RAYMOND GREENWOOD

Here we are living in the land of the free and the home of the brave and in the country where tens of thousands of men have died that we might have the freedoms guaranteed in our Bill of Rights and our Constitution. One of the freedoms that these men fought the hardest for was the freedom of speech. Yet, again the sound of a gun enters and our freedom of speech is curbed.

It is a sad state of affairs when a man can no longer take a stand and say what he believes and has to fear for his life. It is a sad state of affairs when our public officials and our leaders live in constant fear for their life. I know that this has to have an effect on the way they do their job.

I was greatly saddened when I heard of the attempted assassination of Alabama Governor George Wallace. True, I never agreed with all of his theories nor all of his actions, but I respected him for standing up and saying what he believed. Even though this man has been labeled a "radical" by many, if he was elected, he couldn't completely turn everything around or change everything in Washington over night. By the very nature of the way our government is set up, I don't believe one single individual can get everything changed his way. There are just too many others in the government that keep a check on our president.

In the past decade we have seen more assassinations or attempted assassinations of prominent officials than we have in all of the prior history of the United States. Outlaw guns you say, this will stop the killing. But will it really?

We look back at the period of years and years that the men of this country carried a rifle in their hand or a pistol at their side, daily, yet there was not this rash of senseless killing of our leaders of our country.

Surely it must have been easier for one man to kill another in those days when it was a common sight to see a gun on an individual, when protection for officials was minimal or unheard of, and when there weren't all of these modern ways to catch the criminal.

I would be embarrassed to have to face a citizen of another country and have him ask me why all of the killings and civil disturbance.

I guess I could tell him that really it is only a few radicals, only a minute percentage of the UNLOADS HYDRAULIC PRESSES--Huge crane is shown as it unloads one of two 35,000 pound hydraulic presses received by CIBA Pipe Systems, Friday.

CIBA Receives Two Molding Presses Friday

CIBA Pipe Systems, one of Burk Burnett's largest industries, received two special molding presses to add yet another phase to their production.

The two 35,000 lb. presses arrived Friday afternoon and are expected to be in operation within two weeks. The hydraulic presses will be used to mold fiberglass fittings for CIBA's pipe. Prior to this, this phase of production was farmed out to another firm.

Larry Watts, plant engineer, reported to the INFORMER/STAR that several new employees will be hired as a result of the new equipment.

The only alteration that had to be made in the existing facility to any extent was that a foundation for the presses had to be poured. "Because of their excessive weight, we had to dig down some 14 feet to a solid foundation, then fill the hole with concrete," stated Watts.

CIBA Pipe Systems came to Burk Burnett in May of 1968 and constructed a 68,000 sq. ft. manufacturing floor just off what is now CIBA Rd. There they manufacture fiberglass-epoxy in 2, 2, 4, and 6 inch diameter.

The plant, with Dr. Jacques Barman as plant manager, produces over four million feet of pipe annually with world wide distribution. They employ approximately 120 employees and list an annual payroll of $900,000.

CIBA's exclusive formula for fiberglass bonded with performance-tested epoxy resins produces what is believed to be the strongest, most durable and corrosion-resistant pipe available anywhere.

Fiberglass-epoxy pipe was originally introduced about a decade ago to combat oil-field corrosion. It is resistant to sweet and sour crudes, salt water, natural gas with high hydrogen sulfide content, and to all soils and atmospheres.

Hinkle Hauls In First Wheat

J.C. Hinkle of Burk Burnett was the first farmer to bring a load of 1972 wheat to the local Bunge Elevators. Hinkle was only a couple of hours short of bringing in the first load of wheat for Wichita County. He hauled in the load of 107 bushels at 5:15 p.m. Monday.

Max Goetze, who farms about 900 acres of wheat six miles north of Iowa Park, delivered about a third of a load to Robert Johnson Grain Co. of Iowa Park at 2:30 p.m. Monday to claim the first load of Wichita County wheat.

Hinkle's wheat came from one of his farms located off Texas 240 just outside of Burk Burnett. He stated that the average yield for the acreage cut for the first load will be approximately 15 bushels and that the entire field would average 15-20 bushels per acre.

Hinkle received a premium check for $25 from Bunge Elevators and a check for $25 from the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce Agri-Business Committee for the first load of Texas wheat brought into the Burk Burnett elevator.

The starting price for 1972 wheat is up over last year's price. Hinkle received 1.49 per bushel. Bunge Elevators also listed prices at .95 for barley, .80 for oats and 1.90 entire population, that are stirring up all the trouble. This would be true, but where did these individuals come from? This is the sad part of the story. We raised these people. We helped them become this way. WE are the ones to blame.

I, for one, believe that the biggest percentage of our trouble as a nation began, not on the state level, or possible not on the community level, but in our homes. For if our homes were the typehomes that they should be and that God intended for them to be, then I don't feel like there would be this much unrest and disturbance in our nation and in the world.

So really, I think we all have to share the blame for these gross happenings in recent years, and I think it is up to us all to help change this trend and to do this we must begin at the very bottom of the element, at our home level.

