Barbara Dunaway New HD Agent, Dies In Crash

Barbara Dunaway, 30, Haskell County's home demonstration agent of less than a week, was killed in a two-car collision on wet pavement 2.6 miles south of Stamford at 5:30 p. m. Sunday.

She was thought to have been returning at the time of the crash to Haskell from a visit with her parents, who live in Winters. Funeral services under direction of Melton Funeral Home were held in Breckenridge Tuesday at the First Christian Church. Burial was in Breckenridge Cemetery.

Haskell County Judge James C. Alvis and Miss Fern Hodge, district home demonstration agent, of Vernon, on September 22, announced her appointment to succeed Mrs. J. R. (Mary Jo) Leverett in the position after an interview before the Commissioners' Court here. She assumed her duties here Monday, October 12.

A native of the Young County community of Bunker, named for members of her family, and a former resident of Breckenridge, the recently named Haskell County home demonstration agent had been training as a junior assistant to the Fisher County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Alice Kemp, at Roby, before coming here.

She was a graduate of North Texas State University and had taught homemaking for a total of four years at Central High School in San Angelo and at Englewood, Colorado. She was a member of the Christian Church.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bunker, former Young County residents, now living at Winters; and two sisters, of Dallas and Ft. Worth.

Bid Deadline On Depot Repairs Is Next Thursday

Deadline for the receipt of bids on roof repair and protective covering for doors and windows of Haskell's memory-laden depot, which is to be restored as a museum and tourist attraction, is Thursday, Oct. 29. Dr. James F. Cadenhead Jr., has announced.

The Haskell physician and civic leader, who with Mrs. Tom Barfield, is co-general chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's Hey-Day Committee in charge of the restoration project, said anyone wishing to submit bids on the work should contact Desmond Dulaney, manager of Brazelton Lumber Company by the October 29 deadline.

More than $1,000 in profits from Haskell County's second annual Hey-Day in August, an event pointing up the heritage of the railroad and its hey-day in the development of West Texas, will be used to begin the restoration project, Dr. Cadenhead said.

The 1906 vintage depot was moved to its present site overlooking Rice Springs Park with money obtained in the first Hey Day celebration 14 months ago.

Citizens Approve Street Improvements, Six To One

Mayor Walling reported that both the design engineer of Abilene and resident engineer from Hamlin, working in this district with the Texas Highway Department, already have made preliminary surveys of the job to be done.

The approval of voters at the polls here Friday provided a green-light for the project.

The Haskell Mayor and City Council, after a 30-day waiting period required by law in which to certify the bonds, will sell them to obtain Haskell's $40,000 share of the $284,000 project. After this is accomplished, the state highway department under the direction of J. C. (Jake) Roberts, of Abilene, district engineer, will initiate action to take bids on the job specifications, the Mayor explained.

"This job, now that it has the approval of Haskell citizens, is in the 1965-66 program of the State Highway Department, and there is every indication they will get on it right away," said Mayor Walling.

The Haskell Mayor reiterated that the bonds will be issued without a tax increase here, and that the 84-foot right-of-way in the improvement program will not touch or cut into the property of any owners along the projected route.

Thirteenth District Congressman Graham Purcell, of Wichita Falls, will be joined by key Democratic Party leaders of this area in sparking a county-wide rousing rally in Haskell tonight to stimulate a record voter turnout in behalf of the Lyndon B. Johnson - Hubert H. Humphrey ticket and the entire Democratic slate on Nov. 3.

Haskell County Democratic Chairman Clay Smith said Wednesday that "Now is the time for all good Democrats to come to the aid of their party" by attending the rally, set for 7:30 p. m. at the Haskell County Courthouse. An old-fashioned courthouse lawn "speakin'" is scheduled, but in the event of chilly, or inclement weather, the rally will be moved inside to the 39th District Courtroom, Smith said.

District Judge Ben Charlie Chapman will introduce the distinguished 13th District Congressman Purcell, member of the powerful Agriculture Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives, to the rally audience.

