

Rita Staton named...

County treasurer deputy staffer to assume office

Longtime chief deputy county treasurer Rita Staton Monday morning was appointed to succeed the retiring Billy Wayne Thompson as county treasurer. Staton, 51, a Dunn native, has worked in the office for the past 11 years, and she was appointed to fill out Thompson's unexpired term over nine other applicants. The term runs through next year.

Staton worked as a secretary and relief teller at West Texas State Bank from 1955 to 1959, in the treasurer's office from 1959 to 1961 and prepared abstracts for attorney Dan Cotton from 1974 to 1978 before re-joining the treasurer's office. She said following the appointment that Mary Ann Jones, a part-time employee since Thompson announced his impending retirement six weeks ago, will replace her as chief deputy. The treasurer and chief deputy are the only employees in the department. Jones worked 10 years for the Baroid oilfield services company, leaving as office manager, prior to joining the treasurer's office. Staton's husband, Bobby, is See COURT, page 9

In Brief

Tax deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — IRS employees put in overtime, post offices set up special mail drops and demonstrators made their cases as the nation prepared to end another federal tax return filing season at midnight tonight. Internal Revenue Service spokesman Frank Keith said the IRS had no way of knowing how many taxpayers were waiting until the last minute to file. But the agency expects to receive 18 million returns this week, including those filed over the weekend, he said.

The deadline is one day later in New England and most of upstate New York because today is Patriot's Day, a legal holiday, in Massachusetts, site of the IRS center which processes returns from taxpayers in those states.

College rodeoers finish 4th

Odessa cowboy Ty Murray galloped away with top honors at the Western Texas College NIRA Rodeo here Sunday - honors normally reserved for hometown cowboys.

Western Texas had won the rodeo the past two years but had to settle for fourth place this time around as Odessa, Sul Ross State University and Tarleton put together solid efforts.

Odessa won with 385 points, including 230 from all-around champion Murray. Tarleton and Sul Ross had 290 points each while Western managed 75.

The outcome left Western Texas still in second place in the region with 1,320 points, but moved both SRSU and TSU closer. Sul Ross has 1,252 and Tarleton 1,112.5 points with two rodeos left to go in the Southwest Region. Odessa seems a runaway winner with 2,212.5 now. First and second place teams after the season will advance to the College National Finals Rodeo in Bozeman, Mont.

Ironically, it was a couple of Western Texas ex-students who helped Sul Ross to big points. Former Westerner and Snyder native Adam Brewster made the most of his homecoming by winning the average in the bull riding and placing fourth in the See RODEO, page 5

Wright charged with ethics violations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House ethics committee charged today that House Speaker Jim Wright violated official rules of conduct 69 times by not disclosing thousands of dollars in alleged gifts and by skirting rules on speaking fees through bulk book sales.

The committee — six Democrats and six Republicans — unanimously approved the statement of alleged violations, announced the chairman, Rep.

Julian Dixon, D-Calif. The charges, divided into five counts, and an accompanying report by Richard Phelan, the attorney who conducted the committee's investigation, could jeopardize Wright's future as speaker.

The statement "represents a determination by the committee that in 69 instances, there is reason to believe that Rep. Wright violated the code of official conduct and other House rules which apply to him as a member of Congress," Dixon said.

He emphasized that the committee's action is similar to an indictment — based on a comparatively low standard of proof — and not a conviction.

"The speaker of the House has not been found guilty of any violations but from a review of the evidence the committee has found a reason to believe" violations may have occurred, Dixon said. "We have not reached any final conclusions on the matters that are still under investigation," he said, telling reporters that, for further proceedings, the standard will be "clear and convincing evidence."

The committee, under its rules, will next allow Wright to respond within 21 days — a period the speaker has indicated he would like to abbreviate.

After that, the committee has 30 days to decide whether to hold a "disciplinary hearing" on whether Wright indeed violated rules and what punishment, if any, it should recommend to the full House.

The panel cleared Wright of several accusations filed against him last year when the inquiry began, including alleged use of a staff member to write the book, improper use of campaign funds and improper lobbying on behalf of constituents.

Mainstream plan to bring students to college campus

For the first time this summer, Western Texas College will participate in a federal program called "Mainstream" which will provide it some $84,000 in educational income while allowing 25 area high school age students to earn six hours of college credit.

Funding for the program will be through the Job Training Partnership Act administered in this area through the West Central Texas Council of Governments in Abilene.

The act provides federal grants for job training and education. Mainstream is for high school students who will either graduate or complete their junior year this spring and who have been identified as economically disadvantaged.

The group of 25 is being selected by the Abilene COG. They will live on campus in the WTC apartments and will be enrolled in regular college course work this summer, earning up to six hours of college credit.

In addition, they will be employed as work-study students on campus.

The students will receive career counseling and information about financial assistance for their college career. Recreational activities and field trips will also be a part of the college experience.

Bettie McQueen, dean of instruction at WTC, noted that the program also serves as a recruiting tool since the Mainstream students are likely to return to the campus after graduation from high school.

Coordinator for the local program will be Debbie Brunson. It will be offered locally June 1 through July 14.

Brunson and her husband, Ty, moved to Snyder in August from Ruton, La., when he joined the WTC faculty as art instructor.

She worked for three years as head counselor for a program similar to Mainstream while living in Louisiana.

She is a graduate of the University of Houston with a BA degree in elementary education and she has also earned a master's degree in elementary counseling and general counseling from Louisiana Tech in Ruston.

Working with the Mainstream students will be a staff comprised of Suzanne Copeland, Don Demar, Mike Harrison, Vickie Har-

TDC updates prison dates

Texas Department of Corrections officials are now estimating that inmates will begin to be housed at the Price Daniel 1,000-man unit located northeast of Snyder by July 3.

Other "tentative" dates associated with the prison include June 1, when all prison supervisors are expected to report; June 20, when remaining staffers will report; and Saturday, July 1, when some type of open house observance will be held for the general public.

Full program due at cow-calf clinic slated Wednesday

The cow-calf clinic offered free to area cattle producers Wednesday will have a program lineup dealing with bulls, heifers and cows and ranging from grasses and supplemental food to parasite control, marketing cattle and the latest on the beef check-off program.

All programs will be offered in Room A of the Scurry County Coliseum. The day's last program should end around 3:30 p.m. with the first one to start at 9:15 a.m.

Participants are invited to register beginning at 9 a.m. and to view one or all of the sessions. Included will be a free barbecue lunch at noon.

The day-long program schedule includes:

—9:15 until 9:45 a.m.: "Herd Health Management" by Dr. Charles Church, Snyder veterinarian.

—9:45 until 10:15 a.m.: "Nutrient Analysis of Native Grasses," by Kent Mills, Ezell-Key Grain.

—10:15-10:30 a.m.: break.

—10:30 until 11:30 a.m.: "Nutrition and Supplemental Feeding," to include information on such supplements as cottonseed, burrs, blocks and liquid; and a discussion of "Bull Selection" by Dr. Jerry Cowley of San Angelo.

—11:30 a.m. until noon: "Internal and External Parasite Control," "Implants," and "Developing Heifers into Cows," by Dr. John McNeil of Amarillo.

—Noon until 1 p.m.: barbecue lunch.

—1 until 1:30 p.m.: "Retaining Ownership of Cattle," by Preston Hollis of Hereford.

