WILL ROGERS' LATEST ALSO IS HIS FINEST

Described in advance accounts from Hollywood as the finest to date of Will Rogers' notable series of American character portraits, the Fox Film production, "The Country Chairman", will be seen here at the Palace Theatre beginning Tuesday. "The Country Chairman", it is said, is a story of smiles and heart tugs, rivaling the hugely successful "Judge Priest" and "David Harum" as a vehicle for Rogers. In the new film he is seen as a wily, lovable county boss, half-diplomat, half-rustic. He wins elections and arranges love matches with equal skill—and no one, not even his rivals, can resist him.

Rotary Club Meets With The Home Economics Department of High School

Flora Flynn, oil operator of Wichita Falls, and points in East Texas was the chief speaker for the Rotary club Tuesday noon meeting. They were guests of the Home Economics department of the High School. Flynn spoke on the outlook of the present oil situation and toward Federal Control as a solution of the problem. He stated that in the past large companies had stored oil with the view of possible shortage and that instead of a shortage an overproduction had followed which resulted in chaotic conditions in the prices for both the large and small producers. "The only storage that oil companies need now is in the earth," he declared. James Guest, instructor in the local school, sang two numbers accompanied by Miss Peggy Gideon. Oscar Kemp, club president, presided.

Chamber Commerce To Sponsor Tree Planting Campaign

Numerous citizens have asked Chamber of Commerce officials questions about the possibility of the organization sponsoring a tree program again this month. Organization directors voted to sponsor such a planting program to the extent that the Civic Affairs committee of the organization will act as a collecting and distributing agency for trees to the public. It will be remembered that many trees were purchased by the organization last year for citizens in such a program but that due to the drought a large per cent of them failed to survive. The Civic Affairs Committee with Francis T. Felty as chairman, will be in charge of the undertaking. All persons who wish to purchase trees for planting should notify the committee chairman of the Chamber of Commerce office. The Chamber of Commerce will make inquiries regarding prices of trees, etc., and attempt to get the best trees for a reasonable price. Members of the Civic Affairs Committee are: F. T. Felty, chairman; R. J. Kelly, R. P. Reagan, L. N. Peyton, P. B. Browning, Mrs. Dr. W. P. Sims, Mrs. I. E. Harwell, Mrs. J. M. Thomas, Mrs. Dr. C. J. Morrison.

Effort Being Made to Amend Senate Bill 70

No doubt it is a great disappointment to auto owners in this state to learn that an effort is being made at Austin to amend or repeal what is known as the Truck Load Limit Law, and again put our highways at the mercy of selfish truck line owners operating in interstate as well as intrastate commercial traffic, which would still further increase the hazard of the already unsafe driving conditions of our highways. The President of the United States has in recent months personally appealed to the public at large, state and local governments to take action that will make our highways less dangerous. We should not only insist that our present Truck Load Limit Law, which also includes limited dimensions, but our representatives should see to it that a law is enacted reducing the speed limit of trucks to a safe speed, enabling them to avoid the many serious accidents occurring almost hourly, day after day. Surely it is generally known, heavily loaded trucks operating at an unsafe speed are directly or indirectly responsible for most of our highway casualties.

Maybe some Burkburnett men quit courting their wives as soon as they married them on the ground that a fellow never runs for a street car after he has caught it.

A big man claims all the credit while a little one blames his success on good luck.

If the heavy industries think high prices will save them, they might take a look at the railroads.

UNIQUE LOVE STORY TOLD IN NEW FOX FILM

A picture said to be unexcelled for idyllic romance and gay, youthful appeal, the Fox Film production, "Love Time," is scheduled to arrive at the Palace Theatre on Thursday.

The new film, which features the exquisite English beauty, "Pat" Paterson, and Nils Asther as the principals of its romantic story, deals with the youth of the world-famed composer, Franz Schubert, and the first great love of his life.

BOOTLEG INSURANCE

Within recent years has sprung up in this country a dangerous mail-order graft known as "bootleg insurance." The depression brought out fake mail-order insurance concerns in large number. Mails are flooded with their literature and a lot of it is reaching Burkburnett.

Victims of the dishonest mail-order concerns have failed to realize that buying life insurance is about the longest pull in business—it's something you're hoping you won't have to collect on for 50 years—and it is because of the trust nature of the business that the government has set up so many safeguards.

There is no better investment than life insurance. During the lean years of the depression it proved a godsend to hundreds of thousands of those who had wisely invested in it where prosperity shed sunshine over the land. But to be a good investment it must be placed with a legitimate, recognized company. There is nothing more crooked than some of the insurance schemes now being operated by some mail-order concerns. Some of those selling insurance by mail are honest, and perfectly reliable. But, unfortunately, many of them are not, and it is these you are now being warned against. There would seem to be but one solution, when you are in the market for life insurance, buy only from an agent you know represents a company that is responsible.

BUYING BACK LAND

The national forest reservation commission of the War Dept. announces its approval of federal purchase of two million acres, for about eight and one-half million dollars, to be added to the national forests. This is in pursuance of the administration policy of discouraging further cultivation of poor land, especially in districts where rainfall is generally deficient. Thousands of families have toiled for years under such unfavorable conditions. They have almost starved; would have starved but for federal relief. Much of this infertile and marginal land was given away by the government to encourage settlement where settlement never should have been permitted. It is going to cost a great deal of money, but agricultural experts, of all political faiths, who have studied the matter have given it their approval. They say it will be a good thing for the people. Then if it is, that means it will be a good thing for the government at large.

