The local political situation was enlivened Tuesday morning by the announcement that the present city commissioners had agreed to allow their names to be placed on the official ballot for re-election to the office of city commissioners. They are Joe Majors, Wylie Browning and Henry Grace.

Rites For Former Burk Burnett Man Held Wichita Falls

Peace officers of Burk Burnett and Wichita Falls Monday paid final tribute to Bob Fennell, 36-year-old special officer who early Sunday morning lost his life in an effort to maintain order at a negro night club in Wichita Falls.

Funeral services for the slain man were held at 2:00 p. m. at Decatur. Fennell was a general favorite among fellow officers and a number of city policemen and highway patrolmen attended the services. His body was taken overland to Decatur Sunday afternoon.

Fennell died at a Wichita Falls hospital from slashes across the throat from a razor in the hands of H. B. Whitlow, 22-year-old negro.

Officials of the district attorney's office Monday declined to file charges against Murphy Crane, night club owner, who grabbed up the officer's gun and fired at Whitlow as the latter started at Fennell a second time, brandishing his razor. Whitlow was killed instantly. Statements from Crane and a number of other witnesses at the Blue Bird Inn, where the killing took place, absolved Crane completely. W. W. Ballard, assistant district attorney who investigated the case announced Sunday.

Ballard issued the following statement:

"Since Crane has a reputation with police of aiding officers at his place and on the basis of evidence that Crane shot in defense of the officer, the district attorney will not file charges against Crane." Following the shooting, Crane carried Fennell across the street to the Crane home, where he summoned police and an ambulance.

Crane was questioned Sunday night and then allowed to go to his home as soon as he had made his statement.

Fennell's survivors include his mother, Mrs. I. H. Fennell, of Decatur; two daughters, Betty Ruth and Jacqueline Fennell of Wichita Falls; two brothers, J. D. Fennell of Wichita Falls and John Fennell of Decatur; and three sisters, Miss Mary Fennell of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Josie Hudson of Decatur, and Miss Leta Fennell of Decatur.

The officer, formerly a deputy sheriff at Burk Burnett and at Electra, had lived in the Wichita area for 18 years.

Methodist Revival Is Making Progress

The revival at the local Methodist church, which is being conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. M. Cowling, is making fine progress. Attendance is greater at each service than it was at the preceding service.

Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Fraser, leaders in song services and personal work of the revival, are doing very efficient work.

There were six additions to the church by the final services on Wednesday.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to come to these fine services and enjoy them with us.

H. M. Cowling, Pastor.

LIONS CLUB

Members of the Lions Club were entertained Tuesday evening by representatives of the Central Ward School who will attend the County Meet to be held in Electra this week-end.

Billie Jean Miller and Marjorie Hill will enter the story telling contest Friday. The club enjoyed their stories very much Tuesday night. Billie Jean's story is "Willie Cotton-Tail Tries to Swim," and Marjorie tells the story of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." They tell their stories very effectively and the Lions sincerely hope that they bring back some of the prizes.

Also on the program for the evening were the Choral Singers who will represent Central Ward School in the County Meet this year. There are 25 boys and girls in this group of singers. They are well trained and should show up very well in competition.

They sang three songs for the club Tuesday night. They were "Harbor Lights," "When the Mighty Organ Played 'O Promise Me'," and "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky."

Plans will be discussed at the next meeting for the Lions Club Annual Easter Egg Hunt for the children of Burk Burnett.

Local Nine Merges With Other Teams A Semi-Pro Club

According to L. O. Ludington of Fairview, one league problem in the forming of a semi-pro league for this territory, was cleared up Tuesday afternoon when it was decided that Randall, Oklahoma, Fairview and Burk Burnett players would join to form one strong team and that all games would be played at Shamburger park in Burk Burnett.

Ludington revealed that the city of Burk Burnett has agreed to support the club, which will likely operate under the name of Fairview-Burkburnett.

A grandstand is being built at the playing field here, and it is predicted that large crowds will gather from surrounding towns for the games.

At a meeting of the Oil Belt baseball league in Wichita Falls on Wednesday night, opening dates for games were set. Bill Ward, president, and Lee Roy Rhodes, secretary were asked to complete a 20-game schedule for the next meeting. Stringent by-laws were also added to the constitution.

The Wichita Falls Cats and State Hospital will open at Wichita Falls, Vernon will go to Iowa Park, and Electra will play at Burk Burnett on April 1, when play begins.

The Fairview-Burkburnett nine will get its first test Sunday, April 2, in a practice game with the Wichita Falls Cats in Wichita Falls.

It was decided that players must be signed six days before becoming eligible for play and that those changing from one club to another must wait 14 days to become eligible. A 16 player limit was also voted.

Veterans out for practice include Country Owens, Dawson Owens, Jack Alexander, Henry Hodges, Milton Winkles, Curley Walkup, Rael Poots, Ruel Hanvey, M. D. Oxley, Tug Halley and Landrun.

Burkburnett Store Owners Must Pay State Chain Taxes

Local Merchants Given Final Warning After Survey

Survey of Burk Burnett merchants who have not paid their chain store tax will be completed this week and a special collection drive started, according to a deputy of the comptroller's department.

According to the survey there are at least 25 merchants in Burk Burnett who have not paid their tax. As soon as a complete canvass of the town has been made a delinquent tax will be prepared.

The roll will be used as a basis for action by the comptroller in imposing penalties on the stores who have not paid. Mr. Bramlette warned. Non-payment of the tax constitutes a misdemeanor with a fine of $25 to $100 per day assessed on the merchant.

Next week machinery will be set in motion in Wilbarger county to start collection of the tax there.

DEATH BEGINS AT FORTY

The Travelers Insurance Company has just issued a little booklet, "Death Begins at Forty," in which it is pointed out that underlying reasons for America's horrifying automobile accident record in 1937 were "too much speed and too little courtesy."

