C. of C. Endorses Economic Program; Beauty Pageant Off To Good Start

Raja Hassen, president of the Chamber of Commerce, reported on the Economic Opportunity Program at a meeting of the Board of Directors Tuesday morning at the Texas Cafe.

Hassen said he had talked to Frank Hays, of Aspermont, who was trying to set up the program for a four-county area. This is a Federal Aid Program and Haskell County would have been allotted $32,000 had the program materialized by July 1.

Since the program in Haskell County did not materialize in time, this money was designated to some other county.

The area now will be comprised of the 17th Congressional District with offices in Abilene. Judge Jim Alvis attended a meeting in Abilene last week when a group met to appoint directors to set up the by-laws. These directors will meet again August 23. Governor Connally has asked that each county participate in the program. A motion was made by Jim Sampson that the Chamber of Commerce endorse the program and meet with the county commissioners concerning the project. Motion was seconded by Dr. Wm. Kemp. Motion was carried.

E. W. Clinton, representative of a Dallas firm, presented a four-color brochure and explained how it could be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. It was the opinion of the directors that the cost of the advertising was too high, and a motion that the Chamber of Commerce not sponsor the program was made by Jim Sampson, seconded by Wallace Cox, Jr., and the motion carried.

Mrs. Viars Felker reported that the beauty pageant for Miss Hey-Day is off to a good start, with much interest being shown and good response from other towns in the county.

The new Haskell County Agriculture Agent, Robert Schumann, was introduced and he expressed his desire to work with the County Fair.

Haskell All-Stars To Meet KC At Olney Tonight In Area Play-Off

The Haskell All-Stars whipped the Rule All-Stars 7-0, behind the no-hit pitching of Frank Paul Jirek here last Friday night. Jirek faced 23 batters, striking out 13 and walking only three men.

Haskell scored one run in the first inning when David Dodson, Haskell center fielder, got on base with a fielder's choice and advanced to second on a single by Bill Cox (catcher). Walter Wooten's (third baseman) sacrifice drove Dodson in.

In the second inning, Frank Paul Jirek hit a home run. There was no scoring in the third inning.

Haskell scored four more runs when there were two outs and Danny Ozuna (third baseman) got on by an error; David Dodson got a single; Bill Cox walked to load the bases; Wooten's grand slam came after he had two strikes and no balls.

In the fifth inning Bobby Cobb (short stop) walked and Milton Schmidt (left fielder) hit the ball to Rule's third baseman, and attempting to get Cobb at second, the throw was wild and Cobb scored.

Haskell made one error and Rule two, which both proved to be costly.

Battery for Haskell was Jirek, Bill Cox; for Rule, Rickey Lehrmann and Kent Smith.

The Haskell All-Stars will play Knox City tonight (Thursday), at Olney in the area play-offs.

Welfare Office Here Adding New Worker

The State Department of Public Welfare is adding a new worker to the Haskell office as soon as one can be processed and trained. Roy McDaniel, of Jacksboro, Supervisor of Haskell, Throckmorton, Knox, Baylor, Foard, Young, Archer, Jack and Clay counties, said.

McDaniel said the new worker is being added to the Haskell Welfare Office because the work load has increased due to medical and other related services.

Perry Spenny, Public Assistance worker of the Haskell office, said that the local office is going to require more space in the courthouse and possibly a full-time stenographer, in addition to a new Public Assistance worker.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Free Press, the local Welfare Office is advertising for a public assistance worker at a starting salary of $410.00 per month. To be eligible for the position, however, a person must have at least 60 hours of college work. Mr. Spenny said.

H. V. (Woody) Woodard, 49, owner-operator of the Woodard Farm Sales, 1107 North First, was sworn-in Tuesday night as Mayor of Haskell in a regular meeting of the city council. He takes the place of Rev. Douglas B. Finch, who resigned July 13 to accept a call as minister of the Timber Ridge Presbyterian Church, Houston.

