GROUND HOG DAY

There may be wars and threats of war, drouths and depressions and fires and wrecks to worry one's mind. But nothing, it seems, can make the average Burkburnett man forget that annual date known as Ground Hog Day. He may discuss national and world issues for a whole year, but when he gets around toward the 2nd of February he forgets all else to wonder if the ground hog is going to be on the job.

No one seems to know when or how this old weather-prediction custom originated. No one seems to care. All anyone knows is that for long years the ground hog has been America's best-known weather prophet, and more cussed and discussed than any other. If Feb. 2 is bright enough for him to see his shadow, he returns to his underground den for six more weeks of winter. Failing to see his shadow he prepares to come from his long winter hibernation—for winter is about over.

That is the old belief, and you are at liberty to take it or leave it. The paid weather man will laugh if you mention "Ground Hog Day" to him—and so will a lot of your acquaintances. But if you are a believer in the ground hog's ability to forecast the weather, don't let that shake your faith. Just ask the disbeliever this: If there isn't anything to ground hog day why didn't people quit watching the skies on the second day of February years and years ago?

INSTALLMENT BUYING

It is easy to recall when, during the early months of the depression, some citizens placed the blame for it on installment buying. They contended that by this plan the buying public had contracted heavier obligations than they could meet, and that the crash was bound to come.

Now comes interesting proof of their mistake. Business reports for the past year show that installment buying reached the record total of 1929, when the volume amounted to more than six billion dollars. Evidently the buying public is still satisfied with the plan, else they would not have returned to it the moment money commenced to flow again and they found themselves again able to buy. In a canvass of Burkburnett you can find some who condemn installment buying, but you will also find just as many to endorse it. That the great majority of people can be depended upon to buy only what they need, and what they can pay for, is a recognized fact. This fact, and the system which sellers have for safeguarding credit accounts, seems to give assurance of the dependability and service of installment buying.

If you cannot pay spot cash for that which you need for your comfort and convenience, then you certainly are justified in buying it on terms you know you can and will meet. Doing without when there is a way to have the things you actually need, and a clear way to pay for them, is not justified. So long as you keep your credit good, and you do not buy unwisely, it makes little difference how you pay for it.

Yes, we still have towns where nice women never touch liquor except when they get ready to have a tooth pulled.

Anyway, Noah wasn't one of those people who go off on a trip leaving the cat behind to look out for herself.

The Burkburnett husband who is tempted to say that his wife can't take a joke will do well to look at himself in the glass and then drop the subject.

Woe is man. He slaves to get a fortune. Then he slaves to keep it while other members of his family have a good time.

Your Part Is Important!

Your value to the community must necessarily be measured by the manner in which you discharge your duty in all walks of life. Among the most important duties is that of meeting all of your obligations, whether social or financial. A properly prepared budget, with a definite plan for spending, is the best means of planning to meet your obligations. The best means of carrying out your plans is by saving.

Hints for the Household

By BETTY WEBSTER

The best and, in the long run, the easiest way to care for floors is to wax them. By waxing I don't mean that you must get down on your hands and knees and after days of back-breaking labor have your floors "done" for a few more days.

Use a lamb's wool brush, which is easily washed, with a long handle. Pour a little liquid wax on the wool and rub on the floor. Allow it to dry for thirty minutes. Then, if possible, polish with an electrically driven polisher which may be purchased or rented.

Apply Thin Coat—Polish Til Hard

The secret of successful waxing, the kind that makes floors that are not slippery, is to apply only a thin coat of wax and to polish it until hard.

Polishing once a month is sufficient for most floors although little once a week at the doorways and other spots which are used extraordinarily hard.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

1. Olive oil, if rubbed thoroughly into the hands, will keep them supple and smooth?
2. A mixture of equal parts of glycerin and camphor will heal and whiten chapped hands?
3. Tired, swollen feet may be relieved by bathing for ten minutes in hot water in which a little powdered alum has been dissolved?
4. Washing tender, easily chapped hands with oatmeal or almond meal instead of soap will be found soothing to the skin?

RECIPES

Scalloped Squash With Bacon
3 cups of baked squash, rice

1 teaspoon of salt
1/2 teaspoon of paprika
1 teaspoon of sugar
1-8 teaspoon of nutmeg
1 cup of cream
1 egg
1/2 cup of coarse bread crumbs
6 thin slices of bacon

Add salt, paprika, sugar, nutmeg and cream to the squash; beat until smooth and add egg, well beaten; mix thoroughly and turn into a butter baking dish. Cover with crumbs. Broil bacon until half done and arrange over top of squash. Bake in a hot oven for twelve minutes. Garnish with parsley and serve hot.

Baked Ham

Select a whole smoked ham (or a half, if a small roast is desired) with a deep layer of fat under the skin. Do not remove the skin. Soak overnight. Pour off the water, cover with fresh water and let simmer gently until tender, allowing thirty minutes to the pound.

Remove from fire and skin. Rub a little mustard into the fat, place whole cloves at one inch intervals over it, cover with a thick coat of brown sugar and bake in a 375 degree oven, allowing five minutes to the pound. Serve plain or with a raisin sauce.

Hard boiled eggs
Salt
Pepper
Catsup
Boiled salad dressing
Lettuce
Halve the eggs. Remove the yolk and mix with salt, pepper catsup and salad dressing to taste. Return to witness; place on lettuce leaves and cover with salad dressing.

COUNTY FAVORS TAX DIVERSION

An order, authorizing attendance of the county auditor with three members of the county commissioners court at meetings of the state legislature whenever relief measures and the proposed allocation of part of the automobile license fee to cities are under consideration, was adopted by the court Monday during its regular weekly meeting.

The court went on record as favoring the diversion of "a reasonable portion" of the state automobile license fee to municipalities. It was indicated that representatives of this county will go to Austin whenever such bills are brought up for legislative action.

Potter's Field Sought

The Thomas Undertaking company of this city was awarded a contract for making county burials in 1935 at a price of $20 for adults and $12 for infants. This represents a $2 increase in each quotation over the prices paid by the county in 1934. The bid was proposed on Monday, Jan. 14, but was tabled pending discussion of the matter by undertakers of the county. A large number of undertakers met Monday with the commissioners and after prolonged discussion, submitted prices of $50 for adults and $25 for infants, with the proposal that all be eligible for making county burials at those figures when called upon. The Thomas company bid then was accepted.

The commissioners at noon inspected a plot of ground at the county farm in connection with the proposal of County Judge H. W. Fillmore that such a tract be set aside as a potter's field, and that graves be prepared by county prisoners. No action was taken. Judge Fillmore again pointed out that adoption of such a plan would save the county about $200 a month—$15 for the digging of each grave, and $5 for the ground used.

Prepare for Tax Rush
County Tax Collector and Assessor Arthur C. Howard was given permission to employ five special deputies to serve during the last five days of January in issuing poll tax receipts.

The bond of P. H. Lambert of Wichita Falls for $1,299, covering the contract awarded last week by the court for making the annual audit of the county's books, was approved.

