I didn't realize that Christmas was as near as it is until last weekend. I was writing some checks as my wife came up and presented me with a long list of checks she had given for Christmas gifts, etc. Then I recalled Christmas; that time of the year with all of the bustle and bustle, the laughter and joy and the busted bank account! Maybe by this time next year I'll have a Christmas Club account that will cover some of the expenses that are sure to occur.

Gene Allen told me that tickets for the chamber banquet were going rapidly. It seems that there are a lot of people who want to come and hear Miss America. If you are planning on attending it would be a good idea to buy your tickets soon to guarantee that you will have a place.

Football seems to be over for the most part, or at least coming into the short rows. I think I'll go over and watch my last game of the season Friday night when Haskell plays Iowa Park. I'm an old Haskell County boy and I guess I'd better go over and lend a little support to the Indians. I couldn't let this week go by without saying something about those Texas Longhorns. Man, what a team! I was out on the lease hunting Saturday and didn't see the game, but when I saw the score in the Sunday paper I felt sure there was a typographical error in the paper. I felt reasonably sure the Longhorns could take the Razorbacks, but who would have believed by so big a margin?

If you like some good fast rugged sport, try a little basketball. The Bulldogs will be hosting a tournament this weekend with some of the area's top talent participating. Why not go out and support them in Basketball the way you did in football?

We goofed last week. Can you believe it? We printed the facts erroneously about the Free Skate at the Orbit Skating Rink. The Free Skate is Tuesday and Wednesday, December 29 & 30, from the hours of 10:00 a.m. to noon, and from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Make plans to attend those days during those hours.

To the many stories of a dog's love for man has now been added the saga of "Smodey," a more-or-less cocker-terrier, whose fame is now being spread among pooch fanciers in Washington, D.C.

It seems that the Cormier family moved from their former home in Fairfax City, Va., to an apartment building which banned dogs. So the family pet, Smokey, was sent to live with friends some 35 miles away.

But six months later Smokey left his warm and comfortable quarters and shortly thereafter arrived, slightly the worse for wear, back at the home of his puppyhood. Again he was dispatched, this time to another family, but again many miles away. A year later, Smokey broke his leash and disappeared. That was six years ago.

Nothing was known of the dog for years. But recently the Cormiers heard that an old black dog had been seen wandering about in the carport of the home they had formerly occupied. They went to investigate, but the strange dog had vanished. The search continued for two days; and then the dog warden reported that a dog of his description had been hit by a truck and was at an animal hospital.

The Cormiers rushed to the hospital--and sure enough! It was Smokey. The happy family took him home, gave him a bath, patched up his bruises, and nursed him back to health. Today a very contented Smokey is again with his beloved masters--by special dispensation of the apartment house management, who decided that such

T.M. CORNELIUS PRESENTS PHILLIP BUTCHER WITH A CHECK FOR $125 AS BETTY PRUETT, OF GILL'S GROCERY, AND GENE ALLEN, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MANAGER, LOOK ON. PHILLIP FOUND THE LUCKY DOLLAR SATURDAY MORNING IN GILL'S GROCERY AND MARKET.

PHILLIP BUTCHER FINDS LUCKY DOLLAR WORTH $125

Phillip Butcher of 202 Holly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hoy A. Butcher, found the Lucky Dollar worth $125. Phillip located the Lucky Dollar in Gill's Grocery Saturday. The Lucky Dollar with serial number

K88515596C was sought by many, many people as they shopped in Burk Burnett last weekend during Dollar Days. The dollar was put into circulation in one of the Build Burk merchants' businesses to be given out as regular change to some unsuspecting customer. The Lucky Dollar promotion is just another way that the Burk Burnett merchants say "It pays to shop in Burk Burnett." Quality goods, low prices and friendly service are offered to all shoppers in Burk Burnett. The Lucky Dollar was just a plus benefit from the merchants to the shopper. The Build Burk merchants are offering an additional plus from now until Christmas; the opportunity to win a console stereo or a color television. All you have to do is go by and register. You do not have to be present to win, and you can register as many times as you like.

Santa Claus Is Coming

Santa Claus is on his way to Burk Burnett. Santa is scheduled to arrive in Burk Burnett Saturday, Dec. 19, according to Gene Allen, local chamber of commerce manager. Santa and his sleigh and reindeer will be in Burk from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Santa's visit is sponsored by the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce and the Burk Burnett Merchants. Santa is bringing with him bags and bags of treats so that the Burk Burnett children will have a small treat from him.

Twelve Burk Businesses Receive Commendations

Again this month the Town Hall overflowed with members and guests at the regular monthly Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday. The highlight of the meeting was the presentation of "Business for Beauty" commendations to 12 Burk Burnett establishments.

Receiving certificates were the City of Burk Burnett, Burk Burnett Independent School District, Bill's Auto Parts, Cloyd's Meat Market, Curley's Barber Shop, Lippard Furniture, Gill's Grocery, Red River KOA, Palace Theatre, Spink's Service Station, Western Auto Store, and Ruth's Coffee Shop.

Business for Beauty is a proven program, co-sponsored by Cities Service Foundation, through which General Federation of Women's Clubs clubwomen can motivate business proprietors to action. The program has a vitally important objective--to improve the appearance of the community by encouraging businessmen to voluntarily upgrade the appearance of their establishments. The Foundation reports that when not well-maintained and landscaped, both large and small businesses can become environmental eyesores... a source of visual pollution.

Businesses of all kinds can take part in this program, big or small... whether they be cafes or service stations, hardware stores or professional

New Vo-Ag Building Ribbon Cutting Ceremonies Sunday

The new Vocational Agriculture building at the Burk Burnett High School will be formally opened in ribbon cutting ceremonies set for 2:00 p.m. Sunday.

Chamber of Commerce officers and directors and school officials will be on hand for the ceremonies.

The public is invited to come out and tour the 8,000 square foot structure which houses two classrooms and a large shop area.

James Easter, Vo-Ag teacher, stated, "This is one of the best Vo-Ag buildings in this area, and probably even the state. I don't know of any others that I would consider any better."

Six classes of Ag. will be taught in the new building by James and Jake Fite. The courses include Ag. I, Ag. II, Ag. III, and Ag. Co-op program.

A new table saw, circle saw, vibrator sander, miter box, bench grinder, electric drill, three new welders and several hand tools have been ordered to help better equip the new structure. A total of $2,200 in new equipment is on order.

The new structure will be open to the public from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Sunday.

Burk Christmas Lighting Contest Begins Tuesday

Tuesday marks the beginning of the city-wide Christmas Decorations Contest sponsored by the Community Service Council. The city of Burk Burnett will be divided into six districts with the best decorated home in each district receiving a $10 prize.

These six winners will then compete for the best decorated home in Burk Burnett. The winner of this contest will receive a Reddy Light furnished by Texas Electric Service Co. The second place winner will be awarded a $50 savings bond from the First National Bank, and the third place winner will receive a $25 savings bond from the Burk Burnett Bank.

