RAYMOND GREENWOOD

We finally made it back to Burk Burnett! Glad to be here! The only thing that bothers me, though, is the reception that I received. It was reported that Jerry McClure was behind the snow and ice that almost made the road from Mineral Wells to Burk Burnett impassable.

I also had to dodge one road barricade near the city limits which one of my informers (I like that word Informer) told me had been constructed. I get the drift that these people were trying to tell me something!

Moving isn't bad, though, if you don't mind what clothes you wear. The movers had everything we own in boxes and all articles were separately wrapped. I'm sure that's the best way to transport things, but is sure made it a mess trying to get dressed in a hurry.

The first clothes I found were a purple shirt, red tie, green pants and some light yellow socks. I guess I can't complain about that, though, since it took me over two hours to find where my clean underwear was packed!

Ah, but moving is fun! We had one of the best-looking Informer/Star's this past week that has been published in some time. In fact, it was so great I thought I just might run the best story again.

Of course, I'm speaking of the story of me and that wonderful picture. If it hadn't been for that the paper would have been nothing.

The one thing I can't figure out about last week's paper, though, is why we didn't sell any on the newsstands. In fact, we received several back from our regular subscribers stating they didn't wish to receive such nonsense.

I can't understand exactly what they were talking about. But they did have my picture and article circled with a heavy pen. Perhaps that was the only thing in the paper they thought was interesting to read???

I overheard two local business competitors talking in the coffee shop the other day. They were discussing their trade when one blurted out, "There are many ways of making money, but there's only one honest way."

"What is that?" asked the other. "I knew it!" the first replied. "You don't know!!"

'Til next week, thanks for reading the Informer/Star.

Santa Letters To Be Published

The Burk Burnett Informer/Star has once again made special arrangements with the postal system to get the issue of the Informer/Star containing all the letters from area kids to Santa from area kiddoes to the North Pole before old Saint Nick takes off on his annual Christmas Eve journey.

Area youths are urged to write to Santa Claus, c/o the Burk Burnett Informer/Star, P.O. Box 906, Burk Burnett, as soon as possible. The letters will be published in the last issue before Christmas. That edition will then be sent directly to the North Pole so that Santa will know just what to pack in his bag for all the

BURK'S OUTSTANDING CLUB TO CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS

Will Teal, president of the Burk Burnett Senior Citizens Club, will conduct his last meeting for the club as they celebrate their fourth Christmas today at noon.

Some 20 guests and over 100 members are expected for this annual affair, which will have Glenn Shelton of the Wichita Times and Record News as guest speaker.

The Senior Citizens Club, heralded as the Outstanding Club in Burk Burnett last year at the Chamber of Commerce Banquet, will soon be entering its fifth year of existence. The club began in May of 1968 due to the action of a steering committee appointed by Jack Aaron, who was the president of the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce at that time.

The members of the committee, Rev. Don Youngblood, Rev. Lamoine Champ, Mrs. Florence Trevena and Miss Toinette Weaver, spent long hours in establishing the club, which elected Rev. Alvin Browning as their first president.

Other past presidents of the club include Will Teal, who served the club in its second year, Ray Simpson from last year, and Will Teal, currently serving a second term. Mrs. Trevena will assume the duties as the new president at the club's installation meeting in January.

The club normally meets on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, with the only exception being the month of December when they meet only on the second Thursday.

Members of the club, numbering almost 130 at present, spend a part of the morning hours at their meetings playing Forty-Two or cards and just visiting. They adjourn for a buffet lunch of dishes brought by members, and then return to their morning activities.

In order to become a member of the club, one must be 65 years of age or older. "We would like to invite people in that age bracket who aren't members of our club to come up and visit with us at our meeting today, or at any meeting," stated Teal.

Special guests expected for the annual Christmas party include: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McClure, Burk Burnett Mayor and Mrs. Billy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Aaron, Glenn Shel-

Local High School Receives Accreditation

Burk Burnett High School has been continued as an accredited school by the Commission on Secondary Schools of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The action was taken at the annual meeting of the Association held November 28-December 1 in Miami Beach, Florida, and was announced by Principal Billy D. Darland and James L. Pearson, superintendent of the school. Membership in the Association is official recognition that a school is committed to school improvement through the accreditation process. Each member school periodically conducts a thorough self-study and is visited by teams of competent educators who help to determine the school's strengths and indicate areas needing improvement.

Only those schools which voluntarily enter into these self-improvement programs and commit themselves to compliance with accepted educational standards are admitted to membership.

