Editor's Viewpoint

RAYMOND GREENWOOD

I've been taking a little ribbing about me calling Mike Gains, who will be writing a sports column, a professional writer. You see, all that is needed to classify one a professional at something is for them to receive payment for it. I bought Mike a cup of coffee the other day in payment for this week's column so I guess since he is getting some sort of payment for his work he can be called a professional.

I also called him a skilled hunter. The gang at the First Savings and Loan recently purchased Mike a large caliber pistol to take along on his upcoming Elk hunt in Colorado. This pistol is to be used in case something runs afoot with his bow and arrow method.

The pistol is rather rare as far as finding ammunition for it in conventional sporting goods stores. After all how many prominent, progressive sporting goods stores carry a good supply of corks for a pop pistol!!!!

All kidding aside, they bought him a pistol that shoots corks--and I called him a skilled hunter!

Two things are upcoming that I hope all area residents will keep in the back of their minds.

First of all the Red Cross Bloodmobile is in Burk Burnett this afternoon at the First National Bank.

The second thing also has to do with saving lives. School begins Monday, and with it comes the hundreds of children walking along the roads and crossing the streets in order to get to school or to get home. I hope all who drive will be especially careful, especially the first few days until we once again become accustomed to the fact that many kids will be out and about.

Recently I ran across a little article headed "A Newspaperman's Credo" which dealt with many of the things that are stressed to journalists in their schools and universities. I thought I would pass it on to show you something about "our side of the fence". Our readers and the people of this entire area have been most to deal with and have been most understanding when our minds clashed on views and news value of stories. I can tell you for sure, I really appreciate that too. Anyway, the article went like this:

In deciding what to include or omit he must use to the best of his ability the test of what is newsworthy in the minds of his readers and what is of importance in the flow of events. He must resist the temptation of including or excluding on the basis of what will help or harm whatever team he is on and whatever crowd he runs with. This means that he must give a hearing even to unpopular causes, including those which he may himself detest. He has the obligation to keep the channels of the press open for a competition of ideas, since only through such a competition will the people be able to arrive at their own decisions of what is right and good.

He must be strong enough to make himself unpopular with those who can smooth his path or make life pleasant for him.

He must resist all pressures from outside, whether they be from advertisers, government officials, businessmen, labor organizations, churches, ethnic groups, or any other source which has an effect on the circulation or revenue of his paper. This applies whether the newspaperman is a publisher, editor, reporter, reviewer, or columnist. Since the danger in many cases is that he will anticipate the pressures before they are

Council Looks At Water Problem

Burk Burnett remains on the water scheduling but councilmen are trying to solve the problem before another hot dry summer approaches.

City Councilmen in their Monday night meeting, authorized Gary Bean, city manager, to contact the City of Wichita Falls on the possibility of beginning negotiations on the purchase of water. They also voted to begin preliminary application to HUD for a matching funds grant on a general water improvement project.

The general improvement

Graham Purcell Here Tuesday

Congressman Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls will be speaking to the Burk Burnett Lions Club Tuesday night during their regular meeting.

The club invited the Congressman to attend this meeting and have asked him to center his speech on the inefficiencies of the present postal system project will actually include three projects: the laying of a water line to Wichita Falls, a loop of the city's present water system between Kramer Road and FM 369, and another water line from the pump station to the south water storage tower.

The general upgrading of Burk Burnett's water supply system would require a major bond issue and several months of planning and work before actual construction on any part could ever become a reality.

Another major problem facing the city concerns the present sewer plant. The plant, according to engineers, is currently operating near its top efficiency. This, however, isn't meeting the Texas Water Quality Board's demand. A cost estimate on upgrading the present facility to meet the board's demand (if the present system could be upgraded to that extent) is being prepared. Also, the cost of a new plant located in the same area is also under construction.

A federal grant of 55% is available to city's to build new or upgrade their present facilities.

Local Youth Group Holds Sunday School In Park

by Sedelta Vertle
While the breeze is quietly blowing and bringing with it a cool sunlit rustle from swaying trees, crickets and birds chirp in harmony. Squirrels scamper across the lawn and up a tree. A communication with nature can go hand in hand with a communication with God. The serenity of a beautiful summer morning is calming and in every tree and blade of grass is clear evidence of a higher being. Thus is the Sunday school setting of the Seekers, a college and career age group. Here, in full view of God's creation the atmosphere lends itself to the relaxed discussion and contemplation of the Bible.

Headed by Joe Bilyeau, the group of college age youth relate the teachings of Christ to their life by reading the Bible and receiving answers to everyday turmoil they face.

A devoted group of worshippers, Thom Bloodworth, Kathy Paulsen, Mike Witzgall, Dwight

Caldwell and Larry Dorey, prefer to search for God in his own back yard. Also, Pat Zimmerman, Benny Barnes and Dan White complete the organization.

Discussing anything that bothers them in the preceding week, the Seekers are searching for answers in a way not uncommon to the new awakening in all of America today.

As the Seekers meet at 9:00 every Sunday new teenagers turn up to investigate a new look at a very old study. Once there they realize the discussion is not one of a polished and wordy style but the easy going natural type of delivery lends depth to subjects of present day world situation and turmoil. The Seekers present a logical and meaningful explanation which appeals to students who choose not to believe something just because it has existed for a thousand years. These people must be persuaded through the logic and proof which they have studied in school.

All of these new ideas and organization do not change the actual product of such labor which is the worship of God and a belief in Christ. All interested persons are invited to join this group each Sunday morning in the park by the swimming pool.

