will be sufficient. A right angle entrance into the cellar, essential to protection from fallout, may be made by building a partial wall inside the existing cellar. If the cellar is not large enough to permit this wall inside, then a new entrance should be constructed with the necessary right angle in it.

A mechanical blower should be installed to provide positive air exhaust in time of disaster, and an inlet and outlet vent provided. The blower should provide a minimum of 5 cubic feet per minute per person. A filter is not necessary for the average home shelter. There should be enough shelves and storage space to hold the recommended amount of supplies and a radio antenna should be installed to receive CONELRAD broadcasts. Be sure that your battery powered radio will work in the shelter and will connect to the antenna.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

In a recently conducted poll by the National Federation of Independent Business, 60% of the nation's independent business people expressed approval of the bill introduced by Congressman Kolwaski to permit retired people drawing Social Security to earn up to $2400 per year without penalties.

Thus, severely limiting the amount of additional income a recipient can make is somewhat akin to the situation that would exist if an insurance company refused to pay on an annuity policy unless the policy holder agreed to conditions laid down by the company. Additionally, it is quite odd that retired people should be discouraged from making additional income at the same time a drive is on to boost social security deductions on the basis that elderly people cannot pay for medical care.

Importance of Small Business Recognized By Government

Jack Teddlie, Branch Manager of the Small Business Administration's office in Lubbock, Texas, who recently returned from Washington, D. C., said there is increased awareness of the importance of small business at all levels of the Federal Government. "Under the leadership of President Kennedy, all agencies of the Government are cooperating with the Small Business Administration to help small business," Mr. Teddlie said.

Althea and Lanette spent a week with their grandparents, their uncles, Clancey and Norvell Lehrmann, and their great aunt and uncle, the Alvin Holles. Mr. and Mrs. Meivin Lehrmann and sons were guests at Mrs. Lehrmann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Spitzer and her grandmother, Mrs. Suter, near Old Glory.

No Indemnity Is Payable On Ordinary Mail

"There is a general misunderstanding among the mailing public that indemnity will be paid by the Post Office Department on all lost or damaged mail," says Postmaster Harold R. Spain. According to the postmaster, patrons are often disturbed when they present a damaged parcel to the post office and find that no indemnity will be paid unless the parcel is insured, registered, or collect-on-delivery (c.o.d.).

otherwise improperly handled. Postmaster Spain wants it to be known that reports by the public of loss, rifling, delay, or damage to ordinary mail are of the greatest value in finding and correcting faults in the postal service.

CREEK ... UNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

Creekers know the program this year is "The Gins." The program is to pull the gins and that is the main thing. The gins are expensive and it is a hard job. The gins are being pulled by hand and that is the main thing. The gins are being pulled by hand and that is the main thing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos Montgomery, Johnny Paul, April and Scottie, spent the weekend with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Smith and Jeff. Carlos combined his maize crop while he was home and helped H. B. Montgomery combine his.

Brenda Hise and Rhonda Striker from Rulle are spending several days this week with Brenda's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kuenstler. Mrs. Jerry Loe and baby daughter from Garland spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Callaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Perry and children are vacationing in Colorado this week. Mr. George Damon of Fort Worth spent last week with his daughter's family. Bro. and Mrs. Moore and children. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Coleman, Dorothy and Phil, and Jimmy Griffith spent the weekend in Arlington and Fort Worth where they saw Six Flags Over Texas. Phyllis Middlebrook had a painful accident last week. She was playing in her playhouse with her little cousin and a water heater fell on her foot. The cut required five stitches, but is healing nicely.

Mac and Tony Earles of Stamford visited in the community over the weekend and attended the Baptist Revival. Mac works on our roads all the time, but we don't see Tony often.

Brenda and Linda Griffith, Jeanie Moore and Wanda Griffith spent last week at Junior G. A. Camp at the Leuders Encampment. Mrs. Bill Griffith went with the girls and Mrs. Bud Moore went down for one day to see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton spent the weekend in Garland and Dallas visiting their son, Bill. They saw the matinee performance of "Hansel and Gretel" in which Bill played the part of Hansel and Gretel's father. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mathes in Arlington, also. Mike Overton, who had spent the week in Dallas came home with them.

The Paint Creek Baptist Church is having their summer revival this week. The evangelist is Bro. Mervin Tennyson, of Eunice, New Mexico, and leading the song service is John Paylor of Clyde, Texas. Bro. Moore said they are having a good revival, and so far have had large crowds for such a busy time and for such hot weather.

