

Peiser, Tomlinson Honored As Jaycees Install Priest

Awards for leadership and outstanding citizenship during the past year were presented to two Haskell Jaycees as one of the highlights of the organization's annual installation banquet attended by more than 100 Jaycees, ladies, and out-of-town guests at the American Legion Hall here Tuesday night. Jaycees from Stamford, Hamlin, Breckenridge and Wichita Falls were present for the event. Named the top two Jaycees here were Bill Tomlinson, secretary of the civic group, and a printer at the Haskell Free Press; and Alton Peiser, the secretary-elect, who is an employee of West Texas Utilities Paint Creek power facility. Abe Turner, past president of the Jaycees here and president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce in presenting the "Key Man" Award to Tomlinson, cited his exemplary efforts as a "pivot man" for the organization while serving as its secretary, editing its publication and stimulating the establishment of a new Jaycee group at Bronte to bring prestige in extension to the Jaycees here. Declared "Jaycee of the Year" in the citation presented him, Peiser was lauded for his participation as a comparatively new member and for the meticulous groundwork laid in working up a carnival project the Haskell Jaycees plan to stage this summer. A ringing challenge to aggressive and progressive leadership that will assist community development was issued to the Jaycee membership by Melvin Evans, Wichita Falls civic and business leader, and past president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce and past national Jaycee officer. Evans implored Jaycees here to "ask questions on all community matters, aggressively work for progress," he said, adding he has seen "Jaycees perform miracles for a town."

MUSIC FROM AFAR - will be provided by the Plainsman Quartet here, of Baton Rouge, La., among many which will be on hand for the tradition-laden district singing convention to be held at the American Legion Hall in Haskell on Sunday, April 26. Pictured here are the quartet and their accompanist, Howard Welborn, Thurman Bunch, Rusty Goodman, Jack Mainord, and Larry Denham. Hallie Chapman, well-known Haskellite, now in his 26th year as president of the historic singing convention, reports advance notice of quartet participation indicates the "most harmonious" singing convention in its more than half century history.

SCOUTS IN 3-RING SHOW HERE AND PAINT CREEK, ROCHESTER

Haskell Countians, more than 1,000 of them, witnessed a three-ring jamboree of Boy Scout achievement, two of them staged at the American Legion Halls in Haskell and Rochester, and the third accentuating the "outing" part of Scouting all over Scoutmaster Gene Overton's verdant pasture at Paint Creek Saturday afternoon. More than 100 people called at the sites where four Paint Creek Troop 48 patrols, Eagle, Mites, Badgers and Coyotes, were bedded down in the open, with all the comforts as the result of their own handiwork. Three of the four Paint Creek command posts had erected signal towers from the top of which experts at the game wiggled the sequence of activities going on. The Eagle Patrol had built a clean, utilitarian "home" complete with brick-ened fireplace, and the Mites had erected Saturday morning an imposing entrance to its "lair" with M-I-T-E-S spelled out using tree limbs. Scoutmaster Overton and his assistant Roy Wiseman, communicating by walkie-talkie with Mrs. Overton greeting guests at the entrance to the expansive, lake graced pasture, kept activities feverish and competitive. The judges, longtime Scouting leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Hess Hartsfield, awarded blue ribbons to all four patrol leaders, grading none below 88 points and the highest at 95. It takes 85 points or better out of a possible 100 to achieve blue ribbon status. Scoutmaster Edd Smart's Troop 36, with its Beaver I, Beaver II, Owl, Flaming Arrow, and Eagle Patrols participating, was the showcase of Haskell Scouting viewed by some 700 patrons from 2-to-5 Saturday afternoon following an impressive flag raising ceremony in front of the American Legion Hall Saturday afternoon. The Troop 36 show was spectacularly augmented by exhibits of six Cub Dens and the Haskell Negro Troop 65 capably directed by Scoutmaster Albert Sharp. Haskell Cub Dens 1, 2 and 10, were showing their wares (See Scouts, Page 12)

Tom Watson New President Of Firemen's Group

Tom Watson, chief of the Haskell Fire Department for the past four years, and a volunteer fireman here since 1951, was elected president of the Midwest Texas Firemen's Association as the group held a lively 25th anniversary session in Albany Thursday. Other new officers chosen were Charley Woods, Rotan, first vice president; Leonard Kelton, Snyder, second vice president; Rev. Bob Brown, Albany, chaplain, and Chief W. O. Whorton, Albany, secretary-treasurer. Secretary-treasurer for the past 10 years, James Asbury, of Baird, declined re-election, received a vote of thanks from the association for his work and was commended with a $50 cash token of appreciation. Outgoing president C. C. Poe, of Clyde, was named delegate to the state association convention. Fourteen of the 24 past presidents attended the session of the 16-county firemen's association. Twelve towns were represented by the 325 persons who attended a barbecue feed. Annual firemen's proficiency races were held, and Snyder won the pumper race in 29.5 seconds, followed by Throckmorton and Clyde. In the 6-man hookup, Haskell was second, just one-tenth of a second behind first place Hamlin, and ahead of Throckmorton, in third place. Rotan won the 2-man hookup in 10.8 with Throckmorton second, and Hamlin third. He has served as assistant minister in the West Amarillo Christian Church, Amarillo, youth minister in the Maplewood Christian Church, Terrell Haute, minister of the Christian Churches in Tulsa, Texas; Chouteau, Okla., and the Clearview Christian Church in Dallas. He went to the Odessa church where he now serves, on June 10, 1962.

Odessa Minister Leads Christian Church Revival

Hanna, minister of the Antioch Christian Church in Odessa for the past two years, will be the visiting evangelist at a six-day meeting in the Haskell Christian Church beginning Sunday, April 19, and continuing through Friday, April 24, will be at 7:30 o'clock. Worship services on the opening day of the revival series will be at 10:45 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. Services each night Friday, April 20, through Friday, April 24, will be at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Durham will be director of music and songleader for the revival meeting, and Mrs. Rogers Durham, soloist, will provide special selections throughout the series. A native of Amarillo, the guest evangelist graduated from Amarillo High School in 1932, attended Cincinnati Bible Seminary, Indiana State College at Terre Haute, and Ozark Bible College, Joplin, Missouri. He obtained his B. A. degree in 1956, and his M. A. degree in 1957, both at Ozark Bible College.

