Childress, Garrett Winners: Runoff Set In Precinct 3

Mrs. Norma Jean Childress

Garth Garrett

Mrs. Norma Jean Childress, 25-year-old native of Rule, defeated incumbent Elizabeth Stewart, of Haskell, and Sam Johnston, of O'Brien, without a runoff to secure the nomination as tax assessor-collector of Haskell County to highlight voting here Saturday.

In other races, the incumbent sheriff was returned to office, a state senatorial office candidate, who withdrew weeks ago, but whose name was still on the ballot, polled 1,049 votes, and runoffs developed in a commissioner's and constable race.

A former employe of Litton Industries, the Federal Government and Ada Oil Co., Norma Jean Childress, received a total of 1854 votes, while the incumbent, Mrs. Stewart, got 933, and Johnston, 714, to give Mrs. Childress nomination to the tax assessor-collector's office.

Incumbent Garth T. Garrett received 1988 votes to 1582 for his opponent, J. R. (Skeeter) Miller, thus assuring Garrett a second term.

One of the oddities of the election was the number of votes Keith C. Wheatley, of Haskell, received in a 14-county 24th District State Senator's race. Although he had withdrawn, his name still appeared on the ballot, and the voters of Haskell County gave him 1,049 votes. Wheatley polled some 700,000 votes in a railroad commissioner's race statewide two years ago. David Ratliff, incumbent State Senator, of Stamford, received 2,118 votes in the county.

In other county races, Louie Kuenstler, co-mmissioner of Prec. 3, faces a runoff with Johnnie Earles. Kuenstler received 176 votes, Earles 167. J. R. (Ray) Perry, received 80.

There were 3,458 votes cast in the county in the Democratic election, 458 more than two years ago.

In the 13th District Congressional balloting, unopposed incumbent Graham Purcell, of Wichita Falls, received 3,456 votes, all but two of the total number. In the state races, Gov. Connally, Lt. Governor Preston Smith, Ralph Yarborough and Rep. Joe Pool led 2-0-1.

Nellie Crouch, Pioneer Citizen, Dies At 79

Miss Nellie Crouch, 79, a pioneer citizen of Haskell, who came here in 1906, died at 6 a. m. Wednesday in Rice Springs Nursing Care Home, where she had been a resident for six months.

Funeral services will be held at the First Methodist Church here at 4 p. m. Thursday with the Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Willow Cemetery under direction of Holden's Funeral Home.

Born September 20, 1884, near Hearne, Texas, Mrs. Crouch came to Haskell with her brother, Oscar, and other members of the L. M. Crouch family from Robertson County. A longtime member of the Methodist Church, she never married and lived for many years at the farm home of her brother, W. Pearl Crouch, west of town. She moved to 296 North Third Street in Haskell when he died in 1953.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Imogene Bishop of Hearne and Mrs. Lina Graham, a resident of a care home in Houston.

Her only surviving Haskell relative is O. L. Crouch, a nephew.

1964 Cancer Crusade 'Way Over The Top!

An all-time record for generous support of a cancer campaign has been established as total contributions to the 1964 Cancer Crusade in Haskell County soared to $3394.37 here Tuesday, almost $400 above the goal, Felix Mullino, of Rochester, general chairman, reported.

The 1964 crusade chairman said that several communities still have funds to turn in and he felt sure the totals would exceed the $3500 mark. The previous cancer crusade high in Haskell County was $2885 received in 1962.

More than half the county's total contributions came from the town of Haskell where a spirited house-to-house campaign conducted by Cancer Crusade women volunteers, as has been the case over most of the rest of the county, has netted $1817.01 to date.

W. O. (Bill) Holden, Haskell civic leader and funeral direc-

or, has directed the drive in this community. Mullino reiterated and re-emphasized Tuesday an earlier declaration of appreciation for the work of "dedicated women volunteers who have made this astounding record for our county possible."

