All the Best... Always To A Moulder of Men

A Mighty Mite of a Man, a native son in whom all Haskell is well pleased, is leaving us.

Ray Overton, Jr., associated with the athletic fortunes of Haskell High School for 15 years, and head coach of our football team for the past seven, fought, bled, and almost expired, while trying with himself, mentally, over whether to accept an opportunity to broaden his horizons in life.

Finally, after literally months of weighing the decision, he decided a few days ago to cast his lot with Class AAAA Cooper High School in Abilene as head coach of the Junior Varsity and assistant track coach. At the same time, his physical situation there will allow him to acquire another degree after his name, perhaps two, enhancing his stature in his chosen field.

We can well appreciate the burden such a choice placed upon the mind of our popular and respected coach. We also can understand what prompted the decision, hard as it was.

[This really is not good-bye to Ray Overton. We know we will see him often, as deeply rooted as he is in the soil of Haskell County. But we do think it should be said at this milepost in his life that he deserves an accolade of the highest water for his accomplishments under the severest of tests and the most terrific of pressures.]

Seldom has a prophet had honor in his own home town. Ray Overton has been an exception to the rule... to his everlasting credit. He was placed in the position of having to try to please folks, most all of whom had known him since his diaper days. And in the same breath, he had to make split-second judgments about the utilization, or non-utilization of football material he himself had known since their diaper days. Neither situation induces peaceful slumber.

Despite these unmistakable yokes up with which a coach had to be hitched, Ray has done a superior job. His longevity here shows it.

With a 21-9 record during his last three years, we think he's just hitting his stride as a coach, and with the aforementioned yokes of personalities shaken, and his abilities put to test under more normal and impersonal circumstances, we predict Ray Overton will go far.

He has left his mark here all right... an indelible one, to which every little boy who has played under him will attest by the Almighty... as a builder of character... as a moulder of men.

All Haskell, and the area, wish Ray Overton, and his very own, all the best always... and Godspeed. We shall miss them.

Open for Business Again... The Camp That Cookies Built

For the 12th summer season in a row, Camp Boothe Oaks, the established facility of the West Texas Girl Scout Council, and what an exemplary facility it is, has opened this week to prosecute its productive program of character development.

This monument to the efforts of Girl Scout adult leaders throughout this area, and to the Girl Scouts themselves, as most Scouting enthusiasts know, is accessibly located eight miles southwest of Sweetwater in Nolan County, and there are facilities in permanent units for 80 campers each of the five summer sessions annually. Therefore, some 400 Girl Scouts of this area are provided the opportunity for this enriching experience at Camp Boothe Oaks each summer.

This sterling camp might well be called "The Camp That Cookies Built," because profits from cookies sold for one week each year during the Girl Scout Cookie Sale have bought all of the buildings and fixtures for the facility. And continuing annual cookie sales are making it possible to expand the facility to accommodate more girls.

All supporters of the Girl Scout cookie campaign, and that includes most of us, should have a special place in their hearts for the growth and development of Camp Boothe Oaks... because they, you, we, are directly responsible. It creates a feeling akin to that we have striven to describe in worthy fund-raising drives in this community and area, i. e., it is better to have 1,000 people contributing one dollar to a cause than one person giving $1,000, or four people giving $250.

When you read and hear of all the fun that's being had and superb work being done at Camp Boothe Oaks this summer, you can let yourself "strut" a mite, and say, "I helped provide that place."

And don't you forget the good feeling it gave you, either, when the "girls in green" and Brownies, too, come knocking at your door next Cookie Sale time.

For Camp Boothe Oaks, and your heart, will be the winners.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

The Pencil Pusher heard someone remark upon completion of the most impressive sunset ceremony climaxing the Girl Scout Day Camp last Friday night at Dude Montgomery's Ranch, richly endowed by natural splendor:

"Bet Ol' Dude never had this many good lookin' heifers in one pasture in all his cow deatin' days!"

