Dogs To Scrap Plans In Annual Battle Here Friday

Game For Three Weeks Bring Nocona To Local Gridiron

TRA WINS LAST GAME

Most magic recovery after crushing attack from the Tigers in the first half, the Bulldogs gave notice to the Nocona last half of the game on how the Bulldogs played. The lopsided score of 14-0 was not just measurement of difference between the teams, but it was on the gridiron. In meeting the Indians, the Bulldogs will have a change of the knowledge fought the Tigers to a draw and had the advantage in the last two periods.

Statistics

A summary of the game at Burk made 12 firstdowns, 10 for the entire game. Burk completed five passes and to Electra's two passes. Burk punted an average of 40 yards to Electra's 40 yards. Summary indicates how well Burk held the class A team. Burk team received some help. They scored their first touchdowns on six downs. In half the Tigers were unable to get a single first down until the late part of the game. The Bulldogs led up nine first downs during the game. They played inside the 40 yard line every minute of the game.

Stars For Burk

It will be difficult to point out the stars of the Burk team. The game was well balanced. While Burk and McKown did most of the scoring, Finch and Teal were the way for them with some blocking and by taking care of themselves. Major and Majors stood out in the Burk experience aided them. Cook, Whitten, Lowery, and Duke did some bang up work on both blocking and tackling.

The boldest thefts ever at Burk came to a sad end when the chief of police of Oklahoma arrested a Mr. Whatley at the Burk station on a charge of theft. The car with which Whatley is charged with having disappeared in open daylight on the side of the Barrow-Grace road last Monday morning. It was parked there by a salesman in a demonstration of the 1935 model.

The man was turned over to federal authorities after some work on the part of the Burk man was charged with theft when an examination of the local bus station tickets revealed the fact that he had reserved immediately after the alleged theft was supposed to occur.

Jo Coffey Dies At Wichita Falls Wed. From Pistol Wound

Burk Gasoline Dealer Succumbs After Months Fight For Life At Hospital

ACCIDENTALLY WOUNDED

Jo Coffey, 28, Magnolia salesman for this district who was accidentally shot in the chest with a 32 caliber pistol, Sept. 5, died at Wichita Falls hospital Wednesday night at 10:20 o'clock. Coffey had been in the hospital since the day following the accident. The fatal accident occurred near the Cashion school when Coffey stopped for a brief conversation with his wife after he had started to Wichita Falls.

Coffey had started to Wichita Falls for a load of kerosene and his wife had gone after him to tell him of an emergency order for gasoline that had been phoned in to Burk Burnett. The accident occurred when Coffey attempted to transfer the gun from his belt to the pocket of the car. In transferring the gun Coffey accidentally pulled the trigger and dropped the gun to the floor of the car. The bullet entered the chest and ranged upward through the left lung and out at the back.

A passerby was stopped and carried Coffey to the Burk Clinic where he was given emergency treatment as soon as he arrived. The following day he was carried to Wichita Falls to the hospital. At that time the doctors were amazed at his living the period that he did, and they never gave much hope for his recovery.

Later he showed evidence of improvement, and hope was held for his recovery. However, about a week ago he began to weaken and death came exactly one month after the accidental shot.

After the wound, the case was very thoroughly investigated by the police of Burk Burnett and the county officials from Wichita Falls. These officials issued a statement confirming the statement of the wounded man that he had shot himself accidentally, resulting from the transfer of the gun.

The only eye witness who was present in the car at the time of the accident, stated that he did not see the shot in as much as he had started the truck and was attempting to regain the highway after it had been parked. On hearing the shot he looked around to see Jo slumped in the seat.

The body was carried to Electra Wednesday night, where Coffey's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Coffey live. Funeral arrangements had not been made Thursday morning. Other survivors are Mrs. Coffey, and two children Jean 5, and Jo Jr. 3.

Cotton Picking Is Under Way In All Sections Of Area

The reports from the two gins in Burk Burnett indicated that the 500 mark in bales of cotton would be reached early this week. The reports early Tuesday morning was as follows: Burk Burnett Gin 201 bales. Farmers Cooperative Gin, 275. While the picking was delayed slightly during the cold snap, and as clouds have cleared away the gathering of the crop has advanced rapidly and the textile is pouring into the city rapidly.

There is every indication that the crop this year will exceed the crop of last year. The drought and drastic cuts of acreage reduced the crop to less than 2,000 bales. This year the reports of the fields promise that the bales will soon reach that mark and pass it before the season is over. There has been some report of insects invading the fields on both sides of the river, but both the farmers and the cotton experts are of the opinion that the invasion is too late to do a great deal of harm.

