RAYMOND GREENWOOD

As you can read by the lead story in today's paper things will be buzzing around the INFORMER office for the next few weeks. Also, you'll be getting asked by dozens is you are taking the INFORMER/STAR and if not, why not?

I know that this may become irritating at times especially when 20 kids attack you with the same question within a 30 minute period but be polite with them. They are only trying to win a valuable prize for themselves.

They are not asking for something and giving nothing in return. Nor, or they asking their parents for something they are not willing to work for.

Many of the kids that will be involved in our SUBSCRIPTION SWEEPSTAKES could probably just ask their parents for one of the prizes that will be given away and the parents probably would provide it. Which may be fine, but I feel that it is much better for the youngster to work for that same prize.

It is good for youngsters (and many times we adults) to have to really work for what we receive. It's good experience to have to actually sell a product, experience the empty feeling that the word "NO" can give, and experience the joy a prize can bring when it's won by hard work.

So, be polite to those that ask you in the next few weeks if you are a subscriber to the INFORMER/STAR. If you are not a subscriber, we'd like to provide you with what we feel is one of the best weekly newspapers in this part of Texas.

Speaking of kids, I was told of the little girl that was having dinner at a friend's house, and as she finished her dessert the friend's mother asked, "Will you have another helping of ice cream?" "No thank you," the girl refused politely.

"Oh, do have some more," insisted the woman. "Well, I don't know," the girl hesitated. "Mummy told me to be polite and say, 'No thank you,' but I don't think she knew how small the first helping would be!"

With Easter just passing and how sunny and bright the days were I couldn't help think of our boys in Vietnam and our POW's and wondering what kind of Easter they were experiencing.

I thought also of the following which was reportedly written by one of our young men as he fought and died that we might have the bright happy Easter that we enjoyed this past weekend.

It's a little cold and damp,
Mom,
And the food is not as good,
The mud is cold and damp,
Mom,
And soaked with human blood,
Got a bullet in my leg, Mom,
But it doesn't hurt that much,
When I see an orphaned
Child with one leg and a crutch.
My face is pretty dirty, Mom,
But my mind is clean and free
When I think of why I'm here
To see democracy.
They're coming down the hill, Mom,
A hundred thousand strong,
No matter how hard we fight,
Mom,
We can't hold out too long,
Tell Linda not to cry, Mom,
Tell Dad to be real brave,
But when they bring me home,
Mom,
Place "Old Glory" on my grave.
I know it's kind of hard,

You can if you are the Grand Prize winner in the Burk Burnett INFORMER/STAR'S SUBSCRIPTION SWEEPSTAKES which begins today, according to Raymond Greenwood, publisher of the INFORMER/STAR.

The GRAND PRIZE winner will fly from Dallas, via Braniff International's fantastic 747, non-stop to Honolulu where they will spend seven days and six nights at the world famous Hilton Hawaiian Village Hotel on Waikiki Beach. You will enjoy Hilton Hawaiian's own 20 acre beach on Waikiki.

But what will the kids get for sending Mom and Dad on this fabulous trip. "Besides a little fun and enjoyment and peace and quite for the parents the kids will receive one of five valuable prizes," stated Greenwood.

Twenty NEW subscribers will net the youngsters a loaded Mini-bike; twelve NEW subscribers will net the kids a streamlined bicycle; eight NEW subscribers, a RCA battery powered cassette recorder/player; Five NEW subscribers, a high quality transistor radio; and Three NEW subscribers will net a snare action baseball glove.

As stated earlier, the GRAND PRIZE winner will be sending his parents on a seven day, six night trip to beautiful Hawaii. The trip will include:

2. Delicious gourmet meals en route.
3. A traditional formal Lei greeting upon arrival in Honolulu.

The seventh and final day will be a day of leisure and a day spent in preparation of departure for home.

"Although the trip to Hawaii may be the main interest point of the parents," stated Greenwood, "the kids may have another view -- or at least another one to accompany that one." The five other prizes will be of great interest to kids and parents alike.

Heavy Voter Turnout Seen In City Election

Voters turned out to the polls in record numbers Tuesday in Burk Burnett city Election to select four councilmen.

Incumbent, Billy J. Smith led the group of eight candidates with 411 votes. He was followed by A.E. (Earl) Brown with 376, T.M. Cornelius with 348, Jerry Donald Pate with 338, J.L. Caffee with 333, Charles (Chuck) Lindenborn with 307, Albert Dillard with 254, and Marvin Henderson with 182.

The top four vote getters, Smith, Brown, Cornelius, and Pate will be placed on the council. They will join A.H. Lohofener, Reid McCandless, and Irv Smith. A mayor for Burk Burnett will be selected from these seven councilmen in a secret ballot by the councilmen in next Monday night's scheduled council meeting. Mrs. P.T. Felty, election judge delegate, stated that voting was running light until about 5:00 p.m. with large numbers of people filing in between that time and poll closing time of 7:00 p.m.

When asked if she thought the youth vote played a big part of the total of 664 votes cast in the election, Mrs. Felty replied, "There was a good showing of youth in this election."

Only a total of 73 points separated the top vote getter and the last man to be seated on the council, with only five votes separating the fourth and fifth leading candidates.

The fourth leading candidate was the last man to be selected for the council. As stated earlier, the newly elected councilmen will be officially sworn in and a mayor selected Monday night at the regular council meeting. In addition to this the council's agenda calls for the canvassing of Tuesday's election ballots and the adoption of the 1972 budget for the City of Burk Burnett.

Persons interested in voting in other upcoming elections in Texas should be reminded that they must register to vote at least 30 days prior to the election they wish to vote in. The next major elections in Texas will be the May 6 Primaries.

Burkburnett Informer/Star

The Burkburnett School District recently expended approximately $87,000 to complete a new all weather track for athletic events. I believe the money would be more productive had it been spent toward air conditioning classrooms. A recent informal poll of teachers at the Shepard-Burkburnett Elementary School reveals the temperature in the classrooms to be absolutely intolerable for approximately three months of the school year.

One of the schools in Burkburnett does not have a cafeteria. The acquisition of suitable facilities for learning and for a cafeteria which would be used both for lunch and for group programs would seem to me to be much more important than the acquisition of any further athletic facilities.

The closing of school buildings throughout the summer months would be unnecessary if air conditioning were available. Schools could be operated on a year-round basis, thereby resulting in smaller classes and quality education. To allow a building costing millions of dollars to sit idle for three months is foolish.

Louis A. Shirley, Lt. Colonel, USAF, MC, 131 Falcon Blvd., Shppard AFB, Texas.

