BURKBURNETT, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76354

THURSDAY, JANUARY 20, 1972

NUMBER 20

Well the ole Dallas Cowboys finally went up and done it! For years now they have come close only to be disappointed in the last game or two, but they made no bones about what they had in their minds Sunday. It's good to have a Texas team as the number one football team in the nation.

I guess the song "Dallas Cowboys'' will become the number one on the hit parade around Big D. I just wonder what would have happened to the song if the Dolphins had come up and surprised the Cowboys.

I've heard several comments from local people concerning our Coummunity Center. It seems that they just can't believe that it is already paid for and that there wasn't an increase in local taxes either. I personally feel that the City of Burkburnett was only able to build this fine structure because of some fine management of our money by our city manager Gary Bean and with the help of a co-opercouncil who tries to put the best interests of the people

Thanks, men, for savingus enough money over these past years to build the much needed Community Center.

.... I heard recently of a tenyear-old son of a physician, together with a friend, who was playing in his father's office, during the absence of the doctor, when suddenly the first lad threw open a closet door and disclosed to the terrified gaze of his little friend an articulated skelton.

When the visitor had sufficiently recovered from his shock to stand the announcement, the doctor's son explained that his father was extremely proud of that skele-

"Is he?" asked the other. "Why?"

"I don't know," was the answer; "maybe it was his first patient."

I was reminded recently of the Sunday-school class that had been carefully drilled for the coming of the district superintendent. Johnnie was to answer "God" when the question "Who made you?" was propounded. Jimmie was to pipe up with "Out of the dust of the earth" in answer to the second question. "Who made you?" asked the district superintendent when the great day of the review arrived. Again the opening question. Still no answer. "Please, sir," spoke up a freckled faced youngster, "the little boy God made is home with the measles."

Speaking of little kids and church, did you hear about the minister that asked the young girl "And what does your mother do for you when you've been a good girl?" "She lets me stay home from church," came the little girl's reply.

Don't forget that Ace Reid will be in town this afternoon for an autograph party at the Burkburnett Bank, and then will be at the Community Center tonight at 7:00 p.m. where he will be the guest speaker for the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

Ace will probably be one of the most entertaining speakers that you will have the opportunity to hear all year. That isunless you make it to Hollywood or Las Vegas and hear Flip Wilson, I'm not sure even then that Ace on an old dusty drawing board of a young rancher's dreams during our country's worst drouth and depression, became important in bringing smiles to the faces of farmers and ranchers in the Southwest's drouth of the 1950s. Ace Reid's Cowpokes, depicting the true-to-life antics of Jake and Zeb, made them realize they were not alone in their plight.

The characters became as real to readers as their own neighbors, and they could tell from situations that the attist knew their problems; And they were right, because Ace was reared on 4,000 acres of ranchland at Electra, Texas, where he experienced all the hardships of such characters as Jake and Zeb.

Remembering these early years on the ranch, Ace says he was 21 years old before he saw a fat cow.

Of Jake and Zeb, he says he didn't create them; he just brought them, chokeboned, blue jeans and sweat-stained hats, out where people could see them.

funny, not phony. No matter how humorously grotesque their caricaturing, how ridiculously elongated and skinny their saddle-warped legs, nor how ludicrous and outlandish their behavior, Jake and Zeb always look, act, and wear their hats like cowboys--the real hoss-ridin' cow-workin' cowhands -- who still ride the ranches, fix the fences, buck the blizzards and raise the

Reid has never studied cartooning formally, but he has been drawing pictures of cowboys since his childhood. He continued to draw for Navy publications during three and a half years of servie on an attack transport which participated in landings on Iwo Okinawa and other Pacific islands.

After returning from service and several business ventures including ranching and oil drilling, the lanky cowboy set his sights on breaking into cartooning -- one of the hardest fields to crack.

But before the cartoons ever reached the eyes of the public was when Ace fought hardest in his up-hill climb.

Di sappointment after di sappointment faced him as he went to syndic tes and personally met editors in an effort to place his cartoons in newspapers. Everywhere he went he was told the cartoons would not sell, that there was no demand for cartoons depicting the fun, the hardships, the politics, and just everyday life on farms and ranches. He held back his thoughts and continued to scratch out drawings in an effort to prove them all wrong. If syndicates could not see a demand, newspapers and magazines thought it worth trying to add readership to farm and ranch pages.

Cowpokes began to catch on -- San Angelo, Texas, El Paso Texas, Wichita, Kansas -- and Ace hit the highways offering Cowpokes from newspaper to newspaper, to weeklies and big city papers alike.