The big swindlers escape now, but some day one of them will skin a federal officer, and then look out.

Blessed are the poor. They don't have to give costly parties to let people know they have a daughter to marry off.

The swindler isn't any smarter than other people. Anyone can do it if he doesn't mind lying.

There are a lot of fellows who believe that taking the profit out of war is just what the profiteers did in the last one.

It strikes us as rather funny that just about the time the cigar store Indian went out the drug store cowboy came in.

How To Live One Hundred Years

By DR. WILLIAM J. SCHOLDS

Whenever a man reaches the century mark he is interviewed by the press and asked for a statement telling how, in his opinion, one should live to reach the ripe old age of 100 years.

Rules of Others Do Not Mean Much
I have yet to see two sets of rules on how to live to be a hundred, given by such old-timers, that are essentially alike. Many are even contradictory.

Old Uncle Abner will tell you how he started smoking when he was "eight year old and ain't never missed a day since." Grandpa Jones will, on the contrary, insist that the reason he stuck around so long was because he "never touched the filthy weed."

What Makes Centenarians?
The centenarians are largely the product of the laws of chance. They never got in the way of a bullet, automobile, or other deadly weapon. They never had the misfortune to contract a serious disease. They never worried much about the morrow. Although they worked, their labor was of a kind that did not sap their vital resources.

They retired from active life at about forty-five. They always got plenty of sleep, were the kind that could doze off anywhere, any time. Their fare was always plain as they never exerted themselves enough to accumulate the price of fancy vlands. For the most part they were outdoor workers, the result being that they got plenty of fresh air and sunshine.

In short, the average century plant is that literally as well as figuratively. He just vegetates—living simply and moderately and indefinitely.

What Causes Premature Senility?

Contrast with the centenarian the man who is lucky if he reaches sixty. This type will generally be found bent over a desk hour after hour in a room in which the air is stuffy and the sunlight seldom enters. Year after year finds his muscles growing more flabby thru lack of exercise. He does not spare himself. He works until he is over-fatigued both mentally and physically. Some nights he gets six hours' sleep, on others not so many.

He eats irregularly, his capricious appetite rejecting everything but the kinds of foods which are usually the least digestible. He resorts frequently to stimulants to spur him up, and to sedatives to quiet him down. He neglects to attend to his physical duties regularly. He is worried, annoyed and harassed much of the time. He forgets how to play. Perhaps he gets in some golf once a week and then overdoes that so it does him more harm than good.

Take Your Choice

Which man, in the very nature of things, is going to live longer? The answer is not far to seek. At the same time it tells how to live to be a hundred.

Appropriations Bills

The appropriations bills continued to occupy almost the complete attention of Congress during the week beginning February 4th. Monday the appropriations committee reported $98,000,000 State, Justice, Commerce, and Labor appropriation bill so supply these four departments with funds for the coming fiscal year. Wednesday, the House began its debate of this bill and devoted almost the entire day to the discussion. Thursday the debate was continued and the reading of the bill began. The reading of the bill was completed Friday, together with final action of the amendments and the bill was passed without a record vote.

Possibilities of a veto of the Independent Offices appropriations by the President arose Friday, February 8th, because of the clause restoring the five per cent pay cut to Federal employees and pensioners on April 1st. The conference report on this bill was agreed to Monday and the measure sent to the President who immediately referred it to the Budget Bureau and various portions to other bureaus. No opposition to the pay restoration had been registered by the Administration's leaders in Congress and a veto seemed highly improbable. However, at a press conference Friday the President refused to make any definite statement on this bill other than that he would take some action on it within the next few days.

Patronage

Democratic patronage this session of Congress has continued one of the big problems for the Democrats in this administration. Friends of Congressmen back home cannot understand why their requests for positions are completely ignored. They find many people being employed and are blaming the members of Congress when in most cases the members had nothing whatever to do with such appointments. Most of these appointments have been made through different employees in Washington, not on a basis of efficiency but primarily to further certain political ambitions. The writer circulated a petition sometime ago to call a caucus to discuss Democratic patronage. This caucus was held Thursday, February 7th, at 4 P. M. and resulted in the unanimous adoption of a resolution offered by the writer reading as follows:

"Resolved that the chairman of the Democratic caucus shall appoint the committee already appointed by the Democratic Steering Committee, a committee of seven members, to investigate the distribution of patronage, departmental personnel and other affiliated matters and that the said committee shall make a partial report back to the Democratic caucus within two weeks from date of adoption of this resolution, on such information and findings as they may have secured, a full report to be made to the Democratic caucus at this session of Congress as soon as possible."

This committee, consisting of the following: Joseph W. Byrns, Speaker of the House; William B. Bankhead, Majority Leader of the House; John J. O'Connor, Chairman of the Rules Committee; Edward T. Taylor, Chairman of the Democratic Caucus; Adolph J. Sabath, Chairman of the Democratic Steering Committee; Hampton P. Fulmer, member of the Steering Committee; and W. D. McFarlane, met Friday and are now busily engaged in securing the information requested by the above resolution. Charges of graft, corruption, and nepotism have frequently been made against employees on Capitol Hill and in the various departments. These questions will promptly receive the careful attention of this committee.

Bonus

Bonus legislation still awaits hearings before the Ways and Means Committee with hearings promised next week. The Committee must decide between the Patman Bill providing payment without further expense and the Vinson Bill providing payment through a bond issue. A partial poll of the House indicates that a majority are favorable to the Patman Bill.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK
" Serving Burkburnett Since 1907 "
Burkburnett, Texas

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
by William Bruckart
National Press Building
Washington, D. C.