Haskell Jaycees, directed by their president, Jesse Priest, are working en masse to stimulate interest in the rally, as are the women's Democratic

CONGRESSMAN PURCELL

AREA DEMO LEADERS GUESTS AT BARBECUE AT LBJ RANCH

Presidential campaign leaders from Haskell, Stamford and Seymour in this area were among several hundred from throughout the state who gathered at the LBJ Ranch on the banks of the picturesque Pedernales River Sunday afternoon and heard a gracious First Lady say, "Thank you from the bottom of my heart for all the yesterdays and for today."

After eating a bountiful barbecue prepared by the celebrated Walter Jetton and served on tables covered with red-and-white checked cloths beneath big oak trees on the sloping, grass-tufted premises near the Texas White House, key members of the LBJ-HHH campaign organization heard Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, Gov. John Connally, Sen. John McClellan, of Arkansas, and Dan Blocker, of the famed "Hoss" Cartwright of TV's Bonanza, rally their forces for the Nov. 3rd election in a ringing, moving manner.

Substituting for her husband, the President, who was kept in Washington by a succession of critical world events, the First Lady told their invited guests, "I know you would not have him be any other place than where he is."

Attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Clay Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Oakes, all of Haskell; Bart Burnett, of Seymour; and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Watson, of Stamford.

Gov. Connally, introduced by the First Lady, expressed the hope that a "victory celebration" could be held in the same setting with the same Democratic Party leaders in Texas present, the next time with President Johnson, "at an early date after Nov. 3."

The Governor pointed out that "incidents of the last few days bring more strongly into focus (See Area Demo, Page 10)

Hospital Women's Auxiliary to Hear Care Home Mgr.

Mrs. W. C. Johnston, manager of the Rice Springs Nursing Care Home here, will be principal speaker at the October meeting of the Haskell County Hospital Women's Auxiliary at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 28, in the Community Room of Haskell National Bank, Mrs. R. L. Foote, president, has announced.

Mrs. Foote will report on the progress of projects of the hospital auxiliary, principally the development of a well-landscaped park across the street from the hospital here for the convenience of hospital patrons and visitors. Other civic organizations here, including Lions and Rotary Clubs, have assisted the hospital auxiliary in maintaining and developing the park.

rally will be a grassroots expression of appreciation for Congressman Purcell. To be held in Sam's Cafe, it will be attended by the county campaign organization personnel and Haskell County's 17 precinct chairmen and their wives.

Oakes, who will share master of ceremonies duties with District Attorney Royce Adkins at the two meetings Thursday evening, said the supper would be a "strategy session" at which party leaders in this county will have the opportunity to "shop talk" with their Congressman.

Overall purpose of the big rally is to re-emphasize to the Democrats of Haskell County that November 3 is the time to be counted for the party, because it's people, not pre-election polls, that place candidates in office," party leaders here declared.

Chairmen in Haskell County communities outside Haskell who will head delegations to the rally include: Cliff Dunnam, Weimer; Mrs. R. A. Shaver Jr., Rochester; Mrs. Elmo Stephens, O'Brien; Mrs. Clyde Grice, Rule; and A. C. Knipping, Sagerton.

Christmas Seals Campaign Plans Are Announced

Members of the board of directors of the Haskell County Tuberculosis Association, in a dinner meeting at Sam's Cafe here Monday night, set time-tables and goals for the 1964 Christmas Seal Sale campaign in this area and named Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Couch, Sr., of Haskell, as co-chairmen to direct the seal sale effort throughout the county. All communities in the county were represented at the meeting.

Launching of the Christmas Seal campaign in Haskell County will be Nov. 9 with a "letter stuffing" session in the Community Room of Haskell National Bank at 6:30 p. m. Dr. T. W. Williams, president of the association, announced.

Dr. Williams, in a report to the directorate, said that in addition to tuberculosis, proceeds from Christmas Seals sales this year will be used to combat other respiratory diseases, including asthma, lung cancer, emphysema, bronchitis, influenza and pneumonia.