Today, from his studio in Kerrville, Texas, Cowpokes cartoons are mailed to hunazines, making Ace one of the largest self-syndicated artists.

This is a long way from the $17 a week he and his family when he worked for seven newspapers in Texas and Kan-

Ace is mighty proud of the newspapers which have "hired" him and when discussing publications which use his cartoons he states he works for them. Next Reid began thinking of to people, especially where their paper would not publish them and to collectors that had lost cartoons. In 1958 he privately printed a book of his Cowpokes cartoons and it sold more than a million copies.

Two years later, in 1960, his second book, MORE COW-POKES, was published and it received the same enthusiasm. Now on the market are these books, COWPOKES WANTED, THEM COW-POKES, DRAGGIN'S COW-POKES, COWPOKES COMIN' YORE WAY, and the latest See BANQUET, Page Two

Texas Electric Granted ncrease

Texas Electric Service Company received approval from the Burkburnett City Council for a 6% increase in electric service rates for Burkburnett during the regular scheduled council meeting Monday night.

In announcing the action, B. J. Vincent, manager, stat-

"Texas Electric Service Company, because of sharply increased costs that it can no longer absorb or offset, and facing its largest construction program in history, must request a 6% acrossthe-board increase in its amount needed to continue to untary rate reductions. The provide dependable electric service for the growing needs of our customers. "For the residential customer with a $15 bill, the increase will amount to 90 cents per month or 3 cents a day. For a customer with a $10 monthly bill, the increase will be 60 cents, and for a $5 bill, 30 cents."

Texas Electric Service Company has requested a rate increase only twice before in history, Vincent pointed out, while the company's efforts to keep the cost of electricity as low as possible have

> "In spite of continuing inflation, the electricity used by today's average residential customer costs less than in 1961," Vincent said. "Even with the 6% increase, the cost will still be less than it was ten years ago.

"We have been able to hold the line against rising costs through economies resulting increased usage, installation of larger and more efficient generating units, and by taking advantage of automation and other technological advances. But relentless inflation and the resulting higher costs affecting every phase of our business have now outstripped the economies we have been able to realize in the past," Vincent said.

At the same time the company is experiencing this cost squeeze, Vincent reported, it is embarking on the largest construction program in its

'In the next two years alone, we must spend $165,000,000 on new construction," Vincent declared. "These new facilities are needed to provide continued reliable service, to aid in the economic growth of our area, to help solve environmental problems, and to avoid the causes of power shortages that have been experienced in other parts of the country."

The new facilities must be built at a time when electric utility construction costs have risen 37% since 1965 and have increased at an ever faster rate in the last three years.

We must raise about $100,000,000 of this new money in a very competitive market at a time when high interest rates are still prevailing,' Vincent added. "It is essential that we maintain earnings that will keep our securities attractive to investors. so that we can obtain the needed capital at the most favorable rates. Our success in accomplishing this will be an important factor in enabling us to keep the cost of our service as low as possible in the future."

Vincent noted that the same problems facing Texas Electric have forced other electric utility companies throughout the nation to seek rate innine months of 1971, 75 companies had already received increases, and an additional 105 companies had rate increases pending.

'The 6% increase we are asking is far below the increases we have experienced in most of the costs of doing business," Vincent declared, "and adheres as closely as possible to the economic guidelines of Phase II. "According to Department of Labor statistics, a 6% increase in the price of electricity will amount to less than a one-tenth of 1% increase in the cost of living." The ordinance governing the rate increase must be approved at the next two monthly meetings of the council before becoming effective. In other action, the council set Tuesday, April 4 as the date for the election of four city commissioners. The cutoff time for candidates to file for places on the ballot was set for 5 p.m. March 3. The four councilmen whose terms expire this year are J.L. Caffee, T.M. Cornelius, Albert Dillard and Billy Smith. The council also agreed to self insure the new Community Center by setting up a special fund of $2,200 per year for the next 20 years to cover

"Anyone who has one of the Burkburnett Bank's COW-POKES calender is urged to bring it by the bank this afternoon from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. for an autograph from the cartoonist, Ace Reid," Jack Aaron, bank president, told the Informer/Star in discussing the Ace Reid Autograph Party scheduled for this afternoon.

Another bank official expressed the desire that "this public appearance of Reid at the bank will give area residents a chance to casually visit with this talented personality."