"The regional accreditation program has been in operation

Post Office Open Saturdays For Two Weeks

The Burk Burnett Post Office will remain open this coming Saturday (Dec. 11) and also next Saturday for the purpose of assisting its patrons with the mailing of Christmas packages or any other postal business usually available during the week, according to W.T. Zimmerman, local postmaster.

The postmaster encourages everyone to mail all cards and parcels early to assure delivery before Christmas.

DEAN TAKES SLAP AT FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

"I'll have to see it to believe it---It's never happened in the past," stated District Highway engineer L. B. Dean, referring to the proposed Federal Revenue Sharing Plan as he spoke to the membership luncheon of the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce Monday.

Dean was referring to the fact that the new plan is supposed to include no federal regulations on how the moneys are to be spent, with the total decision left up to the counties and the cities.

"If this plan goes into effect, there'll be little money for the highway department because it will come only at the discretion of the city and county governments," he continued.

Dean went on to slap at the federal government for holding back on funds from the federal highway trust fund that should have been released long ago.

"In this district we have $10 million in projects ready to go. The right-of-way has been purchased but there is no money to build," he reported. The money in the trust fund is that derived from the federal tax on gasoline.

He went on to state that the federal government had tapped the trust fund over the past few years and given the money to other agencies. An IOU is placed in the trust fund, with interest attached, for the money removed, but "I doubt if they ever do pay back the interest on the IOU's," Dean stated.

There is currently some $5.7 billion dollars in the balance of the federal highway trust fund that is being used by other agencies, stated

Dean. This action has killed many wanted and needed highway projects that have been paid for by the people through their federal gasoline taxes.

Dean also reviewed the history of the highway department for the group. "When the department began 40 years ago, it only had three employees and very little paved roads to worry about or that could be constructed."

Today the department employs some 18,000 persons and has thousands and thousands of miles of highways, with little hope of ever catching up with its road building schedule within the foreseeable future.

The veteran engineer, who will leave the department at the end of this month, recalled how a motor trip from Olney to Wichita Falls used to be an all-day trip. He said the City of Burk Burnett was quagmire during the oil boom days, and the streets were deep with mud. Even in good weather, he said, there was plenty of dust and the roads were so rough that they shook automobiles to pieces.

"We were deep in the mud. We did not have the facilities to move from one place to

School Board Gives OK To Two Major Purchases

The home economics department at Burk Burnett High School will receive six new sewing machines as a result of action taken Monday night by the Burk Burnett School Board at its regular meeting.

The board authorized the purchase of the machines to replace about half of the machines presently in use by the department which are badly in need of repair and are almost 11 years old.

The board also voted to purchase two new 72-passenger school buses, which will have an estimated cost of around $8,000 each. Delivery of the buses is anticipated for May of 1972.

Raymond Smart, tax collector, reported to the board that the collection of school taxes for the year has passed the halfway mark. Tax receipts through November totaled $122,734.59, including some $2,550.96 in delinquent payments.

In other action the board approved the resignation of Kirk W. Beard, a science and social studies teacher in the Junior High. The board also approved the employment of Arlene Burdette as a teacher of science and social studies for the Junior High.

The board approved the appointment of James Pearson, Dan Schaffner, Patty Pearson, Joann Nitzel, Maurine Tunnel, Marine Boles, Lou Jane Park, Viola Reynolds, Dan Carson, Valree Matherly, Dorothy Lewis, Clarence Porter, Gloria Skelton, Leon Pace and Pat Smiley as a committee to select textbooks for the 1972-73 school term.

MISS DEBORAH ROTH, a senior at Burk Burnett High School, will represent Burk Burnett in the Pioneer Bowl Queen Contest in Wichita Falls December 11. Deborah, the daughter of Mrs. Birdie Roth of 521 Hilltop, will take part in the competition on Friday, December 10, and will attend all the activities planned for the contestants, including the Pioneer Bowl Parade Friday afternoon in downtown Wichita Falls. During the competition, Deborah will stay at the Holiday Inn, the Queen contestants' headquarters.

AIR CONDITIONER FUND???---The above sight was almost comical Friday as the Burk Burnett area was hit with its first snow and cold spell of the season. Burk and the surrounding area received some 4 1/2 inches of snow. The hot days of late spring will return soon, however, and the Hardin PTA hopes to have the students at Hardin equipped for it with an air conditioner in every room. Watch for their upcoming fund raising activities and participate in them fully.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

At no time on earth in all of history has man enjoyed as much freedom, physical abundance and spiritual promise as he does today. This is not to say that life is free of trouble and strife. Storms and earthquakes, anguish, disease and poverty are ever near. But in comparison to other ages and societies of peoples, we cannot but marvel at the wonder of this house of earth, with ceiling of stars, and floor of flower-decked fields which God has made. We are reminded of the words of St. Paul in I Corinthians 2:9, as he speaks of His grandeur: "No eye has seen, nor ear heard, nor the heart of man conceived, what God has prepared for those who love Him."

