The small rain storm which came through Monday night made enough noise to bring a ten gallon rain, but somehow it failed to come. I just knew that Burk Burnett had received its long-awaited rain Friday night. I was only some 100 miles south of here, and it rained over 7 inches there that night. The people down there have been waiting for rainfall longer than we have, and now they have it. I guess if we will just be patient and wait long enough, we will get ours, too.

Our apologies to Charles Bowles for reporting his name as Charles Boyles in last week's paper concerning the story on the first load of wheat. Charlie, I won't attempt to explain how it came about. It was one of those things that only a newspaper could do.

Heard rumors about a sidewalk sale in Burk Burnett? Well, they're true, and it's coming. The merchants in Burk Burnett have gone all out to offer some of the best buys to be found for three hours Tuesday -- 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Loads and loads of merchandise will be piled, heaped, stacked and tumbled on the streets of Burk Burnett Tuesday evening. Make plans to come by.

A religious publication called Franciscan Message has furnished us with the following hard-hitting article titled "Cop Out," written by Norma Atkins. It ought to jar us back onto the main track, if we have gotten off on a siding.

You did your bit and no one cares. You tried and didn't make it. You did it right. . . and no one knows. You figured you could fake it. COP OUT!

You started. . . leading the parade. The crowd fell in behind. But then the big brass band was gone. And the march became a grind. COP OUT!

You're tired of the old routine. The struggle and the fight. Disgusted with the friends and foes. And nothing going right. COP OUT!

Why beat your head against the wall. Why bother with the way? Why travel with a bunch of sheep. Who obviously will stray? COP OUT!

There's lots of ways to go, oh yeah! A lot of ways to hide. . . Bennies, booze, a prison cell Or just a cell inside. COP OUT!

So take a trip. . . or go berserk. Forget what you believed. Impair your health, give out, give in. You've really been deceived. COP OUT!

You brought it on yourself, my friend. You had no right to do it. Think what you will, but God, don't act! Don't march and don't pursue it. COP OUT!

Cop out! The world will forgive. And isn't that what counts today? Cop out. Why not? You're not alone. Cop out. . . there'll be another day. . . WON'T THERE?

1971 BURKBURNETT HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR CLASS

Campaign Nears End

The Informer/Star subscription campaign begins its final week, and new and renewal subscriptions have been rolling in. To date, some twenty youngsters are out selling subscriptions in the contest, and all report a great amount of success. Almost one-third of the group have filled out their first book of subscriptions, and have already received the easy cash from their sales. Most of these are out now with their second, or in some cases third, book, and almost have them completed. Many youngsters have reported that they have sold as many as eight or nine subscriptions a day. They receive $1.00 in cash for each new or renewal subscription they sell. If you haven't entered yet, come by the Informer/Star office at 417 Ave. C and sign up today. You had better hurry though, for the contest ends Tuesday at 5:00 p.m. If you are entered in the contest, then work extra hard these next few days and complete your book before the deadline Tuesday.

Summer Events For Burk Youth

Summer recreation for the youth of Burk Burnett has been announced by recreational director Bob Carpenter. The program begins with registration Monday from 9:00 to 12:00 a.m. for the summer bowling program, with Ron and Fran Lary as instructors. The four-week instruction period of the course will include one hour of classes from 11:00 to 12:00 a.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. Total cost of the course, including shoes and ball is $3.00 per person. The instruction will include approach to the foul line, throwing a hook ball and spot bowling. Classes will be divided into age groups. This bowling program, beginning Monday, will last until July 2. After the instruction is ended, the students will be allowed to form summer leagues to last the remainder of the summer. A summer tennis program follows the beginning of the bowling program. Registration for tennis will be held Tuesday from 9:00 to 11:00 a.m. at the Youth Center. The instructor for this tennis course will be Jan Horky, high school teacher. See SUMMER EVENTS Page Two

Sidewalk Sale Set For Tuesday Night, 6:00—9:00 In Burk Burnett

You've heard about it for the past three weeks and it will finally arrive Tuesday during the hours of 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Burk Burnett's sidewalk sale, that is. The downtown merchants in Burk Burnett are planning one of the best sales events to be held in this area for some time. Tables, racks, heaps and piles of merchandise will be placed in front of the businesses during this special three-hour sales event. Articles of all types can be found. There will be outdated merchandise, updated merchandise and merchandise that you could date in. Things you can eat, things you can wear, or just some things that you can use will all be found on the sidewalks of Burk Burnett this Tuesday night. Other special attractions for the sales event will be a mobile home from Monaghan's Mobile Homes, on display on Ave. B; several 1971 cars and pickups from local automobile dealers will be on show in downtown Burk Burnett also. Who knows, if enough people gather around and someone shows up with a fiddle, Gene Allen, the Chamber of Commerce manager, might even dance a jig. (This hasn't been approved by Gene prior to publication, so if he refuses or states he knows nothing about it, chances are that he is telling the truth.) What else is in store for the public? Who knows? When the zany merchants in Burk Burnett get together to put on a spectacular sales event, anything can happen. Just make plans to come to Burk Burnett during its first sidewalk sale, Tuesday night from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Dollar Days This Weekend In Burk