B&W Fabricators In New Plant Now

B&W Fabricators, one of Burkburnett's newest industries, is now 100% moved into its new location just off the Red River Expressway according to Robert L. Eastman, president of that firm. The firm has upped itstotal number of employees to almost 40 with an anticipated goal of 50 or more within this year, according to East-

Although the firm lists a large number of customers in Burkburnett, Wichita Falls and surrounding areas, approximately 75% of its production is for larger corporations in building and design of environmental process equipment.

The firm is currently working on eight clarifiers for the water pollution control plant in San Jose, California, The clarifiers, used for the treatment of wastes before being dumped into rivers and streams, will weigh approximately 140 tons and require 15 trucks to deliver the order.

In addition to this, the firm is in the process of completing an order for an all stainless steel-unit which will be exported to the Virgin Islands. This shipment of clarifiers is expected to be delivered in February.

B&W Fabricators are also in the process of constructing some units for the new water treatment plant that is to be built in Iowa Park.

"Our future looks real good--in fact it couldn't be better." stated Eastman to an INFORMER reporter. He reported that both local customer work and the large orders; are expanding to the extent that they are now booked up through March for any large orders.

B&W Fabricators is located on a 46-acre tract of land just off the Red River Expressway between Wichita Falls and Burkburnett. Heading the company is Robert Eastman as president, Wayne Sterling as vice-president and Aaron Epp as general manager of

In the building there is a total working space of 47,400 square feet. 43,200 of this space is shop area and the remaining 4,200 feet in office space. B&W Fabricators, Inc., was established some eighteen years ago as a small welding operation, catering primarily to oil field work and needs. It has been located at 1320 Old Iowa Park Road since that time. The firm leased another building to help house its expanding operations until they were able to move into this new structure. The new building offers the Yvonne plan to move to Burkburnett in the near future, and to make their home here. The Eastman's have two married daughters, Mrs. Robert Bell of Altus, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Marvin Brizey of Lawton: and one granddaughter, Melaine Ren'ee.

Guidelines of Life

David Stout, Pastor First Christian Church

The train ride itself was something to remember. But it was finally over, and old Zeke found himself transported from his Vermont home to none other than Grand Central Station, New York. When he returned home, he was asked about New York life. The Gaffer shook his head and answered: "Can't really tell you much about it. When I got off the train I found so much going on around the depot that I never did get down to the village."

Never did get down to the village. How well that description fits the present generation. Old Zeke was satisfied to sit on the edge of something exciting and new yet was unwilling to let himself go so he could take advantage of seeing "The Village". How often our generation sits on the edge of something exciting and new yet is unwilling to let go of what is holding them from the experience. We are content with mere leftovers when a banquet awaits. We are content with enjoying the hustle and bustle of the railroad station when the city is only a short walk

We need speed to thrill us. Speed of dope or the automobile to take us on a trip. We need excitement to stimulate us to action. We need a cause to champion us to do something. Everyone needs his special "Thing" to turn him on. And this we call living.

Listen, friend, there is one who calls us to another life, and if you don't at least stop to listen to him, you are making a mistake. This one takes you beyond the edge of living and puts you right in the middle. Jesus won't fool around! He won't let you stand in the station and think you have seen it all.

TEEN TALK

By Laura Allison

This week I would like to recognize a group at the high school that is often times overlooked-the Speech Department, Speech is a relatively new subject at the high school, and this is the first year Speech II has been in the school's curriculum.

These Burkburnett students heldtheir first annual Intramural Speech Tournament recently with forty eight students competing. The Speech II class, taught by Mrs. Sandy Hamilton, ran the whole contest by preparing ballots, registering contestants, judging, and participating in various events. High school faculty members also assisted in the judging.

These contestants placed first in their categories: Poetry: Patty Bellaire (Girls), Robin Walton (Boys); Prose: Janet Nelson (Girls), Dan Walker (Boys); Original Poetry: Marsha Milam; Storytelling: Debbie Brookman; Dramatic Interpretive Speaking: Karen Deal; Extemperaneous Speaking: Diana Osborne; Duet Acting: Chris Wright, Joe Richardson; and Debate: Bruce Tory, Alan Mahaffey.

