RAYMOND GREENWOOD

If I ever want to starve to death in another profession besides the newspaper field, I think I've found one that will qualify--painting. I decided I'd just paint that "little" amount of trim around my house over the weekend. I quickly decided that my house must be at least a block around! Another thing I decided was what ever painter's rates are these days, they're too cheap!

I guess I've got the best neighbors in the world. Not one of them tried to hinder me from my painting. They would all call from the road and ask if I needed anything, like a ladder or saw horses or something--but narry a one came over and took that little old brush out of my hand! Guess they are a little bit smarter than me.

I wasn't going to tackle the job myself until I heard that Jerry Brooks down at Sham-burger's had some paint on sale. Gee, I thought, a gallon will go around the trim and that won't cost much. I was right about it only taking a gallon to go around the trim, but what I didn't realize was that I got another four gallons on me trying to put on that one gallon of paint. In addition to this I thought I was going to have to soak in a barrel of turpentine in order to get the paint off!

As one person remarked when he saw all the paint I had on me, "Greenwood, we've known for a long time that you aren't much of an editor, and now we know that you aren't much of a painter either, so what can you do?"

As most of you know by now, the First National Bank has a new Time and Temperature clock. It reportedly tells the time and temperature over 17,000 timer per day.

Rumor has it that Jerry McClure tried to convince other bank personnel that no one would surely look at the clock that many times during the day and therefore half of the time should be devoted to the wind velocity and barometric pressure readings. That's not exactly true, but I did hear that "Fisherman" McClure, as he is known by some, would like to see the clock that way--or better yet let it tell the time and at what lake the fish are hitting.

I can't go along with this "Fisherman" bit though. You see for two years now he's told me of the big fish he and his buddies are always catching. Yet not once has he taken me along where I could see this for myself. In addition to this, I have asked him to bring me a picture of the fish. But it seems that either the camera breaks down or the film gets too hot, (probably from hot air which is a common characteristic of fisherman). I've even offered to loan a camera and film to him and his fishing partner where I might actually see these fish. Yet, never has he taken me up on it.

I guess I shouldn't be too hard on McClure though, cause he's not the only fisherman like that. C.F. Wilmon and Fred Hunt are always telling me of the "big ones" they have been dragging in, and I still have yet to see a picture of them!!

A minister, off on a vacation fishing trip, was horrified to hear a young angler using words that were dyed a dark, deep electric blue. "My boy," he stated, "don't you know that the fish will never bite if you swear like

Burk Youths Carry Co. Junior Livestock Show

Youths from Burk Burnett literally ran away with the 3rd annual Wichita County Junior Livestock Show, held Monday and Tuesday in the 4-H Center in Wichita Falls.

A Chester White barrow, shown by Keith Easter, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Easter of Burk took the Grand Champion honors in the swine division.

The animal had earlier been picked as the lightweight class winner. It was bred by Neal Taylor of Randlett, Okla.

Capturing the reserve champion barrow award was a Duroc shown by Mike Howard, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.R. Davis of Burk Burnett. His reserve champion was bred by Tommy Durham of Wolforth.

David Weathered, also of Burk, took the reserve champion gilt honors while David Miller of Wichita Falls had the grand champion.

The grand champion and reserve champion market lamb show was taken by Lynn and Keri Morton of the Friberg-Cooper Community. The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morton.

The Hampshire entry shown by Lynn took the grand champion ribbon and a Southdown shown by Keri won the reserve. Keri was also named the top sheep showman.

The grand and reserve champion breeding ewes were shown by Terry Bruce of Electra.

Jeff Sternadel had the top pen of three fryer rabbits at the show. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sternadel of the Friberg-Cooper Community.

In the other divisions, Sandy Walser of Electra showed the top pen of three broilers and Carlton Moser of Wichita Falls had the top dairy heifer.

The premium sale of the show animals held Tuesday night was limited to a total of 30 lambs, 35 swine and eight steers with only the best animals of the show making the sale. ## $40,000 Sewer Line Scheduled

Construction of a mile-long 12-inch sewer line was approved in a special action of the Burk Burnett City Council last Wednesday morning.

The new $40,000 line will replace an 8-inch line west of Cropper Road and will also replace two lift stations in the southwest section of our city which has developed both residentially and industrially in the past few years.

City manager, Gary Bean, explained that the new line will add greatly to an existing plan of improved sewage disposal for the city. It will feed into an existing lift station on Gilbert Creek which has been proposed as the site of a new disposal plant when the city is forced to replace its present facility.

It is expected that the cost of the new line will be partly defrayed by a real estate developer who plans to build 300 new homes in this section of the city.

The councilmen approved a motion stating that upon completion of the new line that no lift stations be permitted unless physically unavoidable in residential sections north of Kramer Road and west of the railroad.

Later in the meeting, candidates for the four vacancies on the city council, which will be filled in the election April 4, drew for ballot order. They are, in their proper order, Marvin Henderson, Jerry Donald Pate, J.L. Caffee, Albert Dillard, A.E. "Earl" Brown, Billy J. Smith, Charles "Chuck" Lindenborne, and T.M. Cornelius.

The election will be held in the council room in the city hall with absentee voting beginning last Monday.

CofC Tells Of Special City Plans

Reid McCandless, president of the Chamber of Commerce, urged the Chamber Directors to carry out the "Boomtown Idea" during the director's luncheon Thursday.

