MILTON'S PARADISE WAS LOST. OUR PARADISE HAS BEEN FOUND IN FLOYD COUNTY, AND THE BOOM IS ON.

A good home should be your highest ambition. Every man on earth should secure a home in a beautiful climate and on good rich soil.

Business men of all branches are offered good openings here. No better place on earth for the farmer or stockman to locate.

GOOD HOMES.

In looking for a home, you want to consider the healthful climate, best lands, intelligent and peaceful neighbors, pure water and fine grass. All of these are to be found in

FLOYD COUNTY.

The realms of fancy can never open to the human mind a lovelier and grander scene than this broad and beautiful country, with its rich soil, nutritive grasses and golden grain. This is indeed

A TRULY WONDERFUL AND DELIGHTFUL COUNTRY,

The wonder and astonishment of visitors, who are verily amazed when they behold the gorgeous beauty of this lovely prairie, which, not infrequently exceeds in its grandeur, the Poet's dream.

—DELLA PLAIN,—

Situated in the midst of this rich, fertile country, is beautifully located, commanding views of ten to twenty miles, and is destined, beyond a doubt to be the

METROPOLIS OF THE GREAT STAKED PLAINS.

WE WILL DONATE TOWN PROPERTY

To Actual Settlers, Schools and Churches, and Sell Lands on Reasonable Terms. Address or Call on A PRESENT TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

It is with pleasure that we announce to our many patrons that we have made arrangements with that wide-awake, illustrated farm magazine, the AMERICAN FARMER, published at Fort Wayne, Ind., and read by nearly 200,000 farmers by which that great publication will be mailed direct, FREE to the address of any of our subscribers who will come in and pay up all arrearages on subscription and one year in advance from date, and to any new subscriber who will pay one year in advance. This is a grand opportunity to obtain a first-class farm journal free. The American Farmer is a large 16-page journal, of national circulation, which ranks among the leading agricultural papers. It treats the question of economy in agriculture and the rights and privileges of that vast body of citizens—American Farmers—whose industry is the basis of all material and national prosperity. Its highest purpose is the elevation and ennobling of Agriculture through the higher and broader education of men and women engaged in its pursuits. The regular subscription price of the American Farmer is $1.00 per year. IT COSTS YOU NOTHING. From any one number ideas can be obtained that will be worth three times the subscription price to you or members of your household, yet you get it free. Call and see sample copy.

Newspapers advertising any of the various lottery companies and schemes in the United States must drop the same at once, as the anti-lottery bill has passed and is sweeping in its provisions: "No letter, postal card or circular concerning any lottery or so-called gift concern or other similar enterprise offering prizes dependent upon lot or chance or concerning schemes devised for the purpose of obtaining money or property by false pretences, and no list of the drawings at any lottery or similar scheme, and no lottery ticket or part thereof, and no check, draft, bill, money, postal note or money order for the purchase of any ticket, tickets, or part thereof, or of any share of any chance in any such lottery or gift enterprise, shall be carried in the mail or delivered at or through any postoffice or any branch thereof, or by any letter carrier; nor shall any newspaper, circular, pamphlet or publication of any kind, containing any advertisement of any lottery or gift enterprise of any kind offering prizes dependent upon lot or chance, or containing any list of prizes awarded at the drawings of any lottery or gift enterprise, whether said list is of any part or of all the drawing, be carried in the mail or delivered by any postmaster or letter carrier.

There is much talk about drawing the color line. Why attempt to improve upon nature? She has already drawn it and if not sufficiently clear when the commissioners, put the negroes in one car and assign the whites to another, it will only be the following of nature and the negroes themselves will welcome it for they will be freer. Casts like the individuals will soon find their levels. Differences have existed from the launching of man on this globe, do exist and will exist as long as time's pendulum vibrates across and indicates hours on the dial of nature. Equality in man or men, never has been, and is not and never will be. It is an impossibility—incapable of adjusting even to an approximation.—Corsicana Courier.

If you are a sufferer from dyspepsia, and do not wish to throw away your money trying worthless medicines, send for a bottle of Dr. Arakoff's Dyspepsia Remedy as used in the Russian hospitals for the past five years. Sent to any part of the country on receipt of price $1.00 per bottle. Send express and P. O. address THE ARAKOFF MEDICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

"There's only one fault I have to find with Dr. Pulpit's sermons," said Mrs. Poots, whose pew is in the back part of a large and fashionable church. "What's that?" asked Mr. P. "I can't hear one word he says." "Humph! That's what I like about 'em," grunted Poots.