A few weeks ago fifteen Burk students participated in the Rider Speech Tournament in Wichita Falls, Although up against very tough competition, Burk finished by qualifying three students for the finals. They were Dennis Barnes in Poetry and Prose Interpretation, and Chris Wright and Joe Richardson

You really missed a good game last week if you didn't go to the Burk-Hirschi basketball game. Hirschi, who had won its last 28 straight district games, was surprised by the Bulldogs who won by a solid four points. It was a different story though Friday night at Graham. The Dogs should have had an easy win, but the game just did not go that way. The team, however, did play a good game in spite of the conditions.

that ask for cartoons large enough to hand on the wall, Ace decided on the COW-POKES calendar. As usual, he put his own money into the venture with 1,000 as the initial order. Today the calendars are distributed all over the United States.

As if these enterprises were not enough to keep the lanky go-it-alone cowboy busy, Ace added a new dimension to his career when he discovered--to his surprise and everyone's delight--that he has a latent talent as a humorour after-dinner speaker.

Each year, now, he travels more than 35,000 miles for speaking engagements and to keep a personal contact with "his" newspapers.

In 1961, 1962 and 1963, the Texas Legislature cited him as Outstanding Texas and commended him for his "wit and skill" in depicting the Old West and in giving future generations assurance and confidence in the past to insure their faith in the future. Also the Texas Chamber of Commerce presented him with their highly prized Cultural Achievement Award. Recently, the Cowboy Hall of Fame asked that he be a judge for the Western Heritage Award for the best art book

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

Wichita County Agricultural Agent

case income to farmers and ranchers in Wichita County should be more than $8,171,600 by the end of 1976, according to B. T. Haws, county agricultural agent.

This will be an increase of more than two million from 1968-69 figures, with livestock and small grain contributing a large part of the gain. The projections are based on studies of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and are part of the "3.76 in "76" program, a state-wide project to increase Texas agricultural cash receipts by more than $1 billion.

Total cash receipts from all agricultural enterprises in 1971 in Wichita County are presently about $6,000,000, which is off about 20 per cent due to the drought. The most important commodities are livestock. small grain and grain sorghum. They are expected to account for about 75 per cent of the projected 1976 totals. The commodity contributing most to this loss was small grain and cotton

The county will be aided in its production efforts by the Rolling Plains Economic Prograin.

These projections are based on estimates from the County Program Building Committee after separate predictions were made by Extension economists. The figures were published for each county, Extension district and economic area in Texas. Wichia County producers will have access to production information and techniques that can help spell success for the Texas goal of $3.76 billion in 1976," says B. T. Haws.

************

Several important dates are approaching for farmers and ranchers who are on a calendar tax year--which includes most individuals in the Rolling Plains. These dates are listed below as reminders: January 31--Farmers and ranchers must file Form 943 showing the social security taxes on wages paid to hired labor during 1971. A pay-ment of any tax due must be made at this time. (If timely deposits of social security tax were made during the year, then you have until Feb-

Copies B and C of Form W-2 should be given to each employee listed on Form 943. Copy A for Form W-2 is to be sent with Form 943 to the Internal Revenue Office.

February 10--Employers who made timely deposits of social security taxes on wages paid to hired labor must file Form 943 and pay remaining social security tax due.

March 1--If a declaration of estimated tax was not filed by January 17, the 1971 income tax is due.

March 1--All farm businesses must report payments of rents and interest amounting to $600 or more to any one taxpayer other than a corporation. This is to be reported on Form 1036 and Form 1099, which are information returns.

A statewide program to increase Texas agriculture income by more than a billion dollars by 1976 was announced by Dr. John E. Hutchinson, director, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, in January billion in total cash receipts by the end of the 1976 crop year, not including government payments. It was determined from projections by Extension specialists and individuals in the agricultural industry. A committee of agricultural economists with the Extension Service studied past production records and made projections for 1976 based on current trends and expected improvements in technology and marketing. Projections on an individual county basis were made by Program Building Committees, composed of businessmen and producers. The expectations were then organized along county, Extension district and economic area lines to give the state's producers specific projection goals. Annual goals also were determined for the various agricultural commodity groups to allow a yearly measure of the program's success.

Texas presently accounts for about five percent of the total national agricultural cash receipts. To achieve the goal of "3.76 in "76," the state must claim almost 10 percent of the projected national increase in the coming years. Extension specialists and county agricultural agents are conducting meetings in Texas with producers to help them with new advancements in technology and marketing in their respective

The presentation concerns the story of a plan for countywide solid waste disposal developed in Polk County. The county recently won a $10,000 award for being the first East Texas county to succeed in developing a workable solid waste plan, says Charles E. Lawrence, county officials program specialist with the Extension Service. Lawrence is general chairman of the conference.

Participants in the panel discussion will include Polk County Judge Peyton Walters along with members of the Polk County Commissioners' Court. Carson E. Watt, Extension area resource development specialist, will also participate in the discussion.