The Hidden Camera is out again. Dollar Days begin again today in Burk Burnett, and along with it comes the Hidden Camera. Dollar Days is the special sales event held in Burk Burnett the first weekend of every month. Merchants all over town feature money-saving buys in the shopper section of this newspaper, plus many, many others in their stores. The Hidden Camera comes out sometime during the three-day sales event (which is being stretched to five by many merchants this week because of the special sidewalk sale Tuesday). Some unsuspecting shopper is photographed as he or she shops and saves in Burk Burnett during these special days. The shopper's picture will then appear in a special ad in the next week's Informer/Star. If he or she will come by the Informer/Star office no later than Tuesday noon after recognizing the picture in the ad they will receive a special $7.50 gift certificate. The certificate can be cashed in any store participating in the Hidden Camera promotion. Those stores are Corner Drug, Manhattan Dept. Store, Famous Dept. Store, Lippard's Furniture, Wacker's, Underwood's and Triple D Discount. Thus far, the Hidden Camera has been out during the past three Dollar Days campaigns and each time the person photographed has recognized himself. As stated earlier, the Dollar Days specials will be in effect in most of the stores until 9:00 p.m. Tuesday night. Why not come to Burk Burnett this week end to shop for Father's Day, late graduation gifts, or just to take advantage of the extra specials for yourself?

Deadline for entry in this contest is near, and all interested persons should contact Bobbie Klinkerman for further details. Advanced tickets for the rodeo are on sale in six Burk Burnett businesses: Lone Star Gas Co., Texas Electric Service Co., First National Bank, Cornelius Insurance, Burk Burnett Bank, and the Chamber of Commerce office. Advance ticket prices are: adults, $1.75, children under 12, 75¢, and military personnel $1.50. Gate prices include adult and military, $2.25, and children under 12, $1.25. No rodeo would be complete however, without a parade to officially kickoff the celebration. The Boomtown Rodeo parade will begin at 5:00 p.m. Thursday, June 17, states Wayne Sykes, parade chairman. The parade is scheduled to begin in front of the Burk Burnett Auction Barn and proceed down Main Street. All those interested in riding in the parade must begin forming at the barn at 3:00 p.m. Special awards will be given in the parade for the first place riding club, $100; second place riding club, $50; third place riding club, $25; and a distance award of $25. Police Activity Light In Burk Burnett

The Burk Burnett police have reported only three accidents in the last two weeks, and only minor altercations. The first accident, occurring May 23, was in the 1100 block of Sheppard Road. The accident involved an unknown vehicle which hit a 1969 Mercury Cougar owned by Dixon Morline of 1105 Sheppard Rd. The unknown vehicle ran off the road, hitting mail boxes, and traveled some 50 ft., hitting the legally parked Mercury on the right rear fender. The vehicle then drove on without stopping. The second accident occurred May 24 in the school parking lot. A 1969 Pontiac Catalina owned by Willis W. Bartley was parked in the school parking lot when a 1966 Ford driven by Charles M. Goins struck it on the right rear fender. The Goins vehicle was attempting to make a left turn. A 1964 Pontiac, traveling north on US 277-281 Expressway, overturned near the Glendale exit as it attempted to pass another vehicle. The operator, Richard L. Cook of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, lost control of the vehicle and traveled approximately 300 feet on the left edge of the median. The vehicle then crossed the roadway and struck a guard rail with its right front section. The vehicle proceeded another 100 feet on the edge of the guard rail before overturning and sliding down the roadside. Cook received minor injuries. The Burk Burnett Police Department assisted the FBI in the capture of one of its most wanted men recently. The man was apprehended in a business See POLICE REPORT Page Two

Guidelines Of Life

Richard Beaumont, Pastor
St. Jude's Catholic Church

Have you ever worked with someone who was so pre-occupied with criticizing the way others did their jobs that he never seemed to have time to do his own? Well, we can make the same kind of foolish mistake in our relationship with God, too.

There are those who seem to want God to take over their jobs while they take over His. For example, their sentences frequently start like this: "If God is so merciful, then how . . ." Or, "If God is all-powerful (or wise, or just, etc.), then why . . ." A person's inability to stick to his own role as CREATOR instead of Creator could well stem from the fact that he doesn't realize the glory, the power, the magnificence of his own role.

Scripture tells us that, when God created, He gave man dominion over the "fish of the sea, the birds of the air, and all the living things that move on the earth." (Gen. 1:28) And, though he may have lost some control through sin, man did not lose the commission to take care of the earth.

Not a commission to brutally waste and destroy the earth, but to till it and reap its fruits. Not a commission even to dominate and subjugate other men, but to bring the peace of Christ, Himself, to the whole earth; that is, to bring the whole earth into the peaceful reign of God.

This is the reason that the question of ecology, the preservation of our natural resources, is not just a question of human wisdom, but a moral and religious question involving the will of God.