Miss Nettie McCollum, secretary, and Mrs. W. P. Trice, treasurer, reported accomplishments of the county TB association during the past year and presented a financial statement. (See Christmas Seals, Page 10)

District 17 Of Area Baptists In Last Session

Baptist associations in this area, five of them, will begin a new alignment known as the "Double Mountain Area," in their program of work upon division of former Baptist District 17 into several "areas" after the annual meeting of the denomination in North Central Texas is held at Southside Baptist Church in Abilene today. The annual session begins at 10 a. m. and several Haskell Baptists are planning to attend.

Dr. Ray Nobles, pastor of the First Baptist Church, informed members of his congregation Friday of the new "area work," replacing the District 17 affiliation.

The new area in which Baptists will have a joint program effort include the following associations: Haskell-Knox, Kent, Jones, Fisher and Stonewall.

Dr. L. L. Troitt, who has served as coordinator of mission activities in the old District 17, has accepted a call from the Personnel Committee of the new Double Mountain Area of Baptist Churches to be area secretary. He will begin his work officially on Jan. 1, 1965, and will set up area offices in Hamlin, Dr. Nobles said.

'VIA' FOR LBJ AT HASKELL LIVESTOCK AUCTION—Not A Very Important Animal, The Democratic Donkey, proudly exhibiting his braying letters, "LBJ," turned up at the weekly sale at the Haskell Livestock Auction Saturday. Around his neck hangs a receptacle for donations to the LBJ-HHH campaign in Haskell county, and the coins and foldin' stuff were rolling in. Owner of this scintillating specimen of a Democratic Party symbol is Bud Casselberry, left, who is discussing with Tommy Ray Foster, one of the owners and operators of Haskell Livestock Auction, the potential sale of this "VIA" in the auction ring here to help fill the campaign coffers. Casselberry bought the brayer, looking benign enough here, but a high-kicker nevertheless, from Haskell County Commissioner Leon Newton.

Indians Vow To Come Back Against Hamlin Tomorrow Nite

Four From Here To Attend TFU Meet In Austin

Two official delegates from Haskell County and the president and secretary-treasurer of the county organization will attend the Texas Farmers Union state convention, at which Congressman Graham Purcell, of this district, will speak, in mid-November.

The 61st annual convention of the Farmers Union will be held Nov. 12-14 at the Driskill Hotel in Austin. Haskell County Farmers Union delegates will be Allen Davis and Don Nanny. Mr. and Mrs. Duward Campbell, president and secretary-treasurer, also will attend.

A discussion of the problems facing farmers which result from continued low farm prices without proportionately reduced prices on farm commodities at the retail level will be a convention highlight.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough will address the convention at the morning session on Saturday, Nov. 14.

Texas farmers at the meeting will write their views on state and national farm policy into a program to be adopted there for presentation at the National Farmers Union Convention. Election of state officers and delegates to the national meeting also will be on the agenda at the Austin assembly.

CANVASSERS FIND CONTAGIOUS SPIRIT OF GIVING—

UF Receipts Top $5,000 In Dedicated Drive For Goal

A volunteer army of Haskell citizens, crusading for the "United Way," had secured more than $5,000 toward a $9500 United Fund goal here as the half-year mark in a time-tabled campaign was reached Tuesday.

A contagious spirit of giving has pervaded the fund drive, and the goal is "in view," HUF officials said.

W. N. (Dude) Mercer, 1964 United Fund campaign chairman, said Phase II of the drive here, the general solicitations by block workers systematically canvassing the town, "is proceeding rapidly and successfully."

A totally unanticipated and spontaneously delivered contribution of $118.40 was received Tuesday by Allen Rieves, president of the United Fund organization here, from the Latin-American GI Forum organization through its leaders and chosen representatives, Gregory Pedroza and Phillip Arredondo. The money represented proceeds from a United Fund benefit dance held by Latin-American citizens here last Saturday night, plus contributions from a supplementary "hat passing" in behalf of the United Fund at the social function.