The breeze has grown warmer and the shade denser as the young people leave for their respective churches with a fresh outlook on religion and what it stands for.

Vandals Almost Close Local Pool

Vandalism at the Bark Swim Pool last Tuesday night (Aug. 16) almost closed the pool a week earlier than what was planned.

Trash cans full of trash, and small gravel and rocks were tossed into the pool causing the pool to be closed for a period of time. Life guards there worked for approximately 15 hours cleaning the pool where swimming could resume this summer. Also many of the signs around the pool were also torn down.

The pool is open now, however, until its scheduled closing date Sunday. When the door is closed Sunday at 6:00 p.m. it will mark the end of the swimming at the local pool until next summer.

Williams Petroleum Co. reported to Burk Burnett Police Tuesday that two of their trucks had been vandalized during the night.

Local police arrested Harold Wayne Runfield of Temple, Texas Monday on a warrant from Austin. Runfield was wanted there on a felony warrant for statutory rape. Runfield was walking along S. Avenue D when local officers recognized his description and brought him in for questioning. Austin authorities arrived in Burk Burnett Tuesday and picked up the 21 year old suspect.

Early this week police also apprehended Billy Lee Johnson, age 17 and David Wilson King, age 16, both of Memphis, Tennessee. Both juveniles were run-a-ways and were returned to their parents.

Donald J. Elbert of 305 W. 1st Street reported to police Monday that he had lost his billfold containing cash and military ID card. Thursday, Sandy Horton of Iowa Park and Johnny Bigford of Randlett both reported lost billfolds while they were in Burk Burnett.

Bill Woods of 801 Aztec reported to police that someone had abandoned a bicycle in his front yard. The bicycle, which had been in the yard for over a week, was brought to the police station and placed in the property room.

Two accidents were investigated during the week with the last being on Monday at the intersection of 5th Street and Avenue B.

Chief of Police Buck Abbott reported that the two chrome wheels stolen from an auto last week were recovered and that a juvenile had been charged with the crime.

He also issued a plea to local citizens to help curb the high amount of vandalism occurring. "If anyone observes others in the act of vandalism we urge them to call our department," stated Abbott. See POLICE, Pg. 7

Bloodmobile Here Today

The Wichita County Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Burk Burnett today (Thursday) between the hours of 3 and 6:45 p.m.

Individuals may make donations at the National Room of the First National Bank. A specific appointment time will be given each donor in order to avoid a long wait. This is to enable the nurses to work at a steady pace and assure a sufficient blood supply.

Interested persons may make appointments by calling Mrs. Irv. Smith at 569-2301. Persons who are physically qualified and over 18 years of age can donate without parental permission, but persons over 66 should have written approval of their physician dated within two weeks of the bloodmobile visit.

This is the third of four scheduled bloodmobile visits this year and provides the citizens of Burk Burnett the opportunity to keep a safe dependable supply of blood available when and where it is needed.

Burk Schools Begin Fall Classes Mon.

One of Burk Burnett's largest industries -- the education plant -- began putting its wheels into motion this week with registration fully underway.

James Pearson, local superintendent of schools, states that all teaching positions are filled and that the system will be ready and waiting Monday morning when the 1972 - 73 school year begins. School buses will run on their regular schedule that day and school will once again begin in earnest.

The Burk Burnett School System consisting of three elementary schools, one junior high and one high school, is indeed Burk Burnett's largest industry in regards to total number of employees. At present over 180 teachers, administrators and secretaries are employed in the system at a yearly payroll figure of nearly one and three-quarter million dollars. The 1972-73 budget of $2,206,689 for the school system was approved by the Burk Burnett School Board at their budget hearing Thursday night. Instruction, administration and plant operation were the largest items included in the budget. Pearson stated that $1,700,709 would go toward instruction, $351,000 toward plant operation and $80,000 toward administration. Other items listed in the budget included: $17,800 for health services, $63,000 for pupil transportation, $40,000 for plant maintenance and capital outlay totaled $45,000.

Anticipated income included state funds of $1.7 million, federal sources of $400,000 and See SCHOOL, Pg. 7

Crowd Tours New Nursing Center

The remainder of the beds and other furniture arrived later in that week and all was set up in time for the formal opening last Sunday.

"We wish to thank all those that came by to tour our facility and especially the Theta Epsilon Sorority for helping with the tours and serving the coffee, punch and cookies," continued Guiley.

The center is located just off the expressway near the Glendale exit. Special features of the center include semi-private or private suites, full participation of State Vendo Program licensed nurse supervision, color TV, and a staff and equipment for high quality nursing care.

"We are proud of the new facility and invite you to come by at any time to take a tour and see for yourself," related Guiley.

A large crowd of an estimated 400 persons toured the new Hickory Elm Convalescent Center Sunday during its formal opening, according to Loy Guiley, Jr., administrator there.

The center, one of the newest and best in Wichita Counties, received high praise from all those that attended the opening. Hickory Elm was originally planned for an Aug. 7 opening but furniture for the center didn't arrive in time, thus opening was postponed for one week. By Monday, August 14, however, enough beds and other furniture had arrived for the center to be officially open, but not enough for a formal opening. "We had only received eight beds at that time," stated Guiley, "this was enough to actually open the facility but we wanted it to be complete when we had our formal opening."

Woods & Waters

By Mike Gaines

This being the first week of my column, I must try to remember that as with anything, the first time around may seem rather awkward. As time progresses we hope to bring you facts concerning hunting and fishing seasons in this area that will be of help to you in planning your next hunting or fishing trip.

