

Fightin' Indians Out To Twist Tail Of Electra Tigers

Wake the town and tell the people!
A determined band of Fightin' Indians, armed with the spirit and desire to make up for their lack of experience, will leave here at 4 p. m. tomorrow for what they are determined will be a very successful scalping party at Electra.

It is hoped Haskell will turn out in mass to give these gritty youngsters the sendoff they deserve. They, along with Head Coach Sonny Everett, other members of the coaching corps, and the managers, will be leaving the Indian Gym promptly at 4 p. m. A coaches' poll and Texas Football have settled on Haskell for last place in the tough District 5AA this fall. On paper, it is true the Indians are not very impressive. Neither were the scouting reports his aides gave General Custer.

Coach Everett, it is admitted, is definitely rebuilding in undertaking a formidable task of following in the footsteps of a most respected Ray Overton. His job is double tough in that he is operating in one of the best Class AA conferences in the state. But he, and 22 solid boys, who are out there to play football, because they love it, will bear watchin'!

There are only five returning regulars from a club that was 6-4 and missed a tie with Winters for first place by virtue of a 14-0 loss in the regular season finale with Stamford. Instead, Haskell was 3-2 in league, tied three ways for the No. 2 spot.

Top performers are Joe Josselot, 140, fullback James Ivy, 180, and guard Bill Perry, 180, who went both ways for the Tribe last year. Josselot will be switched from end to quarterback. A speedster with tremendous breakaway abilities, he'll be tough to stop at his new post.

Defensive regulars include Gary Conner, 170, linebacker, and Dickie Frierson, 210, at tackle. Both will operate on offense and defense this year. Promising youngsters include halfback Gary Druessedow, 155, tackle Kenneth Rogers, 230, and Fred Kreger, 137, and Wendell Coston, 138, and halfback Eddie Hester, 130. All are seniors.

Fightin' Indians, the "message" is: HOLD THAT ELECTRA TIGER. Better than that: TWIST THAT TIGER'S TAIL!

REV. KENNETH R. BLAIR

New Pastor At Trinity Baptist Is Area Native

Rev. Kenneth R. Blair, a native of Haskell, has been called to the pulpit of the Trinity Baptist Church here succeeding Rev. Jesse Jones.

Rev. Jones, pastor for the past seven years of the church founded by his father, C. Jones, will continue to serve his denomination in evangelistic endeavors or any other capacity to which he may be called. He is nearing completion of 20 years of service as a Baptist pastor, seven of it here and nine years at Rule, where he founded a preaching circuit.

The younger Jones has been most active in fostering the growth and development of the Trinity Baptist Church in downtown Haskell started by his father, who himself is still active in the work of the church.

Rev. Blair comes to the Haskell church from the Rendon Baptist Church in Fort Worth, where he was pastor for three years. Prior to that time, he was associate pastor for three years and pastor for one year at Central Baptist Church in Richland Hills, Fort Worth.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Blair and brother of Charles Blair, all of Haskell, Rev. Blair was born in Haskell County and lived most of his youth northeast of Weibert. He moved from this area in 1930. An ordained Baptist pastor since Dec. 25, 1935, Rev. Blair attended Baptist Bible Seminary in Fort Worth, and completed studies with the Moody Bible Institute of Springfield, Mo.

For the past two years, Rev. Blair has served as a substitute instructor in the recently established Trinity Valley Bible Seminary in Fort Worth.

The new Baptist pastor here is married and the couple have five children.

Haskell, as the geographic hub, is "under serious consideration" as the site for a junior college serving this area of Northwest-North Central Texas, a "town hall" breakfast session of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce was told here Tuesday morning.

A potential "ideal location here" has been selected by officials of the Texas Education Agency, one of whom will be in Haskell next Wednesday, Sept. 9, to discuss the possibilities of such a school and the local responsibilities and requirements necessary to be met in establishing it.

