VIERTEL LEAVING; EQUALIZERS, PE TEACHER, NAMED BY BOARD

Haskell's school board Tuesday accepted with regret the resignation of a member of its athletic staff, employed a physical education instructor, and named a board of equalization to sit on school tax matters during the coming year, Superintendent Robert B. King announced.

A. J. Viertel, popular line coach for Haskell Indians "A" football squad and coach of "B" basketball, is leaving here to join the coaching staff at Hondo, Texas, High School.

Several applications have been received for this vacated position, and a replacement will be named probably within a week, King said.

Miss Janice Richards, of Bovina, in the Panhandle, who graduates with a degree in physical education from McMurry College this month, has been employed to take over the girls' PE program in the Haskell schools, King said. This position has been open for several months due to a dearth of qualified PE people, the superintendent said, adding, "We feel quite fortunate to have someone of Miss Richards' caliber to join us."

John Kimbrough, T. B. Rasco, and C. O. Holt were named by the school board to serve a year as a board of tax equalization, with Hallie Chapman named alternate. This group, together with Pritchard and Abbott, of Ft. Worth, tax evaluation engineers representing the Haskell school system, will meet with representatives of oil pipelines, utilities, telephone company, railroad, and gas company in Superintendent King's office next Wednesday, May 22, at 10 a. m. to evaluate this year's tax structure. Firm and corporation taxes will be discussed at this time. The newly named evaluation board here will meet at a later date to work on locally owned property evaluations, King reported.

Haskell Hosts Municipal League Session Thursday

Mayor J. E. Walling and members of Haskell's official city family will play host to the quarterly meeting of the Red River Valley Region 5, Texas Municipal League, on Thursday, May 16, at 8:30 p. m. in the Hiway Cafe here.

The Haskell Mayor's invitation to come to Haskell was accepted at the last quarterly meeting of the group of executives of city governments held in Vernon in February. About 50 city "fathers" are expected for the conference here.

Dr. D. Clifford Burross, Wichita Falls city councilman, is president of the TML's Red River Valley Region, and will preside at the session here.

Frank J. Medanic, assistant vice president of the First Southwest Company, Dallas, will be the principal speaker at the municipal league meeting. He will discuss municipal financing.

First 1963 Load Of Wheat Comes Into Haskell

Bobby Howard, Haskell County farmer working a custom combine, delivered the first 1963 load of wheat into Haskell at 3 p. m. Monday, depositing it with United Industries facilities here.

T. J. Ballard, local manager of United Industries, said the wheat came from the farm of Mrs. Olive Gilliland, southeast of town.

The load, 216 bushels, best weighed 60 pounds to the bushel and had a moisture content of 14, Ballard said.

Bringing $1.90 per bushel, the wheat made 20 bushels to the acre.

'Peerless' Parade Perambulates at 4

Bunting bedecked Haskell, also adorned with a bevy of beautiful rodeo queen hopefuls, was keeping a Gordon Cooper-type vigil on a countdown to the 4 p. m. opening of its annual Rice Springs Roundup here.

Following a Jaycee-sponsored "parade of the peerless," which will sweep through Haskell at eyeball beat Thursday afternoon at 4:00, three ram-bunctious rodeo performances will be staged in Rice Springs Arena on successive evenings beginning Thursday at 8 p. m.

The pace setting parade, in which the comely queen's choice will ride herd over the Rice Springs Roundup festivities, also will feature riding clubs from throughout the territory. Among them will be Haskell's own Sheriff's Posse, self-styled "Saddle Tramps," who won trophies in five out of six appearances in shows during the 1962 rodeo season. This year, they have won or placed first or second, five times out of five to date. Gene Hunter is head wrangler of Haskell's palomino mounted, crimson clad, colorful riders.

Bud Lane, president of Haskell's enterprising Jaycees, announced Tuesday that between end of parade time and start of the grand entry at the rodeo, there will be some side-splitting side show antics on the Courthouse Square here.

The belly laugh producers will feature tobacco chewin' and spittin' contests, ridin' a saddled up, buckin' barrel suspended from a tree, and egg pelting competitions.

In the puererituous portion of the playbill will be Linda Lefevre, popular 17-year-old Rule High School senior, who is the selectee of the Rotary Club of Rule to reign over the Rice Springs Roundup. The talented Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lefevre, of the Sogeston community, is being challenged by others, among them, a lovely little lady, Debby Wiseman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wiseman, of Haskell, and a freshman at Haskell High School.

Court Decides Today About Trapper Hiring

Haskell County Commissioners' Court in regular semi-monthly session Monday, passed until a special session slated Thursday a decision on whether an election should be called to let the public decide if a trapper should be hired to control bobcats and coyotes in the county.

County Judge Jim Alvis said this issue "will be taken up with two or three other important matters at Thursday's meeting." The full court did not sit Monday, and this was given as the reason for the delay in action on a petition signed by 301 residents of Haskell County asking that the trapper employment issue be left up to the people.

The court already has voted to underwrite in the amount of $2700 the employment, along with federal and state predation.

Citizens of this area were treated recently to the classic contents of a mother lode in the mine of Haskell County's heritage when Claude Norman, prominent resident of Rule, revealed the results of some carefully guarded research.

Most of Norman's findings grew out of his interest in temporarily discarded documents placed in a small leaden box in the cornerstone of the old Sherrill Building on the Courthouse Square here in February, 1907.

Workmen found the box when tearing out the front of the building, now occupied by Byrum's Hardware and Furniture Store on the Square here in September, 1956. Not realizing its worth, the box's contents were emptied and thrown aside but recovered just in the nick of time, Norman said, in a report before a historical data collecting session of the Haskell County Historical Survey Committee.

