COURAGEOUS MOTHER SAVES CHILD FROM RATTLESNAKE

A Haskell County mother, armed with courage and a vacuum cleaner handle, was credited by doctors and hospital authorities here Saturday with saving the life of her 3-year-old son, bitten and hemmed in by a rattlesnake on a 3x4 foot back porch "stoop."

Mrs. C. L. Stamper, of the Mattson community, 10 miles northeast of Haskell, went to the rescue of her son, Derrell, by parrying the second thrust of a two-foot long rattler with a vacuum cleaner handle, sending it sidwinding several yards away about dusk. Barking of two pet dogs attracted her to the child's plight.

Observing immediately the venom-spattered bite of the rattler in the calf of her son's leg, she whipped off the belt around her waist and applied a tourniquet. Rushing the child to Haskell County Hospital, the parents, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holt, who live 100 yards from the Stammers, joined physicians in an all-night vigil with the boy.

A. J. (Cotton) Foster, Haskell County Hospital administrator, quoted an attending physician as saying the application of the tourniquet by the mother and fending off the aroused snake saved the life of her son. Mrs. Stamper is the former Brookside Nell Holt.

The boy, his body swollen from waist to toes, was resting comfortably Sunday. He was released from the hospital Monday. Residents of the Mattson Community, with a score to settle, still were looking Sunday for the rattler that got away.

J. W. Culpepper, Former Resident, Succumbs At 69

Funeral services for J. W. (Woodie) Culpepper, 69, a Haskell County resident from 1919 until 1944, and father of a Haskell resident, were held at 2:00 p. m. Sunday in the East Side Baptist Church of Haskell, with Rev. L. D. Regeon, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Willow Cemetery here under direction of Holden Funeral Home. Mr. Culpepper, a resident of Littlefield for six months, died in Medical Arts Hospital there at 5:30 p. m. Friday. He had been in the hospital nine days.

He was a retired Haskell County farmer and had been a highway maintenance employee in the Carlbad, N. M. and Littlefield area prior to his illness.

Born Nov. 15, 1894, at In-crescent, Mississippi, near Meridian, Mr. Culpepper was the son of the late Maude Carlisle and T. J. Culpepper.

Married June 22, 1918, to the former Maude Spurlin, Mr. Culpepper and his wife moved in 1919 from Bosque County to Haskell County near Rule, where they farmed until 1944. From Haskell County, the Culpeppers moved to Port Arthur, and later to Carlbad, N. M. Mrs. Culpepper died December 19, 1948.

Mr. Culpepper married Addie Chappell, who survives him, in Carlbad, on June 20, 1953. A veteran of World War I. (See J. W. Culpepper, Page 10)

AN EDITORIAL— We Can Do No Less

Haskell citizens who own property in town vote tomorrow on whether they want to get $254,000 worth of street improvements inside the city limits on State Highway 24 for $40,000.

The approval of this comparatively light bond issue is of utmost importance to the development of this community, and will allow Haskell to keep pace with the progress that swirls around us on all sides. It will enhance the flow of traffic through our city. It can be done without the imposition of any additional tax burden on the citizens, our Mayor and City Council have declared. And it can be done within the present right-of-way east to west through town, and therefore, does not touch, or cut into, the properties of any of the owners along the route.

Experience has taught us that highway improvements and paving programs invariably serve as stimulating incentives for enhancement of the value and additional development of the areas they serve.

Citizens of Haskell can do no less than approve of this necessary improvement program by a whopping majority at the polls tomorrow.

Haskell citizens owning taxable property within the city limits rendered for taxation will be qualified to vote tomorrow in a $40,000 bond election for street improvements along State Highway 24 within the city limits.

Mayor J. E. Walling, Jr., and members of the City Council here, in a called session on Sept. 17, in which representatives of several civic organizations participated, set Friday, October 16, as date for election.

The $40,000, Mayor Walling has explained, would be Haskell's share of a highway widening program recently authorized by the Texas Highway Commission. Estimated cost of the state's share in resurfacing and widening the 2.2 mile long project from east to west city limit in Haskell, which is on the Throckmorton-Rule highway, is $214,000.

"In other words," said the Haskell Mayor, "the City of Haskell will be getting $254,000 worth of street improvements for only $40,000."

The only polling place will be the Haskell City Hall, and hours of the election will be 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Virgil Somma-maker has been named presiding judge at the polls, and Charlie Quattlebaum, alternate presiding judge.

After consulting at the called Council meeting on Sept. 17 with Murray Moore, of Murray Moore Associates, Dallas bonding firm which has handled Haskell's municipal bond business for more than 20 years, city officials here were told Haskell "is in excellent financial condition," according to Mayor Walling.

Moore recommended that 20 year bonds could be sold at an interest rate not to exceed 4 per cent to obtain the funds to provide the city's responsible participation, which is for curb and gutters in the state highway project.

The bonds can be voted, and the money obtained, "without raising taxes and without disturbing the property of any owner along the projected improvement route," declared Mayor Walling.