Union Meets Elliott In Wichita Thurs. To Arrange Charges

Organization To File Case Under Provisions of Wagner Bill For Discharge

WILL BE TEST CASE

Labor committees representing the union workers of the Bell Oil company and the Bohner Oil company met with Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, representative of the federal relations board in Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon for the presentation of the case under the Wagner act regarding the recent discharge of seven union workers.

According to J. L. Coulter, international secretary for the union, the gathering of evidence to support charges of Wagner act violation has been completed. An attorney accompanied Dr. Elliott in order to assist the laborers in filing the case. Coulter will leave for Washington immediately and be back in Wichita in time to be present at the hearing.

The seven men in whose name the case will be filed were discharged by the Bell and Bohner companies after a seven-day strike that closed the rich Northwest field near Burk Burnett. In discharging the leaders of the strike, the companies stated that they had been released for unsatisfactory service. The laborers assert that the dismissal constituted a violation of the Wagner act. The case will probably be one of the first tests of the national labor bill.

The union held its regular meeting Tuesday night in Burk Burnett with full attendance. The large attendance is an answer to reports that members are planning to disband the organization, union officials declared.

The Northwest field resumed full operations this week. The men who were re-employed have completed the preliminary work reopening. Proper pressure has been reached for the complete operation of the entire field.

Local Apple Tree Has Good Fruit

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bryarly who live in Burk Burnett on West Main street have an apple tree that is bearing fruit for the first time this year. The tree is eight years old, and has some delicious eating apples. The tree is unusual for this section of the country. Not many farmers have been able to secure the successful maturity of this fruit in this area. The tree started making fruit several years ago, and reaching maturity this year has made a successful crop.

Plans Ready For New Bridge Over Red River Break

Calls For Bids Will Be Announced Some Time Next Week Permanent Structure

WILL COST $10,000.00

The plans for a permanent structure to replace the temporary "shoo-fly" that has been in use since June at the break in the free Red River bridge near Burk Burnett have been completed, and the bids for the structure will be called within the next few days. The Texas highway department officials made the announcement Wednesday in Wichita Falls.

The three sections totaling 120 feet were swept out last May when the Red River went on a rampage and took the lives of four Burk Burnett citizens, including the chief of police. For several days the bridge was impassable. However, the city officials of Burk Burnett constructed a temporary trolley for passage across the break.

Temporary Structure

The rough estimate of the highway official indicates that the structure will cost $10,000.00. It will replace a temporary structure that was erected by the state officials around the break. However, the highway authorities have warned the people that although the life of the bridge would ordinarily last two or three years, but that the next rise might carry it away.

The contracts probably will be let next Tuesday when several other projects will be under way at the same time. The bridge will be completed in time to carry the traffic from the centennial visitors next year.

Italy Starts War In Eithopia With Dawn Wed. Morn

A heavy mass of Italian troops started southward and northward at dawn Wednesday (Thursday in Burk) morning to crush the Ethiopian nation to submission. Squadrons of planes flew forward to the first distinctive assignments. For several months the two nations have been on the verge of hostilities, and the Italian dictator only waited for favorable fighting conditions.

The Italian machine-like army found dry land for the first time Wednesday, and the troops moved out to conquest. The first objective on the north is Adowa, and the southern point will be Addis Ababa, the capitol of the 7,000 year old empire.

The whole world stands nervously watching the war, and anxiously watches the effect on the other nations. The general opinion of observers is that the entire world will be drawn into the conflict.

Police And Fire Departments Make Report of Month

The police report included 8 drunks, 2 vagrancy, 2 theft, 1 embezzlement, and one shoplifting to the chief of police were thrown into the city jail and released without fine after a few hours confinement.

OFFENSIVE ADVERTISING

The person who thought of the idea of advertising the wares of a business concern by placing them on the sidewalk in front of the business house certainly was not a student of practical psychology. Almost every day in the week there is comment in this city about how offensive such practice is to the pedestrian.

Some of the business houses of this city seem to think that if the people walking down the street have to step around an object placed there to advertise it, that the company has gained. Such companies would have to talk to only two or three really honest persons to find how badly mistaken they are in that idea.

We have actually heard of a sale amounting to several hundred dollars being changed due to that practice. On a smaller scale, we have heard several people declare that they would not enter a place of business that blockaded the sidewalks with materials. And more important, we personally know that these persons have not been back to the offending firms place of business.

The public mind is a delicately balanced apparatus. Even the slightest offense may mean the difference between a satisfied friend and customer and an enemy. We do not write because we are bitter about the subject, but merely to advise those companies that use the sidewalks, especially on Saturday when the traffic is heavy—that they are doing something that is endangering to the goodwill that every company must have to survive.

FIRE PREVENTION

Burkburnett has a good rating in the key for fire credit, and this rating is primarily the result of a well planned system of prevention. After a fire is started, there isn't much that can be done. Advanced education along the lines of precautions that are to be taken for prevention, can work wonders in this community. The students and public must become more conscious of the importance of the campaign.

