HOME BUILDERS

On Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 9th, members of the Home Builders Class of the First Methodist church were entertained in their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Blum on Ave. D when Mrs. W. H. Lewis and Bertha Cropper acted as joint hostesses.

Mrs. H. C. Gilbert, the president, presided. The scripture lesson was taken from John 14th chapter and was read by Mrs. Scott Morris.

Prayer by Mrs. Bertha Cropper. After the business session, the class was dismissed with prayer. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members: Mesdames R. H. Henry, F. R. Knauth, Bertha Cropper, H. C. Gilbert, J. B. Westerfield, W. A. Browning, W. T. Vance, Simpson, L. F. Edwards, Stacy, Scott Morris, L. A. Westbrook, J. C. Parker, A. J. Key.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. J. C. Parker.

Mrs. C. F. Johnson Wins Bed Room Suite Tues. Night

Mrs. C. F. Johnson won the bed room suite which was given away at the Palace Theatre Tuesday night.

Mr. Logan, manager of the theatre, states that another bed room suite will be given away next Tuesday night, and that tickets you now have will be good on this night.

Frank Kelley Is Poultry Inspector

Frank Kelley, proprietor of the Kelley Grain and Hatchery, who attended a meeting of the Texas Baby Chick Association, held in Gainesville recently, has received a certificate from the association which qualifies him for poultry improvement work, such as judging baby chicks, production and culling and the care of flocks.

Mr. Kelley was one of the twenty-six who received these certificates, and is the only man in Wichita county who is officially qualified to inspect poultry flocks.

Denunciation Of Crime In Texas Meets Ovation From Listeners

Austin, Jan. 15.—The mantle of the highest office in the fight of the people of Texas dropped today upon the youthful shoulders of James V. Allred.

While cannon boomed an official salute, the former newsboy of Bowie was inaugurated governor of the biggest state in the union, and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Texas' first and only woman governor, retired to private life.

Standing on the steps of Texas' big granite capitol, Governor Allred delivered a ringing address, pledging cooperation with the national recovery program and use of all powers to stamp out crime in Texas.

Five Ex-Governors An estimated throng of 10,000 persons witnessed the ceremonies, made resplendent by the presence of high state dignitaries, five former governors and officers and several battalions of the Texas national guard.

Despite the solemnity, the occasion begun with the playing of the National Anthem and concluded with official state song, "Texas, My Texas," by a military band, was very human. Allred himself was smilingly at ease and his manner was communicated to the thousands massed before him.

ROTARY CLUB

Jack Brumley had charge of the program at the Rotary Club Tuesday noon. He gave a classification talk on the many different woods that were used in the making of furniture. His address was well received and greatly enjoyed. He also honored the club with a solo. (It was so low you couldn't hear it.)

Miss Barbara Crissey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Crissey delighted the members and guests with a reading.

P. A. Wiggins will have charge of the program next week.

Notice To Farmers

There will be a meeting of the farmers of this community at the High School auditorium, Thursday, Jan. 24th, for the purpose of electing community committeemen for the cotton reduction campaign for the ensuing year.

Rev. J. Leslie Finnel of Fort Worth Will Deliver The Principal Address

NOTICE

B. P. O. Elks will hold special meeting Thursday (tonight) at 8 o'clock. Urgent business is to come before the Order. All old Elks are invited and urged to be present.

F. R. Sopher, Exalted Ruler

J. M. Evans New Pharmacist At The Oil City Pharmacy

J. M. Evans of Jewett, Texas, has accepted a position with the Oil City Pharmacy as prescription druggist.

Mr. Evans comes to Burk Burnett highly recommended as a progressive business man. He is a registered pharmacist. We welcome Mr. Evans to our city.

Ben Sanders Buys Gulf Service Sta.

Ben Sanders, who has charge of the wholesale department of the Gulf Production Co. here for the past several years has been transferred to the retail department of the company and is located at the Gulf Service Station at 404 East Main street.

Mr. Sanders wishes his friends to call on him at his new location. Read his ad elsewhere in this issue.

CIRCLES

SALLEE CIRCLE Mrs. Artie Whitesides opened the meeting of the Sallee Circle at the home of Mrs. Roy Magers Monday afternoon with a devotional and Mrs. A. C. Houser led in prayer.

A short business session was held after which a quilt being made by the members was sewed on the remaining of the afternoon. An all day meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Artie Whitesides Wednesday, when the quilt was finished and a covered dish luncheon was enjoyed at the noon hour.

LOCKETT CIRCLE

Mrs. John Brookman was hostess to the Lockett Circle Monday. Social opened with song "Our Best". Mrs. Kent brought devotional and Mrs. Robertson led in prayer. After all old and new business, Mrs. Buchanan from the Morgan Circle gave an interesting talk on Steward and "The Baptist Hundred Thousand Club". Mrs. Miles B. Hays dismissed the following with prayer: Mesdames Ira Hullum, VanCleave, Bundy, Hattie Buchanan, John Brookman, Brooks Robertson, Miles B. Hays, Kent, Lewallen, Jimmie Johnson and Miss Leona Hunt.

