

ALSO CLEARS 15 BURGLARIES

Garrett Gets Trio Of Lifters To End Sheriff's Big Day

Never one to rest on his laurels, Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett, who cleared 15 burglaries through an all-day interrogation of one man in Benjamin Tuesday, decided to make one turn around the Courthouse Square here at nightfall.

The brief drive netted him three Negroes wanted for the shoplifting of the Graham Jewelry Store in Comanche, Stephens County, Oklahoma, at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday. The trio was behind bars at Haskell County Jail Tuesday night and 19 items of jewelry, including diamond rings, watches, and transistor radios valued at $2,350 were recovered in a 1956 Cadillac car in which the three were riding.

Sheriff Garrett arrested the three Negroes only minutes after returning from the Knox County seat of Benjamin, where a man identified as Joe J. Weaver, 29, of Haskell, indicted on one burglary charge there, signed statements clearing up 15 burglaries here between mid-December, 1960, and late in 1962, the Sheriff stated.

Making the Square at the end of a busy trades day during which many transients had been in Haskell, Sheriff Garrett, with his son, Don, spotted a Kansas car parked in a no-parking zone in front of the Texas Theater.

Investigation of the car led to the immediate arrest of the driver, Herman E. Bumpers, 46, after the jewelry was discovered in the car. A second Negro was taken in a nearby grocery store where he was purchasing food and a third was taken into custody hiding in a public telephone booth two blocks away. They were identified as Charles Henry Davis, alias Burton, 32, no address given, and Wilbert Jefferson, 34, of New Orleans, La.

Sheriff Garrett's radioed call for assistance in rounding up the pair not in the car brought District Attorney Royce Adkins, Haskell Police Chief Tom Paul Barnett, and Chief Deputy Sheriff Pete Mercer, who speedily closed in "on the double" and rounded up the "third man who had departed the area afoot," Sheriff Garrett reported. He was the one discovered hiding in the phone booth.

All three Negroes were unarmored except for a "screw-driver" the subject in the car had up his sleeve," Garrett said.

A check of the jewelry store in Comanche, Oklahoma, the name of which was found on the boxes containing the rings and watches revealed the shoplifting episode of Tuesday afternoon. Stephens County authorities were en route to Haskell to pick up the trio.

Sheriff Garrett said the 29-year-old Weaver, under examination by him, Texas Ranger Homer T. Melton, of Benjamin, and Knox County Sheriff H. C. Stone signed statements concerning his connection with the burglaries of the following places which netted $200 in mid-December, 1960: I helps Ice Co., Fred Gilliam's Texaco Warehouse, B. B. Gilmore Implement Co., Smitty's Auto Parts, Medford Motor Co., Bill Wilson Motor Co., Bailey Tolver Chev. Co., Richie-Strain International Harvester Co., Jones-Cox Co., and Tom Robertson's Mobil Warehouse.

The man held in Benjamin also admitted to five additional break-ins between early 1960 and 1962 at the Highway Drive-In, Russell Fina Station, Bell Service Station, M. L. Humble Station and Phelps Co. Co. again, with some $250 total cash removed.

Weaver also admitted implication in one Stonewall County burglary, Sheriff Charles Gibson, of Aspermont, reported to Sheriff Garrett.

Sheriff Garrett placed 'hold' warrants on Weaver on all the cases for his return to Haskell following disposition of the Benjamin case.

Even for a West Texas Sheriff, Garrett said late Tuesday, it had been a "long day."

Twelve new members were part in the induction ceremony were Barry O'Neal, Beth Vaughtner, Ruby Kaye Alvis, Judy Kay Sego, Margaret Ann Wall, Karen Brown and Jo Helen Elliott.

Sponsors of the Lon Pate Chapter, Quill and Scroll, are Mrs. Terry Diggs and Mrs. Arlos Weaver.

The sponsors pointed out at the ceremony that "membership in Quill and Scroll, a national honorary society, involves a responsibility which one must not forget—the duty to devote himself to the welfare of the school, and to any other group or community to which he may later belong." They also emphasized that the price of membership is "to be a leader in a real sense," and to be a leader, "one must acquire a background for judging and interpreting the events of the day."