Every club and organization in the city ought to emphasize as part of the program next week this section of the national educational program. The schools will be well drilled both in prevention and escape in case of fire. If the rest of the public is well drilled as the schools the community will be well trained.

The chief fires could be prevented. In most cases the flames are the result of a little carelessness on the part of a person that knows better. Each of the entire citizenship ought to made to realize that the public suffers as well as the individual when a fire starts.

MEMORIAL TO A PATRON

There is some slight discussion among the students and exes at the high school of erecting a memorial to Mrs. Mary C. Hardin. It would be appropriate to remember the patron of the schools in such a manner. Mrs. Hardin came to Burkburnett to teach school, and the first years of her life was devoted to the guiding of the youngsters of a rough pioneer community.

Had she done nothing else to advance the educational institutions of the city, that fact alone would have been sufficient to justify memorialization. However, her keen interest in every phase of activity of the school places her high as a patron of the community educational project. Even more important than her general interest in the school as a whole, the personal interest in individuals that have been able to complete technical or professional training deserves perpetuation.

It might be possible for the students and exes to erect a shaft or give some servicable and needed object to the school which would like Mrs. Hardin serve the school and community for many years. It is possible that the persons who have advanced this idea have made no definite preparation, but it would be well that a concrete organization be set up for the purpose of carrying out the proposed plan.

PUBLIC MARKET

Burkburnett ought to do one of two things—either forbid the sales of products on the streets, such as fruits, vegetables and other farm products, or establish a centralized and controlled market for the peddlers. One of the unfairest things that can possibly be allowed is to permit the persons to come into our city and compete with local merchants on a basis that is entirely unfair to the local business man.

In addition to that it adds another inconvenient problem to already overcrowded streets of the city, although ordinance forbids parking in fire zone. Of course Burk has every sympathy for the farmer and trucker that brings in fruit and vegetables to sell here. However, we have noticed that most of the products are sold by persons not even remotely connected with our trade territory.

In the sale of food in store, the conditions of health and sanitation, are strictly regulated by government ordinance. That is just. The occupation tax is applied to the same people. On the other hand without either health certificate, sanitation regulation, the street salesmen are allowed to compete with our merchants for small fee of $2.50 per six months.

So in order to protect our own farmer and the merchant at the same time, some official regulation of such markets—probably a centralized official market with strict regulations in every phase—should be established.

News of Week

The national coal mining strike gained more attention in Burk than most news events that do not directly affect this territory. The reason for the unusual interest is in the fact that Burk was undergoing a strike at the same time. The 400,000 men that walked out are on their way back to work after the conference between the committee of strikers and operators. The new agreement calls for the increase of 50 cents per day for the workman, and an increase of nine cents per ton of men who dig and load the coal. This strike had been the result of a several year old disagreement between the two factions. Negotiations had been carried to the limit.

League Warning

The League of nations has warned the Italian powers that if Italy makes war before Dec. 4, the League will be required to use force to prevent the conflict. It puzzles the laymen that a definite limit should be placed on the time allowed for the start of war. However, the explanation is that the rules require the presentation of proposition by the assembly that can not be prepared nor presented before that date.

Italian officials made no promises. The only reason that they have not already attacked Ethiopia is that the swamp lands are too boggy to carry Italian armed forces. Italy said that they would wait until these lands dried, but would promise no further delay. It looks like Ethiopia will have to hire a rainmaker.

Legion

Legionnaires probably would be wiser if they would leave the inflation clause out of the demand for bonus. At least the bonus would have a better chance to pass. Probably the best course for the country as a whole would be to include the inflation clause, but it stirs up such rabid opposition that it is not worth defeating the bonus to hold on to at this time.

Most experts firmly agree that the bonus bill would have passed the last time without the provision, and it is apparent that the same question will arise the next session. There are tricks to all trades. If the inflationists have courage to carry on their own battle without trying to ride along on the Legion band wagon a happier solution could be reached. The Legionnaires would get the bonus and the inflation question would be tried on its own merits.

Roosevelt Tour

The shadows of the '36 political campaign are slowly creeping over the American landscape, and among these shadows is the one foretelling the presidential campaign of that year. The president will tour the United States and make four addresses. One of the speeches on farm problems and one on power problems will be broadcast. The farm address will be made at Fremont, Neb., and the utility address at Boulder Canyon.

Both of these questions will be the basis of the race next year. The president will have to defend his policy on both counts to the American people, and he is getting an early start on that defense.

