Big Spring's Price Tarbet has been named one of Angelo State University's top graduates for 2022.

ASU's Academic Excellence Committee hosted an awards ceremony May 2 in the Houston Harte University Center to honor all the award recipients and nominees. Each was presented a recognition plaque by ASU President Ronnie Hawkins Jr.

Tarbet's mom Melissa Tarbet offered a brief explanation of the scholarship.

"That CLS, Critical Language Scholarship, it's a nationwide application through the U.S. Department of State," Mrs. Tarbet said. "They pick a handful of kids and they get to go and learn just a certain few languages that they deem necessary to national diplomacy. So it's like, Chinese, Russian, Arabic, those types of languages. So he's getting the opportunity to go over there this summer."

One who doesn't do it for the fame but instead for the betterment of a community; that's what a recipient of the Community Builder Award is made of. Recently, the Big Spring Mason's Lodge presented this prestigious award to Vietnam Veteran Mike Tarpley, in recognition of the work he has done for local veterans.

"A life of service to my country didn't stop when I came home. The line of duty and deployment area just changed," Mike Tarpley, award recipient, said. "Our veterans sacrificed for their country, for their families, for their communities. The least their communities can do is make sure they are not forgotten."

Tarpley has been one of the guiding forces in Howard County when it comes to ensuring veterans are taken care of and their sacrifices not forgotten throughout the year. He is the Senior Vice Commander for the D.A.V. in Big Spring Chapter 47, Vietnam Veteran, has served on several veteran services related boards, and conducts PTSD meetings on a regular basis through the local V.A. Medical Center. Over the past 15 years he has been lead organizer of the Memorial at the Plaza 9/11 Remembrance Ceremony and for the past 9 years the Dove Hunt, with the support of D.A.V and numerous community partners.

"One of my main goals has been and continues to be to do what I can to make sure our veterans are taken care of. That care may come in a hand up when they fall on hard times, a meal during the holidays, a simple conversation or a weekend of appreciation," Tarpley said.

The Community Builder Award is described as a prestigious award established by the Grand Lodge of Texas so that lodges can formally recognize outstanding non-Masons who have distinguished themselves through their service to the community, local and state governments, places of worship, or to humanity at

Texas student fatally stabbed at school; classmate jailed

BELTON, Texas (AP) — An 18-year-old student has died after he was stabbed during a fight at a Texas high school and another student was taken into custody, authorities said.

Jose Luis Ramirez Jr. died after he was stabbed Tuesday morning in a campus bathroom at Belton High School, about 60 miles (100 kilometers) north of Austin, police said.

Belton Police Chief Gary Ellis said an 18-yearold high school senior was jailed in connection with the attack and was awaiting formal charges. Authorities said that student ran out of the school after the stabbing and was taken into custody about 20 minutes later.

Classes were canceled Wednesday at the school, which has about 2,500 students. On Tuesday night, hundreds of people gathered for a prayer service and balloon release for the Ramirez family, the Temple Daily Telegram reported.

Itty Henry, a Belton High School senior, said Ramirez had the ability to always make people smile.

"He always had the right jokes and everybody loved him," Henry said. "I don't think I can name a person that didn't like him because he always put other people before himself." large, according to a representative of the Masons. Dallas toddler mauled by coyote on front porch

Associated Press

DALLAS (AP) — A 2-year-old child has been hospitalized in critical condition after being mauled by a coyote Tuesday on the front porch of the child's Dallas home, police said.

The attack happened about 8:30 a.m. Tuesday in a neighborhood just north of White Rock Lake in Dallas.

A police officer responding to the call spotted the coyote in a park near the child's home and opened fire on the animal, which retreated into nearby woods, according to a police statement.

It was unknown if the officer wounded the animal, but an active search with a game warden began, police said. Police are warning neighborhood residents that the coyote should be considered extremely dangerous.

The attack came less than a week after a coyote attacked a 2-yearold girl on Southern California's Huntington Beach. The coyote was later shot dead.

