C. of C. To Plant Trees Near Local Cemetery Soon

Chamber of Commerce directors instructed the Civic Affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce to work in connection with the County Commissioner in planting trees on the road leading from the highway to the cemetery, in a monthly meeting Monday night.

Instruction was given to purchase sufficient trees to be placed on this road after assurance had been given that the trees would be watered and well taken care of.

Thanks was also extended to Geo. Kimbell of Burk Royalty Co., for the use of the storage tank for the public well and to the Magnolia Petroleum Co. for their assistance in moving the tank. It was decided that a tank be purchased to replace the tank which had been returned to the owner. The tank is to be placed at the Free Public Well west of town where water for stock may be had by those who run short. It will be remembered that water was hauled day and night last year during the drouth period.

The following committeemen were appointed to serve the local community on the Wichita County Fair Association committees: Program and Publicity, Fred Brookman; Educational and Art, Butler Westerfield; Agriculture and Live-stock, Frank Kelley; Automobile Show, Henry Grace; Merchants Building, J. M. Alexander.

Invitation was received from the Southwestern Fat Stock Show at Ft. Worth for Burk Burnett to designate a day as "Burkburnett Day". It was announced that since the Burk Burnett Band was planning to attend the show, that the day that the Cowboy Band could attend the show be designated as "Burkburnett Day". Reports from committee chairmen were heard. Committees have not all had meetings but the chairman reported some of the activities to be undertaken by the committees in the near future. Reports was had concerning the Band Club and that the same was getting along in excellent condition and had been working toward successful activities for 1935.

Commissioners To Meet Again Today To Aid Taxpayers

The commissioners court of Wichita county recessed early Monday afternoon to meet again Thursday morning at 10 o'clock to give taxpayers opportunity to pay delinquent taxes on the unrendered roll without interest or penalty, according to F. R. Knauth, Commissioner of Precinct No. 2.

Friday, March 15, is the last day for payment of delinquent state and county taxes without penalty or interest. Property on the unrendered roll often has a high valuation placed upon it and the owners come into the court to obtain a lower assessment.

In an interview the day of his arrest Johnson said he had loved and intended to marry Mrs. Hefley. He said he had told her he would be over Friday evening and found her absent when he went there. He returned about midnight and saw another man bring her home. He said he did not remember what happened afterward.

Johnson has three sons and a daughter. His wife has been dead several years. Attending Physicians said that Mrs. Hefley's skull had been fractured in six places. She never completely regained consciousness despite several blood transfusions.

Re-Elected Principals Of Burk Schools

CHESTER DUNCAN
Principal High School

H. LEE CLIFTON
Principal Grade Schools

Board Of Trustees Met Last Thursday

The Board of Directors of the Burk Burnett Independent School District met last Thursday in regular session and during the business session Chester Duncan was re-elected principal of the high school and H. Lee Clifton was re-elected principal of the grade schools.

Mr. Duncan has been connected with the public schools here for the past ten years, 7 of which he has been principal of the high school. Mr. Clifton starts his tenth year with the local schools, seven years as principal. Before being elected as principal he was a teacher in the grade and high school and served as coach of Junior high students.

The board of education also ordered an election to be held the first Saturday in April for the purpose of electing two trustees. The election will be held in the city hall and A. Lohofener is made presiding judge.

ROTARY CLUB

Glenn Bear had charge of the program at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club last Tuesday. He had as his guest A. K. Matthews, of Wichita Falls, who spoke of his experiences while a member of the CCC. He stated that in his opinion the CCC was one of the best things that the government has done in the way of employment for young men and boys. He said that every boy should be a member of some organization similar to the one he attended. That it taught the young people to respect their superiors and was helpful to both mind and body.

Alvin Hill stated that the Rotary birthday party would be held next Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wiggins, but would not interfere with the regular noon luncheon which will be held as usual. The affair will be informal and the ladies are requested to attend. Butler Westerfield stated that he had been approached in regard to selling the plot of ground south of the old Shamburger Lumber Co. which was donated to the school by the Lions and Rotary clubs for an athletic field. The club voted to keep the ground as it is the only available place, outside of the high school athletic field, for baseball and other sports.

Rotarians from Wichita present were: J. E. H. Railey, John Sullivan and Alex Brittain. Carl Morrison had as his guest Paul Linn.

Notice To Patrons Of Palace Theatre

In trying to please all our patrons we are asking that no automobiles be parked in front of the Palace Theatre between the hours of 10 and 12 A. M. on Friday, March 15th. The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Sound Studio will be here at that time and it is so massive that it can't turn in an ordinary parking space. One hundred and fifty feet will be roped off for this event. You are invited to visit this great Caravan and you will be shown how pictures are made and sound is recorded for the screen. This Caravan is not a Ballyhoo to attract the attention of the public for our benefit, but it is educational for those who are not in the position to know all about the motion picture production, as it is thoroughly explained.

Week's Relief Payroll Is $1,014

Burkburnett's relief payroll last week totaled $1,014, relief administrator H. D. Smith, said Wednesday. Checks were distributed to approximately 230 men and women. Unless weather conditions halt operations this week's payroll will amount to about the same as last week.

There are 300 men and women on relief in this city with 75 of them on direct relief. Projects in Burk Burnett include working county roads, wideing the pavement on Ave. D., beautifying the high school and Fairview school grounds, operating the sewing room, and several working at the grade school cafeteria in which the relief administration is feeding 150 school children. Work was started last week on the relief gardens, and the distribution of garden seed to those on the relief rolls will begin today, according to Mr. Smith.

The only project anticipated to start this week is the planting of trees along the Burk-Wichita highway south of the city. The trees will be furnished by the Chamber of Commerce and the work done by the county relief men, under the direction of Commissioner F. R. Knauth.

The sewing room project employs about 20 women. They completed last week, 39 shirts and gowns. They recently completed and delivered to the needy families of Burk Burnett 300 comforts. They also distributed 100 mattresses. Those on the relief rolls are being issued food consisting of spuds, canned milk, rice, meats, cane syrup, peaches and plums.

Burk Delegates At- tend Legion Con- vention Recently

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Porter, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Johnson, and Jim Minter attended the regular spring convention of the American Legion for the 13th Texas district at Quanah Saturday and Sunday.

This was the first district meet held in Quanah since 1932 and they reported a wonderful time, delightful entertainment for the hundreds of ex-service men who attended.

Miller Ainsworth, state department commander, was the principal speaker. Two dances Saturday night and a banquet at noon Sunday featured the social program.

J. S. Gore Financial Secretary W. O. W.

J. S. Gore was appointed financial secretary of the Woodmen of the World at Burk Burnett, February 1, and he reports 13 new members added the first month.