When we see our human task in the light of our stewardship over what God has given us, and see the almost limitless possibilities for the creative genius God has put into man, and see the magnificence of this task in union with all other men on this earth, then we should find it very easy to avoid telling God what He should do or what kind of God He ought to be. We should be able to rise to the challenge to clean up our air and water, to preserve our forests, to save our wildlife species . . . and do it with a song in our hearts for the trust our Creator has put in us.

Col. Jane Sewell Retires At Tinker

Col. Jane Sewell, who will be remembered by many Burkburnettites, retired at Tinker AFB Friday after 29 years as a WAF. She was called the First Lady of the Air Force, for she found herself compiling many "firsts" as a woman officer in military transportation.

During her career she has literally spanned the globe, with 29 permanent changes of station. While stationed at Sheppard AFB (1958-61), she became quite active in Burkburnett and Wichita Falls affairs. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church here and the Burkburnett Study Club. She also belonged to AAUW in Wichita Falls and the Altrusa Club, from which she received the coveted "Altrusa Award." "Most people," she said this past week while considering retirement, "say they don't have any plans or don't know what they'll do after they retire." "I'm not one of them," she stressed. She is looking for a civilian job right now in the area of transportation. Or perhaps she will decide to teach at the college level.

Club Honors Ethyle Bryan

The Cooper Home Demonstration Club honored Mrs. Ethyle Bryan on her birthday during a meeting in the home of Mrs. O. J. Cooper.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. R. R. Swinford, president, with the Pledge of Allegiance. Members answered roll call by citing a successful marriage. Mrs. Bee Bryant read the minutes of the last meeting. The council report was given by Mrs. Anna Mae Emmert, and Mrs. Mae Ketch presented the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Reb Huggins provided the program with a report on how to make curtains.

Two guests -- Mmes. Marilyn Hale and Janie Cooper -- and 19 members attended the meeting.

Dear Sir:
I am attempting to get word to all Ex-Prisoners of War in order to form a North Texas Chapter and to make our organization more binding and with a greater representation. LETTER FROM H. R. HAYES

The following letter was recently received by Vic Fore, president of the Burkburnett Little League, from H. R. (Jingle) Hayes, who is in the Veterans Hospital in Oklahoma City.

Mr. Vic Fore
Pres. of the Little League

Vic,
I want to thank every member of the officials of the ball club and city for bestowing me the honor of the name of the park. You are sure as I am that it required a lot of help from the city officials, Texas Electric, John, you and so many other nice people.

I don't know what my status is here. They change doctors every week. Up to now, I have improved a 1000% and thank God for the many prayers that have been offered for my welfare. It is all that can be responsible for my partial recovery. If I haven't thanked you for the flowers, allow me to do so now.

Respectfully yours,

First National Bank's players hold the first-place slot in the first half of inter-league games with an impressive 8-1 record, the single defeat coming from the Burkburnett Bank team on May 20.

In the minor league, the five teams have completed their first-half competition with the team sponsored by Preston Dairy holding the number one position. The teams of Piggly Wiggly, the Americal Legion, White's Auto and the Optimist Club complete the tally in that order.

Today the major league will begin second half play-offs for that all-important title. The scheduled game pits the Carpenters Union team against Burkburnett Bank at 7:30, with the Preston Dairy v. White's Auto in the third game of the minor league competition. See you there.

Janice Brown Selected To Attend Texas Nuclear Science Symposium

Janice Brown of 906 Tejas, a student at Burkburnett High School, has been selected to attend the 11th Texas Nuclear Science Symposium for High Schools at the University of Texas at Austin June 7-10.

Some 500 outstanding science students and their teachers from throughout the state will attend the four-day meeting. The students are selected by their schools for their scholastic standing and interest in science.

Other noted speakers scheduled during the symposium include U.S. Representative Olen E. Teague of Texas, a member of the House of Representatives' Science and Astronautics Committee, who will give the commencement address on Thursday; Dr. H.O. Pollak, director of the Mathematics and Statistics Research Center for Bell Telephone Laboratories; Dr. Phillip C. Johnson, professor of medicine and chief of the Radiotope Laboratory at the Methodist Hospital, Houston; Dr. A.E. Robson, research scientist in the Plasma Physics Research Center of the University of Texas at Austin; Dr. Robert G. Cochran, professor and head of the nuclear engineering department at Texas A&M University; Dr. W. Peter Trower, associate professor of physics at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va.; and Dr. Richard C. Jewell of the Mobile Research Laboratories, Dallas.

Services Set For Church

The Rev. and Mrs. J. Elton Wood, missionaries to Cape Verde Islands, are now on furlough and are conducting services among Churches of the Nazarene. This is their third furlough since being sent to the field in 1952.

Rev. Wood has performed the duties of pastor, field treasurer, field superintendent, and Bible College Director in Cape Verde Islands.

The Church of the Nazarene of Burkburnett is proud to announce that the Wood's will appear at the local church tonight, June 3.

The missionary services will include a report of the progress and growth of the missionary work there. Slide pictures will be shown, and curios of the islands will be displayed.

Rev. Wood received his AB degree at Bethany Nazarene College. Prior to his field assignment, he taught English and speech in high school and he pastored and did evangelistic work in Texas and Oklahoma.