Mr. Woodard was appointed Tuesday, May 24, 1966, to the city council to the seat vacated by the resignation of councilman Virgil Wall, and within a two-months period has been elevated to mayor.

The new mayor Woodard and his wife, Dorothy, have two daughters, Rita 17 and Rhonda 14. The family resides at 1700 North Avenue F.

The new mayor is immediate past president of the Haskell Rotary Club and is very active in church and civic affairs. He and his family are members of the Church of Christ.

Woodard expressed his appreciation to the city council for the confidence placed in him by electing him to the mayorship. "I will work with the council at all times for the best interest of the community and no sides will be taken," the new mayor said.

Other Business

At the Tuesday night meeting, city secretary, Ira Hester, read a report from the Housing and Urban Renewal, concerning a water and sewer development grant of $35,000.00. The city attorney will study the report as to feasibility of qualifying for the grant.

Councilmen discussed to great extent the cutting back of sidewalks on the north side of the square. Mayor Woodard and Carl Anderson will work with the highway department and property owners in getting this project underway.

The council voted to donate $125.00 to the Little League and $125.00 to the Pony League.

Appointment of a new councilman to take Mayor Woodard's place was deferred until the council could deliberate further.

TOO MUCH FOR TOO MANY

Last spring's jump in food prices, as is the case with every inflationary price rise, set off the usual hunt for a scapegoat. To many, the logical culprit could be found at the beginning of the food pipeline...the farmer, far from being a culprit, is a victim of inflation to a greater extent than most other segments of the country.

Prices received by farmers for all products in 1965 were nearly 9 per cent below the average for 1947-49. During the same period, weekly wage rates to labor have gone up 107 per cent. Things farmers bought rose in price by 28.3 per cent.

No, the farmer is not to blame for inflation. Inflation is the result of too many people asking too much from their government and the government trying to provide too many "free" services and handouts. In defending the farmer, Farm Journal magazine says, "...we suggest that they, the Secretary of Agriculture, the President, the rest of his administration...and Congress...concern themselves more with the real cause of inflation...government spending and expansionary fiscal policies. Let's have less wailing about food prices and some real shouting about that."

A NATION WRECKER

U. S. News & World Report, in a recent issue, featured a story on what to expect if inflation becomes the way of life in the U. S. It showed what happens when government fiscal policies in a country result in a permanent upward trend in price indexes and the cost of living.

In brief, people lose interest in doing a good job. Shoddy workmanship and unreliability of the individual increases. Young people become indifferent. Thrift is unknown. The chief victims of inflation are the elderly living on fixed incomes. Character erosion accompanies erosion of the value of money. U. S. News & World Report cites many examples in European countries, which have long accepted inflation as a way of life. In Britain, "Repairmen and various service workers tend to act as if they are doing the customer a favor by accepting an order." In Sweden, young people shun hard work and training...good pay is easy to come by. The United States is already far down the inflationary road to irresponsibility.

No wonder Russian revolutionary Lenin once said that to ruin a capitalist society, one must destroy its money. Dictatorship is the alternative to capitalism and freedom. It is difficult to believe that the American people wish to sacrifice these on the altar of inflation.

The house is framed with shrubs of many kinds. Their photinia and nandina, though rather small yet, gives promise of many years of future beauty. A hedge of althea on the east side of the house was in full bloom. Mrs. Peiser had just recently established a bed of vari-colored coleus. They were growing beautifully.

A row of fruitless mulberry and mimosa give protection from north winds in the winter and the western sun in the afternoon. Mrs. Peiser has a large clump of pampas blooming in her front flower bed, too; a blaze rose was in full bloom near the pampas grass.

Mrs. Peiser doesn't stop with flowers outside, she has a room divider planter filled with healthy ivy and other pot plants.

Mrs. Peiser expressed the desire to become a member of the Haskell Garden Club, as her children would be away at college this fall and she will have more free time. She would be an asset to the club.