Open Saloon

The house and senate are struggling with the liquor question. The senate committee approved by a 9 to 8 vote to ban the sale of liquor on premises where it is to be consumed, and that bans the open saloon. It was the first test of the legislative definition of the word saloon. The recent repeal amendment passed with the clause that the saloon be abolished or prohibited. The legislative fight is going to be one of the most complicated that we have ever witnessed in this state.

Current Literature

Pearl Buck has with stood the criticism of the church and missionaries, and gone calmly about her art of completing the trilogy about the typical Chinese family of better class. In keeping true to facts in the original "Good Earth," the writer was bound to step on a lot of toes and produce some dismaying outcries.

That is exactly what happened. When her books became best sellers so that they were on the required reading list, the church of which she was a member demanded an explanation of her merciless criticism of the missionary activities in the Orient. The organization went so far as to ask the lady to withdraw from the church.

In completing the trilogy we follow three types of families through a period of 50 years. The first family "Good Earth" was a farmer. The books, was depressing at times, and many people found it uninteresting. To the experienced Chinese explorer or student of the country it held a grim charm.

More complete was the typical warlord as found in the second of the series "Sons." In the mediaeval home of old China the warlord slashes his way through life to make a story that carries forward both the history analogy and the social development of China.

These two stories would not have been complete without the final volume, "A House Divided."

Of "House Divided" Dorothy Canfield, critic and novelists, says, "Mrs. Buck takes us behind the screen, turns on that mystery, the clear light of her understanding, leads us to the very heart of the stranger within our gates."

In this criticism, Mrs. Canfield refers to the new style that the author adopts. We lose the glamour and mystery of the old China background. The hero, a member of the Wang family, Yuan, is a modern youth of China. He is caught between the old and the new impulses of a changing nation. Educated in America he goes back to his native land to take up the youth movement and thereby breaks with his family. As Canfield said, he went back to find his people "in the traveling birth-pangs of a new era or —is it groaning in the death of an old one."

It is a rich full-bodied novel that shows the story of the young nations gaining its spiritual independence. That is the bitter work of Buck marriage struggle that the youth of tion makes for independence thought and action.

The author has not neglected romance of the youth. Character impersonal figures to read and to find that they feel as human beings, is a revelation to Westerners.

Incidentally, although it is hard to do with the novel, Mrs. Buck has changed her name legally. She is married recently to a publisher. That ought to be a excellent combination. She writes under the name Pearl

Norma Shearer Comes Back In Great Success

Few motion pictures are able to stand the test of being reissued following their initial release but Norma Shearer's triumphant film version of the famous stage classic, "Smilin' Through," in which she is supported by Frederic March and Leslie Howard, is one of those rare productions which have lingered in the hearts of moviegoers the world over.

So great has been the demand upon the part of the public to see this picture once again that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is bringing "Smilin' Through" back to the screen of the Tex Theatre where it will be shown for two days, beginning Monday.

Leonard Beard, recent delegate to Presbytery made the report of the business and devotional meetings of the society at the morning services Sunday.

SENIORS SELECT RINGS

Heretofore the Senior classes have gone through a series of meetings with many different ring salesmen, and other unsatisfactory means, securing their rings. This year the Seniors are ordering their rings through local dealer, Dr. D. R. Peevey. This is going to do away with the unsatisfactory practices of the former way of securing rings.

The rings which the Senior class of '35 has chosen are going to be somewhat different to those formerly chosen in Burkburnett. This is probably the first year the Srs. of Burkburnett have selected a ring with a stone, but the class is very fond of its selection since it is something different and indeed very beautiful.

The selection of invitations was also made through a local agent. The class is expecting satisfaction from this method.

GREEN HANDS ORGANIZE

A meeting was held Sept. 27 to elect officers in the first year vocational agriculture class. Officers were chosen as follows.

- Bud 100 stone fruit trees.
- Terrace 1,000 acres of land.
- Organize softball and basket ball club.
- Attend a summer camp.

The students of the High School are receiving instructions in the use of the library, with the classes being taught by the librarian during the home room period each day. Mr. Creighton: (While shaving) What in the world can be the matter with my face. It's all covered with green blotches. I must be coming down with some terrible disease.

La Nelle: But, Mother, I was only looking to see if he was looking to see if he was looking to see if I was looking to see.

Mr. Hill: You might be elected to the state legislature.

Father: My son, I want to impress you with the fact that it takes even more judgment to spend money wisely than to make it.

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trip package, (Adv.)

STUDENT COUNCIL

Members of the Student Council met Wednesday morning for the purpose of deciding on some method of maintaining cleanliness in the school building and on the school grounds.

It was decided that each grade would take part; taking weekly turns, starting with the Seniors. They are to see that the grounds are free from all papers and rubbish. Waste barrels are being placed on the grounds and each person is expected to put these barrels into use.

