GROUP ACTION AMONG NEIGHBORS

The efficient sized farm may be smaller than you think—if the farmer owns some of his machinery and buildings jointly with neighbors.

That's one conclusion of a worldwide study, Manpower in Agriculture, that the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development recently published.

The study notes that 3% of the farmers leave the land each year in the developed countries of North America and western Europe. The United States has the highest rate—5%. It calls this shift "a normal part of modern economic development."

The goal should be mobility of manpower, the study says—freedom for people to move out of farming, into farming, or from hired hand to tenant to owner. To achieve this, governments should encourage the "adequate-size farm"—the farm on which a family can earn an income equal to what it could earn elsewhere with equal effort, ingenuity and investment.

If every wheat farmer must own the trucks, tractors, combines, gangplows, and other machinery he needs at the peak seasons, his farm must be large to support this investment.

However, "cooperation, or group action among neighbors, in such activities as machine ownership and investment in certain buildings" might mean that a smaller farm would be adequate, the study points out.

The study recommends that governments encourage these co-ops "as possible avenues for the farm size adjustment that would facilitate labor mobility."

The study also recommends that governments encourage cooperative processing of agricultural products to create jobs close to home for families that want to move out of farming.

RESTITUTION HELPS

Auto arson in Texas has fallen to the all time low set during WWII years, according to C. C. Benson, manager, Texas Division, National Automobile Theft Bureau.

In making the announcement, Mr. Benson noted that for the NATB to investigate suspected cases of auto arson in the state had decreased 24 per cent during the past year.

Although several factors have combined to influence the decline, Mr. Benson said, of major concern is the effect of a continued trend toward requiring financial restitution of convicted arsonists.

Mr. Benson noted that when evidence of arson was uncovered by NATB in a recent Texas Gulf coast auto burning case, the suspected car owner withdrew his insurance claim and paid both the insurance adjuster's expenses and the cost of determining the car's mechanical condition.

A similar East Texas arson case investigated by NATB resulted in a probation sentence for the auto owner with the condition that he would continue payment to the car's mortgagee and withdraw his claim to the insurance company.

Mr. Benson said that the NATB has continued to urge that judicial punishment take financial restitution into consideration. "The deterrent factor for many potential con-men and criminals," he said, "could well be the threat of having to pay back ill-gotten gains."

He added that reduced auto arson in Texas—a state where restitution has begun to be an integral part of probation procedures—underlines a need for continued and broadened emphasis on restitution as a crime deterrent for the protection of the state's citizens.

'66 Dodge Coronet Here comes Coronet... sharp, smart, sassy, the greatest thing from Dodge since Year One. Loaded with luxury the higher-priced cars haven't caught onto yet. With a choice of five engines, designed to make the walls of Dullsville come tumbling down. Get away from look-alike, first-cousin cars with Coronet.

'66 Dodge Polara Snap, crackle, pop, go the ties that bind. You're up and out of the rut with Polara. More "big." More "hot." A lot of standard extras (like a 383 cubic inch V8) at no extra cost. See it now. And if you're carrying a big torch for a car that'll really move you, bring the torch along.

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU: Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1966 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings.

REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

'66 Chevrolet Truck Line Features

New in Chevrolet's 1966 truck line is this short cab for many heavy-duty models. Aerodynamically styled for low air-resistance, its short length gives improved load-weight distribution, yet retains adequate driver room and comfort. Many panels are easily removable for access to the chassis or for damage replacement. Other features of the 1966 line include a new three-ton series with payloads up to 17 tons, six new engines, a three-speed automatic transmission, and several safety items as standard equipment. The line has been expanded to 366 models.

Guests At Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tipton, missionaries for the Church of Christ in Argentina, South America, were among the guests at a recent luncheon in Pilar, Argentina, where the President and Mrs. Arturo Illia, were honored guests. The Governor and wife of the Province of Buenos Aires, were also present.

Mr. Tipton is presently serving as vice president of the Jaycees of Pilar and as such was seated at the head table with the President and others, so Mrs. Tipton related in a letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Phemister of Weinert. The ladies were not seated with their husbands, but as is the custom in South America, they were seated at a table apart. But that was an improvement, for at first the ladies were not expecting to be invited to attend.

The occasion for the luncheon was a National Chicken Congress, a project of the Jaycees. It was given to boost the poultry industry in Argentina, that until a few years ago, was non-existent, but now is making rapid progress. Mr. Tipton was commended for his exemplary work and received telegrams and letters of congratulations from all over Argentina.