Rule Voters Okay School Bonds For New Gymnasium

Voters in Rule Saturday approved 245 to 85 a $135,000 school bond issue for building of a high school gymnasium and other improvements, principally aluminum windows for installation throughout the present physical plant in Rule schools. Total votes cast in the bond election were 330. The Rule school board is expected to move speedily to get issuance of the bonds certified, secure the funds, and let a contract for the new gym in order to have it ready for use by the new school term this fall. The old gym will be turned over to the Rule Elementary School for use, according to Conner Horton, superintendent of schools. A Kwanzaan in Odessa, Mr. Hanna is chairman of Division 22 of the Key Clubs and is chairman for the Key Club at Odessa High School. For a stimulating spiritual experience, the host minister, Mr. Durham, urges attendance at the meeting here.

53-Degree Drop In Temperature Here After High of 94

A temperature reading of 94 degrees, the first 90-plus recorded in Haskell since last October, preceded Sunday's heavy dust storm here. Weatherman Sam P. Herren Jr., reported Monday. The thermometer plummeted 63 degrees in Haskell during the next 12 hours after the dust-rolled billowing dust storm at 4:40 p. m. Sunday. Herren said. Monday morning's low was a nippy 41 degrees, but the gauge climbed rapidly back to springtime normals Monday afternoon.

'NO TRUCE FOR TUBERCULOSIS' - WATCHWORD OF GROUP HERE

John L. Earles, Area Citizen 63 Years, Succumbs

Officers and directors of the Haskell County Tuberculosis Association at their quarterly meeting recently in the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Williams here, accelerated case finding efforts and made specific plans to provide increased help for indigent TB patients in this area, realizing "there is no truce for tuberculosis."

Following presentation of a report on the current financial condition of the TB group, which reflected a "healthy status," according to Dr. Williams, president, the association's directors voted to underwrite the cost of chest x-rays for all school lunchroom personnel in Haskell County, and to offer similar services to school officials as well. "We went on record favoring suggestions to all school districts in the county that they require all teachers to have periodic chest x-rays made in view of the fact that they deal so closely with children," reported Dr. Williams, who is also Haskell County health physician.

The group also voted to help indigent TB patients who have been discharged from state sanitariums with instructions to continue treatment with certain invaluable medicines. Leaders in the continuing battle against tuberculosis in this area also announced a concentration on observance of World Health Day on Tuesday, April 7, when people were to be reminded that there is "no truce for tuberculosis." Cognizant that tuberculosis is an international health problem and must be solved on a world-wide basis, associations like the one here at the World Health Organization toward a common goal - the mastery of TB, Dr. Williams pointed out.

A nominating committee was appointed to select a 1964-65 slate of officers to present at a state of officers meeting with full membership meeting with in the next two weeks. Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. G. V. Middlebrook; three sons, John Lewis Earles, Jr., H. J. Earles, and R. V. Earles, all of Haskell; two half-brothers, Mac Earles, of Stamford, and Mike Earles of Shamrock; two half-sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Whitmore, of Monahan, and Mrs. Connie Carruth, of Lamesa; 10 grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren.

Brenda Griffith Survives Spelling Bee to The Last

Brenda Griffith, Haskell County's hopeful in the district spelling contest at Midwestern University Saturday, lasted 44 of the 54 rounds it took to name a champion and there were but four still standing when she finally was spelled down. One of the four remaining was Bill Morgan, an 8th grader at Peacock in neighboring Stonewall County, who made it all the way this time on his third successive trip to the district finals. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Morgan. In this area, outside of the champ from Stonewall, Brenda, Paint Creek's pride and joy, fared better than any other (See Brenda Griffith, Page 12)

61st Aggie Muster At Corral Here Next Tuesday

Former students of Texas A&M who live in Haskell, Jones, Stonewall, Kent and Knox Counties, will gather at Rice Springs Corral on the rodeo grounds here next Tuesday, April 21, at 7 p. m. to carry on a tradition that is 61 years old. They will attend the sixty-first Aggie Muster. The 1964 five-county muster in Haskell will be one of more than 500 similar ceremonies held all over the world when Texas A&M former students pay homage to their fellow classmates who have passed on, and humble tribute to the Texas state that has the freedom of the state at the House of San Jacinto near Houston some 128 years ago. J. C. Yeary Jr., of Haskell, area soil conservation supervisor, who is chairman of Aggie Muster here, urges all A&M former students to attend next Tuesday's Muster program. Others to appear on the program are Wallace Cox Jr., and R. C. Couch Jr., of Haskell, and Joe B. Cloud, of Rule, Haskell is one of the home of one of the best-known Aggies of them all, Jarrin John Kimbrough, who is expected to be on hand. The San Jacinto Day Muster is one of the longest continuing traditions to be found in American colleges and universities, and thousands of A&M men participate in the program of tribute each year.

In Haskell Varmintown, U. S. A., THAT Was The Week That Was' ... wuz last week, wuzn't it?

WHUT A WEEK wuz the week that wuz last week here. The election, you know, 'n everything. If we'd had time, which we didn't, we might have started feelin' sorry for ourselves as an editor. Besides, our experiences seem mild up-side of Al Hinds' at the time of his crusade for equal rights in the cemetery at Paducah. One of the citizens there threatened to pull out the mustache of our Poor Man's Groucho Marx, hair-by-hair.

Haskell County History
 30 YEARS AGO (April 19, 1934)
 Two Haskell men have been charged with the recent burglarizing of the high school workshop in this city. The men were taken into custody after City Marshal Al Cousins and Deputy Sheriff Dan Kirkpatrick had found some of the stolen tools which had been sold in Stamford.

At a meeting of the Haskell Service Club Tuesday, a decision was reached to reorganize the sign, then adding proudly, "I do."

