Editor's Viewpoint

RAYMOND GREENWOOD

Things really uncorked this past weekend in the football scene. Texas came up and played what I consider man for man the best team in the nation and would have made a good showing, if they had not given the Sooners some eight turnovers.

The only hope the 'Horns had was to play errorless football and hope that Oklahoma made some mistakes. The exact opposite happened however.

Locally, the Bulldogs played one of the best teams in the area and came out on top. A real important game for the 'Dogs comes up this Friday night as they take on the Vernon Lions. Come on out and support our team—they're winning and could well be the next district champions.

The local Booster Club is to be commended for furnishing the chartered bus for the Bulldogs to travel to Weatherford.

Klonda Jefferis recently brought by a column from the ANTHONY REPUBLICAN in Anthony, Kansas that could probably be described by a majority of people as "right on".

"One of the things that is 'in' right now is taking old fairy tales and revising them to fit today's social scene. Most of these stories are already old because of being reprinted so often, but we ran across a fresh one this past week.

Since there are alot of folks who like to read these type things, we pass this one along to you which first appeared in the Sulphur Oklahoma Times-Democrat:

Once upon a time, in a far-away country, there lived a little girl called Red Riding Hood. One day her mother asked her to take a basket of fruit to her grandmother who had been ill and lived alone in a cottage in the forest.

It happened that a wolf was lurking in the bushes and overheard the conversation. He decided to take a short-cut to the grandmother's house and get the goodies for himself. The wolf killed the grandmother, then dressed in her nightgown and jumped into bed to await the little girl.

When she arrived, he made several nasty suggestions then tried to grab her. But by this time, the child was very frightened and ran screaming from the cottage.

A woodcutter, working nearby, heard her cries and rushed to the rescue. He killed the wolf with his ax, thereby saving Red Riding Hood's life. All the townspeople hurried to the scene and proclaimed the woodcutter a hero.

But at the inquest, several facts emerged:

- (1) The wolf had never been advised of his rights.
  - (2) The woodcutter had made no warning swings before striking the fatal blow.
  - (3) The Civil Liberties Union stressed the points that, although the act of eating Grandma may have been in bad taste, the wolf was only "doing his thing" and thus didn't deserve the death penalty.
  - (4) The SDS contended that the killing of the grandmother should be considered self-defense since she was over 30, and therefore, couldn't be taken seriously because the wolf was trying to make love, not war.
- On the basis of these considerations, it was decided there was no valid basis for charges against the wolf. Moreover, the woodcutter was indicted for unaggravated assault with a deadly weapon.
- Several nights later, the woodcutter's cottage was burned to the ground.
- One year from the date of "The Incident at Grandma's",

Irv Smith Appointed Burk Mayor, Lindenborn To Council

Billy J. Smith, Mayor of Burk Burnett since April resigned in the regular meeting of the Burk Burnett City Council Monday night. Smith stated that although he will be still employed in Burk Burnett he will soon be moving his residence to Lake Arrowhead. Smith told the group that he felt it an honor to serve as mayor of Burk Burnett and was glad that he had the opportunity to serve the people of this city.

Irv Smith, who had been serving as mayor pro-tem, was elected unanimously by the council. T.M. Cornelius was elected to serve as mayor-pro tem.

Charles "Chuck" Lindenborn, who was a candidate for the council in April's election, was appointed to fill Smith's unexpired term. Lindenborn retired from the Air Force in Burk Burnett last spring and has recently opened an insurance agency here.

Gary Bean, city manager, told the group that Burk Burnett should receive a total of $66,738 in the Federal Revenue Sharing Plan. The figure was first reported to be $124,000 early this year, but when the bill finally was passed by legislation, cities received different amounts than the first announced figures.

One-half of the 66,000 is expected to reach the local City Hall in the next very few days with the remaining one-half by January 1. The federal revenue sharing bill was retroactive to last January.

Bean told councilmen that no solid guidelines have been set as to what the money can be spent for and that he felt that the city should not spend any of the money until they know exactly what guidelines they will have to follow.

The 66,738 figure equals approximately 1/10 of the City's total budget.

Bean also told the council that the contract for the purchase of water from Wichita Falls was still not complete.

Cong. Purcell Visits Burk On Tour Through Dist.

Congressman Graham Purcell visited Burk Burnett early Thursday morning for a face-to-face talk with voters on what he considers our Nation's most crucial needs--welfare reform, inflation control, law and order, more jobs, and an honorable end to the Vietnam War.

Purcell, who earned a reputation as a tough, no-nonsense District Judge in Northwest Texas before his election to Congress 10 years ago, is seeking his sixth term in the U.S. House of Representatives.

His visit to Burk Burnett by caravan at 8:15 a.m. is part of his extensive travels through the newly-changed 13th Congressional District, which now embraces 35 counties in Northwest Texas and the Panhandle.

"There's no substitute for getting out and talking to people frankly and honestly about our national problems and policies," Congressman Purcell said.

The veteran Democratic lawmaker said his talks with voters so far have revealed that people are sick and tired of the welfare mess and it must be cleaned up.

"A working man who has to crawl out of bed at 5 o'clock in the morning and labor hard all day is doggoned sure entitled to a better life than some fellow who spends his time just lying under a shade tree and drawing welfare," Congressman Purcell said.

"In all my talks with the people of our District, I haven't found a single one who objects to providing the necessities of life for people who are really crippled or sick or elderly," he declared. "But rank-and-file citizens are completely fed up with the idea of doling out money to able-bodied men and women who won't work because it's easier just to drive downtown and pick up a welfare check."

On Vietnam, Congressman Purcell said he thinks President Nixon has done a good job of withdrawing American combat forces and that he supports the President's continued efforts to establish an honorable peace.

Another crucial issue that the next Congress will have to face is the control of inflation, Purcell said.

"This is really important, because inflation hurts worse those who can afford it least--our retired people who must get along on their Social Security or other fixed incomes," he said. Purcell said he believes a firmer system of price controls may be the answer to curbing inflation.

As a former District Judge in Wichita Falls, Purcell recalled that he fought for many years for the cause of law and order with not just words, but deeds.

"Lately some of our courts have been more concerned with the rights of criminals than with the rights of the public," Purcell said. "We must redouble our efforts to pass laws and adopt national policies whose first priority is protecting our society from the thugs who commit one crime and are immediately turned loose to go out and commit another."

Congressman Purcell noted that all during his 10 years in Congress he has worked on programs and projects to create

Show Barn Work Day Set By Livestock Assn.

Local businessmen, farmers, ranchers and others interested in the Burk Burnett Junior Livestock Association are expected to be on hand this weekend for a workday on the New show barn under construction.

The workday will begin Friday afternoon at 1:00 and will also be held all day Saturday.

The show barn is being constructed for the use of Future Farmers of America, and 4-H boys and girls of Burk Burnett and its farm area, according to James Roderick, president of the Association.

Roderick stated that the show barn is being constructed with funds raised through projects such as stocker cattle loan on wheat pasture donated by area farmers as well as donations of labor and funds by interested businessmen.

