LIONS HEAR TALK, VIEW FILM ON SAFETY; CONTEST STARTED

R. W. Brisco, Texas Department of Public Safety Officer, in this 20-county area, spoke to members of the Lions Club, Tuesday noon, and also showed a very timely film, "Fatal Meeting."

Raja Hassen was in charge of the program, and introduced the guest speaker. Speaking off the cuff, without the use of notes, Brisco made a very impressive talk on "Safety," and firmly recommended seat belts.

"Traffic laws are sensible rules designed to promote efficient use of our highways by preventing accidents and congestion. Even if the driving rules were not laws, they would be just as essential to the prevention of traffic accidents and congestion," Brisco said.

"The most deadly hazard on our highways are violators of traffic regulations. It is essential that drivers and pedestrians understand and comply with a set of driving and walking rules in order that they may cooperate with one another in the safe use of our roads. Neither your skill, your experience, nor your attitude can substitute for your compliance with the law."

After the presentation of the film, Brisco presented a special section of the Haskell Free Press. The Personality Shoppe, on the south side of Haskell's public square, recently has undergone sweeping changes that have occasioned a collective "ah" and "ah" from the citizenship and many patrons from afar who have come to view its "splendid" interior.

Owned and operated by Mrs. Opal Adkins and Mrs. Stanley Furth, two long respected names in the field of fashion merchandising in this area, the Personality Shoppe soon will have a formal opening at which time its enterprising operators will be crossed by hundreds of pleased patrons. Watch for the announcement of the Personality Shoppe's formal "bow" which will be heralded in a special section of the Haskell Free Press.

DR. E. CLAY GRIFFITH, CLASS OF 1912 DISTINGUISHED PHYSICIAN IS WEINERT HOMECOMING GUEST

Dr. E. Clay Griffith, prominent Dallas neuro-surgeon and psychiatrist, who said in the telephone interview Tuesday, "A grassroots background and the application of a grassroots philosophy has helped me immeasurably in my work," will be the principal speaker at the biennial homecoming of Weinert School to be held all day Saturday in the north Haskell County community.

Dr. Griffith, a staff member and partner in Dallas' Timberlawn Psychiatric Center, who also has a wide private practice, was a 1912 graduate of Weinert High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Griffith, Weinert residents for more than 20 years, now retired and living in Denton. The elder Griffith was long active in this area as a cotton grower.

Bailey Toliver, Haskell businessman-civic leader and president of the 1964 Weinert Homecoming, is urging all former students, teachers and patrons of the school to return for the event. Registration begins at 9 a. m. Saturday. The program at which Dr. Griffith will speak is at 2 p. m. A catered fellowship supper will be served at 5 p. m., and the observance will be climaxed with the Weinert-Moran football game at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Griffith, after graduating from Weinert High School, attended TCU for one and a half years, existed in the U. S. Navy during World War II, and served three years in the South Pacific. Returning to college after the war, he obtained his B. S. degree from Tulane University in 1949, then earned his master's degree in anatomy from the same university. Entering the University of Texas Medical School at Dallas as a teaching fellow, he earned his MD degree in 1956.

He interned at St. Paul Hospital in Dallas and underwent special training at both Parkland Hospital and Timberlawn before establishing his own practice. He has been a member of the Timberlawn Psychiatric Center staff for five years, and recently became a partner in ownership of the hospital.

The Weinert native is married to a former South Texas girl, and the couple have a 16-year-old son, who is a high school student in Dallas. Weinert School grew out of the consolidation of several smaller rural schools, Lake Creek, Lone Star, Dennis Chapel, Myers, Ballew, Brushy. All former students, teachers and patrons of these schools also are urged to participate, Toliver said.

Mrs. Marvin Phemister is vice president of homecoming, and Raymond Mathieson is secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Harbye Cahill, widow of T. C. Cahill, a former mayor, real estate developer and extensive landowner in Haskell, died at 11:30 p. m. Sunday at the home of a sister, Mrs. Tannie Squires, 1003 North Ave. E. here. Mrs. Cahill had been in ill health for 5 1/2 years.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hancock, 1001 North Ave. E, with Rev. J. V. Patterson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Burial under direction of Holden Funeral Home was in Willow Cemetery here.