The W. O. W. was organized June 3, 1890, and according to Bradstreet and Dunn they rate this organization as the strongest financially in the world. There admitted assets ending June, 1934, were $177,526,-767 as compared with $108,379,993 at the end of 1933.

Miss Blanche Butler spent the week end with her mother in Rhome.

Last Rites For Jas. Melton Held Today

Services To Be Held At 3:30 At Methodist Church, Conducted By Rev. L. G. Hagard

Fred Young, State Adjutant, Addresses Burkburnett Men

Urging the necessity of Americans guarding against the growth of communism, Fred Young, adjutant of the Texas Legion department, addressed a meeting of the Oscar Frye Post, which was attended by about thirty Legionnaires and business men. The meeting was held in the high school cafeteria and the delightful lunch which was served was prepared by Miss Michie's home economics class.

Mr. Young warned that the Red influence was becoming stronger in the United States than the average American realized. "I am glad I am a legionnaire because the American Legion is a perfect organization," the speaker said. "It begins with God and ends with service to our country. It does not softine its service to members alone but also offers its benefits to all veterans and has served in many instances in preventing calamity in our country."

In discussing plans for the Texas Centennial he explained that proceeds from the sale of Centennial half dollars were to be used for construction of a permanent museum upon the Texas university campus. The state legislature is expected to grant an appropriation of $250,000 toward this project.

H. R. Hayes, 13th district committeeman, who presided at the meeting, thanked the speaker for coming to Burk Burnett to deliver this address. Mr. Hayes also introduced the Legion members and guests present.

LIONS CLUB

Johnnie Anderson had charge of the program at the Lions club meeting Tuesday night. Mr. Anderson explained to the club the duties of the different committees. His talk was very instructive.

Kathryn and Jack Exley rendered two piano duets which were greatly enjoyed by the club members.

Next Tuesday night, March 19, the club will journey to Clara for their weekly luncheon and meeting. The girls of the Home Economics department of the Clara school will prepare the meal.

B. P. O. Elks Initiate Two New Elks Mon.

At the regular meeting of the B. P. O. Elks Monday night, two new members were initiated into the order. W. P. Boydston and Roy Woods, taking the oath.

The regular meeting nights of the order have been changed to the second and fourth Monday night instead of meeting just once a month.

Miles Thompson Receives Bed Room Suite Tuesday Night

Miles Thompson, who resides on West Main street received the bed room suite at the Palace Theatre Tuesday night.

According to C. P. Logan, manager of the Palace, a bed room suite will be given away every Tuesday night. You must be present to receive the suite but it will positively be given away every Tuesday night until further notice.

S. A. M. Cooper, R. H. Henry, Benson Buckalew, B. O. Willis and E. R. Womack attended a sales meeting of the Ford Motor Co. in Dallas Monday. W. C. Cowling, of Detroit, director of sales, had charge of the meeting.

Miss Jewell Hudley of Wichita Falls was the week end guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Welch.

James Melton, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Melton, died at the Wichita Clinic hospital Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock, after a lingering illness of six weeks, caused from abscessed lungs.

Funeral services will be held today at 3:30 from the Methodist church with Rev. L. G. Hagard, officiating. Interment in the Burk Burnett cemetery under the direction of the Owens and Brumley funeral home.

Young Melton was reared in Burk Burnett and attended school here for a time before entering the Marion college in Alabama. He was later a student at Texas Technological college at Lubbock and was awarded his degree there.

He was well-known as a vocalist here and appeared frequently as an entertainer on club and benefit programs.

James Melton is survived by his parents and one sister, Maxine.

Active pallbearers will be Jack Exley, Carl Campbell, Robt. Laney, Richard Smith, James Guest and Ted Boden. Honorary pallbearers: Homer Gilbert, F. L. Pilkenton, J. M. Pogue, R. H. Henry, A. J. Key, Joe Majors, Cliff Cannon, Fred Elliott, Monroe Prinzing, Dot Busby, O. K. Rankin, W. R. Hill, Fred Boden and R. E. Fisher.

Early Appointment Deputy Sheriff For Burk Is Demanded

The demand for the appointment of the special deputy for the Burk Burnett area was growing the first of the week. The commissioners authorized appointment of a deputy at its meeting last week. So far the action has been delayed. In the meantime the citizens of the area have become impatient as thievery on a large scale has continued. Several tractors and other machines have been stripped. The brass fittings and valuable metals on the pumps, valves and similar oil field supplies have disappeared with regularity in the fields. Sheriff Pat Allen was in Burk Burnett and the fields Sunday on a trip of investigation.

Burk Officers Arrest Man On Forgery Charge

The investigations of the police department, cleared up several minor robberies in Burk Burnett over the week-end. A negro was arrested in connection with the theft of clothes at Haphazard cleaners several days ago, and his arrest brought to a conclusion the investigation on other small robberies. The negro was transferred to Wichita Falls to await action there by the county authorities.

A more important case was the arrest of a young man on the charge of forgery. The young man was alleged to have stolen about 30 blank checks from the Armour creamery at Walters, Okla., and to have forged and passed these checks in Burk Burnett last week. He was held in the local jail during the investigation and transferred to the county jail Saturday. At the county jail he will await the action by grand jury. At the present the charges are pending the arrival of the checks from the clearing houses in Oklahoma and Texas.

NOTICE

All persons who have indicated that they want trees to plant are requested to get their trees not later than Friday of this week. It is getting late and if those who want trees do not take them at once they will be set out with others on the cemetery road.

THE WORST IS OVER

If the men who make our almanacs are correct, the worst of winter is over and everyone can now breathe a sigh of relief. Older Burkburnett residents remind us they have seen a lot of cold weather in March and April. But even the local weather shark seems, for once, to be able to agree with the professionals, and to agree that the worst is over.

There could be no more welcome news. The housewives are anxious to get at their spring cleaning and to get their flower and vegetable seed started on their way. The home owner is anxious to make needed repairs and to put his premises in order for the spring and summer months. The farmer is a bit restless, too, though in his case there has been plenty of work to do in the winter months, the same as there will be in the warm months on ahead. In fact, everyone is ready for a change, and the general expression is: "Spring can't come too soon to suit me."

But it isn't actually here yet, by any means. There are still a few weeks left in which to plan the things that must be done—and this year there should be no postponement. Too much property around here has slumped in value already, through sheer neglect. The longer improvements are put off the more they cost in the long-run. Those who realize this and make them this spring are going to be glad they did so when the price of hardware and materials of all kind begins to soar, as it now seems sure of doing when a nation-wide building boom sets in.

A FALSE GOD

In a way, the long-awaited decision of the supreme court in the gold clause case shows how ardently money is still worshipped as a god by millions of Americans. Despite the fact that it didn't change the status of the dollar, insofar as its purchasing power is concerned, millions awaited the decision of the court almost hysterically, as excited as they would await the outcome of a World War.

