and scoring up the slam. So what can poor East do about this?

East must create an illusion. If he wins the opening lead with the jack of diamonds, for instance, and then returns a heart, declarer may well believe that East made a lead-directing four-diamond bid on only a five-card suit and that West was leading from 9-6-2 of diamonds. In this event, South will duly take his finesse in trumps (the right percentage play) and will go down.

It helps for South to know the style of his East opponent. If East is known to be a conservative player who would never come in at the four-level with only a five-card suit, then South should figure out what the defender's game is and drop the lone spade king.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books. © 1990, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

The four-diamond bid by East was a two-edged sword. It would either get West off to the right lead or result in a good sacrifice for non-vulnerable East. It certainly did not deter South from driving to slam. Obviously declarer would have preferred that his partner's strength be in the spade suit (dummy's king of diamonds was a wasted card). But all of us have been in worse contracts than a slam apparently dependent upon a successful finesse in the trump suit.

However, here the layout of the cards offered a lesson in psychology. Suppose East wins the opening diamond lead and returns a low diamond. South will ruff and West will discard. What will that tell declarer about the location of the king of spades? It will become child's play for South to play a

Houston line coach kicks photographer

HOUSTON (AP) — Chris Corr went to the NFL game between Houston and San Diego Sunday to do his job as a free lance photographer but instead became the center of a controversy after he was kicked in the ribs by Oilers assistant coach Bob Young during a sidelines incident.

Young, the Oilers' 300-pound offensive line coach, was backing away from an out-of-bounds play when he tripped over the 150-pound Corr, who was shooting a picture of the Oilers' bench.

Young jumped to his feet and delivered a kick to Corr's ribs, leaving the photographer sore on Monday and angry at the Oilers' response to the incident.

"I really didn't want to make a big deal out of this, I just wanted it to go away," Corr said Monday night. "But now I'm a little angry at their explanation of it, saying I wasn't where I was supposed to be and that it was just a push-kick."

Young said in Houston on Monday that Corr had crossed over into a team area where he did not belong and that his action was just in the heat of the game.

"He was where he wasn't supposed to be and I push-kicked him," Young said. "I apologized twice and he said he understood. I think you guys (media) are making more of it than it should be."

Corr said he was well outside of the off-limits area.

"I'm well aware of the line, in fact, I wasn't only behind the line, I was two or three feet behind it," Corr said.

Oilers coach Jack Pardee called it an unfortunate incident.

"The photographer was in our area and Bob backed over him," Pardee said. "Bob's back has been bothering him since he hurt it in training camp. He pushed the guy with his foot out of frustration."

"He immediately apologized. Bob is sorry he did it. We just wish it hadn't happened."

So did Corr.

"I'm sore from being kicked but the ego is bruised more," he said.

"You watch the local news and they are saying maybe the Chargers should get a new kicker from the Oilers. It's a little embarrassing."

Snyder spikers set for tilt with Lobos

LEVELLAND — The Snyder Lady Tigers volleyball team is set to battle Levelland's Lady Lobos in District 2-4A action today beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Daisy Brazier slammed eight kills and Robbie Brazier served eight points Saturday as the Lady Tigers hammered out a 15-7, 15-11 loop win over Lubbock Estacado.

Snyder is now 6-7 on the season and 2-0 in district matches.

Levelland was drummed by Lubbock Dunbar, 15-6, 15-1, in its Saturday outing to remain winless in 14 tries on the campaign, 0-2 in league tilts.

Snyder's spikers are tied for the loop lead with Lamesa, 13-3 in

Eighth grade claims third

BROWNFIELD — Snyder seventh and eighth grade girls' volleyball teams participated in Saturday's Brownfield Tournament with the eighth grade Black squad taking third place.

The seventh grade Black team was eliminated in three matches with losses to host Brownfield, 3-15, 3-15. Lamesa, 5-15, 4-15, and Tatum, N.M., 8-15.

The eighth grade unit defeated Brownfield's Cubs in its opener in three games, 15-13, 11-15 and 16-14.

Snyder then lost to Seminole in a pair of 5-15 games and faced Plains in the match for third place.

The Lady Tigers whipped Plains 16-14, 15-9, paced by Chrystal Oaks' 9 points.

Melissa Garvin added seven followed by six from Jill Voss, Isabel Lopez' five, three by Michelle Rivera and one from Jeannie Valdez.