Reid told the group that "we have a natural made scheme. It wouldn't cost a great deal of money to develop, yet it would be more unique than anything else we could do." Reid was speaking of the idea of constructing miniature Oil derricks at the corners in Downtown Burk Burnett and possibly smaller derricks at designated places down the streets.

The derricks will possibly be lighted where travelers could view them from the expressway. "I believe it would give us something that nothing else could," stated Reid.

The community development committee with Vernon Duncan as chairman, will be in charge of securing information as to how this project can be developed.

The directors heard a report on the dues increase and realignment which showed almost all businesses going along with the requested increases or adjustments.

New Business Opens Here Sat.

Burk Burnett can boast of another business Saturday and also the additions of a small industry.

Space Imports, a display warehouse of import items from all over the world, will open its doors Saturday morning. The new business, owned by T.C. Ferguson, is located in the old Adam Drug Building in Downtown Burk Burnett.

The business will serve as a display warehouse for retail store buyers from outside the Wichita Falls, Vernon and Lawton area. These buyers will come to Space Imports, select the merchandise they would like to retail in their stores, and it will then be shipped to them from the assembly plant of Space Imports which is now located near the Golden Triangle near Dallas.

This assembly plant will soon be phased out, according to Ferguson, and one will be set up in Burk Burnett. The plant will employ 12-15 people and will occupy a building space of 5,000 - 8,000 sq. feet with more rooms needed for future expansion.

Ferguson explained that his

Large Crowd Attends All Sports Banquet

Jack Mildren, the famed quarterback of the Oklahoma wishbone, issued a huge challenge to the approximately 175 athletes present for the Bulldog All Sports Banquet held Friday night. "I challenge each of you to be a plus for America," stated Mildren, "if you are to be a plus then you must be a stepping stone and not a stumbling block. It must start with you!"

In speaking to the large group Mildren praised the entire athletic program of the Bulldogs for "a great season, and a job well done." Mildren told the group that when he was in high school that athletics was the thing for him. Yet, that he was fortunate to receive some sound advice that has proven to be true.

"Develop in all different areas," noted Mildren, "develop academically, socially as well as athletically. Athletics won't last forever." Mildren further told the group that God should play an important in everyone's life and that "with God carrying the ball you'll be able to score a touchdown every time."

Mildren set numerous records in his collegiate football season at Oklahoma University.

Among his records include the NCAA rushing record of 1,140 yds. gained in one season, and school records of total offense for a season (2,018 yds.) and also the career mark (4,818 yds.). In 1967 he was voted the No. 1 Blue Chip player in Texas. He played for the Athlete Cooper Cougars.

He was drafted by the Baltimore Colts in the second round this year. All district football athletes Sam Hancock, Rick Bradley, Lawrence Washington, Rich Beard and Rodney Roberts; and all district basketball athletes Steve Creameens and Greg Leonard each received plaques in special recognition of their performances.

In addition to this, honorable mention district football players Deryl Nicholas, Max Ludeke and Mike Howard, and honorable mention basketball players Donald Patti and Rodney Roberts were also recognized as well as those that participate in the athletic program at Burk Burnett High School.

Special recognition and a plaque was given to Dow Estes by Bill Froman, athletic director and head football coach. Estes has been the announcer for the Bulldog games 1945 and has never missed a game. "No matter how much we the coaches and players could thank you," stated Froman in making the presentation, "it wouldn't be enough. We give this to you to show our deep appreciation."

Froman also praised the Bulldog Booster Club for their support of the athletic program and for the banquet, which is "the highlight of our year."

Praise was further extended by Froman, "The backbone of any athletic program is your seniors. Your success depends on the type of dedication that your seniors have. I'm glad to say our seniors have it and that they have led our teams well." There are 33 seniors participating in athletics.

TEEN TALK

By Laura Allison

In last week's column, I made a statement about the senior "girls" who would be sitting on the dunking machine at the carnival. Well for some strange reason or other the idea of getting soaked head to toe isn't very appealing to most girls, so the seniors had to resort to using some boys also. Tim Steele, Bob Knox, Pat Sullivan, Steve Goad, and Kurt Marten were a few of the boys who helped out. I especially felt sorry for Kurt because two men decided to have a contest to see who could dunk him the most. After a couple of throws, he shouldn't have even bothered to get out of the water. A few of the "brave" girls who worked were Donna Hughes, Debbie Bass, Debbie Brookman, and myself. But don't let the boys fool you—it is as hard to get them in the water as it is the girls. Some special thanks need to go to Charlie Wilhite, Bill Page, and Steve Sutherland who have worked on this project all the way from a trip to Graham for the machine, to building and setting up the stand at the carnival.

The high school and junior high bands went to U.L.L. Solo and Ensemble Contest at Midwestern University Saturday. Twenty-four students from the high school participated, and nineteen of these received a first division. This reflects the kind of band program our schools have, and the community should be proud of it. But without the high school directors, Jim McClain and Ted James, and junior high director, Charles Gregory, it would not be possible. The bands start their annual candy sell next week, so be sure to show your support by buying some of this candy.

letics at BHS.

Looking back over the year's athletics it was revealed that the 7th grade football finished with a 1-7 mark and the 7th grade basketball with a 14-4 record; 8th grade football 8-1; 8th grade basketball 7-3; 9th grade basketball 17-4; the 10th grade team played two football games and won both; Jr. Varsity football 6-3-1; Jr. Varsity Basketball 20-1; and Varsity football 7-3 for a 2nd place in District for the second year in a row, and the Varsity basketball 21-7 for a 2nd place in District.