Before Yancey hollers at us again, guess we'd better digress from the egress and ingress. But ere we do, we'd like to make nostalgic mention of one of the most dedicated dictionary users of them all, our predecessor, the late beloved Lon Pate. Short on formal education, our Lon, according to Bill Dunwoody, now of Aspermont, former sheriff of Jones County, who worked at this newspaper in 1910-11 and taught Lon how to set type, carried a pocket dictionary with him at all times. If he didn't know the meaning of a word someone said to him, "he looked it up then and there," recalls Dunwoody.

That dictionary, used as it was religiously by Lon, stood him in good stead through 51 years of puttin' words together at this newspaper.

The Mayor And Council Speak

Elsewhere in this issue of the Free Press is an advertisement "To The Voters of Haskell" which we commend to this newspaper's readers.

We also commend our Mayor and the members of the City Council for their statement, which would indicate early action on the vital issue of a water supply for this community, over and above the present existing source.

Prior to the April 7 municipal election the incumbent Mayor and incumbent Councilmen, seeking re-election, let it be generally known their preference so far as a surface water supply is concerned. At the polls last week, the majority of the people supported that preference.

The week before the election, in this column, we appealed to the people to adopt an attitude of "open covenants... openly arrived it"... dealing the cards face up on the table.

Today's statement by Mayor Walling and members of the Council is a heartening indication we are about to get somewhere.

It is our fervent hope that those citizens who have closed their minds to all save one potential source of water for Haskell will re-evaluate their estimate of the situation in the light of recent events, and not only go along with, but encourage, the exploring of all avenues for obtaining a surface water supply.

The Mayor and Council, by their statement, appear assured Haskell can get Lake Stamford water. They further state they are "ready to negotiate a contract" if proponents of another source (Miller's Creek, of course), "are willing to withdraw their objections."

We are not sure of the modus operandi, the way of getting about this, the Mayor and Council desire, but we are all for giving them whatever assurance and cooperation they need in learning the IF, the HOW, and the WHEN of Lake Stamford as a potential source of water for Haskell. Then, should it not jell, for one of a myriad of reasons, let's all look elsewhere TOGETHER. If it can jell at Lake Stamford, let's get at it TOGETHER.

When the Mayor brought the statement to the Free Press, he generously and thoughtfully discussed the water situation with us. He declared that he is, and has been, an advocate of a surface water supply, and that he so stated in a newspaper advertisement prior to his election in 1960. He says he has not altered that belief.

Mayor Walling and the Council have asked "responsible citizens on both sides to cooperate with the Council" in seeking Lake Stamford water.

Let us all, proponents, opponents, and vice versa, fence straddlers, place the future of our town before any personal feelings. Let us all put a collective shoulder to the wheel to determine the IF, HOW, and WHEN of Lake Stamford. Among the prime determining factors, of course, would be economic feasibility and longevity of the source.

Mr. Mayor, members of the City Council, what's your pleasure?

UNFAIR TO WIVES

Many girls who work for a few years before they get married, and then spend the rest of their lives in vital jobs of homemakers, will receive no personal Social Security benefits at all when they reach retirement age (Because they have not paid in "enough to qualify.")

This is also true of others who may work part of their lives under S. S. but whose main work has been in fields not covered by Social Security. (Teachers, Public Employees, etc.)

THIS IS NOT FAIR

Social Security should be more than just another tax. All people who pay in to Social Security should receive either some benefits or else the refund of their money. Respectfully,

GEORGE CORSE JR., Candidate for CONGRESS

Jack Paar said last Friday night they are taking the "That Was The Week That Was" program to the Army's Aberdeen Proving Ground to see how, on so small a budget, such a bomb could be produced.

We are not prone to be hypercritical, but, personally, we think that particular "bomb" can be classified as a DUD. That program leaves us with the same feeling we had when we wrote a review once of a very licentious stage production. After existing through three acts, we wrote that we left the theater "badly in need of a mental mouthwash."

Challenges to an editor's right to take a courageous, if not sagacious, stand on an issue reminds of our eyewitness experience to the call a 40-year-old labor organizer made to the office of Mr. George H. Armistead Sr., then editor emeritus of the NASHVILLE BANNER, where we worked. Mr. Armistead, then 80, and still writing editorials had stated his opinions of the National Labor Relations Board hearing, one of the first in the nation, underway in Nashville.

Mr. Armistead was sitting at his rolltop desk within our view sharpening his pencil with an "East Dallas Special" knife he carried (when the blade was sheathed) in his watchpocket. He wrote all his editorials longhand and that knife kept his pencil keen.

The labor organizer spoke harshly to Mr. Armistead about his editorial policy and before we knew it, our Grand Old Editor was chasing this fellow half his age all around the desks of the editorial rooms, brandishing that East Dallas Special to a fare-you-not-well.

The BANNER offices, brand-new at the time had a front door, but no back door. They are built so that the front opens onto the Broadway viaduct in Nashville. The back juts out over the railroad tracks, which run up to and at the side of the building, providing a convenient railhead for the newspaper's supplies.

The BANNER editor was between this labor organizer and the front door as the latter headed for the back door ... which wasn't there ... that knife cuttin' a swath closer to his head all the time. The man who aroused the ire of Mr. Armistead finally eluded the editor and made it to and out of the front door, but not before about 10 minutes of broken field running, mostly in one place, in full view of the whole editorial staff of the newspaper. He is reported never to have been seen since in Nashville.

Still think the best answer one can give in this town to the question of "How do you stand on water?" is, "Freeze it!"

George Yancey has been pullin' our reportorial leg about our utilization of words demanding referency to the popular book compiled by Mrs. Webster's son, Noah.

We apologize, George, but that workout with Webster ain't gonna hurt none. A little larn, in never hurt no-one. He puts a little more stuff between your ears and up.

