Fall Is Bluebonnet Time

It may be contrary to the teachings of some professional students of flowers, but practical experience has taught the people of this area that Fall is the best time to plant bluebonnets in this area. Last week this column advocated that every person in the city plant a mass of flowers. This will have to be done this fall. The flowers will present an interesting spectacle for our visitors next year.

The public (if they ever read these editorials) may get tired of our continual speaking of the subject, but we are going to mention it several times more, at least until we see some results. Every church, club and lodge—any organization ought to take up the subject and make the city beauty conscious.

Early Tax Payers

The state supreme court recently declared unconstitutional a law which offered a benefit of from one to three percent to the people and companies that paid taxes ahead of time. That was one of the most sensible laws that we have ever seen a mutton headed legislature pass. That state body stumbled around and accidentally allowed something really sensible to get by. Then only to have it declared null and void by the supreme court.

Every business enterprise speeds up collections by allowing a discount for those who pay early. The advantage of having cash on hand is a large one for any corporation or organization. Materials can be bought at an advantage for cash, and better bargains can be driven so a private company feels like allowing the discount for cash in advance.

We would rather see the whole constitution re-written, but that is an impossible dream. However, if it is necessary an amendment ought to be passed along the lines of the law declared null and void. Since they have dismissed the penalties for late payment, and since very few people are being dispossessed for lack of tax payment, the man that pays ahead of time ought to get some advantage. If it is nothing else we ought to give him a button or medal.

We once jokingly suggested lottery tickets with each payment. That is impractical, but the discount rate is not impractical. It ought to be put into force immediately—as soon as an amendment can be submitted to the people of Texas.

Goodwill Project

It is not often that we who live here would find it necessary to have a loafing place in the city, but many people would find such a center a Godsend. On Saturdays and many other days hundreds of persons come to Burk and during the winter would appreciate a community center where they could make appointments or wait while other members of the family were doing shopping. We noticed last Saturday some people waited two or three hours in cars.

The Star would like to suggest that from now to Christmas the Chamber of Commerce assist the merchants in providing such a place. There are a few vacant buildings down in town that would serve ideally for such a thing. A few chairs heat and a little light, would be about all that was needed.

There is nothing that we can think of that would create more goodwill for Burkburnett than such a project. The building could stay open Fridays and Saturdays from now 'till Christmas week and all day during Christmas week.

There is one thing that it would do. Many of the merchants here in town especially the food stores, cafes and drug stores, have complained about the space being crowded with non-shoppers. This place would give a convenient waiting place and relieve the limited store space on bad days. Such a project would cost the merchants very little and would earn a good will for them that would last many years.

Community Center

Dallas schools are undertaking an interesting experiment that will be watched all over the state by people interested in both the school and community welfare. One of the schools in the Dallas area is presenting a series of educational and entertainments at the school. Both Oak Cliff and North Dallas schools are being used for this purpose.

There was a very interesting article in a current magazine about an entire city going to school. Under that plan anybody that knew anything was a teacher and anybody that wanted to learn anything was a pupil. That makes the school, as it should be a community center. A large overhead is placed in the schools, and comparatively little time is spent there by the community as a whole.

National education week will be here soon, and the people will have an opportunity to inspect our schools. In the meantime we might be thinking out some means of following the example set by Dallas and Detroit. The school would benefit by the increased public interest, and the community would be benefactors by increased civic pride and culture.

News of Week

The new security act that has been passed by the Texas State Legislature is being rapidly enforced. The law applies to this area in as much as it makes it a felony to deal in oil and gas leases and royalty instruments unless that transaction comes under specific exemptions. The registration and permit is given teeth by the provision of a penalty of a term in the penitentiary of two years and a fine of not more than one thousand dollars.

The proper enforcement of this law will benefit the oil and gas broker, the land owner, and the fair and honest promoter. It is intended to stop a lot of wild cat promotional stunts that have no financial honesty or purpose other than fleecing a few gullible people.