A resident of Haskell for 56 years, Mrs. Cahill, the former Harbye Hancock, came here from Weatherford with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hancock, in 1908. She was born in Hayesville, North Carolina. A longtime member of the Methodist Church, which she joined at the age of 12, Mrs. Cahill was a member of the church choir and served as its president several years. She was a member and former president of the Harmony Club here and was active for many years in the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Cahill attended Hiawassa College, Tenn., and later studied at Weatherford Conservatory, where she majored in music. She was a piano teacher in Haskell for many years. She and Mr. Cahill were married in 1926. He died on Oct. 20, 1955.

Survivors include one brother, Marvin Hancock, Haskell; two sisters, Mrs. Squires and Mrs. Jason Smith, both of Haskell; one niece, Mrs. Betty Ann Hall, Los Angeles, Calif.; five nephews, Norman and (See Mrs. Cahill, Page 10)

The "Little Indian" Class B aggregation of Coaches Bunny Bennett and David Middleton upheld their end of the Colorado City-Haskell 1964 gnashing and crashing last Thursday night here by trouncing the Baby Wolves 38 to 0 in Indian Stadium here.

The victory was their fourth against no defeats in this young season. Haskell "B" takes on the Anson Tiger Cubs at Anson tonight.

Scatback Tim Everett darted to paydirt twice and scooted across three times on a 2-point conversion to account for 18 of the "B" team's 38 points. Ramping Ray Herren continued his scoring ways for the third successive week, adding two more TD's to his impressive string.

Johnny Josselet's name went into the scoring column with a TD, and Walter Feiker sneaked through the Baby Wolves' line for a 2-pointer. The way was paved for these markers by some sterling line play paced by such stalwarts up front as Bill Ratliff, Kenneth Blair and Stanley Fancher, among many plucky Indian linemen.

And the ball hawking pass intercepting turned in by Tim Everett, Doug Bartley and Ricky Field added and abetted the "Little Indians" winning cause, along with Ray Herren's recovery of two Colorado City fumbles.

The Haskellites now have racked up 120 points to their opponents' 12 in four outings.

RAY LUSK'S MEN HAVE 7,155 ACCIDENT-FREE DAYS—

Phenomenal Safety Record Compiled By "Highwaymen"

Citizens of Haskell this week launching plans for a special observance in this area of "Texas Highway Week" October 4-10, called attention to the "phenomenal" safety record compiled by the maintenance corps of the Texas Highway Department with headquarters here, calling it "exemplary, and proving that safety and mobility can complement each other."

Mayor J. E. Walling, Jr., by official proclamation, has designated October 4-10, "Highway Week" in Haskell, and calls upon all citizens to take cognizance of the sterling record not only of our very own here, but by the Texas Highway Department as a whole in placing service above self as true servants of the public."

Abner Turner, Jr., president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, and Harold Spain, chairman of the chamber's highway committee, in this "good roads conscious" territory, were high in their praise of lifelong Haskell resident, Ray Lusk, whose duties as maintenance foreman for the state highway department in this area began but a few days before the start of an accident-free safety record for his division which now spans 7,155 consecutive days, or 19 years and seven months plus. Chamber officials here expressed the same appreciation for the safety efforts of District Highway Engineer Jake Roberts, of Abilene, under whose supervi-

W. N. (Dude) Mercer, a leader in Boy Scout, Little League and other community youth programs for many years, last Thursday was named chairman of the 1964 United Fund campaign by Allen Reeves, president of the organization here.

The HUF president simultaneously announced a budget of $9500 has been set for the drive here, dates for which are Oct. 12-31.

Mercer, who was president of the Haskell Little League last year, and has been a moving force in many civic endeavors, is a member of the staff of personnel operating West Texas' Utilities Paint Creek power plant on Lake Stamford, 14 miles southeast of here.

Rev. Douglas B. Finch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and the 1964 chairman of the budget and admissions committee, following a meeting of representatives of various agencies with the Haskell United Fund board of directors, announced the following agencies included in this year's campaign here, together with amounts budgeted:

Boy Scouts, $1,000; Girl Scouts, $800; Salvation Army, $1500; Red Cross, $1500; West Texas Rehabilitation Center, $1,000; Southwest Diabetic Association, $1,000; Haskell Teen-Age Baseball Leagues, $1,500; and Haskell Little League, $1,200.