Washington.—Representative Fish, a New York Republican, has renewed his fight against the radicals whom he charges with having bored into positions of responsibility. In so doing, the New York house member has stirred up a veritable avalanche of reviews, surveys and explorations of what is going on of a socialistic nature in the government. Mr. Fish charged on the floor of the house that some of the New Dealers were making cash contributions to the "reds" and proceeded to name them.

The house speech by Mr. Fish in a general way called attention to the various movements going on that can properly be described as radical in every respect. His attack directed the attention of observers here to some phases of administration policies that thus far have excited little comment.

For many months, of course, the activities of the Agricultural Adjustment administration have been subjected to the criticism that they constitute regimentation of the farmers, that is, a general program that holds down good farmers to the level of the haphazard type in the agricultural industry. Likewise there have been attacks on the methods employed by the Reconstruction Finance corporation which dominates the affairs of some four thousand banks as a result of loans to them and is gradually expanding its sphere of influence among other industries to which loans have been made.

The senate committee on munitions, headed by Senator Nye of North Dakota, appears to be headed for a recommendation that all munitions and ship yards be government controlled if not government owned, and only a few days ago the congress enacted a law extending for two years the operations of the Reconstruction Finance corporation so that it may continue the government influence it has wielded heretofore.

On top of these, Mr. Roosevelt has asked the congress to appropriate almost $5,000,000,000 for his use in the general recovery program and has virtually demanded that this fund be made available to him without strings attached. In other words, the President desires to expend this money as he sees fit, whether it meets with congressional approval or not.

We hear also much discussion of administration policies and legislative proposals providing penalties of a serious character as punishment for those who dare to go contrary to the general recovery laws as advanced by the President. These penalties, fines for the most part, are being described in some quarters as a form of Hitler terrorism. The administration stands on the ground that it must have complete dominance if its schemes are to be successful, but the fact remains that it is prepared by virtue of the punishment available for its use to take away vast sums of money from the industry or individual which objects to government methods. There is arising more and more criticism of the extreme punishment employed in the New Deal legislation and unless I miss my guess badly this feature of the New Deal will flare back upon its sponsors in a manner most unwelcome to the brain trusters.

In connection with the President's plan to have congress provide him with the $5,000,000,000 fund to use in his discretion, opposition has arisen with some new arguments. While the President constantly is repeating his assertion that the administrative branches of the government can accomplish more with a free hand than by having the money earmarked by congress for specific use, critics are charging that the President's proposal means putting the government further into business. For example, the senate appropriations committee uncovered information the other day while considering the $5,000,000,000 bill that indicated the existence of a plant by which the federal government would engage in the distribution and sale of gasoline.

It takes no stretch of the imagination to see how this move links with the previous efforts of Secretary Ickes, as oil administrator, to control the whole oil industry. By the distribution and sale of gasoline, the government can enforce regulations by competition which the Supreme court said were unconstitutional. Its control would be exercised through damping up the stocks of gasoline, and oil companies, privately owned, would find themselves at the mercy of government bureaucrats.

There are many other features of the $5,000,000,000 bill against which fire of the opposition has been directed, but it seems safe to say that command will yield to the Presidential demand and pass the appropriations measure rather than the form desired by the Chief Executive.

With respect to the operation of "reds" in the government as charged by Mr. Fish, Washington long has been deluged with rumors of radical activities. Except for the charges by Dr. William Wirt, the Gary, Ind., school superintendent, Mr. Fish's accusations are the first to place the finger on the New Yorker charged on the floor of the house that Robert M. La Follette, director for the bureau of fairs and Gardner Jackson, administrative counsel of the division in the Agricultural Administration, among others, had made cash contributions to the "reds" and asserted that these contributions were made "for the purpose of a bonus march of congressmen" and it is to be noted that the great bonanza of three years ago was headed by veterans rank and file congressmen.

Mr. Fish described Mr. M. La Follette as one of the younger members of the brain trust and asserted that the members of the brain trust have been active in the American liberties union.

The representative who those in the brain trust who were active in the civil liberties union, the following: Prof. Rexford W. Well, undersecretary of the National Emergency council, so-called No. 2 man in the union; Robert Fechner, director of the National Civilian Conservation corps; H. Douglas, of the National Adjustment administration; Dr. Frederick C. Brown, of the Agricultural Adjustment administration; R. Margold, of the Interior Department; James M. Landis, of the Federal Securities and commission and a former member of the federal trade commission; John A. Lapp, described as a partial Presidential representative of the National Recovery administration.

