Brownwood Is Next Opponent

★ Bulldogs WIN Over ★ Undeatefated Hirschi, 7-6

The Burk Burnett Bulldogs defeated the Hirschi Huskies 7-6 in a very close, defensive battle Thursday night in Memorial Stadium. This was Hirschi's first defeat in district play. Coach Pat Smiley of the Bulldogs said that this game was the best defensive game the Bulldogs have played since he has been here as coach. Of the approaching game Friday against Brownwood at Bulldog Stadium, Coach Smiley said, "We'd like to win. We're going out to win. They (Brownwood) will be ready since they have eleven outstanding players."

The Lion team members weigh from 175-197 and are strong on defense. They have three backs who were starters last year, and that is where much of the strength lies.

If Brownwood wins and Hirschi loses to Iowa Park, the Lions will take the district crown. If Hirschi wins, they win the crown; and if Iowa Park beats Hirschi and Burk defeats Brownwood, IP will represent district. Friday night's game will decide.

Of the Iowa Park-Hirschi game, Coach Smiley said that the one who wins will be the one who makes the fewest mistakes. He predicted a very close, tight game.

Thursday night was a night to remember for both the Burk Burnett Bulldogs and the Hirschi Huskies. These two 4-AAA powerhouses met at Memorial Stadium in Wichita Falls in what could have been the district title game for Hirschi had they won.

Coming into the game with a 5-0 district record, the Huskies were to battle twice defeated Burk Burnett, who had a 3-2 record after a close defeat against Iowa Park the week before.

The Bulldogs were ready to play tough football on the artificial turf of Memorial Stadium as the kickoff time arrived, Hirschi winning the toss and electing to receive.

On the first drive of the game, Hirschi began from their own 25 yard line after the Bulldog kickoff. On this series, the Bulldogs only allowed the Huskies 3 yards and the Huskies had to punt. The short punt went out of bounds on the Hirschi 47 where Burk Burnett began its drive.

After runs by Zac Henderson and Lynn Hammond, the count was 4th down with three yards to go on the 40 yard line. Quarterback Ben Wilkinson pitched out to Henderson who was close for the first down on the Hirschi 37.

From the 37 yard line the Bulldogs got a third and 3 on the 30 after two Hammond runs. On the next play Zac Henderson got a pitchout from the quarterback and ran for a first down on the Huskie 26. The next four downs proved disastrous after a quarterback sack and an incomplete pass. After 4th down and nine on the 25, Hirschi took possession of the ball, 4:13 remaining in the first quarter.

Following two short gainer running plays, Hirschi had a 3rd and 7 from the Bulldog

Mayor's Proclamation Discourages Energy Waste

Chamber Will Not Light Downtown For Christmas

It was announced Monday by the Chamber of Commerce, after a poll of the Board of Directors by the President, J.B. Riley, that the Chamber would follow President Nixon's guidelines for conservation of energy in the following manner:

The downtown street lighting and decorations would be discontinued for this season. Downtown merchants would be encouraged to decorate in ways other than outside lighting displays. Inside spot lighted displays and lighted trees should be kept to a minimum.

The firms usually displaying the largest lighted displays in the downtown area, Texas Electric, The Burk Burnett Bank, First National Bank, and the City Offices, have indicated their decorations will not be lighted this year.

There will be no home lighting contest this year and in line with the Mayor's Proclamation, the Chamber is discouraging any large lighting displays.

Mayor Proclamation

Mayor T.M. Cornelius signed a proclamation this week, stating for the City of Burk Burnett, including every citizen, to cooperate with the national "Energy Emergency Program" enacted by President Nixon. Mayor Cornelius urged citizens to conserve fuel and electricity in order to insure that each individual will have sufficient energy to facilitate their health, safety, and welfare.

City Of Burk Burnett

The City of Burk Burnett will take steps to curb the energy crisis in several ways due to the fuel shortage.

The first effective change will be the procedure for tree limbs and brush pickups. This change is effective as of this date and details are as follows:

Pick up day will be Wednesday of each week only. Each pickup order must be placed with the city office, giving the correct address, so the city may cut down on the miles driven.

Limbs must be trimmed to fit the city grinder, no limbs larger than five inches in diameter.

Grass, leaves, small brush, clippings, etc. must be placed in paper, plastic bags, or cardboard boxes with the tops secured. No wooden or metal containers are acceptable.

