City Announces Water Schedule For Residents Of Burkburnett

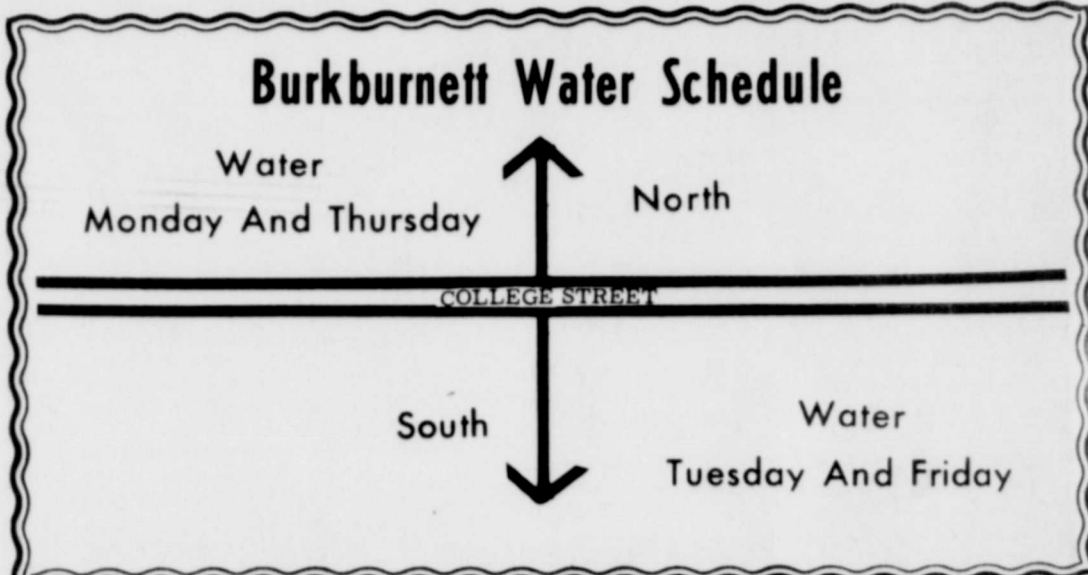

Due to the continuing drought conditions, Burkburnett citizens have been placed on a new water schedule to simplify the water supply problems.

Residents living NORTH of COLLEGE ST. may use outside water on MONDAYS & THURSDAYS. Residents living SOUTH of COLLEGE ST. are permitted to use outside water TUESDAYS & FRIDAYS.

Residents are required to adhere to this schedule in order to maintain the city's water supply at a comfortable level.

In announcing the schedule City Manager Gary Bean noted that the people of Burkburnett have cooperated with the programs before, and that under the new schedule residents are asked still to conserve water as much as possible.

On the days that they water, citizens are asked to please turn off lawn sprinklers by 10:30 p.m. at the latest. This will enable the water towers to refill overnight so that the water supply demands of the next day can be met.

Well crews are still working seven days a week in an attempt to complete new water wells to bolster Burkburnett's water supply.

As you have noticed, water condition in neighboring towns are critical. The steps the City has taken have been calculated to prevent such conditions from developing in Burkburnett.

Burk Chamber Holds Monthly Meeting July 12

Bob Arnold, president of the Wichita Falls theatre group, Backdoor Players, Inc., presented color slides of a one-act play, "Star Spangled," which is now being performed in Wichita Falls by the group, to the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce during the Chamber's noon luncheon Monday.

The theatre group from Wichita Falls discussed their plans to tour the area towns with shows worthy and interesting to the public. This would offer entertainment for the residents, as well as providing a chance for local civic groups to earn money.

Arnold made the presentation of the program under the sponsorship of Walt Doerre, Chairman of the Tourist Development Committee of the Chamber.

During the luncheon meeting, City Manager Gary Bean announced that public response to the City's plea for water conservation had been good.

After adjournment of the general membership of the Chamber, the Chamber directors held their monthly meeting. During this meeting, Chamber Manager Gene Allen announced that most of the figures were in from the annual Boomtown USA Rodeo, and that the event was a financial success.

In other business of the directors, the 1972 Budget Committee was appointed by president Jerry McClure. Members of the committee are: Joe Gillespie (chairman), C.J. Lippard, Dale Lewis and J.B. Riley.

Boomtown Jubilee Held Friday To Large Crowd In City Hall

The second monthly Boomtown Jubilee was held in City Hall Friday night.

Boomtown Jubilee was originated by the Newton and Tharp families in an effort to provide Burkburnett with entertainment in the form of country - western, folk and gospel music, and to give Burkburnett musical groups an opportunity and place to perform.

Wyatt and Lavata Tharp have previous experience in this field, having organized similar music gatherings in Oklahoma where they found them to be very successful.

Groups performing during the Friday night session were the Wyatt Tharp Group, gospel singers, High Flight -- a group from Burkburnett High School, Tex - Sonics, Tharp Family, Robert Lee Bradford and Don Nuzum, from Sheppard Air Force Base.

The Boomtown Jubilee is held every second Friday night of each month. The next will be held on Friday the 13th in August.

New Recreation Programs Start

The Burkburnett Summer Tennis Program got underway here Monday, with sixteen youngsters signing up for the three-week course. More youngsters have promised to become involved in the program during the first week of lessons. Linda Fisher and David French are giving instruction during the 3-week period. Linda will give her attention to the beginners and intermediates at the High School courts, while David will be devoting his time to the advanced players at the Junior High courts.

Lessons are being given on sdays at 6:30 at the places mentioned above. A charge of $3.00 has been set to take care of cost of equipment.

A tournament will be held at the conclusion of the 3-week training on the fundamentals and basic skills of the game.

The summer program is also sponsoring a golf clinic for Burkburnett youth between the ages of 8 and 18, beginning this Thursday, July 15.

Clinic instructor is Cliff Southerland, who will be the teaching professional at the Boomtown Golf Center. Southerland has been assistant professional at Vernon and at Weeks Park in Wichita Falls, and was head professional at Archer City. He will begin his duties as resident professional of the Burkburnett course upon completion of the facility.

The clinic begins Thursday and will consist of two groups: ages 8 - 12 and ages 13 - 18. No prior knowledge of golf is required for participation, and participants do not have to provide their own clubs.

This clinic is primarily designed to introduce golf to the youth of Burkburnett, rather than to give individual lessons. Those interested in individual lessons should contact Southerland at 569-3498.

The clinic will be held in the park beside the swimming pool, with sessions at 2:00, for the 8-12 group, and 3:00, for the 13-18 group.

Included in the Recreation Program's plans is a cheer-leading camp to be held in Burk during the latter part of July for all interested girls.

The camp will be conducted by the BHS Varsity cheerleaders. For further information on this program, call 569-2875.

In still another program, the Recreation Program will have the Junior High Gym open starting Monday, July 19. Classes in basketball, volleyball and ping-pong will be held Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays for a two-week period ending July 31.

Instruction will be given from 9:00-10:00 a.m. for children under 12 years of age, and from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. for students over 12.

Students must have tennis shoes to wear on the gym floor, and will not be allowed to play in bare feet or in any type of shoe other than tennis shoes.

Burkburnett students are urged to participate in these programs in order that the Summer Youth Program may continue.

Community-Wide Prayer Services Held For Rain

A community-wide prayer service for rain was called for by the Burkburnett Ministerial Alliance during its July 12 meeting.

Members of the Alliance agreed to call all churches together in a community-wide prayer in response to the present drought-stricken times.

The date, location and other details of the projected prayer service will be announced by the Alliance next week. For further information, contact Rev. Max Dowling.

Police Department Has Light Week In Burk

Reports received by the Burkburnett Police Department during the past week dealt with one burglary, a theft and one traffic accident.

Ruel Lassiter called the Police Station Thursday, July 8, and reported to Officer Templeton that the Reaves home at 301 East 7th St. had been broken into. Investigating officers, arriving at the scene at about 5:30 p.m., were informed by Reaves that entry into the house was gained through a back window on the northwest corner of the building. Upon examining the window in question the officers found the panes of glass from the window stacked neatly inside the house. A clear set of fingerprints was obtained from these panes.