But we all know that God's abundance cannot be measured in just the world of things around us. The physical laws of the universe that hold our planet in time and space and the spiritual laws of truth, love and beauty make it possible for us to enjoy living. But until we find the fulfillment that identifies us as sons and daughters of the Living Lord -- until we find that fulfillment in Jesus Christ, transcended upon the cross -- there is no progress or purpose.

In our lower moments we cannot but doubt our worth. But as we reach up toward God to find our better self, we know that we are much more than beasts of the field.

I am reminded of the story of the blind boy who was flying a kite. Some thoughtless person asked him, "But how do you know the kite is flying -- you can't see it?"

"Oh, I can tell," said the boy. "You see, I can feel the tug of it."

We have reason to rejoice when we are safely within the fold of God. For as Christ came in forgiving love to save us from sin and ourselves, he also gives us the wonder of abundant life as we live upon the earth, and the promise of life eternal after we walk through the valley of the shadow of death. In the words of Paul, again, this time from Romans 8:31ff, "If God is for us, who is against us? . . . Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? . . . No, in all things we are more than conquerors through Him who loves us."

another," Dean told the group. "There has always been a demand for better highways and I can't see anything different upcoming," he stated.

The major break-through in road building was the advent of the four-lane highway, according to Dean. The expressways, he reported, have one-fourth of the fatalities of the two-lane highways.

"We could cut down 70 to 75 per cent of the fatalities on highways by continuing to build better, safer highways,"

Dean said.

Dean, who has been chief engineer of the nine-county Wichita Falls District since 1953, was honored by the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce with a plaque for his years of service in assisting road construction in the Burkburnett area.

A resolution passed by the Burkburnett City Commissioners was also presented to Dean by Burkburnett mayor, Billy Smith.

Awards were also presented to eight Burkburnett businesses as winners in the annual CITGO business and beauty program.

The awards are in recognition of business firms making substantial improvements in appearance of buildings and

This reproduction of an advertisement which ran in 1919 (in a city we serve) makes it pretty obvious that you couldn't always take round-the-clock electric service for granted. You can take it for granted today because Texas Electric has constantly planned and built ahead to provide enough reliable electric power for all of our customers' needs. Needs which continue to grow. Just 25 years ago the average residential customer served by Texas Electric used 1,000 kilowatt hours of electricity a year. Today, the average is about 8,500 kilowatt hours. So we have to "run the Electric Light Plant" all the time now, and we have to keep planning and building ahead. Only in this way can we make sure we're always "at your service."

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

Remember that unsorted set of books you received in the mail along with a receipt requesting payment? Did you return the books or pay the bill? You didn't have to, you know.

Recall the time you got up early so you could get to the store in time to purchase an item at a "one-day-only sale," only to find that they were "all out" of the bargain 10 minutes after the store opened?

Or how about that nice young college student who came to your door asking for a few minutes of your time to take a survey for a paper he was writing... and didn't leave until he had spent three hours trying to get you to buy a $600 set of books you didn't want or need?

Unfortunately, most consumers -- at one time or another -- have had their anger aroused by these and similar incidents. The Texas Attorney General's files are filled with case histories of problems encountered by innocent, although sometimes gullible, consumers. Many of these legitimate gripes could have been avoided if the consumer had been aware of certain laws, or had been aware of the types of fraudulent practices typically used by unethical sales organizations.

An informed consumer can be his own best protection in the market place.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division enforces Texas's Deceptive Trade Practices law, which presently permits the Attorney General to enjoin certain false, misleading or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of trade or commerce.

The Attorney General has received some 4,000 complaints in the last year from Texas citizens who feel that they have been defrauded. Such complaints are processed and, if necessary, legal action is instituted to enforce the consumer protection laws.

The Attorney General's office is not permitted to render legal advice or opinions to individual citizens, nor may this office obtain refunds for individuals who have been defrauded. The Attorney General may, however, obtain an injunction against those firms which violate the Deceptive Trade Practices Act. If the firm continues its deceptive practices, the Attorney General may secure up to $10,000 in penalties for each and every subsequent violation of the injunction.

