STILL BASIC

The editor of the Hanover, Kansas, News has performed a public service by recalling certain principles of government laid down by Abraham Lincoln a century ago. He commends them to every legislator in this country, pointing out that they were basic then and are still basic.

Here are some of them: You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift. You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong. You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn. You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could do and should do for themselves.

In this pseudosophisticated age, numbers of people apparently look to beliefs such as these as outmoded corn. A welfare state, they argue, can take care of just about all human problems and relieve the individual of the responsibility of taking care of himself. What they forget is that the result of this philosophy can only be a nation populated by faceless statistics, totally lacking in backbone, purpose and ambition. History tells us what happens to nations that follow this doomed course. The end is oblivion.

WE CAN LEARN

Poverty, with all its concomitants... substandard housing, inadequate educational and recreational facilities, absence of cultural opportunity, and the rest... is commonly considered a major cause of juvenile delinquency.

And there can be no doubt that environment is an important factor. But, perhaps, we tend to exaggerate its weight.

For example, most of the Chinese living in this country... even in such famous Chinatowns as San Francisco's... live in poverty. Yet, while seven per cent of America's juveniles will be in trouble with the law this year, not one of them will be Chinese!

Paul Harvey makes that statement, in a column appearing in The Suburban & Lawrence Journal of Indianapolis.

Why is it so? He quotes one Chinese leader as saying: "We keep a tight rein on our children until they are really responsible." "Our children just naturally respect and obey their parents. A boy or girl would not bring shame on his family or his family name."

It looks as if we can learn something from the American Chinese... including those whose lives are spent in grinding poverty.

TRANSPORTATION WEEK

Nothing has done more to build the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada than has transportation. First came the sailing ships; then the ox and horse drawn vehicles; and, in time, railroads, automobiles and airplanes.

Steel rails first tied the nation together from ocean-to-ocean and made possible the settlement of all sections of the United States before the airplane and automobile arrived to speed-up the process.

National Transportation Week will be celebrated May 16-22. Here is some interesting information concerning the special week:

"In 1803, Thomas Jefferson is said to have stated that it would take a thousand years for the United States, west of the Mississippi River to be fully settled. Just 100 years later he was proven wrong. Today, only 162 years later, his statement seems ridiculous. And it was transportation that proved Jefferson wrong.

"Today's fast transportation has made Chicago nearer to Mexico City than it was to Milwaukee a hundred years ago.

"Transportation affects every aspect of our lives... the food we eat, the clothes we wear... even our ideas about world politics. It affects the way we make our living, and the candidates for whom we vote.

"Transportation has helped our nation rise to a position of world power, while other nations have declined because their transportation was poor. Transportation has often been the deciding factor in the winning of wars."

The life of our nation depends on a progressive and prosperous transportation system operating under laws and regulations based on today's needs and conditions, not those of fifty years ago. The railroads remain the backbone of transportation.

30 YEARS AGO
(April 25, 1935)

Sally Rand, whose fan dances almost eclipsed the regular Century of Progress as a gate attraction, is perfectly willing according to her New York booking agents, to visit Haskell next fall during the Central West Texas Fair... if she is asked and given $1,000 a night or $5,000 the week for her exhibitions. Miss Rand was turned down.

The House of David baseball team, whiskers and all, has been booked to play the Haskell Braves here Thursday, May 2, according to O. W. (Mack) Maloy, local manager. Frank Clift of Haskell, and son of B. T. Clift, is a member of the whiskers team.

Sixteen Haskell County boys entrained Monday for Holman, Ariz., where they will be stationed in one of the national government's CCC camps. The full county quota was mustered.

Boys accepted were Grady Piland, J. E. Clayton, T. C. Stewart, Doc Henshaw, Henry Ivy, Wayne Coburn, B. W. Wright, Haskell; Terry Taylor, Bob Rich, Willard Wren, Lee Crawford, Weimert; Marvin Goodson, Elmer Giddings, of Rochester; Allan Williams, of Rule; DeWitt Wallace, Edgar Bradley, Sagerton. Over 70 boys will go to Arizona from this section of the state.

The April term of the 39th District Court opened here on Monday morning with Judge Clyde Grissom presiding. The Grand Jury convened, and up to Thursday morning, no indictment had been returned for publication.

Sealed proposals have been requested by the state highway department for the construction of a double asphalt surface treatment from Haskell on highway 120 to Rule, thence south on highway 18 to connect with highway 18. The distance to be covered measures slightly over nineteen and five-tenths mile. When laid, the two projects will give Haskell paved outlets north, south, west and northwest, and give the county about 90 miles of pavement.

The new proposed, modern, fire-proof hotel for Haskell is now assured. The new ice plant which is being erected by the West Texas Utilities Company is nearing completion and when finished will be one of the most complete plants in all Texas. The new plant will have a capacity of a little better than twenty-five tons per day.

The Haskell High baseball team won their fifth straight game last Tuesday by defeating Monday 15 to 0. The game ended at the last of the seventh inning. Frank Clift for Haskell pitched shut-out baseball all the way.

MIKE'S MUMBLINGS

(By the late Mike Campbell)
My erudite neighbor says that what he enjoys in a talk by the President of the U. S. on TV is that it isn't interrupted every four minutes with an inane commercial.

The country was in the throes of the Great Depression, and just at sundown I was on my way to a local residence to interview the principals in a wedding. A fellow sitting in a parked car hailed me. It was "Shanks" Sims, and another young fellow joined us, armed with a 12-gauge, double-barreled shotgun.

"Where are you fellows going?" I inquired.
"We're going a-huntin'; you know all the rabbits have been killed, and we're going after bigger meat. There's a big buck deer that's usually around Log Lake... he's our meat." I asked them, "Where's your dog?" "Show him, Shanks," and he held up a large flashlight.

They arrived near the lake and walked through the heavy timber and began to circle the small pond. The night was very dark, and Shanks was playing the light in an arc ahead of them. "Hold it, Floyd—there he is!" Through a fallen dead tree-top were two shining eyes. "Good gosh, Floyd, ain't he a big 'un? Look how high he holds his head." The gun roared as the heavy charge of buckshot erupted, followed by a kicking and thrashing in the brush as the animal went down. The boys ran to the scene of the kill, jubilant over their success. In the glare of the light they stared in stupefied silence at the twitching animal. "Good grief, Floyd, you've done shot 'Whiskey,' Jackson's old mare!"