The Tiptons are in their fifth year of service as Missionaries in Argentina and are making plans to return to the States the first part of the year of 1966. Their three children, Linda 10, Bobby 8, and Jennifer 7, have been attending the Spanish speaking schools while there.

The Chrysler cars for 1966 are new from front to rear with more powerful engine options, new interior seating arrangements and equipment options. There is a stronger separate styling identity for the four series which make up the Chrysler line—the luxury New Yorkers, the sporty 300s, the economical Newports and the new Town and Country series of station wagons. Most changed in appearance for 1966 is the distinctive 300 series. The 300 two-door hardtop shown above has a new roof line with a restyled rear window, a new hood, new front bumper and wrap-around taillights. Standard engines range from the 383-cubic inch V-8 using regular fuel in the Newport and Town and Country cars to the 440 cubic inch V-8 with a 4-barrel carburetor in the New Yorker. New equipment options and features include power front wheel disc brakes, an adjustable tilting and telescoping steering wheel, and safety-type inside door handles.

Rotary Club Members Hear J. C. Yeary

J. C. Yeary, agent for the Great Plains Soil Conservation District, with offices in Haskell, spoke to members of the Rotary Club at the noon-day luncheon meeting, Thursday, at Felker's Restaurant.

Yeary spoke on the work of his office in this district, and indicated that his office serves some 2,000 farmers and ranchers. "There are at present 58 soil conservation contracts in force in this district which is comprised of three work units—one in Stamford, another in Knox City and one in Haskell," Yeary said.

"The shifting of sandy soil in this area is one problem met with the planting of coastal bermuda," the guest speaker pointed out.

Continuing, Mr. Yeary said: "Fifty-four acres of grassed waterways have been developed; 220,000 feet of terracing has been erected; 16,000 feet of diversion (for water) has been built."

The office has controlled 6,300 acres of brush, either by outright removal, or by spraying. These "invading shrubs," cited Mr. Yeary, consume too much valuable water.

17,000 feet of cross-fencing for range improvement is also part of the soil conservation accomplishment.

The Great Plains Conservation program is aimed at both large and small farms; the program being widely adaptable.

Contracts are prepared for a minimum of 3 years—not to exceed 10 years, and are designed to meet the needs of any particular farm or ranch unit. The average contract runs around 4 years in Haskell County.

Mr. Yeary is a graduate of Texas A&M, and has lived in Haskell for six years. He was introduced by Rotarian Roy Johnson, vice-president of the Haskell National Bank.

Raja Hasen, local merchant, was a guest at Thursday's session. Student guests were Betsy Fouts and Bobby Watson.

Mr. Kenneth Campbell with Anderson Tire Co., is attending a front-end alignment school at Oklahoma City, Okla.

To America with love... The 1966 Chrysler

Could be we're getting too emotional. But it isn't very often you get a chance to follow an all-time sales record year with a new Chrysler like this one.

Sure, our '65 was great. But the '66 is even better.

It looks better. Moves quicker. It's got a beautiful new front end and a very dramatic new rear.

It's got a bigger and more zesty group of V-8 engines. From a 383 cubic inch to a 440 TNT with twin exhausts and twin snorkels. (A "snorkel" is an air intake horn for the carburetor — does great things for performance.)

The interiors, all up and down the line, are more luxurious and comforting. Take our new shell bucket seats, for example. It's almost as if they had been custom-fitted for you.

One thing we didn't even think about changing. It has to do with money. Five of our Newport models (real Chryslers — not junior editions) are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars with the same equipment. This includes features like power steering, power brakes, a 383 cubic inch V-3, automatic transmission, radio and many standard items like safety door handles and seat belts.

Move up to Chrysler... it's getting easier by the minute.

Entirely new styling of the 1966 Fairlane is dramatically displayed in the photo of the Fairlane 500 XL 2-door hardtop, above, and the Fairlane GT convertible, below. Indicative of the broadness and family and sports appeal of the 1966 Fairlane is the new model selection — four series instead of two and 13 models instead of eight. The two new Fairlane series — the Fairlane 500 XL and the Fairlane GT — are available in convertible and 2-door hardtop models designed for sports- and luxury-oriented customers. Simulated hood louvers and the famed Ford GT racing stripes above the rocker panel are among distinguishing features of the Fairlane GT. All 1966 Fairlanes will be in Ford dealer showrooms beginning October 1.