These two most welcomed morsels of information were divulged at the Chamber of Commerce session at Felker's Cafe in Haskell Tuesday by Mrs. Luther Burkett, supervisor of instruction in Haskell schools, and chairman of the Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce here.

Mrs. Burkett has been working for several months on a survey prepared for and at the request of TEA officials in Austin, many of whom she has worked closely with in the past through more than 30 years of service as a teacher and school administrator.

Dr. B. W. Musgraves, assistant commissioner of education under Dr. J. W. Edgar, head of the Texas Education Agency, and the man in charge of the junior college division of TEA, will come to Haskell on Wednesday night, Sept. 9, to meet with citizens here and from adjoining counties at 7:30 p. m. in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank. At that time, he will outline the requirements necessary for location and establishment of a junior college, which, in the instance of Haskell and Haskell County, must be the product of the unified efforts of four to five counties in this territory.

Mrs. Burkett's announcement was cheered by the nearly 50 civic leaders present, including Haskell County Judge James C. Alvis, who summed up the feelings of the assembly by declaring, "We are in this meeting to talk about development and industry. A junior college located here would be the finest industry we could obtain."

The supervisor of instruction in Haskell schools emphasized, in order to conform with requirements, location of a junior college here "will take a five-county joint effort" presumed to be Haskell, Throckmorton, Stonewall, Knox and Baylor counties, with the county judges, commissioners, county school superintendents and boards of education in those counties unifying their efforts.

At its last meeting on August 12, the state board of education revised its standards of qualification for junior college establishments, and the action will help this area, Mrs. Burkett reported. She said Dr. Musgraves would amplify this statement in his appearance (See Junior College, Page 10).

DEDICATION CEREMONY OPENS FIRST BAPTIST YOUTH CENTER

More than 100 Haskell residents were present at an impressive and joyful ceremony and open house dedicating a renovated First Baptist Youth Center across the street from the main physical plant of the church here Sunday afternoon.

The building, formerly the Baptist parsonage, was occupied as a youth center some 18 months ago, but decoration and repairs to the structure were initiated only four months ago as a church-wide effort.

Located adjacent to the church on North Avenue E, Dr. Nobles declared in a dedication service at 2 p. m., the formal opening of the center "to Christian activities."

Miss Judy Anderson, president of the Youth Council of the church, expressed appreciation to the First Baptist Church of Haskell "for its initiative."

WINNERS 11 OUT OF 13 APPEARANCES— SHERIFF'S POSSE POINTING TO N. MEXICO; TAKE DECATUR WIN

Haskell County's famed Sheriff's Posse, a riding club on a par with the best of them, paraded a glory road for the 11th time in 13 appearances this season by bringing home a trophy from the annual Decatur Sheriff's Posse Rodeo at the Wise County seat last Thursday.

School Doors Open For Nearly 1,000

A total of 912 students were in classes in all grades of the Haskell Schools on opening day of the 1964-65 year here Monday, Supt. Hooper T. Wilkinson reported. It was the beginning of the 80th year of public school instruction in Haskell.

The student numerical strength in schools here is expected to level off around the 1,000 mark within the next week. Last year's student load in Haskell was 1,006.

Mrs. Jerry Sorrells, secretary to Supt. Wilkinson, reported the following first-day class attendance totals received at the superintendent's office: Haskell High School, 171; Haskell Junior High School, 223; Haskell Elementary School, 434; E. B. Evans Negro Elementary School, 68. Sixteen Negro high school students from here are attending school in Monday.

George Alvis Turnbow, a pioneer farmer of Haskell County, who came here in 1903, less than 20 years after the town of Haskell was organized, died in Haskell County Hospital at 5 a. m. Tuesday. He had been hospitalized since last Thursday when he fell and broke his hip at his home, 200 North Sixth Street, here.