Operators of Slow Moving Vehicles Urged To Display Warning Emblems

W. S. Taylor Rites Are Held At Rochester

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has joined the Texas Farm Bureau in urging operators of "slow-moving vehicles" such as farm tractors, combines and road construction and maintenance equipment to display special luminous "SMV" warning emblems on the rear of the equipment.

Garrison said the emblems, developed as the result of extensive research at the University of Ohio, are available through all county Farm Bureau offices and a number of farm equipment dealers, gins, elevators and warehouses.

He emphasized that the emblem is not designed to replace any other warning devices, such as lighting, which are required by law, but to supplement such devices.

"While this emblem is not required by law in Texas, we feel, as does the Texas Farm Bureau, that it can make an important contribution to the safety of operators of such equipment as well as other motorists sharing the streets and highways," Garrison said.

"We urge all motorists to familiarize themselves with this warning sign and watch for the bright orange emblem with the red border and the triangle shape which identifies slow-moving vehicles."

The DPS director said that "slow-moving vehicles" are described as those designed to travel not more than 25 miles per hour. Purpose of the emblem on the rear of such vehicles is to identify them at distances allowing operators of faster moving vehicles to slow down in time.

The emblem, made of lightweight aluminum materials, has a solid center triangle of fluorescent orange with a 1 3/4 inch outer border of red reflective material. The orange material has been proven to be highly

Naomi S.S. Class Meet In Home Of Mrs. Bill Woodson

The Naomi Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church met Monday night, July 25, in the home of Mrs. Bill Woodson for their regular business and social meeting, with Mrs. Woodson's group as hostesses.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. Opal Adkins. Reports were given and a project discussed for the class in the future. Invocation was given by Mrs. O. O. Akins.

The devotional for the evening was brought by Mrs. Opal Nanny. Mrs. Nanny used as her subject, "The World Is Very Small." Mrs. Nanny stated, "We know people in other parts of the world today because of so many ways of communication and transportation. The thought of brotherly love is being made manifest as was stated by Paul in Romans 12:9-10.

In Corinthians, 13th chapter, Paul gives us some of the qualities of brotherly love, long suffering, compassion, envyeth not and rejoicing in the truth. We as Christians today have the opportunity to spread the Gospel to many nations since modern science has brought us so close together." Everyone was inspired by Mrs. Nanny's devotional.

Following the devotional the group enjoyed a social hour. Refreshments of sandwiches, olives, cake and punch were served to the following members: Mmes. Opal Adkins, Sadie Payne, Opal Nanny, Clara Biard, Frances Lane, Iola Henshaw, Catherine Schwartz, Betty Harris, Ethel Lou Shelton, Faye Woodson, Ruby Dent, Helen Oates, Louise Green, Vivian Roberson, Misses Nettie McCollum and Betty Jo Clanton, and one visitor, Mrs. O. INSURANCE ADJUSTERS LIFE IS NOT "A BED OF ROSES"

"Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen" isn't really the theme song of Texas' some 5,000 insurance adjusters. But perhaps it ought to be.

Whatever the trouble—a wreck on the freeway, a home hit by fire, or a large-scale disaster such as a hurricane, tornado, or flood—it almost certainly involves insurance. And just as certainly, it winds up in the lap of an adjuster.

Just keeping ahead of the claims is problem enough. Last year in Texas 258,593 claims were made on auto insurance. (Total cost: $85.5 million) and 51,000 claims were filed for damage caused by wind and hail storms (Total cost: $15 million).

Because of the ever-increasing number of claims, the hours are seldom 8 to 5, the weeks are rarely 40 hours long. The independent adjusters who work for many insurance companies, particularly pride themselves on being able to work claims at any hour and around the clock if necessary.