There are still some nice bus drivers around. I was reading in a newspaper the other day about a nice one, and it got me to thinking about a certain bus driver.

You know the old saying that women are the worst drivers, well not in this case. Every morning my wife and I drive to Wichita. On the way we always get behind a school bus going to Caphart.

Well, this woman bus driver always moves over so we can pass by. This way we are never late for work.

So, you see, there are still nice and courteous lady bus drivers around. And we look forward to seeing her every day. So, I say "Thanks" to a lady bus driver for letting us by.

The Burkburnett Informer/Star with its commercial printing facility and newspaper lists a total of five employees and an annual payroll of $30,000.

The Burkburnett Industrial Team is given much credit for securing, keeping, or helping many of the above listed industries. In addition to this they are continually trying to secure more industry for Burkburnett.

Jack Aaron, chairman of the Industrial Team, related, "I personally appreciate the efforts of each of the committeemen as they have worked long hours many times. They have been more than willing to do their part in trying to further the industrial development in Burkburnett."

The twenty man Industrial Team consists of Reid McCandless, Clark Gresham, Gary Bean, Raymond Smart, Lester Yates, Bill Vincent, Bob Monaghan, Howard Clement, Lrry Watts, J.W. Carter, James Pearson, T.M. Cornelius, C.J. Lippard, Virgil Mills, Vernon Duncan, Irv Smith, Billy Smith, Dale Mortland, Jim Frye, and Aaron.

Mom,
To break the news this way,
I have to tell you now Mom,
For this may be the day,
Tell my little girl, Mom,
That I had to go away,
Tell her not to cry, Mom,
I'll see her again someday,
Tell her I went to heaven
To see the Lord above,
To talk about the world
That lacks brotherly love.
I haven't much more time,
Mom,
So once before I die
I'd like to say "I Love
You."
Before, I say "Goodbye."

The Committee's purpose, Rep. Stewart said, is to study the problems of financing public education and recommend a comprehensive legislative program designed to provide every child in Texas equal opportunity for an equitably financed, quality education, and therefore is interested in obtaining every available recommendation, solution, partial solution, idea, concept, plan and opinion relative to the financing of public education.

Its immediate objective is to determine suitable sources of revenue and equitable policies for the distribution of school funds. The Committee had programmed its work into four phases, research, evaluation, formulation and legislation. This hearing is part of the research phase, which is to be completed by May.

Are you going to live longer than your money?

Maybe you're having a pretty good life now. Your credit is good, you've got a few nice clothes and a good dependable car. And if you're lucky, maybe you own your own home. But that's because you're working. What happens when you retire? You can't live on memories. It's still going to take money. Lots of money. Money that you should be saving now.

And one of the easiest ways to start putting away a few dollars for those retirement years is by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way every time you earn a little money for today, you save a little for tomorrow. Then when the time finally comes to retire, you'll have something put away to retire to.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months after the first year. Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Rash Of Traffic Accidents Reported To Burk Police

Disregarding a rash of traffic accidents over the Easter holidays, things have been rather quiet at the new police station, according to Police Chief Buck Abbott.

One teenage juvenile boy was arrested for breaking 19 window panes in the Hardin Elementary School over the Easter holidays. The boy was turned over to his parents and the damages will be paid.

Police also investigated an attempted burglary at the Burkburnett Clinic. The clinic was not entered, stated Abbott. The incident occurred Sunday night.

The latest of the eight traffic accidents occurred Tuesday at the Boomtown Bowl parking lot when the unattended car of Billy Joe Hammon of 3222 Carol Lawn in Wichita Falls was hit while Hammon was in the business.

The 1965 Ford driven by Roy A. Townsend of 520 Buckner was hit in the rear as it backed out of the driveway at 613 S. Berry. The auto was hit by a 1972 Chevrolet driven by Jimmy J. Goff of 810 Preston.

A small accident resulted Sunday in the Dairy Mart parking lot when the 1970 Chevrolet driven by Harris C. Wayne of Randlett and the 1967 Chevrolet owned by John R. Beaver of 204 Mockingbird Lane were in collision. The Beaver vehicle was parked and was scraped as the other vehicle attempted to pull out of the parking lot.

John Womack of 2907 Pennsylvania failed to yield the right of way at the intersection of Texas 240 near its intersection with Sycamore St.

causing a collision with the 1968 Ford driven by Edward A. Taylor of 1011 Francis St.

Richard N. Wagler of 1103 Shady Lane backed into a brick wall on Ave. A Tuesday March 28 when his brakes failed.

Another accident that same day involved the 1971 International garbage truck driven by John J. Connell of 5863-Brasswood as it side swiped a 1963 Ford with its right rear mud guard of the dual wheels. The Ford, owned by Alfred F. Smith of 106 Ave. G, was parked at the time.

Saturday, Michael L. Cogley of 3755U Student Sq. at SAFB lost control of his 1969

Honda as he traveled south on Roberts St. Cogley lost control of the motorcycle and skidded 135 feet on the left hand shoulder of the road.

Two persons received minor injuries Friday in an accident near the end Texas and Oklahoma bridge.

Clifford G. Cole of Austin driving a 1969 Dodge, stated he was following another vehicle when the vehicle in front of him stepped on its brakes. Cole applied his brakes, went into a skid and hit the guard rail and overturned.

He and a passenger Jyle Ann Cole received only minor injuries.

IRS Examined One Out Of Every 56 Returns

As the years go by, the Internal Revenue Service audits a smaller percentage of income tax returns.

"The IRS examined only one out of every 56 individual income tax returns in the fiscal year 1971, compared with one in 46 during 1970," noted Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist at Texas A&M University. "A few years ago one in every 25 was audited."

"Don't think this will necessarily make for easier tax evasion," the specialist warned. Although 350,000 fewer returns were audited in 1971 than 1970, the total of additional tax payments resulting from audits rose by $300 million.

Two-thirds of all taxpayers have more tax withheld than they owe, according to Mrs. Myers. In 1971 the government refunded $19.9 billion to nearly 56 million taxpayers.

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

Recreational land promotions always increase during the spring as companies selling lake lots, wilderness lots, and speculative land investments begin to advertise. Direct mail promotions for local developments encourage personal visits by the whole family by offering "discounts" off the "regular" price of the lots. Some companies conduct contests while others speak of the investment potential inherent in land - particularly their land.

