RAYMOND GREENWOOD

As the fall gets well underway as well as various club projects, one problem that seems to grow each year confronts us at the INFORMER/STAR. One of the most popular types of fund raising events locally is that of selling chances on TV's, guns, radios, cars, groceries or what have you. We get numerous requests to run stories about such fund raising efforts. People are almost mad when we have to tell them that we cannot run a story about such a lottery in the paper and that we can not even run a story about the winners. I didn't say that what you were doing is illegal. I just said that we can't run any information about the lottery in our newspaper.

This is not only a problem for us but also for a number of other newspapers across the country. In fact, we recently received the following bulletin from the Texas Press Association spelling out the rules on this subject:

In the Postal Manual, under Sec. 124-51 (Lotteries, Fraud, etc.) is the following regulation: "Whoever knowingly deposits in the mail, or sends or delivers by mail: Any newspaper, circular, pamphlet, or publication of any kind containing any advertisement of any lottery, gift enterprise, or scheme of any kind offering prizes dependent in whole or part upon lot or chance, or containing any list of the prizes drawn or awarded by means of any such lottery, gift enterprise, or scheme, whether said list contains any part or all of such prizes, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both; and for any subsequent offense shall be imprisoned not more than five years."

We like to support worthy causes but as you can understand, we have no desire to pay a $1,000 fine or spend two years in jail for them.

Lately it seems to me that the only political news that has been on television is Sen. George McGovern blasting President Nixon for something or the other. Maybe I'm always on the wrong channel, or listening at the wrong time, but all I ever get is the bad news about our President.

I had much rather hear a candidate convince me of something good about himself than run down his opposition any day, but that doesn't seem to be the trend of the modern political scene.

I ran across an article headed "McGovern and the New Math" in a recent bulletin from the U.S. Press Association that I thought our readers might be interested in. The article is pro-Nixon I suppose, but maybe it will help even the score of all the bad-mouthing President Nixon has been receiving.

Senator George McGovern (D-S.D.) says that if elected, he will cut defense spending by $30 billion. He will hike corporate tax revenue by $17 billion. New wealth and inheritance taxes will yield, claims McGovern, another $11 billion. Welfare reform will save the U.S. still another one billion dollars for a $59 billion total.

Alan Reynolds, an Associate Editor of NATIONAL REVIEW magazine, has carefully analyzed McGovern's arithmetic. The Senator's "soak the rich" ideas are all wet, finds Reynolds. For one thing, raising corporate taxes would kill their expansion plans.

Increased corporate taxes would in turn give us higher prices. Reduced spending would

Record Turnout Passes Both Bond Issues By Over Four To One Margin

Burkburnett Citizens stated in a loud roar Tuesday that the water problem that has faced the city for decades should be no more as they soundly passed the revenue bond election for general water improvements by a solid margin of four to one. The second proposition on the ballot, the sewer system improvement also passed by the same resounding margin.

The largest turn-out of voters on record came out in the Tuesday election to cast their ballots. A total of 682 ballots were cast in the Revenue Bond election.

Proposition #1 calling for the issuance of $700,000 in revenue bonds for waterworks system improvements and extensions passed by a vote of 524 for and 158 against. In compliance with state law, voters cast their ballots in two separate boxes, one for property owners and one for non-property owners. Results of the separate boxes showed 490 property owners for Proposition #1 while 147 voted against it. Thirty-four non-property owners voted for the proposition while only 11 voted against it.

Again the total figure revealed 524 for and 158 against the water bond issue. Proposition #2 dealt with the issuance of $275,000 in revenue bonds for sanitary sewer system improvements and extensions. Figures for that proposition showed a total of 562 for and only 120 against. Concerning proposition #2, 524 property owners checked the FOR square while 113 voted against the proposition. Thirty-eight non-property owners voted for the proposition while only seven voted against the sewer bond.

The total figure for the sewer bond showed a total of 562 for and only 120 against.

Gary Bean, Burkburnett's city manager, stated, "I really appreciate the heavy turn-out of voters. It's reassuring to know that you have the confidence of the people when you are faced with problems such as these. The four to one margin from a record number of voters really proves that we were on the right road and doing what the people wanted."

Burkburnett's Mayor Billy Smith told the INFORMER/STAR, "I'm proud we had such a good turnout. I'm proud also that the citizens of Burkburnett realized the situation we were in and that they agreed with the council's decision as to the best solution to our problems."

The Directors of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce came out days ago endorsing the bond proposals. F.R. McCandless, local chamber of commerce president, in regard to the results of the election, stated, "I think that this extra large turn-out of voters indicates that the people of our town are interested in Burkburnett and in its going forward. This was the aim of the Chamber of Commerce and we congratulate the people on their stand. We also congratulate the City on this move in order to make it possible for Burkburnett to grow."

The water improvement project will include a transmission line to Wichita Falls, a loop of the present water system from Kramer Road to West

Third and the construction of at least a one million gallon storage.

The estimated cost of the water improvement project is $700,000. The City of Burkburnett has, however, made application to a federal agency (HUD) in hopes of securing a grant to help finance some of the cost of the transmission line, which is the biggest expenditure of the project.

The application for $300,000 in federal funds to help finance the construction of a 16-inch water line from Wichita Falls was approved Thursday by Nortex Regional Planning Commission.

Nortex, according to Burkburnett City Manager Gary Bean, makes the preliminary approval or rejection of the proposal. The final decision comes from HUD, however, and it is they who decide whether or not federal funds will be granted, NOT Nortex.

The sewer bond (Proposition #2) in the amount of $275,000 called for the renovation of the present sewer facility and the construction of a new sewer facility adjacent to the present plant where the city could conform to the rigid state laws now being enforced by the Texas Water Quality Board.

Entries Double In Contest Again

Interest in the INFORMER/STAR Football Contest seems to double every week. The first week of the contest some 34 persons sent in entries. The second week the figure more than doubled as it jumped to 75. This past week the figure again almost doubled as it reached 125 entries.

Top predictor this past week was T.M. Cornelius who was followed by his secretary, Vickie Young. Vickie was the second place winner last week also.