MORGAN CIRCLE

The Morgan Circle met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clarence King on the west pavement. Mrs. Will Teal presided at the business meeting with Mrs. F. C. Brookman giving the devotion.

A book on missions was taught by Mrs. King. Mrs. Will Teal dismissed nine members and one visitor with prayer.

It isn't the expense of entertaining that annoys the average man; it's eating scraps next day.

It is a fine thing to be a gentleman, but it is an awful handicap in an argument.

Nobody finds perfect bliss in Burk Burnett except the woman who discovers that her old rival has grown fat.

The grouch isn't lying when he says he doesn't believe in a good cause. He doesn't believe in anything that wants part of his money.

It is easy to understand why Burk Burnett parents don't reason with their little boys. It takes much less time to smack him

Musical Features To Head Program Of Entertainment

Approximately 250 persons are expected to attend the fourteenth annual banquet of the Burk Burnett Chamber of Commerce Friday night at 7:30 in the basement of the First Methodist church.

Rev. J. Leslie Finnel, of Fort Worth, will be the principal speaker for the evening.

A most enjoyable program of music will be presented by the program committee, including vocal and instrumental numbers. The Burk Burnett Cowboy band will furnish music, with E. L. Nichols directing. President Henry Grace will make the president's annual report, setting forth the accomplishments of the group during the past year.

Following the invocation by the Rev. L. G. Hagard of the First Methodist church, all guests of honor will be introduced by Alvin Hill.

Following is the program: Toastmaster, Alvin R. Hill. Invocation, Rev. L. G. Hagard.

Introduction of out of town guests. Introduction of new directors and president's report, Henry S. Grace.

Reading, Miss Pauline Browning. Address, Rev. J. Leslie Finnel, of Fort Worth.

One act play, "Not Quite Such a Goose." Service Award Presentation, O. R. Tipps.

Wild West Quartet, W. D. Bent, W. R. Hill, Johnnie Anderson and Leo Foster.

A wonderful menu is being prepared consisting of turkey, dressing and gravy, cranberry sauce, creamed potatoes, fruit salad, green beans, coconut pudding, coffee and rolls.

BURK SCHOOL MEETS CALLED

The faculty members of the Burk Burnett schools will start a series of forum discussions of the problems of teaching under the leadership of Supt. Butler Westerfield Monday, Jan. 21. The purpose of the meetings will be to increase the efficiency of the teachers in their own work and to give the teachers a broader background for their duties. Special emphasis will be placed on the professional rating of the work of the teachers. This series of meetings is one of the progressive attempts on the part of the administration to give the city a better school system.

The series and dates are: Jan. 21, "Classroom Discipline"; Jan. 24, "Physical Condition" of the Classroom; Jan. 28, "Time Distribution of the Recitation Period"; Jan. 31, "Unit Teaching"; Feb. 4, "Lesson Planning"; and Feb. 7, "Teacher Improvement in Service." The programs for these meetings will take the form of serious forum discussion in which each teacher may present the individual problems and a lecture by the superintendent, Butler Westerfield.

The coming year holds much promise for Burk Burnett, but not unless our citizens are willing to work together for the common good.

SANCTITY OF THE HOME

Thoughtful Burkburnett people are beginning to ask the question whether all is well with the nation's home life. Indications are that it is not. Too many homes are being broken up and the proportion of marriages proving unsuccessful is too large. There are too many divorces. Home life is the rock on which we have builded our social system. When our home life becomes decadent then, indeed, are we headed for disaster. It is in the home that we train our children, the citizens of tomorrow. What kind of future citizens are we going to have without proper training? Marriage and its natural sequel, the home, are sacred institutions. We must maintain them as such if our hopes for the future are to be fulfilled.

POWER ON THE FARM

Announcement from Washington that the federal power commission is now making a study of methods by which electricity can be carried into hundreds of thousands of farm homes now without it should strike the average Burkburnett citizen as a sensible move. There is a crying demand for this very thing and no movement that can be attempted in 1935 will benefit a greater number. While the farm owner will be the prime beneficiary, the entire community into which the power is carried will also benefit.

But it means as much for the farm wife as for the farmer himself. Too long has she been without the labor-saving devices to which her sisters in the towns and cities are accustomed. Too long has she been without the leisure to which she is just as much entitled as anyone else. Electricity on the farm can work wonders for her and add an attraction to rural life that nothing else can supply.

Increasing the buying power of the farmer is recognized as an essential to the prosperity of the nation. But putting electricity power on the farm is also essential, and will help to hasten that prosperity. This new task to which Uncle Sam is about to set himself—carrying electric power to thousands of rural homes—is one of the most sensible projects this nation has ever attempted.

One of the easiest things some Burkburnett people do is forget their enemies—after they get even with them.

An Iowa relief administrator insists that persons who can drive cars do not need relief money. Hasn't that fellow ever seen a garage bill?

A Good Bank is a Servant to BUSINESS

Too many business men are never aware of changing needs until after they have already happened. Wasted dollars might often be saved if the head of a business could put his finger on the facts in time.