R. S. Davis, of Dallas, president of the Association of Independent Insurance Adjusters of Texas, says, "I tell a man who wants to work with me that if he wants a 40-hour week, he had better go to work somewhere else. Sometimes we work 60 or 70 or 80 hours a week."

An adjuster's work is not always pleasant, since he seldom meets people in the line of duty unless they are in trouble, and often emotionally upset.

But those who have faced an adjuster with a sinking heart, fearing he would try to settle a claim for an inadequate sum of money, have found that he is not an ogre after all. Integrity is vital to the job.

"Sometimes it is insinuated that the less we pay the better reputation we make with the companies," said E. M. Corbell, an independent adjuster in Houston. "But this is entirely false. We would be criticized by the companies for purposely underpaying a loss to an insured as much or more than we would if we gave the insured the benefit of a reasonable doubt."

Don B. Caldwell of San Antonio put it differently. "An adjuster must first of all achieve a plane of impersonal reserve. He cannot be influenced toward the agency and public nor to the company."

Both Davis and Caldwell said the ability to interpret insurance coverages is also vital to the job. And Davis stressed the ability to sell.

"If you can't sell your points," he said, "it doesn't make any difference how right you are."

Training for adjusters ranges from an intensive four-week course to seven years of study for a law degree. Knowledge required varies with the type of claim. Adjusters who specialize in fire claims need a knowledge of construction engineering. Life, health and accident and workmen's compensation adjusters must know legal medicine. Adjusters who work third party claims, that is, those hired by an insured's company to settle an auto casualty or liability claim against the insured, must have general legal training.

An adjuster may be an independent, as about 1,000 in Texas are, a member of the staff of an insurance company, or a public adjuster, one who represents a claimant against an insurance company. Occasionally adjusters find themselves in a touchy situation, as they did when the flash floods hit Dallas this past spring and they had to tell many distraught homeowners that their policies did not cover floods and rising water.

"People should read and understand their policies," Davis said. "But sometimes they do not, and then we have to explain the coverage."

Another adjuster summed it up: "If you think this is an easy job, just try it!"

Medicare Enrollment Should Be Three Months Before Reaching

"Medicare enrollment will be a continuing process from now on," said R. R. Tuley, Jr., social security district manager for the Abilene area. The general enrollment period that ended May 31 was an all-out effort to enroll persons who were already aged 65 or older.

Persons not yet 65 will have 7 months in which to enroll for doctor bill insurance. Tuley continued. The individual's enrollment period for that part of Medicare will run from the third month before his 65th birthday month to the third month after it. Thus a person who will be 65 in October, 1966, may enroll from July 1, 1966, through January 31, 1967.

"There is no special enrollment period for the hospital insurance part," he went on, adding that a person past 65 could sign up for that even after he becomes an in-patient at a participating hospital. There are no premium payments involved for the hospital insurance half of Medicare.

Whether or not a person has retired or has ever worked under social security has no effect on Medicare coverage, but failure to enroll in the three-month period before age 65 will result in a delay of from one to three months in acquiring the medical or doctor bill part of Medicare coverage. A higher premium cost will apply for those who do not enroll at their first 1967, 1969, or other

In the 1860's, when iron mongers learned how to make thin sections of cast iron, toys and toy banks were the most prominent castings. The first mechanical bank was patented by Hall in 1869 and was called Hall's excelsior. Banks that sold for pennies then, now bring from $50 to $1500. One of the most representative collections of rare mechanical banks can be seen at the Harold Warp Pioneer Village, Minden, Nebraska.