The overall athletic program boasted a 31-17-1 record in football and a 86-21 record for basketball.

In a press interview with guest speaker Jack Mildren, just prior to the banquet, Mildren stated it was almost definite that he would be playing in the defensive backfield, probably at safety behind Jerry Logan.

Mildren related that although he would have picked the Dallas Cowboys if it had been left totally up to him where he could be playing in this area, he was very well pleased to have been picked up by an outstanding ball club like the Colts. "I believe they have a chance to go to the Super Bowl every year. They have several OU football players playing for them now and also some on the coaching staff."

The Colts, according to Mildren, are wanting to know how the Wishbone - T works, but they aren't planning to use it themselves. This was in answer to a rumor that the Colts were planning on utilizing the Wishbone-T and Mildren in their offensive attack next fall. Mildren believes that some other smaller pro teams will try the Wishbone and therefore the Colts just won't be able to defend it properly.

Mildren went on to say that he thought the Wishbone theory was fine and that it forced you to play man to man on defense. One of the main problems for the Wishbone in pro ball, forseen by Mildren, will be with the quarterback being able to take the constant punishment for the lengthy pro ball season?

Learn How To Tie Up A Burglar With Eight Inches Of Cord

The Girl Scouts may have a "best seller" on their hands. To help celebrate the 60th anniversary of Girl Scouting during 1972, a facsimile edition of the first Girl Scout Handbook is just off the press. It will become available in Girl Scout shops across the country during Girl Scout Week, March 12-16.

The original handbook—entitled "How Girls Can Help Their Country," was published in 1913. It was used as a guide to the early spontaneous growth of Girl Scouting in the United States.

The facsimile, a complete unedited copy of that first handbook, makes pleasurable, challenging, historical—and often hysterical—reading.

The handbook is interesting not only because it pictures life in those pre-World War I years, but also because it incorporates so much of what is considered new these days. Although the 1913 semantics were different, the guide instructs girls on such present day concerns as ecology, organic foods, organic cosmetics, physical fitness, pollution control, and understanding and respect for others.

In a curious way, the handbook presages Women's Lib. Despite emphasis on proper preparation and training for "housewifery," girls are advised that "really well-educated women can make a good income" as architects, doctors, aviators, accountants and scientists. The author even cites one woman who became a successful fire commissioner.

The book can be read for the sheer fun of it. In its pages, a 1913 Girl Scout could find instruction on "How to Secure a Burglar With Eight Inches of Cord." --(assuming, of course, that the burglar would stand still long enough to let her tie the knots); how to become a "true artist" in making an omelette by "beating the eggs with a knife on a plate till they are so firm that, on turning the plate upside down, the whites keep sticking to it."

They were warned that "a great many people who are pale and seedy are made so by living in rooms where the windows are seldom opened and the air is full of poisonous gases or germs." They also were cautioned against sitting on uncovered rubber or oilcloth because "rubber is most unhealthy and causes paralysis." Girls making nature studies of the baby caterpillar were told to watch "the way he holds his tongue" as a lesson to little chatterboxes, "for he just rolls it up and tucks it away and says nothing."

Adapted from the British Manual brought from England by Juliette Gordon Low, who founded Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Georgia, the 144-page bound handbook was written by a prominent naturalist of the South, Walter John Hoxie. It now is valuable not only as a memento of the organization's past, but as a revealing insight into the life and customs of those times. Copies of the facsimile edition may be obtained at local Girl Scout shops located in major department stores, or by mail from National Equipment Service, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., 830 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022. Order Facsimile Edition, (Catalog #20-200 - $1.95).

He stopped the car and questioned its occupants and they told him they had stolen the bumper from the business. The three, all juveniles, were released to their parents and no charges were filed. The bumper was valued at approximately $75-100.

Jack Mathis Appointed Easter Seal Chairman

Appointment of Jack Mathis as chairman of the 1972 Easter Seal campaign in Burkburnett has been announced by Mrs. Bill Thomas of Wichita Falls, general chairman for the eight county area.

Easter Seal appeal is held on behalf of the North Texas Rehabilitation Center in Wichita Falls where children and adults from Burkburnett receive needed therapy.

Mr. Mathis is one of about a dozen community leaders named to direct the 1972 fundraising efforts in cities and towns throughout the North Texas area.

Appeal will be held the week of March 20, with a mail-in campaign held in Burkburnett. A total of 74 children and adults from Burkburnett have received help at the center, which provides physical, occupational and speech therapy, gross motor and language development training, auditory (hearing) evaluations and training, counseling relating to handicaps and perceptual training and which loans equipment and furnishes information.

Children who benefit by therapy are those who suffer from arthritis or other crippling diseases or victims of strokes or those who are injured in accidents.

While the main purpose of the Easter Seal appeal is to raise funds for support of the rehabilitation center, Mr. Mathis pointed out there is a second function: To create an awareness of the handicapped individual abilities. "We hope to promote an increasing understanding in the minds of all Burkburnett residents of the needs and accomplishments of handicapped persons," Mr. Mathis declared.

Mr. Mathis said the community can help a handicapped child or adult the most by accepting him as an individual, by giving him a job (if an adult) he is trained for and by contributing to Easter Seals which make it possible for him to have therapy.

Annual emphasis on Easter Seals has still a third purpose: To make Burkburnett residents aware of services offered and help available at the rehabilitation center.