THE DELLA PLAIN MALE AND FEMALE INSTITUTE.

To the friends of education everywhere, kind greeting:

It affords us great pleasure to write you this letter of information—information which, we are persuaded, effect, not only your profit, but your happiness.

We know it has long been the desire of many to seek for themselves a home in the west, where lands are cheap and fertile, where water is abundant and good, where grass is luxuriant and free, where health is nature's heritage to all, and where the bow of promise is arched above every home. We know, also, that the beautiful plains of northwestern Texas have spread themselves before the hungering eyes of these home-seekers, promising all this, and more; but the few went, while the many remained where they were. Why? They loved their children more than they did lands and homes; in short, they could not afford to take their children away, to grow up into men and women without education and refinement. These could not be found among the scattered homes of these new counties. We have looked upon this, with anxious longings to remove the difficulty.

Led by the hand of Providence, we trust, we have succeeded in building a magnificent little college building, in the very heart of this wonderful land of promise, and now, in its wide open doors, Wisdom and Understanding stand hand in hand, crying: "Unto you, O men, I call; and my voice is to the sons of men." This institution modestly claims to do for her patrons as much as can be done by the higher grade schools in the State of Texas. This, friends, is what I wish to write to you: Come to the beautiful little Della Plain, in the county of Floyd. Send your children; they will find board cheap, but good; tuition reasonable; instruction thorough; discipline kind but rigid. Send your sons, that they may get the advantage of a college course without having to leave their homes to get it. Send your daughters, that they may become skilled in the fine arts, as well as being equipped for the sterner duties of life.

Mr. C. W. Hutcheson, a graduate of the Springtown Male and Female Institute, Parker county, Texas, is the principal, and will welcome you to his class rooms, introduce you to his teachers, help you in securing board, explain any and all matters pertaining to the school, and see that you have the attention your needs demand.

If this letter should chance to fall into the hands of home-seekers, let them write to C. W. Hutcheson for information, and he will take pleasure in rendering any assistance in his power.

Look at your map and find Floyd county. On the centre section of this county is the school, in a live, temperance town. Traveling by rail, leaving the train at Amarillo and take the hack for Della Plain, by way of Plainview.

The settlers that are already here say come; those that are coming, say come; let everyone that will, come, and, enjoy these advantages for yourselves, and your posterity.

For all information, address: C. W. HUTCHESON, Della Plain, Floyd county, Tex.

"How delicious is the winning Of a kiss, at love's beginning,"—sings the poet, and his sentiment is true with one possible exception. If either party has the catarrh, even love's kiss loses its sweetness. Dr. Sege's Catarrh Remedy is a sure cure for this repulsive and distressing affection. By its mild, soothing, antiseptic, cleansing and healing properties, it cures the worst cases. $500 reward offered for an incurable case.

"What's that?" asked Mrs. P. "I can't hear one word he says."

"Humph! That's what I like about 'em," grunted Poots.

HOW TO TREAT A SWEETHEART.

When he comes to see you, let me give you a few hints as to your treatment of him:

First of all, my dear, don't let him get an idea that your one object in life is to get all you can out of him.

Don't let him believe that you think so light of yourself that when ever he has an idle moment he can find you ready and willing to listen to him.

Don't let him think you are going out driving with him alone, even if your mother should be lenient enough to permit this.

Don't let him think you are going to the dance or the frolic with him; you are going to make tip a party which will all go together.

Don't let him spend his money on you; when he goes away, he may bring you box of sweets, a book of some music; but don't make him feel that you expect any thing but courteous attention.

Don't let him call you by your first name, at least not until you are engaged to him, and then only when you are by yourselves.

Don't let him put his arms around you and kiss you; when he put the pretty ring on your finger it meant that you were to be his wife soon, he gained a few rights but not the one of discriminate caressing. When he placed it there he was right to put a kiss on your lips; it was the seal of your love; but if you give your kisses too freely they will prove of little value. A maiden fair is like a beautiful rich, purple plum; it hangs high up on the tree and is looked at with envy. He who would get it must work for it and all the tending should be on his side, so that when he gets it he appreciates it. You know the story of the man who saw a beautiful plum on a tree, which he very much wanted.

Next to it hung another plum; it was beautiful, and it was apparently just as sweet as the one he wanted. The seeker for it stood under it for a moment, looked at it with longing eyes, and, behold, the plum dropped into his mouth. Of what value was it then? It was looked at and cast aside. Now take this little story, and make it point to the moral that I wish it to.—Ladies' Home Journal.