Paul Fischers Have Prolific Pecan Crop

A phenomenal cluster of pecans was brought into the Haskell Free Press by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fischer.

On two stems were 13 and 22 whole pecans, and one of them was a double-barreled specimen. The outside husks are beginning to open.

The 35-pecan "bonanza" are of the Stewart variety, according to Fischer, and the tree which bore them was two years old when it was planted by the Paint Creek couple in 1951.

The Fischers plan to exhibit their "freak," as they termed the prolific pear production, at the Haskell Garden Club's Merchant's Flower Show here on Thursday, October 29.

Royce E. Wood Accepts Call To Christian Church

Royce E. Wood, a native west Texan, has accepted a call to the pulpit of the Haskell Christian Church, succeeding Rogers Durham, who has gone to the pastorate of the Christian Church at Loogootee, Indiana. The new minister preached his first sermon here Sunday.

Mr. Wood, minister of the Waterall Christian Church in Texas, Texas, for the past three years, has served Christian Churches in Arkansas, Illinois and Texas. He was minister of the Clarendon Christian Church several years ago. (See Royce E. Wood, Page 10)

More than $1,000 in general solicitations has been reported at the halfway mark in this segment of the drive, Mercer said.

They Are Sick . . . Not Wicked

To our attention more than infrequently in recent months has come word of almost miraculous accomplishments by several of our citizens in this immediate area working with individuals beset by the rigors of alcoholism.

This is the work of dedicated, understanding people, who have "been there" themselves. We wish we could give them the public recognition they deserve for this yeoman service to their fellow men, but they are members of Alcoholics Anonymous, the nomenclature of which sterling organization in itself conveys the reason for not divulging their names.

In one recent instance, a story in this newspaper about the understanding nature of those folks working with alcoholics was credited by a Haskell County man with putting himself in the frame of mind to ask for help from AA, whereas, in the past, he had been too proud, or too stubborn to do so.

This experience for this newspaper of being able to "light just one little candle" to brighten a corner of this world was one of those memorable ones that make the editor's role, oft-times a dubious distinction, a welcome, stimulating challenge.

Alcoholism is a growing disease problem confronted frequently by families, communities, physicians and pastors.

As with many other diseases, it can be treated, but not really cured. The alcoholic can learn to completely control his disease, but the affliction cannot be stamped out so that he can return to alcohol without adverse consequences.

While the treatment primarily involves merely not taking a drink, the course of the treatment is often long, harrowing, and beset by relapses. As with so many diseases, early detection usually brings about better results.

The alcoholic usually drinks more than he intends, or gets drunk when he doesn't intend to, for he uses alcohol as a drug rather than a beverage. Despite obvious excesses, however, he usually denies that he drinks too much or offers alibis for his drinking.

Alcohol, aside from its addictive qualities, also has a psychological effect that modifies thinking and reasoning. One drink can change the thinking of an alcoholic so that he feels he can tolerate another, then another, and another.

Most alcoholics cannot break the cycle alone, for it means giving up the thing in life they want most.

Help for the alcoholic can come from many sources, the physician, an understanding pastor or minister, and members of Alcoholics Anonymous, for whom not too much can be said in praise. It's sort of a case of "it takes one to understand, and help one."

Just as, if not more, important is the help a family can provide by listening to an alcoholic's problems and assisting him or her to face them realistically; providing incentive and encouragement for the afflicted one to help himself, but without scolding or abusing him.

And, when an alcoholic gives up drinking, keep up his morale. Emphasize his good points, not his bad ones.

After all, the thing to remember is that he's sick . . . not wicked.

A Sterling Start

To those who knew him and his countless good works during his long ministry in Wichita Falls, the record being compiled by Dr. James H. Landes as president of Hardin-Simmons University comes as no surprise.