All the "Haskelliana" originally secured in the cornerstone in 1907, save one item, were returned to the box. This was a copy of the old Haskell Herald, early-day newspaper here. To the box were added a copy of the Haskell Free Press and remodeling plans for the building after a fire had occasioned its partial dismantling and rebuilding. Norman is thought to be the only person who has detailed information of what still lies within the confines of the cornerstone.

Three letters, all of priceless historical significance to this county, are in the cornerstone box, Norman said.

One was written jointly by

Haskell had a grassroots summit meeting last Thursday night, with the presidents of most of the town's service organizations present, who organized themselves into a ways and means committee to start a march toward yearned-for goals.

The principal item on the agenda was to get behind the solidly-supported idea of restoring the community's decrepit depot. The plan is to move the landmark to a more accessible spot in the city park area, restore it, and use it for a tourist attraction, museum, and meeting building.

Ever since Fort Worth and Denver Railroad officials announced their intentions of replacing the venerated train station, site of many a kick-in-the-heart farewell and hello here, with a small steel structure, the idea of moving and restoring the historic edifice to a spot within view of the Abilene-Wichita Falls highway to be used as a museum and preserved as a part of Haskell's heritage has aroused intense enthusiasm.

A dedicated, tenacious Mrs. Bailey Toliver, representing the Progressive Study Club here, made the third of a series of appeals with zeal Thursday night plugging for restoration of the dilapidated depot, this time before the heads of most of the civic organizations in town.

As one of the civic leaders present put it about resolving the group into a ways and means committee, "We seem to have the ways, if we can find the means."

Dr. Frank Cadenhead, director of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the New Projects Committee of the Haskell Chamber, organized a plan of motivation on the depot dilemma, which was enthusiastically endorsed by the entire group.

Rotary Anns On Pedestal Here Tuesday Night

Some regal Rotarizing honoring the Rotary Anns of the Rotary Club of Haskell will accompany the red carpet that will be rolled out for the ladies with all pomp and circumstance at the significant Ladies Night occasion here next Tuesday night. The event will start at 7:30 p. m. at the new Elementary School auditorium.

And one of the most royal Rotary entertainers of them all, a dedicated dynamo, D. D. Monroe, of Clayton, New Mexico, is the featured speaker. One of those platform personalities who can make one soar or hit the floor with mirth or tears in turn, Monroe is universally renowned as a spirited speaker.

The ever popular, many times honored Rotarizing will be introduced to Haskell Rotarians, their ladies, and guests by an old friend, Bob King, past district governor of Rotary International, and a great Rotary leader in his own right in this area.

Musical chairs will be given the festive event by The Nineteens, widely known choral group.

E. J. Stewart, president of the Haskell club, will arrive as master of ceremonies, and will introduce incoming President Pa Hester, who takes office on July 1, and his staff to the assembly.

A number of out-of-town guests from Ft. Worth, Wichita Falls, Abilene, and other points are expected for the Ladies' Night affair.

The banquet meal will be catered by Underwood's of Abilene. Reservations should be made with Hester, Stewart, or Roy Johnson, club secretary, at Haskell National Bank by noon Monday, May 20. President Stewart said.

Mrs. Wiseman Takes Office As P-TA President

Officers of the Haskell Junior High School P-TA were installed in impressive ceremonies here this week, with Mrs. Carl Duncan, parent-teacher leader from Aspermont, serving as installing officer and using a musical theme for installation.

New officers in the Junior High P-TA are: Mrs. Roy Wiseman, president; Mrs. D. V. Hiebert, vice president; Mrs. T. R. Foster, secretary; Mrs. Henry Harris, treasurer; Mrs. G. L. Kennedy, parliamentarian, and Mrs. E. E. Love, historian.

Mrs. Fred Brown, outgoing president, presented a report on the recent district P-TA convention in Hamlin, and Mrs. Kennedy gave a treasurer's report.

Prior to the installation ceremony, Ken and Lon Barnett, Patricia Toliver and Kristine Witek played a group of accordion numbers.

Mrs. Lee Roy O'Neal's room won the room count.

BUFORD ABELDT

Buford Abeldt Named Editor Of HHS Newspaper

Buford Abeldt, Haskell High School junior, has been selected editor of the "War Whoop," weekly publication of the school for the 1963-64 school year, it was announced here last Thursday.

Young Abeldt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Abeldt. His father is a member of the Haskell Free Press family, serving as linotype operator in the production department of the newspaper here.

The new editor of the "War Whoop" has productively prosecuted the assignment of business manager of the Haskell High School newspaper for the past year. He has also served as head of publications and reporter for the Spanish Club, of which he is an active member. He participated in basketball last year, in track for the past three years and was wingback on the HHS "B" team last year. He was a member of the cast of the Junior Play this spring, and was a bandsman in the HHS Indian Band for two years.

An active member of the First Baptist Church, young Abeldt is a pledge to the Lon Pate Chapter, Quill and Scroll, national honorary journalistic society.

Selection of Abeldt came after examination by a committee of faculty sponsors of a series of editions of the "War Whoop" published by various editor hopefuls during the past several weeks.

Lions Broom And Mop Sale Is Successful

The Haskell Lions Club Mop and Broom Sale here last Friday, May 10, topped last year's sales, despite the fact that only one day was set aside for the sale this year, in comparison to the two-day period last year.

More workers turned out for Friday's mop and broom sale than last year, and the territory was so well mapped by chairman of the project, H. L. Langston, that record time was made in covering the downtown and residential areas.

Lions sold $556.25 worth of merchandise in the one day, Friday, as compared to $512.37 in a two-day period last year. Out of the gross sales, Lions netted $144.62, and this amount will be placed in the "Good-fellow Fund" to be used at Christmastime to help bring cheer to needy families. Net take last year by the club was $133.12.

Wallace Cox Jr. took Lions on a very colorful "Travelogue of England" through slides and narration, Tuesday noon. Rogers Durham was in charge of the program.