The county auditor was authorized to advertise for bids to serve as depository for county funds, school funds, and trust fund in 1935. Such bids are to be opened Feb. 18.

The 1934 report of L. V. Abernathy, former county attorney, was submitted and shows receipts totaling $4,111.70. Of this amount $1,212,500 was paid to the salary and bond of D. Allen, assistant county attorney. Mr. Abernathy received $2,899.20.

The Kinko Products company was awarded a contract for furnishing oil for precinct 2 at Burkburnett this year. County Auditor J. R. Jones was authorized to advertise for bids to be received Feb. 11 on a light truck for precinct 1 and a light coach for the county highway office.

County Attorney Mike Anglin informed the court he was ready to start the filing of delinquent tax suits when the court wished. The commissioners indicated that they would instruct him to start filing these suits after March 15, the last date upon which back taxes can be paid without penalty or interest.

Pneumonia To-day

By DR. WILLIAM J. SCHOLLES
There is much evidence that pneumonia has changed its clinical aspect noticeably during recent years.

The classical pneumonia of twenty years ago started with a chill, was limited to one or two lobes of the lung, ran a definite course of five, seven or nine days, was accompanied by a high fever, tended toward recovery, and ended by ends by crisis.

The pneumonia of today does not always develop as abruptly, runs an indefinite course with a low temperature, is scattered throughout one or both lungs, exhibits precious little tendency to recover, and ends by lysis.

The "old-fashioned" pneumonia usually caused death through failure of the right side of the heart which could not survive the terrific strain of forcing blood through the solid lung.

The "modern" pneumonia destroys life because the defense of the blood is ineffectual against the over-powering action of the germs. Well may the individual who is stricken with this disease take a gloomy view of the situation. The cards are certainly stacked against him. Pneumonia is today the most serious acute infectious disease with which the physician deals.

While the germ that causes pneumonia is always the pneumococcus, study and research made at the Rockefeller Institute hospital demonstrated four groups of types of these bacteria, which are designated as Types I, II, III and IV. Type I is found in 33 per cent of cases of pneumonia; Type II in 29 per cent; Type III in 13 per cent; Type IV in 20 per cent. Incidentally found in the mouths of health persons belong to Type IV.

It is now possible to determine in a given case of pneumonia which of the Types is responsible. This knowledge is important if immune serum is to be used, inasmuch as the only cases of pneumonia which are benefited by serum are those due to organisms of Type I.

That death in pneumonia is due to pneumococcus finding its way into the blood is shown by further studies made at the Rockefeller Institute. Of 448 cases studied, pneumococci were found in the blood in 136 cases. In this group the mortality remaining 312 cases, where there were no pneumococci in the blood, the mortality rate was only 8.3 per cent.

Types I and II which are responsible for 62 per cent of all cases of pneumonia are found almost exclusively in the environment of persons ill of the disease or of carriers. These findings with the further observations of the incidence of pneumococci in the throats of healthy and diseased individuals, in persons not in contact with cases compared with those in contact with cases of pneumonia, in the dust of rooms in which there had been no case of the disease compared with rooms in which there had been such a case, show that pneumonia is due to an infection from without.

It follows that the same preventive measures should be employed in pneumonia that are enforced in other communicable diseases. Carriers should be instructed in measures for preventing the spread of the disease. The individual should keep himself in the best possible physical condition. Lowered resistance plays the lead in the etiology of pneumonia.

Auto Show To Hold In Dallas

Dallas, January 29.—Plans on a scale designed to bring the Dallas show to a 150 mile the Southwest Spring Auto of the Dallas Automotive Association will be held Saturday to Tuesday, February 9-12.

Twenty-five separate distinct makes of automobiles in a variety of body styles will be played in a decorative setting automobile and Manufacturing at the State Fair grounds. There will be music, entertainment and many allied attractions. Opportunity will be afforded thousands expected for the show to compare the various makes and their respective advantages.

"The spring show," said Gill, president of the association designed to afford the rare opportunity to see a practically cross-section of the auto industry at a time when all the new have made their appearance one floor will be displayed 300 automobiles of various styles. It will be a show rarely seen in many of the towns of the country.

H. D. Bradshaw is chairman of the show committee with J. H. DeSarders, C. S. Stenon and W. E. Cabeen as members with J. H. Connell, executive tary, as manager of the show.

The easiest way for a Burkburnett girl to get married is to find a friend in some other town, new there, and folks can't see family.

Orders Chevrolet Cars Specify Knee-Action

Approximately ninety per cent of the new Chevrolet dealers from 1935 Master De Luxe cars specify knee-action, offered this year as an option on this series at an additional cost, according to J. F. Holler, general sales manager of Chevrolet Motor Company. The advance orders for delivery from the new 1935 Master De Luxe cars specified, "knee-action cars," but orders for delivery to customers are showing the same ratio. Advance orders and program our dealers bear out, made when we announced knee-action as optional on the Master De Luxe cars in January, that knee-action is so popular on the 1934, and was considered an important feature on the 1935 Master De Luxe cars. The acceptance of both lines is more enthusiastic than ever before, according to telegraphic reports from hundreds of our larger dealers.

Work Relief Bill
The House devoted the biggest part of last week to the $4,880,000,000 Work Relief Bill for the reemployment of some 3,500,000 of those at present unemployed or on the relief rolls. Monday, January 21st, the Rules Committee began work on the rule under which the bill would be considered. A proposal to limit the debate to one hour caused a revolt in the committee and prevented the presentation of the rule to the House until the following day. The liberalized rule which allowed one hour of discussion and three hours of debate was presented to the House on Tuesday and adopted. Wednesday the House began debate on the bill. Numerous attacks of a widely varied nature immediately developed. Secretary Ickes became the focal point of one of these and the President was forced to assure the Members thru Spaker Byrns that Ickes would not have the power of final approval or rejection of projects. The low wage scale of $50 per month also drew the fire of an irate minority as did the penalties attached to the violation of Presidential edicts. Thursday the bill came up for final action and passed the House by a vote of 329 to 78. Very few changes were adopted from the original draft. The classification of the projects on which the money might be expended was dropped and any type is now eligible. The two year jail term was dropped but the $5000 fine was retained. The President's authority to abolish, curtail and extend agencies was limited to the emergency units.

New Bond Issues
The inflationists became more thoroughly routed and disorganized than ever with the passage of the bill to amend the Second Liberty Bond Act in the House Friday, January 25th, by a vote of 152 to 30. The adoption of the bill was never in danger even though a determined fight was made by the minority to prevent its passage because of the enormous increase in interest that will have to be met. An amendment to force the Treasury to issue new currency bearing no interest was shouted down and another to require the expansion of the currency to back the new bonds was overwhelmingly defeated by a voice vote. The proposed interest rates vary between 2 1/2 per cent and 3 per cent compounded semi-annually. The latter is for the so-called baby bonds which may be issued in amounts as low as $25. Under the proposed measure it will be possible for the Treasury to issue the new bonds, while the balance may be in short term obligations. If this measure passes, the Treasury will be permitted to issue at least $11,500,000,000 of new bonds.