A good bank is in an excellent position to supply those necessary facts. Your banker does not have to know the intricate of such complex details might hinder rather than help him in serving you. For your banker's value to your concern rests chiefly in his ability to bring a very broad experience to bear upon your own problems. His is a business that serves many businesses. His specialty is financing, of course, and here he can draw upon an intimate knowledge gained from years of practice.

But in other business fields, too—marketing, for example—your banker can serve you. His understanding of general business trends is far more comprehensive than one gained merely from making one product or selling a few.

If you are using your bank only as a clearing house for deposits and payments you are not letting your banker serve you to his full capacity. It will pay you to know him better.

COVERING THE COLLEGES

—with—
MATTHEW TUCKER

Future Burkburnett contributions to the University of Texas campus will find it as changed and rejuvenated, compared to what it is now, as present exes do who had their fling in pre-war days. At present more than twenty buildings on the campus have been constructed since the war; but the building program is still in full swing and there is no telling where it will stop. This month's work is to begin on the completion of the new $1,800,000 library-administration building unit. T new Main Building will be erected on the site of the old bat-roost and a 300-foot tower will be constructed on the present library building, which was built in 1932-3 and will be connected with the new main building.

Last Friday the H. E. Wattinger Construction Company of Austin received a contract for construction of one new dormitory for men and a new girls' dormitory. The combined cost of construction of the two buildings amounts to $312,022.

No doubt many Burkburnett residents have already bought one or more of the Texas Memorial Museum half-dollars for the price of a whole dollar, and thereby contributed to the fund for the erection of a $750,000 museum on the University campus in the near future.

Then, there is some talk of a new Law Building, although no action has been taken on it by the Board of Regents yet.

Old "B" Hall, once used as a men's dormitory but remodeled in 1934 for temporary occupation by offices and classes when the old Main Building was demolished, will also be destroyed as soon as the new Main Building is ready for occupancy and the campus will lose its most decrepit edifice.

The following article, which appeared on January 4 in the Daily Texas, the University campus daily, is significant:

"The last of the historic University Student Army Training Camp, and which were occupied by a large number of the classes of the University, is being torn down this week.

"The shack was known as the H. E. Shack and was occupied by the Department of Home Economics until it was moved into the new Home Economics Building, which was completed last year.

"The shack will be completely removed by the end of the week, closing a historic era of the University. J. W. Calhoun, comptroller, said Wednesday."

These facts should leave no doubt that the University of Texas will soon be one of the best housed schools in existence. But of course, even at that, the plant is not as important as the work that is carried on in it, and both are possible only if there are students to use them. Burkburnett is furnishing her share of college students, and we hope that her share will continue to increase in the future as it has done in the recent past.

One of these days we will have to mention some of A. & M.'s salient characteristics. We might do it next week if we knew enough of them, and hope finding them will not be as difficult as finding why the Aggies had a winning football team during the recent season.

College folk are turning more seriously than ever to preparation for the onslaught on the twenty-eighth of this month of that semi-annual battle known as final exams. You can fairly hear the brains grinding up knowledge. Just three more weeks and the biggest part of the battle will be over for most of us. Upon examining the calendar we find we just have time to sneak home between semesters.

We couldn't help noticing the lovely damsel Chester Roberts escorted to church services Sunday morning, and when pressed Chester admitted that she is his most powerful weakness.

The voices of many friends and former pupils are with us in extending good wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Reaves, Jr. (bless 'em).

One of these days we expect to drift up to Belton and pay a visit to the Smith, Jackson, Pinkston, Goodwin quartet at Mary Hardin Baylor. An invitation to a duck dinner some Sunday might encourage us.

After months of effort, we get some satisfaction from an Aggie, who writes and says, "An Aggie's opinions on current topics or any other topics are unique, maybe radical, strange, unfounded and senseless." He admits it! But he sends, also, some valuable information on a proposed project which will mean millions to Texans and which we will discuss next time.

Modesty prevents us from telling you just how good the advertising columns of Burkburnett Star are to those who want results but nothing prevents you from finding out for yourself and to your prof-

The "liquid test"

... it ENDS bowel worries for many people

This is a test that tells you whether the system needs a cathartic change. If you have constant sluggish spells or bilious attacks, and laxatives seem to make things worse, it would be wise to try this:

Stop all use of any laxative that does not encourage variation from a "fixed dose" (which may be entirely too large a dose for your individual need). Use instead, a liquid laxative that you can measure and regulate as to dose. As necessary to repeat, take smaller doses, less and less often, until the bowels are moving without any help at all.

Doctors use liquid laxatives, and a properly prepared liquid laxative, containing natural laxative agents like senna and cascara is a joy and a comfort; a real help in establishing regularity. Ask your doctor about this! (Doctors use liquid laxatives.) You can get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a most dependable liquid laxative, at any drug store.

Wedding Is Lovely Event Sunday

Miss Maxine Bunstine became the bride of Raymond Holland at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bunstine in an impressive home ceremony Sunday afternoon, January 13. The vows were read by Rev. Clovis Childers of Dundee.