More Consumers Now Doing Own DES Hormone Home Decorating

COLLEGE STATION -- Interior decorators probably groan with despair when a consumer decides to do her own decorating.

But that's just what many buyers are doing today, according to Pat Bradshaw, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist at Texas A&M University.

"Doing your own decorating offers an opportunity to express your unique tastes and individuality," Miss Brad-shaw said. "One of the newest and most popular decorating trends favors the eclectic, or mixed, approach."

Rather than looking for pieces that match or date from the same historical period, the eclectic enthusiast simply chooses furniture pieces that she likes, regardless of style.

"Mixing furniture styles and accessories can be ex-citing and satisfying," Miss Bradshaw claimed. "You may mix natural materials with new, man-made products; combine wood-toned furniture with painted, colored finishes; and antiques with modern pieces. Well-designed pieces of any era blend well.

"Modern furniture takes on a special excitement when you add a Chippendale sofa for contrast," she said. "When you begin choosing home furnishings for an eclectic look, you and then collect it. Your own personal taste will unify the design elements. When you pick items you like, you'll find that they share certain similarities."

According to the specialist, collections should be placed with regard to their decorative value and shown in arrangements that agree with a room's design and mood.

"No room should look like a museum. Table cabinets and built-in or free-standing cabinets may shelve rarities and walls may display certain types of collector's items. But don't over-do by using too many accessories."

A room's most important feature is unity within the living space. To achieve unity, room needs continuity or harmony, Miss Bradshaw said. An easy way to accomplish unity is to use a single color or different values and intensities of the same color in a room.

"Another way is to use repetion of certain elements," she said. "For example, use the same type of wood in different furniture

"If you do your job carefully, your furniture will blend well together and offer you a living environment that features your own personality.'

U. S. Department of Agriculture has placed additional restrictions on the use of diethylstihestrol (DES), a synthetic growth promoting hormone used in livestock feed. The new ruling becomes mandatory on January 8, according to Dr. Frank Orts, meats specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Under the new program, federal meat inspectors will hold all cattle and sheep from a slaughter at least seven days unless the animals are certified as not having been fed DES or as having been withdrawn from DES at least seven days before a slaughter.

Regulations Told For Farm Drivers

AUSTIN -- Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has reminded Texas farmers and ranchers of revised driver qualification regulations which should give significant relief from the stringent regulations that were in effect in 1971.

New exemptions were made for farmers and ranchers by the U.S. Department of Transportation after many complaints were filed against restrictive farm driver qualification regulations last year.

became effective January 1 include:

1. Farm vehicle drivers operating trucks weighing 10,000 pounds or less are totally exempt from the driver qualification rules.

2. Farm vehicle drivers operating straight trucks weighing in excess of 10,000 pounds within 150 miles of their farms are totally exempt from the rules.

3. Farm vehicle drivers 18 years or older operating a tractor-trailer unit within 150 miles of the farm are exempt. except they must be physically qualified but need not be physically examined and certified until January 1, 1973.

4. Drivers employed by custom operators are granted total exemption while transporting custom harvesting machinery to or from a farm and while transporting the custom-harvested crops to storage or market.

5. Beekeeperstransporting bees during seasonal movements are exempt. The original regulations requiring drivers to be 21 years of age, submit to road tests, written and physical examinations, background checks and other regulations imposed undue burdens on farmers whose families helped in growing and harvesting crops, Commissioner White said.

$165 million that must go into new facilities in the next two years.

It's a lot of money, $165,000,000. It's the amount that Texas Electric will have to spend for construction of new facilities in the next two vears

About $100 million of this will have to be raised in a very competitive money market at a time when interest rates are much higher than they were a few years ago.

But it's what we must do

- to provide an ade quate and reliable power supply for the growing needs of our customers; to assist in the economic growth of our area; - to help solve some of the environmental problems and to avoid the causes of power shortages that have been experienced in other parts of the country.

Planning and building ahead to keep our system strong is one of our biggest responsibilities to you, our customers. It's what keeps us at your service.

-Rafael, Calif.) She is an elementary school teacher in Richmond. She is the wife of a busy seminary professor. She is an adult Sunday School class teacher at Tiburon Baptist Church. She is an ardent travel enthusiast. She's the typical proud grandmother. And she's an energetic, enthusiastic Christian.

She is Mrs. Lucile Manning, an untiring worker at TBC, December's Memberof-the-Month.