Money has no value, no matter what the supreme court rules, unless it brings happiness to the person who has it. Except for the comforts and luxuries of life desired by himself and family, and the aid and comfort he can buy for others, no man finds any sensible use for money. It was the desire to "grab" and an insane desire for money that did more than anything else to throw this country into the terrible depression it is now gradually emerging from.

Until men and women cease their worship of "the golden calf," until they realize that honesty, industry, kindness and helpfulness are of far greater value than a gold standard, a silver standard or any other form of monetary standard, then just so long will there be more misery in the world than there should be. Teach the growing boy that money has absolutely no value unless it is expended in promoting these things, and you have taught him one of life's greatest lessons.

A police judge says women now do seventy percent of the driving. But men still hold the steering wheel.

Two thousand dollars a year is better than $10,000. Those who have $2,000 can keep up with their neighbors.

The life of a bachelor must be just one undarned thing after another.

Burkburnett parents say a son is less troublesome. They didn't have to spend their evenings in the kitchen when he is doing his courting.

No wonder fool drivers can't avoid collision when steamships can't do it with a whole ocean to dodge in.

It's old Dad's own fault if he isn't appreciated. Who would feed a cow if she gave milk without being fed?

Virginia Mae White Honored On Birthday

Virginia Mae Willis was honored with a party given Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents on Avenue F. The occasion was the fifth birthday of the honor guest, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tex Willis.

The children entertained with a program of readings and songs, at the conclusion of which a number of entertaining games were enjoyed.

Virginia Mae received several lovely gift remembrances after which refreshments were served to Mary Francis and Dotty Kent, Jimmie and Valta Brookman, Clara Mae and Martha Jo Parker, Mary Helen Bundy, Harry Carol and Lowell Dale Wells, Jack Willis, William Howard Willis and the honoree, Virginia Mae Willis.

Those sending gifts but were unable to attend were Mamie Browning, Jonita Majors, Francis Lee Jordan, Miss Ethyle Allen, Mr. Jackson and Tex Allen.

Due to Virginia Mae having the whooping cough many of her little friends did not get to come to the party as was planned.

Forsaking All Others Coming To Palace Sun. and Mon.

M-G-M's much talked about filmization of the Tallulah Bankhead stage hit, "Forsaking All Others," with the breath-taking combination of Joan Crawford, Clark Gable and Robert Montgomery in one picture, is the special film attraction Sunday and Monday at the Palace Theatre.

diverting viewpoint, the new picture was directed by W. S. Van Dyke, whose long string of successes culminated with the recent "Thin Man" and "Evelyn Prentice."

A Different Joan
From all reports there is a surprise in store for the thousands who enlist themselves as ardent Joan Crawford fans for in her latest vehicle the popular young M-G-M star is said to have been assigned a role which presents a decided departure from her usual characterizations.

Cast as a young Parkavenueite who leads the procession in a mad whirl of gay living, Miss Crawford has been finally given the chance to do the real comedy characterization for which her legion of admirers have long waited.

Gable, fresh from his recent triumph with Miss Crawford in "Chained," this time plays the role of a man who returns from a distant part of the world to marry Joan, only to find that she is about to face the altar with another. To Montgomery, the rival, falls the kind of part he plays to the hilt—the suave young bouncer whom you should lose patience with and can't.

Big Rabbit Creek

March 9, 1935

Last Friday, just South of Randall, while Joe Elliott was coming from Walter with his daughters, his car got from Joe's control by some cause and ran off into a ditch and turned over, pinning them underneath the car. Joe got out, and with the help of a neighbor turned the car back so the girls could escape. There were only minor injuries at the time and Joe didn't think he was hurt bad for over three days. Afterwards, he just got crazy with pain, to find out by the attending physician that his spine had a very bad hurt and he is still confined to his bed. The writer has been informed that his conditions are critical. It is hoped by his many friends that he will soon be able and up again.

Hawkeye is able to sit up and walk around the room some. If the weather would just clear up, both Hawkeye and his brother, Johnny, would soon get up again. John has been down bedfast for five days, but is some better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gloger, who live in Burkburnett and the very best of the Owens family, motored over Friday night to see how Ed and John were getting along. The family was sure glad to see their old friends come.

Mr. John Ashton and several other neighbors have called to see how the sick were getting along, which was appreciated.

Several hundred acres of oats have been planted this week here in the Rabbit Creek neighborhood. Mr. Ed Owens had to hire a man to sow his oats.

The P-T. A. rendered a fine program Friday night at the Rabbit Creek school house. A large crowd attended and everyone enjoyed the program. Hawkeye wishes to correct, thru the Star, of the many stories that have been circulated over in Burkburnett and in our neighborhood, regarding to our neighbors calling while I was so bad. It's been stated that my wife said that no callers were wanted. There were two days that Dr. Dice forbid Ed's wife to admit any callers, until he could get a little rest and sleep, as it had been 48 hours since he had a bit of sleep or rest. The writer wants the neighborhood, in general, to know that all of those reports are untrue.

At this writing the elements are very heavy with clouds. The indications are favorable for either a snow or a good rain. Either one would man a lot to the grain crop over on this side to bring up all oats that have been sowed, and to keep the wheat growing.

The writer has been informed that Mr. Charlie Griffith was taken back down to Mineral Wells one day last week for the poison which has broken out again all over his face and hands. He went last Fall to Mineral Wells to be treated for the same thing, but it seems as tho Charlie came back home to soon, before he was cured.

Mr. Tobe Hardin and Mrs. Martha Nails and her son, Charlie, called on the Owens family Friday to see how Ed was getting along.

Mary Hardin-Baylor To Hold Parents' Visiting Day Soon

Belton — Mary Hardin-Baylor daughters will invite their parents to their college home for the second annual Parents' Day April 19 and 20. Parents of every student will be asked to be the guests of the college, in its dormitories, dining halls, and classrooms.

The program will open on the evening of April 19 with tentative plans for a student conducted vespers service, a fine arts recital and a reception for parents, faculty, and college seniors. Saturday's program will be based around a general plan for parents to visit with their daughters in classrooms. A tour of the campus under the directions of members of the senior societies, Royal Academia and Historical-Phila, will begin the day.

Visitors will hear the College Chorus in a special program at the chapel hour, and in the afternoon a one-act play will be given in Presser Auditorium. There will also be a tumbling and physical education exhibition on the campus.

Drive For Rural Schools Very Gratifying

Response from citizens of county to the library drive in sixteen rural schools of county has exceeded the hopes of the community committee of the Pat Carrigan. Already many books have been sent to Mrs. J. Cohen, community service chairman, as well as files of magazine in reference work or reading.