I would like to urge anyone having any news which might be interesting to other sportsmen in this area to contact myself or the Informer Star. We also would be very interested in publishing any pictures concerning a large catch or an outstanding kill.

With dove season just around the corner you might be interested to know that this year we have a split season on Mourning Doves in the North zone. We have printed a copy of the map published by the Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept., showing the dates for the appropriate zones. It should be a good year for dove with heavy concentration in both North Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

When people that don't hunt or fish start complaining about the sport and its possible cost to them in taxes each year, here are some figures you might keep in mind. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department receives federal money for wildlife programs based on the number of licensed hunters in the state and total land area. The money originally comes from taxes paid on arms and ammunition sales throughout the country, so you the hunter are paying your own way. Last year Texas received $1,650,548.00 in federal funds and was bested only by Michigan and Pennsylvania in number of total hunters. With Texas suffering under some of the hottest weather of the year, it might be hard for hunters to start thinking about the fall hunting season. But the smart ones thought about it long ago, and their hunting leases are quite up. No doubt there are a few leases left, but hunters with no place to hunt will have to scramble.

The July issue of Texas Parks and Wildlife magazine made a few suggestions to hunters seeking leases. The magazine points out that there are four types of lease agreements between landowners and hunters: year-round, limited duration, day hunting and guided hunts for a few days.

The year-round leases usually include hunting privileges on all species and are made by a small group of hunters. Leases of limited duration vary from an entire season to one week within the season. Day hunting accommodates large numbers of hunters unable to devote extensive time to the sport.

Guided hunts are usually specialized ones for exotic big game but also include native species.

The best lease agreement is a written one because it spells out conditions of the lease for the protection of both parties and prevents misunderstandings.

A written hunting lease should cover the following points: what leased, name of parties, description of tract including size and boundaries, the terms of the lease including the amount and time of payment, the duration of the lease, who is to hunt and the species of game animals, fish, game birds and varmints which may be taken. The landowner should also specify what services or facilities are included in the lease such as blinds, cabins, utilities and doe permits.

Country Banks Facing Changes To Keep Up With Changing Farm Trends

The country bank, one of the least remembered but most essential aspects of agriculture, is facing many changes in its effort to keep up with farming, according to two Texas Agricultural Experiment Station economists.

Changes in the structure and organization of farms, coupled with changes in patterns and amounts of savings, are creating problems for many commercial banks, the leading lender to agriculture, Dr. John A. Hopkin and Dr. Peter J. Barry said.

The finance specialists with the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology at Texas A&M University believe that farm structure is being affected by three different movements. The expansion of part-time farming, inclusion of low income farmers in some kind of welfare program, and the continued growth of larger commercial farms means changes in the financial structure of agriculture.

Brush Control—Range Improvement Field Day Set For Oct. 5

Texas A&M University will host a statewide Brush Control and Range Improvement Field Day October 5 at the Chaparral Ranch near La Pryor in Zavala County.

The field day is designed to provide landowners and ranch managers with information on brush control and range improvement practices, according to Garlyn Hoffman, range brush and weed control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Among the brush control practices being used on the consolidation of commercial farms and growth in capital investment suggests that future financing needs in agriculture will be increased substantially, Hopkins and Barry said. Some predictions indicate that the rate of annual farm debt will more than double by 1980.

Average total debt for the large scale commercial farm could exceed $600,000 while farms with gross sales between $40,000 and $100,000 might average about $130,000.

Farmers turn to the commercial bank to help them meet these debt capital needs, Hopkin and Barry said, but banks in some areas are steadily becoming unable to supply the needed amounts of money. Most of the nation's saving is done in small amounts in urban area banks, making it difficult for country banks to obtain capital to make loans.

In addition to being caught between the farmer's demand for loans and a lack of funds, the country bank is also bound by lending restrictions. Limits on the size of individual bank loans are held to specified percentages of the bank's capital and surplus. Also, loan terms for purchase of depreciable farm equipment are less than adequate. This is because farm equipment is becoming so specialized and so expensive that longer periods of time are needed to repay the loans, point out the researchers.

The changing structure of agriculture, such as farm corporations and partnerships rather than the traditional sole proprietorship, are also affecting farm financing by opening up alternative sources of capital to some producers.

Notwithstanding the emerging problems, many rural bankers are doing an outstanding job in attempting to attract funds into their area and in meeting the financing needs of their farm customers, noted Hopkin and Barry.

The researchers said policy matters which seriously affect the way money moves from commercial banks to agriculture should be studied in more detail by those who desire to help agriculture solve its critical problems. Changes such as insuring farm loans to make them more appealing or allowing country banks to pool funds to make larger loans could help the situation.

Standard and low volume and the use of drift control additives; mechanical methods; and turning. A land conversion program is also underway.

Many of the practices being carried out can be adapted to the South Texas plains as well as other areas, points out Hoffman.

The field day is being co-sponsored by Zavala County agricultural agencies and the Texas Range Improvement Association and Society for Range Management.

Bleach Can Cause Stain In Clothes

Some homemakers wonder why the yellow stayed-in their white clothes, that is, after a thorough wash using chlorine bleach.

Often the reason is the bleach itself and the fabric finish of the clothes.

According to Roxanne Schnorr, clothing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, yellowing can be caused by using chlorine bleach on fabrics with some types of resin finishes.