Snyder's MVPs for the tournament were Paula Laster, Oaks, Lopez, Rivera, Voss and Veronica Gomez.

Snyder Junior High spikers will host their own tourney Oct. 13. Times and brackets for play have yet to be announced, according to coach Amanda Herrera.

Seattle upsets Bengals, 31-16

SEATTLE (AP) — The Seattle Seahawks finally have a victory. "We definitely needed that one," defensive star Rufus Porter said. "It was no fun being all alone in last place."

The Seahawks became the last of the NFL's 28 teams to win a game this season, and they did it in impressive fashion Monday night. Their defense didn't give up a touchdown in a 31-16 victory over Boomer Esiason and the Cincinnati Bengals.

On a night when Porter sacked

Esiason twice and broke up three passes, Dave Krieg completed 17 of 24 passes for 217 yards and two touchdowns, Derrick Fenner scored three TDs and Tommy Kane teamed up with Krieg on a 63-yard scoring pass.

"It's been a tough, hard struggle to get that first win," Seahawks coach Chuck Knox said.

"For the last two weeks, we've been playing well enough to win," John L. Williams said.

"Now I hope we can win the rest of our ball games."

If the Seahawks (1-3) play as well as they did against the Bengals, they could.

Cincinnati (3-1) started a string of five consecutive road games with a lackluster performance. But Porter and the Seahawks' defense had something to do with that.

"Their pass rush was just tremendous," Esiason said.

The Seahawks think they could be 3-1. They played well in losing in Weeks 2 and 3 to the Los Angeles Raiders in Seattle and in overtime in Denver.

Until the fourth quarter Monday night, the Bengals had to rely on Jim Breech's foot for their points — on three field goals. Then, in the final period, Mitchell Price ran back a punt 66 yards for a Cincinnati touchdown to cut Seattle's lead to 24-16 with 9:49 left.

In the game, the Bengals were called for two five-yard delay-of-game penalties because Esiason couldn't get the snap count off in the required 45 seconds. The Kingdome crowd of 60,135 was that noisy.

"There obviously is no crowd noise rule," Cincinnati coach Sam Wyche said sarcastically. "I think we put that one to rest."

Under the NFL's crowd noise rule, referee Jerry Seaman could have stopped the game until the crowd quieted. He didn't.

Seattle led 10-6 at the half as Fenner ran four yards for a touchdown and Breech kicked field goals of 34 and 26 yards. The Seahawks made it 17-9 in the third period as Fenner ran three yards for a touchdown and Breech added a 43-yard field goal.

"It's kind of easy to get in there when you have the holes," Fenner said. "When the holes are there, it's easy to score touchdowns."

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK — Lady Tiger volleyballers, left to right, Angee Crawford, Dayla Church and Daisy Brazier were chosen by SHS coach Patty Grimmett as Players of the Week. Crawford accumulated 13 service points, 10 in a row, in Snyder's come-from-behind win over

Seminole Tuesday while Church served 14 points including three aces against Dunbar in a Saturday, Sept. 22 meeting. Church added nine against Seminole and six versus Estacado last Saturday. Brazier blasted eight kills in the Lady Tigers' 15-7, 15-11 district win over EHS. (SDN Staff Photos)

Wyche refuses female writer access to team's locker room

SEATTLE (AP) — "Sam Wyche was not letting a woman into the locker room with all his players naked."

With those words, the Cincinnati Bengals' coach closed the door on a woman reporter and opened another sexist furor in the sports world.

The object of Wyche's ultimatum was Denise Tom of USA Today, who was barred from the Cincinnati locker room following the Bengals' 31-16 loss to the Seattle Seahawks Monday night.

Tom said a security guard blocked her way into the room, saying, "This is a very sensitive time. I don't make the rules."

In an interview with the Cincinnati Enquirer, Wyche admitted barring the woman from the locker room because "our guys don't want a woman to walk into a situation like that."

"I am not doing that to these guys," Wyche told Enquirer reporter Tim Smith. "I'm not doing it to their wives. I'll be out of this business before I do that."

Wyche said he extended every courtesy possible to Tom, even to the point of asking quarterback Boomer Esiason to come out of the locker room to do an interview with her. Esiason complied.

Smith said Wyche was told that a woman had been in the Bengals' locker room last week.

"I wasn't aware of that," the Cincinnati coach said.

The incident follows the heated controversy surrounding the New England Patriots and reporter Lisa Olson of the Boston Herald.