Superintendent of schools, Mrs. A. C. Coalson, has given the committee of the state requirements in rural communities which are: approved books, magazines (such as Digest, Times, Today Reviews), current events, (state or local), suitable picture encyclopedia, standard, or small one for use above the fourth grade.

Give to your home that give to this cause? Help aid the establishment of a library for rural citizens.

American Legion Auxiliary Pat Carrigan post voted a show, "Flashes of 1935", proceeds from which will be used for purchasing the new library branch.

Books adopted by the teachers of schools in a recent meeting county superintendent's office for the county library. The books will be checked and may be checked various schools for a period of weeks. This system will give rural schools an opportunity to purchase books from the Kemp public library as well. Each school in the county will contribute $10 per teacher each year toward financing the plan, and the purchasing of books will be under the supervision of Miss Lucia Powell, Kemp librarian. This plan will eliminate the unnecessary repetition of copies, and make possible a wider selection of suitable reading materials for both rural students and adults.

Mrs. A. C. Coalson, national president of the American Legion auxiliary will be a guest of the Pat Carrigan unit in Wichita Falls, March 28th. Tentative plans call for a luncheon at the Y. W. C. A. following which Mrs. Carlson will address the auxiliary women. Units of surrounding territory are expected to send representatives. Reservations for the luncheon may be made with Mrs. B. A. Moore, 513 Travis St., Wichita Falls, Texas. Other department officers who will be guests that day are: Mrs. W. J. Dabforth, department president, and Mrs. A. J. Autin, department secretary and treasurer. A recent communication from Mrs. R. E. Weller, district chairman, gave the program for the district convention to be held in Quanah, March 8th and 9th. Several department officers and those of the district and division will be there, among whom are: Mesdames W. J. Danforth, department president, R. J. Claypool, department chairman of junior activities; John Lee Smith, 4th division president; C. F. Johnson, district community service chairman; R. L. Williams, department publicity, and Miss Calhoun Harris, area C rehabilitation chairman.

Still another hardship modern Burkburnett kids escaped that their parents knew was sulphur and molasses along about this time of year.

Stop Gas Pains! German Remedy Gives Relief

Acting on BOTH upper and lower bowels Adlerika washes out all poisons that cause gas, nervousness and bad sleep. One dose gives relief at once. Corner Drug Store.

Doctors Know!

... and they use liquid laxatives

You'd use a liquid, too, if you knew how much better it makes you feel. A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Just ask your own doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help—and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without aid.

People who have experienced this comfort, never return to any form of help that can't be regulated! The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit. It relieves a condition of biliousness or sluggishness without upset. To relieve your occasional upsets safely and comfortably, try Syrup Pepsin. The druggist has it.

Bright Fresh Fashions For Summer Can Be Easily Enjoyed By Everyone

FAVORED fashions at the Winter sunshine resorts set new gay standards for Spring and Summer. Never before have fabric-makers and stylists worked together so successfully for those who want to dress effectively, yet economically. Regard these cotton costumes. One is green plaid seersucker, with wide sleeves, pleated skirt and yellow blouse. With it are shown a small white panama hat of new lines, white alligator handbag, white cotton gloves and white and brown opera pumps. The other is cotton piece dress with high-button blouse and four mannish, serviceable pockets, all in the much-discussed Regency manner and Regency blue. The hat matches. Comfortable and practical as these simple styles are, with all the smartness they have in addition, they gain much in value to any wearer because of the ease with which they can be kept spic-and-span throughout the summer. A quick washing in the family wash tub, or an ironing just as brief, and the costumes are as attractive as

Oldsmobile Has Record Breaking Sales For 1935

The increasing demand for every possible safety feature that can be built into an automobile has had a marked effect on the record breaking sales of Oldsmobiles since the announcement of the new cars, according to D. E. Ralston, vice president and general sales manager of Oldsmobile.

"Buying in the early part of the year has been phenomenal," said Mr. Ralston, "and the fact that Oldsmobile not only has retained all proven safety features but also added many new ones has resulted in an unprecedented demand for our new cars."

"For instance, in 21 major automobile shows in the principal buying centers in America, Oldsmobile sales have been more than three times those of last year. Favorable public reaction to Oldsmobile's safety features is clearly apparent."

"The new solid steel 'turret top' body by Fisher has drawn the interest of a large percentage of those in the market for new cars. Not only does this new steel roof add safety in itself but it also materially strengthens the entire body structure, giving Oldsmobile a body that has steel above, steel below, and steel all around."

"Moreover, the seamless steel roof permits a beauty and grace of line never before possible."

"In addition to the new top, and the resultant increase of 40 per cent in body rigidity, Oldsmobile also offers for the safety of driver and passengers, bigger super-hydraulic brakes, which stop the car in a straight line swiftly and surely; Fisher no-draft ventilation, which insures clear vision in all sorts of weather; redistribution of weight, for better balance, stability and comfort; ride stabilizer which eliminates roll and sway on curves; and knee-action wheels which, with center-control steering give more complete and certain control of the car at all times."

 ... "Strange as it may seem," Miss LaPine declares, "perfect features and perfect beauty are not at all necessary in creating an illusion of beauty—either for screen work or social purposes. In Hollywood the Max Factor Studios work night and day to develop new tricks of make-up, and it would be a revelation to most people outside the film col-

 ... "Practically no star in pictures has perfect eyes with exactly correct spacing between them, a perfect nose, perfect mouth, perfect forehead, and it falls to the lot of the make-up department to correct such cases before the stars face the cameras. What we have learned to do, with the deft touches of make-up, is to emphasize the more interesting features and subdue the others. And the same principles that we apply to our make-up technique working at the studios can be successfully used by girls and women in general."
 ... The Max Factor make-up expert is among the Hollywood motion picture technicians who are traveling around the world with the studio-on-wheels. The other film experts, including cameramen, soundmen and projectionists, will also be available to answer questions of visitors relative to their particular work when the Traveling Studio arrives here and is opened for public inspection.

Adjusted Service Certificates
 The long drawn out fight on the question of paying the balance due on the Adjusted Service Certificates is at last drawing to a close. The House Ways and Means Committee has been holding hearings on the merits of the various bills for some time now and Wednesday March 6th, finally reported out the Vinson Bill. The next day the Committee began its discussion of the rule under which this would be presented to the House and by a vote of 14 to 9 approved Thursday, a procedure that will allow a vote on the Patman Bill. Backers of the Vinson Bill were elated over the favor shown that bill by the Committee in voting 14 to 11 to report it instead of the Patman Bill, but Congressman Patman declared that his bloc is gaining strength steadily. The bill has been placed on the calendar for the 14th, 15th and 16th of March, if that much time is necessary, and the hottest debate of this session is expected.