Reported missing from the house were a set of China-ware, valued at between $45 and $50, a set of gold dinnerware, valued at $65, and a set of crystal ware, valued at between $15 and $20.

James Mayse reported a theft to local officers. Mayes stated that he had reason to believe that Wendell Sanders, of Sheppard Road in Burkburnett, had taken 15 stereotapes from his car at approximately 5:00 a.m. on June 27. This belief was based on the statement of Mrs. Maggie Mayse, who said that she observed Sanders looking through the Mayes automobile, a 1963 Chevrolet 2-door convertible. After Sanders left the car, Mayse discovered that the tapes were missing.

In the only automobile accident of the week, an improperly parked vehicle was struck by a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Irene Smith. The stationary vehicle, a 1970 Chevrolet, was parked facing north on South Ave. C, with its left wheels nearest the curb. Mrs. Smith reported that she was traveling south on South Ave. C when an unidentified vehicle passed her on her right and cut in front of her, causing her to collide with the right front section of the parked car.

Mrs. Betty Van Vacter of South Ave. C reported that immediately after the collision she observed a red vehicle of unknown make and license, traveling at high speed, run a stop sign and skid into the intersection of South Ave. C and College Street, then turn left on College.

Vehicle 1 measured 23 ft. 51 inches of skid marks prior to impact.

Hardaway Has 35 Years With Mobil Corporation

Carl E. Hardaway, Production Assistant in Mobil Oil Corporation's Midland Exploration and Producing Division's Burkburnett Foeman's Area, recently completed 35 years with the company. He was presented with a jeweled emblem in the presence of fellow employees and will be a honored guest at a dinner to be held in Midland the latter part of 1971. A dinner is held annually honoring all 35-year award recipients during the current year.

Hardaway, a native of Shongaloo, La., began working for the company at Rodessa, La., as a Pumper. Prior to his assignment in Burkburnett as Production Assistant, he worked in various positions at Imperial, Snyder, Seminole, Andrews, Olney, and Albany, Texas.

Reception Planned For Al & Sylvia Lohofener

Don and Grace Lohofener and Charles and Carol White will host a fiftieth wedding anniversary reception honoring their parents, Al and Sylvia Lohofener. The reception will be held Sunday, July 18, in the National Room of the First National Bank.

Al and Sylvia moved to Burkburnett from Oberlin, Kansas, in July of 1921. Since that time, they have both been active in numerous clubs and organizations in the Burkburnett community.

Sylvia has been an active member of the First Baptist Church, was chosen Woman of the Year in 1954, has been Mother of the Year for the Current Literature Club in the Santa Rosa District of Texas Federated Women's Clubs and has served as president of many clubs. Since 1943 she has been with the Red Cross Home Service. She has also been a member of both Eastern Star and Royal Neighbors for fifty years.

Al, a graduate of Burkburnett High School, attended Texas A&M for one and one-half years, and served in the armed forces during World War I. He holds a 50-year pin from the Masons, and has been a member of the Red Cross Board since 1936. An active member of the Methodist Church, he has been on the Methodist Board since 1939, and president of the church's Men's Bible Class. He has also served on the Red Cross Executive Board for several years.

Always active in civic affairs, Al served as Mayor for two years and as Mayor Pro Tem for two years. At the time of his retirement, he had filled the position of Postmaster of Burkburnett for 28 years.

The Lohofeners are still active in the community. Both are members of the Senior Citizens Club. Al is now serving as a city councilman, and Sylvia is the author of "Round the Town," which appears each week in the Informer/Star.

Al and Sylvia are the fifth couple in the Lohofener family to reach their 50th wedding anniversary. All close friends of the couple are asked to attend the reception. The family requests that there be no gifts.

Young tennis players are given individual attention under the Summer Youth Program. Above, Linda Fisher gives Bill Pittard some pointers.

Guidelines Of Life

John A. Harvey, Pastor
The Church of the Nazarene

My Dear Angel,
Obviously you are making excellent progress. My only fear is lest, in attempting to hurry the patient, you awaken him to a sense of his real position. For you and I, who see his position as it really is, must never forget how totally different it ought to appear to him. He must not be allowed to realize that he is now, however slowly, heading in the right direction, away from God into the cold, dark space of nothingness.

For this reason, I am almost glad he went to church and may even indeed become a regular irregular churchgoer! I know there are dangers to this, but anything is better than that he should realize the break he has made. As long as he remains externally "good" while he allows us to have our way in "little areas," we can slowly lead him astray.

Keep his mind off us. No one likes to think about being our servant. Keep his religion vague. Keep distracting his prayer life. Let him oversleep on Sunday morning and blame "that stupid alarm clock." Make him feel like he needs that extra rest and time with the family. Soon he will want to think less and less about the enemy.

You will say these are very small sins; and, doubtless, like all young tempters, you are anxious to be able to report spectacular wickedness. But do remember, the only thing that matters is the extent to which you separate him from the enemy. It does not matter how small the sins are provided that they edge the man away from the Light and out into the Nothing.

"INDEED, THE SAFEST ROAD TO HELL IS THE GRADUAL ONE -- the gentle slope, soft underfoot, without sudden turnings, without milestones, without signposts."*

SATAN

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

- Q) I work and my wife took a full-time job for the first time this year. Should we now arrange for additional withholdings?
- A) Yes, because of the mechanics of the withholding system, working couples may wind up owing a large amount of tax next year, unless they arrange for more withholding.
- Q) I am visiting the United States for several months. Do you have a special publication giving U.S. tax information to foreign visitors?
- A) IRS Publication 519, "United States Tax Guide for Aliens," will tell you such information as whether you have to file a Form 1040NR, "U.S. Nonresident Alien Income Tax Return," and how to obtain a "sailing permit" to certify that you have complied with U.S. tax laws when leaving the country. To obtain a free copy, send a post card to the Internal Revenue Office nearest you.
- Q) I greatly increased the value of my home this spring by installing central air conditioning. Can I get a tax deduction for what I spent?
- A) Although this expense cannot be deducted, it can be added to the cost basis of your property. This way, the cost of the air conditioning unit will be taken into account in the event you sell your home.
- Q) What should I do about the estimated tax notice I received in the mail? I do not have to file Form 1040ES.
- A) These notices were mailed to all taxpayers who were sent the estimated tax form packages in February. If you did not have to file a declaration of estimated tax for 1971, and your tax situation is unchanged, ignore the reminder notice.

Six Named "Men Of The Year" In Agriculture

Six outstanding agricultural leaders have been named "Men of the Year in Texas Agriculture." The recognition program sponsored by the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association was initiated in 1962.

The 1971 honorees, according to Paul D. Herschler, president of the association and county agricultural agent in Hopkins County, are: Donald A. Johnson, Lubbock; Robert T. Harpool, Jr., Denton; W.C. (Bill) Donnell, Marathon; State Senator James P. Word, Meridian; Gene Garrison, Gonzales and the late Riley R. (Boots) Kothmann, Uvalde.

Johnson, executive vice-president of Plains Cotton Growers Inc., has been closely associated with the cotton industry most of his life. He is active in many cotton organizations and represents the High Plains cotton growers on both the state and federal levels. He gives support to Extension educational programs as well as research efforts.

Harpool, who heads a farm seed, chemical and fertilizer business, has made outstanding contributions through his own business as well as through his affiliations with trade organizations. He has furnished materials, equipment and personnel to train 4-H demonstration teams and supports 4-H and FFA projects at the county and state levels. He is also very active in small grain research work.

Donnell is widely known for his sound ranching enterprises and his high quality Hereford cattle. He works closely with the county agents on ranching programs and has also made valuable contributions to brush control and range improvement and contributes to research programs. He operates ranches in Brewster, Presidio and Zavala counties and is president of the Board of Regents which governs several State Senior Universities, including Angelo State and Sul Ross State Universities.