Pension Limit $15.00

Because of the strange wording of the pension amendment that was submitted, the pensioners of the state that could have received $30 per month, will receive a maximum of $15.00 per month. The opinion of most of the experts is that the state law makes it possible for either the state or the federal government to pay the $15.00, but probably each will pay $7.50.

This interpretation will be a severe disappointment for the old age people of the state. There are many people that have already started using their pension credit to live on at the present time. Every day people report at the local relief headquarters to ask if their checks have started to come in yet. The purpose of the whole amendment will be defeated if the law remains as it is.

Tax Discount

The state of Texas attempted to follow the very efficient example of business of allowing a discount on the early payment of taxes. A certain percentage was proposed to the taxpayers if they paid before certain dates. The earlier the payment, the larger the benefit from the law.

The law was adopted in attempt to speed up the income of the state, and to offset the abolition of penalty for delinquent taxes. The law was declared unconstitutional when the supreme court ruled that the Magnolia Oil Company and the Rowan drilling company could not force the state to accept the discounted checks for early payment. The justice said that it was an exception to the law and therefore unconstitutional.

Excess Tax

The effect of excessive tax is noticed in Hearst's removal from California. The noted publisher has moved from the state closing his tremendous ranch and offices in that state to escape the excessive burden. The California income tax amounts to 15 percent and is one of the highest state taxes in the nation. The federal tax added to the state makes the combined assessments almost confiscatory.

This is a slight example of what is happening all over the nation. Many business enterprises are being closed and hampered by the huge local and state tax burdens. This will make the program for the raising of sufficient money to pay the pension in Texas a very heavy one.

Ethiopia-Italy

The international situation seems to have settled down into a contest between England and Italy as to how many nice words each can say about wanting peace while each is preparing for conflict as fast as possible. The fighting in Ethiopia continues to be heavy and the Italians are rapidly gaining more ground. The Ethiopians have offered little resistance.

The king of kings made a mistake when he placed any faith in the defunct league of nations. His people will be wiped off of the earth unless he takes more powerful steps than the diplomatic one which he has taken up to the present time. The large battle that threatened at first is still hanging fire.

Chevrolet Leaders Celebrate New Model

With the largest banquet ever held in Michigan, the city of Flint paid tribute to the Chevrolet Motor Co. and the executives who have piloted it to its position of leadership in the automotive industry.

Honoring especially M. E. Coyle, president and general manager of Chevrolet, and W. E. Holler, vice president and general sales manager, and timed on the eve of the presentation of the company's new 1936 models, the appreciation dinner had 2600 guests, including William S. Knudsen, executive vice president of General Motors Corporation; six other members of the executive committee of the corporation and the entire Chevrolet executive personnel.

Flint, virtually the birthplace of Chevrolet, seat of the company's main motor-manufacturing plant, employing the highest number of workers engaged in any General Motors single operation, welcomed Chevrolet into its industrial life in August, 1913, when Detroit operations of the company were temporarily discontinued.

From a few hundred cars turned out in the beginning with slightly more than a thousand men, Chevrolet expanded meteorically as the automobile entrenched itself in popular favor, speakers felicitously recalled tonight.

In 1915 the Flint plant produced 6,106 cars; in 1923, when Chevrolet's total car production was 1,193,212, the Flint assembly produced 129,363 cars. Peak motor production of the Chevrolet plant at Flint, building engines to supply all the company's assembly plants throughout the country, attained its peak record of 1,328,605 in 1929.

The sentiment of the complimentary dinner was expressed in an embossed testimonial presented to Mr. Coyle by the Flint Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the dinner. It read as follows:

"Flint is proud of its position as the central manufacturing point in the widespread operations of Chevrolet. Despite all obstacles, the company has made a record of outstanding achievement which this city can better recognize because of the resulting benefits enjoyed here. Thru the Flint Chamber of Commerce at this civic testimonial dinner, Flint expresses its deep appreciation to Mr. M. E. Coyle, president and general manager and to his executive staff and the entire organization for the contribution they have made to the city, state and national well-being.