A 75-foot right-of-way has been existent ever since State Highway 24 has been put through Haskell. Only 64 of the 75 feet will be affected by the proposed program, it was pointed out, allowing the entire widening process to be "set in" the present right-of-way.

Mayor Walling added that the project when finished, "will allow room enough for two lanes of moving traffic, with parking on either side from city limit to city limit in Haskell."

West Texas Utilities and the General Telephone Company of the Southwest have agreed to set back their facilities without cost as their contribution to the development project.

Representing civic clubs at the City Council session were Harold Spain, Lions' Club and Chamber of Commerce; Jesse Priest, Haskell Jaycees; and Desmond Dulaney, Rotary Club.

UNITED WAY "FEVER" STARTS TO SOAR—Nolan Lees, left, commercial artist, who painted the United Fund thermometer here, asked Allen Rieves, right, president of the Haskell United Fund, if he could be the first contributor to the 1964 campaign. DEWITT GREER PLEDGES CLOSE STUDY HWAY 277 EXPANSION

State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer discussed the feasibility and possibility of a four lane highway from Anson to Wichita Falls in a conference held in Wichita Falls last Friday with representatives of the U. S. Highway 277 Assn.

Greer said he would reserve his judgment concerning the practicality of the route until a traffic survey was made. He said he did not have at hand figures on the current traffic loads into and out of Wichita Falls and Abilene since new highway improvements have been instituted in those cities.

"We have a way of figuring traffic trends through the use of computers, and will determine the workability of your proposed project as soon as the Oklahoma City-Wichita Falls pattern is set," Greer said.

Greer obviously was impressed by the proposal of U. S. Highway 277 members that a Wichita Falls - Abilene linkup for a proposed trans-America Expressway through this area would bring more gas tax dollars to Texas—because such a route would occasion tourist travel over a sizeable chunk of Texas. The current popular coast-to-coast route only crosses the Panhandle.

Test Awaited The engineer referred to the four-lane highway just opened between Oklahoma City and Wichita Falls, over which a true traffic test has not been completed.

"We are soon to wrap up the Interstate program—3,029 miles (See DeWitt Greer, Page 10)

Elementary P-TA Has 244 Members; Plans Festival

Haskell Elementary School P-TA has completed a membership drive with 244 members signed, including four life members, since the opening of school in September, Mrs. Claude Thompson Jr., president announced at the October meeting in the school cafeteria.

Plans were announced for the annual Elementary School Halloween Festival which will be held Halloween night, October 31.

Mrs. Thompson will head a group from here participating in a District P-TA Workshop at Ima on Thursday, October 22. Theme of the seminar will be "Tomorrow's World Is In School Today."

Travis Smith, principal of the school, introduced all teachers to the P-TA membership, including two who are on the elementary school faculty for the first time. They are: Miss Peggy Allen, of Honey Grove, and Miss Dorothy Stevens, of Bonham, both of whom are graduates of East Texas State College, at Commerce.

Mrs. Horace V. Woodard, with 22 members, was the teacher acquiring the most P-TA memberships.

Mrs. Opal Richey, who had 13 mothers present, was the room count winner for the October meeting.

Haskell kicked off its 1964 United Fund campaign to achieve a $9600 goal at a spirited breakfast session Monday morning at Sam's Cafe, with E. J. Stewart, advanced gifts chairman, rallying his forces for an advanced gifts effort calculated to raise one-third of the total goal in four days of threshold-crossing.

Stewart and his forces Monday pledged quick completion of their responsibility in this year's campaign in order to clear the way for the general townwide solicitation by Campaign Chairman W. N. (Dude) Mercer and his co-workers which begins next Monday.

Thirteen advanced gifts solicitors recruited by Stewart and working under his direction started pounding the pavement Monday morning following the breakfast rally. They include Mrs. Stewart, Desmond Dulaney, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Smith, W. O. (Bill) Holden, Jack McAdoo, W. H. Pitman, Hess H. Hartsfield, Abe Turner, Tom Watson, Judge Jim Alvis, Earl Correll and Dr. James F. Cadenhead, Jr.

This group, according to organizational plans, will contact a total of 69 Haskell citizens and firms for advance gifts, and report their results to Mrs. Jimmy Biedsoe, the campaign secretary. Headquarters in the offices of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce. A running tabulation of results will be kept, and offices of the Haskell United Fund campaign will move to the Western Auto Associate Store on the south side of the public square when general solicitation begins next Monday.

Allen Rieves, president of the Haskell United Fund permanent organization, has set a timetable of October 19-24 for general solicitation, with "mop up operations" and completion (See Generous Giving, Page 10)

Sagerton At Rule Consolidation Voted

Qualified voters in the Sagerton and Rule School districts voted overwhelmingly Saturday to consolidate Sagerton School with the Rule Schools, effective at the end of the current school year next May. Conner Horton, superintendent of Rule schools, reported.

The vote at Sagerton was 77 favoring consolidation and 33 against. At Rule, 205 persons voted to receive Sagerton, and there were no dissenting votes.