Letter To Editor

Dear Folks,
You folks are strangers to wife and myself but I do want you to know that we appreciate the write up that you folks put out about our golden wedding announcement. You did a nice job and the photo came out excellent.

I knew Harry Dodson and John Brookman real well. Did quite some advertising with them. Had the back left hand corner of the Star reserved weekly.

As to the picture, if you had not mailed it back, you can give it to either my brother or sister for I planned to give them one anyway.

Am inclosing a dollar for which please send me as many of the sheets that have our write up as the dollar will buy plus the postage.

We are living here in a wonderful country as to climatic conditions but frankly we certainly miss our good old Burkburnett friends, and really what worldly advantages that we own we made in Good Old Burk. Things like that are not easily forgotten. The population of Kerrville is mostly made up with retirees who as ourselves have memorable ties of where they got their start.

Again thanking you for the wonderful job that you put out we remain,

Sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. Henry Prinzing,
Kerrville, Texas

P.S. If you have to go to ten dollars a year for subscription you can bet on our ten spot. Really the way inflation is taking us, we can never tell what will happen.

Four Attend Summer Journalism Course

Four members of the high school paper, "Bulldog Growth," attended a summer Journalism Institute at Trinity University in San Antonio. Attending were Sedelta Verble, Newspaper one; Scott Kennedy, Photography; Mavis Roundtree, Literary Issue; and Debbie Osborne, Newspaper two. Mrs. Ferne Bloodworth, "Growl" sponsor, accompanied them.

While at the institute, they attended daily lectures, discussions and Great Issues sessions. In the discussions they talked about the common problems they and other schools had publishing their paper. At the Great Issues sessions, guest speakers talked about the Individual and Society. After each session, students were urged to write poems, short stories or essays about that particular session.

While traveling to San Antonio, the students visited Lyndon B. Johnson's birthplace, childhood home, and present residence.

On the last day awards were given in all categories. Sedelta Verble received an Award of Merit in Newspaper I for her work.

Traveling back, they stopped at the state capital for sightseeing.

SPORTS SIDELIGHTS

by Robert Sturges

The seasons may be coming to a close, but the action on the baseball diamonds is still as varied and unpredictable as ever. There are several all-star games in the works from different leagues, and many run-offs for second places.

The senior league had its first all-star game Monday night, when they met the all-star team of Sheppard AFB. The players on both teams were selected by ballot by the coaches of the leagues. Each player was chosen for his individual ability and the Burk all-stars certainly put their talents to good use at the Sheppard field.

Burk was first at the plate, with Bob Hackworth at the top of the line-up. He was called out, followed by Zacy Henderson and David Todd, who were both thrown out at first. Sheppard's players had pretty much the same problems under the aerial attack of James "Bimbo" Davis. Two players were walked, but neither scored.

In the second inning, Burk's Benny Wilkinson struck out and Davis walked to first. During Gary Dilbeck's turn at bat, Davis tried to steal second but was tagged out. Dilbeck struck out. Sheppard's first two players were lucky and took their bases on walks, but Bimbo came back strong and quickly struck out the next three batters.

It was three up and three down for Burkburnett in the third inning, with the Sheppard team getting two men on base. The scoreless syndrome of this game was broken by Burk in the top of the fourth inning, when Wilkinson singled to bring Hackworth in for a run. Hackworth had previously been walked and had stolen his way to third base.

Sheppard, not to be outdone, also scored a run in the inning, when Trotter came in on a sacrifice by Miller.

There was little action in the following innings, as the battle of the pitchers continued for four long innings, with the game going into extra innings.

It wasn't until the ninth inning that the Burkburnett all-stars mustered up some drive to take the game.

The eventual inning started off with a powerful double by Wilkinson; Dilbeck singled and Wilkinson was tagged at second. Dilbeck came to bat and provided the most spectacular hit of the game when he tripled on a slam into right field. Davis trotted in for a run. He was soon followed by Dilbeck, who came in on a Donald Guinn single.

Sheppard made no bid for any runs, as their batters were all thrown out at first. The victory over the Sheppard team allowed the Burk team to play against Seymour. That game is in progress at the time of this writing and will be reported next week.

Weekly Marketing Tips By Gwendolyn Clyatt

Follow these marketing tips this week to make the most of your food dollar, suggests Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Plan on serving salads this week as supplies of green peppers, tomatoes, celery, and cucumbers increase. Green onions, head lettuce and radishes also continue in good supply.

Other vegetables that rate consideration include eggplant, cabbage, potatoes, green beans, yellow onions, okra and purple hull and blackeye peas. Also include corn-on-the-cob in your menus, as supplies of both white and yellow corn are large.

Fresh fruit supplies, including apricots, peaches, seedless grapes, pineapples, nectarines, cherries and plums, are increasing. Cantaloupes are still in good supply with moderate prices. Watermelon supplies are a bit short, so prices remain higher than usual for this time of year. Summer apples are making their appearance, but expect high prices, Mrs. Clyatt says.

In canned goods, look for specials on salmon, especially red salmon. Supply of red salmon is good because of the large catch last year.

Bread specials are featured in many stores, but make sure you can use the bread quickly or can freeze it promptly. Bread keeps freshest at room temperature, but hot humid weather can cause mold growth in 1-2 days. Storing bread in the refrigerator retards the mold growth, but hastens staling. Freezing does not freshen bread but will keep it at the same level of freshness as when frozen.

In most retail meat departments, fryers continue to take the spotlight as the biggest bargain. Many markets are featuring them this weekend.

Plentiful supplies of eggs are available at prices everyone can afford. Grade A large and medium eggs are both in good supply and about equal in value.

Retail beef prices are about the same as prices a week ago. Since this is the steak season, look for better beef values on round steaks and roasts, short ribs, ground beef and chuck roasts and steaks. Pork prices are holding steady at the same level of the past few weeks. Best pork values include hams, picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks, end-cut loin roasts and chops.

Especially shocking is the disclosure that the Council on Church and Race of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. has contributed $10,000 to the defense of Angela Davis, an admitted communist.

Angela Davis is accused of having furnished some or all of the guns used on a court shoot-out and kidnapping which resulted in the death of four persons in California. She fled the state to avoid prosecution and was apprehended in New York City. She is charged with murder, kidnapping and conspiracy.

According to the "Philadelphia Inquirer", the $10,000 fund used to pay for bail or legal fees for people from minority groups. The newspaper said that allocation of the $10,000 to the Angela Davis defense fund, which is being promoted by the Communist Party, "angered many Presbyterians during its recent General Assembly meeting in Rochester, N.Y."

Despite these protests, Dr. William Thompson, stated clerk of the Presbyterian Church in the USA, defended the contribution. In a recent "sermon," he said that "We should have concern for the woman because of the Christian gospel." That's hardly justification for giving $10,000 to aid an admitted communist charged with murder and kidnapping. Churchmen have concern for the souls of the members of the Mafia, but that doesn't mean denominational groups should give $10,000 to every accused killer and drug pusher. Moreover, the $10,000 devoted to Angela Davis could be spent on good works -- help to the orphaned or in establishment of church missions. Church handouts to avowed enemies of the United States are something new and sick.

Support for the contribution to the Angela Davis legal fund isn't Mr. Thompson's only interest of this kind, however. On June 13, the Associated Press quoted Mr. Thompson in connection with a plan to convene an "ecumenical assembly" to oppose U.S. involvement in the Vietnam War. The announcement of the assembly came at a meeting of the general board of the National Council of Churches, an organization that plays a major role in promoting and funding radical, anti-American groups and movements. Mr. Thompson was quoted as saying: "A tide of public opinion is running against this war. If this tide swells into a wave, the administration may hear it."

Many concerned churchmen hold, however, that denominational groups and leaders have no warrant to use church facilities and funds to stage protests designed to produce a specific political reaction. These concerned churchmen believe that as the churches involve themselves in politics, they depart from their authentic mission.