The Woods have one daughter, Carol Ruth, age 12. They will make their home in Bethany, Oklahoma, during their furlough year.

Scientists and engineers from industry and education will discuss nuclear physics and related topics, and two afternoons will be spent touring the science laboratories at the university. Included will be a tour of the laboratories where experiments sponsored by the research foundation are being carried on in thermonuclear (fusion) research.

"This is a real opportunity for students interested in careers in engineering and science to see and hear about some of the latest achievements in nuclear science and other related fields," B.J. Vincent, company manager, said.

"We are pleased that we can make this opportunity available to them."

The opening address at the symposium will be made by Dr. Edward Teller, professor of physics at the University of California and associate director of the university's Lawrence Radiation Laboratory in Livermore, Calif. Dr. Teller, who helped develop both the atomic and hydrogen bombs, is presently involved with applications of nuclear energy, astro-physics and molecular physics, along with his science teaching.

Other noted speakers scheduled during the symposium include U.S. Representative Olen E. Teague of Texas, a member of the House of Representatives' Science and Astronautics Committee, who will give the commencement address on Thursday; Dr. H.O. Pollak, director of the Mathematics and Statistics Research Center for Bell Telephone Laboratories; Dr. Phillip C. Johnson, professor of medicine and chief of the Radiotope Laboratory at the Methodist Hospital, Houston; Dr. A.E. Robson, research scientist in the Plasma Physics Research Center of the University of Texas at Austin; Dr. Robert G. Cochran, professor and head of the nuclear engineering department at Texas A&M University; Dr. W. Peter Trower, associate professor of physics at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va.; and Dr. Richard C. Jewell of the Mobile Research Laboratories, Dallas.

"Texas Electric Service Company and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation are able to provide this educational opportunity for students and teachers because of our association with the university in the thermonuclear research program," Vincent commented.

"We are vitally interested in this research program. Nuclear fusion is an important potential source of energy for electric power generation. It also offers the promise of being able to generate power with minimum effect upon the environment."

At Texas Electric, People Power is at your service.

Trouble? Call us when you have a problem.

There may come a time when you'll need the help of a troubleshooter from Texas Electric.

A troubleshooter is the man who shows up in a hurry in any kind of weather - any hour of the day, any hour of the night - when you call Texas Electric to report a problem with your electric service.

Perhaps the lights keep dimming and flickering at the houses in your neighborhood. Or the power has gone off at your home.

Call us, and one of our troubleshooters will see that you get back on the line to good, full-time electric service.

Or, if he finds that the company's lines are functioning properly, he'll suggest ways you can solve the problem with the help of your appliance repairman or electrician.

There may be other, less urgent things you'd like a troubleshooter to do. Remove your child's tangled kite from our electric lines. Or get a stranded cat down from one of our electric utility poles before there is trouble.

All this is just part of our job, so let us know when you need us. At Texas Electric, People Power is at your service.

Your Texas Ancestors

DAMON VEACH

Mary Ryst married Jacob H. Hendricks, and they moved to Ellis County, Texas, from Illinois before 1864. One of their children was Victoria Catharine, born Nov. 18, 1864, in Ellis Co. Mary had a sister, Nancy, who married Jacob's brother, Hank Hendricks. They were the parents of Mark and Tex, both of whom lived south of Portales, New Mexico in the early 1900's. Jacob and Hank had another brother, Adlington, whose son, John, went to the Old Chapel school, Ellis County.

Mrs. Archie D. Dougherty, KD Ranch, Star Rt., Box 62, Clovis, New Mexico, 88101, would like to correspond with descendants of this Ryst/Hendricks family. She is also researching the William S. Ricketts family, who lived in both Dallas and Ellis County. He was a son of Zedekiah and Margaret (Dews) Ricketts. They moved from Bowling Green, Ky., to Texas around 1847 (April). In 1850, William S. Ricketts went to California and returned in 1853, having done quite well as a miner. He married 1st, Sarah A. Wampler, 2nd, Mary (Bryson) Baggett.

Mrs. E. R. Jones, 1408 Herbst St., Borger, Texas, 79007 needs to know the parents of Nathaniel Prestley Jones, born about 1855, Limestone Co. He married Mary Elizabeth Wood, Nov. 16, 1876, Limestone Co., and he died about 1893 in or near Hubbard, Hill Co. Their children were Mary Etta (1877), Charlie A. (Nov. 17, 1880), Neeley, Willie, Tom, Fred, Elmer, and several others.

Mary Elizabeth's parents lived near them. They were George Washington Wood, born Oct. 17, 1833, Tenn., died June 15, 1908, Howard Co., and Mary Emeline Phillips, born Jan. 3, 1840, Tenn., died May 5, 1912, Donley Co. Information is also needed on Hiram R. Waldrop, born

Nov. 27, 1833, place unknown. He came to Texas from Pleasant Hill, Sabine Parish, La., and died in Comanche County, Texas, Jan. 5, 1900. He married Mahala Lout in Louisiana, and she died in Comanche Co. in April, 1892.