At present all of the structure work of the barn has been completed. The next step in the construction is the applying of linseed oil and paint to the pipe structure, and this is what the workday is all about. "The paint and oil was donated by Pittsburg Paints, and now we need helpers to paint the pipes," reports Roderick.

All material will be at the worksite, and interested persons are urged to put on their old clothes and come out and help us with the barn either Friday or Saturday.

After the pipes are painted, the sheet metal will be applied to the building in the next few weeks. Association members urgently request help in this weekend's workday in order that the building might be finished in as short a time as possible, and especially in time for the upcoming annual livestock show held by the Association.

NEW COUNCILMAN--Charles "Chuck" Lindenborn, Burk Burnett's newest councilman is shown as he chats with one of his customers. Lindenborn was appointed to the council Monday night to fill the unexpired term of Billy Smith who resigned.

Bulldogs Tied For District Lead; To Tackle Vernon Friday Night

The Burk Burnett Bulldogs, who have been racing down the field with district opponents and outscoring them every game, now find themselves tied with the mean green from Iowa Park for the top spot in the District 4-AAA standings.

The 'Dogs have an impressive 2-0 record for district competition and a season record of 3-2.

Under the field leadership of senior quarterback Sam Hancock the Bulldogs have scored an impressive total of 62 points in their two outings against district opponents.

The offensive unit has amassed a total of 783 rushing yards in those two games while they also totaled over 100 yards in the passing category.

Defensive wise the Bulldogs have held their two district opponents to a total of 247 yards rushing and 284 yards in the passing category. Compare the opponents with Burk Burnett, and figures reveal a total offense of almost 1,000 yards for the Bulldogs while their opponents have barely one-half of that figure.

Burk Burnett's defeat of the Weatherford Kangaroos last Friday night by the score of 34-30 was probably the most impressive win of the 'Dogs season thus far. The Kangaroos are a highly rated team with an explosive offense.

"The Kangaroos will definitely win several more ball games this year. They're too good to be defeated often. I'm glad that game is behind us."

Those are the statements from several Burk fans that attended the game as well as some of the Bulldog coaches.

The Bulldogs powerful running attack and their stingy defense will definitely get another real testing Friday night as they take on the Vernon Lions in Bulldog stadium.

Vernon currently stands 4-1 for the season and 1-1 in district competition. Their lone defeat of the year came to district opponent Iowa Park by a narrow margin of 7-3. The Lions came back last week from that previous loss by slamming the Stephenville team by the score of 40-6.

Scouting reports reveal that the Lions have a strong defense--possibly the strongest that the Bulldogs has faced all year. Their defensive unit has good size and over all quickness and great ball pursuit. This should prove to be a real battle between the Lion's tough defense and Burk Burnett's impressive offensive line that averages 200 pounds to the man.

Offensive wise, the Lions have overall good speed in all four backs. They are reported to be a well coached football team that refrains from much fancy work. "They are just quick and play hard nose football," stated Bulldog coach Bill Froman.

Eddie Pruitt is the Lions' returning quarterback who is a good passer as well as ball carrier. One of his biggest assistants is Okeef Cairo, a fine outstanding tailback for the club.

"It'll be a tough game," stated Froman who all through the season has said there were six exceptionally good football teams in this district. "We believe we can beat them and we believe we can win district, but we are taking the games one at a time," he continued.

The Bulldogs will be without the services of senior tight end Bill Snowden, who received a sprained ankle in the Weatherford game. Snowden

Local Women Turn In Winning Football Entries

It looks as though Women's Lib--or at least women--have struck the INFORMER/STAR Football Sweepstakes. This week Jackie Phillips and Pearlene Italian tied for first place with 18 correct games. Jackie was awarded first place due to her tie breaker score, thus Pearlene received the $10 second prize money.

In last week's contest one tie game resulted, that being Henrietta 7 and Seymour 7. Also, due to an error at the paper the Quannah vs. Jacksboro wasn't correct. Quannah played Stamford, not Jacksboro, thus that game was voided on all entries.

Discarding that voided game and not counting the tie game (which no one guessed would be a tie) there weren't but 18 games that could be picked, and both women picked all 18.

Somewhere in Burk Burnett there will be some men getting the "what for" from some for letting the "weaker sex" get

"While the government does not owe anybody a living, it does owe its citizens the kind of economic climate in which anybody who wants a job can find one," Purcell said.
The Congressman said good, sound Federal programs can help build dynamic, thriving economy, and that he is pleased at the volume of money the government has invested in Northwest Texas and the Panhandle.
"In Wichita County alone," Purcell said, "the Federal Government spent $200,934,523 in fiscal 1971. This represents the total outlay in this county for all programs, and I like to think this investment contributed to a sounder economy for this area."

is expected to be out for only a week or two at the most.
Ted Neible, 165 lb, senior,
will take over Snowden's duties as defensive end while Larry Martin, 160 lb, junior, and Terry Waller, 160 lb, junior will both see action at the offensive end position.
In other district action, Graham 0-2 in district will travel to Brownwood who is 1-1 in district play. Weatherford now 1-1 will travel to Wichita Falls to take on the Hirschi Huskies, also 1-1, in a Saturday night tilt. Iowa Park, who edged out Vernon in the first district game of the season 7-3 and who last week outscored injury plagued Brownwood 31-20, will take on Stephenville who had a district record of 0-2.
The Hirschi - Weatherford game should eliminate one of those teams from the district rankings, while both could easily spoil some other club's hopes.
The Bulldogs need as much moral support as they can muster from Burkburnett fans as they take on the tough Lions tomorrow night in Bulldog Stadium. Fans are urged to purchase tickets early or at least get to the game early to insure a good seat as a huge crowd is expected from both towns.

PRICE'S ASSISTANT VISITS BURKBURNETT--Charles Lanehart stopped in Burkburnett Tuesday morning for a visit with local citizens who may have problems with the Federal Government. Lanehart stated that in Price's district (before the re-alignment) that he tried to visit each town at least once a month. Plans are for continuing this in the new district to help bring the Congressman's office closer to the people. Lanehart stated that although he formally traveled in a car, a friend of Congressman Price loaned him the use of his camper bus for use during Price's current campaign for re-election. The Republican Congressman will meet Congressman Graham Purcell in the November election.

EXERCISE CLASS--The Burkburnett Youth Center is the location of an open exercise class to all interested women. A group of exercise conscious women meet there each Monday through Friday from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. and invite interested women to join them.