Olson claims she was sexually harassed by several Patriot players while she was conducting an interview on Sept. 17. On Monday, NFL commissioner Paul Tagliabue appointed Harvard law professor Philip Heymann to investigate the woman's charges.

Tagliabue, who was at Monday night's game, had met with reporters — including Tom — and repeated his earlier statement that the NFL's policy is to give women reporters the same access as men.

A spokesman for USA Today said the newspaper plans to pursue the matter with the league.

"Our intention is to protest what is clearly against the stated league policy," said Gene Policinski, the newspaper's managing editor for sports. "There is a big irony here in that before the game Denise Tom was one of the reporters who sat in with Tagliabue when he reiterated league policy and practice."

"To be faced with this hours later is ridiculous. Denise Tom is a professional."

Raiders set to start two-game road trip

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M game films look like horror movies to Texas Tech coach Spike Dykes.

"It scares ya," Dykes said. "The game film doesn't really help you. It puts you to say, 'My gosh these guys are really awesome.'"

Facing two consecutive road games against the No. 19 Aggies and No. 21 Arkansas, Tech does not have time to sulk over a 21-15 loss to Baylor and an 0-2 conference record. Dykes told his weekly press conference Monday.

"You don't have long to have your head down if you lose," Dykes said. "You better get ready to play. Our guys traditionally play at A&M good and I see no reason why we shouldn't (again)."

Tech (1-3) has won two of its last three games against A&M, which is coming off a 17-8 upset loss at Louisiana State.

"We are going to have to ... play a lot better than any time we have played this season," Dykes said.

"They have got great speed at the wide receivers, a super tight end, tremendous running backs, two good quarterbacks and two offensive lines you can't tell much difference in.

"They have got more weapons than Iraq."

The Aggies lead the conference in rushing with Darren Lewis averaging 105 yards per game.

Dykes said Tech will have to eliminate turnovers and execute the kicking game to compete with A&M.

The Red Raiders coughed up the ball five times against Baylor. Three of them were converted into touchdowns.

One of the turnovers, a blocked field goal attempt which led to a Baylor touchdown, was the backbreaker, Dykes said.

"You can't turn the ball over five times, miss two field goals and have another one blocked and still win a football game," Dykes said. "That's enough to choke a mule."

In addition to the blocked field goal, Lin Elliott missed attempts from 31 and 44 yards. Two weeks ago, Elliott kicked a 37-yarder with time running out to give Tech a 34-32 come-from-behind victory over New Mexico.

Chinese plane crashes into two others after hijacking

BELJING (AP) — A hijacked Chinese jetliner crashed into two other jets and exploded today after landing at an airport in southeastern China. An official report said 120 people were killed and 53 seriously injured.

A Western survivor said there was a struggle in the cockpit of the hijacked Boeing 737 as it landed at Canton's Baiyun International Airport, causing the plane to careen into an empty jet and a Boeing 757 loaded with passengers bound for Shanghai.

The survivor, speaking on condition of anonymity, denied reports by Chinese and Western sources that the hijackers set off explosives after the plane landed. Western diplomats had quoted Boeing officials at the airport as saying an explosive device went off.

Premier Li Peng went to the crash site hours afterward and then visited survivors at local hospitals, the state-run Canton People's Broadcasting Station reported.

Although the hijacked plane was on a domestic flight, at least two Americans were aboard, U.S. Embassy spokesman Sheridan Bell said. Erin Lynne Thomas of Oklahoma City, Okla., was hospitalized in good shape with a broken limb, he said. Ms. Thomas reported a second American woman had been sitting next to her, but Bell said the second woman was missing.

The Canton People's Broadcasting Station said 120 people were killed and 100 seriously injured, including 33 who were seriously injured. It said some foreigners and Hong Kong and Macao residents were among the survivors but gave no exact figures.

Most of the dead apparently were aboard the hijacked plane. Western diplomats who checked with hospitals and airport personnel said they learned of only nine survivors, including Ms. Thomas.

Chinese and Western sources said there were 94 passengers and 10 crew members on the hijacked plane.

"The plane was snapped in half like a matchstick," said a Westerner who saw the crash scene. "All that was left of the fuselage was charred metal. It looked like a crematorium."

A minister at the Swedish Embassy in Beijing said a Swedish businessman, Anders Larsson, was aboard the Shanghai plane and saw the hijacked plane land.