Sharing the spotlight is her husband, Dr. Jack Manning, professor of church history at Golden Gate Seminary since 1950. Dr. Manning is rarely seen around TBC because, after serving as interimpastor of the First Southern Baptist Chinese Church in San Francisco, he remained to support that congregation in the capacity of "advisory pas-

Born on a Missouri farm, she was brought up in the strongest of Southern Baptist traditions. She speaks warmly of her conversion experience at age nine and of her devoted Christian family. "My mother's been associated with WMU ever since I can remember," she recalls, "and though past 90, she still teaches a Sunday School class, visits her class members regularly and makes calls at a nursing home!"

At age 18, Lucile felt that God was calling her to the mission field and dedicated her life to Christian service. When Lucile made that decision, her mother made one too: Her daughter was going to have a college education in a good Christian College.' Consultation with friends led them to Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Tex., where Lucile won a scholarship for that first year.

She delights in telling how the Lord paved the way for the rest of her education. One year during the Depression. it was going to be necessary for her father to pipe water a great distance to take care his farm needs. Expenses for this project would have to come from Lucile's college tuition fund. 'It looked like I couldn't go back to school that year . . . but Mother said. 'Pray!' We did, and shortly thereafter, water was found the barn lot For just the expense of a pump, her Dad had all the water he needed and Lucile went back to school.

"I could never sing that song,

Later, he served as pastor of Britton Baptist Church in Oklahoma City, Okla., before going to Golden Gate Seminary. He retained his commission and retired just

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN Attorney General of Texas

When you receive unordered merchandise through the mails, do you know your legal rights? A law passed by the Sixty-first Texas Legislature in 1969 provides that where unsolicited goods are delivered to a person, he has the right to refuse to accept delivery of the goods and he is not bound to return the goods to the sender. If such unsolicited goods are either ad-thu siastically about trips to three World's Fairs, a summer in Alaska, a 31-stop tour of South America and two trips to Europe. Her home is filled with mementoes of her travles. In addition to scores of photographs, she has a collection of lovely plates and silver spoons from the places she has visited. The Mannings' two children are now far from home, but close to each other in Texas cities of Dallas and Fort Worth. Son Jack, Jr., a lawyer who is also married to a lawyer, has a private law practice in Dallas. Daughter, Ruth, or Mrs. Clark Campbell, teaches home economics in Fort Worth. Her husband is an officer of First National Bank. The Campbells have a son, Christopher, agethree.

BANKERS' SCHOOL -- The 20th annual Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for Commercial Bankers is slated for February 14-16 at Texas A&M University. Theme of the event will be "Financing a Changing Agriculture," according to Tom Prater, Extension Service economist and program chairman. # # # #

DES, AGAIN -- The U.S. Department of Agriculture has placed additional restrictions on the use of diethyl stilbestrol (DES), a synthetic growth promoting hormone used in livefeed. According to Frank Orts, Extension meats specialist, the new ruling becomes mandatory on January 8. Under the new program federal meat inspectors will hold all cattle and sheep from slaughter at least seven days unless the animals are certified as not having been fed DES or as having been withdrawn from DES at least seven days before slaughter.

without any obligation to the sender. There are three exceptions to this law -- first, when the goods are sent due to a bona fide mistake, and the sender has the burden of proof to show the error. Second, the law does not apply to goods which have been substituted for goods ordered. Finally, the act does not apply to goods ordered by the recipient. In summary, if a consumer received merchandise which he did not order he can refuse the goods or treat the goods as a gift. The consumer is under no legal obligation to pay for the merchandise received in this fashion.

A related area is the negative option plan employed by Book and Record Clubs whereby an individual signs a contract with the club and items are automatically sent to him. Under this negative option arrangement the consumer is obligated to pay for all items received UNLESS he returns a card to the company indicating his refusal to purtem. The common with this plan is the failure of the consumer to realize his legal obligation if he fails to periodically notapany of his wishes. In addition, some companies do not allow a sufficient time period to receive the option cards prior to mailing the merchandise. The consumer who signs up with one of these companies should understand his legal obligation under the contract and be alert when the option notices are received so that merchandise is not inadvertently ordered.

WEED CONTROL CONFAB The problem of weeds will be the single subject of the 25th anniversary meeting of the Southern Weed Science Society, January 18-20, in the Statler Hilton Hotel in Dallas. Agriculture scientists from 24 states will discuss weed control in agronomic and horticultural crops, in forests and rangelends, in highway and railroad rightsof-way, in utility and industrial sites, and in waters.
