Skaters Hold Toothbrush Sale For Skating Trip

Members of the Orbit Skate Club of Burk Burnett are presently trying to raise $676.00. District Play Begins Dogs Journey To Graham Friday

With a week off to work out some of the rough spots, and time for some injuries to heal, the Bulldogs should be ready for Friday night's game with the Graham Steers. The Steers will be returning eight offensive starters from last year and can boast of a three year quarterback in George Green #14. Head coach Bill Froman stated that the Steers have exceptional strength in their backfield, especially in their receivers. Last game, Froman noted, the Steers thru the ball 25 times and did so very well. Froman feels that the Bulldogs will have to stop Graham's passing attacks to beat them. Defensively the Steers are very big over the guards with Jim Bukett at 254 and Fred Frindell at 194. While the Steers have a one win, two loss season, the one game, which was their last game with Fort Worth Brewer 32 - 16 in Graham's favor. Froman remarked that the Graham team has a new coaching staff and the team has improved with each game. Running backs for the Burk Burnett Bulldogs with their average yard per carry, total carries and total yards gained from the last three games are: Max Ludeke #45 averaging 6.7 yards per carry with 25 carries and a total of 169 yards gained rushing. Sam Hancock #17 averaging 4 yards per carry, 59 carries and total yards gained 240. Jody Southerland #15 averaging 6 yards per carry, 2 carries and total yards gained 12. Vernon Smith #21 with 3 yard average, 1 carry and totaling 3 yards. Deryl Nicholas #35 averaging 5.2 yards with 7 carries totaling 37 yards gained. Lawrence Washington #25 with 5.6 yards average on 31 carries for a total of 175 yards. Mark Bulla #29 averaging 3 yards on 4 carries totaling 12 yards gained. Friday night's game will be at Graham, game time 7:30.

IS IT LUCK OR GOD'S BLESSINGS

So many times God has blessed us with His grace and power and we think light of it or take it for granted and call it luck. When He sends us His blessings we want to think "I surely was lucky", when it is through the Love of God that we receive from Him our needs.

Truly, the Lord is our Shield and protector. In Psalm 84:11, 12 the Bible says, "For the Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will be withheld from them that walk uprightly. O Lord of hosts, Blessed is the man that trusteth in Thee."

In New York's Chinatown, an American woman walked into a curiosity shop and asked to see some good-luck charms. The elderly Chinese lady in charge looked at her skeptically and proceeded to lay her wares on the counter.

"The customer leaned over the counter and said earnestly, "Would you mind telling me which of these is the best? You see, I have to have one that really works. I have a son in the service and I want something that will take care of him."

The shopkeeper looked at her for a moment and smiled, "My best good-luck charm I don't have on the counter."

"Well, for goodness sake, let's see it. I want the best thing you have," she countered excitedly. "I'll pay any price."

"But it doesn't cost anything. You see, my good luck charm is God. I have three sons and three grandsons in the service myself. But when my boys were born, I dedicated them to God, and every day since they were babies I have asked God to take care of them. He has answered my prayer, and I know He will continue to do so. It's the only charm that works and I recommend it wholeheartedly to you."

Memories

by Laxson

The same today, yesterday and many years before yesterday can be spoken about the little mysterious bug commonly called DOODLE BUG.

What older citizen doesn't harbor childhood experiences of lying in a dry shady spot -- near his home's foundation, under the roof of an old dilapidated shed or anywhere dry pulverized dirt shows small cone-shaped holes dotting the area?

After many minutes of patient waiting and watching the bottom of the cone, the boy or girl could see -- if lucky -- the dirt moving at the bottom.

The next move would be to find something small to stir the dirt while repeating the magic words, "Doodle Bug, Doodle Bug, Come out of your hole --- Your house is on fire and your children will burn."

LETTERS to the EDITOR

An Open Letter To: Senator Jack Hightower Representative Dave Allred Representative Vernon Stewart

Dear Sirs,
Several weeks ago we received the renewal for our homeowners insurance policy and were shocked to find that the cost of this policy had increased nearly 70%. An inquiry to the State Board of Insurance confirmed that increases had been approved as follows: effective June 1, 1969, 8.5%; July 1, 1970, 25%; and July 1, 1971, 25%. When these increases are added to our policy of three years ago they total 69 1/2%. In addition to the increases the deviations of 20% had been cancelled effective July 1, 1971. In other words, not only were the increases approved, but competition effectively removed! A check with local agencies confirms the fact.

To the Burkburnett resident who glances at the above figures the thought comes to mind, "two 25% increases for the two hail storms we have had." Per the Board of Insurance, the increases were due to "...wind and hail losses (that) have been very severe..." Our own agency representative indicates that rates in Texas are based on losses throughout the state.

Perhaps that effects a more equitable rate, but I find it hard to believe that storm damage, nor the replacement costs, have increased over 50% in the past 3 years.

No insurance company would offer a rate for coverage without first thoroughly investigating the area and its history. The rates that were offered us three years ago were certainly based on this type of knowledge -- a long and well known history of tornadoes, hurricanes and thunderstorms. These storms have not increased in number or fury; if anything they decreased in this area due to the drought conditions of the past three years.

There is no argument that the cost of replacing losses have gone up. Based on the known inflationary trend of 6% per year, 18% over a three year period would be fair.

The insurance companies also suggest that we insure our home for more to reflect the higher replacement costs. So, it is very difficult for the average homeowner to justify the increases as approved by the Board of Insurance.

