They Furnished It—Let's Finish It

Last Spring, with exemplary thoughtfulness and consideration, the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Haskell Elementary School, under the spirited leadership of its then president, Rev. Douglas B. Finch, assumed responsibility for, and directed installation of 16 window unit air conditioners in the schoolhouse.

We are sure we are correct in the declaration that every teacher and every child in Haskell Elementary School, after but one late Spring and one early Fall in classrooms there, concur completely in a unanimous expression of gratitude for this comfort.

It is our understanding that the Haskell Elementary P-TA paid for the air conditioners and their installation with money borrowed from the bank, and that about one-third of the amount yet needs to be paid off.

Haskell and its Elementary School and P-TA were looked upon from afar with, again, unanimously approving eyes when they more or less "pioneered" the school air conditioning project as a private enterprise last Spring. Rev. Finch even was in demand by other towns to which he was invited to outline to their citizens how the project was undertaken and completed.

Most of us here in Haskell, if we haven't already as parents, still will have the opportunity as grandparents, or aunts and uncles, or cousins, of children there, to have a tangible "stake" in the welfare of Haskell Elementary School. It is a physical plant of which all of us may be justifiably proud, and particularly so now, with its air conditioned comfort. At Haskell Elementary School pivots a substantial portion of our community life in one way or another.

Therefore, we feel sure we can say emphatically here of Rev. Finch, the past president, Mrs. Claude Thompson, the president this year, and their dedicated co-workers:

"They furnished it for us."

That being the case, let's finish it for them... the liquidation of this obligation for a real community asset... the school air conditioners.

Your $10, $5, $1 bills, or even pocket change, sent to the P-TA in care of Mrs. Thompson, or Rev. Finch, will get this job done with dispatch. No money better spent.

And it will give YOU a feelin' of BELONGING to and of HELPING the finest asset this town, or any other, has... OUR CHILDREN.

A case in point in behalf of communitywide support of the air conditioning project is the story of the 6-year-old Dallas boy reported by Columnist Paul Crume in the Dallas Morning News Sunday.

On the first day of school, Mike was up and dressed before his parents. He was too nervous to eat breakfast. He was in the car waiting when his parents were ready to leave the house, and he ran from the car into the schoolhouse.

Asked "What did you do in school today?" after he was home for the day, Mike declared, "Sweated, Mom."

We who do "sweat" rather than "perspire" understand what Mike meant.

That's all the more reason for our positive stand here!

Head, Health, Hands, And Heart

These are the necessary "implements" for which the 4-H Clubs stand, and their proper, guided implementation into the lives of our youth, generation by generation, will assure a strong, principled, steadfast, indestructible United States of America for all time to come.

Beginning Saturday, and continuing for one week, the nation observes "4-H Week" across the length and breadth of the land. And, justifiably so, for on the fast muscling shoulders and upon the health, and in the head, hands and hearts, of these youth, rests America's future.

Of these Four H's, none can exist productively without the other, and it is well that our 4-H adult leaders concentrate on all four in helping mold the lives of our youngsters.

May Divine Guidance ever be with the unselfish folks who give so generously of themselves and their substance to training our 4-H youth.

As we join with unrestrained spontaneity in saluting the 4-H program, and its thousands of participating personnel, feeling the "platform" on which it stands is one that undergirds us all, and forecasts a future of security, we add this hope:

May their tribe increase.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

After those recent furrow filling rains around here, a flock of farmers we know have started going around here with a real balefull look on their faces. And they're seein' mid-dlin' spots before their eyes. In other words, these Poor Men's Anderson Claytons are thinkin' in terms of tall cotton. Far be it from us to defoliate such thoughts!

It's seldom you ever hear of a banker gettin' the rug pulled out from under him. But we personally witnessed this experience being "put to" one A. C. ("That's for 'Spark-plug'") Pierson by a couple of musclemen, Bulgy Abe Turner and Man Mountain Tommy Michaels. The truth of the matter is, Mr. Alfred keeps his ain' a new carpet for his office, and these two rug-cuttin' carpet baggers hauled his old one away.

We might add, disappointedly, we didn't notice one single fin or skin tucked under that rug being replaced. Wonder where Mr. Alfred keeps his collateral? Guess Miss Ida keeps it buried in the kraut barrel with the rest of the "cabbage."

Speakin' of tuckin' money under rugs, we recall a legend from skule daze in Kaintucky about the ol' boy who went to the Derby in Louisville, got pretty well stimulated on some of that sippin' shellack, won a wad at Churchill Downs, and came meandering back to the Brown Hotel, one of Louisville's finest hosteleries.

He made right nice paddin' for one of the carpets in a room at the Brown with his gambler's take at the Derby, considered himself a smart boy to put it there for safe-keeping. Only thing was, he woke up the next day in the Seelbach Hotel, and he couldn't remember in which room at the Brown he had cached his fortune.

It's told he looked under 586 rugs, and had 14 to go when they had to carry him away. When he regained his composure, he decided it was at Hialeah that all this happened, and the last anyone heard, he was founderin' around the Fontainebleau at Miami Beach, and had become just a carpet-peekin' bum. But just 49 more rooms to go.