The successful casting of steel from southern iron at Chatanooga has created a sensation in Pennsylvania. The Philadelphia Record quotes a steel manufacturer there as saying that experts sent to Europe by southern capitalists learned the process there, and that "the Bessemer people of the north, who now hold, as they claim, by purchase of patent rights, all the secrets of the Thomas-Gilchrist or basic process of steel making, which has been in use for more than ten years in England, and who thereby practically control the basic output in this country, will, in all probability, control the legal right of the southern makers to use any process bearing even a family resemblance to the basic." But if it is used in Europe, and the Southerners learned the process there, how can the monopoly be claimed in this country?

The newspapers have made presidents and killed poets, made states out of territories, statesmen out of pappers and bustles that loom into the past on straight back beauties. It has furnished genius with the sand paper of criticism; made the world get up every morning for roll call; given the pulpit lungs of iron and voice of thunder, furnished a soft foundation for a new carpet. It has curtailed the power of kings; embellished the pantry shelves, bursted rings and county seat cliques. It has educated the homeless, robbed the philosopher of his reason, and even criticised Indian agents, but it can't be run to suit everybody, and the paper that starts out on that course will have a rough road to travel.—Canyon Echo.

"It seems queer," remarked Fangle, "that while no animal wears a hat, there is only one that goes bear-headed." "What animal is that?" asked Mrs. Fangle, with deep interest.

A Georgia editor, in asking for a free pass, wrote: "If you cannot renew this pass, kindly send me a pair of thick-soled shoes, as I have got to leave this place next week."

The new aspirant for the county seat of Crosby county has been christened "Emma." Whoa, Emma. Don't get in too big a rush, for you have over a year before you get the county seat.

A paper should ought to be reliable when it has a patent inside and an empty outside, for there can be nothing unreliable in white paper with a few dirty, muddy looking spots on it.

The Crosby County News says there is a lady's face in the moon now in the place of the ugly old man of the past. Is she one of the sweet little Beatrice kind or is she the old maid kind who would turn a bucket of water into vinegar, Bro. Murray?

The Estacado Press says it turned out the first job work ever printed on the central plains. You are off, Brother Decker. The Review has the honor of doing the first job, two years ago. Bro. Murray will testify to that as he was the recipient of a neat job from this office.

Two Kentucky mules were brought into the western part of this state a few days ago and turned out in a yard where there were several hives of bees. The hives were a curiosity to the mules and they scratched themselves on the sharp corners. Thirty minutes later $450 worth of mule was lying dead on the grass.

postmaster-General Wanamaker is credited with being one of nine Philadelphians who made up the sum of $3126 used in buying votes in the McKinley district. If this is true, the merchant crops out, and if it proves that civil service official duty and Sunday schools do not occupy an entire mind that has so successfully studied how to buy and to sell.

The Plainview Herald is making bold strides in the way of improvements in its general make-up and says: "We are making preparations to put in a new cylinder press and a complete job outfit." Bro. Gates, don't get another Army press for goodness' sake! Get a good, old, reliable Washington hand press. There is already too many of those old Army ("black-smith") presses on the plains now. If there were more Washington hand presses there would be more neat papers on the central plains.

A Democratic victory in November in the Northern states would be a partisan calamity. The Republicans should be left in control of the presidency, senate and house until 1892, that all the responsibility of the infamous legislation may rest where it properly belongs. A Democratic house of representative could not repeal or modify the odious new tariff tax, and it would be better for the Democracy if the Republicans could be left to work their sweet will with the people until an opportunity came in 1892 to overthrow the whole gang.

Except in the days of gold, never was the attention of the people turned to any country as there is to-day toward the staked plains. Only a few years ago the country was to the United States what the great "Sahara desert" is to Africa now. Oh! what a change time has wrought. In a few more years the hum of the reaper, the roar of the thrasher and the whistle of the roller mill will be heard on the plains, then the poor renter will wish he had a home here, but it will be too late unless he pays dear for it.—Plainview Herald.

Men speak of baring their arms in defense of women, but it remained for an Indiana lawyer to bare his leg in her defense. A young lady teacher was charged with brutally whipping a twelve-year-old youngster, and the case rested on the welts made by the switch. The lawyer took the switch, raised welts on his own bare legs in the presence of the court, and won his case by demonstrating that this could be done by a light blow with a keen switch.—Gazette.