According to the booklet, statistics show that if one has an accident while driving under forty miles an hour there is only one chance in forty-four that somebody will be killed, but if the accident comes while one is traveling faster than forty, there is one chance in nineteen that somebody will be killed. Forty-thousand-three-hundred persons met death in traffic accidents last year. Nearly forty per cent of these fatalities were directly traceable to speed, and ninety-seven per cent of drivers involved in fatal accidents had had one or more years of driving experience—in other words, they should have known better.

The driver guilty of speed and discourtesy on the highway is a potential murderer—and should be treated as such upon apprehension. Common discourtesy is usually simply a mark of ignorance, but when applied to the fast driver it is a mark of maniacal disregard of human life. No amount of "wire-pulling" should allow such a person to escape punishment.

Laws in themselves cannot instill common sense and chivalry in a road hog—only fear and respect for the law will do that; and rigid, impartial enforcement is the club to use.

ONE WAY TO BOOST

Don't get the impression that because Burkburnett isn't as big as Chicago or New York that it isn't worth boosting to a stranger. It often happens that you have occasion to converse with a stranger here, but it probably does not always occur to you to speak a few words for the town. He may not think any more of the town when you have finished but he will have a better opinion of you for boosting it. Nothing gives a neighborhood greater favor in the eyes of a stranger than the knowledge that the residents of it are satisfied and are not just "another set of knockers."

Speak of the schools and churches, home-owned light plant and good living conditions of your own community at every possible opportunity you have to do so—and keep on doing it. You'll be surprised how often the stranger will be interested in what you have to say, and you'll never be able to measure the value of the good things he may also have to say of it as he goes on his way into other communities.

Farm Tenancy Destroys Supply Of Wild Game

Dallas, March 22—The future of wild life in the Southwest depends largely upon changing tenants to landowners, or at least upon giving tenants a longer and more secure tenure, it was stated by C. M. Evans, Texas-Oklahoma director of the Farm Security Administration, as "Wild Life Conservation Week" was being observed.

Evans said information from the Soil Conservation Service shows that conservation of the soil and wild life are found to the least degree upon land farmed by the transient tenant who has no written agreement with the landlord, and who has no interest in the land other than to get all he can from it in one cropping season.

The Soil Conservation report was based on observations made at eight projects in varying types of soil—rolling sandy land, black land, west cross timbers, and rolling plains. The number of farms surveyed, 1,345, were divided approximately half and half between tenants and owner-operators. Evans quoted P. H. Walser, State Co-ordinator of Soil Conservation, as saying that the survey showed "possibilities of maintenance of the constructive program are greatest when the land is being operated by the owner. Probabilities of maintenance are still good when the farm is operated by a tenant who expects to become a land owner, and who realizes that success in farming depends upon maintenance of the soil and its productivity. Probabilities are also good when the land is operated by a tenant who may not be ambitious to own land, yet expects to earn his livelihood by farming and realizes the necessity for conservation. This is especially true when the tenant enjoys the security brought about by a definite understanding with his landlord, and a rental agreement covering a period of years."

The Farm Security Administration program is assisting a limited number of tenants to become owners through loans to buy land. A campaign is also being carried on to promote leases which will give the tenant more security through a longer term of years and compensation for improvements.

Individual Campaigns Help Chevrolet Dealers

As a result of individual campaigns of their own Chevrolet dealers are in a position to accept business in volume, which general sales manager reported recently.

Chevrolet dealers who have geared into the Used Car Exchange program, individual campaigns to boost car sales and reduce car stocks. Mr. Holler said, Chevrolet dealers are doing well in February, and with sales showing a sharp increase, Chevrolet dealers are pleased with models that have rough recommendations of the February and March campaign. Chevrolet dealers are in a position to accept business in volume, which stimulated consumer interest to the extent that Chevrolet dealers anticipate substantial increases in car stocks during the month.

The progress of Chevrolet dealers' exclusive use of the Chevrolet program has really been nominal. February sales of 116,925 topped the sales of February last year, 115,058, showing an increase of 1,867 units. In addition, let has recorded 100,000 used car sales monthly period of 36 consecutive months. During those 36 months let dealers have delivered 411 the amazing total of used cars.

CAPITAL NEWS LETTER

Pease River and Denison Dam
The Army engineers have approved of making a survey of the Pease River Flood Control project and the funds for beginning this survey will be carried into the House of Representatives. This river has caused great flood damage in recent years. It is believed by the engineers that the construction of a dam on this river will be of great assistance, not only in the checking of floods in that area, but in flood control on the lower reaches of Red River.

The Army engineers have recently approved and recommended to Congress the construction of a dam on Red River at Denison. This matter has been under consideration for several years. It will cost $54,000,000 and will require about 4 1-2 years' work to complete same. It is expected that the power furnished from this dam will be sufficient to furnish a considerable portion of the additional power needed in that area within a 250 mile radius. Cheap electricity is one of man's greatest blessings, which lifts a tremendous burden from the shoulders of the farmers and abridges much of the drudgery of housekeeping. It tremendously lowers the cost of producing and processing farm commodities and adds one of the greatest and most worthwhile modern conveniences for the rural population. The Denison Dam project was being sponsored by Congressman Sam Burnburn.

Corporations and Individuals
Justice Black recently re-opened a Supreme Court mistake of long standing, in refusing to agree that a corporation, under the 14th amendment, is a person. A corporation under the construction made by the Supreme Court many years ago was construed to be a person and as such, has been given many exemptions and privileges not intended under the Constitution. Because of this Supreme Court interpretation, the states are powerless to control foreign corporations in many of their activities. The writer introduced a bill last May to correct the situation about which Justice Black justly complained, receives more liberal members and that these glaring inexcusable and unjust decisions will be corrected.

