Judy Anderson Is Chosen Miss "Congeniality"

Judy Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Anderson, of Haskell, was chosen "Miss Congeniality" by the 25 queen contestants at the Greenbelt Bowl in Childress, Saturday, August 14.

During half-time activities Saturday night, Miss Anderson was presented a gold chain bracelet and trophy.

Dick Frierson, of Haskell, played center for the West Team in the annual football classic at Childress, and Miss Anderson was Dick's queen nominee.

A tour of work accomplished under the Great Plains Conservation Program was conducted Friday (August 13) by the GPCP County Committee of Haskell County, Joe L. Fletcher, of Rochester, Dave H. Persons and John P. Perrin of Haskell, and J. C. Yeary, Jr., SCS Work Unit Conservationist, planned and conducted the tour. The farms of Cahill-Perrin, Fletcher and O. L. Crouch of Haskell, was visited.

The GPCP County Committee members making the tour were Don Perry, County Supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration; W. M. Reid, Chairman of the Haskell County AS-SCS Committee; E. H. Boedeker, Supervisor of the California Creek Soil Conservation District and Yeary, Chairman of the Committee.

Those attending the tour were shown how grassed waterways are needed for conducting outside water through the farm. With a grassed waterway the farm is protected from flood damage to terraces and crops, and the grass produced in the waterway is useful for livestock feed. It was pointed out by Yeary that grassed waterways are also useful for production of valuable grass seed if they are properly managed.

On the Cahill-Perrin farm, the group saw how parallel terraces are constructed and farmed. On this farm old terraces were destroyed first, then the parallel system was planned by staking a contour map of the field. A number of trials were tested on the map to decide on a plan to get the best arrangement, most convenient farming operations, and also build construction costs within practical limits. Then when the lines were staked for construction, further testing and adjustments were needed to improve the system.

Another highlight of the tour was irrigated Coastal Bermuda grass on the Fletcher farm. Fletcher discussed the cost of establishing his grass, and how it must be managed. He rotates watering, fertilizing and grazing between four pastures of equal size after the grass gets "boot top high." By careful management, Fletcher has been able to bale hay from one pasture without a shortage of grazing.

Darold Roberson, owner-operator of the Western Auto Store here, was introduced as a guest at Tuesday's session.

Judge Chapman Speaks At Rotary Session

"It is high time our government is run by the rules," Judge Ben Charles Chapman told members of the Rotary Club at the Thursday noon-day luncheon-program meeting.

Rev. Douglas Finch, minister of the Presbyterian Church, was program chairman for the day and introduced Judge Chapman.

Judge Chapman explained the "facts of law," how it is carried on the jury system, defendants rights, etc., and pointed out the authority the Federal government has over trials.

The guest speaker related some of his experiences as one of the sponsors of the Haskell Redskins trip to Freeport for the State Junior Teen-Age baseball tournament. The Haskell delegation toured parts of the Darrington prison farm and had lunch there with Warden Bob Cousins.

Bill Ratliff, who also made the Freeport trip, told of attending a Rotary meeting in Freeport. When he was asked where he was from, Mr. Ratliff told the group why he was in Freeport, and the club members insisted he bring along the Redskins to the Rotary meeting, as the program that day was on baseball. Ratliff said he was overjoyed and thrilled over the way the Freeport Rotarians welcomed the Haskell team.

The Thursday meeting opened with the invocation given by Eldon Anderson. Ira Hester presented some interesting Rotary facts and members were astonished when he told of the number of Rotary clubs in Texas and the United States.

ONLY HAPPY HEADLINES

Over a two-year period, there have been cuts in federal income taxes.

Recently, Congress passed and the President signed, a long overdue bill repealing the federal excise, or sales, taxes, on a number of commodities in general use and reduced the levies on others. But just how much benefit will this be to the average person as measured by an increase in his spending power?

The answer seems to be: Very little at best.

Here's why: State and local tax increases are offsetting the federal reductions. During this legislative year, state after state has increased sales taxes, income taxes, gasoline taxes, cigarette taxes, and so on down the list. Local tax unit pending has followed a similar trend, and the property tax has reached a crisis in many areas.

On top of that, a major increase in the federal social security tax, which is automatically deducted from the pay of all workers, is coming.

In other words, we have been putting more money into one pocket... and at the same time, we are taking it out of another. Continued creeping inflation, which is largely the result of deficit spending by government, cuts further into spending and saving power. The tax cuts make happy headlines... but that's as far as they go.

