AN EDITORIAL—So The People May Know We've Got Something Here

County Judge Jim Alvis struck a note for productive leadership, and, parenthetically, in our opinion, one for growth and development in Haskell County, in his sagacious selection this week of Mrs. Tom Barfield, the former Sue Pate, as chairman of the all-important Haskell County Historical Survey.

As chairman and motivator of a committee to stimulate the development of historical resources and perpetuate the historical heritage of Haskell County, Sue Pate Barfield, daughter of the Haskell Free Press' late encyclopaedic editor, Lon Pate, is a natural for this assignment. Her father was encyclopaedic in many things, but most enterprisingly encyclopaedic in matters of Haskell County history. He knew more about it, had more of it filed away in his agile mind, and on the tips of his fingers and taste buds of his tongue, than anyone in his, or the generation, which preceded him.

Sue Pate Barfield, then, is innately interested in prosecuting through to productive completion a project her father would have cherished. She has the ability to do it. But like any project of the magnitude of this one, she needs help—and lots of it.

In Haskell County, we've got something here, with more than 104 years of heritage from which to draw in setting up our monuments for posterity. Few counties among the 254 in all of Texas can claim more epoch-making events in their colorful past than Haskell.

If this Haskell County Historical Survey is done properly, as surely it can be, if we pitch in and put our shoulders to the wheel with Sue Barfield directing the destinies, we can put Haskell County on the map as a tourist attraction—right in line with Dr. T. W. Williams' enterprising idea of catching that floating industry, an industry on wheels, tagged as tourism, that floats through Haskell at the rate of 1500 vehicles daily.

Nothing can stop the occupants of those vehicles more adequately, and make them tarry awhile, than exploring the history we exploit through our work with the Historical Survey.

The aims and objects of the Haskell County Historical Survey are four-fold: To preserve historical buildings, to be marked with medallions; to place historical markers; to develop local museums; and to develop from EVERY POSSIBLE EXISTING SOURCE our history in permanent form for use as a tourist attraction. In this latter effort, the sooner we get to the pertinent business of erecting tourist markers and publish a guide to historical buildings in Haskell County to interpret our heritage to tourists, the better off we are going to be.

Not only will our County Historical Survey explore all the avenues for performing service by preserving our history for generations to come. It will exploit the tourist trade stimulated by history-seeking travelers, which will be a boon to this area's economy.

Yes, we've got something here. And it's up to all of us to transfer that stored up potential into throbbing, kinetic energy benefitting the entire community.

We need only to harness our own efforts to the singletree of heritage and hitch that wagon to the star of Tourism, and we're in orbit.

Justifiably proud of Haskell County's historic past, let's support Sue Pate Barfield and help her lead the path for all toward a productive future.

SUE BARFIELD TO CARRY ON LON PATE'S INNATE INTERESTS

Appointment of a Haskell County Historical Survey Committee, with Mrs. Tom Barfield as chairman, has been announced by County Judge James C. Alvis.

Mrs. Barfield, together with Mrs. Jetty Clare, and Porter Oakes, of Haskell, Claude Norman, Jim Norman, and Mrs. Skinny Cole, of Rule, form the nucleus of what is hoped will be a most expansive committee. Such a body, Mrs. Barfield pointed out, will be urgently needed to properly handle the gigantic task of compiling an accurate and complete history of Haskell County.

This history had an auspicious start under the authorship of R. E. Sherrill, and was brought along most reliably and interestingly by Mrs. Barfield's father, the late tremendously beloved Lon Pate, encyclopaedic editor of the Haskell Free Press. The personalized annotations to the history itself begun by her father, whose knowledge of this region and its people, was phenomenal, are one phase of the project which Mrs. Barfield desires most to perpetuate. So she implores the help of everyone in collecting the "Haskelliana" necessary to successfully accomplish the job.

Other objects of this titanic task are the location and labeling of historical points of interest in Haskell County, that they may be preserved for posterity, and the drafting of a guidebook for the use of tourists in the territory, that they may see for themselves the halcyon spots in the more than 104 years of Haskell County heritage.