The Student Council held its annual awards program at the high school Wednesday morning. This program, which doubled as a patriotic assembly, gave students a chance to be recognized for their extracurricular work during the year. The Student Council and National Honor Society members were presented certificates for their service in the clubs, and the new Student Body officers were introduced. They included Chris Strayhorn, President; Dwight Caldwell, Vice President; Cindy Long, Secretary; and Sherry Key, Treasurer.

The new Quill and Scroll members were also announced. This is a group of journalism students who have displayed outstanding work to their teachers. The students named are Sedelta Verble, Susan Barad, George Bauers, Richard Adams, Marcie Long, Cindy Long, Diane Awtry, Stephanie Muller, Ranette Hudson, and Suzanne Bowers.

Individual awards were presented to Lynn Ralston as best Thespian, and David Powell was recognized for his hard work as the Bulldog mascot. He will be presented with a Burkburnett letter jacket for this hard work. A very special announcement was made concerning the "Spirit" school newspaper. Sedelta Verble was named as next year's editor.

Several students were recognized for their participation in the many various U.I.L. contests, including chorus, literary events, secretarial events, number sense, slide rule, science, spelling, and the one-act play.

The band and chorus added to the program by playing and singing several patriotic selections.

T.A. Templeton's To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

An open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. Theodore A. Templeton on their 50th wedding anniversary will be held Friday, May 26 in their home at 201 North Avenue D, from 2:00 to 8:00 p.m.

The Templetons moved to Burkburnett in 1967 after he had retired as electrical inspector with Corps of Engineers.

Co. HD Agent Speaks To Local Club

Nineteen members and three guests were present at the regular meeting of the Cooper Home Demonstration Club to hear County Agent, Joyce Smith, talk concerning electric decorating.

Mrs. J.W. Tole was hostess and Miss Amelia Spencer was program chairman.

The president, Mrs. Bee Bryant, opened the meeting by reciting a poem.

Following roll call, reports were given by the treasurer, and corresponding secretary. Recreation and refreshments were enjoyed by the group. The next meeting will be May 22 in the home of Spencer.

Texas Parks And Wildlife Set Quail Season Bass Limit

Statewide standardization of the quail season, daily bag and size limits on black bass and expansion of the either-sex deer harvest are some of the game and fish law changes to be aired in 228 public hearings in counties under regulatory authority of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Department officials will hear testimony from anyone interested in being heard on any of the proposed changes, and the text of these comments will be submitted to the Parks and Wildlife Commission before it takes final action on the proposals.

Locations and times for the meetings were announced earlier by the department, but such information is available from local department offices or from game management officers.

The statewide quail season under the proposed change would be the Saturday nearest Nov. 15 through the Sunday nearest Feb. 15. Bag and possession limits also would be standardized as 12 and 36.

Proposed changes in regulations concerning black bass should prove interesting to bass fishermen. The proposal would impose a daily bag limit of 20 and a possession limit of 20. Currently there is no bag or possession limit on bass.

In addition, no more than five bass over 18 inches in length would be allowed, and any bass taken into possession (placed into a live box, stringer or other device) could not then be returned to the water.

The either-sex deer harvest proposal would expand the either-sex concept to approximately 40 additional counties, bringing the total number of participating counties to approximately 68.

Department officials point out that all the proposals and public discussions of them will be presented to the commission for consideration. The proposed changes apply only to the 228 counties under the department's regulatory authority.

Other suggested changes to be brought out for discussion at the hearing include:

- Legalization of the taking of antlerless deer during the special archery season in counties where antlerless deer have been harvested during the regular deer season in the immediate past. (The taking of antlerless deer during the archery season already is lawful in nine counties by statute).

--A tightening of restrictions on tagging of deer carcasses.

--Removal of the statewide 11-inch minimum size limit on catfish.

--Addition of brown trout to the five per day limit on trout in the Guadalupe River below Canyon Dam, and placing of an eight-inch minimum size limit on both brown and rainbow trout.

--Closing of the turkey season in Brazos, Grimes, Madison, McLennan and Milam Counties.

Titus Counties to the Saturday nearest Nov. 15 through the first Sunday in January, unless that date falls after Jan. 4, in which case the season would close Jan. 1. This would align these counties with the other counties which have a major-length season.

--Removal of catfish from the list of fish may legally be taken in a trammel net, hoop net or gill net in the Northeast and Southeast Regulatory Districts.

--Require that trotline tags be re-dated every 90 days.

Thorny Rangeland Gives Ranchers Control Problems

Rough, thorny Texas rangeland presents its own problems to ranchers who are trying to control brush with ground-spraying equipment.

"Conditions often prevent aerial spraying, yet very little ground spraying is done because of the lack of equipment tailored to withstand the rigors of rangeland," says Harold Wiedemann, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station engineer at Lubbock.

He is part of a Texas A&M University brush control team of scientists who are studying and testing different and safer methods of improving rangeland conditions.

One of Wiedemann's jobs is to develop a practical ground-spraying system suitable for rough, remote range country. This would be a follow-up procedure to control sprout growth of mesquite, whitebrush, weeds and other range plants after large scale brush control.