If you are considering the purchase of a lake lot or a small tract of land as an investment, then you should be cautious. The following guidelines are worth reading before you sign the contract:

1. Make a personal visit to the property to see for yourself the overall condition of the land, access roads, improvements and the specific plot you will be purchasing. Every year thousands of people purchase land they have never seen and are often disappointed when they later visit the land development.
2. Ask the salesman for a copy of the Property Report which many land developers are required to file with the Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D. C. 20411. This report will furnish information regarding the existence of liens on the property, availability of water service and utilities, the type of title the buyer will receive and the distance to nearby communities over paved or unpaved roads.
3. Determine a fair price for the land on the basis of land near the development rather than accepting at face value the salesman's claims of rapid appreciation of land values in the area.

Don't fall for the "free lot" sales pitch or its companion the "discount check". These pitches are merely designed to encourage people to purchase a lot on their first

Steel Breaks Plate Production Record

The United States Steel Corporation's mill at Gary, Ind., set a world's record for the production of total tons of steel cast on a single strand caster.

The facility cast two consecutive single slabs of high quality steel, each measuring the equivalent of more than a mile and one-half in length with a combined weight of 8,330 tons.

The Gary caster is the first large slab casting unit to achieve speeds up to 76 inches per minute.

visit to the development. Land developers are going to make a profit on the sale of their lots. If the development advertises a country club, golf course, boat marina, water district or other improvements which would enhance the value of the land, check on the status of these items to determine whether or not they are still in the "planning stage".

In summary, the most important first step you should take before purchasing land would be to make a personal visit to the land to see for yourself what you are buying. But just as important would be to ask the right questions regarding the availability of the items necessary to insure your enjoyment of the property. If good quality drinking water is not available at an economical rate, septic tanks are not permitted, or electric power cannot be obtained at a reasonable cost, the progress of the development may be very slow. Think about these problems before signing up for a lot in Rainbow City.

Community Development To Involve Youth

Programs in community development in Texas have been around for quite a while but now they're taking on a new flare -- 4-H youth involvement.

A pilot project will begin this fall in two counties so that groundwork can be laid for a statewide program involving 4-H youth in community planning, improvement and overall development. Giving leadership to the program will be Lanny Bullard, 4-H and youth specialist, and Dr. Delbert Black and Ray Prewett, resource development specialists, all with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Much of the pilot project will be devoted to finding ways in which youth and adults in a community can work together to accomplish certain community objectives," points out Bullard. "Youth want to become more involved in community activities and this program is designed to bring about more in-depth involvement and understanding."

Who will be the benefactor of all this interaction? First, both youth and adults will benefit from the interchange of ideas and actions. Secondly, the community will reap results of the total effort through a better quality of living, improved services and facilities and increased income and employment.

"Four-H youth today are action-oriented," points out Bullard. "They want to be where things are happening, where they can contribute to the welfare of their friends and neighbors. Youth have fresh ideas and are willing to direct their enthusiasm and energy to accomplish worthwhile objectives. We as adults and community leaders must ask them to join us in improving our communities and our livelihood."

Several on-going Extension Service programs in community development are already involving 4-H youth. These include the Texas Community Improvement Program and the 4-H community improvement project demonstration.

"Through an active program in community development, we hope to involve young people in both the planning and implementation of various community programs," points out Bullard. "Youth should be fully involved in real-life experiences in the development of their communities. They must be brought into the decision-making processes of community life."

Involving youth in community development programs can be effective in bringing out their potential. Having them experience roles of responsibility today is an investment in leadership for tomorrow, notes the specialists.

Community development programs involving youth offer young people opportunities to prepare for and meet the technological, economic and social problems of the day, says Bullard. Such "in-depth" experiences could open the door to a more satisfying life for all concerned.

FARM REVIEW

Farmers, Ranchers Fear Federal Controls On Raw Farm Products

Farmers and ranchers are concerned about statements in the national news media that food prices are too high, according to Texas Farm Bureau President J. T. Woodson.

"We in agriculture are afraid that these inflammatory statements might result in popular demand for price controls on raw farm products," the farm leader said. "If this happens, and we are saddled with controls, the consumer will really have something to worry about."

"Prices for agricultural products are not likely to get out of hand," Woodson said. "We will respond to any price increase by producing more. The consumer is protected by the competitive enterprise system in agriculture."

"If, on the other hand, price ceilings are imposed on us," Woodson said, "producers will be forced out of agriculture in droves, and the consumer will pay higher prices for his food. The only way we have survived higher production and living costs up to now is through increases in efficiency."

"Only just now are certain segments of our agricultural industry -- livestock, for example -- beginning to receive decent prices," the farm leader said. "Egg producers are actually selling eggs at or below cost of production. Imagine what it would do to the poultry industry to put a freeze on their current prices."

The farm leader said that farmers and ranchers appreciate some of the statements made in defense of agriculture in recent days. He referred to statements made by President Nixon, Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and Treasury Secretary John Connally.

"These men are in a position to know the true situation in agriculture," Woodson said. "We thank them for telling it like it is."

President Nixon said in a recent press conference that it is a mistake to blame farmers for the food price increase because they receive only one-third of what consumers pay for food.

The other two-thirds goes to the middlemen," Nixon said, adding that the spread has widened and is too great. "The public is being fed a lot of malarky about meat prices," Secretary Butz said in defense of farmers and cattlemen. He added that a food price investigation -- now planned by the Price Commission -- was long overdue. He said farmers were being blamed unjustly for rising food costs, especially for meat, to cover up sharp increases in what he called "hard costs" of processing and distribution.

Woodson said that U.S. Department of Agriculture statistics prove that the farmer's gain in efficiency has helped keep food costs in check. He cited the following facts released by USDA:

--The American farmer produces over 20 percent more on seven percent fewer acres than he did in the period 1957-59.

--In 1970, one U.S. farm worker supplied food and fiber for 47 persons. He supplied 23 persons in the 1957-59 period.

--Retail food prices rose less than three-fourths as much as all other consumer goods in the past decade. Retail food was up some 27 percent while the overall Consumer Price Index was up over 39 percent. --Food expenditures take a declining share of consumer income. Twenty-five years ago, the percent of income spent on food was 24.6. In 1970, the percentage was down to 16.6.

Marketing Specialist Reports Moderate Prices On Vegetables

Fresh asparagus is a sign of spring and this vegetable is now more plentiful, according to Houston consumer marketing specialist Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

"Look for moderate price tags on cabbage, carrots, celery, dry yellow onions and cooking greens," Mrs. Clyatt, who works for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

Strawberries add choice and color to fruit baskets. Grapefruit and oranges had good choices of citrus items. Apples, bananas, tangerines, lemons and pineapples are other fruit choices.

Mrs. Clyatt said that eggs, fryers and turkeys are available at prices that should satisfy the budget-conscious food shopper. These products will remain food bargains. The egg supply continues to be large and egg prices will stay low.