The workmen are putting new aluminum windows on the north side of the school building, and it looks so nice. Maybe we'll miss the funny noises the wind made blowing around and in those old windows, but we'll get used to the quiet.

Mrs. George Free has been ill several days, but is much better and was able to go to town Monday.

Coach Ray Overton, Mrs. Overton and Mary Margaret left Monday for coaches school at Lubbock. They will be gone all week.

Buddy Lane has asked that we tell you that the Haskell Junior Chamber of Commerce is making plans to give the Sabin oral polio vaccine to people in the Haskell area. Tentative plans are for the vaccine to be given on Sunday, August 19, however, this is the date if the vaccine may be obtained by then, and organizations found to publicize and help with plans for the project. It is certainly nice that they include Paint Creek people in this and we must help in every way we can to see that all of our people know about it. Mike and Bill took it in Garland on Sunday before last, and I have heard that it immunizes one from being a carrier of polio, as well as having it.

Numerous Services Given Children Through Work County School Nurse

Numerous services are provided by the County School Nurse, Mrs. Stella Trice, for the school children of the county each year. These services are available to the schools on a co-operative basis, through the office of the County Superintendent. At the end of each school year, Mrs. Trice makes a report to the County School Board, summarizing the year's work. For the year 1961-62, the following accomplishments were listed:

1. Immunization shots for all beginning students who had not had them, and were not able to pay for them. Ninety-five pupils had their diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus vaccines, in a series of three shots at monthly intervals—given in the schools under the direction of Dr. Williams, County Health officer.
2. Tuberculosis patch tests for 500 children, including all new and beginner students and all sixth graders.
3. Regular dental inspections in all the schools and classes in oral hygiene when time permitted.
4. Height and weight check-ups of all students in first eight grades, for evaluating normal growth and development; classes in personal hygiene for all girls in grades 6, 7 and 8.
5. Individual audiometer tests for 929 students, with 28 found to have hearing loss. These were referred to a doctor and most of them began receiving treatment.
6. Individual eye-testing for 1045 students, with 83 having vision deficiency and referred to an eye specialist; as a result, 71 were fitted with glasses. Haskell Lions Club and Weimert Lions Club provided five pairs for children unable to pay).

7. Arrangements made for two crippled children to go to Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, to be examined for possible surgery.

8. Speech therapy obtained for two children at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene.

9. A Pre-School Roundup was held in each school in the late spring, for a total of 140 six-year-olds. Physical examinations were given on occasions when doctors and dentists were available.

10. With the help of local groups, clothing centers were maintained in each school, to provide useful out-grown clothing for the needy children.

Besides all these various activities in the schools, Mrs. Trice also keeps adequate records of each child's physical development, and these records are included with the pupil's permanent record.

The salary of the school nurse is paid from state funds and no part of it has to be supplied by the local school districts.

Jesse R. Cook of Paint Creek Named Chief of WTU Lake Pauline Plant

Jesse R. Cook of the Paint Creek Power Plant, and a former employee at WTU's Lake Pauline Plant near Quanah, assumed his new duties as plant superintendent at Lake Pauline August 1. He has succeeded the late Russell A. Johnston.

The announcement of the promotion of Mr. Cook was made Aug. 1 by John A. Hutchison of Abilene, WTU Chief Engineer. At a meeting of the plant employees at Lake Pauline Tuesday, the change in personnel was made to the employees by E. W. Hamilton of Abilene, Production Engineer.

The new plant superintendent's 20-year career with WTU began in January, 1942, when he was employed as plant clerk, and during the next two years, served as plant clerk and switchboard operator.

He joined the Air Corps in March, 1944 for service in World War II, and following his discharge in November, 1945, Cook returned to Lake Pauline where he worked as a relief shift engineer until his transfer to the Abilene Power Plant as a shift engineer in 1947. He was employed in Abilene for six years before his transfer to WTU's new Paint Creek power plant in June, 1953, where he has been serving as assistant plant superintendent for the past nine years.

The other daughter, Charlotte, is 16 and will be a junior student in high school in September. The son, Duane Ray, is 11 and will be a sixth grader. The Cooks are members of the Baptist Church and Mr. Cook is serving as vice president of the Paint Creek School Board. Mrs. Cook and children will join Mr. Cook in Quanah when housing facilities are available.