A fine rain fell in all parts of Haskell county last Sunday. In town it measured an inch and three-fourths. Reports indicate it was heavier in other parts of the county. Coming after spring plowing and planting, this rain puts a season in the ground that will carry crops through May, or longer, in good growing condition. This statement may stagger the credulity of our East Texas readers, but if they knew the peculiarities of this country they would accept it as very conservative.

Capt. W. W. Fields and sons, J. U. and Hollis and wife, and Mr. J. T. Hunt and wife went fishing Tuesday to spend several days in camp.

Commissioner W. F. Watts was in town Thursday and consummated the purchase of a 640-acre tract of land from W. M. Sager, situated about one and a half miles from Sagerton on the line of the Orient, in the southwest part of the county, at $6.00 per acre.

Haskell is the best northwest Texas land at that price. Class investment. Messrs. H. M. Stephens and C. R. Stephens report as to results.

Mulching retains the soil.

Most Anglers Need License

During the first 15 days of April, 19 citations were issued on one Texas lake for failure to produce a valid State fishing license. Possibly, each of us should check our own fishing license.

A Texas Parks and Wildlife spokesman disclosed this in reminding it is during the early spring season when many of the fines are paid for non-possession of the $2.15 fishing licenses.

He said the requirements are simple. If you have passed your 17th birthday and have not reached the age of 65 and fish outside of your home county or use a winding device, you need a fishing license. If you fish in your home county with a cane pole or a throwline, you are not required to purchase a fishing license.

The $2.15 fee applies also to non-residents.

The Good Earth

 was left. As soon as the ground was dry enough, we re-planted our cotton and feed, and made the best crop we had made in nine years of farming that place.

Wherever you are moving? Start by moving your fingers fast on the yellow pages. Your fingers walking.

This is one hail that left no garden for us except the carrots that were protected from the north. I shall spray my rose bushes with a good insecticide to keep borers from invading the scars left by hail.

The new bed of iris had just produced two flowers this year, a pink Cherie and a California gold. There is not even a blade left standing. The bed was completely beaten to the ground. I wonder if the rizomes will put out again after such a beating? The 20 varieties will be hard to replace.

It is almost too late to re-plant pinto beans, but black-eye and crowder peas will still have time to produce a good crop. Most all vegetables will give a good crop. The exceptions are corn and English peas.

Examine trees for hail damage, and where the scar is bad, paint it with tree paint to prevent the invasion of insects or fungi. If limbs were broken off, smooth the scar with a saw and paint it with tree paint.

Zinnias, celosia, amaranthus, bachelor buttons, and many other annuals will flower if planted as soon as the ground will permit.

Chrysanthemums, cannas and daisies will come out from the ground. If these beds are established, do not dig the roots out; they will send up new shoots soon.

Above everything remember how much better our plight than the poor, flood torn people of the northeast. People who have not only lost crops, but all personal belongings.

Soon the "Good Earth" will blossom once more, and we will know that truly it is a good place in which to live.

Son of Haskell Resident Speaks At Dallas

Dr. Frank Cole Spencer, son of Mrs. Frank Spencer of near Haskell, was guest speaker recently at The Texas Surgical Society's Fifty-Year Anniversary meeting in Dallas.

Dr. Spencer spoke on "Open Heart Surgery on Elderly People." Excerpts from Dr. Spencer's talk follows:

"The artificial heart valve has removed limits of age that surgeons once were guided by in caring for elderly heart patients.

"We have not found the age limit beyond which these operations cannot be performed," Dr. Spencer, professor of surgery at the University of Kentucky School of Medicine, said.

"This has been true, though, only since the current heart valves became available about two or three years ago, he said. Before then, the operations were rarely performed past the age of 50 to 55, Dr. Spencer indicated. Mortality rates ranged from 20 to 40 per cent.

It was in the late 1950's that operations on heart valves became feasible, when plastic valves (notably the versatile Teflon) were devised. This enabled surgeons to reconstruct the heart's own malfunctioning valves.

(Valves consist of flaps of tissue which patrol the circulatory system, and strategic openings from the heart into the blood vessels to maintain a one-way traffic situation.

(The flaps extend outward as blood flows past, but they close tightly to prevent it flowing backward, toward or into the heart.)

At that time, surgeons thought the high mortality rates were due to "the related disease of the heart" and the patient's condition, "rather than not having a valve that functioned properly," Dr. Spencer recalled.

With the newer procedure of completely replacing the diseased portion of the heart with the "ball in a cage" valve, mortality rates have dropped to 10 to 15 per cent, he said. Surgeons have now found that the heart muscle, on which great stress was placed, recovers to an astonishing degree. It had been thought that the damage was irreparable, Dr. Spencer said.

The valve now used consists of a Teflon net containing a ball made of plastic, silastic, held in the net by a steel ring. The ball relaxes into the net to allow passage of outbound blood, then it is thrust against the steel ring to prevent back-flow.

His group of patients, includes two 67 and 79 in whom the mitral valve replacement has functioned well for two years, and another, 63, in whom an aortic valve replacement has functioned well for two years.

George Moeller Is Honored On 80th Birthday

In honor of her husband's 80th birthday, Mrs. Moeller and children gathered at the Legion Hall last Thursday afternoon.

All of the children were present except one daughter, Mrs. Claud Thompson of Spur. A number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren were present for the occasion.

Pleasure was marred by the news of Mrs. Moeller's sister-in-law being killed in a car accident near her home in Tuscola.

State Draft Quota For May Is Up

The state draft quota for May is the biggest monthly call in nearly a year and a half. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday. The May quota of 639 men compares with 812 in January, 1964, and 512 in April, 1965.

The May call is the Texas share of a national quota for 15,100 men, all for the Army.

The state Selective Service director also announced that state draft boards will forward 3,826 males for Army mental-physical examinations in May, 1,791 of whom will be 18 year olds.

These tests for 18-year-olds are the result of President Johnson's action in 1964 which ordered the Director of Selective Service and the Secretary of Defense to examine all newly registered men who are out of school and available for service. Males married at age 18 and those known to be in school at that age will not be examined.