Horace Condiey of the Abilene Lions Club was a guest at Tuesday's session.

'Pink Pinafores' Take The Field In Hospital WA

Having been briefed on hospital procedures and given orientation and instruction on the responsibilities of their assigned tasks, Haskell County Hospital's Women's Auxiliary "Pink Pinafores" this week began patrolling their stations at the hospital.

Members from the various Haskell County communities have been assigned certain days of the week to report for duty, Mrs. Byron Frazier, president of the auxiliary, said.

The schedule is as follows: Monday, Mattson; Tuesday, Haskell; Wednesday, Paint Creek; Thursday, Weinert; Friday, Rule; and Saturday, O'Brien. Sunday has not yet been assigned, but possibly will be covered jointly by representatives of a number of county towns.

12 Are Tapped By Honor Society; Larned President

Twelve Haskell High School students with no grade below B, and excelling not only in scholarship, but also in character, leadership, and service, were tapped for membership in the school's chapter of the National Honor Society at a special assembly here Thursday morning.

Selected for NHS were: Jo Helen Elliott, Betty Bruton, Nancy Britte, Judy Segoe, Barry O'Neal, Eddie Smart, Beth Vaughter, Johnny Kimbrough, Phil Bowers, Nancy Lawson, Joanie Frazier, and Sammy Larned.

At a meeting immediately after the assembly, National Honor Society officers were elected for 1963-64. They are: Sammy Larned, president; Beth Vaughter, vice president; Eddie Smart, secretary and treasurer; and Betty Bruton, treasurer. The group voted to have the new members host a reception for all graduating seniors and their parents in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church here immediately after the Haskell High School commencement exercises the night of May 27.

With justifiably admiring parents in the audience, Bobby Herron, outgoing president of the National Honor Society, presided over the special assembly and called the twelve honored students to the stage. The tapping ceremony followed an art "Alice in Wonderland" type skit in which Lowell Wallace was the principal person cast, and during which the necessary attributes for inclusion in the National Honor Society were effectively brought out by the character-types of "Alice in Wonderland."

Parents of the NHS selectees were guests at a reception in the Visual Aids Room, where an art exhibit is on display, following the assembly.

Haskell High School Principal W. P. McCollum, Mrs. Jerrene Couch, and Mrs. Brooks Middleton are faculty sponsors of the National Honor Society here.

Haskell has been sitting back much too long on its caulked, from long sitting, haunches. But some tasteful recipes have been dropped into the community cauldron here lately. That pot has been put on to boil. It's past the simmer stage. And what we need at this point is a whole passel of folks to gather the wood and poke the fire. We need to get off the haunches and high behind. If we but will, we've got us a healthy economic repast to which we can sit down and put our collective feet under Haskell's civic table, and soon.

Dr. James F. Cadenhead's New Projects Committee of the Chamber of Commerce had a meeting "at the summit" the other night. We have termed it a grassroots summit meeting elsewhere in this newspaper. Almost all of the presidents of every service organization were there. Some sterling projects that will materially benefit this town—repeat, MATERIALLY—you know, the pocketbook lining kind of benefit—were laid out on the table.

Laying it on the line here, we took significant note of the fact that every last one of these projects is calculated to make folks want to stop in Haskell. Now, we're getting somewhere.

We don't need to draw a map to the gold mine we've got right here. The richest vein runs due north and south on Highway 277 right through the middle of Haskell. FIFTEEN HUNDRED "TRAM" CARS haul the 'ore' into and out of Haskell every single day of our lives. Our job is, some way, any way, to stop those cars, filled with transients, as curious, interested, and who have the same fundamental characteristics as we do. All we've got to do is put ourselves in their shoes and furnish them with whatever it would take to stop us. If we were traveling down a similar highway in strange country. It's as basic and simple as that.

And Dr. Cadenhead's Committee, aided and abetted with alacrity and zeal, by Mrs. Bailey Toliver and her tenacious bid for restoration of our depot at a spot where that landmark can be SEEN from our major highway, is headed in the proper direction with the projects at hand.

All of them could be crowd stoppers. And they take more elbow grease than they do money.

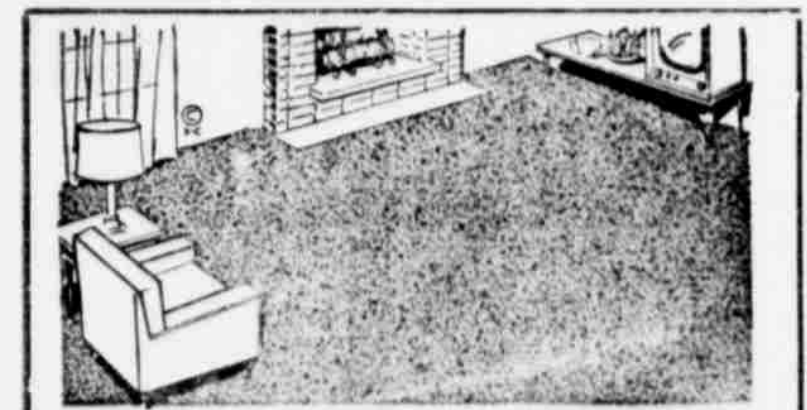

At hand, and we repeat, at hand, not just over the horizon, are plans to restore the depot, locate a facilitated camping ground within the city limits to meet the growing demand for such a convenience, publish a brochure properly distributed on points of historic interest in the territory, dress up the approaches to Haskell, declaring via the signboard route that we've got something here, plans to court the fishing caravans that swarm through here by the numbers every weekend. Those are only a few ingredients that will brew a healthy economic stew here.