Navy Bill
The House began consideration of the Navy expansion bill last Monday and continued debate throughout the week. The most objectionable features of the bill, outside of the $1,200,000,000, are for the expenditure for the additional authorization of three battle ships at a cost of more than $70,000,000 each, and the naval policy attempted to be written into the bill. The Naval Policy is declared to be among others, "to protect our commerce and citizens abroad." The naval policy section (Sec. 9) was stricken from the bill on a point of order. The final vote on the bill will occur Monday. It is expected the bill will pass by an overwhelming vote.

Marketing Quota Vote
Last Saturday the farmers voted on whether or not they favored the marketing features of the new AAA Act. More than 2-3 of the farmers in the twenty states affected voted and overwhelmingly said by their vote, that they favored the marketing quota act. The total vote in the 20 states was 1,190,138 for and 97,471 against, 92 per cent of those voting, favoring the act. In Texas, the vote was 196,875 for, to 28,125 against or 87.5 per cent favoring the act. These figures for the state and nation are practically complete.

War Referendum
Secretary of State Hull broadcast over a world wide hook up, last Thursday before the National Press Club in Washington on "Our Foreign Policy." In his remarks, he asked this question: "What warrant is there, in reason or in experience, for the assumption—which underlies such proposals as the plan for a popular referendum on the subject of declaring war—that the Chief Executive and the Congress will be at any time more eager and more likely to embark upon war than would be the general body of citizens to whom they are directly responsible?"

Answering same, we might ask what reason or experience would be and other high officials have for writing the following plank into the Democratic platform of 1924 (he was chairman of the Democratic National Committee that year):

"Disarmament, War Referendum, and National Defense—We demand a strict and sweeping reduction of armaments by land and sea, so that there shall be no competitive program or naval building. Until international agreements to this end have been made, we advocate an Army and Navy adequate of our national safety."

"Our government should secure a joint agreement with all nations for world disarmament and also for a referendum of war, except in case of actual or threatened attack."

"Those who must furnish the blood and bear the burdens imposed by war should, whenever possible, be consulted before this supreme sacrifice is required of them."

Yet, he and other high officials bitterly opposed Congress even considering such a war referendum. Many now ask why the changed attitude.

Calendar
The Senate debated the Government reorganization bill thru-out the last week, and are expected to finish same early this week. The House this week, after disposing of the Naval Authorization bill will consider conference reports on different appropriation bills and then begin the consideration of the War Department Appropriation bill. The Major Committees are busily engaged in both Houses, considering 216 different portions of the legislative program.

Big Rabbit Creek

March 20, 1938
Tobe Hardin and Mrs. Martha Nails called on the Owens and Martin families in the Owens family's home Saturday evening to listen to the Saturday night radio program.

Charlie Nails and his cousin, Otis Bone, motored up to Randall Saturday night to attend church.

Hawkeye accompanied Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin over to our friendly little city, Burkburnett Saturday.

Wheat in some fields over on this side, so Hawkeye has been informed, is beginning to boat out, and fall and spring foats are growing as rapidly.

Some few have already started to plant their corn. Most of the corn will be planted in this neighborhood next week.

Thousands of people were on the busy streets of our big oil city, Burkburnett, Saturday. Over 2000 people were on the old Rodeo grounds waiting for the big cash drawing to come off at 3:30 sharp.

Well, sir, you can believe it or not, folks, but it's true: Hawkeye went down to the Boyd Bros. Store while he was in the city Saturday, to see his friend, Tom Boyd, so to avoid the big rush at the front entrance, he walked a short distance down the street to a side door; when he got to the door he had to wait ten minutes before he could enter the side door for the clerks carrying out new and second hand radios that had been sold during the forenoon business hours.

The first thing Hawkeye missed when he got in our friendly little city was the C. H. Parker big grocery store at its old location. Hawkeye asked a friend of his on the street where did the Parker store move to. He was quickly told that their new home was up the street on the corner where the Cooper Brothers Store used to be, so Hawkeye went right up to the corner. Sure enough, he found his old friend, a Mr. Hall, the manager, and all the balance of the smiling clerks just as busy as a bunch of bird dogs, so when he stepped in this magnificent, big, roomy grocery store for a few minutes, he thought he was in such grocery stores as you see in New York City, N. Y. Believe me, the 600 square feet store room was full of fine groceries. This big store has a front space of 48 running feet and has a glass plate display of 130 feet and an up-to-date glass meat case. Their meat case was beautifully decorated with all kinds of meats by the meat cutter. While Hawkeye was in the Parker Store, he had the pleasure of meeting Garnett Parker, son of C. H. Parker, Sr., general supervisor over all of the C. H. Parker Stores. Hawkeye, in talking to Garnett, soon discovered that he was a very shrewd business man.

You know, Hawkeye was really scared up for a few seconds while in the city. He went to his old friend, Casey Logan's Radio repair shop to get a radio battery, which Casey had charged, ready to go; so Hawkeye walked in and, behold, he didn't see Casey. Hawkeye followed a time or so; finally he heard a faint answer, so finally, Hawkeye found Casey inside a big, modern, up-to-date Zenith radio, tangled up with thousands of big and all kinds of wires. Inside of that big radio with just his feet sticking out, so Hawkeye just waited till Casey got the guts out of that big radio fixed, as he was anxious to see the outcome. So after Hawkeye was there about five minutes, Casey crawled out, put it together and hooked her up on the high power wire, turned the dial, then the switch, and she was off. Say, folks, Casey made that radio play louder, plainer and better than when it first came from the factory.

Yours truly,
HAWKEYE

Nine Million Acres Are In Texas Game Demonstration Preserves

Almost nine million acres of Texas farms and ranches are included in the 262 game management demonstration preserves which have been established during 1937 in co-operation with the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College, the annual report of R. E. Ballinger, game management specialist, shows.