Cornelius had a clean cut 17 correct games for the winning position. Vickie, however, had a little more trouble in attaining the $10 second prize money. Six other persons tied with her with 16 correct games. Vickie had the closest prediction of the tie-breaker game, thus was awarded the cash prize.

Those tied with Vickie included Ronald Chapman, Paul Avritt, Teresa Preston, Homer Shaffer, Karen Brightman, and Ronald Blancett.

The contest is open to everyone and all are urged to enter. All you have to do is predict the winning team of 20 games listed in the merchant's ads on the football pages. Just pick the winning team and not the score. On the tie breaker game you must pick the score of the two teams listed. This score will only be used in case of a tie as happened last week for second place.

First place winner (the person picking the most winning teams) is awarded $15 in cash. Second place winner is awarded $10 in cash.

Mail in your entries to the INFORMER/STAR, but be sure they show a post mark of not later than Friday. Or, you may bring your entry in to the Informer/Star office at 417 Ave. C., no later than 5:00 Friday afternoon.

Enter today, you could be the lucky winner this week.

TAKES BIG ELECTION BOXES--It took big election boxes to hold the record number of ballots cast in the Revenue Bond election in Burkburnett Tuesday. Mrs. A.C. Houser, Mrs. F.T. Top Staff Assistant From Postal Investigation "Listens"

"We just can't stand much more of this 'improving' of the postal service," seemed to be the prevailing opinion of more than 20 Burkburnett citizens who attended the hearing Monday night conducted by John Gabusi, the top staff assistant of the House subcommittee conducting an investigation of the U.S. Postal Service.

The hearing, held at the Burkburnett Community Center, was the first of several hearings of the postal investigation to be held in the State of Texas. Problems of long delays for delivery, zip codes, post marks and handling were brought to the surface by those attending the session.

All the problems seemed to stem from one basic problem--the lack of abundant operating funds. Gabusi connected almost every problem brought out with the cut back in operating funds and personnel in the Postal Service.

Lengthy delay of first class mail seemed to be the most prominent problem of the group. Gabusi put the financial problems of the service at the top of reasons for delays in mail handling. He pointed out that often smaller post offices are closed on Saturday and Sunday due to lack of operating funds.

"This means if you mailed a letter late Friday it will lie there until they come to work Monday. And if it is going to another small post office and it gets there on Friday, chances are it will not be delivered until Monday," said Gabusi. "That makes more than nine days in getting a first class piece of mail delivered," he added.

W. T. "Dub" Zimmerman, Burkburnett's postmaster, who was present at the meeting, stated that the Burkburnett post office annually handles more than 10 million pieces of mail and in this postal region more than 100 million pieces are processed. He further stated, "When you handle as much mail as we do there are bound to be some errors made."

Gabusi reiterated the fact that he didn't believe the American people fully realize the magnitude of mail that is handled daily by the service.

Referring to the great length of time required to get the mail from one point to another, Gabusi stated, "One of the greatest problems is delivery of mail stems from the reduction of airline and railroad service."

The hearing was requested by U.S. Rep. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls reportedly after receiving requests from people in the 13th Congressional District who were not satisfied with the postal service now being received.

Purcell's survey on postal problems prompted the investigations.

He said he wanted postal patrons of Northwest Texas to have a chance to talk personally with the official investigators.

Gabusi held a similar meeting in Wichita Falls Tuesday and then went on to hold meetings in Amarillo and Canyon. Next week he will be in Washington State, Arizona and Montana listening to people concerning the problems of the postal service in those states.

WINS CONTEST MONEY--T.M. Cornelius, first place winner in this week's INFORMER/STAR Football Contest, looks over the results with Vickie Young, second place winner.

SPEAKS TO POSTAL PATRONS--John Gabusi, a top assistant to the subcommittee currently investigating the U.S. Postal System was on hand in Burkburnett Monday night to hear local postal patrons problems concerning mail delivery.

no doubt follow higher prices, and our export market.

More benefits, higher costs and salaries will cancel out any post-Vietnam military savings.
Higher inheritance taxes would encourage rampant spending. If someone could not leave his money to the next generation, he would do his best to die broke.

McGovern alleges that 56
Americans who made one million dollars in a year paid no income taxes. He charges that ITT has not paid income taxes for several years. The Senator asserts that 40 percent of American corporations pay no tax.

Research proves that many millionaires lost money the year before or gave huge amounts to charity. Charging that ITT has not paid taxes is an outright lie, says Reynolds.
McGovern's charge about corporations not paying taxes fails to consider whether they made a profit or not.

So McGovern's $59 billion in higher revenues is open to speculation. But wait! Consider his expenditures for food stamps, health insurance, urban renewal, etc. This comes to $159 billion. Now, we take in $59 billion, and spend $159 billion. Under McGovern's math, that is a balanced budget.
Under the old math, that is a $100 billion deficit.

Added to his proposed $100 billion deficit is the projected 1973 deficit of $26 billion, giving us a grand total of $126 billion worth of red ink. Mc-Govern has a doctorate in history; it should be in the new math.

Burk Burnett 4-H Joins In National Clubs In 4-H Week, October 1-7

The Burk Burnett 4-H Club will join Clubs all over the nation in observance of National 4-H Week beginning Sunday.
The local club is comprised of some 20 young men and women between the ages of 9 and 19. Adults lending a helping hand to the organization are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Elliott, James Roderick, and Elmer Klinkerman. In addition to these adult leaders, County Agent B.T. Haws and Joyce Smith, County HD Agent are also nearby to help the youths with what ever problems they might encounter.

The club began some 15 years ago, according to Robert Bentley, current president of the Burk Burnett 4-H Club. The Bentleys are new comers to the local 4-H scene.

Robert's mother, Mrs. J.H.
Bentley, helped start the local 4-H Club 15 years ago. His older sister, Diane, was one of the first members of the club.
In addition to this, Robert's older brothers, James and John, now seniors at Burk Burnett High School, have both held numerous 4-H offices including that of president of the club. All three of the boys are extremely active in the club at present with projects that include swine, sheep and cattle.

Boys and girls alike locally compete each year and learn concerning wildlife coops, conservation of natural resources, tractor driving, foods, sewing and dress neuses.