Businesses, which will be judged in a separate category, will be presented plaques.

Non-profit organizations may also compete on the basis of the best Christmas scene construction. These scenes may be placed on any location, but the location must be specified by contacting Janet DiMarzio at 569-3156. A $10 prize will be awarded to the winner in this category.

Judging will begin on Dec. 15 and will end sometime before Dec. 24. All decorations will be judged according to color, originality, theme and overall effect.

Persons that received either a first, second or third place award last year will not be eligible for any of these three awards this year. They will, however, be eligible for a district prize.

Locations for organizations' Christmas scenes may only be judged in that category.

The town will be sectioned off as follows:

- DISTRICT NO. 1: Railroad west, but north of College St.
- DISTRICT NO. 2: East of railroad, but north of Tidal.
- DISTRICT NO. 3: North of Kramer, but south of college and west of railroad.
- DISTRICT NO. 4: South of Kramer and west of the railroad.

Police Investigating Shoplifting Cases

Burkburnett Police are currently investigating three cases of theft over $50, all three occurring this past week. Last Thursday shoplifters got away with over $50 in goods from the local Triple D discount store and from Barbara's Fashions. Both businesses are located in the Parker Plaza.

Police urge merchants to be on special look-out for shoplifters during the upcoming busy Christmas rush.

In other action, police are investigating the theft of a 1970 Yamaha motorcycle from Ronnie M. Edmonds of 317 Preston. The cycle was stolen from Edmonds' residence.

There were no major traffic accidents reported this week.

Randlett Homecoming

All former students and teachers of the Randlett school are urged to attend the Annual Homecoming that will be held December 26 at the Big Pasture school Cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. David Elliott, president of the Alumni Association, urges everyone interested to attend. Guidelines Of Life

Keep in mind this Christmas that Jesus Christ became flesh and came to our earth to provide the solution to all of your personal crises. Whatever your worries, heartaches or difficulties, He has provided a solution.

Your personal crisis of sin, believe it or not, has already been solved. "He was wounded for our transgressions." You are carrying a heavy load, perhaps not realizing that Christ has already carried it for you to Calvary. The greatest sin of all is unbelief in the Person of Christ. Would you be guilty of this?

YOUR PERSONAL CRISIS OF WORRYING ABOUT ETERNITY has been solved. The older a person gets, the more frequently he thinks about religion and eternity, or so a national magazine has written. Your age is unimportant. Your personal faith is very important. It should be directed toward Jesus Christ. When it is so directed, His promise to His disciples becomes your personal promise: "I go to prepare a place for you...that where I am, there ye may be also."

YOUR PERSONAL CRISIS OF DAILY PROBLEMS also are of interest to our God. If He has numbered the hairs of your head, and if He takes note of a little sparrow that falls to the ground, can you believe that He also is concerned with every little problem that is yours, day to day? Well, He is! When you have been born again, over 7,000 Bible promises that pertain to TIME become yours. One of them says, "Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and He shall sustain thee..."

Your greatest gift to Jesus Christ this year would be yourself! He came to earth to solve men's problems. Through His death, resurrection, ascension and session He continues to solve them for all kinds of people. Others of us have found Him to be exactly what the Bible says He is--the Bread, the Light, the Water, the Savior. Will you try Him as we have? "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

offices. Because they are located on heavily traveled streets and highways, the appearance of businesses is particularly important to a community's environment, it was pointed out in a slide presentation presented to the group.

The commendations for 1970 were presented by Mrs. Marjorie Kauer, district chairman of the Business for Beauty program of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

The program was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce and Industry's Community Development Committee, with Mrs. Lois Bean as chairman.

Clubwomen present at the luncheon included Mrs. Philip Carpenter, president, TFWC; Mrs. Elizabeth Herrington, Burkburnett Study Club; Mrs. E.C. Mallott, Mrs. Ralph White and Mrs. John Brookman, Current Literature Club; Mrs. T.M. Cornelius, Forum Study Club; Mrs. R.F. McCandless and Mrs. C.J. Lippard, Junior University Study Club; and Mrs. E.R. Burns, Mrs. Joy Sessums and Mrs. A.R. Banstine, University Study Club.

Tom Noel, owner of Farmers Feed and Supply, was recognized as a new member of the Chamber.

Other items on the agenda included an announcement of the directors meeting December 14 and the urging of the purchasing of banquet tickets.

Only 500 banquet tickets are available on a first come-first served basis. There will be no complimentary tickets given this year, the chamber announced. All interested in attending the banquet and seeing and hearing Miss America are urged to buy a ticket promptly.

The Bulldogs have been looking good thus far, according to the coach. They played well at Pampa last weekend and came out with a fourth place in that tournament. They played the tough Jacksboro Tigers Tuesday night and came out with an impressive 70-65 win. "We'll be in there fighting all the way. We have as good a chance at coming out with the first place trophy as does anyone," stated coach Owen, referring to the upcoming tournament.

Admission for the tournament will be 50¢ for children and $1 for adults.

The Bulldogs will travel to Notre Dame next Tuesday night to try to defeat their as yet undefeated team.

BUYS FIRST TICKETS--Clark Grasham, left, bought the first tickets to the upcoming Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce Banquet. Guest speaker for the January 2 banquet will be Miss Phyllis George, MISS AMERICA 1971. Jerry McClure, right, incoming president of the chamber, stated that tickets may be purchased at the First National Bank, The First Savings and Loan Ass'n, The Burkburnett Bank, Texas Electric, or the Chamber of Commerce office.

STAND UP FOR P.O.W.s

"Some people in the United States stand up for some things, and some stand up for others. But there are tens of millions of people in this country who don't stand anywhere." This was pointed out by Major DeVries as he spoke to the Burkburnett Rotary Club last Tuesday about the prisoners of war and the missing in action.

He explained that the Geneva Convention provides for the immediate release of sick and injured prisoners, free exchange of mail between prisoners and their families, immediate identification of all prisoners, transmission of that information to the nation concerned, and for the inspection of prisoner of war camps by impartial observers. In 1949, both South Vietnam and North Vietnam agreed to and signed the document. Since that time North Vietnam has not abided by it; they have broken their agreement, for the American prisoners of war have not been granted any of the rights provided by the convention.

In addition to this, some of them have been missing or captured for six years and many others for as long as four years, which is longer than any man was held prisoner in all of World War II.

The treatment in the prisons is deplorable. One of the nine prisoners who so far have been released has related: "They are basically willing to do only what is necessary to keep us alive. . ." He also told about "long solitary confinement, forced statements, living in a cage for three years, being put in straps and hung from the ceiling... and existing entirely on pumpkin soup and pig fat."