After some 12 years of the senate has refused to

Texas Cream Quality Improvement Program

By BYRON R. RUSSEL
State Department of Agriculture
J. E. McDONALD, Commissioner

On June 1, of last year a State-wide Cream Quality Improvement program was inaugurated by the State Department of Agriculture in conjunction with a nation-wide movement, and in cooperation with the Texas A. & M. College, the Texas Technological College, the Agricultural Extension Service and the Dairy Industry itself. This campaign became necessary because of seizures which were made by the Federal Food and Drug Administration, of several carloads of butter which had been shipped in interstate commerce. The Federal Bureau of Food and Drugs had made spasmodic attempt before this time to control interstate shipments of butter, but their activities had been directed mainly toward seeing that the butter-fat content of the butter was up to standard and that the butter was properly labeled. These seizures in the spring of last year however, were made because of the amount of foreign materials, such as dirt, etc., which this butter contained. This was retested by the laboratory and the butter condemned and dumped in the soap vat. Mr. W. G. Campbell, chief of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, has taken the attitude that the dirt which the butter contained was due to the cream which was used in its manufacture, as evidenced by the following quotation which was taken from "Notice To The Dairy and Butter Industry", which was sent out by that Department: "and that the condition of the butter itself is traceable to the unfit character of the cream used in its manufacture." This meant that some means of contacting the cream producers of the country, and instilling them the necessity for, and the importance of producing a good clean product, had to be worked out. The problem was presented to different states of the union and there are at present time 38 states working on some kind of program similar to the one going on in our state. The Texas Department of Agriculture, working in conjunction with the Texas A. & M. College, the Texas Technological College, the Agricultural Extension Service and the Dairy Industry itself, desiring to see the standards of Texas cream and butter raised to a higher plane, so that our butter could be sold on the market without discrimination, undertook the administration of this program and I am glad to say that Texas was among the first of the states to enter into this National campaign.

Rules and regulations for the purchase of cream on a graded basis have been promulgated by the Department of Agriculture, the Texas A. & M. College, the Texas Technological College (the Agricultural Extension Service and the Dairy Industry, and are being adhered to throughout the state. These rules for grading cream were necessary to insure the producer of a high quality product, a premium for the extra labor expended in producing and marketing that product. Before the program started, no matter how careful the producer was in handling his cream or milk, he received no more than the producer who was careless and used unclean methods of production and handling. On the face of it, this was unfair to them were striving to raise the quality of his product; there was no incentive for him to market a good product because he received no more money from the sale, and 9 times out of 10 his good cream was mixed in the station with someone else's bad cream thereby ruining the whole lot; but at the present such things are not happening: the farmer who produces good, clean, sound cream and handles it properly is drawing a premium because of that fact; he also knows that his good cream is not being mixed with someone else's bad cream in the station, because the cream is being graded and segregated by the station operator. The stations and plans are also being controlled through regulatory measures as to their general cleanliness and sanitation thereby assuring the good producer that his cream will not become contaminated while holding in the station for shipment to the plant.

The primary intent of this program is to see that your product is bought on a quality basis. Practically everything that is bought or sold at the present time is on a quality basis; your farm products are bought on the same basis as witness: you receive more for your straight breasted young hen turkeys than you do for your crooked breasted old toms; you also receive more for your long staple cotton than you do for fair short staple cotton; and so it is with practically everything which you sell. The logical question is: "why not cream and milk be sold on this same basis?" And that is exactly what we are trying to do in the administration of this program; to insure those who want to market a high quality product, a premium for their extra time and labor and to see that those who do not want to market a high quality product receive a price which is in line with the kind of product they market. Thus far results have been very satisfactory—the producers of the state have increased the volume of No. 1 cream by 15 per cent since the program was instituted and at the present time around 85 per cent of the cream being graded is No. 1, as compared with 70 per cent at the start of the program. That means producers of the state are drawing a premium of 1-4 cents per pound butter fat closer to the Chicago standard market than they did before the program was started. These facts speak for themselves as to whether our program is fundamentally sound and as to whether or not it is worth while. The program has already proven of enormous benefit to the dairy industry as a whole, and one which will contribute largely in the future to the building up and stabilization of that great industry.

This is the first of a series of articles put out by the State Department of Agriculture. The next article of this series will appear in this paper in the near future and will deal with "Ways and Means of Producing Quality Cream."

The average Burk Burnett taxpayer's objection to any tax bill is that it doesn't hit the other fellow hard enough.

Big Rabbit Creek

January 10, 1935
Mr. and Mrs. Keeble Jones motored over to Temple, Okla. to transact business and to do some trading last Friday.

Mr. John Ashton drove down to his fine Indian Lease Sunday morning to look after his big bunch of white faces and his fine herd of sheep.

This part of the county has had about one-half inch of rain in the last week or so. At this writing the clouds are hanging very low with good indications of more rain.

What rain has fallen has benefited the wheat. Some, it's the opinion of the writer, that the wheat crop is better than half killed out, and the barley is all gone.

Bro. John Ashton advised the writer he thought they would be in shape and have everything ready for them to move into his fine home by next Thursday.

D. L. Alexander was transacting business over in Burk Burnett Saturday.

The Owens Bros., John and Ed, for the past week, have been getting up wood from Deep Red to run them several months, so they won't be bothered getting wood after they start farming.

John Williams was transacting business at our county seat last Saturday.

The writer has been informed that H. P. Stiggins, the son of Mrs. Wm. Williams, and who lives five miles west of Waurika, has taken a relapse of appendicitis and was taken to Muskogee, Okla. last week to the hospital there to be operated on. So far no reports have come in.

Charlie Nails visited a short while with the Owens family Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Williams and children were all over in Burk Burnett Saturday doing their shopping.

Last Monday's election which was held at Randlett to elect District Committeemen for the 1935 Cotton Program went off very nicely. J. A. Alexander was elected by six votes over Bob Thompson, who lives out east of Randlett. J. A. will serve again for the Rabbit Creek district and three other districts, a total of four districts.

Newspaper Styles Change as Rapidly as Women's Clothes

Newspaper styles change almost as rapidly as the styles of women's dresses is the opinion of one who examines the New York Herald for the date April 13, 1865, recently examined by the United States History class of the local high school. The paper was published the day following the assassination of President Lincoln and carries the story of the murder in detail without the flashy wording of the modern murder story. There was no banner across the front page and the headlines for the day only crossed one column.