Mr. Mathis urged anyone knowing of a child or adult needing therapy to contact him or the center, located at 516 Denver, Wichita Falls, Texas, 76301, or telephone 322-0771.

First Baptist Church To Feature '3'

A like-it-is look at life on today's seething secular campuses backdrops "3". A 75 minute feature motion picture in color, to be shown at 7:00 P.M. on March 22, 1972 in the auditorium of First Baptist Church.

Produced in consultation with students and campus leaders in various areas of the United States, "3" tells the story of a transfer student who finds the life style of a big university disquieting compared to the prior climate he had at a small, church-related school. Drugs, moral attitudes and views on religion catapult him into defensiveness, disillusionment and near despair.

Then, he finds another side of the coin--students who have come to terms with life, with faith in God.

But, three words from the Bible comes into focus, Faith, Hope, Love. He sees God and the Christian life refreshingly relevant and valid in the kind of world youth face today.

"3" is produced by Ken Anderson films--the public is invited to attend this film showing.

Bulldogs Start Season Off With Big Victory

Burkburnett started its baseball season off on the right foot Friday afternoon by taking its season opener from Rider by a score of 5-4.

In an earlier interview for the Informer Star, Coach David Keller stated that the outcome of the Bulldog season would depend on how well the new sophomores would fill in the vacant spots. Zac Henderson, 2nd baseman, and David Todd, on 1st base, both proved Coach Keller's worries were unfounded by playing flawless ball in the field and at bat. These two players led the Bulldog's batting force by coming up with three hits a piece and average of .750.

The Bulldog fans seemed to have something to worry about when Rider scored three runs on two hits and one error the first time they were at bat. The Bulldogs did not give up however and also scored three runs their first chance.

Both teams went scoreless in the second inning, but the Bulldogs pulled ahead 4-3 in the third inning when shortstop David Caraway hit a single to bring Monty Patton in at home.

The Bulldogs, who controlled most of the game, remained ahead until the sixth inning when Rider's Bill Jones came in on a single by Herbie Brisbane to tie it once again 4-4.

The tie was broken for good when David Todd hit a home run off of Rider's second relief pitcher, Phil Willis. Todd's run was over left centered on the first ball pitched to him. This made the score 5-4.

Terry Moore, who held Rider to four runs and five hits, pitched the first six innings for Burk. David Tipton relieved Moore for the seventh inning and struck out the first and third batters, while the second was out on a pop fly.

Expansion Plans Told By S'Bell

Southwestern Bell has announced a record $484 million expansion program in Texas during 1972 to stay ahead of the growing demands for telephone services.

Despite a generally dull economy last year, the expansion is $89 million more than the amount spent for new plant and equipment during 1971, according to H.D. Schodde, the company's vice president for Texas.

Schodde pointed out that the company's Texas operations in 1971 showed "very good" growth over the same period during 1970.

He said that the company added nearly 265,000 phones to its network in Texas during 1971, bringing the total Southwestern Bell phones in service in the state to more than 5.3 million. He said that another 304,000 are expected to be added during 1972.

Schodde also noted that along with the increase in telephones, customers in Texas used their phones more in 1971 than ever before. As an example, he pointed out that the number of completed Long Distance calls on the average business day increased by more than 57,000 to a total of more than 907,000 in the state.

The company remained one of the largest employers in the state with a work force of just under 34,000. Payroll for Southwestern Bell employees jumped nearly $22 million to more than $294 million annually.

"In view of the general economic conditions that prevailed in Texas and nationwide during 1971, we feel our growth during the year was very good," Schodde said.

Schodde said that with demands for communications service growing, the company's huge construction expenditures are more important than ever to provide service to new customers, to introduce new services and to maintain and improve the quality of existing services.

Question of the Week : "Do You Agree With California's Abolishing Capitol Punishment?"

NEIL ROBINSON

No. I believe in capital punishment. I believe if one takes the life of another then they should pay for it.

KEN HASTINGS

No. We need a deterrent to premeditated murder. After 10 or more years you are eligible for parole and that's not a very harsh sentence for another person's life.

DOROTHY BRYANT

Yes. I've never agreed with capital punishment anyway.

ROBERT BOLDUC

No. If they get out they will go and do it again. I believe they should pay for what they do. Like the old saying goes, "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth."

JESSIE COBURN

Yes. I couldn't sentence anybody. I guess there are cases it might be needed--but I couldn't do it myself. It isn't up to me to judge who should live and who shouldn't.

TED ROARK

Yes. This action does not serve to deter crime. This action should be counteracted by making the criminal serve his or her entire sentence, allowing no time off for good behavior.

Frye-Vaughn Post Makes Plans for American Legion Birthday

Fifty-three years ago, a group of war-weary servicemen of the various outfits of World War I's American Expeditionary Force met in Paris, France, to build a civilian organization of war veterans dedicated to continued service to God and Country.

That caucus in Paris brought forth the action outfit we know today as the American Legion.

One year later the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of the men and women who died in World War I, or active American Legion members, formed the American Legion Auxiliary.

Membership in the American Legion and Auxiliary covers a broad age spectrum, including four generations of war veterans—men and women who have served in the uniform of our country during World War I, World War II, the Korean War, and the Vietnam period of hostilities. But the difference of age has not thwarted the Legion's determination to serve the lofty purposes of this gigantic fraternity of service.