These captives, which include 102 Texans from 44 Texas towns and cities, need the help of Americans. Two of the things that can be done are: 1) writing to Congressional candidates and office holders asking them to state publicly where they stand on the prisoner of war issue, and 2) writing letters voicing concern for our captured and missing servicemen with emphasis on the violation of the Geneva convention. It is also better if the letter is handwritten, and original.

Major DeVries pointed out that "evidence indicates that our primary hope for our prisoners is to secure world opinion against North Vietnam's prisoner policy--against their disregard for humanity." Since the American public has become more and more concerned during the past year, more than 1400 letters have been received from prisoners, as opposed to the 73 letters received by the end of 1967.

It is believed that the concern of Americans will lead to more humane treatment of our prisoners, the disclosure of the names of all the prisoners held in North Vietnam, Laos, and South Vietnam, the immediate release of sick and wounded prisoners, and, eventually, to the release of them all.

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE

UP, UP & AWAY

Eddie Laxson

Many are aware of what habits will do for an individual. That is the reason behind a Ft. Sill, Okla., colonel warning me not to try learning to fly a helicopter after flying conventional airplanes for several thousand hours.

If you don't believe habit will come to the front in spite of all you can do ask some person, who has placed a wrist watch in the shop for repair what time it is, and watch how he holds up his arm to see the time on his watch. Watch a person who has driven a car with the gear shift on the floor try to shift a car with the control on the steering wheel column—he will feel around in the air out in space where the gear shift lever has always been—to them.

Until comparatively recent years all airplanes—that knowing anything about—had the ailerons, rudder and elevators controlled by separate actions by the pilot. The earlier planes did not have the nose wheel but had a skid or a tailwheel. A plane so constructed is known as a conventional type airplane. A pilot's ability to use the right amount of rudder pressure and the correct amount of pressure on the aileron controls at the same time is still judged by CAA flight inspectors to determine if the pilot has good coordination.

Such is not the case when one flies a non-conventional plane-like the Eroucpe that has the aileron and rudder controls tied together so that coordination between the two sets of controls is an automatic function. No need for rudder pedals, and that is what I am about to tell you about. The force of habit got me into a peck of trouble at the Wichita Valley airport (then Gilchrist Airport) in 1950 or 1949.

NOTE—It is now possible to purchase an Eroucpe designed with a control that permits a pilot to disengage the synchronized controls.

The Eroucpe I was test flying after doing some mechanical work on the engine did not have rudder pedals. I was not used to flying the Eroucpe and had to land in a cross wind—which is no trouble for an experienced Eroucpe pilot (I learned later).

The plane started to ground loop to the left. I should have pushed the control wheel forward and turned the wheel to the right to offset the ground looping, but I had been used to giving right rudder and opening the throttle to stop a ground loop to the left. Adding right brake pressure, in such a tight, helps stop a ground loop.

The Eroucpe was only one brake control (like a car). When the plane started to the left I automatically gave it right rudder, opened the throttle, and tried to apply the right brake.

In my excitement I had my right foot on the brake thinking it was the right rudder (no doubt). I had the wheel back keeping the nose up as in a conventional plane landing. The more the plane started around to the left, the more pressure I put on the brake and opened the throttle more. It so happened the left brake was set tighter than the right, which added to the left ground loop.

When I came to my senses and did what I should have done in the first place to stop the left turn, the entire west side of the field had the appearance of a bad western Texas dust storm. The right landing gear must have been exceptionally strong to stand all the punishment it took.

Student pilots, take my advice and get checked out on everything that is strange to you—it pays dividends.

Contracts Awarded By SAFB To Four Wichita Falls Firms

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Four contracts totaling $66,763 have been let by the Procurement Office at Sheppard Air Force Base to four firms in Wichita Falls in recent weeks, according to Capt. Robert M. Kuhnert, procurement division chief.

Webb Landscape Company received one to install an underground sprinkler system at the airmen's mess for the low bid of $3,319; J.K. Richardson Company was awarded the contract of maintaining and painting the exterior of government quarters in Wherry Housing, for its bid of $34,500.

Joe Adair Electric Company, with a low bid of $4,995 received the contract to repair electrical system in the base laundry. Texoma Construction and Engineering Inc. was awarded the contract for altering a portion of building 2001 to provide training facilities for a carpeting specialist course. The work consists of installing electrical outlets, switches and a sawdust collection system. The low bid was $23,949.

Robert G. Williams Assumes Duties As Commander Of S.T.T. Center

COL. ROBERT G. WILLIAMS

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Col. Robert G. Williams assumed duties as vice commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center Tuesday, Dec. 1, following the retirement of Col. Harold F. Layhee, who had served in that position since August 1968.

Colonel Williams, who has been assistant vice commander, came to Sheppard in early July, 1970 from Kadana AB, Okinawa. At Kadana the colonel was vice commander of the 313th Air Division for two and one-half years, from January 1968 to July 1970. He spent 1967 in the Republic of Vietnam commanding the Air Force's largest tactical wing—the seven squadron 460th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing at Tan Son Nhut AB.

He won the Silver Star and 16 other decorations for leading his RF-4C Phantom Jet equipped wing on 200 unarmed tactical reconnaissance missions, 48 of them over North Vietnam. The Silver Star, the nation's third highest decoration for valor, was awarded to him for flying "over one of the most hazardous target areas in North Vietnam and considered a lethal trap by intelligence sources," according to the citation.

Colonel Williams, who was born June 14, 1920, in Bristow, Okla., now calls McAllen, Tex., home. He has been in the tactical air reconnaissance field for most of his 29 years in uniform.

In addition to the Silver Star, Colonel Williams' decorations include Legion of Merit with an Oak Leaf Cluster, Distinguished Flying Cross, 13 Air Medals and the Republic of Vietnam Distinguished Service Order.

With him here are his wife, the former Miss Jane L. Wellman of Oklahoma City; a son, Wade E., and daughters, Mary and Nancy. Another son, Charles E., a 4-time-wounded Vietnam Marine veteran and winner of the Silver Star, is a student at Midwestern University. The other member of the family is a son, Robert W., who is a lieutenant in the United States Army military intelligence branch in the Continental United States.

The Williams family resides at 229 Jupiter Street at Sheppard Air Force Base.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--"This is the greatest thing that has happened to my family—I am very grateful to all of you," stated Sylvester McCullough at the dedication of the 1,000-man dormitory as McCullough Hall at Sheppard Air Force Base Friday, Dec. 4.

The ultra-modern dormitory, which houses students of the 3794th and 3796th Student Squadrons of the Medical Services School, was named McCullough Hall in memory of his only son, the late Tsgt. Sylvester McCullough.

Sergeant McCullough was serving as an aeromedical with the 903rd Aeromedical Evacuation Squadron at Phy Cat Air Base, Republic of Vietnam, at the time of his death. He was assistant noncommissioned officer in charge of in-flight medical care with the squadron.