In speaking of 4-H, the state
4-H youth leader pointed out,
"How often have we looked progress in the eye and then turned our backs because we were unsure which direction to go or which new method or technique to follow?"

Well, 4-H is a venturesome organization of active boys and girls and these youngsters are constantly eyeing progress and taking the necessary steps to move forward and to grow and develop. 4-H is reaching out into new areas, involving youth with new interests and backgrounds, points out Dr. Don Stormer, state 4-H and youth leader for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Thus it's appropriate that this year's theme of National 4-H Week, October 1-7, is "A New Day--A New Way."

"4-H is reaching more and more of our youth across the state," says Stormer. "It's reaching into urban areas and titudes of backgrounds, needs and interests. Thus 4-H has expanded its program areas to meet these varied needs and interests."

4-H has actually taken on a new look, according to the state leader. Boys and girls are now encouraged to "do their own things, set their own pace, venture into new areas of interests.
"4-H'ers are limited only by their imagination, and that's what makes 4-H so exciting today," believes Stormer. "4-H is also attuned to such present-day concerns as community development and improving the environment."

Although there are now more than 100,000 boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 19 enrolled in 4-H in Texas, many more are eligible to join. And with the upcoming observance of National 4-H Week, the call goes out to these youngsters to become involved in a real "action-oriented" program-- 4-H.

"Special programs and activities will be staged in counties throughout the state during 4-H Week to recognize 4-H'ers, their parents, friends and other supporters," notes Stormer.
"This is a good time to learn

Economy and convenience are two advantages that have made do-it-yourself moving by truck an "in" thing among a wide range of people.

From young marrieds to executives, many are turning to one-way rental trucks to move their belongings across the state or across the country, reports Hertz.

For instance, moving the furnishings of a seven room house to a new home 100 miles away would cost about $400 through the van line.

A do-it-yourself 18-foot van would cost about half for the same move. And, belongings receive the care only an owner will give them.

Self moving also means that possessions arrive when the owner does and are not at the control of someone else.

WE WANT THE FOOTBALL--It seems that the Duncan players are trying to scoop the football from downed Bulldog back Rick Bradley.

Bulldog JV-Vernon JV Battle To 0-0 Draw

"Burk's Junior Varsity did score once in the second quarter, but the goal was called back on a penalty," commented Coach McCoy when asked about the 0-0 game between the Bulldog JV and the Vernon JV. "Our touchdown occurred during the fourth down and with a 15 yard holding penalty there's not much you can do," McCoy analyzed.

The Bulldogs moved the ball well in both halves, yet the Vernon Lions were equally as strong defensively. The game was primarily of ground action and ended up 0-0 because both teams sport effective defenses.

The Red River Rifle and Pistol Club will hold their annual Sight In Day Sunday afternoon at their rifle range. Each year the Club sponsors such an event where local deer and other big game hunters can sight in their rifles prior to the beginning of the hunting seasons.

The event will run from 1 p.m. until 7 p.m. Sunday afternoon at the Club's new range located in Oklahoma. To get to the range persons are instructed to make a right hand turn at the Hilltop Club and then follow the signs that will be posted to the rifle range. The public is invited.

game reflected our progress. Of course their team has improved from the last time we played them," he said.

Two Bulldogs who played an exceptional match for Burk were Middle Linebacker Kenneth Eaton and Fullback Lynn Taylor.

Next week the JV take on the Iowa Park Hawks at Bulldog Stadium Thursday.

Attitude Key For Cowboys

Tom Landry, head coach of the Dallas Cowboys, makes no bones about his team's chances of repeating as World Champions this season. Noting that the Cowboys are the most experienced playoff team in the NFL, he says that individual attitude will be the determining factor.

"Our chances for repeating," he says in the current issue of Chris Schenkell's Football SPORTSCENE, "depend solely on attitude, and it has to be a different attitude. Our whole motivation has to change. The drive that sustains you first is not having ever won the Super Bowl. Keeping the championship is another matter, and I don't know how the team will reach because it depends on the individual."

Also of interest to the pro football fan will be the SPORTSCENE's report on the NFL Players Association's trip to Paris, an in-depth look at the short-comings of the New York Giants organization and what non-jock Don Rickles has to say about some of his favorite football folks.

Phillip Dowling, Jack Stinge and Tommy Darland were the scoring heroes in the last Thursday action at the Central Boys Club.

Phillip Dowling started the Oilers' scoring in the first quarter with a 50 yard punt return.

The second quarter was scoreless and the score at half-time was Oilers 6, Falcons 0. Tommy Darland scored the second touchdown on a 25-yard run from scrimmage. The point after was made on a 3-yard run by Phillip Dowling.

Late in the fourth quarter, Jack Stine had Oiler fans on their feet with a 67-yard run from scrimmage for the final score of the game.

The final score was Oilers, 20 and Falcons, 0.

The total yardage by the Oilers was 232 yards.

The next opponent will be the Warriors at Hayes Field. Game time is 6:00 p.m.

STRETCHES FOR EXTRA YARDAGE--Bulldog back Mark Bulla (#29) stretches for extra yardage against the Duncan Demons.

Demons Ease By 'Dogs By Meek Score Of 14-10

by Sedelta Verble

The Duncan Demons fired up during second half action to nab the Bulldogs 14-10 in what seemed a cinched game Friday night.

Burk sailed along through the first three quarters but were surprised in the fourth in what looked like a replay of the Burk-Lawton match. In both games the 'dogs were caught in a desperate fever to capture seven vital points in the tense closing seconds of the games.

The first quarter was scoreless with Mario Castro and Vernon Fourmier holding the Demons in line.

The second quarter reflected Burks aggressive rushing attack as quarterback Sam Hancock led the 'dogs from their own 10 yard line penetrating deep into Demon domain and stopping on the 18. Rusty Barret punted a field goal wrapping up a drive of 5 yards which encompassed 71 yards for a 3 point lead.

Duncan quarterback Tommy Hayes speeded up in the last 30 seconds of half time and threatened a score, but Bulldog defense again barricaded as Mike Myers pulled Hayes back for a 14 yard loss to end Demon hopes until fourth quarter play.