The only group in the 1963 campaign not in this year's budget is the Haskell Scholarship Fund, which announced it has sufficient funds to meet its needs and requirements this year, and did not request additional money," Rev. Finch reported.

Reeves and Mercer called an organizational meeting which was to be held at 6 p. m. Wednesday, at which time chairman of four working divisions of United Fund volunteer solicitors will be named. Timetable for the drive here includes: October 12-17, advance gifts; October 18-24, general solicitation; and October 26-31, "mop-up" operations.

In addition to Reeves, other officers of the Haskell United Fund are Wayne Bradford, vice president; Porter Oakes, secretary; and Mrs. W. A. Lytle, treasurer.

Mobility, Your Fifth Freedom

We are living in what has been termed the "Space Age." And in Texas—where "space" may be said to have been invented—we have conquered this problem with the motor vehicle.

It is interesting to note that in many areas a trip to a drive-in theater, or even the grocery store, calls for preparations as if for an expedition. This is the direct result of the "automobile explosion," which has certainly kept pace with the population explosion in these United States. Tangible proof of this is the fact that a predicted EIGHT MILLION new automobiles will roll off the assembly lines, 1965 vintage.

But Texans take space lightly as they skim over the world's FINEST highway system. Sometimes we take this matter of mobility so lightly that we fail to realize the significance of these fine highways.

It isn't unrealistic to believe that our entire economy would collapse if the State's highway system suddenly should become impassable. In periods of storm—whether tornado, or blizzard—whole communities virtually are paralyzed until food, medicine, physical aids are brought in over re-opened highways, and communications restored.

Highways are said to "provide our daily bread," literally. Huge vans carry food to our grocery stores, tank trucks haul gasoline to our service stations. Factories all over Texas are dependent upon highways for delivery of raw materials and their finished products.

More than 1800 Texas communities are wholly dependent upon highways for transportation. The 68,000-mile Texas highway system is unmatched by any in the world—in size, quality, and the numbers of people it serves.

Mobility—as exemplified by our highway system—makes it possible for us to live in the country—and work in the city. Or to live in the city—and seek recreation in the country.

Just because cities and towns are a "far piece" apart in Tremendous Texas—this situation "per se" did not occasion the superb roads we have in this state.

Forethought and dedication made them possible. This vision and diligence have been bubbled through the years in the service to their fellow men performed by the Texas Highway Commissioner and the entire Texas Highway Department, and the Texas Good Roads Association, a volunteer non-profit group without peer in its scope of accomplishment. The highway department and TGRA working together, have made complete mobility possible in Texas.

Individuals we personally have known like Grover Nelson, of Abilene, Henry Grace and Rhea Howard, of Wichita Falls, and the late W. B. Hamilton and the late J. H. Allison, have held high that torch of leadership which has enabled Texas to enjoy an unmeasurable Fifth Freedom which enhances all the other Four as enunciated in the Atlantic Charter—freedom of press and speech, freedom from want and from fear.

Highway Week in Texas is being observed this coming week, October 4-10, pointing up the significant value of the mobility which is ours.

Truly, Mobility IS our Fifth Freedom, and it is meet that this should be the theme of the monumental observance upon which our attention will be focused next week.

Salute to The Highway "Watchdogs" They Deserve The Highest Accolade

Coincident with the forthcoming observance of "Highway Week" in Texas is a story in this edition of the Free Press filled with phenomenal facts about some of our very own who are symbolic of the dedication which has procured for the public the mobility it enjoys in our sovereign state.

We speak of the "guardian angels" (he prefers to call them "watchdogs") supervised by "Gabriel" Foreman Ray Lusk, and their vigilance over 300 miles of state-maintained highways in Haskell County.

It is most propitious to take cognizance, on the eve of "Texas Highway Week" of the fact that, although Ray Lusk and his 15-man staff are as mobile as any group could be, and subject to injury and fatality-inviting accidents "by the numbers," day after day, they have gone TWENTY YEARS, lacking four months, without an on-the-job, time lost, injury to any of the personnel headquartered in Haskell! The 7,155 days, through which they have gone, accident-free, is an imposing record indeed! To Jake Roberts, safety-minded district engineer, goes the fullest measure of credit for this phenomenal accomplishment.