Church support for Angela Davis is particularly offensive in view of her well-known dedication to Communist Party doctrines. Months ago, Episcopalians in Pennsylvania protested strongly from a rally to mobilize financial support for Angela Davis which was held at the Episcopal Church of the Advocate in Philadelphia. The protests didn't deter diocesan officials, however. The public relations director of the diocese said "the Committee in Defense of Angela Davis seems a very legitimate enterprise to many black people, particularly the young; and Dr. Paul Washington (rector of the Advocate) believes he would be irresponsible if he did not permit the Advocate facilities to be used by this committee. He has indicated his intention to contribute to permit this committee to use Advocate facilities. The bishop concurs in this judgment."

This type of thinking is producing a marked reaction on the part of individual churchmen who resent use of their contributions and of church property to aid revolutionary groups and movements. Actually, the issue extends beyond the denominations to the general public. Inasmuch as churches enjoy tax exemptions, the public has the right to be concerned if these tax exemptions are used to assist subversive organizations or individuals engaged in urban terrorism. Viewed from any angle, church support for Angela Davis is an extremely disturbing development.

The Health Department Honors Haskell Draper For Work Proficiency

An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Haskell W. Draper, plant operation specialist for the city of Burkburnett.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water Utilities Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers.

State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state.

Mrs. Gary J. Reynolds

Mrs. Troy G. Slayden

Miss Judy Lynn Greer and Thomas O'Donnell Thornton exchanged marriage vows Saturday afternoon in the First United Methodist Church in Burkburnett. Rev. William W. Penn, pastor, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greer, Burkburnett. The bridegroom's parents are M/Sgt. (ret) and Mrs. Jesse J. Thornton, Orlando, Florida.

The ceremony was performed before a candle arch and candle trees decorated with majestic daisies and greenery. Newel posts and baskets of majestic daisies completed the setting.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over taffeta and enhanced with tiny medallions of re-embroidered lace. A band of lattice embroider marked the waistline and edged the hemline and cuffs of the Bishop sleeves. The back of the skirt was fashioned with added fullness which extended into a chapel length train. Her waist length veil of illusion was held by a Juliet cap of satin in flowers, leaves and seed pearls. She carried an orchid surrounded by daisies, roses and satin leaves.

The brides sisters Mrs. Lee Norris, Denton and Miss Karen Greer were matron and maid of honor. Miss Patti Perry was bridesmaid and Miss Betty Markle was flower girl. They wore empire gowns of yellow and white Marguerite daisies. Jimmy Thornton, Orlando, Florida attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Joe Thornton, Nolanville, Texas, brother of the groom, Eddie Viavattene, Hughe Ferguson, and Rick Reasoner.

Traditional wedding music was provided by organist Mrs.

Polly Carithers, Director of public information for Oakland Schools, has been elected president of the Michigan School Public Relations Association.

An accredited member of the Public Relations Society of America, Mrs. Carithers has been responsible for the public information program of Oakland Schools for nine years.

At a general meeting seminar of the National School Public Relations Association in Columbus, Ohio, July 5-9, she will present the survey system, Inforet, developed by Oakland Schools to improve communication from voters and school patrons to boards of education.

One day of the National School Public Relations seminar will be devoted to providing suggestions to restore public confidence in education at the request of the U.S. Commissioner of Education Sidney Marland, Jr. Mrs. Carithers will be one of eight reporter-analysts charged with evaluating suggestions from the 150 school public relations specialists at the seminar.

Mrs. Carithers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hall of 614 College Street and a graduate of Burkburnett High School. Her first reporting experience was on the Burkburnett Star during the 1930's. She has worked for the San Antonio Express, and was, at one time, a member of the publicity department of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios where she was responsible for the publicity for George Murphy, Elizabeth Taylor and Fred Astaire.

She lives in the Detroit Area of Michigan with her husband, an advertising executive, and two sons.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Svien, Universal City, Texas, former residents of Burkburnett. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Reynolds of Houston.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white pea satin gown in an empire design accented with seed pearls and a chapel train embellished with pearls. She carried a nosegay of white daisies.

Miss Donna Svien, sister of the bride, was Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Shelly Pittman, Gail Reynolds, sister of the groom, Carol Stanley, cousin of the bride, and Judy Klinkerman, cousin of the bride. They wore matching gowns of yellow dotted swiss and carried daisy nosegays.

After the wedding trip, the couple will live in Abilene, Texas, where they are students at Abilene Christian College.

Maternal grandmother of the bride is Mrs. Rose Griffith of Randlett, Okla.

Following their wedding ceremony Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Garland Slayden left for a week of honeymooning in Dallas and the Lake Texoma area. Mrs. Slayden is the former Miss Cynthia Kay Parrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Parrish, Jr. of Burkburnett, and Slayden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Slayden also of Burkburnett.

The First Baptist Church of Burkburnett was the setting for the ceremony, with the Rev. Lamoin Champ, pastor, officiating. The altar was decorated with large urns filled with white mums, an archway trimmed with greenery, under which the couple pledged their vows, and candleabra with votive lights and greenery.

Before the ceremony began Bro. Bill Shough sang the love songs, "Because" and "The Twelfth of Never." "The Lord's Prayer" was the final blessing. He was accompanied by Mrs. Vernon Duke on the organ.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. Her empire gown of pea du sole was covered with re-embroidered French lace and tiny clusters of seed pearls. The sleeves were of the pearls lace, and bands of pearls circled the wrists, the empire waistline, the hem, and the wedding ring collar. The back of the lace skirt formed a short train, as did her cathedral length veil which was caught to a pearled Juliet caplet. She carried a small nosegay of white sweetheart roses accented with baby blue and soft pink ribbons. She wore the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue and a sixpence in her shoe.

Miss Gayle Norris was Maid of Honor. Her Renaissance styled gown was of deep rose chiffon and lace. The lace formed the Juliet sleeves and bodice, which were encircled by white embroidered trim accented with a pink velvet ribbon. The full skirt of chiffon formed a short train. She wore a band of satin rosebuds in her hair and carried a long stemmed pink rose.

Bridesmaids were Misses Kathy Unger, Linda Young, Tonya Wellborn and Susie Burnett. Their dresses were identical to that of the Maid of Honor, only in a soft pink hue. They wore headpieces of satin bows with streamers on which hung rosebuds. They carried baskets of rose petals accented with blue and pink bows.

Best Man was Joe Karstetter. Groomsmen were Rodney Roberts, Randy Holland, Joe Mendez and Tom Bloodworth. Ushers were brothers of the bride and groom, John Parrish and Charlie Slayden. Ring bearer was Chris Carpenter.

These girls were attired identically in baby blue dresses of flocked organza, featuring an empire waist, accented with blue satin ribbon, full skirt and puffed sleeves. Also assisting at the reception were Mesdames J.C. Hinkle, Clifford Willmon, Joe Hensley, Jack Robinson, C.W. Notris, Jeanette Smart.

Kelli and Sara Parrish assisted at the rice bag table, which was made like a miniature flower garden with the bags as the hearts of the flowers.

Following the reception the couple left for their honeymoon. Upon returning they will reside at 407 N. Ave. E in Burkburnett. The bride is employed at the Burkburnett Bank, the groom at Piggly Wiggly Food Stores in Burkburnett. Both are graduates of Burkburnett High School, and the groom will begin studies at Midwestern University this fall.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's family at the church. At that time gifts were presented to all attendants.

Senior Citizens Held Meeting

Joe Janeke, lawyer, addressed the Senior Citizens Thursday, June 8, on the need for wills and laws governing inheritance. He began by saying, "good lawyers are people who keep you out of trouble." He got several laughs as he read a comical will. He then explained the inheritance tax and exemptions. Since 1968 laws have been enacted in Texas that are more favorable to women. Texas has some advantages that other states do not have.

After his interesting discussion a lighter vein of humor was introduced by members telling a humorous story of a pet they had owned. Time permitted only a few.

