BURKBURNETT, WICHITA COUNTY,

NUMBER 34

Editor's Viewpoint

Raymond Greenwood

There are two main topics of conversation around Burk Burnett this week -- the upcoming election and the new park.

Concerning the election, I hope each of you will find time to go to the polls and cast your ballot for the candidate of your choice. Ted Harris and Weldon Nix are both fine men, and I know that which ever one wins wants to win because there was a record number of votes cast, and not simply because no one came out to vote. In other words, they want to be supported; they want to know that you want them in office.

Take five minutes Saturday and go by the polls to vote for your choice of these two men.

As you can read elsewhere in this paper, there will be a new county park arising near Burk Burnett. County commissioners accepted the tract offered by the City of Burk Burnett for that purpose during their court session Monday.

I went out to this tract Tuesday and believe that it will make one of the best parks in Texas. The potential is almost unlimited. With just a little work, Honda trails, camping facilities and horse trails could all be made available. These things, with a few picnic tables, park benches, etc., could really make a most impressive park.

I understand that John Gavin, ex-mayor of Wichita Falls, will be the guest speaker at the monthly Chamber of Commerce Luncheon Monday in the Town Hall. The program will be brought under the community development committee, with C. J. Lippard as chairman.

All merchants are urged to attend this meeting.

Gene Allen, local Chamber of Commerce manager, reports that the animal vaccination day held Saturday was a record breaker. A total of 106 dogs and cats were vaccinated Saturday during the 4-hour clinic, as compared to only 36 last year.

Members of the agri-business committee, which sponsored the clinic, stated that they were proud that such a large number of people brought their animals to the clinic, since a case of rabies was found in Burk Burnett last week.

A couple of weeks ago I stated that I'd give a free year's subscription to the best answer to the question "Why is a woman like a newspaper?" I believe the following poem has topped the list thus far. In fact I like it so well that I'm going to give the author a year's subscription even though the contest won't be over for another week.

A WOMAN'S LIKE A NEWSPAPER
By Joy Gresham Hagstrom

A woman's like a newspaper,
Q mean the Informer Star,
As she is active, on the go,
And out where people are.

She has a sense of humor, too,
And laughs at funny jokes.
Sometimes she even makes mistakes,
(Like certain other folks.)

But most of all the two compare
As she moves from place to place
And people read the latest news.
It's written on her face.

Another great one came through the mail, but the author didn't identify himself. It went like this: "Why is a woman like a newspaper?" "Because every man should have one and not run after his neighbor's." Now who do you know that would send that in and not sign his name?

Run-Off School Board Election Set For Sat.

TED B. HARRIS

WELDON NIX

Citizens of Burk Burnett will go to the polls Saturday and vote in what is definitely a rare election for them. They will vote in the special election in the Burk Burnett School Board race, which will break the previous tie vote in the general election between Ted B. Harris and Weldon Nix for Place 2 on the Burk Burnett Independent School Board.

Several long-time residents of Burk Burnett have stated that they have seen several close elections before, but never could they remember a school board election in Burk Burnett ending in an exact tie, as was the case in the general election. In that election, both Harris and Nix each polled 452 votes.

Harris, who resides at 523 W. Third St., is a long-time resident of Burk Burnett. He is employed as an illustrator in educational television at Sheppard AFB. In addition to this, he runs a gun repair shop in his home.

He and his wife have five children in the local school system.

Nix owns and operates the local Whites Auto Store. He has been a resident of See ELECTION, page 2

Gin Dividends Total $10,180

Over $10,000 in dividend checks were dispersed to gin customers Saturday night at the annual meeting of the Farmers Cooperative Gin in Burk Burnett, according to A.G. Earp, manager of the gin.

The dividends amounted to $4 per 500-pound bale on 2,545 bales for a total of $10,180 given to the customers.

Joe Brown, farm editor of the Wichita Falls Times and Record News and also farm editor for Channel III TV, was the featured speaker for the evening.

Brown told the group that farmers and ranchers only represent approximately 5% of the total population now. Therefore, they should be concerned about their public relations. How a farmer or rancher is seen by the consumer public is most important, stated Brown.

He urged the farmers to become more active in civic clubs, and to get to know the businessmen in town and their legislators better. Good stationery to correspond with these people, as well as some type of sign or name on your farm are all important parts of public relations, he continued.

Two directors for the co-op were elected at the meeting. Sharrell Reed of Randlett, Okla., was re-elected, and Chester Brown of Kamay was elected to succeed J. R. Pope of Iowa Park.

Cancer Drive Begins Tuesday

Tuesday will be a day when the citizens of Burk Burnett will be asked to open their checkbooks and donate to one of the worthiest causes that comes to Burk Burnett. Tuesday afternoon, volunteers headed by C. J. Lippard will call on the businessmen for their contributions to the Cancer Society's annual fund drive.

Later that evening, from 6:00 to 8:00, more volunteers, under the leadership of Mrs. Joe Wolf, will start the house-to-house campaign.

Workers may deposit the donations at the Park Bank. Last year, donations amounted to over $1200 and it is hoped that this year's total will reach the $1500 mark.

"We would like to stress the importance of this drive, as the money not only goes for research, but for local cancer patients, as well," stated Lippard.