There has been a lot of pro-ing and con-ing about the worth of slogans in political races. And they have been part and parcel of the political history of this country ever since William Henry Harrison, the Ol' Indian fighter, came out with "Tippecanoe and Tyler, Too."

Last week in the classic California primary, a piano plinking newspaperman from everywhere but California, but who had "walked through the bank with Rothschild," as it were, drew votes like a gambewagon does flies. His name was Pierre Salinger, and his backers had a slogan, evidently stemming from Salinger himself, which read, "P. S. (for Pierre Salinger) I Love You." This melancholic motto, as familiar to most minds... because of the popular song by the same handle... as JFK and Jackie, whose names also are interlocked with Pierre's, made the former White House secretary a shoo-in for Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator.

"P. S. I Love You," probably will beat his opponent, another "name," GOP George Murphy, but still the "good guy" on the late, late shows, in November riding on the coat-tails of another slogan, "All The Way With LBJ."

There's a story making the rounds that a certain niece of indestructible George Neely, who, we're happy to hear, is mending rapidly from his unfortunate automobile mishap, visited him last week in Bethania Hospital in Wichita Falls. Seeing the deluge of cards and profusion of flowers received by Ol' Warhorse Neely, said the niece: "I declare, Uncle George, you did better than you would have if you'd died!"

Understand Dr. Cadenhead and children, Hugh Ratliff and ditto, found "everything up to date in Kansas City" on a recent trip there and that they went "about as far as they could go" from Haskell to see KC whip the Yankees, Mickie Mantle to the contrary, notwithstanding.

The widely heralded wagon train from Spearman now pulling into Graham has really received the publicity and justifiably so. A story connected with it is the one about the "kid-in" directed at Jack Grace, amiable area rancher, who owns a spread between here and Throck. Seems Jack, whose home is in Wichita Falls, has a wagon in the Big Train, and when it reached Iowa Park, 10 miles west of WF, Jack drove out in his air-conditioned Cadillac, parked it, "clumb" into his wagon, and rode into his... filled streets greeting them.

Jack's friends... took in most of the population of Wichita Falls. Did any he looked "a little more rested than the rest of 'em" who had been poundin' them boards.

One of the greatest wagon stories we ever heard, and it's true, is the one related to us by our longtime dear friend, Hugo H. Loewenstern, Amarillo real estate tycoon and subdivision developer, with whom we've logged many an interesting mile up and down the highways and byways of Texas. We were privileged to accompany him on his visitations to some 64 real estate boards in that many Texas cities during his year as President of the Texas Real Estate Association.

Hugo, a German immigrant, came to this country at the age of 14. Stopping briefly in Philadelphia, he went to Nara Visa, New Mexico, near Tucuman, to seek his fortune. At the age of 16, Hugo was out in the front of the general store at "drummer" would brush past him headed for the rear of the establishment looking for the manager or owner. All the drummers upon reaching the rear were referred to the front again where the manager could be found. The manager, owner, too, was right there, still sweeping. It was Hugo, of course, all 16 years of him.

On Saturday nights, they always had a "balle" (dance) upstairs over Loewenstern's General Store, and Hugo was in the band. So was his wife, Mildred, whom he wooed and married as a fellow member of the church choir. The musical ability of both bore fruit in their son, Hugo, Jr., now a business partner of his father, who played several years in the band of the late famous T. Dorsey.

Folks came in wagons from miles around to the dances upstairs over the general store, bringing their young'uns with them and bedding them down in the back of their wagons while they went upstairs, kicked up their heels and otherwise had a change of pace and scenery from the care and toil of life on the Western frontier.

One Saturday night, as fellows will, some of "the boys" slipped down to the wagon yard, and switched the sleeping forms of every last one of those bedded-down children to a different wagon!

When the "balle" was over, the weary dancers climbed back into their wagons and rained out over the prairie, like the spokes in the wheels that turned 'em. Some of them didn't discover the sleeping forms in the back of the wagon weren't their own until they got home, miles away, or until daylight came, and some hadn't gotten home yet.