And, speakin' of money, banks and bankers, too, we suppose the oldtimers all know this one. But we heard the other day on good authority about a certain former Haskell banker, still extant, who had the reputation of the profession for playin' his loan cards ever so close to the chest. But one day, they say, he was so touched by the predicament, and the presentation, of one native son that someone, during one of said banker's infrequent unguarded moments, detected a faint glimmer of sympathy in the skinflint's one glass eye.

In newsdom's "tall cotton" last Thursday was the ol' Pencil Pusher, who, thanks to the thoughtfulness of most able, and popular Congressman, Graham Purcell, was privileged to sit in "at the summit," in a press conference held in Wichita Falls, first stop on Vice Presidential Candidate Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign trail through Texas. LBJ's running mate deftly handled every question including some lajapaloosers on oil depletion allowance and civil rights, fired at him by some of the best Fourth Estaters in the business.

We rubbed elbows with such statesque radio and TV newsmen as Martin Agronsky, Morgan Beatty, and Ray Shearer, who made his noonday NBC telecast from the steps of the Wichita County Courthouse. The street-walkin', pavement poundin' newsmen of distinction were, there, too, in strength, an airplane load of them.

And we preened up like a pouter pigeon when, in utter seriousness, Marvin Zim, of TIME MAGAZINE, whom we sat beside at the press conference, said he was "amazed at the potency and mental acuity of the Texas press corps!"

It was rather a cherished experience, and always is, to be included among the accredited newsmen at such a gathering, which counted among its representatives there staffers from the New York TIMES, Baltimore SUN, Washington POST, and, oh yes, of course, the Haskell FREE PRESS! To Congressman Purcell, our cup runneth over. In fact, it's sauced and blowed! That goes for the attentive courtesies, too, of our lifelong and coveted friend, Mr. Rhea Howard, editor and publisher of the Wichita Falls TIMES AND RECORD NEWS.

This human juggernaut, Hubert Humphrey really has an ability and agility with the spoken word. The best barb he hurled during his brief Wichita Falls stay was a plea to his audience to "think like a Democrat, act like a Democrat, and vote like a Democrat... so you can live like a Republican!"

Heard roundin' the Square: "He's the kind of guy who will fight you, or accommodate you... either one... on 30 seconds' notice!"

Did you know that Haskell's popular Presbyterian preacher, Doug Finch, is one of the few sky pilots (military) who became a "sky pilot" (slang for the steering ability of the ministerial profession)? Yessiree, long before our capable Douglas took the cloth, he wore the olive drab with wings over his left pocket, and was a fighter pilot with an earned "50-mission crash" garrison cap, straight out of the South Pacific.

Oakescript: (with apologies to Humble Peddler J. E. Walling, Jr.), one sure way to curb juvenile delinquency (no inference intended, Betty and Janie!) is to put a "Tiger In Your SPANK."

Announcement:

Ford Motor Company introduces an entirely new kind of Mercury for 1965... now in the Lincoln Continental tradition

We predict that many people seeing a 1965 Mercury for the first time will wonder: "What car is that?" Mercury is that new. The look is new. Completely. Low, sleek, beautifully proportioned. (Notice the long, low proportions of the hood, the full-width grille, the unique front pillar lights.) The ride is new, smoother, solid, quieter. Inside, there's a wide selection of options for personalizing—luxury features once reserved only for the most expensive car in its field... a Mercury that reflects the Lincoln Continental tradition. See how well the idea works—at your Mercury dealer's. No medium automobile has ever come so near in luxury to the high-price class.

He went to Fairchild from the Amelco Company, a l.s.o. of Mountain View, where he was a product marketing engineer. A University of Texas graduate with a degree in geology, Thornton was in the U. S. Army in Korea from 1952 to 1954 attached to the Korean Military Advisory Group.

Thornton and his wife, Kay, have established residence at Cape Elizabeth, Maine.

Bowman with tosses to Blankenship for 11 and 20 yards to move the ball to the Haskell four.

From there, a pass interference penalty moved the ball to the goal and an up the middle attempt by Bowman preceded the middle bust by Kuehler which paid off for the six points. John Underwood came into the game and booted the extra point, making the score 18 to 7.

Haskell closed out the scoring on a quick Panther aerial interception by Ivy at the 22 and a return to the Seymour 12 yard line. From there, Jossel carried in for the TD on the first play from scrimmage. Gilmore then belted across left guard for the final two points.

Holden, prominent Haskell religious and civic leader, said, "I am happy to be back in full service again, and assure the people of this area they may count on the personalized service which has characterized our endeavor in the past."

Since 1928, Mr. Holden has served in most every key civic role in Haskell from president of the Chamber of Commerce to chairman of every working committee. He has served two terms on the board of stewards of the First Methodist Church and is a member of four Masonic bodies. He has worked tirelessly on every community development project in Haskell in his 36 years of residence here.

