Labor Project For Precinct 2 Approved

F. R. Knauth, commissioner of Precinct 2, application for labor to be used in this precinct has been approved under project 243-B2-75.

The application for labor includes the following: 75 men daily for 19,200 unskilled hours, and 1 time-keeper for 8 weeks. The total cost of project will be $5,856.00. The county is to furnish teams and trucks. The labor to be used in rip-rapping, road ditches, grading work and cleaning the right of way in this precinct.

According to Mr. Knauth, he will recruit his men from H. D. Smith, local administrator, and work will start right away.

A machine has been invented that will tell when a motorist is drunk. Why not one that will also carry him home and put him to bed?

Many an auto driver around Burkburnett who boasts he can pass the car ahead ought first to pass an intelligence test.

Lions Club

At the regular meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday night, Dr. Carl T. Reiser, of the Oklahoma University, made a very interesting talk on the history of this vicinity. In his address he stated that according to records available that when the Spanish explorers started north from Mexico they crossed Red River a few miles from where Burkburnett now stands. This expedition was headed by Gen. Coronado. He further stated that the expedition headed by Gen. Pike and authorized by the Federal government crossed near here. He mentioned several other expeditions that had a historical background.

Two Lions were presented keys, furnished by Lions International, for bringing two members each into the club. These keys were presented to A. B. Sandler and Gordon Thomas by Johnnie Anderson.

Next week the Lions club will be hosts to the newboys.

The funny part is that we think man wise for solving problems that wouldn't exist if he wasn't dumb.

(A Bed-time Story About the Bankhead Bill)

By JOSEPH F. RUMSEY

Listen my children and you shall hear the story of the three B's. Those of you who have lived in a big city, have learned that the sign of "Three Balls" was the place to pawn your watch or your overcoat when you needed a few dollars.

The BBB follows after the AAA, which is in the proper order as you learned in school when you were studying your "Three R's." Furthermore, and nevertheless, BBB has nothing to do with CCC or KKK.

Now, that you know all about the subject of my little bed-time story, let me again tell you that "It is the story of how the birthright of the South was sold for a mess of pottage, thereby creating a meal ticket for some 80,000 government employees."

It wouldn't be nice of us to object to feeding this hungry multitude IF (1) some of us weren't hungry ourselves; and, (2) if what they are trying to put over, wouldn't make our children more hungry and starve our grandchildren, that is, if our children aren't too lean and poor to breed. Last summer some agricultural agents shot cows which were too poor to breed, and with ten years of the Bad-Bankhead-Bill they may be shooting the poor cotton farmers for the same reason.

It really is not the theory of this bed-time story, that the Bad-Bankhead-Bill will eventually prohibit the raising of cotton in the South. When the naughty man killed the goose that laid the golden eggs, no one had to pass a bill to stop the goose from laying more golden eggs. Nor will it be necessary to stop the planting of cotton in the Southern states by law, when production in Brazil, Egypt, India, Russia and China have been built up to supply the world markets.

According to the Bible, Esau was a strong and active young man who was willing to work. He had a younger brother by the name of Jacob who was rather effeminate and did not work in the field. Esau had been working hard and became weak, as he had nothing to eat (like the cotton farmers on six-cent cotton in 1933), so he said to Jacob (like the cotton growers said the Congress): "Pray give me something to eat." And Jacob said: "No, I won't, unless you will promise me your birthright." And Esau said: "If I don't get something to eat I will die, so what in hell difference will it make?" And so Esau sold his birthright for a mess of pottage.

And, my dear children, that's just what you cotton farmers did last year! Of course, there are some little differences. One is that the ginners got the mess, and the Federal employees got the pottage.

Now, if you don't like that Bible story, you are at liberty to believe those remarkable fairy stories which your county agents, or their assistants, have been telling you at all special meetings they held last week.

Of course, every single thing they said was true! It was just like telling the story of Cinderella and leaving her at the prince's ball with all her fine clothes—without finishing the story about how her swell clothes and jewels turned into rags a short time later.

Cinderella had a few hours of fine clothes and dancing, and you may have a year or two of high-priced cotton under the BBB! But when your time is up (as it will be), your rags will be more ragged than ever. For while you will have been dancing to the tune of "reduction money," and other countries have permanently improved their cotton raising, ginning and marketing facilities; and, in spite of all your raving and ranting, others will supply the world markets with cotton.