To compile such a record, especially with a wheel-turning entourage such as works our highways, fence line to fence line, regardless of the hour or the weather, on an "on call" status, around-the-clock, not only calls for, but demands, peak mental and physical performance, plus know-how. Jake Roberts and Ray Lusk, who have produced education through communication, deserve the plaudits of the people.

The Free Press solicits the attention of those who should know, Governor John Connally, State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer, Members of the Texas Highway Commission, and the Texas Safety Association, to the sterling set of safety statistics our own highway maintenance department here in the "inner circle," has stacked up by dint of its own discipline and "grade of workmanship."

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri By PORTER

We don't care if we do look like Tobacco Road or Late Depression. We are gonna wear our saddle roll straw Stetson as long as the Fightin' Indians win football games. Can't change our luck now. And we hope that means it'll provide cover from December snows. "Retirement" for our favorite fedora before Christmas, snows or no, would be chaotic. So... Go! Fightin' Indians!

Memo to Miss Cora: We were thinkin' of "Idah, Sweet As Apple Cidah," and hummin' it, too, and all the time writin' about YOU, last week. We beg forgiveness for the misnomer. "Sides, one of the dearest persons in our life was pamel Ida. Ida McMurray Harper was her name. Like you, she is a honey. She's gone, but we use the present tense. Because to live in hearts that remain behind is not to die... ever."

Our benevolent banker, Mr. A. C. (that stands for Against Credit) Pierson, has set us straight about that carpet caper in his office. It was necessary to get a new one, he said, not because the old one was worn out... well, not worn out... ALL OVER, that is. Most of the old carpet still had the nap on it even. It was just where the loan seekers HAD BEEN KNEELING beside Mr. A. C.'s desk that the rug was threadbare... he said.

On the Johnny Carson show the other night... at the same time as Eva Gabor, so it's a wonder we remember who else was... a fine lookin' Italian fellow was tellin' of his and his wife's predicament when they took all EIGHT of their children to some event. Their ages are 8 through 15, and at one time a child of theirs was in every grade in elementary school! (Wonder what the Mother did about room count at P-TA.)

His description of losing one of the children after they were peeled off in all directions at a public event telegraphed to our mind a comment which would be very apropos for the situation. It is: "One of our heir-craft is missing." (We'll try not to think of anything like this again.)

Is it really true that Scotch Coggins got his "handle" from the fact he said he wouldn't buy any crepe soled shoes because they "give" too much?

Our gregarious State Representative Roy Arledge is probably one of the few public servants with a permanent "built-in" campaign sign on his automobile. Roy's car, purchased from his son when the latter had a car dealership in Knox City, has an imposing "Arledge" script-written in chrome attached to the car trunk, indicating the motor company. Pretty nifty.

Even though our Fightin' Indians treated their ball club like relatives who had overstayed their welcome, (no molly-coddlin' of those Mogs!) those Mundayites are about the finest people we know hospitality-wise, and on every other score. That Charles Baker just bent over backwards with credits given Haskell's hustling Indians in his play-by-play pressbox account. We're kinda enamored of Munday anyway, and particularly, of one certain personable ball-of-fire who hasn't changed one cow-lick in the 35-plus years we've known her. Travis Lee just beat our time, that's all.

The outcroppings of children's playsuits embracing political preferences is adding color to the Great Campaign now going full tilt. Did you see the one the other day at the political rally with LBJ on one side of a posterior and HHH on the other?

Would you call that a deep-seated conviction?

O. W. Tooley, the Poor Man's Jim Farley, was on a hand-shaking tour at the Clay County Old Settlers (among whom he says he's one) Reunion a week or so ago at Henrietta. In the parade there were two vehicles transporting caged animals labeled "The Haskell County Varmint" and the "Caddo Crittur." One was a rat terrier, the other a chihuahua.

After all this time, we now have a reasonable conclusion for the complex character and gear-shifting conduct of the Light of Our Life, one sometimes buffed, next time unpolished. Jewel, just found out one of her grandmothers was French, while the other was Irish. Which accounts for the fact that she can be both a lover... and a fighter... in turn, and at the same time, but quickly.