The living room was beautiful in gold and brown colors and golden calendulas.

For the pre-nuptial music, Mrs. Clarence Palmer sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Gosnell. For the entrance of the wedding party Miss Gosnell played "Here Comes the Bride". Mr. Holland was attended by Jack Bunstine as best man and the bride had as her bridesmaid Miss Ruth Coffman of Wichita Falls. Flower girl was Lofon Farrington and ring bearer Orville Brooks Jordan.

Following the ceremony a reception was held when one hundred fifteen guests were served angel food cake and coffee.

A Texas Centennial Pageant To Be Presented Soon

A Texas Centennial Pageant to be put on in the near future was planned at the executive board meeting of the Burkburnett P-TA Tuesday afternoon. The pageant will be of general interest to the entire community as the funds will be used for the school library. The various civic clubs are expected to assist in this project. Materials for the pageant is being collected and important historical scenes of Texas History are being selected.

Y. N. I. Club

The Y. N. I. Club held its first official meeting of the year, Monday, January 7, 1935, at the home of Miss Gwendolyn South.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Maxine Bunstine; Vice President, Mary Helen Gosnell; Secretary, Faye Powell; Treasurer, Gwendolyn South; Social Committee, Patricia Hearne, Helen Nolen, Melba Miller; Publicity Chairman, Ruth Coffman.

Plans for the coming year were discussed, after which the club spent an enjoyable social hour. Miss Patricia Hearne made high score at the games.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Helen Nolene, Monday, January 21 at 4:30 o'clock.

Missionary F. Helps With Various Gifts

Twenty-five families were made happier by council board members of the Missionary Federation according to reports of the various members given at the board meeting held in the home of Mrs. W. L. Walker Friday afternoon. Many of these were generous baskets of food.

Mrs. J. H. Exley, president, appointed committees for the year. On the Welfare Committee are Mesdames Wid Phillips, W. A. Strickland, E. C. Waits, J. D. Riddle, H. M. Hood, F. R. Knauth and J. W. Butz.

Mesdames Hugh Jones, W. D. Bent, Johnnie Anderson, Henry Prinzing, M. W. Majors, Neal Hall and W. K. Thurmond will serve on the finance committee. The Civic Committee is composed of Mesdames H. C. Gilbert, Marvin Patterson, Susie Trask and B. F. Turner.

Mrs. Exley was co-hostess with Mrs. Walker. A delicious refreshment of angel food cake and coffee were served the following: Mesdames Bertha Cropper, F. K. Knauth, J. A. Hammet Vance Weds Miss Lois Thompson

Hammet Vance of Burkburnett and Miss Lois Thompson of Wichita Falls, were united in marriage Saturday evening, January 11, at 7:00 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Thompson, parent of the bride. Mr. Vance is the son of Judge and Mrs. W. T. Vance of the local high school.

Pre-nuptial music was offered by Miss Geneva White, accompanied by Miss Fernetta Foley, singing "At Dawning". Miss Foley played "Traumatic" and the "Wedding March". The impressive ring ceremony was read by Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church of Wichita Falls, before an altar banked by flowers and with white lighted tapers at each side. The bride was beautiful in a white angel-crepe wedding gown, attended by Miss Lois Corbin of Wichita Falls. Sanford Shores of Burkburnett, was best man.

Following the wedding ceremony, guests were entertained at a lovely reception. The two-tiered wedding cake was served by Miss Glorie Kinsel with Miss Fernetta Foley pouring the coffee. Miss Essie McDowell presided over the hand painted brides book. Guests included families of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance are at home in Wichita Falls where Mr. Vance is manager of the Dunlap Tire Store.

Mrs. Fred Flannagan To Head Study Club

The election of officers and a parliamentary program features of the meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Flannagan Thursday afternoon by the members of the Current Literature Club.

Officers who were elected are Mrs. Fred Flannagan, president; Mrs. W. D. Bent, vice president; Mrs. F. A. Jamieson, recording secretary; Mrs. J. R. Prince, treasurer; Mrs. Roy Magers, historian.

Mrs. Rex Kolter, parliamentarian, Mrs. Dudley Ellis, Mrs. Neeley Vaught and Mrs. James Thomas, gave very interesting parts on parliamentary law. Mrs. Geo. Kimbell favored the club with two lovely songs. Miss Norene Kirby gave a fascinating review of her trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Gordon Thomas was welcomed in the club.

Mrs. Flannagan served a dainty refreshment plate to Misses Norene Kirby, Lucille Kemp, Jackie Kirsh and Mesdames W. D. Bent, T. H. Boling, J. L. Caffee, Dudley Ellis, B. F. Gilchrist, F. A. ANNOUNCES

NEW BURIAL ASSOCIATION

In response to solicitations and encouragement from many of our friends, and owing to the fact that we have found funeral insurance policy that is legal, safe, and above board, we have organized the Thomas Burial Association which in two short winter days has reached a membership of several hundred and is growing beyond our own generous expectations.

We were pleased to discover a policy with a legal reserve fund which meets the requirements of the Texas insurance laws; and that is guaranteed to protect, and one that we unreservedly commend to the people of Burkburnett . . . and our neighboring communities.