Included in his community endeavors have been highway widening projects, Boy Scout drives, Haskell County Fair, all the recognized charitable campaigns and for many years he has been a leader in the Lions Club of Haskell. Last spring he headed a most successful goal attaining Cancer Crusade here.

He is a member of both state and national funeral directors and embalmers associations. For 10 years, he has served on the Haskell School Board, one year as president.

Holden and his wife, Mary, also active in many Haskell community activities, have a son, Tom, a sophomore at the University of Texas, and a daughter, Millie, a senior in Haskell High School.

Alley, 36, is a Hale County native, graduate of Otton High School and the Landig College of Mortuary Science in Houston in 1948. He has a sterling record of 16 years of service as a funeral director and mortuary owner-operator. His wife, Clarice, is a registered nurse and former superintendent of nurses in Plainview and Clarendon hospitals. They have one son, Chris, 9.

Henderson, who married a Henrietta native since moving to Haskell, has eight years of funeral directing and ambulance service experience.

500 Gape, Gawk, 'Graze' At Co-Op Gin Open House

More than 500 area citizens Saturday afternoon and evening inspected the Haskell Co-Op Gin's new $160,000 streamlined plant, gaped and gawped at the mammoth 3-plant ginning machinery, and "grazed" on a bountiful barbecue meal served "on the grounds."

A modern all-electric Continental "golden comet" ginning system capable of turning out 15 to 18 bales per hour, "glided up a storm" under the direction of Manager W. A. Lockett throughout the three hours the visitors spent promoting the expanded premises.

Haskell Co-Op Gin, on its present site since 1951, turned out 4400 bales of cotton last season, and its goal with the latest in ginning equipment just installed, is 6,000 bales this season, Lockett said.

President of Haskell Co-Op Gin Company, which has 146 members, is Henry Harris. Burnell Gillem is vice president, and Ernest Peiser is secretary.

Wichita-Brazos Director Election Slated October 6

A director to represent Subdivision I of the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District will be elected for a five-year term in an election called for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, October 6, at Mattson Rural High School, J. C. Yeary, work unit supervisor of the soil conservation office in Haskell, has announced.

Subdivision I, of the Wichita-Brazos district coincides with Precinct 2, of Haskell County, for which Leon Newton is the county commissioner, or, generally, the northeast quadrant of Haskell County, Yeary explained.

Henry Smith, who lives between Weinert and Mattson, is the incumbent director.

The election will be held like that of a convention, Yeary said, with all candidates being placed in nomination from the floor on the night of the election.

Allen Moeller Has Prize Porker At 20th Gilt Show

Allen Moeller, 11-year-old Mattson youth, showed the prize porker in the 20th annual Sears 4-H gilt show at the Rice Springs Roundup grounds here last Saturday. He will exhibit his entry in an 8-county competition in Abilene Saturday, Sept. 26.

Judy Therwanger, Weinert 4-H girl, and the first girl ever to show in the annual Sears contest, was awarded second place.

Gary Brown, Rochester 4-H youth, was the third place exhibitor. Fourth and fifth places went to Leslie Stamper, of Mattson, and Ray Clark, Sagerton.

Frank W. Martin, Haskell County agricultural agent, directed the gilt show for the 20th consecutive year. Two Haskell County youths who showed gilts in the first Sears sponsored competition at Rule in 1944, are veteran area farmers today.

They are J. D. Brothers, of O'Brien, and Cecil Lewis, Rule.

Haskell 'B' Takes On CC Wolves Here At 7 Tonight

Haskell High School's "roll-in" B-team, winners last week against Seymour's baby Panthers by dint of a great defensive effort turned in a courageous line, take on the Colorado City baby Wolves at Indian Stadium tonight at 7 o'clock.

In last week's spectacular scrap at Seymour, Tim Everett pulverized the Panthers for five yards and a touchdown to draw first blood, and added two points with another plunge.

Ray Herren continued his scintillating sprinting with additional runs of 10 and 15 yards for two more Haskell TD's. Johnny Jossel made two more two-point conversions, and this trio accounted for the 22 Haskell markers against Seymour's 6.

It was the line's magnificent play that enabled our "B" boys to protect that lead in a spirited performance.

Tuesday night, at Anson, the Cubs took the measure of our Warriors, 14-6. Haskell Junior High's only score of the game was a TD by John Martinez in the third stanza.

218 Decisions At Latin-American Baptist Crusade

A total of 218 decisions for Christ were made during the week-long series of gospel services held here Sept. 13-18 as a part of the Latin American Baptist New Life Crusade. Dr. Ray Nobles, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Haskell, the sponsoring church, announced Tuesday.

Total attendance during the crusade was 1,665, and the average nightly attendance at the services held under a tent on South Avenue E here was 277.

In addition to 53 professions of faith among Haskell area Latin-American residents, 115 transient Mexican migrant workers, who attended a similar meeting in Rochester conducted by the same evangelistic team which led the crusade here, came to Haskell to profess their faith publicly. There were 600 Mexican workers in the Rochester meeting.

An additional 38 persons rededicated themselves to Christ during the meeting here, and eight came by letter. Dr. Nobles reported.