State wildlife experts said the coyote evidently had been fed by neighborhood residents, whether intentionally or not. Otherwise,

Mexico favors N. Mexico over Texas for border rail link

By MARK STEVENSON

Associated Press

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican government is snubbing Texas and moving a proposed border rail link to New Mexico after Texas Gov. Greg Abbott backed up border crossings with state inspections in April.

Mexican diplomats met Tuesday with U.S. Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro Mayorkas and touted a rail line linking Mexican seaports on the Pacific with the San Jeronimo-Santa Teresa crossing in New Mexico, about 20 miles (36 kilometers) west of El Paso, Texas. Mexico had considered a route through Texas, but in recent days officials have said they can no longer rely on that state. Abbott had required all commercial trucks from Mexico to undergo extra inspections, tying up traffic and causing millions in losses.

plementing the inspections, though state officials found little of either — so the agreements were seen as a way of pressuring Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador to act.

López Obrador, has described Abbott's actions as "vile." But Abbott hasn't backed down, and has said he is considering invoking defense powers by declaring that Texas is being "invaded."

On Monday, López Obrador brushed it off, saying, "Now that there are elections, some politicians

Roberto Velasco Álvarez, Mexico's director for North American affairs, wrote in his Twitter account about the meeting in Washington.

"There is a regional vision and management of migration, legal pathways and more development options, as well as advances in infrastructure with New Mexico that will allow us to develop immediate alternatives to commercial traffic that currently passes through Texas," Velasco Álvarez wrote.

Mexico's Economy Secretary Tatiana Clouthier was more forceful last week on the fate of a proposed rail line linking the Pacific coast port of Mazatlan in Mexico's Sinaloa state with the U.S. and Canada.

"There is a very important project that will hopefully be finished soon that will connect Sinaloa and, we used to say Texas, but I don't think we're going to use Texas anymore because we cannot put all our eggs in one basket and be held hostage to those who want to use trade as a political issue," Clouthier told a business conference.

"So we are going to look for another connection point because we cannot go through again what we went through a few weeks ago," she said.

Some truckers reported waiting more than 30 hours to cross during the state inspections. Others blocked one of the world's busiest trade bridges in protest.

Abbott, who is up for reelection in November and has made the border his top issue, fully lifted the inspections after reaching agreements with neighboring Mexican states that outline commitments to new border security.

But those Mexican states have little authority or manpower to intercept drugs or migrant smuggling — the two issues Abbott cited in imin the United States are making accusations.'

The lack of fear of humans can be disastrous for the coyote, said Robert M. Timm, a retired wildlife biologist with the University of California's Hopland Research & Extension Center who has long studied the history of human contact with coyotes. A report Timm co-authored for the Fall 2017 edi-

Dusty Baker gets 2,000th win as Astros down Mariners 4-0

By KRISTIE RIEKEN

AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Minutes after becoming the 12th manager in major league history to reach 2,000 wins, and the first Black man to do it, Dusty Baker was already looking ahead.

Asked to rank this latest accomplishment in a life already filled with so many, Baker paused for a bit before answering.

"Right now it's at the top," he said. "But I ain't gonna stop now."

Yordan Alvarez and Jose Altuve each hit a solo homer and rookie Jeremy Peña had two RBIs to help Baker hit the milestone with Houston's 4-0 victory over the Seattle Mariners.

Ten of the 11 other managers who have accumulated at least 2,000 wins are in the Hall of Fame. Bruce Bochy (2,003), who isn't yet eligible, is the only exception.

The 72-year-old Baker's career record is 2,000-1,745 and he's the only big league manager to take five different teams to the postseason.

Baker, one of two Black managers in the majors, said being the first to reach the 2,000-win benchmark makes it even more meaningful.

"It means extra," he said. "It means extra to the culture. It means extra to society. It means extra to my race, and it means extra hopefully for others to get an opportunity (so) I'm not the last."

It's another milestone in Delter's storied server ships with many titans of the game who have died. He was asked if he thought his friends who are now gone were smiling down on him Tuesday night.