The work of the Haskell County Historical Survey proposes to be intriguing, especially for old-timers, and they are urged to contact Mrs. Barfield immediately, Judge Alvis requests, that plans may be formulated for an exemplary effort at her direction.

Spanish Speaking Students Set Southern Sortie

Haskell High School's Spanish Club is going to try its hand at the "habla el espanol" first-hand on a trip to northern Mexico the first of March, Benny Sessums, Spanish teacher, announced Saturday.

The Spanish Club's project pilgrimage is the sixth such undertaking, all five previous ones having been most successful, Haskell School Superintendent Robert R. King said.

The second year Spanish class will form the nucleus of the roster of persons making the trip, and will be accompanied this year by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hester, in addition to Sessums and King. The group is going in three automobiles, spending their first night out on March 1 at a beautiful new motel at the south terminus of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. The Spanish students will spend March 2 and 3 in the vicinity of Monterey and Saltillo, Mexico, visiting with and observing the customs of the people in that area.

Returning north of the Rio Grande, the traveling Haskellites will spend the night of March 4 in Corpus Christi and will tour that beautiful Texas coastal city before returning to the hinterland and Haskell on March 5.

Attorneys Argue Appeal Case In Eastland Court

Arguments on both sides of an appeal from an injunction ordered last Sept. 21 against the Haskell City Council for spending city funds in opposing the Miller's Creek water project to build a reservoir to supply four communities, including Haskell, with water, were heard last Friday by the 11th Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland.

No word has been received here since the arguments were completed, and it was reported here Wednesday that "it usually takes several weeks before the Eastland court rules in appeals after oral arguments are presented."

Of the spending of funds by the Haskell City Council in fighting the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority, T. R. Odell, of Lubbock, representing John Kimbrough and others said, "such transactions are foreign to the authority and business of the municipal legal functions of said city council."

Wilson said evidence showed $4,923.45 was spent out of the City of Haskell's water funds for attorney fees, attorneys' telephone bills and trips to Austin by defendants opposing the construction of a dam across Miller Creek in Baylor and Throckmorton Counties.

Odell's contention in Eastland was, and is, that "It was the people of the City of Haskell that voted to go into the Miller's Creek project—The city government had no authority or control of the people so far as going into the project or staying out of it was concerned."

The City Council's case appealing from the injunction against them was argued by James W. Wilson, of Austin, who said the basic issue was whether the Council had the right to spend city funds in its fight, and his contention was, and is, that the court granting the injunction erred on three points, and that therefore an appeal and subsequent reversal of the injunction is in order.

Haskell County Hospital plans to organize a Women's Hospital Auxiliary which can serve to assist the hospital in its physical improvement projects and help the development of better patient care, Hallic Chapman, hospital administrator, announced Tuesday.

Haskell High Future Farmers Herald FFA Week At Rotary

Heralding the local, state and national observance of FFA Week which began Saturday, three future farmers of Haskell High School turned public speakers Thursday to tell Rotarians here how vital is the role of agriculture in the growth and development of America.

Johnny Matthews, Jerry Stocks, and Lonnie Decker, all vocational agriculture students of VA Instructor Haskell Stone, VA Instructor Haskell Stone, and FFA leaders here, were introduced to Haskell Rotarians by their teacher on a program brought to the club by Rotarian Rev. C. R. LeMond, of the First Methodist Church here.

Describing agriculture as an essential contributor to the national economy, the youthful speakers brought out that while most countries of the world have to spend approximately one-half of their incomes for food, America spends but about one-fifth. This situation has resulted from more systematized and scientific and progressive methods of farming, it was pointed out.

About 84,000 of the 383,900 FFA boys in 9,000 local chapters across the nation are Texans. Rotarians were told as the FFA speakers pounded home an "Agriculture, Vital to America," theme.

Concluding their talks, the budding farmers said, "If you take away the farms, the community goes, too."

At the suggestion of Rotarian Danny Boone, and upon call to a vote by President E. J. Stewart, Rotarians voted unanimously to recommend admission of former Haskell Rotarian Dixie Maltberger to membership in the Rotary Club at his new home in Lamesa.