WEINERT FOURSQUARE GOSPEL CHURCH

THE INTERNATIONAL CHURCH OF THE FOURSQUARE GOSPEL

XVI. CHURCH RELATIONSHIP

We believe that having accepted the Lord Jesus Christ as personal Saviour and King, and having thus been born into the family and invisible body or church of the Lord, it is the sacred duty of the believer, whenever this lieth within his power, to identify himself with, and labor most earnestly for the upbuilding of God's kingdom with the visible church of Christ upon earth; and that such visible church is a congregation of believers, who have associated themselves together in Christian fellowship and in the unity of the Spirit, observing the ordinances of Christ, worshipping Him in the beauty of holiness, speaking to each other in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, reading and proclaiming His Word, laboring for the salvation of souls, giving of their temporal means to carry on His work, edifying, encouraging, establishing one another in the most holy faith, and working harmoniously together as dear children who are many members but one body of which Christ is the head.

Scripture References Where Taught

1. I will praise the Lord with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation. Ps. 111:1.
 2. Let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works: not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching. Heb. 10:24, 25.

3. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved. Acts 2:47. And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in numbers daily. Acts 16:5.

4. So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. Rom. 12:5. (Also see Rom. 12:6, 7, 8.)

5. Then they that feared the Lord spake often one to another; and the Lord hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the Lord, and that thought upon His name. And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I shall make up my jewels; and I shall spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him. Mal. 3:16, 17.

XVII. CIVIL GOVERNMENT

We believe that civil government is of divine appointment, for the interests and good order of human society; and that governors and rulers should be prayed for, obeyed and upheld, at all times except only in things opposed to the will of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is the ruler of the conscience of His people, the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords.

Scripture References Where Taught

1. The powers that be are ordained of God. For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Rom. 13:1, 3. (Also Deut. 16:18; II Sam. 23:3; Ex. 18:21-23; Jer. 30:21)

2. We ought to obey God rather than man. Acts 5:29. Fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul. Matt. 10:28. (Also Dan. 3:15-18; 6:7-10; Acts 4:18-20.)

3. One is your Master, even Christ. Matt. 23:10.
 4. And He hath on His vesture and on His thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS. Rev. 19:16. (Also Ps. 72:11; 2; Rom. 14:9-13.)

NOTEBOOK—PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

INDUSTRIAL SITES AND BUILDINGS

...basic for new and expanding industry

Industries' requirements for land and buildings are one of their most important interests when selecting a town in which to operate. Each industry has its own peculiar needs. Therefore, a wide variety of different type industrial sites gives a community increased chances of obtaining new industry as well as helping its existing industry to expand. Planning and zoning by a community is important to the community as well as to industry. Land is now available in West Texas. Wise planning for the future can easily be accomplished.

INDUSTRIAL SITES — range from industrial parks, planned industrial districts, individual sites (with all utilities) to raw land to be developed. Communities desiring new industry should have the following information on firmly committed industrial sites . . .

- PLATS — Showing size, shape, location of utilities, access to transportation and topography.
- LOCATION — Inside or outside of the city and any zoning restrictions.
- PICTURES — Aerial photos tell an excellent story on an industrial site.
- INDUSTRIAL BUILDINGS — existing buildings are very important as they are usually available at a lower cost than building new ones. In addition to the above information on sites, a community should have the following information on buildings. . .
- FLOOR PLAN — Showing the size and dimensions of building, wall and ceiling heights, floor bearing capacity, office space, whether it has sprinkler system for fire protection and what type heating and air conditioning would be available.
- PICTURES — Show the type construction of the building as well as many other items of information that industry would be interested in.
- VIP (Very Important Part) — Have firm commitments in writing on all industrial sites and buildings as to sale price and/or lease price, cost of extending utilities or roads and basic construction costs in the area for new facilities.

Ask your WTU local manager for additional information and services available.

SCS TECHNICIANS CONCERNED ABOUT ACCIDENT PREVENTION

This is National Farm Safety Week throughout the United States, according to Harry G. Koehler, Soil Conservation Service Technician of Haskell, Texas and all are urged to observe safety at all times.

The use of L. P. gas (butane or propane) to inflate tires on pickup trucks and farm machinery is a dangerous practice. There are known cases of tires burning or exploding while a repairman was dismounting a tire filled with L. P. gas. Severe burns or even loss of life could result from the improper use of this highly inflammable gas, stated Koehler.