The minister, Nils Eliasson, quoted Larsson as saying the hijacked plane sideswiped an empty jet, "then actually fell on top of the one he (Larsson) was sitting in." The hijacked plane flipped over and exploded, while the rear of the Shanghai plane was engulfed in flames, Eliasson said.

People sitting in the first 14 rows of the Shanghai-bound jet escaped through an emergency chute, but Eliasson said Larsson did not see any other doors open. The number of people aboard the plane was not known.

China's official Xinhua News Agency did not report the crash until about seven hours after the 8 a.m. collision.

It said only that a "passenger plane of the Xiamen Airline company was hijacked" and "landed in accident at the Canton airport." Xiamen is a subsidiary of China's national carrier, the Civil Aviation Administration of China. The other two jets also were Chinese-owned.

The hijacking occurred as China was playing host to its first major international sporting event, the Asian Games. Security forces nationwide have been on alert to prevent any incidents that might embarrass the government.

The hijacked flight originated in the Fujian city of Xiamen, north of Guangdong province, and it was heading toward Canton when the hijacking occurred, officials said.

Truck rams disabled bus, killing passenger

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A tractor-trailer rammed a disabled Greyhound bus on the side of Interstate 65 and set it afire today, killing one person and injuring 15, authorities said.

Liz Dunn, public relations manager for Greyhound Lines, said the truck hit the left rear of the bus and knocked it into a relief bus as passengers were transferring to the new bus.

The accident occurred about 5:15 a.m. on the southern edge of the city, about 15 miles south of downtown Nashville.

Passengers had been heading from Birmingham, Ala., to Detroit.

The disabled bus caught fire in its engine compartment, but it was quickly extinguished, Dunn said. The truck, which carried produce, came to rest 100 yards up the highway and also burned.

Dunn said the person killed was a bus passenger.

"They could have been outside, I'm not sure if they were on the bus or walking from the disabled bus to the relief bus," Dunn said.

"Both buses had four-way flashers on and were parked on the shoulder," she said.

Five people were critically injured, and 10 others also were taken to hospitals, authorities said. Rescue workers had to pull some people from the windows of the disabled bus.

The truck was en route from Tipton, Ga., to Nashville, authorities said.

Elida Garza accepted for Leadership Forum

Snyder resident Elida Garza (Mrs. Rudy) is one of 100 outstanding young Texas leaders selected to participate in the John Ben Sheppard Leadership Forum in Odessa, this Friday and Saturday.

Forum participants are chosen on the basis of community service and future leadership potential. All are 40 years of age or younger and come from the academic, business, professional and volunteer sectors to enhance and strengthen their leadership skills.

The Forum's format is designed so that individual growth and involvement is emphasized through dialogues among participants, as well as between the participants and state and national leaders.

Participants are encouraged to develop their personal leadership goals and action plans, and to fulfill these goals within the nine months immediately following the Forum. Young leaders pursue their goals during this period with the advice and support of established leaders.

Indicted

Sept. 23 aggravated sexual assault of an eight-year-old girl. Wood remains in jail on a $20,000 bond.

Two indictments were returned against 38-year-old Billy Wayne Guynes was indicted for the Sept. 22 offense of felony driving while intoxicated. A second indictment of escape was returned as Guynes is charged with escaping from the custody of police officer Jay Johnson.

Two persons were indicted for securing execution of a document by deception, but names are being withheld pending their arrest. One woman is charged in a June 28 incident in which she failed to report earned income to obtain food stamps.

The second woman was indicted for failure to report earned income of a family member in order to obtain food stamp benefits. The offense occurred Feb. 13.

A former Snyder resident, also not yet arrested, was indicted for forgery by passing. The incident occurred on Sept. 2. The check in the amount of $40.87 was on the account of a Snyder man.

Four felony DWI indictments were returned. Indicted were Raymundo Rios, 27, of Wilson for a Sept. 2 offense; Ray Winford Goss, 40, of 2601 O'Neil for a Sept. 30 offense; Mary Zapata Olivarez, 35, of 2700 Ave. F for a Sept. 9 offense; and Troy Wayne Jones Jr., 25, of Rt. 1, Box 586, Snyder, for a Sept. 1 offense.

sonal goals when you are just one out of 150 state representatives," Counts said. "You have to work within the framework and sometimes you vote for what you think is the best bill, and often it is not the bill you had hoped it would be."