THAT COOL LOOK—is being provided the 600-student Haskell Elementary School through installation of symmetrically set-in evaporative type air conditioners, 19 of them, to cool 19 rooms at the school here. A project of the school P-TA, the project costing $8,500 was begun with $1,000 profit from a Halloween carnival last fall. Rev. Douglas Finch, president of the Haskell Elementary P-TA, said the balance of the funds needed for the job, which is being contributed as a community enterprise, was more than 60 percent complete Monday, and is expected to be fully subscribed by the end of the week. Installation of the air conditioners, which will provide refreshing relief in school rooms when warm weather arrives, is expected to be completed by March 1 by West Texas Utilities, low bidder on the project.

Having heard that a certain well-known citizen recently was presented with the opportunity to take a most lucrative position elsewhere, we inquired if he were goin' or stayin'.

"Stayin'," he answered.

"Figurin' further inquiry into his reason for stayin' might furnish fodder for our continuing effort to boost our town, we asked why."

"Because nowhere is there a better atmosphere for runnin' the dogs or shootin' the bull," he emphatically declared.

You better believe it. We stood aside, as he went to (get) the dogs.

Intimate Report to Colonel and Mrs. Stewart (better known as "L." and Theda, in the vicinity of Heidelberg, Ger. many):

That plutocrat that you left on your folks', the Joe Maples doorstop, some 11 years ago, continues to be the most incorrigible, and lovable animal in existence.

As you know, this extraordinary cat named Inky, is big enough to fear neither man nor beast, and does not. But for some reason, he cannot fathom the wheelchair to which Papa Joe is confined and gives it, and for that reason, the inside of the Maples' house, a wide berth. Now, if Mr. Joe was on top of a rooftop or shinning up a tree, which is par for his course, Inky would be satisfied. But Joe in a wheelchair is not for that cat!

The Maples' temporary loss of Inky has been our gain... at times. We don't mind his tilting his plutocratic nose at all of our fare, save tuna or raw meat, which has unbalanced the budget of the Chameleone-Eyed Spouse.

And when he attacks our backdoor screen in clamoring for entry at 12:30 a. m. much in the manner of the Haskell County Varmint claiming another bovine victim, that's all right, too. The Johnny Carson Show hasn't been over too long anyway.

After Inky is tuna-fed and bedded down on the living room couch atop the car robe spread out for him, which is the only thing on which he will deign to lay his purring torso, we go along with that, too.

But the only thing that has strained our relationship is that long about 3 a. m. we hear a noise like someone running a baseball bat across a steam register in a hotel room. Amid the clatter, springing from our bed to see what's the matter, we discover Inky, a cat with a paw like an air-hammer, drumming the venetian blinds in the living room like Gene Krupa at the pinnacle of his career.

Really, this isn't too alarming either. Distracting, that's all. It's Inky's idea of ringing for "room service." He wants out. And long about 5 a. m., he hits the back door screen again. Wham! He wants back in. But who cares? It's time to get up anyway. Just been a short night, that's all. You see, we have had a cat most of our lives (all nine of 'em). There were five Persians named Peterkin, I through V. Then, there was Slinky, a Siamese, which had some weird habits like Inky, and she was very much a part of our lives for nine

Just Let George . . .

We commend to our readers the stimulating and splendid advertisement about "My Name Is George," appearing elsewhere in this edition of the Free Press.

Upon the scarcity and rarity of "Georges" among us rests the verdict of whether Haskell already has enjoyed its Hey-Day, or whether this exhilarating experience is yet to be.

On Freedom

The thought-provoking lines under "My Name Is George" in the ad in this issue reminds us that freedom is more than a priceless possession to be cherished.

It is a workable way of life to be practiced, a priceless heritage to be preserved, a powerful philosophy to be taught, a descendant of sacrifice that commands our vigilant concern and our disciplined devotion.

Freedom's enemies are waste, and that includes time, lethargy, indifference, immorality, and the insidious attitude of something for nothing.

It is propitious that we think on these things, right here at the grassroots.

"Beatitudes" For the Friends of Our Senior Citizens

This community and area are blessed with an impressive number, far above the average in the state and the nation, of Senior Citizens who have been residing here for many decades.

We cherish, beyond our ability to express, our daily and regular association and affiliation with these lovable ones from whose experience and memories we can extract priceless gems of accurate information on living life in fullest measure.