Mr. Turnbow would have been 86 years old on Sept. 14. Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church here at 3 p. m. Wednesday, with the Rev. J. V. Patterson, pastor, officiating. He was assisted by Dr. Ray Nobles, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Burial under direction of Holden Funeral Home was in Willow Cemetery beside the grave of his wife, who died in 1954.

Pallbearers were Jim Shepherd, J. W. Aycock, Woody Turnbow, Buddy Drinnon, C. W. Drinnon, Perry Turnbow, Raymond Ammons and Bob Turnbow.

Born September 14, 1878, in Hohenwald, Tenn., Mr. Turnbow came here 61 years ago from his native Tennessee. On Christmas Day of the same year, 1903, he married Lydia Josselot in Haskell. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1953, nine months before her death Sept. 4, 1954.

Mr. Turnbow owned land in the Josselot Community, 6 and a half miles north of Haskell, where he and his family lived many years. He retired as a farmer in 1945, and he and Mrs. Turnbow moved to Haskell that year. He was a member of the First Methodist Church.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Robert Drinnon, of Haskell; four sons, Alfred, former Haskell County Judge, I. W. W. and Cleatus E. Turnbow, all of Haskell; a sister, Mrs. Senia Ammons, Haskell; a brother, J. C. Turnbow, Haskell; 14 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Jesse Priest, Jaycee president, and Anderson, have announced that the "Operation Rest Stop" project here will be manned throughout Friday night, Sept. 4, and Monday night, Sept. 7, the nights when Labor Day traffic will be heaviest.

Month of Promise

Every year brings another September. September is the month when schools open, and young minds tackle new problems of the three R's. Older minds combat the barriers and the road blocks, and practice wisdom and courage in endeavoring to match themselves with life.

Progress, whether social or economic, is a record of what humanity has done for itself.

Man harnessed fire as an answer to the coming winter. He invented ships to carry heavier loads. He conquered distances by propellers and the utilization and application of jet propulsion.

Utopia is not a result, but a PROMISE. Our plans for a better tomorrow must include the farmer, the business man, the transport worker, and all of the army or SILENT WORKERS who faithfully "deliver the goods" to satisfy the law of supply and demand.

All the foregoing adds up to why we welcome September—the MONTH OF PROMISE.

Many of those who started First Grade this week will become great industrialists, master builders, renowned scientists, learned teachers, and even brilliant statesmen.

Here in Haskell, sparsely populated as it is in comparison with the population explosion centers, we have produced our share of folks who have made their marks in the aforementioned categories of accomplishment. Others here may have put their eager feet on the first rung of the long ladder and have begun their climb this very week.

God bless them all along the way. And "Hail, September! Month of Promise!"

Memo To A First Grader

Lad or Lass, you are too young now to fully comprehend the message in the Twenty-Third Chapter of St. Matthew, but sow it in your garden of memories. Properly tended, it will make your life bloom as you "come up."

The marrow of this message in Saint Matthew is: If any man be great among you, he will be your servant. Or, if you will be great, you will serve all mankind.

It is meet that all of us, regardless of age, or station, think on this thing, and be thankful.

Those Grandchildren

A Soviet economist's proposal that Russia adopt the "profit motive" in managing its national economy a few years ago would have brought him instant banishment to the salt mines in Siberia, often referred to as "never-never land." You never, never get back.

But Russia, currently beset by economic ills and whopping agricultural busts, no longer can afford to scoff at or ridicule capitalist methods. The profit motive suggestion by Economist Vadim A. Trapeznikov, a 1961 Stalin prize-winner, was published recently in the Communist Party newspaper, Pravda. That in itself is a reflection of the Soviet Union's internal change.

Trapeznikov recommends junking Russia's "obsoleto" systems and switching to a profit motive. He said profit is the index "which best characterizes the work of an enterprise, conforms to the interests of national economy and the interests of the workers."

His suggestions undoubtedly will receive serious study now. Russia's own satellites have been adopting capitalistic devices since 1960 to pep up their scholastic program—with undeniable success.