Those propaganda agents who have been filling your ears with stories of added riches and less work; congratulated you on cutting down your cotton production by virtue of the Big-Bankhead-Bill from 15,000,000 bales to 9,500,000 bales, and getting more money from the smaller crop! Wonderful! Marvelous! But while you did achieve this great result—other countries increased their cotton production from ten and a half million bales to 13,250,000 bales, so that already the potential world demand for your product has decreased 2,750,000 bales.

That, my friends, was done with a bad start and without the new equipment which will be installed in those foreign lands another season, if nurtured longer by the smug Bad-Bankhead-Bill.

I don't remember any child who called his mother a liar for telling a fairy tale! Neither do I remember any grown man who believes those fairy tales his mother told him. So you must not blame the AAA if she did put you to sleep with fairy tales, or would have you throw the rope after the bucket.

This doesn't mean that no adjustment is needed in the cotton raising business. A vote against the BBB is not a vote against President Roosevelt. A vote against the Bad-Bankhead-Bill is a vote for "more and better consideration of world conditions which exists, not as you wish they were, but as they are." Let us try a different cotton plan which will give some consideration to our future!

DIRECTOR JEW BENT PROMISES A HILARIOUS EVENING OF FUN

Chamber of Commerce members who have received ballots to be voted are requested to drop voted ballots in voting box, which is placed at the Corner Drug Store.

I. O. O. F. District Meeting To Hold Here Friday Nite

The Texas-Oklahoma Circle of the I. O. O. F. lodge will hold their district meeting here tonight at their home on Ave. B. Seven lodges, Frederick and Grandfield, Chattanooga, Okla., Vernon, Electra, Elliott and Burkburnett will be represented. Approximately 100 guests are expected to be present.

H. N. Patton, of Grandfield, president of the association and captain of the degree team will confer the work on the members. After the degree work refreshments will be served to the members and guests by Mike Begun and his committee, assisted by the Rebekahs.

ROTARY CLUB

Alvin Hill, banker, had charge of the weekly program at the Rotary club Tuesday at noon.

He introduced his daughter, little Miss Betty Jane, who gave a delightful reading "Company Changes Things."

Mr. Hill made a talk on the banking conditions now and during the moratorium. His talk was well delivered and was educational and was greatly enjoyed by the members and guests present.

Oscar Kemp, president of the club announced the Lions-Rotary Minstrel for Friday night and urged every member to be present.

Mrs. M. W. Majors was a guest of the club and made the announcement that the public library would be open in a few days. She stated that a shelf in the library would be used as a rental shelf and that a small fee would be charged for the use of these books. After all the books on this rental shelf had been read they would be put in the library proper and new books put on the rental shelf.

Guests of the meeting were Mrs. M. W. Majors, Barney Flynn, Charlie Newman and Russell Morgan, of Wichita Falls.

Garland No-Billed By the Grand Jury In Double Killing

Ed Ebers To Face Trial On Murder Count

Bill Garland, chief of police, of Burkburnett was no-billed by the grand jury in the death of A. J. McCarty and Gordon Woolley as the results of shots fired by him on the night of Nov. 11th at Burkburnett.

Abolving Garland from blame in the shooting, the grand jury delivered in its report a short sermon both to the public and to peace officers for the avowed purpose of lessening the probability of such tragedies. More respect for constituted authority was urged upon the public and peace officers were admonished to work in pairs, instead of alone.

Ed Ebers was charged with murder in connection with the death of Percy Graves, of Vernon, formerly of this city, in the Wichita County jail, when the October grand jury returned 18 indictments before Judge P. A. Mart'n of the 89th district court in its final report last Friday.

"It looks like a big night tonight" will open the colored festival tonight at the high school auditorium when the Rotarians and the Lion's will present their premier showing of an original old time Minstrel Show. Jew Bent, director, will lead the cast of some forty-five men thru jokes, songs, and other frivolities for one hour and thirty minutes. Proceeds from the show are being used to replenish the fund for Underprivileged children attending Burkburnett Public Schools. Thirty-six children are dependent at this time on this source for their shoes and parts of their clothing. In connection with the Christmas Spirit these two service clubs are staging this performance to secure funds to aid underprivileged children for the year 1935. No royalties or cost for production are being incurred and the gross receipts will be turned into this fund. For the past four years the Rotary and Lion's clubs have had a fund with which to aid children needing aid and in the course of that time more than two hundred boys and girls have received aid in some way from this source.

The show is one the whole family will enjoy. All members of the cast are local men, connected with the two service clubs. Nealy Vaught, interlocutor, leads his eight end men through a series of new brisque jokes. End men are Lazybones Blackwell, Mama's little red hot, hot shot Felty, Heavy duty Hambone Smith, and little chocolate drop Rastus Reagan, Little Lassus Kelley, the sentimental son of the South, Tiny Peyton, the town poet, Rabbit Browning, and the ladies man, Oswald Brumley.