President Stewart appointed Past President Tom Barfield to write the letter of recommendation on Maltberger to the Rotary Club of Lamesa.

Desmond Dulaney introduced Visiting Rotarian Rod Ezzell of Rule and Haskell High Rotarian of the Month Lowell Wallace to the assembly.

Rotarians followed the lead of Song Master Danny Boone in some lusty group singing.

Bob King, chairman of the Rotary Information Committee, enumerated for the assembly Rotarians the six fundamental characteristics of Rotary and their underlying meaning.

President Stewart urged those who can attend the Rotary International Convention to be held in St. Louis on June 9-13.

Arledge Says Attempt Being Made To Legislate Out Migrant Labor

Migrant farm labor would be virtually eliminated by a bill now pending in the Motor Traffic Committee of the Texas House of Representatives, Roy Arledge, representative of the 83rd district, said in a message to the Haskell Free Press Monday.

The Stamford legislator, who represents Baylor, Haskell, Knox, Jones and Throckmorton Counties in Austin, declared, "Because of the totally unreasonable restrictions in House Bill 401, on the transportation of migrant workers, it would be almost impossible for farmers in our district to secure the needed labor to produce and gather our crops."

The proposed measure, Arledge said, is even more restrictive than one introduced in the last session, "and I as a member of the Committee considering it will do everything possible to stop this Bill so that it will not become law."

Arledge has received outstanding committee assignments as a first-termer in the State Legislature. He is a member of the all-important Oil and Gas committee, Live-stock and Stock Raising, Motor Traffic, Public Lands and Buildings, State Hospitals and Special Schools Committees.

"It is my hope to do the best possible job in the State Legislature for the folks in our area," Arledge said, "and I will appreciate hearing from each and everyone so that I may have the views and suggestions of folks back home on pending legislation."

New Directors Elected To C of C Board

Results of an election to name five new directors to the board of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce for three-year terms were announced Saturday after ballots mailed to the entire membership were opened and counted.

Mrs. Opal Adkins, chairman of the election committee, said the five selected are Abe Turner, Haskell National Bank; Jack McAdoo, Ben Franklin Store; Harold Spain, Postmaster; Dr. James F. Cadenhead, Haskell Clinic; and Robert R. King, superintendent of schools here.

Mrs. Roy Johnson, executive secretary, said the new directors will be installed at the annual meeting of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce on March 22, at which Ben Wooten, chairman of the board of the First National Bank, Dallas, will be the featured speaker.

Dr. Williams Cites Need To Push Projects

Dr. T. W. Williams, prominent physician and civic leader here, who also is Haskell County health physician, as a member of the board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from this area, reported Thursday on two current projects of that group, "the prosecution of which are particularly important to this area."

"The Haskell civic and professional leader said these projects, initiated by the Human Relations and Tourism Committees of WTCC at the instance of Executive Vice President Fred Husbands, of Abilene, "are being participated in and the developments noted with tremendous interest."

Last Friday, Dr. Williams was a member of a WTCC committee on Human Relations which met in Lubbock to survey ways and means of helping the Latin-American population in various areas,

Coaching Corps Sets Sights On Track Turnout, Trophies

With respectable records in the basketball books, Haskell's coaching corps Saturday turned its attention to new competitive categories, track for the boys, and volleyball for the girls.

Coach Dave Middleton's Haskell Squaws, girls' basketball team, wound up their season Friday night, losing a one-point heartbreaker to Hamlin and a chance for a tie for the District 6-AA title. But it was still a tremendous season for the Middleton-coached curvaceous cagers. They won 20 ball games, losing only 7, and two of those were conference clashes dropped by single-point margins.

The girls will take on volleyball with a vim under Middleton's tutelage immediately, with some hot competitions scheduled.

Coach Carlos Berry's Haskell Indian hoopers had a 13-12 win-loss compilation for the cage season, and were an even-Stephen 5-5 in the conference. The Berry-bossered crew of athletes, many of whom played basketball all season, and should be in shape, now turn to track. An ambitious track schedule was announced this weekend by Coach Berry which leads off with Haskell's cinder path pounders participating in

Joe Williams To Head The United Fund

In a meeting of the Board of Directors and Steering Committee of the HUF last Thursday night in the lobby of the Haskell National Bank, Joe Williams, attorney, was elected president, and Wayne Bradford, businessman, vice-president of the Haskell United Fund for 1963.