Selden Edward White, Jr., 137 Navajo Drive, Winslow, Arizona, 86047, needs data on Henry Allen Dews and his wife, Eliza Jane Suttle. He was born Sept. 7, 1853, Nashville, Tenn., died Nov. 16, 1937, Mineral Wells, Palo Pinto Co., buried in Weatherford, Parker Co. His parents were Curtis and Wilzabeth (Wood) Dews.

Eliza Jane Suttle was born Feb. 1, 1857, Nashville, died May 8, 1947, Fort Worth, buried in Weatherford. Her parents were William and Mary (Taylor) Suttle.

Their children were Frank W. Dews, Stella (Mays), Walter (married a Moore), Fred (married Dona Simskins), Claude (married Jessie Hill), Lena Bell (born Sept. 6, 1890, married Logan Edward White in 1912), Jack (married Gertrude Johnson) and three others born in Parker Co. There is a need to look back occasionally to get our bearings for the future. Past experiences often guide future action. What has proved good and profitable in the past will often prove to be the same in the days ahead. Serving God and our country through our churches and through civil and community service has always elevated us as a people and contributed to our image as a free and just country. We will not go wrong in adhering to these practices.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Restrictions Extended For Hog Cholera Control

The Texas Animal Health Commission recently announced a quarantine order that reimposes restrictions on swine movements in Texas placed in effect March 29 to control hog cholera.

The new order became effective May 28, and will remain in effect until further notice, according to Woodrow W. Bailey, Extension Livestock and Meats Specialist.

All previous restrictions on swine movements contained in the previous order will remain the same, with the exception of one additional restriction.

The new restriction order will require holding all purchased swine for 30 days at the premises of the purchaser, and no movement will be allowed except for slaughter during the quarantine, Bailey says.

If swine are apparently healthy, this premise quarantine will automatically expire after the 30th day without any inspection, according to Bailey.

He added that it is strongly felt that extending the quarantine control will bring Texas closer to the complete eradication of the hog cholera virus by the December 1972 target date. Although 22 cases of hog cholera have been confirmed since March 29, none of these cases have been connected with swine movements after that date.

Five counties -- Denton, Freestone, Wise, Parker, and Palo Pinto -- have been completely released from federal quarantine, according to Bailey. He added that Potter County has been placed under federal quarantine. Originally, all or portions of 33 Texas counties were under federal quarantine.

Bailey reminds producers that all swine can be moved, provided that proper inspections and permits are acquired.

Swine moving to slaughter can be transported to packing houses or public markets without inspection or written permits.

Once at the market, they can't be legally sold as feeders, he said. Swine can be moved for exhibition purposes on permit from the Executive Director of the Texas Animal Health Commission. Hogs going to shows must be inspected on the farm, earmarked or tagged, and accompanied by the permit.

Special breeder or feeder sales must be cleared with authorities in the animal health commission. Written permission can be granted with certain requirements, including on the farm inspection.

Swine may be moved one time with no diversion en

Nine screwworm cases were confirmed in Texas during the two-week reporting period of May 2 through May 15, 1971. No cases were confirmed in the comparable period a year ago. In 1969, however, 28 cases were recorded during the same two weeks.

Three of the screwworm cases originated in Cameron County, and one each was recorded in Hidalgo, Pecos, Starr, Webb, Wilson and Zapata Counties. All except Wilson adjoin or are near the Rio Grande.

Sample bottles for screwworm specimens may be picked up at the County Agent's office.

EMPHYSEMA DEATHS IN CATTLE REPORTS RECEIVED

Numerous reports of deaths of cattle from emphysema of the lungs have been received at the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory from over the state during the last two weeks.

This condition is also known as pulmonary adenomatosis, interstitial pneumonia, atypical pneumonia, panthers, or, in Britain, as fog fever, says Dr. W. L. Sippel, laboratory director.

The disease is very similar to the condition caused in humans primarily by smoking, however, the disease in cattle has nothing to do with smoking or air pollution.

Rather, he notes, it is thought to be caused by an allergic reaction to something the animals are eating. The lungs are the target organ for allergic manifestations in cattle. While the causative agent varies, most of the current cases are associated with the high protein constituents of young Bermuda grass pastures. Cattle have been on these pastures from 2 to 14 days when the first animals are affected. Five to 50 percent of a herd can be stricken. Deaths can be rapid or chronic cases can develop. Up to 50% of those affected may die.

If cases appear, Dr. Sippel suggests that the cattle be removed from the pasture immediately, without undue stress, feed hay and/or grain, and watched closely for a few days. Any animals that breathe unusually fast or with difficulty should be eased to a place where they can be treated.

Veterinarians are using antihistamines, atropine and other drugs if affected cattle are found soon enough. Cattle should be held off the pasture, he says, until it matures and then should be returned, at first, for short intervals only. Another alternative is to feed hay prior to allowing the cattle short grazing times on the pasture. A veterinarian's services should be sought for diagnosis, treatment or handling of affected herds, Dr. Sippel advises.

If you have a terrific sweet tooth, yet the word 'fattening' keeps ringing in your ears, keep into a sweet low-calorie pear, suggests Thelma Wirges, County Home Demonstration Agent.

