Editor's Viewpoint

RON BINGHAM

Well, I've made it. I'm here for another week and we're here to put out another perfect paper. Last week's paper was perfect except for the omitted City Council meeting, omitted names, misspelled words and getting the right names under the wrong pictures.

Seriously, I wish to extend our sincere apologies to Lee A. Soper and Melvin Bailey, whose names were under the wrong pictures in the last issue.

About 5:00 this afternoon I heard the fire whistle blow. With my great extrasensory news nose and my camera, I followed the fire trucks out of Burk Burnett, down state road 240, up farm road 171, expecting to see smoke and fire any time.

About 2 miles north of Thornberry the fire truck pulled off the road, the firemen got out and looked around, but they found no fire. As it turned out the fire had been extinguished before the fire truck arrived.

A person's not reporting that the fire had been extinguished caused the firemen to continue the search for some time.

Volunteer Fire Chief Reavis Wooten urges people to turn in alarms on fires which look as though they may get out of hand, and also to call in if you should get the fire put out before the Fire Department arrives.

Wooten also commented that with the grass as dry as it is, the people of the Burk Burnett area must be taking great precautions, judging from the number of fire alarms turned in. These efforts are greatly appreciated by the Burk Burnett Volunteer Fire Department and by the city.

EVER THINK OF IT THIS WAY?

In basketball, the team that gets the ball through the hoop the most times wins the game. Therefore, it would seem impossible for a team with a shooting average of 26% to beat a team with a 40% shooting average, but it can happen. The fact is that a team with a lower average can win by taking more shots than the one with the higher average. For example:

100 shots at 26% . . . 26 goals
50 shots at 40% . . . 20 goals
All the loser in this case would have needed to win was 18 more shots, providing they maintained their average of 40%.

What is your average? Are you taking enough shots?

Burkburnett Council Sets Election Date April 6th

In the latest meeting of the Burk Burnett City Council, April 6 was set as the date for the election of three new members to the council to fill the positions being vacated at that time by Mayor F.R. McCandless, Irv Smith and A. H. Lohofener.

The city pension plan for Burk Burnett city employees was approved at the same meeting by a vote of 45-1. This retirement plan will go into effect April 1. Details are to be submitted to the council at a later date.

City manager Gary Bean told the council that his office was preparing charts on the eleven water leases owned by the city. The charts show the trend of water tables on the leases over the past five years. A total of 116 wells are now operable in these leases.

In another decision of the Council, the American Business Women's Association was granted permission to sponsor a carnival in a site adjacent to City Park and South Ave. D March 11-20.

The council also approved emergency passage of an ordinance requiring racks for on-street garbage cans. The racks must be dog-proof, wind-proof, and yet be accessible to garbage collectors.

Burk Junior Livestock Show Termed Great Success

If last year's Burk Burnett Junior Livestock Show was considered a success, then this year's would have to be termed a great success. The show has almost doubled in size from last year, with approximately 300 people in attendance. Along with many impressive trophies, over $500.00 collected from the sale of Junior Livestock Association memberships was also awarded.

The show began at 10 a.m. Saturday with the 4-H girls food show, with Mrs. Hutchison as judge.

The girls' food entries were judged on appearance, texture, tenderness and flavor. Elmer Duncan, president of the Association, and Vernon Duncan, secretary-treasurer, made the presentations.

Top honors in the livestock show were taken by Steve Kinnard, Lyn Morton and Johnny Elliot.

entries. Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Kinnard.

Lyn Morton, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morton, won the grand champion steer award with an Angus. Lyn also showed the grand champion dairy heifer, a Holstein.

The grand champion lamb award was won by Johnny Elliot.

In the high point of the show, the Showmanship trophy went to Lyn Morton.

Judging the Livestock show was Jed Dennis, while Chris Bailey was showmanship judge. Both Dennis and Bailey are F.F.A. teachers from Vernon, Texas.

Trophies and awards for the livestock show were presented by Roberta Hancock, chapter and district F.F.A. sweetheart.

New directors and officers for the Association were elected in a meeting held after the show. The new directors are Jack Aaron and Willie Morton and officers elected for the new year are: Charles Goins, president; Frank Morton, vice president; and Vernon Duncan, secretary.

Burk Students Named To M.U. Honor Roll

The citizens of Burk Burnett can be proud of their student representatives at Midwestern University, as four of the Burk students have been named honor students.

