Veterans Holding G.I. Insurance To Receive $223 Million In Dividends

Veterans holding G.I. insurance policies will receive $223 million in dividends during 1968. Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, said.

Dividends will be paid on the anniversary dates of the policies with dividend payments beginning January 1st.

For approximately four million World War II veterans, their National Service Life Insurance dividend will total $208 million. The average payment will be $52. The 1967 dividend totaled $196 million. Individual payments averaged $46.

The dividend for some 190,000 World War I veterans with United States Government Life Insurance will total $15 million, with payments averaging $79. The 1967 dividend also totaled $15 million but averaged $3 less.

While dividends will vary according to plan, age and amount of insurance coverage, Coker pointed out that veterans who converted their G.I. insurance to permanent plans will get higher dividends in 1968 because of increased interest earnings on reserves. Modified life insurance policies will not share in next year's dividend since premium rates for 212,000 veterans holding these policies are so near actual costs that no surplus has accumulated.

About half of the four million World War II NSLI policies are "permanent plan," Coker said. By contrast, all but 2,500 of the USGLI policies held by 190,000 World War I veterans are permanent plans.

The 1968 dividend will make the 19th straight year in which an annual dividend has been paid on NSLI policies. It will also bring to approximately $7.2 billion the amount of dividends paid on NSLI policies since 1950.

Dividends were first paid on USGLI policies in 1919. Since that time, and including the 1968 payment, about $700 million in USGLI dividends have been paid.

Income Tax Instructions Mailed To Taxpayers Do Not Tell Whole Story

The income tax instructions mailed to taxpayers do not tell the whole story for married taxpayers in Texas. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of IRS Dallas District, points out that married couples in Texas must consider the Texas Community Property Law in determining what they should report on their income, and what is separate property and income if they plan on filing separate returns.

In filing separate returns each spouse must take into account half of the community income and deductions, and all of his or her separate income and deductions, to determine the proper tax on separate returns. Each may claim only his own exemptions and deductions. A dependent supported with community funds may be claimed by either spouse—however, an exemption may not be divided by the taxpayers.

Mr. Campbell says that—contrary to other states—a non-working wife in Texas is liable for filing an income tax return and paying the tax due on one-half of her working husband's income, unless they file a joint return that is signed by both husband and wife. Determining the amount of community income and deductions becomes especially important in divorce cases. The husband and wife are each liable for income tax on one-half of the income from the salaries of both and each are entitled to one-half of the deductions up to the date of the divorce. Each is naturally liable for his or her own separate income after the date of the divorce.

Mr. Campbell emphasizes three special areas affected by community property law:

(1) Extra Dividend Exclusion—Since dividends are considered community property in Texas, the husband and wife may claim a $200 dividend exclusion rather than $100, no matter which spouse owns the stock. Many taxpayers do not understand that the community property law gives them a double dividend exclusion.

(2) Extra Capital Loss Deduction—Community property law makes it possible for Texas taxpayers with a capital loss of more than $1,000 on sale of community property, to file separate returns and claim as much as $1,000 capital loss on each return.

(3) Retirement Income Credit—The community property law works both for and against Texas taxpayers in claiming retirement income credit. When one spouse retires and becomes eligible for retirement income credit on his tax return and the other spouse continues to work, the community property law can eliminate part or all of the retirement income credit that would be available to the retired taxpayer in other states. On the benefit side, community property can give a young wife in Texas full retirement income credit from the retired husband's income from a public retirement system, even though she would not qualify in a non-community property state.

Community property's greatest tax benefit comes from the additional $1,524 retirement income credit for a non-working wife who qualifies for retirement income credit on the basis of having community income for more than 10 years. The community property law can cause some taxpayers to pay as much as $28 additional tax—or it can reduce the tax bill by as much as $28.