Law enforcement in this area is emphasized by my office because compliance with fair and honest trade practices benefits not only consumers, but the majority of businessmen who want an honest and ethical climate in which to conduct their operations.

This column, "The Informed Consumer," has been developed by my staff and by me to give consumer facts on consumer protection laws and information on consumer related topics.

It was designed to make the "buyer be wary" as well as "beware." Hopefully, it will assist consumers in recognizing and avoiding common business frauds. Included will be facts on the role of state and federal agencies in the area of consumer protection.

Some topics which will be covered in the near future include: referral selling, the scheme which offers the consumer a chance for a "good deal" by supplying names of friends as prospective customers; work-at-home schemes that prey on the elderly consumers and the young mother seeking to supplement the family's income while staying at home with her children; pyramid business organizations which pay bounties for bringing others into the program; a store's responsibility for accepting returned merchandise; and a credit series.

If you feel that you have been the victim of a deceptive act or practice, contact my Consumer Protection Division at the Office of the Attorney General, P. O. Box 12548, Capital Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

The following experience, no doubt, is rare, and many readers cannot get the real feeling one gets while sleeping on the platform of a windmill, under the perimeter of a huge wooden eclipse wheel as it slowly revolves in the night breeze.

Such experiences occurred at Big Spring, Texas, in a wagon yard infested with mosquitoes. It was impossible to sleep under the wagons, near restless horses and mules who had to put up with the punishing, long-billed blood suckers.

The platform of the windmill was some 18 inches below the revolving blades of the wheel, leaving enough safe room in which to turn half over and halfway back, which was as far as the rope tied around one's waist and secured to the tower would permit.

This is not recommended for those seeking a good night's rest, but it does beat fighting mosquitoes all night.

Recent company of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Smith were; Mr. Smith's sister, Mrs. Bonnie Kasky of Ft. Worth and a daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Brooks of Pueblo, Colo. They all were Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Smith of Altus.

spent the past weekend with his mother, Mrs. Lillian Hutson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Eley are spending this week visiting relatives in Altus.

The Wood relatives held a family reunion in the Thanksgiving spirit at the Community building noon Nov. 25th. Dinner was served to 45 relatives and guests.

Kathy Daugherty of Grandfield, was a Sunday dinner guest of the Frank McClelland family.

Mrs. Louie Daugherty of Grandfield visited the McClelland's Saturday.

John Coker and mother, Mrs. Pearl Coker spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Bowie visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Coker.

MANY STARS TO HEADLINE LIVESTOCK SHOW AND RODEO

HOUSTON (Special) -- The greatest array of talent ever to appear at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo will headline the gala 40th Anniversary Show, President Buddy Bray announced recently. Dates for the rodeo, to be held in the Astrodome, are Friday, February 25, through March 5, with different stars, spanning the western, country-western and contemporary music fields, appearing on each day. The livestock show will open on Wednesday, February 23.

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, long-time favorites with Houston Rodeo audiences, will open the 43rd Anniversary event, with matinee and evening performances on Friday, February 25.

The next attraction will be Jim Nabors of television and recording fame. He will appear at both matinee and evening performances on Saturday, February 26.

Charley Pride, top selling country-western recording artist, named country music Entertainer of the Year for 1971, will appear at matinee and evening performances on Sunday, February 27.

The Monday, Feb. 28, evening performance will headline Roger Miller, whose unique styling and relaxed manner have made him a favorite with audiences of all ages throughout the country. Among his best known hits are "King of the Road" and "Little Green Apples."

The Nashville sounds of Lynn Anderson and Jerry Reed take over on Tuesday, Feb. 29. Lynn Anderson's current hit, "Rose Garden," is a million seller and topped both the Pop and Country and Western charts. She was selected Female Singer of the Year for 1971. Jerry Reed, guitarist, singer and song writer, is a long-time Nashville favorite. His credits include the Instrumentalist of the Year for 1970 and a Grammy nomination for the Best Country Male Vocal Performance of 1970.

The 5th Dimension offering the best of the contemporary sounds will appear on Wednesday evening, March 1. "Up, Up and Away" was the first big hit for the group, and their latest, "The Age of Aquarius," was selected as the Best Record of the Year in 1970.

Wayne Newton will return to the Houston arena to headline the Thursday evening, March 2, performance.

Eddy Arnold, whose record sales have passed the 60 million mark, will appear on Friday evening, March 3.

Glen Campbell, star of television's "Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour," will perform at matinee and evening performances on Saturday, March 4.