Randall C. Morine was listed on the Dean's Roll, which requires at least 15 semester hours with no grade below "A."

Students named to the University Honor Roll, which requires a minimum grade point average of 2.5 out of a 3.0 system and no grade lower than "C" out of 15 semester hours, were Robert Edgar Buehrig, Ulana Lucia Ludike and Sue Shelton Elliot.

In addition to these honor students, three Burk Burnett people -- Nancy Jane Richter, Lavern Savage Easter and Carrol Duane Jones -- were among ninety-six students who completed requirements for degrees at Midwestern University in the fall semester.

Deserving of special recognition is Lavern Savage, who was graduated summa cum laude. This is an outstanding accomplishment, as she is one of only two people among the 96 mid-term graduates to receive this honor.

Summa cum laude requires a minimum of 60 semester hours at Midwestern with a 2.75 - 3.0 grade point average. The degrees will be conferred upon these graduates by the University May 15.

Bench To Speak At All Sports Banquet

Highlighting the annual All Sports Banquet Friday evening will be special guest speaker Johnny Bench, catcher for the Cincinnati Reds.

Bench, a native of Binger, Oklahoma, is only 22 years old, but his list of accomplishments is quite impressive. He says that he had set four goals before the season began in 1970. These goals were to hit 30 homers, drive in 100 runs and bat about .285 . . . and he wanted to win the Most Valuable Player Award. Superstar Bench did all of this and more. He drew more votes than any other major league player except Hank Aaron in a nationwide ballot of fans which selected the All-Star squads. Bench hit .293 for the pennant-winning Reds, and was chosen the National League's Most Valuable Player. To top this all off, he was voted the Major League Player of the Year.

Bench's accomplishments date back to 1965, when he was named to the Oklahoma high school All-State basketball and baseball teams. In 1966 he hit .294 and 22 home runs for Peninsula in the Carolina League. During 1967 he hit .259 at Buffalo, but was so impressive behind the plate that he was named Minor League Player of the Year.

In 1968 he was named to the National League All-Star squad and was chosen the league's Rookie of the Year. Also in 1968, he hit .275 with 19 homers and 82 RBIs. Coming into 1969, he was voted to a starting spot in the All-Star game and went 2 for 3 with a home run, single, walk and a long blast, on which he was robbed of another homer. Bench finished the year with a .293 batting average, which was 15th in the league, 90 RBIs and 26 home runs.

It seems hardly possible for a player to be only 22 years old and already to have a brilliant record any other major leaguer would be proud to retire with. And he's only just begun!

The banquet, sponsored by the Burk Burnett Booster Club, begins at 7:00 p.m. in the High School Cafeteria.

Burk Leaders Attend Conference In Austin

Three leaders of the Wichita County Farm Bureau, two of them from Burk Burnett, attended the Texas Farm Bureau's Legislative Conference Jan. 20-21 in Austin, where the state farm organization's legislative goals during the 62nd Legislature were discussed.

Attending from this county were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schroeder of Burk Burnett and Gordon Parker of Iowa Park.

County presidents and chairmen and members of legislative (policy execution) committees from most of the TFB's 203 organized county units attended the two-day session at the Villa Capri Motor Hotel.

Highlights of the meeting included a banquet, tour of the Capitol and talks by legislators.

Elected state officials, state senators and representatives were special guests at the Jan. 20 banquet to hear the president of the Texas Farm Bureau, J.T. (Red) Woodson of Gober, outline the organization's legislative goals. Lieutenant-Governor Ben Barnes discussed problems confronting the current Legislature.

County Farm Bureau leaders toured the Capitol on the afternoon of Jan. 20 and met with their respective legislators in their offices in the Capitol.

State legislators on the program discussed current issues and legislative procedures. Senator Murray Watson told how a bill becomes a law. Senator Wayne Connally of Floresville and Rep. Jack Blanton of Dallas discussed taxing of agricultural land. Senator Ralph Hall of Rockwall outlined revenue needs and tax problems.

The future effects of redistricting were covered by Senator Bill Patman of Ganado. Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake talked about water problems and Senator H.J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock discussed agricultural pollution problems.