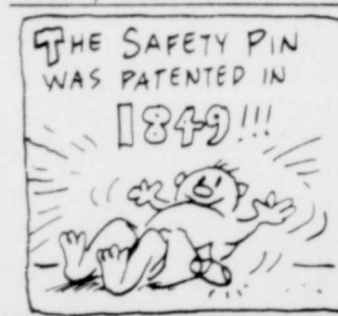

The usual period of visiting, fellowship and games kept all busy until lunch time. The food was delicious and beautiful. After the program the remaining hours were filled again with conversation and games.

Mrs. Will Teal, Mrs. Bill Crosley and Mrs. Vivian Hayes were absent because of illness. We hope they can meet with us again soon.

Fifty-nine were present. Of these, two were visitors. They were: Rev. David Stout of the First Christian Church and Mrs. Belle Stratton, sister of Mrs. Cash Wheeler.

The next meeting will be Thursday, July 22. All present were invited to the Golden Wedding Celebration of Al and Sylvia Lohofener to be held on July 16 in the First National Room.

UP, UP & AWAY

UP, UP & AWAY Eddie Laxson

What has been your experience in flying an airplane without a minute's dual instruction? My experience has been varied, and I do not recommend getting into any airplane and flying it without knowing something about it.

My recommendation is to get all the facts you can, all the dual a pilot familiar with the plane will give you before taking off in a strange plane.

Brings back the time at Jacksonville, Tex., when Jimmie Green was manager of the municipal airport there. He was absent from the port two or three days, and I decided to fly his BT-13, commonly called Vultee Vibrator. Jimmie later heard of it and proceeded to give me dual on all his planes I was not checked out in.

There are planes with only one seat, which is not conducive to dual flight instruction. The Mooney "Mite" is one I flew after talking to a salesman at Gilchrist Airport west of Wichita Falls, in 1949. All the help one can get is verbal, and that generally consists of comparing flight characteristics with some other plane the inquisitive pilot has flown. Then hints how to raise and lower gear, change to different gas tanks should such luxuries be involved, safe air speeds in glides, and any or all tricky things to look for are appreciated by any pilot who plans to fly a crate he has never been in before.

Another time at Burns Flat, Okla., an experienced pilot was supposed to have delivered a plane to a port of embarkation, where a pilot from Venezuela was supposed to have picked up the plane and delivered it to the foreign country. The experienced pilot became ill and could not ferry the P-47, and I was asked to undertake the mission.

For some two hours I sat in the cockpit and listened to all the things I should know about. Much of the conversation could have been saved if the experienced pilot had told me I could fly the plane with ease if I had ever flown a Fairchild PT-19, which flies just a little over 100 miles per hour airspeed. Then the P-51 did not cause too much concern except the enormous amount of right rudder necessary to offset the torque until good speed was obtained on takeoffs.

At the same Navy base, I was attempting to check a pilot out on an AT-6. He was having trouble bringing the plane in and leveling off. He had several hundred hours logged in his book, and I was only watching for any serious mis-

Pace, commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center and Dr. Travis A. White, president of Midwestern University. The agreement allows Midwestern students to receive credit for attending courses at Sheppard's U.S. Air Force School of Health Care Sciences, and for Sheppard people to receive credit for training in both schools. Others present for the signing are, left to right, Dr. John W. Meux, dean of the school of sciences and mathematics at MU; Col. (Ret.) Harold F. Layhee, MU director of interinstitutional programs; Col. Jerrold L. Wheaton, commander of the Sheppard school; and Dr. John W. Campbell, vice president for academic affairs at MU.

Maj. Gen. Page Signs Agreements With The Midwestern University

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Agreements were signed last week by Maj. Gen. Jerry D. Pace, commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center and Dr. Travis A. White, president of Midwestern University, pledging cooperation in the health sciences programs.

The agreements were signed in the office of Dr. White in the Hardin Administration Building at Midwestern.

Cooperation between the university and the U.S. Air Force School of Health Care Sciences at Sheppard will provide for expansion of educational opportunities to both Sheppard people and MU students.

The program will allow MU students to receive training through the Sheppard school, and Sheppard people who qualify for entrance in Midwestern to receive college credits for training in both schools.

Others responsible for the cooperative agreement include Col. Jerrold L. Wheaton, commander of the School at Sheppard, and Col. (Ret.) Harold F. Layhee, director of interinstitutional programs at MU.

Also present for the ceremony were Dr. J. Robert Campbell, vice president for academic affairs at Midwestern, and Dr. John W. Meux, dean of the school of sciences and mathematics.

Most Air Force Bases Named For Men Who Died In Service

By Sgt. Phil Viner

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--"What's in a name?" asks an old proverb. Well, if one is talking about Air Force bases, much goes into the naming of each base.

For example, of the 130 major installations, 114 are named after individuals. The other 16 bases are named for cities. Eighty-two Air Force members have had bases named in their honor; 66 of them died in combat or in aircraft crashes. Most of these Air Force bases are named after first lieutenants (16); next come second lieutenants (13); captains are third most popular (9).

Only one Air Force base was named for an enlisted man--Scott Air Force Base, Ill. It was named after an Army corporal who was the first enlisted man to lose his life in an air accident back in 1912.

At the other end of the totem pole, one base is named for a former Air Force Chief of Staff -- Vandenberg AFB, Calif. Two bases honor former four-star generals -- Cannon AFB, New Mexico, and Fairchild AFB, Wash. U.S. Army personnel are remembered by the Air Force at six bases--Scott AFB, Ill.; March AFB, Calif.; Beale AFB, Calif.; Ellington AFB, Tex.; Kelley AFB, Tex.; and Patrick AFB, Fla. The U.S. Navy gets into the act with Seymour Johnson AFB, N.C., Johnson being a former naval officer.

Not to be forgotten are the aircraft pioneers and engineers who contributed six Air Force base names--Chanute AFB, Ill.; Craig AFB, Ala.; Eielson AFB, Ala.; Holloman AFB, N.M.; Langley AFB, Va.; and Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Three Air Force bases looked toward Congress for a moniker -- Sheppard AFB, Tex.; Hancock Field, N.Y.; and F. E. Warren AFB, Wyo.

But the Air Force doesn't always name a base after an active military man. For example, Gunter AFB is named for a former mayor of the city of Montgomery, Ala. Stewart AFB, N.Y., takes its name from an old sea captain who provided the land that the base now occupies. Murphy Come Air Force Station, Ala., derives its name from an old miner who searched that area for gold. K. I. Sawyer AFB takes its name from a Marquette County, Mich., road commissioner.

Four installations are named for more than one individual--Davis-Monthan AFB, Ariz.; McConnell AFB, Kans. (for two brothers); Richards-Gebaur AFB, Mo.; and Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Sheppard was selected as the name for this center back in 1941 when the field was established. It was named for the late Senator Morris Sheppard, a great advocate of military preparedness prior to World War II.

Each military installation goes through a formal name selection. Some bases even change their names--the last was Bunker Hill AFB, Ind., which was renamed Griffiss (after the late astronaut) in 1968.

Medical Service Student Held Formal Dinners

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Medical Service Corps students enrolled in the School of Health Care Sciences' course in Health Services Administration held a formal dinner Wednesday night, June 30, in the Officers Open Mess at Sheppard.

Col. James W. Polkinghorn, Assistant Surgeon General for Medical Administration and chief of the Medical Service Corps, was the principal speaker.

Colonel Polkinghorn, who began his military career in the Army and later transferred to the Air Force, is a graduate of the University of Kansas. He has held various assignments in medical administration throughout the world and is a member of the American Hospital Association, the Association of Military Surgeons, the Air Force Association, and the American College of Hospital Administrators.

Guests from the School of Health Care Sciences included Col. William H. Grau, chief of Veterinary Medicine, and Col. John C. Delahunt, Executive Officer of the School.

Colonel Grau delivered the address at the graduation ceremonies last Friday, July 2. The 17 graduates will serve as Health Services Administrators in medical facilities throughout the United States.

Medical Food Service Has New Director

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Maj. Mary E. McCloskey recently assumed duties as chief of medical food service at the U. S. Air Force Regional Hospital at Sheppard Air Force Base, succeeding Capt. Robert Schneider.