"These particular finishes are used to give a wash-and-wear property to the fabric and are most often found on cottons and rayons," the Texas A&M University specialist explained. "Although there's less of this type finish being used, there are still some available on the market."

Miss Schnorr suggested the following procedure to restore fabric whiteness when yellowing is the result of using chlorine bleach:

1. Rinse the garment with clear water.
2. Soak the fabric for half an hour or more, as necessary, in a solution containing one teaspoon of sodium thiosulfate to one quart water.

Use water as hot as is safe for the fabric.

Sodium thiosulfate is available at drugstores and as "hypo" at photographic supply stores, the specialist noted.

Dye remover may also be used to restore the whiteness of some fabrics, she added. "To prevent yellowing with the use of chlorine bleach, read the hangtags and permanent care labels of permanent press and easy care fabrics. Follow the recommended bleaching and laundry instructions carefully," Miss Schnorr concluded.

Swimming, softball, and square dancing were part of the activities of the annual 4-H Day Camp held August 11. Over 90 young people attended camp and the most serious incidents were tumble bee stings. Not only were the young people well-behaved but they were helpful. Brenda Swinford sold cold drinks all day; the Bentley twins, James and John, assisted in various ways while others helped with camp fires and carrying food. This agent even found herself assisted in getting into the swimming pool by Terry Ratcliff.

State Fair Of Texas Offers Special Program

From October 7-22, the 1972 State Fair of Texas will provide additional momentum to the current craving for nostalgia with "The Dazzling Thirties," a 16 day entertainment extravaganza.

One of this year's stellar attractions will be the national company production of the hit Broadway Musical, "No, No, Nanette," which will open the historic yet new Music Hall. Additionally, negotiations are underway to present a free nightly revue in the recently renovated Band Shell headlining film stars, acts and bands of the 1930's.

The glamour and glitter of Hollywood will be recalled with a Film Festival featuring great motion pictures of the decade in the auditorium of the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts. Nightly parades will spotlight floats depicting these block buster films.

In the Women's Building, daily fashion shows with apparel styled in the 30's mode will be presented by manufacturers along with previews of tomorrow's designs. A kaleidoscope of dance arts will dazzle audiences from the Cyclorama

The drapery workshop in Electra was cancelled because of insufficient attendance, but I did spend the day in Electra working with Home Demonstration Club officers and Mrs. Clarence Payton, Home Demonstration Club Council Chairman, and Mrs. Hugh Lee, County THDA Chairman for 1973, discussing activities coming up in September. *****

Fourteen ladies participated in the Drapery Workshop in Burkburnett at the Texas Electric Service Reddy Room. The group was enthusiastic and hard working. They produced some excellent drapery samples. Singer Sewing of Wichita Falls provided sewing machines for the ladies to use.

From Farm To City Tread Soon Coming To A Halt

The move from farm to city may be coming to a halt, a new era of economic and social growth for rural America may already be launched.

These are two conclusions to be drawn from various reports on the progress of rural America, from the stretches of the Southwest to the green fields of the Southeast. They also are indications that the much talked about goals of rural development are beginning to emerge as realized accomplishments for an increasing number of communities.

Some signs of the recharged energies within rural areas are: -- More jobs: During the 1960's nonfarm jobs increased by 39 percent in the countryside, a slightly better rate than the 34 percent increase in metropolitan areas. This growth rate has been high in completely rural counties as well as in those with cities of up to 50,000 population.

-- Farm exodus ending: The farm population has dropped to fewer than 9 1/2 million persons. With so few people remaining on the Nation's farms, little further decline in the population is possible. As the farm-to-city migration dwinges to a negligible level, continued gains in nonagricultural jobs will have a more visible impact on the overall economy and population of rural areas.

-- Greater Federal commitment to rural areas: The government is stepping up its investment in rural America manifold. For example, funds earmarked for housing in rural areas amount to $2.2 billion this year, four times the 1969 level; sewer and water programs are allocated $342 million this year, nearly twice the 1969 level. Total funds devoted to rural development efforts by the Department of Agriculture will amount to $3.5 billion this year—four times the level in 1961 and twice as much as in 1969.

More important than the statistics or the governmental expenditures, however, is the determined individual in community after rural community who resolves to solve the problem on his own, who takes action to set his own neighborhood on the road to progress.

In Tulsa, Texas, for example, local leaders set out to combat decaying businesses, blighted housing. As a result of their efforts, the community has 386 new low-cost homes and jobs and incomes are up because of the construction work. In North Carolina, citizens mounted a driver education campaign as a small but vital part of their Statewide effort to connect more rural workers with more better paying jobs.

Rural development is an idea whose time has come—mostly because increasing numbers of local groups are taking it upon themselves to make sure that it does.

1971 Cotton Yield Recorded As Worst In Yields In 25 Years

The 1971 Texas cotton crop has a special distinction: It was the worst in per acre yields in 25 years.

The 1971 Texas Cotton statistics reports that Texas production in 1971 totaled 2,579,000 bales; this was produced from 3,940,000 acres with a harvested yield per acre of 385 pounds. Value of the lint alone was almost $340,000,000. During the season, prices ranged from 18 to 27 cents per pound.

Texas easily retained its number one position in the nation, producing almost one million bales more than second-ranking Mississippi.

Other top ranking counties were Cameron, 99,100 bales; Hale, 96,100 bales; Lynn, 90,100; Terry, 88,800; Hockley, 88,400; Lamb, 88,300; and Gaines, 80,800.