It was weeks before every-one got his own child back... and Hugo's was among 'em. "Sure took a lot of visitin' on my ranch to get all the children straightened out," Hugo still recalls with amusement, though it was a rather serious situation at the time, transportation being what it was on the Bald Praireese!

That's a true wagon train story of the Genuine West from one who was there, without a bit of extra axle grease on it.

Oakescript: You can get by a lot of things on your looks... especially railroad crossings.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

What makes a community grow

Our recent PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS ads have summarized basic economic development factors. The series continues as we advance to community development, which is made possible by sound economic development.

The West Texas community of Ballinger is a shining example. West Texas Utilities organization, teamwork and sound planning, Ballinger has developed $400,000 Memorial Hospital (pictured above) . . . 17 new commercial buildings . . . modernization of 16 others . . . 21 new businesses . . . new community center . . . major park improvements . . . a front museum . . . and the adoption of a new city charter.

Ballinger is an outstanding PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

When such a community spirit seeks new industry, even more growth comes. National studies show payrolls from 100 basic new jobs increase local personal income by $660,000 . . . bank deposits by $229,000 . . . annual retail sales by $331,000 . . . add three new retail outlets . . . increase population by 359 including 91 school children . . . add 100 new homes . . . 97 more car registrations . . . and create 65 new non-manufacturing jobs.

WTU's area representatives will assist growth-conscious communities in planning for community development programs and activities. This service is available on request through your WTU local manager.

C. A. THOMAS, JR., SHO' DID SOW HIS OATS -- AND REAP 'EM, TOO!

C. A. Thomas, Jr., always has been considered a man of integrity in Haskell, that is, until he came into town with that story about five acres of oats "making 100 bushels to the acre."

Thomas, a farmer who works the 100-acre irrigated W. E. Welsh Estate farm four miles from Haskell, has been the laughingstock of the town ever since he told "that ridiculous story," according to the spit-whistle boys on the Square.

There's only one "catch" to it, and that's the money. His integrity was upheld by the "fifthy lucre."

Mrs. Frank C. Scott, wife of a Haskell doctor, and a member of the Welsh family, is prone to believe Thomas' story. She said Saturday she "has the deposit slip to back it up."

"It really was 102 bushels to the acre," said Mrs. Scott, "but Mr. Thomas just knew nobody would believe that figure, no more than they would believe he averaged 45 bushels on 22 1/2 acres of wheat nearby, which he did," Mrs. Scott declared. Again, she just waved the deposit slip to prove it.

Wheat crops in Haskell County have ranged from a minimum of 15 to a maximum of 37 bushels per acre.

Three separate showers on Thursday morning, Thursday night, and on Friday morning between 2:30 and 3:15 a. m., averaged 1.70 to two inches of moisture in this territory. Another .98 of an inch was recorded in the official rain gauge of Weatherman Sam Herren here during the day and overnight Friday.

An additional .18 of an inch was measured Saturday evening, bringing the total to 2.86 for the "spell."

The thermometer dipped to 51 degrees Sunday morning.

Have you ever seen 7,000 grown men cry? You'd think success would make them happy, but ever since Mustang came out, seven thousand Ford Dealers all over the country have been weeping and wringing their hands. They can't get as many Mustangs as they would like. All this would upset us, too, except it's happened to us before. You see, this was the hottest sales year in Ford Division history even before Mustang came out. At the beginning of the model-year, dealers couldn't get enough of our big, hot Super Torque Ford Hardtops (sales up 54%)... or luxurious Thunderbirds (sales up 68%). Falcon sales are almost as big as Chevy II and Valiant combined. Fairlane continues to be a leader in its field. So, even though some people would like us to put all our plants to work on Mustang, we can't let down our hundreds of thousands of Ford, Thunderbird, Falcon and Fairlane lovers. Why don't you come see what all the shouting's about? Ask your Ford Dealer for a test drive. (You might even get him to smile.)

