Reward increased in 1977 Winkler County cold case
 Special to the Herald

The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is seeking information in the 1977 slaying of 73-year-old S.A. “Champ” Weaver, then the Precinct 4 Constable of Winkler County. An increased reward of up to $6,000 is being offered for information that leads to the arrest of those responsible if the tip is received before the next featured cold case is announced. A $3,000 reward for information leading to an arrest is routinely offered on all cases on the Texas Rangers’ Cold Case website.

On Jan. 4, 1977, around 1 a.m., Weaver’s 1971 Monte Carlo was found on the north shoulder of Highway 302, four miles west of Kermit. The engine was running, and the headlights were on. Weaver had been robbed of cash and shot Weaver was last seen earlier in the evening at the local lounge he owned, the Elbow Room. Weaver also owned a water works pumping station. At the time of his death he was married with children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The Texas Rangers are assisting the Winkler County Sheriff’s Office with this investigation and are the primary investigative agency. Anyone with details regarding the homicide is asked to come forward with information.

To be eligible for cash rewards, tipsters MUST provide information to authorities by calling the Crime Stoppers hotline at 1-800-252-TIPS (8477). All tips are anonymous. Individuals can also submit informa-

Texas boasts cheapest gas price average in America
 Rising crude oil costs lead to higher pump prices

Special to the Herald

The statewide gas price average in Texas is $2.96 for a gallon of regular unleaded fuel, according to the AAA Texas Weekend Gas Watch. That price is four cents more than it was on this day last week and is 84 cents more per gallon compared to this day last year.

Of the major metropolitan areas surveyed in Texas, drivers in El Paso are paying the most on average at $3.35 per gallon while drivers in Amarillo and San Antonio are paying the least at $2.87 per gallon.

In Big Spring, gas prices on regular unleaded range between a low of $2.87 at Alon at 3315 FM 700 to a high of $3.22.

The national average price for a gallon of regular unleaded is $3.32, which is two cents more when compared to this day last week and 93 cents more than the price per gallon at this same time last year.

The outlook for gasoline demand remains strong and that optimism continues to drive crude oil markets higher. In addition, market analysts are predicting tighter gasoline supplies after a fire on a key oil pipeline from Iraq to Turkey occurred on Tuesday along with rising geopolitical tensions between Russia and the West over Ukraine.

“The dynamics in the oil and gasoline market remain complex to start off the new year,” said AAA Texas spokesperson Daniel Armbruster. “The bottom line for the consumer is that market optimism for crude and gasoline demand remains robust, and, therefore, AAA anticipates climbing gasoline prices in the short term.”

Drivers in Texas are paying the lowest gas price average in the country, according to gasprices.aaa.com. Meanwhile drivers in California are paying the most at $4.65 on average for a gallon of regular unleaded.

AAA Tips to save money on fuel:

- Make sure your tires are properly maintained and inflated to the correct level.
- Maintain your car according to the manufacturer’s recommendations. Regular service will ensure optimum fuel economy.
- Avoid “jackrabbit” starts and hard accelerations. These actions greatly increase fuel consumption.
- Slow down and drive the speed limit. Higher speeds result in more aerodynamic drag.
- Use cruise control on the highway to help maintain a constant speed and save fuel. However, never use cruise control on slippery roads because a loss of vehicle control could result.
- Minimize your use of air conditioning.
- Avoid extended idling to warm up the engine, even in colder temperatures. It’s unnecessary and wastes fuel.
- Remove unnecessary and bulky items from your car.
- Minimize your use of roof racks and remove special carriers when not in use.

tion through the Texas Rangers' Cold Case website or by phone to the Missing Persons Hotline at 1-800-346-3243.

The Texas Rangers' Cold Case website provides information on more than 125 cases in an effort to garner public interest in unsolved or cold cases. Texas Crime Stoppers offers rewards (funded by the Governor's Criminal Justice Division and administered by DPS) of up to $3,000 for information that leads to the arrest of those responsible for any Ranger cold case listed on the website. For more information, visit the Texas Rangers' Cold Case website.

As part of a DPS public awareness program, one case from the Texas Rangers Unsolved Crime Investigation (Cold Case) Program will be featured bi-monthly in an effort to generate new investigative leads and bring attention to these cold cases.

The Texas Crime Stoppers reward is increased up to $6,000 for the featured case in hopes that the higher reward money will generate additional tips.

The higher reward amount will only be paid if the tip is submitted before the next case is featured.