This newspaper was among several items loaned to the history department of the local high school by the North Texas State Teachers College, Denton. One item of interest was a diary of a soldier of the Union Army in which his every day movements were kept during the year 1865. A rifle used by the Confederates, together with the powder horn and bullet molds, was in good state preservation. Discharge papers, slave bill-of-sales, and many other interesting items were included in the list loaned to the school for use of the students in the study of this period in American History.

These come from the history department of the Historical Museum, North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, under the direction of Dr. J. L. Kingsbury, and are loaned to high schools where instructors will be responsible for their safe keeping.

Court Allows Sheriff 50 Cents Per Day for Boarding Prisoners

Sheriff Pat Allen will be allowed 50 cents per day for boarding each prisoner in the Wichita county jail during 1935, the commissioners court decided Monday afternoon. County Attorney Mike Anglin was instructed to file suit immediately for collection of $27.65 from Max-Sumake, former tax assessor, which the court claims represents that amount of excess fees which should be turned into the county treasury from Mr. Shumake's administration. Members of the court accepted an invitation to lunch with Sheriff Allen at the county jail next Monday.

Remedy Removes Cause of Stomach Gas

Most stomach GAS is due to bowel poisons. For quick relief use Adlerika. One dose cleans out body wastes, tones up your system, brings sound sleep.—Corner Drug Store.

WHEN YOU TAKE A LAXATIVE

... use a spoon

It isn't what brand of laxative you take that's so important—it's the form. A liquid laxative can be taken in any required amount. If only a little is needed; you need never take a bit too much.

Doctors favor the easily measured liquid laxatives. Instead of any form that does not encourage variation from the fixed dose. A fixed dose may be an overdose for you—or your child.

Always remember this one thing about constipation: the secret of any real relief is reduced dosage.

Give the bowels only as much help as may be needed, and less help as the need grows less. You will find Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin an excellent aid in regulating the bowels. It contains senna and cascara (natural laxatives) and it will clear-up any bilious, sluggish condition without upset. Delightful taste, and pleasant action. Your druggist has it.

University Club Valentine Party

Gertrude Hieserman and Schwegler were the gracious hosts when the members of the Junior University Study Club and guests were entertained in the home of Miss Hieserman Saturday night, February 9, 1935, with a Valentine party, an annual affair and one of the most enjoyable social functions of the club year.

Clever Valentine numbers and dishes of red candy hearts colorfully decorated the tables. Little Miss Marjorie Hieserman, in a red and white Valentine Costume, at intervals, delivered comic Valentines particularly selected to suit each guest.

Hearts was the game that furnished much amusement and proved that "a queen" can really break some hearts. The favors on the attractive refreshment plates were corsages of sweet peas and breath.

High scores went to Miss Norene Kirby and John Foster.

The following members and guest were present: Messrs. and Mesdames Jack Everheart, F. T. "Kentucky Kernels" Coming To Palace

Southern gentlemen were wont to settle an affair of honor on the field of battle supported by their respective families who were proud to answer the call for their crest's defense.

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey are boggy Southern gentlemen who settle their disputes at a gay garden party surrounded by beautiful belles, mint juleps and Kentucky colonels. Employing this method, they invite the Wakefields to the Milford Homestead to reconcile the enemy clans. When their orphan ward, "Spanky," opens a champagne bottle, the guests mistake the pop for a pistol shot, and the six-shooters are again drawn.

"Kentucky Kernels" comes to the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday with Mary Carlisle, "Spanky" McFarland and Noah

'SHE LOVES ME NOT' UPROARIOUS COMEDY OF LIFE AT PRINCETON

Well, if Princeton is anywhere near as mad, as merry and as fantastic a place as Paramount's "She Loves Me Not," the delightful adaptation of the season's smash stage hit, showing at the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday, would have us believe, we fail to understand why anyone should ever want to graduate!

Going even one pace beyond the hilarious, breakneck speed & comedy of the original play, this new picture, which co-stars Bing Crosby and Miriam Hopkins, mixes college boys, night-club dancers, gunmen, the motion picture industry and Washington senators in one of the most deliriously funny hodge-podges of comedy, satire and sheer fun it has ever been our special privilege to view.

Practical Value of Math 2b

One very practical application of mathematics is the use of logarithms in working out financial problems. For instance, our Math 2b class worked out the problem of how much the total amount would be if one invested 50 dollars yearly for forty years at 6 per cent interest compounded annually. The problem is a very simple one when logarithms are used and the following set of figures are found.

Fifty dollars invested in 20 years at 6 per cent at the end of 20 years would amount to:
20 years	160.33
19 years	151.25
18 years	142.70
17 years	134.64
16 years	127.00
15 years	119.80
14 years	113.00
13 years	106.60
12 years	100.50
11 years	94.90
10 years	89.54
9 years	84.47
8 years	79.71
7 years	75.18
6 years	70.93
5 years	66.92
4 years	63.13
3 years	59.56
2 years	56.18
1 year	53.00
Total	1,950.33

If this $1,950.33 is invested for an additional 20 years at the same rate and $50 more is invested each year at the end of 40 years the total amount would be $8,201.73.

This means that is every high school boy and girl would begin at the age of 20 to invest $50 per year for forty years at 6 per cent compounded annually then at the age of 60 years each one would have as the result of this investment $8,201.73 at the cost of $2,000.

The solution of such problems is of great importance to life insurance companies, trust companies, building and loan associations and all the rest of us.