A VIEW OF THE TRACT LEASED TO THE COUNTY

County To Lease And Develop 50-Acre Park Near Burk Burnett

The lower 50-acre tract of the land purchased from the Baptist Encampment by the City of Burk Burnett last summer was offered to Wichita County Commissioners last week by Burk Burnett city officials. The land was offered on a lease arrangement for development as a county park.

Wichita County Commissioners voted to accept the tract during regular court session Monday.

The area to be developed as a county park is part of a total of 185 acres formerly owned by the church group.

The tract, abutting the Red River, is a quarter of a mile west of Perkins Scout reservation, about three miles north of Sheppard Air Force Base, seven miles southeast of Burk Burnett and nine miles north of Wichita Falls.

At present there is no detailed plan for development of the park. It has been reported however, that basic work would involve construction of a road and picnic tables, and the clearing out of underbrush.

In the meeting last Wednesday, city officials proposed a possible lease arrangement of $1.00 a year for 99 years. At that time, it was noted that Sheppard Air Force Base had shown interest in development of the region as a recreational area. Tall shady trees and deep grass cover much of this 50-acre tract at present. Small springs and beavers busy at their natural work can also be found on the tract.

Little League Kick-Off Saturday With Parade

Delaine Rappe, Little League coach, in speaking to the Tuesday noon meeting of the Burk Burnett Rotary Club, outlined facts and activities for the Little League in Burk Burnett for the upcoming season.

A parade will kick-off the season's activities, according to Rappe. Boys will assemble at 9:00 a.m. Saturday at the Burk Youth Center for the parade, which will begin there and continue through the downtown area.

Pick-up trucks for the parade will be furnished by Wolfe Ford and Mathis Chevrolet, Rappe stated.

Immediately following the parade will be the dedication ceremonies of the new Hayes Field. These ceremonies will be hosted jointly by the City and the Little League officials.

Following these special ceremonies, the annual Little League hamburger feed at Permian Park will begin. Tickets for this event have been on sale by the Little League players for the past two weeks, and can also be obtained at the feed. All proceeds from the ticket sales will be used for league activities.

First and second prizes will be awarded for the most ticket sales.

League officers for the 1971 season include: Vic Fore, president; T. C. Hapton, vice-president; Archie Faulk, treasurer; F. T. Felty, secretary; M.D. Cheney, Fred McCarthy, Kenneth Young, Bill Davis, John Larson, H. O. Guffey and Aderan Dunn as directors.

Burk Little League structure includes four different classifications, stated Rappe. There are four Senior division ball clubs, including ages 13 through 15, four Major division ball clubs including ages 9 through 12, four Minor Division ball clubs including ages eight through 12, and four Pee Wee division ball clubs including ages six through eight.

The players in the minors are the ones who have not been drafted into the major leagues. Only the Senior and Major Divisions are eligible to play in Little League Tournament play. Approximately 16 boys are on each club, with an approximate total of 250 boys participating in league play.

McBride Special Fund Growing

The Bill McBride Fund, which was started only last week by concerned friends, is reported to be closing in on the $1000 goal that had been set. This has come about with many people exerting a great effort to help someone who needed them.

A Bake Sale has been going on at BHS since Tuesday, and will continue through tomorrow, with all proceeds going to this Fund. School clubs have contributed: The Student Council, $25.00; DECA, $27.00; Auto Mechanics, $62.00; and the Classroom Teachers' Association, $75.

Containers have been placed in all classrooms, in many businesses including Burk Sweet Shop, Wichita Falls Ramada Inn, Nickerson Farms, Corner Drug, Preston Milk Store, United Supermarket, The BX, Ed's Mint Mart, and at Sheppard Air Force Base in the Officers Club, Sheppard Pizza House, and Jiffy.

There has also been a dance planned for the teenagers by the Burk Burnett Jaycees, with all of the proceeds going to the McBride family. The dance will be Saturday night from 9 to 12 at the Youth Center, and admission will be $1.50 per person.

McBride, a student at BHS who was recently seriously injured in a car crash, must really have a lot going for him after all. Not only is his condition greatly improved (at last report, he was talking to and recognizing people), but this young man has the support of his school and his community.

grand opening this Friday and Saturday.

The grand opening ceremonies will kick off with a ribbon cutting by the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce Friday morning at 10:00. Then registration will be open both days for a drawing to be held at 4:00 p.m. Saturday.

Grand prizes will be a recliner chair purchased through Lippard Furniture. Several other smaller prizes will also be awarded to lucky individuals.

Free coffee and Dr. Pepper will be available both days for those who will come out to visit or to look around.

Tullis Motor Co. opened its doors in Burk Burnett a few weeks ago, featuring the new Japanese import, Subaru, as well as a complete selection of used cars.

"You've heard of the hottest brand going . . ." stated Tullis, "well, this is the hottest line going. Or, stated another way, it's the best thing yet since hip pockets!"

The Subaru seats five adults in comfort, with plenty of leg room for all, it is reported. Its engine develops 62hp at 6,000 rpm, and a maximum speed of 90 mph. It also boasts a fast acceleration of 1/4 mile in 18.7 seconds.

Other outstanding features of the Subaru, reports Tullis, are the front engine, front-wheel drive (FF) system, center pivot steering system, dual radiator system, superb roadholding, rationally designed driver's seat, and the largest trunk space in its class of automobiles.