Rev. Santiago Garcia, of San Antonio, was evangelist, and Don Jones, also of San Antonio, was song leader.

Duward Campbell New President Farmers Union

Duward Campbell was elected president of the Haskell County Farmers Union for 1965 at a called meeting of the organization in Haskell this week.

Other officers named were Walter Fisher, vice president, and Mrs. Duward Campbell, secretary-treasurer.

An "action team" named by the group to spearhead a membership drive includes H. K. Henry, Don Nanny, H. B. Berry and Allen Davis.

Elected delegates to the forthcoming state convention in Austin are Allen Davis and Nanny. Alternates are Bobby Druessedow and Oliver Cunningham.

Four resolutions were framed by the organization to be presented at the state convention. They stipulate that the Haskell County Farmers Union go on record as requesting the basis for loan cotton be on middling 15/16 inch rather than middling 1 inch; that the Haskell County Farmers Union request State Farmers Union to exert pressure to extend rural telephone lines wherever needed and requested; that Haskell County Farmers Union go on record as favoring the policies of Secretary of Agriculture Freeman one hundred percent; and that the organization go on record as being in favor of continuing the screwworm eradication program.

The "Nine Teens," who rehearse diligently as a group all during the school year, are directed by Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bell, both of whom are associated with the Haskell schools as administrator and faculty member.

Calvary Mission Starts Revival On September 27

Haskell's Calvary Baptist Mission will hold revival services September 27 through October 4, part of a statewide evangelistic crusade being sponsored by Texas Baptists this fall.

Dr. H. H. McBride, Sr., of Dallas, will be the evangelist for the meeting here. O. D. Randall will lead the song services.

Dr. McBride will preach in English, and his messages will be translated into Spanish by William Galindo.

Latin American people especially are invited to attend the revival at the Calvary Baptist Mission on South East First Street here.

The revival meeting in Haskell is one of about 400 local church revivals slated throughout the state August 30 through October 11. The crusade seeks to reach 2 million unevangelized Latin American people of Texas with the Gospel, reports Dr. T. A. Patterson, executive secretary for the 1.6 million member Baptist General Convention of Texas.

In addition to local church revivals, the Crusade will feature 23 major central campaigns in metropolitan areas and 43 area campaigns in strategic locations, primarily under tents.

Baptist Churches in Mexico and New Mexico, along the Texas border, are also planning to participate in the crusade.

Helping to sponsor the local revival is the First Baptist Church of Haskell.

Following the revival meetings, there will be a major central campaign in Abilene October 12-13, p. m. each evening.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

The Industrial Foundation - Tool for Community Development
In little more than ten years Industrial Foundations have been established in 182 Texas communities. These are communities — both large and very small — which have recognized the vital need for a community financing group in securing new industry.
Called by various names, the Industrial Foundation is a community-wide organization with the prime objective of creating payrolls. Its functions vary from community to community, but basically its purpose is to provide development funds for the land, brick and mortar required for new industry.
It is one of the best ways to show favorable community attitude towards new industry or to help finance the expansion of an existing local industry. By having community money invested in an industry the community becomes more interested in seeing that the industry profits and grows.
The Community Industrial Development Foundation is another PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.
WTU's area development representatives have information about the creation of industrial foundations. These facts are available to growth-conscious communities on request through your WTU local manager.

Cotton Harvest Labor Needs Under Study

An area citizens' group named to serve as a farm labor committee met here recently with Bill Estep, manager of the Texas Employment Commission office in Haskell to re-evaluate the total seasonal employment needs developed by the TEC.

The committee selected included Haskell County Judge James C. Alvis, Haskell County Agent Frank Martin, Father Patrick O'Conner of Stamford, and Jerry V. Clare, publisher of the Haskell Free Press.

This group, in a meeting over which A. H. Keever, of Vernon, district TEC supervisor, presided, was presented with figures of the TEC declaring Haskell County will be short 885 cotton pickers during the peak period of the cotton harvest near at hand. This shortage will be met by the importation of Mexican national bracero workers.

Also present at the farm labor needs determination session were Joe Monahan, of the TEC office in Austin; Al Dunham, of Vernon, farm labor placement supervisor; and Bill Monroe, of Fort Worth.

The farm labor committee in this area will function under Public Law 78, obtaining facts relevant to the supply of domestic farm workers existing in Haskell County and the shortage of workers, if any, which must be met by importing Mexican Nationals to harvest the cotton crop. Under Public Law 78, the TEC must supply this information to the Secretary of Labor who must limit the number of Mexican nationals to be used in this county by granting a "ceiling". The committee consults with the local office manager, in Haskell County's case, to assist him in estimating number of workers who are needed, based on current conditions affecting the crop.

"Ceilings" granted Secretary of Labor nationals in this area posted in Post Office, Haskell, Rule, Sagerton, Rochester and O'Brien, the county agent's office.

Congratulations!