To our hands has come from two very-dear-to-our-heart Senior Citizens, in turn, who both have far outlived their normal three-score-and-ten, (and we pray they are "here to stay") these sagacious words, which, aptly, could be called "Beatitudes For The Friends of Senior Citizens."

Feeling these thoughts worthy of the attention of us all, we convey them here:

Blessed are they who understand
 My faltering step and palsied hand,
 Blessed are they who know that my ears today
 Must strain to catch the things they say.
 Blessed are they who seem to know
 That my eyes are dim and my wits are slow,
 Blessed are they who looked away
 When coffee spilled at table today,
 Blessed are they with a cheery smile
 Who stop to chat for a little while,
 Blessed are they who never say
 "You've told that story twice today."
 Blessed are they who know the ways
 To bring back memories of yesterdays,
 Blessed are they who make it known
 That I'm loved, respected, and not alone,
 Blessed are they who know I'm at a loss
 To find the strength to carry the Cross,
 Blessed are they who ease the days
 Or my journey Home . . . in loving ways
 Which, may we add, blessed are those who think these thoughts from whose lives so much goodness is wrought.

George Washington, Human Being

"I think I knew General Washington intimately and thoroughly. His mind was great and powerful, without being of the first order; his penetration strong . . . as far as he saw, no judgment was ever sounder. It was slow in operation, being little aided by invention or imagination, but sure in conclusion . . . hearing all suggestions, he selected whatever was best; and certainly no General ever planned his battles more judiciously. He was incapable of fear, meeting personal dangers with the calmest unconcern."

His heart was not warm in its affections; but he exactly calculated every man's value, and gave him a solid esteem proportioned to it.

"On the whole his character was, in its mass, perfect, in nothing bad, in few points indifferent; and it may be truly said, that never did nature and fortune combine more perfectly to make a man great, and to place him . . . in everlasting remembrance."

The above appraisal of George Washington, Father Of Our Country, was written 15 years after his death. The man who wrote it indeed had known Washington well, though only in later life. He had lived and worked close to him, fought him, opposed him, and raised up dissension against him according to the historians. He had angered him, and even resigned in bitterness from his cabinet. His name was Thomas Jefferson.

Yet, the word portrait above, a lot of historians agree, is probably the fairest and most accurate one ever written of Washington.

This was a realist who look the Presidency from a sense of duty at 54 years of age. He had fought to be an American citizen and valued the privilege. Because he was a realist George Washington understood that the future of America lay not wholly along Thomas Jefferson's ideas of social reform. He realized that a strong government, good credit, peace, hard work, and a resumption, under new terms, of the old commercial relationship with Britain would be necessary to her future.

This was not an easy course to follow—nothing in Washington's life was easy—but he made it so.

He would set a stamp on the Presidency that could not be denied for generations.

This was the strong man chained, not a cold man, but a controlled one, not a born aristocrat but a man who gained the aristocracy of achievement, not a gregarious man, but a friendly one, not a common man, but a great one, who set our Nation on its course as no other might have done.

This is the Man, George Washington, Human Being, whose memory we revere on Saturday, which is the 233rd anniversary of his birth in 1732.

Rev. Brown has held prayer meetings within earshot of police gunfire and has ridden trains while angry demonstrators outside hurled rocks through the windows.

With other American missionaries, he remained at his post. Dr. Brown is president of the Ho Nam Theological Institute in Korea. The institute, according to the Rev. Douglas Finch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Haskell, is under the control of the Presbyterian Church in Korea...

He has served as chaplain to the U. S. Army detachment nearby and has represented his mission on the Christian inter-denominational radio station in Kwangju. He is the author of a popular history on Presbyterian work in Korea.

The son of missionaries, Dr. Brown was born in Kuling, China. He received his B.S. degree from Davidson College, his B.D. and Th.D. from Union Theological Seminary in Virginia and his Th.M. from Princeton Theological Seminary. Before going to Korea, he was pastor of two churches in North Carolina. He served four years in the U. S. Army Signal Corps, and is a major in the Chaplain Corps Reserve.

His wife is the former Mary Alexander Hopper, the daughter of missionaries to Korea. They have five children ranging in ages from 19 to 5, and will live in Decatur, Georgia, until their return to Korea in August.