Numerous specialty numbers will be featured through out the evening when the Rally Sand of the South will be featured in the original fan dance. Carl Pommerana has gone to great length to study this fascinating dance and will capably present it.

Club sweethearts, Peggy Gideon and Kathryn Exly will be presented as the picnicians in specialty numbers. An actual exhibition of the "Man on the Flying Trapeze" will be staged when an unknown artist of the air will make his appearance. Dance numbers will feature Carl Morrison and Stacy Jenkins. Jack Exly will perform as the clarinet contortionists. Ranging from the ridiculous to the elite, the club quartets, Johnnie Anderson, Deacon Thomas and Carl Morrison will sing solos.

Many surprise acts, other than those mentioned will fill the program with a large variety of entertainment.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock and will be completed by 9:45. Tickets may be secured from members of the two clubs or at the Rexall Drug Store. Prices are 15, 25 and 50 cents.

SENSIBLE GIVING

If there was ever a time needed for making sensible and serviceable gifts for Christmas it is this year. It is easy to recall those feckless days of free-spending when millions of dollars were wasted each season in the purchase of gifts that served no good or useful purpose. But money was plentiful then, and the average shopper wasn't thinking about what he might be headed for a few years later.

Today it is different. Money is not only harder to get than it was in the days of free-spending, but it is now necessary to make every dollar buy a dollar's worth. Those Burkburnett citizens who are about ready to do their Christmas buying—and there is both time and money saved in buying early—should remember that this is to be a Christmas of sensible gifts. Certainly there must be a few toys and gimcracks for the kiddies. But for the growing boy and girl, and for every grown relative or friend to whom you will give, make sure it is something serviceable. The serviceable gift is the sensible gift.

Merchants are anticipating this type of giving, so they are stocking more heavily with serviceable merchandise and carrying smaller stocks of "fad stuff." They are ready to assist you, too, in make early selections. They are your neighbors and your friends, helping you in the support of local institutions and in paying local taxes. That is another thing worth remembering. Buy sensible gifts, and buy them at home. It will surely add to your happiness, not alone on Christmas but in all the days that follow it.

THE GOSSIP

Not long ago a young girl in a not far distant city committed suicide and when the coroner's jury brought in its verdict it was declared that she had been driven to her desperate deed through malicious gossip. Some gossips had linked her name with a scandal; people were talking about her—usually in whispers. So she chose to destroy herself rather than face their false opinions.

Gossip is one of the most despicable and destroying vices we have to contend with. It is one of the most unfair, because it is always cowardly, not giving the one gossiped about a chance to defend themselves. It is the one kind of menace that richly deserves punishment, yet punishment cannot be meted out because the gossip always sees to it that his or her own name is kept in the background. "They said" or "they say" is usually sufficient to keep the gossip's identity covered.

A gossip can ruin a reputation, break up a church and even cause neighbors to hate one another. Gossip can shatter all happiness, and no one is immune from it. A community is 100 percent free of wagging tongues. Even in this hospitable and enlightened community there is a certain element given to gossiping. So far as known, there is but one way in which gossip can be overcome. That is to refrain from repeating anything you hear that smacks of gossiping. The gossip can't last long in a community that turns a deaf ear.

Clothes do not make the woman but some of the new styles show how they are made.

Burkburnett people are still divided into two distinct classes—those who own and drive automobile and those who dodge them.

When a beautiful girl is shaped just exactly right and everything, the neighbor women express the fear that she'll be fat inside of ten years.

Man is a funny creature. He loses all he makes and then expects his widow to invest the insurance money safely.

Maybe farmers have a hard time, but you seldom, if ever, hear of one of them having a nervous breakdown.

The dull blade in his razor or the sharp tongue of his wife will ruin any Burkburnett man's day.

The trouble with a family budget is usually that there is more family than budget.

Aluminum Brings Car and Plane Together

Charles B. Bohn Aluminum Wizard
Modern Car

Stout Sky Car

Latest Type

Aluminum raises power of engine and cuts weight of chassis giving the automobile an airplane ratio of power to weight—Experts say that car will eventually fly.