"There will most likely be some retail specials on eggs during the coming week to provide some good bargains in this popular protein food," Mrs. Clyatt said.

Milk and cheese continue to be popular stand-bys.

"Quality and food values remain so consistently high that sometimes we don't realize what a bargain we do get when we put milk and cheese in our market basket," she said.

Beef prices are about the same as last week. There are fewer beef cuts in the ads, but features will be found on whole briskets, chuck steaks, Boston roll roasts, standing rib roasts, ground beef and beef liver.

Several pork cuts are featured this week, but these are scattered. They include large cut chops and boneless Boston butt roasts. Smoked hams of all kinds, bacon,

Brucellosis Eradication Stressed For Texas

The scourge of brucellosis still hangs over Texas, and immediate action is needed to "beef up" the testing program so that the dreaded cattle disease can be eradicated.

Although all Texas counties are in the "Modified-Certified Brucellosis Free" status at present, 127 of these have delinquent herds and will lose their status unless certain requirements are met, points out Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

For a county to retain its Modified-Certified status, the following requirements must be observed:

1. When a brucellosis reactor is disclosed at slaughter, the original herd from which the reactor came must be quarantined and a test date set.

2. Any dairy herd showing a suspicious milk ring test will be quarantined and blood tested at the earliest opportunity.

3. Brucellosis infected herds are required to be retested in not more than 120 days after the last retest as required by state regulations.

Armstrong urges all cattle owners to cooperate in the brucellosis testing program. Loss of the Modified-Certified status would create a severe hardship on all cattle owners in such a county, he adds.

Information on the counties with delinquent herds can be obtained from the Texas Animal Health Commission in Austin. The Commission is boosting its personnel roster to strengthen and facilitate the brucellosis recertification program.

The goal of the U. S. Department of Agriculture is to eradicate brucellosis throughout the nation by 1975, adds the veterinarian.

Coastal Still Going Strong

"Coastal bermudagrass is still among the high-producing, good-quality perennial grasses in Texas," says Dr. Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist at Texas A&M University.

Although Coastal has to be planted from sprigs or vegetative plant material, approximately two million acres are growing in Texas. Furthermore, many farmers and ranchers throughout Texas are planting additional acreages.

"Forage producers and cattlemen recognize its potential for today's high-intensity agriculture," points out Pratt. A strong characteristic of Coastal is its drought tolerance, contends the agronomist. And dry weather in much of Texas last year emphasized this valuable characteristic. Its deep root system enhances drought tolerance.

Another "plus" factor is that Coastal responds well to fertilization. "This means improved protein content," notes Pratt. "In addition to increased grass growth for additional grazing. Fertilization also enhances drought tolerance and helps decrease weeds in Coastal pastures. Soil should be fertilized according to soil test recommendations."

The agronomist recommends planting fresh, viable sprigs in clean, well-prepared seedbeds. Sprigs should be kept cool and moist after digging.

Weed control will allow stands of Coastal to become established more rapidly. A pre-emergence herbicide should be applied at planting, especially if the field is noted for weeds.

"When the grass is fully established, plan to use high rates of plant food and graze the grass short," says Pratt. "These two practices help maintain forage quality and improve livestock performance."

20% DIVIDEND To Eligible Texas Policyholders

Dividends again for the 37th straight year! Last year's dividends alone totaled $10,213,282. More than $108,000,000 has been paid to eligible Texas policyholders! Dividends are just one reason why Texans insure more than 550,000 cars with State Farm Mutual. Not only is State Farm famous for dividends paid year after year, but for convenient semi-annual premiums, fast and fair claim service and hometown service wherever you travel.

Dolly Parton And Porter Wagoner -- Professionals On Stage And Off

SPECIAL TO THE BURKBURNETT INFORMER/STAR -- There seems to be an unwritten rule specifying that the more successful a star becomes, the less time he or she is allowed for a personal life. If a star has many road appearances -- as is the case with most important country music stars -- that automatically eliminates a substantial portion of "home life." Then, when an artist moves into the ranks of "superstar," what little time left "for home" gets hacked even more because of business responsibilities.

Dolly Parton, a remarkably beautiful young lady (early 20s) from the hills of East Tennessee, is a country music superstar. She records for RCA Records, and she is a regular, featured performer with the television and roadshows of the legendary Porter Wagoner.

As a result, Dolly Parton has a tough schedule to maintain. The Porter Wagoner roadshow unit adheres to a routine that has the organization performing at ten to fifteen different locations every month, for example, and Dolly is on stage for all of these appearances. One such appearance will be in nearby Wichita Falls on Friday, May 5, at the Memorial Auditorium.

Much of the time Dolly is home in Nashville for ten days or so. But if there's that much so-called "free-time," she'll be tapping television programs or be involved with ferociously strenuous recording sessions. So, really there's little time left for 100% relaxation.

That being the case, it is easy to see why a celebrity who "has it made" might opt for seclusion during the non-working hours that remain. Anyone, after all, is entitled to a rest period, particularly when there is no financial pressure demanding more nose-to-the-grindstone routine.

Well, this is not the case with Dolly Parton. And there's no special reason for this kind of attitude of hers. Certainly she wants to maintain her high level of success after working so hard to get it. Certainly she loves the country music industry and her fans. And certainly she's created an organization composed of individuals deeply loyal to her and well qualified for their duties as helpers and advisors, but there's a lot more to it.

To anyone working in Nashville's music community, it is easily seen that Dolly Parton spends more than her share of hours working behind the scenes.

Yet she says she finds that she can be doing other things and enjoying them while having her mind on the business too. And she says she gets a lot of ideas by doing simple non-business things.

While the very nature of her work schedule forbids any kind of office routine, her dedication, on the other hand, has attracted the types of persons who help her get much work accomplished with what little time remains for her at home in Nashville.

Shortly before Dolly became a part of the Porter Wagoner performing organization in the summer of 1967, Dolly, with her Uncle Bill Owens--another very successful songwriter--formed Owepar Publishing Company. Owepar now owns the songs she wrote after the formation of the company, and Owepar has the responsibility of getting those songs recorded by as many artists as possible and to promote those recordings once they are made.

In addition to her very active involvement with the publishing company, Dolly has another company, Dolly Parton Enterprises, which handles the many other business activities which, as she soon discovered, became a necessary part of her career.

This company, for example, stands the expense of answering and processing the fan mail. It also pays all other costs that logically can not be considered part of a publishing company's business expenses.