The Texas Rangers Unsolved Crimes Investigation Program was created to assist Texas law enforcement agencies investigating unsolved homicides or violent serial crimes.

Since there is no statute of limitations on the offense of murder, investigators pursue these cases to a successful resolution or until no viable leads remain.

NazFamily Church

This Sunday
“Do not merely listen to the word, and so deceive yourselves. Do what it says. Anyone who listens to the word but does not do what it says is like someone who looks at his face in a mirror and, after looking at himself, goes away and immediately forgets what he looks like. But whoever looks intently into the perfect law that gives freedom, and continues in it—not forgetting what they have heard, but doing it—they will be blessed in what they do.” ~ James 1:22-25

Each week the NazFamily gathers to not only hear and study the Scriptures, but to learn how to apply God’s word to our daily lives. You won’t want to miss this Sunday as we continue to grow and journey together as followers of Jesus!

First Presbyterian Church, Big Spring

First Presbyterian Church of Big Spring is celebrating the season of Epiphany through the end of February. During this time, we will use scriptures selected from Wilda C. Gaffney’s book: A Women’s Lectionary For The Whole Church. We hope that looking at scripture in a non-traditional way might open our hearts and minds to unexpected insights from our God.

Worship services January 23rd begin at 10:50 a.m. in the Sanctuary at 8th and Runnels. Our Scripture readings will be Psalm 17:6-9,13,15; Zephaniah 3:14-20; 1Corinthians 12:12-31. Rev. Allen Cross will be preaching a sermon entitled: The Weak and the Mighty. Organist/music director Gabe Martinez provides music for the service.

Sunday School begins at 9:45. Rev. Cross teaches the Children’s Class. Tom Koger leads the Youth Class. The Discovery Class has started a new 10 week DVD study by Adam Hamilton called “Words of Life.” What if the Ten commandments were not understood as rigid, ancient rules but a guide for experiencing a good life today, given by a loving, protecting God who brings order out of chaos? Hamilton brings contemporary eyes to history’s most important set of ethics. Vicki Miller and Helen Glass are leading the study.

Sunday morning Take Ten fellowship is in the parlor between Sunday School and worship.

Presbyterian Women will resume meeting on January 25th and will be looking at lesson 3 of Merryl Blair’s “What My Grandmothers Taught Me” which takes lessons from Matthew’s genealogy of Jesus.

Members and non-members alike are invited to take advantage of the spiritual resources available on our website and Facebook page. They include a six day each week prayer podcast, a weekly scripture reading and commentary, a weekly video devotional, and a video release of each Sunday’s sermon. All these tools and resources prepare us for the coming Sunday worship.

Something to think about...

By RICHARD SCHNEBERGER
Special to the Herald

Listen UP! As parents of four young children we often find ourselves competing for our children's undivided attention. They may find themselves competing for our undivided attention at times too. In this chaotic world filled with noise and activity, it is easy to get distracted. I wonder how often the Lord struggles to get our undivided attention?

We usually need someone to capture our attention so that we can clearly hear what the Lord may be communicating to us. God often uses unique people to ignite our imaginations that we might better hear His voice and follow His way. Scripture calls them prophets. I like to think of them as God's megaphone. We encounter several of them in the Bible, but in our own history God used a young pastor named Martin Luther King, Jr. to speak to the conscience of a nation.

Dr. King lived with the conviction that "Darkness cannot drive out darkness; only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate; only love can do that." In light of his influence, I think it is important to reflect on King's dream again today.

"And so even though we face the difficulties of today and tomorrow, I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream.

I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: 'We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal.'

I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia, the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood.

I have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a state sweltering with the heat of injustice, sweltering with the heat of oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice.

I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character.

I have a dream today!"

I believe that this dream is not only "deeply rooted in the American dream," but is also deeply rooted in God's vision for us. As Dr. King also said, "We must learn to live together as brothers [and sisters] or perish together as fools." I believe that God is speaking, but the question is, "Are we listening?"