Tommy Klemcke, Austin, TFB director of state affairs, outlined major legislative issues on which Farm Bureau has policy. TFB National Affairs Director Ed McKay discussed techniques for legislative effectiveness. O.R. Long, TFB executive director, concluded the two-day session with an address -- "Let's Accept the Challenges."

TFB President Woodson's banquet address outlined some of the major areas in which Farm Bureau will be attempting to carry out policies adopted by delegates at the November state convention. These include farm chemical and feedlot pollution problems, taxes, farm labor, agricultural research, animal health, farm-to-market road funds, hauling permits and others.

Guidelines Of Life

The words printed in this space are to be non-denominational and without projection on any given congregation. However, I am certain that all will understand the nature of my article today. Our congregation will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary on Sunday, February 14. As this type of celebration comes but once to a congregation, it offers a great deal of examination of both the past and the future. As a part of this self-examination, I want to share with you some thoughts regarding the past fifty years and the future.

Charles Kettering once said: "The past is gone and static. Nothing we can do can change it. The future is before us and dynamic. Everything we do will affect it. Each day brings with it new frontiers, in our homes and in our business, if we will only recognize them. We are just at the beginning of progress in every field of human endeavor."

What more vivid description can we have of both the church and its people? Too many would want to live on the past. Some will live on their merits, bragging of what was once great, but is no longer valid. Some are afraid to look into the past, for there are unpleasant moments to behold. But the past, in the life of the church and in the life of the individual, is gone and static. To live there would be tragic.

When our future often is dimmed by fears and anxieties about the stock market and the mistrust human has toward human, it does us good to keep in mind that there are dynamic things ahead. We only need to set our feet on the right path and head in the right direction.

A young lad was once asked how far it was to the next town. "If you go the way you are headed, the town you want will be about 25,000 miles. But if you turn around, it will be only about 3 miles."

It would seem that it does us well not only to know exactly where we are going, but on what road we are taking. This is true of the church and its people.

We would invite you to attend our anniversary celebration at 3:00 on February 14 to help us set our direction and our goals.

David Stout, Minister
First Christian Church

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS

by Robert Sturges

It's always nice when you break a losing streak -- isn't it? Well, the Burkburnett Bulldogs did that very thing Friday night. And against a formidable opponent, I might add. It never ceases to amaze me how the Burk basketball team can adapt itself to the situation. The Vernon Lions pride themselves in the fact that several of their players are six feet five and taller. The king pin of the set up is the 6'9 1/2" giant called Junior Siegler. The Bulldogs have an average height of just under six feet. The tall players of opponents do prove a problem when dealing with rebounds, but the Bulldogs always seem to be able to obtain the ball at any rate. One of their methods is the steal. The methods is the steal.

The master of this tactic is the 6'9" speed demon known as Tom Hoodworth. He has been a pain in the side of many of the "treetoppers" of opposing teams. Steve Cremeens also adds in the effort for victory with his accurate shooting.

Although these names often appear in print, there are others on the team who play a vital part in Burk's battles on the gym floor.

Excellent defensive moves of such players as Randy Aaron, Greg Leonard and Rodney Roberts are assets to the game strategy. Danny Furmanek and Larry VanLoh can be noted for their control of the ball during Bulldog offensive set ups.

At the time of this writing, the Bulldogs are playing another district game at Stephenville. Hopefully, this winning spirit will continue.

By the way, speaking of winning, last week I reported that the B team of Burkburnett was defeated in their game against the Weatherford crew. I am happy to report that Burk did not lose that game, but won by a score of 82-60.

Burk Bulldogs Split Game With Vernon

The Burkburnett Bulldogs basketball teams split their games Friday evening, with one win and one loss in District 4-AAA conference play against the mighty Vernon Lions.

The varsity team had its work cut out for it as it faced the height advantage of Vernon in the early part of the game. Junior Siegler, the 6'9 1/2" giant of the Lions, posed something of a problem for the Bulldogs during the first period, but he was soon brought under control by the fierce attacks of Tom Hoodworth and Larry VanLoh.

Although the Burk team seemed hampered by their lack of height in rebounding, they made up for it in traditional Bulldog fashion -- with hustle. Superior ball control, especially in passing, proved the key factor in the 64-54 Burk win.

Steve Cremeens and Tom Hoodworth were high scorers, with 16 and 14 points, respectively.