—1:30 until 2 p.m.: "Satellite Cattle Marketing," by Allen Jackson of Canyon.

—2 until 2:20 p.m.: "Update-Beef Check-off Program" by Linda Janca of Austin.

—2:20 until 2:30 p.m.: break.

—2:30 until 3:20 p.m.: "Live Cattle Demonstrations."

The program is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and its offices in Borden, Dawson, Lynn, Garza and Scurry Counties.

Sponsors for the meal and door prizes are American State Bank, Snyder National and West Texas State Bank as well as the First National Bank of O'Donnel, Ezell-Key Grain Company, Scurry Ag Center and Snyder Farm and Ranch.

New law to be applied to teens who are accused of shooting their parents

PAMPA, Texas (AP) — Two boys aged 13 and 14 have spent more than two months inside an Amarillo juvenile detention center, going to classes and participating in recreation activities along with other youths at the center.

But while most juveniles, who may be detained for theft or other non-violent offenses, the two junior high students are there because on Feb. 8, after telling classmates they were going to kill their parents, the two fatally shot the stepfather of one of the boys, authorities said.

But the pair — never indicted or charged in connection with the death — will not stand trial, nor will their guilt or innocence be determined by a judge or jury. They will, however, go through a relatively new adjudication procedure which has drawn praise from prosecutors and opposition from youth advocacy groups.

The procedure serves to set specific sentences, at the Texas Youth Commission and Texas Department of Corrections, for adjudicated juveniles, introducing elements of the adult criminal justice system into an adjudication procedure, the traditional emphasis of which has been rehabilitation rather than incarceration.

The two Panhandle teen-agers, whose names have not been released because they are juveniles, will go before a Gray County jury here on Monday which will decide their fate under the Determinate Sentence Act, passed in 1987 to address the issue of how to cope with juveniles who commit serious crimes.

The circumstances of the case that so far have not been made public will be presented in separate public hearings for each teen-ager.

According to authorities, officials at White Deer Junior High School phoned the stepfather of one of the boys and told him they had word his 13-year-old stepson had threatened to kill him. After going to the school to talk with administrators, the stepfather returned to his home in the nearby community of Kingsmill, where authorities said his stepson and a friend were waiting.

Gray County Sheriff Jimmy Free discovered the body of the man, shot several times at point-blank range with a .22-caliber pistol, later that day.

Amarillo police later took the teen-agers into custody after apprehending them at a K mart parking lot with a car belonging to the dead man's wife and mother of the 13-year-old.

The crime, which authorities say was planned in advance, stunned the communities of White Deer and Kingsmill, made up of only a handful of houses and a grain elevator, and prompted Gray County District Attorney Harold Comer to pull out his law books to study the new juvenile justice statute.

"This is totally new to us," he said.

Prior to September 1987, juveniles under 15 years old who committed serious crimes were sent to the Texas Youth Commission and released when they reached 21, often even earlier, say juvenile justice experts.

"The law as it existed was just inadequate to meet the needs of the public," said Comer, who is prosecuting the youths.

But youth advocacy groups such as the Texas Coalition on Juvenile Justice say determinate sentencing may put youths into the Texas Department of Corrections that could be rehabilitated by less costly means.

"We all know the adult criminal justice system doesn't work, so why put a kid for 30 years in a system that doesn't work?" said Cynthia McKenzie, spokeswoman for the coalition. "We're concerned about the weakening of the philosophy of rehabilitation. Those kids are going to be lost in a penal system and denied the opportunity for good assessment and rehabilitation."

Under the current law, prosecutors can decide to use the determinate sentence procedure in cases where juveniles have allegedly committed capital murder, attempted capital murder, murder, aggravated sexual assault and deadly assault on a police officer.

The prosecutor must refer a petition alleging misconduct to a grand jury, which doesn't issue an indictment but approves the petition and certifies it to the juvenile court, paving the way for an adjudication hearing where evidence is presented by prosecution and defense.

Admissions decreases benefit Texas

HOUSTON (AP) — Some Texas private universities are seeing surprising increases in freshman applications despite mounting tuition costs and a reverse trend at other more expensive private schools, officials said.

"The percentage rise this year is certainly more than we anticipated. It's a pretty big jump, especially in view of demographics," said John Lind, vice president for admission at Southwestern University in Georgetown. Lind cited projections of fewer 18-year-olds in the population than earlier in the decade.

"We compete against very good schools," Lind said. "We're considered one of the best buys."

Officials from Southwestern, Southern Methodist University and Rice University report applications for 1989's fall freshman class arrived in unprecedented numbers.

"We thought we would have some increase, but this far exceeded our expectations," said Andrew Bryant, dean of admissions at SMU, which recorded a 24.1 percent increase in applications this year.

Freshman applicants at Southwestern rose by 17.2 percent by March 31 and by 17.6 percent at Rice.

Applications to Trinity University and Texas Christian University dropped by 5 percent and 7.5 percent, respectively, but officials say the amounts are insignificant.

The Texas application count — even the decreases — contrasts with sharp drops at Ivy League schools. At Dartmouth, for example, 18 percent fewer applications were filed than last year — 8,300, compared with 10,000 for fall 1988. And the University of Pennsylvania received 13.7 percent fewer applications — 11,300, down from 13,100 last year.

At Southwestern, 637 of the 1,004 freshmen who applied for the 1989 fall semester have been admitted, boosting admissions by 7.6 percent. The increase marks the eighth consecutive increase at Southwestern, which recorded an all-time high of 1,171 students last fall.

SMU received 4,429 applications by April 1, compared with 3,569 at the same time last year. Rice received 5,180 applications, up from 4,406 applications last year, marking the university's fifth consecutive record-breaking year, said dean of admissions Ron Moss. Bryant said SMU expects freshmen to number about 4,400 this fall — about 50 more than last fall when the class increased for the first time in three years.

Trinity in San Antonio has accepted 1,550 of its more than 2,100 applicants overall and expects a class of about 600. TCU received about 3,100 applications and expects a freshman class of 1,150 to 1,200.

"We don't call that significant, not by any means. It's a fairly typical year," said Michael Yost, director of institutional advancement and assistant to Trinity's president. He said that each year universities experience 5 percent to 10 percent application increases and decreases for no specific reason.

TCU's associate dean of admissions, Janet Herald, said her university's decrease comes on the heels of a 13.5 percent increase in applications last year, when a record 3,350 applications were received. It marked the fifth consecutive year the number of applications increased.

Officials say price is a major factor in the census increases.

"We are seeing a stronger price resistance this year than we have seen in 10 to 20 years," Lind told the Houston Chronicle. "There is a philosophy or sense that enough is enough, and some people have said, 'There is no way I can handle the $20,000-a-year cost.'"

Still, most of the schools are increasing their tuition.

Southwestern is increasing its tuition to $7,600 this year, pumping the overall costs to $10,900 per semester. Last fall's tuition, $6,950, coupled with room and board, left students with bills of $10,186 to $10,820.

At SMU, tuition increased to $9,880 from $8,040 last year. Overall costs — tuition, room, board and fees — increased to $14,378, up from $13,307 last year.

DR. GOTT PETER GOTT, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Could you please tell me if blood substitutes are a viable alternative for blood transfusions during surgery? I know the blood supply is mostly safe, but we live in an area with a high incidence of AIDS.