Christ Alone

I am aware of the fact that I sound like a radical, anticultural nut when I say these things. But think about the fact that Christ is the end of the Law for righteousness to all who believe on Him. Talk about radical doctrine! This is it! The majority of religions in the world are founded on Moses' ten commandments. But Jesus died, was buried, and arose from the dead on the third day to be the end of Moses' ten commandments for our righteousness. And then we have Romans 3:21 which says that the righteousness of God is manifested without the Law. This means that our salvation, sanctification and blessings have nothing to do with the ten commandments. When God saves, sanctifies and blesses us, He does so by the power of Christ's once-for-all sacrifice, without the Law (the ten commandments), because Christ, and Christ alone is more than sufficient for us. Some ask – but how are we supposed to live our Christian lives without the ten commandments as our guide? Well, first, saying that the life of faith and the ten commandments go hand-in-hand is an oxymoron, a contradiction in doctrine, because Galatians 3:12 says that the Law is not of faith. Second, we don't need the Law of Moses because we follow Christ, who is the end of the Law for our righteousness. This is that faith which defines true, biblical Christianity. We live our lives of faith by the fact that on the cross, Jesus said... it is finished!

Annie's Mailbox

Can I Cut Out My Brother?

Dear Annie: I spent my early childhood years with a loving foster family, and today, at age 75, I have a great relationship with my foster brother.

I lived with my biological family from age 7 until I left for college. I have one biological brother, and long story short, we are not close.

Today, I can hardly stand him or his family. He brags incessantly. He's thoughtless, snobby, self-centered, condescending, materialistic and does nothing for anyone unless there is something in it for him.

He and his wife seem to take pleasure in hurling insults at our children and their families and asking rude, intrusive questions.

My husband, children and I want no contact with him or his family. We stopped initiating contact with them several years ago. We didn't make any "proclamation"; we just stopped contacting them, and they didn't seem to notice until recently.

We have not answered their calls and don't want to. We feel we should, at this time in our lives, not have to deal with them. And yet, maybe I should speak to my brother, at the very least. I have no idea what to say. Since this man does not listen to my remarks, it will have to be brief.

But again, we want no relationship with these people. -- No Contact Wanted

Dear No Contact:

Ghosting a date is one thing, but ghosting your own brother?

Bottom line is that it's not fair to cut him out without an explanation.

Tell him the ways in which you feel hurt by his behavior. If he cares enough to listen, perhaps the two of you can visit a family therapist to get your relationship back on track. If he doesn't, then your children are probably better off without the insults and intrusive questioning.

Dear Annie: I want to start online dating again. I'm a 32-year-old woman who has a history of online dating, and in my profile, I was always honest -- maybe too honest -- about myself. The problem is I have a speech impediment. Some say it sounds like an accent with a mixture of Elmer Fudd. My pronunciation of certain words is horrible. My question is, should I put that I have a speech impediment on my profile or wait till a match gets to know me more and then tell them?

When I used to date, I would mention it in my profile, and I would always attract the wrong guys: guys who will take advantage of my biggest insecurities and the judgmental type, too. A part of me wants to be honest upfront, but then the other part feels they need to gain my trust first. I'm feeling torn on what to do. Any advice? -- Speed Bump in My Speech

Dear Speed Bump:

Your dating profile doesn't need to be an exhaustive picture of yourself. Instead of thinking about what you (SET ITAL)should(END ITAL) include, think about what you want to share about yourself with a potential match. There are countless qualities and experiences that define who you are, and your speech impediment isn't one of them.

Most importantly, remember that the right guy for you will only care about what you have to say, not how it sounds when you say it.

Bidding quiz

Partner bids One Diamond with neither side vulnerable, and the next player passes. You have a partscore of 60. What would you bid with each of the following four hands?

- ♠ A93 ♥ KJ7 ♦ J84 ♣ AQJ2
- ♠ K7 ♥ 85 ♦ KQ75 ♣ AJ943
- ♠ K84 ♥ K2 ♦ K73 ♣ Q9542
- ♠ AKQ75 ♥ QJ ♦ K962 ♣ K3

1. Two notrump. A two-notrump response to an opening bid of one of a suit ordinarily indicates a balanced hand containing 13 to 15 points with stoppers in the three unbid suits. The bid is forcing, and the auction must continue until game is reached.

2. Three diamonds. The same principle applies to a jump-raise that is one level higher than necessary. Such a raise also carries with it a slam suggestion. And, as before, the jump-raise is not forcing. It is also important to note that a two-club response — which completes the partscore — is not forcing, and opener is free to pass. For this reason, the value bid of three diamonds, which immediately confirms a fit and alerts partner to slam possibilities, is preferred.

3. One notrump. Without the partscore, you would respond two clubs as a normal exploratory move. But it is inadvisable to bid such a weak suit under partscore conditions at a time when partner is not obligated to bid again. There is a real danger that he will pass with two or three small trumps, and this could result in the loss of a game if the trumps are banked against you.