EASY... BUT!

Some years ago, J. C. Penney, founder of the great retail system which bears his name, said this: "Most of us today are thinking in terms of national and international developments. We need and want a strong nation... spiritually, militarily and economically; but we can have a strong nation only with the active cooperation of the people in their relationships within the states and local communities..."

"The American way of life will not automatically continue to function by itself. Real effort on the part of all will be needed constantly to preserve our system and expand it further. Our own self-interest is ultimately dependent upon an all-out, aggressive movement that encourages individual initiative, citizen responsibility, and community self-reliance."

The need that Mr. Penney thus outlined is greater now than at any time in the past. We have witnessed an unprecedented expansion of federal powers and prerogatives at the expense of the rights and obligations of the states and local governments. With it there has been a steady erosion of local pride in achievement and of the desire and the will to deal with local problems at that level.

It is very easy to sit back and wait for an all-powerful central government to take over. But when we do that, we surrender liberties and responsibilities which are difficult to recapture and are absolutely basic to our existence as a free and self-reliant people.

NOTHING IS FREE

Numbers of people, apparently, believe the government gets its money out of thin air, or from some mysterious source that has nothing to do with themselves.

This, basically, was the thought of Congressman Lipscomb of California when he said: "It should come as no surprise to anyone that the money the federal government spends must ultimately come from the people, though all too often it seems that this fact is overlooked or ignored."

One reason for this is that for income and property levies, most of the taxes we pay are hidden. Everything we buy, from an article so small as a loaf of bread to one so large as an automobile, carries a multitude of taxes levied at the raw material, manufacturing, processing, transporting, retailing and other levels. And those taxes, like all the other costs that enter into the production of goods and services, must be paid by the consumer.

These are truths that should be known to every school child. But they tend to become lost in the face of the widespread belief that government "gives" us things. The truth is that government can "give" nothing. It can take the money from the people, now or at some future date, to pay the costs... and, also, it tacks on handsome sums to cover the administrative and bureaucratic overhead.

Nothing material in this world is free... government least of all.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 2, 1965.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 11 proposing an Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas authorizing loans to students at institutions of higher education; creating the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund and making provisions relating thereto.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding a new Section to read as follows:

"Section 50b. STUDENT LOANS. (a) The Legislature may provide that the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, or its successor or successors, shall have the authority to provide for, issue and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed Eighty-five Million Dollars ($85,000,000). The bonds authorized herein shall be called 'Texas College Student Loan Bonds,' shall be executed in such form, denominations and upon such terms as may be prescribed by law, provided, however, that the bonds shall not bear more than four per cent (4%) interest per annum; they may be issued in such installments as the Board finds feasible and practical in accomplishing the purposes of this Section.

(b) All moneys received from the sale of such bonds shall be deposited in a fund hereby created in the State Treasury to be known as the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund to be administered by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, or its successor or successors who have been admitted to attend any institution of higher education within the State of Texas, public or private, including Junior Colleges, which are recognized or accredited under terms and conditions prescribed by the Legislature, and to pay interest and principal on such bonds and provide a sinking fund therefor under such conditions as the Legislature may prescribe.

(c) While any of the bonds, or interest on said bonds authorized by this Section is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year.

(d) The Legislature may provide for the investment of moneys available in the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund, and the interest and sinking funds established for the payment of bonds issued by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, or its successor or successors, income from such investment shall be used for the purposes prescribed by the Legislature.

(e) All bonds issued hereunder shall, after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under this Constitution.

(f) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this Amendment, such acts shall not be void because of their anticipatory nature."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1965, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for loans to students at institutions of higher education to be known as the Texas Opportunity Plan.

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for loans to students at institutions of higher education to be known as the Texas Opportunity Plan."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

This Sunday, the Christian Science churches throughout the world will hear a Bible Lesson on God as 'divine Mind.' The responsive reading will include a familiar verse from Proverbs: "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding."

Quotations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will include the following:

"In a world of sin and understand our relation to the sensuality hastening to a greater development of power, it is Mind but His—no other Love, wise earnestly to consider wisdom or Truth, no other whether it is the human mind or the divine Mind which is influencing one. . . . When we fully or error." (pp 82, 205).