Prattler's Prophecy: In my pre-game football predictions involving the Haskell Indians and teams in the Southwest Conference in games played last weekend, I picked five correct and missed two, out of seven predictions, thus hitting .715 percentage. Gazing into the somewhat cloudy crystal ball for this weekend's contests, I pick 'em like this:

Haskell 26, Munday 6.
Rice over LSU. Owls will be tough to de-feather.

A & M over University of Houston. Aggies should bounce back after their loss to Louisiana State last weekend.

Florida State over TCU. Froggies, however, could take this one. They will be smarting from the defeat Kansas handed them last weekend.

Arkansas over Tulsa.

Baylor over Washington. SMU to bounce back and topple mighty Ohio State. The Pomies lost no prestige in dropping a close one to Florida last weekend.

Texas University over Texas Tech. Hope I am wrong here, and have to eat this prediction.

Texas Tech Red Raiders, surprisingly over a major hurdle when they downed Mississippi State, will draw a record crowd of 42,000 Saturday night at Lubbock, when they take on the University of Texas Longhorns in the first Southwest conference game of the season.

Tech's capacity is 41,500, but special bleachers have been erected behind the north end zone.

Although Texas is considered just about as strong as the team that won by a 49-7 score in Austin last year, Red Raider fans gained hope by Tech's 21-7 win over Mississippi State as 28,000 watched last week. The Bulldogs ranked 10th in the nation last year.

Two big battles loom on the horizon during the month of November. On Tuesday, Nov. 2, President Lyndon Baines Johnson will step into the ring for a slugfest with Barry Goldwater. I predict a first round knockout for Mr. Johnson over Barry.

On November 16, loud-mouth Cassius Clay will take on Sonny Liston for the heavyweight champion in a rematch at Boston Garden. I hope these boys knock each other out, and the ground will be paved for regaining of prestige to the heavyweight champion of the world slot.

The old fashioned woman of today is one who tries to make one hundred last a lifetime.

Don't all those papers make you tired? I asked a small boy carrying a load of newspapers the other day. "New" replied the youngster. "I don't read them."

Quote: Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders, and some absurdities no doubt crept in; forget them as soon as you can. Tomorrow is a new day; begin it well and serenely, not too high a spirit to be cumbered with your old nonsense. This day is all that is good and fair. It is too dear, with its hopes and invitations, to waste a moment on the yesterdays.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Ever since the beginning of this country, certain questions concerning the Presidential succession have been raised. Yet, as a discussion of the problem prepared by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States points out, they have yet to be satisfactorily answered. Now the issue is in the limelight again due in part to the assassination of President Kennedy last November which left the nation without a Vice President. And it looks as if there is a good chance that something will at last be done to establish procedures for handling cases of Presidential inability and for keeping the office of Vice President filled at all times.

The need for that, clearly, is much greater now than it used to be. Time was when the Vice Presidency was considered a one way ticket to political oblivion. The holder of the office presided over the Senate and was empowered to vote in case of a tie and that was the size of it. In late years, the Vice Presidency has taken on a vastly increased authority and responsibility. The holder attends Cabinet meetings and is a statutory member of the vital National Security Council. He carries out delicate missions which may have an influence on the peace of the world. He must be thoroughly prepared to step into what is generally considered the most powerful office on earth.

At present, the line of succession, in the event there is no Vice President, begins with the Speaker of the House, followed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate. But these men have demanding jobs of their own to perform, and there is doubt that they can be expected to properly prepare for the Presidency. A question of the separation of powers in the government also is involved.

At any rate, the Senate Judiciary Committee has approved an amendment to the Constitution that is designed to correct the weaknesses in the present law. It would do three things: Permit a President to declare his inability to discharge his duties and allow the Vice President to take over as Acting President; set up procedures that would permit the Vice President, the Cabinet and Congress to determine whether inability exists; and to make possible the filling of a Vice Presidential vacancy by permitting the President to nominate a Vice President, subject congressional confirmation.

Virgil Cobb Is New President Of Little League

Virgil Cobb was named president of Haskell's Little League organization for 1965 at a meeting attended by a large and enthusiastic assembly of patrons at Sam's Cafe here recently. Cobb succeeds Roy Pitman, president for the past year.

Other officers in Little League for the next year will be Dude Mercer, vice president; Borden Clifton, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Jack Pippin, scorekeeper; Joe Warren, player manager; T. J. Brueggeman, equipment manager; and Bob Guiney, chief of umpires.

The decision on Senior Little League potential here will be made at an early meeting.

F. A. ROBINETTE

F. A. Robinette Brings 'Sharp' Program Here

"Communication plays a vital part," F. A. Robinette, of Seymour, District Manager of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, told members of the Haskell Lions Club at the Tuesday noon-day luncheon meeting at Felker's Cafe dining room.

Robinette, guest speaker, was introduced by E. W. (Pluto) Pruett, Rev. Douglas Finch, minister of the Presbyterian church was program chairman for the day.

Robinette, showing slides, along with his talk, brought a unique program stressing the effectiveness of "the last word" in communications system, and explained the communications of the North American Air Defense Command and their focal point, NORAD Headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colorado, utilizing most intriguing methods.