Counts added that he had no personal legislative agenda. "I try to do what you'll want me to do."

Counts said the next legislative session which starts in January is going to be faced with a revenue shortfall of from $2 to $3.5 billion. "We are going to need common-sense businessmen and women making these important decisions."

Counts also said redistricting will be a key issue and that his seniority will help ensure that Scurry County remains one of the larger population centers in a rural district.

The luncheon was sponsored by the Western Texas College Faculty Association. Joann Snider, association president, presided at the luncheon. Earlier in the day, Counts attended a reception at the college. On Wednesday, he is scheduled to speak at the Snyder Kiwanis Club at noon.

Obituaries

Bob White

1931-1990

PINEVILLE, La. — Services are set for 1 p.m. Wednesday at Hixson Brothers Funeral Home Chapel for former Snyder resident, Bob (Snookie) White, 59, of Pineville, with the Rev. Jim Foster officiating. Burial will follow in National Cemetery in Pineville.

Mr. White died Sunday evening in Rapides General Hospital.

He was born Aug. 22, 1931, at Cotton Valley, La. He retired from the federal government after 22 years of service as a Federal Criminal Investigator. He was currently employed as a Captain with Wells Fargo Security for Hibernia Bank. He was a U.S. Navy veteran of the Korean conflict; a member of the V.F.W.; a member of the National Rifle Association; a member of the Rapides Country Club; and a member of the Louisiana Peace Officers Association.

He was preceded in death by his father, R.D. White II, in 1965.

Survivors include his wife, Mary Belle of Pineville, La.; his mother, Mrs. Sarah White of Cotton Valley, La.; three sons, Robert David White IV of McKinney, Douglas Craig White of Bedford and Dennis Reagan White of Deville, La.; two daughters, Delia Lynn White of Hollister, Calif. and Charlye Sue Wortham of Deer Park; one brother, Walter Reagan White of Midland; and five grandchildren.

The family requests that memorials be made to the Shepherd Center, Alexandria, La.

WTC Collegiate Singers will perform on Thursday

The Western Texas Collegiate Singers will perform at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus. The public is invited to attend and admission is free.

Opening the program will be "Fire Up!" Numbers following will be "The Birth of the Blues," "Baby Blue," "Endless Love," "How Am I Supposed to Live Without You?" and "Ease on Down the Road."

The Collegiate Singers are the newest performing ensemble at WTC and are under the direction of Brent Hardegree. Membership is by audition only. They will be in Dallas Saturday to perform at the State Fair of Texas Community College Day.

Making up the group this semester are Denise Blythe, Stacey Hardegree, John Howard, Tara Greene, Blaine Irons, and Kevin Murdock of Snyder; Anita Ceballos of Sweetwater; Ami Jamison of Fort Smith, Ark.,

John Lancaster of McCamey, and Frank Romeo of Anaheim, Calif.

Jane Womack, assistant professor of music at WTC, is rehearsal accompanist. Stephen Williamson is the sound technician.

Community artists will be performing Sunday in a recital sponsored by the WTC Fine Arts Division. The program will begin at 2 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre and there is no admission charge.

The WTC fall Pops Concert is planned for 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 11 in the Fine Arts Theatre. Performing will be the Collegiate Singers, the Concert Choir, the WTC Women's Ensemble, and the Flute Choir.

Police work several thefts

Snyder police worked several unrelated thefts Monday, including a report of a stolen .38 revolver, a mailbox and cable service.

At 11:32 p.m., Eddie Andrade of 1200 28th St. reported that his mailbox had been stolen. Police filed a Class C theft report.

At 1:42 p.m., Jean Howell of 202 34th St. reported a .38 revolver stolen. A report for a stolen handgun was filed.

At 4:24 p.m., Kyle Shankles of Snyder Cablevision called police in reference to a subject in the Coleman Apartments stealing cable vision service. A Class B theft report was filed.

In other reports, Cindy Nix called at 9:27 a.m. in reference to someone breaking a front window at Scurry County Health Unit. A criminal mischief report was filed.

Also, at 2:51 p.m., East Elementary Principal Jim Erwin called police in reference to two eight-year-olds leaving the playground. The juveniles were found at 3:20 p.m. and taken back to the school, where they were released to the custody of their parents.

Borden Co. EMS reps pass course

BORDEN COUNTY — Two paramedics from Borden County EMS recently successfully completed a two-day, 16-hour course at St. Mary of the Plains hospital in Lubbock on advanced cardiac Life Support (ACLS).