We've been knowin' there would soon be wranglers we must throttle down a bit, and Cadillac this of T-Model chassies. Our sassiest stories are so scintillatin' anyway, you know. Right up our alley—a real dark one, and dead end at that. We wrote a story of a wedding the other day. The wasteline of the groom was marked with appliques of imported alencon re-embroidered with chiffon and traced with tiny seed pearls.

The word "gown" should have been where "groom" is, of course. Must have been thinkin' pretty hard about the

DISTRICT GOVERNOR PRAISES ROTARY OPERATION HERE

Source of inspiration for the establishment by the United States government of its Peace Corps was the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International, which has "operated its own Peace Corps for a number of years," Dr. C. J. Dodsworth, of Bowie, told Haskell Rotarians Thursday on his official visit to the service club here.

Sending deserving students from one land to another to obtain higher education and learn the manners and customs of a neighbor across international boundaries has been the prime reason of the Rotary Foundation's existence for many years, Dr. Dodsworth pointed out in his address to Rotarians here.

Although Rotary International was founded in Chicago by Paul P. Harris in 1905, and, as a result spread more rapidly in this country than others, today there are 1,512 more Rotary Clubs in other lands than there are in the United States, Dr. Dodsworth said.

In appealing for Rotarians to "Live Rotary," the theme for this 60th Rotary year, Dr. Dodsworth asked for a person-to-person approach to the international service aims of the organization through invitations to foreign students to appear on programs and initiating other methods of communication.

He called on Rotarians in this area to help improve living conditions for Mexican Nationals working here during cotton and other harvests, and commended a number of Haskell Rotary-initiated projects including park development, youth programs, and the fostering of a Better Business Bureau here to protect the citizenship from "fly-by-night" operators.

The district governor, a Bowie dentist and past president of the club there, was introduced to his audience here by Roy Johnson, president of the Haskell Rotary Club.

PASTOR SCHAEFER MR. AND MRS. KLOSE HONORED—DR. WILFRED SAGER KEYNOTES LUTHERAN ACCENT ON YOUTH

With Dr. Wilfred Sager, of Dallas, regional youth director for six southwestern states in the American Lutheran Church, as special guest speaker, Rev. James F. Schaefer, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church here, was installing officer in impressive ceremonies this week launching a new activity year for the Luther League in Haskell.

A Luther League membership banquet was the occasion at which the following officers were installed: Galen Peiser, president; Pamela Druesedow, vice president; Kathy Mueller, secretary; Carolyn Fischer, treasurer; and Delores Peiser, reporter.

Honored at the youth assembly were Mr. and Mrs. Felix Klose, retiring sponsors of the Luther League for the past year, and Rev. Schaefer, who is leaving soon for a new pastorate at Sierra Vista, Arizona.

The "leadership of Rev. Schaefer and his stimulating influence on youth participation in all facets of church relationships" were lauded by Leroy Haverlah, active Lutheran church worker here.

Sager, in a day-long series of messages to Lutherans of all ages in Haskell, spoke on the subjects, "Being Relevant in An Irreverent Age," "Our Total Being Under God," and "Called From the Bench to the Field."

In the last-named sermon, Dr. Sager, who accomplished his undergraduate work at Capital University, Lutheran Seminary, Columbus, Ohio, and obtained his Ph.D. at Princeton, declared, "A great deal of a young person's life is spent in preparation for what God calls you to do. One never knows when God may call you, while you are sitting on the bench, to come into the game of life and carry the ball, so you must be ready."

In a workshop conducted for young people, Dr. Sager's theme was, "We should not expect people to come to the church—we must take the church to the people in a community by making the Luther League good enough to be desired."

The visiting church official from Dallas ended with this thought, "Our personal services today and all we do are geared in the expectancy of getting something in return. But our Christian motive should be love, expecting nothing in return."

At the banquet held in Sam's Cafe, unique decorations were prepared and placed by Clara Ann and Carolyn Fischer, Dwayne Grogan and Pamela Druesedow.

Rev. Richard Jones, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, of Odessa, Northwest Texas Lutheran Conference youth advisor, and Mrs. Jones, also were special guests for the accent on youth here.