David Cassidy, teen idol and star of "The Partridge Family" of TV, will wrap things up on Sunday, March 5, with matinee and evening performances.

Back by popular demand and appearing at all performances will be the exciting Chuckwagon Races.

Top professional cowboys will be competing for the world's richest rodeo purse, expected to exceed $100,000. For the first time, the Houston show will feature a rodeo Finals on Sunday, March 5, with the leading cowboys in each event competing for the big money. Rodeo events include bull riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, girls barrel racing and the world's largest calf scramble.

Ticket prices range from $1.50 to $4.50, and ticket information may be obtained by writing Ticket Director, P.O. Box 20070, Houston, Texas 77025.

Antelope Hunts Proved Successful

Hunters in the Permian Basin killed 93 pronghorn antelope during the recent season there.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department issued 154 permits to 42 ranches. Thirty-eight of the ranches participated in the hunt.

Hunter success was approximately 89 per cent.

Bentsen Votes For Dr. Butz For Ag. Sec.

WASHINGTON, D.C.--Senator Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, reported in Washington that he voted for the nomination of Dr. Butz for Secretary of Agriculture with reservations.

"I disagree with much of his approach to the agriculture industry as reflected by his published statements," Bentsen said. "His seeming disregard for the family farmer as a vital part of the agriculture industry is a position I reject."

"Overriding these objections, however," he continued, "is my belief that the President has the rights to appoint to his Cabinet those individuals he wishes unless there are serious ethical reasons that question the integrity of the individual. I believe that a Cabinet member is part of the President's team, and the voters will have the opportunity of deciding next November whether or not to accept or reject the farm policies of the President and Dr. Butz."

management will provide good quality environment for both the producer and the animal and will also improve the product.

Unfortunately in many operations the waste problems are ignored and generally water contamination results. Also, the decreased quality of the water reduces the animal's water consumption and thus lowers the quality of the product.

For example, a dairy cow will consume 30 tons of water in a year and will produce 20 tons of manure. A market hog will consume one-half ton of water during growth to 200 pounds and will produce three-fourths ton of manure. Broilers will consume ten tons of water per thousand birds in ten weeks and will produce five tons of manure, while layers will consume 93 tons of water per thousand birds in a year and will produce 76 tons of manure.

The latest research findings are the main feature of the fourth annual Plant Disease, Weed and Brush Control Conference, December 14-15 at Texas A&M University. J. G. Horsfall, director of the experiment station, will discuss the "Strategy of Agriculture in the Tragedy of the Commons."

William M. Upholt, deputy assistant administrator of EPA's Office of Pesticide Programs, will outline the organization, function, policy and operation of his agency.

A seminar on "Stocker Health" will be presented by the Rolling Plains Economic Program on Wednesday, Dec. 15, in Seymour, Texas. The seminar will begin at 2:00 p.m. in the City Auditorium.

Apeakers for this program will include Lawrence Harmel, Baylor County Rancher; Stanton Brown, manager, League Ranch; C. E. Deyhle, veterinarian; Pat Shepard, owner of Shepard Feedyards, Hale Center, Texas.

Registration fee is $2.00. Anyone interested in cattle production is invited to attend this seminar.

Range Fires Pose Threat For Texas

The dangerously high possibility of range fires this fall threatens virtually the entire state of Texas.

Dr. Bobby J. Ragsdale, range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, points out, "The increased fire hazards are due to tremendous masses of vegetation that have fallen to the ground. Summer rains aided an unusually large growth of foliage. Now that fall has come and the foliage is on the ground, the colder weather will dry out the foliage, increasing its danger as a fuel for fire.

"It is vitally important that the public be aware of this danger," continues Ragsdale. "Everyone should be helpful in the prevention of fires. Hunters and other outdoorsmen should be especially careful of campfires which could lead to larger and more dangerous fires. The fall is always the most dangerous time of the year for fire hazards."

If a fire should start, organizations such as county rural fire control groups would play a key role in extinguishing the fire as quickly as possible. If counties have no plans for rural fire control, some should be adopted as quickly as possible, says Ragsdale. The range specialist points out that fire danger exists in woodlands as well as the range areas of our state.

Loss of forage cover by fire will increase the possibilities of soil erosion. Plant growth provides invaluable service to soil conservation. Ragsdale points out that livestock and wildlife are also lost to fires at times.

"Fire danger should be of concern to everyone," emphasizes the specialist. "Fire has proven to be an invaluable tool, but when uncontrolled it can be one of the most destructive forces known to man."