Connally Hot Air Amendment

Monday, January 21st, Senator Connally of Texas, began discussing his resolution designed to overcome the objections that the Supreme Court found in Section 9 (c) of the National Recovery Act. The Supreme Court recently held this section, of which Senator Connally was the author, was unconstitutional because of the failure of Congress to set forth a policy before delegating to the President or his agents, the right to draw and enforce such regulations as they might see fit. The new bill is designated to overcome this contention of the Supreme Court and specifically prohibits the interstate shipment of all, hot oil, or products from oil produced in violation of state orders, outlawed by the state. The Bill passed the Senate Tuesday with amendments offered by Senator Robinson conferring on the President and the Attorney General the right to apply to a Federal District Court for enforcement. The President or his agent still has the right, however, to prescribe the rules and penalties for the enforcement of the Act.

Plymouth Shipment Set All-Time Record

The Plymouth Motor Corporation shipped 11,730 new 1935 cars to dealers in the United States during the week ending January 12, to establish a new all-time record for a week's domestic shipments. D. S. Eddins, President of the Plymouth Motor Corporation, announced today.

Mr. Eddins said that the previous peak week for Plymouth shipments was the week ending June 30 of last year, when the Corporation shipped 11,490 units.

"Plymouth sales also climbed to record heights for this time of the year," he said. "Our dealers delivered a total of 5,017 new cars at retail during the week. This was more than three times the number delivered during the corresponding week a year ago."

The Plymouth President revealed that Plymouth sales for the first two weeks in January this year totaled 8,993 units, compared with 3,317 units in the same period of 1934. He pointed out that this is an increase of 171 per cent.

"Plymouth already has received orders for nearly 100,000 new cars," he said "and the plant is operating at capacity to meet the demand."

Mrs. Jack Land Hostess To Study Club Thursday

Mrs. Jack Land was hostess to the Current Literature Club when they met at her home on January 24.

Mrs. Neeley Vaught, president, presided during the business session. Roll call was answered by jokes.

Mrs. B. F. Gilchrist was leader and presented Mrs. George T. Kimbell in a review of "Esther and me", by Will Rogers and Mrs. Dudley Ellis read a selection from Nina Wilcox Putnam. This program proved to be one of the most enjoyable and interesting that has been given this year.

University Club Studies Art

Several phases under the general heading, "Art," were discussed at the meeting of the University Study Club at the home of Mrs. H. Lee Clifton, on Hayworth Avenue, Wednesday afternoon, January 23.

During the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Clifton, the president, Mrs. Magers was elected recording secretary for the remainder of the year.

Mrs. Duncan, leader for the afternoon, introduced the subject, "Art," chosen for study the second half of the year.

"Among great portraits by great masters of painting three of Whittier's will always hold their own, and chief of these is that of his Mother," said Mrs. Westerfield in her discussion of that artist and his work.

Important art galleries and some of the treasures they contain were discussed by other members. Mrs. Crisman gave the story of the Louvre, Mrs. P. G. Williamson, "The Metropolitan Museum of Art," and Mrs. Kerr, "Art in the Vatican."

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames John Bostic, Ray Crisman, C. J. Duncan, R. M. Gilchrist, W. R. Hill, George Kerr, B. F. Taylor, Joe Majors, J. M. Pogue, H. W. Prinzing, R. P. Reagan, I. D. Russell, O. C. Willis, R. C. Tevis, B. Westerfield, P. G. Williamson and Scott Williamson.

Lockett Circle

Mrs. Brooks Robertson was the hostess to the Lockett Circle Monday afternoon. The circle chairman, Mrs. Ed Lewallen, presided over all business. Devotional was given from the 13th Chapter of Hebrew Song "Bring Out the Banner". Prayer by Mrs. Sam Davis.

After all business, Mrs. McMurtry dismissed with prayer. Eight members were present.

The Lockett Circle will have an all day meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Billie Walker to sew on a quilt. All members are urged to be present and bring a covered dish.

Jack Robertson Honored on Birthday

Honoring her son, Jack, on his ninth birthday, Mrs. Brooks Robertson entertained at dinner Friday evening at 6 o'clock.

After an informal hour of entertainment the boys left, wishing Jack many more such birthdays.

Those present included Junior Harwell, Jack Bostic, Jack Vaught, George Tucker and the honor guest Jack Robertson.

NOTICE

The Executive Board of the Federated Missionary Society will meet at 2:30 Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. C. Gilbert, 317 E. Fifth street. All members are urged to attend.

Many Burkburnett citizens recall the days when Old Dobbin took them there and brought them back even though he wasn't equipped with a radio.

Mrs. Peyton Hostess Jr. University Club

Mrs. Louis Peyton was hostess to the Junior University Study Club Monday night, January 21, 1935, when the club met for a study of Japan.

During the short business session, Mrs. John Foster reported a basket of food had been taken to a needy family. Plans for the annual Valentine party were made, for which Misses Erna Schwegler and Gertrude Hieserman will be hostesses.

In the program Mrs. John Foster gave interesting facts about articles made in Japan; Alice Wesbrooks gave us a word picture of the life of Japanese Girls and Women; and Kathryn Exley read a comparison of Japan and America.

After the program several interesting contests were held. In these Mrs. Carl Morrison and Miss Pansy Mills were winners and were each presented with a pair of lovely vases.

Delicious refreshments were served to Misses Ethyl Virginia Allen, Bennie Lee Gates, Norene Kirby, Pansy Mills, Alice Morgan, Erna Schwegler, Alice Wesbrooks Kathryn Exley, Mesdames Francis Felty, John Foster, Jack Everheart, Carl Morrison.

Mrs. Harry C. Swan Introduced at Tea

A seated tea to introduce Mrs. Harry C. Swan, of Lansing, Michigan, was the most charming event of the winter social season, given at 4:15 p. m. Friday of last week in the home of Mrs. Butler Westerfield. Mrs. Swan, sister of Miss Margaret Tanner, was honored by Mesdames Morris Bookbinder, Raymond Wallace, Paul Browning, A. B. Sandier, O. C. Willis, John Bostic and Butler Westerfield.

Chairs were arranged for guests in the spacious living room and dining room which were thrown into one room for the occasion. Lovely floral decorations made a beautiful background for the hostesses and the honoree in their charming afternoon frocks.

Following the arrival of guests a program under the direction of Mrs. Bostic was enjoyed. The first number was a piano selection by Mrs. L. G. Hagar, who has won her place in the heart of Burkburnett by the generous giving of her talent since moving to this community. Mrs. Leo Foster, accompanied by Mrs. D. H. Gregory, sang the lovely "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen". Guests were delighted with a reading by Miss Margaret Tanner. In this number Miss Tanner capably presented the amusing character who succeeded in business by eating spinach, breathing correctly, and asserting his personality. Concluding numbers on the program were violin and piano numbers by Arthur and Roy Davis, two gifted musicians from Wichita Falls.