"Flat tires have been our most serious problem," says the engineer, "but they have been significantly reduced by using a special rear tractor tire with a steel inertread." This type tire is widely used in the logging industry, but appears suitable for rangeland.

"A set of logger tires, used in conjunction with our research studies at the Spur Headquarter Ranch in Dickens County, has been in continuous operation for more than a year, with only one flat," the researcher reports.

Flats on front tractor tires have been reduced by using old high-ply truck tires as out-ereads. The truck tire's bead and small portion of the sidewall were removed to aid the installation. Airplane or solid laminated tires will also work.

A bulldozer blade mounted on the tractor has been found to be very useful in moving logs and knocking over trees which block the tractor's path while spraying.

Most large, modern tractors are equipped with both 1,000 and 540-rpm power take off units. Since spraying requires very little horsepower, the tractor engine can be operated at half its rated speed; then the 1,000 rpm unit power take off can operate a standard 500-rpm spray pump. In tests, the researchers have found this can save up to 30 per cent on fuel consumption.

"A heavy-gauge metal, canopy-type sprayer with a three-inch channel iron frame and flexible wings has withstood the rigors of rangeland exceptionally well," Wiedemann says. The unit looks like a 15-foot shredder and can deliver ultra-low volumes of herbicide.

"But further testing is necessary to rate the unit's effectiveness," he warns.

Although few ranches own a small crawler-type tractor, this type of equipment with a bulldozer blade on the front has proven successful in ground-spraying studies.

Improvements in low-volume application will allow economical brush control on remote land. This will ease the problem of high expense and lost time required to move large volumes of water and diesel to these sites. Experiments in 1970 at Spur showed that five gallons per acre of herbicide solution were usable on mesquite.

When buying margarine, don't just close your eyes and grab one.

Wichita SWCD Gets Award

The Wichita Soil and Water Conservation District has been named among the outstanding districts in the United States in the 25th Annual Goodyear Conservation Awards Contest.

The local district was runner-up winner in the northern section of Texas. The winning districts were selected by an independent committee of state conservation leaders on the basis of the district's planning, leadership and achievement last year. The competition is sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company in cooperation with the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD).

The Wichita District will be honored May 13 at the annual Texas Conservation Awards Program in Fort Worth. Donald Hill, chairman, and SCS District Conservationist Gary Batte of Iowa Park will attend.

Today's homemakers can choose regular, whipped, soft or diet margarine. How do these types of margarines differ? Which is the best buy? The answer to these questions depends on your family budget and how you plan to use the margarine.

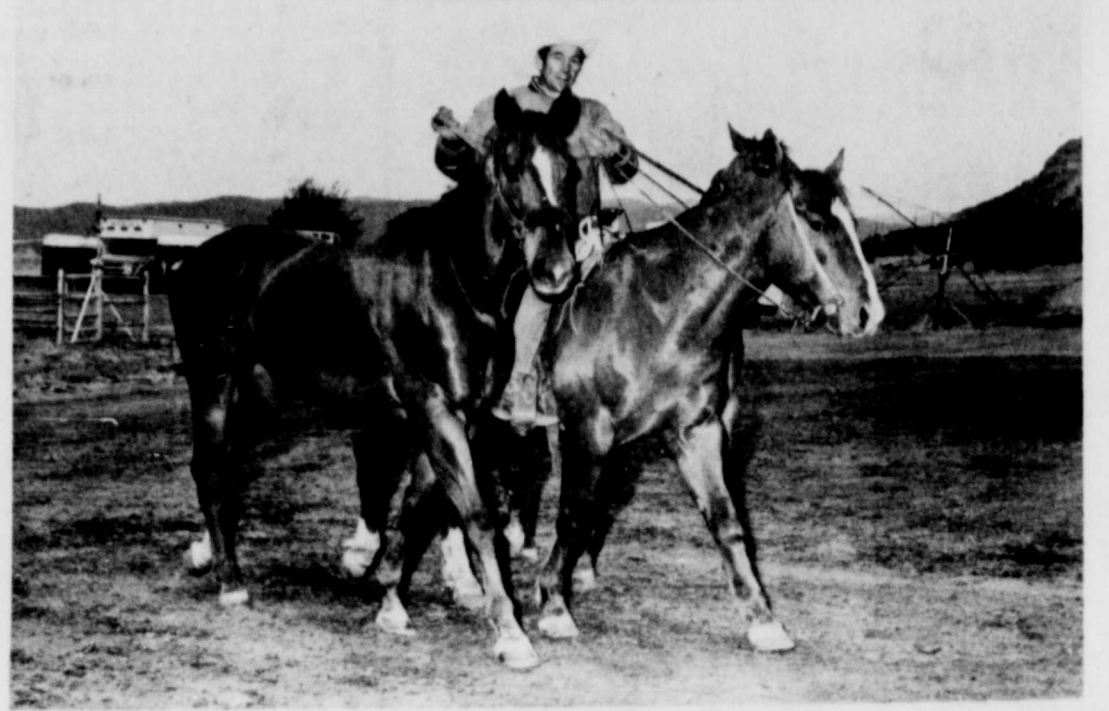

The law requires that all margarine must contain 80 per cent fat unless the product is intended as a diet substitute. And a diet substitute must be labeled "imitation" or "diet". Package labels must also state the type of fat or fats used to make the margarine.