Notice To Teachers

The fact that only last week one child was killed and another seriously injured on one of our streets should serve as a warning to us to renew our caution to children in our school. I have noticed that the children are not observing the proper regulations in crossing the street in front of the school grounds. Not only do they fail to wait for the proper signal to cross, but many of them are going north and south of the bell system before crossing the street.

Of course we are all aware that motorists are perhaps more guilty of violations than children. I am sure that public sentiment will demand that some action be taken to enforce the observance of the traffic regulations by the motorists. We must do our part by seeing that the children do likewise. Each teacher is urged to correct any children whom they might observe crossing the street without regard to the bell system.

Please spend some time today and at least one day each week in the future just before the noon hour in reminding the children in your room of the hazards which they must face in crossing the streets. It might be well that you place this period in your plan books for one day during the week. Butler Westerfield

Assembly

Tuesday, February 14, a special assembly was called. Mr. Westerfield made a speech stating that there would be no Colonial Tea, no enter-class meet, that there would also be no Junior-Senior Banquet and the Juniors would not give a play they wouldn't need to. Miss Billingslea urged more pupils to come out for spelling and several teachers who have charge of events reported that they were getting along fine.

The New Public Speaking

F. B. Creighton, Jr.
In discussing the field of speech, it is difficult to decide which is the most important phase to emphasize. The most interesting side, of course, is that of interpretation. The imagination is stirred and we can draw vivid pictures with spoken words the things that other people have said or written. Dramatics, poetry, reading, oration, declamation, and readings are all types of this phase of interpretation, yet we have all heard or taken an active part and not bettered our speaking ability. Speech correction is also interesting, but unless you in particular are interested it will not improve ability in public speaking. For general improvement of personality, the field of improvement in ability and development of original speech offers the greatest opportunity. Original speech will cover such things as conversation, extempore, impromptu, after-dinner, welcome, political, and acceptance speeches. These all depend on the person's ability to gather material, assimilate, and deliver without relying on someone else for your entire speech. In late years the tendency has swung from emphasizing expression or interpretation to the developing individualism. This movement has taken on the name of "The New Public Speaking."

It matters not whether you are to be a clerk, oil-worker, banker, teacher, salesman, or home maker, you will soon discover that speaking ability will provide an opportunity for success and a chance to be of service in the community in which you live. One aid to effective speech is that of reading good books. If you read extensively and intensively, you will find that you have a foundation for your work in speech arts. Yet books are only a means of an end, and that end is real living. Experiences of the right sort will prove valuable.

The new public speaking has as one of its objectives the thought of building social relationship through improvement of speech. It doesn't matter to some if their speech is marred or giggardly, but nevertheless the student in any class or school room will certainly not progress materially unless he improves such a handicap. We are so used to speaking that we get the habit of making the best of the bargain and let it go at that. Robert Burns once wrote, "Oh, wad some power the giftie gie us, to see ourselves as others see us." We certainly would discover some startling things about ourselves if we had that power.

After we have improved our ability, we must then try to use it. In the original speech we will have many an opportunity. The Interscholastic League provides an excellent opportunity for original speech for high school boys and girls. Both in extempore speaking and debate the student has the chance to use his own words and get over his points. In declamation and one-act play the student needs only a good selection of capable coaching, and no opportunity is given for individualism. More students should take advantage of this chance and develop personality by entering these speaking contests.

Listen to your fellow students, your teachers, your parents, and others, and mark the difference between those that can express themselves clearly and pleasantly by their speech. Judge yourself by your own associates. Get the habit of relying more on yourself for expression of ideas through originality. Take advantage of opportunities to speak in public and keep in mind that you must as Shakespeare said, "Mend your speech, lest it mar your fortunes."

High School Library

The High School Library has received a new set of the World Book Encyclopedia, in eighteen volumes with an extra volume which is a reading and study guide. These reference books were copyrighted in 1934, and are attractively bound in blue and black with gold lettering. The new books will aid the students in finding interesting and up-to-date material on almost any subject which they choose to look.

Junior and Senior track will start Monday. Boys now out for football that are interested in track will check in their uniform and report for track.

I was taking tea with a great editor last Sunday afternoon when his little daughter came back from Sunday School with an illustrated card in her hand.
"What's that you have there, little one?" the editor asked.
"Oh," said the child, "just an ad about heaven."

Home Economics

The girls of the Home Economics department served the Rotary club on Tuesday, February 12 at the high school. The dinner was carried out in Valentine motif, having Valentines and red hearts on the table.

A beautiful bowl of sweet peas formed the centerpiece. The following delicious courses were served: roast beef and gravy, rice potatoes, buttered carrots, hot rolls, Valentine salad, baked apples, cherry pie and coffee.

The program consisted of several short talks and James Guest, grammar school instructor, accompanied by Miss Giedon, sang two numbers. Approximately forty-two members were present.

Requests from the Rear

In the congregation of an Oak Park church Sunday morning service was a young bride whose husband was an usher. Becoming terribly worried about having left the roast in the oven, she wrote a note to her husband, sending it to him by another usher.

The latter thinking it was a note for the pastor, hurried down the aisle and laid it on the pulpit. Stopping abruptly in the middle of his sermon to read the note, the astonished pastor was met with this written injunction.

"Please go home and turn off the gas."

Legal Fee

The teacher heard a child crying and rushed out to the playground to find out the cause of the disturbance.

"What is the trouble?" she asked of little Jimmie, who stood calmly by, eating an orange.

"Billy took Fred's orange," explained the witness.

"And where is the orange?" asked the teacher.

"Oh, I have that," replied Jimmie.

"You see, I am the lawyer."