Stocker Health Seminar To Be Held In Seymour Dec. 15

SEYMOUR (Special) -- The dollars invested in young beef animals foraging this winter on small grains in the Texas Rolling Plains are in the millions.

To help protect those millions with a view also to increasing the net profits from them is the purpose of the R-PEP Stocker Health Seminar here on Dec. 15 in City Auditorium.

(R-PEP, short for "Rolling Plains Economic Program," was initiated four years ago by local citizens and the Texas A&M University College of Agriculture to increase net agricultural income in the 29 counties of the area.)

Two speakers are scheduled:

Dr. C. E. Deyhle of Clarendon, consulting veterinarian for several West Texas feedlot operations, who will talk on preventing and treating many common diseases of stocker calves, especially from the time when they are weaned.

Fat Sheppard, with his father owner and manager of the Grady Sheppard Feedlot at Hale Center, who will discuss "preconditioning," or how to treat stockers about to enter the feedlot.

Others on the Beef Cattle Task Force are Shackelford County Agricultural Agent Lawrence E. Winkler; Harmel; Throckmorton rancher-banker Jack McKnight; R. L. Bland of Cal-Tex Feed Yards at Merkel; W. J. (Dub) Waldrip, manager of the Spade Ranch near Colorado City; Rottan rancher-banker Wayne Harris; rancher Bill Bradley of Childress; Abilene rancher Joe Antilley; Gary Mathis, superintendent of the Texas A&M University Experimental Ranch near Throckmorton; Dr. Roy V. Miller, and Nor-

Select A Living Tree For Christmas This Year

Consider using a living Christmas tree this year. Since everyone seems to be more ecology minded these days, what would be more fitting than a tree that could be used in the home for the holiday season and then moved to the yard or patio as a permanent fixture?

Christmas tree is usually a conifer of some type, many broadleaved plants also make very attractive Christmas decorations, contends Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The female Yaupon holly makes a very attractive Christmas tree with its bright red berries and small dark-green leaves.

Regardless of the type of plant you select, be sure it is adapted for the area or is suited for interior landscaping.

In North Texas, the Colorado blue spruce, Scotch pine, Norway pine and a great variety of junipers make beautiful living Christmas trees, according to Janne. Some very interesting decorative effects can be achieved by using plants that are a little out of the ordinary in regard to shape rather than the typically conical shape usually associated with the Christmas tree.

Schedule your plans so the tree doesn't remain in the house more than two weeks, advises the horticulturist. Place it where it isn't in the air stream of a heater or air vent. A room temperature of 65 degrees at night will help keep the tree fresh.

Be sure to place the root ball or container in a leak-proof tub or box, or cover the rug or floor with polyethylene film to prevent water damage. If the plant is balled-and-burlapped, put it in a container large enough to place an inch or two of damp peat moss, saw dust or pine bark around the ball to prevent excessive drying. Because of the low humidity usually found in heated homes, plants will probably require watering at least twice a week and maybe more often. They must receive enough moisture to prevent desiccation, cautions Janne.

The horticulturist advises against the use of lights on living Christmas trees, as the heat from bulbs can damage leaves and bark if they touch. Small twinkle lights are usually safe to use if care is taken in placing them on the tree.

With a little care and imagination you can plan something different this year that will provide pleasure and beauty for many years to come, adds Janne.

Burk Invitational Tourney Set For This Weekend

The Burk Burnett Bulldog "B" team will square off with Wichita Falls at 2:30 p.m. today in the first game of the Burk Burnett Invitational Basketball tourney held in the local gym. The Varsity Bulldogs will play tonight at 9:00 with Quannah.

Seven top varsity teams from this area and the Burk "B" team will be entered in this annual tournament. "This is one of the oldest tournaments in the area," stated Bulldog head basketball coach Jim Phillips, "and it should be a real exciting one with all teams closely matched," he continued.

Last year the Wichita Falls Coyotes squeaked by the Burk Burnett Bulldogs to capture the tourney trophy. The same type playoff game could well be in store this year with the Coyotes supporting a strong team and the Bulldogs who are currently standing at 3-0 for season play (this record does not reflect the Tues. night game at Quannah).

Teams entered in the tourney include the Coyotes, Duncan, Okla., Seymour, Iowa Park, Childress, Quannah, and the Burk Burnett "B" teams.

The Bulldogs are reported to be a young team that is short on experience and in height. They have only one returning starter and two returning lettermen. They are quick however and play an ever pressing type of basketball. "We keep a lot of pressure on our opponents and we make them run alot," stated Phillips. "You will also see us fast break a lot and change up the pace of the game as well as vary from a standard game plan for the entire game," he continued.