"Soft, whipped and diet margarine all cost more than regular margarine. You pay additional money for the whipping, extra ingredients and any other additional processes needed to make the margarine ready-to-spread, fluffy or low calorie.

Another difference between whipped and regular types of margarine is the volume per weight. For example, one pound of regular margarine contains two cups of margarine. A pound of whipped margarine contains three cups because milk and air have been added.

The difference poses a problem when baking since the cook can't substitute one-half cup of whipped margarine for one-half cup of regular margarine or butter. If the substitution were made, the baked product would not contain enough fat and would contain too much liquid.

Whipped margarine, although more costly, is convenient whenever you desire a soft, fluffy spread. However, choose the regular type of margarine if you want a better buy for your money or if you want to use margarine for baking.

CHAMPION AGED QUARTER RUNNING MARE of 1971, JOLLY JET DECK, is ready for the first all distance series race on La Mesa Park's big opening week-end, Saturday and Sunday, May 13 and 14. Trainer Dale Hunt, from Fort Collins, Colorado, ponies the fleet daughter of Jet Deck, owned by Hugh Preston, Jr., Burkburnett, Texas. "The Friendly Western Track" will offer 55 days of racing during its Twenty-Seventh Annual Race.

Jolly Jet Deck Lead Contender This Season

Lil Smoothy, ranked fourth nationally in the 1971 champion two-year-old filly ranks, heads the impressive list of exciting horses set to match strides at La Mesa Park this season.

Owned by the nation's top owners, Van Berg Stables, and trained by Jack Van Berg, perennial leading trainer in number of races won, the daughter of Lil' Fella and Smoothness won last year's "Land of Enchantment" Futurity and remains eligible for this season's rich "Enchantment Derby."

Racing Secretary T. A. "Andy" Gillespie reports that all of La Mesa Park's stakes races are headed for all-time high purse records and the calibre of horses set to compete looks the best ever.

"The Friendly Western Track" is bustling with activity as preparations are being completed for its Twenty-Seventh Annual 55-day Racing Season opening this Saturday and Sunday, May 13 and 14, to run through September 10. The first two week-ends will feature twelve races daily on Saturdays and Sundays with a 1 p.m. MDT post time. Friday racing, featuring ten races and 3 p.m.

MDT post time, begins May 26. Saturday, Sunday and Memorial Day Monday will have the regular twelve races with 1 p.m. MDT post time.

The Fifth Running of the "Land of Enchantment" Futurity slated for Sunday, August 6, with 213 well-bred freshmen still eligible, is now estimated to reach the $175,000.00 mark. Billed as "the richest two-year-old thoroughbred race between Chicago and Los Angeles," the stakes has attracted nationwide attention to La Mesa's thoroughbred racing program as its past winners have all been ranked among the nation's top five two-year-olds.

Thirty-six sophomores remain eligible for the Fourth Running of the "Land of Enchantment" Derby July 23. Purse for the sparkling mile affair should reach the new all-time high of $65,000.00.

The new thoroughbred "Scotch Foursome" Spring Futurity June 25 and Fall Futurity September 4, with "Lassie" and "Laddie" Divisions, are also being well-received by horsemen.

Jolly Jet Deck, Champion Aged Quarter Running Mare of

1971, heads the list of tough competitors entered in the track's quarter horse stakes races. Owned by Hugh Preston, Jr., Burkburnett, Texas, the daughter of Jet Deck holds two track records on the Raton straightaway and won last season's All Distance Series Championship.

316 two year - old quarter horses are still eligible for the July 4 Oklahoma Futurity, estimated to be worth a whopping total of over $200,000.00; 85 are in the $150,000.00 Raton Futurity July 30; 51 in the $25,000.00 Kansas Derby July 16; 45 in the $30,000.00 Raton Derby September 10; 46 in the $35,000.00 Oklahoma Derby June 11; and 21 in the All Distance Series, with an estimated total of $30,000.00 for the seven prestige races.

Hog Cholera Still On Loose In Several Texas Counties

Hog cholera is still on the loose in Texas, and unless farmers and others use certain precautions, the situation could get much worse, says Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The most recent case of hog cholera has come up in Nueces County. That county was placed under a state quarantine on May 6. Moore County in the Panhandle was also quarantined recently when an infected herd was found. Five other counties in the state remain under state quarantine. They are all in South Texas and include Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr, Webb and Willacy.

Armstrong emphasizes that the purpose of the quarantines is to limit the movement of hogs. Then, if sick animals are detected, animal health officials can be notified and the animals can be properly disposed of.

Legion To Hold Meet In Wichita

Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from Frye-Vaughn Post 264 will be attending their Division convention at Post 169 in Wichita Falls this weekend, stated local Commander Jim Lemley. Registration begins at 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday, May 20, at Post 169 on Lake Shore Drive.