The guest speaker's talk was climaxed with his placing of a call from the rostrum to Major H. A. Davis in Colorado Springs, for a person-to-person briefing on current situations there.

Major Davis talked about 15 minutes, explaining NORAD, and a loud speaker attached to the telephone brought perfect reception to attentive Lions. Following the briefing from Major Davis, members of the club shot questions to the Air Force Career man.

Rev. James F. Schaefer, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, was noted as a guest.

Contest To Begin
"Proxy" Frank Martin announced that the attendance and membership contest will "kick-off" next Tuesday, Sept. 29, with Leroy Haverlah and Dr. J. G. Vaughter team captians.

Then, sifting the soil for several feet in each direction, the Haskell native, who was heir to the property on which he now lives, discovered a baffling assortment of items, many apparently personal possessions, utilitarian pieces of household ware, wagon wheels, horse-shoes galore, wooden buckets rotted away, but with brass bands still intact around them. All in all, Nicholson came out with a standard No. 2 wash tub filled with objects — plus the most interesting discovery of all, a small metal chest, probably used for keepsakes. It fell away as he picked it up, but inside was the brooch with the diamond, which has been sent off by a jeweler here for appraisal, two wedding bands, one lady's, one man's, several locks of hair, a belt buckle which had "Pat. 1886" on it, a key on which was stamped "St. Louis, 1893," a glass inkwell, and other brass objects. Nearby was what might have been the top of a mother-of-pearl card case bearing clearly the name of "M. F. Glasscock."

Efforts were being made here Saturday through contacts with oldtimers to learn more about the Glasscock family. There were some bones which Nicholson found, too. Not many. Whether human or animal was not immediately determined. An old coffee grinder and one broken dish were among the effects unearthed. Perhaps the most puzzling among discoveries in the cache were the brass jacketed shell casings for many types of guns, including "off caliber" seldom heard of these days. There was even a solid brass .12 shotgun shell. Needless to say, stories and speculations were orbiting Haskell with John Glenn-Scott Carpenter regularly Saturday. Both Nicholson and his wife are interested in knowing more about the background of their discoveries. He transported the choicer items to show Mrs. Tom Bartfield, chairman of the Haskell County Historical Survey Committee. She's interested, too, in securing additional information for inclusion in a history of Haskell County now being compiled by the historical group. She has her eye on some of the "object d'art" in that wash tub for deposit in Haskell's proposed Hey Day Museum here. And at least one professional "prospector" was on the scene with his "instruments" last weekend endeavoring to pick up a new "vein."

Armed with "counter," he "felt" the premises offsetting Nicholson's find, and directed digging at a certain spot perhaps 12 feet from the original discovery. Two feet down, they hit. It was a battered coffee pot, containing nary a Spanish doubloon. Nor even a coffee ground.

TWO YOUNG BRAZILIANS COME TO THANK BAPT. MISSIONARY

Haskell last week had two visitors from afar who came to pay attentive tribute to their former teacher, a Haskell native home on leave from her longtime missionary post, who is responsible for the productive experience through which they now are going.

Mary Louise Mungesba and Leonisia Correio, both of Recife, Brazil, spent two days with Miss Maye Bell Taylor, Baptist missionary on quinquennial leave for a year from her responsible Brazilian assignment.

Miss Taylor, well-known throughout the Baptist denomination for her multiple accomplishments in the mission field over a 25-year span as the First Baptist Church of Haskell's "very own" emissary to a foreign land, arranged for scholarships for the two young Brazilian women through E. M. Collier, director of Hendrick Memorial Hospital.

Both graduates of the University of Recife Nursing School, the young Brazilian nurses are now doing two years of postgraduate work specializing in surgery at Hendrick Memorial Hospital.

Mary Louise's father has been pastor of the Capunga Baptist Church in Brazil for 36 years, and Miss Taylor has been a longtime member of this church.

C. G. Burson And Other PCA Execs At Lubbock Meet

C. G. Burson, Sr., of Haskell, president of the Stamford Production Credit Association, headed a group of 7 executives of the association participating in a conference of directors and general managers of agricultural financing institutions in Lubbock Thursday and Friday.

Representatives of the six PCAs covering a 51-county area of West Texas and the Panhandle attended the session. It was sponsored by the Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, discount and advisory agency for the 36 associations in Texas.

In addition to President Burson, attending were Vice President Lasater Hensley, of Guthrie; Directors Jim McCulloch, of Stamford; Mack T. Claburn, of Anson; and J. C. Moorhouse, of Benjamin; General Manager J. Hill, Jr., and Assistant Manager J. R. Gleaton, both of Stamford.

Farmer and rancher owned and operated, the Stamford PCA provides more than $10,000,000 annually in low cost agricultural credit in Dickens, Jones, Kent, Knox, King, Haskell, Stonewall and Shackelford Counties. Offices are operated in Haskell, Stamford, Anson, Munday and Spur.

At the Lubbock conference, W. B. Mansfield, of the Engineering Extension Service, Texas A&M University, led a discussion on the role of directors in PCAs. Other speakers from the Intermediate Credit Bank will discuss operational and organizational procedures and problems.