Crop reporting district one S--the High Plains irrigated section--was first in total production with 1,163,900 bales which is more than half the state's total. Number two section was the Blacklands.

Complete details on the 1971 Texas cotton crop are available in the report. A copy is free by writing Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, P.O. Box 12847, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. Ask for 1971 Texas Cotton Statistics.

Tips Given In Proper Way To Store Fish

Summer means fishing time all over the state. However, the hot temperatures also present a problem in storing the catch and getting it home in good shape.

Charles Ramsey, wildlife specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, offers some suggestions to help preserve both the fish and its flavor.

"The first rule in proper care is to keep fish clean, cool and dry," emphasizes the Texas A&M University specialist. "Otherwise, they will spoil since bacteria thrive under most, warm conditions. The same care also applies to wild game."

Block ice or large chunks are preferable since they last longer than crushed ice. If fish are to be stored, they should be in airtight plastic bags, frozen as quickly as possible and used within six months.

These simple reminders will insure that your catch will be of better quality and table fare, says the specialist.

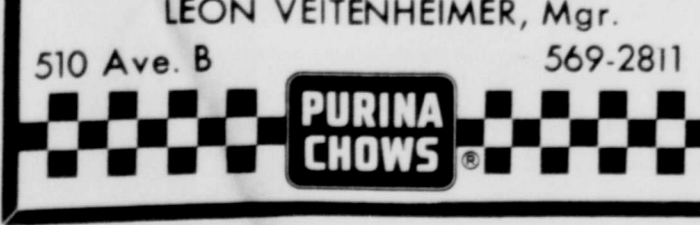

is lost when fish are placed in a cooler and come in contact with ice. Even so, this is better than leaving them on a stringer in warm lake or stream water while fishing," contends the specialist. "Another way to keep fish cool or at least protected against daytime heat is to wrap them in newspapers and enclose in a towel or blanket."

Keep fish out of ice water to preserve original flavor, cautions Ramsey. As ice in the cooler melts, drain it and place the fish on top of the ice.

Cotton Production Up... Cattle Production Up... Crop Production Up.

The 1972 cotton crop in Texas is estimated now at more than one million bales above 1971, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.

Production this season is set now at 3,600,000 bales; this is an increase of 1,021,000 bales over production in 1971. Production last year was the smallest since 1946.

Acres for harvest are estimated at 5,125,000 acres compared with 4,700,000 acres of 1971. Abandonment from all causes is expected to total 325,000 acres. Last year 530,000 acres were abandoned.

Yield is expected to average 337 pounds of lint per acre compared with only 263 pounds per acre in 1971.

Nationwide, cotton production is estimated at 13,343,100 bales, this is 27 per cent more than the 1971 total. Acreage for harvest this year is set at 13,200,000 acres compared to 11,500,000 acres in 1971.

TEXAS continues to be the number one cattle feeding state in the nation. There were 2,120,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter as of August 1 in Texas. This is 29 per cent above a year ago, but virtually the same as the number on feed a month ago.

The original parsonage was acquired in 1911 and served as such until a new modern brick structure was erected on Meadow Drive a few years ago. The old parsonage, now passing into history, was the home of some twenty-four pastors and their families while serving this charge. "The Fool Hath Said In His Heart, There Is No God," Psalms 141

Denying God is atheism. Last week we dealt briefly with the first of four kinds of atheists -- "intellectual atheism" -- whose key descriptive word is EVOLUTION. It denies God as the almighty Creator of all life.

Second, "political atheism" -- which seeks to build a world system without God, and making man the ingenious master of his own fate. Its key word is COMMUNISM.

Through years of war and peace, this atheistic doctrine has made great inroads into the political systems of the world. Its subtle, deceptive and self-centered anti-God program has saturated the world with its influence.

Satan, through communism, is carrying out the strong point of his first enticing temptation to mankind -- "Ye shall be as gods"; Genesis 3:5. And man in his egotistical "climb upward" and mad quest to bring in his own "Utopia", disregards God's plans and commands. He says, in substance, "We will not have this man (Christ) to rule over us."

Thirdly, "religious atheism" -- with its key descriptive word being MODERNISM. Religion says "in its heart", there is no God -- that is, in its inner testimony and teaching -- not in oral testimony. By the time its "higher critics" get through butchering the Bible, it reduces God to a nonentity and renders the Word of God to none effect. It denies God by denying the supernatural presentation of the Lord Jesus Christ: His virgin birth, perfect life, substitutionary death, miraculous resurrection and glorious second coming. Religious atheism has "a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof," II Timothy 3:5.

"They profess that they know God, but in works they deny Him", Titus 1:6. The bible says they are "fools". (Next Week, "Practical Atheism")

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

By Bill Whelan

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX.--For the first time in three years, the number of Texas families with dependent children on welfare rolls declined last month.

There are 1,555 fewer AFDC recipients than a month before, the State Department of Public Welfare reported.

Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Vowell attributed the reversal to a number of factors, including tighter controls on AFDC program eligibility, vocational training and expanded day care programs in help-to return to the practice of holding personal interviews with AFDC applicants and recipients, verifying income, child support, domicile, household composition, and other factors affecting eligibility and the amount of assistance granted.

A massive recertification effort also has been ordered by which AFDC cases are being checked individually to determine whether a family situation has changed so as to affect the monthly assistance payment. A new policy also has been instituted requiring applicants to provide documentary evidence of child eligibility by birth or adoption certificate or hospital record.

Field detection efforts have been stepped up, and 130 of 205 suspected cases have been referred to local prosecutors or grand juries.