DEAR READER: In many cases, electrolyte fluid (salt water with minerals) is a simple, safe and inexpensive substitute for whole blood. It restores fluid in the circulation, when blood is lost, to avoid dehydration and shock. It is used primarily in emergency situations when blood is not readily available for transfusion.

Also, several synthetic substances are now being investigated as blood substitutes. The Japanese have developed a petroleum-based product that is undergoing testing but is not yet commercially available.

Finally, autologous transfusions are becoming more popular. Several weeks before elective surgery, the patient donates his or her own blood, which is then stored and transfused back if the need arises. This technique avoids transfusion reactions, infection and other complications that can occur when a patient receives blood from another person.

Ask the authorities in the blood bank at your local hospital — or check with the Red Cross — to see what substitutes are available in your community.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What is considered a borderline diabetic?

DEAR READER: As a general rule, a borderline diabetic can be defined as someone with a fasting blood glucose between 115 and 140 milligrams/deciliter or, two hours after a high carbohydrate meal, a blood glucose between 150 and 200 milligrams/dL. This is an oversimplification because many conditions — including pregnancy, starvation, stress, illness and certain drugs — can cause abnormally high blood-glucose values that return to normal once the situation has been resolved or corrected.

In addition, diabetics may appear at times to have normal blood sugars. Therefore, the above figures are meant as a broad guideline. The specific diagnosis of diabetes should be made by a physician.

For more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Diabetes Mellitus." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a young, healthy, never-married woman who is celibate except for occasional masturbation. I use a vibrator to achieve orgasm. I choose not to have casual sex but expect to marry some day. Am I in danger of damaging vaginal tissue by using the vibrator?

DEAR READER: As long as you abstain from activity that causes pain, you are in no danger of harming yourself with a vibrator. The stimulation from this device will become unpleasant before any damage takes place.

Doctor Says Herpes Sufferers Should Be Safe and Not Sorry

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I commend you for addressing the topic of genital herpes in your column. However, you recently provided some advice that is incorrect and potentially dangerous. You stated that "if there are no symptoms, sores or active lesions, your partner is not infectious." This is clearly NOT true, and heeding this advice could result in couples disregarding precautions necessary to avoid transmission of genital herpes to the uninfected partner.

While asymptomatic intervals carry a decreased risk of transmission, infected persons are still capable of transmitting the virus. In fact, more than half of the infected sex partners discussed in one journal article denied having symptoms they recognized as herpes at the time they transmitted infection.

When symptoms or sores are present, sexual contact with the involved area should be avoided completely. Because of the risk of asymptomatic transmission, condoms should be used with each sexual act. Bluntly put: There is always SOME risk, although condoms will serve to decrease this risk.

DEAR ABBY: I was surprised at your answer to "Mr. Clean Plate," who asked if it was considered bad manners to eat everything on the plate. You said, "It's bad manners to mop up every drop of gravy with a piece of bread, but to deliberately leave edible food on one's plate for the sake of appearances" is both wasteful and foolish."

Abby, my grandmother (a very gracious lady) taught me that to leave a bit of food on my plate is a compliment to the hostess — implying that the meal was delicious, the amount served was adequate, and the guest could not possibly have eaten another bite.

"We must remember," she would say, "never to eat the tip end of a banana, or the bottom tip of an ice cream cone. Nor should one drink the last swallow from a glass or cup."

REMEMBERING GRANNY IN CORONADO, CALIF.

DEAR REMEMBERING: Obviously your grandmother and mine went to different schools. My grandmother (and my mother, too) would remind us of the "starving Armenians" if we wasted food.

I agree, it's bad manners to voraciously devour every edible morsel, but to throw away the tip of an ice cream cone for appearance's sake is a ridiculous affectation.

WILLIAM ADD GATES, JR., M.D., M.P.H., DIRECTOR, DIVISION OF SEXUALLY TRANSMITTED DISEASES, CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL

DEAR DR. GOTT: Thank you for your timely and enlightening article. The professional medical experts who advised me on this issue obviously had a different opinion. I'm sure I'll hear from other experts on this topic. Readers: Stay tuned.

DEAR ABBY: This is a message from the land of the Oklawaha band of Seminole Indians.

On behalf of the principal chief, Little Dove Ghigar Buford, her husband, Principal Sub-Chief Running Buck Buford, her daughter, Princess Flaming Star, and her son-in-law, Soaring Eagle DeLong, the parents of Singing Spirit DeLong and the rest of our tribe, we wish to thank you for putting in your column the name of the wonderful organization that makes possible corrective surgery for children with birth defects.

Because you let us know about the National Craniofacial Foundation, little Singing Spirit is now on her way to Dallas with her mother, to begin her series of many operations.

Astro-Graph By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday April 18, 1989

Work hard in the year ahead to achieve your purposes, but, by the same token, try to lead a balanced life. If you keep everything in proper perspective, it'll enhance your chances for success.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't let it be said of you today that you were only nice to people who could do something for you. If you want to keep your image and popularity intact, equality in all of your relationships is essential. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Commercial or financial involvements should work out rather well for you today, but you could experience complications in your social relationships.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you want to make some changes or adjustments today to suit your own needs, that's well and good, but it isn't advisable to switch things around for others without first getting their approval.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) Base your judgments today upon information you gather first hand instead of what is told to you through an intermediary or a second source. Their versions could be distorted.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Today you might receive some good news that will have a direct effect upon a decision you're about to make. It may cause you to make a major revision.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In career matters at this time, your greatest strides are likely to be made by using traditional methods. Gambling on unfamiliar tactics could set you back.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Something extremely fortunate may happen for you in this time frame and even though you'll want to talk about it to others, it's best you keep it to yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Negatively judging situations in advance today could work against your best interests. You're actually in a lucky cycle, so relax and think positive.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A condition that has kept you boxed in recently is about to be alleviated. Someone with whom you're closely involved will play a role in its demise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A coworker about whom you've been dubious may prove a true friend today through actions taken on your behalf to protect your interests.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Guard against tendencies today to do things in ways that will make what you hope to accomplish much more difficult than it actually is. Don't work against yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Success in your endeavors is likely to today, even the objectives you fail to achieve with first efforts. Use challenges to stimulate your initiative, not subdue it.

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans overwhelmingly believe that outlawing abortion would do little to curtail it, and half want the operation to remain legal and unrestricted in early pregnancies, a poll has found.

Up to 65 percent of the 1,108 adults questioned in the Media General-Associated Press poll supported legalized abortion in other contexts.

The poll also found broad opposition to Operation Rescue, whose members have been blocking entrances to abortion clinics around the country.

With the U.S. Supreme Court poised to reconsider its 1973 Roe vs. Wade decision that legalized abortion during the first three months of pregnancy, 53 percent in the random-sample survey said they favored that landmark ruling.

Moreover, if the court were to reverse itself and let each state make its own abortion laws, 57 percent said they would want abortion legal in their state. Thirty-seven percent would want it illegal and 7 percent were unsure.

The poll posed the issue in a variety of ways because the wording of questions on a sensitive issue can affect the results.

The findings on basic attitudes toward abortion were similar in other recent polls. But in a new finding, large majorities said outlawing abortion would fail to prevent it.

Abortion proponents argue that many women would have unsafe illegal abortions if the procedure were banned.

The poll asked: "If abortion were illegal in your state, do you think that would stop most women there who want abortions from having them, or would most of them go to another state where it was legal?" Eighty-seven percent said the women would go to another state.

