It was Jeter again on a 50-yard TD run, with fullback Gary Conner carrying around end for two additional points. Mass Polio Immunization In County Is Postponed

The county-wide mass polio immunization program scheduled throughout Haskell County last Sunday, has been postponed until a later date, due to adverse publicity emanating from Canada, where four polio cases reportedly developed after the vaccine had been taken. The Sunday program was also cancelled in Taylor and Jones counties and a number of towns and cities in this area. Decision to postpone the local program was made at a meeting of Jaycees and medical authorities here Friday afternoon. Billy Jack Ray, Jaycee president, and County Health Officer Dr. T. W. Williams, expressed the opinion that it would be unwise to attempt to carry out the program after it had been cancelled in Taylor and Jones Counties. They expressed praise for the cooperation of dozens of volunteers who had offered to help in the program Sunday. All arrangements had been completed for the immunization program, with stations to be set up in Haskell, Rule, Rochester, O'Brien and Weir.

Hunter Men's Wear Hit By Fire Tuesday

Damage estimated at several thousand dollars resulted from a fire in the cleaning department of Hunter Men's Wear and Dry Cleaners at 4:00 p. m. Tuesday. E. C. (Gene) Hunter, owner, said principal damage was caused from smoke and heat. Walls and ceilings were blackened and intense heat warped some of the overhead lighting fixtures in the store. A considerable amount of merchandise was scorched and damaged. Hunter said. The fire started in the cleaning room, where repairs were being made to a naphtha pump. An extension light being used by the repairman, Dale Rainey, slipped from his hand and exploded when it crashed on the concrete floor, igniting spilled naphtha. Luckily, Rainey escaped without being burned. The blaze was quickly extinguished by firemen, but not before heat and dense smoke had filled the entire building. Hunter said the store would be closed pending a thorough check of damage caused by the blaze.

"Freedom Is Indivisible"

It is an unfortunate fact that many words of wide connotation are so often used, abused and misused as to lose their basic meaning in the minds of great numbers of people. Two of those words are "capitalism" and "socialism." Ask the next man you meet for a definition of them, and it will be a minor miracle if you get a clear answer.

Henry Hazlitt, in one of his Newsweek magazine columns, says something that should be far better understood than it actually is. To quote: "Capitalism is merely the name for a system of economic liberty. Under it civil and political liberties flourish and are secure. Under a complete or nearly complete socialism neither economic nor political liberty can exist. Freedom is indivisible. How can there be freedom of press, speech, or assembly when the government owns all the newspapers, presses, and assembly halls? As Leon (Trotsky) who knew" wrote in 1937: "In a country where the sole employer is the State, opposition means death by slow starvation: The old principle: Who does not work shall not eat, has been replaced by a new one: Who does not obey shall not eat."

One phrase alone, taken from this quotation, sums up the story: "Freedom is indivisible." Without economic freedom there can be no other basic freedom. This is why capitalism, whatever its faults, has done more good for more people, tangibly, and intangibly, than any other system yet devised by man.

The Cuban Cancer

An extraordinarily alarming report comes from Robert S. Allen—a leading writer on national and international affairs. His first paragraph says: "Soviet technicians have begun installing 'electronic counter equipment' in Cuba that can be used to interfere with U. S. missiles launched from our major test center at Cape Canaveral, Florida."

This equipment, Mr. Allen goes on, consists of jamming and tracking devices. Soviet technicians have been sent to Cuba to put them into operation. They also can be used to interfere with our aircraft guidance control and ground-air communication systems.

The situation is so serious that President Kennedy sent his chief military advisor, General Maxwell Taylor, an officer of the highest abilities, to the Caribbean to find out the facts and to report upon their significance.

It is certainly obvious that no move of such ominous importance could have been made except upon the authority of the highest Soviet officials—primarily, Premier Khrushchev. And, if General Taylor learns what Mr. Allen obviously expects him to learn, this means that the Soviet Union, of which Castro is simply a willing pawn is determined to establish an effective military base some 90 miles from U. S. territory. The cancerous Cuban situation may force this government into taking actions of the most far-reaching portent.

Haskell County History

Sept. 17, 1913

A farmhouse on the Ed Fouts farm northwest of town was burned about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, along with all contents. The small house was occupied by a Mexican family employed in gathering the cotton crop.