Poland, with a predominantly private agricultural system, is able to export substantial quantities of food to the free world, while Russia has had to import wheat. Czechoslovakia and East Germany are trying pricing systems resembling those based on the supply-and-demand relationship prevailing in the West.

The fact that the official party newspaper would publish a native economist's "heretical" profit motive suggestion reflects a trend inside Russia itself.

Not too long ago, Mr. "K" told us that our grandchildren would be Communists. We now can advance the possibility that Russian grandchildren will grow up to be capitalists!

Back to School—Everybody's Doing It

Time was when "back to school" meant getting only little Johnny out from under and back into teacher's hands. But this year almost half the nation will be involved in some kind of schooling.

While more than 37 million children will go back to the public schools, some 4.5 million young people will be attending colleges and universities. In addition, according to World Book Encyclopedia, there are about 50 million Americans who take part in some kind of adult education.

Of course, it may be just a course in good grooming or in flower arranging, but it's still a long way from the days when only a handful of privileged young men could sit around gabbing with a Socrates or a Zeno.

As the numbers of those involved in education have risen, so have the costs. Back in 1880, it cost an average of $7.91 a year to educate a child. By the turn of the century, it was $13.87. In 1940, the cost was $91.64. And today, the United States spends an average of more than $400 a year for each child.

Where does the money come from? More than half the cost—56 per cent—comes from you, the local taxpayer in the local school district. The state contributes about 40 per cent, and the federal government, about 4 per cent.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri By PORTER

Far be it from us to try to out-Boyle' Hal Boyle, one of the country's crackerjack columnists, but we would attempt to borrow his literary license long enough to tell you this tidbit:

As any readers of "According to Boyle" know, ol' key-pounder Hal makes much of his mail, and writes frequently of "Things I'd never know if I didn't open my third class mail." Arranged in amusing sequence, the grist Hal gleaned and grinds in this manner provides a laugh-a-line.

Any given morning's "take" by the Pencil Pusher on his dawn run to the Post Office is no exception, and if we didn't have a certain pride favoring originality of authorship, we would be leaping toward a Bovish type column from the same source frequently.

We can't contain our urge to share with you a monumental morsel of mail just received. It gave us a "blast" somehow or other, so be sittin' out here in West Texas, to receive from a certain widely heralded public relations firm, the address of which is 260 Madison Avenue, N. Y., which is the epitome of the epitome of addresses for a PR firm, and to have this canned release start thusly:

"Now it's easy to protect carrots and onions against damage from wireworms."

Can't you just see the Man in the Gray Flannel Suit, who rode to work this morning on the subway, and scurried through the crowds in the granite canyons of the Bronx to get to his lush carpeted, plush panelwalled business sanctum, depositing his homberg on the nearest hat tree, then sitting down before his electric IBM to write: "Now, it's easy to protect carrots and onions."

Why, unless he commutes from Connecticut, the ol' Build-Up Boy who wrote that probably never saw a patch of Good Earth large enough to grow a carrot or an onion unless it was in Central Park or in the flower boxes on Fifth or Park Avenues.

To add an extra helpin' of "sitches" to the ones already put us in, this particular Madison Avenue "handout" was written by a fellow named JOHN ROTHSCCHILD, no less, who's probably a mighty fine feller at that. Having had the exuberant experience of rocketing skyward in a couple of Madison Avenue elevators our simple self, we just got a wholesome charge out of the situation. Madison Avenue, we hope we may be forgiven.

We imagine your immaculate image will prevail, regardless.

Those of you who shared with us the spine-tingling thrill of seeing the 22-minute memorial film dedicated to our late great President John F. Kennedy at the Democratic Convention, do you have the same feeling as we? That this martyred man who had the vitality, the vigor, the image of youth, and the strength of character to be the very essence of the American way of life, possibly made more utterances that are destined to be timeless in the brief period of 1,000 days as President than any other person of such lofty station has said in all our glorious and vibrant history?