Col. Schwartz stressed that these youths will not be considered for the armed forces at this time. Normally, draft for service is about age 22.

The May quotas already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

CORRECTION

In the Lions Club story in last week's issue of the Haskell Free Press, the name of Jack McAdoo, nominated for second vice-president, was omitted and Raja Hassan should have been listed as third vice president.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. George Moeller and Suzy Redwine were in Tuscola Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Moeller's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ray Barrington.

of driving the tractor that pulled the trailer for guests to ride from one exhibit to another. The Scouts made about $80 on ticket sales which will buy two of the two-way radios they are wanting. They hope to some day buy two more.

Benny Young, Scout executive of the Northern District, Chisholm Trail Council, was a guest of troop 48 at their Exposition Saturday. He also directed the Explorer Auto Rally Saturday afternoon.

Did any of you notice about eight cars pass your house Saturday afternoon about five minutes apart. They each had crepe paper streamers on them. Those were the Explorers and their dates or navigators taking part in the auto rally. Each couple was given an envelope containing instructions as to speed, mileage and turns to make. They made a 65 mile trip beginning at Stamford, going round and about on the country roads to Haskell and back to Stamford where they had supper at the Cliff House and saw a film on car racing. Post 48 won 2nd. District Explorer Commissioner Wallar Overton, Benny Young, Northern District Scout Executive, and Explorer Advisor of Post 48, Roy Wiseman, directed the activities. It was a fun thing, and the boys and girls enjoyed it. They didn't know about the storm until they came out of the Cliff House and started home.

Danny Isbell and his parents were in Abilene Friday where Danny enrolled at the Rehabilitation Center to begin his therapy. He met his therapist who is that nice basketball referee we had in several games this year, Mr. Snowden. Danny showed him all the things he is able to do, and they made plans to begin his therapy this week. He will go twice a week, and we all wish for him a speedy return to the complete use of his fine, young body.

The Paint Creek chapter of Future Homemakers honored their mothers and Secret Grandmothers with a banquet in the cafeteria Monday night. Using the theme, "Suddenly It's Spring," tables were decorated in the chapter colors of red and white with white tables centered with red paper, and programs and menu booklets of red umbrellas. Arrangements of spring flowers completed the decorations.

The invocation was given by Milla Perry and Mistress of Ceremonies was Brenda Griffith, chapter president. Mrs. James Mickler led the group in a sing song, and Mrs. Gene Overton gave some pointers on flower arranging.

Secret Grandmothers were revealed and introduced: Mrs. Howard Montgomery was the secret grandmother of Elaine Marr; Mrs. R. V. Earles of Janay Morrison; Mrs. Ray Overton of Jeannine Isbell; Mrs. Morris Haynes of Brenda Griffith; Mrs. Hoyt Perry of Nancy Jones; Mrs. Glen Walton of Frances Jones; Mrs. Johnny Earls of Linda Griffith.

Danny Ivy was introduced as Chapter Beaux, and his mother as a guest. Mrs. Powell is the F.H.A. chapter advisor and planned and supervised the dinner. Girls of the freshman class served. The mother of Mrs. Jodie Earles, Mrs. Clyde Davis of Seminole, died Sunday, April 18. The funeral was the following Monday. Attending from

HOW TO MAKE YOUR HOME A PICTURE OF PERSONALITY

Homemaker decided to personalize this wall with seven portrait photographs of one little girl as she grew up.

Personalizing her home is every homemaker's goal. She wants it to look fashionable yet have the hallmark of her family imprinted on every room.

One sure-fire way to do it is with portrait photographs, the kind professional photographers take. A wall or table grouping of photographs of children, grandchildren, other relatives and friends is a picture-pretty sight to warm any woman's heart.

The first step is to get friends and relatives to have photographs taken; then decide where to display them. Any room is appropriate, but bedrooms, halls, dens and family rooms are especially popular places.

Choose frames to complement both your decor and the photographs. If you want to include antique photographs in your grouping, your portrait photographer can restore and enlarge them.

For an interesting effect, mix sizes and shapes of photographs, or include an oil painting, sketch or vacation snapshot.

To plan a wall arrangement, spread a piece of brown wrapping paper on the floor. Create your arrangement on the paper, then trace around all the items. Remove them and you have a pattern for driving nails. Use a spotlight to add drama to your masterpiece.

When you're finished, you'll have a personalized room decoration no one can duplicate. How could they? It's your own family you have glorified.

Paint Creek were Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Earles and daughters, Margie, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Coleman. Mrs. Earles' son, Joe Bob and his wife of Bledsoe also attended the funeral.

Home for the Easter holidays from West Texas State University were Margie Earles visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Earles, and Carolyn Carlton who visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Carlton.

Mrs. Paul Fischer was in Midland Friday for a District meeting of the Lutheran Women.

The hailstorm Saturday evening played havoc with grain crops in Paint Creek, or some of them. The patches of wheat along the highway belonging to Ray Overton and Dan LeFevre and Allen Overton looked as if they had been well grazed. Gene Overton lost 90 per cent of his, Howard Montgomery was hurt, John Thomas' was ruined, as well as other small patches. Dan LeFevre's roof was cut up, windows knocked out, and pieces of metal were blown off sheds. Still, we weren't hurt as badly as the Rule area. There isn't as much grain raised in Paint Creek as there is maize. Little maize just coming up will probably have to be replanted.

Mr. Willie Lee Medford took his livestock judging team to Lubbock last Friday to enter the livestock judging contest at Texas Tech. The boys making up the team were Daumy Ivy, Curtis Bittner and Bob Earles.

CHANCE TO SPEAK UP

By F. W. MARTIN, Haskell County Agent

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is inviting comments on a proposal to revise official cotton standards for micronaire reading of fiber fineness and maturity and to broaden their application.

Under the proposal, the revised standards for "mike" readings would not become effective until about June 1, 1966, since the Cotton Standards Act requires not less than one year of advance notice, says Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, Texas A&M University.

"Mike" readings were first made available at USDA cotton laboratories in 1946 on a voluntary fee basis. They are now recognized throughout the industry as an important quality factor in merchandising and processing cotton. Most commercial transactions in cotton now include a specification for micronaire reading. Mike readings were made available on a fee basis in 1962 to producers having their cotton classed under the Smith-Doxey program.