"What has been done inspires confidence in even greater accomplishment, and in conveying its best wishes for the future, Flint is conscious of the mutuality of its relationship with Chevrolet and pledges its fullest cooperation toward its happy and fruitful continuance."

M. A. Gorman, editor of the Flint Journal, was dinner toastmaster.

A post-speaking feature was the presentation of a special program by Rubinoff and his violin and his complete orchestra, who recently made their debut in Chevrolet's new week-long coast to coast network broadcast. The radio virtuoso was supported by Jan Pearce, tenor; Virginia Rae, coloratura soprano, and Graham McNamee as master of ceremonies.

The auditorium of the Industrial Mutual Association, where the dinner was held, was inadequate to accommodate all those seeking reservations, despite the terracing of four extra rows of tables in the balcony.

Among notables at the dinner were Donaldson Brown, John L. Pratt, C. E. Wilson, R. H. Grant, O. E. Hunt, and Albert Bradley, of the executive committee of General Motors Corp.; W. A. Fisher, E. P. Fisher and Thomas P. Archer, of Fisher Body Corp.; H. H. Curtice, president of Buick Motor Company; A. J. Fisher of the General Motors Corporation executive staff at Detroit and F. S. Kimmerling, president of AC Spark Plug Company.

In preparation for increased production for 1936, Chevrolet has expanded and re-equipped its Flint manufacturing and assembly plants, which received a large share of the $25,000,000 that the company has spent on its nation-wide facilities to increase its production capacity by 25 percent.

Brent Grounded By Warner Bros. During Filming

George Brent, an enthusiastic aviator, has been "grounded" on orders of production executives of Warner Bros. studios.

Brent, who has the leading masculine role in "The Goose and the Gander" which comes to the Palace Theatre on Hallowe'en night, has been ordered to stay away from his private monoplane "Desert Breeze" or any other aircraft, for that matter—during production as a consequence of a mishap which recently befell Mickey Rooney, who portrays the role of "Puck" in "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

"The Goose and the Gander" is an exciting comedy drama involving both the theft of hearts and jewels based on the story and screen play by Charles Kenyon.

Kay Francis heads the cast which also includes such stars besides Brent, as Genevieve Tobin, Ralph Forbes, John Eldredge, Claire Dodd, and Helen Lowell. Alfred E. Green directed.

John Gould Speaks At Lions Meeting Here Tuesday Night

Club Plans Inter-City Meet In Burk For November 5th

John Gould, editor of the Wichita Falls Daily Times, spoke at the meeting of the Lions club Tuesday night in a talk that he characterized as the "Ramblings of a Columnist." Mr. Gould touched various subjects including: Friends, neutrality, traffic safety, recognition for special service, the constitution and self reliance.

In the course of the speech the speaker said that the main characteristic of the pioneer was self-reliance, and that the relief program and complication of modern society threatened to take away that sterling quality. He stated that the constitution was not meant to be a strait jacket, but a pattern of progressive living and thinking.

In regard to neutrality, Mr. Gould stated that we could be neutral if we had the nerve to sacrifice the difference between one dollar oil and three dollar oil, and the price range in every other product that we have to sell.

The club excused Randle Watkins until after basket ball season. Announcement was made of intercity meeting next Tuesday and the meeting at the school house on Nev. 12 during education week. The program started with a sing-song led by W. R. Hill, lion tamer of the organization. The speaker was introduced by Sloan Mills, and the date represented the 5th anniversary of the column that Mr. Gould writes for the Wichita paper.

Magnolia To Start Winter-Proof Check

Profiting from the experience of large fleet operators, automobile owners are rapidly learning that a semi-annual check-up of their cars is the best insurance that they can buy against cold weather damage and expense. Clyde Elder manager of the Magnolia Service Station said in announcing the annual "Winter-Proof" campaign of the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

"Thrifty Americans have learned that it is good business to carry insurance against their persons and their homes," Mr. Elder said. "They insure their automobiles against fire and theft, and often against damage from accident—and now they realize that it is equally as essential to insure an automobile against the ravages of weather and wear by protecting the engine, the body, the cooling system and other vital parts by means of two semi-annual check-ups—one in the Spring and one in the Fall.