This year the Legionnaires of Frye-Vaughn Post 264 in Burkburnett will join with their millions of fellow members in a globe-spanning celebration of The American Legion's 53rd and the Auxiliaries 52nd Birthday, during March, Post Commander Jim D. Lemley announced today.

Here in Burkburnett the anniversary will be highlighted with special festivities, including an in-formal dinner, followed by a western dance at 6:00 p.m. Saturday, March 18, at American Legion Hall, Commander Lemley said.

Invitations were sent out to the Mayor of Burkburnett, City Manager, County Commissioner, President of the Chamber of Commerce, President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and members. Legion members and their guests are invited at $2.50 per person, which includes the evening's activities.

As part of its preparation for the gala birthday observance, Post No. 264 is putting the finishing touches on its 1972 membership drive, Commander Lemley reported. Nationally, The American Legion has recorded seven consecutive years of membership increase, closing out 1971 with more than 2.7 million Legionnaires and the highest annual enrollment in 14 years. Frye-Vaughn Post No. 264 has contributed to the Legion's membership success story with a present total of 192 members over last year's total of 174. Membership workers of Post No. 264 are striving to give further emphasis to the Legion's 1972 theme "Reach Out - It's Action Time" through enrolling a significant increase in the number of Legionnaires taking part in the programs of Post No. 264.

Christian Folk Musical Given By Local Group

"Real", a Christian folk musical, was presented by the Central Baptist Church Real Waysingers under the direction of Mer Ido, Saturday to a crowd of about 200.

"Real", by Oldenburg and Allen, has a real message to all young people and adults today. It shows to all who hear that Jesus Christ is the answer for all their hopes, fears, failures, and successes, peace and joy. Jesus Christ makes people real in their daily lives, that He alone can remove the masks people wear and let them be themselves," according to Rev. Max Dowling, pastor.

Many fine comments were made by those attending regarding the sound effects, lighting, art work, slides which were a part of the production.

The casts included Stacy Allmon, Jana Anderson, Randy Allen, Earl Bell, Clay Blum, Debbie Brown, Terry Bruce, Randy Bruce, Joe Byers, Gall Cullison, Tann Dowling, Robert Fore, Allen Fournier, Doug Haas, Jan Harris, Lisa Harris, Jayne Hobbs, Jackie Harris, Karen Lewis, Laurie Lewis, Beckie Liles, Susan Miller, Doug Moore, Sandie Pickett, Kathy Roysden, Robert Roysden, Connie Smith, Debbie Smith, Kathy Skinner, Pam Starling, Ernie Stine, Mark Tucker, Gayla Wheeler, Danny White, David Whetsone, Toni Wildinson, Debbie Winegar.

YOUTH DIRECTORS--Laura Allison, and Mike Dean, right, have been named as Youth Directors for Burkburnett for the Rep. Vernon Stewart campaign. The two along with Donny Hardaway, Youth Director and Campaign Coordinator for Burkburnett, look over the shoulder of Rep. Vernon Stewart as they study the Voter Registration Polls for this year. Rep. Stewart, who states he is especially interested in the problems of the youth, will be running in the May 6 Primary for re-election to the Texas State Legislature, 52nd District.

John Hocker, Pastor

FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16

Someone has said, "Love is God", but the Bible tells us that "God is love". There is a great difference in the two and I believe what the Bible states is true.

Christ loves sinners. If you are without Christ, accept Him as your Savior. It is then you really live in God's love. The Bible will become God's love letter to you. Prayer will then be fellowship with Him. The thrill of His love is as stated in Song of Solomon 2:8, "The voice of my beloved! Behold He cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills." There is such an experience—leaping, skipping! Faith walks on water as Peter did. Love walks on air!

When God's love is manifest in us, we become a channel of God's love to others. "He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord." Prov. 19:17.

Remember: Faith, hope, and CHARITY (Old English for love) is for now. 1 Cor. 13:13.

'71 Cotton Crop Yield Lack of Seed

The effects of the poor cotton crop in 1971 will be felt in 1972 by a lack of high quality planting seed available this spring.

Producers will have to be satisfied with lower quality seed and depend on improved management and cultural practices to overcome this built-in handicap, says Dr. Robert Metzger, Extension area cotton specialist at Lubbock.

He offers several suggestions for getting the best performance from the seed available in 1972.

"Use your highest quality seed for early planting when conditions are not as favorable for emergence," he says, "save the lower quality seed for later when the soil temperature is high and other conditions are better."

He explains that a low quality seed lot may produce only 20 per cent seedling emergence if planted in late April, but can produce an acceptable stand of 70 per cent if planted after the middle of May.

"Seed planting is another practice that goes a long way in getting maximum stands from any quality seed, but is especially helpful when a farmer must use low quality seed," the agronomist says.

The seedbed is not only the warmest area of the field, but it will warm up earlier than the furrow and also provides the best possible environment for germination. He also warns against planting seed too deep.

"Although seed needs to be planted in moist soil, poor quality stock cannot tolerate deep planting and soil crusting as well as seed of high quality," he adds.

Producers can also improve stands by simply increasing planting rates, although they should be careful not to overdo it. In some cases, using high planting rates to compensate for poor seed can increase seedling emergence enough to actually decrease stands to less than they would be with normal rates. Metzger says that a moderate increase in planting rates will usually improve stands.

In addition, producers should be sure the poor quality seed has been carefully delinted and treated with a recommended fungicide.

"Seed treatments do not compensate for reduced quality seed, but the treatments can improve the performance obtained from the lower quality stock," Metzger says.

