MIKE'S MUMBLINGS
 By MIKE CAMPBELL

If the publicity on the issue of integration was discontinued the marches and bombings would probably slack off to some extent. But as long as newspapers and television continually blaze it before the public eye, it is not likely to lose its momentum.

Between the ending of basketball and the beginning of the baseball season, the sport writers are almost driven, in their extremity to covering ping pong games.

It is always a pleasure to meet my friend, Bill Ratliff, County Attorney. After a chat with Bill it gives my spirits a lift.

A high authority in the medical profession has stated that eight out of ten lung cancer cases are caused from cigarette smoking. If that be true, evidently filter tips are not what they are advertised to be.

Several years ago I was publishing a weekly newspaper in a town of 2,000 population that lay nine miles from the Trinity River. One afternoon I was approached by three young men of the community who invited me to go fishing with them. As it had been an exceedingly hot and dry summer, I told them that fish were not biting. "Oh, we ain't goin' to use hooks; we're goin' to bring 'em in," one of the group replied. I told them that there was a heavy penalty for using a net. "We're not goin' to use a net," they replied. I advised them that the river was swarming with game wardens, and dynamiting was a very big risk to take.

The group drove their Model-T to a deep hole in the river just below Wild Cat Ferry, and tossed in a stick of dynamite, and when the dead fish rose to the surface two of the boys waded out in the water and began throwing them out on the bank, while the third member was filling a sack with the largest fish.

"Come on out fellers, we got about all we can tote," he called to the two in the river.

"You'd better get all of them boys, they're going to be darned expensive," a voice stated.

The startled fishermen looked up, and to their consternation a game warden was standing on a bluff above them. And it was—$200 each.

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO
 March 28, 1935)
 Spring football practice was begun here Monday afternoon under the direction of head coach, Bill Richey, and line coach, Perry Mason. About 30 players have appeared for the sessions this week. John Kimbrough, 200-lb. back and 10.2 track man in the 100-yard dash, is exhibiting greater power than he has ever shown, although he waded through opposition last fall like a bowling ball among tin-pins. Jack Kimbrough, 18, who weighs a few pounds less than his younger brother, and who has dealt opposing district football players misery in the past, answered the first call on Tuesday, eager to get in a few passes and kicks. Ernest McMillan, husky 200-lb. center, who is in his second year of football, swung into action in spring training full of zip. Phippen, fast end; Reeves, guard and Moser, end, also have swung into action in a battling manner, according to Richey. New material at hand, from which a few regulars will almost have to be picked, is composed of the following: Carl Henshaw, R. C. Henshaw, Robert Wheatley, Henry Stanton, Jimmy Crawford, Thomas Kaigler, Woodrow Frazier, Claude Jenkins and W. B. Harrison.

Construction work on 7.7 miles of Highway 120 east of Haskell, will begin about April 8. County Judge Chas. M. Conner, French M. Robertson, D. P. Ratliff and Tom Donohoo, made a special trip to Austin the first of the week, and received the approval of the Texas Relief Commission on the project which has been held up for several weeks. County Judge and Mrs. Chas. M. Conner and daughters, Misses Geraldine and Jean, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Darden, Mr. and Mrs. Ab Hutches, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Kendrick and Tom Mapes will leave today for Brownwood where they will attend a meeting of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association.

Mrs. A. E. Smith returned home Wednesday from the Abilene Sanitarium where she has been for several days for treatment.

40 YEARS AGO
 (March 27, 1925)
 More than 1,400 acres of fine farming land is now being put into cultivation adjoining the city of Weinert on the west. The large pasture containing 1,100 acres which has been under the control of H. Weinert for many years, has been cut up into tracts of 138 acres each, placed on the market by Mr. Weinert, and all have been sold except one tract.