The poll then asked whether banning abortions nationwide would stop most women from having them, or if those women would have illegal abortions or go to a country where abortion is legal. Seventy-three percent said women would find a way to have abortions.

The survey found its closest split on the question of a constitutional amendment to make abortions illegal except in cases of rape, incest or to save the life of the mother. Fifty percent were opposed and 44 percent in favor, a division within the poll's 3-point error margin.

No such amendment is before Congress, but those are the terms President Bush has said he would support.

In another question on conditions under which abortion may be permitted, the poll asked: "Should abortion be legal as it is now; legal only in such cases as rape, incest, or to save the life of the mother; or should it not be permitted at all?" Fifty percent said legal as now; 39 percent said only in certain cases; 7 percent wanted it banned outright and the rest were unsure.

The Media General-AP survey also found: —Sixty-seven percent were opposed to demonstrations by Operation Rescue.

—Narrow opposition to use of federal funds to help poor women with their medical bills if they want an abortion. Forty-nine percent were opposed to such spending, 41 percent in favor. The rest did not answer.

The poll was conducted March 6-15 by the AP and Media General Inc., a communications company based in Richmond, Va., that publishes the Richmond Times-Dispatch, the Richmond News Leader, the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune and the Winston-Salem (N.C.) Journal, and operates TV stations WXFL in Tampa, WCBD in Charleston, S.C., and WJKS in Jacksonville, Fla.

Bogus coupons surface

DALLAS (AP) — Phony coupons have been costing Dallas-Fort Worth grocers thousands of dollars, forcing store officials to take a sharper look at discounts they accept.

"We're not talking about Mrs. Coupon Clipper who's trying to pass these things," said Ben Adamcik, security director for Cullum Cos.' 50 Tom Thumb supermarkets in the area. "The person who is doing this is strictly doing it for greed."

Bogus coupons, valued at up to $13, for about a dozen products first surfaced in the Dallas area about two weeks ago when customers sought to use them to buy goods full of merchandise.

Grocers believe a company that lists a Libertyville, Ill., post office address is selling the coupons to local residents through the mail. For $40, shoppers receive $400 worth of free merchandise coupons that can be redeemed at supermarkets and convenience and discount stores.

Tom Thumb has lost about $1,000 on counterfeit coupons, but that figure could go much higher, Adamcik said.

East is put under pressure

By James Jacoby

The term "endplay" refers to what happens when the last few cards are played, but it also refers to the strategy of putting a defender on lead when he cannot exit without helping declarer. This week we will examine this strategy.

Although South was too strong by some standards to open one no-trump, it was fine for him to have something extra for his overcall. That's good insurance in case partner is dead broke.

Having arrived in game, South ducked East's heart jack at trick one. East continued with the heart king, which declarer won. It was obvious that East held the outstanding high cards for his opening bid, so a diamond to dummy's king, followed by a finesse to the jack, was an easy play to find.

The ace of diamonds disclosed that the suit was not splitting, so there were only eight tricks. But surely East, who had bid hearts and shown up with four diamonds, could be put under pressure. So out came the A-K-Q of spades, forcing East to discard. If East shed a heart, declarer could play any red card and East would have to give up the last two tricks to the A-Q of clubs. If East parted with the nine of clubs, declarer would make nine tricks by playing to the ace of clubs, dropping East's king.

Upgraded rodeo brings in profits

AUSTIN (AP) — Nasty weather and gloomy economic times haven't kept the annual Austin-Travis County Livestock Show and Rodeo from turning a profit, organizers said.

Angelos Angelou, chief economist of the Austin Chamber of Commerce, estimated that out-of-town fans pumped $5 million into the area's economy during the nine-day event which ended Sunday.

The turn-over spending would mean a $12.5 million boon.

Joe Jackson, executive vice president of the rodeo for the past 12 years, said ticket sales put the nine-day rodeo in the black by the middle of last week. Event organizers are attributing the good fortune to an upgraded rodeo.

"The word is out that we have a good, professional rodeo," said Jackson, referring to the group's first contract with the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Jackson said PRCA affiliation helped increase crowds by 20 percent.

SHS girls cop region berth; two earn all-district honors

SWEETWATER — Coach Penny Perry's Lady Tigers outbattled Andrews II here Saturday to claim second place in District 4-4A golf and earn a berth to the regional tournament.

Snyder went into the 18-hole tournament three strokes behind the Lady Mustangs, but defeated them 377 to 381 to win second place in the final standings by a single stroke.

"I real proud of them. We had talked about going out and playing our hearts out because we had nothing to lose. If we lost we were going to be third anyway," said Coach Perry. "This was a main goal since the start of the season, to make it to regional, and we've done that."

Andrews I won the tournament with a 367 and ran away with first place in the district with 1,441 strokes over four tournaments. Snyder came in at 1,498 overall, followed by the Mustang II squad with 1,499.

The Lady Tigers also placed two girls on the 1989 All-District Golf Team. Jamie Leatherwood finished the regular season with 367 strokes for seventh place overall while Amy Armstrong's 372 strokes stood up for ninth. The all-district team is made up of the top 10 girls.

Andrews dominated the elite squad with four girls, including medalist April King, who shot

Anderson & Talbott win Pump Jack

Steve Talbott and Larry Anderson combined to win this year's Pump Jack Partnership golf tournament, held Saturday and Sunday at Snyder Country Club.

The duo teamed for a 131 in the 36-hole, low-ball tournament, including a 65 on Sunday.

Weather was almost ideal for the event, though gusting winds did sweep the course during much of the afternoon play.

David Holt and Randy Weaver took runner-up honors in the Championship Flight with a 134. They shot 66 on Sunday.

Another pair of perennial winners, Donnie Newman and Glenn Patterson, carded a 138 to win the President's Flight. Second were Bill Moss and Harlan Lambert, who tied with Lou Brice and John Pickering but won on a scorecard playoff. Both groups shot 144 for the tournament.

332. Individually for Snyder 1 on Saturday, Kim Duncan shot 93, Jacy LaRoux and Armstrong 94, Leatherwood 96 and Stacie Cline 112. For Snyder II, Lesa Ward shot 108, Denise Thompson and Michele Anderson 110, Wendy Miller 118 and Julie Johnson 146.

The regional tournament is set for April 25-27 in Brownwood.

In strange game at Moffett Field...

Tigers pop Ft. Stockton, 5-3

It was anything but normal, Snyder's 5-3 victory over Fort Stockton here Saturday. Pitcher Lee Fletcher lost an altercation with a wasp but won the game, and Israel Hinojos was hauled off to the hospital after his second fourth-and-one goalline dive off left tackle.

And, oh yes, coupled with a surprising Sweetwater victory over Pecos, the win moved the Tigers into a three-way tie for first place in the District 4-4A standings.

Scattered through these somewhat bizarre happenings was some excellent defense on the part of the Tigers.

Overman hurdles over district field

MONAHANS — Nichole Overman's dream is a trip to Austin. She took a hurdle - make that several hurdles - in the right direction here Saturday as she won the 100 meter hurdles at the District 4-4A Track and Field Meet.

Overman was the only Snyder High School girl to place first or second in district and thus advance to region - one step away from the state relays in Austin. Several others, including Katina Brandon, Melissa Williams, Liz Greathouse and two relay teams, are regional alternates after finishing third.