Some $800 to $900 of the cancer crusade contributions resulted from special gifts solicitations directed by Mrs. Janice Pace O'Neal, of Haskell.

A summary of 1964 Cancer Crusade totals by towns includes: Haskell, $1817.01; Rochester, $551.75; Weinert, $269; Rule, $252.00; Mattson, $114.50; O'Brien, $200; and Sagerton, $133.50.

Final totals on the outstandingly successful crusade should be in by the end of the week, Chairman Mullino announced in expressing his "deep gratitude for the exemplary work of all these volunteers."

Chief topic of conversation around here with the election and the golf tournament over, has been, "Well, do you think it will? It probably won't though."

We hope it has by the time you read this. We NEED it.

The best we have been able to tell, our longtime friend, Columnist Supreme Glenn Shelton, wrote five columns ahead for his Wichita Falls newspapers in order to honor us with his presence in Haskell over the weekend, and to take part in our golf tournament!

When Syllable Slinger Shelton, he of the pungent paragraphs, went two down after 48 holes on our golf course for two days, he still was two columns up back at the newspaper. We are anxious to see if he survived, and will be able to tell, of course, if there are any post-Haskell columns. It was a thrill to have him and his Brown Eyed Spouse, Elsie, and also the Charles Clines, here for our big sporting event. Never saw such a wholesale collection of SPORTS gathered in one place around here.

And the barbecue was scrumptious. Mobley, Feemster, Pippin and Company did themselves proud in behalf of the divot diggers, buffs and duffers.

Our fellow fourth estate, Shelton, no slouch on the tee box, says he is a victim of his own publicity. He has set himself up as a lover of beans, and a connoisseur thereof, by his frequent reference to them in his writings. So what does he get when he goes visiting? Beans, of course. That's what happened to him here. "Steak?" says Shelton. "Never."

Newspapermen's lives, like those of doctors, are rather eventful. It soon will be 20 years since the Pencil Pusher first met his columnist cohort visitor of last weekend. Although we both have been blessed in our business with the privilege of hearing explanations and dissertations by the learned, and not so learned, on many constellations of subjects in the firmament of knowledge, we haven't heard any suitable answer to the puzzler, "How does time slip away?"

Shelton and the Pencil Pusher agreed that it's a sure sign of "gettin' on up there" when, to save your life, you can't explain what went with the years.

Three events in the news this week can give all of us, whose tread is wearing thin, heart, and hope, however. Harry (Pepper Pot) Truman turns 80 tomorrow, and not on the golf course. He is still givin' 'em you know what.

And Bing Crosby, the Ol' Groaner, racked up Birthday Number 60. He became a fa-

Besides all that, the latest scoop in the fashion world is that the style of the "Gibson Girl," made universally famous by the American artist, Charles Dana Gibson, in the early 1900's, will be back with a flourish this year. In London this week, the experts from all over gave roaring approval to a return to high style of black and gray striped flannel dresses, long tight sleeves and deep V-necks filled with pin tucked buttoned gilets. Frills at the neck, elbow length sleeves and out-sized "Tom Jones" velvet hair bows complete the picture.

So who cares about tempus fugit? We go for the Gibson Girl type anyway. By transposing two numbers in the series it takes to make a phone call to Ratliff and Ratliff, attorneys, one gets the Charles Connors. We frequently make this mistake, except that when you get Mrs. Conner on the phone, it's not a mistake. This refreshing lady provides a lift for the care-worn every time you hear her voice. Last time we apologized for our error, Mrs. Conner says, "That's all right, if it's a lawyer you're seeing, you probably need flowers."

We heard two young men weighing the merits and demerits of being drafted against the same with respect to marriage, which is a course one may take to escape military service these days. "But the

Nor any part of the United States, Haskell included. Charity begins at home.

Are We Destined to Remain . . . A 'Day Late-Dollar Short' Town?

We're not trying to run down our town, nor will we ever. But must we always be dragged into community development, driven to it, rather than do the normal thing like taking the initiative in behalf of community progress?