Mrs. R. J. Reynolds opened the doors of her beautiful new home Tuesday to the members of the Luncheon Club and their husbands. Her home was very pretty with hyacinths and violets. The ladies arrived early in the morning, and at noon the men came and one of the usual beautiful and delicious luncheons was served. After which the ladies did hand work. Those enjoying the delightful hospitality were Messrs. and Mmes. B. M. Whitaker, O. E. Patterson, F. L. Daugherty, A. C. Pierson, W. M. Reid, H. S. Wilson, T. J. Arbuckle, M. B. Lebo, S. A. Roberts. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Couch, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Grissom, Mrs. Ben Hardy and Mr. Virgil Hudson.

The Parent Teachers Association will have an Easter Sale at the McCollum, Ellis and Couch Hardware Store on Friday and Saturday, April 10, 11.

A stockholders meeting of the Farmers Gin Co., will be held in Haskell Saturday, April 4, at which time dividends will be paid on all stock, and other important business disposed of.

Mrs. O. E. Oates is in Mineral Wells taking treatment.

Guy Mayes of Grissom's Store has completed a new residence on West Walton Street, a few blocks from the square. Earnest Sanders and Arnes Cox, who are attending Southwestern University, visited their parents between terms.

60 YEARS AGO
 (April 1, 1905)
 A number of Haskell young men and boys have organized a baseball team and leased a site for a permanent playground and will begin practicing as soon as they get it properly arranged. They have the site used last fall by the street fair and trial grounds for horses.

Mr. Wm. Oglesby, who is farming this year, says his corn and oats are up and growing and his milo maize, sorghum and millet are all planted, and he will plant some cotton next week.

Mr. M. S. Pierson and family have returned from the coast country, where they spent the latter part of the winter. We are pleased to state that Mr. Pierson's health is much improved.

Mr. J. F. Stephens has purchased the Mason residence two blocks north of the square for a parsonage.

An enthusiastic Wild Horse farmer handed the Haskell Free Press Editor the following suggestions about Haskell County: "Haskell County, the land of cotton, wheat, oats, milo maize, sorghum, cantaloupes, watermelons and other fruits. Haskell County, the best truck growing county in North-west Texas... the land of cattle, horses, hogs and sheep..."

Waiting For Handouts

What is the ultimate effect of a welfare state on the individual? A striking and unusual little editorial which recently appeared in the Richmond, Virginia, News Leader, helps answer that question: "In Mount Rainer National Park, Wash., a ranger cautions visitors against feeding the animals. The ranger explains that deer grow accustomed to visitors' handouts, and lose the ability to fend for themselves. Bears, he says, come to believe that free food is their due... and become grouchy and violent if they don't get it. Chipmunks and squirrels congregate where handouts are supplied, and thus upset the balance of nature."

"There is a lesson here for people... and for their government."

There certainly is... and it's about the most important lesson we can learn. The welfare state is the enemy of individual pride, individual initiative and individual freedom. It makes for a faceless mass of human statistics, waiting supinely for handouts from their masters.

A Time Of Faith

This is the month of Easter. And throughout Christendom, the resurrection of Jesus Christ as the central fact of the Christian religion will be celebrated. On that first morning, a great rock stood rolled back from the doorway of an empty tomb. The Lord had risen and the Christian faith was born.

In this fast-paced world, the swift passage of events often leaves us breathless and occasionally wondering how best to be ready both personally, and as a nation to meet the shifting circumstances which are sure to arise with the new day's sun. At such a time, each of us needs a firm base founded on faith in divine purpose, and a sense of direction and continuity in our lives.

This is a time to strengthen our faith and sense of direction. Easter signifies renewal and rebirth... appropriately the word itself was derived from the name of an ancient goddess of Spring. Aside from its religious significance, the ritual that is part of the Easter observance in every church has a meaning for us of its own. It is rooted deeply in tradition, and it imparts a feeling of permanence as we realize how strongly the traditions of the past are with us today. Even my lady's Easter bonnet is after all not such a frivolous and meaningless thing. It is part of a tradition and happily enough, in most cases, an eye pleasing one. But tradition and Easter finery aside, as we inwardly renew our dedication to the Christian faith, we pass it on to future generations as the focal point of life and the continuing key building block of western civilization.

Patriots Can Do Their Bit

Most people, concerned with the growing ugliness of numerous communities, are extremely gratified with President Johnson's determination to beautify the country. Such a program long has been due.