Dainty and delicious refreshments were served to approximately 150 guests.

Bad luck usually comes all in a bunch. But for that matter so do laziness and dumbness.

How nice it would be for Big Business if men could work for $1 a day and spend $10 a day.

Maybe statesmen know best, but the Japs didn't talk so sassy before they acquired a good big navy.

It's rather difficult for the average Burkburnett man to understand why the government forbids lotteries yet finances the farmer.

BETTY ANNE SAYS

The old-fashioned girl who used to be on the "square" has been superseded by girls who are on the "bias"—you know, "buy us this" and "buy us that."

P. S. Keep on saying "Betty Anne."

Rebekah's Install New Officers

Rebekah Lodge meets Monday night with Bertha Lynch and Leno South presiding in the chairs and the District Deputy, President Madge Graham and her staff to install the officers for the ensuing year. Leno South, Noble Grand; Ruby Helen Kesling, Vive-Grand; Mary Cecil Warden, Pearl Pringle, Conductor; Ida Mary Dickson, Right-supporter to Noble Grand Lillie Ellis, Left-supporter to Noble Grand, Manda Gilson, left-supporter to Vice-Grand; Madge Graham, Right-supporter to Vice Grand; Pearl Beard, Secretary; Katie McKown, Treasurer; Minnie Todd, Inside Guardian; Blanche Hayes, Outside Guardian; Fannie Glass, Musician; Pearl Beard, Team Captain.

Bertha Lynch was the retiring Noble Grand. She was presented with a beautiful ring for the good work that she has done while in her term of office.

Pearl Beard gave a biographical sketch in memory of Thomas Whyles life. The Father of American Odd Fellowship. The first Lodge that was organized in America was April 26, 1819. It was called the Washington Lodge. Thomas Whyle was born January 15, 1793 and died October 19, 1861.

The Special State District Deputy is expected next Monday night to visit our Lodge. Every member is cordially invited to come to Lodge and meet with us and greet her.

Mary Cecil announced that she was entertaining the Jolly Workers Clubs Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 29, 1935.

Refreshments were served to sixteen members. Were you one?

Junior Culture Club

The Junior Culture Club met January 29, 1935 at the home of Mrs. Fred Boden with Marion and Margaret Boden as hostesses.

Edna Cropper, Margaret Mathews, Joy Reaves and Frances Clark were appointed for the nominating committee of next year's officers.

"Modern Women of the World" was given by our sponsor, Mrs. L. D. Ryan of Wichita.

The Club gave Mrs. G. A. Reaves, formerly Miss Joy Kirsh, a lovely bridal shower. She received many nice gifts.

Enjoyable refreshments were served to Misses Katie Mae Taylor, Gayle Preston, Edna Cropper, Nedra Campbell, Frances Clark, Margaret Boden, Bernice Roes, Jerry Wiggins, Olena Cash, Margaret Mathews, Willie Etta Alexander, Marion Boden, Jackie Kirsh, Cleo Totty, a guest, and Mesdames Joy Reaves, Winona Southerland and L. D. Ryan.

Methodist Ladies Met In Mission Study

The Missionary Society of the Methodist Church met Monday afternoon, January 28, 1935 at 3 o'clock in mission study.

Mrs. M. W. Majors brought the devotional from the 5th Chapter of Matthew, which was enjoyed by all. Mrs. John H. Rigby led in prayer.

Mrs. O. E. Melton and Mrs. Henry Prinzing brought the lesson for the afternoon from the study book "The Message of Jesus". Mrs. Melton's topic was "In What Way Sunday School teachers of today could profitably imitate Jesus' method of teaching?" Mrs. Prinzing spoke on "Jesus' Method of Teaching." Both brought very interesting lessons.

Come visit with us, and if possible join with us. We meet next Monday, Feb. 4, in the basement of the church for our regular monthly business and social meeting.

Morgan Circle

Members of the Morgan Circle met Monday P. M. at the home of Mrs. A. W. Salter on W. Main street.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the W. M. U. president, Mrs. J. M. Johnson.

Mrs. Will Teal gave the devotion followed by Mrs. Clarence King teaching the lesson on missions. An interesting talk on Stewardship was given by Mrs. Hattie Buchanan.

Members present were Mesdames H. C. Ellis, B. L. Turner, Clarence King, O. A. Hair, Murphey Dean, Hattie Buchanan, W. P. Russell, Will Teal, F. C. Brookover, W. A. Strickland, A. W. Salter, the hostess and one visitor, Mrs. J. M. Johnson.

The group was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Will Teal.

Y. W. A.

The Y. W. A. met January 28 at 6:15 at Mrs. Brooks Robertson's. The president presided. We discussed about having a Valentine party. We planned to go see Mrs. Rhyne and give her a fruit shower. We invite all girls to attend all of our meetings. After all business was attended to we spent the remainder of the time sewing on the YWA quilt. The meeting then adjourned. Those present were Marie England, Edna Styles, Thelma McCaig, Mrs. Brooks Robertson, Goldie McCaig.

Vivian Ruth Suttles Birthday Honoree

Mrs. J. A. Suttles honored her little daughter, Vivian Ruth, on her fourth birthday at her home on Park street one day this week.

Children's games furnished entertainment for the first hour after which the gifts were opened and viewed which furnished much merriment.

Refreshments were served to Joan Duncan, Dottie Kent, Jessie Ruth Preston, Margaret Chambers, Bernice Lorang, Pete Jeffers, Wayne Ellis, Benny Jack Turnes, W. C. Keisling, Jr. Graham, Christine and Vivian Ruth Suttles, Mesdames A. P. Yeary, J. A. Suttles and Turner.

Mrs. Gilbert Delightfully Surprised On Her Birthday

Mrs. C. C. Gilbert was delightfully surprised with a birthday supper Wednesday night when she arrived home from work she found a group of her relatives and friends had prepared a bountiful meal in her honor and was ready to serve it on her arrival.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Dutch Wolfe, Jones, Floyd Gladden, and Miss Pauline Gladden, Mr. C. C. Gilbert and Clarence Winston and the honoree, Mrs. Gilbert.

Hardin Club Has Enthusiastic Meeting

The Hardin Home Demonstration Club initiated a new system of attendance record at their meeting last Wednesday. Each member of the club will be registered on a score card and each will be required to attend every meeting. The permanent record will be filed. Mrs. Evert presided at the program and gave the executive council report. The program consisted of songs, readings and the club prophesy, by Mrs. J. H. Bentley.

Miss Bessie Lee Sikes gave an interesting and instructive demonstration of the proper way to kill and dress a chicken for home use are market.

Those present were visitors Mesdames Carver, Waller, Thomas, Tom Boyd and Charles Boyd; members: Jones, Minick, Whitesides, Johnson, Evert, Preston, Bentley, Goodlett, Brookman and Mrs. James Thomas was welcomed as a new member.

The time has arrived when Burkburnett people must exercise prudence, foresight and thrift in order to pay taxes to support those who don't.