Overman had run the hurdles in 16.4 seconds earlier in the season but blew that away here Saturday with a time of 15.7. She beat Pecos' Sandra Renferia, who ran a 16.5, by eight-tenths of a second.

Sweetwater won the single-day, highly competitive meet with 110 points. Monahans took second with 91, followed by San Angelo Lake View with 87 and Snyder with 74.

Snyder got most of its points from third, fourth, fifth and sixth place finishes. Katina Brandon threw the discus 100-feet, 3-inches to place third. Melissa Williams had reason to be disappointed in the high jump. She cleared 5-2 for a personal best and a Snyder High School record. The same as Denitree Jenkins of Andrews and Amie Parsons of Sweetwater, but had to settle for third because of more defense," said Coach Albert Lewis.

That summed it up. So did Bert Merritt, whose double play ended a bases-loaded threat in the seventh inning and left Snyder with its fifth straight 4-4A win. But first, to the third inning...

The game is tied 2-2. Hinojos is on second base and Randy Morris is at the plate, facing Joquin Banda. Morris raps the Panther right hander for a single and Hinojos takes off, rounds third and heads home. The throw comes in on time, but the former Tiger fullback slams into Felix Hernandez near home plate, using his fireplug body to separate the ball from the catcher. He's safe. Snyder leads, 3-2.

Fort Stockton would score again, but not before Snyder built a cushion.

Hinojos tried the same strategy again in the fifth inning but Hernandez knew what was coming this time. He met the runner head on and both players went sprawling. Hernandez careened backward and his head bounced off the turf, temporarily stunning him. Hinojos' head twisted downward from the impact - he was also stunned - and experienced some minor convulsions. Athletic trainer Steve Krueger took no chances. He signaled for an ambulance and Hinojos was misses along the way.

In another fine but just-short effort, Liz Greathouse sailed 33-feet, 5-inches to place third in the triple jump.

Also placing third were the Lady Tiger 400 and 800 meter relay teams of Shannon Warren, Overman, Teena Brazier and Greathouse.

The 400 meter team timed in a 52.2; just one-tenth of a second behind second place Fort Stockton.

taken to the hospital, where he was kept overnight for observation and released Sunday.

Now to backtrack...

Fort Stockton had taken a 2-0 lead in the first inning on an error, a Dave Borrego single and a two-out double from Hernandez. Snyder came back on an RBI single from Toby Goodwin, and Randy Morris' dash home when courtsey runner Lee Hamilton was caught trying to steal second.

The pesky wasp left its mark in the second inning. It seems Fletcher had the ball in his glove out on the pitcher's mound and the wasp figured it was as good a place as any to take a rest. A few attempts to shake the wasp off didn't work, so the senior swatted at it with his right hand. The wasp took offense, and stung the pitcher on his index finger. Play was postponed briefly while Fletcher said "ouch" a couple of times and regained his composure.

Hinojos' first touchdown came next, and in the fourth inning Snyder scored on a bases loaded walk to Bart Morton and a throwing error by Hernandez.

Snyder improved to 13-6 overall and locked up with Fort Stockton and Pecos at 5-2 in district play. The Tigers entertain Pecos at 7

Allen All-American

Nickey Allen, already named all-region, all-conference, conference MVP and Region V all-tournament MVP, has been selected First-Team All-American by the National Junior College Athletic Association.

The 5-11 sophomore from Amarillo helped Western Texas College to a berth in the NJCAA National Tournament after winning the Region V Tournament in Waco. She averaged 24.3 points during the playoffs, including 42 in the second round of the national tournament as Western upset Blinn Junior College.

Allen averaged 17.8 points, 9.4 rebounds and 2.5 steals a game during the regular season for Coach Kelly Chadwick's Lady Dusters.

WTC, the Western JC Athletic Conference co-champion, put together a 27-10 season mark.

Boy's golf... Parker earns 4-4A honors

BIG SPRING — Snyder's Jay Parker turned in an 83 here Saturday to complete the regular District 4-4A boy's golf season with a 310 and earn post-season honors.

Sweetwater, led by all-district medalist Tony Lara, won the 18-hole tournament and the league race. The Mustangs put up 1,256 strokes over the season to outdistance Andrews, which had 1,268. Both teams will now advance to regional tournament action in Brownwood.

Parker shot 316 over the four district tournaments and placed eighth in the top 10. Lara's 289 led the elite group, followed by teammate Mike Torres at 304 and Andrews' Chad Campbell at 305.

Sweetwater shot a 313 to claim first place here at Comanche Trails in the final tournament of the season. Big Spring and Andrews tied for second at 320. Snyder shot 370 to place 13th in the 14-team field and placed 10th (see PARKER, page 5)

In the running events, Greathouse placed fifth in the 100 meters with a 13.0; Teena Braziel was fifth in the 200 meters at 28.5; Shelly LaRoux was fifth in the 1600 meter run with a 6:17.7 and Dana Fenton was sixth in the 400 meter dash in 66.1 seconds. "That was Holly's best jump at a meet, Shelly's best time in the 1600 and Liz's best in the 100 meters," said Coach Patty Grimmett. "It was also the best time this season for our 400 and 800 meter relay teams."

The 1600 relay team of Warren, Rana Eicke, Williams and Fenton placed fourth with a 4:22.3. "I was real proud of the girls. They put out their best efforts and it showed from the results. A lot of our times were the best of the season and you can't find fault with that," said Grimmett.

Andrews' Bice steps down as cage coach

ANDREWS - Frank Bice, whose son Gym Bice will graduate this May, has announced his resignation as head basketball coach at Andrews High School.

"Now that Gym's out, I'm going to take a look at some new challenges," Bice was quoted as saying.

Bice compiled a career record of 345-134. He coached at Andrews for 21 years, including the last 14 as head basketball coach.

He took Andrews to the state tournament in 1982 and 1989. The Mustangs were 31-5 last season and were eliminated in the state semifinals by Austin Travis.

Bice said he would now devote time to the insurance business and an athletic poster company.

Son Gym Bice, a 5-11 guard, was named second-team all-state by the Texas Sports Writers Association and Texas Association of Basketball Coaches.

Fox wins 4th straight at NCAA championships

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) - Chad Fox of New Mexico became the first man to win four straight titles in any event when he won the vault and teammate Paul O'Neill captured his third straight rings title at the NCAA men's gymnastics championships Saturday.

Other individual event winners were Miguel Rubio of Houston Baptist for the second time on the high bar; Alfonso Rodriguez, also of Houston Baptist, on the parallel bars.

Stewart wins Heritage

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) - Payne Stewart, who skipped the Heritage Classic for four straight seasons before coming back this year, plans to be back next year.

After all, he'll be the defending champion. "Oh yeah, I'll be back," he said. "It's a great thing about winning; you always want to come back and defend your title because you are only the only defending champion that week."

Stewart, who either led or shared the lead through all four rounds, won the Heritage going away with a 16-under-par 268, which broke the tournament record of 270 set by Tom Watson in 1979 and matched by Nick Faldo in 1984.

never let up, and he virtually clinched the victory with a 25-foot birdie putt on the 15th hole. That gave him a 5-shot lead with three holes to play.

Kenny Perry, who had never finished higher than fourth in his three-year PGA career, was second at 273 after shooting a final-round, even-par 71 on the 6,657-yard course. Perry won $86,400. Fred Couples, with a 65 on Sunday, tied Bernhard Langer for third at 277. Langer, a former Heritage champion, had a final-round 71.