It has been reported that the President is out to push this program strongly. Mrs. Johnson, too, is heavily engaged in exciting the women of the nation to follow her examples in beautifying.

We never before have had a president who has been so publicly concerned with the beauty of our land. To be sure, Thomas Jefferson made some pointed comments and Theodore Roosevelt was a great conservationist, but neither concerned himself so much with the total beauty of the country. President Johnson's conception ranges from the hearts of cities to roadsides through remote areas.

We often have thought that conservation and planting of urban land may be as important as farm land. The latter concerns itself largely with soil conservation and production of food, the former with production of a beautiful environment for living. Ugly settings breed ugly people, while lovely environments make pleasanter citizens.

The President's and Mrs. Johnson's programs come none too soon. Their leadership will have tremendous effect on the future beauty of America. To make the program effective, however, everyone who owns or uses land, needs to be conscious of the preservation of its beauty. Beautification is a job for all citizens. The need for preservation and enhancement of natural beauty is a spirit in the hearts of citizens. It cannot be bought or sold. It can only be taught. The message for beauty can be passed on to others who may not be so enlightened.

No patriot wittingly would despoil the beauty of his country; yet in many respects, the land has been allowed to become ugly. The true patriot feels it a duty to keep "America, the Beautiful," and we all can do our bit to this end, under the President's leadership. Let's get busy on our own land, and in our local community.

It's no surprise that Plymouth sales for the '65 model year are up over last year and still going strong. Texans like things "Texas-size" and Plymouth for '65 certainly fills the bill. The Plymouth Fury is the biggest, plushiest Plymouth ever—but still solidly in the low-price field. And every Plymouth has a 5-year/50,000-mile engine and drive train warranty.*

HERE'S HOW PLYMOUTH'S 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU:

Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential and rear wheel bearings. Required maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first, replace oil filter every second oil change, clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years, and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. April Offers The "Lucky Eleven"

April offers the "Lucky Eleven."

That's the eleven foods plentiful this month, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Featured are eggs and prunes. Although spring usually brings a large number of eggs to market, supplies this month are expected to exceed those of last year. Dried prune production is heading for a 40,000-ton increase over last year—with official estimates at about 171,000 tons.

Other foods reported plentiful by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service include two poultry items — broiler-fryers and turkeys, fresh carrots, cabbage, onions, canned pears, canned pink salmon, honey and dry peas.

Turkey for Easter dinner is a good thing to keep in mind. It should be a timely treat—and can easily be prepared ahead of time.

And you should find broiler-fryers also an economy meat. Marketings are expected to be nearly 10 percent above a year ago, when farm prices were the lowest on record for April.

You'll find lots of honey on the market this month. And April 18-24 has been designated "Honey for Breakfast Week," a real good time to "sweeten up" the morning menu.

Fresh onions will be plentiful, due to a large harvest and a decline in export movement because of the dock strike. Dry peas will be well in excess of trade needs.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE CITY OF HASKELL

In response to a request from a large number of Haskell citizens I have filed as a candidate for the office of City Alderman.

I gave this matter serious consideration before agreeing to offer myself as a candidate to the office.

First, I believe that I can fulfill my duties in a fair and impartial manner, which I pledge to do.

Secondly, I am definitely opposed to the City of Haskell participating in the Miller Creek water project, with its attendant exorbitant cost.

Thirdly, I am confident that the City can and will be able to procure water from Lake Stamford at much less cost and that we can do this, regardless of the pressure from the opposition.

I pledge you, that if elected, to at all times act in the best interests of Haskell and see that your tax dollar is spent wisely.

I am 52 years of age and have lived here 13 1/2 years and plan to continue to make Haskell my home.

Texans Think Big—About Weather And Baseball...

Like most Americans, Texans talk about the weather—and baseball. But the folks in Houston have finally done something about the weather. In fact, they've made every day an ideal day for baseball.