George's reference to slingshot words around calls to mind a sign the late Mr. W. B. Hamilton one of the city builders in Wichita Falls and a very brilliant and well-educated man, placed in his elevators in the Hamilton Building. It said, "To Expedite Egress and Ingress, Please Move to the Rear." At first, not one in 10 of those roughnecks, tool pushers and sick folks who constituted the main body of traffic to and from the oil company and doctors' offices in the Hamilton Building, knew the sign "translated," said, "To help gettin' in and gettin' out, move to the back of the elevator."

But it wasn't long before it became a conversation piece, and not once, but a hundred times, at least, we would hear one elevator occupant whisper to a fellow passenger, "Know what that means?" pointing to

Annual City Wide Clean-up April 20-25

News from Weinert

By MILDRED GUESS

Annual spring Clean-up Week in Haskell will be held April 20-25. City Secretary T. J. Arbuckle announced Monday.

The annual observance will get underway Monday, April 20, when city trucks begin hauling away trash and rubbish from residential areas of town.

In designating Clean-Up Week in Haskell city officials said Monday they hope to make this the most intensive and thorough campaign of its kind here in years.

Haskell residents are being urged to rid their premises of winter rubbish weeds, and unsightly growth, and to join with their neighbors in cleaning vacant lots.

Arbuckle said the city will provide trucks to haul away rubbish trash of all kinds (except trees, limbs and articles that will not burn) at no cost to residents. However all trash should be placed in containers for quick handling.

The Good Earth

As the rays of the sun A gay pattern weaves, Violets are peeping Up through the leaves,

By MRS. B. F. COBB

Soon there will be much activity in the yard. Lawns will be growing, and the old lawnmower put to work once more. Many unwanted weeds and grasses will show up on the lawn. A weed killer is often the answer to this problem.

When applying weed or grass killers, use a water sprayer, or a can with a couple of small holes in the bottom, to apply the liquid.

If a fine spray is used, the mist will be carried to valuable trees, shrubs and flowers, and cause much damage to them. Many plants are killed this way.

Several years ago we went on a vacation; when we returned, everything on our place had been burned by a weed killer.

It seemed our neighbor had some unwanted weeds and grass in his lawn. He decided to spray with weed killers. The wind was blowing and trees as far as a block away were burned by the flying mist.

As for our garden, every plant in it was damaged. The roses had long curling canes. Our pecan trees looked like vines. We completely lost two apricot trees and a Chinese tallow tree. As for our roses, over half of them were burned so badly it took two or three years for them to recover. It took nearly four years for our trees to recover enough to hold up their limbs.

Weed and grass killers are good when used right, and very vicious when misused. They are actually a concentrated fertilizer, and flowers and trees with too much burn, will grow themselves to death.

Woody Turnbow Top Military Man At Midwestern U

A Midwestern University senior from Haskell is one of two ROTC cadets named "Distinguished Military Students" on the campus of the university in Wichita Falls, Colonel Don A. Mason, professor of military science has announced.

Cadet Major Woody W. Turnbow, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Turnbow, 1205 North Avenue L here, battalion executive officer, was one of the two ROTC students honored.

"Careful examination of the men's qualifications were made before the awards were given," Col. Mason said.

"The cadet must possess outstanding qualities of leadership, have a definite military aptitude, and be of high moral character," he added.

Among the other factors for eligibility, according to Midwestern University officials, the cadet considered for this honor must be among the upper one-half of his class academically and be among the upper one-third of his classmates in a studying advanced military science courses.

Colonel Mason, in bestowing the distinctive award on young Turnbow, said the DMS citation ordinarily precedes the designation of "Distinguished Military Graduate" upon the cadet's graduation from his school, and usually is indicative of a commission as a Regular Officer in the U. S. Army as distinguished from Reserve Officer.

Turnbow is a 1969 graduate of Haskell High School.

LANGDON—A WINNER!

Commissioner Langdon is a 49-year-old Texan with a record in public administration. He has been named by the Commission to fill the office of Railroad Commissioner.

Langdon has fully lived up to Governor Conventions. He has conducted his office in the manner of Jim Hogg, who had the Commission since 1901 to look after the public interest in railroad rates. It now regulates also truck and bus rates and the production of oil and gas. Judge Langdon will continue to keep transportation rates in line with the public interest and to protect the oil reserves of the state from depletion and greed. This will help keep down Texas prices, already among the lowest in the nation.

Langdon was elected District Judge twice and Chief Justice of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals.

OTHER HAND—

Langdon's Opponent Is a 10-Time Loser!

Langdon Owens, 69-year-old attorney, is still running for office after 38 years and TEN REPEATS. He has lost the following races: Sheriff of Foard County by L. D. Campbell; District Attorney by John Meyers; District Attorney by Ed Gossett; District Attorney by T. Gene Rogers; Court of Criminal Appeals by Beauchamp; Court of Criminal Appeals by Woodley; Court of Criminal Appeals by Morrison; District Judge by Tom Davis; Court of Civil Appeals by James Denton; Texas Supreme Court by Meade F. Griffin.

BLEDISOES REPORT ON ANCHORAGE EARTHQUAKE

her 13 and 7-year-old sons thought it "a lark at first but as minute after minute went by, they began to look more and more solemn." She added that Melissa caught her anxiety, and clung to her mother with her small heart pounding "as fast as my own was."

The Haskell native said that scientists recorded the quake as between five and six minutes, but "it seemed like it lasted for hours." Finally, however, the sharp, violent tremors became quieter, and then there were a few gentle rolls, then stillness. Mrs. Bledsoe described the sudden quiet as "almost more nerve-wracking than the preceding violence."

Surveying the wreckage, she reported all but three pieces of crystal stemware and almost half her china were lost, and "only later did I realize how very lucky we had been, as reports of death and injury began to drift in."

All power facilities in Anchorage were snapped during the first terrific shake, and Mrs. Bledsoe's inability to contact her husband by phone reached the frantic stage "because his clinic is in a masonry type building which does not have the 'give' of frame construction."

What was normally a 10-minute drive home took Mrs. Bledsoe almost an hour. He had just seated a patient when the quake started, "and they had vacated rather speedily when the first tremor struck". The only damage suffered in Dr. Bledsoe's office was an X-ray machine knocked from the wall.