Farmers, ranchmen, and 4-H club boys to the number of 7,324 have banded together into co-operative game management associations in 54 counties. The associations run in size from two or three farms to more than fifty parcels of land. In some instances these areas involve an entire community and are composed of individual holdings ranging from 8 to 40,000 acres per owner.

Each association makes its own rules, Callender said. The first step is to make an inventory of the various species of game and their abundance, and to take steps to increase the game. This is accomplished to some extent through artificial restocking, but the main improvement follows the provision of food and shelter, protection from natural enemies, and by restricted hunting.

Game management research has established the fact that game will not increase beyond a point determined by the available amount of food, shelter, and the range, and a regulated harvest is recommended when wildlife becomes abundant.

The rules of the associations usually provide that, when game is plentiful, enough to permit hunting, permits or leases may be issued through the secretary of the group. Such hunting is strictly regulated.

Revenue from hunting permits is divided among the members on a predetermined basis and a reserve is accumulated for the introduction of new game and for further protective measures.

In addition to the establishment of the preserves for game management demonstration purposes, 1,089 farm ponds or lakes with a total area of 5,642 acres were constructed in 1937 and stocked with more than a million fish.

Callender gave credit for much of the success of the plan in its initial year of operation to sportsmen groups and civic organizations which recognized the possibilities of the game preserves.

PICTURES WITH WEAK LIGHT

Hard to take? No! A box camera gets it with a 4-second exposure. Other cameras, 1 second at f.6.3. Exposure is short because the light is near her face.

IT IS surprising how little light is needed to make a picture if the light is placed close to the subject. For instance, look at the snapshot above. The only light is the weak little electric candle lamp, held about a foot from the child's face.

With the lamp at that distance, a box camera loaded with supersensitive film can get the picture with a four-second time exposure. Lamp two feet from her, exposure would be sixteen seconds—four times as long. Lamp three feet away, exposure is thirty-six seconds—nine times as long.

When light is close up, it is concentrated on a small area. Farther away, the same amount of light spreads over a much larger area, and your subject gets very little of it.

The distance between the light and the camera doesn't matter. It's the distance from light to subject that counts.

To take a picture like the one above, use a frosted white bulb, and have it as near the center of the picture as possible. Such pictures are worth trying. Sometimes you get a mis— but the good ones you get are so unusual that they justify your experiments.

YOU can make interesting indoor snapshots by using regular photo lights to imitate firelight, candle-light or lamp-light. It is necessary merely to conceal the actual nature or source of the light.

You must give long exposures if only candle-light or ordinary lamp light is available but if you use enough flood bulbs, you can take snapshots with a box camera.

For a "fireside picture," tuck away a photo bulb in the corner of the fireplace, using an extension cord (see Diagram 1). Don't let the cord show. In your picture, all the light seems to come from a fire. Use three large flood bulbs, in cardboard reflectors, for a box camera snapshot.

With one small bulb in reflector, put the camera on a table and give a one-second time exposure. Load with supersensitive film, of course.

You get candle-light and lamp-light effects with the arrangement in Diagram 2. Light from the flood bulb and lamp comes from the same direction, so that shadows fall naturally. Note that you point the camera so that the photo bulbs don't show in the picture. And—don't let direct light from a photo bulb shine on your lens.

Try snaps of this type. They are interesting, and well worth your while.

Texas Fire Insurance Commission Endorses Clean-Up Week April 3-10

Marvin Hall, State fire insurance commissioner, today urged State-wide observance of Clean-Up Week as an effective means of fire prevention. The week of April 3-10 has been set aside by Governor Allred for the annual clean-up campaign.

"This will be an excellent opportunity to dispose of unnecessary rubbish, combustible materials, and inflammable goods or solutions which naturally accumulate around the home, store, and factory," Hall said. "Those, and other hazards, can be removed or reduced to the direct benefit of all concerned."

Hall explained that the people of Texas had made great progress with their fire prevention activities during the past few years, and that reduction in insurance cost had been the result.

"We cannot afford to jeopardize this good record," he said. "Clean-Up Week will be an appropriate time for us to eliminate any hazards or conditions that might start or spread a fire."

"It is only through such care and diligence that fire prevention can be successful," Hall pointed out. "For this reason I urge every Texas citizen to observe the Clean-Up Week, and to extend the fire prevention activities of that week to include every day of the year."

The public should not be misled by promises of government positions by so-called "civil service schools," their agents or their advertisements, according to information received Thursday by Postmaster Milton Gaines of Wichita Falls, from Washington offices of the United States Civil Service commission.

No school is able to fulfill any such promises, the commission continued, and the public is also warned against schools or agents that would lead one to believe they represent the government or are connected with the government in any way, or that give assurance of success in passing civil service examinations on the completion of their courses.

Government investigation of such schools is being made, according to commission officials.

Plans Pushed to Make W. T. C. of C. Parade Success

Plans were being shaped Thursday to make the parade at Wichita Falls April 26 one of the outstanding features of the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention.

Already the parade looms as the biggest and most colorful in the history of the West Texas organization, according to Horrace Robbins, chairman of the parade committee.

"We are getting a mighty good response from bands over the state," Robbins said Thursday morning.

"At the same time, Wichita Falls business firms indicate that they are going to play a big part in the parade. We are offering a cash prize for the outstanding float or decorated car."

The first firms to announce that they would have entries in the parade were the J. C. Hunt Grain company, Tarry Warehouse and Motor Lines, Woodward Roofing company, and Goodyear Service Stores. A number of other firms already have given their assurance that they will be represented in the event.

Robbins announced that the Chuck Wagon Gang will lend color to the annual parade of bands by entering 24 riders who will be dressed in range costume.

Mayor LaGuardia of New York City will be the guest of honor during the convention and will address the group.

GET AN IDEA FIRST

Bedtime—and an excellent "story-telling" snap. Learn to take pictures around a central idea.