It was also decided that the school would have assembly every other Thursday morning. The Freshmen, first grade, and fifth grade will furnish the program for this coming Thursday. The next Thursday the Sophomores, the second grade and the eighth grade will have charge of the program. The Juniors, fourth and sixth grade; the Seniors, third and seventh grades will have charge of programs in the order named.

Everyone will have a chance to participate in the program and do his part to make this plan a success. The Seniors are keeping their part of the agreement to keep the school grounds clean.

HOW TO COOK HUSBANDS by Home Economics Class

A good many husbands are entirely spoiled by mismanagement in cooking, and so are not tender and good. Some women keep them too constantly in hot water; others freeze them, others roast them, others put them in a stew, and others keep them constantly in a pickle. It cannot be supposed that any husband will be good and tender managed in this way, but as a class, husbands are really delicious when properly treated. In selecting your husband you should not be guided by the silvery appearance, as in buying mackerel; nor by the golden tint as if you wanted salmon. Be sure and select him yourself, as tastes differ. Do not go to the market for him, as those brought to the door are better. It is far better to have none, than not to know how to cook them correctly. It does not make so much difference what you cook him in as how you cook him. See that the linen in which he is wrapped is white and nicely mended, with the requested number of strips and buttons. Don't keep him in the kettle by force; he will stay there himself if proper care is taken. If he sputters or fizzes do not be anxious, some husbands do this; and a little sugar in the form of what confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account. A little spice improves them, but it must be used with judgment.

Do not try him with anything sharp to see if he is becoming tender. Stir him gently the while, lest he stays too long in the kettle and becomes flat and tasteless. If thus treated, you will find him very digestible and tender, agreeing nicely with you, and he will keep as long as you want.

U. S. AGENTS FIGHT CRIME IN NEW FILM

From the secret files of the Department of Justice in Washington were drawn the facts and data on which the story Paramount's "Men Without Names," coming Friday and Saturday to the Palace Theatre is based.

An exciting and colorful story which follows the federal men in their pursuit of the nation's criminals "Men Without Names" stars Fred MacMurray, handsome star of "The Gilded Lily," and Madge Evans.

The action of Men Without Names centers about the tracking down of the gang who pull off a daring armored truck robbery.

Through the money they passed they are trailed to a small Kansas town, where the trail disappears. MacMurray, disguised as an aviation executive, is assigned to the case. He falls in love with the young newspaper woman in the town, traces the gang.

The criminals offer resistance to their capture. It is not until after a thrilling climax in which government forces are massed that the capture is accomplished.

The wholesale disregard of the signal lights at the school will be stopped according to the announcement of the city officials. The lights were placed on the main highway for the purpose of protecting the school children, and the motorists have been disregarding them recently. A police official will be on guard at the school and all violators will be fined for running the red signals. The motorists have been given a warning by the police department, but in the future the tickets will be issued for all persons that do not consider the safety of the children.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 6-12

SAFEGUARD YOUR MONEY AND VALUABLES BY KEEPING THEM IN OUR BANK

Fire prevention is a civic duty which every person owes to himself and to every other person. We all pay for fires . . . we pay for it in loss of business, jobs, etc.

FARMERS STATE BANK SAFETY—SERVICE—EFFICIENCY

DO YOUR PART

Fire Prevention Week is to be observed from October 6 to 12. And here is a thought worth considering in the meantime:

Friendly fire—fire under control—is one of man's greatest boons. It keeps us warm, cooks our foods, motivates our industries, and serves us in countless other ways.

Unfriendly fire—fire out of control—is one of man's greatest enemies. It destroys property—causing irreparable economic loss. It means life. It hampers progress. It threatens community development, and industrial activity and employment.

A building for example, represents something beside money. It represents energy, achievement, labor. It is a factory building it represents creative, productive wealth. When fire destroys that building, insurance will give back part of the money it cost, but nothing can give back energy that was wasted. Nothing can make up for the work lost, the jobs destroyed, the diminished purchasing power the fire caused. The indirect cost of fire—costs which cannot be put into a balance sheet—are the real measure of our national fire waste. Those indirect costs are many times the direct costs.

Somewhere as you read this, a home is being burned to the ground. A factory building is a smoldering ruin. A man is screaming in pain from a burn that will prove fatal. All this is the result of someone's oversight, someone's carelessness, someone's stupidity. Are you willing to do your part to minimize such happenings in the future?

THE MOON SUPREMACY

St. Peter said: "Don't enter here. We have no place for fools!" So out he went, upon an ear As large as any mule's.

(I failed to state, in starting out. This bird we so admire Is he who throws his butts about And starts an awning fire.)

He wandered off, and down and Unto the door of hell, "I can not hope to wear a crown Me for the brimstone smell!"