The homeowners are literally left holding the bag. There is no way to fight this injustice. There is no longer competition to turn to; we cannot cancel because no loan company or bank will carry our mortgage without coverage; and most of us cannot afford to own a home without insurance of some sort. So, we have to buy, at the price listed.

Surely the State Board of Insurance is not omnipotent. Surely the State Legislature has some authority to at least investigate these increases. The homeowner who must pay these outlandish rates is entitled to a clearer justification for them.

Very Sincerely,
Mrs. Mildred M. Martin

Wage And Price Freeze Creates Many Questions

Q--Can travel agencies raise their prices on tours in foreign countries?
 A--Yes. Travel agents can raise prices on tours to the extent that the costs of foreign services offered in the tour package, such as foreign hotel rates, restaurant meals, transportation costs, etc., are increased. However prices cannot be raised on that part of the tour package relating to services in the U.S. In addition, markup for overhead and profit cannot be raised.

 The records of the travel agency must clearly establish that each increase meets this test. If it cannot be so demonstrated, this exemption will not apply to the increase.

Q--I'm a Federal employee and I'm supposed to get a within-grade increase next month. Can I still get this raise?
 A--No. Merit and longevity increases, such as Federal Government with-in grade raises, are not permitted during the freeze.

Q--My landlord is installing dishwashers in each apartment in my development. Can he use this as a reason to raise rent during the freeze?
 A--An increase in rent can be charged for property which undergoes a substantial capital improvement, such as this if this improvement equals at least three months rent with a minimum of $250, and would be classified as a capital improvement by the Internal Revenue Service. If these conditions are met, the unit may be treated as a new apartment, with rent no higher than that charged on comparable apartments in the market area. Also, your monthly rent must not increase by more than 1 1/3 percent of the amount spent for capital improvements.

Q--Who is running the wage price freeze program?

A--The new Cost of Living Council determines the policies of the freeze and the Office of Emergency Preparedness answers questions and investigates complaints. Assistance with information and complaints is provided by 300 Internal Revenue Service offices throughout the country and 3,800 offices of the Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Q--Can my union raise dues during the freeze?

A--No. Dues for professional associations, trade associations, unions, country clubs, etc., are a fee for service, and as such, are frozen.

Q--My employer wants to give me a cash award for a suggestion I made. Can I still get the award?
 A--Yes. Businesses and government can continue to make cash awards during the freeze to employees for outstanding performance, provided that such awards continue to be given under the same formula and controls that existed in the month prior to the freeze.

Employers will have to maintain records on the incidence and amount of these awards which demonstrate that these programs are not used to give employees wage increases in violation of the freeze.

Families Travel As Members of Boontowners Camping Club

Seven families from the Boontowners National Campers and Hikers Association and two guest families traveled 120 miles Oct. 1 to Red Rock Canyon Park in Oklahoma for three days of outdoor living.

Friday evening was spent in setting up camp and greeting new arrivals. If any of the group had preferences about the weather, their wishes were granted sometime during the week end, as rain began to fall early Saturday morning.

Later in the day the skies cleared and the sun brightened the campers' activities.

The outcome of many contests were determined throughout the day in washer pitching, "42" and football. Hiking and mountain climbing were particularly enjoyed with the colorful fall foliage.

Saturday night the group enjoyed a chili supper, prepared by Patsy Montgomery and Louise Roper. The campers then related experiences and exchanged ideas around the campfire, staying far into the night.

Early Sunday morning an "Oklahoma Norther" caused everyone to unpack blankets and coats. But all gathered in the cold, crisp autumn air for church services conducted by Reavis Wooten.

Present for the week end were: Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder Corder, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burnett and guests; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bankhead; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bryant and Stephanie; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rupert; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Miller and guests; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Broyles; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Montgomery, Jo Lynn and Johnny; and Mr. and Mrs. Reavis Wooten and Sharon.

The group drove home by Fort Cobb to check the possibilities for a future trip. The group's next camp out will be Nov. 12, 13 and 14 in the Wichita Mountains.

Mrs. Medlin Is Speaker For The Optimist Club

Mrs. Charles Medlin, a certified Graphoanalyst of Wichita Falls, spoke Thursday evening to the members of the Optimist Club at their regular monthly Ladies Night meeting. In her presentation Mrs. Medlin explained that Graphoanalysis is the scientifically proven method of reading character and personality traits from a person's handwriting. It is not a game of fortune telling or predicting the future, she said. It is a study of pen strokes that can be used to reveal personality traits and aptitudes of the person involved so that he can more easily overcome his faults and better use his talents.

The science is being used by businessmen in selection of personnel, and by the police in the field of questionable signatures (Forgeries) and in the examination of documents, such as ransom notes. During her talk, Mrs. Medlin gave a demonstration showing certain basic graphoanalysis techniques. She then let those present apply the techniques to their own handwriting.

North Texas Jails Found Lacking

Recreational facilities for inmates appeared to be lacking completely in jails in the North Texas State Planning Region, according to the report of a jail survey just issued by Governor Preston Smith's Criminal Justice Council.

Many of the jails also lacked other facilities prescribed by modern jail standards, the survey report states.

The statistical report was compiled during 1970 by the Institute of Contemporary Corrections and the Behavioral Sciences, Sam Houston State University, Huntsville. It has just been published by CJC.

In the region served by North Texas Regional Planning Commission there are 11 county and four city jails, according to the report. Clay County reported no city or county jails.