That "something" is the Harris County Domes Stadium, home of the Houston Astros and the first indoor baseball field in history. Covered with a network of close to 6,000 skylights of Du Pont's "Lucite" acrylic monomer, the unique stadium guarantees sports fans perfect pre-packaged weather 365 days a year. Come heat, humidity, rain or even a freak snow flurry, spectators will be able to attend baseball, football, circuses, rodeos, trade shows, political conventions, religious services—all in constant-temperature comfort. For the stadium is fully air-conditioned, with 6,600 rated tons of equipment in constant operation.

What's more—the playing field will have natural grass growing on it, made possible because the skylights permit sufficient sunlight to filter down to the playing field to nourish the grass.

An idea literally pulled out of the sky brought about this indoor-outdoor weatherproof roof. Architects took the same concept that Du Pont scientists had developed for the B-17 airplane gunner's dome of "Lucite", and brought it down several thousand feet and simply thought big—half a mile big to be exact.

Seen through a fish-eye lens, the Astrodome interior is a study in curves. Grass on the playing field is nurtured by sunlight transmitted through skylight panels of "Lucite".

All this is, of course, a far cry from the sports stadium of old—whose builders tried all sorts of methods of beating the heat and other discomforts. The ancient Greeks, for example, tackled the weather problem by choosing as the site of their games, Olympia, for its thick grove of trees. But, when Zeus let fly with a lightning bolt, everyone, spectators included, donned winged sandals for a cross-country run.

Time and progress brought the newspaper held over the head, the plastic raincoat, the portable plastic pup tent, and finally the half-enclosed stadium, where the sports fan observes the proceedings in chilled semiprotection. But these will be mere relics of the past when the Astros take to the field in Houston this spring and summer—or when the Houston Cougars and Houston Oilers kick off the football season in the fall. Even should mighty Bob Aspromonte strike out, there'll be no gloom in Houston's "Astrodome."

One of the most famous silhouettes of World War II, the B-17 turret, became the identifying mark of the greatest bomber produced during the war. Protected by three layers of "Lucite", the gunner still had complete visibility. Over 12,000 Flying Fortresses, the workhorses of the bomb squadrons, were produced during the war.

It'll be a rainy day in Texas and a great day for a baseball game at Houston's Harris County Domes Stadium, the world's first indoor-outdoor weatherproof sports arena. Only the sun will be able to penetrate the skylight roof of Du Pont's "Lucite". Inside the stadium 2 1/2-million cubic feet of air will be cooled and circulated each minute.

Zing into spring! Corvair by Chevrolet

The steering's crisper, the ride's flatter, the style's racier—even the grass looks a shade greener from behind the wheel of this new Corvair

For all its finely calibrated instrumentation—tachometer, manifold pressure gauge, even an electric clock with a sweep second hand for rally buffs—the most important thing that happens when you get a Corvair Corsa out on the road doesn't register on the dash. It registers on you.

You feel it in the steering—crisp and precise—as you double back on a curve. In the flat riveted-to-the-road stability of the new fully independent suspension. In the response of the rear engine (up to 180 hp available now in Corsa's Turbo-Charged version).

Drop down to your dealer's now—while the trading's extra good—and see for yourself.

Roy Arledge Introduces Bill To Foil Building

Opponents of the 24-story apartment and office building being constructed 90 feet west of the capitol in Austin, took another approach Monday. Rep. Roy Arledge of Stamford introduced a bill to remove the authority of the Austin City Council to permit construction of buildings more than 90 feet high within a mile of the capitol.

Wooten Cops Honors At "Shoot" Sunday

A special call "shoot" at the Haskell Gun Club, Sunday, March 28, ended with Wallace Wooten breaking a near perfect score. Wooten "wowed 'em" by breaking 199x200, dropping his 34th bird and finishing all the rest of the 200-bird shoot without missing another target.

PAINT CREEK ... COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

Paint Creek school trustee election will be held at the Vocational Agriculture building, Saturday, April 3, from 8:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m. The election judge is Arthur Moody.

The fire Sunday night that had us all phoning each other and driving to the lake toward it, was Mr. Von Cobb's sorghum alum patch. I imagine some pasture burned, too, but I have not heard. It looked like a big fire.