"Come on out Friday or Saturday and have coffee or a Dr. Pepper with us and register for our many prizes," stated Tullis, "and while you are out here see and drive the all-new Subaru."

Brian Roark Receives Honor

Brian Roark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight M. Roark of 612 Park St., was presented a blue ribbon at Jacksboro Friday during the district PTA convention for state honors he won recently.

Brian, a student at Hardin Elementary School, along with numerous other students at the school entered the Cultural Arts Literature Competition sponsored by the National PTA and Readers Digest.

Brian won in the local competition in the literature division, as did Linda Kay in the visual arts division. They

W.K. Clayton Owner Of Thriving Business

Many people look forward to retirement, but upon reaching it, find that they have nothing to keep them busy or that it's just not what they had expected.

This is not the case with W. K. Clayton of 614 Park St. Some five years ago, he began preparing for his retirement by beginning a live bait business. Now he has a fine small business that keeps him just as busy as he wants to stay, and sometimes even more.

Clayton, a resident of Burkburnett since 1936, retired almost two years ago after 24 years of service with the Texas Electric Service Co. Three years prior to that time, he began raising worms and selling both worms and minnows to local fishermen. His business steadily grew, to the extent that today he has a small building near the rear of his home that houses a good selection of rods, reels, poles, lures, minnows and worms, and plenty of other fishing equipment.

"Our business has grown over these years to the extent that we no longer raise all our own worms. We had to take out part of the worm beds and replace them with a better selection of assorted fishing tackle," stated Clayton.

Clayton still makes his own stink bait from dead minnows and "who knows what else." Almost any fisherman will agree, "It sure stinks, alright."

Clayton's Bait and Tackle is open year around with minnows available except during midwinter. He doesn't do all the work, nor can he claim all the credit for his success with a business that started out to "only keep him busy." Leora, his wife, helps out a great deal, and generally takes care of the business when he

Pack 151 Views Races

Saturday evening, Cub Scout Pack 151 held its monthly pack meeting, featuring sailboat regatta races. The opening ceremony was held by Den 1, followed by an awards ceremony.

New Bobcat Craig McKinnis was inducted into the pack by Cubmaster Charles Rutledge and awardsman Jim Latour. Other awards went to Donald Coker, 1 year pin, silver arrow point, gold arrow point, and bearbook; Mike Crowe, Wolf badge and gold arrow point; Dale Green, 1 year pin; Rufus Norris, bear badge; Mark McKinnis, recruiter badge; Rickey McWhorter, wolf badge, gold arrow point; Charles Rutledge, bear badge; and James Futch was inducted into Webelos.

Later, despite wind warnings for small craft, the sailboat races produced several champion sailors. First place winner was Charles Rutledge, Jr. Second and third places were won by Craig McKinnis and Mike Richey, respectively. Hay Howell was awarded the booby prize.

It was announced that a Scout-o-rama will be held at the Kickapoo Lanes Friday and Saturday evenings at 6:30. Pack 151 fund-raising committee is now selling first aid kits for autos, and asks anyone who would like to support the pack and buy one of these to call 569-1556 before May 24.

John Twark Speaks To Local Lions Club

"TARS (Teens Aid the Retarded) is the greatest organization that young people can participate in," says Maj. John M. Twark of the 3630th Flying Training Wing at Sheppard Air Force Base. This organization shows adults of the community that today's teen-agers do love and care for their fellowmen, especially those handicapped persons who for years past were among the forgotten, Maj. Twark said.

These youngsters work with the retarded in teaching them how to dance, swim, play tennis, ping pong and many other activities that they never before had the opportunity to learn. They have not learned because no one took the time and patience to teach them. The TARS are now doing this and the also sponsor slumber parties, picnics and such events just for the retarded children.

In becoming a TARS, these teen-agers take an orientation course, in which they learn how to help these retarded persons. Then they are a friend to them and show that they do care.

"The accomplishments of these young people in the TARS add up to a great program," Maj. Twark said.

During the last year, Maj. Twark has been very active in publicizing the program and in recognizing those who are participating in the program.

He spoke about the program to the Burkburnett Evening Lions Club Tuesday. Larry DiMarzio was the program chairman.

30 Attend Convention

The 13th District American Legion and Auxiliary Spring convention was held in Olney last Saturday and Sunday, with 30 persons from Burkburnett in attendance.

Sunday, the meeting was called to order by Host Commander, Lloyd McAnally. Clayton Mann introduced the speaker, Joe Matthews, who is Past Department commander. His speech was entitled "Dissent in America."

Garland Delamar, Field Department Representative of

Rehabilitation for Veterans, stressed to the Auxiliary members the importance of all papers, such as marriage licenses, divorce papers and birth certificates being on file and recorded at their county courthouse, so that a widow may be eligible for all programs under title #38.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnston of Archer City were honor guests of the Legion meeting and were presented the God and Country Medal, which was awarded posthumously to their son, Sgt. Gary Johnston.

In the afternoon, the Auxiliary was called to order by Mrs. Lena Grubbs. The welcome was given by Mona Harris of Olney with the Burkburnett president, Mrs. Erma Statton, responding.