Three players tied for fifth at 278 - Lanny Wadkins, Craig Stadler and Kenny Knox. Knox did not really get close to winning but set an all-time PGA Tour putting record. He used only 93 putts on Harbour Town's tiny greens, eclipsing by one stroke the record for 72 holes, set by George Archer on this course in 1980.

Stewart, now eighth on the money-winning list with $306,710, shared the lead with Perry over the first two rounds, then pulled away to a 3-stroke advantage when third-round play was halted by darkness Saturday.

Coach resigns

SWEETWATER -- Barry Hughey, whose teams advanced to the state playoffs each of the past three years, has resigned as girl's basketball coach at Sweetwater High School.

Hughey will accept an elementary school principal's post within the district.

Stewart pocketed $144,000 for the victory on Sunday, his fourth in his PGA career that began in 1981. It was also his first victory since the 1987 Bay Hill Classic.

The 32-year-old Stewart maintained at least a 3-stroke lead throughout the final round at the Harbour Town Golf Links. But he

Softball meeting tonight

There will be a men's softball meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the Texas Electric Reddy Room, it has been announced. Anyone interesting in participating is encouraged to attend.

WTC sports banquet set

The Western Texas College All-Sports Banquet will be held Sunday, April 30 at Towle Park Barn. The event, to honor WTC student athletes, will begin at 12:30 p.m. and includes a barbecue lunch. Tickets are $6 for adults, $3 for children and may be purchased at the college athletic office or Buddy's Auto. Deadline for reservations is April 26.

Golf events scheduled

Swingers golf at Snyder Country Club will start April 21 at 5:30 p.m. Play on that date will be a flighted two-person scramble. On April 28 at 5:30 p.m. play will be low net of twosome on Blind Holes. On May 5 at 5:30 p.m. play will be String Tournament. Also Sunday Couples action is set for May 7 at 1:30 p.m. Play will be low ball of twosome with handicap, flighted. A hamburger supper will follow. An additional activity includes a putting contest.

Cutting horse contest

A cutting horse contest, approved by the National Cutting Horse Association, will be held April 22 in Scurry County Coliseum. The contest will be under sponsorship of Western Texas College Rodeo Club. Horses are to be on the ground by 8 a.m. The show will start at 9 a.m. There will be nine classes: Open Championship with $500 added money; Non-Pro Championship with $500 added purse; Open Gelding; $3,000 Novice; $1,500 Novice; $10,000 Non-Pro; $2,000 Non-Pro; Youth Cutting; and $500 Novice Rider (any horse). Judge will be Gary Ray of Throckmorton. Brenda Ray of Stephenville will be secretary. "We hope to have between 100 and 120 horses entered," Bob Doty, WTC rodeo coach said. Information about the event can be obtained by contacting Doty's office at WTC, (915) 573-8511.

bareback. Teammate Wesley Henderson picked up go-round points for his second place 68 in the long-go of the saddle bronc. Henderson, also a WTC-ex, failed to mark his horse out in Sunday's finals, however.

Brewster won the average of the bull riding with a 153 score on two head. He won the long-go with the rodeo's best ride of 82, and tied with Howard's Kevin Reed in the short-round with a 71.

Western Texas got almost all of its points from Denny McLanahan in Sunday's first event, the bareback riding. McLanahan, a sophomore from Canadian, Texas, marked a 71 in the finals to split first place go-round honors with Bill Berry of Sul Ross. A 65 in the long-go kept McLanahan from winning the average. Still, he placed second with a 136 on two head. Berry won the average with a 141. Murray was third with a 134 and Brewster took fourth with a 132. WTC's only other points came in the bull riding, where Michael Gaffney's 77 held up for fourth place in the long-go. The Cloud-croft, N.M., sophomore got a bad draw in the finals, though, and scored a 61 to fall out of the average.

Western teammates met with tough luck in other events. Ray Brown took a no-time in the steer wrestling and Jim Blain Kenney had a no-score in the saddle bronc.

One WTC student who did have a good outing was Bobby Moody, a sophomore from Roswell, N.M. Moody took second in the average of the calf roping with an 18.2 on two. He also placed second in the long-go (9.2) and the short-go (9.0). Unfortunately for Western, he was not a designated team member and could not contribute points to the team.

The same held true for Snyder's Barry Byrd, who along with Johna Cassbeer of Hardin-Simmons finished second in the short-go of the team roping with a 7.2 time and fourth in the average with 15.0 on two.

Tarleton won the women's division with 145 points. Texas Tech was second with 125. Western Texas ladies tallied 20. All of the points came in the goat tying as Krista Jeffries placed fourth in the long-go with an 8.5 and Melanie Graf was fourth in the short-go with an 8.6.

Murray won the average in the saddle bronc, was second in the bull riding and third in the bareback.

Next action for the Southwest Region will begin Thursday in Abilene at the Hardin-Simmons University NIRA Rodeo.

Officer's fatal shooting shocks his neighbors and supervisor

DUNCANVILLE, Texas (AP) — The fatal shooting of Dallas police Sgt. Larry Wise by a suburban police officer shocked neighbors and Wise's supervisor, who thought the domestic problems that appeared to have led up to the officer's death were over.

Wise, 39, was killed early Sunday morning as he tried to enter his home in this Dallas suburb while brandishing a gun. He and his wife, Cindy, had argued Saturday night at a country and western nightclub where they were celebrating her birthday.

Cindy's sister, Brenda Smith, stopped by the Duncanville police station early Sunday and asked for officers to accompany her to the Wise home, where the couple's 13-year-old son, Larry Jr., and a friend were staying. Ms. Smith told police she feared for the teen-ager's safety, said Duncanville police spokesman Dan Robertson.

feet apart, Repp and Wise fired their weapons, but Robertson said police weren't sure who fired first.

However, Dallas police spokesman Hollis Edwards said he was informed by Duncanville police that Wise fired the first shot, and that Repp had returned fire in self-defense.

Wise died at Charlton Methodist Hospital about 50 minutes later, Robertson said. The Duncanville officers were not injured.

"When I got the call at 4:30 this morning, it was just disbelief," Seguin said.

Wise joined the Dallas Police in 1969 and became a sergeant in 1980, Seguin said. He led a sector of 10 patrol officers as well as a special car-theft task force created last year.

"They lost a very good supervisor," Seguin said.

The Wises had separated for a time, but reconciled, Seguin and friends of the family said.

"Cynthia told me a week ago everything was fine," said Steve Smith, a Duncanville resident who went to high school with the couple.

"The marriage seemed very solid" after the reconciliation, Seguin said. He said he noted the couple was very close when two of the officers Wise supervised were killed during a high-speed chase of a car theft suspect in January.

"I saw her (Mrs. Wise) as a great source of strength for Larry during that time," Seguin said.

The couple have three children, including Larry Jr., Carrie, 18, and Lacy, 5.

Wise's father and grandfather recently died, and his grandmother is recovering in a hospital from a stroke, said family friend Smith. Saying that such a series of events would be hard on anyone, Seguin said Wise had scheduled some extra days off recently.

Wise's body was taken to the Dallas County medical examiner's office for an autopsy, Robertson said. Dallas police internal affairs officers will join the Duncanville department's investigation of the shooting.

Repp and Wise knew each other on a "professional basis," Robertson said, adding Repp repeatedly ordered Wise to "Drop it Larry."