While life is dear to us, we must all realize that death is certain. There are few, if any of us, but who will be relieved of a financial burden when the Grim Reaper brings sorrow to our home if we are fortunate to hold a policy in this association.

The cost of a membership is so small that no one should be without its protection.

The amounts set opposite of each of the following classes constitute the burial benefits. The figures at the end of each line are based on quarterly payments:

CLASS A Members $150—Ages 10 years to 50 years, 48c—Ages 50 to 60 years, 90c—Ages 60 to 70 years, 90c—Ages 70 to 75 years, $1.20.

CLASS C Members $100.00—Ages 10 years to 50 years, 30c—Ages 50 years to 60 years, 48c—Ages 60 to 70 years, 60c—Ages 70 to 75 years, 72c.

CLASS D Members $60.00—Ages 5 years to 10 years, 18c.

CLASS E Members $40.00—1 month to 5 years, 12c.

The J. M. Thomas family, operating the Thomas Funeral Home has the distinction of having three members who are licensed embalmers. Mrs. Thomas has the further distinction of being the only lady embalmer in Wichita county. They cherish the friendships they have made during the seven years they have served this community . . . and appreciate the reputation they have attained for honesty and efficient service.

If a representative of the burial association fails to see you, call to see us or our office and all details of the policy will gladly be explained.

January 15th., 1935

Mr. J. M. Thomas, Sec.-Treas.,
Thomas Burial Association,
Burkburnett, Texas.

Dear Mr. Thomas:

I have carefully gone over the application, certificate, etc., in connection with the foregoing Burial Association, and it is my opinion on a sound basis with the careful and honest administration of same that it will receive under your management. I have no doubt it will succeed.

The reserve fund that will be created from time to time through payments made by certificate holders in my judgement should be more than sufficient to take care of lapses.

This plan of making provision for such contingency, which in time is sure to come to us all, to my way of thinking is ideal, as it affords the person of limited means by the payment of a nominal sum to take care of such emergency.

I recommend to the public to purchase same and to meet their assessments promptly and in such event, success is certain.

Very respectfully,
R. S. RAGSDALE
Attorney

To Whom It May Concern:

I have inspected the purpose and plan of the Thomas Burial Association of Burkburnett, Texas. I believe its purpose to be most worthy and the plan of operation to be workable and that it will prove a great benefit to its members at the time of distress occasioned by death.

I have known Mr. J. M. Thomas for several years and know him to be a person of honor and unquestioned integrity, and believe that he will conduct the affairs of this Association in a business like manner. I am glad to recommend the Thomas Burial Association.

Very truly,
I. E. HARWELL
President, First National Bank

To Whom It May Concern:

In the organization and operation of the Thomas Burial Association I believe it will be a great benefit to the Burkburnett people who wish to provide for the hour of death.

I have known Mr. J. M. Thomas several years and believe the management of the Association will be in safe hands and will be properly operated. I am glad to recommend the Thomas Burial Association.

Mrs. Bonnie Faye Woolley Answers Final Summons

A pall of sadness was cast over Iowa Park and community last Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 9, 1935, at 4:45 P. M., when the news went out that Mrs. Bonnie Faye Fields Woolley had passed from the earthly walk. The extent of the community's sorrow was evident on every hand.

Mrs. Woolley complained of a severe headache Sunday night and came to Iowa Park to consult her physician. Monday afternoon she went immediately to the home of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fields, where she was taken with a severe heart attack Monday night, the same resulting in her death.

She was born July 23, 1911 at Iowa Park and spent her entire life in this community. She was a graduate of the Iowa Park High School and had completed her business course in Wichita Falls. She was identified with the community life in a most favorable way. She was reared on the farm and ranch and was a lover of out-door life and sports. She was as graceful in the sport of horseback riding as any one to be found, and her popular presence at the County Fairs and rodeos was acclaimed with joy, for she was as much at home there, as on the quiet ranch life of her father. And when her name was mentioned in any circle, it was mentioned in the community's most favorite and popular woman. Bonnie Faye was one of those queenly young women whose presence would grace any occasion. She possessed those noble qualities of womanhood that won for her a place wherever she would go. She was beautiful in life, pure in conduct, noble in character and possessed those charming virtues which won for her the admiration of these with whom she came in contact. Bonnie Faye, as she was affectionately known, was her daddy's pal. They loved each other devotedly.

Early in life she met Christ as a personal Savior, accepted Him as such, followed Him in beautiful baptism, found her place in the activities of church life in the First Baptist Church of which was a member, then went away to live with Him in Glory.

She was married to Carroll F. Woolley on September 15, 1934. She leaves to mourn her going, this noble young husband; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fields; one sister, Mrs. Louis Quick; a large number of immediate relatives and a host of friends.

Pall bearers were: H. H. Benson, Roy Roach from Olney, Lee Ellzy, Barney Gregory, Holiday; M. C. Currie, Emmet Eubanks, Iowa Park.