At the dedication ceremonies, held Friday noon in front of the building, the widow, assisted by Maj. Gen. Jerry D. Page, commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, unveiled the name of the hall from above the doorway to the three-story building.

The 761st Air Force Band at Sheppard provided music for the occasion.

General Page, in his dedicatory remarks, recognized the contributions made to the Air Force by Sergeant McCullough.

A plaque on the front of the building states "In memory of Sylvester McCullough, Technical Sergeant, USAF, 1953 to 1968, Medical Service technician."

It further stated, "He gave his life so that others may continue to cherish the privilege of freedom."

From Tacoma Park, Md., Mr. McCullough spoke for his daughter-in-law and grandchildren when he expressed appreciation to the Air Force for memorializing this building in honor of his son.

"I don't think anything else could be done any greater than this," he stated.

Another special guest at the ceremony was Mrs. McCullough's son, Sylvester III, a 13-year-old student, who has aspirations of becoming a doctor.

Post Office Receives Inquiries On PARCELS FOR POW's

Recent news stories concerning parcels for prisoners on North Vietnam resulted from a news release from Hanoi on that subject. The news media have become interested in this matter, and several inquiries in the field have been relayed to the Post Office Department. So that the Department and Regional Officials might speak with one voice, the Director of News Service of the Post Office Dept. provides the below information on which replies to the press may be based:

1. There is no parcel post service with North Vietnam. They accept only letter mail from the United States. Our regulations for not accepting parcels to North Vietnam are based on the fact that there is no parcel post agreement between the U.S. and North Vietnam.

2. As an exception, North Vietnam authorities have allowed packages to be mailed to U.S. prisoners detained in North Vietnam. The first occasion was during the Christmas season of 1968. In July and December 1969, exceptions were again made. In January of 1970, Hanoi stated that a continuing bi-monthly program could proceed. We are still forwarding parcels in line with that bi-monthly program.

3. The recent news release from Hanoi changes one thing only in the parcel program--the weight of a parcel for the Christmas 1970 and New Years 1971 period. The weight of this parcel may not exceed eleven pounds. The weight limit on packages sent previously and those which will be sent after the holiday season is over is 6 1/2 lbs.

4. In all cases, Hanoi has stated that parcels are permitted to be sent only by the families of the prisoners. In such case, Hanoi has restricted the mailings to one parcel per family either for a particular occasion or, as presently observed, during a definite time period.

Brownie Troop 40 invested one girl this week. They made gifts of their fathers and fathers and worked on a skit to be given at the Christmas party to be given by the Cadette troop. They also practiced a skit to be performed at the party on Dec. 20. The girls planned menus for a needy family and drew food items to be contributed to the family at Christmas time. A Brownie record has been purchased with funds received from the calendar sale.

Brownie Troop 52 made gifts for their mothers and fathers and worked on a skit to be given at the Christmas party Dec. 20. They also made menus for a needy family and drew food items for each girl to bring. The troop has a new assistant, Mrs. Jack Avant.

Jr. Troop 59 is working on two service projects; food for a needy family and "ditty bags" for Girls' Town.

mail to North Vietnam has always been accepted and moves normally through postal channels, i.e. west to the coast, Hong Kong, China, Hanoi.

5. The Department of Defense makes the decision which member of the prisoner's family has the right to mail a parcel. The designated next of kin than receive authorization cards from the Postmaster General. Only holders of such cards may mail parcels to North Vietnam.

Shrub Excellent Gift For A Friend Who Has Everything

Are you still wondering about a Christmas gift for a friend who has everything? Consider a tree or shrub for the garden, or a houseplant, recommends Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist at Texas A&M University.

New homeowners would especially welcome a tree or shrub gift. Select a plant that can be used in the home landscape design. It should also be native or adapted to the area. Some of the ornamental plants that would make a good gift include the many varieties of holly, deodar cedar, pyracantha, eleagnus, magnolia and pine, Janne says. The local nurseryman or florist can help you in the final selection.

If you are considering a house plant gift, Janne suggests such foliage plants as philodendron, English ivy, Christmas cactus, or even a potted azalea or camellia. Other plants popular for indoor landscaping, particularly during the holiday season, are poinsettia, Jerusalem cherry, Christmas pepper and chrysanthemum.

You can easily make an attractive package from a house plant or tree. Just wrap the base of the plant with Christmas paper and tie with a bright colored bow.

While you are plant shopping, Janne adds you may want to select a living Christmas present for your own family. A balled and burlapped, or container grown evergreen can be used as the family Christmas tree. If care is taken to prevent the ball of soil from drying out, it can be placed in the home landscape after the holiday season.

Dec. 10 - Projection of Traffic Deaths, Injuries during 1970's

Nobody knows who it will be—a child, the mother or the father—but during the 1970's in Texas, at least one out of every one and one-half families will see one of their own dead or injured in a traffic accident.

The Insurance Information Institute said today that, on the basis of present trends, one out of every 78 Texas families, on the average, will have an immediate family member die in traffic before 1980. One out of every 1.6 families will have a parent or child injured in traffic during the same decade.

The Institute said the calculations are projections of the death and injury rate for the next years, based on what has happened during the past ten years. Also noted was an apparent reduction in traffic deaths and injuries in 1970 and the Institute expressed the hope that this trend will continue.

So they will have help in footing the bill for the estimated 3,055,000 fatal and injury accidents over the ten years, Texans will pay at least $10.8 billion for various kinds of automobile insurance. This amount probably will go higher because the projection was based only on the increase in accidents and injuries, with no allowance for inflation, a factor too uncertain to predict.

While safety advances in the engineering of cars and highways may slow down the growing number of accidents, injuries and deaths, the increased number of people and cars in Texas traffic may offset any such benefit.

One other factor should be remembered, the Institute said. The accident that doesn't happen kills no one, injures nobody and costs nothing.

Next year's cotton yields can be influenced by soil management and weed control practices during the upcoming winter months. Timely land preparation should be the first step. Then the use of mechanical or chemical methods to keep weeds under control until planting time is suggested.

Some men keep dairy cows, while others use their cowmanship to let the cows keep them. It's easy to identify, for he's the usually successful dairyman with an interest and concern for his cattle who seldom overlooks the little things that could disrupt his business operations and profits.

With the arrival of colder weather, proper feeding of cows and calves takes on more importance. The protection efficiency and comfort of a mature cow is not reduced by cold weather, provided she is full of good forage, has a dry coat and is exposed to dry still air. These conditions are often hard to come by in this part of the state.

The temperature at a given level of feed intake where no additional feed is necessary to maintain body temperature is called the critical temperature. It is slightly above the temperature at which cattle begin to shiver.

A cow on a fasting diet or without any feed will reach the critical temperature at about 55 degrees F. A maintenance ration will lower the critical temperature to about 23 degrees F.

Cattle can keep warm and survive cold weather if they consume sufficient amounts of forage. Low-quality roughages high in fiber serve as effective feeds during storms because of the high heat production that results from the digestive process.