Father Of Mrs. Alfred Hinds Passes Away

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Monday from the Stephenville Funeral Home chapel for Elbert Davis, 71, retired grocer, who died in the Stephenville Hospital at 3:15 a. m. Sunday. Mr. Davis had been in ill health for the past year, but has been hospitalized only a few days.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Alfred Hinds, wife of the editor of the Haskell Free Press, and Johnny Dell Davis, Riverside, Calif.; two brothers, Warren A. Davis, of Seattle, and Ben Davis, of Brownwood; one sister, Mrs. Juanita Jacobs, of Port Angeles, Wash.; three step-children, H. N. Wood, of Grandbury and Charles Wood of Fort Worth and Mrs. Albert Scott of Bridgeport. His first wife died in 1944.

Dr. Felix Gresham, a professor in the Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth, who formerly held a pastorate in Stephenville, officiated.

Burial was in Stephenville West End Cemetery.

The Good Earth

Dr. and Mrs. Joe Thigpen have a rather newly established yard. The turf is well established and virtually free of weeds, roses, shrubbery and Holly frame the front of the house; redbud, pyracantha and red blaze roses are planted along the front fence in the front yard. Arizona cypress form a wind break for the backyard on the north.

Roses and red geranium frame the north side of the house, with an occasional Holly tucked among the roses.

Dr. Thigpen set out tomato plants at the back of the house. They are growing so vigorously a banana tree has become almost swamped by the vines, which are full of plump fruit. Apricot, peach, plum and pear trees have such dark green foliage they almost appear to be black. Luscious peaches hung from the young trees. A large cottonwood tree promises shade in future years.

The south side yard is screened by mesquite, with small hackberry forming a hedge between the larger trees. Birds dropped the hackberry seed. Mrs. Thigpen will let them grow rampant until they are large enough to trim into shade trees.

Hawthorn, Nandina, honeysuckle and red geraniums make a pleasing picture against the south wall. A photinia at the southeast corner of the house has promise of many years of beauty both summer and winter. Two pine trees are struggling to become established after being moved twice.

Mrs. Thigpen carries out a regular schedule of watering. Every 7 to 10 days the garden is given a deep drink then left alone, for she, like myself, does not believe in lightly sprinkling plants.

Like everyone else, Mrs. Thigpen is having trouble with chlorosis, but I believe she has it well in hand, as the foliage is darkening near the limbs. I think that soon her roses will be covered with dark green foliage once more. Few trees in town are any more healthy than these in the Thigpen yard. If you wish to take marigolds to the hospital, put one teaspoon sugar in the water. This removes all offensive odor and brings out a sweet odor of the blossoms.

AT MOTHER'S BEDSIDE

Mrs. Billy Ray Smith is at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Walker, who is hospitalized at Birmingham, Alabama, suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident.

Mrs. Walker received a broken leg and arm, plus other cuts and bruises. The Walkers, who reside at Trafford, Alabama, were in the car at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Smith will remain with her mother until she is released from the hospital.

SS "Medicare" Plans For Most People Past 65

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of our readers prepared by R. R. Tuley Jr., District Manager for the Social Security Administration at Abilene, Texas.)

The Health Insurance Benefits in the 1965 Amendments, popularly called "Medicare," set to go into effect as Hospital Insurance Benefits and as Medical Insurance Benefits, will become available to almost everyone who will reach age 65 before 1968.

Hospitalization provision will mean that after the patient pays a $40 "deductible," the rest of his hospital costs during the first 90 days of that spell of sickness will be paid for him if he is in a participating hospital and the bill is based on reasonable costs. For the next 30 days, he must pay or arrange for $10 per day of the costs himself. After 90 days of hospitalization during one spell of sickness, no further such costs are payable for him. However, after at least 60 days of not being hospitalized or in an extended care facility, he is again eligible for such benefits after again paying the $40 deductible.

Medical provisions will mean that, if he has properly signed up for this and is paying, or having paid for him, the $3 per month charge, 80 per cent of charges from a physician for his services at office, home, clinic or hospital, can be paid each year, following his payment of the first $50 of such costs.

These two programs go into effect July 1, 1966.

All beneficiaries of social security or railroad retirement are automatically insured for the hospitalization and will receive a special mailing of information on both coverages in late September or early October. All others over age 65, should get in touch with a social security office (or state welfare office if receiving old-age assistance only) soon after September 1.

The medical benefits must be applied for between Sept. 1, 1965, and March 31, 1966, if age 65 is reached before January 1, 1966. As persons reach age 65 in the future, they must apply within three months before their 65th birthday. Let us give you more details now available from your social security office.