Zac Henderson shattered the Demon defense bursting through 20 yards at the end zone completing an eleven play drive started on the Bulldog 25. The score stood 10-0 in a Burk controlled game with 6:25 left in the third.

Then when the 'dogs weren't looking, the Demons stole agonizing TDs and a conversion to lead Burk 14-10 with 7:41 left in the fourth.

Hancock turned on the juice, but failed to penetrate Duncan territory until the time was dangerously low. Depending on tough Bulldog ground attack, Hancock relied on passing in the last minute of play but the passes were incomplete. The Demons kept inserting fresh players to irate the Bulldog of-fense while many Bulldog players handled both offense and defense throughout the game.

Burk fans held their breath as Hancock threw vigorously until only 8 seconds were left, still enough time to win it all. With 3 seconds left the 'dogs again passed and almost completed. But fate would have it that the ball was hatted down as the clock again stole the game letting the Duncan Demons edge Burk 14-10. Scott Smith, Bill Snowden and David Spinks defended the Bulldogs with outstanding performances. Despite double duty for some Bulldogs like Bradley, Burk led Demons with twice as much rushing yardage and 17 first downs to Duncan's 12.

CRUCIAL FIRST DOWN--Rick Bradley(44) of the Bulldogs picks up a crucial first down aided by tough blocking from team mates in Friday night's action.

FINDING RUNNING TOUGH--A Duncan Demon makes little yardage against the stingy Bulldog defense in Friday night's action.

The game will be played on Saturday, December 9th on the astro-turf at Memorial Stadium featuring two of the nation's top college division teams. Last year Louisiana Tech defeated Eastern Michigan University 14-3.

"Although any pre-season predictions are purely speculative," Lynn Morrison, co-chairman for the event stated that "Grambling, Texas-Southern, Trinity, Drake University, and Tennessee State all enter the 1972 season with impressive credentials." Eastern Michigan is not eligible this year due to an NCAA probation imposed earlier in the summer.

Area cities will be again invited to participate in all Pioneer Bowl activities, including the Queen Contest and Pioneer Bowl Parade. The 1971 festival saw the city of Bowie, Texas walk away with first place in the parade's float contest, while a pretty lass from Burk Burnett, Debbie Roth, was crowned as the Pioneer Bowl Queen before an estimated television audience of in excess of five million.

Tickets are priced at $4.00 and $2.00 and may be ordered by mail by sending check or money order with your tickets request to: Pioneer Bowl, P.O. Box 2121, Wichita Falls, Texas. Please enclose 50¢ mailing fee.

Tickets will be available each day from 8 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on the 2nd floor of the Hamilton Building, and at the Base ticket office at Sheppard AFB.

Burk Frosh Take 26-20 Win

Burk Frosh scuttled Vernon Frosh 26-20 in Thursday afternoon play at Vernon. Bulldog David Brown shattered Lion defensive legions with two TDs, while quarterback Tim Karmos unleashed two goal bound passes. Randy Burk and Mike Schallenberger caught Karmos's bullets and took them across for the remaining scores.

Barring the Bulldog goal line with strong defensive performances were David Ray, Mark Milam, and Kevin Troy.

The Bulldogs now stand 2-1 as they collide with Iowa Park Hawks this Thursday in a home game.

Board Meets For Local Contest

The Burk Burnett Midget Football League Board met in the Texas Electric Reddy Room for their regular board meeting.

Bob Gant, League president, was in charge of the meeting. A discussion was held on the up-coming Queen's Contest and Hubert Smith Boys's Club Representative announced that Booster/Button Sales will begin October 7th.

Mrs. Carolyn Powell, League secretary, announced the Fund-Raising Event held by the League was a success and the League wishes to thank Lippard Insurance, Preston Dairy, Gills Grocery, United, Piggy Wiggly, Wampler Insurance Agency, Manhattan, Shamburger Lumber Company, Western Auto, and M&N 5&10 for their participation.

Staubach Now Uses Scrambling As Weapon

Quarterback Roger Staubach, the Most Valuable Player in the Super Bowl last year, has had a lot of time to think about his relationship with coach Tom Landry and his own style of play as it fits into the Dallas Cowboy mold since his injury during the exhibition season.

Staubach, writing in the current issue of The Saturday Evening Post, says:

"My scrambling used to cause a lot of comment. Coach Landry has seen me develop over the last few years and he has seen me continue to use the running option. I think running is going to be part of my game as long as I stay healthy and can run. Now, I use it as a weapon, instead of just a way out of a bad situation."

As for his wanting to call his own plays, Roger says in The Saturday Evening Post article: "In our system, Coach Landry sets up a firm game plan and regularly sends in plays to the quarterback. I have an option on the field at the line of scrimmage. I can change the play at that point and call an audible if the defense looks as though they're ready for our set play."

"I will probably use the audible more, with experience," continues the injured Cowboy quarterback. "Last year I averaged four or five audibles a game. The game was the way coach Landry wanted it and we will probably continue that way until he feels that I can take over with added experience."

"However," concludes Staubach in The Saturday Evening Post article, "I think it is an important function of a quarterback to call plays and I have the intelligence to do that."

The Red River Rifle and Pistol Club will hold an open sight-in Sunday afternoon. According to Jerry McClure, this is an annual affair which gives local sportsmen a chance to sight in their rifles before the opening of deer season.

A large number of antelope permits are available from 200,000 acres of the Trans-Pecos Hunting Club, Box 817, Marfa, Texas, according to club head Gary Rogers. There are 998 permits for this club lease, Rogers said and last years success rate was over 94 per cent.

Texas sportsmen who enjoy squirrel hunting can look forward to the October 1st opening date with optimism, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists who are completing their late summer squirrel inventory surveys, reports Bobby Alexander of Mt. Pleasant, project leader of the Northeast Texas Game Management Project.

According to results of the biologists surveys, squirrel populations generally are at a high level throughout the Northeast Texas area where suitable habitat is available. Upland areas will offer some fair to moderate hunting but is not expected to be on a par with bottomland habitat.

