Texas Pharmacy Week Proclaimed

Kenneth Forthman Mayor of the City of Stratford, shown left, hereby proclaims the week of October 24-30, 1993 as "PHARMACY WEEK" in Stratford, Texas, and urge all citizens to acknowledge and utilize the expertise of pharmacists whose skills, concern, and knowledge contribute to the health and well-being of this community. Gayland Vandiver, Pharmacist at Elk Pharmacy is shown right with Kenneth.

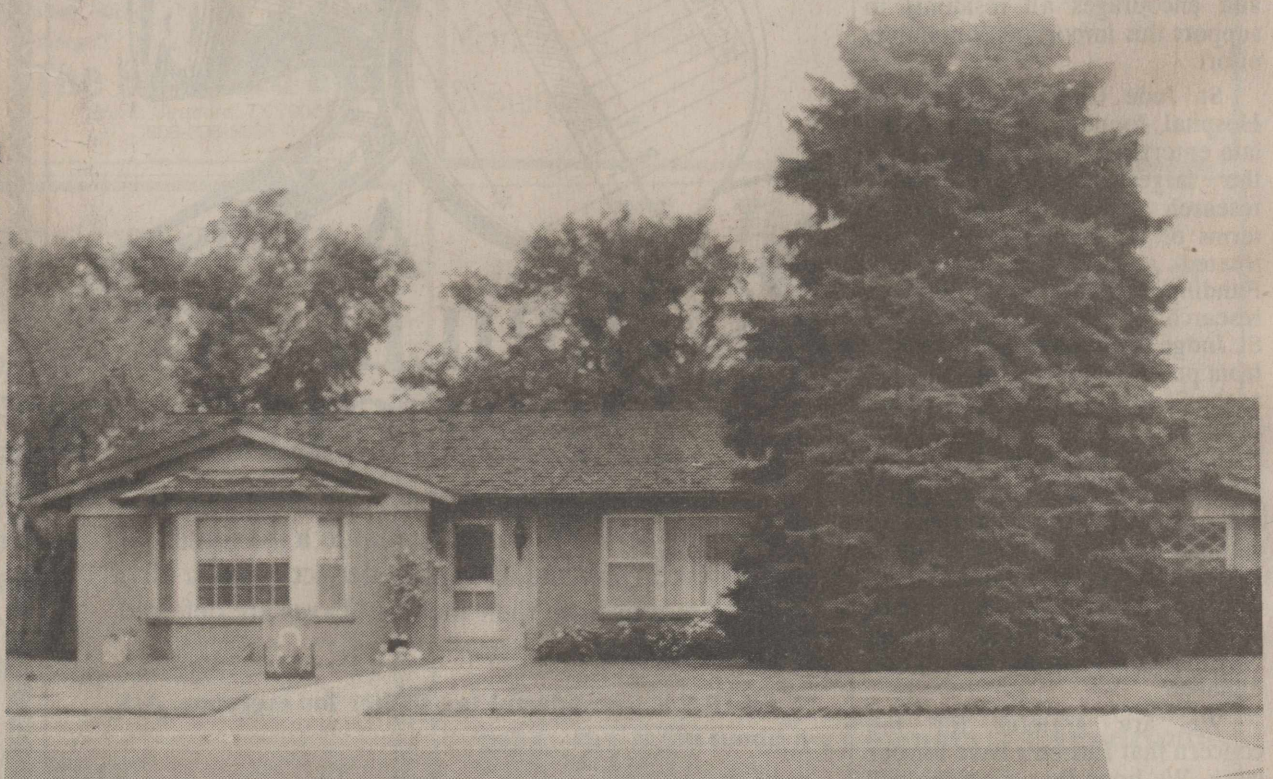

Quality and affordable health care is a concern of every Texan and an integral part of quality health care includes drug therapy which is increasingly more sophisticated and more than 13,000 practicing pharmacists in Texas daily apply their five-years or more of training & education to dispense medications and to monitor prescription and non-prescription medications for the correct dosage and usage as well as possible allergic and drug interactions. These professional pharmacists counsel patients to help assure the maximum benefits of both prescription and non prescription medications. Public opinion polls consistently rank pharmacists among the most highly respected professional for their unselfish gifts of time, knowledge and talent to advise the public on health concerns.

Study says drugs, racism plague colleges

NEW YORK — Alcohol, drug abuse, crime and bigotry are breaking down the social and intellectual fabric at many colleges, according to a report released.

The idyllic vision so routinely portrayed in college promotional materials often masks disturbing realities of student life, concluded the report, "Campus Life: In Search of Community."

The 148-page study was a project of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching in Princeton, N.J., and the American Council on Education, a higher education lobbying group based in Washington.

The findings were based on visits to 18 campuses, interviews with teachers, students and administrators across the nation and national surveys of 382 college and university presidents and 355 chief student affairs officers, conducted in 1989.

Among the survey findings:

- 52 percent of the college presidents said the quality of campus life was a greater concern than a few years ago.
- Two-thirds of the presidents considered alcohol abuse a "moderate" or "major" problem.
- 43 percent said campus crime had increased over the past five years.
- One in four presidents said racial tensions were problems on their campuses.
- 62 percent of presidents at research-oriented universities said sexual harassment was a "moderate" or "major" problem, and 48 percent said the same of racial harassment.
- 60 percent of student affairs officers said their campus had a written policy on bigotry, and 11 percent said they were working on one.