A one-notrump response is superior because it allows the contract to be made on high-card strength alone, even if you run into an unlucky distribution of the clubs. With 11 high-card points facing an opening bid, you should not worry about making one notrump if partner accepts that contract by passing. Seven tricks should be a breeze.

4. Two spades. A jump-response in a new suit (jump-shift) is 100 percent forcing and compels the opener to bid again regardless of the nature of his hand. The jump-shift differs from the jump-raise or the jump to two notrump, which are merely mild invitational moves toward a slam. There's no ceiling on the strength implied by a jump-shift. The sky's the limit.

God wants our heart not just our problems

By BILLY HOLLAND

Special to the Herald

God is faithful and is always with you, protecting and watching over you whether you believe He is there or not. Just because you cannot sense Him intervening, it does not mean He is distracted working on the other side of the world. There is an old saying, "God's care for His children is like the Sun: It's constant. Even though the clouds often obscure it, this does not mean it's not there." And Isaiah 59:1 reminds us, "Surely the arm of the Lord is not too short to save, nor His ear too dull to hear." Even if you have made some serious mistakes, it does not mean He does not still love you or has forsaken you. Maybe He is just patiently waiting for you to give Him your life instead of just your problems.

You may be beating yourself up and thinking this is one of the worst times of your life but be encouraged, there is wonderful news! Have you ever considered Romans 8:28 as a promise directly to you and your problems? Listen to this again, "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose." This is a very popular passage in the Bible and for good reason. Many times we do not receive the enjoyment and nourishment from God's banquet table because we are so focused on our situation. If we would spend the same amount of energy on prayer that we do on worry, I believe we would see more victory and less discouragement. Since God is working behind the scenes to make things work out for us, we may not be demonstrating enough patience with Him. Maybe He is trying to show you something very special that you would not have been able to see any other way.

It has been said the majority of great things which have been done on the earth, have been accomplished by those going through difficult times. Mature Christians are to be like steel when it is "tempered" with heat to make them pure and strong in experience and wisdom, yet covered with velvet as they manifest God's character with compassion, humility, and sensitivity. Instead of spending all of our time trying to figure out why things happen, we can seek to know Him more intimately. How will this help? Because He is the only one who has all the answers and knowing and loving Him is how we learn more about everything. Learning and accepting this truth about the endless commitment of God's love toward us is a revelation of His unfailing covenant to be with us now and forever.

Knowing that Jesus suffered on the cross because He loved us, allows us to see the lies of our adversary when he tells us that no one cares or that we are hopelessly lost. With the increased spiritual sensitivity which Jesus is waiting to give us, we can start making good decisions and get back on the right path of God's will. A. W. Tozer is quoted as saying, "Man's mighty burden is his obligation to God. It includes an instant and lifelong duty to love God with every power of mind and soul, to obey Him perfectly, and to worship Him acceptably." Included in this quest to be transformed into God's image is the fact that Christ will help us become victorious in whatever area we need to overcome.

New Year resolutions commonly include trying to resist food cravings as we admit that our minds lead and control our bodies. It's been said if you do not want temptation to follow you, stop acting like you are interested. Don't run from it, just look it in the eye and defeat it. Another example is having a problem with cursing, which by the way is a terrible witness. We can ask God to put an alarm on our minds and tongues to stop us before it is too late. It's much better to be aware of our sins before we commit them than to ask forgiveness after the fact. What many fail to realize is that once our testimony is compromised we may never have an opportunity to share Christ with that person again because the enemy will always remind them about that time when we lost control. If we are determined to allow God to renew our minds, this will bring a positive change to the way we live!

The God of More Than Enough

By Joelle Ludington

Special to the Herald

The miracle of Jesus Christ, the drought of fish. There were two boats standing by the lake, but the fishermen had gone from them and were washing their nets. Then Jesus got into one of the boats which was Simons. And he sat down and taught the multitude from the boat.

When Jesus Christ stopped speaking, he said launch out into the deep and let down your nets for a catch.

Simon answered "Master we have toiled all night and caught nothing, Never the less at your word I will let down the net." And when they had done this they caught a great number of fish, and their net was breaking.

When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees saying depart from me for I am a sinful man, oh Lord. And Jesus said to Simon Peter do not be afraid. From now on you will catch men. They forsook all and followed him.

The message here is don't give up, the maker will teach you and you will learn, and you too will know who he is in the time of drought. He will provide, no matter what is lacking in your life.

Most important part here is focus on the Lord to follow him put him before anything and anyone and be ready to go where he leads you calls you too. Do not be afraid.