PWD REORGANIZED--A far-reaching reshuffling of Parks and Wildlife Department divisions was ordered by new Executive Director Clayton T. Garrison.

Garrison named six new directors to head statewide divisions under a new structure.

The new directors are James E. Dickinson, 30, finance; Stetson G. Reed, 39, law enforcement; Robert J. Kemp, Jr., 46, fish and wildlife; Paul E. Schlimmer, 32, parks; Clayton G. Rutter, 38, engineering; and Bobby E. Bradley, 37, administration. Richard A. McCune will remain as director of information and education.

Garrison said the reorganization is a "move to get back to the basic responsibilities of the department." Each of the six new divisions will be the headquarters unit for administration of all field activities. PWD personnel will report to appropriate directors and divisions in Austin.

HIGHWAY CONTEST FINALISTS NAMED--Five State Highway Department foremen and construction supervisors are finalists for this year's Lady Bird Johnson award for highway beautification work.

They are Milton C. Campbell of Ralls, Cullen Luttrell of Sonora, Herbert H. Smith of Rush, Melvin E. Bayless of LaGrange, and Rinaldo Ribera of Falfurrias.

Mrs. Johnson will make the awards October 11 at the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park near Stonewall. First-place winner will receive a cash award of $1,000, and runnerup will get $500. An additional award of $500 will go to the newspaper writer who does the best job on highway beautification coverage, and an identical prize will go to the best radio-television effort in the field.

OFFICERS CREDITED--Additional auto insurance reductions may result from intensive law enforcement efforts that curb accidents, Southwestern Insurance Information Service said recently.

On the other hand, if enforcement efforts slacken and accident frequency rises, benefits of the recent 11 per cent rate cut (effective September 1) will be lost, the association said.

Police chiefs and sheriffs received a special commendation from the insurance group for efforts to reduce accidents last year--and a request that they continue to concentrate on speeders, drunk drivers, and those without proper licenses.

HIRING COMPLAINTS AIRD--Texas state agencies were warned they don't have enough minority group employees.

Dr. Luther Holcomb, federal Equal Employment Opportunities Commission vice chairman, briefed the agencies on legislation making state governments subject to anti-discrimination regulations.

Six of the state agencies already face hiring complaints under the new law. Practices found discriminatory include asking of questions on job applications about race, religion, or arrest record, use of standardized tests, requirement of a high school diploma and insisting on photographs of job applicants.

CANDIDATES FILE--Three

candidates have filed for a vacant state representative seat in South Texas district 46, place 3 -- Brooks, Cameron, Kennedy, and Willacy counties.

Candidates in the special election September 16 are Dr. Martin Garcia of Raymondville, Neal Clark Jr. of Cameron County, and Calude Carter of Harlingen.

Rep. J.A. Garcia Jr. of Raymondville resigned his House seat in the district July 31. Deadline for filing was last Wednesday.

PAY RAISES SOUGHT--Gov. Preston Smith and Sen. John Tower are pressing the federal pay board to approve 6.8 per cent pay raises for state employees September 1 as voted by the legislature.

The pay board voted to retain a 5.5 per cent ceiling on raises, but Smith and Tower claim an exemption for the 67,000 state employees under the "catch-up" provision.

GOATS TO RUSSIA -- Eighteen hundred Texas Angora goats are being airlifted to Russia September 1 to help upgrade the mohair industry in the Soviet.

A three-man Russian team bought where 700 others were sold to Russia in 1936. Sale was handled through federal agencies, industry services, the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Russian Embassy.

RETIRED TEACHERS WANT BREAK--Changes in the teacher retirement system are being requested by retired school personnel who claim their benefits are meager or "token."

The retired teachers want benefits raised to the standard provided in 1971 legislation--based on the best five-year average and boosting the percentage factor. An example was cited of a teacher who gets 29 years' service who gets $189 a month after retirement seven years ago. A teacher who retired last year with 19 years service, under the example quoted, draws $245 a month.

SHORT NOTICES

Texas firm representatives are attending a two week trade mission to Brazil.

A Laredo candidate for county commissioner who filed his campaign expense report with the wrong local official is still eligible for the November general election ballot, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

Larry Temple of Austin, a former aide to President Johnson, heads Texas Democrats for Nixon.

New state bank charters are being sought at Dallas, Houston, and Texas City.

Quail season dates for South Central Texas have been changed to November 16, 1972 to January 31, 1973, with a daily bag of 12 and 36 in possession.

Local Ladies Selected Outstanding Young Women

Mrs. Frank (Katie) Miller and Mrs. Robert (Pat) Norriss have been selected as Outstanding Young Women of America for 1972, according to an announcement today by the University Club. They were nominated by the organization earlier this year on the basis of their achievements.

Now in its eighth year, the Outstanding Young Women of America Program recognizes young women between the ages of 21 and 35 for their contributions to the betterment of their communities, professions and country.

More than 6,000 young women are nominated annually as Outstanding Young Women of America by civic organizations, churches and college alumni associations throughout the country. Complete biographical sketches of all nominees are featured in the annual awards publication, OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMEN OF AMERICA.

The women included in the 1972 edition are now in competition for further state and national awards. This fall, fifty of them, --one from each state--will be named as their state's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year. From the fifty state winners, the national Ten Outstanding Young Women of America for 1972 will be selected.