The newly elected president appointed Porter Oakes, secretary, and Mrs. W. A. Lyles, treasurer.

Prior to the election of new officers, Dr. T. W. Williams, retiring president; Miss Nettie McCollum, last year's campaign chairman and Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, explained to the officers and directors some of the procedures and workings of the United Way.

The newly elected officers and directors are composed of the various clubs and organizations in Haskell.

President Williams announced he would call a meeting of the officers and directors in the near future to formulate plans for the fund drive to be staged this fall.

We Just Make It Official

It's a rather widely accepted fact that in most small towns like Haskell, where our quality far exceeds our quantity, most folks already know the news before the paper hits their doorstep, post office box, rural or star route mailbox.

But the most important thing is—we make it official. O. C. Harrison, the sharp scribe from Seymour, the dapper digger of dank, dark divots, the dean of country newspaper editors, than whom there is no "whomer," says our official stamp when we come out with the news, better late than never, is comparable to the Ground Hog seeing his shadow.

He is so right. Not long ago we dropped a line into our column saying Haskell has something which New York does not—a newspaper. It's still true, after two months, and the hunger for print has gone beyond periodic pangs into a seemingly bottomless void.

Thousands of tons of newspapers are funneled into New York daily from the outside, but the void is still there. Nothing can take the place of the local newspaper, your reading habit. This is true whether it's New York's seven metropolitan dailies, the Haskell Free Press or the Rule Review.

Hal Boyle, writing not long ago, said, "No other instrument of civilization fills so many various roles as does a newspaper. Nothing else serves so many wants, satisfies so many curiosities, circulates so many kinds of information."

Other mass media, particularly radio and television stations, have moved massively in New York in an attempt to satisfy the people's right to know. But the job is too vast for them. It is one thing to watch a television announcer read a news bulletin to you. It is quite another thing to pick up a newspaper with which you are as familiar as you are your own family and pick out morsels of its almost infinite variety as you choose.

As a result of the New York newspaper strike, there is no segment of business that hasn't suffered, even to retarding the pace of the usually busy cabbies who are hollerin' to high heavens that people aren't going anywhere because they can't read about where they SHOULD BE GOING! Various businesses, because of the newspaper strike, are off from 16 to 36 per cent.

Nothing can fill the gap created by the absence of the local newspaper. Because people like best the newspaper they are used to. Their most vital interest is what's going on at home, in their own balliwick.

It is big news to the folks at the forks of the creek or the convergence of the highways—who died, who got married, who had a baby. HERE—not somewhere else.

And only the New York TIMES, or the six other ones, in New York, or the Haskell Free Press, in Haskell, can tell folks that.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

One of the first bylines we ever got was on a sports yarn, which was all wool and several yards wide, about a fantastic basketball team from Inez, Kentucky, 'way over on the eastern side of the state in the mountains. It's in a section that was unbelievably backward, and still is today. This was 25 years and 50 pounds ago for me, and Inez doesn't seem to have changed much. The current Rand-McNally says, "Pop., 566."

Playing against teams from other hamlets in the area, which is right up against the West Virginia border, like Highpoint, Blackey, Pine Knot, Hardshell, Carr Creek, Decoy, and Viper (these really are names of towns!), Inez emerged victorious in basketball in the region. Therefore, the team became eligible to go to Lexington to compete in the state tournament on the shiny hardwood of Adolph Rupp Fieldhouse at the University of Kentucky.

Since the windup of another hectic basketball season is approaching, the story is telegraphed to the Pencil Pusher's mind today.

The six stalwarts, that's all they had, from Inez, must have learned a thing or two from the Carr Creek quintet. Carr Creek, Pop. 382, had been state champs a few years before. Only after proceeds from a box supper had replaced their sawed-off levi's with uniforms, Inez, six strong, seven with the coach, came to Lexington.