Danny Isbell had an infection and ran a temperature Thursday and Friday, but was better Sunday. I phoned and talked to him, and he didn't sound his usual cheerful self, but his mother said he was feeling better. The doctor assured them that it was not unexpected. He is typing some of his notes with one finger, but I may have made him sound more mobile than he is, in last week's column. He is placed in a tight corsetette thing and placed in his wheel chair. He can do nothing about getting in it, or making it move. His parents or the hospital personnel push the chair. The community is planning a variety show to help pay some more of the expense of Danny's hospitalization.

Margaret Medford, who is a receptionist at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Medford last week and recuperated from a recent illness and stay in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Durward Livengood and children spent the weekend in Lovington, N. Mex., visiting their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Sorenson, and in Tokyo, Texas, visiting Mr. Livengood's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jones.

Mr. Bill Gibbs spent the weekend in Alpine with his family. Mrs. Gibbs is a freshman at Sul Ross. Their two daughters, Shirley and Kerry, returned with him and entered Paint Creek as students Monday morning.

Edwin Livengood and Paulette Fischer of Texas Tech are spending this week at home with homefolks. Tech has their spring vacation following mid-semester tests.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carlos Montgomery and children of Midland spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Montgomery. Carlos began a new job this week with an IBM firm in Midland.

Waller Overton attended the Timber Tag Training class at the Scout office in Abilene Friday night. Saturday he and the Scout executive for the Northern District, Bernie Young, went to San Antonio for the annual meeting of the scouters of Area 9. Sunday they were back for the Explorer golf competition at the Abilene Country Club, and the meeting of the Explorer planning group. Roy Wiseman, Randy Wiseman

TO THE CITIZENS OF HASKELL

In announcing my candidacy for re-election to the City Council of Haskell, I wish to make the following statement.

When I was elected to this office, I assumed, as did other members of the Council, the responsibility of trying to accomplish certain things which a large majority of the people thought was best for the City of Haskell. As you know, the main accomplishment would be better water, secured at a price that would not be too great a burden on the citizens of Haskell.

This Council has worked hard trying to fulfill this promise to the people and will continue to do so. I confidently believe we will be successful and for that reason alone have I allowed my name to go on the ballot for re-election.

I feel that the affairs of the City have been handled in an efficient and business-like manner during my tenure in office and I promise, if re-elected, to continue to work for the best interests of our town.

The City now has a brand new fire truck and a greatly enlarged City Hall, fully paid for without borrowing money, and the City has, as of March, 1965, a bank balance of $98,825.93.

Young "John" Discusses Problems Of Being Son Of A Football Legend

The following article about John Dudley Kimbrough, son of Jarrin' Jawn Kimbrough of Haskell, was taken from Sam Blair's sports column which appeared in the Sunday, March 21, edition of the Dallas Morning News:

Hollywood no doubt could make a pretty glamorous movie about the story of John Dudley Kimbrough. As the rangy, ruggedly handsome son of an All-American fullback, he could whirl through all sorts of marvelous adventures once an imaginative script-writer went to work.

The kid would enroll at his father's alma mater, naturally, and become an even greater fullback. In three sensational varsity seasons his matchless heroics would return the school to the success it had known during his old man's era. The final scene, of course, would be a dramatic closeup: Father and son embracing after the last game of his senior season, the one where he gallops for 200 yards and three touchdowns to clinch the national championship. Swell story, huh?

It could happen only in Hollywood, however. Several facts, those hideous monsters which are always messing up good stories, have ruined this appealing plot.

First of all, young Kimbrough chose to enroll at SMU instead of Texas A&M, where his father's name still makes alumni tingle with the memory of Jarrin' Jawn, hero of the '39 national champs.

Second, the all-American's son wasn't an immediate success. His progress as a fullback wasn't overwhelming last year as he sat out his normal sophomore season as a redshirt.

Third, the young man isn't a fullback any more. He was moved to defensive tackle during the second week of the Mustangs' current spring practice. But if there's unhappiness in the Kimbrough clan because of the shift, the son's conversation doesn't reflect it.