The City asks your cooperation in the move to preserve energy.

PROCLAMATION

DUE TO THE "ENERGY EMERGENCY PROGRAM" ANNOUNCED BY PRESIDENT NIXON THIS WEEK:

I, T. M. CORNELIUS, MAYOR OF BURKBURNETT, TEXAS FEEL IT NECESSARY TO CALL UPON EACH AND EVERY CITIZEN OF BURKBURNETT TO COOPERATE IN THIS ENERGY EMERGENCY AND CONSERVE FUEL AND ELECTRICITY IN ORDER TO INSURE EACH AND EVERY INDIVIDUAL IN THE CITY WILL HAVE SUFFICIENT ENERGY TO FACILITATE THEIR HEALTH, SAFETY AND WELFARE.

THEREFORE, AS MAYOR OF BURKBURNETT, I HEREBY PROCLAIM AN "ENERGY EMERGENCY PROGRAM" BE IN EFFECT AS OF THIS DATE FOR THE WELFARE OF THE CITIZENS OF BURKBURNETT.

Impressions

Thoughts
Of A Newsmen

by Leon Smith

Americans still take care of their own. Several nights ago President Nixon hinted on a nationwide TV announcement that we might be headed for an energy crisis, for us to start conserving power for the winter ahead now. Nixon started the ball rolling by ordering a lower thermostat maximum in federal offices and a maximum speed limit of 50 miles per hour for federal vehicles except in emergencies. He left the rest up to Congress and the American people.

Already local businessmen have voiced concern at the shortage and many have decided to go in an all-out effort to conserve power locally. Although most think that Burk Burnett will not be seriously affected, many places elsewhere in the U.S. will.

Several local businesses will be without those exotic Christmas lights this year and so will the City itself in order to save on electricity.

There has been a lot of talk the past few years about commercialism during Christmas; that all the bright lights and glamour overshadow its real meaning. By sacrificing these bright lights and electric decorations which make Christmas come alive, we're possibly giving to some individuals in a colder climate the energy needed to keep them warm over the winter. That could be the real meaning we're looking for.

After recently reading a news release dealing with the energy shortage, I'm convinced that hydrogen could be the miracle fuel of the future.

According to scientists, hydrogen can be readily synthesized from oil, coal, or natural gas and can be produced by splitting molecules of water. When hydrogen burns, the combustion product is water.

Many developments have been made toward the hydrogen-powered car and many are being made each day, but there remains quite a way to go. A major obstacle is designing an engine that can be powered by hydrogen.

Hydrogen offers no pollution, is five times safer than gasoline, would be light-weight, and would be plentiful.

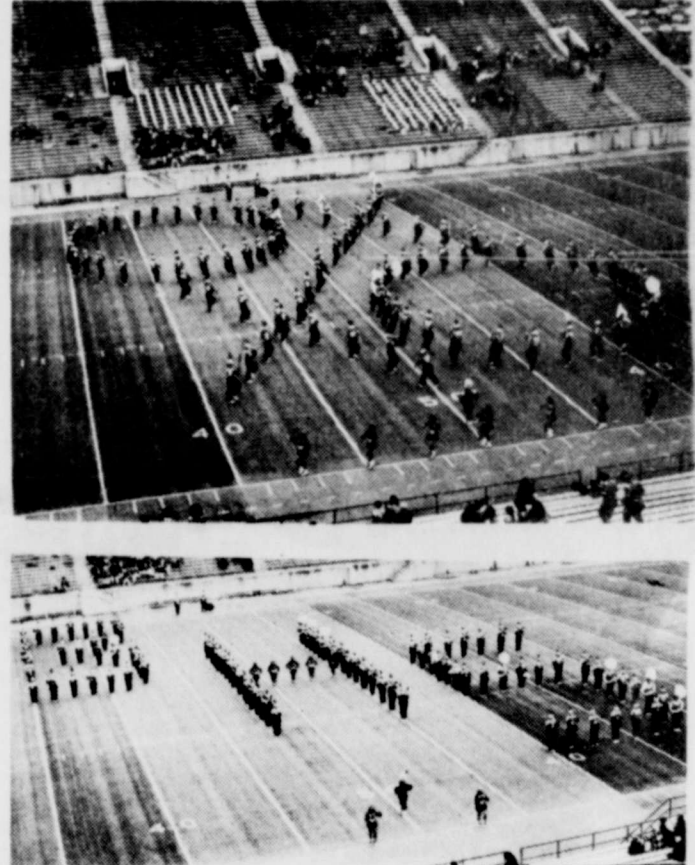

The Hydrogen Age could be just around the corner.