The action at the polls Saturday reduces to 7 the number of school systems that at one time numbered 52 in Haskell County.

Rule Schools Superintendent Horton said an election to mutually assume consolidation of bonded indebtedness of the two districts will be the imminent logical aftermath of the decision Saturday.

Miss Irene Stewart, principal of Sagerton School, who recently signed a 3-year contract to continue at her post, will be retained in the new alignment. Horton said. Two other teachers assisting Miss Stewart as instructors in grades 1 through 8 at Sagerton "will be given every consideration," Horton reported.

A total of 40 to 50 students will be involved in the consolidation next spring. High School students in the Sagerton area have been attending Rule High School through parental transfer since 1949.

CHAMBER BUDGET, MEMBER DRIVES GOALWARD - BOUND

Enthusiasm by the raising of some $11,000 to date, and spurred by "we can do it" expressions of confidence by drive leaders, a "baker's dozen" of volunteers launched the final phase of a $13,500 Haskell Chamber of Commerce budget campaign in a breakfast session at Felker's Cafe here last Thursday.

Having received pledges for all but about $2500 of a budget-doubling effort to employ a professional manager and revitalize community development in Haskell, the Chamber leaders Thursday began a "clean up" campaign to reach the goal while at the same time securing new membership, both voting and associate for the civic organization here.

Abe Turner, president, and Don Muenzler, general chairman of the Chamber's revitalization effort, announced a plan to procure associate memberships from all citizens desiring a share in the contagious community-wide effort which has "taken on a full head of steam here."

Mrs. Viars Felker and Dr. T. W. Williams are directing the drive for new memberships which is expected to help the Chamber here attain its budgetary goal.

Workers taking the field in the final phase of the fund-raising and membership effort Thursday included Turner, Muenzler, Mrs. Felker, Dr. Williams, Dr. Frank Cadenhead, Jr., E. J. Stewart, Barney Frazier, Charles Swinson, Harold Spain, Mrs. Opal Adkins, Mrs. Myron Blard, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Smith and Porter Oakes.

Congressman Purcell, Other Demo Leaders Coming Here For Big Rally

Thirteenth District Congressman Graham Purcell, of Wichita Falls, and another outstanding Democratic Party stalwart, will spark a rousing rally in Haskell Thursday night, October 22, calculated to stimulate a record voter turnout in behalf of the Lyndon B. Johnson-Hubert H. Humphrey ticket and the entire Democratic slate, Democratic party leaders here announced Tuesday.

Identity of the other Democratic figure will be announced as soon as his availability for the date here can be confirmed. R. W. (Bob) Herren and Porter Oakes, Haskell County chairmen for the LBJ-HHH forces, reported. A "hamburger banquet" at Sam's Cafe here for the county campaign organization, Haskell County's 17 precinct chairmen and their wives, and others interested in the Democratic campaign, will be held at 6:00 p. m. on Thursday, October 22, prior to a Democratic rally on the Courthouse lawn here at 7:30 p. m., the rally planners said.

The "speaking" will be moved into 39th District Courtroom here in the event of inclement weather.

According to the planners of the event, County Democratic Chairman Clay Smith, Mrs. Smith, both longtime dedicated workers in the party, and Campaign Chairmen Herren and Oakes, the "hamburger

NOTICE TO PUBLIC—Any erroneous reflection upon the character, reputation or standing of any firm, individual or corporation will be gladly corrected upon being called to the attention of the publishers.

Function Of A Newspaper

At a recent meeting of its directors, the California Newspaper Publishers Association claimed that determined campaigns are currently being waged—by both ultrarightist and far leftist—to coerce newspapers into falling in with their respective party lines.

Some of the intimidating methods the publishers have come up against, as reported by an article in Editor and Publisher magazine, include flooding the Letters-to-The-Editor department, boycotting or threatening to boycott advertisers, picketing, jamming classified advertising telephone lines, and midnight phone threats of bodily harm to newspaper personnel and their families.

These pressures, the publishers said, are being felt, not only in California, but all over the country.

All of this is a flattering tribute to the prestige and power of the press in America, but one which it could do without. There is proof enough of the importance of the press in the fact that it and religion are the ONLY organized human endeavors singled out by the Constitution of the United States for specific protection.

The Constitution, however, protects only against governmental suppression of freedom of the press. It cannot prevent the destruction of a newspaper's integrity or economic health or the capture of its voice by a well-organized pressure group.

ONLY THE FAITHFUL SUPPORT OF A BROAD-BASED AND MODERATE-MINDED READERSHIP CAN DO THAT!

In recent years, unfortunately, there seems to have been a growing misunderstanding of the function of a community newspaper, especially during election campaigns, when emotions run high. Charges of newspaper bias have contributed not a little to a mistrust and cynicism regarding the press on the part of the public.

This has been true in specific cases, whether the elections were on the national, state, or at grassroots level.

First of all, a responsible newspaper brings its community the news—as completely, as factually, and as accurately as its facilities, and its employees' abilities permit. But a RESPONSIBLE newspaper also has an opinion—sometimes a courageous one—on the events that make up the news.