HOW long will it be before the automobile will fly? It is not impossible think such experts as Charles B. Bohn, the aluminum wizard, William B. Stout designer of airplanes and streamlined railroad trains and a host of other advanced thinkers and scientists of this country and Europe. Just as soon as the ratio of power to weight of the automobile equals that of the plane it will be possible. They are not far apart even now. A typical low-priced car has one horsepower for every 26 pounds of weight. The Stout Sky Car, the connecting link between the automobile and the airplane has one horsepower for every 14 pounds. Aluminum cylinder heads, pistons, connecting rods and other parts of the modern car are cutting weight and boosting power bringing the automobile power-weight ratio close to that of the airplane. You may soon be parking your "Flying Lizzie" in the garage!

Ronald Robert Aubrey is the new arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brock. Mother and son were carried from the Burkburnett Clinic to their home on Avenue C in an Owens and Brumley ambulance Tuesday.

Andy R. Vaught and family have been visiting with his brother, Neely R. Vaught during the past week. He had returned from Venezuela, S. A. He is a driller for the Standard Oil Company. He left Sunday for Argentina, S. A. via New York City, after his brief stay here. His family will join him later. They left for California until sometime during the early spring at which time they are to join him. Mr. Vaught was once connected with the Humble Oil Company of Burkburnett.

Mrs. Harrison Gregg and Mrs. George Wiest of Wichita Falls were visitors in the home of Mrs. S. E. Marchand on Wednesday. Later Mrs. Gregg, Wiest, Golden, Miss Myrl Able and Mr. and Mrs. Marchand and daughter, Genevieve drove to Ft. Sill, Okla. to attend a tea and cotton shower given in the home of Sergeant and Mrs. Jimmie Gay for the benefit of children of Foreign war veterans. About fifty attended.

(Too Late For Last Week) Thanksgiving Dinner

Last Wednesday night, Nov. 28, the Seniors discarded their school manners and brought their Sunday manners to the Thanksgiving dinner at the Home Economics Building, 5:30 P. M.

We want to thank our class mothers, Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Morrison for saying so loyal to the Senior class as to prepare for them such a lovely dinner.

The turkey and all that goes with a splendid Thanksgiving dinner was enjoyed by: Ada Marsh, Geneva Seidlitz, Wessie Hearrell, Marion McClarney, Elva Stimpson, Virginia Bogy, Clarence Bridges, K Miles, Ford Hearrell, George T. Roberts, Simon Hanks, Charles Morrison, Bill Wells, Milton Winkles, Harlen Boyd, Mr. Y. C. Paschal, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morrison, and our sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Watkins.

Senior Want Ads

Business opportunities, a position open for a bright student, Senior preferred, not more than 48 years old, big ears, clear eyes, muscles bound, bull neck, with a pleasing appearance. Communicate with E. Z. Employment, Krazy Kat, Ark.

Wanted

A new permanent. — Virginia Bogy.

A Spanish translator.—Ford Hearrell.

A Date for the show.—Chuck Morrison.

An unqualified excuse.—Simon Hanks.

The girls to leave me alone.—Geo. T. Roberts.

To lose my temper.—Elva Stimpson.

A cave man.—Wessie Hearrell.

A big job with big pay and little work.—Senior Class.

Permission to speak as long as I want to.—Geneva Seidlitz.

Students that will study.—Miss Thompson.

A remedy to make hair curly.—Milton Winkles.

Elevators and free lunch for this school.—Ada Marsh.

Congratulations.

Fairview vs. Hollywood

All the seniors aspire to be great men and women someday, but at the present they are content just to be compared with great persons. Let's take movie actors and actresses for instance.

George T. Roberts reminds us in his every move of Ben Urpin.—Oh! Pardon!—Ben Turpin.

Elva Stimpson makes us invariably think of Elissa Landi.

Harlen Boyd resembles none other than the great (mouthed) Joe E. Brown. Yessiree.

We always associate Clarence Bridge with Mac Bare — Baer — Beer—anyway the one and only Mac of the ring.

Wessie Hearrell has a slight resemblance to Sylvia Sidney.

All will agree that Virginia Bogy looks like Maureen O'Sullivan.

All Geneva Seidlitz has to do to look like the great Garbo is to bleach her hair and change her accent.

There is no denying Ada has a very close resemblance to Dolores Del Rio (especially when she parts her hair in the middle.)

It has been said that there is something about Marian McClarney that looks like Polly Moran.

Simon Hanks closely resembles Pat O'Brien.

An Chuck Morrison looks some like Wallace Berry.

K Miles is an almost exact replica of Eddie Cantor! Congratulations, K!

Milton Winkles has that "cave-man" look about him so we shall designate him as —ohny "Tarzon" Weismuller.

There is something about Ruth Vogel that reminds us of Anne Harding.

Bill Wells invariably makes us think of Clark Gable.