On the census date, March 15, 1970, all jails in the region were under designed capacity except Hardeman County jail. Hardeman County jail had 12 inmates, 9 percent more than its designed capacity of 11.

Twelve of the jails reported no recreational facilities and six no visiting facilities. City jails at Bowie, Burk Burnett and Quanah did not respond to the survey.

Of the 143 inmates confined in the region on the census date, 108, or 76%, had not been convicted. Ratio of inmates to full-time employees regionwide was 7:1. Ratio for Hardeman County jail alone was 12:1, however.

Statewide, the survey showed most jail inmates were awaiting trial, usually vegetating in cells without recreational or educational facilities. Time that might be spent in vocational training or rehabilitation was being wasted.

Counties in the North Texas Region are Archer, Baylor, Childress, Clay, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, Montague, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young.

Burk Students Receive Letters Of Commendation

Letters of Commendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1971 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST) have been awarded to six students at Burk Burnett High School, Principal Bill Darland has announced.

Those named Commended students are, Janice A. Brown, Karen K. Brown, Mark A. Law, Lawrence A. Ross, Terry L. Sutton, and Raymond B. Wade. They are among 35,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2 percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1972. The Commended students rank just below the 15,000 Semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC).

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said: Although Commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their standing in this nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their high performance on the NMQST gives promise of continued success in college. "The Commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Both these students and our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

Plans Made To Improve Nortex Criminal Justice

An updated five-year plan for improving criminal justice in the 12-county area served by Nortex Regional Planning Commission, Wichita Falls, has been received by Governor Preston Smith's Criminal Justice Council.

The regional plan, covering 1972 to 1976, and similar documents from the state's other 23 planning regions will provide input for an updated statewide criminal justice plan to be issued later this year.

Included in the prospectus is a survey of the resources and needs of the entire region, which is made up of the counties of Archer, Baylor, Childress, Clay, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, Montague, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young.

For 1972 the plan projects a need for $1,046,000 for CJC funding. The largest amount, $150,000, will be needed for a regional law enforcement radio communications system. The plan assigns medium priority to this project. Also needed is $147,000 for continuing the existing psychiatric diagnostic center in Wichita Falls.

Need for the five-year period covered by the plan is estimated at $3,240,000.

400 Teen-Agers Intern in Capital

More than 400 Connecticut teen-agers are experiencing a first-hand knowledge of federal government operations in the summer intern program sponsored by Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, Jr. and Congressmen Stewart B. McKinney and Robert H. Steele of Connecticut.

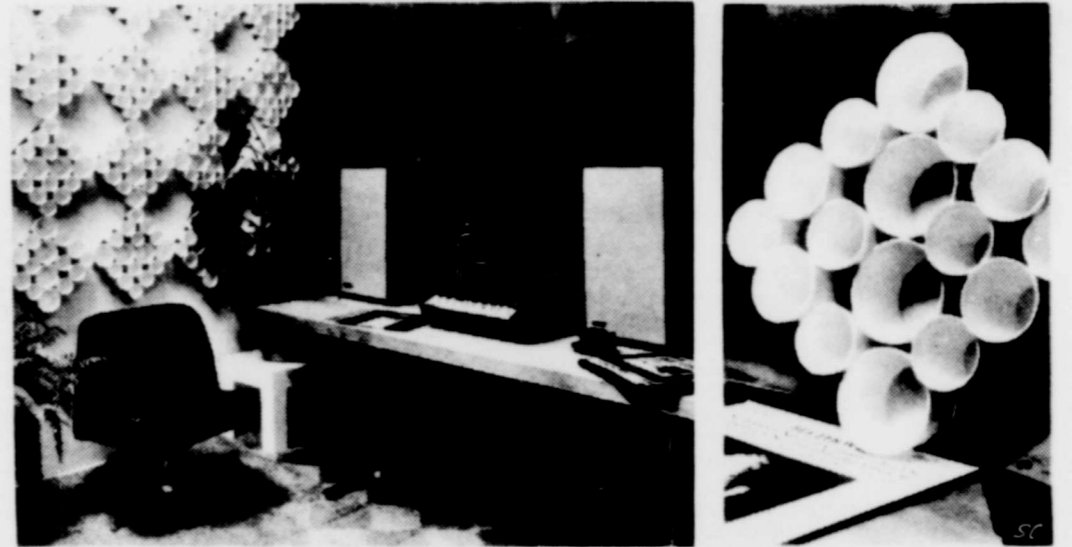

Scheduled throughout the summer months, the teen-agers selected from nearly every city and town in the state are given a week's stay in the nation's capital. They get a behind-the-scenes perspective on how the federal government works.

They are in close contact with their sponsors and leading government officials. Recreation and entertainment as well as rap sessions with their Connecticut Congressional hosts are included.

More than 35 million Americans move every year! By packing fine crystal and stermare in economical foam cups with tops, you'll simplify moving and avoid breakage. They'll keep clean as well as safe en route, so no need to wash things on arrival. Keep an inventory and list of numbered cartons and contents so you can put the right box in the right room to save energy when unpacking. The same cups can be re-used in your new home for starting new plants. Or crumble them as shockproof cushioning for sending "care" packages to your hungry college-bound offspring. Crumbled foam cups make excellent filler for potting soil mix in place of vermiculite or expanded mica since they are non-biodegradable and non-toxic.