It takes an editorial standpoint, on a special page set aside for that purpose. It may also present a number of signed articles, possibly representing widely different shades of belief—even some opposed to the leanings of the newspaper ownership.

Editors today pride themselves on maintaining a wall of separation between fact and commentary.

Far too many readers, however, seem unaware of these two major functions of a newspaper. To them, an editorial or signed column is the same as a news story. If they disagree with the opinion expressed in the column, they may jump to the conclusion that the paper is biased and is deliberately distorting the "news."

Worse, they may be receptive to attempts by pressure groups—and it can happen at the grassroots as well as in urban areas—to undermine a community's confidence in its newspaper.

As one of the California publishers said, there is a difference between individual criticisms of a newspaper and an organized attack on its life.

The first always is justified. It is nothing less than the exercise of free speech by a newspaper reader and is beneficial to both you, the reader, and us, your newspaper.

But the other is a danger not only to the existence of a particular newspaper, but to a basic pillar of American freedom.

A Hand That Helps So Many—The Haskell United Fund

The wonder of United Fund is that it brings together the heart and the mind in an efficient, united crusade. Charity and love are emotions of the heart. The mind must guide the heart, however, because an organized effort, such as United Fund, is necessary for us to convert those warm sentiments into effective and helpful action.

Through United Fund, people miles apart can be genuine neighbors, thinking about each other and trying to help each other. Most people need very little help. Others need much assistance to overcome handicaps, or just to grow up to be a good citizen in this complex world. Helping those who cannot help back is the finest type of neighborliness.

By unselfishly investing your time and fair-share support, you assure the success of the efficient, economical United Fund Way. More importantly, you earn the gratitude of all those reached by the year-around services—the daily miracles—your generosity makes possible.

A fair share is at least an hour's pay a month, according to the most disciplined evaluations. YOUR giving YOUR fair share will assure the success of the Haskell United Fund this year.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

Thirty years ago last weekend, the OP (and we can't say OP off-handedly any more) Pencil Pusher recalls very vividly we had lost a particularly important ball game (aren't they all?). "We" being Transylvania, the Oldest (Still is) College west of the Alleghenies, Circa 1780. Our opponent was, and we shall never forget, Centre College, "The Praying Colonels." The game was at Danville, Ky., home of Centre, in a tradition-steeped setting.

The Pencil Pusher was but a freshman, and "out" ("way out") for freshman football. So his first reaction was, "Wait 'til next year!" Still and all, it was a blow. We returned to our dormitory, sat down to the roller-top desk of our erudite cousin, Roy Hulian, a divinity student, with whom we were privileged to share not a room, but a suite, no less, two rooms and a connecting bath, that is. The third man in the theme, who should be named first, was Davis Thompson McGarvey, whose grandfather founded the College of The Bible, then a part of Transylvania University. He was probably the reason we had these dandy diggins in the first place, right at the peak of the depression.

We had just turned 16 two months earlier, being the product of an eleven grade Texas school system upon graduation in the spring of 1934, and, when we matriculated to Kentucky to try to acquire some culture we had missed being raised in Texas, our thoughtful Dad had placed around our neck a tag, similar to a "dog tag" with which we became familiar in later years. It gave our vital statistics, mainly whom to notify in case of becoming lost.

But we arrived in Lexington, Ky., without a mishap, broke, as usual, but in the care of a "mothering" cousin about six years our senior.

We already had fallen in love, we thought, with a little Alabama girl who could drop her ah's (r's) until we saw stabs (s's). We already had broken a rib playin' frosh football, just for huh (r). And this was more, or less, the situation, to which the dejection of the loss of our first BIG college game was added, when we penned the following from the roller-top desk:
Three things I see...
Poverty, disappointment, obscurity.

Thirty years later... last weekend... another doodle came to our noodle, which said:
Three things I see...
Comfort, satisfaction, prosperity.

To which we added the lines:
There's no time to mope...
just hope...
That's maturity.

After the foregoing, we feel just like Raja Hassen might feel after hearing Victor Borge take off, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" next Tuesday in Abilene. Victor would be on that score about the time Raja discovered his seat in the dark house, and, in stage whisper, declared, "At last I've found you."

LUSK AND "WATCHDOGS" PRESENTED DIPLOMA OF MERIT FOR SAFETY RECORD

the important maintenance

"gangs" in providing "Mobility, Our Fifth Freedom," the theme of "Texas Highway Week," October 4-10, Ray Lusk, of Haskell, Texas Highway Department Maintenance Foreman for Haskell County and his 15-man crew Friday were signally honored for a 7,155 day, or more than 19 years and seven months, accident-free safety record.

Cecil Conklin, of Abilene, district maintenance supervisor for the Abilene District, Texas Highway Department, presented a Certificate of Merit to Lusk and his men in behalf of State Highway Engineer and Commissioner D. C. Greer, Austin, and District Engineer J. C. (Jake) Roberts, of Abilene.