Some Burkburnett girls still help around the house. They keep good lively programs on the radio while mother washes the dishes.

Parent Education Group to Meet Feb. 5

Mrs. R. J. Kelley will be leader at the meeting of the Parent Education group of the P. T. A., which meets Tuesday, Feb. 5 in the grade school building. The school child and his money will be the theme for the talks and discussions. This group meets at 3:30 P. M. Everyone interested is urged to attend.

'Behold My Wife' Is Thrilling Drama

A stirring, well-made and interesting story of modern people, with an unusual plot slant, Paramount's "Behold My Wife," at the Tex Theatre Friday and Saturday, with Sylvia Sidney starred and Gene Raymond, the blonde adonis of the screen, in the principal featured role.

Even to those of you who have become accustomed to seeing the beautiful Miss Sidney in a variety of exacting and difficult character roles, it will be a surprise to see her straightforward and thoroughly convincing rendition of the role of an Indian girl in "Behold My Wife."

"Behold My Wife," which was directed by Mitchell Leisen from a screen story by Grover Jones and Vincent Lawrence, draws its story from the hypothesis that a wealthy boy, frustrated in his intention to marry a girl, would attempt to revenge himself on his meddling family.

To accomplish his purpose he marries an Indian girl whom he meets in his wanderings through New Mexico, brings her back to New York and introduces her to his thoroughly outraged family.

"There Is No Law West of the Pecos" at the Palace Friday and Saturday.

'There Is No Law West of the Pecos'

"There is no law west of the Pecos," at the Palace Friday and Saturday.

This saying, current during the settling of the Western part of the United States, had truth as well as circulation.

There was no law West of the Pecos, except the law of the rope and gun, and that law was administered strictly on a non-professional basis, in that there were no courts, no judges, and very few sheriffs.

Zane Grey's story, "West of the Pecos," which RKO-Radio has made into a starring vehicle for Richard Dix, concerns the stirring days of that particular territory "west of the Pecos."

The Pecos River rises in New Mexico, flows through the Western section of Texas, forming the Eastern boundary of Pecos County, and empties into the Rio Grande in Valverde County.

Basketball

The Burk Burnett Bulldogs defeated Iowa Park, 34-16, Tuesday night in a conference game played at Iowa Park.

It was the Bulldog basketball second conference victory over Iowa Park this season. They showed many signs of improvement over games played earlier in the season.

Wayne Rose acted as captain in the Iowa Park game and led his team in scoring and was high point man in the game. Johnnie Baptiste followed Rose closely for second high point honors. Eugene Robertson, a first year man, who has been shifted from a forward to the pivot position showed up better than usual and tallied seven points for the Bulldogs. Jennings Willett, playing his first game of high school basketball, held down the other forward position and Avis Finch another first year man, played his best game of the year. Burman, of Iowa Park, accounted for nine points and led in scoring for his team.

Friday night at 7:15 the Bulldogs will meet Cashon on the local floor. Burk Burnett won over Cashon by a narrow margin in the previous game the two teams played this year.

Boxing and volley ball will be added attractions on Friday night. On Tuesday night, January 29, the Bulldogs will be hosts to Valley View, the team which is holding down the first place in the tournament.

Library News

During the first semester of school a total of 5,739 seven-day and 346 overnight books were charged out to students of the high school on the eighty days that books were circulated. The average of seven-day books was almost 72 per day. On December 31 a total of 224 books went out for seven days. This was the largest number to go out on any one day. On September 19 a total of 15 books went out; this was the smallest number to go out on any one day.

The new library poster bears the silhouette of a ship with its sails spread. Beneath the ship are two lines from the famous poem on reading and books by Emily Dickinson.

Our Seniors

DURWARD SOUTH

Durward (Pete, to you!) South was born in Dublin, Texas, April 9, 1917. He started to school in 1924.

His favorites are:
Teacher, Miss Morgan
Sport, Swimming
Subject, Agriculture
Hobby, Loafing
Drink, Wine and Dr. Pepper
Pastime, Playing Pool
Music, Guitar

Durward thinks the most popular girl is Olena Cash and the most popular boy is "Doc" Sims. He says that his opinion of the best looking girl is a deep secret. And there are so many good looking boys he can't make up his mind.

Best friend, Junior Grits.
Durward is 17 years old, weighs 115 pounds, is five feet, four inches tall. Color of hair, blond. Color of eyes, gray. His ambition is to be able to loaf longer hours. When he finishes school, he is going to find something he likes to do, then do it.

CORINNE MORSE

Corinne Morse was born in Iowa Park, Texas, in the year of 1916. She started to school at Iowa Park. Some of her favorites are:

Teacher, Miss Morgan
Actress, Shirley Temple
Actor, Gene Raymond
Sport, Swimming
Pastime, Volley Ball
Hobby, Painting
Subject, Mechanical Drawing
Color, Green
Song, "The Object of My Affections"

Drink, Dr. Pepper
The best friend is Daisie Mathews and the best all around boy is Johnnie Baptiste. She says the best looking young lady is Miss McClure and the best looking young man is Polk Robison. (She is not the only one who thinks so!)

Corinne is 18 years of age and weighs 125 pounds. Height, five ft. 5 in. Color of eyes, brown. Color of hair, blond. Her ambition is to be an artist and she plans to attend an art school when she finishes school here.

Basket Ball

The Burk Burnett basketball team has great hopes of winning the double round robin this season. The team is in good shape and is planning to end the season at the top. The boys are proud of their new uniforms and are going to show the school their gratitude by winning the two remaining games to be played this season. Friday night the team will go to Fairview to battle Fairview "hard-to-beat" team. Next Tuesday night Clara will come to Burk Burnett for the final game of the season. Clara has an A-1 team and the Bulldogs expect a real battle. Volley ball and wrestling and boxing matches will follow the game. Come and watch Burk's last victory of the season.

Faculty Meeting

The second of the series of lectures being presented by Mr. Westerfield for the benefit of the teachers was "The Physical Condition of the Classroom."

The first item of importance is the teacher. He or she can add little things to improve the classroom. Such items as pictures, exhibits of class work, honor rolls and reports. A bulletin board adds to the appearance of the room also.

The teacher must be neat, must have a good posture, and must wear practical clothing. The teacher must have an attitude of energy. A relaxed attitude creates a feeling of relaxation on the part of the students.

A clean classroom produces an atmosphere conducive to study.

Sigma Alpha Delta

The debate club met at the home of Paul Browning Wednesday, Jan. 23, 1935. The President J. R. Brock, called the house to order and the business was started. The Secretary called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting.

The name, "Sigma Alpha Delta", was decided by the officers of the club. It is a Greek title meaning "The Debating Society."

Everyone that was present enjoyed an interesting debate that was given by G. A. Reeves and Loyd Guinn vs. J. R. Brock and Eldon Andrews. The club had at the meeting three guests, Mr. Butler Westerfield, Mr. T. J. Blackwell and Mr. Paul Browning, who judged the debating.