This was the net-swiftest, hoopiest, hollerin' gang of guys with guts I ever saw. They sashayed through that state tournament like Sherman through Georgia. I was working part time on the Lexington Leader and going to college in those depression days, covered the tournament, and got to interview the coach, who taught about three subjects at the Inez school to boot. After witnessing some of the most unorthodox, route order, pell-mell, but deadly accurate, basketball shooting in my life, I asked Coach how in the world his boys did it. He said:

"Well, you see, over at Inez, we don't have a gym. And the court, it's outside. And it gets kinda cold practicing out there. And we didn't get to practice too much. And we didn't have but one backboard. Or but one ball either. And the backboard was backed up pretty close to the river. So we had to make our shots count. Else practice woulda been over."

Inez made those shots count all right in one of the greatest Fieldhouses named after one of the greatest coaches of all time, and took the championship of a basketball-hep state back to the mountains with them.

There are 56 other and different varieties of Heinz to spice up things. But the Free Press has Al, foremost of the 57, whose Prattle is the spiciest of all.

A character (capital C) name of Wallace Wooten called us the other day and asked if this was the 'Hay Press.' Reminded us of the newspaper out in Taos, New Mexico, where everything is kind of crazy anyway. It's called 'El Crepusculo,' meaning 'Dawn of A New Day.' Fellow I know who was editor of it called it, 'The Creeps.'

Reports from Durham, North Carolina, have it that a young lady named Holly Williams, daughter of Diane and Temple, presses her Mother to get her peas good and hot, and buttered, too, before she dashes them to the floor. And also that she really won't put on a peak performance on her hobby horse, a gift from you-know-who of the Haskell 'horsey' set, unless she has Bonanza background music. Would you say this young lady is going to be "to the manor born?" as my late revered Uncle Ross used to say of me and mine whom he accused of silver spooned tendencies.

What do you think of Stamp Collector Spain's Sin-copatin' Stompers, those terrifically togged titans behind the windows in the United States Post Office? I had to make a re-entry the other day, thinkin' maybe I was walkin' up to the orchestra shell at the dance Pavilion at Lake Worth. Or maybe lookin' at some stragglers from "Sing Along With Mitch." They're a scintillatin' something, those P. O. Blue Boys.

Singing' along reminds us of Danny Boone. At Rotary he bears up with us while we bear down with him on the singin' kick. Did you know that both Danny and E. J. Stewart used to be employed as bellboys? Probably why they both decided to go straight after seeing such a seamy side of life. The Nobles-Boone combo these Baptists have, remind me of the motto at the Seminary, called the "preacher factory," on the campus where I went to school, Transylvania. It was "Breakin' Hearts and Savin' Souls!"

This came out of a February issue, 1913, Free Press. It happened in school. "Nebuchadnezzar was the greatest of the Babylonian kings, and for his connection with the Hebrews, he got a writeup in the Bible." Nebuchadnezzar won't fit in a headline today, that's for sure. So he wouldn't have gotten too much publicity. 'Course they could have shortened it to "Nebby" like, Teddy, Bobbie, Jackie.

After seven weeks and several interviews in Haskell, the Pencil Pusher has found that most people here are bilingual. They speak two languages—profund—and profane.

Remember our remarks about Mr. C. C. McDonald's utter lack of comprehension of anything mechanical? We found out when he toured the Free Press the other day that he has some stock in the Linotype machine company. Probably figured he should have anything THAT complicated working on HIS side!

Tying out papers behind Jetty Clare is like trying to rodeo cowboy behind Jim Shoulders, with Clare playing Shoulders and the Pencil Pusher the bawlin' calf I've got my neck in the noose all the time. I may not be so hot at tying out papers, but I can tie up a telephone. Learned it from my sister, Ann. They say a woman spends three years of her life on the phone. Not my Ann. She logged that much time in a dozen conversations.

Oakescript: As the lady said at the bread bake, guess I better start tendin' to my kneadin'. P. S. from P. O. (not Edgar Allan): I haven't lost my marbles. Just can't find 'em.

Old Age Assistance L. B. Patterson, of Munday, president of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority, writes to clarify a statement made in last week's Free Press. He says only the old age assistance representative, not the social security representative, will increase their checks to the old people in financial distress to help pay taxes. The statement last week said both representatives could help in such a situation.