Sound Idea For Stereo Buffs

Tune into good acoustics in a do-it-yourself, economical sound wall. Foam cups are easy to spray and stick to a stiff backing. Any size or design to suit your eye will please your ear, too. Spray cups with paint or a surface coating to lessen dust and static electricity attraction. Arrange and tack them to den or dorm wall. Two walls with, two without, for ideal sound. Acoustically treated walls should be opposite "live" walls — such as the wall behind speakers, or a wall with a window. Degree of "rebound" or "liveliness" of sound should be adjusted to individual tastes and audio sensitivity.

Burkburnett Girl Scouts Take Part In "Do-It-Yourself" Camp Out Trip

The big annual "Do-It-Yourself" campout at Quanah, Texas, was the major event in scout activities in the past week.

At the camp, there was a 100% representation of scout troops from Burkburnett. Each of the nine local troops--including brownie, junior, cadette and senior levels--was well represented, and the weather held up beautifully for the nature-minded girls.

The troops left Burk at 7:00 a.m. Saturday, October 2. On Saturday afternoon the Brownie troops visited their sister troops and had sack lunches, and spent the day visiting the "Mound of Knowledge" and viewing the arts and crafts on display.

The theme of the campout this year was Indian tribes, with each troop displaying specific information, crafts and skits about its assigned tribe. The mound of knowledge was the site of many special displays. These included the making of clay pottery; necklace making; face painting; pictures of sand-painting; basket weaving; rock painting; making Indian toys; fire making with flint and steel; creative Indian accessories; the making of Katchena dolls, used in Navaho religion to represent the gods of fertility, rain, crops, sun, etc.; and Indian games.

All the scouts enjoyed viewing the displays and learned a great deal about the origins and cultural differences of the Indian tribes.

Forty-seven troops participated in competitions for best campsite and best Indian displays. Cadette troop #48 was awarded first place in the Indian display competition.

While there were 47 troops in the competitions, 1,093 were present for the campout. The Scout gathering was assisted by the RE-ACT team from Burkburnett, with President Bill Milner and his group working hard to set up a unique system of communications and running the First Aid tent. The scouts also wish to thank the two chaplains from Sheppard AFB who came to Quanah to hold Sunday worship services.

Sunday morning was also exciting for those attending the two films on Indian arts, crafts and legends.

On Sunday afternoon the troops dispersed, and a group of excited, happy and very tired girls and leaders returned to Burkburnett.

In other scout news, Troop #25 gave a farewell party for Mrs. Hilda Mathews, who has been troop assistant for the past two years. Her husband is now leaving for Vietnam, and she will move to Springfield, Missouri.

The mothers of Troops #25 and #40 are planning an old-fashioned Halloween party for the girls of both troops; to be held on Halloween night at the L.O.O.F. Hall. They will also be taking their troops to the annual "Spook-House" presentation the Wednesday preceding Halloween. This presentation is put on by the Junior Forum of the Wichita Falls; presented to raise money for needy children.

Purcell Introduces VEE Legislation In House

WASHINGTON--Legislation designed to prevent further outbreaks of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE) hoof and mouth, rinderpest, and other animal and poultry diseases in the United States was favorably reported recently by the House Committee on Agriculture.

The legislation was introduced by Congressman Graham Purcell (D-Tex) and subsequently endorsed by his Subcommittee on Livestock and Grains. It authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to enter into cooperative agreements with Mexico, Canada, and Central American countries to provide U.S. aid to set up barriers to the diseases before they get to U.S. borders.

Following the outbreak of VEE in Texas, the Purcell Subcommittee looked into charges that the Department of Agriculture was negligent in combating the disease in Mexico, where it was discovered in 1970. The hearings led to the introduction of the legislation reported recently.

Purcell, who is openly critical of the federal government's failure to keep the disease out of Texas, said today, "The sad thing about this legislation is that the Department of Agriculture should have asked for the authority this bill gives last year when they knew the disease was in Mexico. They didn't ask for it then, but waited instead until VEE had entered the United States and reached disaster proportions. Only then did they come to my Subcommittee, complaining that they didn't have the authority they needed."

"This bill," Purcell continued, "gives the Department that authority as well as the power to deal with such problems as the outbreak of African Swine Fever that is reported to be in Cuba now. I'm going to do everything I can to get the bill passed through the House of Representatives this session. Hopefully, we will then be able to safeguard the health, not only of American livestock and poultry, but also of our people."

In Shakespeare's day, school hours were from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. during the summer and from daybreak to dusk in winter.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

Fall is putting a chill in the air. Time for heaters and time for caution because of an odorless, colorless, tasteless gas called carbon monoxide. This gas can kill a person in unconsciousness before the victim knows he's in trouble.

"Each year in this country nearly 10,000 people suffer carbon monoxide poisoning," says Texas Health Commissioner Dr. James E. Peavy. "Nearly all require medical care or hospitalization. Each year about 1,400 persons die as a direct result of this deadly gas. In 1970, some 30 Texans died from carbon monoxide poisoning."

About 70% of the deaths occur in the home. Most deaths occur in the winter months when the hazards are greatest due to the use of heating devices and fuel burning equipment. In recent years, however, many deaths have occurred during the summer, because of the increased use of air conditioning. That may seem contradictory, but the fault is in the air conditioners air return systems which may be introducing carbon monoxide into the home.