This year, he suggests using both protectant and systemic fungicides on seed. Until recently, seed treatment was a relatively low-cost item because of the effectiveness of anky mercury fungicides. But these compounds are no longer permitted for use on cottonseed.

However, Metzger says the search for acceptable alternatives has been at least partially successful.

He cites research by Dr. Earl Minton of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock. Minton has compared non-mercurial fungicides with the standard alkyl mercury treatment, and found the non-mercurial materials just as effective. Some of the non-mercurial compounds that were successful include Busan 72, captan, chloroneb, PCNB Terracoat L21 and thiram. The tests showed that addition of chloroneb or PCNB usually improved the performance of the other non-mercurial compounds and the mercurial PMA.

The researcher also found that systemic fungicides provided better protection against preemergence and postemergence diseases than just the seed protectant fungicides by themselves.

Minton warns that seed treatment cannot be guaranteed to give a satisfactory cotton stand under all environmental conditions. Poor growing conditions after planting will reduce the potential of both superior and lower quality cottonseed.

Census Figures Show Increase Of Farms

Wichita county showed a total of 689 farms in the 1969 Census of Agriculture, according to figures released by the U.S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of Economic Statistics Administration (SESA).

In the last previous Census of Agriculture (1964) the number of farms reported in the county was 599.

Of the county's total farms in 1969, 388 are reported as selling $2,500 or more of agriculture products in the year, as compared with 293 in 1964.

The report also shows average farm size in the county was 470.3 acres, and average value of these farms (land and buildings) was $87,989.

Other figures from the report are:

1. Value of all farm products sold in 1969, $6,031,385;
2. Value of all crops sold in 1969, $2,694,665; in 1964, $2,035,050.

1. Value of all farm products sold in 1969, $6,031,385; in 1964, $4,378,050.
2. Value of all crops sold in 1969, $2,694,665; in 1964, $2,035,050.
3. Value of all livestock, poultry and their products sold in 1969, $3,336,308; in 1964, $2,343,000.

Reported for the first time in an agricultural census is information on the extent to which the corporate structure is being used by operators of farms from which agricultural products totaling $2,500 and over farms are incorporated.

Investment Credit Date Causing Tax Troubles

COLLEGE STATION - The effective date for investment credit, which was restored by the Revenue Act of 1971, has been troublesome to some taxpayers and tax practitioners.

Dr. James I. Mallett, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reviews the pertinent information regarding effective dates for qualified investment credit property.

Property which was constructed, reconstructed or erected follows similar rules, says Mallett. If such work began prior to April 1, only costs associated with construction after August 15 is allowed. If construction began after March 31, the property QUALIFIES for investment credit.

Mallett points out that additional information on investment credit is available at the county Extension office or from the Internal Revenue Service.

Property ordered and acquired before April 1, 1971 is NOT allowed; property ordered prior to April 1 and acquired prior to August 16, 1971 is NOT allowed; property ordered prior to April 1 and received after August 15, is allowed; and property ordered or acquired after March 31, 1971 is allowed.

Foreign goods follow the same rules except those ordered or acquired between August 15 and December 19. Investment credit on foreign goods is not allowed for that due to the temporary 10 per cent import surcharge which was in effect.

HOUSTON RODEO WINNER--Mrs. Clyde Vamvoras, shown above in Jim Houston Championship Rodeo Equipment, was the top performer in the barrel race contest at the Houston Rodeo held Feb. 25-March 5. Kay reported a best time of 18.5 for a come-from-behind win. She was in third place going into the finals. As winner of the contest, she was presented an expensive saddle, $950 in cash from the Houston Rodeo, plus an additional $100 from Levitz Furniture of Houston. Kay was the runner-up to the World Champion in 1968. Her husband, Clyde, a well known member of the rodeo circuit, took the winning money in the Steer Wrestling recently in Baton Rouge, La., and placed high in his hometown of Lake Charles, La.

teria and are seed borne. The acid delinting process will eliminate or reduce disease - causing organisms present on the seed surface. Seed treatment will protect the seed and seedling in the soil.

Early planting is a step toward maximum production where cotton root rot is a problem. The root rot pathogen requires soil temperature above 80 degrees F. for growth. This means that a crop planted and matured early will have a little loss due to root rot.

Marketing Tips...

Eggs Best Buy This Week

"Eggs are a high protein food and can make a nutritious main dish for any meal," said Mrs. Gwendolyn Ciyatt, Houston consumer marketing specialist for Texas A&M University. "And right now, eggs are in extremely abundant supply, so prices remain quite low."

Prices continue to be relatively high on beef and pork. Some loin cuts of pork and a few beef roasts are featured this weekend but prices are generally high. Make flavorful dishes by adding carrots, onions and other vegetables to such inexpensive cuts as brisket and short ribs. Consider also, canned and picnic hams when buying.

While shopping the poultry counter look for thirty prices on whole fryers, fryer quarters, fryer parts and heavy roasters.

"When whole fryers are available at special prices, you may save several cents per pound by buying several and cutting up your own packages of parts and quarters," the specialist suggested.

Good quality grapefruit continues to line the shelves at produce counters. Oranges remain plentiful with a number of varieties available.

Remember that apples continue in good quality and supply. Lemons, tangelos, strawberries, bananas, pears and pineapples deserve close consideration this week.

Farms & Ranches Determine An Areas Wildlife

Before the advent of white men, most of North America was covered by forest, grassland, or desert vegetation. On each vegetative type was wildlife best adapted to each.