She purposely has kept her business small in terms of personnel. In financial terms, well that's another story, for Owepar Publishing in 1971 ranked No. 4 of all the major country publishers, according to at least one major record industry trade publication. And a lot of dollars have to go into a company's bank accounts in order to get it into that kind of ranking, for there are several hundred music publishing companies in Nashville!

While much technical work, such as accounting, is done by outside firms, she and the persons working with her have full jurisdiction over all other aspects of the operations, such as the creative areas. In other words, top-flight professionals like accountants

BOTH DOLLY PARTON and Porter Wagoner have extensive business involvements, and to help them with many of these enterprises is Louis Owens, one of Dolly's uncles. Because of his dedication to them, and because he is so capable, Louis saves Porter and Dolly many hours of extra work and worry, for he handles all but the most critical problems. Here he reviews some contracts with Porter and Dolly.

take care their own professional areas, while Dolly and her staff control such matters as which songs should be submitted to whom, or how certain inquiries or letters should be answered and by whom.

In fact, mail seems to be the first item of business Dolly tackles when she walks into her offices on 18th Avenue South, in Nashville, just a few blocks from RCA's recording studios.

Their offices are modest, with Dolly and Owepar occupying the right half of the first floor and Porter on the left.

Her first response to a question asking what she does when she comes to the office is, "I take a look at the mail we get." It's natural that mail is a primary concern, for much business is transacted by mail, and much mail comes from fans--the lifeblood of the entertainment industry.

Her next concern is with her songs, for she says, "Generally I'll have an appointment set with an artist who wants to come and listen to some of my songs, and I like to be there personally."

She continues, "And a lot of times I'll come down just to sit and listen, to get filled in on certain things, like developments about the general work routine. Maybe I don't NEED to know, but it's good for me to know."

"And I'm on the telephone a lot when I come to the office. Frequently, for newspapers, I'll do interviews long distance, and many times I have requests to receive appointment calls from disc jockeys who want to interview me 'live' on the air.

"And it seems we're always having pictures taken, for album covers, for publications and newspapers, and for general publicity purposes."

Primary attention really is devoted to two activities in particular. She spends much time turning over new songs to the publishing company.

Once she has finished writing a song, Owepar Publishing must immediately take possession of it, secure a Copy right for it, and take care of such other details as getting the song into the accounting systems so that licenses can be issued and royalty payments can be accounted for properly. Then, if it is a song Dolly won't be recording herself, and if it isn't a song she will "hold" for herself, Owepar must try to get it recorded by somebody else.

Generally she'll "put the song down on tape," which means singing it into a tape recorder so that another musician who specializes in transferring these musical sounds into notes on paper--making lead-sheets--can do this for the song, a requirement before a copyright can be secured. Then, after recording the song, Dolly will dictate the lyrics, which also must appear on the lead-sheet.

Her other main duty at the office is to "go over material" which might be possibilities for recording. This she does with Porter Wagoner, who, with top-flight RCA Producer Bob Ferguson, has much of the responsibility for keeping Dolly's recordings at the top of the world's popularity lists.

Dolly usually has much of her own material ready to record, and she often writes songs that Porter Wagoner will want to record, such as his fabulously successful "The Last One To Touch Me" a hit last winter. Then, since Porter and Dolly are outstanding as a duet recording team, many of her songs are written for "The Duets," as they conveniently refer to themselves.

Dolly's business activities are scheduled and looked-after by one of her uncles, Louis

Owens, who now runs Owepar Publishing and Dolly Parton Enterprises. A remarkable young man, Louis is fanatically devoted to Dolly and works until late every night on her behalf. In addition, Porter Wagoner has come to depend on Louis for top-quality assistance as well, and he always takes pains to make sure everyone knows how much he values Louis.

As Dolly says, "Of course Louis works awful hard. He takes a lot of burden off Porter and me, and he works all the time. Louis runs the Enterprise and the publishing company, and this makes it easier for me and Porter."

Specifically, Louis prefers for Dolly to approve drafts of publicity material and other similar items before they go in for printing or publication. He also saves for her attention copies of magazine stories or newspaper features. He knows Dolly wants to read and answer all her fan mail herself, so he tries to schedule it so that eventually she gets through all of it. Unfortunately, frequently she runs two, three, or maybe even four months behind.

"When I first came to Nashville, I didn't know anything about the business side at all," Dolly explains. "I knew how to sing and write, but I didn't know the business aspects. But we just kinda felt our way along, my Uncle Bill and me. We just used common sense. And I let it be known that we didn't know. I trusted Bill a whole lot. Of course we got into a few contracts that we wished we didn't have, and at times we made a mistake here and there. But our common sense kept us out of real serious trouble, and we tried to make sure we didn't get into anything we couldn't get out of.

"I'm still not qualified to talk over certain types of business things, but Porter is, even if he hasn't been filled in on that particular field. He's still smart enough to where he KNOWS... period. "But I know, for example, that I could negotiate a darned good record contract for myself if I had to," she asserts. "But that's because of what I've learned from Porter, the things you can ask for and that you KNOW you can ask for. We weren't sure about this when we first came to Nashville, and we couldn't demand a lot then, and we didn't have a whole lot going for us because of it. But now I feel like I'm in a position to where I could get what I want in a contract that would be satisfactory to me--if I had to do it myself.

"But I'm happy with where I am now, and I don't have to worry about it as long as Porter is involved with my career."

It's a powerhouse of a show scheduled for Friday, May 5. It stars two great performers who are Complete Professionals off stage and on, two country music industry leaders who don't QUIT working when they leave the stage.

Guidelines of Life

By The Rev. Ed Newhouse
Pastor, Cashion Baptist Church

The topic for my four messages in the month of April will be the walk of the believer. I will begin today with the believer's need to walk with other believers.

Hebrews 10:24-25 -- "And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works. Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is, but exhorting one another, and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching."

Possibly last Sunday, Easter, was the first time is quite a while that you attended services at your church. Did you feel like a stranger? Were there a lot of new faces that you didn't recognize?

It is my hope that this Easter season would find you being spiritually resurrected to new life in Christ and that there would be a new commitment on your part to serve Him daily in fellowship with other Christians.

It is in the warm fellowship of believers that we can find strength, peace and answered prayer. The Christian who keeps himself apart from the fellowship of believers finds himself like the coal which is removed from the center of the fire. It loses heat quickly, and finally gives forth neither heat nor light.

Dallas Orchestra To Perform At MU April 18

For "A Night to Remember," music listeners should plan to join the Dallas Symphony Orchestra and Midwestern University musicians in Memorial Auditorium on Tuesday, April 18 for the 8:15 p. m. cooperative performance.