Two fighter pilots in the Army Air Force from Haskell, Capt. James A. Isbell Jr., and Capt. John E. Fouts Jr., both veterans of combat in widely separated theaters of war, have been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. Capt. Fouts, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fouts, is serving in the South Pacific. Capt. Isbell, son of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. Jim Isbell, has served in Africa, Sicily and France.

Five Haskell gins had turned out 929 bales of cotton up to Thursday noon, from this year's crop. Farmers face a serious shortage of labor to gather the crop, they report.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Johnson and little son Max of Fort Worth are visiting in the home of Mrs. W. E. Johnson, mother of the Fort Worth man.

J. R. (Bob) Mitchell, prominent farmer of the Weinert section has purchased the large residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Finley and plans to move here. The Finleys are moving to Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. McCrary, of Haskell are in receipt of a letter from their son, Pfc. J. S. McCrary, who advised he had been in Australia for the past six months. He wrote that he was doing all right but would like to be home and go coon and turkey hunting.

Jerry Cahill, who is attending John Tarleton College, spent the weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Cahill.

F. M. Robertson of this city, Haskell lawyer and former County Attorney who entered the Army Air Corps last summer, has been promoted to the rank of Major. He is stationed at Venice, Fla., where he has been joined by his wife and their children.

60 Years Ago—Sept. 20, 1902
Dr. E. E. Gilbert is collecting specimens of crops raised in the county this year, which he will arrange in some convenient place in town where prospectors coming through this winter and next spring can see what the county will produce. He asks farmers to help by bringing in exhibits.

County Judge D. H. Hamilton reports that the school census shows Haskell County to have 1,137 children of school age. The county will receive state apportionment amounting to $8,617.51 this year.

Frank Glasscock will leave Saturday morning for Galveston where he will enter the medical department of the University of Texas for a two year's course in pharmacy.

The Gypsies had another disappointment last night, the rain preventing them from opening up their encampment. The Fields fishing party came in Saturday evening and reported having fine success. They killed a lot of quail and squirrel and caught more fish than they could use. A 40-pound yellow catfish was their largest catch.

As we go to press late Friday evening the clouds have thickened and a slow rain has set in with every appearance of continuing. A good rain now would be of great benefit to the winter range.

Henry Alexander, Walter Tandy and Charley Hutchings, the latter from Stamford, went out on Lake Creek duck hunting the other day and bagged 26 Teal.

Frank and Fleet Neal of Weatherford, uncle and cousin of our townsman, A. B. Neal are here this week visiting him and also prospecting with a view to locating here.

Mrs. Kate Garrison of Nacogdoches is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Sanders had all five of their sons at home Sunday for the first time in three years. Present were Earnest E. Sanders of Fort Worth, Jerome, Roy, Wallace, and Fred Jr.

People, Places & Things

By A. PATE

Few people will recollect when the First Baptist Church was located on North First Street, two blocks east of the square, now site of Cook's Humble Station.

Likewise, mention the name of J. M. (John) Crawford, and few people would recall him as a house-mover. Rather, he would be classified as a cotton-buyer and retired ginner.

Truth is, John spent about half his business career in the house-moving business and about half in the cotton ginning business.

This came to light as the result of an item in the "50 years ago" column of The Free Press. It related: "Frank Crawford and brother of Stamford are moving the Baptist Church building to its new site."

The "brother" in the business was John Crawford, and he well recalls moving the church building. However, that was in 1912, and by that time he had become a veteran in the business.

Starting in 1902 he and his brother Frank continued until 1925 when John bought an interest in the Fred Sanders Gin here and moved to Haskell.

One of his first big jobs in Haskell, he recalls, was moving a large frame building occupied by Hunt & Grissom, from the northwest corner of the square, clearing the site for erection of the McConnell two-story building completed in 1907.

Another major task was moving the old two-story courthouse building from the 500 block on North Second Street to a site two blocks east on the same street.

After the "cyclone" in 1909, John and his brother worked here almost all summer moving houses and getting them back on their foundations.

A bronze church bell more than 100 years old which once pealed a call to worship in a pioneer Baptist Church in Parker County is now a proud possession of Dr. R. A. Middleton of this city.