(4) Medical Insurance Deduction—This year there is a new community property benefit for some Texas taxpayers. The change in the law (this year) on medical expenses allows individual taxpayers a maximum of $150 deduction on one-half of expense for medical insurance without regard to the 3% rule. Taxpayers with community property can file separate returns and each claim a maximum of $150 medical insurance from their medical insurance costs for $90 or more.

HEAD STATE'S LARGEST FRATERNITY

These four top officers were elected to head the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas in 1968 at the annual communication in Waco. Named to head the state's largest fraternity were (left to right): Joe W. Steed of Mount Pleasant as Grand Junior Warden, Grand Senior Warden Hal Burnett of Alpine, Grand Master J. W. Chandler of Houston and Deputy Grand Master J. Guy Smith of Dallas. Over 3,500 Masons from Texas Lodges attended the meeting.

The Amazing Avocado

Unlike other gourmet favorites, the delicious avocado is not a foreign import—but a true All-American! This buttery-textured, nut-flavored fruit was cultivated by the Aztecs, Incas, and West Indians as early as the 16th century.

Called "ahuacatl" by the Aztecs, "aguacate" by the Spanish conquistadores, and "agavago" by George Washington, who sampled it in Barbados, the avocado grows today in flourishing orchards from Florida to California.

And the hottest "new" color in decorating these days is avocado! Such household items as Pyrex ware's new Verde mixing bowls-casseroles in four shades of this beautiful color are adding an exciting touch to home decor.

Medical Folklore Usually Wrong

While much of medical folklore is now obsolete and largely forgotten, there are still many completely erroneous beliefs about their health held by sizeable numbers of people in our so-called age of enlightenment.

TODAY'S HEALTH GUIDE, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the American family, points out that grandma is not always wrong in her concepts of health. But she often is wrong.

The book lists some of the common misconceptions about health—

- Eating between meals is always harmful (untrue).
- Bad breath means disease (not so).
- Milk should not be taken at the same time as sour fruits (not so).
- Proteins and carbohydrates should not be eaten at the same meal (incorrect).
- Daily bowel movements are necessary for health (untrue).
- Pain in the back must indicate kidney disease (incorrect).
- Pain in the abdomen means an overloaded stomach (wrong).
- A laxative is good for abdominal pain (it is sometimes dangerous).
- Food kept in an open tin can is necessarily poisonous (not if properly refrigerated).

• Scales from scabies measles spread the disease and throat secretions...
 • Sewer gas makes you sick (no—it's just unpleasant)...
 • Pimples and bad blood (they are infections)...
 • Boric acid stings eyes (it does not)...
 • Fried and high-fat foods are harmful (restriction)...
 • A cold can be cured (it cannot)...
 • You feed a cold, you feed a fever (no)...
 • Eye muscle exercises eliminate the need for glasses (they are a dangerous fallacy)...
 • Vegetarianism is health (it simply makes nutrition more difficult)...

Q. How will the Freedom Shares be registered?
A. Registration must be identical to the E Bonds bought in combination.

WASHINGTON "As it looks from here" OMAR BURLESON Congressman 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. Grants-in-Aid to the States and local governments has been discussed in this space a number of times.

A recent report of the Joint Congressional Economic Committee prompts further reference.

During the current fiscal year the Federal Government will pour out some $17 billion in grants to States and local governments. Virtually all Federal Departments and Agencies are involved in some way in more than 400 programs.

On the basis of figures recently compiled the Joint Congressional Economic Committee estimates that these Federal payments will run in excess of $30 billion by the mid-1970's.

This should concern every American because it signals the prospect of eventual destruction of our basic Federal system.

The committee makes reference to the Administration's prediction last year that grants-in-aid may quadruple in five years, skyrocketing Federal contributions above $60 billion in the next six years.

With this sum of money being disbursed from Washington to State and local governments, a virtual monopoly of power will exist in Washington.

The 30 States, 3,000 counties, 35,000 municipalities, and 43,000 School Districts would be reduced to agents of the Federal Government and under its control for all intents and purposes.