Students Broadcast

Some of the students of Fairview High School had the privilege of broadcasting over KGKO, Wichita studio, Friday, February 15. The program was sponsored by the P. T. A. The thirty minute program included: Songs by the chorus directed by Miss Mauder, "Barcarolle", "All in the Night", "Daffodils", "At the Ferry", with Tol Bogoy as the young man, Marvadine Vines as sister, and Elbert Zink as brother, and an interesting history of Fairview School and P. T. A. Paschall, Jr. For those who were not fortunate enough to hear the broadcast, the P. T. A. are interested in our school.

Fairview

For the benefit of those who may not know, Fairview is located in the north portion of Wichita, four miles northwest of the Red River forming the boundary of the district. The school plant was erected to accommodate the consolidation of smaller schools in 1923. This plant now consists of a seven-room central building with a gymnasium and auditorium, a separate home economics building, a large canteen affording apart of the superintendent's family, and a home for the teacher. The present value of the entire plant is above $100,000.

Fairview school system now has one of the best trained faculties. For the past four years there has been under the direction of Y. C. Paschall, Jr. who received his baccalaureate from the East Texas State College in 1929 and the degree of Arts from the University of Missouri, at Columbia, in 1933. The high school principal, D. Watkins, received his degree from the Texas State Teachers College in 1929, and the degree from the University of California in 1934. The high school teachers are Miss Lois Thompson, Miss Lillie Mae Armstrong, home economics teacher; Mrs. R. D. Jones, Industrial education.

Education, and Erwin Brand, history. Teachers of the elementary school are Erwin Brand, Charles Jones, Misses Mauder Gentry, Pattie Thompson, Toby Baird, Ray Davis and Reagan Jacobson. Mrs. F. R. Flanagan is utility teacher.

There are now eighty-one students enrolled in the high school department and 273 in the elementary school. Fairview is a first class high school with twenty-one credits affiliated with the State Department of Education. And in addition to the regular course of the curriculum, extra curricular work is being done in music, choral singing, science club, home economics clubs, and all types of interesting scholastic league activities. The senior boys basketball team has just won the Round Robin basketball championship of Wichita county.

The Fairview Parent-Teacher Association was first organized during the school term of 1925-26 with six paid-up members. Mrs. B. L. Ribble was the first president. The local association has continued to function ever since with ever increased membership and activity. The present membership is 102, and our president is Mrs. M. A. Walker. Since the first organization of the local unit the presidency has been held consecutively by Mesdames P. L. Ribble, A. R. Spencer, T. A. Bankhead, A. A. Bishop, D. M. Morris, E. R. Simons, J. Troy Miller, Will Teal and A. R. Bunshine.

The Fairview P-TA has ever worked in close co-operation with the school faculty in improving conditions and opportunities for the Fairview boys and girls. Since its organization it has purchased a piano for the school, assisted in paying for ceiling, plastering, and waisting the auditorium after the building was destroyed by fire in 1926. It has sponsored a landscaping project for the school campus, sponsored the purchase and installation of stage and scenery for the auditorium, conducted regular health clinics, provided meals for undernourished children, provided banquets for luncheon clubs and school activities, and conducted monthly programs that have ever kept the work of the school before the parents of the community.

At present the regular meeting is each third Monday evening in each month at 7:15 o'clock. We cordially invite any one and every one who is interested in who is interested either in P-T work or in Fairview school to visit with us at any of these meetings. We want to thank the management of KGKO for this opportunity of telling you about Fairview school and Fairview P-TA.

Hints for the Household

By BETTY WEBSTER
 A charming way to celebrate Washington's birthday is with a progressive dinner. As many couples as wanted may take part in it and the courses may be as few and simple or as many and elaborate as desired.

At the first stop, appetizers are served. Stuffed olives rolled in slices of bacon and toasted, and roasted salt wafers spread with caviar are simple and delicious.

The cocktail course follows and soup, fish, meat, salad, dessert and coffee come in proper order.

Serve It Attractively
 It is not necessary to have an abundance of food for each course although, of course, it must be sufficient and beautifully served.

A nice menu consists of fruit cocktail, consommé, flet of sole, baked ham with sweet and mashed potatoes, beets and peas, cinnamon apple salad, strawberry parfait and demi-tasse.

Each hostess may provide paper favors if she wishes and the last one may provide a place for dancing.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

1. Nothing is ever served at an afternoon tea in the way of food that cannot come under the head of beverage, bread or cake, or confectionery?
2. Pickles should not be served at a fashionable entertainment?
3. Hot dishes and salads and ices are often, although not necessarily, included for supper at a dance?
4. Scrambled eggs and thin sausage make a popular hot dish for parties?
5. Plain or chocolate peppermints and fancy chocolates are the candies most generally served at affairs?

nervous breakdown. Miss Jacobson is the First Grade teacher. This is indeed a pleasure to be writing of their return as it is a pleasure to have them back.

Mrs. Fred Flannigan and Mrs. Kincaide of Burkburnett have been the substitute teachers. We wish it were possible for the four teachers to all stay.

Fairview Wins Again

The Fairview Bears "wolloped" the Iowa Park Hawks last Friday night to the tune of 41-13.

The boys played good ball and are pulling together again after having lost their star forward, Bridges, on the eight semester rule.

The volleyball girls lost two games straight, 15-2 and 15-4. The basketball team plays Cashion first in the tournament. The volleyball girls play Iowa Park.