Garrett Goes Glad-Hander for Haven Of Hospitality

When Menard Field and his son, Adron, opened up their fashionable new Fieldan Motel, an 18-unit, $135,000 facility here, they did it with "the law" literally on, and at, their side.
First registered guest at the Fieldan, on Haskell's main stem, was Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett. The Sheriff and his wife joined the Field family in sharing host and hosting duties, because, as the Sheriff put it:
"The Chamber of Commerce, and the newspaper, The Haskell Free Press, and lots of folks here are pushing a worthy project. It's to make Haskell a 'haven of hospitality on the highway,' as they put it. I think this new motel is a credit and an asset, so I'm here to make the welcome official. We want the traveling public to know we appreciate them."
Menard Field, owner-operator, said he felt like a "pigeon come home to roost." He operated his first motel here in 1924.

CREEK ... COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

The Stamford Garden Club judged the essays, and they were very complimentary to the winners. Counselors were Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lee Medford. The awards were made at the assembly program Tuesday morning by W. A. Pool, work unit Soil Conservationist from the Stamford office.

Troop No. 48 held their Court of Honor at the Paint Creek lunch room last Saturday night to close their Scout Week activities. Mothers and fathers brought supper and everyone ate before the Court of Honor.

At the First Aid contest in Anson last Friday night four patrols of Troop 48 were entered in the competition. The Ant Patrol had Thornton Gilmore as problem leader, and they were Riley Couch, James Wall, Walter Felker and Kenneth Crouch as victim. The Badger Patrol, with Ricky Perry as problem, was composed of Bob Earles, Phil Coleman, and Darrell Crouch as victim. The Eagle Patrol, with Roland Branch as problem leader, was composed of James Redding, Clinton Calloway.

The Coyotes, with Randy Wigeman, Derrell Davis, Johnny Josselet, Joe David Thompson and Quincy LeFevre, won the problem. The Ants made 635 points out of a possible 640. The Badgers made 595, the Coyotes 545, and Eagles 485.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos Montgomery and children of Midland spent last weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Montgomery, and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Smith, and Mrs. Montgomery's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Dale Overton and daughter, Kay, attended the Girl Scout banquet at the Elementary School lunch room at Haskell last Thursday. Mr. Overton was his daughter's date, and Mrs. Overton is the scout leader in one of the troops. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton also were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Earles were in a car wreck Sunday night as they were returning to their home at Bledsoe. Mrs. Earles has been recuperating from surgery at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Earles, and her husband came for her Sunday. This morning the news was that Mr. Earles is in the hospital at Morton, and that Mrs. Earles is in a Lubbock hospital and is very badly injured. Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Earles have gone to them. The children are in Louisiana with Mrs. Earles' parents on an extended visit.

It is time to think about school board members again. The election is the first Saturday in April (April 6), and the petitions for names to be placed on the ballot must be in 30 days prior to this date. To place a name on the ballot, there must be a petition with five names on it. Or, if anyone wants his name on the ballot, he may just go to the County Superintendent himself and ask that his name be placed on the ballot. Gene Overton and Sammy Griffith go off this year, so get your petition ready and take it to Miss Vick in the next two weeks. These two men have served the school and the community for several years, and I for one would like to express appreciation for all they have done. The salary of a school board member is the feeling he has that he has served his community. The pay of a Paint Creek board member is a little more because he has an annual luncheon given by the 3rd year HomeEc. girls and some years the football team gives him a free pass to all the home football games. But the cost is 15 or 20 meetings a year, plus all the complaints from patrons from how the bus drivers drive the buses to how a certain teacher is discriminating against my Johnny. There it is, who wants the job?

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton.

Mr. entertained the ASCS office force with a supper and party Monday evening.

(Delayed from Last Week)

Isn't the community pretty this Tuesday morning with all the snow? We so seldom have snow that it is always exciting and fun. It makes nice moisture for the land, too. The only sad thing about it is to see snow on the cattle. Gene says they don't mind, but I'll bet they do. I know they don't like icicles hanging from their hair like it did that last cold spell. I always feel sorry for cattle and chickens and dogs who have to live outdoors in cold weather. But the snow is beautiful.