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

Since writing the last column I have decided to stay in the Garden Club, in spite of the old "ticker" acting up. I've been in Garden Club work for almost 14 years. By now it has become a part of me. Studying about flowers and gardening eases all tension and worry.

There are many things to do in the garden in the next two months. The Dutch bulbs have arrived on the market. Tulips, hyacinth, jonquil (narcissus), crocus, squill and many others. Beds should be prepared to receive these harbingers of spring. Bone meal or well rotted manure should be worked into the ground where bulbs are to be planted. Be sure there is good drainage.

Roses should be watched for black spot. The recent rains and wet foliage encourages the spores of black spot to grow and spread. Dirt splashing up on the foliage contains these spores. I am a great believer in dusting wettable sulphur on the rose bed. This helps kill black spot before it infects the roses.

Cut off all dead blossoms and seed pods. Trim off all dead twigs and leaves in the garden. Feed chrysanthemums to give that needed boost, as the plants produce buds for their annual fall show. If large blossoms are faded, pinch out all buds but the large center one. There should be a great show this fall, since we have been blessed with such wonderful rains.

One word of warning about gathering tomatoes: Be very careful; the recent rains have produced such dense foliage, many harmful insects and an occasional snake may be using the tomato bed for a home. Just last week, I was gathering tomatoes and ran my foot into a wasp nest. I received the Mrs. Glenn Merchant killed a rattler in her garden. Needless to say she is very careful when gathering tomatoes which, by the way, have been large enough to rival Monday's blue ribbon fruit. I'm sure if she weighed the red beauties, many would tip the scales at a pound or more.

Iris can be reset from now until the last of October and still give a show of color next spring. Remember, 3 rizomes turned inward make a good clump.

JOHN SOLOMON, ON 92ND, SAYS, "COME TO PARTY NEXT YEAR"

John E. Solomon, a resident of Haskell and Haskell County for more than 60 years, was the honored guest at a family dinner party celebrating his 92nd birthday recently in the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. D. Turpen, in Denton, with whom he has lived for the past two years.

After the dinner, many friends and neighbors of the family dropped by with gifts, and to extend birthday wishes to Mr. Solomon. Relatives came for the occasion from New Braunfels, Bronte, Lockhart, Seymour and Gainesville.

A native of Uruguay, in South America, the spry nonagenarian came to Haskell County in 1900 after having lived in Missouri and in Cooke and Fannin Counties in Texas. He married in 1901 and engaged in farming more than 30 years on a farm he owned in the Paint Creek community of this county.

After the death of his wife, four vicious stings on my ankle in the beauty of fall's riotous color show. Many homes are showing off their spider lilies. Mrs. Sam Scott grows knee high red speller lilies. The digitals at Mrs. Fred Howard's home make a pretty orchid display. Mrs. Ed Fouts' calladiums and elephant ears are well worth viewing. Mrs. John Ivy's yard attracts many passersby.

well-wishers on his 92nd birthday was, "Come back next year and we will have another party. With 92 down, I have at least eight more good ones to go."

By AL HINDS

My wife and I sat next to the big Tahoka "wheel," Mr. Hill, and when action slowed on the field, and we could see each other through the heavy down-pour, we just had to talk a little "shop."

A single afternoon or evening will be enough time to rid your home of the most common fire hazards. Fire prevention week is October 4-10, and some of the things we could do to join in the nation-wide observance is to follow these "Seven Steps to Safety":

1. Have the complete heating system inspected, cleaned and repaired by an experienced repairman.
2. Provide covered metal containers for ashes and trash.
3. Avoid hanging extension cords over bare nails or running them under the rugs, as this causes dangerous wear.
4. Always call in an experienced electrician for necessary home-wiring, because "home handymen" have been responsible for many fires traced to faulty wiring.
5. Oil and clean motors of electric appliances.
6. Never clean with gasoline.

In addition to these specific steps, "careless handling of cigarettes and matches is still the No. 1 fire cause."

October 11-17 is National Newspaper Week. From the big town dailies to the small town weeklies, newspapers can lift their heads a little higher during this special week, smile a bold confident smile at things to come, and be proud that our press is free, and the greatness of our country has been built upon this freedom.