In 1956 official cotton standards for mike readings were established for cotton certified for delivery on future contracts. The present proposed revision would make the mike standards available for general use without restriction, and would incorporate developments made since 1956 in air flow instruments and in testing

Eight Rural Accidents In Haskell County During The Month of March

There were eight rural accidents in Haskell County during the month of March, according to Sgt. Frank Jircik, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in eight persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5,050.00.

The rural traffic summary for this county for the first three months of 1965 shows a total of 19 accidents resulting in one person killed, 16 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $29,800.00.

The final entry in the 1964 Texas Traffic book has been entered and closed with an astounding record. An all time record of 3,006 persons were killed, 182,081 persons were injured, and there was $488,846,000 property loss. This compares to the 1963 record high of 2,729 persons killed, 161,543 persons injured, and an estimated property loss of $432,715,000.

Since the death count of 2,254 in 1960, Texas has gained each year steadily. The Sergeant stated, "If the death

Committee Troop Chairmen Discuss Girl Scout Program In Haskell

On Tuesday, April 20, Committee Troop Chairmen met to discuss the Girl Scout program in Haskell.

The Girl Scout program is fun for girls from seven through 17 years old. Brownie Girl Scouts are in the second and third grades. The chance to "Be Discoverers," "Be Friend Makers," and "Be Ready Helpers" captures the imagination of girls this age and appeals to their curiosity, creativeness and desire to be helpful.

Junior Girl Scouts are in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. These girls explore new activities in proficiency badges and earn the Sign of the Arrow and the Sign of the Star, which are signs of recognition for growth and progress.

Cadette Girl Scouts do intensive work on proficiency badges and challenges. Challenges are real-life situations which test the girls' abilities. Cadettes are in the 7th, 8th and 9th grades.

For Senior Girl Scouts, the key word is "choice." They have a wide variety of service projects to choose from. These oldest members of the Girl Scout program are in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades. We hope to have a Senior patrol in Haskell beginning next fall!

The Girl Scout troops in Haskell are led by trained personnel; the Girl Scouts are proud of the superior leadership that has made this organization offer a stimulating and effective program. Leadership training has always been an important phase of Girl Scouting—not only in organization and management of a troop, but in program activities and skills. Special training programs will be given in Haskell during September and October to prepare the men and women who will work with the troops next fall.

We want to share Girl Scouting with other adults in Haskell—women who would like to work with girls in troops or to work on an administrative level with other adults in the community or in the Girl Scout council. On May 13 the women who are now Girl Scout volunteers in Haskell would like to invite other interested adults to meet with them from 9:30-11:00 o'clock a. m. in the First Presbyterian Church—you need not have a daughter in a Girl Scout troop to work in Girl Scouting.

So, if you would like to become a part of the informal educational program that the Girl Scouts offer, be at the Presbyterian Church on May 13. It's fun to help young girls grow and learn.

Pinkerton-Foster Whitman Old Timers Meet

(Written By Mrs. Claude Ashley, Secretary)

The Pinkerton, Foster, Whitman Old Timers Reunion, was held Saturday night, April 24, at the American Legion Hall, in Haskell.

This is an annual affair, and old timers from California, Oklahoma and about 18 Texas cities, began to arrive in Haskell on Friday and Saturday to attend this get-together for people who lived in these communities many years ago.

Each year, new faces are seen here, that have never attended this meeting. Strange as it may seem to some of us who went to school together in these country schools, and attended these little country churches, some of our school mates are bringing their grandchildren to help out in the music program of our meetings.

The storm warning was given as we were about to eat the good food that was brought in by each family. After a little excitement it began to rain and hail and we wondered if our Fords and Chevrolets and many other makes of cars, would have any paint left on them, or any glass in the windows. But the "old timers" couldn't be moved. We've seen rain, hail, dust storms and droughts before.

We all visited 'till the storm subsided and then we ate the good food and thanked God for being so good to let us meet again in a reunion such as we had Saturday night.

We hope many others can attend next year.

Rule Cemetery Members Hold Business Meeting

The Rule Cemetery Association members met at the Bonnet Cafe Tuesday night, 7:00 o'clock for a business meeting, with 21 members present. Plans were made to give special care on both the new part of the cemetery.

Plans were made to hold an annual cemetery week memorial program on Tuesday in May. The program will begin at 1:00 p. m. and the members will have a luncheon at the Memorial program. Pinkard and Hobbins furnished tents for the program. If you do not live in Haskell, you can send your help, or can contribute for this very needed report on all business transactions at this meeting. Remember the date, May 25, this year. Come all. Help to beautify Rule cemetery.

Lawn Fertilization Advantages

A complete fertilization soon after spring begins has many advantages according to Neal Extension agronomist A&M University.

Spring lawn fertilization encourages early growth of green color, improves efficiency and hardness and drouth resistance because fertilizer grass to develop a deeper root system.

Fertilizers are those of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium, Pratt said. Composites are 12-12-12 and 15-15-15. The numbers represent pounds of the nutrients per 100 pounds.

Emphasizes that fertilizer will be bought on the basis of its guaranteed analysis.

The rule-of-thumb in applying fertilizer to lawns is to use 1 1/2 to 2 lbs. of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet, according to the agronomist. With the complete fertilizer recommended for early application, the other two nutrients will naturally be applied at the same rate.

As an example, Pratt says a 50-lb. bag of 10-10-10, which would contain five pounds of each of the nutrients, would be just right for the spring application on 2,500 square feet.

The agronomist says that during summer an application of fertilizer that is high in nitrogen should be made every 8 to 10 weeks.

Screwworm Fund Drive Underway

Texas farmers and ranchers are in the midst of an intensive campaign to raise $300,000 to stave off possible shutdown of the screwworm eradication program.

The drive, led by the Southwestern Animal Health Research Foundation and conducted by animal health committees organized in each county, will continue through April 12, at which time Foundation officials hope to have sufficient funds to pry loose the State and Federal funds needed to operate the program during April, May and June.