Kent Holmes and Judy Pylant, both rated EMT-P, attended this course last month. The American Heart Association developed this course to provide training for physicians, nurses and paramedics in emergency cardiac care.

Both Holmes and Pylant attended lectures during morning sessions, while afternoons were reserved for practicing skills and taking tests.

A cognitive exam requiring 85 percent efficiency to complete the course was given during the morning of the final day of the two-day session. The afternoon of the last day of instruction was reserved for skills testing on mega-code, defibrillation, strip (EKG) recognition and airway management.

The "highlight" of the course was the "mega-code" which is a simulated emergency situation in which participants work together as an organized team. This develops decision-making skills and also enhances the paramedics ability to utilize the skills and knowledge that he or she has attained. Each participant in the course is expected to act like the "team leader" as part of the skills testing.

Ramos listed as OU scholar

NORMAN, Okla. — Two-hundred and sixty-eight incoming freshmen who represent the top 10 percent of their high school graduating classes have been selected as University Scholars at the University of Oklahoma.

Annette Ramos of Snyder, a mechanical engineering major at OU, has been named one of the scholars.

The students, who receive a $1,000 award, have an average 27.2 composite score on the American College Testing Assessment and an average 3.82 high school grade point average.

In March, Mitchell County Commissioners signed a host agreement with National Waste and Energy Development of Pittsburg for a possible hazardous waste incinerator and landfill.

The request for the resolution came from Jimmie McGee, a member of Scurry County Citizens Against Pollution (SCRAP). In August, Scurry County Commissioners passed a resolution opposing the proposed hazardous waste facility.

Also approved on first reading was a budgeted credit service update for the city's participation in the Texas Municipal Retirement System.

The council approved the appointment of Donny Brown to the seat on the Planning and Zoning Commission vacated by Tommy Aishman. Also approved to the Board of Electrical Examiners were Maurice Scott and Rudy Riojas. Bobby Nolan and Ed Blocker each agreed to serve additional terms on the board.

Present were Williamson, Tipples, Thornton, Paul Zeck and Jackie Greene. Absent were Jack Denman, Joe Coronado, City Manager John Gayle and City Attorney Ernie Armstrong.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a beautiful baby girl. Naturally I want to do the best job possible of raising her to be a fine girl and woman. There is one question in my mind.

At some time in her life, I will have to sit down and talk to her about the importance of staying away from drugs. I need to know if I should ever use myself and my own experiences as an example. Abby, I have experimented with a variety of drugs and have learned firsthand how devastating they can be.

What influence do you think it would have on my daughter if she knew? Do you think she would be more determined never to use drugs? I have been "clean" for a number of years now, but I was heavily into drugs as a teen-ager. How much should I tell her?

SERIOUS IN SARATOGA

DEAR SERIOUS: Yours is a very intelligent question. I would not recommend using yourself as an "example." Your daughter might believe that because you have experimented with drugs and were able to rehabilitate yourself, it might justify her going that route.

If she asks you if you have ever experimented with drugs, don't lie; but don't volunteer your own experiences as a deterrent. It could backfire.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me how long a married couple can correctly take to thank their friends and family for a wedding gift? A friend of mine who is supposed to be very knowledgeable on matters of etiquette said that a couple can take one year to send their thank-you notes for wedding gifts and still be considered within the range of good manners. She said, ideally, they should acknowledge their gifts as soon as possible — perhaps within a month after returning from their honeymoon, but they have a whole year in which to do it.

If you confirm that a year is acceptable, then I will not complain. STILL WAITING IN WHITTIER CALIF.

DEAR STILL WAITING: A year? Outrageous — unless the lucky honeymooners were able to take six months off to go around the world.

Well-mannered newlyweds will have their wedding gifts acknowledged anywhere from one to three months after they return from their honeymoon, depending on the number of gifts there were to acknowledge.

DEAR ABBY: Some dear friends of ours are being divorced after 13 years of marriage. They have two wonderful children, a cozy home, and he runs his own business. Sounds like the perfect American dream, doesn't it?

Well, it's coming to an end soon. They filed for divorce over a year ago and are still trying to settle in court. Everyone is wondering what happened to this perfect marriage. I think I know. They didn't believe that old tradition that it was bad luck for the groom to see his bride's wedding dress before the ceremony. Well, he had to see it, because he made it for her! He's a professional designer.