John Guitar III, of Abilene, took the Class A bird bustin' with 47x50.

Wallace Wooten, president of the Haskell trapshooter group, and Frierson had perfect 50x50 scores in Class B, and Wooten prevailed in a shootoff.

Guitar and Wooten tangled in the handicap on the 26-yard line, and ended even-Stephen with 49x50s. Again, Wooten was the trophy taker in a 50-bird shootoff.

Lloyd Taylor, of Wichita Falls, one of three entrants flying in from that city, tied with Frierson in the doubles firing, but lost to the Haskell sharpshooter after leveling at 25 extra pair. The regular run ended with Taylor and Frierson both posting 47x50s.

Rev. and Mrs. Ellis A. Todd, who left the First Methodist Church here Thursday for a new pastorate at First Methodist Church of Wellington, were honored with a "pennies from Heaven" type farewell attended by some 200 persons in Fellowship Hall of the church here last Monday night.

From the official board of the church, the Methodist Youth Fellowship, and from Paint Creek Methodist Church, which Rev. Todd also has served as pastor for the past year, the Todds were recipients of cash gifts.

Clay Smith, chairman of the official board of the Haskell church, presented the departing pastor and his wife with a "love offering." Mrs. Ray Perry, representing Paint Creek Methodist Church, gave the Todds a "money tree." Riley Middleton, of the MYF here, presented them with a "treasure chest" of shiny, new John F. Kennedy half-dollars.

Rev. Todd, who came here from Stanton a year ago, was succeeded Sunday by the Rev. J. V. Patterson, who comes to Haskell from the First Methodist Church of Clarendon.

S. Highway 277, the Abilene-Wichita Falls thoroughfare.

Sam's Cafe, formerly known as the Hi-Way Drive Inn, popular eating establishment here, leveled in a midnight blaze last winter, has been restored "with even better facilities," according to its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Crume, and will be open for business next Monday morning.

The restored restaurant has serving facilities for approximately 100 people, including partitions for two dining rooms catering to service and civic organization groups and private dinners.

Two new independent groceries have opened simultaneously here. One is Jack's Drive-In Grocery four blocks south of Sam's Cafe just outside the city limits. It is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harvey.

Mrs. Cummings reported she had no idea this way of travel was so smooth—traveling at 600 miles per hour, 26,000 feet in the air, on the Super-Jet from Washington to Dallas in 2½ hours.

Mrs. Tonn reported that her trip was made more enjoyable due to the fact she saw some friends she had not seen in 30 and 40 years. Her visit in Longport, N. J., with her sister, Mrs. J. J. Jameson, an accomplished painter and artist, was another highlight of her trip.

water... Put your hand in it up to the wrist... Pull it out, and the hole that remains... Is the measure of how you will be missed. You may splash all you please when you enter... You may stir up the water galore... But stop, and you will find in a minute... That it looks just the same as before. The moral in this is quite simple... Do just the best that you can... Proud of yourself, but remember... There's no indispensable man!

Tommy Ballard at United Industries has this sign on his desk which attracted my attention: "It's more blessed to give than to receive... and besides it's deductible."

I saw these words attached to the wall in the office of Marvin Letz at Letz Builders and Supply: "Never argue with a fool... people might not notice the difference."

"Don't just sit there... WORRY!"

I had an appointment at a local beauty shop the other day to work on an advertisement, and remarked to Bill Tomlinson, Free Press printer and Jaycee wheel, that I had to go to the beauty shop. Bill cut his eyes toward me, looked me over, grinned, and quipped: "You've waited too late."

Don't tell Junior: Dr. Ralph Steinman, professor of oral medicine at Loma Linda (Calif.) University School of Dentistry, claims that at least two studies show that children who brush the most have slightly more decay than those who skip brushing. "Brushing teeth makes no difference in preventing cavities," Dr. Steinman pointed out. "Eating habits are the causes of tooth decay," he said.