The election of the 13th District Auxiliary officers for 1971 and 1972 was held, with Mrs. Statton being named president. Other officers included vice-president, Irene Starks, Unit 120, Wichita Falls; and Sgt.-at-Arms, Johnnie Faye Bartley, Unit 264, Burkburnett.

Legion delegates elected Frank Slavens, Post 169, Wichita Falls, as incoming District Commander, while Post 169 was selected as host for the 1971 Fall convention site.

Dave Abbott
Celebrates 91st
Birthday Sunday

The family of Dave Abbott met at his home at 211 North Holly Ave. on Sunday to celebrate his 91st birthday, which will occur Saturday.

Those in attendance were Mrs. Gladys Miller of the home; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Padgett; Mr. and Mrs. N.E. Guthrie, Jr., Doug and Karen; and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Britt, all of Iowa Park; Mrs. Mary Ganser of Temple, Okla.; Glenda Busby of Waurika; Mr. and Mrs. Buck Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beaver of Burk. Abbott also received a birthday phone call from a daughter, Mrs. Roy Cabill, in Pampa, Texas, who was unable to attend.

The birthday celebration was held a week early as some members of the family were leaving on a vacation and would be out of town on Saturday.

The Abbott family are real "Old-Timers" in the local area. They came here from Hope, Arkansas in 1905 and, except for one year's absence, have lived here ever since. Abbott has a very bright and clear memory of the trip by covered wagon, which took 18 days from his Arkansas home to the Burk Burnett area. He farmed land west of town until his retirement a number of years ago, and he is now an avid gardener, still doing most of the garden work himself in spite of his age.

Abbott is quite proud of a number of his older collectors' items. One of these is the iron fence now surrounding his yard, which formerly enclosed the front yard of the old home of Colonel Specht, founder of the Clara Community.

Mrs. Abbott passed away three years ago.

Burkburnett Garden Club Goes On Tour

The Burk Burnett Garden Club went on a tour of five gardens in Wichita Falls on April 22, as their yearly tour.

It was guest day at the Forum for their Garden Club. All attended the luncheon and the lecture by John Watson of Dallas. Watson holds an advanced degree in landscape architecture, and has much practical experience in garden illumination.

Mrs. Nice, the president of the local club, made the reservations, and Mrs. Carl Morrison guided the group on the tour.

Some of the puzzles of life confound us, but we're always able to find someone who knows all the answers.

If you haven't been to church lately, you might try it. Maybe you'll pick up something, there's nothing to lose.

First Christian Fellowship Supper Held

A Fellowship Supper and Recognition Service were held at the First Christian Church Sunday evening.

The supper in Fellowship Hall was served on beautifully decorated tables. Mrs. Wilma Maloney was the chairman of the dinner preparations.

After the meal, the members gathered in the sanctuary for the special service. The Rev. David Stout led a meditation period, after which he awarded certificates of recognition to members who had rendered special services to the church during the past year.

The stewards, elders, deacons, deaconesses, trustees, choir leader and choir members, teachers, department heads and news reporter were all remembered.

Members expressed happiness in knowing that Rev. Stout will be here for another year. They feel he is a very capable leader.

Clara-Fairview HD Club Meets

The Clara-Fairview Home Demonstration Club met for their regular second monthly meeting April 15, with Mrs. Ted Harris as hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Ida Beckham.

The group repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison. This was followed by "Beautiful Texas."

The minutes of the last meeting were read, and the roll was called.

It was announced during the meeting that the Enterprise Home Demonstration Club had accepted an invitation to luncheon in the Nation Room, to be held today at 11:30 a.m.

Parliamentary rules were given by Mrs. Harris. The report on council meeting of April 4 was given by Mrs. Stimpson.

A program on good fit in clothes was given by Mrs. Roebuck.

Refreshments were served to: Mmes. Simons, Roebuck, Harmon, Dilbeck, Haner, Beckham, Srimpton and Gellner by the hostess.

The next meeting will be May 6, with Mrs. Crane.

Your Texas Ancestors

by
DAMON VEACH

Sarah Elizabeth (York) McElroy was born in Buncombe Co., North Carolina, about 1858/60. She was in the 1870 census of Boone Co., Ark., in the household of R.J. (Jack) Goad and his wife, Adaline. Also listed were Molly York, age 6, born in North Carolina, and Lenora A. Goad, 1 year old, born in Arkansas. Ed York is known to be a brother of Lizzy and Molley York.

Sarah Elizabeth married Jacob S. McElroy, son of James J. and Margaret Saphronia (Weaver) McElroy, in Bellefonte, Boone Co., Ark., Oct. 10, 1877. Walter Edwin, Mabel, Nellie, and Lester L. McElroy were all born here. In the fall of 1888, the family moved to Texas along with Mrs. Jack Goad and her children. They settled in Erath County, where Hubert was born. Oscar (Pat) was born at Iredell (Boque Co.). Lizzy McElroy died in July, 1895, and is buried in Huckabay, Texas, in an unmarked grave. Mrs. Goad lived to be about 100 years old and made her home with a daughter, Lenora (Tipton), between Huckabay and Stephenville. Molly married Faytt Franklin and moved to Colorado or Wyoming. Jacob McElroy died in Cullinthe, Texas, May 20, 1913.