"TAKE THE MATTER OF BAPTISM"

Here is a matter to concern us all. The New Testament teaching on baptism follows:

WHAT IS BAPTISM?

Without doubt the baptism of the New Testament was immersion. "We were buried therefore through baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life" (Romans 6:4). This was obviously the form of baptism when Philip and the eunuch "went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him" (Acts 8:38).

WHO IS BAPTIZED?

Those who desire to put on Christ are baptized: "For as many of you as were baptized into Christ did put on Christ" (Gal. 3:27). These are repentant believers as is shown in the great commission: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved..." (Mark 16:16). This excludes infants.

WHAT IS ITS PURPOSE?

This we have seen above, that is, to be saved (Mark 16:16), or to be in Christ (Gal. 3:27), or to remit sins: "Repent ye and be baptized everyone of you unto the remission of your sins..." (Acts 2:38). Baptism is necessary for salvation. The Bible does clearly substantiate this fact.

CAN WE AGREE?

"And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:32). To ask "What is truth?", as did Pilate, is to beg the issue. Jesus said, "Thy word is truth" (Jno. 17:17). All men can rest in this assurance; all men can believe the Word; all men can agree on the Bible. No amount of arguing and discussion today will disclose anything different.

Unusual Weather Conditions of '61 Brought Big Cotton Crop for Area

(Ed. Note: The following article is furnished The Free Press by A. D. Peebles, in charge of the Abilene office of USDA Agricultural Marketing Service, tells how unusual weather conditions last year resulted in area farmers making the second largest cotton crop in history.)

Cotton Crop—1961

Starting out as just an average or below average year for cotton prospects, Mother Nature turned the tables and generously doled out to area farmers the second largest crop in history. Of the 25 counties served by the Abilene, Texas Classifying Office, only the 1949 crop yielded more cotton than 1961, according to B. B. Manly Jr., local USDA Classifying Office Chairman. The local USDA Classifying Office classed more cotton in its Smith-Doxey Classification Service than in any other year. There were 685,196 bales of cotton ginned in the 25-county area served by the Abilene Classifying Office. Of these, approximately 680,700 bales were classed. The Abilene Office classed some 545,000 of these, and the Sub-Office at Munday, Texas, classed the remaining 115,000 bales.

through the past year and look at some of the weather factors which were involved in producing this bumper crop. At planting time last year, the weather conditions were so dry that many farmers had to postpone planting until late. At the Abilene Weather Station they recorded that March, a month in which final planting preparations are made, was .65 inch below normal in rainfall. April, which starts off the planting season and averages 2.65 inches of rain. Planting was delayed due to these dry spells causing late planted cotton which meant a late crop in the fall.

As the season progressed into the summer, after the cotton came up, it began to rain. June and July recorded good rains, and again the weather was abnormal as temperatures stayed low for the summer. The highest temperature recorded by the Abilene Weather Station was 97 degrees. This cool, wet weather, meant a slow maturing crop, allowing the cotton insects to get a good portion of it, and damaging even more. The cotton plants were setting on their fruit during this time. As we progressed into the fall, the earlier crop began to ripen, and as the weather stayed warm and wet, with no crispness common to fall, the cotton plants continued to fruit. This kept up until the first killing frost which occurred on Dec. 10, 1961. This is about 26 days later than normal. This was to have other effects which we will look into later, but now we have found that the cool, wet summer and the long Fall allowed the cotton to keep fruiting as long as possible. This meant an abundant crop. Since the plants continued to fruit late into the fall, a much larger portion of immature fruit was on the stalk when it was killed by frost. Immature cotton has soft, weak fibers and is called wasty. Old-timers recalled that there was more wasty cotton this past year than any other season.

There are degrees of softness or immaturity depending on the percent of the cotton that was immature when it was killed by frost. Handling the large volume of immature cotton would have been a tremendous task had this office not been equipped with a Microaire and a Fibretrol System. The Mike, as the micronaire is called by the classers, is an aid to the classer which tells the relative maturity or swastiness of the fiber. This was the second year that the Mike has been used extensively by the Classifying Office. Next Fall, we plan to release some stories explaining the principle and use of the Mike and other instruments. As the Mike reading slipped down at the end of the season, the grades held surprisingly well. Only 12 percent of the grades were full spotted, with less than one-half of one percent being tinge in color at the end of January. However, as the color held up, the staple slipped down with 70 percent being below 3.5 mike, which is penalized in trade circles.