NEWS FROM YOUR COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

Now is the time for better breakfasts since it is the beginning of a new school year. Now is the time for getting back on schedule and forgetting the "haphazard" meals of summer, says Mrs. Barbara M. Elliott, Haskell County Home Demonstration Agent.

Eating a good breakfast results in better school records. Studies show that during the morning hours, students who had a good breakfast turned out more work, were quicker in their mental and physical reactions and did not tire as easily as those who ate no breakfast or had only unsweetened coffee.

A good breakfast provides 1/3 of the calories needed during the day. A good breakfast also contains the minerals and vitamins needed to build and repair the body and keep it healthy.

In terms of food, a good breakfast includes foods high in Vitamin C. These include citrus fruits, melons, strawberries, tomatoes or tomato juice. A good breakfast may contain cereal products with milk or meat or eggs. Children should have milk in addition to the milk or cereal. Breakfast also is a good time for adults to drink a part of their daily milk requirement.

Breakfast usually is the meal of the day with the least planning and the least variety. Most homemakers do not plan a breakfast menu, nor do they consider what to offer until time for preparation. But now is a good time to resolve to make breakfast an important meal for your family, says Mrs. Elliott.

This conference was conducted by the Veterans Affairs Commission of Texas, in cooperation with the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Veterans of World War I, AMVETS, and the Veterans County Service Officers Association of Texas. Topics discussed during the four-day conference included disability pension and compensation, Government insurance, GI loans, education and training for veterans and dependents, hospitalization and medical treatment for veterans, and veterans employment and re-employment rights.

Conducted annually, this conference serves as an intensive course of training for all National, State, County, Post and Chapter Veterans Service Officers.

Haskell Gets Strawn Sand Oil Producer

Featherston Oil Co. of Wichita Falls completed No. 1 G. W. Hanson five miles north of Stamford in Haskell county as a 126.66-barrel oil producer.

On the 24-hour test, the well potentialized production with 2% water on a 15-64 inch choke with packer on casing and 280 pounds of pressure on the tubing and the least variety. Most homemakers do not plan a breakfast menu, nor do they consider what to offer until time for preparation. But now is a good time to resolve to make breakfast an important meal for your family, says Mrs. Elliott.

DEFOLIATION BEFORE COTTON MATURES CAN BE A DISASTER

Desiccation (usually called Defoliation), is it good or bad? "Either can be true," says B. B. Manly, Jr., in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Abilene.

The Extension Service recommends that 90 per cent of the bolls be open before defoliating. This should be especially true in the "low spots" and rank cotton. The last places to fully mature are likely to be in the best cotton.

Defoliation before cotton is mature can be disastrous. It can cause low mike readings, lower grades, poor turnouts at the gin, and low yields. If the crop is mature, proper defoliation cannot damage it. Some advantages of proper defoliation are: The crop is harvested early with less chance of damage or loss from bad weather. It kills harmful insects and it gives an opportunity to rotate cropland.

Applied properly, defoliant can be economical, but improper use can be costly and dangerous. An arsenic solution can kill people, cattle, pets, insects, or about anything that comes in contact with it. Care should be exercised to not allow wind to carry it into pastures or feed crops. Arsenic acid will not evaporate or just go away. It is absorbed by the plant. It can be dangerous.

Sometimes rain washes the defoliant off the plant before it absorbs enough to die. It pays to watch weather forecasts and weather trends. Then if it rains too soon or some spots are missed, the crop or spots at least should be treated again. All the bolls should be thoroughly dry before the plants are stripped. Green bolls or wet lint do not gin good which is evident in the cotton sample and usually results in a lower grade of lint.

Crop prospects are good this year. The Abilene Cotton Classing Office, one of 43 under the Consumer and Marketing Service, expects to class 600,000 samples this season, compared to 273,000 last season and 400,000 some two years ago. The big increases over last season will come from Howard, Martin, Seury, Mitchell, Tom Green, Runnels and Fisher

More Pointers On SS Law Changes Made In 1965

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series for our readers prepared by R. R. Tuley, Jr., District Manager for the Social Security Administrator at Abilene.

Regular readers of this series, as well as those who have missed one or more of the articles, are urged to write to the Social Security Office, Box 3258, Abilene, Texas, 79604, and ask for the leaflet entitled "Social Security Amendments, 1965." The generosity of this newspaper in furnishing space given to these articles is greatly appreciated, but full details could not be given because the space was needed for other news.