Bob Ingersoll says a man can learn in one day all there is to know about the Christian plan of salvation, and he need not spend one-seventh of his lifetime considering the subject. One can learn in about ten minutes all there is good and useful about Bob Ingersoll, and it is not necessary that he should spend all his time in blasphemy and blackguardism, in tearing down without building up, in scuttling a good ship and providing no lifeboats for the passengers.—Canyon Echo

The over crowded condition of the state agricultural and mechanical college and experiment station near Bryan has brought about the agitation of the question of a similar institution in North Texas. This class of colleges is deservedly becoming more popular, and if at this early day in its history, the one at College Station has more students than it can conveniently accommodate, the time is not far distant when one, or even two or three more such colleges will be necessary to afford the educational advantages which the young men of Texas are now demanding.

Be he engaged in what employment you will—be he preacher, soldier, lawyer, statesman, railroad president, merchant, anything you will—your hustler is invariably bowlegged. Daniel Boone was bowlegged. So is Stanley. So were Abraham and Moses. So, to day, are a vast majority of their descendants. And they get there. If any wide-awake philosopher, curious as to the problems of human life, will but be at the pains of examining any eager crowd of men, a crowd clustered, for example, along either side of a highway down which a notable procession is to pass, he will invariably find a solid column of bowlegged men holding the curb-stone. Next come the straight-legged. After them the knock-kneed, hopelessly craning their necks in the rear and pitifully tiptoeing for a glimpse of the passing show!

Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper says: The London Spectator has a long editorial on "The Use of the Revolver in America," and speaks of its use in some Western and Southern States as offensively common and dangerously reckless. It instances the recent bloody outbreak in Perry County, Ky., and says "this attitude toward murder prevails in effect throughout a large portion of the wild West, in Texas, and also very largely in the Southern States." This is little less than a slander, particularly in its reference to Texas. It has been said that a few years ago a Texas man traveling in the North hesitated to register the name of his State at a hotel for fear that any room would be thought good enough for him as a native of Texas. Whether this exaggeration has any basis in truth or not, it remains as a fact that to-day Texas is as free from lawlessness as any State in the Union. We undertake to say the records of criminal statistics show a larger percentage of convictions of indirect persons in Texas than in New York. This may surprise our readers; but no State in the Union has since the war undergone a greater transformation than Texas. How much of this is to be attributed to its splendidly endowed school system, perhaps the wealthiest in the Union States we do not know, but it is a fact that particularly within the last few years Texas has risen wonderfully in its social club and schools, and churches are found in the smallest towns. Outbreaks of old-time lawlessness seldom occur. Restrictions on the sale of liquor and on gambling are far more stringent in Texas than in New York, and in some other older States. Texas, more than any other State in the South, has undergone through reconstruction, morally and materially, since the close of the war. Our London contemporary owes an apology to the Lone Star State.

There is a growing apprehension that the Chicago fair will be converted into a Republican political bureau. The principal reason for this is the fact that Butterworth, congressman from the First district of Ohio, is making Republican speeches in Illinois. It is hardly possible that so cosmopolitan a city as Chicago will allow the exposition to be used as a machine to run the Harrison mill.—Gazette.

Sambo, the typical Sambo, joined the church, and the shepherd of his soul thought best to look after him. "Have you stolen any chickens, Sambo, since you met with a change of heart?" sail the shepherd one day.

"No, massa; oh, no, I hasn't stee no chick'ns 'tall."

"Any turkey?" persisted the pastor.

"Oh, no, massa! I hasn't took nary a turkey."

"Well, Sambo, I am glad to hear it—very glayr. Watch and pray!" and the good man went on.

"Golly!" chuckled Sambo, peeping inside his coat, "if he'd a had me!"

The first indication of cool weather comes with the man who, after carefully shutting the door all summer, now leaves it wide open.

FORTUNES FOR MANY.

Allen, the blacksmith, is now a millionaire through replying to an advertisement of unclaimed estates, etc., etc.—Times, London, Mar. 1, 1888.

If your ancestor came from the old country write to THE EUROPEAN CLAIM AGENCY, 59 Pearl St. and 24 Stone St., New York City, enclosing 25 cents for reply, and learn if you are heir to any of the unclaimed estates there, worth more than a half million dollars, that rightly belong, chiefly to American descendants of Europeans who came to America years ago. If your ancestors came over more than 50 years ago there is a probability that you are heir to a fortune.

Mr. J. L. Craig returned last week from Stevens county with his family and his cattle.
Mr. Johnson, from McCulloch county, is in town this week looking out for a home. We have lots of room for such as Mr. Johnson and lots of other good citizens.

We'll wager a postage stamp with the gum licked off that there is one of biggest circulation liars in the state, in Floyd county.

We were shown some Floyd county corn the other day that would cause old Dallas county to take a back seat.