Of the estimated $1.1 million required to operate during the critical spring months, $250,000 has already been appropriated by the Texas Legislature, while Congress is considering a request for $550,000. Producer funds are needed to complete the package. Foundation representatives pointed out, since the government funds cannot be spent unless they are matched.

The funds are needed to operate a barrier of live, sexually sterile flies along the international boundary to keep fertile insects from Mexico from reinfesting the Southwestern United States where screwworms have been eradicated. Sterile flies that mate with fertile screwworms prevent production of offspring. An average of 100-million of the plant-reared flies will be needed each week for aerial distribution along the coasts of Mexico and along rivers and other favorable routes followed by migrating screwworms. This will cost approximately $12,000 a day.

Lack of sufficient funds to maintain an adequate level of operation could permit native screwworms to re-enter the U. S. unchallenged, jeopardizing gains achieved since the eradication program began three years ago.

Congress also has under consideration a U. S. Department of Agriculture request for $5-million which, if approved, would make maintenance of the barrier a Federal responsibility beginning July 1.

4-H CLUBS SHOW YOUTH WAYS TO BECOME LEADERS

In 4-H there is a leadership program that last year attracted a record enrollment: 206,000 boys and girls.

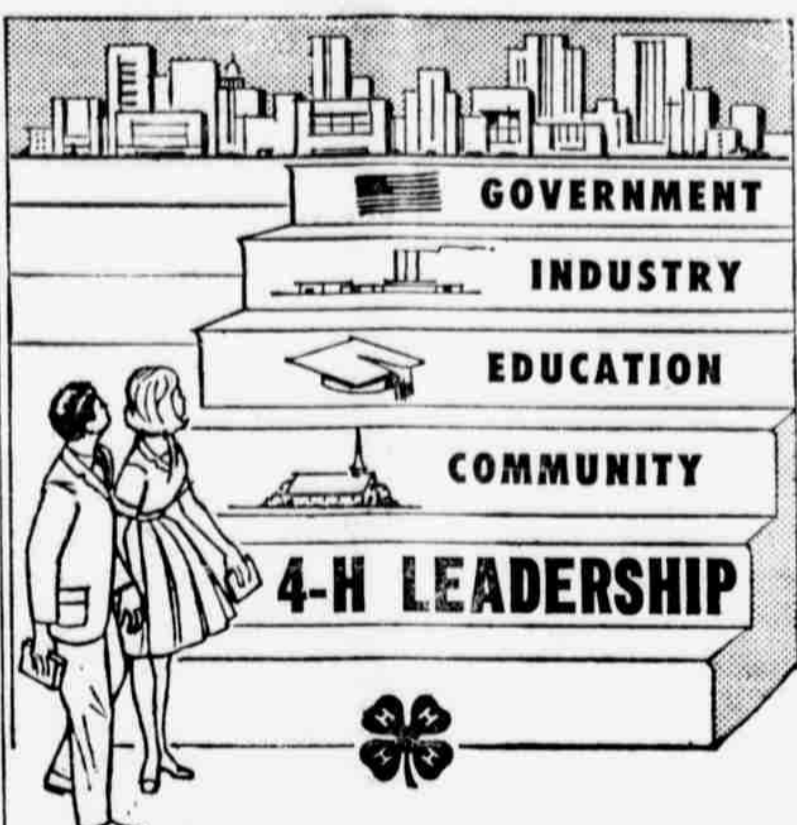

These young people are the citizens of tomorrow, and hundreds have already assumed leadership roles in school, church and community, observed Miss Emmie Nelson, a field representative of the National 4-H Service Committee. The next steps will lead to leadership in their chosen careers, she predicts.

At the present time nearly 140,000 junior leaders are working with volunteer adult leaders in 4-H Clubs throughout the nation.

"Leadership consists of numerous components, and is a term not easily defined," explains Miss Nelson, a former assistant state 4-H Club leader, and who in recent years has conducted leadership workshops in many states.

"Becoming a leader is largely up to you," she observes. "You must be ready to assume responsibilities and be a self-starter. Success in small undertakings will prepare you for larger responsibilities."

Among the ingredients for leadership, she notes, are enthusiasm, friendliness, tact, patience and a sense of humor. "Be adaptable," she says. "Be ready for a fishing trip or a formal dance; be able to preside at a meeting or help a younger 4-H'er correct his mistakes."

provided by The Sears-Roebuck Foundation, sponsor of this particular program for the last five years. Altogether, Sears has supported some phase of 4-H work for more than four decades.

Twelve junior leaders will claim $500 scholarships, 50 will receive all-expense paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago, and an estimated 10,000 will earn leadership medals.

HASKELL HIGH SCHOOL GRAD IS MAKING NAME FOR HIMSELF

Ross E. Lowe, who grew up in Haskell, and graduated from high school here, now head of Livingston, Alabama State College's Division of Business Education and Administration, has completed the requirements for the Ph.D. degree in business education at the University of North Dakota. He will be awarded the degree at the end of this semester.

When he receives his doctorate, Mr. Lowe will be one of the few people in the nation to be both a Certified Public Accountant and a Ph.D. He passed the CPA examinations in November, 1963.

Lowe is the son of Mrs. R. C. Lowe and the late Mr. Lowe. Mrs. Lowe moved from Haskell to Dallas several years ago. Her address is 2645 Canberra.

Mr. Lowe's major professor at North Dakota was Dr. John L. Rowe, noted author and lecturer. His dissertation was written on "Internship Programs in Public Accounting."

In the course of doing research for it, he dealt with about 1,000 people. Many accountants and accounting firms over the nation have expressed an interest in some of the material Mr. Lowe prepared in connection with the dissertation.

His doctoral work was begun in June of 1962, when he began a leave of absence from Livingston State. He returned to his duties here last autumn and completed his dissertation since then by working at night and during holidays.

Mr. Lowe holds bachelor's and master's degrees from George Peabody College for Teachers.

He held assistantships at Peabody and at North Dakota. He is a member of Pi Omega Pi, national undergraduate honorary fraternity in business, and Delta Pi Epsilon, graduate honorary in business. He is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Delta Kappa, undergraduate.

Area Residents Hear of College Bond Needs

Some 40 persons heard bond issue requirements for a proposed four-county, $1-million junior college outlined Thursday night at Munday, by Sidney Woolridge, Dallas bonding company representative.