The Bulldog defense looked terrific Friday night in the second half of the football game with Hirschi. They didn't allow the Huskies a single first down during the last half. It was a very exciting game, especially since the Bulldogs came close to scoring several times, but couldn't; but sure enough, with only seconds remaining, the Bulldogs pulled through with a tie at 6-6 and a win seconds later as Rusty Barrett kicked the extra point. Burk fans were on their feet as the ball split the uprights. What a game.

Not only does Burk have a great football team, they have an extremely good band also. I've seen them perform several times during halftime of football games; they move with precision as they march and their sound is strong. No wonder the band got a I division rating at marching contest recently. They deserved it for the hard work put out to make their performance spectacular.

The Informer/Star will be coming out one day earlier next week because of the Thanksgiving holiday on Thursday, so please turn in all advertising and news as early as possible. The deadline will be Friday at 5 p.m.

On two important occasions during the year such as Thanksgiving and Easter the Ministerial Alliance sponsors united services and invites everyone in the community to participate.

Skate-A-Thon Earns $400 For Muscular Dystrophy

The Funtime Roller Skating Rink Skate-A-Thon gathered $400 for the campaign for Muscular Dystrophy recently.

The Skate-A-Thon is an annual activity sponsored by the Roller Skating Rink Operators of America for the benefit of Muscular Dystrophy.

Skaters who participated in the 12-hour skating feat earned donations based on the amount of time they continuously skated. Over fifty skaters participated with 26 lasting past the six-hour mark and twelve lasting for the full 12 hours. Trophies were awarded to the top three donation earners with first place going to Ron Johnson, second to Pamela Wilkinson, and third to Kenny Slabaugh.

Certificates of participation were awarded to the following skaters who skated six hours or more: Ron Johnson, Pam Wilkinson, Gary Hoover, Teresa Payton, Kenny Slabaugh, Rick Kiener, Cindy Newingham, Darla Rushing, Steve Hoover, Darrell Brown, Kevin Brown, Kim Jackson, Debbie Ball, Carolyn Ball, David Brown, Tommie Brown, Virgil Prescott, Randy Gore, Terry Rushford, Susan Rushford, Rachel Salazar, Catherine Grey, Melva Clayton, Joyce Bigford, and Charles Vaughn.

The efforts of the skaters and the generosity of the contributors made the Skate-A-Thon in Burk Burnett a most successful event.

Judged on body carriage, playing ability, precision, and uniformity (to name a few), the Burk Burnett Band received an average of "I" from the three judges. Ratings range from "One" to "Five", "One" being the best and "Five" the worst. Burk Burnett marched 96 persons playing as music fanfare movement of Carmina Brana, 9th movement of Carmina Brana, Zouaveus March, Voice of America (trio), The Count, BHS Fight Song, and Lover.

They marched 8 to 5 (eight steps to five yards) and did counter marches, diagonals, step 2, X-0 drill, and block. Band director is Jimmy McClain.

Also competing was the Burk Burnett Junior High Band under the direction of Charles Gregory. They marched 8 to 5 and competed with other junior high schools in the area. The local junior high band received a division "II" rating.

HARDIN WANTS SOUP LABELS... Students at Hardin Grade School are collecting soup labels for a contest they've entered, hoping to raise enough labels to win some valuable school equipment. Campbell's Soup Co. is sponsoring the contest which ends Dec. 15. There is a box to deposit your labels into at the entrance of Hardin Grade School and one in the Junior High building next door.

So far over 2,000 labels have been collected, as Robert Griffin (right) points out on the contest thermometer. Also helping advertise the box is Lisa Fidalla. Both are Hardin Grade School fourth-graders. The students are shooting for 5,000 or more labels with less than one month left to collect them. You are urged to save your Campbell's Soup labels and give them to a very good cause.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Texas--Outlook for a bleak winter grew steadily worse as the energy crisis mounted.

Speed limit reductions and year-around daylight savings time, recommended by President Richard Nixon, may be some of the milder results.