The award was made "for conscientious recognition of their personal responsibility for the prevention of accidents" and for having completed "7,155 days without a lost time accident."

Presentation of the award was made during a safety session with which Lusk, who has entire time here during the building, starts off each day's work here. Five of the 15-man crew are maintaining 300 miles of Haskell County roads and driving 16,360 to 17,000 miles each month, have been with Lusk the entire 19 years and seven-plus months. If this crew can go accident-free until next February 23, they will round out an even 20 years without a lost time accident.

Conklin, in making the presentation, declared, "This record is not just luck. There's much more to it."

Among the state highway department employees here are the following who proudly carry cherished blue cards denoting the number of years they have driven state-owned equipment without an accident: Leslie V. Collins, 22; D. L. (Jack) Speer, 16; James O. Adkins, 7; Woodrow Jones, 9; Floy A. Karr, 12; C. V. Schwartz, 13; O. P. Collins, 13; and Marvin Jones, 13.

Nine Area LVNs Going to State Meet in Abilene

Nine LVNs from Haskell will be in Abilene October 15-18 to participate in the 15th annual convention of the Licensed Vocational Nurses Association of Texas.

Going from here will be Fay Fowler, Mary Kingston, Vera Hunt, Minnie Faye Turner, Anna Mae Davis, Leona Carter, M. J. West, D. West, and Faye Jettson.

As a continuing educational experience, the Convention will include leaders in the fields of nursing, medicine, education, and government, who will exchange information on the entire range of issues affecting vocational nursing and better patient care.

Keynote speaker will be Dr. Max Leach, professor of psychology, Abilene Christian College, who will discuss "Public Relations and Human Understanding" in his address at the opening session. An imposing list of other distinguished speakers will be on the four-day program.

LVN of Texas sponsored the act passed by the 52nd Texas Legislature establishing the State Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners.

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

The Haskell Garden Club is preparing for the merchants' Flower Show. We hope to have a very interesting display. Please watch your paper for the date. Be sure to make this one of your "must" dates.

Pansies have arrived at the nurseries. They can be put into the soil now, to establish strong roots before cold weather. The happy smiling faces of the Pansies often appear through winter months when spirits are at a low ebb. They are well worth planting. Seed of the little Johnnie-Jump-Up may be sown in the yard this month. They are tiny violas or pansies. They look pretty with their saucy faces peeping out of the bulb bed.

Cypress vines, morning glories, jack beans and cardinal vines should be full of ripe seed now. It is well to gather seed for next year's plants. Be sure to label before putting them away for the winter.

Mrs. Robert Speers (Bobbie) planted a Cypress on her chimney this year. The vine has climbed, not only up the chimney but half way up the roof. The tiny tendrils of the Cypress vine will not cause damage to shingles or siding as do the more vigorous vines. Cypress are annuals and die down each winter. The flowers are tiny white or red velvet stars, very attractive. The lacy fern like foliage is very pretty. This is truly a versatile vine.

Jack beans have foliage somewhat like any other bean. The blossoms are on long tendrils and are very thick along the stem. The color is orchid or purple. Jack beans are annuals also. Just save the dry beans.

Haskell can boast of an olive tree. Lura Sellars has one that made olives this year. She planted a sprout, given her by friends from Stamford. I believe she said she has had her tree for three years.

Be sure to dry some celocia (coxcmb and the plumed type) to make winter arrangements through the cold months. Many dry seed and grasses can be sprayed for a pleasing dried bouquet. Okra pods are attractive either closed or open, the sections curl downward, giving the impression of a six-petaled flower. sudan, cane, maize and cotton burs, are all ready for the gathering.

We need to walk in the garden and drink in its beauty, for soon frost will come and the plants will become dormant.

Area Officers Close In to Nab Pair "In the Act"

Haskell and Stonewall County officers, supported by Stamford city police and state highway patrolmen, racing to the scene after receiving a call from the owner, surprised two Hamlin men inside a liquor store near Sagerton about 12:40 a. m. Saturday.

Apprehended at Glen Quade's Liquor Store a mile and a quarter west of Sagerton were two men identified as Joe Wallace Ely, 44, and Douglas Eugene Koonce, 31, who were brought to the Haskell County Jail and charged with burglary, Sheriff Garth Garrett reported.

A quantity of whiskey was recovered from Ely's car, Sheriff Garrett said.

The Haskell County Sheriff was alerted by a phone call from Quade, who said he heard noises in the vicinity of his store. He lives a short distance up the road from his establishment.

Sheriff Garrett set up a net by radio while hurrying to the scene, with the result that a Stamford night duty policeman, Stonewall County Sheriff Charlie Gibson, Rule Deputy Sheriff Raymond Denson and Sagerton Constable Joe Clark, as well as State Highway Patrol Sergeant Frank Jirick and Patrolman Tommy Wood closed in on the liquor store "from all directions."

Sheriff Garrett said Quade shot a shotgun and fired several volleys over the liquor store, as the officers approached. He quoted one of the captured men as saying, "We were afraid to run and afraid to stop." The pair was nabbed starting to leave as the officers' net closed in.