For some top notch basketball, area fans are invited to the Bulldog Gym this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Pioneer Bowl Gridiron Set In Wichita Falls Dec. 11

The nation's #3 and #4 ranked College Division teams feel that when the smoke of battle clears after the Pioneer Bowl one of them will be the nation's #1 College Division team.

The Eastern Michigan University Hurons, now ranked #3, and the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs, #4, square off at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, December 11, on the Astro Turf at Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls.

The Bulldogs of Tech bring a potent high scoring offense to the game, relying on the break-away running of Charles "Quick-Six" McDaniel and the arm of quarterback Ken Lantrip. Lantrip, a senior, played behind Terry Bradshaw as a sophomore, and has so far broken virtually all of Bradshaw's single game passing records. In one game Lantrip threw for 34 completions and 492 yards.

Deer Kills Were Ultimately Good

In spite of hot weather in West Texas, hunters there were able to kill some fine bucks with good antlers during the first weekend of hunting.

This hunting season marks the fifth straight year antlers have been good, in spite of the drought during the peak of the antler-growing season.

But the rains came just in time, and as a result bucks have been averaging six to eight points. There have been numerous reports, however, of 10- and 12-point racks.

A few hunters have already used all their deer tags.

The mule deer season opened Nov. 27 west of the Pecos River, and Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists and ranchers in the area are reporting good antlers, good body condition, and a fine crop of huntable animals.

Crane Population Down In Recent Tex. Count

Preliminary counts of sandhill cranes in West Texas indicate a drop in population.

But Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists say these early counts sometimes do not give an accurate picture of things to come.

In fact, after biologists counted approximately 112,800 birds, reports came in from game management officers and the public that a great many more sandhills were invading West Texas.

Last year biologists reported a lower-than-usual population. The birds stayed in New Mexico because of the drought in Texas which made food scarce.

Tow zones are set aside for hunting sandhill cranes. Zone A, open Oct. 30 through Jan. 30, lies west of a line from the International Toll Bridge at Del Rio following U.S. 277 to its junction with U.S. 87 at San Angelo; then following U.S. 287 to its junction with U.S. 287 at Dumas; then following U.S. 287 to the point where it crosses the state boundary in Dallam County.

Wild Turkeys Provide Great Hunting Sport

Sportsmen are now taking to the woods in pursuit of the elusive wild turkey. "This is a good time to take note of the things turkeys need to survive," said K. C. Willis of the Soil Conservation Service at Iowa Park.

The land owner should maintain cover and food for turkey and other wildlife. Most hunting is on private land, as hunting has become a good source of second income for landowners.

As for habitat, turkey favor areas with native tall trees and dense shrubs, of the nut or fruit-producing type, near creeks or rivers where water is available.

Food plants include oats, corn, winter peas, rye and grain sorghums. One or two acres of these plants per 75-100 acres of rangeland or woodland is ideal for fall and winter food.

Small areas of rangeland or abandoned cropland may be disked annually to encourage growth of food plants like sunflowers, ragweed, annual legumes and annual grasses.

"The above practices will attract additional turkey and other wildlife as well as maintain the existing ones," Willis said. "Also pamphlets and brochures are available in the SCS office for persons interested in information on wildlife," said Willis.

Pick Child's Christmas Toys According To Age, Interest

The key to shopping for Christmas toys is to choose them wisely and to select them according to age and interest of the child, reminds Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

For children under three years old, Mrs. Myers says to avoid toys with sharp or rough edges that might cut or scratch. Don't choose toys with small attachments that could become loose and be put in ears, nose or mouth, such as glass or button eyes or small wheels. Also check for poisonous paints on objects and toxic, heavy breakable toys.

Brightly colored objects that can be hung out of reach but in view are excellent gifts for children under one, the specialist says. Or look for squeak toys; sturdy, nonflammable rattles; washable stuffed dolls with embroidered eyes; colored balls; or cups and other smooth non-breakable objects that can be chewed.

Children one to two years old are safe with squeak toys and soft stuffed dolls or animals, she continues. Also consider blocks with rounded corners, push-and-pull toys with strings or rounded handles, and nests of blocks.

For the two- to three-year-old child, Mrs. Myers suggests giving wooden animals, push toys, tip-proof kiddie cars and tricycles. Don't forget large crayons; low rocking horses; sand box with buckets, shovels and spoons; large peg boards; small chair and table; or simple musical instruments, she adds.