The church, filled to overflowing Thursday afternoon, was a wonderful demonstration of the esteem in which she was held in the community life. People came for many miles to show their appreciations for the life of this community's favorite. The most beautiful floral offerings ever seen at a funeral and if they could have spoken their eloquent message, how grandly eloquent it would have been that day. But their message was not to be heard, but only felt. So, with the many friends, we will not say, "Good bye, Bonnie Faye," but will only say "Farewell, we will see you in the morning". Her remains were

Powell and Keeler Are Again Paired As Screen Lovers

Ever since motion pictures were in their flickering stages movie teams have been popular. In fact, all true unions of movie players have been the result of public approval.

Powell and Keeler are co-starred with Joan Blondell in Warner Bros.' mammoth musical, "Dames," which comes to the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday.

The picture is a hilarious musical comedy romance with spectacular number staged by Busby Berkeley in which 300 beautiful girls take part. Others in the cast include Zasu Pitts, Guy Kibbee, Hugh Herbert, Arthur Vinton and Phil Regan.

MOTHER! don't experiment with your Child's Cold

Often, "mere colds" have serious consequences. It is dangerous to neglect a cold—equally dangerous to experiment with half-way measures.

Feel safe! Use Vicks VapoRub—the proved external method of treating colds. No risks of constant internal "dosing", which so often upsets delicate digestions and lowers resistance when most needed.

DOUBLE DIRECT ACTION
 Just rubbed on at bedtime, VapoRub fights a cold direct—two ways at once—by stimulation and inhalation. This combined poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion. Often by morning the worst of the cold is over.

New Kidneys

If you could trade your neglected, tired and busy kidneys for new ones, you would automatically get rid of Night Rising, Nervousness, Headaches, Rheumatism, Burning, Itching and Acidity. Seventh Grade Class Prophecy

Last week end while I was sitting in front of the fire reading I fell asleep and dreamed a most interesting dream. I dreamed I was retired business man making a tour. While I was on this tour I met up with all of my old classmates.

Taking a plane from Oklahoma City to Kansas City, Mo., I found that my pilot was none other than Billy Strickland and the stewardess was Coledella Posey.

While attending a circus I found Polly Wiggins high on the flying trapeze. When the adorned elephant walked into the ring whom should I see sitting on it's broad head, but Mildred Kemp clothed in a dazzling costume. Polly and Mildred are still together.

Visiting a newspaper office in Nashville, Tenn., I found Morris Cheney as the cartoonist and Eldon Mayey as the dashing reporter.

Coming to Prince Ben Ali's place of business I found it was an impersonator in the form of Jim Shaw. He permitted me to gaze into his crystal. I saw Lorene Battle as a very contented school teacher. I saw Marginell Chambers impersonating Kate Smith in the NBC studios. Jackie Cruce was a cabaret dancer in old Mexico.

Mildred Kreager was in the Zeigfield Follies in New York. I saw Louis Watkins as an organ grinder in old Monterrey.

Hugh Hall was training goats in Texas. Justine Nichols was one of Hollywood's gold-diggers. Kenneth Willet was a cowboy yodeler over the Columbia network.

I saw I. D. Rainey and Doris Duval happily located on a Canadian farm with their little family of five. May Woods was the superintendent of an old maids home in Michigan. I saw Yvonne Legg as a famous poet. Winfred Stevens was the owner of a dude stand, and red lemonade was her special.

Jean Thompson got a job washing dishes in a high class cafe.

Mr. Culpepper was becoming very domesticated. As I gaze into the crystal I saw him bending over a dishpan of hot soapy suds, an apron tied around his waist and a large stack of dishes at his side.

As Mr. Strong was always good at figures he was judging figures in Paris.

Miss Westbrooks was living at ease since she had discovered a new vitamin to put in spaghetti that will make one fat.

At this point mother awakened me telling me to go to bed for tomorrow I would begin my high school career.

Seventh Grade Banquet

Friday night Jan. 11, the Seventh Grade had a banquet in the Home Economics room.

The Home Economics girls served a most delicious meal consisting of meat loaf, tomato sauce, green beans, rice, potatoes, rolls, butter, apple carrot salad, pineapple pudding and spiced tea.

After the meal a program was furnished by members of the class and one guest. Following is the program:

The average man is willing to do almost anything to make money, except hard work.

Senior Work Day

Saturday, January 12, was known as Senior work day. Many business firms of the city employed a Senior.

The class wishes to thank the following firms for their cooperation and interest:

The Band Box, Jackson's News Stand, Oil City News Stand, The Rexall Drug Store, Cannon's Drug Store, Corner Drug Store, City Beauty Shop, Modern Beauty Shop, King's Beauty Shop, The Famous, Boyd Bros., Samson's Dry Goods Store, D. Volley Ball

Half of the round robin tournament is over. The Volley Ball girls do not play Tuesday night; but they start over Friday night and play Electra at Electra.

The girls have been the underdogs so far, and have had to be content with bringing home the moral victories. They are going to bring home the bacon, however, next time; as the other teams may have the moral victories.