The Outstanding Young Women of America Program was conceived -- and is today guided--by leaders of the nation's major women's organizations. Serving on the program's Board of Advisors are the national presidents of women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In November, the 1972 edition of OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMEN OF AMERICA will be published. The volume, to be distributed nationally as a reference publication, will include special introductory messages by U.S. Rep. Martha Griffiths (D-Mich.) and Amy Vanderbilt, the nation's leading etiquette authority.

Charming Spectacle—It Happens Every Year About This Time

It's always a charming spectacle, and it happens every year at this time.

... Bright-eyed youngsters dressed in colorful new togs chattering and laughing their way to and from school.

Perhaps they're so appealing because they hold out a special kind of promise to the weary world of adults.

And, because the sight is one we've not seen for three months now, we often take a second look. And that second look, says the American Automobile Association, is a pretty constructive idea when a person is behind the wheel of his car.

During the summer, motorists become less cautious when driving in a school zone. Now, especially when taking familiar routes, they may not notice those newly posted reduced speed limit signs.

When school buses reappear, motorists must remind themselves of the law about stopping for school buses that are halted.

Since more and more youngsters are riding bikes to school, motorists should be especially alert for one that may appear suddenly from a blind spot near their cars.

Purcell

In this and other areas, Congressman Purcell is qualified in this matter as he has served on the Congressional Post Office and Civil Service committee, which began organizing the present system.

Purcell, who will meet Congressman Bob Price of Pampa in the November race for District 13, will conclude Tuesday night's program with questions and answers from the floor.

The Lions Club meeting begins with a meal at 7:00 p.m., and the public is invited to come to hear Congressman Purcell who will begin speaking at 7:25 p.m.

Council

In other action council voted to cooperate with the county and the city of Wichita Falls in obtaining a firm to pick up large dead animals. Burk Burnett's cost of contract will be $50 per month.

Bean reported to councilmen that a Kiddle Park is now under construction on the east side of the expressway at the south end of Ruby Drive. The park will set on approximately 1/2 acre of land and will contain swings, see-saws, etc. for the small fry.

School

local taxes of $252,000.

With school beginning Monday many questions arise in parents and students minds concerning the dress code. A complete listing of the school policies is printed in the Student Hand Book which will soon be passed out to each student.

The main area of interest seems to be in the girls wear. The code states that girls will wear dresses, skirts & blouses or slacks. If slacks are worn then the following will apply: No hip huggers, no tight slacks and no men's clothing. Only full length slacks may be worn. The code also points out that no see-through material may be worn, no shorts and no tank tops.

TOPS 636

TOPS 636 met Monday for their regular weekly meeting with 12 members present. Mrs. Helen Cable, having the most weight loss, was named Queen of the Week.

The group planned to have a low-calorie supper Friday night at the Central Baptist Church and a garage sale this weekend at 411 Vaughn.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I am trying to locate a lady that lives in Burkburnett. I have lost her name and address.

A little over a year ago, she was a patient in Bethania Hospital, room 408. She was one of the many patients I helped nurse. She is a very sweet person and was a good patient.

While she was confined there, one of her friends sent her a pair of french poodles made from cuckleburrs. I purchased a pair from her.

Will this sweet lady please get in touch with me?

Yours truly,
Gladys Moss
700 Roberts
Bowling, Texas 76230

Dear Mr. Greenwood:

Thank you for covering my brief visit to Burkburnett. I enjoy the opportunity of learning about an area as I visit the towns and cities on the campaign trail. Thank you for letting the people in Burkburnett know of my visit and interest in their area. The coverage in a newspaper is a very important facet of any political campaign; and, in fact, an important facet of our democracy.

I hope that we come again soon to Burkburnett.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Barefoot Sanders

Dear Raymond:

It was nice of you to take time from your busy schedule to attend the luncheon held recently in honor of Spencer J. Schedler, Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Financial Management. I hope that you found his presentation informative and worthwhile.

It was very thoughtful of several of the businessmen to afford him an opportunity to bring them up to date on the status of Sheppard Air Force Base and our national defense posture.

I was more than pleased to have a part in urging the Assistant Secretary to accept the invitation.

If I can ever be of service to you, please don't hesitate to call upon me.

Sincerely,
BOB PRICE
Member of Congress

Dear Raymond and Staff,

In the past I have read letters from others that have been printed in your paper. I enjoy reading these letters. If you feel that it is possible, I would like to have my letter printed in your paper.

I would like to inform my friends in Burkburnett that to my sorrow I will be leaving the Burkburnett Post Office. I received word last week that within 60 days my position would be abolished. I had 10 days to make a decision to either transfer to another town, revert back to a substitute or resign.

The past 12 years I have had the pleasure of serving you as counter clerk in our post office. I have been privileged to get to know most everyone in Burk and have enjoyed serving you. I hope I have served you well and to your satisfaction. I will miss each of you and hope that someday I will have the opportunity to return to the Burk Post Office. I hope I will not be required to move from Burk as this is home to me and my family.

Many of these young people had attended the annual Texas Youth Evangelism Conference in Lubbock and the Acteen Conference in Goriatta, New Mexico in July.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

Head 'em up - move 'em out! Whether your journey is to a different state or a mere jaunt across town, moving today requires detailed arrangements. So decide on a mover and set a moving date as soon as possible -- a month's notice is good.

All motor carrier services must be certified by the Interstate Commerce Commission. They are required to provide you with a booklet entitled, "Summary of Information for Shippers of Household Goods." This booklet describes in detail many items of vital importance, such as information about obtaining estimates and loss and damage claims.