And, like that Black Friday, Nov. 22, 1963, and the days that immediately followed, will you ever forget the poignant expression on the face of Robert Kennedy last Thursday night, as he received in the image of his departed brother, the President of the United States, an ovation, unequalled in sincerity and meaning, for 13 emotional minutes at Atlantic City's gigantic Convention Hall?

Seems these hurricanes with the Vitamin C (first Carla, then Cleo) have a little more zing to them than the others. Our Betty and Harold got an early baptism in the ways of the coast dwellers after less than two weeks at their new station, Homestead Air Force Base, down on the Florida Keys. But they took Cleo in stride. Betty reported in a phone call, "I'm not scared of any wind that's a straight wind. It's the twistin' kind you've got to respect." Spoken like a True Panhandler, Girl. But if you all are still down there, and a Hurricane named Jewel comes along, batten down the hatches anyway. You know what I mean!

Not only Hollywood, but the nation, is saddened by the untimely loss of Gracie Allen, one half of one of the most wholesome and exemplary teams the American entertainment world has known.

Did you see the ad in the Abilene paper in which a man advertised a set of encyclopedias "Never Used," adding,

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO (September 6, 1934)

In the first two weeks that the government cattle buying plan has been in operation in this county, a total of 1,232 head has been purchased by agents and approximately $12,000 has been paid owners of the animals. Those in charge of the program estimate around 5,000 head will be purchased in the county.

The five-room residence and some barns on the Sam Armstrong farm six miles south of Haskell were destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon. The blaze started from an oil stove in the kitchen. The house was owned by the C. G. Balthrop family and they lost practically all their household goods.

Hassen Bros. Company opened their new dry goods store in Rule last Saturday. Clyde Parker is manager of the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Taylor of Wichita Falls spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Jones.

Raymond Mercer of the Vontreas community left this week for East Texas where he will spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Graham moved from Rochester to Haskell last week. Mr. Graham is the new county superintendent nominee, having won the office in the recent primary.

The new Harrison and Spurlock Gin, built during the summer on the site of the old cotton yard south of the square, is now in operation. M. F. Spurlock, manager, reports that they ginned their first bale last Friday.

Supt. H. D. Neff has announced that the Haskell schools will open for the new term Monday, Sept. 8. Pupils required to pay tuition will be charged at the following rate: Primary grades, $5 per month; Intermediate grades, $4 per month; and High School, $6 a month.

Sheriff W. C. Allen has purchased a home in Alpine and will move his daughter, Miss Winnie, there for the winter. Mrs. Allen and children will move to Alpine next week.

Under the sagacious supervision of Gresh, whose grandfather was Haskell's Methodist minister in other days, that press is paying off, better than a slot machine.

The slot machine reference reminds us of the sign over the ones they had in the Officers' Club at Sheppard Field during World War II. It said: "IN CASE OF AIR RAID, DUCK UNDER US WE HAVEN'T BEEN HIT YET!"

How come Frances, after she got home from market, was barely overheard, while putting around the store, humming "The Naughty Lady of Shady Lane?"

South formerly taught at Pecos for several years and also served as superintendent there. He also has taught in Castro, Knox, Taylor and several other counties in North-west and West Texas.

He received his B. S. degree from West Texas State College, Canyon, and a Master of Education degree from Abilene Christian College.

Service Clubs Here Join In Cemetery Effort

Some 30 members of three of Haskell's service clubs, armed with rakes and hoes, "invaded" Willow Cemetery here recently in a cleanup campaign to improve the general appearance of Haskell's burial ground. The service clubs also have conducted voluntary caretaking chores at a new park across from Haskell County Hospital.

Initiated as a project of the Rotary Club of Haskell under its community service program and directed by Rotarian Allen Sherman, about half of the membership of the Rotary Club here took part in the cemetery cleanup. A large number of Haskell Jaycees and Lions Club members also turned out in the community effort.