After the debate, the winner was announced and debating was discussed. The club voted on some of the students of the high school whom we would like to be members of the club.

After the business was completed, refreshments were served to the following by the hostess, Malene Baber: Guests, Messrs. Westerfield, Browning and Blackwell; the sponsor, Mr. Reeves, Loyd Glinn, J. R. Brock, I. V. Thornton, Pauline Brown, Eldon Andrews, Bernice McDonald, and Modene Pinkston.

Mr. Robison: Tex, what make of car do you call that one you have?
Tex: Well, it's the old reliable type, the R. F. D.

Mr. Robison: What's that?
Tex: Rescued from the dumps.

Mr. Johnson: What is the formula for water?
J. W.: HJJKLMNO.

Mr. Johnson: Nonsense!
J. W.: Well, you said yesterday it was H to O.

Coach Hill: James, what would you do if the ball was near the goal line and it was the fourth down and one yard to go?

Sub (riding the bench): I would slide down the bench some so that I could see the play better.

Margarette: BIRD-CAGE.
Professor: Why the hyphon?
Margarette: For the little birdie to sit on.

Frances: Papa, I ain't got no butter.
Mr. Clark: Melba, correct your sister.

Melba (looking over into Frances' plate): Yes, you is.

Little Valette, a first grader, walking with her mother, spoke to a small boy.

COVERING THE COLLEGES

—with—
MATTHEW TUCKER

The visit of Clarence Darrow, famous defense lawyer in some of the most outstanding trials in American legal history, to College Station and Bryan on January 18 and 19 created an impression that will long remain with those who had an opportunity to come into contact with him, particularly the A. & M. students that heard his address at Guion Hall, since some of the campus beliefs were upset by Darrow's forcefully presented convictions.

We quote from the Battalion, A. & M. College weekly, for January 23:

"Addressing a crowd of 2,000 representing all parts of the state, the eminent jurist, with an enthusiastic fervor that has remained unchanged in its battle with them, advanced his conviction that crime is largely the result of poverty, and that the problem facing society today is not that of providing adequate punishment for offenders of the law but that of eliminating the major cause of crime—poverty.

"Ninety percent of crime," the 78 year old analyst of crime enlarged, "is due to poverty, and if society can decrease want and hunger among its members, crime will decrease. Then, and not until then, will be present increase of crime be stopped, and the upkeep of penitentiaries discontinued being America's only flourishing business."

"The sincerity of his delivery, and the forcefulness with which he presented convictions founded upon many years of contact with and careful observation of criminals drew the interest of the audience on all occasions as pertinent questions asked him by members of the audience in a discussion following the address conclusively proved.

"Darrow effectively displayed the keenness of mind and dry humor for which he is famous in answering their questions. Composed and unhurried, the grizzled veteran gave logical replies to interrogations of an important nature, and met irrelevant and unanswerable queries with witty repartee which more than once drew roars of laughter from the audience.

"This opinion of crime and its cause was amplified by Darrow at several student discussions following the address, along with other topics advanced by hearers. When asked his conclusion regarding military training for college students, the jurist, with characteristic frankness, was unhesitant in replying that 'the ROTC is detrimental to individuality as it tends to make young men think in terms of the mob. The formulation of ideas based upon the opinion of the masses is absolutely contrary to the fundamental concepts of a college education.'"

From a letter by an A. & M. student to the Student Forum of the same paper we take this excerpt also:

"For the most of you who listened to Clarence Darrow there will remain perhaps always the vision of him as you saw him then. Tall, though slightly stooped with age, he presented an appearance of an old stately oak, slowly weathering from years of active living. We compare him to an oak tree, because in him there is a keenness and strength that is characteristic of both. His long, thin gray hair brushed straight back, caused one to think of a romanticist, though Mr. Darrow is certainly no romanticist. Still his hair gave that impression.

"As he spoke, Clarence Darrow often would thrust out his chin in a vigorous manner so characteristic of a real fighter. And fighter he is. His record speaks for itself; but even if no records existed, one would have an intuition that as he looked at Clarence Darrow, he was gazing upon an unconquerable soul. The final and lasting impression, gained as a result of Mr. Darrow's skill in repartee, is one that leaves him firmly stamped upon our minds as an intellectual giant quick to see and gain control of every situation."

The opportunity to see and hear great personalities such as Clarence Darrow we feel constitutes one of the greater advantages of college training. However, some of the cadets seemed to think a few of the great jurists that, on the average, were more senseless than the worst of those of the student body, and apparently merely wished "to declaim to the audience that they disagreed with Mr. Darrow."

The result of the recent Litrary Digest, and Association of College Editors Peace Poll show that in the University of Texas, the students are against the entrance of the United States into the League of

Get 1935 Announcement

Commercial car models of greater power, higher torque ability, greatly increased economy, and numerous changes in engine and chassis are announced by the Buick Company. In addition, the 1 1/2-ton trucks of 112-inch wheelbase and the 1 1/2-ton truck with 131-inch or 157-inch wheelbase, Chevrolet this year new unit, the Standard Six, intended for the light merchandise, factory-built to meet the special needs of different industries are available. Prices range from $1,300 to $2,000. New levels established when Chevrolet led the truck registrations. The new models, according to the announcement, are the Buick models for 1935 re-emphasizing the characteristics of line in layout and mechanically, however, they many refinements and changes.

The engines include a new control, heavier with improved counter-balance, balancing of rotating parts, oil stream lubrication, rod bearings, increased capacity, electro-plated water pump capacity, improved cylinder-head distribution.

Braking have been increased in efficiency and reduction, now possessing a lighter pedal pressure, coefficient of friction limited articulation of and increased life of result, the new trucks are in half the distance.

Changes in manifold, timing and valves, thru the Chevrolet Blue of the Master engine to truck engine has re-engineered capacity of 15 trucks, a gain of 10 over last year. Maximal power is developed, pounds torque, at low speeds, corresponding to 17 per cent increase in speed range.

System of lubrication of the pin bearing of the shaft. The oil pump pressure jets of oil to six nozzles, directed upward so that the streams are in the paths of the connecting rod dippers as they approach and pass bottom dead center. These dippers thus receive oil during a prolonged period of each revolution. The high velocity of the dipper against the stream of oil, added to the oil jets, builds up a tremendous pressure that insures a copious supply of oil to the bearing.

Oil dilution is prevented by a patented crankcase underneath the oil pan. The feature of the ventilator is that heavy oil vapors are trapped and condensed, to return to the crankcase, as a measure of economy.

An important contribution to smooth engine performance is the use of electro-plated pistons, which considerably shortens the period for the proper breaking-in of the engine.

In the 1/2-ton model, smoother operation is procured through the adoption of a new waved driven plate that eliminates chatter even at light driving load applications (as when the clutch is only partly released in parking maneuvers).