Mrs. Charles Greenlee of 1958 Vogel Avenue, Abilene, Texas, 79603, would like to learn more about the York/McElroy family and would appreciate correspondence.

Mrs. Mildred Rhoades of Perrin, Texas, 76075, would like more data on Ranson Davidson Smith and his wife, Lucy Ann (Stafford) Smith who came to Tarrant Co. in 1873 from Franklin, Tennessee. Later, they moved to Chico, Wise Co., Texas, where they raised a family of 10 children. All Smith/Stafford descendants are urged to contact this researcher.

Mr. C. Hicks, P.O. Box 611, Georgetown, Texas, 78626, is compiling data on the Dodson-Rushing families. His grandmother was a Rushing, born in Tennessee around 1830, married to John Carter. She died at Evant (Hamilton Co.) around 1925, age 93. The family originally lived in Alabama.

Mrs. J. L. Anderson, 118 South Parks, Breckenridge, Texas, 76024, would like to hear from descendants of Oliver PageStarnes, born March 8, 1843, Greenville, Tenn., died Sept. 16, 1920, Athens, Tenn. He and his wife, Mattie Russell, lived in Johnson Co., Texas, where she died and was buried in the Barnesville Cemetery. Their children were Etta, Tom, Bingham, Ches Oscar, Sid, and Burlie D. Burlie lived in Fort Worth and worked at the Post Office for many years.

Mrs. Coy Yarberry, 121 W. Second Ave., Ajo, Ariz., 85321, would like to correspond with descendants of Nancy Johnson Sexton. She was married in 1868, Hardeman Co., Tennessee.

Data is also needed on Matthew Taylor Green, born 1844, Tenn. His father was Mathew, born in Virginia, married a Latham, born Tenn. He was a carpenter, and lived in Kaufman and Dallas Counties.

Marketing Tips

Ways to save on fresh fruits and vegetables are many, if you just give some thought to selection as you shop, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

When you shop, carry a list of fresh produce items needed. But remember to keep the list flexible, she adds.

Take your time at the produce counter. Look around before you buy; make your selections from the freshest products.

And consider more than the price--check the "why" of specials. Perishables such as bananas, pears, peaches and melons that are ripe and ready to eat are good bargains if you plan to serve them soon.

Mrs. Clyatt reminds that you need to keep in mind the quantity your family will eat.

Most fruits and vegetables aren't the kind of items to stock, even with plenty of refrigeration. Buy enough for 2 or 3 days, without overloading the refrigerator. "It's too easy to tuck an item away and forget it," she says.

Remember that the biggest is not always the best; what counts is how you plan to use the produce items. For example, small size citrus fruits packed a dozen per bag are perfect for juice, while the large, thick-skinned ones are fine for eating out of hand.

You'll find many choices at the vegetable counter this week, Mrs. Clyatt reports. Asparagus, broccoli, cauliflower, corn and snap beans are available at lower prices. Head lettuce and tomato supplies are heavier, with better quality and somewhat lower prices. Celery is also in ample supply. Other economical choices include cabbage, carrots, collards, yellow onions, potatoes and mustard and turnip greens.

At the fruit counter, lower supplies of grapefruit are available; thus, prices are edging upward. Oranges, bananas, apples and pears remain at about the same price levels. Avocados are in good supply, while more strawberries, pineapples, cantaloupes and watermelon are available.

Look for best beef values on ground beef, liver, round steaks and roasts, and arm and blade pot steaks and roasts.

Some markets are featuring "specials" on popular steak cuts.

Pork values include end-cut loin roasts and pork chops, shoulder roasts and steaks, liver, hams and picnic.

Broiler-fryers and frozen turkeys are bargains in most meat departments. And Grade A large size eggs remain the best egg purchase, Mrs. Clyatt says.

There is a need to look back occasionally to get our bearings for the future. Past experiences often guide future action. What has proved good and profitable in the past will often prove to be the same in the days ahead. Serving God and our country through our churches and through civil and community service has always elevated us as a people and contributed to our image as a free and just country. We will not go wrong in adhering to these practices.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

UP & AWAY

Eddie Laxson

There is now way for me to know how other instructors determine if their flight trainees are capable of making three takeoffs and landings without assistance, but I can explain my methods.

It is my belief that every student can feel or sense it when he is capable of landing a plane without his instructor's presence. Not every student is so sure of his ability that he will tell the instructor he is ready to solo. I have asked only one student if she felt that she could handle the plane; and that question came 3 hours after she had made three landings by herself. But that is another week's writing material.

Some students start developing "solo-itis" when they begin to feel that their instructor may crawl out of the cockpit any day.

A good instructor will have demonstrated about all the possible troubles that could happen on a student's first fifteen-minute solo period. The student of such a thorough instructor has practiced recovering or handling the plane in such a manner as to lessen the chances of a fatal accident if trouble should develop.

If the maintenance on a plane has been taken care of according to the rules, if the student doesn't do something wrong, and if nature doesn't get into the picture in the form of wind shifts, the odds are very high against a student's having trouble on his first solo flight.

It is not uncommon for the student to grease his first three landings and then, after about 50 hours of solo flying time, to start having trouble finding the ground. The main reason for such a change is that the student begins to relax and does not pay such close attention to his landing techniques at the end of 50 hours as he concentrated on them during the first solo.