Extension Of HOLC
 Thursday, March 7th, the House began its debate on the bill to extend the Home Owners Loan Corporation. Friday amendments seeking increases of three to five billion dollars were voted down when the House adopted an amendment limiting the increase to $1,750,000,000. There were plenty of enemies to even this amount, some of them declaring that the only reason for passage was to permit the unloading of more worthless mortgages on to Uncle Sam. An amendment permitting loans on homes containing shops was also adopted and this will include a number of persons heretofore ineligible for loans due to the restriction made on combination dwellings. Another amendment was adopted restricting the refiling of applications to sixty days after enactment. In its present form the bill will not permit a loan to a person not having filed his application previous to November 1st, 1934.

The Independence of Texas

Before the battle of Gonzales was fought the colonists were divided on the question of whether or not they should go to war with Mexico. In order to decide it the people of every district in Texas elected delegates to meet together and consult with each other. For this reason the meeting was called the consultation. Before it met the battle was fought, and that settled the question without the need of further discussion. There was still enough work for the consultation to do, however, so early in November, after the siege of San Antonio was begun it assembled at San Felipe. Three important things are to be remembered about its work: 1. it organized a provisional government; 2. it adopted regulations for the formation of a regular army, and elected General Sam Houston to command it; and 3. as we have seen, it elected Austin, William H. Wharton, and Branch T. Archer to go to the United States and ask the people for help.

The government as arranged by the consultation was to consist of a governor, a lieutenant-governor, and a general council. It elected Henry Smith governor, James W. Robinson, lieutenant-governor, and one man from each district in Texas to compose the council. It was the business of the governor and the council to carry out the regulations for organizing the regular army, to continue the work of getting help from the United States, to procure supplies for the volunteer before San Antonio, and to do every thing possible for the welfare of the country. For a while they worked harmoniously together to do all this, but then they commenced to quarrel over which had the most authority, and after that everything was neglected. This caused the people to elect a new assembly, the convention, to take the place of both the governor and the council.

The convention met at Washington on the Brazos, March 1, 1836. It first notified the governor and the council that their services were no longer required, and then turned its attention to three important things. These were: 1. a declaration of independence from Mexico; 2. the writing of a constitution for Texas as an independent country; and 3. the election of temporary officers to carry on the government until permanent ones could be chosen by the people. We must now briefly study each of these measures separately.

In the campaign of 1835 the Texans were fighting not only for themselves but for all the Mexicans to prevent Santa Anna from changing the government of Mexico. As they expressed it, they were fighting to preserve the republican constitution of 1824. But they soon saw that most of the Mexicans cared nothing about the constitution, and that they must either submit, or declare independence and continue the war for themselves. You would hardly need to be told which alternative they accepted—they declared independence. And here are some of the reasons which they gave for the declaration. They said: 1. that Mexico had invited the Americans to settle Texas and promised them the protection of a republican government like that to which they were accustomed in the United States, but that Santa Anna had now so changed the government that it pressed instead of protecting them; 2. that Santa Anna had overthrown the government of Coahuila and Texas; 3. that he kept Austin in prison without a cause; 4. that he had demanded the surrender of their most prominent citizens, to be tried by military officers; 5. that the colonists were denied the right of trial by jury; and finally 6. that Mexico had failed to establish a system of public education. For these and other reasons they proclaimed Texas a free and independent republic. This was done on March 2, 1836, and in commemoration of that day we Texans now celebrate every 2nd of March as a holiday.

Junior News

Home Economics

The girls of the home economics department prepared and served a luncheon to about thirty members of the American Legion last Friday, March 8. Music during the meal was furnished by Ruby Louise Bihop. The principal speaker was the State Commander of the American Legion. On the program was also a reading by Jean Thompson.

Decorations of red and white were used. The menu:

Creamed Beef on Toast
Spanish Rice      Buttered Carrots
Beans              Spiced Apples
Fruit Salad

Rolls                      Butter
Date Roll              Coffee

The proceeds from this luncheon will go towards paying the expense on our trip to the Home Makers Rally which will be held in Corpus Christi, April 25-27.

Freshman-Soph. Picnic

The high Freshman, with Miss Ella Billingslea as sponsor, gave the H9-1 section of the Sophomores a delightful picnic Friday night. A truck with a load of Sophomores and several cars with Freshmen left the high school about 6:15 bound for Prescott Farm. Soon after everyone had arrived a regular picnic lunch was spread and everyone ate until they couldn't eat. After the lunch the group played games and about 8:00 everyone started home. The Freshman gave the picnic because they lost a contest which they ran with the H 9-1 last semester.

The H 9-1 wishes to express their thanks to the Fish for such a perfect picnic and say that they had a wonderful time.

Office News

A committee from the Current Literature Club, composed of Mrs. N. R. Vaught, Mrs. W. D. Bent, and Mrs. J. M. Thomas has started the beautification of the corner of the campus where the old residence formerly was. This committee has planted evergreens, shrubs and annual flowers.

Gene Forman, formerly of B. H. S. now of Grace-Barrow Chevrolet Co., Denton, visited in Burkburnett last week end.

The track boys are going to and invitation track meet at Electra Friday night.

The first report of the scholastic census has been received and the total at present is 1,116. This number is about the same as was counted in the first graph last year.

The total enumerated last year was 1,353, fifty-three of which were colored. Authorities expect the total to reach 1,350 before the end of the month. A check is being made to see that no one has been overlooked in the school. A house to house census will be made in the school district by the teachers in the near future.

Senior Party

The Seniors had a party March 8, 1935 at Lorean Alvey's home. Games were played and an enjoyable time was reported by all.

After the party everyone went to the drug store for refreshments.

High School Library

Through W. D. McFarlane, the Congressman for the 13th district of Texas, the High School Library has received some valuable material printed at the United States Government Printing Office.

One of the items is the "Statistical Abstract of the United States, 1934", containing tables of population, resources, commerce, social and economic conditions in the U. S., with a small bit of information about foreign countries. Mr. McFarlane also sent some pamphlet material on the topics for extempore speaking.

Another book recently added to the book collection in the library is Volume 7 of "Lands of Peoples". This very attractive book is used as reference material for students interested in Latin America.

Hall Of Fame

The main hall on the lower floor of the High School Building has been turned into a hall of fame. As you enter the building you will see seven plaques. The plaques give recognition to the outstanding athletes of the 1934 football team. Howard Bentley was the most valuable man. Louis Sims, All District; Other Wheeler, best tackler; Johnnie Baptiste, hardest fighter; Eddie Young, best blocker; Ray Lawler, harder worker; G. L. Shaffer, highest scholastic standing. Each year the name of the boy who wins one of the honors will be added to the specific plaque. This should be an honor to any red blooded American Youth to have his name hung in the Hall of Fame. Years after he has finished Burkburnett High School his name and his deeds will be remembered.