BEFORE you snap a picture, do you have in your mind a clear idea of what you want the picture to "say"?

This is important, because every picture needs a central "picture idea" to give it life and meaning. Especially, every picture with persons in it needs some sort of action (or activity) to give it interest.

By "action" I don't mean rapid motion, but merely that the person pictured should be doing something.

For example, suppose you have a small daughter, and every now and then you want a new picture of her. Well, don't just get her to stand in a corner of the backyard, and look at the camera while you snap. Relate the picture to her personal life, her daily activities. Look at these ideas:

A picture of her climbing out of bed in the morning (you can take it at night, really). A snap of her yawning and stretching. Rubbing sleepy eyes. Playing dolls. Playing house. Leaving picture books. Leaving garten. Riding a trike. Munching a slice of pie. Being tucked into bed. Sleeping soundly with teddy bear or toy dog.

In all these, she is doing something. And, she will be doing it, if you see it, and suggest the like "she is doing the deed, this is a good way to her on a dull day or week."

It's a good picture with a clear idea, and a picture to fit it. When you are enough, snap a series of pictures "say something" how they gain in life.

Original Arkansas Hillbillies

Fairview are new pupils in our school and we are glad to welcome them. Homer Dixon from Gregton is another new pupil in our school.

When I think of God and all of His tender mercies—when I think of the wonderful messages that have been brought and are being brought from the pulpits in the churches of Burk Burnett—I think of what a visitor once asked Alfred Tennyson what his thoughts were of Christ. They were walking in a garden, and for a moment, the great poet was silent, then, bending over some beautiful flowers, he said, "What the sun is to these flowers, Jesus Christ is to my soul. He is the sun of my soul." Many of our school pupils are being brought closer to Christ during these meetings and let's hope that this will mean better homes, better churches, better schools and a better community in which to live with our families.

Cotton Under Government Loan Is Eligible Price Adjustment Payment

If a farmer has cotton under a 1937 Commodity Credit Corporation loan he may receive a cotton price adjustment payment at the rate in effect on June 30, 1938, regardless of whether or not the cotton has been sold, according to Geo. Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Under the regulations cotton price adjustment will be made on part of the 1937 crop, he explained, and the rate of payment in each case will be the amount by which the average price of cotton on the date of sale is below 12 cents. In no case will the payment be more than three cents a pound.

When a farmer sells his cotton prior to July 1, 1938, in a bona fide sale with title passing from producer to buyer, he may receive a payment on that cotton. If the cotton is under loan, title and possession cannot be delivered and, therefore, payment cannot be made on a sale of the producer's equity.

Numerous reports have been received at the state AAA office at Texas A. and M. College that farmers with cotton under loans have been selling their "equiaies"

OIL SITUATION VIEWED WITH ALARM BY ICKES

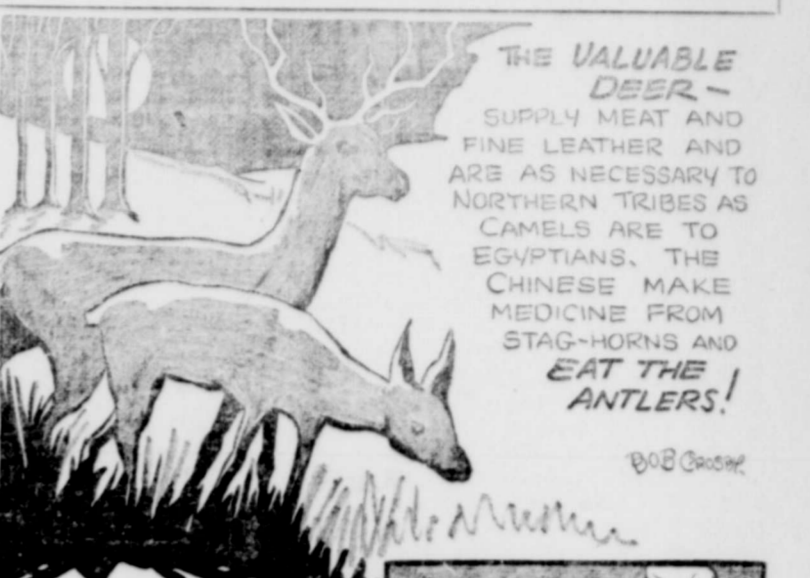

Secretary Ickes told his press conference today that "something ought to be done" about over production of oil.

Gas and oil stocks, he said were getting too high for the best interest of the market, but that his department had no power to act.

"Something ought to be done about these excessive supplies," he said, "but we are a little hesitant to offer our services again after past failures to get the companies to support oil conservation legislation."

Southwest Reported As "Greatest Storehouse Of Petroleum On Globe"

Termed the Southwest the "greatest storehouse of petroleum on the globe," W. R. Boyd, Jr., executive vice-president of the American Petroleum Institute, told the spring meeting of the Institute's Division of Production, Southwest District, at Fort Worth today that nearly 10 billion barrels of crude oil are to be found in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, and New Mexico.

In 1891 it was predicted that the oil possibilities of Texas would be found to be negligible. Mr. Boyd said, pointing out that the "prophecy of disaster," still "cry the scare of scarcity and seek to create alarms for impending shortage of oil." He quoted a recent survey by the Institute's Committee on Petroleum Reserves as showing that the nation's reserves on January 1, 1932 totaled 15,500,000,000 barrels, constituting the largest reserves in history.

"Total production of crude oil in the United States between August 27, 1859, when Colonel Drake brought in the first commercially productive well at Titusville, Pa., and 1891, a period representing the first 32 years of the American petroleum industry," Mr. Boyd explained, "amounted approximately to half a billion barrels. Last year Texas alone produced more oil than that. A' together the Southwest has produced six and one-half billion barrels of oil, or about one-third of the nation's total production to date.