How can you help? We're climbing the ladder one rung at a time. The first rung is to get that depot given to us by the Ft. Worth and Denver Railway Company. It has passed its day of usefulness to them. They are building a small, steel efficiency structure to fill their needs.

We have the ways to move the depot to the city park, the City willing, where it will be nestled in a picturesque setting, and will catch the roving eye of every traveler on that highway. We don't have the means to pay a price for that old depot, so close to the hearts of all of us, and have any money left to do the restoration job that is desperately needed on it.

You can write, call, or wire Mr. Ellis L. Simmons, vice president, Ft. Worth and Denver Railway Company, Ft. Worth, Texas, recording in writing your desire that this nostalgic edifice not be sold for salvage, but contributed to Haskell to preserve the legend of the railroad and the heritage of the town the railroad helped build.

If you can find it in your heart to do that, tomorrow may be too late.

50 YEARS AGO
 (May 17, 1913)

The T&F will offer the usual very low rates to the United Confederate Veterans Reunion at Chattanooga on May 27-29.

About a year ago at the Ballew school house near here, it was decided to permanently organize a county singing convention. This was done the second Sunday in May, and the organization was called the Haskell County Progressive Singing Convention, and will meet annually at Haskell City the second Sunday in May. Officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: J. M. Riley, president; C. W. Wilson, vice president; James A. Greer, secretary-treasurer; H. H. Mansfield, corresponding secretary; Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, chaplain.

Sunday was spent in singing, and people from all over the county, adjoining counties, Ft. Worth and Abilene were there. Some say the crowd in attendance was 1500 and others say there were 2000 on the grounds. Among those coming from a distance were Profs. J. M.

Churches in the Fredericksburg, Texas, area which we visited last Sunday made us think of a drama in which we participated soon after VE-Day, May 8, 1945.

We went to church under arms. Like a pilgrim, we shared a church, a Lutheran Church, deep in the heart of Bavaria, with the enemy. World War II was over but a few days. It was at Bad Kissengen, a Mineral Wells-type place, where our headquarters section of the XIX Tactical Air Command was billeted pending some what may after the cessation of hostilities. Except they hadn't ceased. The day before the unforgettable experience at church we had landed at the pulverized air strip at Schweinfurt, and the Jugund, the Hitler youth brigade, had pot-shotted our C-47 "Gooney Bird," the old faithful Model-T of the Air Force, with everything they could sail through the air, from bullets to makeshift firebrands.

The Jugund, comprised of a fanatically frenzied flock of boys from 10 to 15, was making its own last stand where we were for the glory of the infamous Third Reich. For this and other reasons, the war wasn't exactly over for XIX TAC. Our commander was then Major General O. P. Weyland, a Texas Aggie, true to the Corps, and the core, who was to reach 4-star stature.

Bavaria, by and large, was not too Nazified. It is the garden spot of Germany, so far as the Pencil Pusher is concerned. The minute the hostilities ceased, the Deutschland city fathers in Bad Kissengen courted our favor. The first thing they offered was the sharing of their Lutheran Church at Sunday services. The Germans went to an early service, then stood outside after evacuating the building, while we filed through the throng of them, under arms, under orders, to tote our hardware, 45's riding on our hips, carbines slung on our shoulders. We took our seats in the sanctuary. Quite like what our own pilgrim fathers did, we would imagine, we leaned our carbines muzzle to ceiling against the pew beside us, sank to our knees, and thanked a protecting Almighty, more fervently than for months, for the God-sent blessings of the past hours that had halted a holocaust.

When we concluded our worship 45 minutes later, the crowd was still there, so silent it built in reverence, not one GI ventured a verbal volley. The throng, some of whom were stoic, some of whom glowered, some of whom braved a faint smile full in the face of the non-fraternization edict of brand-new post-war Germany, dispersed only after giving each and all of its American fellow churchgoers the eyeball third degree. It was one of the most vividly remembered experiences of a life time teeming with enriching experiences to this time.

Soon after this indelibly imprinted incident, of XIX TAC, whose motto, "Fly, Seek, and Destroy," stemmed from its on-the-deck, skip-bomb support of "Blood and Guts" Patton's Third Army in the fearless General's miraculous end run to, and across, the Rhine, was on the move again. We were headed back to Rheims, France, a staging area for redeployment, some lucky ones to the States, others not by way of the States. That's a story we'll save for later.

On the program for commencement exercises at Haskell High are Willie Kirkpatrick, president's address; class will, Brevard Long; class poem, Pearl Lancaster; class key, Paul Lovens; response for junior class, Bailey Collins; closing address, William Polston; presentation of diplomas, Pres. W. K. Strother; and benediction, Rev. W. P. Garvin.

Class roll: Willie Kirkpatrick, Brevard Long, Wyatt Williamson, William Polston, Paul Lovens, Alden Lamm, Gladys Huckabee, Jimmie Kinnard, Mary Hughes, Laura Huckabee, Pearl Lancaster, and Elma Kinnard.

Amid the twisted steel, with some rails actually tied in bow knots in sights approximating the unbelievable wonders a Texas tornado would have wrought, here comes a trainload of fresh occupation troops. As every ex-GI knows, his destiny on redeployment home was determined on a point system. After you accumulated 100, sometimes you had a gambling chance of getting redeployed home.

Just as Mrs. Earl Correll, Chris, that is, isn't Mrs. Arrowhead. And we don't call Mrs. Don Garrett, Mrs. Patomar, now, do we?

This field of forensic battle called "Persuasive Speaking" in which the colors of HHS were carried so high by such competent competitors from Haskell this year is new to the Pencil Pusher, but it intrigues me. The rules are that you draw a subject right out of a hat and are given 30 minutes in which to prepare your presentation. We know a rambunctious redhead, married to her, in fact, who will give you 29 minutes and 30 seconds of that time back, so far as her need for preparation is concerned. The other 30 seconds is all it takes for her to get her whip cracked. Persuasive Speaking sounds like a good subject for the curriculum on "Marriage, Its Peaks and Pitfalls."