The junior varsity game was the closest of the season as regards equally matched teams. The Burkburnett team was in a point for point struggle for the lead during the entire course of the game against Vernon. The second and third periods of the game ended with tied scores. The fourth period, the highest in scoring for both teams, saw the teams fighting constantly for the lead.

The game ended with a narrow defeat of 66-60 for the Bulldogs. David Caraway was high scorer for Burkburnett, with twenty-five points.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Parents vs. Grandparents

Jane and Eddie, a young married couple, showed almost no interest in their baby boy. Out of sheer necessity, Jane's parents took over the task of bringing him up.

But when he was three, Jane and Eddie decided they wanted him back. The grandparents refused to part with the boy, so the two couples squatted off in the courtroom to fight for custody.

"Parents outrank grandparents," argued the younger pair. But it also appeared that Jane and Eddie drank too much, worked too little, and had no home of their own. The court ruled that the boy was better off where he was, with his grandparents.

It is not rare for parents and grandparents to disagree about the custody of a child. Generally speaking, the law puts its main emphasis on what is best for the child, even at the expense of parental sensibilities.

Nevertheless, in most instances, parents are indeed favored over grandparents because they are the "natural" custodians of their own offspring. As one court put it: "The law seeks to work in harmony with nature, and to continue those ties which bind man to his own flesh."

Thus, in another case, parents regained custody of their daughter even though they had no savings, no life insurance, and only a modest income. Noting that their income at least was steady and their habits sober, the court said:

"Unless they are to be deprived for all time of the love of their child, and of the opportunity to give her their love, they should be given that chance now."

Are a child's own wishes taken into consideration? Yes, if he is mature enough to have independent views. But usually this factor is not decisive by itself.

A 15-year-old boy, transferred to his parents' home after many years with his grandmother, was unhappy about the change. He said in a court hearing that, because of squabbling between his mother and father, he wanted to move back with his grandmother.

But the court held that the boy's discontent was not enough reason to grant his request. The court said he would probably soon get used to the shift from a sheltered existence with his grandmother to the normal abrasions of family life.

New Record Set On Vehicle Deaths

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--The United States Air Force established a new record during 1970, with private motor vehicle deaths being its lowest in Air Force history.

First figures from the Inspector General's Directorate of Safety show 289 Air Force member died in private auto accidents during the year.

Much credit for the lower death rate is attributed to the Air Force traffic safety program. The program will be expanded during 1971, with some 500,000 expected to participate in the program's six courses.

Base safety campaigns such as "One Hundred and One Critical Days" and "Holidays From Danger" are also credited with lowering the traffic fatality rate.

Today, January 28, the Mike Douglas Show, televised on KAUZ-TV, Channel 6, will have a program on the Air Force safety program.

Achievement Award Presented To Gordon

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--An achievement award from the Texoma Exchange Region of the Army and Air Force Exchange Service was presented to Eurie Gordon, general manager of the Sheppard Air Force Base Exchange, in ceremonies Jan. 19.

The presentation was made by Col. S.D. Berman, Sheppard AFB commander, in the Sheppard Technical Training Center conference room.

The award was in recognition of Gordon's accomplishment as base exchange general manager from April through December, 1970.

In a letter of appreciation, L.D. Burrows, chief of the Texoma Exchange Region, Tort Worth, noted improvements in the retail, food and services areas in the Sheppard exchange under Mr. Gordon's leadership.

Gordon is a 19-year veteran in the exchange service, having begun his career with an assignment at Sasebo, Japan, in 1952. His assignments have taken him to Korea, Newfoundland, Vietnam and stations in the continental United States.

A native of New York City, Gordon served in the Army in World War II and graduated with a bachelor of science degree from New York University in 1948. He was employed in the merchandising field in California before joining the Exchange Service.

Prior to coming to Sheppard last April, he was deputy chief of operations at the Ohio Valley Area Support Center, Louisville, Ky., and prior to that he was chief of retail in all of Vietnam.

Just how many times a flyer (like myself) has to try to complete an outside loop in order to get that chicken and yellow feeling out of his system probably will never be learned, as far as I am concerned.

At my age (61), now, I can't come up with a plausible reason why I ever desired to complete an outside loop.

All the four times I have had a pilot say he could teach me to complete an outside loop have been disappointments. They, too, chickened and gave several excuses for not being able to help me.