We couldn't help but laugh, with tears in our eyes, at what we read in the Haskell Free Press of 60, yes SIXTY, years ago this week, an excerpt which appears in the May 7, 1904, "Haskell County History" elsewhere in this edition.

It said: "We are reliably informed that NOT ANOTHER TOWN IN THIS SECTION OF THE STATE THE SIZE OF HASKELL IS UNINCORPORATED AND WITHOUT A CREDITABLE SCHOOL BUILDING. Some of the school buildings have cost AS MUCH AS $20,000, as in the case of Seymour. Haskell should erect a school building that will be a credit to the intelligence and the enterprise of her people."

"Things haven't changed much at all in dear ol' Haskell, have they? In 1904, the town was lagging behind in the matter of incorporation, and in the construction of a decent school building . . . because it might cost a few dollars . . . dollars that would come back a hundredfold as a result of the development the necessary municipal improvements would bring.

In 1964, sixty years later, Haskell is lagging behind for the same reason. Our need for an adequate, palatable water supply to encourage and stimulate industrial development, growth, prosperity is desperate. But, as in 1904's state of unincorporation and inadequate school building, our town's lack of a PUBLIC APPROVED WATER SUPPLY is glaringly noticeable. And we are singularly alone in lacking what most other towns have.

In the years in between, because it has a reputation for being "slow on the uptake," Haskell, we understand, had to fight the hard way to get its streets paved and had a situation almost as bitter as the interminable water battle before the die-hards admitted it was necessary to pave them.

And it lost its chances to put a state teacher's college here, because it probably meant the local citizens might have to put up a proportionate share of the funds it would take to erect a physical plant to house those students, who would have poured hundreds of thousands, yea millions, of dollars into the mainstream of this community's business life.

And it lost the Cowboy Reunion to Stamford for another reason showing a lack of foresight which was revulsive.

And we happen to know that if we can but resolve our water problem, obtaining enough and on time, our chances are excellent for some stimulating economic development here. BUT NOT UNTIL.

One month ago today, a Mayor and City Council were given a mandate by Haskell citizens returning them to office on a platform advocating a surface water supply, i. e., at Lake Stamford.

In a post-election visit to the Free Press, which we appreciated, Mayor Walling said he "always have been for Lake Stamford. I said when I ran in 1960 I was for it."

Queried about when he was going to do something about it, his answer was, "These things take time." We know these things take time, Mr. Mayor. That being the case, why don't we get about the City's announced business, of seeking an adequate surface water supply? And the people deserve to know the steps, one by one, as they are taken.

What steps have been taken, by the way? Do the people know that going to Lake Stamford, even if successful, would entail as much effort, from a standing start, as has been put into the Miller's Creek project? Do the people know that not only the City of Stamford, but West Texas Utilities, and the Texas Water Commission, and the City of Hamlin, and who knows "who all else" ALL would have to give their blessing to this source of water should Haskell be allowed it?

Let's face the issues for the sake of the people and the future of this town, and face them NOW, Mr. Mayor and Members of the City Council. We are seeing some ominous signs on our economic horizon, and we need to move IN BEHALF OF DEVELOPMENT. If we can't go to Stamford, and who says we can, then let's get with, and solve, this urgent water problem!

Or, shall we continue to invite correspondence such as we had the dubious distinction to receive this week? It came from Dallas, and is such a remarkably tasteful (again we're laughing with tears in our eyes) testimonial to Haskell's public image, to-wit:

"Page, 68 of the May Reader's Digest reads as follows: 'At a town meeting of businessmen in Memphis, a councilman from a small neighboring town was asked what he thought was outstanding about his town. 'Gentlemen,' he replied, 'We have done the best job of resisting progress of any town in the United States.'"

This observer from Dallas wrote, "When I read that, I THOUGHT OF HASKELL, and ranked it next in line. Or maybe it leads?"

Well, Mr. Mayor, Members of the City Council, we ask again, what's your pleasure?