A friendly fellow with close-cropped hair and his father's bright, alert eyes, young John discusses the problems of being the struggling son of a football legend without discomfort.

He smiles and says, "Oh, I miss playing fullback, all right, but I was just spinning my wheels there. Other schools trying to recruit me in high school told me then that I would be a tackle in college but SMU offered the opportunity to play fullback. That's not the main reason I chose SMU, however. I chose it because I liked the coaches, the players and the school itself. And that hasn't changed."

"Anyway, I'm a tackle now and I like it. I'm awfully green but I did have some experience playing defensive end in high school. It will take awhile for me to learn some of the things that the more experienced tackles do from instinct but in the long run there's a chance for me to play a lot more than I would have as a fullback."

"The coaches would have left me at fullback as long as I wanted to be there, but I found out that I didn't have enough speed to play it. In the line, quickness for the first few steps is what you need, rather than the overall speed needed in the backfield. I hope I can prove I have enough."

The only movie based on Kimbrough's college career was far less glamorous than anything Hollywood would have produced. Films of Mustang practices showed he couldn't move out fast enough to block the end, a vital assignment for the fullback in the SMU offense.

"Coach Dando (assistant Bill) said that I might have been an ideal fullback in an Ohio State-type offense, where they emphasize straight ahead power and just blocking the end out," Kimbrough says, "but the SMU offense relies more on speed and outside stuff."

"I'm just not a fullback in this system. I hope I can make a good tackle or, if not there, help at some other position. I still have three seasons left and I want to play somewhere."

Aside from the fact that he's not destined to become an all-American fullback, there are other differences between the son and his famous father. For one, he's not John Jr.

"Daddy's name is John Alec and I'm John Dudley," he grins. "Daddy always said he didn't want people calling me Junior."

In physical make-up, the younger John weighs about the same as his father did in college, but he's taller.

"I was 6-2 and 230 when I started at SMU," he says, "but now I'm 6-4 and about 220. So I'm two inches taller than Daddy. But I have larger legs than he does. Maybe that's why I lacked the speed to play fullback."

When he was a high school senior at Haskell, young John considered A&M strongly before choosing SMU but he hardly felt that tradition or sentiment should draw him there.

"I'm conscious all the time that Daddy was an all-American fullback," he says, "but I was afraid that at A&M everyone might have been too conscious of it. They might have been inclined to give me special treatment or, on the other hand, they might have been constantly comparing me to him and reminding me that I had to live up to a great name. I didn't want it either way."

Similarly, Kimbrough seems to enjoy the opportunity to play something besides fullback.

"I'm sort of relieved that I'm not a fullback any more," he says. "In every game and every workout I couldn't help remembering how Daddy played. At another position, it's different."

"I'm 20 now and maybe I'm reaching the point where I'll mature and improve as a football player. Daddy has said that the figured I'd be about a junior in college before I really came around."

John Dudley Kimbrough pauses a moment to chuckle. "You know, so far, he's been right."

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

Old man winter seems very reluctant to leave. Who would have thought such severe weather would come so late in March? We must be patient a little while longer, for surely warm weather cannot be far away.

Cold weather passes with more interest if there are house plants to occupy one's time. At the present, I have five Amaryllis bulbs I am forcing into bloom.

Buds of an Amaryllis are very interesting to watch as they slowly emerge from their bulb bed, and gracefully climb upward to last nearly two weeks.

Mrs. Robert Speer (Bobbie) one of our local teachers, potted an Amaryllis bulb for her class room. The youngsters took great delight in watching the day by day progress of both bud and leaves.

Often a bud and stem will appear and grow to the blooming stage without a single green blade appearing, then again, the leaves come first.

Either way, an Amaryllis, being forced into bloom, offers many hours of pleasure for the family.

Nettie McCollum, a Haskell Garden Club member, raised an African Amaryllis this winter. Bulbs of the African variety are less hardy than are the more common varieties, such as Jacone, House culture is recommended for this climate. Often an African Amaryllis will produce two bud stems and as many as eight huge blossoms. Eight to nine inch flowers are often grown on this variety. African Amaryllis are more expensive than the common Dutch bulbs, but often bloom twice a year.