Governor Dolph Briscoe, assessing the president's proposals and reaction of other states before announcing his own program, said gasoline rationing is an "eventuality that will have to be considered."

Crimmest of all was Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Langdon's forecast: "Some people in Texas are going to be cold this winter." Those who use butane, propane or electricity for their heating are the ones most likely to get the shivers, said Langdon.

Middle distillate fuels, used primarily to generate electricity--and of increasing importance due to the shortage of natural gas--may also be in short supply as much as 400,000 barrels daily, according to Langdon's estimate.

Meanwhile, the Nixon administration altered previously announced allocation policies to allow middle distillate suppliers to provide Texas customers diesel fuel, fuel oil and kerosene without limit through November.

Even in the reprieve from mandatory allocations, there was an implied warning to Texas electric utility companies: come December they may be running short of fuel oil, since allocation formulas are based on 1972 purchases. Most Texas utilities, used to plenty of natural gas, didn't use much fuel oil to fire their boilers in 1972.

Things apparently are going to get a lot worse before they get better on the energy front.

PAY AMENDMENT DEFEAT ASSESSED--For the fifth time in eight years Texans voted down a pay raise for legislators, and assessments of the reason why varied widely.

House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. and others concluded that the vote on the $15,000-annual-pay - annual - sessions amendment was due to "tragic events at the national level that have crushed public confidence in our political and governmental systems."

Not so, said Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Granberry, who maintained lawmakers asked too much salary and made an error in coupling the pay raise issue with that of annual sessions.

Granberry suggested voters will approve $8,000 to $10,000 salaries and limited annual sessions with proper leadership support and a clear presentation.

At any rate, Texas undoubtedly will get to ballot on the issue again in some form after next year's constitutional convention. Most-likely proposal will be creation of a commission of citizens, as recommended by the Constitutional Revision Commission, to set salaries of lawmakers and other state officials. Prospects for the kind of unlimited annual legislative sessions recommended by the Revision Commission dimmed with results of the November 6 election.

NEW INSURANCE HEARING SET - Life insurance policy price disclosure and cost comparisons will be considered at a public hearing here November 27.

The State Insurance Board is then expected to review a model rule covering "life insurance interest--adjusted cost comparison indexes."

While the Insurance Board does not set prices of life insurance policies, it does police misleading and deceptive sales practices. Board Chairman Joe Christie said calculation of life insurance costs through the cash-surrender value does not always show true cost to purchasers.

IN THE COURTS-- The Supreme Court upheld an intermediate court decision that a Houston fireman's family was entitled to death benefits and disability payments following his illness and death in 1969. The High Court said a fireman need not prove the actual medical cause of his disability to establish his eligibility for such benefits.

Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for a man convicted and sentenced to 25 years imprisonment in the beating death of a woman at a Dallas shopping center two years ago.

A Lubbock murder conviction and 10-year prison sentence were affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals, which ruled admissible a Texas Ranger's testimony that the defendant confessed the shooting to him.

A home economist tells how to make electricity work more efficiently for cooking.

To get the most value from your electric range, follow these tips:

1. Use flat bottomed pans for better contact with the electric unit. Also, use tight-fitting lids to reduce cooking time and moisture loss. And match pan size to unit size to avoid heat loss.
2. Don't open oven doors unnecessarily, since this causes heat loss and extends cooking time. It also can result in under cooking.
3. Use a minimum amount of water. The more water you use, the longer it takes to get hot. Many foods can be cooked with little or no water.

4. Bake two cakes or pies, or make double recipes of foods like stews and spaghetti sauce. Then freeze one for future use.

5. Thawing meats before cooking reduces cooking time. When recipes call for a pre-heated oven, don't turn it on too far in advance -- usually 10 to 15 minutes will do.

For more tips, get our free booklet, "Tips to help you use electricity more efficiently throughout your home." They're available in our office, or you can request one on the comment portion of your electric service bill.

Agriculture adds $10 billion annually to the Texas economy and employs about 30 per cent of the state's labor force. Gross farm income totaled $4.7 billion last year as Texas continues to move toward the head of the national rankings in total agricultural receipts. It now ranks behind California and Iowa. Agriculture is indeed big in Texas and is continuing to grow as foreign and domestic markets continue to expand. As a tribute to Texas agriculture, November has been designated as "Food and Fiber Appreciation Month".