A recent study reported by the U.S. Public Health Service Injury Control Program illustrates the potential seriousness of the problem. Forty percent of the homes and establishments investigated had one or more appliances that were emitting unduly high levels of carbon monoxide. About one-fourth of these appliances were discharging gas in amounts exceeding 200 parts per million units of air--a very dangerous level. Gas range ovens, gas floor furnaces and gas space heaters

Eye Doctors Assess Night Driving Ills

Motorists are not totally to blame for variance between how they see, and how they ought to see, while driving at night, say the nation's optometrists. The doctors blame "visually inadequate roads and automobiles which interact to produce an unsafe driving environment."

The results of a "vision factor" questionnaire returned by members of the American Optometric Association were evaluated by Dr. Merrill J. Allen of Indiana University, and sponsored by Potters Industries, Inc., manufacturers of reflective glass beads for highway markings.

Dr. Allen reports that greater visual stress is placed on drivers in nighttime traffic, and headlight glare is the biggest night driving annoyance. Automobile paint colors play a role in the ability of the driver to make correct judgments. Edge lines, indicating where road shoulders start, are advocated for all roads.

Stars of the "white dwarf" type are 4,000 times as heavy as lead! They are too dim to be seen but their presence can be detected by their gravitational effects on other stars.

Applications Available For Windbreak Seedlings

Although it's a little early to be thinking about winter and spring winds, now is the time to submit applications for seedlings that will be used for windbreaks.

That word comes from Bill Smith, forestry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Applications for windbreak seedlings are available from local county Extension offices, or from the Indian Mound Nursery, Box 337, Alto, Texas. "It's important to apply early since orders are processed on a first come, first served basis," says Smith. "However, seedling shipments won't begin until mid-December."

The seedlings come from the Texas Forest Service's Indian Mound Nursery and are priced at $2.50 per 100. Pine seedlings for reforestation are also available. The planter must agree that the seedlings will not be used for ornamental purposes, points out the specialist.

Some 16 species of seedlings are presently available. These include baldcypress, black locust, black walnut, catalpa, Chinese elm, cottonwood, eucalyptus, green ash, loblolly pine (drought-hardy), mulberry, bois d'arc (osage orange), ponderosa pine, shortleaf pine, slash pine, sweetgum, and sycamore.

Equipment manufacturers have developed reliable machinery for stacking hay loose. Forage and livestock producers should evaluate their forage program and consider loose stacking if their annual hay production approaches 300 tons or more, notes Pratt. County agricultural agents have detailed information on loose hay stacking.

PEARS---Don't let pears turn brown! Dip cut fresh pears in orange or lemon juice just after cutting. The cut surfaces will then stay creamy-white until served.

The specialists advise that rows of trees should be spaced wide enough apart to accommodate cultivating equipment. Trees should be planted in a staggered arrangement in different rows to hasten the wind-barrier effect. If space does not allow three or four rows of trees, a single row of conifers will produce an acceptable windbreak.

Conifers should always be watered immediately after planting to settle the soil around the roots, adds the specialist. During a dry summer, waterings may be required on a weekly basis. Frequent, shallow cultivations aid survival and boost growth. Pruning should be avoided except to clean up broken or damaged trees.

"By selecting the proper seedlings and planting and caring for them as directed you can begin to enjoy the benefits of a windbreak in a few years," says Smith.

WINDBREAK SEEDLINGS-- Now is the time to order windbreak seedlings from the Texas Forest Service's Indian Mound Nursery, Box 337, Alto, Texas. Bill Smith, Extension forestry specialist. Applications can be obtained at any local county Extension office. Some 16 different species of seedlings are available and are priced at $2.50 per 100.

Bill to Boost Low Farm Prices

WASHINGTON--The House Subcommittee on Livestock and Grains, chaired by Congressman Graham Purcell (D-Tex) reported, on September 28, two bills designed to boost sagging farm prices by authorizing Administration actions to raise the loan rates by 25% on wheat and corn and establish a strategic commodity reserve for emergencies.

One of the bills, H.R. 1163, authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to go on the open market and buy up to three hundred million bushels of wheat, 25 million tons of feed grains, and 100 million bushels of soybeans to be held, insulated from the market. The Government would buy the grain at the average price farmers had received for their commodities during the five preceding marketing years. It would be held for national emergencies and could only be released for sale at prices equalling 120% of the price farmers had received during the five preceding marketing years. The Purcell Subcommittee amended the legislation to encourage the Secretary to put the reserve in the hands of the farmers themselves for storage.

The other bill, H.R. 8290, would increase the loan price for wheat and feed grains by 25% -- or to 1.56 for wheat and 1.25 for corn. It would become effective for crops harvested during 1971.

"While these bills will not completely cure the farm problems American food producers are facing today," Purcell said, "they nevertheless go a long way toward helping take up some of the strain facing our family farms. The majority of the Subcommittee who voted with me to report this needed legislation have made a major step toward assuring the farmer that he is still recognized for the unique importance of his position in the American and world food picture."

4-H CLUB WEEK IN TEXAS--Governor Preston Smith has proclaimed this week of October 3-9 as "4-H Club Week in Texas." The proclamation was issued in conjunction with National 4-H Club Week and the theme, "4-H Bridges the Gap." According to Governor Smith, "This year's theme expresses the thrust of today's 4-H program as it helps prepare young people to become better citizens in our changing world."

Four-H is a part of the education program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A & M University. There are some 75,000 4-H Club members and 14,000 volunteer leaders in Texas.