When Dr. Landes came to this territory from a productive pastorate at the First Baptist Church of Wichita Falls, the fiscal position and academic program of H-SU were in need of stimulation.

We have at hand an impressive report conveying the following information:

In the last 15 months, the deficit of H-SU has been lowered from $450,000 to less than $150,000. Financial assistance grew 21 per cent in the 1963-64 fiscal year from the previous year; the school's operating budget is in balance, and the faculty includes seven more persons with doctorates than it had a year ago.

During Dr. Landes' outstanding tenure in Wichita Falls, qualities of leadership that would enhance the position of a university president were continuously revealed. This has "proved out" in the sterling manner in which Dr. Landes has taken hold and met the challenge at the fine Baptist university in Abilene.

We are sure the Baptists already are fully cognizant of the progress H-SU and Dr. Landes have been making. Haskell Baptists, we know, are going all out in giving H-SU and its President the kind of support they both merit.

Dr. Landes' many friends and those of the school "within eye-shot" of this newspaper who might not have heard, will be interested in this report . . . and rejoice.

Dr. Landes is wearing gracefully, as might be expected, his new mantle of responsibility.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

In these days of automation, motivation, peregrination, and just plain 'gallivantin', with the rest of the world buckin' for a four-day week, here in dear ol' Haskell, geared to the gills with extra-curricular activity at the grassroots, our most acute and urgent need is an EIGHT-DAY WEEK. This would help immeasurably . . . to allow time to cram in all things it is incumbent upon us to do.

No need for to go the tranquilizer trail, though, folks. This poppin' pace is destined to last until Junebug time again . . . so, one day at a time . . . that's the ticket . . . for your train of thought . . . to avoid a major derailment and pileup. (Please indulge the Pencil Pusher's foolosophical start!)

The eight-day week plan for Haskell really didn't originate here. A fellow newsmen Fourth Estater, observing the myriad of activities here of recent vintage, made that observation to us. 'Bout the same time, Plat-form Personalities Abe Turner and Harold Spain, speaking as "experts" (50 miles from home, you know!) at the launch of a Chamber of Commerce membership drive in Seymour, coincidentally heard a similar suggestion in the Baylor County Capital. We're ALL for it. But it's sort of like tryin' to bend that hard, cold type in the back shop here. Not much "give" to it, one way, or t'other.

We regret we couldn't make the Seymour invasion with such expert dignitaries as went from here. Not seeing O. C. Harrison, Bart Burnett, Clyde White-side & Company, was our loss. But that eight-day week. We Ain't got it yet . . . so.

A speedy survey of what was Number One On Haskell's Hit Parade the latter part of last week shortly after the TV sets were cooling showed "St. Louis Blues" to be the winner hands down . . . or maybe we should say, "hands up," so far as Yankee fans were concerned . . . on account of they "wuz robbed," you know.

"Hit Parade" sounds like pretty good nomenclature for the Number One song. Those Cardinal hits are what occasioned the "St. Louis Blues" for Berra's Boys. With such a strenuous World Series under their belts, the two ball clubs, neither of which is a stranger to the Big Classic, no doubt now feel older . . . Budweiser.

Could you say that the new World Champs of Baseball are just a bunch of Busch Leaguers? (We're tip-toeing out on that one.)

Seeing a squib in the files about a man getting his Essex stolen 40 years ago this week, reminds us of the story about the fellow catching his business partner with his hand in the till. "Where's your ethics?" he sternly asked. "I don't have one," but I owned a Hudson one," came the partner's reply.

If you see the mirth in that one, you don't have to worry about the draft!

Asked who was the famous personage credited with the immortal quote, "I never met a man I didn't like," the current generation spokesman answered quickly: "Why, Laz Taylor, I guess."