Dear Sir,
If possible, I would like to present this as an open letter to Burkburnett, and our church.
Burkburnett: A place to live,
work, learn, play and serve.
We came to Burkburnett in August of this year desiring to live in a city with a good school system and proper atmosphere for rearing our children.
We found all we were looking for; a good neighborhood, the offerings of a large city with small city conveniences.
But one thing we've found is,
no matter where you live, life has full meaning only when you allow God to have His proper place in all phases of your life;
work, school, play and home.
Here in Burkburnett we found most Christian denominations well represented and wonderful things being accomplished for the Lord.
If you are not a Christian or do not have a church home, we urge you to attend the church of your choice next Sunday. Ours is First Baptist Church, where each Sunday the word of God is taught, preached and expressed in music through the leadership of the Holy Spirit.
Again we say thanks to Burkburnett and First Baptist Church for meeting our needs so well, but above all we thank the never-failing God for leading us to a place to serve Him and our fellow man.
New Residents

Dear Mr. Greenwood,
We appreciate receiving a copy of the book BOOMTOWN
A PORTRAIT OF BURKBURNETT.
It is certainly an interesting, informative book concerning the history of Burkburnett and I am also writing Mrs. Benton to express our appreciation for the fine job she did in compiling this historical information.
We know that you spent a great deal of time getting the book published and you deserve much credit for these efforts.
It is important to all of us that local history be preserved in permanent records such as this book.
Our family enjoys reading
the Burkburnett Informer Star each week and we feel a closeness to Burkburnett since its oil boom history is so closely intwined in my father's life.
Best wishes for your continued

the contest.
Jackie Phillips is the wife of Coach Jim Phillips, but says she doesn't listen too much to his suggestions on predicting winning football teams. Pearlene stated that her father, Minyard Nixon helped some.
Maybe Minyard should be contacted by area sports fans to find out how to pick the winning football teams.
The results of the games for last week contest showed: Hirschi 48; Graham 18; Dallas 21,
Baltimore 0; Electra 6; Bowie, 22; Chicago 17; Cleveland 0;
Stephenville 6; Vernon 40; N.Y.

House Liberals Vote Down OSH Act

This week House liberals delivered an almost fatal blow to small businessmen and their employees when they voted down an amendment to the Occupational Safety and Health Act which would exempt employers of 15 or less people from the stringent OSHA regulations.

The financial burden placed on small businesses by OSHA will in effect cur employee chances for extra income and in some cases may cost employees their jobs. Some businessmen have indicated to me that the costs of meeting these requirements will cause them to cut back their number of employees in order to pay for meeting arbitrary health and safety standards.

I firmly believe that all people should have adequate, safe working conditions but this should be worked out between labor and management, and not by legislative decree. This is just one more function of private business that we are yielding to federal government interference.
In April, I introduced an amendment to the HEW-Labor Appropriations Act which would exempt employers of 25 people or less. The defeated amendment was a modified version of my bill.

WATCH DOG AWARD
For the third year in a row it has been my honor to receive the Watchdog of the Treasury Award from the National Associated Businessmen. This award is in recognition of my fiscally conservative voting record.

It has long been my contention that our policy of chronic deficit spending is largely responsible for the many problems of inflation, the balance of payments deficit, the dollar-confidence crisis and the like which have seriously eroded our Nation's position as a world economic leader and placed a great burden on our taxpayers.
It gave me a great deal of satisfaction this week to follow this fiscal policy and vote for the $250 billion debt limitation.

Passage of this measure is the first ray of hope I have seen in this free - spending majority controlled Congress. I hope this attitude will continue.
TOWN HALL MEETINGS
As soon as the Congress adjourns, I will again betraveling the District and visiting with you at our Tall Hall Meetings.
Time, date and place of these non-partisan, open to the public sessions will be posted with your local radio station and newspaper.

Arts & Crafts Fair Told

Over twenty - five hundred Texas artists and craftsmen have just received application forms for participation in the second annual Texas State Arts & Crafts Fair.

Sponsored by the Texas Tourist Development Agency, the Texas fair will be held on the campus of Schreiner Institute, Kerrville, on May 25-28.

Fair Director, Phil Davis, estimates that at least 1200
applications will be submitted.
"The selection committee will have a difficult task in picking only 200 craftsmen from so many applicants. Even so, we are anxious to hear from any Texas artist or craftsman who might like to be considered because we do not yet have the names of many talented Texans.
We are continually seeking new talent for the Texas fair in an effort to build its already fine reputation for quality and diversity," Davis said.

In addition to the Texas State
Arts & Crafts Fair, the second Kerrville Folk Festival will take place during the same period. Texas' top names in folk music will perform in the city

Bulldogs Take Weatherford's Homecoming Game 34-30 Friday

by Sedelta Verble
Sam Hancock and his gallant Bulldogs broke loose Friday night to stall once undefeated Weatherford 34-30. The 'Dogs faced the 'Roos at their Homecoming before a full house. Bulldog fans held their breaths and took large doses of heart medicine until the clock was completely run out.

The first quarter saw heavy action as the Bulldogs made two TD's to Weatherford's one. QB Sam Hancock bounded 57 yards and put the 'Dogs to a 7-0 lead to light the fused ball which changed hands so quickly during the entire contest.

The 'Dogs had no sooner showed their stuff till the 'Roos Brad Stroud returned a kick-off punt for 80 yards and 6 points. With 5:47 left in the first quarter, Mark Bulla completed a 50-yard drive and made a 20-yard plunge to pull the Bulldogs ahead 13-6.

The second quarter was crowded with scoring and dominated by Hancock's 90 yard ball return, that when added to Rusty Barretts' magic toe tallied Burk 20-'Roos 6.

With 7:30 left in the first half, the 'Roos added to the shouting crowd's chaos as Mark Hicks took them 80 yards and 'Roo Stroud found daylight to complicate the game with a conversion making it 20-14. As the clock died just before half-time, Bulldog Bill Snowden caught a precision pass from Hancock's right-on-target arm to pull the 'Dogs ahead 28-14.

Homecoming ceremonies amused the anxious crowd while the two teams must have listened to fired-up pep talks as they tore on to the field again ready to give it all they had.

Weatherford scored in the third quarter and came dangerously close to the Bulldog score and with a 28-22 tally early in the fourth Hicks again took 8 points to lead the Bulldogs for the first time in the game 30-28.

Heavy penalties during this crucial time were agonizing for 'Dog followers, but Hancock again took advantage of a steady arm and rocketed the pigskin to move the Bulldogs over the goal line for an electrifying, scream rousing TD that won the gruelling match 34-30. The Bulldogs couldn't stop here though, with over 3 minutes left the Burk defense still had to hold the Weatherford through which they did with muscle and bone.

Friday, the 13th proved to be a magically lucky day for the hard hitting 'Dogs who were inspired and got the job done despite their underdog status and a worthy opponent.

Sam Hancock who racked up 200 yards, Bill Snowden and Mark Bulla led the offense while dependable Rick Bradley, Mike Myers and Vernon Smith took top defensive honors.

Junior Varsity Gave In To Hirschi Sat.

The Burk Junior Varsity didn't get any lucky breaks against Hirschi Saturday as they went down 46-6. Though the 'Dogs moved the ball well, the scoreboard only moved once for them. This Saturday the JV stand up against the Coyote JV there at 12:30.

7th Grade Down Graham 38-6

by Sedelta Verble
The Bulldog 7th grade got down to the nitty gritty Tuesday and defeated Graham 38-6, and now sport a 3-1 record. "All the boys performed outstandingly" commented Coach

Beard who teams with Coach May to guide the 7th grade. The Bulldog defense didn't allow any Graham points in the first half and the 'Dog offense ate up a spectacular 360 yards.