In response to this demand for motor vehicle protection, Magnolia dealers and stations provide what has become popularly known as 'Winter-Proof' service. This service originated by Magnolia several years ago, has been growing in favor each fall as car owners learn that it is cheaper to 'insure' than to wait and pay a repair bill later.

As an added inducement to motorists of this city to have their car properly lubricated for winter driving, Mr. Elder has made arrangements with the Magnolia Petroleum Co. to have a special trained lubrication man, Mr. Rade Parker, to be here Monday and Tuesday, November 4 and 5. He will be glad to answer any and all questions in regard to the proper lubrication of your car. This service is free and Mr. Parker urges each car owner to come in and see him on one of these days. "Magnolia's 'Winter-Proof' check-up covers several vital points, the engine, transmission, differential, chassis, fuel, radiator and battery. Dirty summer lubricants are replaced with clean, fresh Mobiloil and Mobilgreases of the correct winter grade recommended by the manufacturer of the motor vehicle."

THE BULLDOGS GROWL

EDITED BY STUDENTS OF BURK SCHOOLS

SENIORS

The public heard of the present senior class as they advanced up through the grades and into High school. This group of pupils always seemed to be outstanding, so it would be useless to say that they have reached the height of which they are to be looked upon in their senior year.

The boys and girls of the senior class are of the industrious type. When one enters the class room of the senior class room of the seniors they can be distinguished by their industrious work. The classes before, as well as other people, have made the statement that when one gets to be a senior that the work is all easy and that everything is of a social nature rather than school work, but the seniors have learned that there is still work to do and they realize that the senior year is no time to drop the work and quast, but to step on it harder than ever before.

This class has been fortunate to have teachers—and particularly a sponsor—that are always looking into the future when the class takes its place in the world with other people. It has been instilled into the minds the need to make the most of our school life so that in the future they will be outstanding men and women in the world.

The senior class this year is predicting the most outstanding athlete, debator, orator, and extemporaneous speaker of this school. The senior class is in fact the best to ever graduate from the Burk Burnett high school and can prove it.

As Shakespear said "all the world's a stage and all the people players, they have their exits and their entrances, their acts being seven ages." Without past training we realize probably more than did the classes before that we must take our places in the world. Each senior has a place that he must fill. They have in their minds the places they hope to reach. Possibly they are optimistic, but one never attains a goal unless he creates it. This class claims the future governor of Texas, several of the world's best lawyers, doctors of outstanding note, business men that are successful, and a host of outstanding salesmen and politicians. So look out world here we come—Stand by for the Seniors of '36.

Before school started Mr. Blackwell said his prayers before he went to bed every night. Now that he has so much work to do he has written his prayer out and pinned it over his bed. When he goes to bed now he only has to say "Lord, there it is."

BASKET BALL

A few of the more industrious boys who intend to play basket ball this season have started their daily practice. These boys are working out on their own, practicing on their weak points, and are striving to make a winning 1936 squad. Three regulars, Rose, Finch, and Hays will return from last year's squad to give speed and accuracy to the team. Coach Robinson said night practices would begin immediately after football season.

Margaret T: Who was that girl you just spoke to?
Marshall T: Never mind, shrimp, I'll have enough trouble telling her who you are.

Senior News

The Seniors had their second class program the 25th, with J. R. Brock as speaker. J. R. gave a splendid speech on "Taking profits out of War." He pointed out the fact that the Du-Points, the men who cried

"Make the World Safe for Democracy," were the ones who sat back and made riches while the beloved sons of the nation were being sent off to be slaughtered at the battle front. Other important points were brought out, and the class enjoyed the speech immensely.

Well G. A. I can tell you're a married man all right. No more holes in your socks.
No, one of the first things my wife taught me was to darn 'em.