Are you a young person still receiving formal education who hasn't yet decided on what career to pursue? If so, consider the food business.

That in substance is the view of a top authority. There is almost unlimited opportunity in the food industry, especially for young people starting now.

Wendell Earle, professor of marketing at Cornell University points out:

The food business is America's largest industry, and its sales came to almost $60 billion last year — double the figure of 15 years ago. Continued growth in the food business is assured, with the swelling population.

The future in food is unlimited. In stores, education, agriculture, processing, packaging, warehousing, transportation, engineering, construction, architecture, human relations, finance and leadership on all levels.

come in for surging public criticism. This runs a considerable range. Service, it is charged, is often inadequate. Deliveries are sometimes delayed for strangely long periods of time. The much publicized ZIP code plan for speeding the mails a long time ago seems to be virtually inoperative.

The layman has no means of knowing exactly where the faults lie or how justified all the criticisms are. But there is so much smoke there has to be considerable fire. So it is interesting to compare the post office's tangled record with that of the country's private enterprise means of transporting goods here and abroad.

The two are directly competitive in certain areas, such as small shipments, where parcel post and REA Express both seek business.

The postal service has many an achievement to its credit, whatever its faults. But REA Express proves that private enterprise, which must pay its own way and seek a profit, can come to grips with a tax-subsidized government operation and hold its own.

Six mistakes of life: (1) The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others down. (2) The tendency to worry about a thing that cannot be corrected. (3) Insisting that a thing is impossible because we ourselves have not accomplished it. (4) Refusing to set aside trivial preferences in order that important things may be accomplished. (5) Attempting to make others believe as we do. (6) The failure to establish the habit of saving money.

Other Legion officers installed by Cummins included Fred Boon, 1st vice commander; Bobby Dulaney, second vice commander; Jim Sampson, adjutant; Herbert Ray, service officer; Woodrow Anthony, finance officer; and Billy Ray Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

Retiring Commander R. V. Black introduced the 13th district commander.

Mrs. Burk also installed the following other auxiliary officers: Mrs. Herbert Ray, first vice president; Mrs. Fred Boon, second vice president; Mrs. Henry Drusedow, Jr., secretary; Mrs. Truett Parsons, treasurer; Mrs. Dave Parsons, historian; and Mrs. Martin Roeffler, sergeant-at-arms.

Outgoing Chaplain Eldon Anderson opened the meeting with a prayer, and the new post chaplain, Herbert Fischer, closed the installation service.

Henry Drusedow, Jr., of Haskell, 13th district chaplain, at the conclusion of the students' participation in the program, offered a prayer of thanksgiving for the dedication of youth to strengthening of the moral fiber of the nation.

with the driving laws that regulate the movements of vehicles," the speaker said.

"Most traffic accidents could be prevented if we as individuals would set our minds and hearts to the task of stamping out this unnecessary slaughtering on our streets and highways," Brisco emphasized.

Contest Begins

Lions attendance and membership contest got underway Tuesday noon, with the weighing-in of members. Leroy Haverlah and Dr. J. G. Vaughn will serve as team captains during the contest.

Al Hinds, chairman of the Membership and Attendance committee, pointed out to team captains rules of the contest as follows:

During the six weeks contest the presence of each member will count 1 point, and new members, 5 points. At the end of the contest, the team with the largest number of points will be claimed the winner.

At the beginning of the contest, Tuesday, team captains weighed in their members, and at the conclusion of the contest, all members will again weigh-in. Those showing weight gains will be fined 25c per pound gained.

The first Tuesday meeting of Lions, following the close of the contest, the losing team will be served weiners, kraut and water, while the winning team will be served T-bone steaks, baked potato and dessert.

Team captains will keep score on the point system at each meeting, and also will keep the weight of their members, at the beginning and at the end of the contest.

Quite a bit of enthusiasm was prevalent at Tuesday's meeting and the contest got off to a flying start.

Physical-chemical methods are being tried, including splitting carbon dioxide into its elemental parts with the result that this process regenerates oxygen, but not carbon, Dr. Smith said.

Even a more mobile septic tank procedure for recovering the important regenerative elements of body waste is a part of the program, said Dr. Smith.