Some of the areas which surveys indicate to be supporting high squirrel concentrations include the Sabine riverbottom in Rusk and Panola Counties, Big Cypress Creek in Harrison and Titus Counties, White Oak Creek in Franklin and Titus Counties, Sulphur River in Franklin, Lamar, Titus, Bowie, and Red River Counties, Bois'de Arc Creek and Big Pine Creek in Lamar and Red River Counties.

When you think of big game hunters you sometimes feel they are a rare breed of humans with unlimited funds and endless hunting opportunities. This is not always the case as this picture shows. These men all from Wichita County are shown with a black bear taken in Colorado by B.H. Alexander, Jr. He and Gad Garland also in the picture, fill their elk and deer tags every year on their hunting lease in Colorado. So when you think of big game hunters you don't have to look quite so far.

CHURCHES OF BURKBURNETT

Guidelines of Life

Lamoin Champ, Pastor, First Baptist Church

The words "steward", "stewards" and "stewardship" are used more than a dozen times in the Bible. In a majority of instances, the Lord is using them in His parables. Most of these are found in the Gospel according to Luke.

A steward is one who is accountable for something which has been entrusted to his care and management. The owner holds the steward accountable for that which is entrusted. In Luke 16:2, the Lord has the owner saying to the steward: "Give an account of thy stewardship."

We who are Christians, who live where there is freedom of worship and opportunities galore to share the "Good News" of God in Christ, are mightily blessed. We who are so blessed in so many ways, often forget, however, that we are stewards. We are accountable to God and to the people around us.

God is the owner; we are stewards. God is Creator; we are creatures. The Psalmist said it this way: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein."

Each one of us will have to give an account of our stewardship. In 1 Corinthians 4:5, we read: "Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful."

Therefore, each one of us must ask himself: "What kind of steward am I? Am I faithful?"

We are stewards of our very lives and the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. We are stewards of everything associated with life: health, money, talent, time, opportunity. We are stewards of everything associated with being a Christian: the opportunity to worship, to serve, to share.

He left recently for an assignment with the Signal Support Unit in Munich, Germany, and was succeeded in his job here by Sergeant First Class John W. Tayloe, from Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

Sergeant Barrett pioneered the overseeing of Army enlisted men attending communications courses in the Department of Communications and Missile Training of the School of Applied Aerospace Sciences.

The size of the Army student contingent at Sheppard during this time has ranged from the present low of 58 to 244. They take the Cable Splicing Specialist; Antenna Installation and Maintenance and the Electronic Switching Systems Repairman courses which vary in length from 10 weeks to six months.

Even though some of the soldiers remain here for only 10 weeks, many of them have been influenced by Sergeant Barrett to get a high school diploma through the General Educational Development test. During the last three years an average of 50 persons a year have earned their high school diplomas in this manner.

"The Base Education Office has helped in our efforts to encourage the young men to get their diplomas," explained Sergeant Barrett.

One student, he recalls, was scheduled by the education office to take two tests a week for three weeks. In three days time he earned his high school diploma, graduated from the Cable Splicing course, and was promoted to specialist fourth class.

For his work at Sheppard Sergeant Barrett received a letter of commendation from the commander of Battery D, Enlisted Student Battalion at Ft. Sill, Okla. He was praised for his significant contribution to the promotion of the image of the Modern Volunteer Army.

The work of his unit with a handicapped children's home and Cub Scout Pack was also cited.

Sergeant Tayloe who has been in the Army 17 years was serving as communications operations sergeant to the Department of Command communications for the Army Signal Corps Officer School before coming to Sheppard.

A native of Roanoke, Va., Sergeant Tayloe and his family will reside in Burkburnett.

Oklahoma Lions Meet With District Governor

Oklahoma's Lion organization is divided into six districts. District 3-L is composed of 53 clubs (at present) all located in western and southwestern sections of the state.

An estimated 150 district leaders met Sunday at Clinton, Okla. under the direction of newly elected district governor, Charles H. Markum of Clinton to discuss current needs and ways to improve Lionism in the district.

Temple, Oklahoma was represented by Edlie Laxson, zone chairman and secretary and treasurer for the town's only civic club and attended a general session to learn existing conditions and needs of various projects supported by Oklahoma Lions Clubs.

Over 1,500 eyes have been received by the Oklahoma Eye

Bank, and over 43,000 donor cards have been signed, according to Herman Braswell, chairman of the organization. Hal Long, official at the IOA Youth Branch, reported they had to say no to a number of judges' requests to take wayward boys into training. The ranch's main need is more financial backing, according to the report. Lions support to the CARE program, and chairman, Carroll Ridgway, told how the Lions' donation of $750 could build a school and equip it in some foreign nation with aid from other designated countries. This project could stand more donations, and the chairman urged each club and members to get all financial assistance possible to aid depressed people due to hunger, destruction by nature and other causes.

Following the 600 dinner served in the Tornado Dome, Sidney J. Nernard, recently elected director of Lions International, outlined potentials of the world-wide Lions organization and what southwestern and western Oklahoma part means to the overall program and what Lionism stands for: "WE SERVE".

THE '73 FORDS ARE HERE.

The airborne glider. 82 decibels at 60 mph.

The '73 Ford LTD. 65 decibels at 60 mph. Quiet is the sound of a well-made car.

At 60 mph a '73 Ford LTD rode quieter than an airborne glider.

On July 27, 1972, General Radio Co. tested a '73 LTD against an airborne glider. Both at 60 mph and with identical sound level meters. The result: the Ford was quieter. But the new LTD is more than just quiet. It is well made from its power front disc brakes, power steering and automatic transmission, standard equipment, to its luxurious, comfortable, roomy interior. There are 16 new Ford models to choose from and each will convince you that quiet is the sound of a well-made car.

High wire artist Bill Couch balancing on a '73 Torino riding over a road of 2x4's.

A '73 Torino rode so smooth, a high wire artist kept balance on a road of 2x4's.

Chances are you won't try to balance yourself on top of your new Torino. But, when you're riding inside, you'll still appreciate Torino's refined suspension—because it helps to cushion bumps, absorb road vibrations and reduce body sway. You feel solidly in control while you ride in comfort and luxury. The solid mid-size Torino. Smooth riding, strong and quiet.