And Ford Hearrell looks and acts exactly like Mae West so speaking for the whole Senior Class he says, "Come up and see us some time—we're no angels!"

Oh Susan!

"Oh Susan" is a play to be given by the Junior class of Fairview next Tuesday night, December the 11th. This is not the annual Junior play, but it will be given later in the year. It is a comedy-drama in four acts. The characters are as follows:

Danvers Meredith, wealthy, wise, and a woman hater.—H. B. Northcott.

Mrs. Marion Weatherby, his aunt who plans not wisely but to well.—Evelyn Mills.

Rose and Edith Parsons, two rosebuds in the garden of grills, very childish and silly.—Lavern Beavers and Beatrice Hearrell.

Janet Dalton, a young society girl that gets what she goes after.—Ruth Miller.

Mame, a crooked crook, who takes what she wants, it.—Ruby Jewell Williamson.

Lefty, a light-fingered young crook and the brother of Mame.—Elbert Zink.

The old Soak, the proud father of these two.—Charles White.

Jason and Mrs. Hawkes who love and serve Danvers.—James Sullivan and Maxine Vines.

Everyone is invited to see this play. It has many exciting comments laughs and thrills.

Admission, 10 and 15c. Don't forget, next Tuesday night, December, 11th at 7:15.

In Sympathy

The Sophomore Class and the entire student body wish to extend their sincere sympathy to their class mate and friend, Dorothy Siber and her family upon the death of her brother, Johnny Siber.

"There is no death! What seems so is transition;

This life of mortal breath

Is but a suburb of the life elysian

Whose portal we call death."—Longfellow.

Freshman Flashes

The Freshman class has decided to have a Christmas box and party soon, although a special date has not been set. They are going to draw numbers. The odd numbers are going to be boys and the even numbers will be girls. Everyone is expecting to have a good time Christmas even though Santa doesn't come.

'Mighty Apt NOT To Have It'

The aim of the American Legion is to have as many at the show they are sponsoring Wednesday night as attend on Bank Night. Not such a big undertaking if the public will only stop to think what the proceeds derived from this show will go to. The proceeds will be used to buy Christmas and necessities for the underprivileged boys and girls of Burkburnett. There are quite a number of children in Burkburnett who would have no Santa Claus if it were not for this show and the Lions and Rotary Minstrel which will be held tonight.

Mr. Logan, manager of the theatre, has graciously consented to give 50 per cent of the proceeds from this show to the Legion. There is no cost to the American Legion and 50 percent of the receipts will be turned over to the Legion for this fund. Every member of the family will enjoy the picture "Outcast Lady". Make your plans now to attend this show on Wednesday.

Numerous prizes will be given away after the first show. These prizes will consist of turkeys, chickens, pigs, etc.

The Centennial committee of the Legion has charge of the distribution of the entire issue of the 1,500,000 Texas silver 50c coins, and the local post will have two of them which will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. These coins will sell for $1.00 each, and all over the dollar realized will be turned into this fund. The person buying these first two 50c pieces will be presented a certificate showing that they were the first in the city to buy such coin.

Junior Baseball

The High School Juniors have started work on the fundamentals of baseball. Daily batting practice has been held for two weeks and many improvements have been made during the period.

Practice was started early this year in order to learn the fundamentals before spring. Last year spring practice was cut short by bad weather and very little work was done for the county meet.

The boys eligible for high school baseball have as a general rule very little experience. The boys that play on the grade school team generally are the older ones and when they get in high school they are too old to participate. This year the boys going out for the high school Juniors have a hard go of it. They are about twenty boys in high school age. This is one of the largest groups ever to be eligible for a team.

Correct English Aim of Intermediate Grades

By Miss Mary McGinnis

One of the most important functions of the school is to teach children to use the mother tongue with ease and correctness. This aim is found with more or less prominence in every activity. Its paramount importance, however, makes it necessary that the teachers keep it in mind during activities designed in the main to develop other specific subject matter. The teacher must also make definite provisions for activities which will of themselves develop appreciation of good English and provide for adequate expression, oral and written.

Applying practical modern standards to time allotment in oral and written English, it is obvious that the former should be stressed more than the latter. For majority of persons, speech has a more prominent place in life than written English. Children not only talk more in school, but constructive oral English, designed to improve speech, should be allotted more program time. In addition to the training afforded through class recitations in content subjects, and the social situation incident to social life in general, oral English has a distinct place in the daily program. It may be used to develop innumerable talent abilities in a child, for instance, observation, mental alertness, accuracy, reasoning power, coordination of mind and muscle. A thoughtful teacher of oral English varies her topics so as to promote the growth of more than one of these, and assigns her lesson with two definite purposes in mind, first and more immediately, to make the child a good speaker of good English; second and more remotely, to evoke the child's dormant powers, which of course is the aim of all education.