The meeting, one of a series being held in Knox, Haskell, Throckmorton and Stonewall counties to acquaint residents with the proposed junior college plan, was held in the grade school cafeteria.

Woolridge explained that the junior college district would operate much like a hospital district in regard to financing and administrative procedures.

He said bonds to finance the $1-million proposal would not cost taxpayers of the four counties over 11 cents per $100 valuation over a 25-year period.

While the state has an average bonded indebtedness of $863 per capita, Woolridge said the bonded indebtedness per capita in the proposed college district is at least $600 lower. The figures include Haskell, $171.92; Knox, $163.83; Stonewall, $261.21 and Throckmorton, $63.46.

Texans Can Look To 1965 As A Good Year For State - Wide Employment

Texans can look to 1965 as a good year for State-wide employment according to the most recent report of the Texas Employment Commission.

At the end of January, as the year moved into high gear, the total number of persons employed in Texas was estimated at 3.6 million persons compared to some 3 1/2 million a year ago. The total number of persons without jobs stood at 174,000 or 4.6 per cent of the civilian labor force in January. This figure compares with 153,500 the previous month and 201,000 one year ago.

Of the total work force under firm employment, 3,371,900 were estimated to be occupied in non-farm type of jobs while those engaged in actual farm employment were estimated at 268,800.

Generally, economists have estimated that job gains will be expected in all categories of the work force except for transportation services and in mining categories which includes mostly crude petroleum and natural gas production, the Commission's report said. This latter group has been steadily dropping for the past several years but losses began to level off during 1964 and are expected to be rather small in 1965.

Industrial production is expected to show an upswing during 1965 and following this trend, manufacturing employment is expected to reflect moderate gains during the year. More than three-fourths of the expected expansion is forecast rary," Miss Andrews remarked in urging full participation in the conference. Dr. Winfrey added, "the stature of the public library in Texas is gaining each year because public-spirited trustees, board members and friends of the library refuse to be satisfied with a continuation of inadequate library services." Recently approved supplemental guidelines to the new Texas Library Standards will also be discussed during the day. A committee, appointed by the Texas Library Association, compiled the Texas Library Standards and the guidelines.

Old Buildings at Fort Richardson by E. M. Schwetz

... a long time between paydays!

Across the western face of Texas, the brooding ruins of forts... here and there a restored barracks or hospital bring back a bloody page in history. A history that tells of marauding redskins thundering southward from Indian Territory, killing in their wake, pushing on to the Mexican border. A history that tells too of the hard and lonely life of the U.S. Army troopers who manned these strategic forts.

Fort Richardson, near Jacksboro, was one of the more important of these outposts. Here Kiowa Chieftains Satanta and Big Tree were incarcerated before their trial for a bloody massacre. But life in all frontier posts was much the same... best expressed by the soldiers themselves, "a long time between paydays."

BUT IT ISN'T SO FAR BETWEEN PAYDAYS NOW
... with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Today, there can also be a long time between paydays for those who have not established the thrift habit. But through the U.S. Savings Bonds program you can take care of this situation quickly and effectively.

For example, with as little as 63¢ a day you can buy an $18.75 Savings Bond every month. Keep this up for 40 months and you'll own a stack of Bonds worth $1,000, at maturity, which cost you only $750 in easy installments.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds every payday automatically through the payroll savings plan.

Baptist Double Mountain Area Office In Stamford, Serves 4 Associations

LAWRENCE L. TROTT Area Missionary

The Baptist Double Mountain Area office is now open in the Cathart Building in Stamford. Four associations, Fisher, Haskell-Knox, Jones and Stone-wall-Kent, makes up this area.

with 59 churches and eight missions. These churches and missions have 12,128 resident members. In 1964 these churches and missions baptized 497 people with 785 people joining by transfer of membership from other churches. There are 19,844 enrolled in the Sunday Schools. The Area is a part of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, which is composed of more than 4,000 cooperating churches with a resident membership of more than 1,280,000.

Jack Southerland, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Stamford, is Chairman of the Area Board, and C. M. Lester, of Stamford, is Secretary-Treasurer. Area Board members are from Fisher Association, Rev. Norris Taylor, pastor of First Baptist Church, Stamford; Rev. Billy Headland, pastor of First Baptist Church, Norman; Mr. W. A. Hancock and Mr. Horace Carter of Roman, Rev. D. S. Moore Jr. pastor of the Cross Roads Baptist Church from Haskell-Knox Association; Rev. John Street, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Muskogee; Dr. Ray Nobles, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Haskell; Mrs. Bill Griffith, Pastor Cook, Rev. E. V. Brooks, pastor of First Baptist Church, Rochester; from Jones Association, Rev. Bob Eklund, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Anson; Rev. Southerland; Rev. Byron Bryant, pastor, First Baptist Church, Hamlin; Mr. N. J. "Doc" Williams, of Lauders; from Stone-wall-Kent Association; Rev. Clyde Cook, pastor, First Baptist Church, Aspermont; Mr. Oscar Dickerson, Aspermont; and Mr. R. L. Harrison, Jayton.

Lawrence L. Trott is the Area Missionary serving these four Associations. Dr. Trott served as District 17 Missionary, with office on the Hardin-Simmons University Campus in Abilene, from July, 1954, through December, 1964. District 17 was composed of eight Associations in 12 1/2 counties. The four Associations of Double Mountain Area were formerly part of District 17. Dr. Trott is a graduate of H-SU. He and Mrs. Trott have their home at 521 Vassar in Stamford. They are members of the First Baptist Church, Stamford. Their four children, three daughters and one son, are grown and live away from here.

Some of the responsibilities of the Area Missionary are: Helping to promote the Associational program through leadership of the Associations; recommending objectives and goals based on the needs of the churches; counseling regularly with the Associational Moderators and leaders to plan, coordinate, conduct and evaluate programs needed to help the churches; counseling pastorless churches as needed; seeking to interpret and promote State Missions, Christian education, human welfare, and Southern Baptist agencies; being a public relations officer selling the Baptist program to Texas Baptists and the general public; being subject to call any hour, day or night, anytime an individual, a church, or a pastor needs help or encouragement.