Major McCloskey came to Sheppard from Eglin AFB, Fla., where she held a similar position at the U.S. Air Force Regional Hospital there.

She originally entered military service in February 1964 at Hunter AFB, Ga. She then went to Torrejon AB, Spain, and after a 14-month break in service went to Eglin AFB, Fla.

During the break in service she worked at Glen Brunswick Memorial Hospital in Brunswick, Ga. Prior to entering military service, she worked in the dietary department of the Lenox Hill hospital in New York City from 1953 to 1964. She was both relief dietician and chief therapist dietician.

A native of New York City, she was graduated from St. Michael's Academy High School and went to Georgia Court College in Lakewood, N.J., where she earned a bachelor of science degree in dietetics June 6, 1953.

She has a small arms ribbon, an unusual accomplishment for a woman dietician. She plans to reside at 1035 Jewel Avenue in Burkburnett.

Jan is a three-year band member, was pianist for mixed choir in 1970, will be pianist for Acapella Choir in 1971. She was initiated into National Honor Society last spring. She also is a member of the Baptist Church.

The Wichita County Farm Bureau is sponsoring the local students at the four-day training school. Some 400 students from 150 counties across the state will be attending the session.

Five outstanding nationally-known lecturers will address the Waco training school, according to Raymond Schroeder of Burkburnett, president of the Wichita County Farm Bureau.

"I Was A Slave in Russia;" W. Cleon Skousen, Salt Lake City, author, lawyer, educator and former FBI agent; and Richard Perido, Dallas, former convict and narcotics addict who is now executive director of H.J.P. (Help Is Possible), an organization formed to prevent narcotics addiction.

Purpose of the seminar is to give the student a better understanding of the American system and way of life. Emphasis will be placed on the economic, moral and social aspects of the American society. Instruction will consist of lectures, films and panel discussions.

Inefficiency Of Car Bumpers

Car bumpers aren't what they used to be, nor are they what they should be. These are the conclusions reached by Dr. Nathaniel H. Pulling as a result of more than a full year of testing a variety of old, new and experimental car bumper systems. Dr. Pulling, automotive project director for Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, conducts his tests at the firm's research center in Hopkinton, Mass.

In each test a bumper is mounted to a deceleration sled (automotive crash simulator) which is weighted like a standard automobile (3500 pounds). The bumper is then run down the track at speeds up to five miles per hour and smashed into a solid barrier.

The tests have been very revealing. The average man can walk into a wall at five miles per hour without injury, but, as the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety has shown, his car, crashed against a barrier at the same speed will generally be damaged to the tune of $200 or more.

The cost of these so-called "fender-benders" is pushing up the cost of auto insurance premiums as the number and cost of them increase. The insurance industry recently has begun to assault those cosmetic characteristics of car design which do little to protect and much to increase the cost of an accident. Liberty Mutual began its bumper research in an effort to cut down the cost of such low-speed collisions, as well as to improve protection of passengers. In his research, Dr. Pulling has evaluated the characteristics which are important in an effective damage-reducing bumper. "First, there has to be sufficient deceleration space, or distance between the striking surface of the bumper and damageable parts of the car body," Dr. Pulling said. "Furthermore, the bumper must reduce the impact forces so that they don't peak at high values and at the same time absorb as much of the collision energy as possible. Only through energy absorption can we protect the car and the occupants from injury. Finally, bumpers should be of the same height for all cars, and have broad face plates, so as to avoid underide when cars dip down as they are braked." Dr. Pulling has tested bumpers from a number of pre-World War II autos and found that they did a better job than those on late-model cars. "The bumpers we had years ago were the spring-type which were set out a good distance from the car," he said. "They used to bend in when hit, but could be bent back out again." Bumpers on late-model cars perform very poorly. "They do not absorb energy and are placed much too close to the car body," Dr. Pulling said. In some cases these bumpers are flush with damageable parts of the grille and fender sheet metal. In other cases, part of the headlight or grille assembly protrudes out in front of the bumper. In an effort to develop a bumper which will reduce damage at low speeds without sacrificing passenger protection at higher speeds, Dr. Pulling is working with a number of experimental bumpers which employ rubber, water, aluminum honeycomb and shock absorber devices. Dr. Pulling is currently working on the development of a two-stage car bumper system for collisions between five and 15 miles per hour which would employ a combination of elastic and true energy-absorbing materials. "At present, rubber spheres and aluminum honeycomb structures seem to be very promising in the tests," he said. The tests being conducted by Dr. Pulling deals more with what is known as the "second generation" crash problem. The first generation problem is crashes up to five miles per hour. "The technical aspects of this problem are solved," Dr. Pulling said. "There are bumpers now becoming commercially available which will prevent damage in a crash at five miles per hour or less. We are now working on second-generation solutions for higher speed impacts." The project director is quick to point out that safety improvements will not come without presenting greater challenges to car styling. "There will have to be some sacrifice made in car design to allow for proper deceleration space," Dr. Pulling said. "Essentially, we are trying to make people safety-minded and trying to make them realize that the only ways to reduce the cost of insurance are to get into fewer accidents, seek out cars which are less damageable and less expensive to repair. People must realize that some sacrifice in style and price may accompany these solutions." Liberty Mutual has long been involved in automobile safety research and development. The company had Survival Cars I and II built some years ago, has done extensive research in auto passenger protection systems and is also working in the area of driver performance. The firm teaches its own Skid Control School and Decision Driving Course throughout the country. At the research center in Hopkinton, Dr. Pulling and others are conducting studies on fatigue behind the wheel and night blindness as it affects older people and diabetics. The deceleration sled currently being used to test bumpers is also used to test various restraining devices such as seat belts and capsule seats developed by Liberty Mutual. The important point for Dr. Pulling is how these programs relate to the company's philosophy of loss prevention. "We conduct these programs with our own funding, with the realization that the protection of policyholders is in everyone's best interest," he said. "This research follows our history of involvement with automotive safety and is right in keeping with the philosophy that 'an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.'"

Your Texas Ancestors

by DAMON VEACH

Texas, like so many other states, has numerous abandoned cemeteries that are in need of repair and preservation. It is a shame that the pioneers, our ancestors, are allowed to rest in these unkempt areas, forgotten except for an occasional visitor, usually a genealogist, in search of missing links for a family tree.

It was with great pleasure that I received a letter from Mrs. Doris Dodson, Rt. 1, Box 52, Poolville, Tex., 76076 telling about the Dilbeck Cemetery Perpetual Fund. Through a concerted effort of interested parties, this cemetery, located approximately one mile north of Peaster on Highway #920, will be given new life, and will be recorded on a plat in the Parker County Courthouse. Mrs. Leoma Howry, 1800 S.E. 21st St., Mineral Wells, Texas, 76067, is president of the Dilbeck Cemetery Association, and descendants of the pioneers buried in the Dilbeck Cemetery are urged to contact her immediately. Mrs. Leoma Howry is to be congratulated for her efforts in identifying all the unmarked graves. Of course, funds are needed, but the point is that someone cares enough to preserve a small portion of Texas history for future generations to cherish. Further information can be obtained by calling her at FA5-2433, or contacting Mrs. Dodson, 594-5876.

Copying inscriptions in abandoned cemeteries may not seem important to most people, but when courthouses have been burned or county records destroyed, a listing from the old cemeteries may well tell the story of a community. Listings may be sent to this column for publication. If space does not permit the printing of all the material, the data will be sent to one of the many Texas genealogical societies for publication.

Don't overlook the importance of an old Bible listing, too. Copy this for publication before something happens to it. Old letters, wills and family documents fall into the same category. Get them in print so that the data can be microfilmed and placed in libraries all over the country. This is only a small task and can mean so much in later years. Won't you help to remedy this situation?

Send copies of unpublished materials to this column -- Your Texas Ancestors, Damon Veach, P. O. Drawer 6367, Seminary Hill Station, Fort Worth, Texas, 76115. Contributors will be recognized.

for their work. All inquiries on family history are printed free of charge, but should have a Texas connection or be submitted by a Texas resident working on lines in other states.