It's time to begin thinking about fertilizer needs for 1971 and logically a soil test should be the beginning for making the determination on what plant food or foods are needed.

An expression of the soil fertility level is not a simple single index, since any combination of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium levels can exist. Soil tests should be used to determine the level of major plant nutrients, and fertilization practices for the soil and crop should be adjusted in accordance with existing soil fertility levels.

Chances for making high and profitable yields depend upon many factors, including soil fertility, cultural practices, management and climate, and all should get attention when cropping plans are being made.

Moisture can be the major limiting factor in many areas. Available moisture already in the soil, that to be supplied by irrigation, and the estimated rainfall should get careful attention. However, where moisture and fertility are the limiting factors, fertilization is still usually profitable. Adequate fertilization aids in the development of a better root system which helps the plant make more efficient use of the available moisture.

DO NOT BLAME THE FARMER--It's twice as costly to market farm products as to produce the food in the first place, surprising though this may seem. When they left the farm, food raw materials produced by U.S. farmers in 1969 were worth $32 billion. By the time they reached the consumer, their cost had soared to $96 billion.

ALERT ON GRASS FIRES--The dry and windy weather has created conditions very favorable for grass fires. Hunters are urged to be doubly careful with fires while in the field.

Special Lighting Conveys Christmas Message In Homes

Special lighting has become an important way of conveying Christmas messages in many homes. For a bright and safe holiday season, follow tips for safer, easier installation and maintenance of lighting decorations, advises Jan Slabaugh, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist.

Before hanging Christmas lights, examine the strings carefully, replacing those that have frayed wires or damaged sockets. Next check the bulbs, replacing old ones with new in places that may be difficult to reach once the strings are positioned.

Protect spots where outdoor plugs and connectors join with wrappings of plastic film. Seal the ends with plastic tape.

For Christmas lights to be used outdoors, sockets must be waterproof and bulbs should be made of glass that is resistant to sudden temperature change, in case of rain or snow. Bulbs for outdoor strings are larger than indoor bulbs.

For hanging outdoor decorations, use brass cup hooks. Clothesline hooks may be used to support heavier displays. Always use insulated staples to fasten electrical cord or string sets to wooden or cardboard surfaces. Keep the string set wire or lamp from rubbing against eaves by taping the string to brass cup hooks fastened every 12 to 18 inches along the path of the wire.

Corrugated cardboard may be used to protect doors and walls from being scratched by decorations.

Before decorating the indoor Christmas tree, stand it in a pail of water for a few days before setting it up, then use a tree holder with a water container. Examine the branches daily, and if there are dried needles near or around the lights, move the lights to another position. Never leave lights burning for extended periods of time.

Cookies - easy to make, easy to eat and an all time favorite of children.

This makes them a good catalyst for your young miss's cooking skills since a new cook must start out by making something she wants to make and likes to eat.

To begin your new cook right, give her or him the idea that cooking is not all work. Cookies are a good starter. Sharing what she makes is a big motivation. She may wish to bake cookies for Christmas for Dad, Grandmother, her favorite teacher, or even Santa Claus.

Practice first with a mix. For pre-school children the draw-out process of mixing "from scratch" is too long. It does not hold their attention but they love to help decorate. A pre-schooler won't want to give his cookies away, either. He is more self-oriented at this age; he wants to eat them himself.

Miss Wirges suggests school aged youngsters begin with simple recipes such as sugar cookies, brownies or chocolate chip cookies. They may have better luck with bar cookies.

No-bake Peanut Butter-Raisin Chews have been developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture specialists to combine two nourishing, plentiful foods.

Peanut Butter-Raisin Chews

- 1 cup Peanut Butter
- 1 cup Corn Syrup
- 1 cup Nonfat Dry Milk
- 1 cup Powdered Sugar
- 1 cup Raisins

Mix peanut butter, corn syrup, nonfat dry milk, and powdered sugar. Add raisins and mix well. Press out 1/2 inch thick in an 8 x 8 pan. Cut into squares. Chill before serving. Makes 25 1-1/2 inch squares.

Candy Bar Cookies

- 1 cup Brown Sugar
- 1/2 cup Light Corn Syrup
- 1 tsp. Salt
- 1/2 cup Peanut Butter
- 1/2 cup Soft Butter
- 3 tsp. Vanilla
- 4 cups raw quick-cooking rolled oats
- 1 cup Semi-sweet Chocolate pieces

1. Start heating the oven to 350 degrees F. Grease a 13 x 9 x 2 inch pan with unsalted shortening or salad oil.

2. With a spoon or electric mixer on medium speed, mix the brown sugar and butter in a large bowl until light and fluffy. Add the corn syrup, vanilla, salt and rolled oats and beat on low speed to mix ingredients well.

3. Spread the mixture evenly in the greased pan with the back of a spoon or spatula. Bake on the rack in the center of the oven 15 minutes.

4. While the mixture bakes, mix the peanut butter and chocolate in a small bowl.

5. Remove the pan from the oven and at once spread the peanut butter-chocolate mixture evenly over the top to cover until the heat melts the chocolate. When cool, cut into 27 bars and remove from the pan with a spatula.

These cookies taste like candy bars and are a favorite with youngsters.

It is better to eat your breakfast than to drink it. While the fast breakfast drinks cut the time you spend in the kitchen in the morning, they add dollars to your food bill.

A recent Extension Service survey shows you can pay up to 75% more for the fast breakfast.

A breakfast consisting of a glass of skim milk, a bowl of corn flakes, a half glass of orange juice, toast, margarine and a medium-size egg, adds up to 16 cents.

The cost of instant breakfast mixed with a glass of skim milk costs the same for one brand, and ranges up to 29¢ for others.

Coffey Suggests Coffee For Holiday Party Giving

Everyone aims to be a swinger during the festive days ahead, says Wm. M. Coffey, manager of the American Automobile Association, Texas Division, and who, he asks, would what to cop out on an idea like that?

Moreover, Coffey notes that because 1970 will never go down in history for its overwhelmingly cheerful public events, winding up this year on a note of lively abandon is an especially appealing idea.

The key figure in all of this is the person who is planning a Yuletide celebration. He wants to make certain he creates an atmosphere in which his friends can completely relax and enjoy themselves.

Rarely, for instance, would he toy with the idea of cutting down on his party budget by not serving alcohol. He wants to be generous--even lavish--and he would never disappoint guests who enjoy these beverages.

But if today's party planner reflects for a moment, he might consider that one of the events that made 1970 a less than perfect year was the high rate of fatal traffic accidents. By the end of last August, the figure was 34,123.

The AAA points out that since alcohol is involved in more than half of the nation's annual toll of motor vehicle fatalities, there is little doubt that the holiday host has an important responsibility to his guests, especially those who will be driving home.