But Satan snarled: "Hey! Pull fire. We're not so choicy yet. A guy with nothing in his pate Ain't wanted here, you bet!"

Wherefore he drifts about in space And finds no place to rest. Remorse has stamped upon his face "I am the champion pest."

For all men know the world's worth. None other need aspire— Are those who fling out lighted bits And start an awning fire.

Mayor Proclamation

Fire uncontrolled is one of the most serious problems that confronts us today, by reason of the fact that it has taken a heavy toll in the number of people burned to death annually and by reason of the further fact that this form of waste has proven to be a heavy financial burden on each of our citizens.

Fire to a very large degree is preventable by the proper application of education in fire prevention and fire protection.

Now therefore, I, Oscar Kemp, mayor of the city of Burkburnett, do hereby proclaim the week of October 6 to 12 as Fire Prevention Week, during which week I most respectfully urge our civic and commercial organizations, our school officials and teachers, and our citizenship as a whole, to cooperate and work with the fire chief, fire marshal and city officials in an effort to control this useless loss of life and property by fire. Every home and place of business should be inspected carefully and all fire hazards removed.

In testimony whereof, I hereunto sign my name and affix my seal of office on this, the 30th day of Sept. A. D. 1935.

Oscar Kemp, Mayor.

Burk Observes Fire Prevention Wk.

Each year by presidential proclamation, our country observes what is known as Fire Prevention Week. This year according to Fire Chief Jack Kelly and Fire Marshal John Blackstone, it will be the week beginning October 6th. Its purpose is to remind the public of the huge annual toll in lives and property that is taken by fire. During Fire Prevention Week there is a nationwide campaign to eliminate fire hazards and to prevent fires.

While we have been remarkably fortunate this year in respect to fires we feel that this is the time to concentrate on keeping the fires down. We can do this by all working together and each person watching his own property. Our community will be no exception to the drive all over the nation to make our community safer from fires. The firemen request that the citizens take certain steps to protect themselves during the coming winter. One of the chief causes of fires the firemen is accumulated trash and old paper in attics and closets. A clean building seldom burns. We hope that everyone will clean out all rubbish that has been piling up both indoors and outside.

Another major cause of fires is improper electric wiring and the use of defective electric equipment. All fires that start because of these conditions are preventable. The fire department has expressed its willingness to give suggestions on eliminating the electrical hazard to any citizen who wish to make their property more safe.

Heating appliances should also be gone over before cold weather starts. Many stoves and their flues deteriorate during the summer months. When they are put into operation they start fires. Have your heating system inspected before you start it up this winter.

The firemen will be glad to make an inspection of any building for fire hazards. They are naturally fitted to detect dangerous conditions and to suggest remedies, because preventing fire is one of their duties just as much as fighting fires.

According to statistics, more than half of all fires in this country are preventable. The results in a total money that can be reduced by "fighting fires better" in addition we save lives and the lives of the people. Let's cooperate. Prevention is a duty. The practice of fire prevention is a duty. The practice of fire prevention is a duty. The practice of fire prevention is a duty.

A Good Reason For

It's a little sad. Year's resolutions, worth considering to reduce fire waste. If a hundred million did that, and did that, and did that, with the resolution, ing, the nation would did start toward war and ancient fight. The most prodigious comes to fire. FIRE TRAPS
CALLED SCHOOLS

Some of the most tragic fires in American history have occurred in schools. Thousands of children have been cremated, and thousands more have carried the marks of disfiguring burns through life—because schoolhouses were improperly constructed, inefficiently protected, or inadequately equipped with fire escapes, staircases and fire doors. The lessons of the past have had relatively little effect on the present. Survey after survey, conducted by responsible experts, have demonstrated that hundreds of schools are fire traps. And these schools are not all in the little red school house classification—some of our hand-somest and most superficially modern institutions of learning contain great and unnecessary dangers. The National Board of Fire Underwriters, representative organization of the nation's principal stock fire insurance companies, carries on an aggressive campaign in the interest of safer schools. When possible, it makes inspection a school buildings and offers suggestions for changes and additions—often National Board experts have pointed to serious and unnecessary hazards which had been overlooked for years. And, beginning last year, it widened its field of action by issuing self inspection blanks for schools whereby any capable school official can systematically check the buildings and equipment involved, discover dangers and inadequacies, and make or suggest the necessary corrections. The blank, which has been adopted and officially approved by the National Association of Public School Business officials, is to be sent this year to 1,700 secretaries and presidents of boards of education and fire chiefs in cities of 5,000 and over. Officials in smaller towns can obtain the blanks from the National Board on request.