A reception hour for Department (State) Commander Gil Moody of Lubbock and Department President Mrs. Theo Hill of San Antonio will begin at 5 p.m. followed by a joint banquet for Legionnaires and Auxiliary members at 6:20 p.m. Past Department Commander Joe L. Matthews of Fort Worth, and candidate for National Commander is the guest speaker.

Registration will resume Sunday at 8 a.m. with a Past Division Commanders breakfast beginning at this time for all Legionnaires and Auxiliary members. For the sleepyhead, coffee and donuts will be served at 9 a.m. A joint session for the Legion and Auxiliary will be started at 10 a.m. Sunday and the regular business for both getting under way at 10:30.

Commander Lemley states that Frye-Vaughn Post 264 will be closed both Saturday and Sunday so all members can attend this convention. He further stated that items of interest to local members will be brought out at this convention, and urges all to attend at least one of the two day convention.

On Saturday night, Frye-Vaughn Post 264 Dance Band has the honor of performing for the convention dance beginning at 9 p.m.

The 1972 Stage 4-H Horse Show will be held July 19-22 in the Joe Freeman Coliseum in San Antonio. This will be of interest to all 4-H Horse Club members. Several new events have been added to the show this year. Two roping events will feature timed breakaway roping and the judged roping horse. In English competition, events will include English pleasure, working hunter, hunterhack and open jumper.

All of these events plus cutting horses and drill team competition are open invitational. Competition in the halter, showmanship, western pleasure, reining, pole bending and barrel racing events will be limited to those qualifying at the various district horse shows.

During the last half of May, some 22,000 Texas farmers will receive a crop acreage questionnaire from Charles E. Caudill, Agricultural Statistician for the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin, Texas.

This information will be the basis for determining the planted acreage for the State of Texas and for each county. There are 254 counties in Texas, and reports are needed from many farmers who receive a questionnaire to fill it out.

The Texas Legislature has provided a program of estimates for each county. Texas covers such a wide area that State totals alone do not provide adequate information on Texas' most basic industry - agriculture. This is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

We would like to remind you again of the small grain variety tour to be held Thursday, May 18. Three demonstration plantings in the county will be visited on the following schedule:

8:30 - 9:30 a.m. - John Turner Farm, Puncin Center Community

10:00 - 11:00 a.m. - Glass Farm, Clara-Fairview Community

11:00-12:00 a.m. - Crumpler-Montgomery Farm, Friberg Community.

Dr. Dale Lovelace, Agronomist from Vernon, and Mr. Keith Lahr, Research Agronomist from Chillicothe Experiment Station, will be on hand to discuss the small grain and variety test plots and discuss insects and disease of small grain. They will answer any questions you may have.

After the tour the group will have a "Dutch" meal at Under-

Area Buyers Find Way To Sheppard Surplus Sale

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Buyers come from Lawton Okla., Vernon, Henrietta, Graham, Burkburnett, and town: all around Wichita Falls, Tex. to bid for the chance to purchase surplus government property at the spot bid sale, held by the Redistribution and Marketing office at Sheppard AFB.

The merchandise for a recent sale ranged from military service shoes to a four cylinder jeep; from office supplies to a radio transmitter. In all, 165 items were offered during the auction.

When deemed unusable by the military, the material is then allocated to redistribution and marketing for distribution to other government agencies for public sale. If the items are of local interest, they are reserved for a spot bid sale. Material of national interest is sold on a sealed bid basis by mail through the Defense Surplus Sales office in Fort Worth, Tex.

Registration for spot bid sales begin at 8 a.m. on the day of the sale, with the merchandise available for inspection between 8 and 9 a.m. Inspection of the property can also be made beginning 10 days prior to the sale.

Each buyer is given a number upon registration. When he submits an offer, this number must appear on his bidder card.

Two employees of the Defense Surplus Sales Office conduct the bidding, which begins at 9 a.m.

Customers quietly concentrate on their bidding forms as the auctioneer calls out the numbers of the items. The buyers then write the number of the item they wish to bid for, in addition to their signature, on a bid card and it is carried to the auctioneer by R&M employees.