An article which appeared in the Dallas Morning News recently, under the heading, "Typewriters of the Future Might Replace Secretaries," and was by-lined by Patricia McCormick. The article pointed out that typewriters of the future will emancipate the nation's three-million secretaries. Research into the development of new typewriter aims to produce, for one, a machine with a built-in eraser key. Today's eraser will be obsolete. The typist will just press the key to erase.

One of the most intriguing research goals concerns the development of a machine that will type automatically at the sound of a voice.

There are many technical problems still to be overcome to make this a reality, but experts in the industry predict that the miracle machine will be produced in the not-too-distant future.

A score of engineers and technicians also are probing a photographic principle whereby a secretary can type with a beam of light trained on a negative. The negative can be reproduced in endless quantities, thus eliminating the need for carbon copies.

The built-in eraser key and no-carbon copy machines, plus the one that types in response to the voice, are among the many basic research projects now underway by typewriter firms to ease the load of the secretary and her boss.

This scribe, however, doubts that statement about typewriters replacing secretaries, because what boss would want a typewriter sitting on his lap... and wouldn't it look kinda silly for the boss to take a typewriter out to lunch... and surely he would not want to stay late at the office... with a blond typewriter.

On the other hand, there just might be some advantages. The typewriter would not need coffee breaks... breaks to comb the hair, manicure the nails, powder the face, and to replace slightly used lipstick.

Food for Thought: "Life's unpleasant things make so much noise we forget the silent operation of the good."—Joshua Liebman.

Dinner To Salute Sen. Yarborough Saturday Night

Several Haskell area citizens are planning on attending an appreciation dinner at the Woman's Forum in Wichita Falls at 7 p. m. Saturday night honoring Texas' senior senator, Ralph Yarborough.

J. P. (Pick) Coleman, member of the planning committee for the occasion, in inviting participation by Senator Yarborough's constituents in this territory, enumerated benefits for the area for which the Senator has diligently worked, among them, restriction of oil imports, oil depletion allowance for oil producers, restriction of beef imports to help cattlemen in the nation, support of the administration's agriculture program and support of water conservation and flood control in the region.

This district's congressman, Graham Purcell, will introduce the Senator at the dinner.

A few tickets for the Yarborough dinner are still available here. Anyone desiring to join in Northwest - North Central Texas' salute to this state's senior U. S. Senator may obtain tickets from Porter Oakes, editor of the Haskell Free Press.

With plenty of farm work available and other odd jobs plentiful during the summer months, the Court voted to restrict the distribution of county-purchased surplus commodities to only the infirm who are unable to work. These commodities are acquired by the county at a reduced price to help people in unfortunate circumstances definitely classified as in need, and are particularly for county residents unable to perform work. No able bodied person is eligible for this assistance, the Court decreed.

Mesdames Pace, Durham Present Lions Program

Mrs. Rogers Durham and Mrs. Lynn Pace, Jr. presented the program at the Tuesday noon-day luncheon meeting of Lions. Rogers Durham was program chairman for the day.

With Mrs. Pace at the piano, Mrs. Durham sang, "There's A Long, Long Trail A-Winding," "Smiling Fougou," "Let the Rest of the World Go By," "Moon River," "For You," and "How Great Thou Art."

"Patsy" Wallace-Cox, Jr. announced that "Lions Ladies' Night" would be held at Sam's Cafe, Tuesday night, June 30.

At next Tuesday's noon meeting, the "Outstanding Farmer Soil Award" will be presented. Recipient's name is being withheld until the presentation.

John Wallace-Cox was a guest at Tuesday's session.

pected to furnish 50 per cent of its cost."

Mayor J. E. Walling, Jr., who, along with the Haskell City Council and the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, have been instrumental in stimulating interest in the projected widening of the thoroughfare within the city limit here, said Sunday it was his understanding the State Highway Department "will need 15 more feet, 7 1/2 on either side, to develop the type modern project it has in mind."