There is an increasing need around here to shake our lethargy and do some things "that will be a credit to the intelligence and enterprise of our people."

is scorching foliage, as if it were hit with frost. Spirits get very low during a long dry spell. It is well to remember that no matter how black the cloud, the sunshine always follows.

There are several ways of preserving moisture during a prolonged drought. Deep watering is essential. If plants are watered lightly, tiny roots will come up to meet that moisture; then when the wind dries the upper soil, the roots seeking a drink, wither and die. Plants shed their lower leaves or they curl up and turn brown.

A heavy mulch of well dried grass clippings or any well dried foliage will help preserve moisture. Black plastic is a very good mulch. It can be obtained in small or large amounts. The larger rolls are cheaper. As the wind has been so high lately, the plastic should be well anchored.

A layer of common newspaper spread over the wet soil and covered with a layer of dry soil, will hold moisture for as much as two weeks.

In using grass clippings for a mulch, be sure to dry thoroughly before spreading around trees, shrubs or flowers. If spread on green they often rot. Also green vegetation robs the soil of nitrogen as it decays.

Above everything else, let's not get discouraged. We will likely lose some plants, but there are a few hardy ones that always survive the driest of springs. Once we have rain, the "good earth" will blossom again and we will all be filled with new zeal to garden more than ever.

Stewart let down the Lions with three bingles. Stone was the losing hurler in the Lion cause. Pitman was the Tiger catcher. Rodriguez was the other half of the Lion battery.

Tuesday night, Manager Bill Reeves' Rams grounded Cliff Morris' Hawks 8 to 1 behind the 5-hit pitching of Jircik. The Hawks' errors were costly, although Crouch gave up but three hits. ### BUCK EVERETT'S COOL HEAD AND HOT PUTTER WINS TITLE

Patience, perseverance, a cool head, and a hot putter paid off with the title in the fourth annual Haskell Invitational Golf Tournament for Buck Everett.

The rural mail carrier, who plays almost every day on the par-71 layout, slipped past Don Wilson, a former North Texas State links star from Mineral Wells, by a one-up margin to claim his initial championship.

His previous best finish had come a this same tournament two years ago when he bowed in the finals to Abilene's Johnny South.

Earlier in the day Sunday, Buck put down the threat of fellow townsman, R. C. Couch Jr., in a semi-finals grueling 1-up effort.

While Wilson was waxing hot and cold (getting six birdies and seven bogies), the local linkster remained steady and strayed over par on only three occasions.

The eventual difference in the down-to-the-wire match came on the 16th and 17th holes where Wilson's putter, which had blazed red-hot all day, suddenly went astray and he missed a pair of 3-foot putts.

Wilson had established himself as the definite favorite with his fine showing in taking out defending champion Travis Horton Saturday and in beating Bill Moss of Seymour in the semi-finals with a five-under-par performance.

However, Everett, who had barely slipped past three earlier foes, jumped off to a two-up lead with pars on the third and fifth holes.

Wilson then knocked in birdies on five of the next six holes, winning three of them, to move into the lead.

A bogey four at the third by Wilson knotted the match again and he dropped an 11-footer for a bird at the 400-yard 14th.

It looked promising for the long-hitting Wilson at this point. Both golfers missed the green on the 180-yard 15th but Everett was able to tie the match by sinking an 11-footer for a par.

The 16th was easily the turning point in the match. Both golfers drove into the rough and Everett scooped his approach. Wilson also missed the green but chipped within three feet after Everett had placed his third about 14 feet away.

It seemed that Wilson would go one-up when Everett's putt went past the hole. But the tricky green proved to be just that and the Mineral Wells golfer missed, having to settle for a tie.

On the 326-yard 17th, Wilson's approach shot went over the green while Everett's landed about 15 feet past the cup. Wilson chipped to within three feet and Everett's birdie try lipped out.

Wilson then pushed his short par putt off to the right and then Everett coaxed his 18-inch putt in, which almost stopped on the lip.