The Bledsoe family was without heat for five days, although electricity was restored the day following the earthquake. They ate food cooked in an electric fry pan until heat was restored, since gas provides them with heat for cooking, washing and drying.

Relating post-quake conditions there, Mrs. Bledsoe, "So many people watched their houses slide into the bay, and in some instances, saw loved ones torn away... the loss of a few personal possessions seems very minor indeed."

Devastation in some sections of Anchorage "is almost unbelievable," and will take years to actually rebuild many of the destroyed business establishments and other facilities, Mrs. Bledsoe reported.

"In view of the magnificent spirit shown by these Alaskans, I have no doubt Anchorage WILL be rebuilt... it makes me kind of proud to be a part of such a community."

Father, Father-in-law and Grandfather Hubert Bledsoe here is of the opinion that earthquakes or no, his daughter-in-law, son and grandchildren, have dropped anchor in Anchorage "for the duration."

Mrs. Bledsoe reported that housewife of the Young Married Set is involved in so many activities, she needs all the time she can get on her hands on. A Gold Medallion Home is the answer! It provides so many time-saving conveniences, it's just like adding more days to the week. For instance, the electric clothes dryer alone saves 3 hours weekly and even the electric dishwasher saves 7 hours a week... why, in 10 hours already! Not to mention that the automatic change is so automatic, it's like having a hired man to do all the watching. And the electric water heater provides hot water instantly upon demand. Heating and cooling systems are automatic too... a thermostat is set at the start of the season and stays there until the season changes. This is just a smattering of the many ways the Gold Medallion Home saves time for the Young Married Set. Oh yes, with a flameless total electric Gold Medallion Home, there's one less bill each month.

Coin Operated Car Wash Facility Going In Here

A new coin-operated car washing facility will be erected here in the near future on North Avenue E between Benfro's Market and Kuenzler's Service Station. Clay Hattox has announced.

The Haskell entrepreneur of the projected new help-yourself service said the site has been leased and construction will begin as soon as a permit is obtained from the city.

Modern equipment will be used for thorough cleaning of a vehicle at the rate of 25 cents for each five minutes when the new facility here is operational, Hattox said.

Volunteers At Cancer Center Increase Output

Working at the most recent session of the Cancer Center on the third floor of the Court House have been Meses H. Russell, D. D. Bland, Eva Pearson, O. W. Wainaker, T. M. Patterson, J. B. Edwards, M. E. Wilson, R. R. Overton, Lee Brown, Florence Darden, W. E. Brady, Alice Mayes, W. G. Pope, John Brock, W. G. Pope, J. R. Davis, J. H. Montgomery, J. A. Cain and P. C. Spenny.

Several calls have been received for bed pads which take large amounts of material, center volunteers report, and more is needed. Old sheets and pillow cases are much in demand, too.

Additional volunteers for this worthy work are welcome each Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Cancer Center.

Among those calling were Mr. and Mrs. Von Gobb, Stamford; Mr. and Mrs. Jigg Shewmake and Nancy, of Abilene; Dale Ann Garrett, Carol Jo Kierpka, Mrs. Harvey Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Toliver, M. and Mrs. Willie Euerker, Grace and Craig; Mrs. Kenneth Lane, Ken and Kersta; Mr. and Mrs. Hess Hartfield, and Linda; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sammons, Diane, Steve and Alvin; Mrs. Fets Callaway, Mrs. Henry Harris and Peggy.

HHS Qualifies 2 Dash Men, Relay For Regional

Although Lady Luck wasn't smiling on their side, and they finished in fifth place with 65 points to be deducted in the District 6-AA track meet last Saturday in Abilene, Haskell's Indian cindermen still qualified two dash men and its crack 440-yard relay team for the regional meet in Lubbock April 24-25.

James Brown, whose 10.4 copped the 100-yard dash event at district, and Joe Jesselet both will be in there for the short sprint at Lubbock, and Jesselet, a second place finisher in both 100 and 220, will take part in the latter event as well.

A "delayed handoff" cost Haskell the lead in the 440-yard relay.

Relay at Abilene Saturday, but the Indians' chances of wrestling first place from Stamford in the Lubbock outing are good. They have bettered the 44 second time set by the Bulldog racers Saturday on at least two occasions this year. The Indian relay team consists of Brown, Jesselet, Wayne Perrin, and Joseph Thigpen, with Sammy Larned making the trip as alternate in the event of need.

James and Wayne finished third and fifth, respectively, in the district meet in the 220 last Saturday. Sammy was third in the 440. James Davis was third in the shot put, and Joseph Thigpen was off form in placing fifth in broad jump. But all contributed to Haskell's 65-point total in the district windup.

Sagerton Family Attends Church Same Time As President Johnson

A family from Sagerton received one of life's biggest thrills recently when they attended Easter Sunday morning worship at tiny St. Barnabas Episcopal Mission Church in Fredericksburg at the same time as President and Mrs. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kupatt, Kraig and Kris, reported on their return to Sagerton that they were "most impressed" with the fact that the President of the United States and the First Lady of the land are still humble enough to worship in a little rustic building of neither imposing construction nor design.

Few people were at the church, which numbers but 28 families among its parishioners, since the President had not previously announced where he and Mrs. Johnson would attend services on Easter, the Kupatts reported. "When the President stopped his car, Mrs. Johnson came around the car and joined him. We were standing about three feet from them and were able to walk up and greet them," Mrs. Kupatt related.

President Johnson's press secretary, George Reedy, and Mrs. Leslie (Liz) Carpenter, Mrs. Johnson's secretary, accompanied them to the church service.

Describing the small St. Barnabas Church, at which Rev. Jack Langford is rector, it was originally a pioneer settler's home, and was built in the middle 1800's, Mrs. Kupatt reported. It has one room, which is the sanctuary, and has but 24 small pews.

The Sagerton family said the rustic wooden beams in the ceiling are low ones, and both the President and the rector had to bend down to keep from bumping their heads on them.