I saw Mrs. Speer Sunday. She said after taking her Amaryllis home it had produced a new bud stem and two large blossoms.

In forcing an Amaryllis to bloom, use any good potting soil, be sure there is good drainage. Bury the bulb half in the soil, roots turned down. Water thoroughly at first, then water as soil dries out. Placing a pot in a saucer of water is the best method.

Growing Amaryllis is a good way to bring some of the Good Earth into our homes.

Social Security Number Needed For Tax Returns

Final filing for 1964 income tax returns is April 15 and one of the necessities for complete and correct filing is a social security account number, according to R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene district manager for the Social Security Administration.

"It usually takes from 5-8 days for a new replacement card to be issued, so if you have lost or misplaced your card, don't wait until April 15 to apply for one," he warned.

All post offices stock the Forms SS-5 for new or replacement cards and Form 7003 for those who need a name change or other correction. security records. account number assigned, he advised. Social Security Building, phone 794, mailing address, Abilene, Texas 79601.

TAX MAN SAM has a problem for those because they don't itemize deductions. Check all your receipts before you file your tax return. If the standard deduction you use is less than the standard deduction you are eligible for, you may be able to deduct more.

By AL HINDS

The Haskell Hospital Auxiliary is badly in need of volunteer workers. If you can help, or if you know of anyone interested in helping out with a worthy cause, won't you please call Mrs. Jack Speer, 864-2318, or Mrs. R. L. Foote, 864-3388, right now, before you lay the paper down.

On February 2, when the Groundhog ventured out to take a peek at the outside world... and in turn saw his shadow, the little old rascal was certainly right in predicting six more weeks of winter weather. If you will just check the records, some of the coldest weather of the entire winter was recorded during the month of March.

When the temperature here skidded to a low of 25 on March 18, Haskellites were somewhat shocked... but then the following day a low of 21 was recorded, and on Saturday, March 20, the mercury hit a low, low 15.

But that isn't the ending! On Monday, March 22, a balmy 76 degrees indicated that Spring might truly be here... but by Tuesday a. m., the thermometer had skidded 44 degrees.

Last Thursday morning, early risers heard the rumble of thunder... and the pitter-patter of raindrops on their house-tops, but when they ventured outside were greeted with 27-degree weather. Sleet, mist and fine snow, gave Haskell 31 of an inch of moisture from the conglomerated mixture. Last Friday morning it was down to 22, with a heavy frost, and incidentally, the coldest on record here this late in the year.

Laugh at the little rascal if you wish... but in my books I'm going to refer to him with a little more respect... and call him Mr. Groundhog in the future.

Most weather forecasters scoff at the idea the Groundhog has anything to do with the weather. Maybe not... but Mr. G. H. has racked-up a better record than the forecasters. So, the next time I meet Mr. G. H. I am going to bow with courtesy, and listen to him a little more in the future.

A number of merchants have told Prattler they have missed me burning shoe leather around the square peddling advertising. Perhaps they are just being nice... but anyway, it is nice to be missed. You see, about three weeks ago, 'ol Prattler was 'demoted' to Editor, and now I spend most of my time pounding the typewriter and worrying Sam, the weatherman, Sheriff Garth Garrett, Bill Holden, Chief of Police Bull Barnett, County Clerk Bill Reeves, District Attorney Royce Adkins, County Attorney Bill Ratliff, County Judge Jim Alvis, District Clerk Carrie McAnulty, District Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, various club reporters, and many others trying to get news for the paper.

Prattler appreciates those ladies who have called and said they were pleased that their club reports finally got into print. Sometimes, however, when the paper is loaded with advertising, we have to do a little cutting, but we will endeavor to publish everything possible.

Writing society has always been my biggest headache. Describing what the beautiful bride... and by the way... aren't all brides beautiful... wore, I am not much good at flowery phrases in telling how the bride was attired, so I might just say in writing the story... she did wear a dress.

I do not agree with the statement made by Rep. Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi that "Texas' poll tax discourages voting by both Negroes and whites." Peeler is sponsor of a proposed constitutional amendment repealing the tax. This scribe still prefers the poll tax system.