QB Joe Horn steered the 'Dogs to 3 TDs and lead the 7th graders in scoring. All the Bulldogs earned Bear's rating of "Top Dog" and "Mad Dog", the highest evaluation Beard bestows on the players. The seventh graders battle Lawton McArthur this week.

8th Grade Stomped Graham 36-14

by Sedelta Verble
The Burkburnett 8th grade coached by Tex Yeager who haven't lost a home game in four years, stomped the Graham 8th grade 36-14.

Junior Cox magically converted 10, 30, and 60 yard runs into TD's throughout the game. Not to be outdone were Mike Doyle on a 15 yard run and Harold Rich on a 5 yard scoring plunge who know a few tricks of their own. Also, field general, Jim Edwards, helped lead the way.

Graham managed the 8th grade offense to make a first and fourth quarter run to scrape up 14 points but the battle was clearly Burk dominated.

Burk Frosh Defeated By Hirschi 28-6 Thursday

by Sedelta Verble
Burk Freshman were outdone Thursday by Hirschi 28-6 as both QB's Randy Burk and Tim Karmos were injured. The Bulldog TD was a 15 yard run with 15 minutes left and Mark Landland getting it together despite the absence of a quarterback.

Randy Burk was knocked and Tim Karmos broke his hand in the 3rd play of the game. The Freshmen take on Wichita Falls in Memorial Stadium at 5:45 p.m.

Oilers Lose To Mavericks 12-6

In a tough non-conference game the American Oilers went down to defeat.

In the first half the Oilers could not get started on offense or defense. The Mavericks used the entire first quarter going the length of the field for their first score. In the second quarter the offense could not move the football due to fumbles and missed plays. Then a very good blocking Maverick offensive unit took the ball 40 yards for another score. The extra point was missed on both touchdowns. The first half ended with the Mavericks holding a 12-0 lead over the Oilers.

The second half was a different ball game. The Mavericks kicked off to the Oilers, then on the first play from scrimmage, Tommy Darland, behind the blocking of Phillip Dowling and Jack Stine went 65 yards for an Oiler TD. The Oiler defensive unit then played inspired football. Time and time again, Jimmie Gant, Mark Mallett, Shannon Powell and Tony Young turned the Mavericks power sweeps in and the sure tackling of Eddie Gand, Johnny Castro and the rest of the defensive unit kept them from making any yardage. The defensive unit kept the Mavericks in check the whole second half. On three different occasions the offensive unit had the ball inside the Mavericks 20 yard line but penalties kept them from scoring. On one occasion a fine run by Johnny Castro for a TD was nullified by a penalty.

The final score of the game was Mavericks 12, Oilers, 6. The next game for the Oilers is against the Demons. The game will be on 25 October at Kiwanis Park.

Temple Lions have taken another planning step toward their goal of a community swimming pool estimated to be in the 60 to 70 thousand dollar range.

Four Lions, one a city governing official and another the school superintendent and Lions president, Charles Walker talked with state project developing officials last week and learned the step by step priorities in securing governmental grants to assist recreational improvements.

Lions officials will be busy for the next two weeks choosing a suitable location, agreeing on the structural plans, and checking into the ways and means of raising one-half of the estimated cost to match a government grant.

A community meeting, following the next regular meeting, Oct. 23 will be held in the high school auditorium, if necessary, to give interested citizens an opportunity to hear, Ed Roberts of Duncan explain the entire set up and answer questions.

Lions plan to solicit moral support from two area clubs, the Go - Getters and Young Farmers, if the project proves feasible for this community of near 1,200 population.

Methodist choir's attendance during a 21 Sunday tally mounted to 246 for an average between 11 and 12. Minimum and maximum counts of 7 and 14 leaves room for improvement, according to Mrs. Marjell Tucker, director.

Church organist duties are shared by Mrs. Sof Martin and Mrs. Dorothy Bowles.

BLOOD
Temple blood donors came through with 70 pints to fulfill their quota for last week's visit of the Red River Blood Motile unit.

A total of 76 hopefuls reported to the unit and six were not eligible to give for various reasons.

The Go Getter and Friendship clubs made special efforts in their recruiting assignments and volunteered a number of workers to assist in the reception room furnished by the Temple Baptist Church.

Rev. Lawrence Cox, chairman of the Temple blood program, praised his co-workers highly for their "efforts beyond the call of duty".

Eddie Laxon, chairman of the Cotton County chapter, received a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Joan Zolnerowich, assistant administrator of the Red River Regional Blood Center of Wichita Falls, expressing her feelings towards the community interest exhibited by Temple's citizens.

AIRPORT
City councilmen and members of the aviation committee met last week and agreed to hire the Duval Construction Co. of Shawnee, Okla. to hard surface Temple's second airport runway.

The one-half mile strip was built on land donated by a local banker, Elmer Graham, and an office building and a north-south runway sums up the improvements to date.

Work on glazing the strip started Oct. 18 and requires two days for completion, according to Dave Richardson, chairman of the three-member committee.

Past expenditures have been taken care of from donations by civic minded citizens, and the chairman hopes additional funds will be made available by additional contributions.

The estimated cost for surfacing is estimated at near the $3,500 figure.

City officials and councilmen are hopeful hangers and a shop with aircraft and engine maintenance facilities can be added later and leased to an operator.

"When the Waurika Lake becomes a reality the airport, located two miles north of Temple on Highway 5, should be a favorite landing spot for sportsmen," Richardson said.

ALARM
Temple's volunteer firemen answered an alarm at 7:25 p.m. Saturday made by workmen at the Farmer's Gin.

The blaze started in a partially loaded cotton trailer in the process of being emptied and could have been an expensive fire had not the trucks and firemen arrived within minutes following the alarm, officials at the gin said.

A 30 to 35 mile per hour north wind added greatly to the possibility of the gin and its contents being destroyed.

IMPROVEMENTS
Since 1956, the year Pleasant Ridge one-room school closed, the facilities have been used for community entertainment and repairs and upkeep maintained by members of the Cotton Co. Friendship group.

The school and club members are in a community five miles east of Temple where bi-monthly music lovers assemble with stringed instruments and a sprinkling of reed instruments plus vocal numbers to keep the four walls vibrating until a late hour.

The 14 member club and some of the husbands have attacked the building several times with saws, hammers, mowers, brooms, mops and paint brushes since assuming upkeep. The recent onslaught has just been completed by the women.

Walls and ceiling are now a whiter white, the floor is a battleship gray, windows have a new outlook with new curtains. The kitchen and equipment now has a better appearance. The lawn condition was so bad a tractor-mower was used to help the landscaping improvements.

Mrs. Mattie Hooper, president of the club, explained the club was organized sometime during Sept., 1929 and is next to the Homesteader club being the oldest club in the county with continuous operation.

Besides the bi-monthly gatherings, the Cotton County Singing organization uses the space once each year for a two hour singfest.

During Thanksgiving Week the Friendsippers sponsor a pot luck supper besides furnishing turkey, dressing and soft drinks. This annual affair attracts an average of 70 friends, the president said.