Attached to the back of the building is a very small room, which might be described as a lean-to. It houses the piano used in the services. The outside structure is unpainted wood, and it has a wooden shingle roof.

St. Barnabas Church, with its very rustic appearance, has been a big tourist attraction, the Kupatts said, since the President and First Lady now have attended services there twice—when they were home in February, and again Easter.

Forage Testing Service Now Available Here

Forage testing pays big dividends and area cattlemen now have such a service available to them through the Extension Service office in Haskell, Frank W. Martin, county agent, announced Friday.

The service is being made available through a Texas A&M University forage testing operation just initiated, Martin reported.

Beef cattle producers, feeders and dairymen can take advantage of the new service, and they should, Martin pointed out. "Research shows there are vast differences in the nutritive value and quality of forages used throughout the state, he said. "A ration cannot be properly balanced when the nutritive value of a forage is not known." The Haskell County agent declared. "If the forage is not properly utilized, and supplemented, according to its feeding value, this will be quickly reflected in beef and milk production—and the percentage of ultimate profits."

The Texas A&M Forage Testing Service is available to anyone who desires to have dry forage or silage tested, Martin said. Tests cannot be made of other types of feeds such as grain, or concentrates.

Tests will be made for protein content only if the producer prefers. Protein test charges are $2 per hay sample, and $3 per silage sample. When more complete information is desired, the charge is $6 for each hay and pelleted, or wafered, forage sample. Each silage sample analysis will cost $7. The more complete analysis will consist of determining crude protein and crude fiber, calculation of digestible protein, total digestible nutrients and net energy. Moisture in silage also will be determined.

An added benefit, which comes with users of the more complete analysis, Martin said, will be balanced feeding program suggestions given those requesting the analysis. Feeding programs will be offered for three types of operations—for beef breeding cattle, fattening beef cattle, and dairy feeding cattle.

As with the present Extension Soil Testing Service, all forms, mailing bags, instructions, and other information are available at the County Agent's office in the Courthouse here, Martin said.

SS BENEFITS TOTAL $848,000 ANNUALLY IN THIS COUNTY

About one out of every nine residents in Haskell County is now receiving a monthly social security check, according to figures released this week by R. R. Tuley, Jr., of Abilene, district manager of the Social Security Administration.

Haskell beneficiaries under social security numbered 1353 at the end of 1962, an increase of 95 over the corresponding figure at the beginning of 1962. The dollar benefit amounts to Haskell County citizens now total more than $848,592 annually, Tuley reported.

Retired workers are the largest single group of social security beneficiaries in the county. There are 698 in this group, and their old-age insurance benefits total $44,258 monthly. Other beneficiary groups, the number of beneficiaries, and monthly amounts received by groupings in Haskell County include: wife or husband, 271, $8,582; widow or widower, 113, $6,481; mothers and children, 149, $8,616; and disabled workers and dependents, 98, $4,574.

In releasing the figures, Tuley pointed out that the social security benefits are important to the community. "It is a fact," he said, "that a most every dollar of social security benefits coming into this county is spent each month in local businesses for food, clothing, shelter, and other essentials. In this way, the benefits have a stabilizing effect on the local economy."

He and his Haskell representative, Don Austin, who is in Haskell every Thursday at the Chamber of Commerce, here for personal interviews, forecast that the number of social security beneficiaries will continue to increase in the future, but at a much slower rate than in the past 10 years. Nationally, the social security benefit rolls increased from 5 to 19 million between 1954 and 1962. This rapid growth is attributed to several amendments to the Act, principally that which extended coverage to self-employed business and professional persons, farmers and agricultural workers.

Dave Persons Is Named Chairman Of A&M Event

David H. Persons, a leader in many worthwhile endeavors during his long residence here, has been appointed chairman of the 1964 Texas A&M University Development Fund Drive, in Haskell. The appointment was made by the Executive Board of the Association of Former Students of Texas A&M.

A graduate of A&M, Class of 1915, 49 years ago, Mr. Persons is an active member of the Association and a leader among A&M former students here along with John Kimbrough, a 1929-40 Aggie All-American football star, now a prominent Haskell businessman-rancher; District Attorney Royce Adkins and others.

The A&M Development Fund is the means through which former students and friends provide financial support for the school to meet programs of excellence not covered by state funds. During 1962, 14,744 former students gave $317,732. The goal for 1964 is 17,000 A&M men contributing $500,000.

The local campaign in Haskell will be held between April 15 and May 31. It will be one of 200 city campaigns held in cities in Texas and Louisiana.

The overall goal of the A&M Development Fund is to provide a million dollars a year from former students for academic excellence, President Earl Rudder said. "The future of Texas depends on the achievements of higher education, and financial support from former students stimulates business and industrial grants," A&M President Rudder explained.

City chairmen like Persons, of Haskell, play a critical role in the plan to achieve the ambitious objectives of Texas A&M, the Association of Former Students reported in announcing his appointment.

The last four years have been trying times for both the opponents and proponents of the water supply controversy. If, as we have been led to believe, the proponents are willing to withdraw their objections to Stamford Lake water, we are ready to negotiate a contract.

We feel, as does everyone in Haskell, that we should get started on a water supply and we know the majority want to go to Lake Stamford. With that thought in mind we are asking the cooperation of both sides to help make that a first consideration.

Since it appears beyond a doubt that the majority in Haskell favor the Stamford Lake as a water source we want to ask responsible citizens on both sides to cooperate with the Council in this matter.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW

Latest win gives Ford 11 out of last 12 NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more starting in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed . . . and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lessons Ford has learned in racing have already led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "fastback" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford are stronger, better handling, more thriffter in the long run. They are for total performance.

Rep. Roy Arledge Seeks Re-election In Announcement

Roy Arledge, of Stamford, very active as a freshman member of the Texas House of Representatives for the past two years, a veteran West Texas cattleman, farmer, and businessman, this week formally announced as a candidate for a second term in office as State Representative of the 83rd District, comprising Haskell, Jones, Knox, Baylor and Throckmorton Counties.

ary election on May 2. Joe Putnam, of Throckmorton County, a student at the University of Texas, is the lone candidate of the Republican Party for the same legislative post, and will face Arledge in the general election in November.