About the first question an instructor hears from a prospective student is: "Do you think I could ever learn to fly a plane?" After about five hours of flight training, most instructors have heard: "I don't believe I will ever learn to fly. I'm worse than when I first started."

Each time I have heard a student say he wasn't getting anywhere with his flying, I was happy; I could feel more at ease, as that is almost a guarantee that things are normal, or better than normal.

A student can be doing a lousy job of flying and then, after a short suggestion or word of praise from his instructor (or many times without any help), smooth out and be ready within the next 30 minutes to take her by himself.

I can't remember my first student, or how I felt when crawling out, making a few last-minute suggestions. But I am sure I had that certain feeling in my stomach, or the muscular sense that I have when riding a bicycle, telling me the front wheel must be turned to keep the bike upright. When I get that feeling -- and my student has satisfied all the paper work, etc., required before soloing -- I crawl out.

Next week: My remarks to students before letting them go up alone.

Feeding an Idea

When Walter Anderson, working at the amusement park snack bar in Wichita, Kan., as a short-order cook, pressed his spatula down on the meatball to flatten it one day in 1920, he created the all-American hamburger.

Shortly afterward Anderson and Billy Ingram scraped up $700 to open their own restaurant. The hamburger caught public favor as they expanded into many outlets named the White Castle.

Last year this chain served 206,753,209 hamburgers, and 45 million cups of coffee.

Dogs & Children

Those with small children often have a dog. The reason is simple: children like dogs and dogs like children. Before a child is given a dog, however, he should be taught that with the privilege of having a dog go corresponding responsibilities.

Teaching children responsibility is the first step in the direction of a responsible nation.

Fight Against Hog Cholera Intensifies

The opening of a State-Federal Eradication headquarters is the latest move to eliminate hog cholera in Texas. The office, says W.W. Bailey, hog cholera information officer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will coordinate all program activities in the state. State coordinator at Waco is Dr. Wiley Horn, while Dr. Donald E. Torkelson is serving as the Federal coordinator. The headquarters are located in Building 39-3, Ave. C, on the James Connally campus.

Texas swine producers are already working under a Texas Animal Health Commission order restricting the movement of swine within the state, and Bailey notes that all or portions of 33 Texas counties are currently under Federal quarantine for hog cholera and producers in the affected counties are aware of the situation. No feeder pigs or breeding swine can be moved interstate from an area under Federal quarantine.

Slaughter hogs can be moved provided: they are from healthy herds; are inspected on the farm by State or Federal regulatory officials or accredited veterinarians; and are shipped direct to slaughter or to a designated market for slaughter.

In addition, hogs for slaughter must be accompanied by a special certificate authorizing their movement from a Federally quarantined area. Pork products derived from healthy unexposed swine may be moved interstate, even though the swine are slaughtered in a quarantined area, Bailey said.

During the first half of April nine cases of hog cholera, including three in Galveston, two in Liberty, and one each in McLennan, Montgomery, San Jacinto and Wise counties, were diagnosed. Of the 55 cases reported nationwide, January through March, Texas accounted for 23, Bailey said.

A case represents one infected swine herd. Infected and exposed herds are destroyed to prevent infection spread, and owners are paid State and Federal indemnities to help compensate them for the losses. Field teams of State and Federal veterinarians and livestock inspectors are now at work in four problem areas. One operates from Waco and the others from field offices in Forth Worth, Brownwood and Houston.

Bailey said swine producers are urged to report any signs of sickness in their herds to the county agent, local veterinarian or to the State-Federal animal health officials. The telephone number to call in Waco is (817) 799-0278, he noted.

Veterinarians who are specially trained in hog cholera are available in all affected areas to diagnose the disease.

Hog cholera, Bailey explained, is an infectious, highly contagious disease that affects swine only and is most often spread by the movement of infected or exposed swine.

The disease, Bailey said, was costing the nation's hog producers about $40 million annually for vaccination and another $10 million in herd losses before the nationwide eradication program was started in late 1962. Target date for a "hog cholera free" United States is December, 1972.

NOTE: The entire counties under Federal quarantine are Bexar, Bosque, Collin, Comanche, Ellis, El Paso, Erath, Galveston, Harris, Hill, Hood, Johnson, Liberty, McLennan, Montgomery and Tarrant. Portions of Bell, Brown, Calahan, Coleman, Coryell, Denton, Falls, Freestone, Hamilton, Limestone, Mills, Navarro, Palo Pinto, Parker, Shackelford, Stephens, Taylor and Wise counties are also under Federal quarantine.