The presidents of Rotary, Jaycees and Lions, Roy Johnson, Jesse Priest and Frank Martin, respectively, directed their groups in the effort. Many untended cemetery lots were trimmed and cleared of weeds to improve the overall cemetery appearance.

Answering the call of Mrs. R. L. Foote, president of the Haskell County Hospital Auxiliary, which initiated the park development program across the street from the hospital here, service club members also have been helping this summer in a grass and tree care program in the park.

Anita Smith Is New President Of Pep Dispensers

Haskell High School students, in a recent pre-school assembly in Indian gymnasium, organized their pep squad for the 1964-65 school year, and practiced new maneuvers and yells at the direction of their cheer-leading corps.

Anita Smith was elected president of the Indian Pep Squad. Other officers chosen include Lela Adams, vice president; Bonnie Howard, secretary; Linda Sampson, treasurer; Betsy Fouts, reporter.

The new president announced that pep squad meetings will continue on Thursday and Friday mornings from 8 to 9 a. m. in the high school auditorium throughout the football season.

"This year's pep squad plans to give the Fightin' Indians their full support, and we urge the town to do the same," the pep leaders declared.

Man Jailed Here On Assault With Intent Charge

A 41-year-old man identified by Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett as Joe Bob Bruce, address unknown, was placed in County Jail last Wednesday on a charge of assault with intent to murder with malice.

Arraigned here before Justice of the Peace Judge Virgil Brown, Bruce's bond was set at $2500 and he was sent to jail pending action of the Haskell County Grand Jury.

The man was taken into custody at a Stamford motel by Sheriff Garrett, Jones County Sheriff Dave Reeves, Tommy Wood, state highway patrolman headquartered in Haskell, and Stamford Police Chief B. Q. Cooper.

He was picked up in connection with an altercation which took place near the Hilltop Cafe in Haskell County at the north edge of Stamford last May 3, Sheriff Garrett reported. The incident was reportedly an attack on another man.

Leonard Banks, Former Resident, Dies In Amarillo

Leonard Towns Banks, 63, a former resident of Haskell, died at 1:35 p. m. last Wednesday in the Johnson Convalescent Home in Amarillo.

A resident of Amarillo for 8 years, Mr. Banks moved there from Cleburne in 1956. He suffered a heart attack three weeks ago.

Graveside services under direction of Holden Funeral Home were held at 2 p. m. Friday in Willow Cemetery with Rev. J. V. Patterson, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, officiating. Burial was beside the graves of Mr. Banks' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Banks. Mrs. J. M. Banks was the former Mary Elizabeth Phillips.

Mr. Banks, a tree surgeon, was born March 19, 1901, in Joshua, Texas. He was a member of the First Methodist Church in Henrietta. He married Pearl Roberts on October 16, 1919, in Haskell.

Survivors are his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Frank Black, of Odessa; Mrs. Mary Shreves, of Dallas; and Mrs. John Hester, of Amarillo; three sons, Leonard, Jr., of Corona, Calif.; Wilburn, with the U. S. Army in Thailand; and Jerry, of Riverside, Calif.; two brothers, Clarence and Floyd, both of Connecticut; 13 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

As the 1963-64 page of Haskell garden club is closed, we pause to take a backward look to see what individual gardeners have done, to help enrich the "Good Earth."

Mrs. Jetty V. Clare's Crepe Myrtles have thrived, even though we have had such an unusual summer. Her garden contains the red, white and pink varieties. Mrs. Clare remarks that once established Crepe Myrtle requires very little care. Her surprise lilies gave a pretty display also. Mrs. Clare has now fertilized all beds, and is ready to begin the new year, seeking adventure in different plants next season. She proved to her own satisfaction that lye used on trees and shrubs, could prove very beneficial. Her Magnolia tree was given a feeding of lye earlier, and this spring the foliage was luxuriant and green, with seven huge blossoms adding to its beauty. There were no brown leaves this summer.