A medium-sized pear has about 100 calories. And it is also good for you, providing small amounts of vitamins and minerals. To supplement the food value of pears, combine them with vitamin-rich fruits, juices, and protein foods.

Serve baked or broiled pears with lamb, ham or pork. For an attractive garnish, fill the pear centers with mint jelly or cranberry sauce.

Or, try stewing pears cut into quarters of halves in cranberry, orange or pineapple juice for a flavorful dessert. Select slightly under-ripe fruit and bring them to the boiling point, then simmer until tender.

This way you can supplement the vitamin value of the pears with that of the juice, yet keep the calories low. Serve stewed pears with a small scoop of sherbet, ice milk, or a dollop of sour cream.

Combine fresh diced pears with melon balls, grapes, plums, peaches and other fruits in season for a colorful compote. Use orange juice to sweeten the fruit, to accent the flavor, and to keep them from darkening.

For a heartier gourmet dessert, team pears with cheese.

Do you know if these statements are true or false? Older people need less protein than young adults.

Fried foods are difficult to digest. Whole grain breads are more nutritious than enriched white breads. Butter has more calories

Narrow Row Reduces Weevils

What special effects narrow row cotton may have on insect populations are yet to be determined. Cotton insect problems are generally minor on the Texas High Plains, where the move to narrow-row cotton is gaining momentum.

"We began to study the effects of narrow-row cotton on insect populations only last year," points out Dr. Dale Bottrell, research entomologist at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. "Our data are inconclusive to this point, but our long-range research program should uncover some definite findings.

As expected, insect populations per acre were larger in fields planted to narrow-row cotton compared to cotton planted in conventional 40-inch rows. But, the insect population per plant appeared about the same.

Damaging populations of insect pests were not encountered during the study last year in the Lubbock area. "We plan to expand our research project this year to include studies at two locations in the Rolling Plains," adds the entomologist. "Our greatest interest is to determine the influence of the narrow-row production system on boll weevil populations."

Narrow-row cotton may prove to fit into current schemes aimed at fighting the boll weevil, contends Bottrell. Since cotton produced in this manner matures earlier and allows for an earlier harvest, dispersing boll weevil populations may not build up so rapidly during the fall months. This would mean fewer overwintering weevils, the main goal of the High Plains Dismal Boll Weevil Control Program.

Stretch Your Food Dollar

Stretch your food dollar this week and take advantage of lower prices during seasonal peaks, suggests Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Best beef values include round steaks and roasts, chuck roasts and steaks, ground beef, liver and short ribs. Retail pork prices are unchanged for the past three weeks. Look for best pork values on smoked hams, picnic, shoulder roasts and steaks, end cut loin roasts and chops and liver.

Fryers are still excellent buys in most retail meat departments, and frozen turkeys are available in some stores at low prices.

Check prices on large and medium size eggs for lowest costs, comparing eggs of the same grade. If the cost difference of the two sizes is less than seven cents, the larger size is usually the best buy, Mrs. Clyatt says. Fresh fruits and vegetables in good supply at the most economical prices include oranges, bananas, strawberries, lemons, pineapples, corn, potatoes, head lettuce, celery,

Beef Jerky Now Snack Food

A food American Indians used long before this country was settled, and that pioneers and prospectors carried with them along western trails, is making a comeback as a snack food.

"Charqui," as early Andean peoples called it, is today called "jerky," and is becoming more and more popular, reports Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist at Texas A&M. Jerky, sold in food stores and by mail order, is thinly sliced lean beef that has been spiced and air-dried, oven-dried or smoked. In pioneer days, it took 2 to 3 months to naturally cure the meat. But jerky can now be made within 24 hours with advanced processing techniques.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's inspection standards of sanitation and processing are applied to jerky, as for all meat products that are shipped interstate. USDA inspectors also closely examine labeling of jerky and check for the appropriate moisture-protein ratio, which allows the product to be stored without refrigeration.

Summer Programs For Youth Outlined

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Sheppard. Male dependents between the ages of 17 and 20 may attend. The courses available are electrical, engineering, entomology, pavements maintenance, carpentry, protective coating, and plumbing specialists. These students will be enrolled as "overload students" along with the Air Force students in the classes. Application forms including releases to be signed by the parents or guardians are available in building 836. Complete information concerning the courses are also available from the department chief, Lt. Col. Robert L. Johnson.

Several other programs are in the planning stage, and information will be made available in the near future. Social service and education programs are planned for the older youth dependents of Sheppardites this summer, according to Col. Ward J. Catron, chairman of the Youth Council at Sheppard Air Force Base.

A swim dance is scheduled for this Saturday at the Capehart swimming pool. It is for dependents from 14 to 22 years of age and their authorized guests. Franklin's Mast band will provide music for dancing. The event will be from 8 - 11 p.m. Similar socials are planned throughout the summer.

The Capehart swimming pool will be open Tuesday and Thursday nights from 9 to 11 p.m. for those from 16 to 21 years of age. A trip to Six Flags Over Texas and another to Fort Sill, Okla., are planned for this age group later this summer. Additional information may be obtained at the Youth Center.