"These data demonstrate how prone to err are those who cry the scare of scarcity and seek to create alarms for impending shortage in the nation's oil supply. In 1891 Dr. David T. White, of the U. S. Geological Survey, making what probably was the first survey of oil reserves, pessimistically reported that Texas apparently had no real oil-production possibilities. The good doctor may have been influenced by the words of those uncalibrated souls who boasted they would drink all the oil produced west of the Ohio River.

"We still are being forced to listen to the prophets of disaster. Only a few weeks ago it was publicly stated in Washington, D. C., that the oil reserves of this nation would be exhausted in November, 1941. Unfortunately, we cannot take these prophecies as lightly as they may deserve to be regarded. Already it has resulted in burning down many good barns to destroy a triflingly few rats. Yet I fear we may expect the conflagration to continue."

"The most recent non-political, non-partisan, uninspired, and reliable estimate of the nation's oil supply was made public early in February by the Institute's Committee on Petroleum Reserves. This committee, after months of consultation with the best available engineering minds in the industry, placed proven reserves as of January 1, 1932, at 15,500,000,000 barrels. These are the largest reserves in history. The Southwest, which scarcely figured in the 1891 survey, is estimated to possess nearly 10 billion barrels of crude, or better than 60 per cent of the nation's total visible supply.

Commenting on the economic value of the petroleum industry to the Southwest, Mr. Boyd declared it had brought into this territory $8,000,000,000 in new money; accelerated the growth of population; and created business and jobs which account for one-fourth of the total income of the region. The industry disburses for wages, leases, rentals, royalties, supplies, and taxes more than one billion dollars a year, he said. He estimated that individual expenditures from wages paid by the industry create trade for 14,000 retail stores, while the industry itself spends close to $500,000,000 a year for the material and services of other Southwestern industries.

Mr. Boyd placed the annual petroleum tax bill at $206,360,000 for the Southwest alone, explaining that this sum not only is almost as large as the $260,000,000 paid annually in wages but is sufficient to increase nearly by 50 per cent the industry's purchases from other Southwestern industries.

"Sooner or later we will have to decide whether money is to flow freely in the channels of trade, or merely go for taxes," he declared, adding that the industry in 1937 paid $81,000,000 in state and local taxes, $41,350,000 in federal taxes, and collected $65,875,000 in state and $17,335,000 in federal gasoline taxes from its customers.

Mr. Boyd warned that the increase in state gasoline tax rates in other regions directly and adversely affected the Southwest. "The money which comes into the Southwest to pay for the crude and refined products here produced comes out of the pockets of customers in other sections of the country," he said. "Every additional dollar which these folks must pay in taxes on petroleum products is a dollar lost to the Southwest.

Asserting that the growth of the Southwest is an example of the benefits of large-scale industrial enterprise, Mr. Boyd declared that the petroleum industry has done so much for the four Southwestern states that it might be expected they could create a precedent and set an example of the proper treatment of industry. He denounced as unfair the penalizing taxation being imposed upon the industry and its customers, stating that "the growing number of politicians and political aspirants who pretend to serve the people by openly attacking an industry benefiting only themselves."

He called upon oil men to take a continuing interest in government, legislation, and taxation for the protection of the industry and its customers, and to win public good will, assure the enactment of constructive legislation, and promote the development of fair and equitable taxation.

Freshman News
The Freshmen had planned to go skating several times and for various reasons have had to postpone it. At present the date is set for March 24—Thursday. It seems that even though the Freshman girls took part in the baseball game—there wasn't enough. We'll do better next time—we hope.

Soph News
The Sophomores are thrilled to know they have two from our class to go to the county for debate. We are wishing them the best of luck. We have planned to have a skating party this Wednesday.

Interscholastic News
Clara's Ward School Jr. Playground Ball Boys found that a throw from the catcher over second base will lose a ball game when they were eliminated by Valley View in that manner by a 11-10 score in the play-off at Electra.

The Clara tennis teams were fairly successful this year at the county meet. Five teams won their first matches and lost the second. The others lost, yet played a good game. Two teams are yet to play; the junior boys singles plays in the semi-finals and senior girls doubles in finals.

Junior News
The Junior play books arrived Monday and the Juniors are all anxious to get started practicing the play. We hope you will enjoy it.

MY ROOM

A Short Story

This contribution is the result of study of descriptive narrative by the English classes of the local high school. It was written by Billy Walker, who is a member of the 4-B English class.

When I first walked into the room, I was disappointed. It was a dark, dreary sight to behold. The only brightness was a slanting ray of sunshine coming thru the partly raised shade. Dancing particles of dust were playing in the sunshine like imprisoned beings suddenly released. When this thought struck me, I had the sinking feeling of being imprisoned myself. I started once to call the landlady, but decided against it as I was getting the room at such a low cost.

I looked around me when I became accustomed to the darkness. In the dim corners of the room I could see the shadowy outlines of pieces of furniture. The oddness of the situation so overpowered me I turned and started to flee a second time, but with a feeling of determination I took a step forward, pulled the cord, and let the shade fly to the top of the window.

Blinded by the sudden light, I closed my eyes and turned away. Then on opening them I gasped with both surprise and delight. The cloak of my modern environment slipped from my shoulders, and I found myself standing in a room of the time of Louis XIV.

My imagination began to run riot. Through the gilded doorway walked a lady with a full, flowing gown and powdered wig. Beside her was a smiling gentleman dressed in wine attire with a bunch of lace at his throat. They walked with the slowness of lovers to the curved settee and sat down. I was so amazed I could but stand and watch. Then after moments, which seemed ages, passed, the young man rose and said adieu. He took a tall, gold candleholder from the marble top of the carved mahogany table, inserted a candle, and left.

Then with the quietness of their coming, the lady faded into the red hangings of the wall. I came from my daze and sank into the soft plush of the settee. Yes, I could almost feel the last- ing warmth of their young beings. With an enraptured sigh I turned toward the smiling portrait of a beautiful lady. Yes, it was she. I closed my eyes and fell into a deep sleep.