Research On Manure Disposal

University. The studies were described recently during a meeting of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association Board of Directors, who toured the university's agricultural facilities Friday and Saturday. Professor Price Hobgood, head of the A&M Agricultural Engineering Department, said air and soil pollution are puzzling problems for large scale commercial feedlots in disposing of concentrated quantities of manure. Hobgood told the directors that during the summer of 1970, four tillage techniques for plowing manure into the ground were studied near El Paso and Pecos. Researchers in addition to Hobgood were Donald Reddell of the A&M Agricultural Engineering Department; P.J. Lyster, superintendent, A&M Agricultural Research Station in El Paso; and W. H. Johnson, head of the Kansas State University Agricultural Engineering Department. Manure, at the rates of 300, 600 and 900 tons per acre, was applied to sandy loam and silty clay loam soils. Tillage equipment consisted of a 30-inch single bottom rollover mold-board, plowing 30-36 inches deep; an 18-inch, four bottom rollover moldboard, plowing 21 inches deep; a trencher with a 27-inch digger wheel working about 30 inches deep; a disk plow with three chromium-plated 50-inch diameter disks; and an 18-inch, three-bottom rollover plow with slotted moldboards. Flumes were installed in the test areas to measure runoff and collect surface water samples. Also, soil solution access tubes were put in to collect soil water samples at depths of 2, 3 and 4 feet below the surface. Ground water samples from a depth of 2 feet were collected at El Paso. Hobgood said the researchers found that manure rates up to 900 tons per acre can be plowed under with a 30-inch moldboard plow at a minimum cost of 4.5 cents per ton. In sandy soils, the disk plow should be able to plow under at least 600 tons an acre at a minimum cost of 2.1 cents a ton. The 18-inch plow is apparently limited to about 300 tons to the acre. The trencher seems most versatile from the standpoint of high rates and soil penetration depths, the professor pointed out. But the costs will be high--about 50 cents per ton at the 900-ton level. The complete mixing of manure with soil by the trencher is impressive. Water quality, so far, has shown no serious pollution problem for surface water runoff, Hobgood added. Water samples at the 4-foot depth indicate that nitrates are largely removed. The only significant ground-water and soil pollution problem appears to come from salt, which can be traced to salt in the feed rations.

Mrs. W.O. Hooser, who recently joined the fellowship of the First Baptist Church, Burkburnett, said, 'I feel at home here.'

Thelma Wirges
County Home
Demo Agent

Know what style and size rug or carpet you want to buy before you start to shop, suggests Thelma Wirges, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Decide whether you want wall-to-wall carpet in your home, room-size carpets, or area rugs.

Wall-to-wall carpeting is best used on low-quality floors. However, it does cost more to install. The wall-to-wall installation makes a room look more spacious and luxurious. Since there is only one floor surface, cleaning is also easier.

When you choose carpeting, buy the best quality you can afford. Remember carpeting is a permanent installation.

Room-size rugs should be almost as large as the room, with a floor margin of no more than nine to 12 inches. Large rugs come in prefinished standard sizes, or they may be cut from a roll of carpet to the needed size.

In cleaning room-size rugs, be sure to turn them to distribute wear. Since the rugs can be moved to other locations, they are a good value for families who move often.

Miss Wirges suggests that you choose area rugs when you do not want to make a large investment, or when you want to leave more of the floor exposed.

Area rugs come in a variety of sizes and shapes. They can define an area of a room, accenting it with color and design. Before using an area rug, consider the room proportions.

A skimpy rug in a large room may create a "postage stamp" look, she warns.

Beat the costs of heating and air conditioning by installing window shades. The insulating qualities of window shades can cut fuel consumption by 15 to 20 percent, reports Thelma Wirges, County Home Demonstration Agent.

Based on a study by Armour Research Foundation, it was found that the shades' reflecting qualities keep out the heat in warm weather, thus reducing the load on the air conditioner. This is especially true for white or light colored shades.

In cold weather, proper use of shades can also result in fuel savings. Pulling down the shades as darkness approaches, for example, helps cut down on the amount of fuel necessary to heat a room.

Dusting foliage plants used for indoor landscaping is the key to keeping them bright and attractive. Clean the leaves once or twice a month with a soft camel hair brush, soft cheese cloth or a damp cloth or sponge.

Dust gently and carefully, as bruising and knocking the leaf surface will cause discoloration and blemishes. When dusting, the natural oils and waxes on the leaf surface will usually produce a high gloss. If the leaves are extremely soiled, they may be washed with a mild soap-warm water solution before polishing. Let the leaves air dry, then polish. Several commercial leaf polishes are now available. Plants should be watered several hours prior to using these polishes, since dry plants tend to absorb the polish more quickly. Such rapid absorption can cause foliage burn. Do not use oil of any kind.

Preparation Of Soil Big Asset

There's no foolproof plan for growing an attractive garden, but soil preparation, fertilization, watering, and the use of good plants are some practices that can help, according to Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist.

Garden soils should be loose and friable to prevent crusting during dry spells. Janne recommends digging up the soil and working in plenty of spagnum peat moss. A layer of three to four inches should be applied over the bed and worked into the soil to six or eight inches.

Fertilizer should be mixed in when preparing the flower bed at the rate of two to three pounds of complete fertilizer per 100 square feet. Janne notes that a proper fertilizer should have an analysis of 8-8-8 or similar type.

He adds that light monthly applications during the summer, with thorough watering after each application, will insure large plants with ample flowers.

Janne also pointed out that young plants must be thoroughly watered at transplanting time. Plants should be watered regularly except during rainy periods. A thorough soaking every five to seven days is better than a light daily application, according to the landscape horticulturist.

Gardeners who take advantage of the new and better varieties will be rewarded with more flowers and brighter color throughout the season, Janne said. He also warned gardeners against trying to save seed from the new hybrid lines, since the results are usually disappointing.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

B. T. Haws
Wichita County Agricultural Agent

During the last half of May some 22,000 Texas farmers will receive at their mailbox a most important questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin. It will be the annual acreage survey and many farmers in Wichita County will be included in the 22,000. The information derived from the replies will be the basis for the official estimates of crop acreage the state of Texas will have and for each county.