Junior Activities

The Junior class received invitations to the Junior-Senior Hallowe'en party from the Seniors this week. The invitations were very novel. Most all the Juniors have accepted. The party is to be given October 31, at the Legion hall.

The report has been spread abroad that the Seniors were planning a dance for their Hallowe'en entertainment, but just remember—"The Seniors are not giving a dance Hallowe'en."

PEP NEWS

Oh, they fooled you didn't they? Just because it was raining was no sign that the pep squad girls could not have a rally. They started from the school Friday at 4 o'clock, stamping and tramping through the mud and water. They went to town with just as much "vim-vigor and walk-about" as they would have if the sun was shining, trying to tell you in vigorous yells about the game Friday night with Archer City.

It Looks Like Rain

And boy, I say the weather is very unagreeable, but the pep squad was out there with their glad rags on. O' I mean at the Burk-Archer City game, backing the Bulldogs of course. The pep squad did some yelling while it wasn't raining and they tried when it was, because they weren't any better than the team out there in the mud and rain.

What two sophomore girls got stood up for the Hardin-Simmons S. M. U. game?

We hear that the Volley ball team is going to lose a few members. Girls! Girls! Get to studying.

GREEN HANDS

The Green Hands held their month's meeting Friday, October 25.

The ceremony was good especially the program. The program was made up by:
Speech, Van Buren Cross (3-4 min.)
Song, Raymond Edwards (very good.)

Dance, Buster Jacobs (awful cute)
Barn yard emition, Roland Baumhardt, Norman Duke (perfect)
French Harp Solo, John Blair.
Juice Harp Solo, Robert Morowy.
Trick, the teacher (very tricky.)
Juice Harp Solo, Edgar Shuffler, (extraordinary.)

Humor, Allen Riddle (awful good)
The reason for this good program the committees were: R. C. Gilbow, Jack Van Ness, Everett Simmons and Wayne Roberts.

V. Hill: Say dear this blueberry pie sure tastes funny.

Wife: I wonder if I could have put too much bluing in it?

Scotty: I forgot my umbrella this morning.

Mrs. Williamson: How did you remember that you had forgotten it?

Scotty: Well, I missed it after I raised my hand to close it after the rain was over.

THE SNOOPS

Who's the girl at Thornberry that G. L. Shafer had to write a refusal to?

Had you heard Marilyn Harwell asking for Bruce Blair's address? (Now that he lives in Iowa Park.)

Well, Well, could you guess who the pain-in-the-neck of the 4-T English class is?

Had you heard about Betty Jo Gilchrist asking Fred Gill to the Rainbow party? La Nelle how about it?

Tollie, why are you such a woman hater? Could it be that you are disappointed in love?

Had you heard about Marjetta Owens thinking that J. T. Clifton was being captured? Like she could help it if she were!

Who is the snootie little cutie from Cashion that the girls seem to be interested in—Could it be Fred Gill?

We wonder if you heard about G. L. Shafer stopping and proving to the girls he meant what he said Friday night?

Had you heard Mary Jo Henson yelling for No. 66 at all the football games? It must be love!

We wonder if Polly Wiggins will be thinking of Cline when she is with Charles? Impossible!

We heard there is a certain football boy that has Mary Jo, Mary Lafon, Geneva, Claudia Mae, Marjetta, Marilyn, Barbare, La Nelle, and Betty Jo's hearts beating double time.

We wonder if Billy Wheeler broke his promise as Pauline Browning did?

Have you heard Mildred, La Nelle, Polly, Marilyn, Mary Jo, and Virginia rave over John (Johnnie) Blair. The Blairs seem to be instyle.

Did you hear that Virginia Glidwell wishes she had been at home one Sunday night?

I snooped in on a conversation between Marilyn Harwell and Mary Jo Henson and Marilyn said, "I didn't even get to tell Bruce good-bye." Mary Jo said, "But you made up for it the other times you were with him."

We wonder why Durwood Arrington said the letter he read was dry?

Jack Boulton says, "You have to be a football hero to get along with the beautiful girls."