Typing In the Interscholastic League

The University Interscholastic League has conducted a series of district or regional typewriting tournaments and a state tournament each year since 1927. Typing in county meets is optional for two reasons. In the first place, some counties do not have enough schools offering the subject to warrant a contest. In the second place, those schools offering typing would have an unfair advantage if they were awarded points for typing. For this last reason no points are given in typewriting towards determining the county all-round championship.

There is only one division in the typewriting contest. Only schools accorded credit in typing by the State Department of Education and which follow the time-schedule required by the State Department are eligible to compete. Only those students who are eligible under the general rules of eligibility set down by the League, and who have had no regular instruction in typing prior to September 1, last, may compete.

Each school entering the contest shall be required to enter a team of two as a minimum. Schools having an enrollment of thirty in first year typing shall add to their team of two, one additional pupil for every twenty or fraction thereof enrolled in excess of thirty. Pupils having had regular instruction in typing prior to September 1, and pupils who will be graduated at mid-term are not counted in this enrollment. Under this arrangement Burkburnett is entitled to a team of three contestants.

All students who enter the county contest are allowed to compete in the district contest. In fact, the county contest is merely a practice meet. Last year, for the first time, eliminations were made at the district meet. Before that time a student could go as far as the regional meet without any elimination, for typing was not made a part of the district meet. Now the five students making the highest scores in the district contest are eligible to compete in the regional contest. The three students making the highest scores in the regional contest are eligible to compete in the state contest. The county contest for Wichita County is to be held at Electra, the regional meet at Denton, and the state meet at Austin.

The International Contest Rules for checking errors are followed. The length of the test must be exactly fifteen minutes. Warming-up tests may be given, but just one official test may be counted. The official material, which is sent from Austin, must not be practiced before the test.

Scores are based not only upon the number of words written per minute, but also upon the percentage of accuracy. It used to be that only the student's rate counted. Now the percentage of accuracy is added to the rate to find the score. This, of course, gives greater importance to accuracy, which is as it should be. The rate is still figured on the net number of words, after deducting ten words for each error, rather than upon the gross number of words. This means, of course, that still further emphasis is placed upon accuracy.

When a Burkburnett woman is housecleaning she realizes that they now have machines to do everything but the dirty work.

New Problem for AAA

Washington.—The wide apprehension over the increasing cost of food and the prediction by Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture that food prices will ascend something like 11 per cent more before July 1, has given rise to a new problem for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. It threatens to be serious, as food questions always are serious, and as this aspect of the situation becomes better understood its political importance is becoming greater.

There can be no doubt that the New Deal program for raising prices has had its fullest effect on the food prices and therein lies the basis for the trouble now brewing. To make the problem more serious from the political standpoint, increased food prices are felt first and most extensively in the metropolitan areas. It is in these same areas that the greatest number of unemployed live and must be cared for. It becomes plain then that increased food prices are directly interwoven with the problem of relief and it is difficult to predict what mass psychology may be developed from such a circumstance.

There are two sides of the problem from the political standpoint. One of them relates directly to the plans for providing food and affects directly those persons whose employment has been small and who have only limited amounts of money with which to maintain life. The second phase involves the future of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and affects directly the political situation that has for some time revolved about the focal point of the principle of attempting to manage prices as is being done under the AAA.

Connected with the latter phase, and likely to suffer from hard-riding politicians, is the movement within the AAA to broaden its power.

It will be recalled that last year Prof. Rexford Guy Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture and a leading brain trustee, sought to force through congress a series of amendments to the adjustment act which, in the view of many observers, would make the regimentation of farmers a compulsory instead of a voluntary proposition as is now the case. In other words, according to critics of the Tugwell plan, the amendments that were offered and defeated in congress last year would make the Department of Agriculture a veritable dictator over the agricultural industries in this country. Although Mr. Tugwell does not figure in the picture so much this year, the same amendments have been put forward and a considerable amount of pressure is being exerted to obtain an enactment as law. Having defeated them last year, critics of the program, headed by Senator Byrd (Dem., Va.), are mustering in full strength to squelch the amendments again.

While it is yet too early to hazard a guess concerning the results of this battle, attention may be called at this time to some of the potentialities of such a legislative fight. In these debates lies real danger to whatever good there is in the Adjustment act, according to the best information I can get.

The danger is to be observed in this direction: Those who criticize the Tugwell amendments, though they do not now bear his name, are not going to confine their verbal fire to those proposals. They will go, as they did last year, considerably beyond the scope of the proposed legislation. They will attack any and all features of the whole adjustment program and it is not unlikely that their criticism will result in tearing down some of the admittedly good features of this phase of the New Deal.

I have heard considerable comment to the effect that if the brain trusters who are now promoting the new or revised AAA amendments would use good political judgment, they would not press for action on their proposals at this time. In other words, political commentators are to the effect that the brain trusters are diving headlong into a whirlpool in which they may find themselves unable to swim. It is plainly a combination of circumstances with which they are confronted. Those were enumerated above. To many observers, therefore, it appears most foolhardy for the supporters of this extreme legislation to go further in their attempt to "strengthen the Adjustment Act" at a time when mainly Mr. Roosevelt does not have complete control of congress and at a time when the strongest tide of opposition to regimentation is running.

It is to be remembered with respect to the legislative situation that there will be opposition, as indeed there already has been opposition developed from among the processors. It should be explained that the revised amendments would place all of the processors under licenses from the Department of Agriculture. Without such licenses they become the equivalent of bootleggers in the prohibition days and no one can foretell what the reaction would be to this. My understanding is that there are something like one hundred thousand of these processors in the various lines of agricultural commodities some ing under the jurisdiction of the Adjustment act. In addition to the processors, about nine hundred thousand retailers handling these products are subjected to control, directly or indirectly, by AAA licenses. Consequently, we see more than a million who could do business only if the Department of Agriculture saw fit to grant licenses. And when I say the Department of Agriculture, in law, it simmers down to the secretary of agriculture, Secretary Wallace's policies and his personal attitude, I believe, are not such as to give cause for alarm respecting administration of these proposed licensing provisions. Yet, it has been freely suggested that a time may come when the secretary of agriculture will be neither as good nor as wise as Mr. Wallace. You can make your own guess as to the possibilities under the regime of a secretary of agriculture who was not big enough for the job.