Although the quality of cotton was not as desirable as in the past, it sold high and fast as the demand was very good. This was in part due to a higher percent of wasty cotton being produced on the High Plains and Lubbock area. Shippers could not fill their commitments from the abundant, but low-miking High Plains crop, so they came to the Abilene area to fill their needs. Had the High Plains been normal producers in this area probably would have experienced difficulty in selling their cotton.

This then, has been the story of the huge 1961 cotton crop. A cool, wet summer, coupled with a long growing season and a late frost gave area farmers and all concerned one of the most productive and successful seasons ever.

Interesting comparisons were seen in the production of certain counties. Though this year was the second largest year for production, it was not all produced in the same counties which led in 1949. Below is a comparison of the production of the larger counties of 1949, 1960 and 1961.

Farmers Must Be Responsible for Tax on Wages

By F. W. Martin
County Agent

Farm and ranch operators who hire agricultural workers must deposit Social Security tax funds, when such tax amounts to $100.

The employer-employee tax rate in 1962 is 6 1/2 percent tax increase over the 6 percent levy of last year. Half of this amount, or 3 1/4 percent can be deducted from the wages paid to farm employees.

Either of two tests apply, as previously, to determine those wages subject to the tax. The first test is $150 in wages paid to an individual in a calendar year. The second test is having hired the same employee 20 days on a time basis, regardless of the amount of wages paid. So, when either of these situations apply, the tax is applicable and must be reported for the workers involved.