Dr. and Mrs. Brown and their family are on sabbatical leave from Korea for one year.

Dentists Urgently Needed, Dr. Kemp Tells Rotarians

Dr. William J. Kemp, prominent Haskell Boy Scout and civic leader, and one of but 100 civilian dentists in the nation recently picked to attend the U. S. Army Dental Research Institute at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C. this spring, appealed to Rotarians here last week "as parents and grandparents to encourage your young people to follow the dental profession."

The Haskell dentist told his audience there is a crying need for dentists in the smaller communities of the nation, and that this area, in particular, is without the services of members of the dental profession. He cited several area towns with no dentists at all at the present time.

Pointing up the urgency of the need, Dr. Kemp told Haskell Rotarians that programs were being worked out by federal and state agencies in cooperation with dental societies and associations to help defray the expenses of a student undergoing dental training if he would agree to go to a smaller community to begin his practice.

The rule of thumb is that a need exists for, and the community could support, a dentist in any town of 2,000 population and over, Dr. Kemp reported.

The well-known dentist here traced the progress of the dental profession, issued an invitation to parents and grandparents present to have their offspring visit him in his office to kindle interest in choosing the dental profession, and told of the existence of some 48 dental schools in the nation available to adequately train a young man and woman, for this calling.

2 Open Houses Herald Expansion Business Horizon

Haskell is expanding its economic horizons with open houses scheduled for two shipments on the next two successive Saturdays.

All-day events are slated on Saturday, Feb. 22, at the new expanded facility of Woodard Farm Sales west on Highway 24, the Ruler thoroughfare, inside the city limits of Haskell, and on Saturday, Feb. 29, for the opening of a new business, the Richardson Truck and Tractor Company, an International Harvester dealership, located in the old Massey-Ferguson Building here on the Brockmorton Highway, on Haskell's east side.

Horace V. (Woody) Woodard, a Haskell businessman, civic and religious leader for the past 10 years, has erected a new multi-thousand dollar facility just across the street from his former location, which has additional display space, a more complete parts department, and roomier office utility designed especially to serve his customers. He will hold open house all day next Saturday to show area citizens his new plant.

On the following Saturday, Feb. 29, Richardson, an International Harvester Company representative for the past five years, who has spent the past 15 months serving this area, is holding a "Leap Year Day" opening of his new business, from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m., his announced regular store hours.

Equipment displays, refreshments and special courtesies are on the program agenda for both openings.

After completing the business of electing officers, the Barracks and its Auxiliary met in a joint session with the 15th District, Veterans of World War I, commander, W. Roy Davidson, and Mrs. Davidson, of Olney, as honored guests.

"Buddie Roy gave a stimulating talk on the aims and purposes of the World War I organization and outlined plans for the 15th District convention to be held in Munday on May 15. He appealed for a large delegation to attend from Haskell.

The Ladies' Auxiliary served coffee and cake at a social hour following the meeting.

CANCER CENTER VOLUNTEERS PERFORM DEDICATED SERVICE

In a report of work accomplished, dedicated volunteers on duty at the Haskell Cancer Center one afternoon weekly during the past eight months, have delivered 1,848 bandages prepared here for the use of cancer patients in this area.

Additionally, the cancer volunteers at the Center on the third floor of the Haskell County Courthouse, through their own efforts, have obtained and delivered for needy patients' use a hospital bed, mattress and mattress cover, and numbers of rolls of tape and packages of gauze.

Sewing consistently and diligently each Thursday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, from six to 12 volunteers have developed a supply of bandages, sheets, pillow cases, towels and hospital gowns wrapped and ready to be delivered where needed.

However, the simultaneous needs of patients often drains the supply speedily and a call is out always for more used sheets and pillow cases with which to make more necessities for cancer patients, it was reported here Monday.

More volunteers are needed to work, too, and the next sewing session will be at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Volunteers at the last two sessions included Mmes. J. R. Davis, H. Russel, Lee Brown, W. G. Pope, W. E. Brady, R. R. Overton, Jim Darden, Alice Mayes, Perry C. Spenny, J. A. Cain, Jean Jetton and John Brock.

Key Workers In Cancer Crusade Train At Breck

Six leaders of the Haskell County Chapter, American Cancer Society, attended in Breckenridge recently a training meeting for Dist. 13 workers in the coming cancer crusade this spring.