The bell, cast of a bronze-like metal and weighing 200-250 pounds, was purchased by the Haskell physician's grandfather, the late T. W. Middleton of Tennessee, who was a pioneer settler in Parker County. The little settlement where he farmed and operated a mercantile business became known as Gibtown. In 1847 the settlers built a Baptist Church at Gibtown, and the bell was purchased by Middleton, the town's only merchant.

About 12 years ago, a new church building was built Modernistic in design, the steeple and bell tower was omitted, and the old bell which had tolled its call to worship, its message of death, and summoned people of the community together in emergencies for almost a century, was discarded.

Noticing the discarded bell on his occasional visits to the section of Parker County where he was born, and recalling how as a youth he could hear its chimes for a distance of 10 miles or further, he decided to claim the discarded bell and on his last trip there brought it home.

Dr. Middleton plans to place the bell on some type of mounting where it can be rung occasionally. "Just want to hear how it sounds again," he declared.

Abbreviations serve a convenient purpose when properly used. At times they can be confusing, and sometimes leave a fellow completely "flabbergasted."

Tom Davis, veteran Haskell lawyer, recalls seeing the latter situation in court at Aspermont many years ago, when a minor case was called for trial during a term of district court.

Representing the defendant was a likeable lawyer from Rotan, Fisher County, whose fondness for spiritus frumenti was well known to his friends, both in the legal fraternity and out.

At this particular case it was evident that the Rotan lawyer had "had a few" but apparently was in condition to conduct his case, in which little was involved.

As the list of witnesses was being checked, with each one answering as his name was called, the lawyer had finished his list, when a look of bewilderment crossed his face and he looked first to the Judge then the courtroom, before saying unsteadily:

"Your Honor, sheems two of my client's main witnesses are not here. Mr. S. W. Asp and Mr. N. E. Asp," as he called out their names.

The Judge, sensing what had happened, called the lawyer to him and asked to see the list of witnesses. Other lawyers present as onlookers, having an idea what had happened, also gathered around the bench. Then the Judge, explaining that the Clerk had merely used the abbreviations SW and NE as directions from Aspermont (also abbreviated as Asp) to denote residence of witnesses following their names, lectured the lawyer rather sternly. Then the case was re-set for hearing at a later date.

With little of the old county jail remaining, another landmark of Haskell, Kamp Kennedy, is also fast disappearing. This city's first tourist court, built in the early 20's, is being razed to make way for a modern motel to be erected by Menard Field of Floydada.

Menard, who was reared here, recalls that as a youngster, he and other boys, spent many hours watching progress of construction on the jail, built in 1910.

He particularly remembers how he and his pals were fascinated with construction of the death cell and trap-door for hanging convicted criminals.

"There had been a revolting murder several months before, when a man living south of town shot and killed his wife, and all the talk at the time was that he should be hanged," Menard remembers.

Menard and all other youngsters accepted that opinion as fact, and thought the "hanging" section of the new jail was being built especially for that purpose. The lads had high hopes of seeing the trap-door used, but ultimately were disappointed.

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies when new highways are opened to traffic have become commonplace affairs.

Maintenance Chief Ray Lusk and James Adkins of the Highway Department introduced a new angle to the ceremony last week.

Due to the heavy rains, a section of State Highway 101 between Rule and Haskell was flooded for several days. A Highway Department crew was working to help when traffic was held up around-the-clock operation. On Saturday after had stopped on Friday ending the emergency. It was then that Adkins staged their ribbon-cutting, with Lusk and Adkins snipping a strip of ribbon from a stretch of road clear and open to travel.

...Y OF THE SOUTHWEST

A woman's work, especially the ironing, is never done. Some- times Martha just has to take time out for shopping or visiting during the day. But sprinkled clothes can't be left to sour or mildew! So Martha pops them into a plastic bag and into the freezer they go. When she gets back, they'll be ready for her to start ironing again. Isn't it amazing how many ways women have learned to use flameless electricity to make living better ... and, it costs so little, you can use lots of it.

times of drouth and disasters such as the recent tornado and the Haskell - Knox tornado a few years ago. Whenever disaster has struck, the Red Cross has moved onto the job quickly with food, clothing and shelter for the victims, along with financial help when needed. The 1962-63 United Fund budget includes the sum of $1,500 for the Red Cross, of which more than 52 per cent remains in the local chapter for use in Haskell County when needed. County Judge Jas. C. Alvis, chairman of the Haskell County Chapter, points out that during the past year alone, the Red Cross has expended $4,214.77 in Haskell County alone for disaster relief and local home service, including telephone, telegraph and cable expense in behalf of Haskell County people.