'73 Pinto: When you get back to basics, you get back to Ford.

Ford, the company that built the first basic, solid, reliable car seventy years ago—has built today's basic, solid reliable car: Pinto. It's become America's top selling economy car for more reasons than economy. Here are some of those reasons: A 1600 cc. engine developed and perfected in over 10 years of actual driving. Rack-and-pinion steering. Solid welded body, electrocoated to fight corrosion. 4-speed transmission—lubed for life. Everything we've learned in seventy years of car making—all the basics—we build into every Pinto Wagon, Runabout and Sedan. When you get back to basics, you get back to Pinto.

THE SOLID 1973 FORD TORINO BROUGHAM (shown with optional front bumper guards, deluxe wheel covers and whitewall tires).

A 1973 Pinto on the Michigan Testing Facility. The cables connecting the Pinto to the Van enable us to monitor Pinto's performance.

There are 39 new models to choose from.

And every 1973 Ford, Thunderbird, Torino, Mustang, Maverick and Pinto—comes equipped with new energy-absorbing bumpers and steel guard rails in all side doors. Steel-belted radial ply tires and AM/FM stereo radios are options on all models. Test-drive these new Fords at your Ford Dealer's now.

All 1973 cars must meet Federal Emissions Standards before sale. See your Ford Dealer for details.

Haughan of Minneapolis, Minnesota, national president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC), and members of the Federation Board of Directors. The event was held at the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, D.C. on September 12.

in the home of Mrs. Richard Moffett, 1309 Shady Lane. Courses for the evening included Funology, Friendshipology and Shackology. The room was decorated like an old fashion school, complete with stool and dunce cap. Those attending were dressed in school clothes of yesteryear and there was even a school marm.

"Classes" started with each person reciting their name and where they attended school, elementary through college. There were "students" from as far away as Vermont.

A walk down the driveway, a knock on the door and a whispered password was needed to gain entrance. Inside there were small candle lit tables and music from the 20's. There were many authentic looking costumes and the dress worn by Mrs. Davis was an original 20's dress in very old and beautiful pale green lace.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lennard, and Mr. and Mrs. Dennie Austin.

Electricity that helps make products and jobs better.

No matter where you look in industry today, electric energy is there. It is powerful energy that stamps and molds, that pushes and pulls, that heats and cools. Or sensitive energy that sews and scrolls, calculates and controls. Whether you build cars, or airplanes, or mobile homes, or make clothes, or process petroleum and petrochemical products—whatever your job, electricity helps you in a hundred ways to do it better, faster, easier. Electricity is one of the things that has helped build America's great industrial capability, and helped raise our standard of living—by putting better products in everyone's reach, and by making better jobs available.

And it's clear that industrial uses of electricity will continue to increase in the years ahead. When additional power is needed, we'll be ready to provide it to industry and to all our customers.

But getting ready and staying ready is an increasingly expensive, never-ending job at Texas Electric. Our construction expenditures are at a record high for facilities necessary to keep an adequate and reliable power supply at your service.

The club also decided to participate in a program to save the American Eagle and plant trees, a program sponsored by the Texas Forest Service. Members voted to enter the "Spadea Sewing Contest" sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Misses Bill Pittard, Tom Smith, F.T. Felty, Jr. and Tom Evans will be the contestants.

The program entitled "Hall Liberty" was presented by Mrs. Cliff Wampler. She told some of the history of the Statue of Liberty, stating it was started in 1870 and dedicated in 1886. It was a gift from France and designed by Elefel. It now stands on Ellis Island.

Lodge Meeting

Masonic members of Temple's Lodge number 210 and Ladies of the Eastern Star have pooled resources and efforts attempting to raise enough money to pay off the mortgage on a lodge building erected four years ago.

Hopefully a "old timey bean supper" spread out in the City Hall building for two hours—5:30 to 7:30 September 29 will do the trick and wipe out the $700 balance owed on a $12,500 investment.

The finance committee has set the date to coincide with a cruddle fight football game between Temple Eagles and Walters Blue Devils.

All area lodge and Star groups have received invitations. A mortgage burning celebration is in the planning and will be open to all interested individuals when the lodge's red ink side of the ledger is cleared, according to Temple Masonic leaders.

Bob Price Sponsors Meet

Congressman Bob Price announced today that Mayor Billy Smith of Burkburnett has been invited to attend the Small Businessmen's Conference, where methods for obtaining government contracts will be discussed.

"This will provide an excellent opportunity for representatives of our many communities, large and small, to meet with officials of over 15 Federal agencies plus prime contractors for the purpose of obtaining new business and expanding job opportunities," Price said.

Two similar all-day conferences are being sponsored by Congressman Price with the assistance of the Departments of Commerce and Defense. The first Conference will be held in Wichita Falls on Sept. 29 in the Women's Forum Building, 2120 Speedway.

The second Conference is scheduled for Amarillo on Oct. 2 at the Federation of Women's Clubs Building, 2003 Civic Circle.

In addition to the procurement specialists who will be on hand with invitations to bid for actual government contracts, Congressman Price has arranged for the appearance of special luncheon speakers for each Conference. At Wichita Falls, local officials and businessmen will have an opportunity to hear Richard J. Keegan, Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Air Force for Procurement, and Millard Neptune, Regional Director of the Economic Development Administration.

On hand at the Amarillo meeting will be the Hon. Thomas Kleepe, Administrator of the Small Business Administration.

Burkburnett School PEECH Program

Project PEECH (Program for Early Education of Children with Handicaps) is conducting a search for children who are eligible to be in the program. Region IX Education Service Center in Wichita Falls is sponsoring the program which will provide education in the home for handicapped children between the ages of six months and six years.

The program is designed to make the transition to school easier for children who have any of the following handicaps: physical handicaps, loss of hearing, loss of sight, speech impairments, serious emotional disturbance, mental retardation or any combination of these. Persons knowing of children with these problems may contact: James Pearson, Superintendent, Burkburnett Public Schools, Box 308, Burkburnett, Texas 76354 OR Mrs. Lois A. Cadman, Project Director, Region IX Education Service Center, P.O. Box 4086 Wichita Falls, Texas 76307. Referrals may be from anyone in the community including school administrators, physicians, social workers, and ministers, but the child will enter the program only if the parent or guardian gives consent. Parental consent will also be necessary for the child to be evaluated to determine the extent of the handicap.