Other associations represented at the conference included Amarillo, Lubbock, Memphis and Plainview.

Loan volume for the six PCAs totalled more than $95,000,000 to farmers and ranchers in 1963 in their 51-county area.

Today is '65 Pontiac Day. 1965: The year of the Quick Wide-Tracks

What do we mean by "quick"? Just this: A new-all-over Pontiac offering a new Turbo Hydra-Matic — the silkiest, swiftest-shifting automatic transmission you ever touched a toe to; eager new Trophy V-8 power; new steering agility; a surer-footed Wide-Track ride. And a new Pontiac Tempest that's become even more of a Pontiac with new style, new length and Pontiac-quick reflexes to match. You never knew cars could be so beautiful, and so keenly alert to your touch. This is your year to drive a Wide-Track—quick!

'65 Pontiac Pontiac How does the success car outdo itself for 1965? Beautifully, just beautifully. But this Pontiac has no intention of getting by on looks alone, though it could. So there's new quickness, Pontiac style. A new nimbleness. New fuel savings. A smooth, easy new ride. Drive a '65 Pontiac and see how one success leads to another.

'65 Pontiac Tempest Tempest's even more of a Pontiac now, and what more could a car be than that! The '65 Tempest looks like a Pontiac, as you can see. Rides like a Pontiac on Wide-Track. Goes like a Pontiac, too: a 140-hp six is standard. Or you can get a quick V-8, up to 285 hp. You'll wonder how we can keep the price so low on so much car.

COUNTY AGENT REMINDS OF GAS TAX REFUND DEADLINE

Claim for refund of federal tax on gasoline used on a farm or ranch, which may be made but once a year, must be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue on or before, Sept. 30. Frank W. Martin, Haskell County agricultural agent, reminded this week.

The Haskell County agent said Form 2240, U. S. Treasury Department, 1964, is the instrument to be used in making the request, and that the forms may be obtained from the nearest Internal Revenue Office.

The federal rate of tax on gasoline is four cents per gallon, and refund of tax money spent for gas by farmers and ranchers under specified conditions supported by records, if requested, by the District Director, is in order if the claim is filed by the September 30 deadline, Martin advises.

Included in the claim submitted this year would be tax on gasoline purchased before July 1, 1964, used on a farm or ranch after June 30, 1963, and before July 1, 1964, for farming and ranching purposes.

In submitting such claims, the only ones who may submit them, must be either "owner, tenant, or operator" of a farm or ranching operation. Martin explained.

SPECIAL GRAZING RIGHTS ARE OFFERED FARMERS IN AREA

Three area counties, Haskell, Stonewall and Knox, are among 34 counties in Texas in which grazing privileges are being given until October 31 to farmers with land already in one or more of the government's diverted acreage programs. Cong. Graham Purcell, Wichita Falls, has notified the Haskell Free Press from Washington.

Existing drouth conditions in those counties prompted the temporary allowance of those privileges, the Congressman advised. Several Haskell County farmers, among them Elbert Mapes, Tommy Davis, Cliff Berry and E. H. Bennett, had requested the U. S. Department of Agriculture through Cong. Purcell for relief in this situation.

Lloyd Feemster, supervisor of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee in Haskell County, said he has been notified by the Secretary of Agriculture that for nominal costs to the farmer ranging from $1 to $1.96 per acre, farmers in this area with land already in the soil bank, feed grain, or wheat stabilization programs may graze cattle on this land until the October 31 deadline.

Some 30 Haskell County farmers signed up for the temporary grazing rights granted here.

LT SCHOOL TEACHERS AS GUESTS AT SEMINAR

Dr. Carmichael, of the Future Teachers Association, presided over the keynote address at the workshop for local school teachers and administrators at the Oilbelt Association, which was held in Haskell Saturday. The workshop was held at the Oilbelt Association, which was held in Haskell Saturday. The workshop was held at the Oilbelt Association, which was held in Haskell Saturday.

Dr. Carmichael, a consultant here Saturday, Misses Ethel Parker and Ethel Morgan, both of Wichita Falls, led discussions here on activities of retired teacher personnel.

Not more, but better, teachers would be the early result of a pay raise for public school instructors, a bill for which will be introduced in the next session of the Texas Legislature in January, top ranking school officials of Northwest and North Central Texas agreed here Saturday.

Dr. Carmichael indicated the teaching profession today in Texas is presenting a "negative attitude to the people" when it declares, "Give us more money, and we will give you better teachers." Rather, he said, the stand of the teachers should read, "Give us more money, and we will give you better teachers."

Dr. Carmichael premised his conclusion on the reaction of the rank and file of Texas teachers to an $800 per annum pay raise four years ago. "The immediate result," said a senior educator here at the meeting, "was that we all went back to school to keep pace. It is my opinion that teacher efficiency has increased 50 to 75 per cent in the last four years since that $800 pay raise. The last teacher pay raise created incentive for those already dedicatedly working in the profession, more than attracting extra numbers to it, he declared. Oilbelt Association President King explained that TSTA, supported by all the teacher affiliated organizations in Texas, would introduce in the Texas Legislature next January a bill proposing a $45 per month across-the-board pay raise, with "a $5-day per year sick leave clause cumulative to 30 days. A bill, not yet written, with these two principal items, is "in the mill," said the president of the District VII teachers.