These circumstances and conditions, in the minds of many observers here, point only to one thing now: the Adjustment act and the program drafted thereunder is not as popular as it was before it went into operation. Judging from correspondence received by representatives and senators, the Adjustment program is actually repugnant to some sections. I believe it only fair to state, however, that the Adjustment program is not blamed wholly for the increase in prices but always in times like these and under circumstances like those to which attention has been directed there has to be a goat. Apparently that goat is going to be the Department of Agriculture and its step-child, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

While all of the newspapers are printing many columns in review of two years of the Roosevelt administration and much attention is being paid to

Garner Overlooked

President Roosevelt, it seems to me that one stalwart of the administration—Vice President John N. Garner—is being somewhat overlooked. It seems to me, also, that this should not be the case because all observers agree that Mr. Garner has placed the vice presidency of the United States on something of a new plane.

Much levity always has been directed at any man holding the job of vice president. It is true that the vice president is seldom, if ever, out front, as the expression is. With Mr. Garner, however, it has been decidedly different. I believe, from all of the discussions that I have heard since his election, Mr. Garner has filled, and is filling, a very constructive post in this administration.

Although Mr. Garner weighs about the same and is no taller; while he dresses much as he did before and his wit and humor is much the same, it certainly can be said that he is a much bigger man in the eyes of the people of this country than he was a few years ago. In other words, given the opportunity, Mr. Garner has performed in a way that probably will record him in history as among the outstanding individuals who have filled that second ranking elective post in our government.

It is not generally known, I think, how much influence Mr. Garner wields in the Roosevelt administration. He sits with Mr. Roosevelt and the other members in the cabinet meetings and there is no doubt among observers here that those men learn upon the long experience which the vice president has had.

We Import Corn!

The port of Baltimore, Md., witnessed an unusual sight the other day, arrival of a shipload of corn from Argentina. It was the first full cargo ever to arrive in that port and caused some observers to remark that it appeared to be "carrying coals to Newcastle." This would have been true under conditions such as we used to have in this country before the inauguration of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The AAA has made the difference. Last year, the AAA set about reducing the corn acreage in this country because it was the conviction of the New Deal that production had been too great. Twenty per cent curtailment was decreed. To accomplish that end, the AAA offered to pay farmers at the rate of thirty cents per bushel for not growing corn. The plan worked as it might naturally be supposed to have worked and there was the expected curtailment of production.

But nature took a hand and the drought settled down over the vast corn producing areas of the Middle West. So great was this disaster that there is not now sufficient corn to meet domestic requirements. Importation of corn resulted, and the port of Baltimore had the novel experience of seeing corn shipped in instead of out. Secretary Wallace has defended the AAA policies on the ground that they were exceedingly flexible and could be used to increase or decrease production as conditions required. It seems, however, that corn has a habit of growing only during the summer months and if the production in that period is insufficient the winter months must witness a shortage.

Day's Production Of Dodge Now Reaches One Thousand Cars

Dodge officials were hosts at an informal factory luncheon tendered to a number of invited guests, among them representatives of the press. The gathering was prompted by two co-related occasions, one being the desire of K. T. Keller, president of Dodge Division, Chrysler Motors, to make public announcement of the appointment of William J. O'Neil the company's factory manager, to the post of general manager. Mr. Keller introduced Mr. O'Neil, whose rise to automotive prominence and latest promotion are chronicled elsewhere.

The second occasion was the event which took place in the Dodge main plant, on two fully manned assembly lines. Here A. vanDerZee, general sales manager of Dodge, spoke briefly of the rising tide of orders which foreshadows the necessity of a further increase in passenger car production.

"A sudden production increase, even one of 25 per cent," vanDerZee explained, "requires calculations, the strategic distribution of man power, the preparation and pre-manufacture of components in advance of assembly, the matching of units according to colors, the feeding of ground and overhead conveyors that must carry parts and sub-assemblies to points where they are wanted, to arrive at the precise moment when they are needed."

Dodge's sales chief compared the two assembly lines to the small ends of gigantic production funnels, the large ends being formed by factory buildings covering over 186 acres of ground, containing nearly six million square feet of floor space and employing in excess of 25,000 workers.

For the first time this season and, indeed, for the first time since the country was overtaken by the late lamented depression, the rate at which completely finished Dodge passenger cars were rolling off the lines, was 'one grand,' or a thousand for the day.

While the performance could be regarded as being in the nature of a rehearsal, no interruption occurred in the stepped-up production rate and there was every certainty, it was said, that the thousandth car completed that day would be rolling toward the shipping docks at the sound of the closing whistle.

Never Forget A Customer And Never Let Him Forget You

Originated by William E. Holler, general sales manager of Chevrolet Motor Company, this now famous slogan is placed above the desks of Chevrolet dealers throughout the country, and it is a guide to relations between Chevrolet owners and dealers everywhere.

"The value to the motorist of his contact with the automobile dealer of today," said Mr. Holler, in commenting on this subject, "is determined largely by the ability of the dealer to meet the motorist's demands. Especially is this true as it applies to service on cars already sold."

"Today Chevrolet is in the hands of approximately 10,000 dealers in this country alone. This means that the complete service facilities of one of the world's largest distributing organizations are at the disposal of owners of more than 5,000,000 Chevrolet cars now in operation in every state in the Union."

"It has been, and always will be, the constant aim of Chevrolet dealers to serve car owners with complete maintenance facilities," said Mr. Holler. "The service rendered to Chevrolet owners is not only thorough and comprehensive, but scientific and meticulous. We insist that every dealer's service man be a specialist in his line.

"Chevrolet maintains a service manager and a crew of service instructors in every one of its 43 zones for the purpose of training dealers' service managers and mechanics in the best-known methods of shop practice and service station management. At regular intervals, classes are held in each zone for service men from surrounding territories."

"Another distinctive feature of Chevrolet service," Mr. Holler pointed out, "is the special tool and precision machinery equipment which is available to every Chevrolet dealer. The use of these practical counterparts of the production tools actually used in the manufacture of Chevrolet cars, greatly lessens maintenance cost and insures standard methods of repair."

"Dealers, by the use of these tools and the special instruction afforded their service departments, may perform adjustments and services for owners with the same unvarying precision and speed that the factory does in manufacturing the car. It goes without saying that it is to the owners' advantage to make use of the special facilities of Chevrolet dealers for the servicing of Chevrolet cars."

In a backyard workshop somewhere in America a nameless young inventor is at work. Under his tireless hands a strange machine is taking form—a machine whose name or use we may not even know.

But someday your grandchild will say: "How hard life must have been in 1935 without it!" And you will think of the thousands of people to whom the manufacture and sale of that machine have given employment . . . of the millions to whom it has given new ease and convenience . . . of the untold sums in new wealth and purchasing power that this little invention has created. JOHN WILLIAM WELLS

BILL WELLS
 Bill was born September 13, 1917, at West Virginia. Four years later, the Wells family moved to the dear old Lone Star State. They were located a while at Breckenridge, Texas, but later removed to Stringtown. School life began for small "Willie" when he was seven years old at the Stringtown school. He enrolled at Fairview, however, when he was in the third grade and Fairview has had the good fortune of having him for a student all these nine years. Fairview is proud of Bill and has been happy to have him as a student and class mate. Besides being a good sport and a school favorite, he was a valuable man on the basketball team, a prominent member of the boy's Choral Club (especially College Rhythm), a member of the boy's tennis doubles, and an expected valuable track man.