During the next few months, many grocers and meat retailers will be adopting a new uniform system for labeling meat cuts. A standardized list of some 325 cuts has replaced about 1,000 previously used names to take some of the confusion out of shopping for meat. Most of the fancy names have been dropped. The new standard label will include the name of the animal (beef, pork), the primal or sub-primal cut (rib, shoulder), and the recommended name of the particular cut (steak, roast).

HELPS CORRECT GRASS DEFICIENCIES

Feed Purina Range Checkers with your grass to get top cow condition... and shoot for a bigger calf crop... calves ready to grow.

GREEN GRASS NOT ENOUGH

Cows need help. Grass cannot supply their nutrient needs. Cows must produce milk and build another calf for next year. They cannot consume enough grass to meet nutrient needs even when enough grass is available. Cows require additional source of energy... phosphorus... calcium... vitamin A... and trace minerals to utilize the grass they consume.

Your cow's nutrient needs almost DOUBLE the day she calves... she must feed her calf... rebuild body condition... and rebreed.

Purina Range Breeder Checkers let you help your cows produce stronger calves ready to grow... for more return.

Ask us how you can help your cows wean heavier calves. Come in or call us today... it's not too late to help your cows.

Bill Lucas Reports

Extension Director Walters

REPORTS FROM SOUTHERN OKLAHOMA BEEF PRODUCERS CLINIC-- The research panel discussing deaths on wheat pasture reported most of the cases studied were caused by frothy bloat. This new research discounts the belief that death has been caused by a mineral imbalance or nitrate toxicity.

They recommended a supply of dry forages low in protein be made available for cattle grazing small grains at all times. They reported Poloxalene, an anti-bloat compound, used when animals graze alfalfa and other legumes was effective in releasing the gas trapped in the frothy bloat.

This material has not been approved for wheat pasture. They also reported a definite imbalance of mineral especially in pregnant and lactating beef cows.

LIMITED GRAZING SUPPLIES PROTEIN -- Limited grazing of high quality cool-season forages supplies protein needs of beef cows while avoiding excess intake and reducing forage losses caused by trampling, manure or urine spots. Cows can graze a limited time each day. Or the area of a pasture available for grazing can be limited. A combination of limited time and area could also be used.

A detailed schedule of limited time grazing is outlined in Bulletin B-654, "Winter Grazing Small Grains, in Oklahoma." This involves grazing one day on small grains and five days on dry grass during November and December, one day on small grain and four days on dry grass in January and February, and one day on small grain with three days on dry grass in March.

A less efficient but easier way to limit the grazing area is to use an electric fence. The first area to be grazed should be small enough so it is used within two or three weeks. The fence can then be moved to let cows have access to a fresh area as well as to the previously grazed area. The procedure can be repeated until the entire pasture has been grazed.

Cool - season grasses will normally grow very little during December, January and February in most of Oklahoma. Allowing access to previously grazed areas should not be harmful to the stand. The southern fourth of Oklahoma has winter temperatures which let cool season grasses grow some. In this area, more production could be expected if cattle were kept off previously grazed areas to let regrowth accumulate.

Limited grazing can be advantageous with small grains.

Overloading can be a problem, even with large tractors. Whether it's a 100 horsepower, two-wheel drive model or a 300 horsepower, four-wheel drive monster, a tractor has a limitation on the load it can handle without damage to the engine, clutch, transmission, and other power train components.

It's natural to think big tractors can pull almost any equipment, but oversizing the machine behind the tractor can lead to problems. The tool may not operate fast enough for the desired results. Or you may not have enough power to run the implement at the proper depth.

For best results, moldboard plows, stubble mulch plows, disk harrows, chisels, field cultivators and most other tillage tools should be run at four to five and one-half miles per hour. It's much better to use the correct size tool and to be able to pull it at the proper speed under all field with an oversized equipment. When equipment is too big for the tractor, the work the tool does is lower quality. An operator may be tempted to overload the tractor and "lug" his way through tough spots. This leads to major breakdowns, expensive repair jobs and unavailability of equipment when you need it most.

Wear increases greatly when a tractor is overloaded. Chances for a breakdown are increased.

WEEKLY MARKET REPORT

COLLEGE STATION-- Adequate pumpkin supplies mean plenty of Thanksgiving pies and other treats.

"Prices are the same to a bit lower than last November," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas A & M University noted.

White potato and onion prices fell from last month's levels-- with best potato values in three-to-five-or-ten-pound bags, she continued.