After locking up the pair, Sheriff Garrett declared, "Our department appreciates the cooperation of all these other law enforcement agencies in the rapid apprehension of these subjects."

Kin Of Several Here Awarded A&M Scholarship

These annuals that die are still living in their seed. They sleep in their cozy cover until warm weather comes once again, then when planted, start the cycle once more.

Watch for signs of frost, so green tomatoes and peppers may be bothered. Be sure to bring in house plants right away. The weather is getting so cold at night, it shocks the plants and retards growth, when they are left outside.

11th Graders Set Aptitude Exams On October 20

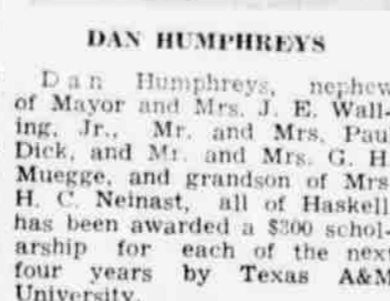

More than 50 11th grade Haskell High School students will take preliminary scholastic aptitude tests here Tuesday, Oct. 20, W. P. McCollum, principal, has announced.

These preliminary aptitude tests, McCollum said, are offered by the College Entrance Examination Board, whose school and college members cooperate in developing services to help high school students plan for college.

"These tests have been offered in Haskell High School for several years as a help to students, parents and teachers in identifying strengths and weaknesses in each student's educational development and in making a realistic appraisal of his educational and vocational objectives," McCollum said.

An especially useful feature of the preliminary scholastic aptitude test is its similarity to the "college boards" exam, required for admission to many colleges.

Although they do not count toward acceptance in college, the preliminary tests, McCollum pointed out, give each student "an early indication of how he or she will probably perform" on the real thing.

DAN HUMPHREYS

Dan Humphreys, nephew of Mayor and Mrs. J. E. Walling, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dick, and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Muegge, and grandson of Mrs. H. C. Neinst, all of Haskell, has been awarded a $300 scholarship for each of the next four years by Texas A&M University.

Young Humphreys, son of Mrs. J. T. Humphreys and the late Mr. Humphreys, of Abilene, is a 1964 graduate of Cooper High School there. He has entered the school of Mechanical Engineering and plans to take geophysical engineering. He was a member of the National Honor Society, Student Council, and held several class offices in high school.

He was selected as one of 100 freshmen who went with 25 upper classmen and six faculty members to Camp Wesley for a leadership meeting prior to opening of school at A&M. The three-day meeting was for students who exhibit potential leadership.

Ladies, a vote for as is a vote for cooler cooking!

Turn a gas burner off . . . and OFF! There's none of the hangover heat you find with electric ranges—wasted heat that causes boilovers and burned foods. Gas cooking is cooler, too, because you broil with the door closed. And it's smoke-proof broiling—(the flame assumes the smoke!) With gas your kitchen stays cooler and cleaner!

Now's the time to elect a modern gas range to head up your kitchen: it's sale time!

Prattler's Prophecy: Prattler's batting average was an even 500 for last weekend contests involving the Haskell Indians and teams in the Southwest Conference.

The schedule gets even tougher for this weekend, as the Indians meet always powerful Stamford, and all the Southwest conference teams begin playing for keeps. The old crystal ball is so cloudy, it tells me very little, so I pick 'em like this:

Haskell 14, Stamford 12. Just a hunch.

Texas University over Arkansas. Both the Steers and the Porkers are undefeated, but I will have to stay with the Longhorns.

Texas Tech over Baylor. The Red Raiders from the high plains have three wins and one loss, so I will go along with Tech.

Rice over SMU. The Owls have been very disappointing, having dropped two and won one non-conference game, but should not have much trouble with the Mustangs.

A&M over TCU. Both A&M and TCU have dropped four games each, but I will try the Aggies one more time.

The Haskell Jaycees were having more fun than a barrel of monkeys at the carnival of the organization sponsored last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. In fact Don Muenzler, Dan Dixon, James Franklin, Billy Jack Ray, Wayne Bradford and several other prominent Jaycees, who were wearing those small, silly, black hats could have doubled for monkeys. I informed Abe Turner, Chamber of Commerce president, that the whole bunch looked like a bunch of crooks -- to which he quickly replied, "It takes a crook to recognize a crook."

Wallace Cox Jr., looked as if he had his hands full with wide-eyed, pert, little Sara and John Wallace leading him around. From all appearances, the carnival was very successful, and I hope it was, because the Haskell Jaycees, headed by Jesse Priest, a wide-awake organization, will use the money for local worthwhile projects.

Kid league football is harmful, Doctor says. A doctor who is a former collegiate football player, advocated the other day preventing boys under 15, not only from playing football and other contact sports, but also from participating in the newly popular isometric exercises -- including some that can be done in bed or armchair.