The already unprecedented centralization of decision-making at the Washington level has created a maximum of paper work, controls, duplication and confusion requiring greater numbers of Government employees at all levels.

Results thus far in a number of programs show far less accomplished than was expected. Ever increasing administrative

State Wide Texas Assn. Cotton Producers Organization Is Formed

Plains Cotton Growers representing cotton in 22 counties in the state one of six producing counties in the new Texas Association of Cotton Producers Organization, Bragg executive vice president of PCG, announced.

Joe Pate, of Lubbock, extensive cotton producer in both Texas and Arizona and a member of the advisory staff of the president of the National Cotton Council, was named chairman of the state body. Other officers are W. W. Hart, Victoria, vice chairman; Donald Johnson, Lubbock, executive vice president of PCG, secretary-treasurer.

Each of the regional producer groups will continue to function, working on growers' problems peculiar to their particular areas. The state association will seek to provide services that are common to all growers, Bragg stated.

Such problems that were spelled out in the organization's statement of objectives included: 1.) Campaign to increase cotton exports. 2.) Specific plans for improving the "packaging" of lint. 3.) Establishment of an effective research and promotion program on a state-wide basis. 4.) Cooperation with other similar grower groups on programs and problems common to all farmers.

It is anticipated that a number of other Texas cotton growing groups, now in the talking stage, will be organized and will affiliate with the state organization, Bragg said.

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

The last few days has seen much activity in the gardens. Women have been bitten by the old garden bug.

Beds should be prepared as soon as it is dry enough, and before the moisture leaves, so filling will be easy.

Now is the time to check trees for dead limbs, to prune hedges and to clean and burn all garden residue that has not been composted. Spring cleaning will cut down on insects that have wintered in the rubbish.

If roses have had blackspot and mildew in the past, spray with wettable sulphur. Be sure to wet the entire bush.

Give flower beds a dusting of sulphur so the spring rains will take it deep into the soil.

Get seed flats ready to plant such seeds as tomatoes, peppers, egg plants and special flower seeds.

Plastic spread over clay pots or boxes make good miniature green houses. The plastic holds moisture and also keeps out the cold weather.

If you have a pecan tree that should be budded, now is a good time to take the buds. After they have been cut from the mother tree place the buds in plastic sacks on a shelf of the refrigerator to keep them dormant until time to bud the tree.

It is better to get professionals to bud trees unless you have had previous experience in budding.

If you have not already planted sweet peas, it is not too late to do so now. Plant the peas in a trench about six inches deep and cover the seed the depth of the pea size. After the plants emerge, add a little dirt to the trench day by day until it is within an inch or so of the top soil; use care not to cover the plants with soil.

Haskell Garden Club members will work with more en-

Peace Corps To Test Saturday, February 17th

Haskell area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday, February 17, Room 2301, New Post Office Building, Abilene, Texas.

Volunteers need not have a college degree, as a broad range of skills are needed for overseas programs in agriculture, public health, community development, education and cooperative development.

The Placement Test, which takes about an hour and a half, determines how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. It measures general aptitude and ability to learn a language, not education or present knowledge of a foreign language. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive - an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

OK ELECTRIC

CLEAN AS A...

Pick almost any word that describes cleanliness and it explains a major advantage of electric range.

When you cook with flameless electricity, there can be no fumes or smoke to dirty the range and surrounding walls and floor. An occasional once-over-lightly wash keeps your cooking area sparkling span!

Many new electric ranges feature self-cleaning ovens making the messy, tiring chore of oven-cleaning as old-fashioned as cooking with flame. Now all you need do is set the dial; like magic, your oven is sparkling clean in minutes!

But the real advantage of cooking electric is ease and speed. You select the "just right" temperature for every dish. Once you establish a superior recipe, it's easy to repeat time-after-time.

Small wonder so many "old fashion" cooks know that better cooking is just a dial away... with an electric range. Visit your favorite appliance store soon. With a flameless electric range, you're certain to cook rings around the rest!