"Cooking greens--including turnip greens, mustard and collards -- cabbage, hard shell squash, carrots, celery, head lettuce, sweet potatoes and rutabagas carry reasonable price tags.

"Green beans, broccoli, eggplant and cauliflower, on the other hand, are moderately priced and lend variety to meal planning."

Fresh fruit items in good supply at the most economical prices include apples, oranges, bananas, Tokay grapes, cranberries, tangerines, tangelos and pears. Grapefruit supplies are increasing with quality improving, the specialist added.

"If planning to bake fruit cakes early, all the ingredients are now available."

Turning to meat counters, Mrs. Clyatt cited best beef values as "round steaks and roasts, beef and calf liver, ground beef, and arm and blade pot roasts and steaks.

"With prices continually decreasing from summer high levels, look for best pork buys on hams, picnics, shoulder roasts and steaks, and end-cut loin roasts and chops.

"Fryer chickens remain a bargain--with features on whole birds and parts," the specialist emphasized. "For best combination of quality and economy for the egg money, choose Grade A large-size eggs.

"Although selling considerably higher than a year ago, frozen turkey prices likely will decrease some before Thanksgiving," she said.

Children "miss out" if money matters are top secret around the house.

Though children may learn about coins and paper bills at an early age, they depend on parents to show them the real value of money.

For the young child, parents might try giving him a small weekly allowance.

If they specify what things he is to pay for, then he will have to make decisions about spending the money--he could spend it all on snacks or save it for a friend's birthday gift or for a movie ticket.

As the child gets older, he can hear and see the part money plays in family life.

Children can be let in on discussions concerning such things as a major purchase or increasing insurance coverage.

A teen might be included in work sessions over the income tax forms. He will see something about how money is spent, how government projects are supported, and how parents view their obligation as citizens.

Bringing money matters out in the open can help children understand money before they have major decisions to make.

Many banks have student accounts that encourage children to learn about money. A child's account can teach him money management, record keeping and how a credit can be established by paying bills on time.

Junior High

The Burkburnett 7th grade 'Dogs lost 20-0 against Vernon last week. The local team played well, but just couldn't score.

On their first possession, the Bulldogs controlled the ball for nine minutes. They then lost the ball and with three minutes left in the first half, Vernon took over and on five plays scored twice.

The seventh graders ended their season with a record of 2-4-0.

The Burkburnett eighth-grade Bulldogs defeated the Vernon eighth-graders 14-16 last week.

Charles Lewis scored the first TD for the Bulldogs and then Jeff McWilliams added the next Touchdown.

Offensive standouts were Bill Patty, Joe Horn, Scott Tucker, and James Giles.

Defensively it was Herbert Wall, Jerry Long, and Jose Thomas.

The 'Dogs chalked up a total of 83 yards in penalties in the game. Their present record is 6-0-1 and they play Notre Dame for their last game of the season.

The Burkburnett Freshman team ended their season with a loss to Rider, 48-20.

The 'Dogs played pretty good ball for awhile, but then fell apart. Rider was just too much for them.

Burk's scores came on runs by Marty Ray, and Jim Edwards. A pass from Edwards to Darryl Dickey put on the board Burk's first TD.

Junior Varsity

Burk Junior Varsity 20, Rider Junior Varsity 8; the 'Dogs beat Rider.

Rider got the first TD on a long pass and after that, the 'Dogs had a field day.

In the first quarter, Tim Kormos scored on a three-yard run. Then in the second quarter, Kormos carried on a keeper for five more steps and a touchdown. Again in the second quarter, the Burk team picked off a Rider pass and drove 70 yards.

The final tally for Burkburnett came when Mark Langenbach broke 35 yards for a TD.

The Burkburnett Junior Varsity season record is 5-4-1.

Oilers Win Midget Championships

The last game of the 1973 midget football season was played Saturday, November 10 with the American Oilers winning the "City Championship" by defeating the American Eagles 42 to 6. Winner of the National League Championship game was the Oilers by a score of 14 to 2 against the Eagles.

Mr. Kenny "Son" Young, a 1968 graduate from Burkburnett High School will be guest speaker at the Burkburnett Midget Football Banquet to be held Thursday, Nov. 15 in the High School Cafeteria at 7 p.m. Mr. Young is a 1973 graduate of Southeastern State College, Durant, Oklahoma where he played varsity football and baseball.