Federal Campaign Passes 50 Per Cent

According to officials in the Sheppard Technical Training Center Comptroller's office, the 1973 Combined Federal Campaign has passed the 50 per cent mark --54.5 per cent to be exact.

The drive, designed to replace the United Fund and National Health-International Service agency campaigns, was begun Sept. 7.

The target for Sheppard is $15,670 with a total of $58,562 already collected from military and civilian people. Each unit's target is determined by taking two-tenths of one per cent of the average annual salaries for each man in the organization.

The target for military is $66,073 while the civilian target stands at $49,597. So far, the total amount collected from military people is $41,708 and from civilian employees, $16,584.

According to the Comptroller office amount's collected from each unit are the School of Applied Aerospace Sciences with a contribution of $23,251; School of Health Care Sciences, $11,772; 3750th Air Base Group, $7,870; 3630th Flying Training Wing, $5,778; 3750th Maintenance and Supply Group, $4,303; Sheppard Technical Training Center Headquarters, $1,900; 3750th Civil Engineering Squadron, $1,234; and 2054th Communications Squadron, $1062. Civilian employee organizations on base that have contributed include the Northrup Employees, $3,000; Northrup Aviation, $800; Base Exchange Employees, $479; Civilian Credit Union, $11; and the American Federation of Government Employees Lodge, 1731, $50.

The Comptroller's office reminds each organization that this year an individual can make a generous donation without endangering his pocketbook.

Through the payroll deduction program, the donor can spread out his contribution over a 12-month period beginning Jan. 1, 1973. Fifty cents per pay day for civilians and $1 per month for military is the minimum deduction.

So far 62.8 per cent of the total amount contributed was through the payroll deduction plan.

In addition, contributors have the option of designating all or part of their gift to any of the participating organizations. However, any single designation must be no less than $1.

The three involved agencies in the campaign have agreed the designated gifts will be allocated to the appropriate group if the donor desires.

Undesignated funds will then be distributed to each group to attain the dollar goals. Any remaining funds will be distributed to the groups based on a three-year average each received from federal employees (military and civilian) in the area.

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE

SAFB Drill Team Big Favorites At AF 25th Aniv.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Sheppard's drill team, the Blue Knights, and the Drum and Bugle Corps really know how to win friends--and keep them.

Their rhythmic beat, fancy stepping and rifle twirling plus some of the sharpest uniforms in the Air Force have made both units big favorites with thousands of persons in North Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

Both are in heavy demand for public functions throughout a 75 mile radius of Sheppard and are frequently seen in rodeo and fair parades, charity events, and in special exhibitions.

Most recently the two precision teams performed for a crowd of enthusiastic spectators at the base open house, held in honor of the Air Force's 25th anniversary.

All volunteers, Drum and Bugle Corps and drill team members belong to the 3775th and 78th Student Squadrons, School of Applied Aerospace Sciences, respectively.

Motivation is high within the elite organizations, and the standards are tough. They spend two hours a day weekdays and four hours on Saturdays to achieve the precision necessary to be tops in their performances.

Just to stay in the organization requires the member to maintain a high academic average in his Air Force course of study, keep his behavioral record unblemished and perform well -- individually and within the team.

In addition, both groups have to turn down many invitations for appearances because the performances conflict with their training schedule.

Both groups have such prestige on base, that young airmen who qualify usually seek out one

Well Trained And Well Informed Instructors

by MSgt. Edmil W. Auld SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Instructors are the key to the well-trained, well-informed people the Air Force needs.

And, as electronics have increased in importance, an even bigger burden has fallen on the instructors in the electronics principles branch of the Department of Communications and Missile Training at Sheppard. The Air Force is the world's largest employer of electronics technicians and for many Air Force technicians, the course at Sheppard is their initiation into the field.

The instructors in the branch are able to take a high school graduate and prepare him for the electrical systems of the Air Force's most powerful weapons, complex medical equipment, or any other area where electronics is the foundation. The students in the basic course then go to specialties taught at either the School of Applied Aerospace Sciences or the School of Health Care Sciences.

Some of the instructor staff at Sheppard have attended as many as 28 Air Force schools while others have as much as 12 years teaching experience.

But all of the instructors have been "taught to teach" in the Technical Instructor course and some have completed the Air University's Academic Instructor course, the college for Air Force instructors.

Added to this training and experience and continuous courses in counseling, teaching, and curriculum development. They provide refresher training for the more experienced teachers while increasing the qualifications of the less experienced.

To aid the instructor force there is more than $860,000 in training equipment. Yet the training does not come easy either for the instructor or the student. Each student spends many hours studying, and if he needs additional help, he gets personalized instruction on a one-to-one basis.

The instructors in the branch spend at least six hours a day teaching and then conduct remedial training, write student study guides, tests, workbooks, and lesson plans, attend instructor training courses and security briefings. Often, when an instructor is not teaching, he is sitting in a class in another area of the course to increase his teaching qualifications.

For the branch, the day begins at 6 a.m. and ends 18 hours later. Every week, through long hours and dedication, the branch sends another group of well-trained Air Force men to advanced courses. The pipeline from civilian to Air Force electronics technician is assured through the efforts of the instructors in the electronics principles branch.

Airman Beagle Donates $120 To Federal Campaign

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Airman Robert C. Beagle, a student in Sheppard AFB's 3795th Student Squadron, made a donation of $120 to the Combined Federal Campaign this week. This donation exceeds his fair share by 1000 per cent.

When asked about his generous donation, Airman Beagle said the campaign had special meaning for him because his younger brother, who had problems at birth, received help from the CFC agencies.

The airman was also influenced by his experience working with 3 to 6-year old children having mental and physical defects, at Camp Royale in Traverse City, Michigan.

Airman Beagle is a student in the medical laboratory specialist course, of the School of Health Care Sciences at Sheppard.

Literature Club Hears United Nations Program

"I came away from the United Nations feeling that world peace is just world understanding of other people."

This was the conclusion of teen-age Jacque Harris as she described an 18 day United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth for the Current Literature Club recently.

"This idea of the differentness of people disappeared from my own thought on the trip, for I had started out expecting Americans in the North and Canadians to have a different way of speaking and a different way of looking at things," she said.

"Instead, I found that we were all very much alike and that a Texas size friendliness was returned everywhere," she concluded.

Jacque was also impressed with the large number of people working very hard for world understanding and world progress through United Nations missions and organizations.

She was one of a large group of teen-age winners of essay contests sponsored in the United States by the Order of Odd Fellows and in Burkburnett by Theta Roe Assembly of Texas.

In addition to attending a week long series of lectures at the United Nations, the youth group toured Washington, New York City, Philadelphia and Ontario.

Over 2,000 deer, turkey and quail hunters will have a chance to hunt on the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Wildlife Management Areas this year. Prospective hunters have until 5 p.m. Oct. 24 to return completed public hunt application forms to the department's Austin offices. A public drawing will be held at 10 a.m. Oct. 27 in the John Reagan Building, Austin. The permits will be necessary to hunt quail, deer and turkey on the Gene Home area; quail on the Matador area; deer on the Kerr, Sierra Diablo, Engeling and Stephen F. Austin areas; and deer and javelina on the Chaparral area. Quail may be hunted on the Chapparal and Black Gap areas by simply checking in at the area headquarters on the days of the hunt. The Black Gap area will be open to quail hunting, Nov. 15-22 and the Chapparal will be open Nov. 18-19, Dec. 2-3, 1972, Jan. 6-7 and Jan. 27-28, 1973. ## $75 To Fire Dept.