Bill's favorites are: class, study hall; teacher, Mr. Watkins; sport, basketball; hobby, study wild bird life; pastime, talking to Elva; wax, Dentyne; song, "I Believe In Hircles"; food, coney islands, drink, gin (???); actor, Clark Gable; actress, Jean Parker; color, white.

Bill's ambition is to be an ornithologist (???). He intends to go to college when he gets out of high school and after that to "see the world".

As a picture of his idea of the ideal girl, Bill gave us these few pointers: light brown hair, blue eyes, height, about five feet, four inches; fair complexion, must like athletics, and absolutely and positively, must not flirt.

"To be the best of whatever I am," is Bill's motto. Aside from this one, though, it is "Better lit than never".

Everyone knows Bill's description, but nevertheless (just to make this biography complete) he is five feet, nine inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, has brown hair, and eyes that are greenish, brownish, gray.

Let's Go Intellectual

Fairview High School is expecting great things at the interscholastic league meet at Electra from their entries.

The declamation entries will be Ruth Vogel, senior girl's division; Odessa Grizzle, junior girl's division; Jack Bryarly, senior boy's division; and J. C. Cawthorn, junior boy's division.

Those representing the school in spelling are Milbri Lu Hoffman and Evelyn Mills, high school division; Wilma Wigham, Johnnie Gifford, grades VI and VII; and Bettie Lee Parker and Fannie McCraw, grades IV and V.

Ruth Vogel will represent the ready writers contest.

The arithmetic team consist of Wilma Wigam and J. C. Cawthorne, and the young story-teller from Fairview may be La Fon Farrington.

Ada Marsh will, in all probability, represent the school in extemporaneous speaking.

The representatives for tennis have not at this time been chosen.

Regrets

We regret the loss of the Vogel home and the injuries received by Mr. J. F. Vogel, father of Ruth Vogel. We sincerely hope Mr. Vogel recovers rapidly.

Shower

Thursday afternoon the Senior class sponsored a shower for Ruth Vogel. The entire high school and faculty attended.

School was dismissed about ten minutes early in order that every one wishing to attend could do so. Ruth was in the auditorium singing with the choral club. The guests were all sent to the study hall and seated. Mrs. R. D. Watkins, the senior sponsor, took Ruth to her home room and was giving her pointers on her declamation while Ada Marsh was bringing the lovely gifts from the teacherage and arranging them on the study hall desk. Mrs. Watkins told Ruth to say her declamation for assembly. Ruth came into the study hall expecting to do this when her eyes were turned to the desk. She was surprised; it was amusing to watch her. She received many beautiful and useful gifts.

McALESTER, Ok., March 10—Religious songs, led by a woman, competed with card games to allay the hunger pangs of 250 demonstrators who occupied the Pittsburg County courthouse here Sunday, demanding food and work.

"We have pleaded and talked and prayed continually all night," said Mrs. Viola Watson, the 55-year-old leader.

"We have been praying to God and singing religious songs in an effort to keep the situation under control."

John Eddleman, Oklahoma relief director, said Saturday that food would be denied the demonstrators until they returned to their homes.

They received no food Sunday. McAlester citizens fed them bread, coffee and small portions of meat Saturday night.

Mrs. Watson warned that the situation is becoming serious and at any time may get out of hand. The crowd, however, displayed no intention of violence.

While the majority sang or prayed under Mrs. Watson's leadership two card games progressed on the other side of the courtroom.

WHAT A MUNICIPAL LIGHT PLANT MEANS TO YOU

1. Lower rates
2. Interest in YOUR problems
3. Your money returned to YOU
4. Lowered taxes eventually
5. Money kept at home
6. Civic improvements

These are only a few benefits each citizen derives in a town which operates its light plant. It is up to the individual to better his community as a whole, and a municipally owned plant is a boost for any town. It is up to every citizen to back what he knows is backing him.

Texas Members of W. O. W. Will Meet in Waco Soon

HEAD CONSUL W. A. TIDWELL EXPECTS LARGE ATTENDANCE AT STATE MEETING

De E. Bradshaw

An unusually large attendance of members of the Woodmen of the World of Texas is expected at the biennial Head Camp meeting of the organization at Waco, March 28-29-30 according to an announcement today by W. A. Tidwell, head consul for the state.

Among those prominent in the organization in the state who will attend are: Junior Past Head Consul E. Z. Crowder, Dallas; Head Clerk W. C. Cox, Mineral Wells; Head Banker E. C. Meador, McKinney; R. E. Miller, one of the National Directors who is also state manager, also will attend.

National officers who will attend the meeting include: Directors, W. C. Braden, Lake Charles, Louisiana, Farrar Newberry, Little Rock, Arkansas, and R. E. Miller, of Dallas, Texas.

Head Consul Tidwell said he expected a big attendance because of the record-breaking achievements of the Woodmen of the World during the last two years under the leadership of De E. Bradshaw president of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Association.

At this meeting delegates also will be elected to the national convention, the supreme representative legislative body of the Woodmen of the World.

One of the features of the meeting will be the initiation of a large class of members from all sections of the state.

Elaborate ceremonies will attend the formal induction into membership.

Woodmen of the World members, it was pointed out, are always keenly interested in the progress of this state because the national association has a large investment in its municipal, county and state securities.

Members and delegates will review the achievements of the past year and make plans for continued growth and expansion this year.

Nineteen-thirty-four was a year of outstanding achievements for the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Association when more than $81,000,000 in new business was written. This was an increase of more than $34,000,000 over 1933.

The gross assets of the association have grown to more than $119,000,000, making it outstanding as the largest and richest fraternal life insurance association in the world. The consistent growth of the association, which operates in 44 states of the Union, is shown by the fact that in 1934 its gross assets increased more than $4,000,000, with a net gain of 12,322 members.

The association has invested more than $108,000,000 in government, state, county and municipal bonds. Since its organization in 1890 it has paid in death losses and disability benefits more than $240,000,000. It has a membership of more than 355,000.

Woodmen officials generally give credit to President Bradshaw for the unusual achievements and growth in the last two years. He was elected to the presidency after serving the national organization for many years as general attorney.

He has taken an aggressive interest in all Woodmen of the World activities and in particular has devoted his personal attention to improvement and enlarging the War Memorial tubercular sanitarium at San Antonio, Tex., an institution where members of the organization are cared for without cost.