The legislator from this area declared in his formal statement that he likes "to judge issues on their own merits, disregarding the politics which might be injected into them in varying situations. I am an 'every tub on its own bottom' evaluator, and believe in acting expediently in behalf of the welfare of the people as a whole," Arledge added.

deavor. He served on the following committees: Motor Transportation, Oil and Gas, State Hospitals and Special Schools; Livestock and Stock Raising; and Public Buildings and Lands.

It was Representative Arledge who last session initiated and secured passage of HB 733 which permits schools to have the same authority as municipalities to collect taxes. This was an important and constructive legislative step to school officials who, prior to passage of the law, could not enforce a lien on personal property.

serve the people. He was a pioneer in the use of the airplane in ranching operations. And he has been active in the development of aviation in West Texas. For his work in securing an Air Force training station at Stamford during World War II, the town named the base for him.

Arledge is past president of the Texas Private Flyers Association.

Commenting on his first term in the Texas Legislature this week, Rep. Arledge unreservedly praised Gov. John Connally, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Attorney General Waggoner Carr, and House Speaker Byron Tunnel for their "economic, efficient and forthright discharge of responsibility and duty in conducting all activities of the session." He pointed out that the last session of the Legislature was completed in less than the allotted time under law, precluding the calling of a special session, again thereby saving the taxpayers money, and establishing a record. It was the first time in more than 20 years a Legislature has completed its work in so brief a period, Arledge pointed out.

As a farmer-rancher, Arledge raises cattle, grain and cotton, and has first-hand knowledge of the problems of people who make their livelihood this way. For 12 years, he was chairman of the Quarter-horse Division of the Texas Cowboy Reunion. He and his brother, Henry Arledge, of Seymour, with whom he was in the cattle business many years, have won many grand championships with their entries at Southwest Stock shows.

No newcomer to the political scene at the local level, which has provided him with a grassroots viewpoint of problems and projects of the folks he represents in Austin, Arledge was a member of the City Council at his home town, Stamford, for six years.

Arledge entered the business field as an ice manufacturer at Rochester, in Haskell County, where he lived and worked for five years. In this business, he quickly rose to the top, as attested by his election to the presidency of the Southwestern Ice Manufacturers Association.

A leader in Boy Scout work, Arledge is one of a comparatively few men in the Chisholm Trail Council who have received the Silver Beaver Award, reserved for the peak recognition of service to Scouting by an individual. He is also active in the First Baptist Church of Stamford.

Arledge and his wife, the former Lois Lee, of Haskell County, who taught school in the Rochester area several years, have lived in Stamford since 1930. They have two sons, Jack, an automobile dealer in Midland, and Jimmy, a building contractor of Abilene.

The state legislator is a past president of the Exchange Club of Stamford and a former state officer in that civic organization.

Arledge is the son of the late Thomas Emitt Arledge, Nolan rancher. His mother now lives in Sweetwater.

During his time back in the district, Arledge has been tireless in his contacts with the people he serves in Austin, making each town, and fence-line to fence-line, in his efforts to better determine the needs and views of "the folks at home I represent."

City Connected Military Men Are Cited For Efforts

Three Haskell-connected military men recently have been cited for accomplishment in various endeavors in three branches of the service according to word received here. One of them was for exemplary effort during the Cuban crisis.

Captain Harry D. Logan of the U. S. Air Force; Marine Lance Corporal Jimmie G. Barrett; and Private Tommy G. Baker, missileman in the U. S. Army, are the three recognized servicemen.

From McCoy AFB, Florida, comes word that Capt. Logan, whose wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bounds, Route 2, Haskell, has been presented the USAF Outstanding Unit Award and the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal there.

Capt. Logan is assigned to the Air Defense Command's 96th Aircraft Early Warning and Control Squadron at McCoy AFB. He received the awards for his participation in Air Force operations during the Cuban Crisis. He is an aircraft commander on a specially equipped C-121 radar patrol plane that helps guard against surprise attack.

The captain, a graduate of Castle Heights Military Academy, Lebanon, Tenn., attended the University of North Dakota. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. The captain was commissioned in 1953 through the aviation cadet program.

Marine Lance Corporal Barrett, foster son of Mrs. Ina May Allen, of 108 North Second St. here, and a member of the Haskell County Sheriff's office staff, recently entered Marine Non-Commissioned Officers' School near Oceanside, Calif., where he is compiling an 86-plus grade average. Lance Corporal Barrett's admission to the NCO school is tantamount to promotion in the Marine ranks. He also recently took part in "Operation Winter Night," an extensive simulated desert warfare exercise, at the Marine Corps Base in Twentynine Palms, Calif. In this exercise, he was a key man in counter-guerrilla operations. He is compiling an 86-ments, and day support. Also, from Wilmington, N. C., is Jack N. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Baker, promoted to Private First Class, the promotion ceremony being held April 6. He is an infantry specialist with the 5th Missile Battalion, U. S. Army, at Wilmington.

Prattle

By AL HINDS

Better watch out for those unlucky Fridays. Remember it was on Friday that Christ was crucified; it was on Friday that President Kennedy was assassinated; the disastrous earthquake in Alaska was on Friday, and the destructive tornado hit Wichita Falls on Friday. Maybe we should all "stand in bed on Fridays!"

John Miller over at Gholson's Grocery pulled this one on me: "Say, Al, did you hear about Tennessee Ernie Ford's accident?" Of course I bit and replied, "No." To which John quipped: "He was picking peas and the Green Giant stepped on him."

I saw this new sign on Buster Gholson's desk—"We have 35 million laws trying to enforce the Ten Commandments."

And by the way, I learned from Buster that when Avenue F ran into Avenue E there was quite a smash-up.

"He doesn't know his beans" ...how often have we heard that expression. Well, here is how it all got started.