Mildred Guess, of Weinert, tried cucumber squash for the first time this year. She canned 30 quarts of pickles from her vines and generously divided at least that many of these novelties with her neighbors. Mildred said the cucumber squash can be used as a vegetable also. I must learn more about this unusual vine.

Mrs. Leroy O'Neal graced her yard with lovely pink Cannas, and her house with Mexican moss, and many colors of coleus. She has also spent the summer practicing arrangement of dried materials for future flower shows.

Aura Lee Thornton has had wonderful success growing potted chrysanthemums in her garden, despite the heat, and is eagerly waiting for them to blossom.

The outstanding flower in

Mrs. M. E. Overton's garden is a beautiful delicate pink honeysuckle, trained on a fan-shaped trellis. Her Mesquite are quite green and lacy, but with no water to soak her lawn, the grass looks like shredded wheat. Mrs. Overton's sister sent her a TI plant from Hawaii. Mable set the plant out, marveling that a tiny piece of limb would grow. When the plant was about 8 inches high, she took it to Mrs. Conner's to spend the summer in the greenhouse. The TI plant is now about 12 inches high and very pretty.

More next week on Haskell Garden Club.

Footnote: Mrs. Carl McGregor of Abilene visited in my home this week. She is another "good earth" fan. Mr. and Mrs. McGregor were long time residents of Haskell and still have extensive land and oil

The organ music you heard over radio and T.V. during the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, N. J. came from the world's largest pipe organ...

To this scribe, organ music is the sweetest thing this side of heaven. And I think I would prefer it to the harp music of the Angels in heaven.

A few years back I had the pleasure and privilege to hear and see in person Miss Miller in action in Convention Hall, Atlantic City, New Jersey...

It took four years to build the organ, which was designed by the late State Senator Emerson Richards. The organ was completed in 1932. It contains seven manual keyboards...

The organ pipes are located in eight huge rooms containing electrical relays and other mechanisms, including eight motors with a combined 395 hp to drive the blowers that supply air to the pipes.

A total of 225,000 board feet of lumber was used to construct the organ. Metal pipes are made of tin, lead, zinc and brass. The organ weighs about 150 tons.

Cigarettes have rocketed back from the slump that followed a government report in January linking them to lung cancer and heart disease.

While cigarettes were making their comeback, cigar sales dropped in June, the Internal Revenue Service announced.

For the fiscal year, shipments of small cigars were 865 million, compared to 182 million in the previous 12-month period.

Shipment of cigars during the fiscal year totaled 7.4 billion, an increase of 1 billion over the previous year.

The slump in cigarette sales had set in right after the government committee headed by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry issued its report in January.

It appears from these reports, cigarette smokers had

Junior College --

August Rainfall Almost An Inch Above Normal

Declaring that "more than 6,000 students were turned away from our colleges in Texas last year," Mrs. Burkett said her survey now, in the process of completion, points up the need for technical training at the junior college level...

Abner Turner, president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, upon its completion, was most effusive in his praise of Mrs. Burkett and the "diligent, dedicated work performed" by the veteran Haskell school teacher and administrator.

Hooper T. Wilkinson, superintendent of schools here, is co-chairman with Mrs. Burkett of the chamber's education committee.

Haskell, which has suffered through a long, dry summer, rallied moisturewise the last 15 days of August with 2.84 inches of rain to go 4 of an inch above normal on the year...

With the greatest downpour measuring .89, and rainfall also measuring .69 and .67 on three successive days beginning August 16, Haskell added .19 on the 19th, .35 on the 22nd, .12 on the 27th, and closed out August moisture with .55 last Saturday to complete the month's 2.84 total.

It has rained 16.66 inches here since January 1, which is 41 of an inch above the year's normal rainfall of 16.25 for the first eight months of the year.