Among changes that affect, for the most part, fewer persons than those described in this series, are those involving changes in the financing provisions for the benefits, some changes in the disability requirements (as to duration of the impairments, not the severity level), coverage of physicians and medical and dental interns, coverage of income from tips in connection with work at cafes, hotels, etc., an extension of time for clerks to secure social security coverage, changes in effective dates of coverage for employees of non-profit organizations such as churches, hospitals, etc.

In closing, I hope that this series has answered your questions about the 1965 Amendments; but if not, then I urge you to write for the leaflet mentioned above. And, at any time in the future that a social security question comes to your mind, write us for the answers. Don't depend on hearsay or think that what was in effect in 1950 is still the law today. The goal of the Abilene district office of the Social Security Administration is to pay every dollar that is due to every person that is entitled to be paid, and not to pay any dollar that should not be paid. Correct amounts, to the proper persons, and on time with the payment, might be another way of saying the same thing.

40th Anniversary Celebration At Texas Technological College

The month of October will be one of the most memorable and eventful 31-day periods in Texas Tech's history as the college pauses — as much as a bustling university with 15,000 plus students can pause — to mark its 40th anniversary.

The theme for the 40th anniversary celebration will be one of recognition and honor for those who were instrumental in establishing the college.

Special guest lists will include members of the original faculty, the first football team, the locating board which put the college at Lubbock and many others including current state officials and administrative leaders from other colleges and universities throughout Texas and eastern New Mexico.

Tech Board Member Alvin R. Allison, Levelland, is general chairman of the executive committee which will oversee the entire month of festivities. An individual committee for each weekend's activities has been created.

The Red Raiders play at home four Saturdays during the month.

Different groups will be honored each weekend.

Dr. Clifford Jones, president emeritus of the college, is the only living member of the first board of directors, and he will be a special honor guest as well as a member of the coordinating committee.

Lt. Governor Preston Smith will serve as honorary chairman of the first weekend celebration.

Another former president, Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Lubbock, who was recently named to Gov. John Connally's higher education coordinating board, also will be participating.

Another group to be honored will be the 1939 Red Raider football team which played in the Cotton Bowl.

On October 2nd, Tech plays host to Texas A&M in a Southwest Conference game. The October 9th game, another SWC tilt, is against Texas Christian University.

Oklahoma State University, returning to the Tech schedule this year, will be in Lubbock for the October 15th date, and the final weekend of October 30th finds Rice University's Owls as the Raider foe.

The October 30th date also is the college's annual homecoming.

Fletcher Proves That Conservation Stabilizes The Farmer's Income

Joe L. Fletcher of Rochester, 1965 Outstanding Farmer of the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District, states that by applying sound conservation in a timely manner on his farm, he has brought about a stabilization of his farm income.

The conserving of our natural resources of soil and water, and stabilizing our farm income is becoming more and more the concern of every citizen, reported Work Unit Conservationist J. C. Yearly of Haskell, Texas.

Every American citizen, man, woman and child, whether a city dweller or a member of a rural community, must be vitally concerned with conservation and stabilization. The future of our nation and our economy depend upon each one of us recognizing early, what responsibilities we have.

Soil, water and plant conservation must be practiced by each individual if it is to be successful. Many teachers and educators each year are including study units on conservation in their school programs. This is starting at the right place. If the youth of our nation are taught today, the adults of tomorrow will be more aware of the need for conservation of resources and stabilizing farm incomes as well as incomes of the population as a whole.

More and more farmers and ranchers are finding the Great Plains Conservation Program, as Fletcher has, a faster and less costly way of solving erosion problems and making yields and income more dependable. Especially in time of drought, the GPCP is proving effective in protecting soil and conserving moisture. Thus, drought, when it comes, is a less costly blow.

All efforts put forth by the farmer and rancher to bring about conservation bring the urban dweller into closer economic ties with him. If his income falls and he and his family are forced to move away — his productivity, his earning ability, his family's participation in school and church activities are lost to the community. If the process continues, Yearly concluded, the community finally becomes a loss to the state and nation.

SQUITO CONTROL IS URGED PREVENT HEALTH HAZARDS

Rains brought inland by Hurricane Betsy have created conditions for a serious mosquito threat, according to recent surveys in Gulf Coast states. In parts of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and other southern areas affected by the recent storm, wide areas now have standing water, the natural breeding place for mosquitos.

Although primarily considered a nuisance, mosquitos also are a public health hazard. This fact accounts for the increased attention and concern being focused on the potential mosquito population boom in the areas hit by recent rains. Mosquitos are known carriers of encephalitis and other harmful diseases of farm animals, pets and humans, according to pest control authorities with American Cyanamid Co. The scientists point out that the Culex mosquito is the carrier of encephalitis. During 1964, the severe outbreak of encephalitis in Houston, was traced to mosquitos.