There are also revivals, extra meetings, etc.

The Moderators of the four Associations are: Rev. D. S. Moore Jr., Fisher Assn.; Rev. John Street, Haskell-Knox Assn.; Rev. Bob Eklund, Jones Assn.; Rev. Clyde Cook, Stone-wall-Kent Assn. Each Association meets monthly in a Workers Conference for inspiration, information and fellowship.

The purpose in moving from the larger District program to the smaller unit, Area program, is to allow the Missionary to have the time and the access to work more closely with the churches and pastors in his area. Thus he can be of greater service and not have his time and abilities spread over such a large district with so many churches. This in effect, recognizes the stewardship responsibility of time, money and personnel. To accomplish this, the Associations were asked to group themselves together, voluntarily, into smaller units, some to form Associations to an Area with an Area Missionary serving each such Area.

The Area Committee chose Stamford as the location for the Area office, since it is the most centrally located town with the best facilities for office space and residence. Mrs. Elmer Sae Miller of Stamford, has been employed as office secretary. She is a member of Trinity Baptist Church, Stamford.

Fifteen congregations from Abilene to Mineral Wells and Wichita Falls to Fredericksburg will meet to discuss their ministerial activity and lay plans for expanding the message, "this good news of the kingdom," to the remote sections of their territory.

Urgency and efficiency will be emphasized to the Society of Ministers by talks, discussions and demonstrations on the theme, "Willingly Fulfill Your Ministry."

About 500 persons are expected to attend the three-day assembly in Abilene.

The peak of the assembly will be Sunday, 3 p. m., when H. A. Fetzik speaks on the subject, "The Moral Breakdown—What Can Be Done About It?"

By AL HINDS

If I were a young man and wanted to "seek my fortune" some place else other than Haskell, I would take the words of Horace Greeley and head west, out on the high plains area of Texas, to one of America's fastest growing cities, Lubbock... the economic and cultural hub of an area larger than most states.

Kenneth May, Lubbock Avianche Journal staff writer, did an excellent job on his story, "Unbelievable Lubbock," in the February issue of "The Texas Parade" ... and if you know Lubbock, then you realize every word he had to say is true.

"Unbelievable," is an alias. It's real name is "Lubbock," May said.

Lubbock, home of the Red Raiders, the Southwest Conference's most up-and-coming young member, rises unexpectedly from the flat plain, a city so filled with surprises that first-time visitors marvel repeatedly, "It really is unbelievable."

Lubbock is one of the fastest growing cities in the nation and within the last year alone has brought it two of the giants of American industry.

Lubbock is a city which destroys myths, as though yesterday suddenly has become tomorrow. This is no town of cowboys and cattle; it is a city of industry and technology, of oil and agriculture, of warehousing, medicine and established culture.

A city of 155,000 population ... and this scribe can remember when it was about the size of Haskell. Lubbock today is the financial servicing distribution and transportation hub for an area larger than most states. It is the home of Texas Tech—which actually is a university housing six colleges, including a graduate school, and 13,800 students, on the largest university campus in the world.

Its trade territory holds one-fourth of the nation's oil reserves. Within a 90-minute drive of its boundaries is grown 15 per cent of America's cotton.

Lubbock's industrial and warehousing districts houses factories turning out everything from potato chips to some of the world's largest earth-moving equipment. The city boasts more than 300 manufacturing plants, including 18 which distribute their products internationally.

Lubbock, not the Old South, is the cotton capital of the world. It is the seat of cotton marketing operations with worldwide outlets.

As a financial center, Lubbock's banks boast the largest resources between Dallas-Fort Worth, 298 miles to the east, and El Paso, 298 miles to the west-southwest ... and between Austin, 340 miles to the south-east, and Denver, 460 miles to the northwest. This, in fact, is the dominant city in a region so new and dynamic, it amazes itself.

What are the factors which have caused Lubbock to quadruple in size within 20 years? Part of the secret lies in the phenomenal richness of the region's natural resources, in its climate, in its strategic location between the east and west coasts, and in the very newness of its development. This, however, does not explain why Lubbock ... with a later start than many of its neighbors ... has emerged into a position of dominance.

Perhaps the real reasons can be found in the zeal and leadership of Lubbock's residents, in the eagerness with which they have invited competition and worked together for civic betterment.

Haskell citizens could set up and take note ... "working together for civic betterment."

Forty-eight airline flights buzz in and out of Lubbock's airport daily. It is a city on the move ... it has become a medical center ... a recreational center ... in fact Mackenzie State Park annually attracts more visitors than any other state park in Texas.

Yes, definitely, Lubbock is a

VAST "RESOURCES" POTENTIAL IN EDUCATION CAN BE WASTED

(Editor's Note: The problems of higher education are vital and immediate. A project which now is being placed squarely before the people of Haskell, Throckmorton, Stonewall, and Knox counties also is vital and immediate. Harley Pershing, prize-winning reporter of the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, recently wrote a series of articles, 13 in all, on junior colleges. The series is entitled "No Room for Mediocrity." We requested and received from THE STAR-TELEGRAM, with its blessing, the series.)

A vast storehouse of natural resources is lying idle in Texas, rapidly deteriorating and in danger of wasting away.

Unless some positive action is taken soon, the loss from this rooding action will take such a deep cut into Texas' economy that recovery will be questionable.

The resource is the thousands of Texas youngsters graduating from high school each year with no opportunity, inclination or motivation to attend college for training in the professions, the arts, sciences or just plain education for a job.

Sounding the warning on this waste of resource is Dr. C. C. Colvert, professor and consultant on junior college training at the University of Texas' College of Education.

Dr. Colvert, a near zealot in the field of junior colleges and their place in the state's system of higher education, firmly believes that Texas has need for many more junior colleges than she now supports.

He equally is concerned about improving the programs of instruction and the curricula of existing junior colleges to make certain their need in the communities they serve.

Dr. Colvert does not aim his remarks in criticism of the junior colleges but uses them as a name to remember in the future!

o-o-o

This scribe has heard talk read articles about the fact that the water level on the plains is gradually lowering each year, and one day may be a vast desert. I do not "swallow" all of this, even if the water level is dropping. South Plains residents think big, act big and get things done ... for as I write these lines a plan that would bring water from Alaska and northwestern Canada to irrigate South Plains farms has been seriously proposed.