The girls do not get much encouragement because Volley Ball is considered unimportant by the school and town people. It means a lot to the girls though. They have been working hard every afternoon. One may talk about having the twelfth man out there on the football field, but the seventh man on the volleyball court is just as important as that. The girls need a little encouragement once in a while.

They cannot do their best when they know it doesn't matter if they win or lose.

Talk to the girls. Help them feel that they are not working hopelessly. Giving encouragement never has hurt anyone; and it will help the girls a great deal more than you would think.

Junior-Senior Skating Party

On Friday evening, January 11, 1935, the Juniors and Seniors buried the hatchet of rivalry and took a few reducing exercises at the skating rink.

Some of the boys came dressed as girls but they failed to display the grace of the feminine sex, however neither sex displayed much grace on this particular occasion. Many of the girls differed with the boys on the proper attire for skating and wore male attire but failed to tie the pillows on, in order to make the falls more comfortable.

Vocational Agriculture

The National Vocational Education Act was passed and approved February 23, 1917. It is known as the Smith-Hughes act since Senator Hoke Smith and Representative Dudley M. Hughes both of Georgia was instrumental in its passage. This act provides for agriculture, trades and industries and home economics. It provides federal funds to be used for the betterment and advancement of agriculture in secondary schools, and schools meeting certain standards and qualifications.

The objectives of Vocational Agriculture may be outlined as follows:

1. To produce agricultural products efficiently.
2. To market agricultural products economically.
3. To purchase suitable farm equipment and supplies.
4. To cooperate intelligently in economic activities.
5. To manage the farm business effectively.
6. To participate in worthy rural social activities.
7. To maintain a satisfactory farm home.
8. To use scientific knowledge and procedure in a farming occupation.
9. To exercise constructive leadership.
10. To get successfully established in farming.

The above factors show briefly that vocational agriculture is a means to develop the human abilities along the different lines of agriculture.

The course of Vocational Agriculture as offered in the Burkburnett High Schools is a three year course. The course is based on the needs of the community which were determined by surveys made from local farms during the summer months by the Vocational Agriculture instructor.

Some of the problems studied by the first year Vocational Agriculture boys are "The restoring maintaining of soil fertility." Improving plants and improving livestock and poultry.

The problems of "Restoring and Maintaining Soil fertility covers local problems as terracing, the use of commercial fertilizers and barnyard manures, crop rotation, cover crops that may be used effectively and green manure crops that may be used as winter pastures, and the use of legumes as a soil builder.

The problem of "Improving Plants" may be used locally in the pruning of trees, and shrubs, selecting farm seeds of all kinds, selecting varieties of crops that will best meet the demands of the buying public and the plants that will grow best under the local conditions.

The problem of improving livestock and poultry may be used under the local conditions by culling hens for egg production, selecting dairy cattle, selecting breeding and feeding cattle that are best suited for the purpose, selecting brood sows, and other animals that may be kept for breeding purposes.

In addition to the above Vocational Agriculture Department is expected to cooperate and assist in any way possible with community problems.

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

Assembly program was called Monday, January 7, for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm in the basketball game Tuesday night between Fairview and Burk at Burk. Mr. Robison introduced all the basketball boys and gave a few points about basketball.

Mr. Duncan urged all pupils to attend regularly during this week and work hard all during exam week.

High School Library

As it was necessary for each student to have his library record clear before taking final examinations, all library books were returned on Monday. No books are to be issued until the new school term begins. During the time that the library is not charging out books, the librarian is planning to spend her time cataloging and rearranging the book collection.

Letter Men

There are sixteen lettermen from the 1934 football team, counting the manager. The customary action of lettering men by the number of quarters they have played was not followed this year. The boys were lettered according to their value to the team, merits, etc.

The lettermen are as follows:

“WHAT BETTER GIFT

to the State than to teach and train Youth”—Cicero

—We join the community in extending a welcome to the men and women who perform their duties in our schools to “teach and train youth.”

The youth of today must soon assume the burdens of business . . . government and homemaking. It is our duty and obligation to see that they have every educational advantage.

Keep the boys and girls in school that they may completely meet their responsibilities

Laughs of the Week

Mr. Hill: Really, Doc, your handwriting is terrible. You must learn to write better.
Doc: Well, Coach, if I did, you'd be finding fault with my spelling.

Billyjane (at almond counter): Who attends to the nuts?
Howard Bentley: Be patient, I'll wait on you in a minute.

When Tex Allen entered school, the carpenters were working at the building. After a few days he saw them handling a very large piece of lumber and, running to his teacher, he asked: "Miss Morgan, is that the school board they're putting on there now?"

Hubert was just home after his first week at college. "Well, Hubert," asked his mother, "what did they teach you new?" "Not much," replied the child, "I've got to go back again."

Marion (several years later): I have been told that you've been circulating that I am old enough to be your mother.

Why, I never said such a thing. I merely said that I was young enough to be your daughter.

Come Jerry, how much longer are you going to be filling that pepper box?

I couldn't tell you, Mother, it's taking me a long time to get all this stuff in the thing through the little holes in the top.