Speaking of Jewel, she filled in at the Personality Shop last weekend on the pretense of a desire for "play money." We're not talking about the stage variety. Where money is concerned, that girl plays, yes, for keeps.

Jo Helen Elliott
Chosen Typical
Teen-Ager Here

A vivacious and busy 16-year-old Haskell High School Junior, Miss Jo Helen Elliott has been selected as the Haskell version of "typical American teenage girl" and named "Miss Thermo-Jac of Lane-Felker" by a leading sportswear outfitter in St. Louis in a contest entered by more than 80 girls sponsored by Lane-Felker.

The winner was selected on the basis of the "wholesome attractiveness of the typical American teen-age girl who any father would be proud to have as his daughter." Personality and activities also were considered by the judges.

Miss Sandra Dutton, of Weinert, and Miss Donna Renfro, of Haskell, were selected as runners-up in the contest which had heavy participation.

Judging was based on pictures of the girls taken by Al Kerson of Thermo-Jac Company recently modeling their favorite Thermo-Jac from Lane-Felker's sportswear department, and biographical sketches and activity listings of each of the contestants. Selections were made by an impartial committee from the Thermo-Jac Company in St. Louis.

Miss Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Elliott here, will receive a Thermo-Jac outfit of her choice and will be featured in a back-to-school style show here in August. She is a member of Lon Pate Chapter, Miss Dutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dutton, of Weinert, is a sophomore, is cheerleader, freshman class favorite, was chosen most beautiful girl for 1962-63, a candidate for homecoming queen, belongs to Future Homemakers, and is active in her church.

Miss Renfro, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loid Renfro, of Haskell, is 16, a sophomore at Haskell High School, and a member of the American Junior Rodeo Association, one of the top ten barrel racers in the region, member of HHS Indian Band, and the Owl Club; is a member of FHA, sweetheart of Sheriff's Posse here, and was chosen last week as majorette in the Indian Band.

Both runners-up will receive a pair of Thermo-Jac shorts from Lane-Felker.

Rockdale Couple, Married In A Buggy, To Observe Golden Wedding Event

A southeast Haskell County couple who were married while seated in a buggy with the preacher standing beside them in the road, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary May 25.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bouldin, of the Rockdale community, will be honored with an open house hosted by their children and grandchildren from 2 to 5 p. m. on Sunday afternoon, May 26.

The children are Mrs. Raymond Laskie, of Miami, Arizona; Weldon Bouldin, of Abilene; and Mrs. Elmer Miller, of Stamford. There are eleven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Bouldin were married May 25, 1913, at 10:30 a. m. by Rev. Henry E. Grimes, Methodist minister, the father of Rev. Joel Grimes, of Avoca.

The ceremony was performed with them seated in their buggy while the preacher stood beside them in the road. This was south of the old Ericsdale school building where Rev. Grimes was holding services at the time.

The Jim Mickler family and the R. L. (Lee) Young family stopped their wagons on the way to church and witnessed the marriage. The couple was then honored with a dinner at the home of Mrs. Bouldin's mother.

The Bouldins have lived all their married life near where they are now with the exception of a two-year absence during which they moved to the Plains in the twenties. In 1926, they purchased the farm where they now live.

All friends and relatives are invited to the couple's golden

The new president, Mrs. Sammons, announced the following standing committee chairmen for the new year: telephone, Mrs. Jon Baum; yearbook, Mrs. Abe Turner; finance, Mrs. Wainwright; social, Mrs. Hut Pitman; nominating, Mrs. Howard Perry.

In the federation department, the following appointments have been made: conservation, Mrs. Bill Holden; education, Mrs. Bill Woodson; fine arts, Mrs. Clayton Henderson; home life, Miss Barbara McAnelly; international affairs, Mrs. Garvin Foote; public affairs, Mrs. Jimmie Turner; coordinating agencies, Mrs. Joe Warren; council of international clubs, Mrs. Lee Roy O'Neal; Texas heritage, Mrs. Huey Bledsoe; and club report chairman, Mrs. Gerald McCoy.

The social committee arranged the decorative theme for the Hawaiian luau in the Toliver home. The committee is comprised of Mes. Dan Nanny, Bud Lane, Middleton, McCoy, R. A. Lane, and Miss McAnelly.

Flowers, leis, and lazy day decor were prevalent as 42 members of the club attired in mu-muus and sarongs took part in the luau. Fun punch was served the lei-bedecked guests as they lounged at long luau tables hard by the floor with profusions of greenery and flowers in abundance surrounding them. Even a flowered grass shack and palm trees were present as background for a traditional Hawaiian meal which was tastefully served.

Mrs. Arlos Weaver, president, closed the business of the year prior to the installation and luau party, and the club went on unanimous record enthusiastically endorsing and encouraging the restoration and renovation of Haskell's landmark depot.

C of C Group 'Means Business,' Two Ways

A Chamber of Commerce committee that "means business" two ways, not only by the dedication with which it has launched operations...

Tom Barfield, chairman of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce Industrial Development Committee...

Barfield, well-known businessman, civic and religious lay leader here, got down to points by issuing to each committee member a questionnaire covering various phases of source information needed to prepare for publication a brochure on salient facts about this territory to furnish seekers of sites...

"Our immediate need is for an up-to-date brochure, and we are going after information that will stand up," Barfield said, canvassing instructions for collecting this important data.

Nature of the information sought and currently being researched by the Industrial Development Committee here includes labor force, present and potential; character of the population; educational facilities; community progressiveness; climate, transportation and distribution; living conditions, housing, utilities.