"Oh yeah, definitely, especially my dad because he was my first coach," Baker said of his father, Johnnie B. Baker Sr., who died in 2009. "My dad was tough. My dad was tough because he believed in tough love."

Cristian Javier (2-0) allowed two hits over 5 1/3 innings in his second start after opening the season in the Houston bullpen. Three relievers combined after Javier's exit to shut out the Mariners for the second straight game after getting a 3-0 win in the series opener Monday.

Seattle's J.P. Crawford went 0 for 4 with a strikeout to snap an 11-game hitting streak, which had been the longest active streak in the majors, as the Mariners lost for the sixth time in seven games.

"Our guys are grinding," Seattle manager Scott Servais said. "They're trying to get something going and there's nothing we can do about today's game. We're going to come out tomorrow, it's the last game on the road trip, and try to salvage something here in Houston."

There was one out in the fourth when Alvarez connected off Chris Flexen (1-4) on a shot to center field to make it 1-0. Alvarez has homered in consecutive games and has four homers in his last five.

Flexen yielded two hits and a run while walking three in five innings. He fell to 0-5 in six career out Tom Murphy.

There was a runner on first with one out in the sixth when Blake Taylor took over for Javier. Taylor retired the next two batters to end the inning.

Anthony Misiewicz walked Alvarez with two outs in the sixth, ending his night. Diego Castillo came in and was greeted by a single from Yuli Gurriel before Kyle Tucker walked to load the bases.

Peña followed with a liner to left field to score two and extend the lead to 3-0.

Altuve's shot came off Matthew Festa with one out in the seventh.

TRAINER'S ROOM

Mariners: OF Kyle Lewis homered in his first atbat in the first game of a rehabilitation assignment with Triple-A Tacoma. Lewis, the 2020 AL Rookie of the Year, hasn't played all season while he recovers from surgery to repair a torn meniscus. "We've mapped out what it looks like for the next couple of weeks for him with playing time and his ramp up," Servais said. "We'll get him out playing in the field on consecutive days and all that other good stuff. We'll see how it goes."

Astros: Houston closer Ryan Pressly, who has been out since April 14 with inflammation in his right knee, needed just six pitches to throw a perfect inning for Triple-A Sugar Land in the first game of a rehab assignment. Baker said Monday the team wasn't sure if one game in the minors

Baker played with Hank Aaron and had relation-starts against the Astros.

Javier didn't allow a hit until Ty France singled to start the fourth. But Jesse Winkler grounded into a double play before Javier retired Eugenio Suarez to end the inning.

There were two outs in the fifth when Javier plunked Abraham Toro before walking Jarred Kelenic. Javier left them both stranded by striking would be enough for Pressly, or if he'd need multiple outings before being activated.

Elias Lindholm scored and Markstrom recorded his second career playoff shutout as the Flames beat the Stars 1-0 Tuesday night in the opening game of their first-round series.

Lindholm scored a power-play goal early in the first period. Markstrom stopped all 16 shots he faced as Calgary earned just its second playoff win at the Saddledome since 2015.

"Even warmup was fun and I got goosebumps," Lindholm said. "The crowd was into it right away and obviously we had some good energy right away.

"I thought the first 10 or 15 minutes we played real well and the second and third, too many penalties."

Dallas goal Jake Oettinger stopped 25 of 26 shots and lost his NHL playoff debut.

Game 2 in the best-of-seven series is Thursday in Calgary. The series shifts to Dallas for Saturday's Game 3 and Monday's Game 4.

Calgary (50-21-11) topped the Pacific Division, while the Stars (46-30-6) entered the playoffs as the first wild-card team in the Western Conference.

Calgary led 1-0 after a dominant opening period. The Flames held the Stars to three shots. Dallas' first shot on goal came at 11:05.

Both teams had to deal with the loss of a key defenseman at the end of the first period. Calgary's Rasmus Andersson and Dallas's John Klingberg were given game misconducts for fighting at the buzzer.