When a child is accepted into the program, a determination is made of the kinds of activities that would be best for the child. A program is designed and the visiting teacher comes to the home weekly to work with both parents and child. The key to success with the children, according to Mrs. Cadman, is parents who are willing to learn how to help their child and willing to take the time to do so.

The program is made possible through a grant to the Service Center from the Bureau of Education for the Handicapped of the U.S. Office of Education.

B.C. Glasgow, owner of the Interstate Construction Company with offices in Chattanooga and Wichita Falls, is building an all-metal hangar capable of housing six planes and the spaces have been leased by area plane owners, according to Glasgow.

Page Aviation of Oklahoma City, Okla. owned the field for many years but has sold his holdings to Northrup Aviation, and Northrup is adding to the port's facilities by keeping Joe Krouser, an Engine and aircraft mechanic, on duty each day from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. each day when pilots may expect to receive all necessary aviation needs.

Construction on the Chattanooga Sky Harbor airport was started September 9 and scheduled to final 60 days from that date. "We are going to have it finished by Oct. 15, barring no unforeseen difficulties," Glasgow said.

Cow Numbers On Upswing In Texas Counties

Beef cow numbers have increased substantially in Texas since the first of the year, according to figures compiled by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, points out that the biggest increase in cow herds has occurred in South Texas and in parts of East Texas and along the Red River.

The Texas A&M University specialist lists improved range conditions and favorable cattle prices as the main reasons for the expansion. Grazing conditions have been average to above average in many areas of the state although parts of Northeast Texas are still suffering from lack of moisture.

Uvacek notes that the situation is in contrast to last year when cow numbers in Texas moved down six percent. The drought of last year took its toll and breeding herds were thinned to avoid over-stocking of ranges.

Cow numbers have increased at such a rapid rate during the first half of 1972 that the losses experienced during 1971 have been almost entirely overcome.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Texas cotton production for this season is estimated to be more than one million bales above 1971. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimates Texas' production this year now at 3,800,000 bales. This would be an increase of 1,221,000 bales over 1971 production.

Yield, based on September 1 conditions, is expected to average 356 pounds per acre. Only 263 pounds per acre were produced in 1971.

Harvest is virtually complete in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Harvest in south Central is more than one-third complete. Blackland cotton harvest is now reaching full momentum with a good to excellent yield reported.

Cotton on the High and Low plains is making good to excellent progress.

A ONE percent decline in the number of cattle on feed compared to a month ago is reported for Texas. The state continues to be the number one cattle feeding state in the nation.

As of September 1, there were 2,095,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter in Texas. Compared to a year ago, this is 32 percent higher.

Placements into Texas feedlots during August totaled 381,000 head; this is 28 percent above a year ago. Marketings of fat cattle during August totaled 406,000 head. This is 16 percent above last year.

In the major six-state cattle feeding report, which includes Texas, Arizona, California, Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas, number of cattle on feed totaled 7,551,000 head.

Cattle Eradication Grant Approved By EDA

Congressman Graham Purcell announced today: He is pleased to inform you that a $120,414 grant has been approved to help demonstrate methods of eradicating diseases which are threatening the production of cattle in Texas.

The funds from the Economic Development Administration will go to the State of Texas for a one year program. State officials reported that cases of screwworm, tick fever and scabies have increased during 1972, resulting in a Federal quarantine on cattle from several Texas counties and threatening the entire cattle production in the State.

Through the Texas State Animal Health Commission and the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation at Mission, Texas, the State plans to pinpoint the extent of the parasites within counties and to demonstrate on - the - spot eradication measures.

The funds will allow the State to hire additional animal health inspectors to conduct the program.

Cattle now in production in Texas have been valued at about $2 billion. Without treatment, the cases of screwworm and tick fever infestations during the last year would have resulted in a direct loss estimated in excess of $32 million.

The State of Texas will add $31,742 in other funds to meet the $252,156 total cost of the demonstration program.

We will continue to work with local and state officials to help assure the maximum benefit of this program for residents of Texas.

Career Day At A&M Saturday

High school students, their families and friends are being invited to the annual Texas A&M University Career Day Sept. 30, sponsored by the Colleges of Agriculture, Engineering and Science.

Dr. H.O. Kuniel, dean of the College of Agriculture, said exhibits will illustrate the various programs in the colleges.

Home Demonstration Clubs are starting a new year. There is an air of eagerness and anticipation as the year gets underway.

Delegates from the Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting in Houston report an outstanding meeting with many challenges offered to them. They brought back recommendations for programs for the coming year. Wichita County delegates were Mrs. Hugh Lee and Mrs. Clarence Payton of Electra, and Mrs. Bee Bryant of Friberg-Cooper Community.

Give pantyhose the "tender loving care" they need for long service. By observing the following four suggestions, you can lower their run, snag, and tear rate.

First, be careful when putting on and taking off pantyhose. Because sharp rings, ragged fingernails and rough hands give quick starts to runs and tears, it may be necessary to wear cotton or cosmetic gloves.

Wear the correct pantyhose size; the strain from a too-short pair will cause popping at the least provocation.

When putting on stockings, handle them gently, any pulling and tugging puts undue stress on the material. Here's the recommended way to put them on: First gather up a leg portion all the way to the toe. Slip a foot in and pull gently and smoothly up to the knee. Then repeat with the other leg portion.

When this is complete, ease both sides over knees, thighs and hips up to the waist. When removing them gently roll downward from the waist and ease feet out.

A second suggestion for lowering run rates is washing stockings. Use mild suds and lukewarm water promptly after each wearing. Perspiration and dirt deteriorate nylons and cut their life expectancy.

One method of cleaning pantyhose involves either wearing gloves or using a small mesh bag in order to protect them during the process. Another way is to use a tightly capped jar half-filled with sudsy solution and shake the stockings clean in it. Instead of wringing them dry, use a clean towel and press out excess moisture. Then drape them over a smooth rack or plastic clothesline and dry away from direct heat. If preferred, they may be hung by the toes with smooth-edged plastic clothespins.