Basic format for approach to the titanic task ahead for this aggressive and progressive committee working at Chairman Barfield's direction is one prepared by the Industrial and Economic Research Division, Texas Engineering Experiment Station, Texas A&M College. It comprehensively outlines 11 steps to industrial development.

Barfield said his committee in its thorough study of the industrial potential here will prosecute all known techniques, mainly "hard work," in its search for sources of economic development.

The Industrial Development Committee of the Haskell Chamber includes, in addition to the chairman, President Turner, the chairman, President Baum, Alvin Sherman, Porter Oakes, Ira Hester, E. J. Steward, Dr. T. W. Williams, Buddy Lane, president of the Haskell Jaycees; Royce Williams, and Jack McAdoo.

The manner in which this group "is going about its business may well mean more business for the area served by Haskell," long-time civic work-horse here observed.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

IF YOU KNEW WHAT TINY LUND KNOWS ABOUT FORD DURABILITY... YOU'D BE OUT ENJOYING A '63 FORD

Ask Tiny Lund about Ford durability: He'll tell you how it helped him win America's toughest stock-car competition, the Daytona 500. Lund placed first in a Ford, with four other Fords right behind him for an unprecedented sweep of the first five places. Only the Fords were tough enough to stand the pace.

Greater durability is the reason Ford is able to offer a total-car warranty. Only a true total-performance car could offer as complete a warranty as this—with no strings attached:

"Ford Motor Company warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn, warrant to owners as follows: That for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty; appropriate adjustments will be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of parts, such as filters, spark plugs, ignition points, wiper blades, brake or clutch linings, and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items."

You can't put a long-term warranty like ours on a term car. The '63 Fords have a better warranty because they're built better than any Fords in history. You see evidence of extra toughness in Ford's outstanding competitive when the '63 Fords won the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and 500's, and the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Cars with total performance could roll up so many big miles. Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't know what a new Ford is like. Remember: If it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

*90 days or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, for the 427 C.I.D. V-8 or 390 C.I.D. V-6 engines and related power train components.

LETTERS... To The Editor

(Editor's Note: It is always stimulating to receive messages such as this. The Free Press commends to the attention of its readers this praiseworthy letter on the exemplary conduct of a group of our fellow citizens.)

Dear Editor:
My Mother and I were going through your town weekend before last. We developed generator trouble and it was about 10:30 at night, so every garage was closed. We were on our way to Dallas and we stopped at one of your stations.

Four of your people worked until 3 a. m. until they had it fixed. Mr. Scheets was especially hard working, but we appreciated all their efforts so much.

Could you relay our thanks again and I know old-fashioned kindness is far from dead.

The names were: Weldon Scheets, Marvin Scheets, Kenneth Campbell, and Ronnie Chapman. Thank you.

Betty Massengale,
215 Beech,
Lubbock, Texas

Dear Editor:
Would you please publish this letter in your paper?

If any one knows a Drew Emerson, would they please get in touch with us? He is my husband's father and he has never seen him since he was 18 months old. All we know is that his home used to be in Haskell, Texas. He has a half-brother in that vicinity. Mr. Emerson is a deaf-mute. His approximate age would be in his middle sixties.

Please, I beg you, get in touch with us. Bill would like to get in touch with his father. Thank you.

Mrs. Billy Emerson,
Diller, Nebraska

Dear Mr. Oakes:
Our Rural Homecoming was a SUCCESS.

I surely thank you for the nice write-ups that you gave us.

This past week was so rushing that I failed to get a write-up in to you, but if you have room, please put in a word of thanks for the large crowd that attended.

Thanks, sincerely,
Mrs. L. H. (Nina) Gibson,
Secretary, Pinkerton-Foster-Whitman Reunion
Association.

Summer's coming, get going!

Isn't a great time to get yourself a Chevrolet—well, we just don't know when it is. Why, you'd almost have an anti-summer not to let one of our convertibles take you. Or any of our sedans, sport coupes, sport sedans, or sport coupes, for matter.

There are a lot of other buy-now cars besides the Chevrolet. Like the care-taking you get on a long vacation trip in a brand-new car. And it's a smart time to trade, what with your Chevrolet dealer all stocked up for a busy summer. Chances are, he has just the model and color you want—be it Chevrolet, Chevy II, Corvair or Corvette—ready to go right now.

So maybe now you're all wound up? Then spring into summer at your Chevrolet dealer's.

more if they would use the same policy in dealing with the public as Postmasters. I am still a firm believer in the old saying, "The customer is always right," even though sometimes there is a question.

After all these years I have found a way to really get "into the chips." Our fast, efficient, reliable, dependable, ready, willing and Abel(dt) Free Press linotype operator, Vance Abeldt and Prattler smoke cigars. Since I spend most of my time padding the streets soliciting advertising, I do the cigar buying, and get a cigar for 8c, then I let Mr. Abeldt have it for 8c. I do not make much of a profit, but at least business is booming.

"Dear Ann Landers... Should I get a tobacco license?"

Postmasters are the nicest, most courteous, thoughtful and considerate people I know. You just can't find better people anywhere than the Post Office crew. I have had the privilege of personally knowing and doing business the past few years with Postmaster B. F. Hobson, of Paducah; Postmaster Jeff Graham of Knox City, and Harold Spain, Haskell... In my book they rate at the top of the list.

While I was Publisher and Editor of the Paducah Post, friend B. F. Hobson would go out of his way to see that the papers and other mail was given the best of service, and so does friend Harold Spain and his entire staff.

I remember last year a Father's Day present addressed to this scribe, arrived after the Postoffice was closed, and was brought to my home in Paducah by B. F. Hobson, because he said he knew I would want to receive the gift on Dad's Day.

While I was Editor of the Knox County Herald, dear old golfer friend, Jeff Graham would even come to the news paper office on paper day, help mail out, roll single wraps, and see to it that the papers were in the mail before the deadline.