STORING FRESH FRUITS-- When you store fresh fruits, Extension foods and nutrition specialists remind homemakers, the temperature and humidity are very important. Poke a few small holes in a plastic bag to provide ventilation and to let out some of the moisture which accumulates.

In addition, cotton trailers weighing 15,000 pounds or less moving temporarily at speeds of 30 miles per hour or less are exempt if they are exempt from vehicle registration laws.

People in the cattle business can look to the future with optimism as beef consumption continues to go upward across the country. Continuation of the present per capita trends is expected and this, coupled with an increasing population will call for a third more beef by 1980. The average American today consumes about 114 pounds of beef annually.

Because organic matter makes so many contributions to the productive potential of soil, practices to maintain its level should be included in a balanced soil management and soil conservation program. Now is a good time for producers to think about such practices since they will be faced with crop residues following the harvest season. Organic matter plays an important role in the physical make-up of a soil. Although the actual organic matter content of most mineral soils is less than five percent, it has great influence on soil properties and plant growth.

CAULIFLOWER -- Since cauliflower is most abundant from September until January, Extension foods and nutrition specialists remind consumers that now is the time to look for white to cream-white cauliflower with compact solid and clean curds. If jacket leaves are attached, a good green color is a sign of freshness.

Livestock producers over the county are urged to be on the alert for screwworms, as numerous cases continue to spread over the Hill Country, Edwards Plateau, Big Bend and South Texas areas.

Officials of the Missions Screwworm Program report that 19 cases were reported and confirmed during the week ending September 3, making this the worst week since the last week in December, 1968. Furthermore, 16 cases were confirmed during the past Labor Day weekend. Texas thus far has recorded 138 cases with the total United States count at 161.

Screwworm outbreaks traditionally occur in late summer and fall, so producers should check their animals periodically and treat any wounds found. Spraying of herds is also recommended and operations such as dehorning and castrating should be delayed until cooler weather sets in. All man-made wounds, such as shearing, should be treated.

Any larvae collected from wounds should be sent to the Mission Screwworm Laboratory for identification. Collection kits and vials are available from the County Agents office.

Farmers and ranchers as well as others in Wichita County should become familiar with the new vehicle brake law, passed recently by the Texas Legislature. The new law applies to every trailer, semi-trailer, and pole trailer equipped with air or vacuum brakes and every trailer in excess of 3,000 pounds. These trailers must now be equipped with brakes acting on all wheels which can be applied automatically and promptly and remain applied for at least 15 minutes upon breakaway from the towing vehicle.

However, there are some exceptions to the law. Trailers with a gross weight of 3,000 pounds or less and those weighing 40 per cent or less of the towing vehicle are exempt. Also farm trailers or semi-trailers moving temporarily on highways at speeds of 30 miles per hour or less and having a gross weight of 10,000 pounds or less are exempt from the brake requirement if they are otherwise exempt from vehicle registration laws.

Interest Grows In Loose Hay Stacking

Forage producers throughout Texas are becoming more interested in stacking loose hay according to Dr. Neal Pratt, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Loose stacked hay offers several advantages to forage and livestock producers. And there are also several disadvantages.

Hay can usually be stacked loose with less labor requirements and can retain its quality as well as baled hay. However, loose hay is less marketable and has certain feeding limitations over baled hay, says Pratt.

Also, the inexperience of forage producers in forming stacks may create considerable loss of hay the first year. After experience is gained, the loss in loose hay and baled hay is comparable. Regardless of the method used in harvesting hay, be sure to produce high-quality hay, advises the agronomist. This means adequate amounts of fertilization are necessary. Hay should be harvested before it matures so that it will retain maximum quality.

Equipment manufacturers have developed reliable machinery for stacking hay loose. Forage and livestock producers should evaluate their forage program and consider loose stacking if their annual hay production approaches 300 tons or more, notes Pratt. County agricultural agents have detailed information on loose hay stacking.

PEARS---Don't let pears turn brown! Dip cut fresh pears in orange or lemon juice just after cutting. The cut surfaces will then stay creamy-white until served.

MARKET REPORT

Interested in saving money while shopping for the family food supply this week? Then follow these marketing tips from Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Although specials on beef cuts are rather limited this week, the specialist says best beef values include chuck steaks and roast, round steaks, ground beef and liver.

Pork supplies are adequate, with good values available on loin end roasts, one-fourth and one-half loins cut into chops, smoked picnics, shoulder steaks, hams and ham portions, bacon and frankfurters.

Fryer chicken prices are about the same as last week, with occasional specials featuring whole fryers or cut fryers. Mrs. Clyatt also suggests special packs of parts.

Turkey prices are also about the same as last week, with more emphasis on the 10-14 pound birds.

Grade A large size eggs continue to offer the best combination of economy and quality for your egg money.

A wide choice of fresh fruits are still available. Seedless grapes, prunes, bananas, plums and avocados are low priced items. New crop apples are more plentiful and quality is improving. Red Tokay grapes are also making their appearance. Nectarines, pears, cantaloupes and honeydew melons are worthy of your consideration -- qualitywise and price-wise.

In the vegetable market, carrots are more plentiful than a few weeks back. Several varieties of hard shell squash are now available. Cabbage, mustard, collards, turnip tops, potatoes, green peppers, corn, sweet potatoes and yellow onions are among the most economical vegetable choices. Eggplant, broccoli and cauliflower of very good quality is moderately priced to help add variety to your menus.