Sophomore Program

The weekly chapel program by the Fairview classes this week is to be by the Sophomores sponsored by Mrs. Fred Flannigan. First, there is to be a play, "Corned Babies." The characters are as follows:

J. D. Mills, Mr. Bernard.
 Dorothy Siber, Lula.
 Johnny Adair, Alice.
 Albert Zink, Mr. Leslie.
 Milbrey Lou Hoffman, Mrs. Leslie.
 Also there are to be numbers by a few of Burkburnett talented people. Billy Jane Chatham is going to honor us with some dance numbers. Roy Jackson, Jr., the talented

Hearts and Parties

The Home Economics club had a lovely party in the Home Economics building Monday, February 11. Each home ec. girl invited a guest, making a very large group of fun makers. The game of Hearts was played throughout the evening, Marian Sopher winning high score. The cottage was beautifully decorated in red and white. Table cloths of white were ornamented with enormous red hearts in the center of the tables.

Bill Wells, popular male member of the Senior class has turned out to be a poet of some aspiration. Since his leg was injured in a basketball game, the hard fighting cager has been inspired to the more delicate art of writing poetry. Here we have one of his best and most recent poems:

ONE SWELL GIRL

There are many girls who would like to flirt
 And run around and toy
 But the one who is true blue
 Is the one who loves a boy.

She sits around her home at night
 And reads a "Ranch Romance",
 While other girls all go out with dates
 And stay 'til morn and dance.

She learns to cook and sew and save
 To save groceries, clothes and money—
 While the flirts are raving over
 Some classy "Honey".

Don't try settling down with the flirt, my boy,
 She is too inclined to roam—
 But the other girl, old pal,
 Will make you one swell home.

About Those Teachers

Mrs. Y. C. Paschall's mother, Mrs. Muskgraves, of Terrace, Texas, has been a guest in the Paschall home this past week.

More about the Paschall family. You should hear Mr. Paschall rave, and rant about his new car. It is a new Oldsmobile eight. To his geometry class he made a statement that his new car was as large as the geometry room. To his civics class he promised a ride in his new car if they could only keep the weather good. He goes about the school with a smile on his face telling of the tremendous rate of speed his new car would go. We are all waiting to be asked to take a ride in it.

Mr. Charles Jones visited in his home this week end.

Mr. Brand took his volley ball girls to Electra to the county tournament.

We Heard

Bilbrey Lou and Ada thought they could "rhumba" without moving their ankles. (We wonder what they think now).

Leroy O'Guinn has at last started to train for basket ball (Ra-Ra O'Guinn).

Rosalie McCall thinks her brother, Scotty, too modest.
 Lenore Podburger likes the Iowa Park salt water. (hard water in liquid form).

The girls really like to boo the basketball boys over their loss to Electra. (What about the Iowa Park volley ball team).

Mr. Brand loves nails that puncture tubes and girls that giggle.
 The news has leaked out that the whole study hall is a place to hear gossip. (Keep your ears open "chillens").

Ruthe Vogel and Ada Marsh did not sit together at chapel program and evidently had disagreed. (So they heard).
 H. B. Northcott can really "rhumba" and Bill Wells is no "slouch".

The Seniors enjoyed English class Friday, thanks Mrs. Flannigan for the treat.
 Anita Pharris requested Simon to make her 32 wooden blocks. (good bye Si!).

Ruthe Vogel, Jack Bryarly and Ada Marsh wonder why it is against the rules to shoot dice with blank ones. (Give the little blocks back to the blank children, Mr. Brand).

Ruby Jewel thinks she wants a job announcing over the radio. (We want to listen so don't, please).
 Shorty Beavers believes she can move around over the volley ball court now. (Couldn't she always?)

1. Crush and stir 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets in ¼ glass of water.

2. Gargle Thoroughly—throw your head way back, allowing a little to trickle down your throat. Do this twice. Do not rinse mouth.

3. If you have a cold, take 2 BAYER Aspirin Tablets. Drink full glass of water. Repeat if necessary, following directions in package.

Modern Scientific Method Wonderfully Easy

REMEMBER PICTURES HERE

 All you do is crush and stir 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets in ¼ glass of water and gargle with it twice—as pictured here. (If you have signs of a cold, take BAYER Aspirin and drink plenty of water.)

To Keep the Facts Straight---

—TOO OFTEN figures are quoted in attempting to strengthen a point of argument without presenting all vital facts and without interpretation. Information recently circulated in Burkburnett regarding electrical rates in Georgetown failed to present certain valuable facts. No mention was made that Georgetown has operated its light and power plant for a number of years. No mention was made of the domestic rate there. The following comparative table of domestic rates is correct:

	Burkburnett	Georgetown
12 KW	$1.00	$1.08
15 KW	1.08	1.35
20 KW	1.44	1.80
25 KW	1.67	2.16
30 KW	1.89	2.52
40 KW	2.34	3.24

Corn-Hog Producers Must Sign Contracts For 1935 This Week

Wichita county corn or hog producers must sign contracts for 1935 production control this week at the office of G. C. McGown, county farm agent, in the federal building in Wichita Falls if they are to participate in the government's 1935 program.

Mr. McGown announced Monday that Loys Barbour of Iowa Park, a member of the county corn-hog committee, will be in charge of filling out applications for 1935 corn-hog contracts. Saturday, Feb. 16, will be the deadline for such completion of contracts, he said. Plans for signing such contracts in community meetings last week failed because of non-attendance of those concerned, it was stated.

Forty-nine checks totaling $860 were received by Mr. McGown Monday morning as parity payments to Wichita county farmers from the federal department of agriculture for cotton control last year. Notices