The white man's civilization changed land patterns on a large scale. Wild lands were converted to agricultural use. Each change influenced the composition of wildlife on the land. Buffalo, deer, bear, and elk began to decrease in number. Quail, dove, rabbits and some other species were able to adapt to the land change more readily.

Today human occupants determine the place wildlife must occupy, as well as the number it will support, by controlling the management of the land. "Farm and ranch operators are therefore wildlife managers whether they realize it or not," says Bill Lewis, Soil Conservation Service, Iowa Park.

A coordinated program of soil, water, and plant conservation will normally improve the habitat and increase the food supply for wildlife. Cropland, grassland, or woodland properly treated will produce wildlife as a second crop. Many farms and ranches contain land that can produce wildlife as a primary crop.

Pollinating insects, fish and most birds and animals help farmers and ranchers. Game species offer income from hunting leases. Management of ponds to produce fish furnishes recreation, food, and income from fishing rights.

Preservation of cherished national resources, recreational and esthetic values, plus supplemental incomes are reasons that those who practice a good soil, water, and plant conservation program generally have a real interest in wildlife.

Narrow row cotton production is mushrooming in Texas. More than 18,000 acres were planted to narrow-row cotton last year. Narrow-row acreage could reach as high as 50,000 acres in 1972. More than 100 narrow-row harvesters may be in operation this fall. Last year narrow row yields ranged from five to 30 per cent more than cotton planted in conventional rows. Furthermore, production costs were lower in most cases, the real advantage of the narrow-row system.

Late winter and early spring are good times to set out new trees. Varieties should be planted that are adapted to the area and that will meet specific needs. Trees help purify the air and release oxygen, moderate the climate, provide food and shelter and boost the value and sales appeal of homes.

You may want to attend one of two small grain symposiums sponsored by the Rolling Plains Economic Program on March 15 and 16. The first meeting will be March 15, Farmers National Bank in Seymour. The second of the small grain meetings will be held on the next day, March 16 at the Willbarger Memorial Auditorium in Vernon. Both programs will get underway at 1:30 p.m.

This should be an excellent meeting and one that I would recommend small grain producers attend.

A Swine Short Course will be held in the Burkburnett FFA room at the Burkburnett High School beginning Thursday, March 16, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. W.B. Thomas, swine specialist from Texas A&M University, will be there and discuss all phases of swine production.

The second night of the two-night short course will be also held in the FFA room of the Burkburnett High School beginning at 7:30 p.m. on March 21. At this meeting Dr. Frank Ort, Meats specialist from Texas A&M University, will give a demonstration on measuring for fat and muscling on swine.

We would like to encourage all persons interested in swine production to mark these two days, March 16 and 21 on their calendar and plan to attend.

Are you interested in sheep production? If so you will want to attend a sheep meeting on Monday, March 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the ASCS Agriculture Room in Iowa Park. Mr. J.A. Gray, Sheep and Goat Specialist from San Angelo, will be the principal speaker. He will discuss all phases of sheep production including the selections of lambs for a youth show. The general public is invited to attend.

Two key management practices can reduce losses and increase profits to cotton farmers. These are early planting and the use of top quality, acid-delinted seed.

Five of the nine major cotton diseases occurring in Texas can be controlled or reduced by purchasing high quality, acid-delinted cotton seed that has been treated with a fungicide. The diseases include anthracnose, ascochyta (wet weather blight), bacterial blight, boll rot and seedling disease. All of these are caused by either fungi or bac-

Brown Patch Mars Lawns

St. Augustine grass lawns will be greening up soon and circular patterns of dead grass will be noticeable. The problem--brown patch.

Brown patch is a fungus disease occurring in late spring or early fall. It is characterized by circular patterns (1 to 50 feet in diameter) of dead grass in the turf, explains Dr. Walter Walls, Plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Often healthy grass will persist or grow back into the interior of the circle so that the diseased area has a "doughnut appearance".

Where the brown patch fungus is present in St. Augustine grass growing in shady or moist areas, a large area of turf may be thinned and eventually killed.

According to Walls, the disease develops rapidly in moist areas where temperatures range between 75 and 85 degrees F. Fungus activity stops when the air temperature reaches 90 degrees. This explains the seasonal development of the diseases, notes the pathologist.

Brown patch can be effectively controlled by timely fungicide applications. The fungicide should be applied when the disease is expected or when it first appears, says Walls.

New Legal Aid Program Begun

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--The Staff Judge Advocate Office at Sheppard AFB is getting involved in improving communications with Air Force people.

The program involves assigning a judge advocate to each squadron on base, as an advisor to the commander, first sergeant, supervisors and other members of the squadron. This assignment is in addition to the lawyers' already busy schedules.

According to a letter from Col. Norman F. Carroll, Center staff judge advocate, to squadron commanders, "It is anticipated that the squadron advisors will be available to assist the commander with programs receiving current emphasis, such as the Drug Abuse Prevention Program, Human Relations Program and other similar endeavors."

The program will also provide "a point of contact for all squadron personnel with the legal office," according to the letter. Advisors will attend Commander's calls to discuss legal topics.

By visits to squadron areas on an informal basis, the advisors will be more accessible to the squadron people. Through individual contacts she will enhance preventive law programs by discovering and resolving potential problems before they require more

Efforts Made To Improve NCO's Living Facilities

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--The Sheppard bachelor non-commissioned officer (NCO) is not forgotten by the base Housing Office. To the contrary, he is the subject of an intensive effort to improve living facilities here.