That tussle came after Matthew Tkachuk and Michael Raffl also threw punches at the close of the period. Tkachuk shoved Klingberg hard into the boards behind Calgary's net in the last few seconds.

Without Klingberg, their power-play quarterback, the Stars went 0 for 5 with a man advantage.

Stars coach Rick Bowness said his team "bent a little but didn't break" over the first half of the opening period.

"I thought they were going to run us out of the rink, and they didn't," Bowness said. "We put up a good fight.

"It's clear our power play has to get clicking. That was a big issue for us. We need more pucks on the net. But the compete was there, the work ethic, everything was good."

The clubs traded chances in the third. Dallas mustered more sustained pressure in Calgary's zone in the second period, but still trailed after 40 minutes.

A Blake Coleman goal for Calgary midway through the second period was waived off because of his interference penalty.

Stars defenseman Jani Hakanpaa was penalized for an illegal check to Coleman's head in the first period, and the Flames made the Dallas pay by scoring off the ensuring faceoff.

Lindholm won the draw and took a Tkachuk feed from the boards. Lindholm fired a wrist shot that beat Oettinger under his glove at 5:01 of the period.

"From our side, I think we can play better," Lindholm said. "It was a tight game. Both teams played good defensively, so there was not a lot going on out there, but we found a way.

"Their goalie saw the puck a lot, so we need to get more bodies to the net and create some more chaos."

Coleman, who signed with Calgary last year after winning back-to-back Stanley Cups with the Tampa Bay Lightning, went to the bench in distress after the Hakanpaa hit, but finished the period.

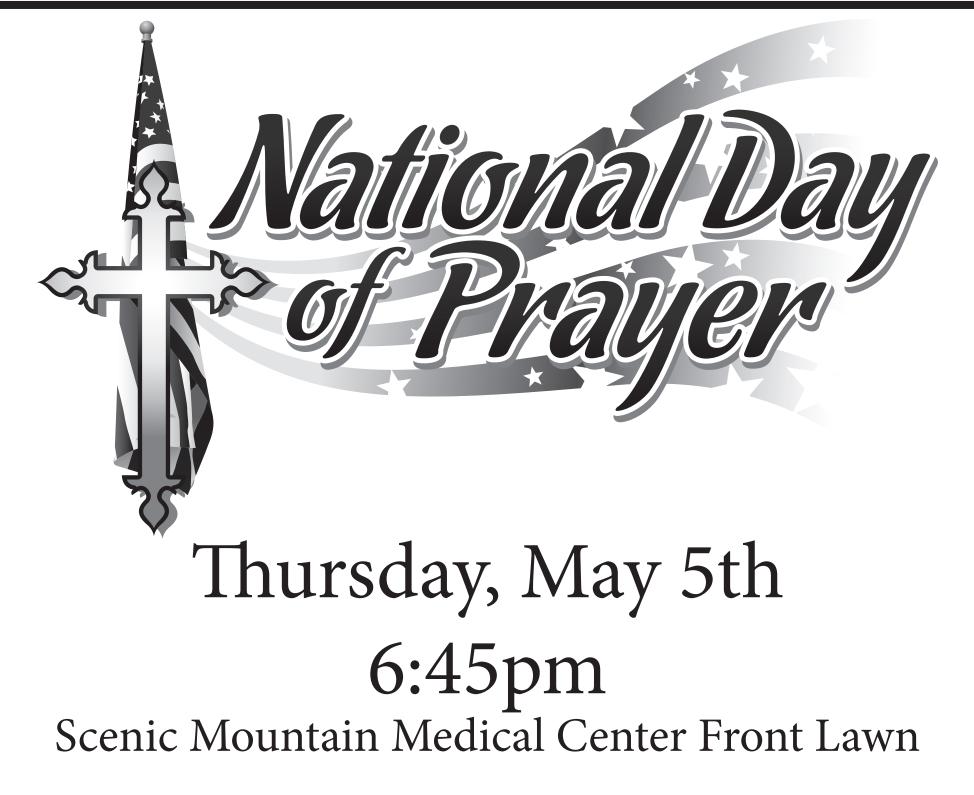

"I'm all right," Coleman said. "It's playoff hockey."