Several years ago it was very popular to crack jokes among the people as they met. Everyone was trying to catch someone else with a question, or a riddle, and the people had a general good time in the practice.

One of the popular jokes, perpetrated on every newcomer, was this: One would meet another on the street and ask, "How many black beans make five white beans?" If the person knew, or was clever enough, he would reply, "Five, if you peel them."

Those who were able to answer this question correctly were said to "know their beans." Those who got caught by the question were said to "not know their beans." And that is how the phrase, "You don't know beans," was originated.

Without pose no mind can truly be just. Without pose no man can be fair to himself and others. Pose is the control of reason.

You can tell that a boy is very ill if he is wide-awake and is keeping still.

With all the yard work starting in the face for the next six months, I have been seriously thinking about pouring a concrete lawn and painting it green.

Spring Clean-Up Week which has been observed by Haskell for a number of years, is here once again. Citizens of the town are again being asked to join in our local Spring Clean-Up Campaign beginning Monday, April 20, and continuing through April 25, and to clean up their premises and brighten up their homes.

It is very easy to do your bit. Simply take an hour or two to go over the things in your attic, basement and storage areas, and throw out any trash (this does not apply to the old man of the house), that has accumulated. If you have old magazines and newspapers you no longer need, throw them out. If there is a broken rocking chair or other piece of furniture which you will never use again, throw it out, too.

The same goes for old clothing, old mattresses, old pillows and other articles which have been gathering dust for years. Give your basement and storage areas the same kind of inspection. Throw out old paint cans, old paint brushes, and oil rags. This will not only clear your home of trash, but eliminates fire hazards.

With the cooperation of everyone, Spring Clean-Up can be made a very worthwhile project. We can beautify our community by cleaning-up backyards, empty lots, alleys, and our streets, parks and playgrounds, the business district and civic buildings.

We will all profit by having made our community spic and span and safe for spring and summer.

When I picked up the Dollar Day ad from the C&B Store on Tuesday of last week, it was rolled-up neatly, and a blue ribbon, with a pretty little bow adorned the ad. In fact, I would call it gift wrapped. I am almost sure it must have been the work of Edith or Robin as I don't think friend Bob Wheatley could have tied a bow in a ribbon so deftly.

And, by the way, it's a real pleasure for the ad man, and for the mechanical department to follow layouts turned in by Mrs. Bob Wheatley. Hint, hint, hint, hint to the other Trades Day Circular advertisers.

Now that major league baseball play is underway I pick 'em like this in one two, three positions, when the season ends this fall. In the National League—(1) Milwaukee Braves, (2) San Francisco Giants, (3) St. Louis Cardinals.

In the American League: (1) New York Yankees, (2) Minnesota Twins, (3) Baltimore Orioles.

Rev. Morrison, Father of Pat And Van, Dies

Reverend V. P. Morrison Sr., 78, father of Paint Creek School Superintendent Pat Morrison and Van P. Morrison Jr., principal of the grade school there, died suddenly at 10:30 p. m. last Thursday at his home in Mineral Wells.

A native of Granbury, Rev. Morrison had been a Methodist minister for some 45 years prior to his retirement two years ago. He and Mrs. Morrison had visited in the Paint Creek homes of their two sons for two days earlier last week, and Rev. Morrison was seemingly in good health at the time, members of the family reported.

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church of Granbury where Rev. Morrison once served as pastor, at 2 p. m. Saturday. Burial was in Granbury cemetery.

Rev. Morrison's last pastorate before he retired and moved to Mineral Wells two years ago, was at Crestview Methodist Church in Graham where he served three years. Prior to that time he served churches at Newcastle, Granbury, Azle, Lake Worth, the Weatherford Street Methodist Church in Fort Worth, and at Strawn.

The Methodist minister attended college in central Texas and did postgraduate work at Southern Methodist University.

Survivors include his wife, the former Eva Carmichael, the two sons, of Paint Creek, one daughter, Mrs. Walter McDaniel, of Richland, Texas, eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

HHS Is Second In 6-AA Golf; Team Goes to Regional

Stamford and Haskell were one-two in that order in the competition for the District 6-AA golf title Monday at the Stamford Country Club.

Courthouse Offices Closed Saturdays Until Next Fall

Offices in the Haskell County Courthouse, open for a half day on Saturday during the fall and winter months, have returned to a five-day week for the spring and summer, County Judge James C. Alvis has announced.

County offices will be closed Saturdays from now until late September, the Haskell County Judge said.

Bowling Group Donates Funds To Fire Boys

A gift of some $75, the total in the treasury of the now dormant Haskell County Bowling Association, has been presented to the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department by action of the officers and board of directors of the bowling group, Tom Barfield, secretary, announced.

Allen Strickland, president of the bowling association, an American Bowling Congress-chartered organization, which has not been active since bowling facilities discontinued operation here, made the presentation to Haskell Fire Chief Tom Watson at the Fire Department's regular drill Monday night.

Barfield said the bowling association decided to contribute its funds to the upkeep of the Volunteer Fire Department here because "the fire boys and their units help everybody as much as any one organization. We know of nothing that serves the community or the county better, or is more vitally concerned with the welfare of all," he added.

Scouts---

(Continued from Page 1) in the American Legion Hall, while Dens 4 and 5 exercised squatter sovereignty over the brand new Cub Building just opened for use behind the Legion Hall near Rice Springs Park. Black, American Legion post commander, and longtime Scouting leader himself, directed Den exhibits, with the vigilant help of the Den mothers, including Mrs. Glen Sammons, Mrs. Bob Duvalley, Mrs. Borden Clifton, and others.

Scout and Cub exhibits in Haskell included camp craft, flag etiquette, first aid, ceremonial board customs, woodwork, compass handling, with demonstrations by uniformed and merit-badge bedecked Scouts on duty.

At Rochester, where an audience of more than 200 assembled, a similar panorama of Scouting was unfolded for the eyes of patrons.

Troy Boone, district Scout executive of Abilene, who visited all three "rings" of the Scout exposition in Haskell County Saturday, declared, "They all did themselves proud."