According to Coffey, there's a handy way for him to carry out this responsibility--a simple "soft sell" approach that will encourage moderate drinking among his guests and still not label him a kill-joy on his own home ground. Instead, it will earn him the name of "First a Friend--Then a Host."

The six basic guidelines to this approach are equally uncomplicated. And they prove that, with a minimum of planning, today's party host can be secure in the knowledge that all his guests will wind up the evening in proper condition to drive home. Here are the pointers that Mr. Coffey recommends:

1. Prove your lavishness as a host with a tempting display of food--not with liquor. Dishes, preferably rich and starchy, should be available throughout the evening.

2. Don't serve drinks yourself. Have a self-service bar where guests can mix their own. If they do, they're likely to make them less potent--and less often.

3. Include a variety of soft drinks and mild alcoholic beverages along with the "hard stuff."

4. Plan an organized game that will draw everyone's interest towards the action and away from the bar.

5. Substitute coffee for liquor about an hour before the party ends. Contrary to popular belief, coffee has no sobering effect, but it's a good substitute for "one for the road."

6. If a guest has over-imbibed, ask someone else to take him home, call a taxi, or arrange for him to stay the night.

New Pork Quality Due To Selection Program

The type of pork that is produced and eaten today has 22 percent more protein than formerly, 57 percent less fat and 36 percent fewer calories.

This is due to the selection program initiated during the middle 1950's by pork producers, Dr. William B. Thomas, Extension swine specialist, notes, adding that they had hoped that this would eventually lead to the high quality pork products that are now available to the consumer.

"Up until the mid-50's, little had been done by producers to breed pigs that had a maximum amount of lean meat and minimum fat," he explained. "You see, pigs inherit to a degree their muscling and fat from their parents, the boar and sow."

"Pork producers, by selecting superior breeding stock--boars and gilts with a minimum amount of fat and maximum lean, have been able to improve the quality of pork available at their local meat market."

An average serving of cooked pork (3-1/2 ounces) will provide an adult male with 40 percent of his daily protein needs, 69 percent of his thiamine (Vitamin B1) requirement, sufficient amounts of other vitamins and minerals, especially iron, and less than eight percent of his daily calorie intake. These figures are based on the daily allowance of nutrients recommended by the National Research Council.

"There is a greater supply of high quality pork today than ever before," Dr. Thomas said.

Economic Buys For The Holiday Season

Economical buys for the holiday season can be found in all areas of the market, from fruits and vegetables to meats, reports Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Large supplies of ruby red and golden yellow apples, oranges, tangerines, and tangelos are now available. Other good buys include pineapples, Emperor and Kaiser grapes and persimmons and pomegranates. To make the most of your money, buy bags or small fruit sizes.

Dried fruits are also good holiday buys. They are good mixers plus they are nutritional. Raisins and prunes are the most popular dried fruits, followed by dates, figs, apples, apricots, pears, peaches and currants.

Most plentiful and reasonable of the fresh vegetables are potatoes, carrots, yellow onions and celery. Sweet potatoes and cabbage are also reasonable.

Fryers continue in good supply in most stores. Whole and cut-up birds and fryer parts are marked with attractive prices, as well as roasting hens.

Pork is featured frequently in local markets. Look for specials on loin cuts, shoulder roasts and a variety of hams.

Texas A&M Holds Third Annual Texas Conference Dec.

Environment will receive special emphasis during Texas A&M's third annual Texas Conference on Insect, Plant Disease, Weed and Brush Control, Dec. 15-17.

Program Chairman Dr. Robert H. Haas of the A&M Range Science Department estimates that 200 farmers, ranchers, researchers, aerial applicators and pesticide industry representatives will attend the discussions.

He said the conference will have two general sessions. The first deals with pesticides and the environment, and starts at 10 a.m. Tuesday with an address of welcome by Dr. H.C. Kunkel, dean of the A&M College of Agriculture.

Keynote speaker is Dr. Emil M. Mrak, Chancellor Emeritus of the University of California at Davis. His talk is titled "Pesticides: Agricultural Production and Environmental Quality."

Mrak also is chairman of the Commission on Pesticides and Their Relationship to Environmental Health for the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The second general session begins at 8:40 a.m. Wednesday and will cover chemical application techniques and implications. Specific topics include aerial application, slow evaporating herbicide carriers, uniform spray droplets, ground spraying equipment, and bird problems and human values.

In between and after the general sessions will be concurrent meetings to discuss agronomic weed control, cotton insect control, brush control, plant diseases, and data on the latest insect research.

The overall conference will be in the Memorial Student Center Ballroom.

Haas said that special pre-conference activities have been planned for Monday. One is a lecture, "Pesticides In The Modern World," by Mrak at 7:30 p.m. in the MSC Ballroom. The other is a golf tournament at 1 p.m. for conference participants.

In addition to A&M University, conference sponsors are the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS

Victory is a wonderful thing. Our boys did well Tuesday in the game against Jacksboro. They exhibited excellent teamwork and coordination. I wish I could say the same for the fans. I admit it was a week night and our first home game, but these are no excuses for the lack of spectators at Tuesday's game. The fans that did attend the game were quite spirited but were lacking in numbers. The entire "fan" section of Burk was composed of less than a hundred on either side of the gym, if you do not include the Pep Squad and Band. This is not good. We should support our team with all the vigor we had for the football team. I know I repeat myself about the football team, but I've come to the conclusion that only football is the sport of Burk Burnett High School. This is most definitely not true. Our basketball, baseball, and tennis coaches will certainly back that statement. We have a tendency to slack off in enthusiasm. The team needs our support. The Bulldogs will be hosting the Burk Burnett Tournament this weekend. The tournament will last for three days. A number of area teams will participate in this contest. I think it isn't asking too much of the fans of Burk to at least attend one of the games. Basketball is a different kind of sport from football, certainly, but it still takes team work, experienced coaches, and spirit. No team can be expected to perform without spirit. Coach Owen has used the word hustle to describe the team's drive. Can't we the fans adopt the same kind of policy? It does prove impossible at times to attend the numerous games both teams play each week, but attendance is not the only type of support. The presence of spirited fans and spectators outside the confines of the high school gym can be considered equally important. If you cannot attend a game, at least try to support the team during the week. Resist the temptation to criticize when they do poorly and become negative toward them. If a community has real spirit for its high school team, it will be constant no matter what type of team it is. If it's only a pseudo-spirit, then we're hurting ourselves as well as the team. We must be genuine.

Bulldogs Ease Fourth In Pampa Basketball Tourney By Jacksboro Tigers, 2 Games

The Burk Burnett Bulldogs put it all together and took two victories over the Jacksboro Tigers there Tuesday, Dec. 1, and at home on the 8th. The score for the first game against Jacksboro was a narrow 62-61 victory for Burk. The key shot of the game was a free-throw by Rodney Roberts. Rebounds by Steve Cremeens also played an important part in the win. The Bulldogs took on the Tigers again on Tuesday, Dec. 8, in the Burk High Gym. The final score was tilted slightly in Burk's favor as the buzzer sounded with 70-65 showing on the scoreboard. Steve Cremeens and Larry VanLoh were the high scorers in the context, making 22 and 16 points respectively. The B team also took an impressive 55-33 win over Jacksboro.