Thrift

By G. A. Reaves

In speaking of thrift, Benjamin Franklin once said "Beware of little expenses; a small leak will sink a great ship", and it was also this famous statesman who said: "It's hard for an empty bag to stand upright". Many adages have been said about the value of thrift and of its importance but in our modern times we are taught that thrift is more than holding or keeping money. We are now taught that thrift cautions spending as well as wise saving. It is not necessary to be selfish or stingy in order to be thrifty. A thrifty person may be extremely generous when the occasion really demands generosity. The spendthrift may be unable to be generous because his careless use of money and property has robbed him of the funds needed for wise, generous giving.

Real thrift is not suddenly acquired. It is seldom that a spendthrift becomes thrifty. Thrift is a result of habits formed through long years of training. The spending of money carelessly and unwisely is the result of habits formed through long years of carelessness.

One of the most common ways of practicing thrift is through careful buying. The four most important words in the whole field of thrift are: "I cannot afford it". It is understood that these words do not mean that an individual should not spend money. They do not mean, however, that a person should buy only those things that he can really afford. The three most common plans that adults follow in their practice of thrift are: (1) the purchase of homes through small payments per month (2) the purchase of insurance through small payments per month or per year (3) or the depositing of small sums per month or per week in a savings bank. All of these are very commendable practices and one or more should be followed by the people.

There is an increasing use of a budget. It is difficult to make a budget for a family. The first step is to determine the year's income will be, and as a bases divided it on a percentage to the necessary expenses. Rent, heat, light, and food are the fixed necessities. Betterment and advancement should be included in the budget with equal importance as these things include entertainment, books, magazines and education. All of these are necessary to the well being of the family.

Each Moment Worth Higher Thought

Each morning I go to the school.
Through efforts I repeat
With never a thought of
I repeat day in and day out
With never a moment of Wonderful thoughts are should cast,
Higher than those that are past.
Success is the sum of small
With my ambition I will go
To make it come true.
Each little moment is passing
We had better make use of while they last.

Capital News Letter

—by—
W. D. McFarlane, M. C.
For the first time since the adoption of the Constitution, Congress convened on January 3rd. This date was set by the 20th Amendment and will be the date of the beginning of each new Congress in the future. The "Lame Duck" is gone.

This year the Democratic side of the House has the greatest majority that any party has had in 50 years. The division is 322 Democrats, 102 Republicans, 7 Progressives, 3 Farm-Laborites, and 1 vacancy.

Organization

The House met on January 3rd and was called to order by the Clerk. The first business was the election of the Speaker of the Honorable Joseph W. Byrns, Democratic Floor Leader of the Seventy-Third Congress, was elected Speaker. After the administration of the oath to the new Speaker, the Members-Elect were sworn and proceeded to the election of the civilian officers of the House of Representatives. The old officers of the 73rd Congress were retained in their positions. Then the Honorable William B. Bankhead of Alabama, Chairman of the Rules Committee and the author of the famous Bank-head Cotton Control Act, was elected Majority Floor Leader.

Discharge Rule

On the opening day, the House of Representatives adopted the rules of the Seventy-Third Congress with an amendment to the discharge rule raising the number of petitioners required for the discharge of a committee from 145 to 218, a majority of the House. The amendment was adopted from 145 to 218, a majority of the House. The amendment was adopted by a vote of 243 to 165.

Its adoption was a deliberate step backwards. The number 145 was originally advocated by all the present leaders of the 145 was originally advocated by all the present leaders of the House. Controversial Bills were too often held in a committee throughout an entire session of Congress without that committee ever making any report to the House. But a petition bearing 145 signatures could force any bill to the floor. Now a clear majority of the Members of the House must favor and want action on legislation before it can be taken from an adverse committee. Therefore, much important legislation will never reach the floor to be considered by the House of Representatives.

President's Annual Message to Congress
Friday the President addressed

a joint assembly of the House of Representatives and the Senate. In accordance with his previously established custom, the President delivered his message in person. Following, also, the early precedents of his Administration, he dwelt only on the general outlines of his plans for the coming session and told the members of Congress that he would give the specific details of each proposal in separate messages.

The President stated that the general purpose was to increase purchasing power until it balances production and when that point has been reached to maintain that balance and increase consumption to the full productive capacity of the nation. Changing the title of his administration from the "New Deal" the President said that the purpose of the "New Order" would be to bring to every American family, a reasonable and certain economic and social security.

The Chief Executive struck at the very heart of the present economic troubles when he declared that the key to increased purchasing power is increased employment, 3,500,000 of the 5,000,000 unemployed workers on the relief rolls are employable and the Federal Government is going to furnish them with work and make them customers. A public works program of a self-liquidating nature and of a type that will require an immense amount of direct labor is to be inaugurated to furnish the jobs. Roosevelt said that the other 1,500,000 must be supported by private and local charities for the Federal Dole is destroying the moral fiber of the nation.

The "New Order" is a consolidation of all of the previous efforts of this administration. The entire field is to be covered. Of all the thousands of plans advanced since the beginning of the depression, it is the most workable and the only one that is likely to succeed.