It's hard to believe so many

30 YEARS AGO (October 23, 1934)

Coming to life in the second half, the Haskell Indians powered their way into a 14-14 tie with the Snyder Tigers here Friday night after the visitors had piled up a 14-0 lead in the first half. Starting the lineup for Haskell: Pippin, le; Roberts, lt; Hamilton, lg; E. McMillin, c; Reeves, rg; Maples, rt; Starr, re; Adkins, qb; Sherman, lb; English, rh; Jack Kimbrough, fb. Haskell substitutes were: John Kimbrough, Kirkpatrick, Rose, Smith, Tidwell, Shelley, Whatley, Moser.

of the living landmarks of show business have departed us. Of Mobile Eyeballs Himself, Eddie Cantor, is the most recent one. It's a sign of OUR age, reaching the mellow stage, for sure.

That Cantor was truly a showman. Remember "Potatoes Are Cheaper . . . Tomatoes Are Cheaper . . . Now's the Time To Fall In L-A-A-A-V-E!" He was a doozie who kept up the morale of us all in the darkest depths of the Great Depression. Remember?

We've been wonderin' for a long time why so many oldtimers of today in this area had their beginnings in Bell and adjoining counties in Central Texas. We've asked the question many times, and a bit of information which appeared in the 60-Years-Ago column of the Free Press last week may provide at least part of the answer. Did you see where in October, 1904, John L. Robertson from here made a trip "to the central part of the state in the interests of securing new citizens for our county?"

Fears to us, Mr. Robertson might have done a stellar selling job.

Looks like we are hung this week on recurring references to historical footnotes. But one more observation: All through the files, when mention is made of an attorney or judge going on a trip to Aspermont, Abilene, Fort Worth, etc., Oscar Martin, the longtime Free Press editor, would write, "Judge McConnell, or Bruce Bryant or Buford Long, et al, went to such-and-such a place on 'professional' or on 'legal' business."

It left a doubt in one's mind as to whether the business on which the legal-eagles were going was unprofessional, illegal, or just plain "monkey."

Heard roundin' the Squire: "The only reason Rome WASN'T built in a day is that I WASN'T there!"

Oakescript: It's almost Hallo-ween time. It could solve temporarily our unemployment problem. Lots of folks around here could qualify to hire out as "spooks." Pencil Pushers not excepted.

Even Hoopa Hoops In Act In B&PW "Mad Hatter" Contest For 3 Big Prizes

"The Mad Hatters" a program presented at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women of Haskell in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank this week, was no misnomer. The models were just "mad" about those hats. The audience, no less! Directed by Mrs. E. M. Frierson, chairman of the civic participation committee, it was a style show in which members modeled their own creations, with narration and commentary by Mrs. Opal Adkins. Mrs. Adkins' theme, "Fashion Is Moving In All Directions," was hilariously substantiated by B&PW members using artificial fruit, birds, flowers, waste baskets, lamp shades, television, bows, even hoola hoops, in the original hat designs modeled. Three prizes were presented. Mrs. H. R. Green, tipped with a hoola hoop covered with pink and white checked cloth and festooned with pink roses, won the award for the largest hat in the show. Danny Isbell Is Seriously Hurt In Paint Creek Game

The Paint Creek Pirates dropped a 41-33 decision to Ira last Thursday night in a six-man game marred by a tragic accident to Pirate halfback Danny Isbell.

Isbell, a junior, suffered a fractured vertebra and was taken to a Dallas hospital for treatment. The accident occurred when Isbell was making the tackle on the second play of the game. An attending physician here, Dr. Joe Thigpen, sent young Isbell to Dallas Baylor Hospital in a Holden ambulance driven by Don Alley late Thursday. The youth remained partially paralyzed Friday and was under the care of a neurosurgeon, who expressed hope for the Paint Creek youth's full recovery. The fourth vertebra in Danny's back was broken.

Latest reports are that the "feeling" is returning to the youth's body, that he can raise his hands to his chest, and the chances for his full recovery are good. Paint Creek got its points on touchdowns by tailback Leroy Cockrell, who scored twice; Larry Edwards, who scored once; and on TD passes from Cockrell to Edwards and to Larry Walton. Cockrell ran for one extra point and threw to Walton for one. Danny Guadalupe passed to John Palacios for another PAT. Ira tallied on three TD's by halfback Larry Holloway; two by Aaron Crawford; and one by Jack Thames; plus extra points by Crawford, who ran four.