Abby, what can be done to break a bad-luck spell? HER FRIEND IN IOWA

DEAR FRIEND: The old "tradition" you refer to is merely a superstition, an old wife's tale, and has no basis in fact.

To believe that a marriage failed — after 13 years — because the groom saw the bride's gown before the wedding is sheer nonsense.

Most teen-agers do not know the facts about drugs, AIDS, and how to prevent unwanted pregnancy. It's all in Abby's new, updated, expanded booklet, "What Every Teen Should Know." To order, send a business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.99 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Feldman has drug abuse problem

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Teen-age actor Corey Feldman pleaded innocent to heroin possession and got another warning to stay in drug abuse treatment.

A Municipal Court commissioner on Monday ordered Feldman to remain in a rehabilitation program as a condition of his $5,000 bail.

The 19-year-old actor, who appeared in the movies "Goonies," "Stand by Me" and "Gremlins," has been in a residential drug abuse program since Sept. 21, when he was arrested on a heroin possession charge for the second time.

State told to take immediate action

Retarded woman's pregnancy stirs controversy

AUSTIN (AP) — U.S. District Judge Barefoot Sanders has ordered Texas officials to take immediate action to ensure the health and safety of a profoundly mentally retarded woman who became pregnant after being raped while under state care.

Documents show the disabled woman's "life and health are in danger," Sanders wrote Monday in his order.

State officials have not decided whether to obey or challenge the five-page order from the judge, who learned of the woman's rape from the Austin American-Statesman.

"We haven't decided what we're going to do," said Jaylon Fincannon, deputy Texas commissioner for mental retardation. "I don't know that (the state) has done anything wrong at this point."

The 32-year-old Lubbock woman doesn't know where babies come from, but she is about to have one of her own.

The mentally retarded woman, who has an IQ of 12, won't get to raise her baby because that decision rests in the hands of state officials.

The woman was raped last spring while under the care of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. She is so profoundly mentally retarded that she does not even know she's pregnant.

The Lubbock State School resident cannot understand why she throws up her meals or why something is stirring inside her body. At times, she cries out, points to her abdomen and begins beating it with her hand.

State officials and police still don't know who raped the woman six months ago. Without the father's identity, the unborn child's risk for birth defects increases because of potent anti-seizure drugs the woman receives.

An abortion that state doctors recommended never was performed for reasons that no one explained to the family, the Austin American-Statesman reported.

"Not only did the state fail in allowing her to become pregnant, but it's gone downhill from there," said lawyer David Ferleger of Philadelphia, who represents the woman and her legal guardian, older sister Dori Wooten.

"Because this happened in a state school, nobody cares," Ferleger said. "People with handicaps are second-class citizens, and they get second-class treatment even when they're raped."

But Kent Johnson, chief attorney for the Texas mental health department, defends the way Lubbock State School handled the woman's care. "Lubbock State School has done the right thing in this case, from day one forward," he said.

A federal court has been reviewing the care retarded people receive in state institutions since 1974, when families filed a class-action lawsuit alleging poor care.

Reforms have been ordered by Sanders.

Sociologist Linda O'Neill of Florida, who monitors Texas state schools for the court, said Texas violated court orders by not informing her of the assault within 48 hours.

"This is just a terrible tragedy," Ms. O'Neill said. "I'm contemplating recommendations to the court about a course of action that would help ensure the health and safety of the young woman through her pregnancy and postnatal care."

Ms. Wooten has filed a writ of habeas corpus — the first ever against a state school — in an attempt to force Texas to release her sister to her care. The state opposes the release.

"I feel she's in more danger at that school. How do we know the man who did this to her isn't out there right now?" Ms. Wooten said.

Lubbock police still have not interviewed all 14 suspects. Twelve of the suspects are state school workers.

Police believe they will not know who raped the woman until the baby is born and the father is determined through genetic fingerprinting with blood samples.

State officials say they believe the rape occurred outside Lubbock State School.

Ms. Wooten said she wants her sister placed in a hospital or some other type of 24-hour care facility.

"I can't bring her home because my husband is a suspect," she says. "They're keeping her away from me to protect her, but who is protecting her from them?"

Reunion good for all parties

NEW YORK (AP) — For Cybill Shepherd and Peter Bogdanovich, the movie "Texasville" was a trip home.