Both golfers hit the 18th green in regulation figures. After Everett had placed his 15-footer about 18 inches above and past the hole, Wilson studied his 15-footer very carefully but it turned off at the hole and he had to settle for a par.

With the championship riding on the outcome, Everett took his time and canned the short par putt for the victory.

Ranch Tour Set On Saturday At Throck Facility

Texas Farmers and ranchers will get a first-hand look at the results of much of the research being carried out at the Texas Experimental Ranch in Throckmorton County during a tour of the facilities near here next Saturday, May 8, Frank W. Martin, Haskell County Agent, has announced.

The Texas Section of the American Society of Range Management is sponsoring the tour.

The ranch, which is a part of the Texas A&M University system, is located 10 miles north of Throckmorton on U. S. Highway 282. Entrance to the ranch is on the west side of the highway.

The theme for this year's tour is Research to Practice, and will feature ways in which research may be put into practice on individual farms and ranches, small or big spreads.

The May 8th program will begin at 9 a. m. with a tour of the ranch to let visitors see grazing management projects and other research now in progress. The afternoon program will consist of two discussion periods.

The first will be about results of grazing management research carried out on the ranch. W. J. Waldrip, research leader at the ranch, will lead this discussion. Later in the afternoon, a discussion of brush control research on the Rolling Plains will be conducted by Earl D. Robison, of the Rolling Plains Livestock Research Station at Spur.

Anyone desiring additional information about the May 8th program should contact his nearest county agent's office, Martin said.

Bill Overton Is "Most Talented" At Fort Polk, La.

Pvt. William Ted (Bill) Overton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. (Gene) Overton, of Paint Creek, recently was presented an award as "Most Talented Soldier" at a dress review at his base, Fort Polk, La.

The basic soldier from Paint Creek, who entered the Army in February from a teaching position at Garland, a short time prior to his surprise receipt of the award, had appeared in several competitions with talented servicemen from other posts. He survived all the eliminations, and was judged the winner.

The Paint Creek native, who is on leave from his Garland teaching post, is a singer and baritone ukelele and piano player much in demand as an Officers' Club entertainer, and at civic and service functions over a wide area. He soon will appear in an all Fourth Army Talent Show. His original song, "The Idea of Texas," is among the most popular in his repertoire.

Overton, who entered the service on February 21, completed basic training recently and spent a brief leave here and attending performance of a children's play he wrote now being featured in Dallas Theatre 3. The play has had a popular run with two Saturday matinee performances in Dallas for the past several weeks.

Prattle

By AL HINDS

A hard fall should mean a high bounce if one is made of the right material.

It's pretty evident that our 2-year-old grandson, Scott Allen, is going to be a politician. That child can say more things that sound good and mean absolutely nothing, than any child I've ever seen.

Prattler's Prophecy: Women's styles will change. Men will make fun of the changes and continue to admire the women. Church and Sunday School will be held weekly at the usual hours, and it would be a good thing if more people attended. Weddings and babies will continue to be popular. July will be warmer than February.

Food for Thought: About the time you learn to make the most out of life, most of it is gone.

It isn't the number of hours a man puts in, it's what a man puts in the hours that count.

Powder, by no means is a new invention. Ladies, if your beauty depends on your face powder, women in 4000 B. C. probably looked as pretty as you do. There isn't much difference between the Egyptian siren's face powder and that used by women of today. Egyptian hieroglyphic translations from the year 4000 B. C. indicate that women were busy with their powder puffs, or the Egyptian equivalent, even then.