Ms. Smith and a male friend pulled up in time to see the shooting, Robertson said. The statements they gave police were consistent with the officers' description of the incident, he said.

Repp, who is the son of State Rep. Glenn Repp II, R-Duncanville, was placed on a one-week leave. He is a 12-year veteran of the Duncanville force and had not been involved in a fatal shooting previously.

Duncanville Sgt. Glenn Repp III and officer Stacy Holden arrived at the Wise home just before he did about 3:15 a.m., Robertson said. Wise spotted the officers and pointed his gun at them, but then lowered it and moved toward the front door of the house, the spokesman said.

The officers, who had sought cover behind their car when Wise raised his gun, began to approach him. Standing about 50 feet apart, Repp and Wise fired their weapons, but Robertson said police weren't sure who fired first.

However, Dallas police spokesman Hollis Edwards said he was informed by Duncanville police that Wise fired the first shot, and that Repp had returned fire in self-defense.

Sightings checked but no leads yet in murder case

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — A winery worker sought in the killings of his wife, two daughters and four other people was an angry, jealous man who spied on his wife and had threatened "to blow her head off," a friend said.

Ramon Salcido, 28, was so possessive of his wife that he drove home from work several times a day to check on her, said Richard Clark, Salcido's next-door neighbor in Boyes Hot Springs and friend.

Authorities on Sunday concentrated their search for Salcido north of San Francisco and alerted the U.S. Border Patrol, fearing he could head for his native Mexico.

"The cost of this is substantial, but we'll pay anything to get this man into custody," said Sonoma County Sheriff Richard Michaelson. "His acts are those of a totally insane person."

On Sunday, the owners of the Grand Cru Winery where Salcido worked as a forklift operator offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to his capture.

"These atrocities have caused fear and terror to invade an area known for its beauty and hospitality," Walter and Bettina Dreyer said in a statement.

On Friday, officers discovered the bodies of Salcido's 24-year-old wife, Angela, at their home; his mother-in-law and her two young daughters at their home in Cotati; and a winery co-worker. The girls had been raped and sodomized, and one was nearly decapitated, authorities said.

The next day, the bodies of two of Salcido's daughters were found at a dump with their throats slashed. The throat of his 3-year-old daughter, Carmina, also was cut but she survived and told police her father had done the slasings.

On Tuesday, only three days before her death, his wife learned he had been married before and had another child born only a short time before their own oldest daughter, the Los Angeles Times reported today.

After learning of her husband's other life, Mrs. Salcido said she wanted to leave him, the newspaper said.

"Now I can get an annulment," next-door neighbor Steve Nielsen quoted Mrs. Salcido as saying.

Salcido also was a regular seller and user of cocaine and possibly amphetamines, the Times reported, quoting several of his acquaintances it did not identify by name.

On Thursday night, Salcido stayed out drinking until 2 a.m., then snorted cocaine with a friend, the newspaper said.

Sheriff's investigators said detectives had no information that Salcido sold drugs.

Clark described Salcido as being extremely jealous. "Anybody who was higher up than him or if he had a nicer car than he did — he didn't like that. He wanted to be No. 1," Clark said.

He also said the Salcidos had recently begun arguing loudly.

"I could hear them yelling ... I guess I knew (the killings) were coming. I heard him say, 'I'm going to blow your head off,'" Clark said.

Salcido also was upset recently because he was served papers ordering him to pay nearly $6,000 in overdue child support and to make monthly payments of $511 for a 4-year-old daughter in Fresno, Clark said.

Despite reports of Salcido's having problems at work, his boss, Dreyer, remembered him as "very cooperative" and "quick to please."

Money and gifts poured into a hospital where Carmina was recovering from surgery.

"I've been told she'll make a full recovery. It was reported to me her vocal cords were not cut," Michaelson said.

Crush that killed 94 persons investigation to get underway

SHEFFIELD, England (AP) — Lawmakers and sports officials demanded a ban on anti-riot barriers and standing-room sections in stadiums as the city of Liverpool mourned 94 soccer fans crushed to death behind a steel fence in Britain's worst sports disaster.

Most of the 24 victims so far publicly identified were under age 20. They included a 10-year-old boy who was trampled and two teen-age sisters who died before their father's eyes.

Of the 170 injured, 56 remained in hospital with 17 in intensive care, police said today.

Calling it "a disaster of immense proportions," Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher said an inquiry would try to determine the cause of the human crush at Sheffield's Hillsborough stadium minutes into Saturday's cup semifinal between Liverpool and Nottingham Forest.

Details of the probe were to be unveiled in Parliament this afternoon by Home Secretary Douglas Hurd.

Buckingham Palace said Prince Charles and Princess Diana would visit injured survivors in Sheffield later today.

Sixty-five miles away in Liverpool, mourners jammed the Roman Catholic cathedral Sunday for a requiem Mass for the victims — most of them residents of the northwestern port city. The Anglican cathedral's bell tolled 94 times.

Lawmakers, sports officials and survivors on Sunday demanded changes in stadium designs, including the abolition of standing-room sections, known as terraces, and the anti-riot barriers around them.

"We have been saying for a long time that standing room must be converted into seating space," said Gerhard Aigner, general secretary of UEFA, Europe's soccer authority.

People "should have been able to escape off those terraces" and "were killed needlessly," said Liverpool's Liberal lawmaker, David Alton.

He said the fences should come down immediately, a demand echoed by Sheffield Labor lawmaker Joe Ashton, and Denis Howell, a former Labor sports minister.

Bert Millichip, president of the English Football Association, said regulations require fences, in part to prevent rowdiness.

Police in Sheffield, whose crowd-control measures will be at the core of the inquiry, handed over a police investigation to the neighboring West Midlands police.

Authorities will likely want to determine why thousands of fans were still outside as the match began and why police decided to open a 16-foot-wide gate to allow many of them to surge en masse into one end of the stadium shortly after the kickoff.

The last-minute arrivals poured into a central standing-room-only section, pressing those already inside against the steel mesh fence.

Investigators also were expected to examine allegations that many entered the sold-out stadium, which has a capacity of 54,000, with forged tickets or without any tickets at all.

Grief-stricken survivors described watching children die and people hit each other in the frenzied fight to survive.

The sturdy 10-foot fence, angled in at the top to stop people from scaling it, prevented fans from escaping to the field. Some were crushed to death and others suffocated or were trampled trying to fight their way out of the crowd or when the barrier finally collapsed.

South Yorkshire's chief constable, Peter Wright, said a senior officer decided to open the gates "to save people's lives and to relieve the crush outside."

It was the third major soccer tragedy in four years involving English teams, which have been barred from European soccer competition since a May 29, 1985, rampage by Liverpool fans at Heysel stadium in Brussels that killed 39 mostly Italian fans.

Runaway aid causes arrest

An 18-year-old female was arrested for harboring a runaway as a Snyder girl was taken into custody as a runaway at 4:05 p.m. Sunday at the Great Western Motel on the East Hwy.

The girl's father had reported his daughter missing earlier in the day, and he called the police station to say she might be in a room at the motel.

A Snyder couple was arrested on county warrants for cruelty to animals at 7:13 p.m. Saturday at a residence in the 300 Block of 25th St.

A 33-year-old man was arrested for public intoxication at 12:17 a.m. Sunday in the 800 Block of 23rd St. and a 35-year-old man for DWI at 1:24 a.m. Monday at the intersection of the Big Spring Hwy. and FM 2763.