FIRE IS NEVER A TEA PARTY

According to news reports from New York City, firemen there recently attended a $75,000 tea party. They responded to an early morning alarm and found flames engulfing a five-story warehouse stocked with tea. With characteristic skill, they attacked the fire, using several hose streams. As the water heated in the flames and filtered down thru the packages, a fine brew of tea ran out into the gutter. Firemen will tell you, however, that there was a fire that could be considered a "tea party". Fires bring hard work, danger—death. The National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that thousands of people lose their lives in fires annually, while the property loss runs into hundreds of millions of dollars. This loss directly concerns everyone—fire may strike anywhere with out warning, unless proper precautions are taken. Check over your property today. Look for fire hazards in connection with the chimney, the furnace or stove, the heating pipes, hot ashes, rubbish and papers, paint or oil-soaked rags, and electric wiring and appliances. Check up on careless habits that invite fire—especially in connection with matches and smoking materials. Train children to be careful. Substitute safe habits for your old careless ones. Remember—a fire is never a "tea party."

MAUREN O'SULLIVAN, JOEL
McCREA TEAMED TOGETHER

The oft-expressed idea that "moving pictures should move" has reached its ultimate in execution in the latest feature film from a Hollywood studio. It covers a period of eight hours, and crams hectic events that crowd those eight hours into an hour and a quarter of screen entertainment. Studio executives believe that it is one of the fastest pictures, in point of lightning-like succession of action, ever made.

This is "Woman Wanted," directed at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios by George Seitz and coming Saturday Midnight to the Palace Theatre. Maureen O'Sullivan and Joel McCrea are teamed for the first time in it Lewis Stone starts the new contract that marks his twentieth year on the screen. The cast also includes Louis Calhern, Edgar Kennedy and Adrienne Ames.

Mamie Browning gave a reading. Prayer was led by Mrs. H. A. O'Neal.

Mrs. Watkins attended a real Mexican bull fight.

Miss Armstrong visited with her only brother at Tyler, Texas.

Misses Pattie and Lois Thompson went to California, but they both brought their hearts back with them.

Mr. Jones spent the summer buying a new car and trying it out by going to New Orleans. Now he is trying to find someone he thinks more of than he does the car.

Miss Keller spent many a sleepless night this summer because she was so anxious to come to Fairview.

Miss Toby Baird courted both Caswell and Campbell.

Mrs. Willis learned the art of loneliness.

Mr. Brand took his B. A. degree from N. T. S. T. C.

Miss Davis learned to solder.

Tires 'Broken In' On Winter Highways Give More Mileage

Casings wear slowly on Cold Wet Roads—Give Greater Protection Against Skidding Accidents.

Years of experience with tires in every conceivable weather condition have shown the experts that approximately 30 per cent additional mileage can be anticipated from new casings first "broken in" or placed in service at the beginning of the winter season, according to J. M. Alexander, local Good-year dealer.

"Experiments and practice have revealed that new tires wear down very slowly when used in cold or wet roads," Mr. Alexander declared. "Heat is generally known to contribute materially to tire wear and of course it is almost impossible to get tires heated up during cold or rainy weather."

"Aside from being of interest as a scientific fact, this knowledge has important economic value to motorists. New tires, such as the Goodyear G-3 All-Weather, provide the best protection against skidding a constant source of danger on wet or icy roads."

"Motorists can equip their cars to enjoy maximum protection against skidding, with the assurance that the tires will be in practically new condition the following spring."

"Thus the motorist who is interested in skid protection may enjoy it when needed most and at the same time get an average of 30 per cent additional tire mileage without additional expense," Mr. Alexander concluded.

Colorful History of 'Scarlet Pimpernel'

Novel Was Translated Into Twenty Three Languages; Play Given Over 5,000 Times.

To insure absolute historical accuracy in the production of "The Scarlet Pimpernel," in which Leslie Howard and Merle Oberon are currently co-starring at the Palace Theatre, Alexander Korda engaged John Orczy-Barstow, son of the Baroness Orczy who wrote the famous best-seller on which the film is based, to act in an advisory capacity.

Once Had Russian Locale

"The Scarlet Pimpernel" was originally written in 1903 as a tale of adventure in Russia for a newspaper serial. At that time the relations between England and Russia were somewhat strained and the serial was withdrawn after two installments. Baroness Orczy then adapted the story to the French Revolutionary period. The selection of the title, "The Scarlet Pimpernel," the name of a little English roadside flower, was influenced by the Baroness' keen interest in botany.

Sensible citizens should never lend money to a relative. It cost no more and makes you feel nobler to give it to them.

Far better than a general distribution of wealth would be a more general distribution of common sense.

Big Rabbit Creek

Sept. 29. Last Thursday and Friday this neck of the woods was visited by a norther which made the writer wonder what he had done with his summer wages. It was the cause of good many heaters being put up, but at this writing the cold spree has left and its nice and warm again.