I sometimes wonder if all businessmen would not profit

Haskell Lions are honored to have Dr. James H. Landes, President of Hardin-Simmons University to be the speaker at the annual Ladies' Night program scheduled for Tuesday, June 25, 7:30 o'clock at the Highway Drive-In. During the 18 years of Dr. Landes' ministry in Wichita Falls, prior to his acceptance of the position as President of HSU, his leadership extended into all facets of community life, and his personal touch has been felt by people of all faiths. President of the Baptist General Association of Texas for the past two years, Dr. Landes is respected as a dynamic preacher of the Gospel, and an efficient organizer and administrator throughout the entire Southern Baptist Convention.

Dr. Landes in 1961 was presented the Silver Beaver Award by the Boy Scouts of America for distinguished service to boyhood. He has served twice as president of the Wichita Falls Ministerial Alliance, director of the Knife and Fork Club, chairman of the executive board of the General Baptist Convention of Texas, and as a member of the boards of Chamber of Commerce, Citizens' Planning Committee, American Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Young Men's Christian Association, Salvation Army, Boys' Clubs of America, Community Chest, USO, Civic Music, Child Welfare, Mental Health and United Fund.

If freemen want to stay that way, they must concede this fact: They cannot win by what they say. But rather how they act!

Vacation time is just around the corner, and before too many weeks, Haskellites will trek to other states to rest and recuperate from another year's toil. While we are vacationing, why not see a part of Texas, the Big Bend area, which offers the magnificent scenery of desert wilderness. The Big Bend is Texas' last frontier, with all its wealth of beauty.

"It's an ill wind that blows no good." The recently ended newspaper strike in New York City had some good come out of it. It revealed that people still prefer the printed word.

What will tomorrow's newspaper be like? Will it be a streamlined version of the paper you look at over the breakfast table? Or will it be something that rolls out of a machine like a ticker tape into your home? What will it contain? All the zest for improvement in the newspaper field reveals that newspaper personnel are on "the ball" for better coverage of news stories, better make-up and better display of advertising. Most newspapers are getting away from "jumping" stories from page one to inside pages. Surveys reveal that "jumps" cause a loss up to 80 percent among readers. With high overhead, newspapers can exist on shortened news stories, but cannot exist on cut-downs on advertising space.

Paula Pinkard and Virginia Westbrook, members of the Rulesets, well-known Rule choral group, sang at the groundbreaking ceremonies for the nursing care home, and Pinkard described the facilities which the new structure will contain.

The nursing care home will have 8750 feet of floor space and will be a completely new concept in housing and care for the aged," Pinkard said.

Rich Vein ---

the late C. D. (Charley) Long and the late J. E. (Ed) Wilfong. Both men came to Haskell in 1883, and were prominent in the development of this territory. Their letter, dated January 23, 1907, reads in part: "On January 27, 1883, we, C. D. Long and J. E. Wilfong, arrived at Abilene, then a new town on the Texas & Pacific Railroad, and the dwellings were mostly composed of tents. Abilene was at that time and remained so until 1890, the railroad point for Haskell and the surrounding country.

"The town of Rice Springs, now Haskell, was surveyed and platted by W. R. Sandifer, surveyor for Walton & Hinds, the then owner of the property on which the town of Haskell now stands. In the latter part of the year, 1885, W. R. Sandifer, J. L. Laberrie, and R. D. Wilfong erected the first houses in the town, all of which are still standing. R. D. Wilfong was the first white settler in Haskell County and the first one to plow a furrow which was done in 1876 about 12 miles west of the town of Haskell. Haskell County, though laid out in 1858 was organized on Jan. 13, 1855. C. D. Long was one of the clerks of the election and carried the returns to Throckmorton, the county to which Haskell was attached at the time for judicial purposes.

"The first county officers were as follows, to-wit, Thomas F. Tucker, county judge; A. D. Tucker, sheriff and tax collector; Oscar Martin (who was the first editor and publisher of the Haskell Free Press), county attorney; J. L. Jones, county clerk; district clerk, Lewis Casner, county tax assessor; S. J. Preston, county treasurer; R. D. Wilfong, hide and animal inspector; W. R. Sandifer, county surveyor; M. M. Harvey, S. R. Mills, S. F. Cumming, county commissioners; S. V. Collum, justice of the peace, and Gus Barkley, constable."

The writers, Wilfong and Long, said when they came to this country, it was stock country inhabited by cowboys. The Tonkawa Indians were at that time on the Indian Reservation at Fort Griffin and frequently visited Haskell to hunt and lay in their winter supply of game.

"This country was known as the wild west at that time," was his conclusion in what was seemingly a mild understatement.

Rule Seniors Will Graduate Next Thursday

Commencement exercises for the Rule High School Senior Class are set for Thursday night, May 23, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium, with Dr. William O. Beazley, of Hardin-Simmons University as the speaker for the occasion.

Lynn Beard is valedictorian, and James Norman is salutatorian.

Baccalaureate services will be Sunday night at 8 o'clock, with the Rev. Ray Elinore, pastor of the First Methodist Church bringing the message.

Special music for commencement will be by the Senior Chorus singing, "Graduation Day." Sam Turner and the Rulesets, composed of Judy Jones, Sallie Dowdy, Susie Dowdy, Jane Kile, Virginia Westbrook, and Paula Pinkard will provide music at baccalaureate. Linda Simpson will play the processional and recessional at both programs.

Eighth grade commencement in Rule will be next Tuesday at 8 o'clock. June Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hill, is class valedictorian, and Mary Ann Anders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris is class salutatorian. Glenn Davis is high ranking boy.

Arles Vandiver, minister of the Church of Christ, will be the speaker for the evening. Special music will be by the junior high chorus.

Henry Druessedow made the awards presentations.