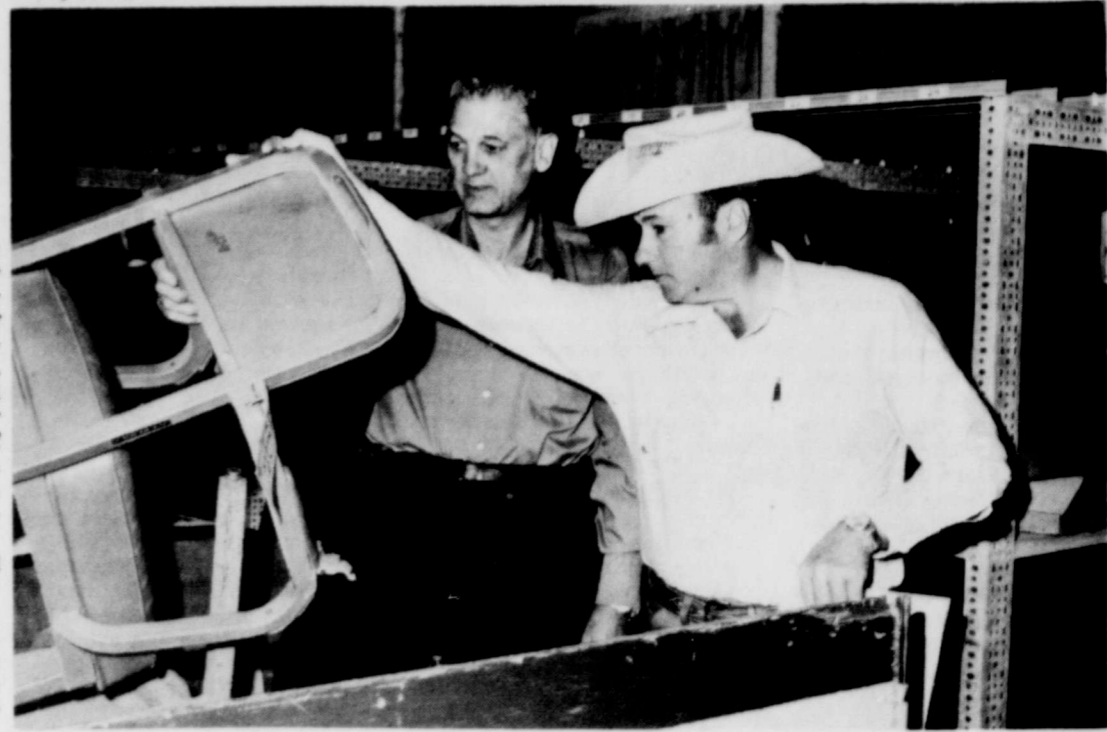

The highest bid for any particular item wins the merchandise. In the event of a tie, the bids are folded and drawn from a hat to determine who will buy the item.

James Crossland, the R&M officer and a former Air Force master sergeant who has been in redistribution and marketing since 1953, has predetermined what price will be the lowest that will be accepted for each item. If the bids are lower than this price, it is rejected and the merchandise is held until the end of the sale to be resubmitted for bidding.

Following the actual auction, buyers have the opportunity to pay for and remove their property from the R&M warehouses. They have until the Thursday following the sale (one week) to pick up the merchandise.

Money collected at the recent sale, approximately $6,000 will be used to finance R&M activities.

"I think that we have had excellent participation in the sales," said Mr. Crossland. "We plan to have more in the future."

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--SURPLUS SALE--W.E. Reichert, right, examines some property prior to the bidding at the Redistribution and Marketing spot bid sale at Sheppard AFB. Aiding him is James Crossland, R&M officer. Mr. Reichert is one of many civilians who attend each sale.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--SELF STUDY--Maj. Gen. Robert L. Petit, left, commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, and Col. Thomas B. Miller, commander of the 3750th Technical School, discuss the new self study publication, which relates the programs and activities of the school and its supporting organizations to 12 quality standards established by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS). The association's Executive Committee will review the self-study and team report, then make a recommendation on the school's accreditation to the Delegate Assembly at its annual meeting in December 1972.

Capt. David S. Kulow Jr. Officer Of Qtr. Nineteen

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Capt. David S. Kulow, public health nurse clinician, was presented a pen set for being selected as Senior Officer of the Quarter of Sheppard Technical Training Center during ceremonies recently.

In a letter to Captain Kulow, General Petit stated, "You have been selected as the Sheppard junior officer of the quarter for the period Jan. 1 to March 31, 1972. You may be justly proud of this distinction as competition for this award was extremely keen among your contemporaries."

"The outstanding manner and spirit in which you have accomplished your assigned tasks reflect the highest credit upon you as an officer, the U.S. Air Force Regional Hospital and the United States Air Force," he said.

The captain, who developed and placed into operation a visiting nurse service at the hospital, was nominated for his outstanding work with this program.

"I appreciate the honor which I've received," stated Captain Kulow. "But I feel that my accomplishments are only as a part of the team effort which extends from the hospital commander to the technicians and we are all just a part of the Air Force team."

"The supervision afforded here is great. It provides the necessary guidance; but at the same time allows for creativity in work," the captain explained. Captain Kulow came on active duty with the Air Force at Sheppard in August 1970. He received a master of science degree from Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio earlier that year.

Base Union Terms Signed

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Lloyd B. Skinner, president of Local 779, National Federation of Federal Employees (NFFE), and Co. S.D. Berman, commander at Sheppard AFB, signed a new agreement between the base and the union in ceremonies Friday.

The union represents all Sheppard non-supervisory General Schedule employees in matters concerning personal policies and working conditions.

After being ratified by Headquarters U.S. Air Force and the NFFE National Office, the new agreement will supersede the present agreement which has been in effect since June 1969.

The ceremonies were the climax of good faith bargaining sessions between the management team, headed by Col. Amos Ross, chief of the Department of Communications and Missile Training, 3750 Technical School, and Mr. Joe Fowler, chairman of the union negotiating team.

Also on the union team were Sam Stafford, Charles Schoeppey, and Carl Story. Joseph Logan, Tom Barnett, and Mrs. Faye Gibbs served as alternates.

On Colonel Ross' team were Capt. Claud McIver, Lorne Davis and Leon Little, with John Morley, Phillip Bail, and Capt. Melvin Howell as alternates.