Many devices and plans may be utilized to make the oral English lesson not a burr but a joy to the pupil, from which he will derive real benefit.

Children who have enjoyed the advantages suggested above show considerable fluency in written expression by the time they have reached the sixth grade. That formidable difficulty of having nothing to say need not occur if writing is postponed until oral practice reveals to children that they have much to say. Children should not be allowed to write long-drawn-out compositions in the lower grades. The scope of the theme should be limited very definitely. Frequent writings of brief units under favorable conditions through fourth, fifth and sixth grades will reach a desirable standard of fluency and effectiveness.

Composition, both oral and written is closely allied with everyday interest and situations. School compositions, if it is to mirror life, must therefore place before the child assignments that seem worth while and practical.

KATHRYN DAY
Kathryn Aneta Day was born near the Big City of Randlett, Okla., July 4, 1918. She started to school at the age of 6, just across the river at Valley View.

Kathryn says she has no favorite teacher, she loves them all.

Her favorite food is ice cream (better watch Kathryn, that means avordupois) gum, Dentyne; actor, Clark Gable; actress, Jean Harlow; drink, Dr. Pepper; hobby, Hiking (she walks to and from school every day); color, red; pastime, showing off her Senior ring; ambition, to be at school one time for two consecutive weeks before graduation; best friend, Frances South.

The most popular boy, in Kathryn's opinion, is Howard Bentley, and the most popular girl is Marian Boden.

Kathryn says the best looking boy is Louis Sims. (You have to be a football hero.), and the best looking girl, Olena Cash our Senior Queen.

Her opinion of the Senior Class is it's the best that's ever occupied the 214 study hall.

LAUGHS OF THE WEEK

Mr. Everheart (to Lloyd Guinn, applicant for agriculture class)—Do you know anything about milking?

Lloyd Guinn—Yes, Sir.
Mr. Everheart—Well, which side do you milk the cow from?
Lloyd Guinn (very intelligently)—The outside.

Billyjane: Howard, are you doing anything for that cold?
Howard: Sure, I am, I sneeze whenever it wants me to.

Mr. Duncan: How old is a person who was born in 1849?
Johnny B.: Man or woman?

The doctor's son opened the door to the caller. "Is the doctor at home?" asked the latter.

"No, Sir," said Louis, "he's out at the moment, performing an appendectomy.

The caller smiled. "I say," he said, "that's a pretty big word for you, Louis. Do you know what it means?"
"Oh, yes," came the reply, "it means $25."

Miss Ford: Do you have any trouble with shall and will?
Mr. Hill: No, my wife says you shall and I say I will.

Margaret G. was asked what kind of ice cream she would like to have.
After hesitating a few minutes she replied: "I think vanilla would look best on my dress."

Cook: How did you find the beef, sir?
Mr. Williamson: Oh, I just moved a bean and there it was.

Mr. Westerfield's small girl was attending an Episcopal church for the first time and was amazed to see all kneel suddenly. She asked her father what they were going to do. He replied: "Hush, Bobby Lou, they're going to say their prayers."
"What with all their clothes on?"

WADE GOODLETT

Wade Wesley Goodlett was born in Burkburnett, Texas, March 31, 1917. He began his school career in the Burkburnett Public schools in 1924.

He says his favorite teacher is Mr. Robertson; food, spinach; gum, Doublemint; actor, Joe E. Brown; actress, Joan Blondell; drink, milk shake (we wonder); color, blue and white, Senior Colors; pastime, shooting pool; ambition, to be the champion pool shooter of 1935 and 1936.

Wade thinks the most popular boy is Sam Brashear and the most popular girl, Malene Baber.

But when it comes to looks those glasses take it. Girl, Olena Cash; boy, Bill Jeffers, Jr.

His opinion is that the Senior Class is the best in the history of the school.

Volley Ball News

The volley ball girls have been practicing for a month. They have played two practice games with Cashion and one with Fairview. Their victories have been moral ones so far, but they expect to do something in the county tournament.

Bernice McDonald, Mildred Milford, and Mary Lafon Alexander are three girls left over from last year's squad. There about 18 girls working out this season.

Most of them are freshmen.

The schedules of games for the round robin tournament is as follows:

December 14, 1934, Electra; Dec. 21, 1934, Iowa Park; Jan. 1, 1935, Cashion; Jan. 4, 1935, Valley View, Jan. 8, 1935, Fairview.