American Legion Preparing for June 18-19 Convention

A special meeting of the local Oscar Frye Post will be held at the American Legion Hall Thursday night, March 24, according to Legion Commander, Fred Brookman. All members are urged to attend.

The date for the convention for the 13th district has been set for the 18th and 19th of June, and it will be here. Preparations for the biggest celebration ever held here are under way. All members of the Legion are co-operating to make the affair successful. They are being assisted by the Ladies' Auxiliary, who will have a great deal to do in preparing for the entertainment of guests during the convention.

The convention is to last two days and should mean a lot to the local post and to the town as a whole. Everyone is urged to co-operate with the Legion in making the affair successful. This is the first American Legion convention to be held in Burkburnett and everything that can be done to prove our hospitality should be done.

All members of the Legion, remember the meeting tonight. It is very important. Every member should be present.

Fiddlers To Fiddle At Athens in May

Texas fiddle bands and harmonica players all over the State are getting ready for their first state-wide convention on May 20th when they will celebrate their seventh annual reunion which is expected to attract 40,000 persons.

Fiddlers will be divided into three groups. (1) All fiddlers 60 years of age and over. (2) All fiddlers 40 years of age and not over 60. (3) All fiddlers under 40 years of age. The state contest will include "double championships" making a total of six state champions.

All Harmonica players, regardless of age, will compete in one group. Two of the best players will be awarded the state honors.

The state champion musicians will be a special feature on the afternoon program including a radio broadcast and prominent speakers.

Twenty-five Texas fiddle bands will be featured on the night program. Thousands will dance in the streets to waltzes and old time tunes. Modern sound equipment will be used.

Thirty-three cash prizes will be awarded by the Texas Fiddlers Association of Athens. At the conclusion of the night program, the eight state champions and the twenty-five fiddle bands will "draw" for the prize money. There will be no judges. The entire program is free to the public.

End of Red Ink In Fund Nearer

Busy adding machines in the office of State Treasurer Charley Lockhart this week clicked out an optimistic story of the financial condition of the State.

With the general fund deficit down to $13,738,485.43 on the March 5 call, and a cut of between $500,000 and $750,000 assured for the March 20 call, predictions were made that the vacancy in the general fund will be down to $10,000,000 by late Summer.

Despite the fact that legislative appropriations for the fiscal year 1937-38 were $7,968,000 greater than those for fiscal year 1936-37, the deficit was only $1,646,668.56 greater on March 5, 1938 than on March 5, 1937. In the first six months of the 1937-38 fiscal period, expenditures were $4,437,379 above those for the same period of the last fiscal year; yet the deficit has increased only one and three-quarter millions.

Aided by the chair store tax, which had brought in its first $1,000,000 this week, another cut will be taken in the deficit. During the 28 days from February 5 to March 5, the deficit was cut $2,094,410.

Lockhart already has funds set aside for payment of the relief bonds for 1938. This $2,500,000 yearly payment for food ought during the depression years must be paid from the first revenue of each fiscal year.

On the ultimate payment of those relief bonds hinges the probability that Texas will never need new taxes. Increasing revenues from new tax schedules, declining payments to Confederate veterans, and the expiration of the last relief bonds in 1943 will leave a healthy balance from each year's revenue to cancel the general revenue fund deficit and put the State on a cash basis. With a trimming of expenditures expected in the next biennial appropriations, and most candidates declaring that no new taxes are needed, Texas' fiscal future is much brighter.

School Men Will Discuss NYA Aid

Two committees of Texas school men will meet soon to discuss the National Youth Administration Student Aid program of 1937-38, under which more than 14,000 students have earned a portion of their expenses by part-time work while continuing in school.

The School Aid Committee, of which John P. Manning, Superintendent of Robstown Schools, is chairman, will meet in Austin on March 26. Other members of the Committee are C. E. Doyle, Jefferson County Superintendent; R. C. Patterson, Denton County Superintendent; J. O. Webb, Director of Houston Senior Schools; G. B. Trimble, Director of Fort Worth Technical High School; A. F. Waggoner, Bell County Superintendent; and H. L. Foster, Longview Schools Superintendent.

The College Aid Committee, of which Dean V. I. Moore of the University of Texas is chairman, will meet in Dallas on April 1, following the meeting of the Association of Southern Colleges. Other members of this Committee are Dr. C. E. Evans, president of Southwest Texas State Teachers College; Dr. Gordon G. Singleton, president of Mary-Hardin-Baylor College; James F. Under the Student Aid program, students who otherwise could not attend schools are selected by the participating institution for part-time employment. College students may earn an average wage of $15 a month, while high school students may earn a wage not in excess of $6 a month.

CITY GROCERY AND MARKET BURKBURNETT, TEXAS

Output Whacked For Fish Hatchery

Serious curtailment of the supply of fish for the stocking of Northwest Texas waters this summer was foreseen Saturday by the sportsmen when it became known that lowering of the water in Diversion lake has cut off the main source of water supply at the state hatchery. The Diversion lake water line has been lowered to enable repair of the dam, and the present depth is below the level of the canal which feeds water by gravity to the hatchery. Hatchery attendants report all breeds of fish are now spawning, and sufficient water is being pumped into several tanks to care for capacity hatching. Brood fish, however, are being hauled to other hatcheries as quickly as they spawn, since pumping water to additional ponds would entail considerable expense.

Major loss in the emergency is that ponds for rearing the fry to fingerling size will not be available, and it is probable that practically all fish furnished by the Diversion lake hatchery this season will be of fry size. Stocking of fry has been found to be almost futile, while a large percentage of fingerling fish placed in big waters survive to furnish sport for anglers.