Five Civilians Presented With Special Awards

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Three outstanding ratings, a quality salary increase and a special achievement cash award, were awarded to five civilians at Sheppard Air Force Base this week.

All were awarded through the Air Force Incentive Awards Program.

Outstanding ratings were awarded to William E. Baird, training specialist, Department of Medicine, School of Health Care Sciences; Billy F. Ellis, clerk - stenographer Hospital Services, U.S. Air Force Hospital; and Robert W. Masters, training instructor, Department of Comptroller Training, 3750th Technical School.

William Fehr, guidance counselor of the education office, 3750th Air Base Group, received a quality salary increase and Juanita B. Barlow, clerk-stenographer, with Deputy commander for operations 3630 Flying Training Wing, received a special achievement cash award of $215.

Full-Time Employed Chaplains Now At Sheppard AFB

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--When you think of the chaplain service at Sheppard AFB, you've got to think of more than just Sunday religious services.

The nineteen base chaplains are full-time counselors, advisors, rap session leaders, Great Pumpkin hosts and, most interestingly, participants in an experience that can most accurately be termed as continuing education program.

The program began informally a couple of years ago with chaplains listening periodically to tapes on important subjects pertinent to their ministry. Later they began to hold personal discussions among themselves and to meet with other groups on the base.

The major thrust of these discussions and meetings was three-pronged: to better know themselves, those they served, and the base resources available to them.

Now the chaplain service has a full-fledged monthly program of speakers and seminars to which it invites local clergy and other professionals in the base and civilian communities.

As Chaplain (Col.) Richard D. Trapp, center chaplain, and Chaplain (Maj.) Meredith J. Thomas, program coordinator, explained speakers and seminars are planned on subjects the chaplains feel they need to know more about.

for the opportunity to serve again as your State Senator.

It Breaks My Heart!

By A State Police Officer

Maybe you're one of them. Are you one of those people who call me on the telephone or write me a letter to tell me my troopers are stopping motorists and giving them tickets for "no reason at all?" I wouldn't know--you never gave your name!

You tell me you're a good citizen and a safe driver just using the Interstate for what it was intended--speed. And that "dumb cop" gave you a ticket.

You break my heart! I hope the next time you're tearing down the road at 85 m.p.h. that trooper catches you again. I hope he gives you another ticket and the traffic judge takes your license away.

I hope he catches you before you smash into a concrete bridge abutment at 85 m.p.h. and he has to pry your lifeless body out of that crushed speed machine.

I wish I could make you stand and watch a man write in the gravel on the shoulder of a highway while he waits for an ambulance that will be there too late to do anything but carry him to the morgue! I wish I could make you help scrape the bits of bone and flesh of a whole family off the asphalt and into baskets. You'd vomit--just like my troopers do; but then you'd think differently the next time you climbed into that car of yours.

You said you were driving safely when the trooper stopped you. The road was clear and there was no harm in edging over the speed limit a few miles per hour--you said.

I'm really impressed with your ability to judge road conditions. I'm only sorry that a trooper wasn't at that place a few months ago when a man with a wife and four children had a blowout at over 80 m.p.h. He might have slowed him down, and his children would still have a father and his wife a husband.

Oh, am I getting you mad again? That man might have been mad if the trooper had stopped him. He might have written me a letter. But he'd be alive.

Your letter doesn't bother me, friend. What bothers me is that you apparently haven't learned your lesson. You're probably going to get back behind the wheel of your car thinking you own the road and nothing can happen to you. You don't think about the other people on the road who want to go on living.

And you gave your kid driving lessons? You? Then he's probably gotten a couple of tickets too. It's no wonder he weaves in and out of traffic, speeds, and leaves strips of burning rubber at stop lights.

I hope we can catch him, too, mister, before we have to call you and your wife to come identify his body at the morgue. I don't want to watch you crying and wishing you hadn't let him have the car until he learned to drive maturely.

And you say you want my troopers to let you off with a warning. What you really want is for us to stop doing our jobs!

You want us to let you go until you meet another guy just like yourself--head on!

I wish you could come with me to a wreck and see the seared body of a victim after the fire department has finished its job of extinguishing 15 gallons of gasoline. I wish you could go with me to her home and help me tell her husband that his wife isn't coming home because some idiot ran her off the road while trying to pass her. I want you to help him explain why mommy won't be home.

You're mad because you got the ticket, and have to take time off from work to go to court.

You break my heart, mister!

INFORMED CONSUMER REPORTS

By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

Some two years ago congressional hearings helped spotlight abuses in connection with sweepstakes prizes offered but never awarded in mail offerings.

Last year the Federal Trade Commission secured agreements from some of the large promoters in which the companies agreed to award all offered prizes. Several other companies voluntarily adopted the same policy. Still my office continues to receive complaints concerning fake puzzle contests.

Some of these complaints center around contests which are "free" but some involve contests in which it costs to participate. A typical example of the latter type is the puzzle in which a contestant is asked to identify word and picture clues such as "The opposite of white is - - - -". "Five plus three equals - - - -". And "The moon comes out at - - - -".