Mr. Tobe Hardin and Mrs. Martha Ails and her son Charlie called on the Owens family Sunday morning and visited several hours with the family.

Mr. W. H. Martin has a large bunch of cotton pickers that will start picking his cotton Monday morning, and he has hired Hawkeye to do the weighing and to look after the picking in general for him, and to do all of the paying of the hands.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ashton and daughters attended the big trades-day Saturday over in Burk. Also they done their shopping in the afternoon.

The leaf worms and army worms has just came across the big pond out of Texas over into Oklahoma. They are making short work with the leaves, but it is of the opinion of the farmers that by coming this late that the damage will be of no seriousness, as the cotton is to far advanced.

As usual the great crowds was in Burkburnett Saturday at the trades-day and every one sure was enjoying themselves fine and the business places were just crowded with customers, and lots of real old dough was spent and changed hands.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Alexander's little son for the past week has been on the sick list. It was thought for several days that the little fellow would have to undergo an operation for appendicitis, but at this writing he is much better.

The writer has been informed through a Mr. Page that he was successful in getting up his block of leases of 5000 acres and that drilling will start in the near future.

The sad news was received Sunday morning from a Mr. Archie Wynn of the passing of his wife in a auto wreck which happened enroute from Oklahoma City to Clinton, Okla., in the latter part of the summer. Their car plunged off of a bridge falling 31 feet breaking Mrs. Wynn's back and neck, causing paralysis from her breast down. She was in the hospital till Sept. 24th before she passed on to that better world. Mrs. Alta Rosson was born in Vernon, Wilbarger Co., Texas, Feb. 14, 1893. She was married to Royie Self July 2nd, 1911. To this union 2 children were born. Mr. Self preceded her in death, departing this life Jan. 18, 1930. Mrs. Wynn gave her life to Jesus and united with the Baptist church in 1931. She was married to Mr. Archie Wynn August 18, 1934. She departed this life Sept. 24, 1935 at the age of 42 years, 10 days. She leaves to mourn her passing Arch Wynn, 2 children, Mildred Self, Erick, Okla.; Mrs. Leona Anderson of Texola, Texas; her mother Mrs. Sallie Rosson, Erick Okla., 7 brothers and 4 sisters. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church, Sept. 26, 1935 at Erick, Okla. Rev. D. D. Barber officiating. Fatheree Funeral home had charge of the arrangements. Interment was made in the Erick cemetery. The whole Rabbit Creek neighborhood joins the writer in sending to the bereaved husband and other relatives through the Rabbit Creek news their heart felt sympathy of the passing of this good woman, as she was loved by everyone who knew her in this part of Cotton county.

There is no death, the stars go down To arise upon another shore, And there in Heaven Celestial crown will shine forever more.

There is no death, an Angel from Walks oer the earth with unseen tread, It bears our best loved ones away, And then we say they're dead.

Hawkeye.

They are not dead, they have but passed Beyond the mist that blinds us here, Into the everlasting life, of that Celestial sphere.

They have but dropped their robes of clay, To put their shining garments on. They have not wandered far away, They are not lost or gone.

The old-time pioneers over in and around Thornberry, Texas, will hold what is called the Home Coming Reunion of the old time settlers, Sunday, Sept. 29. Mr. and Mrs. Si Linksey and Mr. and Mrs. Will Linksey attended the big home coming. Everyone had a fine time and enjoyed themselves just fine.

Mr. Arch Wynn informed the writer that as soon as he makes a business trip to San Antonio he was coming back and intends to make this part of Cotton county his future home. Mr. Wynn states that he has several fine houses to build in and around Temple, Okla. Mr. Wynn ranks among the best architects in the state of Okla.

Bull Dogs—

ling. J. Blair and Grace carried a heavy part of the assignments on the line play. In the final half the line seemed to be the strongest part of the team.

With the exception of Jennings, no Electra backfield man was able to penetrate the line during the entire game. Their score came from wide passes, sweeping reverse end around plays, and trick attack.

Improvement

The encouraging finesse at center attracted the attention of observers. The most glaring weakness in the Tipton game was the wobbly center, both Lowery and Grace gave evidence of real improvement this week. Bruce Blair and Whitten combined talents with the center to make the middle of the line a tight place.

The line-up next week will probably be: Majors, le, Cook, lt, Whitten, lg, Lowery c, B. Blair rg, Duke rt, Rose re, Finch q, McKown lh, Teal rh, Clifton fb, J. Blair, Grace, Bolton, and McPherson or Wallace may see service in the game.

The Indians are out for revenge. The Bulldogs invaded Nocona last year and brought home the scalps of the Indians to a tune of 13 to 7 in the closest game of the year, and the best played by the Bulldogs. This year the Indians will be on the warpath. With a new coach they may work wonders here Friday.