Sheppard AFB Technical Schools Complete Their Missions of Training

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--The mission of Sheppard Technical Training Center is training and that is conducted through three schools -- the 3750th Technical School, the U. S. Air Force School of Health Care Sciences and the 3630th Flying Training Wing. The largest of these schools is the oldest at Sheppard and that is the 3750th Technical School. It encompasses six departments -- aircraft maintenance, comptroller, transportation, communications and missiles, civil engineering and field training. The aircraft maintenance training was transferred here from Keesler AFB, Miss., in 1949. The fighter aircraft maintenance course was moved here in 1969 to make it the largest aircraft maintenance school in the Air Force. Comptroller and Transportation Training were transferred to Sheppard from Lowry AFB, Colo., along with the Intelligence School in 1974. The Intelligence School returned to Lowry in 1964. The two other departments remain and provide all training for the Air Force in their respective career fields. All Air Force training in fixed wire communications is conducted by the Communications and Missile Training Department. The communications mission was transferred to Sheppard from Warren AFB, Wyo., in 1959. Early phases of the work of the missile mission began in 1955 and the first students were enrolled in October, 1959. Sheppard was "prime center" for the Titan and Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles and the Thor and Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missiles. All have phased out but the Titan II training, which is still conducted here. The two missions were combined into one department in November 1969. Civil Engineering began as the Utilities Training in 1958 and was designated as Civil Engineering Training in 1962. In 1971 Sheppard acquired four new courses -- masonry, carpentry, heating and heavy equipment operator -- from the U. S. Navy. These were previously conducted at Port Hueneme, Calif. Sheppard assumed a worldwide training responsibility when it gained part of the Field and Mobile Training in 1959. The Field Training Department was organized in July 1966 and that organization assumed responsibility for all field training at detachments located at Air Force bases throughout the world July 1, 1971. There are approximately 100 FTD's that provide training for all types of aircraft systems in the Air Force inventory. The U. S. Air Force School of Health Care Science moved to Sheppard in 1966 from Gunter AFB, Ala. At that time it was designated the Medical Service School, but the name was changed in June 1971. The six training departments of that school are Dentistry, Medicine, Nursing, Veterinary, Biomedical Science and Health Service Administration. All medical service officers receive their basic military training there and practically all enlisted persons receive indoctrination there. The basic courses in the various career areas are also conducted at Sheppard. This is the only medical service school in the Air Force. The newest and longest training program in that school's curriculum is the Physicians Assistants Program which began July 7, 1971. The 3630th Flying Training Wing, now a tenant of Air Training Command at Sheppard, conducts the German Air Force Undergraduate Pilot Training Program for the Federal Republic of Germany, and the Vietnamese UPT program through the Military Assistance Program. The GAF program began in 1966 and those students receive the same 55-week program as do the U. S. Air Force pilots. Unused spaces in the GAF classes are used by Americans. They train in both the T-37 and T-38 aircraft. The Vietnamese program, started in July 1971, lasts seven and one-half months. Those students only train in the T-37 aircraft. The Helicopter Pilot Training School was at Sheppard from October 1965 through June 30, 1971. It was transferred here from Stead AFB, Nev., as part of the 3630th Flying Training Wing. It was deactivated when the U. S. Army assumed responsibility for training the Air Force helicopter pilots. The Air Force familiarization training went to Hill AFB, Utah, where the students go to become familiar with Air Force rotary wing aircraft. The Strategic Air Command (SAC) had an operational wing of B-52's and KC-135's located at Sheppard during the years 1969 through 1965. In July 1969 Detachment 1, 2nd Bombardment Wing (SAC) with four B-52 aircraft became a tenant organization on Sheppard. Other tenant units operating at Sheppard are the 2054th Communications Squadron of the Air Force Communications Service; Detachment 12, 24th Weather Squadron and the 43rd Detachment of the Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service, both of the Military Airlift Command; U. S. Air Force Postal and Courier Service a Headquarters Command; Management Engineering Detachment, Office of Special Investigations and two Auditor General detachments.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEX.--Being a foreign student in an English-speaking course alongside U.S. Air Force personnel is a tough assignment, admitted Captain Carlos Del-Aguila of Peru. It's especially challenging, he confessed, when the student has had a mere speck of formal training in the language. But in spite of the apparent handicap, Captain Del-Aguila and other foreign students are coming through with flying colors in courses at the U.S. Air Force School of Health Care Sciences at Sheppard. Shortly, the Captain will return to Peru to introduce American administrative procedures in the first hospital to be opened by that country's Air Force. In a similar position is 2nd Lt. Thuong Dao Trong, 41, father of nine and a 20-year veteran in South Vietnam's armed forces. Like Captain Del-Aguila, Lt. Thuong is enrolled in the Health Services Administration course at Sheppard, which graduates Oct. 8. He will apply U.S. techniques when he returns to a Vietnamese dispensary assignment. Construction of the Peruvian hospital is nearing completion and Captain Del-Aguila will begin staff orientation in a few weeks. He hopes an in-patient clinic can be in operation by the end of the year. The Peruvian came to Sheppard July 26, following a nine week English course at Lackland AFB, Texas. His English comprehension level was barely high enough to get him into the training program but it was improved to a point where he can converse fairly easily in classes here. For Lieutenant Thuong, this is his second trip to the U.S. When he was a paratrooper, he attended a course at Ft. Bliss, Tex., in 1961. He speaks English with a French accent, a hold-over from days when French was a standard course in Vietnamese schools. Both Capt. Del-Aguila and Lt. Thuong like American food, but the Vietnamese officer likes to prepare a native dish occasionally in his quarters as an expert cook. Both say they have been so impressed with this country that they would like to return. "Americans are very, very, friendly people," said Capt. Del-Aguila.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS---HELPING HAND--Second Lieutenant Jeffrey C. Kreinbring, left, of the U. S. Air Force, lend assistance to Capt. Carlos M. Del-Aguila, of the Peruvian Air Force, in deciphering a technical training manual in the Health Services Administration Course of the U. S. Air Force School of Health Care Sciences at Sheppard AFB. Captain Del-Aguila will return to Peru and use the skills he has learned to manage the first hospital opened by that country's air force.