The central recommendation of the report urged colleges to adopt a "campus compact," reaffirming themselves as "caring communities." Students must be encouraged to look beyond personal goals to their responsibilities to the school community and to society at large, it stressed. School officials, in turn, need to show genuine concern about student needs, it said.

★ Chamber Chatter

by J. A. Lasley

It has been called to my attention, repeatedly with phone calls and inquiries, that Simmons Cable has determined that they will close the office on 309 N. Main within the next two weeks. If you feel that with what they charge per subscriber that you are getting the short end of the deal, I would and have recommended that you write the City of Stratford with your complaint so that it can be brought before the City Council. Many of the calls have been what is the telephone number of the Cable. It is not in the phone directory, which would seem strange.

I have read the franchise ordinance with the City of Stratford regarding: SERVICE AND MAINTENANCE: which states: GRANTEE (Simmons Cable) shall render efficient service, make repairs promptly and interrupt system service only for good cause. If you, as one of their 600 subscribers do not believe closing their office doors is rendering efficient service you need to complain to the City Council, through the City of Stratford.

For those that have called the Chamber office I have suggested this means of complaint.

Do we in Stratford deserve better or more efficient service than Simmons Cable is willing to render? Could there be other Cable Services available?

Stratford lost their service man, who moved on to bigger and better things, in Dumas. Certainly for Diane she is to be commended for upgrading her life style and to move on to bigger and better things. We would wish her the very best in this endeavor.

It has been convenient for the Cable office to be right along with Southern Union Gas and SPS. Many folks, like to pay with checks for services rendered and do not like to mail them. With 600 plus subscribers and a price of $26.11 (plus for some) it would seem that Simmons Cable could maintain the office they have for their subscribers and those who wish to be to acquire services, pickup and return the Cable boxes, services moved, cut off and to receive payments.

Perhaps Simmons Cable has overreacted and without any consideration of this community they are suppose to serve. Without those written letters of complaint the City Council cannot take any action.

I have had a number of calls asking me the time change for my weekly news from Stratford, on KGYN, Guymon. I am sorry folks but my news has been terminated because of the lack of advertisers who made the news possible, every Wednesday morning at 9 a.m. In order to give the news there needs to be 4-5 advertisers who made the news possible, every Wednesday morning at 9 a.m. In order to give the news or someone else it has been a service for Stratford the past 5 years. In part to let folks know what was happening in Stratford. I sincerely believe there were alot of folks who listened, particularly for what event was happening in "our town". Just felt you needed to know.

The Chamber sincerely hopes that Brenda McClellan and her Gruver friends enjoyed this past weekend in Dallas watching the Cowboy Game. It sure was worth $5.00, right Brenda?

Letters have gone out to pheasant hunters. A number of new hunters have been and have liked what they were able to shoot and want to come back. Anyone interested in putting on a feed at noon, on Saturday the 11th need to contact the Chamber. As in years past the local LIONS will be serving breakfast.

Remember a letter to the City if you are in anyway dissatisfied with Simmons Cables last move. It is up to you to make the difference-you haven't failed until you stop trying.

elementary grades if the director wishes to combine the eliminations.

The national rules state that any student must not have passed beyond the eighth grade or be older than 16 by the time of the school finals.

The date of the 1994 Regional Spelling Bee, sponsored by the Amarillo newspaper and WTA&M will be April 9. The new bee coordinator is Judy Kelley, instructor of mathematics and associate director of the Texas Engineering Experiment Station Regional Division, WTA&M.

Each of the county champions (senior division) will participate in the April elimination event and the student who places first will compete in the 1994 national contest in Washington, D.C. in late May. The winner will receive an all-expense paid trip for two, plus other prizes.

All county junior champions will be guests of the sponsors on April 9 and will be given special recognition.

Additional information is available from Jeane Bartlett, Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, or from Judy Kelley, WTA&M.

The booklet, "Words of the Champions" is now available from the newspaper for only 50-cents each. The study guide contains over 3,000 words.

Plants of the sorghum group (Johnson grass, sorghum, sudan and hybrid sudan) have a high potential for prussic acid poisoning. These plants have cyanide-containing compounds which are converted to prussic acid when the plant cells are disrupted due to drought, hail, harvesting, frost, etc. Prussic acid is liberated in the rumen, absorbed into the blood and carried to the tissues where this potent toxin interferes with oxygen utilization. IF absorbed rapidly, it can cause respiratory paralysis. Early symptoms are labored breathing, frothing at the mouth, irregular pulse and staggering.

Stressed plants should be checked for prussic acid before they are grazed. When growth conditions change due to rainfall, drought, frost, etc., analysis should be conducted to head off problems. If prussic acid is detected, cattle should be removed until analysis shows the prussic acid has dropped.

Delay feeding hay or silage for 4-6 weeks to allow for breakdown of the prussic acid.

A sodium nitrite-sodium thiosulfate combination can be administered as an antidote. It must be injected intravenously very slowly. The dosage, and administration are critical. The toxic principal works very rapidly, so speed of detection is important.

Suspect forage can be checked for nitrate and prussic acid at the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Lab, 6610 Amarillo Blvd. West, Amarillo, Texas 79106 or at many local labs. About a 1 pound sample that is representative of the forage should be submitted through your local veterinarian. Cost for the tests are: Prussic Acid-$5.00 per sample. Nitrate-$6.00 per sample.

Happiness, it seems to me, consists of two things: first, in being where you belong, and second—and best—in comfortably going through everyday life, that is, having had a good night's sleep and not being hurt by new shoes.