What! An extension telephone in the barn?

Time was when a telephone in the barn was the last thing you'd ever expect. Not so today. Many of our rural customers have extension telephones in barns, stables and poultry houses, to save time and trouble just as city people do. Here is another example of how Communications can be your Tool for Progress. For full information about our many communications services, please call our Business Office.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 2, 1965. SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 24 proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Article VII, Section 17, providing a method of payment for the acquiring, constructing and equipping of buildings and other permanent improvements at certain state institutions of higher learning; providing for allocation of funds therefor; authorizing the issuance of bonds or notes and the pledging of allotted funds for the payment of same; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 17 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Section 17. In lieu of the state ad valorem tax on property of Seven Cents (7¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 51 of Article III, as amended, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Two Cents (2¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the continuing payment of Confederate pensions as provided under Section 51, Article III, and for the establishment and continued maintenance of the State Building Fund as provided in Section 51b, Article III, of the Constitution.

"Also, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Ten Cents (10¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping buildings or other permanent improvements at the designated institutions of higher learning provided that none of the proceeds of this tax shall be used for auxiliary enterprises; and the governing board of each such institution of higher learning is fully authorized to pledge all or any part of said funds allotted to such institution as

Stephen F. Austin State College at Nacogdoches
 Sul Ross State College at Alpine
 Angelo State College at San Angelo
 "Eighty-five per cent (85%) of such funds shall be allocated by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas on June 1, 1966, and fifteen per cent (15%) of such funds shall be allocated by said Comptroller on June 1, 1972, based on the following determinations:

"(1) Ninety per cent (90%) of the funds allocated on June 1, 1966, shall be allocated to state institutions based on projected enrollment increases published by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System for fall 1966 to fall 1978.

"(2) Ten per cent (10%) of the funds allocated on June 1, 1966 shall be allocated to certain of the eligible state institutions based on the number of additional square feet needed in educational and general facilities by such eligible state institution to meet the average square feet per full time equivalent student of all state senior institutions (currently numbering twenty-two).

mention the fact that he had not eaten for the last 24 hours, and if he might "carry the banner" that night in the shop, which meant if he could sleep there. Among some of the old traveling printers were Weary Willie Waterhouse from Walla Walla, Washington, Fred Barclay, Brooklyn Joe, Johnny Rudd and many others.

The country editor took much pride in his editorial page for that was his only opportunity to let-off steam. He never ran out of editorial material, for he could always, in a pinch for the lack of a subject, write a full column on the shortcomings of the Republican Party.

Mike said he knew a publisher when he was learning the trade who was the proud possessor of a "font of wood type." It was used for banner lines on the front page, in paste circulars, etc. In fact, he prized it more highly than his case of ornaments. He hired a boy to whom he endeavored to teach the art of the printer. Among the duties of the printer's "devil" was to build fires in the office pot-bellied stove.

One day the local editor got an order for a double-page advertisement and with visions of the boost it would give his depleted pocketbook, rushed over to his beloved case of wood type and to the amazement of the good man, the case was empty. He asked the boy if he knew anything about the missing type. "No sir, except I used some of the little wooden blocks to kindle the fire the other morning when it was so cold," the frightened boy answered.

Years later, Mike said, he was present when a locomotive ran over a derail and all the wheels got on the ground. The language that one member of the engine crew used carried him back to that sad day in the country print shop when the mystery of the missing wood type was solved.

How pleasant it was to walk into a weekly print shop and sniff the aroma of news ink, newsprint, and perhaps an ancient glue pot simmering on the stove, and to hear the click of the type in the stick as the editor put an added touch to the obituary of a late lamented citizen with:

"There is a Reaper, Whose name is Death And with his sickle keen He reaps the bearded grain at a breath. And the flowers that grow between."

VA Questions And Answers

Q—I dropped my GI insurance right after getting out of service in 1945. Why can't I obtain insurance under the law without having to prove that I either have a service-connected disability or am not able to obtain commercial insurance because of disabilities not due to service?

A—The present reopening of National Service Life Insurance is limited. The legislation enacted by Congress specifically limited the purchase of new insurance to those two categories.

Q—I have heard of a number of states which authorized a state bonus for veterans. Why hasn't the Veterans Administration in Wisconsin authorized such a payment?

A—The payment of a state bonus is authorized by the individual states, and not by the Veterans Administration. It is up to each state to determine whether they will authorize a 'WA- e-Owt limov state bonus for their veterans.