Field borders are a boon to wildlife. That fact is especially in evidence during the fall when hunting season rolls around once again. In addition to providing cover for wildlife, field borders also give protection against soil erosion during heavy rains and wind. Field borders give wildlife a place to hid, provide travel lanes and offer variety in habitat. In fact, natural field borders contain several species of vegetation which provide the variety of food and cover types that wildlife demands.

A field border system is particularly important to quail and pheasant management. Good permanent woody cover in the fence row close to corn or fallow fields allows the birds to make use of food in the fields. Old grass six to eight inches

Use a separate drawer or at least separate section of a drawer to store pantyhose and stockings. This third point is essential in preventing snags and bruises. To reduce snagging on the wood, line the bottom and sides of drawer with paper, or use plastic or cardboard dividers.

Finally, mate two pairs with runs to make one pair without runs. By taking two damaged pairs of the same color, a "new" pair can be made.

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE

Sheppard History Retold During AF 25th Anniversary

by Sgt. Jim Bernstein
SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- I was seven years old when I died. It was a long two years before I was resurrected from the weeds and thick, red dust.

That was in 1946. Back in those days, they called me Shep Field and Sheppard Airplane Patch plus a few not-so-nice names.

At my resurrection in August of 1948, I was officially named Sheppard Air Force Base, and they still call me that today although the unofficial names still crop up from time-to-time.

I have a lot of great memories from 1941, that's when I was born. To 1946. Thousands of Army Air Corps people visited me before going to Europe or Asia to fight World War II. After the war, many came back to return to civilian life.

They used me as a processing center for more than 50,000 people. That was my last great act before the demise. The War Department decided that I was surplus and began pulling its people out. Within six months, I was nearly empty.

A few people stayed behind to care for me but in less than a year's time, they too were gone.

Those were a miserable two years. My buildings which were once so well cared for quickly fell into disrepair. The paint cracked and peeled under the broiling Texas sun and there was no one to replace it.

Dust swirled through the cracks into the once spotless offices and barracks and settled. No one was left to sweep it away.

People came looking for plumbing and electrical supplies and pulled out my usable machinery and carted it away. The water froze in the pipes during the cold winters and cracked the old cast iron fixtures open. When spring came the water spilled onto the floors to mix with the dirt and form sticky red mud.

It didn't take long for the windows to disappear. Some went through natural causes like debris propelled by the harsh winds, but many were shattered by mischievous kids who viewed my remaining broken panes with glee--seconds before they sent a rock hurtling through the dust stained glass.

With no one around to cut the grass or control the weeds, it took only a few months before the green varmints were out of control and flourishing on the once trimmed lawns and along the roadways.

And my roads, oh! The asphalt cracked and buckled letting the weeds sprout in the great breaks while the dirt pathways became pitted with potholes and cluttered with the wind-strewn trash.

But those weeds! They grew to unheard of heights as high as seven feet for some of the meanest ones. When the rehab party arrived in August of '48, the leader of the crew, one MSgt. Robert Rickner said, "We could see nothing but weeds at first, they were as high as our heads." I don't know where Rickner is today, after a few months he moved on. I am grateful to his men for the speedy resuscitation they did. I was in pretty desperate shape.

To add to my woes, varmints (the crawling kind) invaded my premises and had to be driven out. Ugh! Snakes, mice and all their brethren were creeping over me unchallenged except for maybe an occasional owl or hawk or a stray coyote.

Even now, 25 years later, I get goose-bumps thinking about it. It was awful.

You've all seen old ghost towns on TV or at the movies and they look good compared to what I resembled. They've got people taking care of them, preserving them, but me, no sir! Wasn't anyone around to look after me. Well, almost no one. A few men assigned to the City of Wichita Falls came out to visit now and then but there wasn't much they could do for this old base.

Seven years old and a decrepit old good-for-nothing I was just laying around and waiting for the world to end. That was me all right back in '48.

In the old newspapers they referred to me from time-to-time calling me sun-baked, desolate, weed-covered and in a general state of disrepair. Alas, it was true!

In the summer, one could walk down my ruined avenues and listen to the locusts buzzing in the bushes or watch the winds kick up tiny whirlwinds in the dust. It was silent, just the insects and the wind or maybe a creaking door somewhere torn open by a strong gust. It would bang for hours on end until it fell off the hinges or another windy gust closed it again.

They cut my weeds, repaved my roads and everything was great once again. A wonderful feeling it is, to be alive after two years in death, to be contributing; to be part of something great.

If you squeezed your eyes real tight I bet you could imagine what it had been like a few years earlier. All those troops and airplanes and activity. Everywhere you looked, there were people at work (or maybe loafing) but I was alive, contributing.

Now, nothing. Just a weary carcass. The low point of my life.

In the winter, the bone-cracking gust of wind would descend upon me bearing snow and sleet that created a scene out of one of those far-North adventure films that Sgt. Preston of the Yukon used to make.

My resurrection began in July 1948 when the first day of my redecorators arrived from Lackland. I was going back into action, useful, alive again. It was wonderful!

It took them just a few months to get me spruced up and presentable for the basic trainees that would be coming to see me. I wanted to make a good impression on these young men. They would get their first impressions of the new Air Force with me and I wanted it to be a good one.

Well, to make things short, the men did a swift and efficient job. They unloaded the cases of paint, pipes and nails fixed me up in practically no time at all.

They cut my weeds, repaved my roads and everything was great once again. A wonderful feeling it is, to be alive after two years in death, to be contributing; to be part of something great.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--MILITARY LAWYER--Colonel Norman F. Carroll, Staff Judge Advocate for Sheppard Technical Training Center, talks with Federal District Judge Robert Hill after ceremonies admitting eight Sheppard military lawyers to practice in the Federal District Court for the Northern District of Texas. Military lawyers will now be permitted to present cases for the prosecution of minor offenses committed by civilians at Sheppard AFB. (OFFICIAL USAF PHOTO BY TSGT. ROBERT PAGE)