One said the Stearman wasn't rigged right. To the layman that means the control cables were not proper lengths, or the stops that limit travel of the control surfaces, namely the elevators (in an outside loop) were not set properly. One said the engine was not putting out what it should. That I didn't buy, as the plane did good inside loops, and he never did get to the bottom of the outside loop where he would need to start using all the engine's power to bring the plane back up to the top of the loop where the plane started nosing down.

While executing an outside loop the pilot's head is on the outside of the loop all the way around the circle. Blood, due to centrifugal force, tends to cause what is known as a "red-out condition." Too much blood goes to the brain. In an inside loop the same force tends to drain the blood from the brain, causing the pilot to "black out."

To this day, I have yet to see written information on how to successfully execute an outside loop. Maybe if I could read how I could have a better chance, but I'm sure all the reading I could do wouldn't erase that yellow streak that shows up before I get through the first 90 degrees of an outside loop.

In 1946 civilians were buying war surplus planes and getting them licensed for civilian flying. A man at Clinton, Okla., went over to Burns Flat AFB and paid $200 for an N3N (twin wing job, fabric covered).

Civil Aviation Authority officials have set a minimum strength fabric must stand before giving way under a straight pull or a certain amount of pressure necessary to punch a sharp object through the fabric and applied dope.

The minimum pull on the Stearman at that time was 65 pounds on a strip one inch wide.

New Training Programs At Sheppard

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Training in carpentry, masonry, operation of heavy equipment and heating for almost 1,000 students a year is being transferred to Sheppard Air Force Base in 1971.

This training, which has been conducted by the United States Navy at Port Hueneme, Calif., for the Air Force with some Air Force instructors is being transferred to Sheppard and will be conducted by the Department of Civil Engineering Training of 3750th Technical School.

The first course, one in carpentry, begins at Sheppard Feb. 17. Masonry instruction begins at Sheppard March 10. These two were combined into one at Port Hueneme; but here each will be 12 weeks in length.

The course for the construction heavy equipment operators will be 12 weeks long and will begin July 21. This course teaches students to operate the bulldozers, earth movers, dump trucks and other heavy equipment used in construction. Already Sheppard has about $150,000 in equipment for this course. Other items are on order.

There are to be two courses in heating. The basic course is to be 10 weeks in length and the supplemental course will last five weeks. There are no plans to establish an advanced course for heating plant management and supervision here. It was determined that most of this training would be received in the revised five-week supplemental course.

Sheppard AFB now has 64 instructors and administrative personnel at Port Hueneme for these courses. This will be cut to 42 instructors when the training is moved to Sheppard.

There will be 422 graduates of the heating course this year; 242 of the construction equipment operator course; 225 of the carpentry; and 72 of the masonry course.

Israel's Thrilling Story Told On Screen

Across a barren land, scarred by centuries of war and neglect, the spectres of ancient Israel appear, hover, and fade away. Suddenly there is movement of a different sort, and slowly, steadily, a startling transformation begins to take place.

This begins "HIS LAND," the thrilling story of Israel from ancient to modern times. "HIS LAND," a one-hour color feature motion picture, takes you on a journey through space, time and current events. You see graphically, the fact that Israel today is a living testimony to the words of the prophets when they proclaimed that Israel would take her place among the nations of the world.

In the company of Cliff Barrows and Cliff Richard, England's popular star, who sings a number of new Ralph Carmichael songs, some of which were actually written on location, you travel the vibrant streets and lonely solitary paths of this nation whose destiny is daily discussed in the councils of governments all over the world. . . the same paths taken by Jesus and the prophets: Galilee . . . the wilderness . . . Jerusalem . . . the Mount of Olives . . . mingle with the people of modern Israel as the work, play and build a nation.

Words of Scripture come to life as the two men reflect upon the events that in recent years have confirmed much of the ancient prophecies. You are witness to the fact that out of death and desolation is emerging a new Land . . . a "Land of milk and honey," where the future climactic events of history will take place. "HIS LAND," rich in color and authentic sights and sounds, with a popular musical score composed and arranged by Ralph Carmichael has been called a musical journey into the soul of a nation, and will be shown on February 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church Auditorium.

"HIS LAND," truly a feast of color, sound and song. An unforgettable experience!

Letters of appreciation and commendation were read to the pack for their work during the Christmas season. Five food baskets were prepared by the boys and presented to needy families. The group also took part in an evening of Christmas caroling.