NOTES: The Stars ousted the Flames in six games in the first round of the 2020 playoff bubble in Edmonton. ...

It's the fourth best-of-seven series in the past 21 years to feature four 40-goal scorers: Flames forwards Lindholm, Tkachuk and Johnny Gaudreau and Dallas forward Jason Robertson.

When to cover an honor

South dealer. Both sides vulnerable jack were not covered. But it would be wrong to cover if you had the K-x-x and declarer led the jack from dummy's J-10-2 toward his A-4-3. He would make two tricks if you covered, but only one if you ducked. As a matter of fact, the best rule to follow is to cover an honor if it can gain a trick for your side, and not to cover if it can cost your side a trick. This advice might not be particularly helpful, as it tells you to use your head instead of a rigid formula, but that's the kind of game bridge is. Today's hand demonstrates the principle. South is in three spades, and West leads the queen of clubs, which holds. When West now shifts to the ten of diamonds, declarer goes up with the queen and returns the nine of trump. If East ducks, so does South, and, as a result, he makes three spades. But if East covers the nine with the jack — as he should to cater to the possibility of West's having four spades that include the eight and a high honor — South goes down one. The nine in this case is treated A-Q-4. Covering with the king as an honor, and East covers holds declarer to two tricks instead because the play cannot cost him a of the three he would make if the trick but might gain one.

Cinco de Mayo Cosmic Conjunction

The sun forms a conjunction with rebellious Uranus on this day of remembrance for the time a Mexican army was outnumbered yet prevailed with the victory in the Battle of Puebla of 1862. In the United States, the 5th of May is an opportunity to celebrate Mexican culture and heritage, in this case, under a patriotic Cancer moon.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). The longer a story is, the more entertaining it should be. Humor helps, but the most important thing of all is to read the room. A good match of message to audience can be a game changer.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Choose and then let go of the other options. This is the way of power and grace. Regret, rumination, comparison and the like are habits of weakness. Rule out these disempowering options.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Gentle forces will outlast volatile ones because intensity is hard to sustain. Fires die. Volcanos expire. Tornados disperse. For millions of years the placid lake remains.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). The interaction you've been worried about will come together beautifully and you'll have a sense of satisfaction akin to flipping an omelet at the exact right moment.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Solar circles and social circles both run on principles of attraction. Usually, you fol-low your instincts on such matters, but today your conscious awareness of what some people like will also play into the decisionmaking.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). To lay your heart on the line would normally require courage, though today it just requires math; the potential gain from expressing your feelings is worth the risk.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Just when you think your hard work is going unappreciated, praise and appreciation will come from unexpected directions. This is the start of a trend!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Any work you do to wrangle and order your scattered thoughts will contribute to your success. Tell yourself what you're going to think about, write it down, and then keep reminding yourself to stay on track with that line of thought.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). More than anyone else in the entire world, you know what it's like to be you. Use this to guide key decisions. As for the others, it will be fine to let them figure out what's right for themselves.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). The point of putting some of life on autopilot is to conserve energy for what you'd love to give your attention to. You'll be transferring more habits to the no-think zone as you ready yourself for something big and juicy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Whenever you put yourself or your work on the line, you risk rejection. Ultimately, this is the risk that will make you see yourself better. And seeing yourself allows you to align with the needs of those around you.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Many limitations are illusions, and you must alter your perception to see your way past, through or around them. Keep trying to see it different ways. Get close, back off, go cockeyed ... you'll find it eventually.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (May 5). When you commit to love, the decision doesn't feel heavy or confining. Instead, playful levity, imagination and possibility rule your interactions. gets easier because you learn who you can trust. You're also excellent at coming up with systems. The trick is in re-investing well. A mentor will help! Leo and Sagittarius adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 30, 1, 11 and 28.