The all-day session in the Woman's Forum Building featured two general meetings and one small groups discussion period.

Mrs. Melvin Vojkufka, of Weimert, one of the Haskell County directors, discussed the American Cancer Society program in Texas on the morning program and outlined 1964 crusade objectives in the climax talk on the afternoon agenda.

Three district directors, Mary Duvall, Charles T. Meadows, M. D., and Mrs. Harvey Baker, had key roles in the training institute.

Barry Moncre, of Abilene, field representative for District 13, presented the fundamentals of crusade organization.

Attending from the Haskell Chapter were Felix Mullino, of Rochester, 1964 crusade chairman for the county; William O. Hoiden, co-chairman in charge of the crusade in the city of Haskell; Mrs. Janice Pace O'Neal, Mrs. Ed Hester, both of Haskell, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Vojkufka, of Weimert.

The Good Earth

Violets are peeping up through the leaves. As the rays of the sun a gay pattern weaves. by MRS. B. F. COBB

February is a good time to plant seed indoors, for an early garden this spring. Vegetables that can be started now are: tomatoes, cabbage, peppers (sweet, hot and ornamental) and egg plants.

Petunia, salvia, coleus, celosia (coxcomb), snapdragons, sweet williams, pinks and carnation, will all bloom this summer if seed are started in flats now.

Any suitable container may be used if there is proper drainage. Seed flats, milk cartons, paper cups and many other containers are used to start new plants.

Place the planted seed in a room with south or east exposure. Keep the plastic over the planter until the seed are two or three inches high. As the nights become warmer remove the plastic a few hours a day. Gradually harden the plants to room temperature, without their protection of plastic. Do not set plants out of doors until danger of frost has passed.

Moist soil should be sprinkled on moist soil, never covered with dirt. Plastic will hold the moisture in, until the seed germinate.

Plant sweet peas and nasturtiums outdoors this month.

DEAR CITIZENS OF HASKELL MY NAME IS GEORGE

I'm an all-around handy man, and I'd like you to feel free to use my services for any and all chores, errands, duties which you may be too busy to perform, or you may not want to get involved in. It might hurt your business or standing in the community.

Any time there's anything that needs doing and you'd rather not, for any reason . . . "YOU JUST LET GEORGE DO IT."

I'll write your Congressman or newspaperman. I'll serve on the school board or city council for you, in your place.

I'll do anything you're too busy to do, or afraid to do, or too pre-occupied to do.

With me around, you can be as lazy as you like, or you can just have fun. The more the merrier, I always say.

My services are available to you for all the tedious, time consuming things which you'd rather duck doing.

If you might lose some business supporting the candidate of your choice, I'll handle it for you if you don't have time to vote—LET OLD GEORGE DO IT!

If you haven't the time for jury duty, I have. If you don't want to accept committee assignments and extra responsibilities anyway, you let George tend to those things.

Maybe I'm not as famous as Khrushchev, but if it hadn't been for me . . . you'd never have heard of him and that goes for Mussolini and Stalin and Hitler, too. I made those guys! And the big time racketeers in the United States— You name 'em, without me those guys would be nothing!

Why do I want to run errands for you? When I'm the guy who runs all these "Big Wheels." Why do I want to run errands for you? Don't you see? I get a kick out of electing Heads of Cities, States and Countries. All these things you used to do before you took up chasing dollars and golf balls and things.

Don't feel like you're imposing. I'm glad to be of service helping you, I'm really helping myself. How do you think I was able to take over and run a third of the world already. Because nobody wanted to bother or to get involved.

THEY SAID, "LET GEORGE DO IT" . . . SO I DID IT.

Now I'm taking over in lots of cities and counties in the good old U. S. A., and I can be in Haskell on very short notice. I figure it's just a matter of time until I'll take over this country, too. I want to thank you for making it possible.

REMEMBER NOW: If there is ever any way in which I can be of help, I'm at your service. You just have fun and don't worry about a thing. I'll do your worrying, too.