"Everything which would be aboard a maneuverable space craft is being tested for its quality of reusability and that quality would be essential to its implementation into the space vehicle," said Dr. Smith.

The Mattson graduates, patrons and former teachers and administrators who gathered for homecoming at Mattson also attended a huge "dinner on the ground" prepared by residents of the Mattson community before the climax event of the evening, the Mattson-Putnam football game on Saturday night.

Herren and Oakes have called a meeting of these community chairmen for 7 p. m. Thursday in the Clay Smith home, 707 North Avenue H, in Haskell, at which plans "forgetting out a record general election Democratic vote" will be formulated, they announced.

month in serving as "watch-dogs" for area highways, at all hours and in all kinds of weather.

"Top Watchdog" (as he is known) Lusk is a stickler for rigid safety regulations, and he says a bitter experience "that didn't have to happen" but a few days after he became responsible for the safety and welfare of his men helped more than anything to launch his crew on their unblemished 19 1/2 year safety stint.

Lusk had hardly taken over his duties of foreman, after 15 years, since 1950, in the "gang" when an employe had a hip broken in a caliche pit cave-in. "Something like that right off will impress you," recalls Lusk. It must have, if the safety-consciousness of his men he instilled from that day forward is any barometer.

And the men who come in for a full measure of credit, along with District Engineer Roberts and Maintenance Foreman Lusk, for keeping the number of accident-free days climbing, are James O. Adkins, Alvis Bird, Leslie Collins, Orbie Collins, Burl Darnell, Aubrey Green, Arvin Jones, Woodrow Jones, Floy Karr, Clarence Meier, John Rousseau, C. V. Schwartz, D. L. Speer, Melvin Turnbow and George Turner.

It's no wonder that Ray Lusk makes almost a "ceremony" of it, and justifiably so, when he "tups" the number of days by one each morning on the sign in front of the maintenance building on State Highway 24 here.

"Just wait until next February 25," he says fervently. "If we make it, we'll get a hand out here that morning."

In 1962, 83% of the men over 65 had less than 6 months of full time work.

Jack Melton, Jimmy Larned, Fred Kreger, Wendell Coston, Gail Crouch, Eddie Hester, Bobby Watson, Gary Drusedow, Gary Conner, James Ivy, Joe Josselet, Thornton, K. O. Desire and Teamwork Aplenty. The last two named "stars" stood out head and shoulders above the rest, which accounted for the impressive score.

Paced by power running full-back James Ivy and slick little speedster Joe Josselet, the Indians rolled for 334 yards rushing and threw only one pass as they broke open a tight 14-0 battle with three touchdowns in the last half.

Munday may have stopped either Ivy or Josselet, but the combination was too much for the Moguls. Ivy crashed through for a 71-yard touchdown run early in the 4th quarter and became the game's leading ground gainer with 152 yards in 13 plays. Before that long tally he had trailed Josselet, who picked up 138 yards in 11 carries.

The Moguls weren't without their own star, tremendous little Terry Leflar, who bore the brunt of the load with 31 carries for 109 yards. His play was excellent, considering the Haskell defense and the void of holes through which to run.

The Moguls appeared to be ready to play on even terms with their Class AA adversaries as the game began, but late in the first quarter they fumbled and set up a Haskell TD. Ivy crashed 33 yards over left guard with 3:26 remaining and Munday was out of the contest.

Forced to kick early in the 2nd quarter, Munday fell even further behind when Haskell drove 51 yards in 11 plays, the touchdown coming on a one-yard plunge by halfback Gary Conner. Conner circled right end for two extra points and it was 14-0 at intermission.

Haskell came back with the kickoff in the 3rd quarter to move 78 yards in seven plays. Josselet got the TD over right tackle as he broke into the clear and outraced the Mogul secondary for a 43-yard tally. Ivy fumbled on the extra point attempt but covered the ball in the end zone to make it 22-0.

An exchange of fumbles set up Haskell's fourth TD as Josselet raced 65 yards around left end following the recovery of the bobble by Frankie White at the Indian 45. The attempt for extra points failed.

A final tally came on the first play of the fourth quarter when Ivy rambled for his 71-yard touchdown. Bobby Watson got the two extra points to wrap up the scoring.