Dr. Nick J. Accardo, an associate professor of orthopedic surgery at Tulsa University Medical school, and a onetime guard on Tulane's football team, said the potential injury hazard of such activities stems from these facts:

"They have not reached maturity of growth... their muscles have advanced ahead of their bone development... the ends of their bones have not fully closed."

Defining isometric exercises as those involving "exerting maximum effort against an immovable object," the surgeon said these offer a fast means of putting physiologically mature football players in condition, and also are great for tight scheduled businessmen.

I was talking to a school teacher recently and the discussion led to the idea that schools should operate on a 12-month basis, instead of the usual 9 months. The idea has some merit. Obviously it is taking young men and young women entirely too long to get through college and professional training. With many high school students graduating at the age of 18 years, or more, the individual reaches the ages of 25 or 26 before being ready to begin serious work of life.

Moreover, few individuals, continuing their studies, are in a position to consider matrimony at an age when many sociologists think it should be embraced.

While it may be difficult to persuade school administrators and the parents of pupils to accept the 12-month school year, there are advantages. A full year program of study will make it possible for a child to complete the present 12-year courses in 9 complete years. College work could be finished in 3 additional years, making it possible for many young men and women to finish college at 18, 19 or 20 years of age. This allows time for technical study or professional courses, so that the adult man or woman would find it possible to begin life earlier than at present.

However, this particular teacher remarked that she didn't think she could stand the kids 12 months out of the year, and vice-versa.

CANCER SOCIETY TO MEET MONDAY NIGHT
Haskell County Cancer Society will meet Monday night, October 19, at 7:30 in the Community room of the Haskell National Bank. Mrs. Ed Hester, president, urges all who are interested to attend.

Lions Hear Report On "Boys' State"

"Boys State" is designed to teach young men to become citizens," Bobby Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Black, told members of the Lions Club at the Tuesday noon-day luncheon program meeting.

Rev. Ray Nobles, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was in charge of the program and introduced the guest speaker.

Bobby, who attended Boys State in Austin this past summer, said he liked very much the contact with the 718 young men in attendance and that he learned valuable information about city, county and state governments.

"At Boys State we carried on political campaigns with speeches, etc., just like in real politics, and I certainly learned a lot about political procedures," Bobby said.

R. V. Black, and Tom Adams of Stamford, were introduced as guests at Tuesday's meeting.

Chili Supper
Tickets for the Lions Chili Supper, which will be held Friday, October 23, from 5 to 7:15 p. m., in the high school lunchroom, went on sale Tuesday.

Every member of the club is a "ticket salesman" and persons desiring chili supper discounts may contact any Lion. However, more than likely a "Roaring Lion" will come knocking at your door within the next few days.

Residents are reminded that money obtained from the chili supper will be used by Goodfellows to help less fortunate families in Haskell at Christmastime. Open your heart and your pocketbook -- enjoy an evening of fellowship and delicious chili, on Friday, October 23, then head for Indian Field to see the Indians "take on" the Hamlin Pied Pipers in a District 5AA conference tilt.

DeWitt Greer
of it in Texas, most of which is scheduled for completion by 1972," he said, adding that it is possible Congress might expand the Interstate program in 1967 or 1968.

He told the group of 14 county officials and businessmen from Abilene, Wichita Falls, Stamford, Haskell, Seymour and Munday that, "you can go the Interstate way or the state-county method to seek your goal, but you should make up your minds which avenue to follow and forget the other one."

At the suggestion of Henry Grace of Wichita Falls, president of the Association, the group agreed to pursue "piece-work" the four-lane program between Wichita Falls and Anson, assuring use of highways already being utilized in this area and guaranteeing their continued accessibility to the smaller towns between the two cities.

An Interstate plan, Greer agreed, might not hit any community between Wichita Falls and Abilene.

Greer praised the "progressive spirit" of Highway 277 planners, declaring that just such a move is what culminated in the completion of the Red River Expressway which was officially opened earlier last Friday.

Data Needed
"We need to know right away what ought to be done in the Wichita Falls and Abilene areas, and we'll check this out in making our determination about your plans," Greer declared.

Greer was given a standing ovation in Wichita Falls for his development of the Texas highway system.

Others at the conference included Grace, Wichita Falls publisher Rhea Howard, a long time highway supporter, D. W. Wiley Jr., Wichita County commissioner; J. S. Bridwell, Bob Gaston, Bob Foley, all of Wichita Falls; Clark Gresham and Buddy Byars, both of Burkburnett; County Judge Jim Alvis and Porter Oakes, both of Haskell; E. E. Starkey, Bart Burnett and Jim B. Richerson, of Seymour; and L. B. Dean, district highway engineer of the Wichita Falls district.

Fightin' Indians

ago. Grading of the Haskell-Winters game film by the coaches here revealed the defensive and offensive standouts on the Fightin' Indian squad. On defense, the following Indian stalwarts made the greatest number of tackles: James Ivy, 19, 11 of them assisted, and 8 unassisted; Gary Conner, 12; Frankie Don White, 10; Bobby Watson, 9; and Dickie Frierson, 8. Ivy, Conner and Watson are backs; Frierson and White, linemen.