Books and magazines are reviewed if sample copies are sent with each request. These books and all letters received are added to a collection of material from the author's files and donated to the Texas Collection of Baylor University. By doing this, preservation is assured.

Motor Vehicle Commission Has Been Installed

The newly-created Texas Motor Vehicle Commission, after taking their oath of office July 7, met in Austin and elected C.C. Gunn of San Antonio as Chairman; Jack McKenzie of Corpus Christi as Vice-Chairman; and H. G. Andrews, Jr., of Stamford as Secretary. Other members of the Commission are W. O. Bankston of Dallas, Fenner Tubbs of Lubbock and Dick McClain of Houston.

Following their organizational meeting, the following statement was issued for the Commission by Chairman Gunn:

"This Commission is dedicated to form a climate of trust and respect between the dealer, the manufacturer and the consumer. We also hope that an atmosphere will be created where all dealers shall have equal opportunities to succeed if they apply themselves, and the ground rules will be the same for all.

"While the Commission is now legally constituted, we will have no funds for operations until September 1, 1971, and licenses will be issued between September 1 and December 1, 1971. However, we will begin immediately to promulgate rules and prepare the appropriate forms.

"Following the mandate issued by the Legislature to this Commission and reiterated by the Governor, this Commission, in all of its actions, will attempt to be constructive so that we can serve to create sound relations between the dealer, the manufacturer and the public."

Farmers Urged To Achieve Maximum Cotton Production

West Texas farmers were urged to achieve maximum cotton production for the 1971 season to prevent a possible shortage in carry-over at a meeting in Lubbock July 8.

State and national agricultural officials told an audience of producers, educators and industry representatives that the predicted carry-over as of the first of August will be a mere 4.25 million bales; barely enough to meet current consumption requirements before the 1971 harvest is completed in the Cotton Belt of the South and Southwest. The meeting was directed by Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Donnell Echols, president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and chairman of the South Plains Economic Development program. Both men have been appointed to a national task force committee in a concentrated effort to stave off a cotton shortage that could prove disastrous to the industry.

"For the past five years, more cotton has been sold than produced; and there are indications that there will be a minimum of carry-over this year," warned Dr. Hutchison. He added that factors such as the current drought and reduced planting can result in a cotton shortage; which will in turn force textile mills to increase their use of synthetic fibers and further injure the present cotton market.

Echols pointed out the danger of further limitations of federal subsidy payments to the cotton industry. "It is impossible to separate ourselves from the possibility of crop payment limitations," he warned in reference to a bill in Congress to reduce the maximum payment to $20,000 per crop from the current $55,000; which is half the figure of recent years. He further pointed out that lending institutions will be reluctant to make large loans in the face of smaller guarantees in the form of reduced payments.

Dabney Welford of the National Cotton Council said that the estimated 4.25 million bale carry-over is the lowest since 1952; and that much of it is low-quality cotton. He explained the recent rise in cotton prices by reporting that last winter buyers thought the 1971 crop would meet their needs; but the adverse spring weather changed their minds and the price has climbed steadily. On the regional scene, Dr. Robert Metzger, area Extension agronomist at Lubbock, said there is nothing really new for producers to do the rest of the 1971 season, but that certain problem areas can be emphasized. These include close attention to timing of irrigation and cut-off date.

This was expanded by others to include side-dress fertilization in certain instances and perhaps a longer irrigation season; although producers should be extremely careful.

"I would be hesitant to stretch the irrigation season, especially on the later end," warned Dr. Levon Ray, cotton researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock. But he added that extra water to replace subsoil moisture might be beneficial on very young cotton that was planted the last of June.

He said that in addition to proper irrigation, producers should take two more steps to help insure maximum yields; a close watch on the insect situation and careful cultivation to prevent loss of valuable cotton at harvest time.

What goes arm-in-arm to a good family picnic? Fried chicken and potato salad! It would be like leaving one of the family behind if Mom forgot to pack lots and lots of crispy fried chicken! Thelma Wirges, County Home Demonstration Agent, says you should have a merry picnic season since broiler-fryers are in plentiful supply this month.

In days gone by, women had to draw their own chickens, spin hours--very unpleasant ones--picking pinfeathers from the birds, and then more hours wrestling huge cast iron skillets full of splattering chicken. The result was, of course, well worth it; but today's woman, after choosing a plump USDA inspected fowl--already cut in serving pieces--even gets away from the fat-splattering mess of pan-frying chicken by using quick shake mixes to coat the poultry and letting the oven do the rest. Try this easy, tasty oven-fried chicken idea. Take along plenty for those big outdoor eaters!

OVEN-FRIED PARSLEY CHICKEN cup crushed herb-seasoned stuffing
2/3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/4 cup snipped parsley
One 2 1/2 to 3-pound broiler-fryer, cut up
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Combine crushed stuffing, cheese and parsley in a shallow pan. Dip chicken pieces in melted butter or margarine; then roll in stuffing mixture. Arrange, skin side up, on large, shallow baking pan--don't crowd. Sprinkle with remaining butter and crumbs. Bake at 375 degrees 45 minutes, or until tender. Turning is unnecessary. Serves four.

GRILLED CHICKEN WITH LEMON BUTTER will not only please Dad, but the whole family will find it a great way to have chicken. So make plenty! Split two broiler-fryers (1 1/2 - 2 pounds each) down the back. You can also buy them already cut this way. Brush chicken with lemon butter made by melting a stick of butter or margarine and adding juice of one lemon, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt and 1/2 teaspoon paprika. Place on grill about 3 to 5 inches from heat. Cook, turning occasionally and basting with butter sauce, about 1 hour or until tender. To check doneness of meat, insert a sharp pointed knife near the center and observe the inner color. Serve chicken with pleasure!

A green sunburn? With sunburn season upon us, it is not unusual to find many red faces, but green can also mean sunburn when it comes to potatoes.

If you've ever noticed a slight green tinge to a potato and it tasted bitter, you might have thought it wasn't "ripe." But "greening" has nothing to do with maturity. It is a result of development of chlorophyll in potatoes that have been exposed to light, either sunlight or artificial light. The coloring may be confined to the surface layers or extend to the deeper tissues. The depth of penetration depends on the length of exposure, the light intensity, the temperature, the variety and the maturity of the tuber. Greening takes place more rapidly at room temperature than in a cool place.

Greening frequently takes place in the field on potatoes that are not completely covered with soil. It also develops in storage unless the storage area is dark or the potatoes are in light-proof containers. With potatoes among plentiful foods this month, you'll want to keep your supply from getting "sunburned" by keeping them stored in a cool, dark place until you are ready to use them, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

You'll also want to have plenty on hand for potato salad to accompany all that fried chicken you will be preparing for picnics and cookouts. What better twosome for picnics?

HOT WEATHER A DANGER TO HOGS--Hog producers are urged to take some extra care in handling and shipping their hogs during the hot, humid summer months. Caution should be taken when the temperature reaches 80-85 degrees and extreme care should be taken when higher temperatures are reached. Poorly ventilated vehicles and crowding of the animals are the first things to avoid.

Feed Costs Important In Swine Production

Hog producers making decisions on buying and handling feed will have a hard time justifying the investments for on the farm processing equipment until their yearly volume reaches about 100 tons. Substantial savings are possible through buying and mixing feed on the farm, but the swing operation must use large quantities, say W.W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meats specialist and W.B. Thomas, Extension swine specialist.

Cost considerations become critical since in a complete swine operation, from farrowing to market, feed costs can represent 25 to 85 percent of total production costs. The 100 ton level might be reached in operations where 240 pigs are raised in a complete operation, where 45 to 50 sows farrow twice a year and raise feeder pigs, or where 300 feeder pigs are fed to market weight.

The specialists point out that bagged feed should be used in swine operations until production consumes about six tons every two weeks. When this level is reached bulk feed can be received economically if adequate facilities are available. Hog feeds in bulk become stale and less palatable when it has been mixed and stored for more than two weeks.