Revisions of springing have made in the various models to provide for a wide variation of the load, and for greater strength. Heavier auxiliary springs of greater capacity, available for the 1 1/2-ton truck, permit this unit to be operated with a greatly increased pay load. The 1/2-ton panel model springs are lighter than formerly, to provide easy riding for the safe transportation of light or fragile merchandise.

ward so that the streams are in the paths of the connecting rod dippers as they approach and pass bottom dead center. These dippers thus receive oil during a prolonged period of each revolution. The high velocity of the dipper against the stream of oil, added to the oil jets, builds up a tremendous pressure that insures a copious supply of oil to the bearing.

Oil dilution is prevented by a patented crankcase underneath the oil pan. The feature of the ventilator is that heavy oil vapors are trapped and condensed, to return to the crankcase, as a measure of economy.

An important contribution to smooth engine performance is the use of electro-plated pistons, which considerably shortens the period for the proper breaking-in of the engine.

In the 1/2-ton model, smoother operation is procured through the adoption of a new waved driven plate that eliminates chatter even at light driving load applications (as when the clutch is only partly released in parking maneuvers).

Revisions of springing have made in the various models to provide for a wide variation of the load, and for greater strength. Heavier auxiliary springs of greater capacity, available for the 1 1/2-ton truck, permit this unit to be operated with a greatly increased pay load. The 1/2-ton panel model springs are lighter than formerly, to provide easy riding for the safe transportation of light or fragile merchandise.

The new sedan delivery on the New Standard chassis, having a Fisher body of the same size and appearance as the Standard sedan, with no-draft ventilation, is announced by Chevrolet as the lowest priced enclosed car on the market. It was designed especially to provide economical fast delivery service for merchants and businesses handling light merchandises.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Alexander, a prosperous farmer who lives near the mouth of Big Rabbit Creek, has had a very sick little baby girl. At this writing she is reported being better. D. L. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Alexander, who lives southwest of Randlett.

Big Rabbit Creek

Well, these northers are coming pretty often. Saturday was just like a mild summer day. It sure was nice and warm. The wheat and oat crops are sure being hit awful hard. It is the opinion of lots of the farmers over on this side that the oat crop is killed out and lots of the wheat, due to the cold and freezing weather for the past eight or ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Alexander, a prosperous farmer who lives near the mouth of Big Rabbit Creek, has had a very sick little baby girl. At this writing she is reported being better. D. L. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Alexander, who lives southwest of Randlett.

Mrs. Fred LaBarre and her son, Clarence, called on the Owens family Saturday and spent several hours visiting the family.

The aged father of the Barber Brothers, Henry and Fletcher, is here visiting with his sons and their families. Mr. Babers, Sr. is from Alabama, so the writer has been informed.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bridges accompanied by Mrs. Ed Owens motored over to Burk Burnett Friday to transact business and to do some shopping.

It is reported that the Blackleg among young cattle is raging again in the Rabbit Creek community.

Mr. John Ashton and Mr. Mansfield Griffith came over Sunday afternoon to his Indian Lease and vaccinated quite a few of his fine white faced Herefords. Mr. John sure has a fine herd of white-faced cattle and a fine bunch of sheep.

The writer called on Mr. and Mrs. John Ashton and their daughters last Thursday evening. While there I wanted to go and see how near Bro. John had their new mansion and Sister Ashton had one of their daughters to drive me up to the house in their auto. Their fine home is just about completed and believe me its the finest mansion in Cotton County. It was built by one of the best architects in the state of Oklahoma, Mr. Archie Wynn. They will move in their new home about the 8th or 10th of February.

One of Will Linksey's fine horses got something wrong in its throat one day last week. The animal was unable to swallow water or to eat anything, up until Friday noon.

The skies at this writing are very heavy. It has all indications for a big snow. A big snow would mean thousands of dollars to this part of Cotton County for the wheat and oat crops.

One day of last week Mr. Tobe Hardin was transacting business in Walters and Mrs. Martha Nails was spending the day visiting with Mrs. W. R. Elkins and her son, Charlie, over in Burk Burnett. While they were all out a thief broke into their house and stole a fine shot gun, one six-shooter and a 22 caliber rifle target. So far they have not found the thief.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay's little boy who has been down with pneumonia is getting along fine and it will be soon that he will be up and around again.

H. C. Stiggings, Mrs. Wm. Williams's son who has been down for over six weeks with pneumonia is not getting any better. His mother, Mrs. Williams, left Thursday to be at her son's bedside. H. C. lives five miles west of Waurika, Okla. on a farms.

Mrs. Ed Owens had tonsillitis very bad for several days of last week, but is better at this writing.

RECEIVES PROMOTION
R. T. DuBose, promoted this week to general freight agent of the M-K-T Lines, with headquarters at Dallas, succeeds S. D. Sparkes, recently appointed freight traffic manager.

Noted Pianist To Play Hardin-Simmons University

Abilene, Jan. 30—Harold Bauer, pianist of international reputation, will be presented by the Hardin-Simmons University Artist Course in concert in the University Auditorium, Tuesday night, February 5. This will be the first and only visit that the eminent pianist will make to West Texas this year.

Although an Englishman by birth, Bauer is naturalized American and has appeared in concert throughout the United States and foreign countries.

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering impurities from the blood stream. But kidneys get functionally disturbed—lag in their work—fail to remove the poisonous body wastes.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, attacks of dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains; feel "all worn out."

Don't delay! For the quicker you get rid of these poisons, the better your chances of good health.

Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They tend to promote normal functioning of the kidneys; should help them pass off the irritating poisons. Doan's are recommended by users the country over. Get them from any druggist.

KATY MEN GIVEN FORMAL RECOGNITION

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 29—Of special interest to local railroad men and shippers was the action this week by the Katy Lines' board of directors in giving formal recognition to the long service rendered the company by two of its best known officials. Acting upon the recommendation of Matthew S. Sloan, board chairman and president, the board

KATY MAN PROMOTED
S. D. Sparkes recently promoted to freight traffic manager of the M-K-T Lines, with headquarters at Dallas, succeeds J. F. Garvin who earlier in the week was appointed vice-president in charge of traffic.

elects George T. Atkins executive vice-president and Joseph F. Garvin, to succeed him as vice-president in charge of traffic. Mr. Atkins has been the Katy's traffic chief for nine years and Mr. Garvin freight traffic manager at St. Louis and later at Dallas for the last seven years. Jointly they have spent more than 60 years in the railroad's traffic department and are well known here, and in other points served by the Katy. Mr. Atkins began his railroad career as a clerk and Mr. Garvin as a stenographer.

In his new capacity, Mr. Atkins will take over many of the executive details which Mr. Sloan has handled personally since assuming charge of the Katy last April, thus allowing him more time to continue familiarizing himself with the territory served by the railroad, and keeping in closer contact with its patrons and employees.

Coincident with the announcement of the promotions, Mr. Sloan said he was optimistic over the outlook for a marked improvement in the Katy's business during the new year and that he expected the gradual recovery which set in last year to continue. The Katy suffered a heavy revenue loss in 1933 as a result of the failure of cotton to move in normal volume, and because of the partial demoralization of the oil industry in the Mid-Continent field, the loss from these two commodities alone approximating the company's deficit for the year estimated at $2,801,475. In spite of this loss, the Katy's gross business for the year was $550,019 greater than in 1933, although due to advanced cost of materials, increased wages and a more extensive maintenance program its operating costs increased $1,576,720.