Prior to the awards ceremony Mrs. Mary Hogan led the boys in a spirited game. Three cakes were raffled off at the meeting and plans were made for the pack's Blue & Gold banquet to be held at Town Hall Feb. 19. This active Pack is sponsored by the Burkburnett Lions Club. Its leaders are: Janice Seitz, Katherine Jefferson, Juanita Dinduch, Carol Arnold, Donna Greenlee, Ina Roark and Lee Milam. Emily Rooney is the Den Leader Coach, and Cubmaster is Lonnie Padron.

Visits Caves

Explorer Scout Post #155 took advantage of the recent long school weekend to journey to the "Sinks" near Guthrie, Texas. O.C. Hurst was the adult leader who helped post officers, James Martin, David Martin and Jerry Harrel to make it a good trip.

All equipment was taken into the cave, and the group ate and slept in the Arch Room Friday. Exploration continued on Saturday, with John Porter, James Martin and Tai Kreidler traveling the length of the cave to the Wichita River. They traveled for 1320 yards through waist-deep water, and then had to hike two mile back to the cave entrance. The boys said the going was chilly and wet, and their legs felt like stumps. Saturday night all members of the expedition slept outside the cave, where it was much colder and not too restful.

David Martin, Jerry Harrel, Steve Schelter, David Weaver, Randy Gilbow and Mike Roberts earned their "Mole toes" because it was their first trip down into the caves. James Martin and John Porter got their "Mole eyes" because they saw the light of day at the end of the cave. Kreidler made his second trip through. Bob Hunter and James Mahaffey had completed the trip through the length of the cave on an earlier expedition to the cave in November.

Spelunking is a very rewarding sport, though quite demanding physically. Sound becomes amplified in a closed place and seems to echo for half the day. James Martin had a gas lantern pop as he was pumping it and everyone in all levels of the cave heard it and began trying to get out.

Lone Star Gas Construction Project

Lone Star Gas Company and its wholly owned subsidiaries announced plans January 19 to invest nearly $46 million in construction projects in 1971, according to W. C. McCord, president.

Major emphasis will be given during the year to oil and gas exploration and to increasing the company's gas reserve and gas delivery capabilities, McCord said. Expenditures are also planned to improve and extend gas distribution services and to broaden the scope of energy service offered through the company.

McCord said that approximately $28.1 million will be spent on construction by Lone Star Gas, the parent company. Of this amount, $10.8 million is budgeted for expenditure by its distribution divisions for the growing requirements of new and existing customers in the 369 cities and towns served by the utility in Texas and Oklahoma. Among new customers to receive gas service in 1971 is the Dallas/Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Over $17.3 million, the major portion of the parent company's budget, will be spent by the Transmission Division for pipeline construction projects and for upgrading and testing of existing lines.

The Division plans to construct over 200 miles of pipeline in 1971 to strengthen gas delivery capabilities in various areas.

Lone Star Energy Company, a wholly owned subsidiary that provides various energy services, will spend approximately $2.5 million for a central thermal energy plant to serve the Southwestern Medical School in Dallas. Operation of the plant is expected by November, 1971.

Lone Star Producing Company, also a wholly owned subsidiary, plans to spend approximately $13.9 million, of which $9.9 million will be used for drilling and deepening gas and oil wells for secondary recovery in existing reservoirs and for related facilities. The drilling expenditure includes partial costs of the Baden No. 1 well in Oklahoma, which is projected to a world record depth of 28,000 feet. An additional $2.7 million will be spent to secure lease acreage for minerals exploration.

The chemical fertilizer and plastic pipe subsidiary of Lone Star Gas Company, Nipak, Inc., will spend approximately $1.3 million for improving plant production and marketing facilities and for expanding its production of polyethylene gas distribution pipe and fittings. Other Nipak products include anhydrous ammonia, ammonium nitrogen solutions, ammonium phosphate and feed and fertilizer grade urea.