Ticket proceeds will give worthwhile boost to the Midwestern music scholarship fund to assist talented music students with university expenses.

Among the selections for the evening's program will be Brahms, Rimsky-Korsakov and a composition by Dr. Kent Hughes, MU professor of music and versatile composer. The university choir and chorale will also participate with the orchestra in the presentation of "Polovtsian Dances" from "Prince Igor" by Borodin.

The Dallas Symphony Orchestra is directed by Anshel Brusilow. He has been associated with the musical organization since 1970, and through his vigorous efforts some delightful changes have been accomplished in the audience appeal, enhanced repertoire and variety of program locations.

Dr. Gene Brooks will conduct the combined talents of the Midwestern choral groups. He is the choir director and chairman of the MU music department. The choir is composed of 41 music students who are auditioned and selected for their vocal talents. The 47-voice chorale is made up of Midwestern students who are interested in singing in the group regardless of their major fields of study.

Tickets will be available through McClurkans stores downtown and in Parker Square and at University Affairs office at Midwestern on April 4 after their Easter holidays break.

The 78th Judge tried 32 jury cases in 1971, while 89th Judge Temple Driver tried only 18.

In Cause No. 77, 187-C, 89th Judge Temple Driver was BAMBOOZLED by a DISBARRED LAWYER into signing a default judgment for $4,269.19 AFTER the entire case had been settled and dismissed.

In the "DIRTY MOVIE CASE" (Cause No. 87,174-C) 89th Judge Temple Driver was HORN-SWOGGLED by a fast-talking Houston lawyer into ruling the Texas obscenity law unconstitutional, and ordering all law enforcement officers NOT to enforce the law. THESE OFFICERS WERE TRYING TO CLOSE DOWN A THEATER SHOWING DIRTY MOVIES TWO BLOCKS FROM THE OKLD HIGH SCHOOL IN WICHITA FALLS. The County Attorney appealed to the Texas Supreme Court.

The Texas Supreme Court said Judge Driver's rulings were "CLEARLY ERRONEOUS," but, the Judge's ruling allowed the movie to operate without interference for almost a year. When the Supreme Court ruled, the movie closed down.

SENATOR JOHN TOWER REPORTS

Quality Education Without Busing

Many of you have heard the President outline his proposals for dealing with court ordered busing to achieve racial balance in public schools. Some that address, he has sent to the Congress a pair of legislative proposals in this area. One would impose a moratorium on new busing orders until July 1, of next year, or until the Congress passes substantive legislation, whichever ever is sooner. The second is the Equal Educational Opportunities Act—the substantive legislation the President would like for the Congress to approve.

The latter bill would ensure a quality education to be available at all schools and upgrading of currently substandard schools; and it would establish priorities for desegregation remedies imposing specific limitations on the use of busing. The bill would state that courts may not impose busing until all other remedies have been exhausted. And it would specifically terminate all busing orders, including prior ones, after five years unless specifically re-ordered, and then terminate desegregation orders at the end of 10 years as long as good faith is shown by school districts. Most importantly, the legislation provides that upon application of a local educational agency, any existing busing order would have to be reviewed by the courts and modified to comply with the Act.

It is this last, and I think most important, provision that offers hope to the many situations in our state in which busing has already been ordered by the courts. As you know, I have consistently opposed compulsory busing to achieve racial balance. I have supported a high quality education for all our young people without regard to race; but I have viewed busing and continue to view it as a waste of time and money. Since the President's address, I have heard from many of you expressing either your support for his recommendations or your opposition to compulsory busing. I can assure you that I shall continue my efforts in the Congress to prohibit compulsory busing and to provide a quality education for our young people.

The President, in recommending his legislative action, also said that the Congress should give serious consideration to a Constitutional Amendment to prohibit compulsory busing. I would have preferred a stronger endorsement of this approach for I believe it would have lent important emphasis to this method of solution. The Constitutional Amendment process is, admittedly, cumbersome. Passage requires a two-thirds majority in each house of Congress plus ratifications by three-fourths of the state legislatures. While a majority of the Congress seems to favor a Constitutional Amendment to prohibit compulsory busing, a two-thirds majority is not now in evidence. But simply because the procedure is cumbersome in no way means that it is not the surest method of achieving the goal. While the Supreme Court has the power to void Acts of Congress, it has not the power to rule unconstitutional a Constitutional Amendment. Action is needed more rapidly, however, than a Constitutional Amendment can be passed. So, while we pursue a Constitutional Amendment, we must also work in behalf of legislation which is also designed to prohibit compulsory busing, even though such legislation runs the risk of being voided later by the Supreme Court. Both approaches must be pursued simultaneously by the Congress. Part of the problem of providing a quality education is meeting the increased costs of education, not only in our public schools but in our private and post-secondary schools as well. Earlier in the Congress, I offered two bills which would help meet educational costs. One would provide a tax credit of up to $350 annually to any individual taxpayer who directly bears the financial burden of sending a student to school; the other would offer a tax credit of up to $100 annually to persons, and $1,000 annually to corporations, which make contributions of that size or larger to educational institutions. These bills would expand the financial resources for private and post-secondary schools and at the same time alleviate the tax burden for those individuals bearing the costs of increased school tuition and fees. The provision of a high quality and equal education for all our young people is the goal to be achieved. But taking action which balances educational opportunities between races by lowering some educational opportunities is wrong. Compulsory busing lowers educational opportunities. It forces school districts to spend financial resources, already spread too thinly, on buses and drives instead of books and teachers. It forces students to spend time on buses instead of books

Let's put government into hands we can depend on

When scandal rocks our state government, as it has for more than a year, it is time for Texans to take the reins of government and place them once again into the hands of an honest, capable man. This is a time when Texans need a man to believe in. A man like Dolph Briscoe. His successful experience in business and agriculture, his work in government to provide farm-to-market roads and to eliminate the screwworm have proven him a man Texans can depend on when solutions are needed. His unquestioned reputation for honesty and integrity stand him head-and-shoulders above his opponents. Never has Texas been offered such unacceptable candidates for the office of governor. And never has Texas so urgently needed a man like Dolph Briscoe. May 6, elect Dolph Briscoe governor.

New Image Given To Base Concessions

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas---The Base Exchange food concessions are receiving a new image on base due to the efforts of William Klapp, supervisor for all Base Exchange food facilities on Sheppard.

Mr. Klapp's new concept is to eliminate as often as possible the worn out "Snack Bar and Cafeteria" signs.

The new names for each concession were reached from different sources. Wilson's Place, located in building 643, was named after Wallace Wilson, an employee there for more than twenty years.