Youth Of Three Churches Will Solicit For CROP

Thirty to forty young people, of junior high age and older, members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, assisted by Presbyterian and Lutheran youth, will be solicitors in behalf of the Christian Rural Overseas Program in Haskell on Wednesday night, October 28. Rev. J. V. Patterson, pastor of the First Methodist Church here and local CROP chairman, has announced.

Fanning out over town beginning at 7 p. m. from the First Methodist Church, the CROP volunteers will return to the church for refreshments after making their rounds.

Rev. Patterson has asked that citizens wishing to contribute, turn on their porch-lights on the night of the solicitation.

Young people of the First Methodist, First Presbyterian and Trinity Lutheran Churches here are uniting in the project to collect farm commodities and cash for the overseas relief and rehabilitation programs of churches. Gifts to CROP are put to use under church supervision strictly on a basis of need, Rev. Patterson said.

Hallowe'en has come to mean CROP and a time of Christian sharing to the young people of Texas, reported the chairman here, and "it has come to be a time of collecting for others in a Christian ministry of compassion to a part of the world's starving population."

REMEMBER WHEN?

"Oh brother, is this contraption ever a monstrosity! Can you imagine finding space to put one of these, or even actually using it? This old 1901 Peck-Williamson water-heating stove and clothes dryer can't hold a candle to the modern, automatic, flameless electric clothes washers and dryers. Besides being completely automatic and flameless, they save so much time and energy. The electric dryer alone saves 3 hours weekly of the housewife's valuable time which she can spend with her family and clothes come out so soft, fluffy, and easy to iron, there's no telling how much time is saved just on the ironing board.

Sixty-three years sure makes a lot of difference. Visit your electric appliance dealer or the nearest WTU office."

ONE OF OUR VERY OWN IS 'GIRL FRIDAY' IN HURRICANE AREA

"People everywhere care about their neighbors, whether they are across the street, across the country, or across the world," a Haskell native now serving on her fifth disaster assignment in the vast three-state area ravaged by Hurricane Hilda last weekend reported in a "letter home" Tuesday.

Wanda Dulaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dulaney

here, former executive secretary of the Haskell County Red Cross, and currently public information director of the Dallas County Red Cross, was assigned by the American National Red Cross to work out of New Orleans in the Hilda disaster. She is one of 163 staff persons assigned to the disaster relief operation, "and working with us are thousands of dedicated volunteers," she writes.

Following the mass exodus which affected 75,000 families in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, 101,900 refugees were housed in 372 Red Cross shelters. Miss Dulaney reports. Mobile canteens were moved in from 10 cities, including Dallas, Fort Worth, Beaumont and Oklahoma City. Bridging the gap between a family's resources and their disaster-caused needs, Red Cross will spend approximately $2,000,000 in the Hurricane Hilda mop-up operation, the Haskell native estimates.

Miss Dulaney's disaster assignments prior to Hilda have included Hurricane Carla, Hurricane Andrew, the 1957 Dallas formula, and the floods in the Midwest in 1953.

"Though their operations differ, there is always the same atmosphere in a disaster area," reports Miss Dulaney, "the stunned disbelief of the victims, the cooperative spirit of all concerned, the vast pooling of resources and personnel, and the fact that people everywhere care about their neighbors, whether they are across the street, across the country, or across the world."

The Haskell native recalled three particular stories, born of disaster, which came to her mind as she sent her report back to her hometown:

A baby boy was delivered in one of the Red Cross shelters by an evacuee who received instructions via telephone from a Red Cross nurse at another shelter, who, because of the high water, could not reach the scene. The infant's mother is Mrs. Mary Margaret Lewis.