Oh yes—I'll bill you later—

Sincerely, GEORGE

By AL HINDS

Our good "Buddy" Mike Campbell and this scribe got to talking the other day about how and where names originate... what's in a name, etc. Of course we all know that a poet once said: "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

Where did names originate? It was back before the Renaissance during the feudal system that surnames began to appear, and many were derived from their vocation, such as Wheelwright, Boatwright, Housewright, Mason and Cooper, a maker of barrels. And there is a Miller, a grinder of grain, and Lacey, in Europe, a stable boy. How did the name Blacksmith originate? Well, a fellow by the name of Smith operated a shop and the coal smoke from his forge kept him so black with soot that he was referred to as Blacksmith. Mike said he knew of one well known Texan whose name was Wagonseller, and it's obvious what his occupation was originally. Jester, a clown in the King's Court. One could go on and on and enumerate many names such as Cartwright, Wheeler, Brewer, Tanner, Sawyer, Glover, Bowman, Turnbow, Skinner, Weaver, Vineyard, Steele, Gardner, Cook, etc.

Indiana University students protested a ban on kissing in the lounge of a woman's dormitory. This reminds me of an old movie, "Kiss and Tell." Guess these kids will just have to "Neck and Shut Up."

Income taxes are due. It's time for car license tags... car inspection deadline date is approaching and the Mrs. Prattler wants some spading done... so Spring must be just around the corner.

If you saw "The Beatles" on the Ed Sullivan show, perhaps you caught the expression on the faces of the Teenagers seated in the audience. From their looks The Beatles certainly wowed 'em. I just could not get all "hepped-up" over the long haired Englanders as did the Prattler's 16-year-old son... but I am sure age had something to do with it. Despite some criticism you will have to admit, to draw the kind of following these four young men have, they evidently have something on the ball. Here is what Ed Sullivan had to say: "The Beatles are four of the nicest kids I ever met, and have endeared themselves to everyone they have met around New York... from disc jockeys to cops and stage hands"... and Mr. Ed went on to say, "I think these kids are very refreshing, and they'll be around a long time." Watch out, for those Beatle Bob Bangs are going to crop-out all over the U.S.A. In fact the fad has already begun to boom.

Have you ever eaten a prune cobbler? When you ask that question, most people will raise their eye-brows and give you that "you must be nuts" look. But anyway if you have never partaken of a good, old juicy, meaty, hearty prune cobbler... then you have certainly missed a treat. How to make it, I don't rightly know, but Mrs. Prattler can turn out one of these cobblers that will make one drool. Served warm, the cobbler is in full glory, and you had better spoon-out generous servings... it demands it, and even then you will want to go back for second helpings.

Cris Hobson said that since the Ranger Rocket goofed and smashed into the moon without pictures he has heard these quips on the subject: "That popular song is no longer 'Blue Moon'... it's now 'Black-and-Blue Moon'... and considering the amount of money it cost for such a shot maybe it should be called 'The Loan Ranger'."

A garden store operator said he didn't bother asking for identification from people who wanted to pay for their purchases by check, because people who like to work in their gardens don't write bad checks.

For Men Only: This Spring, look for stretch to be an important word in all facets of men's fashions... Summer-time formalwear to turn up in very casual fabrics... the surfer look to be an all-over influence on sportswear... the always popular blazer to be more popular and color to add life to male wardrobes.

Thieves cracked two safes in London and got away with more than a million stamps valued by the owners at $700,000... the thieves must have been thinking about this little ditty: "He who steals my purse, steals trash; but he who steals my stamps, steals CASH."

Wallar Overton "Cottonpickers" At Rotary Today

Wallar Overton, decorated U. S. Army officer who served with distinction in the Border Patrol in West Germany, will be the speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Haskell in the Texas Cafe here Thursday noon.

Overton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Overton, of Paint Creek, has re-established residence in that community following separation from the service as a lieutenant in the Army. He is a graduate of Texas A&M University.

An added feature of Haskell Rotary's program Thursday will be an appearance by the "Cottonpickers," a team of seven musical housewives of Rule, who won a talent show in that community "hands down" recently.

Porter Oakes is program chairman.

Lions Set Feb. 27th As Tree Planting Date

Deadline for ordering trees from Haskell Lions is Monday, Feb. 24, so if you have not placed your order, be sure to do so today with Jim Sampson at White Auto, or any member of the club.

At the Tuesday noon day meeting, Chairman Sampson presented each member a button which reads: "I Am A Tree Salesman" and an all-out "tree selling effort" will be made between now and Monday.