"This represents almost three times as much as the Red Cross receives through the United Fund," Judge Alvis points out. The Disaster Relief section of the local Red Cross chapter extended help to 57 families in the county during the past year, while 31 families were helped through the Local Service division, medicine, butane, etc., for indigent families and individuals, the Chapter Chairman explained.

A breakdown of expenditures by the Red Cross in Haskell County during the past year shows that a total of $3,229.98 was spent for disaster relief, $803.96 for local home service, and $780.83 for telephone, telegraph and cable tolls.

West Texas Rehabilitation Center

Another important agency in the Haskell United Fund is the West Texas Rehabilitation Center at Abilene, better known as the Crippled Children Treatment Center, where several patients from Haskell and vicinity are receiving treatment. The West Texas Rehabilitation Center was organized in August of 1953 as the Taylor County Society for Crippled Children Treatment Center. At that time, one physical therapist was hired and the Abilene Public Schools provided one special education teacher and a maid. In 1955 the Treatment Center became the West Texas Rehabilitation Center and began operation at the present site, 4601 Hartford St. At that time the staff had grown with the addition of one occupational therapist and one speech therapist. Since then, twenty-six employees are serving as full-time and part-time staff members.

The overall cost of operation has been consistent with the increased number of treatments provided for the patients. At the present time, more than 500 patients are being treated at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, with 77 new patients being admitted during the month of August. In August of 1961 there were 28 new patients admitted to the Center. This increase has become a consistent thing rather than an unusual occurrence. The West Texas Rehabilitation Center is growing along with Abilene and its other facilities.

No Charge for Treatment

All treatment at the Rehabilitation Center is done on the prescription of a member of the American Medical Association. No patient is ever charged for any service at the Center, and all medical doctors donate their time to the guidance of the rehabilitation program.

The Center offers physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, audiometric evaluation (the testing of hearing), psychometric evaluation (the testing of intelligence), five classrooms (two orthopedic, one pre-school hard-of-hearing, one for neurologically involved children, and one for children with special reading problems, pre-vocational evaluation and vocational counseling. The Center also has a loan service of wheel chairs and other invalid appliances for individuals who are unable to

Of the $112,000.00 budget for 1962, various United Funds share in providing $40,000.00. Of this sum, Haskell United Fund has allotted $500 in the 1962-63 budget.

From A Pastor's Study
By DOUGLAS B. FINCH
Pastor, First Presbyterian Church Haskell, Texas

I can recall during my college days that one essential part of the educative process was the lively discussions which I had in the student union building and other places over a cup of coffee with my fellow students. They might even be called "arguments," but they were of the friendly variety. No feelings were ever hurt, and everybody went out of each session laughing and joking until another opportunity to "air our opinions" came about.

The important thing we learned in these sessions is that we should be willing to listen to other people. We were critical in a constructive way of everything that we read or heard. I can also recall that during the discussions I changed my mind many times about certain views which I firmly held.

One of our problems is our reluctance to listen. Most of the complaints which counselors in mental institutions encounter with their patients culminate in the fact "no one would listen to them." The Psychiatrists today describe their task as basically one of "intelligent listening."

When a person falls out of communication with other people, he has begun to live a "living death." The art of conversation and the exchange of views is one of the most exhilarating and life-sustaining factors of our existence.

Unfortunately, many persons are not satisfied to live life as an opened book instead of a closed chapter. It is one of our great failings that we are always looking for a pat set of answers to all of life's questions, and we become content to live with our "minds already made up." What we actually do is choke off one important element of the on-going and never ceasing movement of the life process.

One of the problems in our families today is the fact that we are too busy to listen to one another. One of the chief causes of emotional disturbances in our children is our unwillingness to listen to them, to include them in the family conversations. I feel certain that the same condition contributes to our rising rate of juvenile delinquency. The complaint of young, disturbed youth most often is "nobody cares what I think" or "nobody will listen to me."