Bulldogs Place Fourth In Pampa Basketball Tourney

The Burk Burnett High School Basketball team placed fourth in the Pampa Tournament last weekend. The tournament was attended by a total of ten teams. Burk started its series of three games with a 67 to 49 victory over the fightin' nine of Perryton. The first half of the game was rather uneventful for both teams although Perryton took a 32-25 lead at the half. Burk returned to the floor fired up for action. In the second half, Burk had an impressive 74% average in its attempts for points. This was the key factor as the game progressed. Poor rebounding and 15 turnovers combined to defeat Burk Burnett under the hands of the host team of Pampa. Tall players on the side of Pampa proved the downfall of the team. The final score was 73 to 58. The team next met the crew of Hereford. "This was the worst game of the series for Burk," Coach Owen remarked later. He stated that free throws were the key factor in the loss to Hereford.

Burkburnett High School To Be Continued As An Accredited School

Burkburnett High School of Burkburnett has been continued as an accredited school by the Commission on Secondary Schools of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The action was taken at the annual meeting of the Association held Nov. 29-Dec. 2, 1970, in Atlanta, Georgia, and was announced by Principal Dan Schaffner and I. C. Evans, superintendent of the school.

Membership in the Association is official recognition that a school is committed to improvement through the accreditation process. Each member school periodically conducts a thorough self-study and is visited by teams of competent educators who help to determine the school's strengths

TEXAS 4-H'ers IN WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE

Two members of the Texas 4-H Council will attend the White House Conference on Children Dec. 13-18, according to the state 4-H Club office at Texas A&M University.

Stella "Bo" Rose of Brackettville and Randy Miller of Edinburg were invited by President Nixon to attend the meeting in Washington, D.C. The conference is the first of a pair with the second dealing with the problems of youth scheduled for June of 1971. The purpose of these meetings, held every ten years, is to focus attention on the problems of young people and to develop policies and programs to deal with these problems.

Miller, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Miller of Edinburg and is presently Chairman of the Texas 4-H Council which guides the 75,000 member 4-H organization in Texas. He attended the 1969 National 4-H Congress as winner in the state leadership competition; and is currently a freshman studying animal science at Texas A&I University at Kingsville.

Miss Rose is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rose of Brackettville and is Vice-Chairman of the State 4-H Council. The 18-year-old miss is a freshman at Texas Woman's University, where she is studying elementary education.

The pair will be accompanied by Dr. Edward Schlutt, associate state 4-H Club leader from College Station, and Bill Parker, adult 4-H leader from Comanche County.

Fat Stock Show Anticipate Fine Livestock

Officials of the 75th Diamond Anniversary Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, Jan. 29 through Feb. 7, 1971, in Fort Worth, anticipate an exceptionally fine livestock show as the final deadline draws near.

Stock Show President-Manager W.R. Watt, in reminding exhibitors of the deadline dates, said, "Based on the entry cards I've seen, this year's show will have more than 11,000 head of livestock. We're happy, too, at the growing number of entries by young people."

Cattle entries include more than 1,000 head of top commercial Hereford heifers consigned to a special show-sell auction. "These heifers represent the best from Hereford breeders in the Southwest," Watt said. "The sale will be an excellent opportunity for farmers and ranchers to pick up top quality replacement heifers for their herds."

Deadline for entries in the cattle, horses, sheep and swine contests is Dec. 15, 1970. Poultry, rabbit and pigeon exhibitors have until Jan. 15, 1971, to submit entries.

Entry cards and premium lists are available by writing Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101.

and indicate areas needing improvement. Only those schools which voluntarily enter into these self-improvement programs and commit themselves to compliance with accepted educational standards are admitted into membership.

"The regional accreditation program has been in operation for 75 years and has demonstrated, by concrete educational achievements, that the process is of value to students, teachers, parents, and communities throughout the South," according to Charles Mathews, Chairman, and H.E. Phillips, Executive Secretary of the Texas State Committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. It serves eleven states: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia. In addition, it has the responsibility for accrediting American schools in Latin America.

Immediate Mailing Of Christmas Cards Urged

William L. Crawford, Director Dallas Postal Region, last Thursday urged immediate mailing of all Christmas cards, parcels and other holiday mail as a safeguard in the event of a national railroad strike.

Mr. Crawford, who directs the management operations of 2,133 post offices in Texas and Louisiana, said he had been advised today by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount to step up Christmas mailing.

"Early mailing of Christmas cards, letters and parcels,"

Mr. Crawford said, "will give customers added assurance of delivery in time for the holidays."

The nationwide announcement to accelerate Christmas mailing came from the Postmaster General in view of a pending nationwide rail strike tentatively scheduled to begin shortly after midnight, Wednesday, December 10.