the following story I can not say, but this is the way I heard it: It seems that when Glenn Shelton, Wichita Falls Record News columnist, was learning to play golf, he hardly knew the difference between a club and a ball. The club professional, taking pity on him, hastened to offer his council and instruction. Teeing the ball up, the pro demonstrated the proper method of driving. "See that flag over there?" the pro asked Glenn. "Yes," said Glenn. "Well, take this club and hit the ball toward the flag," continued the pro. "All right," agreed Glenn. And then, wonders of wonders, Glenn made a perfect drive onto the green within two feet of the cup. "What do we do now?" asked Glenn. "We walk to the ball," said the pro. The pro and Glenn tramped the distance to the green. "Now," said the professional, "hit the ball into the cup." "Now?" queried Glenn. "Sure," continued the pro. Suddenly the face of Glenn looked chagrined. "Now he tells me," blurted Glenn. "Why didn't you tell me you wanted the ball hit into the cup when I teed off?" Glenn, we appreciate your presence during the golf tourney in Haskell last weekend.

The thief of time robs us of a lot of accomplishments.

People like those who like them; who remember their names; who appreciate their good qualities; who are interested in the same things, and who are willing to be helpful. People like to feel important, to grant favors, to be asked for advice, to have their wants considered and to talk about their interests. Finding a common ground is always the first step toward improving human relations—those few words of wisdom written by Carl Holmes would mean a lot to us, if we would put them into practice.

Still wondering: Several years ago everybody was singing, "Open the Door, Richard," and everywhere you would go, Kiroy had been there first. I never did learn whether Kiroy settled down, or if Richard ever opened the door.

One of the biggest problems facing the world today is the restoration of faith. We no longer trust each other, honesty and frankness are at a premium; faith and confidence have tended to disappear. "I trust nobody" increasingly characterizes modern society; the sense of insecurity in human relationship is widespread. Fear haunts us; fear of being taken-in; fear of sticking our necks out, fear of this, fear of that.

A lot of talk is heard these days about the younger generation. I heard a couple of fellows talking the other day about the younger folk and one of them commented that the only thing he could find wrong with the younger generation was the fact that he didn't belong to it.

I remember the time I didn't speak to the wife for three days. I was just too darn polite to interrupt her.

I don't want the readers of this column to get the impression I am a "yes man", because I am definitely not. You see, when the Missus says "no" I say "no," too.

Wouldn't life be more happy if we praised the good we see? For there's such a lot of goodness in the worst of you and me.

Coronation...

Another peak moment was the announcement of the designation of Miss Andrea Baird as drum major of the band for 1964-65. The majorettes who will serve with her, it was announced, will be Zena Basing, Donna Renfro, Lochie Foote, Tony Patterson and Donna Josselot.

Also recognized at the annual band recognition event were the following band members who gained all-district this year: Dennis Rueffer, baritone; Robert Speer, french horn; Ken Barnett, cornet; Judy Anderson, cornet; and Randy Wiseman, trumpet.

Singled out for their superiority in the UIL First Division competition were Wayne Caldenhead, trombone; Harold Ivy, cornet; and a clarinet quartet comprised of Margaret Cook, Jo Nell Anderson, Pamela Druessedow and Bobby Kimbrough.

The reigning Miss Norton includes music as one accomplishment among many. She is president of Quill and Scroll, honorary journalist society, editor of the Totem, high school magazine, and member of the Owl Club, a librarians' organization. She has been an all-district selection as a Band-member for the past two years, has served on the staff of the War Whoop, high school newspaper, and is secretary-treasurer of the Senior Class.

Coronation ceremonies, in which Wayne Caldenhead, Dennis Rueffer, David Follstaedt, Robert Speer, Gene Hester and Randy Wiseman, joined Band President Jimmy Bynum in serving as escorts, climaxed a particularly ambitious program of musical fare reflecting long and diligent rehearsals for many weeks.

Roark Barnes, band director, had the baton for this annual "state event" for the Haskell High School Band. A fast-moving series of 10 selections from the work of Kenny, Yoder, Tschakowsky, McBeth and Cavas stirred the spectator filled gymnasium for almost two hours.

The coronation concert-goers left the hall here Saturday night feeling they had observed and heard a pinnacle "command performance."