The Mayor said he had been advised the field notes and deeds for affected owners are being prepared for dispatch here and should be here in about two weeks.

He pointed out that it is his hope property owners will provide their 7 1/2 feet without cost, keeping in mind their cooperative action will "help enhance the value of their property."

Mayor Walling himself owns property along the projected widening endeavor. "That is what I'm doing, and, of course, I can't do anything but suggest, but I hope the others will follow suit."

It was recalled that the Haskell City Council and the Highway Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, under the chairmanship of Harold Spain, already has undertaken to secure from property owners along this route funds for installation of curb and gutter at $1.65 a front foot to stimulate the thoroughfare improvement inside the city limits of Haskell. Considerable money already is in escrow on this project.

However, this money probably will be returned to the owners in the light of the longer-range plan of the Highway Department to secure considerable wider right-of-way, officials here said.

The hope is, as Mayor Walling pointed out, that the property owners along the way will be as cooperative in surrendering the needed right of way as they have been in supporting the anticipated curb-and-gutter installation to stimulate the thoroughfare development.

It is believed that no additional right of way acquisition is needed in the improvement program from the west city limit of Haskell to Rule.

District Highway Engineer Roberts said "more safety and less congestion for 2,067 miles of Texas highways was the objective of the $166 million improvement program just authorized by the Texas Highway Commission."

He said a total of 114.3 miles in this highway district would be involved, at a total cost of $4,834,000.

Spain, Reeves Join Ranks Of Homer Hitters

Circuit smashes by Hal Spain, one of the Cubs (and his less sweeter than saccharine because it came off "Poison" Ivy) and Wayne Reeves, of the Rams, the first of their Little League careers, highlighted classic events in the diamond play at Little League Park here during the past week.

Reeves aided the Rams' cause with a first inning belt of a homer in his team's humbling of the Cubs 8 to 0 behind the three-hit pitching of Jirck Wooten was the loser as the Rams collected 10 bingles.

Spain teed off on one of Lanny Ivy's offerings to rack up the Cubs' only run off the Tigers in a rout which the Tigers easily won, 15 to 1. Pitman, who was Ivy's battery mate, soaked two four-ply swats and Ivy got one in the high scoring scrap. Ivy gave up three hits in five innings of pitching and struck out 13.

Velton Moore turned in a most commendable one-hitter and flashed at bat with three hits in three times up in turning back the Rams by a 1-0 count. Gary Davis scattered the clawing Tigers' nine hits, and came close to earning a win.

In the only other game, the Hawks blanked the Lions 9 to 0 on the two-hit pitching of Crouch, who also connected with a homer. Keith Everett was the batting star of the game, blasting three for four.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden McDonald took Sherry and Anita Kay Newton with them to Dallas to visit his brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McDonald and attended the 4th wedding anniversary of another brother, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McDonald, Dallas.

While making arrangements for communion services at the Christian Church recently, Mrs. M. L. Cook was accompanied to the church by her daughter, Margaret, age 14, and son, Sam, age 4, who by the way keeps the M. L. Cook household in stitches with his sayings, asked Margaret whose house they were in.

"Why, this is Jesus' house," Margaret answered. About that time Sam made his way over to the refrigerator, opened the door, and looked in. "What are you doing, Sam?" Margaret asked. "I was just looking in the refrigerator to see if Jesus had a Coke, and if he did I was going to drink it," Sam replied.

Tommy Ballard was kind enough to run off a copy of "The Indispensable Man." It carries a 'lot of truth,' thus I am using it below:

Sometimes when you're feeling important... Sometimes when your ego's in bloom;... Sometimes when you take it for granted... You're the best qualified man in the room.

Sometimes when you feel that your going... Would leave an unfillable hole... Just follow this simple instruction... And see how it humbles your soul.