Presiding over the workshop general session from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m. was Robert R. King, superintendent of schools at Vernon, and former superintendent here, King is president of the Oilbelt teachers organization.

Following an invocation by L. A. Boyd, of Vernon, Robert Orr, also of Vernon, District VII National Education Association membership chairman, discussed NEA activities prior to Dr. Carmichael's address.

Discussion group meetings were held from 10:45 to 11:50 a. m. The various discussion sections and their chairmen were local unit presidents, H. A. Hefner, Graham; program chairmen, Mrs. Floy Jim Hughes of "Dobson"; legislative and public relations chairmen, Dr. Joe B. ...; membership chairmen, A. G. Craver, Abilene (TSTA) and Robert Orr, Vernon (NEA); local unit secretaries and treasurers, Mrs. Mildred Bauscher, Wichita Falls; TEPS chairmen and Future Teachers Association sponsors, Miss Ila Griggs, Abilene; district convention section chairmen, John W. White, Sweetwater.

Reports from the discussion groups were presented at a luncheon in the Haskell Elementary School Cafeteria, climaxing the workshop. Consultants who were here included Dr. Carmichael, Dr. McNeil, superintendent of the Wichita Falls schools and chairman of the Legislative Committee, TSTA; E. L. Galvan, director of research and records, TSTA, Austin; John H. Lovelady, assistant director of field service, TSTA, Austin; Billy E. Snow, field represent-

Jaycee "Cheer" Dispensed to 187 From Four States

A total of 187 motorists from four states availed themselves of the hospitality furnished by Haskell Jaycees manning "Operation Rest Stop," one of many such Jaycee-supported projects over the state during Labor Day Weekend.

Jaycees here kept a vigil all night Friday, Sept. 4, and Monday, Sept. 7, at the start and completion of the traffic-laden holiday. The Haskell rest stop was located at the northwest corner of the Courthouse at the intersection of U. S. Highway 277 and State Highway 24. Residents of Oklahoma,

New Mexico and Arizona, in addition to Texas, signed the guest register here.

Bill Anderson, assistant manager of the West Texas Utilities Paint Creek Power Plant, was chairman of the rest stop operation.

Among "dignitaries" stopping for refreshment and a coffee break in Haskell were "Miss Abilene," and the first vice president of the Abilene Jaycees, Jaycee Secretary Alton Peiser here reported.

BUICK WILDCAT FOR 1965

The semi-fastback styling of two-door models in Buick's 1965 line is epitomized in the Wildcat with its longer hood, lower, longer roofline and short rear deck. Three inches have been added to the hood by increasing the wheelbase from 123 to 126 inches for improved riding and handling. Overall length remains approximately the same as last year. A new cross-flow radiator design permits lowering the hood line in all models in LeSabre, Wildcat and Electra 225 series. The stainless steel five-spoke wheels shown on the Wildcat are optional equipment. The Wildcat is powered by a 401-cubic inch high compression V-8 engine with four-barrel carburetor. Optional power plants—for outstanding performance—include a 425-cubic inch engine with either one or two four-barrel carburetors. The Super Turbine 400 torque converter transmission or floor-mounted four-speed gear box are optional on the Wildcat.

LETTERS . . .

Mr. Porter Oakes, Editor, The Haskell Free Press, Haskell, Texas

Dear Sir: I am extremely pleased to read on page 2 of attached WING TIP (bi-monthly publication of Texas Aeronautics commission), that Haskell plans to build an Airport and I am hoping that includes the installation of a telephone. Being a former Haskellite it has bothered me to see Haskell pass up the opportunity to attract new industry from lack of air facilities. The present air strip is convenient, but getting into town is another problem. Some of my experiences I fear would discourage a business from locating in Haskell.

Late in the afternoon on Sept. 5th, my wife and I landed at the air strip. There being no tie downs, it took some time and effort to stall in the part of town. I find a telephone people are in time of day. story about 15 minutes. That would be a big for a convenient care an industry. Best wishes forward steps. Very truly yours, Archie L. Jones, 6123 Brook, Houston, Tex.

We changed the Buick a lot this year. And you may never be the same again yourself. We doubt you'll want to be the same. Not once you set eyes on our new Buicks. On the Buick Special and the Skylark. The LeSabre, Electra 225, Riviera. And on the sleek, modified fastback of the wild, wilder, Wildcat in the picture. True, there's a new high-style touch. But that's hardly all. Engineering still has the emphasis. It's a Buick tradition. So are the extras Buick spends a little extra on. Like finned brake drums that do a little better. And smoother drivelines. A tuned suspension to smooth ribcage roads. Now add Buick's Super Turbine transmissions—and you have an idea of what Buick owners have always liked about Buick. We think you'll feel the same.