After the ration formulas and the amounts of bulk feed are determined, the operator should acquire schedules and prices from several feed mills. The specialists note that most feed mills can give firm prices for two or three months.

Bailey and Thomas agree that if a producer decides to handle his own feed processing, it is unlikely that he will be able to buy feed ingredients for the same price the commercial feed mill pays. Savings from mixing feed on the farm are freight from the mill to the farm, a part of the profit that feed mills make, and use of any surplus labor.

The producer who processes his own feed is faced with many decisions, with one

Vernon Stewart Participating In Pollution Course

House Speaker Gus F. Mutscher announced last week in Austin that State Representative Vernon Stewart of Wichita Falls will be one of two House Members participating in a July 12 - 16 Legislative In-Service Training Course on Environmental Pollution and Human Ecology. The five-day course, being held in Carmel, Calif., has attracted legislators and staff members from all parts of the nation. Representative Walt Parker of Denton is the other Texas delegate.

The training course is sponsored by The Council of State Governments and the National Legislative Conference. "During the 62nd Legislature, some 20 environmental protection laws were passed," Mutscher said. "We want to keep Texas as a leader in this field of clean air and good water. Representatives Parker and Stewart will greatly increase their already extensive knowledge during this course and, in turn, help other House Members in writing future environmental legislation."

The legislative training course will consider the problem of environmental pollution from the political, economic, medical and social points of view. It will provide participants with a historical perspective and an understanding of the chain reaction predictors of environmental pollution.

Representative Stewart is chairman of the House Standing Committee on Commerce and Manufacturing which has jurisdiction over legislation relating to industry and industrial development of the State.

Farm Safety Week To Be Held In July

Safety is a year-round concern of everyone. And to put concern into action, three special weeks have been designated during 1971. Poison Prevention Week was held in Mrc. Farm Safety Week is scheduled July 25-31, and Fire Prevention Week in October.

These special safety weeks are of significance to the half-million boys and girls in the 4-H program. The young people, 9-19 years of age, with the guidance of the Co-operative Extension Service, identify hazards in their homes, schools and communities and then work to correct them. And the special week observances give added opportunities for safety activities and the involvement of others.

Another tremendous boost in their endeavors comes from General Motors, sponsor of the 4-H safety program for the past 26 years.

Through the National 4-H Service Committee, the company offers recognition to individuals, clubs and county 4-H groups carrying on significant safety programs.

Topping the list of individual awards are eight scholarships of $1,000 each for national winners. An expense-paid trip to the 50th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28-Dec. 2, is offered to a winning member in each state. And up to four medals of honor per county are offered to promising young safety enthusiasts.

Certificates of merit are offered to 4-H clubs and groups and the best county 4-H safety program in each state is eligible for a $25 cash award.

In helping 4-H'ers move their concerns to action, General Motors publishes and distributes a Safety Handbook for 4-H leaders and safety cue sheets for members. The popular publications suggest safety activities in the areas of boating, swimming, traffic, environment and the company's Green Pennant program.

The 4-H safety program sponsor also supplements its educational materials with films and other visual aids.

For more information on the 4-H safety program and ways adults as well as young people can become involved, contact the state 4-H leader or county extension office.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

Hogs on Texas farms on June 1 totaled 1,656,000 head, up 51 per cent from a year ago. Nationally, hog numbers were up only two per cent. Breeding hogs in Texas were up 43 per cent but nationally the number was down by eight per cent.

Advances in real estate values made up 73% of 1970's gain in farm and ranch assets in Texas. Farm and ranch assets in Texas reached $29.2 billion on January 1, 1971. Most of the remaining gain was attributed to higher values for livestock and poultry inventories and machinery and motor vehicles.

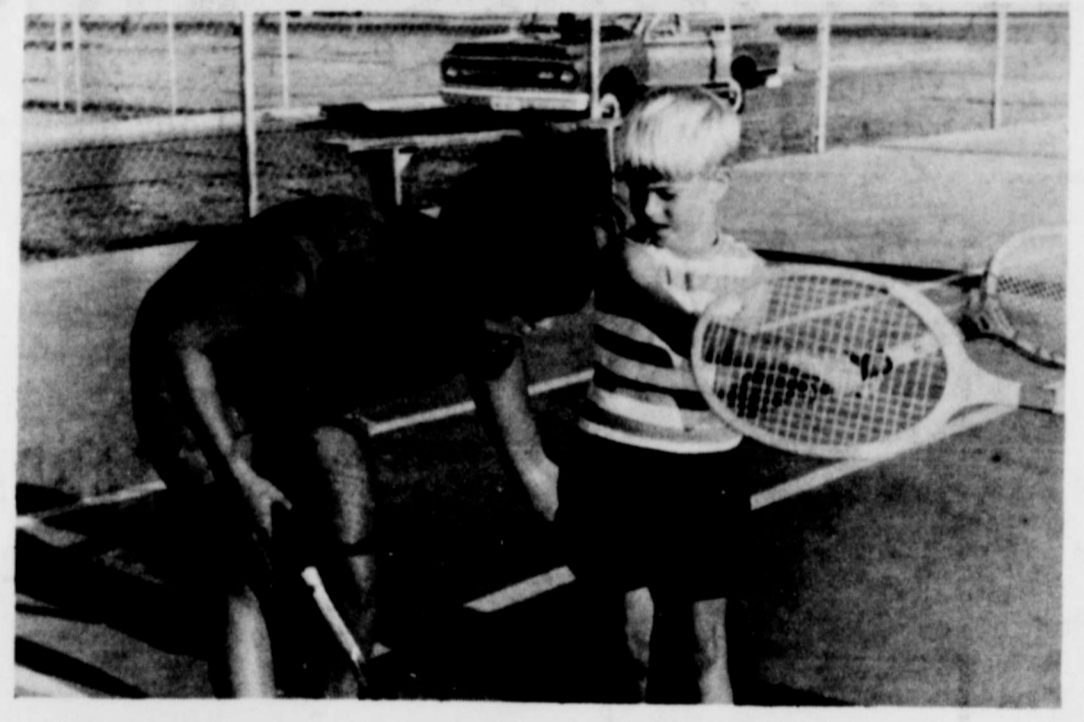

Using hay conditioner on large stemmed hay plants at the time of cutting or as soon afterwards as possible is a practice that can help to insure harvesting high quality hay.

When the plant is cut, its stem is full of water and the slightest pressure will cause the stem to crack. It will wilt and become limp if it remains in the swath for more than 30 minutes after cutting.

After a small amount of water evaporates from the stem, it becomes limp and pliable and will flatten out under roll pressure rather than crack open. Thus, the walls will not be cracked open for better drying and most of the moisture will stay in the stem. The conditioner works best when drying conditions are good. So don't make the mistake of thinking that the conditioner isn't needed when drying conditions are good.

To avoid the extremely depressed prices of the first half of 1971, the U. S. Department of Agriculture is recommending that egg production for the first half of 1972 be reduced by three per cent. Output at this level would result in per capita supplies near 1970 levels but below the first half of 1971 production.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST, First and Ave. C, had its beginning in Burkburnett over 50 years ago. The present building was built in 1929, with a number of changes and additions in recent years. Five elders serve as overseers of the church at this time. Lee A. Bulla, Cliff Cannon, Chas. E. Fletcher, Clark Gresham and L. E. McCuiston were appointed according to their scriptural qualifications several years ago, and have served faithfully ever since. Ed Morris serves as the preacher under the oversight of the eldership. The membership now numbers over 400. Down through the years the plea of the church of Christ has been to go back to the Bible. The world does not need merely a religious message -- it needs THE message of God, the Gospel! The world does not need simply a religion; it needs THE religion of Christ -- pure, undiluted, unadulterated Christianity. Faithful Christians believe that the uncertain trumpet of men's doctrine at this time can only ADD to the confusion which presently dominates the religious world. The church meeting at 1st and Ave. C is trying to heed the words of Paul: "Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment." (1 Cor. 1:10)