The Riding Club, Rod and Gun Club, go-carts, miniature golf, swimming bowling and numerous other activities are available for this age group.

Among the service programs open to the older youth are the Red Cross Volunteers whereby the students are trained to serve in the volunteer program at the U.S. Air Force Regional Hospital, the Base Library and in the swimming programs, to name a few. They earn volunteer credits.

There is also the Family Service Volunteer program. Here the dependents are also able to earn volunteer hours for their work. The Family Service shield is given at 50 hours, the hour guards are given at 100 hours, 250 hours, and every 250 hours thereafter.

This program includes work with CHAP (Children Have A Potential), and clerical duties in the office.

The Youth Center also needs volunteers to assist in the many activities -- coaching for the softball and baseball programs, assisting with the swimming program and many others.

These teenagers may also assist in the religious education program.

Heading the educational program available for them are the courses offered by the Department of Civil Engineering Training, 3750th Technical School at

Capt. Rescues Young Girl

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--A Sheppard captain rescued a seven-year-old girl from Lake Texoma Sunday, May 25. The officer is Capt. Wayne Wallace, instructor in the Missile Officer course at Sheppard AFB. As he was fishing at the lake, he saw the small girl in water over her head, and realized she could not swim. He rushed to her rescue and pulled her out.

He did not learn her name, or that of her father, who had been nearby but had not noticed the child in the water.

More about accident investigations following unplanned landings. There are differences between forced landing accidents and mishaps that occur when a planned landing ends in a crumpled mess, with death or bad injuries resulting.

Yes, you're correct in saying that a person is just as dead regardless of which type of accident causes the death. As I have never been through the death phase department, I can't write for or against the differences, but I have had accidents after the wheels touched down in what appeared to be a normal approach, normal landing and, as the result, very little uncertainties, fears or planning were involved.

Everything is over so quickly that there is not enough time to worry, be scared or lay any plans. In such circumstances, what a pilot does is determined by whether he has flown enough to act without thinking -- doing things that will lessen the chances of death or serious injury. This is positively where experience counts and counts a lot.

We're still on the subject of forced landings, which originate when the plane is in flight.

All flight students should have it drilled into them that it is likely to be fatal if an engine quits on takeoff at an altitude below 200-300 feet and a turn is attempted that exceeds 45 degrees. Now, use common judgment and believe a Piper J3 (with low wing loading characteristics) will be safer in a turn at low altitude than a Culver Cadet, Globe Swift, or any other craft with high wing loading characteristics. A good instructor teaches his students to land straight ahead if the altitude is 200 feet or lower and the engine quits.

From the vantage point of experience gained while flying over terrain in West Texas, Oklahoma and other level areas, I can state that elevation above 3,000 feet is of little use to a pilot should his engine quit. In eastern Oklahoma and many parts of Arkansas, the more elevation the better. The reason for my writing the last two statements is: It is hard to decide upon a suitable landing place from altitudes above 3,000 ft. There is a longer time in which a pilot can change his mind, picking two or three fields that look better than the original choice. Woe beto the pilot who picks a field and then later finds he has found a better spot and doesn't have enough altitude left to execute a safe approach. Fellow, take it from your instructor; don't change your mind after saying you are going to land in a certain spot.

Crack-up investigations reveal such changes of mind. If a good landing spot is near where the fatal accident or plane crash, an investigator will check how many hours the pilot has flown. If only a hundred, two hundred or so hours are in his log book, then the crack-up could be due to insufficient flying experience to make him able to get his plane to reach the planned destination. If the plane landed near the only clearing available, the same reasoning could

Youth Summer Employment At SAFB

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--An estimated 250 area youth people will be employed at Sheppard AFB this summer, in cooperation with Operation Impact, according to Fred Davenport, Civilian Personnel Officer.

One hundred seventy-five young men and women between the ages of 16 and 22 will be employed and assigned to various base organizations through the Civilian Personnel Office, beginning Tuesday. The others will be individually employed through the Base Exchange and various non-appropriated fund activities, he said.

Jack Davis, a senior student at Midwestern University and an employee in the Sheppard Civilian Personnel Office, is project officer for the summer program. Davis will serve as special youth counselor and will make job assignments, provide assistance to base supervisors and arrange for special training for the summer youth employees.

Miss Betty Dickens, Sheppard Equal Employment Opportunity Program administrator, stated that all applications for jobs filled by the Civilian Personnel Office are filled through the Texas Employment Commission, which makes appropriate referrals to the base.

He also met with Col. Robert G. Williams, vice commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, and Col. S. D. Berman, base commander.

General Carson was accompanied by CMSgt. Leonard T. Trent, chief airman advisor at Air Training Command, and other representatives from ATC.

The group had lunch in the steak room of the Airman's Club. A selected group of young airmen met with the general to discuss an overall view of the housing and what can be done to improve it.

General Carson and his party left Wednesday afternoon to continue a tour of ATC bases.

Meritorious Service Awarded To Two

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Cited for contributions to the effectiveness and success of the United States Air Force Helicopter School, two officers of the 3630th Flying Training Wing at Sheppard received the Meritorious Service Medal last Thursday.