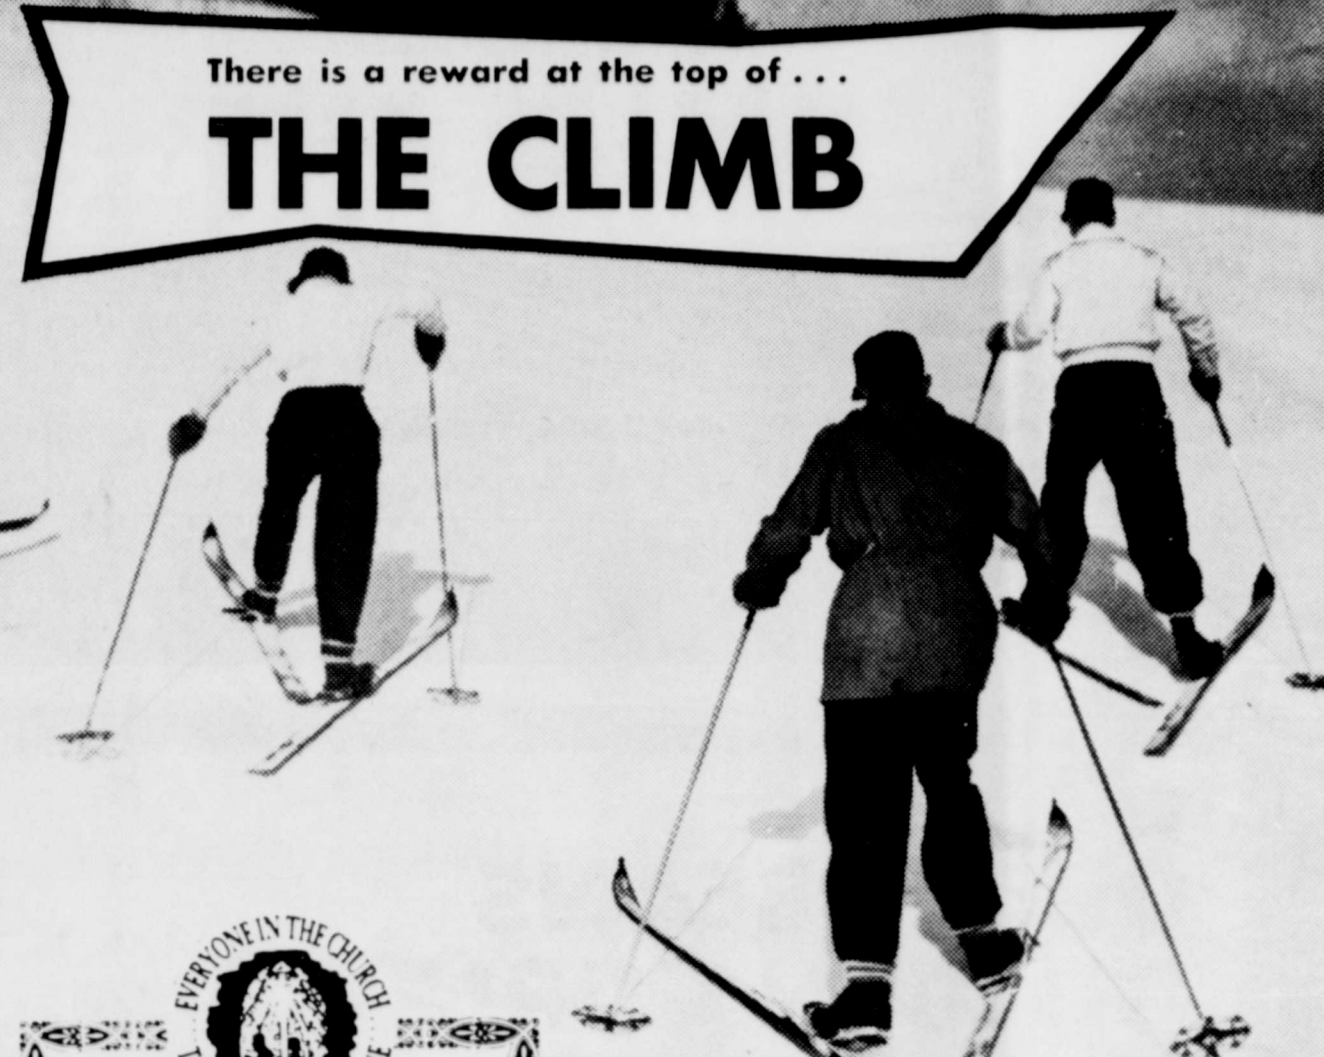

"During that period holiday mail customarily begins climbing to its peak," Mr. Crawford advised, "and we want to help our customers get ahead of this situation if it should develop."

"We will utilize every alternative mode of transportation available," he said, "to move as much mail as possible. However, we would be remiss if we did not strongly urge postal customers to dispose of out-of-town Christmas cards and packages immediately to insure that the rail strike--if one occurs--does not prevent delivery by Christmas Day."

There is a reward at the top of . . .

THE CLIMB

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Even when you know the proper way to climb with skis and the way up becomes easier, it still exerts you. However, the way is made even less of an effort when you think of the rewarding ride down.

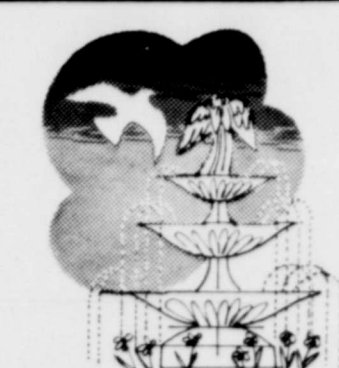

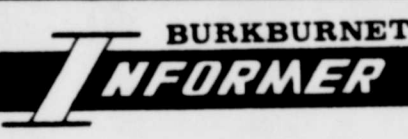

The reward of an eternal life with God is easier still because it is a gift.

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Attend church . . . learn more of this wonderful gift.

PORK IS A GOOD BUY--Pork is plentiful and is a good meat buy, reports W.B. Thomas, Extension swine specialist. Due to breeding programs started in the mid-1950's, producers are now making available to consumers the finest quality pork ever available. Thomas says it contains 22 percent more protein, 57 percent less fat and 36 percent fewer calories. He suggests serving pork to your family and friends during the holiday season.

HOW TO BUY BEEF--To get the most from beef purchases, W.W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meats specialist, suggests that buyers use both the U.S.D.A. quality grades, which have been in use for many years, and the newer yield grades. The quality grades indicate the palatability of the meat while the yield grades indicate the yield of meat that can be used for cooking.

Bi Annual West Texas Chamber Of Commerce Meeting Held

Taxation, appropriations and redistricting will be the principal subjects discussed by legislators and West Texas businessmen on Dec. 17 and 18 meeting in the bi-annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce Pre-Legislative Conference in Odessa, according to F.V. Wallace, president of the WTCC. All members of the West Texas delegation in the Texas Legislature have been invited to the conference. Business leaders of the area will discuss the three subjects with the legislators and give them the benefit of the businessmen's thinking on the issues. Beginning with a reception and banquet on the evening of Dec. 17, featuring an outstanding West Texas businessman as speaker, the conference will convene on Friday morning, Dec. 18, in the Inn of the Golden West for a business session and luncheon. The appropriations panel will be headed by Representative W.S. Heatly, Paducah, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. Serving with him will be Rep. Richard C. Slack of Peecos, Senator J. P. Word of Meridian and Hermes Miller, staff member of the Legislative Budget Board. Robert E. Johnson, executive director of the Texas Legislative Council, will lead off the panel discussion of redistricting problems. He will be assisted in the discussion by Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and Senator Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells. At the noon luncheon, Speaker of the House G.F. (Gus) Matscher will speak on "Operations of the Committee of 100." Reuben Senterfitt, chairman of the WTCC State Affairs Committee, will preside at all business sessions. The afternoon session will handle the subject of taxation. Rep. Ben Atwell, chairman of the Taxation Committee in the House, will head the panel, assisted by Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo, Rep. James Nugent of Kerrville, Sen. W.E. Snelson of Midlan and Thomas M. Keel, executive director of the Legislative Budget Board. Question and answer sessions will be conducted following each panel discussion.

Quotes...
The District of Columbia library director says that some of Washington's branch libraries will have to be closed unless "disorder, theft and vandalism can be brought under control." He points out that "children, students and adults are not permitted to study, read or carry out research because of the disturbances created by gangs or the threats of bodily harm made by individual offenders." Can anyone possibly argue that the time has not come for firm action when crime in the nation's capital gets so bad that it isn't safe to even visit a public library? —Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa)