Contact one or more recommended movers for an estimate of charges. But remember - this is only an estimate, and not binding on you or the company. Your final expenses cannot be determined until your goods are weighed after loading them into the van.

It is important that your goods are properly weighed and recorded. A slight error in the weighing process could result in an expensive charge. When the van containing your goods is being weighed, go up to the scales. Personally observe the recorded weights.

Effective this year is a new ruling from the Interstate Commerce Commission. If you suspect the mover's billing weight is too high, you may request it to be reweighed. If the reweight is more than 120 pounds below the billed weight, you will not have to pay for reweighing. This also applies if the billed weight exceeds the estimate net weight by 25% or more. However you still have to pay for reweighing if the reweight does not fit the 120 pounds or 25% limits.

"The Summary of Information for Shippers of Household Goods," states: "If the total actual charges do not exceed the estimated plus 10 percent, you must pay the actual charges prior to unloading your goods. However, when the total actual charges exceed the estimate by more than 10 percent, the mover is required, on your request, to deliver your goods upon payment of the estimated charges plus an additional 10 percent, and you have 15 days to pay the balance."

Once you reach your final destination, inspect your property. Report any damages immediately. Your carrier service is a service to you. You are paying for the best. Make sure you believe it.

Make yours a "smart move." Be an informed householder and take the confusion out of moving. If you have any questions about moving or would like to receive additional information, contact my Consumer Protection Division at P.O. Box 12548, Austin, Texas 78711.

Texas Motorists To Save 10% On Auto Ins. By Completing Course

As a direct result of a suggestion made by the Texas Association of Insurance Agents, Texas automobile owners may, beginning September 1st, save 10% on the cost of their auto insurance. All that is required, according to Josh R. Morriss, Jr., the association president, is to successfully complete the new Defensive Driving Course that will soon be offered statewide.

The announcement follows a recent ruling by the State Board of Insurance that Texas automobile owners could receive a 10% reduction in bodily injury, property damage and collision coverage by completing the "defensive driving course" (DDC) as outlined by the National Safety Council.

"Savings from this credit could amount to as much as $43 million a year in Texas," Morriss continued. "While this is a substantial financial benefit, the savings in life and injury that can result from DDC is expected to be even more significant. The National Safety Council tells us that, properly taught, the DDC will reduce traffic accidents significantly." The Texas Association of Insurance Agents is working in cooperation with the Texas Safety Association in implementing the new program.

"At the moment, our biggest headache in getting the program off the ground is a lack of trained instructors," Morriss points out. "We are working with our 83 local associations and 2,300 independent member agencies throughout the state in an effort to recruit enough qualified instructors to meet the anticipated demand for the program come September 1st. We are also interested in hearing from any individuals who would like to become accredited DDC instructors. Interested persons should contact the Texas Safety Association, 1623 South Lamar Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78704 for further information."

The Texas Safety Association will conduct the actual training of instructors. Says Association General Manager, Lloyd Palmer, "Our association will conduct courses for DDC in all sections of the state. We are going to do all in our power to help make the DDC available to everyone in the state."

"The course should cost $10 or less per person and the resulting credit will be good for three years. "This means, Morriss says, "a motorist can spend $10 and save $45 or more on his auto insurance over a three year period."

After the three year period, the DDC must be repeated by an individual in order for him to again qualify for the 10% premium credit.

In a family with two or more cars, the principle drivers of each car will have to take the DDC in order to qualify for credit on both cars. Otherwise the credit will apply only to the vehicle principally operated by the person who has completed the course.

"Big Band" Rock Concert Set For Sunday, Aug. 27

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--The stage band of the Band of the Oilbelt at Sheppard Air Force Base will present a "big band" rock concert at the Sheppard Service Club Sunday, Aug. 27, at 2 p.m.

The band is described as one of the most versatile bands on the Southwestern military scene. Conducted by MSgt. Bob Morris, its youthful sounds are displayed in a repertoire which ranges from fox trot to boogie-woogie, Glen Miller to Tijuana Brass, big band to rock.

"Due to its unusual composition and recent addition of electronic equipment, this group is able to satisfy the musical tastes of any age group," explained Chief Warrant Officer Guy C. Powell, commander of the 761st Air Force Band. "The never ending search for perfection by its members enables the combo to keep abreast with the newest dimensions in big band sounds," he continued.

Typical of their performance is this comment overheard at a concert: "This is one of the most refreshing and alive bands I have heard in years. Where are they performing next?"

End of Tooth Decay Is Predicted in Decade

Within the next decade, tooth decay in the United States may be virtually eliminated, according to a spokesman for Canrad Precision Industries Inc., Newark, N.J. Working with the L. D. Caulk Company, Canrad-Hanovia has produced an ultra-violet light (known as the Dental Gun) which is used as an activator light in connection with a new tooth sealant.

The teeth are first cleaned and conditioned by the dentist before placement of the sealant material. After application of a liquid plastic, the material is exposed to a harmless ultra-violet light which quickly hardens into a smooth plastic shield.

"Our new car - wrecked!"

Awards in auto injuries or deaths have greatly increased and now frequently run to $50,000 or more. The old $10,000 auto liability insurance is inadequate today, especially as $100,000 liability coverage costs only a few dollars more.

Weekly Health Tip

from Joe Gillespie

There are no diseases caused by age - the mere passage of time. The shaky hand, the tottering gait, result from lack of proper exercise and condition. The forgetful mind results from lack of stimulation. The cure for signs of aging are proper diet and physical and mental exercise.