The girls are working hard, and they are going to make the other volley ball teams of this county work hard for what they get.

Home Economics

Be sure and come to the old Chevrolet building on Friday and Saturday, December 14-15, if you want to see what these Home Economic girls have been learning this year. The afternoon dresses made by some of the girls in the third year clothing class together with some tailored dresses made in the second year class can be seen. All the undergarments made in the first year clothing class will be on exhibit. Some of these girls have made some good looking pajamas and slips even though this is their first sewing.

The girls in the goods classes will have a good exhibit for you. We know the model kitchens will interest you.

The seventh grade has added to its library eight new "Modern American Encyclopedia."

Vocational Agriculture

The Agriculture class of the High has been making a great progress the last month. There are a few projects which are connected with class work in a way to see how a boy does.

Howard Bentley is a very good agriculture student of this class. Though Howard has done a lot of work at home for minor projects. Howard has laid a water line, paired a front yard and repaired the houses.

Bobbie Trask has laid a gas built a hog pen, and laid 100 ft pipe.

Bert Walden has built a chicken house, leveled up yard, and a fence.

Loyd Guinn has built about 5 miles of fence, repaired front lawn by leveling it up, repaired curb and pulley on system. The four boys have made a grand start for beginners in Vocational Agriculture.

Poultry Show

There is another very important event of the agriculture class and is the big poultry show December 14-15 in the old Chevrolet plant Main street, in Burkburnett. The agriculture boys are working very hard in putting over in a way. Everyone watch and watch the big Poultry Show.

Dear Ole Burk Burnett School

Well, we turn our backs upon other football seasons and welcome the best seasons ever known to us. We are proud to say that the squad, were given the privilege of rooting for a team that was games this season and this opportunity could never have been without your help.

Malene Baber, Marian Boden, Katie Mae Tylor, our pep leader, and Miss Gideon, and Miss our pep sponsors have worked very hard with us to make the game what it is and this we appreciate very much.

We also wish to express our gratitude to those boys who are again next year for the way they have worked since they have been in high school. We know we are wishing them the best in playing football in college.

Thus, the pep squad bids you bye until next year and with a quiet for the football boys and squad girls on December 7, 1934, leave you.

Who Will Replace Them

Nine members of the Bulldog ball squad wrote finis to their school football careers Thanksgiving Day. On a rain soaked field, cloudy skies and between squalls of rain these nine fought their gridiron battle for B. H. S. No game the entire season could have been more appropriate for the son's final, for in no other game there been a greater unity of purpose, such coordination, and tackling.

These nine seniors with the assistance of other members of the squad swept up and down the turf, often facing a cold biting wind to score 48 points and at the same time to hold the formidable cothe Eagles scoreless.

The boys who will be lost in the 1935 squad through graduation are: Eldon Andrews, fighting second year man all year and tackle; Louis Sims, all half-back and chief ball carrier; Captain Howard Bentley, one of the leading centers of the team, who completes his second year; Earl H. Keller, hard working guard who rounds out his third year as a member; Other Wheeler, a full fullback completes his third season; Eddie Young, the most dependable blocker, who completes his second year; Homer McNeil, aggressive tackle who goes via graduation as will Brashear guard and Bill Kirk tackle and guard. These boys possibly played the best game of the entire season turkey day and the Eagles.

With the passing of the boys goes a world of football which will be difficult to replace the beginning of next season. However, there are a number of boys who have shown promise in playing these veterans and with spring training period it is that by the time the '35 season around that some of the have grown into full fledged dogs.

Burkburnett Represented At Southwestern Life Conv'n

Ft. Worth, Dec. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Alexander of Burkburnett are in Fort Worth today attending the thirty-first annual convention of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company.

More than 500 representatives from all parts of Texas are here for this convention, which is the largest life insurance event of its kind ever held in the State. Southwestern Life agents earn the right to attend these meetings by writing a certain volume of business during the year; and, as the number of qualified agents is about twenty per cent greater than in 1933, a larger volume of business is indicated for 1934.

Registration took place this morning at the Blackstone Hotel, at which all sessions of the convention will be held. Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings will be taken up with business meetings, in which the following officers of the company will participate: C. F. O'Donnell, president; Arthur Coburn, vice president; R. R. Lee, vice president and agency director; E. G. Brown, vice president and actuary; T. L. Bradford, Jr., vice president and treasurer; R. A. B. Goodman, vice president and secretary; and Dr. Dewitt Smith, medical director. The Southwestern Life is a Texas Company operating in Texas only.