It seems that Mildred Kemp has a fascination for our football captain, Avis Finch.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics II-A class at the close of their unit on dinners chose as their class project the serving of a meal with guests in the Home Economics dining room.

One-half of the class and two guests, Mr. Volney Hill and Mr. Polk Robertson, were served by the other half of the class, Monday, October 28.

The menu being: Spanish Cerol Steak, Pittsburg Potatoes, Spinach Tembils, Combination Salad, Hot Biscuits, Butter, Hot Cocoa, Carmel Ice Cream and Cookies.

On Tuesday, October 29, the other half were served by the first half. Mr. Chester Duncan and Mr. Jess Johnson were the guests.

The menu being: Butterfly cocktail, Baked Chicken, dressing, cranberry jelly, giblet gravy, Harvard beets, potatoes AuGratun, Tomato salad, hot rolls, butter, date marshmallow rolls, and coffee.

Both meals were very successful and the class in conclusion learned much in the serving and preparing of dinners.

A boy in commercial law class flipped a coin to determine whether the answers on a test were true or false. He only missed two.—Such luck!!!

Don't you wish you could have seen the Pantomines the Public Speaking class put on Friday. You missed something if you didn't!!

Big Rabbit Creek

Hawkeye was informed Saturday morning of the accident which happened to our friend Bro. John Ashton sometime during Friday. It seems the accident happened to Bro. John while he was uncoupling a trailer from his auto, the tongue of the trailer fell on his foot and hand, smashing both members very badly. The trailer was loaded with some cattle. The last account from Bro. John was that he was suffering a great deal with his foot and hand. His host of friends in this community hope that the injured foot and hand won't prove serious.

Well folks at last the long looked for rain came at last. Believe me it has been raining for the last 36 hours. Over on this side over 2 inches of rain fell. It came in such a way that the ground absorbed every bit of it. It's fine on the early sown wheat and oats, but bad for pulling or picking cotton.

Col. Guy Willis, this community's old reliable cattle and hog buyer who lives in Burkburnett and his cowboy helper a Mr. Wright of Burkburnett were over in the Rabbit Creek neighborhood buying up calves. The Col. bought several fine head of what he thought was prime calves from a Mr. Pope Byers, but when he drove down to the Owens family residence and saw the fine stall-fed heifer calf, nine months old of Mrs. Maud Owens he just moved up to Hawkeye that it was the finest heifer calf that he had purchased over on this side. The nine months old calf will tip the scales at 625. Mrs. Owens told the Col. what she wanted for the calf, he pulled out his check book and wrote her a check for the amount of $30 bucks. That's the kind of a cattle buyer every community needs in it. He pays the top price for the farmers stuff, and when they do that the farmer will keep their products for those kind of buyers. Mr. Wright the Col.'s helper is certainly a roper. There has never been a cowboy at any of the Burkburnett Rodeo's that can handle the rope at ease as Mr. Wright can. It seems as tho it just comes natural with him to throw the rope.

Last Monday night a Mr. Williams and his family of cotton pickers had a bale of bollies pulled ready to be hauled to the gin the next morning with three of his new cotton sacks full of cotton laying on top of the load of cotton was about 250 yards from the highway out in the field so during the night some time some thief or thieves came along, emptied the 3 cotton sacks on top of the load of cotton and carried off the sacks. Mr. Bob says he wishes after they get through with them that they will bring them back. He says he would have loaned them to the ones who took the sacks rather than to have them stolen.

Well, its the same old hardships that the old farmer has to but up against every fall. It's the crows, they have come in by the thousands and believe me all headed stuff and corn that hasn't been cut and hauled in as well as cane, they are simply eating it up. They are about 10 days late this year coming in and the pecan crop will be eaten up.

There is quite a few bales of cotton over on this side yet in the fields to be pulled or picked owing to so much rain. It will be Tuesday or Wednesday of next week before any cotton can be pulled over on this side.

Owing to so much rain the rural roads leading over to Burkburnett is almost impassable, which caused lots of the farmers not being over in Burkburnett Saturday as usual. All who lives near the pond or all weather highways are all O. K. to get over to Burkburnett, to do their shopping.