Another baby was born during the storm to Mrs. Catherine Hildebrand. Her name: Hilda. With the family at the Red Cross shelter was Hilda's 7-year-old sister, who had been delivered under similar circumstances seven years earlier. Her name: Audrey.

Then, there was the story of 94-year-old evacuee, Victor Bulot, who was transferred from a Red Cross shelter to a home for the aged because of his advanced age and feebleness. The hospital superintendent noticed a strong resemblance to one of the patients who had been there five years. It developed that he was Victor's 84-year-old "kid" brother, Adrian. The men hadn't seen each other in seven years and started a rapid conversation in French which hospital attendants say has hardly stopped since their reunion.

Miss Dulaney concluded with this personal note to the home-folks: "Haskell is no stranger to disasters, for the scars of its tornado (in May, 1962) are still prevalent. Because citizens there have experienced the terror of unexpected catastrophe, I felt that you would be interested in an on-the-scene report from this devastated area. It is also my 'letter home' for no matter where I go, my thoughts will always be with the place and the people that mean the most to me. Needless to say, this is Haskell."

Haskell reciprocates the feeling for one of its very own, a very dedicated "Girl Friday" of the American Red Cross.

NANCY JO LIPPARD

O'Brien Girl Has Outstanding Merit Scholarship Score

Nancy Jo Lippard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lippard, of O'Brien, a student in Carney High School in the north-west Haskell County community, has been named a semi-finalist in the 1964-65 Merit Scholarship competition, O'Brien Schools Superintendent W. R. (Bill) Baker has announced.

Miss Lippard's performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test was outstanding, Baker reported. Of some 14,000 seniors throughout the country attaining semi-finalist status, she made a qualifying test score among the top 400. Her grade was 145, while the peak score among Texas qualifiers was 162.

Each semi-finalist moves a step closer to winning a four-year Merit Scholarship to a college of his or her choice. Winners will be announced in late April, 1965.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PUT IN A COVER CROP, SAYS SCS MAN

A display placed in the show window of the Smith Abstract Company on the north side of the square in Haskell this week has been a crowd-stopper with the label, "Wanted: Cover Crops, DEAD or ALIVE."

In conjunction with the display, Hinds A. McGowan, Jr., of the Soil Conservation Service here, declared, "Growing cover crops during the late fall and winter affords the landowner several significant benefits."

A protective cover on the land reduces losses by wind erosion, McGowan points out. A legume crop, such as Austrian winter peas, or vetch, not only protects soils, but holds soil moisture evaporation to a minimum, he said. At the same time, large amounts of organic matter and plant food are being grown cheaply to increase the fertility of the soil. Farming becomes easier with less drag to power equipment.

Among Haskell County farmers planning sizeable acreages of Austrian winter peas are: Roy Faught, Mattison; Alf Peiser and Felix Klose, Irby; Wayne Peiser, Paint Creek; Clyde and E. A. Baty, Curry Chapel; and V. L. Speck, of Rochester.

Many farmers, McGowan reports, plan extra acres of small grains to be used for cover and green manuring. Moisture conditions at present are favorable for planting of all types of winter cover crops, the soil conservationist here advises. "The time is getting late, however, and there are less than three weeks left in the optimum seeding dates," he said.

Acreages in the diverted acres portion of the ASCS program can well be used for this purpose, and ASCS also offers cost-share assistance, McGowan concluded.

Linda Griffith Is President Of Paint Creek FHA

Paint Creek Chapter, Future Homemakers of America, at its October meeting, elected officers for the 1964-65 school year.

Linda Griffith was chosen president. Other officers named include Milla Perry, vice president; Frances Jones, secretary-treasurer; Melanie Livengood, historian; Doylene New, reporter; Janay Morrison, parliamentarian; and Vicki Morrison, pianist.

The group also selected Mrs. Ray Perry and Mrs. Allen Isbell as chapter mothers for the year.

The FHA at Paint Creek discussed money making projects to be prosecuted during the year and voted to elect and honor a Girl of The Month.