Mrs. Curtis Cox was a patient in the Haskell Hospital for several days last week. She had flu or a virus. But she is home now and feeling better. Her mother, Mrs. Joe Allen, from Rule, came and took care of Curtis and Tammy and the baby.

The senior girls basketball team won the first game they played in the Hardin-Simmons tournament. They beat the May high school girls. But they lost their second game with Trent by two points. Trent went on to win the tournament so our girls could have too, had they beat them. Our last game of the season is this coming Thursday when we play Mattson at Mattson. The girls have won district no matter how this game with Mattson comes out. But because we are in a small district we are through early, and will have to wait until the first week in March to play for bi-district. There will be a practice game with Trent here at our gym next Monday night, Feb. 18.

Ira Coleman and Dorothy went to Ft. Sumner last week where Mrs. Coleman has been with Sonny and the children. Sonny and Mrs. Coleman have both been ill with flu, so Dorothy stayed to help care for them.

The school census was completed the last of January and our enrollment won't be up or down much next year, unless there are some families to move in or out of the community. There were about 138 on the census, and we have 17 transfers from Haskell, and 4 who transfer from PC to Stamford.

The Paint Creek Methodist Church had their church service at nine o'clock last Sunday and then had Sunday School. Bro. LeMond is going to try this for a while and see if it won't be better for the church than having services after the Vesper service at Haskell as he has been.

The three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pustejovsky, Mrs. Ann of Seymour, Helen Pustejovsky of Dallas and Evelyn Pustejovsky of the home honored their parents Saturday on their 25th wedding anniversary. Mass was held at 4 o'clock at the St. Ann's Catholic Church in Stamford, and the reception and dance followed at the National Guard Armory. Guests were present from Dallas, Seymour, Avoca, Leuders, Haskell, West, and Houston. About 200 registered.

Mrs. Marie Kohout is a proud new grandmother again. S/Sgt.

and Mrs. David Kohout have a new little son, born Feb. 3. His name is David Ewing, and he weighed 7 lbs., and 5 oz. He has a little 3 year old brother, John Steven, and his maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mathis of Rule.

The Paint Creek Livestock judging team went to the Wichita Falls Stock Show and judged in competition with other FFA chapters. The sponsor, Willie Lee Medford, took the boys. The team was composed of Larry John Edwards, Donald Ray, Vern Howard and Edwin Livengood. Danny Ivy and Ricky Perry showed calves at the show. Mr. and Mrs. Lem Ivy and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Perry also went.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton and Mrs. Charles McBeath of Amarillo were in Dallas Friday evening for the presentation of "Pearlie Victorious" at Theater Three. Bill Overton plays the part of Charlie Chilcopee, son of the Cap'n. The play is a comedy and a take-off on the racial problem. Five of the main characters are Negro actors, and very talented ones, too. The play has been a hit ever since it opened last month. Mr. Charles McBeath, who was attending an IBM meeting in Dallas returned home with them and they visited an aunt, Maxie Speer in Arlington on the way home.

MRS. LONNIE GERALD STURDY

Miss La Vern Jones Becomes Bride Of Lonnie Gerald Sturdy

Chapel of the First Baptist Church of this city was the scene Saturday evening of the beautifully appointed wedding of Miss LaVern Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Jones, of Haskell...

Both the bride and bridegroom are 1962 graduates of Haskell High School and are groom attendants East Texas State College at Commerce, Texas.

Mrs. Carolyn Everett, soloist, provided special music for the occasion accompanied by Miss Pamela Baird at the piano.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Woodrow Jones. Attendants were the maid of honor, Miss Trisha Christberg...

Best man was David Honea, of Dallas; Usher was Volly Ivy, of Ranger Junior College, Ranger; and groomsman was Danny Josselot, of Dallas.

The bride, Mrs. Sturdy, wore a full length formal gown of organza and net over satin. The fitted bodice was designed with a portrait neckline accented with appliques of alien-con lace. The two tiered veil of French imported illusion net fell from a crown of pearl trim.