The German Air Force held a contest and came up with the name "Speedbrake" for the snack bar in building 2320. Mr. Klapp commented that the name "Hide-Away" was the most appropriate name for the flight-line's snack bar because it is so hard to find.

The main cafeteria, "The Barn," was named so by Mr. Klapp because this was the image he had when first entering the building. He also names the snack bar in the civil engineers compound the "Coffee Shop" because of its most common use.

Mr. Klapp stated that the Service Club's snack bar is now Shep's Den, and the refreshment center at the Golf Course is "Putter's Haven".

The newest addition is "The Patio," located in the 1600 area. This new facility offers airmen the opportunity to enjoy their snack outside on tables provided.

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE

Civil Pilots Urged To Observe 25-Mile Rule

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas---Civilian pilots entering the Wichita Falls area wishing to land at the Sheppard Air Force Base/Wichita Falls Municipal Airport are urged to contact the Sheppard Radar Approach Control (RAPCON) for radar advisories at least 25 miles out.

According to Major Norman A. Benson, flight facilities officer of the 205th Communications Squadron at Sheppard, "this is extremely important, because of the heavy air traffic at the airport."

Aircraft takeoffs, landings and overflights at Sheppard for 1970 surpassed the 400,000 mark, making Sheppard the 28th busiest airport in the United States. Contributing to this number are military aircraft, civil air carriers, and a steadily increasing number of general aviation aircraft.

Recommended points of entry into the traffic pattern are west of the city of Wichita Falls, west of the city of Burkburnett, and over the Wichita Falls Visual Omnid Range Tactical Air Navigation System (VORTAC). The recommended flight altitude, for those overflying or transiting the area is 4,500 feet above ground level. This will give the pilots 500 feet clearance above the airport traffic area.

Once the aircraft has entered the tower's airport traffic control zone, it is under the tower's control. This area is five statute miles in diameter from the center of the airport up to but not including 3,000 feet above the surface.

"The tower will issue instructions on how to land; however, the landing threshold of runway 17 is located directly in front of the control tower and is not parallel to runway 15/33. It is of asphalt construction and difficult to see, so pilots can be easily confused," Major Benson said.

Students in the Undergraduate Pilot Training program at Sheppard fly set patterns. The T-38 traffic pattern is west of the airport at 2,800 feet mean sea level (MSL), and is controlled by the tower. The T-37 aircraft fly on the east side of the airport at 2,000 feet MSL and are controlled by a runway supervisory unit (RSU). Four to six aircraft may be in both patterns at the same time. RAPCON facilities may be controlling the same number of both types of aircraft outside the 12 nautical miles area at the same time.

Robin Matlock Receives Surprise Birthday Party On Sixth Birthday

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas---Robin Rene Matlock, the daughter of TSgt. and Mrs. E. L. Matlock, Jr., of Sheppard AFB was given a surprise birthday party March 22.

On that day she turned six, and to help her celebrate, a representative of the Officers Wives Club from each of the squadrons at Sheppard came with a gift.

Since Feb. 15, Robin has been in a cast covering both legs after being hit by a car in front of her house at 8 Poteet, Wherry housing, Sheppard.

The Officers Wives Club came with toys, clothes and dolls, causing Mrs. Matlock to exclaim later that, "They've been so wonderful to her!"

Sergeant Matlock is a military training instructor with the 3755th Student Squadron, 3750th Technical School.

Sheppard's First Lady Tells Of First Days Here

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas---"I've probably seen places in Wichita Falls that many of the residents haven't seen--especially when I've gotten lost," commented Mrs. Robert L. Petit, wife of the new commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center.

The personable new "first lady of Sheppard AFB" has been here only since March 19 and already has seen many places of interest. She just takes a map and finds her way around.

Mrs. Robert L. Petit

At Sheppard, the charming newcomer has already taken advantage of the library and arts and crafts hobby shop where she became acquainted with the lapidary facilities. She polished her first stone for a setting... an agate.

She is particularly interested in antiques, and already has visited some of the shops here.

Even though she is presently living in temporary quarters at the Bachelor Officers Quarters (BOQ) at Sheppard, she displayed a Celadon, 13th Century Chinese piece, which was her farewell gift from the Hickam Officers Wives Club. She also has a collection of jade snuff bottles which she acquired in Hawaii. These are in lavender and gold as well as the more familiar green.

A woman of many interests, Virginia Petit says that she is interested in the area where she lives, whether it be in Turkey, England, Hawaii, California or Texas.

This is her first time to live in Texas, even though she spent some time visiting in Houston with an aunt in her earlier years.

When General Petit was assigned to RAF Lakenheath, England, she went camping "all over Europe" with their two sons, Richard, now 25; and Michael, now 21. Richard is a senior student at the University of Hawaii where he is majoring in business. Michael is a junior at the University of California at Los Angeles where he is majoring in art and English.

Both of the sons expect to come to Sheppard this summer.

When they were in Washington, D.C., Mrs. Petit ran antique shows, sold real estate; in Hawaii, she was on the Executive Board of the Hawaiian Symphony and was interested in the Academy of Art.

Among her varied activities are playing golf, sewing and while in England she did brass rubbings. She also has two poodles, Rapsy and Cherie, which she sometimes shows.

A native of California, Mrs. Petit attended schools in California, and received a degree from the University of Redlands in Redlands, Calif.

To Honor Mrs. Robert L. Petit

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas---Mrs. Robert L. Petit, wife of the new commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, will be honored with a formal tea given by the Sheppard Officers Wives Club.

The tea will be held Thursday, April 6, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Mandaley - Caravan Room of the Sheppard Officers Club.

Wives of all Officers Club members are invited to attend. Mrs. Norman Benson is chairman for the event.

Still In Hospital

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas---Maj. Gen. Jerry D. Page, former commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, has been moved to a private room from intensive care at the U.S. Air Force Regional Hospital at Sheppard.

His condition continues to improve, according to hospital officials. However, he still may not have visitors.

Chamber Hears Bob Browder

BURKBURNETT — Members and guests of Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce Monday heard Robert H. Browder, community development consultant for Texas Electric Service Co outline and discuss area industrial development.

Speaking at the group's regular monthly membership meeting in the new Burk Burnett Civic Center, Browder told the crowd there was a need as a community to work with existing industry and stressed the need to share in expansion and to work closely with it.

"Prospective industry for this area is better than it ever has been," consultant Browder observed. "You have some real good industries here and have worked real hard to get them."

Speaking of the chamber's industrial team, Browder noted, "Burkburnett will continue to be successful because of the fine leadership in attracting industry. Industry creates more jobs for the residents of small towns who might otherwise

Browder was speaking to the group in conjunction with industrial week at Burk Burnett. Bill Vincent of the chamber introduced Browder.