God has for some good reason made us gregarious creatures, meaning that we like to be with other people and be in communication with them. And when we are in communication with them we should be willing to listen just as much as we talk.

One of the greatest disclosures to come from the educative process is that it serves to show us more and more how ignorant we really are. When we come to the realization in life, and will honestly admit, that our acquisition of knowledge leads mainly to an exposition of our ignorance, we are on the road to being a useful individual. When we think that we have all the answers, we are of no use to ourselves or to anyone else.

It will be my prayer for the young men and women going off to school at this season that they will retain an open mind and heart—and remain "teachable." We learn through listening and the learning process never stops.

"Intelligent listening" for all of us means being discerning—being able to "rightly divide the word of truth."

When I was a Freshman in college in 1939, my Chemistry Professor taught us that an atom was the smallest constituent of matter. Some of us brought up the fact that experiments were being conducted to "split the atom." His reply was, "How can we split something that we have never even seen?"

Above all else, let us listen to the voice of the Living God who reveals new truth to us as we are able to receive it.
We can be grateful that God has chosen to reveal the truth of His Son Jesus Christ to those of us who are as "little children" and not necessarily to the wise exclusively. We are not as academic people with nothing else to do but sit around a table and formulate theories about God; but we are human beings, "image-bearers" of God, to whom God has chosen to speak in the language of events. His message to us is: "He who has ears to hear, let him hear."
When we are capable of understanding that the Bible is God's way of speaking to us through other men, and through the events of past days, then we might be able to understand that He can do the same today. The person who speaks to us is a "guest of our mind," though but for a moment. Who knows? We might be entertaining angels unaware.
Who knows? From the least likely event or from the least likely person we might even hear the message of Salvation.

Tough new '63 Chevrolet Trucks are here!

...THE ONES THAT WHIPPED THE BAJA RUN...TOUGHEST UNDER THE SUN... TO SHOW THE WORTH OF NEW ENGINES, FRAMES AND SUSPENSIONS!

Sometimes the caravan crept along for hours in low gear. It took 17 days to go 1,066 miles! This is the road near Loreto.

Millions of years ago nature fashioned a proving ground for trucks that man can never duplicate. Today it is known as the Baja (bah' hah) California Peninsula, Mexico. These pictures give you only a bare idea of the place. The road is fine for 140 miles below the U.S. border. Then the beating begins. Rocks and hard-baked ruts bang, jab and jerk the trucks from stem to stern. Loose sand makes them struggle and strain. Dust chokes them. Heat roasts them. Rivers drench them. The Baja Run took this Chevrolet truck caravan 17 days to go the 1,066 miles. All the trucks performed magnificently. Not one was forced to drop out because of mechanical difficulty. Trucks that can take this kind of beating can take on your toughest truck jobs. Come in now and see tough quality-built '63 Chevrolet trucks with all their new improvements.

See the "New Reliables" now at your Chevrolet dealer's!

By AL HINDS

While making my rounds over in Rule recently I called on Ernie Williams, manager of the Co-Op Gin and noticed the following plaque hanging in his office, which read thusly:

Notice to Callers
Friendly calls, 10 minutes.
Salesmen with "Real Deals," one-half second.
Life Insurance agents, 15 seconds.
Liquor salesmen (with sam-plea) 2 hours.

Friends letting us "in on the ground floor," one second.
Friends inviting us to lunch, 2 hours.
Friends wishing to talk fishing and hunting, most all day.
Those wishing to pay bills, all day.
Customers, 8 hours.
Girl friends, all night.
Wealthy relations in their 80's, any time.
Relatives wanting jobs, 3 seconds.
Bill and Tax Collectors, all day (Tomorrow).

While doing some remodeling and cleaning out the attic at his home recently, R. I. Johnson ran across a 1933 spring and summer edition of a Montgomery Ward catalog. Although the near 30-year-old catalog is frayed around the edges, and the front cover is somewhat dim, the 410-page book is clearly legible, and the prices just make one drool for the "good old days."

For instance a few of the many, many bargains included ladies best value shoes, $1.59 to $3.85 pair; silk canton crepe dresses $3.95 each; two piece jacket ensembles (perfect town frock) for only $2.00; Pinnacle print dresses 88c each or 2 for $1.69; Step-ins 25c; Golden Crest pure silk stockings 49c each or 3 pair for $1.44; Brasieres 25c; table cloths (40x54 in.) 79c; best quality blankets $1.95 each.