Identically attired in blue dresses with street length full skirts were both the matron of honor and maid of honor. The dresses had scooped necklines and long sleeves. Their head pieces were of white organza with tulle. They carried white carnations.

At the reception held in the home of the bride's parents in Haskell, the following persons were in the houseparty: Mrs. Peggy Jones, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Patsy Leonard, sister of the bride; Mrs. Janice Lauderdale, sister of the bride; Mrs. Wanda Jackson, sister of the bride; Mrs. Gail Jones, sister-in-law of the bride. All presided at the bride's table. Mrs. Charlene Therwanger, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests.

After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Sturdy will establish residence at 825 Cedar Hill

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. A startling innovation is the sheer front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girdle itself is of "wonder" Lycra spandex fiber. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength that gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" is the peak achievement of the designer-genius, Olga.

Be "Suddenly Slim" today in either girdle or panty version. Call Lane-Felker, 864-2266, now.

LETTERS... To The Editor

Wichita Falls, Texas To Editor of the Haskell Free Press:

Just received a card notifying me that my subscription had expired. I am sorry this happened. This is my first notice since 1891 when Judge Jones and I married and began housekeeping. Oscar Martin was "publisher-editor" at that time. My father, Capt. C. P. Kilgough, was a subscriber before that. Now there's nothing but good business to send out notices and it is right. It just struck me with amusement after all these years.

Have been very ill for weeks. Can't hardly walk across my room and am writing with difficulty. Hence, the seeming oversight. Please always as long as I live (this was underlined) send me my loved Free Press. I want to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the seven copies you

(Editor's Note: This letter warmed the cockles of our heart. Mrs. Jones, we'll keep sending, and we hope we are still sending in the Year 2000. Bless your heart. We hope you have had a complete recovery from your long illness.)

Noe's Hardware Flippin, Arkansas

Editor, Haskell Free Press:

Yes, please extend my subscription for 1963. I enjoy it very much even though I've been away for over 50 years. I still remember names of old timers and like to hear of the progress of that section of the country at present. At the time I left there Haskell was pretty much of a cow town. It had wooden hitch racks all around the Courthouse Square, rings in rails for tying bridle reins, up to date and very convenient, of course.

Very sorry to hear of the passing of Lon Pate. He was an "old timer." Best regards to your staff and all my former friends. Very truly yours, /s/ Emery E. Noe

(Editor's Note: These folks are not your former friends, Mr. Noe. They're STILL your quiring a new 60-passenger bus horse at our hitching rack again sometime soon? A warm welcome awaits you any time.)

Services were at 3:30 p. m. and 7 p. m. in the evening, with a bountiful meal served by the ladies of Haskell Foursquare Gospel Church at 5:30 p. m.

Rev. Roy Herricks, Haskell pastor, said the afternoon and evening services, led by Rev. Wilson, of Abilene, and Rev. Lyles, Hamlin, were inspiring, stimulating, and well-attended, overflowing the Haskell church facilities.

This is the economical Newport 4-door sedan

Sounds unbelievable for a Chrysler. But it's true. And we're ready to prove it to you.

Considering the full-size value you get in a Newport 4-door sedan, we can appreciate why so many ask us to prove that a Chrysler can be priced so low.

We're always happy to.

Because we can talk about full-size comfort; big, booming V-8 power (fed by economical regular gas); rich fabrics; lush carpeting. Plus America's best and longest new-car warranty—5 years or 50,000 miles.

So why not compare the facts, the figures, the features, with any car anywhere. We think you'll find the $2964 Chrysler sizing up as the finest value in town.

Your Chrysler dealer's ready with the proof.

*Your authorized Chrysler Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair, without charge for required parts or labor, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch); torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings, provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Chrysler Certified Car Care schedules.

Prattle

By A. B. BROWN

It is always interesting to read the "Prattle" column in the "Haskell Free Press" and to see what the author has to say about the various things that are going on in our town.

Yesterday I saw a very interesting thing when I was out for my usual walk.

It was a very interesting thing to see a man who had been in the hospital for some time.

The man was very interesting and I was glad to see him.