Mr. Young currently is assistant Junior Varsity football coach, head junior varsity basketball coach and assistant varsity baseball coach for Burkburnett High School.

Kenny's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Young of Burkburnett.

Coronation of the queen and presentation of special awards will also be on the program. Parents and the general public are invited to attend. Tickets are $2.00 per person for the catered meal offering a choice of beef, ham or hot links. Banquet tickets are available by calling Barbara Myers, 569-3497 or Nancy Mallett, 569-2947. There will be no charge for team members or cheerleaders.

Library Corner

This week, November 12 - 17, is Children's Book Week. Our library has many new and timely books for readers: THE TRUE BOOK OF THE MOORWALK ADVENTURE, by Margaret Friskey; DRIVING TODAY AND TOMORROW, by Margaret O. Hyde; THE RACE FOR ELECTRIC POWER, by Jerry Grey; and AIR POLLUTION by George Laycock.

Duncan Emrich, who wrote THE NONSENSE BOOK, has written THE HODGEPODGE BOOK. It tells you how to "cure" freckles... protect yourself from witches... grow a good tooth... make dreams come true... There are sections of knock-knock jokes, jump-rope rhymes, riddles, and many more. It's all American folklore, and can't be learned with ordinary knowledge!

Christmas books include: THE BETHLEHEM INN, by Frederick Meek; THE BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS TREE, by Charlotte Zolotas; COUNTDOWN TO CHRISTMAS, by Bill Peet; and ARTHUR'S CHRISTMAS COOKIES, by Lillian Hoban.

Other fiction by favorite authors: SOCKS, a young tabby cat, by Beverly Cleary; GINNE AND THE MYSTERY LIGHT, by Catherine Wooley; and THE CAT WHO WISHED TO BE A MAN, by Lloyd Alexander. There are more Danny Dunn and Black Stallion books to add to our collection.

Remember the motto for Children's Book Week is LIVE! READ!

Kicker Rusty Barrett came in to try the extra point. The kick was good and the Burk fans went wild.

With 0:52 remaining in the game Burk kicked off to Hirsch and a clipping penalty gave Hirsch the ball on the Dog 48.

Two incomplete passes were thrown and a runner was run out of bounds making it fourth and nine from the Burk 47, 33 seconds remaining. Here the Burk defense prove really tough by sacking the QB and letting the ball go to the Bulldogs. From here the Burk team ran the final 26 seconds off the clock in two plays to win the game 7-6.

GO CLASSIFIED

BENT HOOKS, MISSED SHOTS and OTHER TALES

by Jim Alexander

When it rains it normally pours around my house, and this past weekend was no exception. The opening day of duck season dawned cold and gray with a light mist falling. The wind was blowing so very gently and had it not been so light it would have seemed much colder than it really was.

Gary Teer, Troy Collier, and myself left Wichita Falls at 5:30 a.m. so we could get all of our decoys in place before the first flight came over. I want it understood that this was my first duck hunt over decoys, and it all seemed like Greek to me. Gary waded the cold water and put the decoys in the right places. I felt sorry for him, because I knew that he was cold. I was cold and I wasn't even in the water. While Gary placed the decoys, Troy and I built a duck blind. At least that's what Gary called it.

By sun-up everything was ready to go. As I sat shivering in the blind, Troy whispered in my ear, "I got scared coming across the lake in the dark among all of those trees." "Did you get scared?" "No", I lied. "Well, what are you shaking for?" Troy asked. I tried to explain to him how cold I was, but he didn't seem to understand. I pretended to see a flock of ducks and ducked my head so Troy couldn't see my face. I did not want a 16-year-old boy to know that a 30-year-old man was more scared than he.

As time went on my teeth made more noise than Gary's duck call. I think he blew the reeds out of four of them. Gary did his very best to bring the ducks in, but nothing seemed to work. We could hear very little shooting going on in the lake, the ducks simply were not flying. At eleven o'clock we gave up, not having fired a shot. Gary apologized for not being successful, but I knew it was not his fault. After checking with ten other hunters, and looking at their empty game bags, I no longer felt left out, just felt cold. We finally did manage to kill ten off of some farm ponds, but I still had not had a good hunt over decoys.