Numerous changes have been made in the past to improve the lot of the bachelor NCO, and many more are expected in the future, according to Lt. Col. W.L. Ward, base housing officer.

There are presently four permanent party and two temporary duty bachelor NCO quarters (BNCOQ) which provide living accommodations for 137 eligible people.

Each room has been equipped with carpeting, a refrigerator and drapes. A pool table and shuffle board are to be installed in the game room. New color televisions have been purchased for the upstairs and downstairs lounges.

Maid service will be mandatory in the 28 rooms.

Colonel Ward complemented the base Civil Engineers for "an outstanding job of restoring the entire interior of the building."

"Everything possible has been accomplished toward providing a comfortable living facility for our 'top three' (Master Sergeant through Chief Master Sergeant)," added the housing officer.

Occupancy in the soon-to-be lived-in dormitory will be determined much in the same manner as family housing. Priority will be determined by rank and date of rank.

The entire building will be "off limits" to everyone below the rank of master sergeant with the exception of bona fide guests and maintenance people.

Unit Career Advisors Serve Vital Function

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--A group of sergeants met at the NCO Club at Sheppard AFB last week and talked about a problem they all share: how to retain those quality airmen the Air Force needs for the future.

Several issues were tossed around, some that would surprise even a cynical first-terminer. For these sergeants must deal with the problems of anti-militarism, and anti-war sentiment, the questioning of the Air Force's traditions, and prosaic problems such as pay and living conditions. But they faced all of them.

They were honest with each other, and indeed they had to be, for their job is counseling people about the advantages of an Air Force career. Each squadron at Sheppard has at least one of these men, unit career advisors--men whose job it is to talk to airmen about staying in the service, as such they are part of the Career Counseling Office of the Consolidated Base Personnel Office at Sheppard, and part of the program to keep qualified, trained, and motivated men in the Air Force.

These advisors are equipped with enthusiasm and information about the benefits of an Air Force career. They're interested in helping a young man decide on the Air Force, and they have the knowledge to help him effectively choose between staying in and going to civilian life. What's most important, though, is that they are honest and will make a sincere effort to present all the facts.

If you're faced with separation and wonder about staying in or separating, contact a career advisor in your unit, he'll give you the information you need about the benefits of reenlisting.

Officers Wives To Honor Mrs. Page At Formal Tea

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Three events are scheduled this week by the Sheppard Officers Wives Club. The monthly luncheon was held Wednesday, a formal tea honoring Mrs. Jerry D. Page, Thursday, and the Art Mart and Bake Sale Saturday.

McClurkans Department Stores of Wichita Falls presented a fashion show Wednesday, March 15, at the Officers Club at 12 noon.

The spring showing is a favorite of the Officers Wives and members are asked to make reservations early as seating is limited. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. E.R. Larabee at 322-1050; Mrs. C.L. Arnold, 322-3034; or Mrs. D.L. White at 855-2519.

Wives of officers assigned to the 3750th Technical School will be hostesses. Mrs. Frank Jones and Mrs. Ward Catron are co-chairmen. They will be assisted by Mesdames Amos Ross, Joseph Cowles and Leonard Eggen.

The formal tea honoring Mrs. Page, wife of Maj. Gen. Jerry D. Page, former commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, will be given by the OWC March 16 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Various groups of the OWC are participating in an Art Mart and Bake Sale Saturday, March 18, in front of the Main Base Exchange. Bridge, Golf, Bowling, Art and Crafts and Gourmet Clubs will bring items to sell with the proceeds going to the groups.

The sale will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday. Mrs. Bruce Liten is co-ordinating the event.

SAFB Leading In RECON Program

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Sheppard Air Force Base is leading all other Air Training Command bases in the command Resources Conservation (RECON) Program, totaling a savings of $2,236,700, or 194 percent of the assigned goal.

ATC recently topped the $10 million mark, good for more than 80 per cent of the command goal for fiscal year 1972 at slightly past the halfway mark.

In a letter about the RECON status, Lt. Gen. George B. Simler, ATC commander, congratulated those activities which have reached or exceeded their goals.

He further stated "...for ATC to maintain its position of leadership in the program, you should insure that all benefits resulting from management actions initiated in FY 1972 are identified and reported in the RECON program."

Mather AFB, Calif. has reached a 133 per cent savings of their goal as of Feb. 24, for a distant second place.

Learn to Recognize New Hazard Warning Signs

New symbol warning signs will soon be appearing along highways to warn motorists of potential hazards. Two examples of these signs are pictured above.

To alert motorists that extra caution is necessary to safely negotiate the roadway, S-shaped skid marks are shown on the SLIPPERY WHEN WET sign, indicating slippery pavement conditions may exist in wet weather.

To warn of an area where drivers must exert caution, the HILL sign depicts a truck on a downgrade.

Several of these new symbol signs are being used in Canada and in European countries. However, until a general familiarity with the symbols is attained in the United States, supplemental word legend panels will accompany the signs.

Weekly Health Tip

from Joe Gillespie

For regular exercise (so essential to good health) don't rely on will power which, as one doctor says, "lasts about two weeks and is soluble in alcohol". Exercise can also be fun, with sports and games you enjoy such as swimming, hiking, bicycling, volleyball, badminton - yes, even ping-pong. A daily brisk walk is most healthful.