Using the first letter of each of the above words the entrant would then have to spell out and select the correct first name of a famous American whose picture would be shown. There might be clues given such as "He helped write the Declaration of Independence" -- "He flew a kite in a storm with a key tied to the tail and discovered electricity." You would have to fill in the first name --- with the last name of Franklin being given. Possible choices for names as shown in an accompanying list might be Ben -- Ted -- Ike -- Pat -- and Max. It would be very difficult for even a fifth grade child to fail to solve a puzzle as simple as this one.

After the entrant sends in his solution, he is informed that he is officially tied for first place in the contest. All persons who have sent in the correct solutions are notified that there will be a series of tie-breakers which they must solve to be eligible for a prize but if the contestant wants to qualify for an even larger prize, they are asked to enclose $2 to $5 for each tie-breaker.

The scheme is that while the initial puzzle and most of the early tie-breakers are ridiculously easy, as you get to the end of the tie-breakers, the puzzles become so difficult that even an extraordinary person would have only a faint chance of coming up with the correct solution.

Safe Driving Must Be Self Habit

Safe driving must be made a personal habit of every motorist if the slaughter of America's highways is to be curbed, Ben Bullard, Ass't. Safety Director, Texas Farm Bureau, declared today as he spoke prior to conducting tests at Burkburnett High School.

"Excessive speed is the greatest single cause of automobile accidents," Bullard said. In the demonstration which followed, he pointed out the conditions under which 20, 30, or 40 miles per hour can be excessive.

Bullard added, "when drivers know the true facts and base their driving on those facts, highway accidents will drop sharply."

Students and teachers took part in the tests which were conducted in a specially equipped car. The test driver was signalled to stop by an electrically controlled detonator. As the shell was fired, the street was marked with yellow paint. A second bullet was fired as brakes were applied and a third after the car came to a complete stop. Distances between the spots were carefully measured to determine in feet and inches how far the car traveled after the brakes were applied, or the braking distance.

Bullard emphasized the fact that a driver who observes the speed laws carefully is not a safe driver if he neglects many other items such as proper signalling for turns, approaching an intersection in the proper lane for a turn, the proper way to turn around, and many other things which are essential for safe driving. Thursday's safety demonstration which was brought to Burkburnett under the sponsorship of the Wichita County Farm Bureau, is part of a long range program of traffic safety conducted since 1957 by the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department.

Assisting with the program was Carl M. Barnhill, Service Agent for Wichita County Farm Bureau.

TRAFFIC TIPS

NO BICYCLES

New Bicycle "No-No" Sign

An increasing number of bicycles are entering the traffic stream on our highways. In some cases, this poses serious problems in safely combining a mixture of bicycle and motor vehicle traffic. As a result, many plans for roads that will be built in the near future will include parallel bicycle trails or lanes. Additionally, more and more facilities are being provided for recreational bicycling.

Special signs will be provided to guide cyclists to specific bicycle routes and a new symbol sign has been developed for areas where bicycle use is prohibited. The sign depicts a bicycle with a red circle and slash superimposed over it. This practice of using a red circle and slash to indicate a prohibited movement is also used in Europe and Canada.

Guidelines of Life

By Wayne S. Glazener, Pastor
Janlee Baptist Church

Direction Makes The Difference

Yes, Direction makes the difference----the scene was the Rose Bowl Stadium and the date was January 1, 1929. At the end of the first quarter neither the University of California nor Georgia Tech had scored. The second quarter was well under way and still there was no score. Then Roy Reigels of California got the ball. Coaches Alexander and Price jumped to their feet. Seventy thousand fans jumped to their feet. Reigels ran and ran and the fans roared and roared. Finally, he was brought down on the one-foot line, but there was no joy in Berkeley that day----for Reigels had run the wrong way!

Now there was no doubt that Reigels had run well. Nor was there any doubt that he had run fast. But neither was there any doubt that he had run in the wrong direction. In a football game the direction makes all the difference. Seventy thousand fans that day had a first hand demonstration of a universal truth. It is more important to keep your eye on the right goal than to run fast and well. All else being equal, ability makes the difference. But if your direction in life is wrong, all else will hinder more than it will help!

Fix your eyes and life upon Jesus and your direction in life will be right, not only in this life, but throughout eternity.

Police Help Solve Okla. Burglary

The Burkburnett Police have been busy the first part of this week trying to solve the Monday night burglary of the Burkburnett Clinic. Chief Buck Abbott reported that the police have three suspects believed connected with the burglary.

Local police also helped solve a Lawton, Okla. burglary this past week when Burkburnett police recovered two stolen fire arms that were taken from a Lawton business. Joel Ray Green, formerly of Burkburnett, was arrested in Boulder, Colo. as he was trying to sell some of the $1,750 in gold coins that he had stolen the same time as the firearms from the Lawton business.

Green returned to Burkburnett only a short time ago after serving time in the state penitentiary on a burglary charge.

The police are also investigating two cases of vandalism which occurred Saturday night. Vandals did approximately $75 in damage to the men's rest room at Les Landers Texaco Service Station Saturday night.