The gigantic feat which would take 30 years and $100 billion to complete, also would provide vast rivers of water to 32 other states, seven Canadian provinces and three Mexican states ... and would dump enough water into the great lakes to alleviate their constantly falling levels. The proposed project would create a navigable seaway across the continent from Lake Superior into the heart of Canadian Alberta, create a lake stretching for 500 miles down the Rocky Mountain Trench, and would transform millions of acres of U. S. desert and into a rich farming country.

For Texas alone, the proposal would provide enough water to irrigate 4,600,000 acres of land almost as much now as is under irrigation from underground supplies on the South Plains.

The project has been claimed economically feasible, engineers say.

This proposed project is the answer to our problem in preserving the South Plains economy of our children and grandchildren." Marvin Shurbet, a Petersburg farmer and member of the Texas Water Development Board said.

Yep, they're thinking big up yonder, on the high plains of Texas!

means of emphasizing his point that college programs need enrichment, overhaul and rejuvenation to meet the needs of this 20th Century complex.

And it is a complex so startling and revolutionary that even thoughts of it far outshadow any of the explorations made in this decade.

His primary concern is the high school age student of Texas who can't or won't go to a senior college to prepare himself for his place in this rapidly changing world.

With but few exceptions the high school programs of Texas are geared to prepare the student for entry into college.

This concept of education—whether it is right or wrong—is not defended or criticized by Dr. Colvert or other educators—is neglecting the thousands of students who must leave the high school graduation ceremony and search for a job.

For many this is a heartache, a disappointment. They learn there are no jobs other than those in the unskilled class. Discontent brings on resentment and the myriad problems that stalk its path.

Dr. Colvert cites this statistical analysis to prove his point:

Out of 500 students reaching the age of 18, the high school graduate age, only 300 will get their diplomas. Of this 300 only 120 will enter college. Seventy-five of the 120 will return for the second year of college training with only 50 of that group completing the sophomore courses.

This adds up to only 50 out of 500 completing two years of college with 450 entering the labor market, many of whom have no training at all. And for 180 who did not complete high school the future is exceedingly bleak and disheartening.

What can be done for these 450 students multiplied hundreds of times throughout Texas is the problem that faces Texas today and grows with each year as the number of high school graduates and those reaching that age increases manifold.

The answer, according to Dr. Colvert and other top experts, lies in the junior college and especially in the fields of technical and vocational training program.

A beefed-up educational program in all phases of technology, ranging from complicated electronic computer operators to laboratory technicians, is needed most in the heavily populated metropolitan areas.

These include the Ft. Worth-Dallas complex, Houston and San Antonio.

The need for vast numbers of technicians in these areas is growing each day. And it increases as new developments, new techniques in production, industry and manufacturing are introduced.

To keep pace with this ever changing world of technology, junior colleges must alter and tailor their programs accordingly, says Dr. Colvert.

The revolution now going on is so powerful and strange that many of the job classifications now offered were unheard of a few years ago.

In fact, some of the words used in newspaper advertising explaining jobs that are available were not known 10 years ago.

If you doubt this, read the Star-Telegram's help wanted ads in Sunday's paper.

The job of training technicians is not an easy or short one. It is one that takes detailed study, planning and co-ordination.

And most of all, it should be a program of excellence, one geared to giving the student the best that is available but giving him a useful tool that can be put to work.

The courses should be two-fold. They should offer the student the training he needs to begin a job in his chosen field

Young America Bakes— Individual French Breads

Join the young Americans who've gone French in their foods. Individual French Breads served with Roquefort cheese and fresh fruit make a sophisticated snack.

Little Loaves for Sophisticated Snacks

Sophisticated young America has gone French in its foods. For mid-day or midnight refreshment, today's moderns serve a continental repast—wedges of French bread with Roquefort cheese and luscious fresh fruits.

Young homemakers have also joined the trend of serving home baked breads. They find that baking bread is a satisfying experience, one that gives them a real feeling of accomplishment. Crusty golden loaves of French bread are made from a simple yeast dough in which water, not milk, is the liquid. Although true French bread is kneaded, new no-knead batter-type doughs produce equally satisfactory results.

These Individual French Breads, prepared from an easy yeast batter, are fun to bake and eat. What could be a warmer welcome for company than their own personal loaves of home baked French bread, wedges of Roquefort cheese and a selection of fresh fruits?

INDIVIDUAL FRENCH BREADS

- (Makes 6 loaves)
- 1/4 cups warm water (105°-115°F.)
 - 1 package or cake Fleischmann's Yeast, active dry or compressed
 - 1/2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 teaspoon Fleischmann's Margarine, melted
 - 3 1/2 cups unsifted flour
 - Corn meal
 - 1 egg white
 - 1 tablespoon cold water

Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in Fleischmann's Yeast; stir until dissolved. Add salt and Fleischmann's Margarine. Add flour and stir until well blended (dough will be sticky). Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Turn dough out onto lightly floured board. Divide into 6 equal portions. Roll each into an oblong 6 x 3 inches. Beginning at wide side, roll up tightly towards you; seal edges by pinching together. Taper ends by rolling gently back and forth. Place loaves on greased baking sheets sprinkled with corn meal. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

With razor, make 4 diagonal cuts on top of each loaf. Bake in very hot oven (450°F.) 15 minutes. Remove from oven and brush with egg white mixed with cold water. Return to oven, bake 5 minutes longer.

Spray new Caparol after cotton is 6 inches high to control weeds.

Control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton with new Caparol® herbicide. Simply apply as a directed spray to the base of your cotton when it is six inches or higher.

You'll get good knockdown of weeds and grasses that are less than two inches high ... plus some killing action through the roots of later-germinating weeds.

The cost of this treatment, when Caparol is applied in a 10 inch band, can be as little as 85 cents per acre. Compare this with the $2-3 per acre it would cost you for hoe hands.

Later on in the season, you can go in and make a layby application of new Caparol to control weeds until the cotton is high enough to shade them out.

With new Caparol, you'll have no reason to worry about soil residue carryover to harm next year's spring-seeded crops.

Ask your supplier for new Caparol.