Nineteen years after Bogdanovich left his wife, Polly Platt, for Shepherd on the set of "The Last Picture Show," the three were reunited in Archer City, Texas, during the making of the sequel.

"Even though I wasn't born or raised in Archer City, that's where my career began," Shepherd said in the Oct. 8 issue of People magazine. "So it was like going home again."

Platt came briefly to the set to visit her daughter, Antonia Bogdanovich, 22, a still photographer for "Texasville."

"It was just so satisfying to give up that pain," Platt said of the reunion.

Man who claimed LBJ was his father dies of cancer

DALLAS (AP) — A man who filed a lawsuit in an attempt to prove that he was the illegitimate son of Lyndon B. Johnson has died of cancer.

Steven Mark Brown, 39, died last Friday at Methodist Medical Center.

In 1987, Brown filed a $10.5 million lawsuit against the late president's wife, Lady Bird

Johnson, alleging that she conspired to deny him part of the Johnson inheritance. The case was dismissed two years later when Brown, a naval operations specialist, failed to appear in court.

Madeline Brown, his mother, claimed she had an affair with Johnson from 1948 to 1969.

In the lawsuit, Brown claimed that Jess C. Kellam of Austin and Jerome T. Ragsdale of Dallas, two friends of Johnson, participated in the conspiracy.

Ragsdale, a Dallas lawyer who died in 1978, handled legal problems involved with Brown's mother's pregnancy, Madeline Brown claimed in an affidavit. She said Ragsdale later claimed to be the father to shield Johnson from adverse publicity.

Steve Brown was a 1975 graduate of Texas A&M University and also helped restore the Oak Cliff Historical District and was project manager for the Jefferson Avenue Beautification Project in Dallas.

Survivors in addition to his mother include a brother, Jimmy Glynn Brown of Dallas.

A memorial service will be held Sunday at St. George's Episcopal Church in Dallas.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: On two occasions, my 33-year-old son has experienced sudden attacks of palpitations. He doesn't lose consciousness, but he cannot see or hear anything while the attacks occur. He does manual labor and otherwise appears in good health.

DEAR READER: Palpitations, an awareness of the heartbeat, are common. They can result from a rapid pulse, an irregular pulse or heart contractions that are more forceful than usual.

Many healthy people experience episodes of palpitations, which can be caused by stress, worry, fatigue or stimulants, such as caffeine and nicotine. In these instances, people may complain of few, if any, symptoms: a fullness in the chest, a vague feeling of discomfort, nervousness and so forth. No treatment is required — except to avoid situations and stimulants that provoke the palpitations.

In other cases, palpitations can indicate a heart disorder. For example, patients with mitral valve prolapse (weakness of one of the cardiac valves) can experience prolonged bouts of palpitations, culminating in lightheadedness, shortness of breath and weakness.

Also, patients with arteriosclerotic heart disease (blockage of the coronary arteries) are prone to palpitations when the cardiac muscle is deprived of oxygen. In these cases, doctors often prescribe beta-blockers (such as Inderal) or calcium channel blockers (such as Procardia) to reduce the work of the heart and stabilize the pulse. This treatment usually relieves symptoms and prevents the rapid and/or irregular pulse caused by these conditions.

To a large degree, the decision to treat or not to treat, and which drug to use, depends on the frequency and type of palpitations, as well as the seriousness of the symptoms.

Your son appears to have fairly serious consequences from his palpitations. This suggests that treatment is in order — after the cause of his palpitations has been discovered. He should see a doctor for a complete history and physical examination, including blood tests (to check for anemia and excess cholesterol, for example) and a cardiogram. In addition, the physician may order a Holter monitor, a continuous 24-hour cardiogram, to discover what type of palpitations your son has, when they occur (palpitations at night rarely cause symptoms) and how long they last.

If the doctor is unable to find the cause of the palpitations, your son should request a consultation with a cardiologist. In offering this advice, I am being extremely cautious because I'm worried that your son might hurt himself (or others) if he has an unexpected attack while driving or operating machinery.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Help I — Physical Illness." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to my attention at P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, Snyder Daily News, Box 949, or bring it by the news office at 3600 College Ave. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 5:00 p.m. Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the total points of the score for that game and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second and third place winners. In the case of a perfect score, the formula would apply for that cash prize.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all that person's entries. Entries must be on the official entry blank (No Copies Please). Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the winner's story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the SDN and their families are not eligible to enter.