Si Linksey called on the Owens family a little while Saturday afternoon.

Will Linksey and his brother Si motored up to our county seat last Wednesday to hear Jed Johnson and other notable speakers deliver speeches on the A. A. program. They came back home well pleased stating that the talks were just fine.

The writer while down at the little Red River Valley Store Sunday morning was informed that Bro. John Ashton was able to be up and hobble around in the house from the accident that happened to him last Thursday. It's reported that he has some fingers that are mashed very bad.

The little Red River Valley Store owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jess Kinniard down on the corner is doing a fine business. Hawkeye was at the store Sunday morning for a hour or so and while there both Jess and his better half were as busy as two howling dogs (bird dogs at that) waiting on their customers. Jess has a filling station as a side line and believe me he sells the gas and oil.

The writer is pleased to state in his Big Rabbit Creek News of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Alexander is improving fast from his serious operation which he underwent a few weeks past. The little fellow is now at his grandfathers and grandmothers residence, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Alexander who live south west of Randlett 3 1-2 miles. It's hoped that the little fellow will soon be able to be brought back to his own home.

Mrs. Ed Owens accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Si Linksey over to Burkburnett Tuesday morning to do their shopping as the weather was such last Saturday they could not go to Burkburnett.

Current Literature Club Studies Books And Life of Orient

Pearl Buck and House Divided Given In Talks

In an interesting program that featured a review of the life and work of Pearl Buck, noted authority on Oriental life and popular American novelist, and a review of the "House Divided," the Current Literature club was entertained by Mrs. M. W. Majors at her home last Thursday afternoon. In the business session the club planned to meet with the Federated Clubs in a banquet during the last week of Nov.

The formal program opened with a discussion by Mrs. Rex Kolter, who spoke of the value of the work done by women and their clubs in various communities. Mrs. Jack Land gave an interesting synopsis of the life of Mrs. Pearl Buck. Mrs. Land pointed out the high lights in the life, and told of the many interesting bits of literature that she had added to the American list.

Curtis Cook reviewed Mrs. Buck's "House Divided." In the review it was pointed out that the last book was the completion of the trilogy starting with "Good Earth" and continue in "Sons." The development of the modern youth movement in China, and the trials and struggles of the young Chinese student between the advance of the new world and the loyalties of the old were analyzed.

The contrasting philosophy of the Eastern and Western world as emphasized in the treatment and events of the young student in America served as basis of the analysis. Mrs. Majors was assisted in the service by Misses Lulu and Sarah Majors.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. A. H. Lohofener. The program was directed by Mrs. B. F. Gilchrist. Those present were: Mesdames W. D. Bent, P. H. Boling, J. L. Caffee, Fred Flanagan, B. F. Gilchrist, C. N. Hicks, F. A. Jameson, George Kimbell, Rex Kolter, Jack Land, Roy Magers, J. R. Prince, Joy Sessums, James Thomas, N. R. Vaught, A. H. Lohofener and the hostesses.

Executive Board Of Federated Society Will Meet Friday

According to the announcement of Mrs. H. J. Exley, the executive board of the Federated Missionary Society will meet Friday afternoon. NEWSPAPER MAN GIVES TIP-OFF ON '36 CAR STYLES

Betty Goodwin (National Broadcasting Company fashion reporter): "I suppose, Mr. Noé, you have all the advance news on the 1936 motor cars. What seems to be the new style trend? I've been hearing a lot of things about the new Dodge."

Floyd A. Noé (Automobile Manager, New York News): "There is no doubt in my mind that the 1936 Dodge is the finest looking and most stunningly styled car that Dodge has ever produced. I have been associated with the automobile business for ten years and have been intimately familiar during that time with each new Dodge. I suppose you realize yourself that to Dodge owners the very name of the car is synonymous with ruggedness and dependability, but I repeat that never have I seen such a beautiful Dodge as this new 1936 model!"