Brood fish that are being taken to other hatcheries probably will be returned here when normal conditions prevail at the hatchery. It is expected that about two more weeks will be required to complete the job on the Diversion lake dam, and if spring weather continues, the entire hatch will be off within a few weeks.

State Agencies To Sponsor Children's Safety Program

There are fewer children killed on Texas highways each year principally because the children themselves are being taught to protect themselves from highway hazards, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who cites the work of the Department of Public Safety among school children as being one of the chief factors in the protection of life.

Despite every effort of the State Highway Department to build highways as safe as it is possible to make them, the personal element remains. The Texas Department of Public Safety, through the Safety Division, is working to make the personal element a factor for safety, he said.

Particularly gratifying to the members of the State May Day Committee has been the complete co-operation by the Safety Division in all activities directed toward increased protection for children.

Personnel of this division receive vigorous training after passing the examination before they go on duty. The effectiveness of this training is shown by comments given on increased efficiency and the aid extended by members of the department to motorists.

Not only is this department propounding questions, but is attempting to bring proof of the answers by safety demonstrations, safety films, and lectures on safety. Among the demonstrations given by the department relating to the cause of accidents are the following:

1. Speed causes most of the automobile accidents in Texas—shown by statistics, pictures, and reaction time studies.
2. The effects of undimmed lights.
3. Over 75 per cent of cars driving over 30 miles per hour at night are overdriving their lights.
4. The dangers of parking on improved portions of the highway.

Many communities have not taken advantage of the splendid safety talks made available thru the Texas State Police.

Ignorance of the following laws lead to the loss of life and serious lack of responsible driving on Texas highways:

1. The negligent driver in any accident is responsible for all damages.
2. Failure to stop and render aid to an individual struck by his car makes the driver guilty of a felony.
3. Driving under the influence of liquor is a violation of the law.

In the interest of the children of Texas, the May Day Committee is glad to endorse these activities directed toward safety. Make the man behind the wheel the child's friend.

More than 150 Texas cities have adopted student patrols to protect the school child going and coming from his home. It is said that not a single child has been hurt at intersections where the patrol is directing traffic, and in schools where safety courses have been given, great improvement has been noted. Highway patrolmen and other personnel of the State Department of Safety are working constantly with the school children to make them safety conscious. It is showing definitely encouraging results.

The department is planning to expand the patrol system to the rural buses where certain students will be named to assist the drivers in safety work, keeping the passengers from sticking their arms and heads from windows, keeping the aisles free of obstacles over which children might trip, and assisting the pupils to leave the bus in a safe manner.

Texas is among the leading states in safety work among the school children and highway pedestrians, and while much progress has been made toward elimination of accidental death and injury much work still remains to be done, and it remains for the entire citizenship to aid in doing it.

ORIGINAL ARKANSAS HILLBILLIES

The Original Arkansas Hillbillies have been booked for a one day engagement at the Palace Theatre, it was announced by Stanley Gartside, manager.

These rube funsters with Uncle Cy, Bashful Elmer, Percy and Zeke made their first appearance some ten years ago at Civic Club entertainments in Little Rock, Arkansas. They were encouraged by the leading men of the city to make a tour, and on their first theatrical appearance, they were pronounced a hit. After playing a number of big time vaudeville circuits, they succeeded in capturing additional specimens of the genus hillbilly male and have added them to their troupe. Prominent among the new members are Luther and his trick fiddle, Virgil the Village cut-up, and Junior with his accordion.

This troupe is said to be one of the most entertaining troupes of its kind on the road. Percy, the master of ceremonies with his clever rube jokes, and Elmer the ever-bashful youngster, have attracted critics wherever they have appeared.

Included in their selections are a number of solos, duets, and ensembles on their many homemade novelty instruments, such as saws, brooms, fly-sprays, juke spoons, washboards, toy balloons and many other household and farm implements.

There have been numerous hillbilly bands touring the stage for several years, but the ORIGINAL ARKANSAS HILLBILLIES are offering something new and different in novelty entertainment. They will be presented in connection with the regular screen program.

Wesley Bible Class Has Homecoming Banquet March 17

coming banquet in the basement of the church on Thursday evening, March 17. Ninety members and guests were present for the affair, many of them from out of town. Nine charter members were present.

The Wesley Bible Class was organized in 1921 with a membership of 60. Mrs. C. D. Montgomery was the first teacher of the class and Mrs. O. E. Melton was first president. Rev. C. D. Montgomery was pastor of the church at that time. The class has grown since its organization to a present enrollment of more than one hundred. It has always been one of the most active local organizations in civic welfare and in the interests of all charitable and religious movements.

Soon after the organization of the class, its members sponsored the founding of a Cradle Roll for the church. They still sponsor his department, which has grown to be one of the most important organizations in the church.

Teachers following Mrs. Montgomery were: Mesdames Dudley Ellis, McKinley, J. S. Mills, R. D. Cunningham, O. E. Melton, J. M. Thomas and the present teacher, Mrs. H. W. Prinzing. Mrs. H. L. Caffee is president of the class at this time.

The first home-coming banquet for the class was held last year at the same time of the year. From now on, it is the intention of members of the class to make this an annual affair.

The basement of the church was beautifully decorated in green and white. Great bouquets of lilac and ivy were on the tables. Covered dishes were brought and served by members of the class.

Mrs. J. D. Majors was toast-mistress for the occasion and introduced the guest speaker of the evening; Mrs. Wayne Somerville of Wichita Falls, who spoke on the subject of "Face Lifting." According to Mrs. Somerville, face lifting is best accomplished, not by surgery, but by the inner spirit which lives in the eyes and expression of everyone.

Mrs. M. C. Tucker, who is teacher of the Home Builders' Class, entertained the assemblage with several piano selections. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Somerville and Mrs. Tucker. Mrs. Bertha Cropper, who is president of the Home Builders' Class, and Mrs. G. D. Stacy, a member of that class, were also