Offensively, based on a grade of 70 as "passing," the following top grades for offensive excellence were posted: Conner, 83; Frierson, 79; Joesselet and Ivy, 71. No other members of the team made a grade above 70, and the lowest performance ranged down to 68.

The film grading definitely showed his team "did not turn in the performance of which they were capable," Head Coach Sonny Everett said Monday.

It took a fumble recovery deep in Haskell territory and a 30-yard field goal by Van Spill for Winters to subdue the determined Indians, whose Joe Joesselet treated the packed stadium to a thrilling exhibition of elusiveness.

The Blizzards got enough points to win the game in the 2nd quarter when they went 57 yards in 12 plays--helped along by a couple of costly penalties against the Indians--for their initial score.

Van Spill carried it over from the six and Puckett passed off 75-pound tackle Richard Shade for the two-point conversion for an 8-0 lead.

That's the way the half ended, although the Indians mustered a threat following the TD, moving the ball from their own 37 to the Winters 3 where the massive Blizzard forward wall dug in and stopped the drive.

Joesselet had the big gainer in the drive, a 31-yard sally from his own 34 to the Winters 35 that started out to be a pass play.

Second Half
The second half started out as a punting contest, but tragedy in the form of a fumble struck the Indians in the shadow of their own goal posts, and the alert Blizzards jumped at the chance and extended their lead 14-3.

Winters' Mike Patterson had kicked the ball dead on the Haskell 12-yard line, and on the Indians' first play from scrimmage the ball squirted loose and Patterson recovered on the 11.

The Indians held for the first 3 downs, but on fourth down Puckett dropped back and threw a scoring strike to Van Spill. The 2-point try failed when James Ivy nailed Awalt in the Winters backfield and the Blizzards led by 14.

A pass interception by Van Spill on the Blizzard 10-yard line killed an Indian threat after Joesselet had executed another of his merry-go-round runs on a busted pass play, this one going for 23 yards to the Winters 37.

A few minutes later the Indians got the ball back and Gary Druessedow set up Haskell's lone tally with a 21-yard punt return to the Winters 27. Joesselet was nailed for an 18-yard loss when one of his tricky maneuvers backfired, but he redeemed himself by connecting on a 12-yard toss to Wendell Coston and then put the Indians on the scoreboard with a magnificent 18-yard run through the Winters defense.

Richard Puckett's interception of Gary Conner's pass early in the final quarter set up Winters' last score -- Van Spill's 30-yard field goal into the wind. The 3-pointer capped a drive that had begun on the Blizzard 49.

Haskell mounted one more scoring threat before the final buzzer when they marched from their own 30 to the Winters 26, but they gave up the ball on downs when Joesselet was thrown for a 14-yard loss by end Hank McCreight.

American motorists currently hold about 55 million oil company credit cards, according to the magazine Petroleum Today.

Haskell Fireboys Pace Setters At 52nd Convention

Tom Watson, chief of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department, and president of the Mid-West Texas District Firemen's Association, was in charge of the day's activities at the 52nd semi-annual convention of area firemen in Anson last Thursday with 17 fire departments represented at the meeting.

Some 300 registered delegates, including 50 women's auxiliary members, took part in the convention.

Snyder was picked as the site for the spring meeting. Haskell's Volunteer Fire Department had the best time, 12.9 seconds, in the six-man hookup in firemen's speed races. Snyder was second with 14 seconds flat, and Rotan third, 14.4.

The pumper race results: Hamlin, 21.4; Throckmorton, 22.3; Snyder, 22.8.

Two-man race: Hamlin, 12.4; Rotan, 12.4; Clyde, 13.1.

Fire departments from the following towns had representatives at the all-day program: Haskell, Anson, Stamford, Albany, Snyder, Coahoma, Hamlin, Throckmorton, Colorado City, Baird, Clyde, Lueders, Roby, Merkel, Roscoe, Rotan and Spur.

Chief Watson was master of ceremonies for an afternoon program at which Lt. Col. Ed Corcoran was principal speaker. Anson Mayor George O. Harrell delivered a welcome address.

A 7:30 p. m. barbecue was preceded by speed races among competing firemen and equipment from the various departments in the association.

The Anson program was dedicated to C. W. Bartlett, Anson Volunteer Fire Department's chief for 34 years, now on honorary status.

Enumerators

In addition to piece-work pay, enumerators will receive 5 cents a mile for use of their cars.

The job involves locating each farm and ranch in the district to which an enumerator is assigned; determining if the operator of the farm has answered all questions on a questionnaire that will be mailed to the farm by the Census Bureau; helping the farmer complete any unanswered questions on the form; checking answers for accuracy; and delivering the completed form to the census bureau.

Under the supervision of the crew leader, census enumerators will be asked to complete 12 to 16 hours of self study at their homes. They will receive a fee of $23 for satisfactory completion of the self-study course. The crew leader will assist the enumerator during the first half day he, or she, works at census taking. Estep pointed out.