Service station and garage repairmen should always be informed when tires are left for repair that the tire contains inflammable gas.

A portable air tank or a small air compressor may prove to be a small investment compared to severe burns or loss of

The world's largest collection of antique farm tractors and trucks in running order is located in this little south central Nebraska town of Minden, at the Harold Warp Pioneer Village.

For 300 years clocks had no minute hand. In 1867, the minute hand was added; the second hand was added 93 years later. Pocket sundials were the first pocket watches. Prior to 1379, the hourglass, water-clock and sundial were used to tell time. From the hourglass, to the sundial; from the first mechanical clock to the atmosphere clock that runs on air—the evolution of clocks can be viewed at the Harold Warp Pioneer Village at Minden, in south central Nebraska.

Annual Farm Safety Week Is Being Observed

This week July 24-30 is being observed as Farm Safety Week and lends emphasis to the 23rd annual rural safety campaign.

Farm Safety Week focuses attention on all farm hazards and places special emphasis on the prevention of highway accidents involving slow-moving farm vehicles. The campaign is sponsored jointly by the National Safety Council, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

"Today's increasing demand for farm products places worldwide attention and importance on America's farm population," said Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council. "Farm families and rural leaders must make a joint effort to eradicate hazards that could cause death, unnecessary suffering and loss of time and money."

Farm Safety Week comes at a time of the year when farm people are actively involved in all phases of farm work. It is an important and ideal time to check the safety of farm equipment and environment.

A half-page ad sponsored by Haskell Merchants calling special attention to the observance of National Farm Safety Week was carried in last week's issue of the Free Press.

Rotarians Hear Report On The "Flying Club"

Haskell's newest organization, a "Flying Club," is off the ground flying as the organization of a limited 15-members has purchased a 1961 Piper PA-22 plane. Bud Lane, vice-president of the club informed Rotarians at last Thursday's noon luncheon meeting at Felker's dining room.

Carl Anderson was program chairman for the day and introduced the speaker. In the absence of Rotary president, Bob Herren, the vice-president, Bob Greenroy, presided over the meeting.

Officers of the flying club are Tom Anderson, president; Bud Lane, vice-president; Ken Lane, secretary, and A. C. Richardson, Jr., treasurer.

"Flying lessons are $5.00 per hour, and it requires some eight hours to solo. There is no age limit, other than a person must be 16 years of age or older to take flying lessons," Lane said.

The Haskell Flying club has its 15 charter members, and several names are on the waiting list, Lane pointed out.

Brooks Middleton, Rev. J. V. Patterson, R. A. Lane and Howard Perry were appointed to care for the Anderson Park during the week. H. V. Woodard led the group singing and E. J. Stewart gave the invocation.

Guests present at the meeting were County Agent Bob Schumann, and Norvis Ousley of Rule.

The Texas Safety Association urges Texas drivers to display courtesy to tourists in our state. Many of them will be driving on our streets and highways for the first time and frequently slow down in traffic to check road signs and street markings. Be patient and courteous to these drivers—you may be traveling in their state some day and need the same kind of courtesy.

HEALTH FACTS by Rohe

In 1900 life expectancy was 47 years. Today with medical progress, formerly "incurable" diseases can be treated and the average person is expected to reach 70. In the year 2000, it's anticipated that we'll live to 70—or older.

In the United States today one-fifth of our population is over 65. Science—particularly the medical specialty of Geriatrics—is actively studying the medical problems of age such as high blood pressure, obesity and heart ailments.

One of the major conditions of old age is Xeroderma (pronounced Zer-Der-ma), commonly called dry skin. Xeroderma can be treated, clinical researchers find, by the use of a therapeutic bath oil called Alpha-Keri which adds a fine film to the skin. This locks in the moisture to relieve the dry itching tight feeling.