The Burk Burnett Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75.00 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of William Lalk, Rt. 2, Electra, Texas.

The money will be used for their loss prevention program. The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay volunteer fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them. The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more importantly, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Burk Burnett Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

Y-Teens everywhere are interested in the world around them and the Burk Burnett Junior Y-Teens are no different. The club is composed of girls in the Burk Burnett Junior High who are members of the YWCA. You may have met some of them this summer when they came to your house selling stationery as a part of the Y-Teen fund raising activities. In January of 1972 they organized as a club for service to their school and community, fellowship, and recreation. They are a small group now, but, continue to grow. They meet each second and fourth Monday at 3:45 pm in the Junior High School. Their planned activities for the next few months include a membership drive and social, new member orientation, a Christmas Party, Adopted Grandparents Christmas service project, and the Handing of the Greens.

Their greatest need at the present time is a sponsor or advisor. This could be any adult woman who is interested in devoting some of her time and energy in helping the Y-Teens accomplish their goals: To grow as a person; To grow in friendship with people of all races, religions, and nationalities; and to grow in the knowledge and love of God. If you are interested in helping with Y-teens and would like more information about the role and responsibilities of an advisor, please contact Mrs. Angnell, YWCA Youth Director.

Demo Barefoot Sanders To Visit Wichita Falls Thurs.

Barefoot Sanders, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate, has scheduled a visit to Wichita Falls on Thursday, Oct. 19, according to Paul Brunette and Bob Stuart, his Wichita County campaign managers.

One of the highlights of Sanders' visit will be a free spaghetti supper at Weeks Park Shelter sponsored by the Democratic Womens Organization of Wichita County. Mrs. John Penn, president of the organization, urges all area residents to come and eat home made spaghetti, meet Barefoot in the park, hear him discuss the issues and ask questions.

"Many residents of area communities are expected to attend this function and many are helping local members with the preparations," according to Mrs. Penn. "We are especially pleased to host Barefoot because Mrs. Sanders has been one of our Honorary members for many years," added Mrs. Penn.

Arriving in Wichita Falls at 2 p.m. by plane, Sanders will go directly to Midwestern University for a press conference. This will be followed by a talk to students and faculty and a reception in the Ballroom of Midwestern Student Center.

"I am looking forward to my visit in Wichita Falls and want to meet as many residents of the North Texas area as possible," said Sanders of his scheduled visit. Sanders has recently issued position papers on major topics of the campaign. These are available at his headquarters, 711 Travis, in Wichita Falls. Sanders is opposed by John Tower in the race of U.S. Senate.

Mrs. Frank Gibson is program chairman for the Democratic Womens Organization and is handling all arrangements for the spaghetti supper. Entertainment will be provided during the supper and Brunette and Stuart will act as master of ceremonies. Barefoot's Belles, teenage volunteers, will serve as hostesses for the Weeks Park Event.

5 Counties Quarantined Result Of Fire Ants

The imported fire ant, small in size but packing a powerful sting, is continuing its march through Texas.

And an infestation as discovered, quarantines are being imposed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in an attempt to contain the fiery pests and to treat infested areas.

Five new counties were recently placed under federal quarantine - Nueces, Smith, Trinity, Victoria and Walker. Other counties under state or federal quarantine include Angelina, Austin, Bexar, Brazoria, Chambers, Collin, Colorado, Dallas, Denton, Fort Bend, Galveston, Gregg, Grimes, Hardin, Harris, Harrison, Jasper, Jefferson, Liberty, Montgomery, Nacogdoches, Newton, Orange, Panola, Polk, Rusk, Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, Shelby, Tarrant, Tyler, Waller and Wharton.

Officials of the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) are treating infested areas as well as materials that might harbor fire ants and thereby be transported into uninfested locations. Nurserymen, soil-moving equipment contractors and many others are cooperating in the effort.

The quarantine is designed to prevent the ants from spreading long distances by restricting the movement of articles that might harbor them, says Reed Green, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Regulated articles include soil, plants and roots, grass sod, hay and straw, logs and wood, and used soil - moving equipment. These items cannot legally be transported from infested to uninfested areas until they have been inspected, treated if necessary, and certified to be "pest free" by a federal or state inspector, notes the Texas A&M University specialist.

Green points out that fire ants are a nuisance in both rural and urban areas. Invasion by the imported fire ant into lawns, pastures, parks, schoolyards and recreational areas is annoying and causes unsightly damage. The most significant agricultural losses are reduced efficiency of labor and farm machinery--losses which are hard to assess in dollars. Fire ant mounds damage machinery, prevent mowing operations and reduce the value of land in heavily infestated areas.

Texas A&M University was recently awarded a three-year USDA grant of $120,000 to study the fire ant problem in Texas. According to Green, work is presently under way on biological control of fire ants through the use of pheromones and hormones. Survey techniques by remote sensing and the use of infrared photography to detect infested areas are also being evaluated.

The cooperation of all agricultural producers, landowners, nurserymen, soil-moving contractors and others engaged in transporting any of the regulated articles is essential to suppress the spread of fire ants, emphasizes the entomologist.

Enter Hay Samples In 1972 State Hay Show Oct. 25-26

A lot of hay has been made over the state this year but how does it measure up in quality and feeding value?

To find out, producers are encouraged to enter hay samples in the 1972 State Hay Show which will be held October 25-26 at the Nine Bar Ranch near Cypress in Harris County. The ranch is on U.S. Highway 290 three miles northwest of Cypress.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. on October 25 and judging will get under way at 10 a.m. Hay entries may be made in one of 28 different classes, according to Harris County Extension Agents Rayford Kay and Don Portie. Samples should be sent to the County Extension Office, 406 Caroline, Room 203, Houston, Texas 77002.

Deadline for entries is October 2 except for those that already have a complete chemical analysis. Such entries accompanied with the analysis may be submitted through October 9.

If hay samples have not been analyzed, a $7 fee should be included. Checks are payable to the Agriculture Committee of the Houston Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the show in conjunction with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, Texas Education Agency and Texas Plant Food Institute.

A hay sample should be four or more inches thick, tied with baling twine wrapped in heavy paper or newspaper to reduce damage during shipment, suggest the county agents. The owner should identify the sample as to name, address and type of hay.

In addition to judging of hay entries, hay equipment will be demonstrated throughout the two-day event.

Show judges will be A. C. Novosad, pasture specialist, and Dr. Neal Pratt, agronomist, both with the Extension Service, and Phillip Nix, pasture specialist with the Texas Education Agency.

Detailed instructions for submitting hay entries as well as other information on the state hay show is available at any county Extension office, add Portie and Kay.

Plant Spring Flowering Bulbs Now

"For a dash of color in your garden next spring, plant spring flowering bulbs now.