Browder is connected with the industrial team training program sponsored by the utility company through which towns train a community sales organization in the presentation of statistical information to industrial prospects.

Reid McCandless, president of the organization, presided at the luncheon.

McCandless told the group the chamber directors would meet Thursday at noon at the civic center.

know what this is, let me explain. It's an old tradition at Burk High in which the girls ask the boys for a date. Most of the girls feel like this is real advantage for them because for once they have the upper hand. Instead of the girls sitting around waiting to be asked out, they can make the boys suffer for awhile. I think this is a very good idea, but most boys have a slightly different opinion.

All the students are to dress up looking like a Lil' Abner or Daisy Mae. Classes will go on as usual (or as usual as they can on a day like this). The lunch hour will be combined from 11:45 - 12:30 so every girl can take her favorite guy for a picnic.

During lunch, "Marrying Sam" Chris Strayhorn will perform marriage ceremonies in the main hall for 10¢.

During fifth hour there will be an assembly where various clubs and organizations will present skits. There will also be a Mammy and Pappy Yokum contest in which teachers vie for the honors and a Mr. and Miss Dogpatch contest. There will also be a dance at the Youth Center from 9:00-12:30.

Today during school the FTA (Future Teachers of America) are student teaching in various grade levels of the school system from first grade through eighth grade. Each year every member is able to replace a teacher in whatever grade and subject he chooses. This is very valuable to the student in deciding whether he can take the daily strain of being a teacher.

The MYF of the First Methodist Church attended a Sunrise Easter Pageant in Fort Worth over the holidays. John Page, Len Brown, and Roger Rooney accompanied the group. The MYF slept on the floor of the church in which John Page worked while going to college there. The worst part wasn't sleeping in the floor, but wondering if the old creaky bus would make it that far and back . . . It did, and the group had a great time.

TWO OF THE TOPS IN TOURNERY - Two of the top contenders in the first annual Bulldog Invitational Golf Tournament Friday will be David Andrajack, left, and Jody Southerland, right. Standing between the golfers is golfing coach, Bob Carpenter.

Bulldogs To Host Golf Tourney Friday At SAFB

The Burk Burnett Bulldogs will be hosting their first invitational golf tournament Friday at Sheppard Air Force Base, according to coach Bob Carpenter. He stated that some of the best young golfers in this area of Texas and the southern part of Oklahoma are expected for the tourney.

Burkburnett's own David Andrajack is currently leading the local district with teammate Jody Southerland also in the high ranks. The local golf team has competed well thus far states Carpenter and has a good chance of walking away with the team trophy.

The eighteen-hole medal play tourney will get underway at 9:30 a.m.

The tourney will be based upon a 16-team field which includes varsity teams from Anadarko, Lawton Eisenhower, Lawton High, Frederick, Altus, Notre Dame, Vernon, Graham, Weatherford, Jacsboro, Stephenville, Iowa Park, Burk Burnett and due to conflicting schedules of the A teams, the "B" teams of Rider, Wichita Falls High, and Hirschi.

Each participating school will enter a 5-man team with the team championship being determined by the lowest four scores. The medalist will be the player having the lowest score.

There will be trophies awarded to the first place team, each of its members, the second place team, the medalist, and the runner-up medalist.

John L. Keith On Dean's Honor List

A total of 168 students in the School of Engineering of Lamar University are on the Dean's List for the 1971 Fall semester.

Lloyd B. Cherry, dean of the school, announced the academic honor roll. To qualify, students have to take 12 or more hours of work. Fresh-

Burk Over Rider, 1-0

David Tipton, Burk Burnett junior hurler, led the Bulldogs to a hard-fought 1-0 victory over Rider High School Friday. The game, which was played at Hoskins Stadium in Wichita Falls, started slow and the action did not build up until the fifth inning.

This inning was the big one for Burk. Monty Patton led the inning off with a single. On a sacrifice bunt by catcher Bob Knox, Patton moved up to second and then took third on an infield hit by Benny Wilkinson. Patton then scored the only run of the game when Wilkinson stole second base. Patton raced home before the ball could be relayed to home base from second.

The Bulldogs threatened to score again in the sixth when Rod Roberts singled, Mike Tipton doubled, and David Todd walked. However Willis, the Rider pitcher, was able to retire the next two batters to save the score.

Bulldog pitcher David Tipton allowed only two hits, while Phil Willis of Rider gave up four. Tipton's season record is 2 wins, 1 loss and an earned run average of .095.

The Burk season record is 5 wins, 2 losses. The leading hitter is Mike Tipton with .438 batting average and the second base.

The next home game for the Bulldogs will be April 21 against Byers.

Cancer Tests Cut Death Rate

Thousands of women in this country are alive and well today because of a simple, quick and painless cancer test. With less trouble or discomfort than getting a hairset, a woman can have a Pap test.

The Pap test, discovered and developed by a brilliant Greek immigrant scientist, Dr. Papanicolaou, can detect uterine cancer in a very early stage. Cancer is a disease which in many cases can be cured if caught before the cancer cells spread. It is therefore a terrible and unacceptable tragedy that about 13,000 American women died from uterine cancer last year.

The fact is that the death rate from this form of cancer has been cut by more than half in the last 30 years. And now the American Cancer Society has set itself a goal -- to have all American adult women take the Pap test by 1976.

Quite literally this can practically wipe out deaths from uterine cancer.

This April hundreds of thousands of volunteers will be visiting American homes. These Cancer Crusaders will be delivering a leaflet telling about the Pap test and how it can save your life -- as a woman -- or the lives of the women in your life. When the volunteer comes to your home, heed this message. And help spread it far and wide by contributing generously to the cancer Crusade.

Weekly Health Tip
from Joe Gillespie

There are no diseases caused by age -- the mere passage of time. The shaky hand, the tottering gait, result from lack of proper exercise and condition. The forgetful mind results from lack of stimulation. The cure for signs of aging are proper diet and physical and mental exercise.

Farm Expo Wednesday

Area farmers and ranchers will have an excellent opportunity to view virtually every type of agricultural equipment at the North Texas Farm Expo in Wichita Falls. Almost 200 exhibits from all over the United States will be featured, including the most modern new developments in farm and ranch equipment. Many of the inside exhibits have been designed with the lady of the house in mind, and will feature such items as cosmetics and the newest development in embroidery paraphernalia.

John White, Commissioner of Agriculture will cut the ribbon to officially open the show at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday. Show hours will be from 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. each day.