If you're shopping for the three- to six-year-old, avoid gifts too heavy for the child's strength, the specialist says. These include electrical toys; poorly made objects that may come apart, break or splinter; and sharp or cutting toys. Also omit from your gift list highly flammable costumes, ill-balanced mobile toys and shooting or target toys that could endanger eyes.

Some gift ideas for three- and four-year-olds are small brooms and carpet sweepers, toy telephones and dolls with simple wrap-around clothing, Mrs. Myers suggests. Doll buggies and furniture, dishes, trucks and tractors, non-electrical trains, drums and building blocks are also safe gift ideas.

The child four to six years of age is safe with simple construction sets, paints and paint books, modeling clay or a doll house and furniture. The specialist adds that other safe toys for this age group include skip ropes, small sports equipment, paper doll sets with blunt scissors, blackboard and dustless chalk, and flame-retardant costumes.

For the six- to eight-year-old, Mrs. Myers says to avoid non-approved electrical toys, anything too large or complicated for the child's strength and ability, sharp-edged toys, poorly made skates and shooting toys. Instead choose well-constructed, light-weight usable tools, sleds, construction sets, roller skates or approved electrical toys. Also check for kites, playground equipment, puzzles and games, sewing material, and dolls and doll equipment.

If you're shopping for the youngster eight to 12, don't choose air rifles, chemistry sets, dart games, bows and arrows, dangerous tools and electrical toys unless they will be used under parental supervision, the specialist cautions. Instead, look for hobby materials, arts and crafts, photography, or coin and stamp collections. Children this age also enjoy puppet shows, musical instruments, bicycles, gym and sports equipment, model and construction building sets, and electrical trains that have the Underwriters Laboratories' approval.

Remember, Mrs. Myers points out, a child's safety is your responsibility.

Texas is facing a severe shortage of health workers in almost every health field, and the shortage is expected to mushroom to critical proportions by 1980. Texas State Department of Health officials and private health authorities are voicing increasing concern over the shortage and its effects on the health care available to Texans in the 1970's.

The severe shortage of health workers in Texas is outlined in a recent survey conducted by the Texas Health Careers Program of the Texas Hospital Association in cooperation with the Governor's Office of Comprehensive Health Planning. "The survey leaves little doubt that a critical shortage exists right now in an industry vital to the welfare of every man, woman and child in the state," said Dr. James E. Peavy, Texas Commissioner of Health.

In fact, at a time when Texas unemployment rates are very high, nearly 18,000 jobs in the health fields remain unfilled.

The study showed some 136,992 allied health professionals and technicians were at work in Texas in 1970, but jobs were available for an additional 7,364 people. In 1971, that figure jumped to 17,700 unfilled positions.

By 1980, health officials estimate more than 52,000 allied health personnel above and beyond existing requirements will be needed to meet health demands of Texas' burgeoning population.

The shortage may be even greater than these figures indicate. The survey called upon employers to list the number of budgeted vacancies in their institutions. But in many cases, employers do not budget for workers who are not available. In addition, these figures do not reflect private industry and private laboratories or lesser employment categories.

In assessing how such gigantic needs are being met, Dr. Peavy noted that 457 allied health education programs throughout the State are turning out increasing numbers of graduates.

But the supply, in all cases, continues to be outdistanced by demand.

Hardest hit by current shortages are the State's hospitals, which accounted for 4,448 needed personnel, or 60 percent of all budgeted vacancies estimated 6,301 workers were needed this year.

The greatest need for personnel, the survey disclosed, is in the field of nursing. Some 4,700 jobs for registered nurses, aides and orderlies went begging last year (two-thirds of all the budgeted vacancies in 1970). Another 6,514 became available in these areas in 1971.

Local Troops Preparing For Xmas Holidays

As Christmas nears, the scent of pine, bayberry and holly and the aroma of holiday baking fill the air. Local Girl Scout troops are busy baking homemade cookies for the All Troop Girl Scout Christmas party, which will be held December 12. Senior troop #70 is working hard on this party, which they are giving for the Brownies, Junior and Cadette Scouts. The seniors will put on a play, and there will be songs, refreshments and lots of fun.

Besides preparing for the party, girls in all the local troops are being kept busy making Christmas presents for their parents.

Troop #40 has also been thinking of the people in Evergreen Manor, where they will deliver table favors they've made for the rest home.

This is an extra special time of year for Troops #87 and #121. They will celebrate their troop birthdays with a joint birthday party.