"Purchase bulbs as soon as they are available in garden and nursery centers," advises Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Early selection will provide you with bulbs that are in prime condition, since the shelf life of many spring flowering bulbs is short."

Hardy bulbs include daffodils, hyacinths, crocus and tulips.

Throughout the southern portion of the state, tulips must be treated as annuals and replaced each year. Precooled bulbs must be purchased as there is insufficient cool weather to form the flower bud. Most tulip varieties require chilling in cold storage at 40 degrees F. for 60 to 90 days. Plant the bulbs as soon as they are removed from cold storage, advises Janne.

Select bulbs that are firm and free of water-soaked areas. Check for discoloration or rough areas as these frequently indicate disease. Avoid those that are moldy or soft and beware of so-called "bargain" bulbs.

"Once you have purchased the needed bulbs, be in no hurry to plant if storage facilities are available," advises Janne.

"Hold the bulbs at 40 degrees F. until late November or early December before planting. Be careful that the bulbs do not dry out while in storage."

If instructions are not available, a good rule of thumb is to place the base of the bulb at a depth two to three times the height of the bulb. Plant bulbs in a well-drained area.

"Plant the bulbs so that the different varieties are grouped in masses to provide a good display of color," suggests the Texas A&M University horticulturist.

"An effective way to use bulbs is to plant them in flower borders along with perennials. After the bulbs have bloomed, the perennial foliage will hide the maturing bulb foliage as it deteriorates."

Other locations for bulbs are in foundation plantings, around terraces, at driveway entrances or in woody areas to help naturalize them.

Apply a complete commercial fertilizer such as 8-8-8 or a similar analysis to the planting bed. Three to four pounds per 100 square feet of bed area is sufficient.

With proper planning and preparation, good results can be achieved almost every year with spring flowering bulbs here in the South, even with tulips, adds the horticulturist.

Biggest Livestock Auction To Be Held At Texas State Fair

One of the largest livestock auctions of them all will take place during the final week of activities at the State Fair of Texas. The Junior Livestock Auction, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 20 and 21, will bring in over 2,000 Future Farmers and 4-H Club members from more than 200 counties in Texas.

The youngsters will be competing and selling the steers, lambs and pigs they've been raising for the past year. These boys and girls work hard developing superior livestock under the watchful eyes of adult counselors. All the animals are scientifically fed, and each year the Junior Livestock Auction Sale is presented so that these Texas youngsters are recognized for their hard work and receive money for future projects and to further their education.

The two-day event begins at 9:30 a.m. on Friday, Oct. 20 at the livestock sales arena and flavor than you will find almost anywhere, and you still get it at less money than you would pay retail.

The Livestock Department stresses that you can either buy and keep this premium beef for your own good eating, or buy your beef and donate it to a deserving institution. Either way you will be helping the youth of Texas learn to compete, to work, to assume responsibility, and to further their education. . . a project that is vitally important to the future of Texas.

Anyone who is unable to attend the auction and wishes to purchase a steer, lamb or pig can do so by contacting the Livestock Committee at the State Fair. The committee will arrange to have it dressed, wrapped according to individual cuts, and ready for storage in a home food freezer or locker.

Dates On Food Items Confusing To Consumer

Use of open dates on food items is growing daily, but several studies say consumers find them confusing.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, reported on the survey and explained four types of open dating this week.

"Results of several studies by the Economic Research Service indicate that consumers definitely favor open dating, but are confused about what the dates mean."

"This is because currently there are at least four different types of dates in use, and each has its own special meaning."

"Pack" date tells when the food was manufactured, processed, or packaged.

"Display" date tells when an item was placed on the supermarket shelf.

"Pull" date is the last day a retail store should offer the food for sale--provided it has been stored and handled properly.

"It's not the last day it can be eaten without loss of quality, however. To allow for reasonable amount of home storage, the pull date should be considerably earlier than the end of shelf life," the specialist noted.

"Expiration" date is the last day the food is acceptable for intended use. After expiration, the item is expected to begin showing a significant loss of quality, even though it still may be safe for use.

Mrs. Clyatt termed the two latter types the most useful, noting they are "predictive" of freshness.

"It is likely manufacturers would be able to set their own time limits, though, under the eye of the government," she predicted.

processor to supermarket to dinner table.

"The main idea behind food dating is delivery to food to consumers as fresh as possible. Open dating should encourage good handling and refrigeration practices."

In addition, it should encourage rotation of food stock on a first-in, first-out basis and help supermarkets abide by pull dates. And it will encourage consumers to use food before it is too old, she said.

Turning to recent attempts to legislation on open dating, Mrs. Clyatt said federal legislation is pending in both houses of Congress.

"This would require an open or uncodified pull date on all perishable and semi-perishable food."

"The Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, acting through the Food and Drug Administration, would regulate methods of determining the maximum time allowed--under proper storage conditions--from packaging to the last day of retail sale."

"It is likely manufacturers would be able to set their own time limits, though, under the eye of the government," she predicted.

"Although not included in the legislation, it would be helpful if the pull date were explained on the label."

"It would be useful also if the label would explain under what conditions the food should be stored at home and how long it should maintain its quality," she recommended.

"The label, for instance, might say, 'May be sold until November 24, 1972. For best quality, use within two weeks of that date and store at 42 degrees F.'"

Livestock Anniversary Celebrated At State Fair

The Pan-American Livestock Exposition and Junior Livestock Show began an early celebration of its twentieth anniversary at the State Fair of Texas as officials announced an all-time record number of entries. A total of 5,869 head, nearly one thousand more than last year, currently are entered in the various classes.

The prestigious Pan-American Livestock Exposition opens October 7 and continues through October 15. Ray W. Wilson, manager of all State Fair Livestock activities, considers the large number of entries from 15 states a tribute to the Pan-American Exposition as a show- place and market for purebred livestock.

"We are predicting the most outstanding livestock show ever at the State Fair of Texas," Wilson commented.

The Pan-American Beef Cattle Shows, October 7-10, have received 1,401 entries to date, a gain of almost 400 over 1971. Exceptional gains are evidenced in the Brahman and Santa Gertrudis divisions. "This is the largest number of entries ever received for a Brahman show in Texas," said Wilson, noting that 321 figure. The American Brahman Breeders Association and the Santa Gertrudis Breeders International are gathering for two great national shows during the Exposition.

Pan-American's five-breed Dairy Cattle Shows reflect a gain of 80 over last year. Entries in the swine, sheep and goat shows are also up from 1971. Slight gains have been registered in the entries for the Junior Livestock Show.

TAP Honors Pork During October

Texas pork is pure, plentiful, and preferred. Pork is being featured during October through the Texas Agricultural Products (TAP) program working in cooperation with the Texas Park Producers Association.

About 18,000 colorful posters will be used this month throughout the state proclaiming the advantages of pork.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White noted that Texas is becoming a major pork producing state. Texas now ranks 14th in the nation in hog production. More than 325,000 pounds of pork were produced in 1969 with cash receipts to Texas hog producers of more than $71 million.

A brochure explaining how to cook pork has been prepared by the Texas Department of Agriculture's TAP staff.