Men's wool felt dress hats, choice colors, $1.39; men's wool felt dress hats, economy special 98c; ties 39c; shirts $1.35 each; shorts, 33c each; men's extra value shoes, $2.49.

The reason a lot of fellows are bachelors is because they failed to embrace their opportunities.

Losing one's temper sometimes attracts enough attention to win better service, but more often it does harm rather than good.

With the ushering in of the fall season, my thoughts once again turn to Fairs. There is the big Dallas fair which stands at the head of the list in Texas, and of course there are numerous fairs being staged all over Texas. However, most of us older folks can remember that practically all towns 30 and 40 years ago staged fairs. I still like them, as fairs serve as information centers. They provide a central point to which people can go and learn of new developments in all lines of endeavor. They build a cooperative spirit, without which progress can not be made. The present high standard of living in the United States is a direct result of a constant interchange of ideas and methods. From the time of the first settlers, Americans have gathered at fairs throughout the nation to exchange goods, to show new equipment, and to discuss improvements for their homes, their farms and their businesses.

A woman has many faults, men have but two. Everything they say and everything they do.

A kiss is a peculiar proposition. Of use to no one, yet absolutely bliss to two. The small boy gets it for nothing, the young man has to lie for it, and the old man has to buy it. The baby's right, the lover's privilege, and the hypocrite's mask. To a young girl, faith, to the married woman, hope, and to an old maid, charity.

Rotarians Shown Slides Made on Holy Land Tour

Members of the Rotary Club and guests were given an on-the-spot view and description of Jerusalem and the Holy Lands by the Rev. Lenwood Harrison, Methodist pastor at Rochester, who was guest speaker at the Rotary meeting and luncheon Thursday at noon in the Highway Drive In.

Rev. Harrison made a tour of the Holy Land recently, and showed a number of slides he made at that time, giving an interesting commentary as the views were shown. Some of the most outstanding were pictures made in "Old Jerusalem" showing the narrow streets in the Solomon Temple area, followed with views of modern streets and buildings in the "new" area of Jerusalem.

The slides showed scenes extending from Jerusalem to Jericho, the Israeli side of the Sea of Galilee, the River Jordan and the City of Nazareth. An interesting feature noted by Rev. Harrison was that 60 per cent of the population of Nazareth is composed of Christian people.

A somber note in connection with his visit was related by the Rochester minister when he told of the tour being interrupted in Jerusalem by a mob demonstration between native factions.

The speaker was introduced by Rev. C. R. LeMond, local Methodist pastor and program chairman for the day.

P. E. Shotwell, District Governor 2E-1 Speaks to Haskell Lions

P. E. Shotwell of Abilene, District Governor 2E-1, Lions International, spoke to members of the Haskell Lions Club, Tuesday noon. Also present were zone chairman, Goodson Sellers, Munday; District Deputy Governor Douglas Myers, of Weinert, and Jim Pennington, Fred Boon and John Wallace Cox, Jr.

President Al Hinds introduced the visiting dignitary and presided over the occasion.

Purpose of the District Governor's visit was to advise and assist the officers and directors and members of the club on matters pertaining to Lions administration and the Lions' great program of humanitarian service.

"It's great to be a Lion and for their various community projects, crippled children's camp and their program for the adult blind, Lions are making the trail a little better and easier," District Governor Shotwell said.

District Governor Shotwell told of some of his experiences while attending the International Convention in Nice, France the past summer.

"I get a thrill out of Lions everytime I meet with them because their special mission is the promotion of good government and good citizenship, the development of civic, educational, social and moral welfare of the community and nation, and to help create and foster a spirit of generous consideration among the peoples of the world," District Governor Shotwell said.

The slogan of International Association of Lions is, "We Serve," the guest speaker pointed out.

Zone chairman, Goodson Sellers, awarded Harold Spain a button for bringing in a new member during the District Governor's new member campaign.

Attending the zone meeting in Munday, Monday night were Al Hinds, Rogers Durham and Don Perry. Zone chairman, Goodson Sellers of Munday and District Deputy Governor, Douglas Myers of Weinert, presided over the meeting, and plans were outlined for activities of 2E-1 during the coming year.