The 34-county wheat Referendum will be held on Tuesday, May 11. All wheat farmers are urged to get out and vote. The voting station for Wichita County will be the county courthouse in Wichita Falls.

The average family of four eats two and one-half tons of food per year. It breaks down this way: 1,000 pounds of meat, fish and poultry; 1,500 pounds of dairy products; more than 1,000 pounds of fruits and vegetables and over 1,500 pounds of flour and cereal products, sugar, potatoes, fats, oils and eggs. Each million people we add to our population requires another 172,000 beef cattle, 25,400 dairy cattle; 433,000 hogs, and 1.3 million hens at today's food consumption rates.

Farming employs 4.6 million workers--as many as the combined employment in transportation, steel industry and the automobile industry. Agriculture's assets total $307 billion, equal to about two-thirds of the value of capital assets of all corporations in the U. S., or about half the value of all corporations in the U. S., or about half the market value of all corporation stocks on the New York Stock Exchange. The value of agriculture's production assets represents about $50,000 for each farm employee, so says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The twine used to bale hay in the United States and Canada last year would stretch to the moon 72 times.

The use of additives in swine rations has enabled producers to increase feed utilization and the growth rate of pigs in addition to making today's production systems possible by controlling diseases.

But, the use of additives is under real pressure and the final outcome rests largely with swine producers. All feeds containing antibiotics or additives must be labeled showing the number of days the material or materials must be withdrawn before the hogs are sold for slaughter.

Producers should carefully read the warnings on the tag attached to each bag of feed or on the invoice that accompany each load of bulk feed. Then, make sure all feeding recommendations are closely followed.

The withdrawal is made necessary since some antibiotics and growth stimulants are deposited in the animal's body tissue. The withdrawal periods allow ample time for the excretion of these materials to the point that body tissue or meat will not contain levels above those accepted by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Horses, like humans, need an annual dental checkup. Such a check can prevent serious tooth problems. Horses' teeth naturally wear off unevenly that after a time chewing hay and oats may become a painful experience to the animal. Sharp enamel edges remain on the outside of the upper molars, cutting the inside of the cheeks. The lower teeth develop sharp points on the inside, cutting the tongue.

When this occurs, some horses refuse to eat, some eat only sparingly, while others hold their heads to one side while chewing. Colic and indigestion often follow the improper chewing of their food.

A veterinarian can correct the situation by floating or filing of the sharp enamel points and edges. The process is a simple one and usually only a minimum restraint of the animal is required.

If your horse is having trouble chewing his food, a tooth checkup may reveal the cause. Better take him to the local veterinarian and make sure of the trouble.

I NEVER SANG FOR MY FATHER

This film was considered by some as one of the best films of 1970, while others gave "I Never Sang for my Father" a very poor rating. However, there must be some merit to the film because it was the choice for the Protestant-Catholic award.

The plot was heavy--to some degree--because it involved total possessiveness of a father towards his children. Melvin Douglas, long recognized as an excellent actor, played the part of the father who gave his children everything and in return expected total devotion. Gene Hackman often followed the line of least resistance and gave up his every desire to satisfy his father's whims. His daughter was not always so grateful.

The film was a sharp contrast to situations found in many homes today where there is little closeness between parent and children. Melvin Douglas aptly portrays the heartbreak that can result from too much possessiveness and devotion to children that results in losing what he loves most.

Tommy Olds, chairman of the Jaycees Youth Development Committee, presents catcher's mitts to Vic Fores and Aderan Dunn of the Little League, as Jaycees Brian O'Hair and Gary Mooney look on.

Burk Jaycees Promote Youth Development

Tommy Olds, representing the Burkburnett Jaycees, recently purchased $100 worth of catcher's mitts for the Burkburnett Little League. The Jaycees had raised the funds for this gift through the many projects planned by the Youth development committee, consisting of Olds, Eddie Reed, John Wolf, Charles Hauger, and Gaylon Sber. The presentation was made to Vic Fores, president of the Little League, and Aderan Dunn equipment manager. The Little League representatives remarked that "this item was one of the most needed."

ONE FOR OIL

If your car performs more like a nervous jack rabbit than a purring tiger, there's a new oil treatment to get her moving in the right direction. Quieting engines, improving their performance and helping reduce oil consumption, blow-by and air-polluting exhaust gases, the product pictured above is ideal for the oil of your dreams.

Contents of the bottle for the throttle will, according to its producers, "turn your horses loose" and prevent that nagging feeling behind the wheel.

Also helping to prevent galling and scuffing of critical engine parts and the formation of sludge and varnish in lubricating oil, "Stud," fortified with ZDP by the Consumer Products Division of Union Carbide, comes in a clear, 15.5-ounce, non-breakable plastic bottle which, when turned upside down, shows a golden bubble that rises to the top, so anyone can see how thick and rich the formula is.

If purchasers are not fully satisfied that this star-studded performer taking the toil out of oil will highly motor-vate any driver.

That's how confident its producers are that this star-studded performer taking the toil out of oil will highly motor-vate any driver.