Pork being produced by today's producers is far superior to that of a few years ago. There's more edible meat per pound, less fat and more body-building protein in today's pork. Pork has 22 per cent more protein, 57 per cent less fat and 36 per cent fewer calories today compared to a few years ago.

Pork provides three times as much of the "nerve" vitamin--Thiamine--than any other known food item. Pork can play an important role in diets for weight control.

A free copy of the brochure along with other recipes utilizing pork can be obtained by writing John C. White, Texas Agriculture Commissioner, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Customers Desire High Egg Quality

High quality eggs are nutritious, inexpensive and attractive--all qualities desired by the consumer.

Examining the shell is one way of determining egg quality, according to Dr. David B. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. By simply looking at the shell, one can determine whether it is clean, unbroken and properly shaped.

However, judging interior quality is more difficult, he contends. Eggs are judged in the packing plant by a "candle" light. This is an intensive light passing through the egg, allowing examination of the contents. The housewife has to wait until she breaks the egg to see if it passes the "break out test".

A high quality egg has several characteristics, including a clean, sound, normal shaped shell. It should have a high, upstanding yolk and albumen which does not spread over a large area. High quality eggs produce excellent cooking results and have an attractive taste and odor when properly cooked. They provide some amounts of all essential nutrients except vitamin C. Eggs also enhance the eye appeal of other dishes and are an outstanding value compared to other protein foods.

A top quality egg has a small air cell. Its albumen is thick, upstanding and frequently cloudy. This cloudiness or milkiness merely indicates that the carbon dioxide which is naturally present in a fresh egg has not escaped through the shell. As the egg gets older, the white starts to clear and decrease, the albumen and yolk become less upstanding, and the air cell increases. When broken out, fresh eggs cover only a small area and have a large amount of thick white, points out the specialist.

The white, twisted, rope-like strands of material in the albumen that are seemingly attached to the yolk are known as "chalazae". They are cords of highly concentrated albumen which support the yolk in the center of the albumen. All eggs have these in varying amounts. Mellor adds that the chalazae are nothing more than egg white and need not be removed before cooking.

Hardin Club Met At Cheney Home Wednesday

The Friendly Hardin Club met October 11 in the home of Mrs. J.G. Cheney.

Mrs. James Lature, president, called the meeting to order. The report of the first meeting of Friendly Homemakers Club in 1959 was read. The minutes of the previous meeting and treasurer's report were given.

The club will have a salad luncheon Dec. 13 at the Reddy Room.

The next meeting will be Oct. 25 in the home of Mrs. W. E. Goins. County Extension agent will demonstrate furniture construction. There were 12 members and one visitor present.

Mrs. Peters To Discuss Amendments Of Texas Const.

It's easy enough to find out more than you want to know about McGovern and Nixon or Briscoe and Grover or Tower and Sanders, right? What with their big advertising budgets, you don't even need to leave home to learn their stands on almost anything.

But how much do you know about a proposed pay increase for legislators? Or four-year terms for the governor and other officials? Or about putting all justices of the peace on a salary instead of letting some make as much or as little as they can through the fee system? Or about rewriting the Texas Constitution?

Fourteen amendments to the Texas Constitution will be decided at the same time as the more glamorous races, but proponents and opponents of these measures are seldom well enough organized or financed to do a very effective job of voter education.

To fill this gap in Burkburnett, Mrs. M.E. Peters, 705 Pecan, will discuss the 14 amendments at a public meeting in the National Room beginning at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 30.

Mrs. Peters is a member of the Wichita Falls League of Women Voters, which supplies speakers and non-partisan information on such issues before each election.

And for those of us who read better than we listen, Mrs. Peters will have available the LWV's Voter's Guide, which includes unbiased information on state-wide candidates as well as a "translation" or resume of each amendment.

While League membership is open to all women of voting age, Mrs. Peters stressed that the Oct. 30 meeting is open to anyone interested. "For meetings of this sort, we will even admit men," she said.

BROOM SALES GREAT--Boomtown Lions Club members are shown near their broom caravan Saturday morning in the club sponsored broom and mop sale. Club members reported sales went well and thanked the public for their support.

Free First Aid Course

First aid classes will begin October 23 at 7 p.m. at the Burkburnett Community Service Center. Steve Stevens, a certified Red Cross First Aid instructor, will teach the 10-hour course. All area residents are invited to take advantage of this opportunity to learn the basic first aid procedures that could save the life of a member of their family. There is no charge for this course.

For further information, call Mrs. Blankinship or Mrs. Harris at 569-1831.

Grace Lutheran Missionary Society Met For Business Meeting

Grace Lutheran Missionary Society met recently for their regular business meeting. It opened with the singing of the hymn, "Praise to the Lord, the Almighty" and Mrs. Clarence Koenig gave the prayer.

Plans were made for the birthdays at the Day Care Center. Everyone was reminded about the Fall Rally to be held in Vernon. The Christmas bazaar to be held the first Saturday in Dec.

was discussed. Tuesday morning has been set aside to work on projects. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Koenig served refreshments to the members and guests present.

Guidelines of Life

by William W. Penn, First United Methodist Church

My earliest impression of what God was like, was that he was a sort of celestial book keeper. In my imagination I could see him sitting upon a throne ornately carved of gold, with a magnificent desk in front of him, and on it was a great big book. There were angels and spirits floating all around, and a host of dignitaries gathered around, but there God was, recording each and everything I did--mostly the bad things I did. I am sure that some of you have at times had a similar picture in your mind.

As I have matured, and come to know more about God's creation, I've come to the conclusion that although God knows me and what I do, he has much more to do than just keep books. And I have read the Bible, especially the teachings of Jesus, I have come to the conclusion that although God abhors evil, and any bad deed we might do, he is more concerned with the good we do. His parables of the "Wheat and Tares" and of the "Sheep and Goats" both show that sin can be forgiven, but it is the righteous that are to inherit the Kingdom of God. And this is especially true in his discourse found in Matthew 25:34-46 on the "Final Judgement", where he stresses the necessity for us to feed the hungry, give drink to the thirsty, welcome the lonely, clothe the naked, look after the ill, and visit those in prison. In conclusion he says, "As ye did it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye did it to me."

Even as mortals we judge others, not by their lowest but by their best. I know that the final judge is God our maker, and he says to us, "Judge not lest ye be judged". But if man is able to judge others by their best, how much more must God. He is willing and able to forgive us of our sins, but we must live the good life, and help him in building His kingdom here on earth.

The sensual man also knows where to take his wife to remind her of their honeymoon. Such a masculine hero frequently takes the good woman for a surprise stay at a hotel or motel, where luxurious living and privacy can help rejuvenate both of them.

Weekly Health Tip

from Joe Gillespie
For "rescue breathing": Clear victim's throat of water, mucus, food. Tilt head back to open the air passage. Hold jaw in jutting-out position. Pinch nostrils to prevent air leakage unless victim is a child. Blow into mouth (and nose, if victim is a small child) until you see the chest lift. Remove your mouth; listen for air return from victim's lungs. Repeat about 12 times a minute for an adult, about 20 times a minute for a child.