The Cyanamid scientists recommend several basic steps that can help prevent mosquito buildup. First, eliminate, where possible, any standing water around homes and buildings. Mosquitos need water in which to lay eggs. If uncontrolled, these larvae hatch to breed millions more. Secondly, clean up refuse, tin cans, old tires, and similar objects which may hold water for mosquito breeding. The scientists also recommend spraying of shrubs, moist garden areas and home ground with malathion insecticide to kill mosquito adults and larvae. During the Houston mosquito control effort last year, municipal authorities used aircraft, helicopters, trucks and other types of ground equipment to spray malathion insecticide to kill invading mosquitos.

A major reason for use of the broad-range insecticide, according to scientists, is its ability to provide quick kill of both larvae and adult mosquitos, even those resistant to other types of chemicals. Equally important, the pest control officials point out, is that malathion insecticide has extremely low toxicity to man and animals. It is classed as a non-persistent material. That means, the scientists explain, that malathion can kill mosquitos quickly, but residues disappear as soon as the job is done.

During the present hurricane season, more storms are likely to bring the rains that set the stage for mosquito population explosions. Regular clean-up of refuse, elimination of standing water and periodic spraying when necessary are basic steps to prevent mosquito problems.

STATE FAIR NOT FAR, "U-NO"

"U-No" Ferris' Fairest? He hopes to be the best when his friend here, John Riley, 15, brings the Hereford steer to the Junior Livestock Show October 19-23 at the 1966 State Fair of Texas in Dallas. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tip Riley of Ferris and a Future Farmer in the Ferris Chapter. Looking on is Jo Ann Pugh, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odie Pugh of Ferris. She has been Sweetheart of the Ferris FFA Chapter and has enrolled for the fall term at East Texas State University in Commerce.

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

October is a clean-up month for the gardener. All corn stalks, hollow stems and old trash should either be buried or burned. It is in such things that insects winter so they can once more ravage our gardens. Be sure to add all other vegetation to the compost heap.

As leaves begin to fall, either compost them or put into a heap to make leaf mold.

Work bulb beds well and add bone meal to the soil. Well rotted compost will help to make the soil soft and friable. It will also cut down on water consumption of the bulb bed.

Hardy bulbs to be planted this month are daffodils and Spanish iris, hyacinth, narcissi and tulips. Some lesser bulbs such as grape hyacinth, scillas, crocus and snowdrops, are also hardy and can be planted this month.

If you haven't already rooted coleus, geranium and other plants to carry through winter, it isn't too late to do so. Joseph's coat, coleus, ivy and geranium are often wintered in water. These plants root readily when placed in jars or vases of water and live all winter to start a new cycle in the spring.

Where gladiolus foliage has begun to yellow, gently dig the corms and after inspecting each one for disease, dust with sulphur and put them away for the winter. Discard any injured or diseased corms.

Lift tuberous bulbs and do not divide until next year at planting time.

Now is a good time to sow larkspur, poppies, gallardia, and stock. I plant these seed on a well prepared bed and let winter rains bring them up. Nature seems to know the best time for seed to come up.

Do not fail to bring in pot plants before frost comes and kills them.

Except where plants are dormant, keep the soil evenly moist. Thoroughly saturate the soil, then wait until it is nearly dry before watering again.

Do not over water succulents and cacti. But give them an occasional drink, even in the winter.

Do drive by Mrs. Ed Fouts and see her lovely coxcombs. They are really outstanding.

Burson Attends PCA Sessions In Houston

W. H. Calkins, Vice President of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, discussed the credit outlook for 1966 with the executive committees of the 35 Production Credit Associations of Texas in a series of four meetings in Houston.

"Equity continues to build up in most operations although debt loads are increasing for the farmers and ranchers of Texas. Profit margins are slim, however, efficient operators are still showing a net profit. As farming and ranching continue developing in size and complexity, the successful operator will be top manager," says Calkins.

Calkins addressed his remarks to the PCA executive committee conferees, who met at the Bank in Houston on Sept. 27-28, 1965. Attending from the Rolling Plains association were general manager J. L. Hill, Jr., of Stamford, C. G. Burson, Sr., of Haskell, and J. C. Emmert of Wellington who are members of the association's executive committee.

The conferees also discussed ways of improving the quality of loans, reviewed and studied factors which have bearing on credit decisions, such as credit factors and loan analysis.