Ash, American Elm, Sycamore and Mimosa will be set out for $1.00 each, and pecan trees, 4 to 5 ft., for $3.00 each. Any other variety will be planted and charged at cost.

This is one of the twelve yearly projects carried out by Lions, and response to the program is meeting with fine success. Chairman Sampson, along with co-workers Don Muenzler and Theron Cahill, have named team captains and crews. Trees will be set out next Thursday, Feb. 27.

Residents placing orders for trees are asked to stake the spots on their property where trees are to be planted, in order that the "hole digging" crew will not lose time.

Persons who are not in need of trees to be planted on their property, but who would like to donate a tree, or trees, for this worthy project, are asked to contact any Lion.

Tuesday's Program Hugh Ratliff was program chairman for Tuesday's meeting and presented a film, "The History and Mystery of the Playing Card."

Bill Estep was a guest at Tuesday's session.

Girls' Basketball Playoffs In 14-B Start Here Tonite

Girls' Basketball teams of Paint Creek and Old Glory, which tied for the lead in District 14-B with identical 5-1 records in league play, will start a best two-of-three series for the district championship in the Haskell High School gym Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Both or all three games of the series will be played at this site.

The second game of the series is set for 7:30 p. m. Monday, Feb. 23, and the last tilt, if needed, will be the same hour on Thursday, Feb. 27. It was decided between Paint Creek and Old Glory officials Monday.

Admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults, a lower figure than previously established prices for playoff games, Morrison said.

Winner of this series will meet the winner of the Weinert-Knox City playoffs in District 13-B to determine this area's representative in the regional tournament in Canyon.

Homemakers Here Go to Munday For Nutrition Program

A number of Haskell homemakers made a mass pilgrimage to Munday last week for a consumer program, "The Key to Good Nutrition," staged there at 2 p. m. in the American Legion Building.

Dr. Marie Wilmet, head of the Department of Home Economics, Abilene Christian College, was the featured speaker for this program, first of a series covering meal planning, food management, and buying, and also the selection and use of table appointments. The second meeting of the series is scheduled for March 11.

Haskell County homemakers are expected to participate throughout the series of programs which are being sponsored by the Food and Nutrition Subcommittee of the Knox County Program Building Committee, with Mrs. Arnold Navratil, chairman, according to S. C. Kinsey, county home demonstration agent.

One Crash Mars January Safety Record In County

Haskell County and the two counties flanking it, east and west, Throckmorton and Stone, will, may have established a motor vehicle safety record during January, according to statistics released here by Sergeant Frank Jircik, Texas Highway Patrol supervisor headquartered here.

A single accident involving no personal injuries and property damage of $900 occurring in Haskell County was the only blemish on the perfect safety scores of the entire 3-county area.

Sergeant Jircik's report, showing accident statistics from 29 counties in state highway patrol district 5, showed only Throckmorton and Stone-county with perfect records. King and Dickens counties joined Haskell in getting by with but one accident during the month of January.

This record is all the more unusual because it was racked up in January, a month when weather and poor visibility usually team to make driving conditions more hazardous, of officials pointed out.

In the 29 West Texas counties as a whole in January, 14 persons died in motor mishaps, and 157 were injured.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

TOURISM ... its value to you

America is on the road... going places... seeing things. Texas had 9.6 million out of state visitors in 1963 who spent $471 million plus $24 million in direct state taxes. As an example in WTU territory, more than 100,000 last year visited Big Bend National Park (pictured above).

A mere eight tourist cars a day that stop in a community is the equivalent of an added $100,000 annual payroll. Travel and tourism in Texas will grow even faster because of vastly increasing tourist promotion on both the state and local level. This makes tourism of value to every community in the WTU service area, and one of our major economic factors.

Many communities are benefiting from tourism as one of the important PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS. These communities are:

1. Developing tourist attractions (even a rodeo or county fair is a "tourist attraction").
2. Building facilities to care for tourists and other travelers no matter where they are headed (Alpine's Ponderosa Restaurant, pictured left, is one of many such facilities).
3. Creating facilities for the growing number of business and family non-vacationing travelers who fill the highways day after day.

That is why we suggest that you evaluate the importance of tourism to you, and consider seriously how your community can benefit from it.

WTU is proud to be a part of your community