A juvenile boy whose age was not reported was arrested for PI at 4:05 a.m. Monday in the 500 Block of the East Hwy.

employed by Sun Exploration & Production Co. They have two children, Tammy of Odessa and Mark of San Angelo.

She is scheduled to be sworn in on April 28, Thompson's last day in office.

Other business in the 10 a.m. meeting, which involved an executive session to consider the treasurer's appointment, included the notation that bids for the renovation of the front office area of the county coliseum ag annex, to be used by the Texas Department of Human Services, would be opened at 2 p.m. Monday.

A resolution was approved upon the request of County Auditor Linda Franklin to repeal Section 89 of the Internal Revenue Code as enacted in the Tax Reform Act of 1986.

The section imposes detailed plan qualification and Internal Revenue Service reporting requirements on a wide range of employee benefit plans, including all health and life insurance plans, and may bring "sizable penalties" to bear on employers, Franklin said.

The Texas Association of Counties is seeking the repeal primarily because the administrative requirements of Section 89 "are extremely complex, labor-intensive and cost-prohibitive," she said.

Bernhard Bartels, a member of Historic Scurry County Inc. and former county safety committee member, appeared to say the historical group may apply for funds to develop a long-range plan for the county coliseum grounds on which the Corneli-Dodson House and Dermott School have been located.

In other matters broached by Bartels, commissioners promised to build a rock walkway from the east side of the Dodson House to the east fence gate and to put a less hazardous covering over a storm drain on the north side of the Senior Citizens Center.

Bids for 14 parcels of property sold by County Tax Assessor Collector Rona Sikes in a recent tax delinquency sale were approved, and county courthouse maintenance supervisor Dale Swigert was authorized to advertise for bids to re-carpet all four courthouse floors.

County Judge Bobby Goodwin said the recently rejected bids for re-carpeting the first two floors came at a low enough level that an expansion of the job seemed logical, adding that Cogdell Memorial Hospital will join the project to reduce the cost of some re-carpeting that is planned there.

The earlier bids were rejected because of bidders' confusion over whether the carpet would be nylon or Herculon, and Goodwin said it has been decided for the carpeting to be nylon.

Pct. 3 Commissioner C.D. Gray Jr., who was out-of-town Monday, was authorized to advertise for bids for a used tandem-axle diesel truck.

Fishing rods said missing

Police are investigating the theft of $500 in fishing equipment from David Arizmendi of 1906 Coleman Ave., No. 2.

Arizmendi told officers at 1:06 a.m. Sunday that the equipment was taken from his garage sometime after 8 p.m. Saturday.

Missing are two Berkeley Lightning graphite rods, Zebco Pro Model 501 and 601 rods, two Shimano 120-Q reels and a Diawa G-15 reel.

U. S. building computer chip plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Electronics specialists say the danger of sensitive technology falling into the wrong hands prompted the National Security Agency to build its own top secret computer-chip manufacturing plant.

NSA, the nation's biggest intelligence agency, says the $85 million microelectronics plant — being built at Fort Meade, Md., about halfway between Washington and Baltimore — represents a "unique capability within the U.S. government."

The move comes amid increasing concern about erosion of American chip-making expertise and manufacturing capacity in the face of stiff competition from Japan, South Korea and other countries.

Guilty verdict is questioned by slain cop's sister

DALLAS (AP) — A sister of slain Dallas Police Officer Robert Wood says she has always felt prosecutors got the wrong man when Randall Dale Adams was convicted and sentenced to die for the killing.

"The day I walked out of the courtroom, I thought he was innocent," Gladys McLemore told The Dallas Morning News. "My husband at the time told me not to say anything, and I never did. He said it wouldn't do any good."

Adams was convicted in 1977 for the murder of Wood and spent more than 12 years behind bars before an appeals court voided his conviction. His sentence was commuted to a life term in 1980.

The charge was dismissed last month and Adams is a free man back in Columbus, Ohio.

Adams' innocence was maintained in the documentary "The Thin Blue Line," which brought his case national attention.

Other family members remain convinced Adams is guilty.

"I sat through the trial and I saw the evidence and I believe he's guilty," said Toni Lowry, Wood's widow.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals on March 1 reversed the conviction on Adams, ruling that the prosecution suppressed evidence favorable to him and allowed a witness to commit perjury.

Three weeks later, Dallas County District Attorney John Vance dropped the charges, saying that after 12 years there was not enough credible evidence to retry Adams.

Ms. Lowry, 33, who has since remarried and divorced and now lives in Bailey with three children, said she resents the recent publicity that has revived bad memories.

"I think they made Adams into a national hero, but Robert was the one who gave his life," she said.

Adams was convicted largely on the testimony David Ray Harris, who said he watched as Adams shot Wood. But during a hearing last December, Harris changed his story and virtually confessed to the murder himself.

"I don't think you can really believe anything he says one way or another," Ms. Lowry said of Harris. "I think they were both involved in it."

Another of Wood's sisters, Mary Foltz, said she did not want to discuss the case in detail. But she said if Adams is truly guilty, "sooner or later he'll pay for it ... when Judgment Time comes."

Patricia Willis, another of Wood's sisters, said recently that she and her husband, Norman, still believe Adams is guilty.

Norman Willis said Wood's mother has "been dying ever since Robert and her husband died," but Mrs. McLemore said that description was exaggerated and her mother was holding up well.

Suppliers could benefit from oil spill

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas natural gas suppliers say an oil spill that dumped millions of gallons of crude off the coast of Alaska adds further fuel to a campaign to boost production and sales of gas as a clean readily available fuel.

"Now is the time to adopt natural gas as the primary fuel for the country based on its environmental attractiveness and ample domestic supplies," said John Watson, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners.

"It's tragic that an accident such as this is required to get someone's attention, but those of us who urge greater reliance on natural gas have a window of opportunity," Watson said. "It could have some positive fallout for us."

The accident may delay new oil exploration in Alaska and offshore California, but natural gas suppliers believe the results of the massive spill helped their product become more attractive.

"When you look at North America, you can see that we have more potential natural gas than oil," said George Frampton, president of the Wilderness Society. "Natural gas is a significantly more favorable fuel than oil and much cleaner than coal."

Natural gas producers now get only about half the price paid for oil, but Watson said a growing recognition of the environmental benefits of gas may help change that.

According to a study by the Interstate Natural Gas Association, gas burned in electric power plants or industrial boilers produces almost no sulfur dioxide, the principal pollutant in acid rain. Fuel oil and coal both yield large amounts of sulfur dioxide.

Gas also produces less of such pollutants as nitrogen oxide, carbon dioxide and particulates such as ash.

A proposed tax on fuels that produce more pollutants also could help make natural gas more attractive.

"We agree that burning natural gas in electric power plants and industrial boilers is the only way we have now to eliminate acid rain and reduce emissions of other pollutants," said Texas Railroad Commission John Sharp, who recently joined U.S. Rep. Joseph P. Kennedy, D-Mass., to chair a Texas-New England coalition of gas producers, consumers, environmentalists and government officials.

"I hope everyone recognizes that one accident is not something you use to punish an entire industry, especially since natural gas is the one domestic energy source capable of helping to clean up the environment," Sharp told the Houston Chronicle.

Producers also say there is a more than ample supply of untapped natural gas for consumers.