Burkburnett Police

Report Three Traffic Accidents

The Burkburnett Police Department reported all quiet this past week, with the exception of three traffic accidents. In the first accident, Rebecca Lee Livingston, driving a 1970 Chevrolet, lost control of the car after turning right onto College Street from Ave. D and left the roadway, going over the curb and striking a brick wall behind Owens and Brumley Funeral Home. Bricks were torn loose and the fence was knocked out of alignment. The front end of the vehicle suffered extensive damage. Police investigated an accident involving two 1961 Plymouth Valiants, driven by Eunice Lois Thornton and Walter Lloyd Beeson. The accident, which produced only minor damage, occurred when Beeson tried to pass Mrs. Thornton. As Beeson was passing, Mrs. Thornton tried to stop, and Beeson ran into her. Another accident occurred when a 1968 Chevy Impala owned by Robert Hershel Brister, traveling north on U.S. 277 Business Route, was struck by a 1969 Chevrolet Custom Pickup, driven by William Henry Thompson, who failed to yield right of way. Very little damage resulted.

Oakley-Castleberry Vows Solemnized In Healdton January 23

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond N. Castleberry are residing in Colorado Springs, Colo., following their marriage in Healdton January 23. The bride is the former Terry Ann Oakley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Oakley of Burkburnett. Castleberry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Davis of Healdton.

The Rev. W. B. Norwood officiated, and Wayne Golson, pianist, accompanied vocalist Mrs. Tommy Seeley as she sang "The Twelfth of Never."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with an overlay of lace. Her fingertip veil was caught by velvet bows. She carried a cascade of white carnations.

(Aquarius, Jan. 21-Feb. 19)

The blue carnation is the flower for those born under the sign Aquarius, the sapphire their birthstone, and the ability to harvest wisdom from knowledge their principal characteristic.

Logical and inquisitive. Aquarians love to investigate. But although they are good scientists, they are humanitarian and concerned about mankind in general. They are often aloof and detached.

Mrs. Klonda Jefferis, Mrs. Louise Mullins and Mrs. Evelyn Boucher are pictured with a group of children who have enrolled in the supervised study group at the Community Service Center.

Chili Beef Casserole Warms Wintry Days

When the blustery weather is here a robust casserole takes out some of the chill. We need heartier food in the winter, or at least it makes us feel better and more able to cope with nature. Chili Beef Casserole with meat, beans, tomatoes and zesty seasoning is a meal in itself, or you can round it out with a refreshing cucumber mixed salad and crusty French bread. This stoneware casserole can be frozen and then reheated right on the range with perfect safety. Make one ahead for your next potluck supper.

Chili Beef Casserole

1 1/2 pounds boneless beef chuck	3 to 4 teaspoons chili powder
3 tablespoons flour	1/4 teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons salt	1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
1/4 teaspoon pepper	2 teaspoons Worcestershire
3 tablespoons butter or margarine	1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
1 clove garlic, minced	1 can (20 ounces) red kidney beans
1 medium onion, sliced

Trim meat and cut into 1-inch pieces. Combine flour, salt and pepper; dredge meat. Melt butter in 2-quart Flame Chef® casserole and saute meat, a few pieces at a time, over medium heat. Use more butter if needed. Add garlic and onion with last portion of meat. Return all meat to casserole and stir in remaining ingredients except kidney beans. Cover and simmer for 20 minutes. Add kidney beans with liquid and cook 10 minutes more. This stoneware casserole retains the heat and the cover makes an ideal trivet. Makes 6 servings.

Income Tax Report

By Henry Block, president of H & R Block, Inc., America's largest tax service.

White collar workers frequently have felt somewhat neglected in past years when they filled out their Federal tax returns. Many tax saving deductions which were available to other kinds of workers were denied to office employees.

Although provisions granting relief to white collar workers have been in effect for some time, there are many people in this category who are not taking advantage of their rightful tax deductions. While these deductions are available to all qualified taxpayers, they apply primarily to white collar workers.

If the goal is right, cost for special educational training can be deductible. If the training is primarily to increase your proficiency in your present job, or if it is required by your employer, your costs will probably be deductible.

For example, an office worker is in charge of programming computers in the accounting department. His employer expects him to keep up with developments in the computer field, so he takes a special course. The cost of the course, to the extent it is not reimbursed by his employer, would be deductible. A man in the sales department in the same company wants to get into computer work, so he takes the same course. The cost of the course would not be deductible for him because it does not apply to his present post.

An office worker cannot deduct his car expenses for transportation to and from work. But if he is required to run errands for his employer or to drive his car between job locations and he is not fully reimbursed for these expenses by his employer, they would be deductible.