Each of us should be reminded, from time to time, of the meaning of free enterprise and what it does for us.

Free enterprise, briefly, is the right of a man to go into the business he chooses; build up a product or service, and try to sell it. Free enterprise, also means your right, as a prospective buyer, to accept, or reject any product or service offered.

Thus free enterprise... alone, among economic systems... means that the person who has something to sell, and the person who is in the market to buy, meet on terms of equality and freedom, without compulsion or interference as long as common laws of justice, decency and fairplay are observed.

Free enterprise is the right of all who live within it to offer whatever they have created... whether products or services... to other individuals who are just as free to take them or pass them up.

What does free enterprise do? It brings out the best of our abilities, for two reasons. First, it assumes that people want more than a bare, bleak existence and are willing to work

Josset, Conner Win Two Places Each At Decatur

Gary Conner and Ronnie Josset, speedy Haskell High School tracksters, "racked-up" two places each, at the Decatur relays, Saturday.

Here is how Haskell fared in the Saturday meet:
120 Yard High Hurdles: Gary Conner 5th, with 19.6.
100 Yard Dash: Ronnie Josset, 2nd, 10.4.
180 Yard Low Hurdles, Gary Conner, 4th, 21.6.
220 Yard Dash, Ronnie Josset, 6th, 25.4.

Burleson scored a surprise upset in the relays and swept through the field for 150 points. Iowa Park tallied 123 for second place; Decatur had 62½ and Holliday 46.

Two From Haskell Make Arlington State Honor Roll

Sammy Larned and Eddie Smart, of Haskell, have been listed on the honor roll at Arlington State College. Larned also made the Dean of Housing's honor roll of his dormitory. He was elected to the Dorm Council, but was placed on the Board of Governors, which is a disciplinary board of the Dorm.

Larned's major will be either math or accounting. Smart was eligible for National Honor Society Fraternity and his major is Aeronautical Engineering. A total of 773 students out of approximately 11,500 enrollment, made the honor roll at Arlington State. To be eligible for the honor roll, a student must have completed 12 or more semester hours; must not have dropped any subjects on, or after the 12th class day; must have a grade point of a B average; must not have had a grade less than C, and must not have more than one C.

For better lives when given the opportunity.

Second, free enterprise is competitive, necessarily. Having to compete is no bed of roses. But the right to compete is one that we can't afford to lose. It would mean losing all opportunity and freedom itself.

Only competition breeds champions in sports, industry, or anywhere.

Free enterprise is not perfect, but it gives full scope to many of man's highest virtues; his imagination, inventive genius, determination and his self-reliance.

VA Questions And Answers

Q—I have a service-connected disability which recently became worse, necessitating the amputation of my right leg. Would I now be eligible for the $1,600 payment toward the purchase of an especially adapted automobile from VA?

A—It would seem so, since yours was a recent operation. When the qualifying service-connected disability occurs after separation, the application must be made within three years after the occurrence. Contact your VA Regional Office for information applying to your individual case.

Q—Because of a disability, I was retired from military service. In order to qualify for vocational rehabilitation, must I file a claim for compensation?

A—No. A determination of your entitlement will be made if you apply for training.

Q—Can the VA assist me in locating my fugitive husband? I know he gets compensation.

A—The VA may forward mail to veterans although it cannot reveal their address without their consent. Send a letter to your husband to the VA office last known to have handled his claim. The VA will forward it to his address of record.

Q—Am I too late to file a claim for illness incurred while in military service?

A—No. A claim may be submitted to the VA at any time.

Spray Propazine to control weeds and grasses in sorghum.

One spray of Propazine® 80W herbicide controls most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in sorghum for the entire season. This can reduce or even eliminate the need for cultivating because Propazine takes care of problem weeds for you. Propazine is particularly effective on carelessweed (pigweed) and annual morning glory.

Sprayed before weeds and sorghum are up and activated by moisture, Propazine gives your crop an entire season without weed competition for moisture and soil nutrients. The result? Higher yields and more profit for you.