August also saw a long standing heat record fall in Haskell. The sizzling 112 degree temperature reading here Aug. 6 was the hottest here in 28 years when 114 degrees was recorded, back in 1936.

Lowest minimums last month were 66's on successive days August 22 and 23, Herren said.

raising" in each case. The WTCC executive said he is aware that Haskell, like every other town, has its assets, as well as its liabilities.

Springer pledged the professional help of the WTCC in two projects immediately before Haskellites, employment of the right type of chamber manager, and the founding of a junior college here to serve this area.

Unity and understanding, "voluntary association for the mutual benefit of free people working together for a common good," these were keynotes of Springer's message.

He also pointed out that "the principles of a Chamber of Commerce are not on trial, but those who work at it are always on trial." He emphasized, "You never saw a dynamic, progressive town without a hard-working, pushing Chamber of Commerce."

There is a sense of well-being derived from an organization "which looks out for the common welfare of all," said Springer. He said negative factors in a town should not be accentuated if it is to develop.

The WTCC executive closed by enumerating some "community diseases" we should guard against: civic egotism, civic stagnation, (do not hang a "do not disturb" sign on the town); civic apathy, civic factionalism, and "group control."

Springer also lauded the "faithful work" of Dr. T. W. Williams, longtime worker of the WTCC board from this area in re-emphasizing that his organization be called upon to help Haskell with its problems and projects.

November 21 Is Date Set For Rule Homecoming

Key Republicans "Make Medicine" At Rally Here

Date for the annual Rule Homecoming has been set for Saturday, Nov. 21, and operating committees for the event will be announced soon, Sam Turner, president of homecoming, has announced.

Elected to serve with Turner are Sonny Denson, vice president, and Maxine Herttenberger, secretary.

Turner, in announcing the date, has asked that all former students, teachers, patrons, of residents of Rule "mark this date on your calendar."

L. H. Casselberrys, Area Natives, Now Manage Pal-O-Mar

Pal-O-Mar Lodge, a 14 unit motel in south Haskell on U.S. 277, has been taken over by a former operator, Ray Gilbert, of Texas City, who managed the facility here four years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Casselberry, both area natives, who have lived for the past several years and assisted with the operation of a dude ranch at Creede, Colo., have returned here to manage the Pal-O-Mar property.

The motel has been renovated and redecorated throughout, and the Casselberrys solicit the reacquaintance of many old friends in the area.

Mrs. Casselberry is the former Patsy Pearsey, daughter of Leon Pearsey, of Haskell. Her husband is a native of Seymour.

Members of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Davis will have their tenth annual reunion all day Sunday in the American Legion Hall here, and all friends of the family are cordially invited to come by to visit.

Anderson reports the Jaycees owe thanks to the following firms in Haskell for their contributions of food, supplies, and equipment for the rest stop endeavor: Renfro's Grocery, Bill Wilson Motor Company, "M" System Grocery, Bailey Tolliver Motor Company, Super Save Grocery, Medford Motor Company, Pogue's Grocery, Cahill-Duncan Insurance and Holden Funeral Home.

Coach Sonny Everett Lions Speaker Tuesday

Sonny Everett, Haskell High School Head Coach, spoke to members of the Lions Club at the Tuesday noonday luncheon meeting.

Also present at the meeting were David Middleton and Raymond Bennett, members of the coaching staff. Carlos Berry was unable to attend the Tuesday session.

Coach Everett praised the Haskell School system, and said he was honored to serve as head football mentor in such a town as Haskell.

Some of the things, the sport of football does for the players, Coach Everett said, is to teach them proper health and diet habits, learn the use of time, scholarship, working with others, leadership, controlling the temper, learning to make sacrifices, and keeping them mentally and physically fit.

Amin Saab, a student at the University of Houston, cousin of Raja Hassen, was also noted as a visitor at Tuesday's meeting.