Office workers can also deduct subscriptions to professional journals relating to their work, membership fees in professional organizations, and of course, any charitable contributions made at work. Fees paid to employment agencies to find employment are also deductible.

Many people take second jobs or "moonlight" in order to supplement their income. Such moonlighting can create special tax situations that are often misunderstood. For purposes of withholding, each employer is required to withhold taxes from you as if that were the only job you held during the year. This is true even though you may be making only $20 per week. On a job paying this amount there would be no withholding for Federal income taxes. Your annual wage would be only $1040 and since a single person pays no tax until his income reaches $1725 there would be no tax liability. Of course in your case this money is added to the salary you receive on your regular job and the total amount is taxed. Assuming you claim your normal amount of exemptions on your regular job your withholding there would be sufficient to cover your tax liability if that were the only job you held during the year. Combined with your part time earnings you may discover that you owe a balance of several hundred dollars to Uncle Sam come April when you file your tax return. In order to avoid the possibility of this happening there are several possible courses of action open to you. You could claim zero exemptions on your part-time job. If this is not sufficient then you could ask your employer to withhold a greater amount from your pay each week. Another alternative would be to file a declaration of estimated tax, making quarterly payments to the government in the approximate amount of your additional tax liability. In any case the best procedure to follow is to sit down, estimate your total income and deductions and calculate roughly what your tax liability will be at the end of the year. Then, after figuring your total withholding from your regular job, it is a fairly simple matter to determine how much additional tax should be paid to the government.

Another point to remember is that if your regular job pays you more than $7800 you may have a credit for excess FICA. The maximum amount that can be withheld from your pay for social security is $374.40 (4.8% of $7800). Again, each employer withholds social security as if that were the only job you had all year. If you have more than one job and the combined total of your social security withholding is more than $374.40 you can claim the difference as a credit against your tax.

People have often been heard to remark "I can't afford to take a second job" or "I can't afford to have my wife work since it will put us in a higher tax bracket." There is a great deal of misunderstanding about tax brackets and this must be clarified. Our system is known as a progressive system of taxation, i.e., the more money you earn, the higher the tax bracket. It is important to note, however, that the lower tax dollars are always taxed at the lower level and only the additional tax dollars are in the higher brackets. In other words, if you are single your first $500 of taxable income is taxed at the rate of 14% whether you are a ditch digger or a multimillionaire playboy. Following this line of reasoning, there is no way that taking a second job to augment your income could cost you money. Of course there are many other economic factors to be considered in addition to taxes. If your wife decided to take a second job to augment your income at $50 per week and then proceeded to buy a new wardrobe, spend $10 a week on commuting, $10 for lunches and $30 for babysitters, you would indeed be behind the economic eight-ball and would be better off to have her stay home.

THE HIGHEST POINT

A steeple was first built on the town church so that anyone anywhere in the village could look out and locate the house of worship. The steeple on the church was the highest point in town. This was a physical fact and the people of the Lord knew it was a spiritual fact also.

Although a church's steeple is no longer the highest physical point in the city because of all the many-storied buildings and towers, the church itself is still filled with people who have reached the highest point of Godly maturity and who are filled with the highest degree of Christian love for God and man.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

BURKBURNETT JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SHOW

Lynn Morton,
Grand Champion Steer

Steve Kinnard,
Grand Champion Barrow

Johnny Elliott,
Grand Champion Lamb

I don't know about these shows, Raymond. They seem to be a lot of fun, but last year I had an older brother come down here and he didn't come back.

A group of Livestock Show winners exhibit their prizes.

Getting these animals to and from the show, and into the pens sometimes becomes a problem.

The day before the show, the animals took on a new look.

Showing of an animal means as much as a good animal itself to a judge. The boys are either watching the judge or setting their animal up.

Barrows are shown somewhat differently from other animals. Between rooting their noses in the dirt and fighting, it's very hard to show them.

Heavy Weight Barrow

Jay McCluskey, Gary Unger, Jackey Simmons, Griff Klinkerman, Pat Greene, David Cotton, John Goins, Benny Darland, Rocky Jennings, Randy Gilbow, James Martin, Brett Neher, Susan Talbert, Donald Farmer, Gregg Eastman, Terry Thompson, Guy Froman, Randy Walder and Donald Guinn.