Mrs. Robert King, member of the faculty, acknowledged the accomplishments of four students who went far in UIL events. They were Mike Felker, first in District 6AA in extemporaneous speaking; Diane Cadenhead, first in the district in declamation; Diane Summers, survived district competition and finished third in the regional at Lubbock in persuasive speaking; and Charlotte Hise, who broke precedent as a freshman to finish second in the state in extemporaneous speaking.

First Year Librarian pins were awarded Margaret Cook, Debbie Pharris, Beverly Gibbs, Carolyn Rhoads, Doris Pace, Toni Greene, and Paula Terrell. Rita Woodard was the recipient of a Second Year Librarian's pin. Sharon Crouch, Lucy Kennedy and Brian Dulaney received office assistant's pins.

Band Director Frank Porter gave recognition to three students who made All-District Bandmen. They are Randy Wiseman, trumpet; Ken Barnett, cornet; and Dennis Ruoff, baritone horn. These boys are in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades, respectively.

Three Majorettes Get Batons In Twirling Tryouts

Donna Renfro, Andrea Baird, and Zona Bassing were chosen to fill the three vacancies created by graduation in the Haskell Indian Band majorette lineup in a contest in which 12 talented twirlers tried out here Saturday.

The judges for the competition were Band Directors Tim Jones, of Hamlin, and Earle Hesse, of Crowell.

As part of an exchange agreement, Haskell Band Director Frank Porter will judge the Crowell majorette candidates on Thursday, and the Hamlin hopefuls on Saturday, May 25.

Students Are Honored In Awards Session

Recognition of the achievements of Haskell High and Junior High School students was given at an awards assembly in the high school auditorium here last week.

Two outstanding 8th grade students were recognized on the basis of honor, leadership, courage, scholarship, and service. Chosen on these qualifications by the student body, the award recipients are Kristine Wilcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wilcox, who recently moved to Haskell from Plymouth, Indiana, and Steve Munday, who makes his home with his grandmother, Mrs. T. F. Rainey.

Interest Mounting

(Continued from Page 1) Haskell Free Press, and Dr. T. W. Williams, were named spokesman, and will take a delegation to Fort Worth to talk over disposition of the deeded property with Ellis L. Simmons, vice president of the Fort Worth and Denver Lines, who has bent a considerable ear to recent pleas on the part of the citizenship here concerning the project.

Mrs. Toyler was to go before Mayor J. E. Walling, Jr. and the Haskell City Council Tuesday night in an effort to secure that body's sanction of the depot move to city property if the depot can be obtained intact for restoration.

Dr. Cadenhead called another meeting for a full report on progress of the project for Monday, May 20, at 7 p. m. Other projects aired at what started out as a summer session, and the pot boiled over, included a facilitated public rumpus ground to attract tourist stopovers, improvements to the north and south approaches to Haskell, a guidebook of historical interest around here, all of which tie in to the picturesque depot enterprise, a townwide beautification program through planting of flowering peach trees, and the paving of the airstrip

Court Decision ---

(Continued from Page 1) tory animal control authorities, of a trapper to begin work on June 1. The court's action came three weeks ago after numerous complaints from widespread sections of the county that coyotes and bobcats were constituting not only a nuisance, but a menace.

A petition needing at least 25 certified names, which is 10 per cent of the total voter turnout in Haskell County at the last general election, has been circulated by Dade Gay, longtime Haskell citizen, and others. It has been filed with County Court Clerk W. W. (Bill) Reeves.

County Attorney Bill Rathiff Monday handed an opinion to Judge Alvis declaring in essence that, even if enough certified names are on the petition, it is still the province of the Commissioners' Court to determine whether an election is necessary. Rathiff's opinion, Judge Alvis said, is based on a 1906 statute spelling out jurisdiction of Commissioners' Courts in such matters.

here, badly needed in times of emergency.

All these projects had their champions, but the one that generated more steam than the locomotives that used to pass by the edifice in abeyance with regularity was the depot, which holds nostalgic memories for the majority of people here. There are many who are determined it shall not depart the Haskell scene.

Present Thursday night, in addition to Dr. Cadenhead, Mrs. Toyler, and Oakes, were Mrs. Opal Adkins, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. Ed Healer, president of the Garden Club; Miss Nettie McCollum, member of the Chamber Board and New Projects Committee; Abe Turner, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Bud Lane, president of the Jaycees; Wallace Cox, Jr., president-elect of the Lions Club; Alfred Hines, president of the Lion's Club; Jesse Priest, vice president of the Jaycees; E. J. Stewart, president of the Rotary Club; Mrs. Hut Pitman and Mrs. Viars Felker, members of the New Projects and Committee.

New Voices, Faces On Popular 'Nineteens' Team

Four Haskell High School girls have been chosen to replace graduating seniors in the well-known "Nineteens" choral group which ranges wide musically and geographically in the name of the high school here.

New "Nineteens" are Elouise Watson, Judy Anderson, Jerre Sue Couch, and Diane Hester.

Making the "Nineteens" team is no easy matter. Competition was tough on many musical ability tests put to the candidates by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bell, directors of music in the Haskell school system, and the present "Nineteens" personnel. Tests included singing range, high and low, sight reading, patterns of music, telling a tune by looking at a piece of music, and the singing of a single designated note.

The popular choral group was scheduled to appear before the Junior-Senior banquet audience at Clyde Saturday night.

Warning Issued About Violations Of Litter Law

With the advent of the summer season, the litterbug parade seems to be snaking through Haskell with regularity, according to complaints received by public officials here.

County Judge Jim Alvis and city authorities cautioned this week that an ordinance prevents the littering of lawns and other property, both private and public, with cans, bottles, and cartons. It is being rigidly enforced, and anyone caught littering the streets or lawns of Haskell will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.