Col. Thomas Bacon Assumes His Deputy Commander Duties at SAFB

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas---Col. Thomas R. Bacon assumed duties as deputy commander of 3750th Technical School this month. He succeeds Col. Francis L. Jones who became commander of 3750th School Group.

In 1951 he was recalled by the U.S. Air Force during the Korean police action and went to Korea with the 3rd Bomb Wing flying B-26's for one year. His successive assignments were at Mather AFB, Calif., with the Fifth Bomb Wing from 1960 to 1965; Japan with the 556th Reconnaissance Squadron from 1965 to 1968; and then to the Philippines. A native of North Collins, N.Y., colonel Bacon completed high school there and received a bachelor of arts degree in social science from Sacramento State College in California. He also has graduated from the Air War College and the Industrial College of the Armed Forces. He is a rated master navigator. The colonel and his wife Violeta, reside in base housing.

COL. THOMAS R. BACON

Colonel Bacon entered military service in August 1942. After completing the radio mechanics school he went into the air cadet program graduating as a rated navigator at Childress Field, Texas, in December 1943. He was promoted to flight officer. He went to the European Theater of Operations as a B-24 crew member and became a second Lieutenant in August 1944. He returned to the States and then went to the Philippines in 1946. He remained there until 1948 when he came back to the States and was released from active duty.

The following information is sketchy. I'm passing along what I learned this past week concerning flying in Australia. It seems there is gold in the air and on the ground for any who wish to do spraying as a livelihood. One person is nearing retirement age and wishes to sell his business for $150,000.00, and he says he is grossing twice that and that the business could be doubled and redoubled if a person cared to enter his area and take to the air spraying trees -- I forget the term they use for trees down there. This Australian citizen has been on the ground using World War II four-wheelers. One area crop duster has already investigated the cost of a round trip ticket and is considering, seriously, making the trip to look into possibilities. Airlines stipulate that for $1,900 he can take advantage of a plan whereby he must stay at least 15 days and not more than 30 days. If and when my flying friend lets me in on any learnings, I'll pass them along if they are not confidential. This week's writing marks two years and four weeks I have had the pleasure of filling a spot in the Burkburnett INFORMER/STAR. No telling how much longer I can keep it up. Readers may think it strange that I have not learned the answers to the following questions that have been circulating in my mind for a number of years -- all concerning flying a jet-powered single engine plane. When one gets into a strange reciprocated powered craft, he asks information about the amount of torque to load for and something about the use of brakes on take off and landing. I understand that worrying about torque on a jet is foolish. I've never heard a discussion on controlling forward direction on take offs in a jet. I'm assuming the brake technique is much the same on beginning and final rolls. There are sound questions. How much does the pilot hear in a jet plane? I believe that all good pilots of gas fueled inline and reciprocating engines get to learn a lot about the condition of their engines by the variations in sounds from anything that they have been used to listening to. Can a pilot do the same on a jet engine? Still, I wish I could get a ride in a jet trainer. Might even learn something about percentage throttle settings.

First Christian Church

The First Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) of Burkburnett, Texas traces its beginning to the year 1907. At that time a community church met in a one room school house which was located on the property where the present church structure stands.

In 1909 the church became known as the Methodist Church, the larger portion of the congregation building a facility now standing where the present United Methodist Church stands.

Still wanting to follow the doctrine of the Christian Church, a smaller portion of the congregation organized a new congregation in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Vann, 115 North Avenue D, in 1920. The congregation built a church building on the land that is presently owned at Second and Avenue D.

The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) is a part of a larger manifestation of the church, The General Assembly of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

The First Christian Church called its present minister, the Reverend David Stout, two years ago. Reverend Stout received his college education at Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Missouri, and his seminary degree from Drake Divinity School, Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa.

He has presently completed his formal class work and is working on his thesis for the Master of Theology Degree in Pastoral Counseling and Pastoral Psychology. That degree work was done at Brite Divinity School of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth.

Stout presently serves as president of the Burkburnett Ministerial Alliance and as vice president of District 19 of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Texas.

Reverend Stout's wife, Carolyn, is presently employed at the Wichita County General Hospital in Wichita Falls, where she works in the newborn nursery. The Stouts have two children, Bryan and Brenda.

Water, water everywhere
With filth that is in solution.
Water, water everywhere
Contaminated by pollution.

If you've a boat on sea or lake
Don't dispose with undue haste.
Respond for conservation's
sake
By storing up your waste.

If motor gives off too much smoke
Be sure it's well maintained
For ecology is not a joke
And clean air can't be feigned.

Save up your empty soft drink
cans
The folks at Pepsi urge
And always make the best of plans
To halt pollution's surge.

Water, water everywhere,
And boaters should be keen.
Water, water everywhere,
Let's pitch in and keep it clean!