The afternoons are being devoted to golf, sight-seeing and other activities. This evening, the visitors will be entertained with a dinner dance, at which Dallas agents and home office employees of the company will stage a minstrel show. Friday evening, the annual banquet will be held at which time the awards for the year will be made.

Big Rabbit Creek

December 9, 1934

Grandma Reeves, Mrs. Fred LaBarre's mother, who has been so low for the past two weeks, finally passed away Friday morning at 2:10 a. m. Grandma was past 81 years old the writer was informed by one of the grandsons. Ed LaBarre said that if his grandma passed away that they would take her down somewhere in Texas to lay her away, but at this writing, the writer is unable to state at what place down in Texas. The Rabbit Creek neighborhood extends their heart felt sympathy to Mrs. LaBarre, the grandsons and other relatives of losing her mother.

Say boy, those northers are sure coming awful close together. Just a little too close to suit the writer. If they keep on coming, he will have to go to warmer climate where it will suit his clothes better.

The Owens family have finished up their long task of cutting and tying out their eighteen acres of hegar feed. They cut and tied out 5,000 bundles. It took 400 pounds of twine to tie out. Mrs. Owens is having her husband and Brother hauling it in and stacking it right close to the house, so the crows can't eat the well filled heads up.

The writer has been investigating the cotton bolls lately. He finds that the cotton has fully matured in the bolls but the bolls, three-fourths, of them, are soft and his opinion is that they will never open up unless it comes a good hard freeze and then turn off warm for a few days. Maybe they will open then.

Real early last Monday morning Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams' house caught on fire on the roof. The fire was caused by a defective flue, but was put out before any damage was done.

Mr. Keeble Jones moved his family Sunday into one room of the house which Johnny Mouser and family are living in. The house which they are occupying is on John Ashton Indian lease.

Those farmers who own dogs, from Police dogs down to Cur and Shepherd dogs, where they are going in packs over the country just like coyotes, had better begin to look after them. If not, they will sure be killed. As Hawkeye was out cutting wood for his wife about 11:30 a. m. he heard some dogs barking and looking over in John Ashton's pasture where his 11 head of fine sheep feeds, he saw a pack of 8 dogs after his sheep and before he could run 60 yards to the sheep they had cut one out by itself and had it down. If Hawkeye hadn't got to the sheep as he did, in less than five minutes they would have had it torn to pieces. At that, the sheep was torn up pretty bad. In this pack there were three police dogs, one black dog, one snow white dog and three redish colored shepherds. There were eight in this bunch. As vicious as those dogs are, it's dangerous for people to go on the highways or even on their own premises. Something should be done about them for no one is going to have their stock killed by dogs.

All the stock ponds have been frozen over with a thin skin of ice for the past few weeks.

Mr. Jack Williams built a fine brick flue on his house Saturday which came very near burning down early last Monday morning.

Drama of Woman's Fight to Hold Love
Coming to Tex

When a middle-aged business woman married a young seafarer with a wandering foot, and all a sailor's propensities for love making, she is taking on some problems for herself, especially if the young husband has the charm that makes him attractive to other women. A play based on situations like this has great potentialities for real drama, and it is exactly that which marks the new First National drama "Side Streets," with Aline MacMahon in the featured role, at the Tex.

Barthelmess Scores
In Damon Runyon's
'Midnight Alibi'

Occasionally there comes to the screen a picture of such rare beauty, consummate artistry and unusual characterizations that it stands out as a monument in film achievement.

First National has caught this elusive quality in its production of the Damon Runyon story, "Midnight Alibi," starring Richard Barthelmess, Saturday Midnight at the Palace Theatre for the first time locally.

A gun toting gangster and a white haired, aristocratic spinster, are the principal characters in the picture, with Barthelmess playing the former role and Helen Lowell, the latter.

Barthelmess has a sympathetic role in the young racketeer who is willing to forego his feud with a rival crook because he is in love with the man's sister. Unquestionably it is his strongest characterization since "To'able David," the picture that won him the gold prize medal.

Learn the answer Saturday midnight.

'Ready Writing
Replaces Essay
in School Events

The essay contest of the Inter-scholastic league has been changed to the "Ready Writing," contest, according to the announcement of Miss Lois Thompson, county director of the contest at Fairview. The old name "essay contest" suggested a more formal composition than the rules call and the name has been changed to make the entries conform more closely with the composition requirements.

The subject will be issued for the use of the students in preparation for the contest at the county meet next February. The subjects call for narration, exposition and argumentation, according to the director, and the formal style will not be originality and organization of the themes. The winners of the county meet will be eligible to meet the competitors of the district at Wichita Falls next spring.