A normal Burk Burnett citizen is one who resists a temptation and then feels cheated if Heaven does not do something nice about it.

It's an easy matter for any Burk Burnett girl to test her man-appeal. All she has to do is drive out on the highway and have a puncture and stand there.

Modern Three-Minute Way to Ease Sore Throat

1. Crush and stir 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets in a third glass of water.

2. Gargle Thoroughly—throw your head way back, allowing a little to trickle down your throat. Do this twice. Do not rinse mouth.

3. If you have a cold, take a BAYER Aspirin Tablet. Drink full glass of water. Repeat if necessary, following directions in package.

Ease Pain, Rawness, Soreness Almost Instantly

Here's a safe, modern and effective way to relieve sore throat. A way that eases the pain, rawness and irritation in as little as two or three minutes. Many doctors advise it and millions are following this way. Try it.

All you do is crush and stir 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets in 1/4 glass of water and gargle with it twice—as pictured here. (If you have signs of a cold, take BAYER Aspirin and drink plenty of water.)

Get real BAYER Aspirin Tablets for this purpose. They disintegrate quickly and completely, making a gargle without irritating particles.

BAYER Aspirin prices have been decisively reduced, so there's no point now in accepting other than the real Bayer article you want.

Thrilling Love Story Told In New Fox Film

The new Fox Film production, "Elinor Norton," proved a smashing dramatic story which brings to the screen all the suspense and swift-moving romance of the Mary Rinehart novel on which it is based.

Through the pages of the novel whose full title is "The State Versus Elinor Norton," thousands of readers have come to know the trials and terrors of the girl who is transplanted from a wealthy eastern home to a bleak Montana farmhouse. Now those same thousands, and more, will follow her adventures as Fox presents them in a colorful and "punch-packed" picture at the Palace, Saturday midnight.

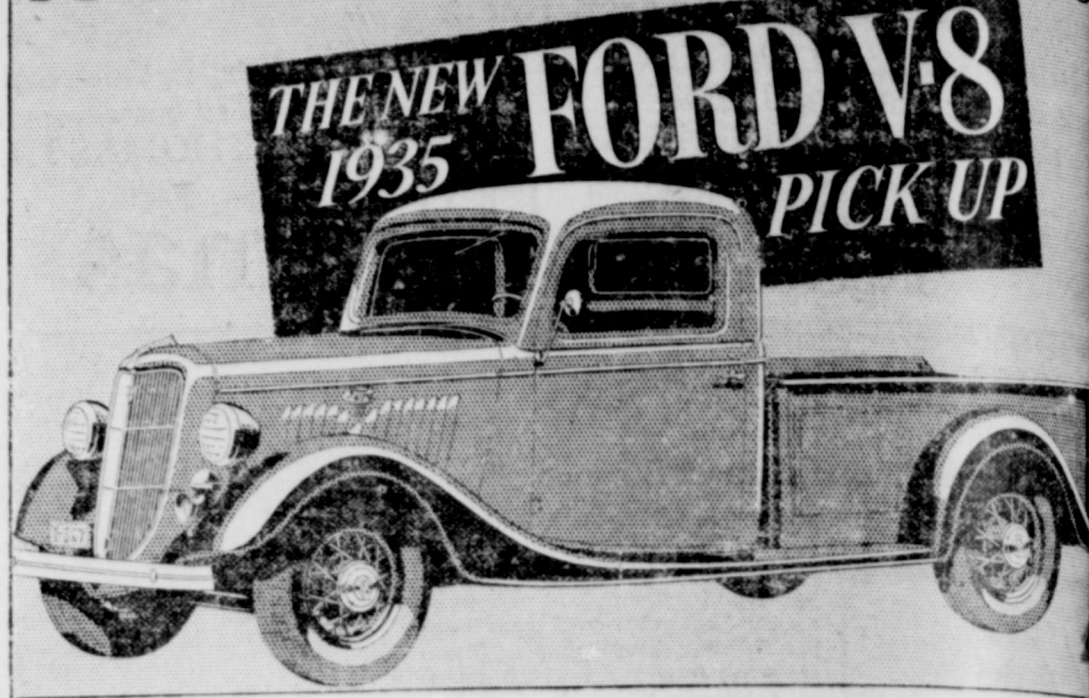

Sparkling interludes of comedy alternate with powerful dramatic situations in this screen history of a high-spirited girl and the three men who dominate her life. It is stated that more than fifty of Hollywood's leading women were tested for the important title role before the prize was finally allotted to Claire Trevor.

THEATRE PROGRAM

Palace: Thurs. Bruce Cabot & Grace Bradley in "RED-HEAD". Fri. & Sat. Richard Dix & Martha Sleeper in "WEST OF THE PECOS". Sat. Midnight. Claire Trevor & Norman Foster in "ELINOR NORTON". Sun. & Mon. "TRANSATLANTIC MERRY-GO-ROUND". With Gene Raymond, Jack Benny and Nancy Carroll. Tues. & Wed. Jackie Cooper and Randolph Scott in "HOME ON THE RANGE".

TEX: Thurs. BRUCE CABOT & GRACE BRADLEY in "RED-HEAD" (same as palace). Fri. & Sat. "BEHOLD MY WIFE" with Gene Raymond & Sylvia Sydney. "THE RED RIDER IS ON HIS WAY."

IT'S GOT WHAT IT TAKES

The proved power, speed, economy of the V-8 engine . . . plus improvements that make it a more rugged hauler than ever

THE Ford V-8 Pickup has always been a car that could take punishment.

This year, improvements have been added that enable you to use the Ford V-8 Pickup harder than ever—and to do it at less cost.

Even the proved V-8 engine has been made more economical, more dependable. It has new crankcase ventilation that rid the engine of water vapor, minimizes sludge, reduces oil dilution and corrosion. It has copper-lead connecting rod bearings that resist burning and pounding out. It has cast alloy camshaft and crankshaft that outwear forged steel.

The front axle is stronger—20%. The frame has been strengthened—with a new X-member, double reinforced side rails, new cross members at front, center and rear. The chassis is mounted on the Ford Full-floating Springbase—giving more uniform tire wear, longer brake life, better brake action, improved over-all operation, easier riding and handling.

But the way to find out what this new Ford V-8 Pickup will do for you—and save for you—is to put it through a tough trial on your own job. Your Ford dealer will let you have one any time you say.

CLOCK OF "MOLDED COLOR"—The first major change in timekeepers since Chaucer appears this year in this electric alarm clock, which, believe it or not, is literally molded of solid color. Its gay yellow body, red hands, and blue face, to say nothing of its fat ducky legs, are drawing wide-spread attention to it. The case is made possible by use of plaskon, the man-made ivory-like material whose wavy colors are the same all the way through.