The telephone rang at 9:30 p.m. Saturday night, and the voice on the other end belonged to Bobby Greenrold. "I have been talking to the ducks, and they say they will be at Lake Arrowhead at sun-up in the morning." "Do you want to go?"

I went through how we had driven across Lake Arrowhead in the darkness and trees and I also mentioned how scared Troy and I were, but Bobby would not have it any other way. I had to go and hunt with a professional duck hunter. I very reluctantly said O.K., I would go.

I had night mares about running over trees, and freezing to death on Lake Arrowhead all night over the day's adventures, and I think I also had nightmares about the upcoming day's hunt.

The next morning dawned cold, cloudy, windy, and just about half miserable. I think I put on every coat that I had, and I still felt cold. Bobby and Hill Greenrold, Andy Siller, Johnny Cobb and myself were all sitting in a cold duck blind when the sun came up. I grew colder by the minute, and Bobby got madder by the minute as he blew his duck call and no ducks came. Bob blew and blew and blew, and still no ducks came. At eleven o'clock we loaded up and started to the house cold and disgusted.

Two days were spent in cold duck blinds and still I had not killed a duck over decoys. I do feel that I had two really fine guides, but the ducks did not cooperate.

Bobby and Gary both promised to try again when more ducks moved into the area. I did not promise that I would definitely go, I said if the weather permitted. I kinda hope they don't ask me again, because I am not a good duck hunter. I get too cold.

GIVING NAMES TO THINGS

Some stories will never die. One is that of the Garden of Eden. Here in this virgin beauty, Adam experienced something that seems to have made a "voice print" on all the human family. He experienced unlimited space, and he went about giving names to things.

Some primeval memory, some vestigial reminder causes man--all men--to be eternally restless, and he never stops giving names to things... everything--his food, his children, even the winds that blow become Chinooks, or Northers, or Moriah. These ancient memories can be made productive: YOU can make the lives of others your garden; YOU can see men as members of your family and treat them as brothers; YOU can let the service you render give names to things like "generous love," "heartfelt compassion," and "Godly awe and reverence."

Attention Veterans

WICHITA FALLS--Veterans planning to attend Midwestern University during the spring semester, who have not been previously certified by the University and Veterans Administration need to submit applications for advance payment of G.I. Bill benefits by Dec. 1. MU personnel in the office of the registrar may not process anyone for advance payment until there is a written request from the veteran according to the new V.A. regulations. This request is sent to the V.A. regional office together with the university's certification on courses being taken.

The spring semester schedule for Midwestern should be ready for distribution in about a week. Advance payment checks are sent to the MU office of the registrar and may be picked up by the veterans after Jan. 7, 1974 and prior to registration on Jan. 10-11.

The recently adopted V.A. policy for handling requests for the certification and advance payment of schooling benefits can assist veterans by providing the V.A. checks prior to registration rather than afterward.

New applicants for the G.I. Bill educational benefits may obtain applications for advance benefits through the MU registrar's office as well as re-enrolling veterans who have not already been certified for the spring semester. Students now enrolled at Midwestern under the program may have been certified for both fall and spring semesters if they so indicated on their V.A. forms submitted in conjunction with the fall semester. These students will continue to receive their benefit checks through the spring semester without having to apply for spring semester certification.

BHS ID Cards Save Money

For the second year, Student Identification Cards have solved many problems at BHS.

School Librarian Jim Myrick explained the problems the library was having because the school is so large that no one can know each student. Last year, not one book was lost because someone used another student's name. There were over 40 such cases the year before. The student whose name was used had to pay for the book. The ID Card protects students against this happening.

The ID Card also solved a problem for SPIHT. The printing cost for the high school newspaper starts at 1,000 copies. Only 350 of the 1,100 students at BHS were subscribing at $1.50 per year. This meant that 650 papers were being destroyed each issue. The goal of the staff was to get the paper to each student. Students are charged a $1.50 fee when they pick up their ID card. The card costs the school $.55 and the balance is put into the BHS Activity Fund. The cost of printing the paper is supplemented through the Activity fund.

Students may use their cards for a discount at movies, plays at BHS, skating at Funtime Skate Rink, 20% discount at Wolfe Ford and identification to enter school functions. Other merchants may offer discounts also.

A very small percent of the students at BHS have not picked up their ID cards. Those students who have not expect the rest to protect them, and give them special privileges. Parents can encourage students to pick up and use their ID card for privileges and protection.