In this issue will be found the announcement of Mr. E. R. McCracken as a candidate for the office of county judge of Floyd Co., at the ensuing election. As he is too well known throughout this county to require any eulogy from us as to his ability and qualifications. He is one of the first settlers of the county and we can say, and truthfully too, that he is not a chronic office-seeker, but was urged by his friends to allow them to put his name before the people of this county as the proper person to guard the best interests of the county. He is firm in all his deliberations on all things and will be the same in county affairs, and if elected, we have no hesitancy in saying that he will fill the office to the satisfaction of his constituents and to the honor of the county.

Candidates who want to be elected should come around to the REVIEW office and plank down the requisite "William"—not being on very familiar terms with them we never personate them as "Bill"—and get there with both feet. If you want your name on the ticket you had better come around and make the proper arrangements as we will print the only legal ticket in this county.

In the proper place in this issue will be found the announcement of T. J. Briscoe as a candidate for the office of county treasurer, and we can recommend him as a young man of splendid qualifications for the office for which he aspires, and we feel no hesitancy in saying that if elected, he will fill the office with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of his constituents.

In this issue will be found the announcement of Prof. Fayette Copeland as a candidate for the office of county judge of Floyd at the coming election, and we can recommend him to the voters of this county as thoroughly qualified to fill the office to the honor of the county and to the satisfaction of his constituents. If elected to the office, we have no hesitancy in saying that the office will be filled by an able gentleman.

The College opened up last Monday with a fair attendance and we believe there will be over one hundred students before spring opens. See the College "ad." in another column.

Punctuation is a nice thing, but it is horribly butchered up and trampled under foot by a certain so-called "reliable" concern. Oh, what a consummate ass some men can make of themselves by trying to show how smart they ought to be! Let's draw the curtain.

You are in a Bad Fix.
But we will cure you if you will us. Our message is to the weak, nervous and debilitated, who, by early evil habits, or later indiscretions, have trifled away their vigor of body, mind and manhood, and who suffer all those effects which lead to premature decay, consumption or insanity. If this means you send for and read our Book or L.P.R., written by the greatest Specialist of the day, and sent (sealed) for 6 cents in stamps. HEALTH BETTER THAN WEALTH.
The above advice appeals to all persons, especially to those who to all outward appearances seem hale and hearty, but on whom the impression is daily made that their health is not what it should be.

Many ailments that may be relieved for a short period, only to appear again, and as certain in time to undermine the health, as a break in the levee of the Mississippi river, which is hardly seen at first, daily enlarges, and at length lets in the rushing flood.

To guard against or to remove disease is to one of the most important things to remember in health or in sickness.

To know whom to advise with, should be our foremost duty, many do, but the public at large should demand and receive good medical advice for the preservation of health.

The Arakoff Medical Co., with its world-wide reputation, in seeking to follow out the principles and aims of the eminent Russian physician Dr. Arakoff, of Moscow, and his celebrated Russian hospital treatment, has secured the services of an efficient and experienced medical corps, who will upon application give advice by letter free of charge to persons suffering from any form of disease.

Write and describe your complaint and its symptoms, also give your full name and address on a stamped envelope, and by return mail receive advice for treatment free of expense. Address all communications to

The Review is simply a dandy. She is the only newspaper in the county and every settler in Floyd county should subscribe for it and when you get through reading it, send it to a friend back east.

FOR DYSPEPSIA
Use Brown's Iron Bitters.
Physicians recommend it.
All dealers keep it. $1.00 per bottle. Genuine has trade-mark and crossed red lines on wrapper.

ONE THING CALLS FOR SOMETHING ELSE.
We will soon be ready to start up the sporting and fishing grounds in Della Plain. We will donate ten and a half blocks of land, which covers the lake just south of the public square, and issue a five thousand dollar stock, divided into five hundred shares at $10 each, and will limit each man's stock to twenty-five shares. Each share to control one vote. As soon as all the stock is taken we will organize the company and go to work. All wishing to take stock, will please let me know at once, and oblige,
T. J. BRAIDFOOT,
Della Plain, Texas.

Gentlemen:—Enclosed find $2 for two bottles of Dr. Arakoff's Dyspepsia Remedy, which you will please send to Mrs. R. Chambers, St. Mark Hotel, 5th Avenue, New York City. I send this knowing the wonder full effects of the remedy, as it has by taking two bottles entirely cured me of dyspepsia from which I was a great sufferer for over three years. I thank God to be free of the ailment. I wish you every success.
Yours respectfully,
S. L. CORREGE,
522 E. 7th St., S. Boston.