The awards to Lt. Col. Lamar G. Tullos and Lt. Col. Charles R. Kay were presented by Col. Robert W. Cunningham, commander of the wing, in ceremonies at his office.

Colonel Kay was cited for outstanding service as officer in charge of the local base rescue section as assistant chief of helicopter operations and as chief of the instructor training branch of the 3630th Flying Training Wing

Gen. Carson Visits SAFB

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Maj. Gen. Charles W. Carson, deputy chief of staff for technical training at Headquarters Air Training Command, visited Sheppard Technical Training Center last Wednesday.

He came here on a non-organizational housing survey. While here, he visited all types of housing at Sheppard, including the bachelor officer quarters, noncommissioned officer quarters and the airman quarters.

The child sustained burns over 40-50 percent of his body in a fire at his home, 2810 Pennsylvania Avenue in Wichita Falls, early Friday morning. His mother is Mrs. Ora McKeehan.

The patient was airlifted to Galveston to a medical burn center in an Air Force T-29 aircraft. The request for assistance came from a Wichita Falls hospital.

Aircraft commander for the flight was Capt. Gary L. Senesney; co-pilot was Capt. Louis K. Odyke; flight engineer was SSgt. Jimmie L. Burkitt; flight surgeon was Capt. Terrill Simmons; and TSgt. K. C. Looney was the medical technician.

Mercy Flight Given Nine Year Old Boy

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--A mercy flight carrying a badly burned nine-year-old child, Will McKeehan of Wichita Falls, left Sheppard Air Force Base Friday afternoon.

The child sustained burns over 40-50 percent of his body in a fire at his home, 2810 Pennsylvania Avenue in Wichita Falls, early Friday morning. His mother is Mrs. Ora McKeehan.

The patient was airlifted to Galveston to a medical burn center in an Air Force T-29 aircraft. The request for assistance came from a Wichita Falls hospital.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--WIVES WORK IN SQUADRON--Mmes. James Milton Fleetwood and T. Brent Archibald do volunteer work in the 3794th Student Squadron, where their husbands are assigned. Their husbands, both students in the Medical Service School, look over their wives' work. The two wives are the first at Sheppard to do volunteer work for the technical instructor of the squadron. Two Sheppard Women In Exceptional Volunteer Work

By Billie Burrell
SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Scoring a first at Sheppard Air Force Base, and probably in the entire Air Force, are wives of two airmen assigned to the Medical Service School's 3794th Student Squadron.

They are doing volunteer work for the technical instructor (TI) of the squadron -- helping out with typing, filing and various record-keeping jobs of the squadron.

The two, Gay Fleetwood and Maria Archibald, are wives of Airmen James Milton Fleetwood and T. Brent Archibald. They work at the squadron daily without pay; they are doing it to keep busy and help where they can.

SSgt. Timothy T. Starke is the TI for the squadron, and he suggested the work when Mrs. Fleetwood inquired about various volunteer organizations at the base.

Sergeant Starke, who has been with the Sheppard squadron since February of this year, has a standing policy of meeting the airmen's wives as they arrive. He visits with them individually and tells them about the school, the squadron, and the various organizations at Sheppard where they can get help if they need it during their stay at Sheppard. He answers any questions they have and welcomes them to the area. There are at least 50 married airmen in the squadron at all times; presently there are 78.

Mrs. Fleetwood, who joined her husband here April 18, is from Four Oaks, N. C. Her husband, from Farmville, Va., is a student in the Medical Administrative Specialist course, which he will finish June 15. He previously took the Medical Helper course at Sheppard. She attended Campbell College, where she was majoring in sociology, and Johnson Tech, where she studied general office subjects. They live at 1100 Alma Street in Wichita Falls.

"This is the most enjoyable work, and it keeps me busy with something worthwhile when my husband is in school," she stated.

She comes in about 7:15 a.m. and remains until about 12:30 p.m. when her husband completes his classes for the day. "I have learned so much about the military service, and this has changed my opinion about it," the vivacious young Mrs. Fleetwood said. "At first I was afraid of the service, but now I understand it better since I've learned more about it."

Mrs. Archibald, who came to Sheppard May 4 from her hometown of Caldwell, Idaho, began work May 10. He day begins anywhere from 7:30 to 8:00 in the morning and ends sometimes at noon, or at 4:30 p.m. other days, depending on the work load.

She has completed a year at Ricks College in Ricksturg, Idaho, and one-half year at Northwestern College of Business in Portland, Ore. Her husband is from Malad, Idaho. He is now in the Medical Helper course and is scheduled to complete the Operating Room specialist course August 6.

Her comment was: "I love this work. I feel lucky that I found it. It is almost impossible to find a job for only the short time that my husband will be in school, so it is great that I found something useful to do."

Airman and Mrs. Archibald reside at 4238 Burkburnett Road in Wichita Falls.

Sergeant Starke is more enthusiastic about the program than anyone else. He has 650 airmen assigned to the squadron, and he is the only TI for the entire squadron.

He found it difficult to do all the filing and clerical work along with his many other duties. This extra help keeps the squadron running smoothly and the young wives interested and busy.