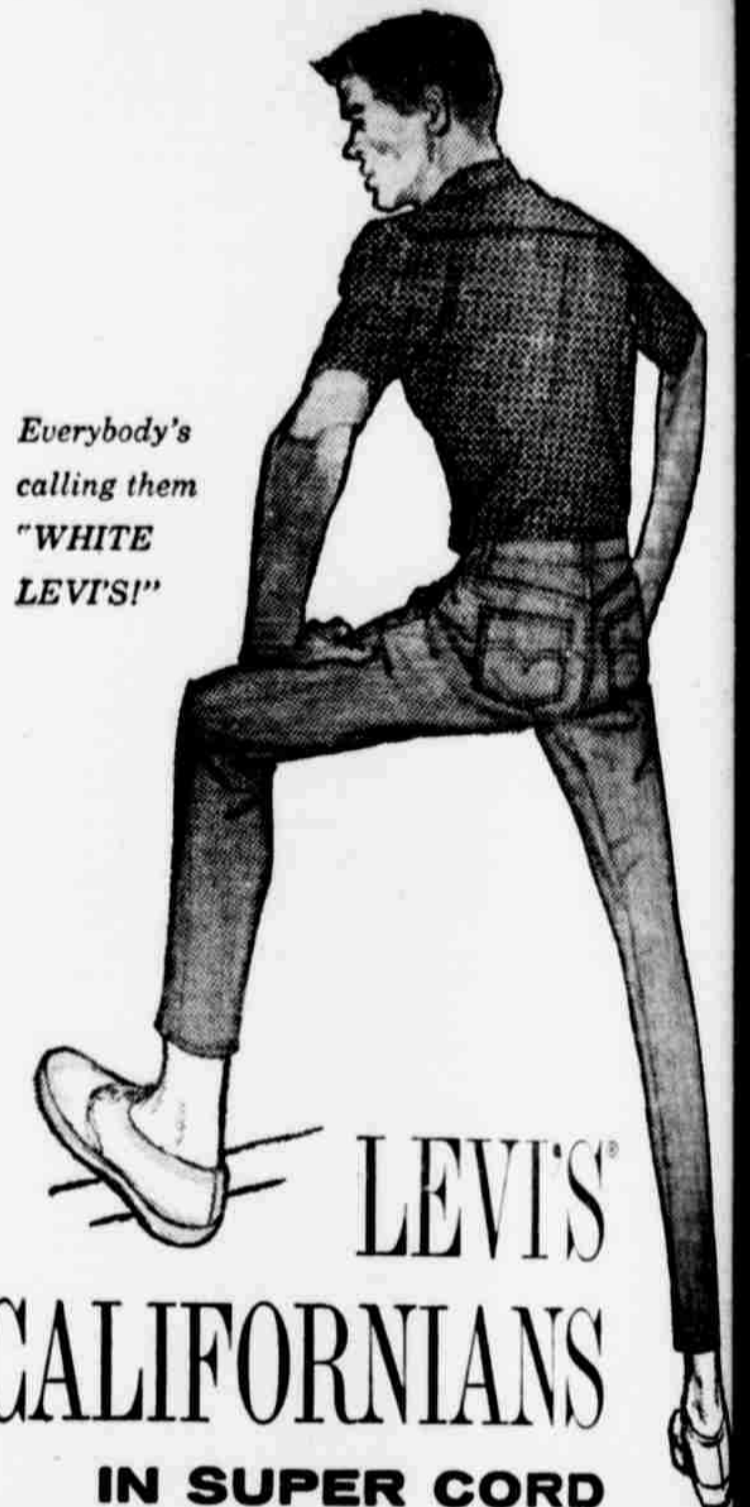

Federal regulations require that tax on agricultural labor be paid to the government whenever the amount due equals $100. In other words, when a farm employer has paid out $1,500 in eligible wages, he should deposit the Social Security tax due on that amount in any commercial bank qualified as a depository for federal taxes. The money is sent by the bank to the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas and a receipt showing amount paid is returned to the employer. Farm employees then attach these receipts to their 1962 income tax return as evidence of payment of part of this year's tax obligation.

Farmers should pay their labor when in the risk of pay. Good business is very helpful in wages paid and

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Texas anglers who use artificial lures are perhaps the most original and apt of any bi-ped on earth, when it comes to bait.

Should they want to go fishing and the usual lures aren't available, they create their own version of what fish like.

Sure, they haunt the sporting goods store too, just like all other fishermen. They fill their tackle boxes with lures of every hue and shape.

But if for any reason, they find themselves without lures, these Texas artisans of the artificial lure make their very own.

Everything from dentures to squirrel tails are used as improvised bait. Horsehair, bucktails, chicken feathers, felt, tin-foil, calico, glass, pine cones—these and many others are used to fool the fish.

When the minnow bucket gets empty, or the last worm in the can is used up, many bank fishermen quit for the day. They needn't! Not when there is so much natural bait available.

After all—fish relish a change of diet just like you do. So offer it to them!

Most fish that go for minnows or worms will strike equally well, sometimes better, on such bait as hellgrammites, rotten eggs, Ivory soap, wasp grubs, grasshoppers, crickets, chicken liver, chicken entrails, caterpillars, whole corn and even grapes, to name a few.

Hellgrammites make excellent bait and they stay alive on the hook indefinitely.

To gather a can of them, wade through shallow riffles, turning over stones as you wade. More often than not you will find hellgrammites under these stones.

Use a small minnow net (the kind you use to dip bait from a bucket) to scoop them up. If you must use your hands, be careful, for this fellow is armed with vicious, but non-poisonous nippers.

To "bait up" insert the hook under the hard collar; the hellgrammite wears.

Rotten eggs should be used only in an emergency—for obvious reasons.

But they do make good catfish bait when tied in a tobacco sack. Just punch several holes in the eggs—after placing them in the sack—then attach to hook.

The stink travels out and attracts catfish like crazy.

When you find yourself in a bind for bait, open your tackle box and get out that small cake of Ivory soap you have packed away. Cut cake into a number of small cubes. Use these cubes as bait. They make a fair pole line and trotline bait for catfish.

Wasp-nest grubs make good bluegill and sunfish bait.

Gathering these grubs can be dangerous for wasps don't take kindly to such raids. So try creeping up on the nest with an open container of gasoline—quickly douse the nest with the fluid—then run.

The gasoline will kill all the adult wasps instantly—except those away from the nest at the time. Make your raid at night and you'll catch all the wasps at home.

Once the wasps are killed, pull the nest down and dig out the grubs. They are good bait for bass, too.

Grasshoppers are widely used as bait. Bluegills, catfish and sunfish like them. No reason to wear yourself out chasing them. Wait until night, then use a flashlight. You can pick them up without trouble after dark.

Place the hoppers in a jar fixed so that only one at a time can be taken out. Otherwise all may escape.

To use, insert barb through the hard part of the grasshopper's shoulder. Don't dunk the hopper as though you were giving it a bath, but let insect rest lightly on the water's surface.

Chicken livers can be cut into small chunks. So can chicken entrails. Both make excellent bait for catfish and bass.

THE WORD SPOUSE DOES NOT MEAN A MARRIED PERSON
YOU COULD HAVE BEEN A SPOUSE WITHOUT ALL THIS FORMALITY
Let us minister to your insurance needs. We'll check your present policies against your requirements and work out a proper program. All without any obligation at all on your part.