Lions Mop And Broom Sale Set Friday, May 15

Lions project for May is the annual mop and broom sale which is set for Friday May 15. County Clerk Bill Reeves, chairman, announced today that anyone who would like to place their order for the mops, brooms, etc., prior to the sale, may do so by calling his office at the courthouse (864-2481), and he would be glad to accept the order.

Lions will be working the downtown area Friday morning, May 15, and the residential section during the afternoon.

Funds obtained from the sale will not only benefit the Texas Light House for the blind, but will also support local worthy projects, such as the "Goodfellow Fund" to help less fortunate families in Haskell at Christmastime.

President elect, Frank Martin, presented the National Arion Foundation's Musical Achievement Award to Miss Margaret Ann Wall, at the band coronation concert Saturday night, May 2. This award is presented yearly by the Haskell Lions Club.

At the officers and directors meeting Tuesday morning, plans for the mop and broom sale were discussed.

Tuesday night, June 30, was set for the Lions Ladies Night Banquet and installation of the 1964-65 officers. Wallace Cox Jr., Bill Estep and Al Hinds were named to work out plans and obtain a speaker for the annual event.

Officers and directors also sanctioned the idea of holding the Tuesday, May 19, noon-day meeting at the Legion Hall, at which time Highway 277 plans will be aired.

Tuesday's Program

Jim Kemp, Susan Wainseott, Ronda Woodard, Karen Tippen from the Elementary School, and Jeanette Glass, Sheila Gilliland and Lucy Kennedy, Junior High students, under the direction of Mrs. Hubert Bell, presented a very entertaining musical program at the Tuesday session.

Travis Smith, Elementary School Principal, introduced Mrs. Bell, who in turn introduced her music pupils.

C. O. Holt was program chairman for the day. Bea Trice, of Stamford, was noted as a guest at Tuesday's meeting.

Republicans Here Favor Goldwater; 11 Votes Are Cast

Only 11 Republicans voted during Saturday's primary in only one Republican box, and Goldwater received nine of those ballots. The other two votes cast in the non-binding presidential preference balloting went as write-ins for Richard Nixon.

In the U. S. Senatorial race, Jack Cox received seven votes, George Bush, 2, and Robert Morris, 2.

All other candidates whose names appeared on the Republican ballot received 11 votes each.

Jaycees Hold 'Big Board' Meet On Courthouse Lawn

Haskell Jaycees installed and operated a large vote tabulation board on the south side of the Courthouse here Saturday night, with the organization's Americanism Committee in charge of the project.

As soon as reports began coming in from Haskell County's 17 boxes after the polls closed at 7 p. m. Saturday, Jaycees manned the board to post totals received at the office of County Clerk W. W. (Bill) Reeves inside the Courthouse.

James Franklin, Allen Rieves, Waymon McBroom, Bill Tomlinson, Oris Gibson and others took turns keeping the board posted up to the minute as tabulations are received, until all the returns were in.

The voting scoreboard long has been popular in Haskell, attracting huge crowds to the Courthouse Square here, and last Saturday night was no exception.

Olney Man Bests Wooten, Frierson For "High Gun"

In a registered trapshooting contest, in which more than 2,000 clay discs were shattered, Bill Womack, of Olney, emerged "high gun" with a 141x150 score after being dogged by tough luck in seeking victory in individual events at the Haskell Gun Club layout Sunday.

The 16-yard singles event was settled with Wallace Wooten, Haskell Gun Club president, the winner, only after a shootout with Womack and Billy Middlebrook, of Paint Creek. The trio were tied at 48x50 on the regular run.

Class C singles was won by a junior shooter from Megargel, Mike Hayter, who posted a 45x50 score.

David Frierson, of Haskell, downed Womack in a handicap shootout after both were deadlocked at 49x50.

Again Womack knotted the score in a doubles match with Wooten for a 44x50 tie. Wooten took this event in the shootout after 12 pairs of double pigeons had been "aired."

The only shootout Womack escaped was the high gun which his consistent composite scores enabled him to win "hands down."