Decisions of Cotton Farmers Could Have Great Impact On 1968 Income

Decisions to be made by cotton producers in the Rolling Plains during a six weeks period beginning Monday, February 5, could have the greatest impact on their 1968 income of anything that might happen during a similar six weeks period for the remainder of the year, according to Charles G. Bragg, executive vice president of the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

"Officials of RPCG do not propose to try to tell producers what they think the farmers ought to do about signing up in the acreage diversion phase of the 1968 cotton program.

"We had hoped to get administrative officials of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the USDA to change the date of the six weeks sign-up in the diversion program to end on a date nearer June 1. Failing this, however, RPCG officials would like to call producers' attention to a few points before they decide on how much of the 30 per cent voluntary acreage they will place under production controls," he said.

Some aspects to be considered in determining the extent of allotted acreage, above the 5% mandatory, to be diverted, as cited by Bragg, are these:

(1) The 1967 U. S. cotton crop is the shortest in 72 years and Commodity Credit Corporation stocks are down to about a million bales. This is the lowest since 1952 and compares with a high of 12.1 million bales of CCC cotton in August 1966.

(2) Cotton prices rose steadily for 10 continuous weeks before hitting a peak of about 27 cents a pound on middling one-inch staple on Monday, Dec. 4. This compared with about 21.86 cents a pound a year earlier.

(3) More than 3 million bales of cotton disappeared from world supplies during 1967 and foreign production was below domestic needs of countries competing with U. S. producers.

(4) There are only a few alternate non-surplus crops which may be grown with some degree of success on upland diverted cotton acreage in the Rolling Plains which can assure the producer a reasonable net income. The alternate non-surplus crops set out by USDA are castor beans, guar, safflower, sesame, plantago avata, sunflower, mustard seed, flaxseed and crambe.

IN HARDIN-SIMMONS WINTER PRODUCTION

Diane Cadenhead, of Hardin-Simmons University, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Cadenhead, of Haskell, plays the part of Irenone in the Hardin-Simmons Van Ellis Theatre's winter production of Racine's "Phaedra."

The classic drama was scheduled February 6 and again for the 9th.

Stitching And Stewing

By Ruth Ann Fausler
County H. D. Agent

Fashion looks change as fast as a woman's mind and this is the year the look is as varied; a touch of the Thirties and the military ruffles, short jackets and waistlines belted naturally or higher. The scope is wide enough to form something for every figure, age and personality.

Return of the Thirties influence has entered the fashion picture. The long skirts and soft blouses look very feminine. The blouses feature tiny yokes, bluff sleeves and are worn with a wide belted semi-full dirndl or skirt. Skirts, as one designer described them, "bouncing, swinging, flipping — one for everywhere in every mood."

The tendency goes to a slim, trim bodice and ease at the hemline.

The military flavor remains with capes, buckles, epaulets and buttoned cuff tabs. The Mao look adds a new twist with its mandarin collars and buttons.

Colors are muted grays, beiges, browns, Victorian pastels and bright prints with fabrics showing texture. Coral or shrimp is new with lots of turquoise and yellow.

The big question is hemlines, and two main lengths are being shown. The midi, which is between the ankle and the knee, highlights evening wear. For daytime, hemlines will stay short, but not mini-short, just above the knee.

One Spanish house showed skirts which stop precisely four centimeters above the knee.

Zippers have taken on a dual role as both decorations and closures. Ribbon, fancy braid, lace or glitter can be added to zippers and closings.

The panty hose can solve the problem of exposing the tops of stockings when seated and buyers say panty hose sales are rocketing. A lightweight girdle may be worn over these stockings.

In the new total leggy look, the weight of the stockings should be slightly lighter than

Local Minister Will Have Part At Convention

William C. Short, presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses in Haskell has been assigned the responsibility of supplying Bibles and Bible literature for the delegates at the convention of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held in Vernon, February 23-25, in the Wilbarger Auditorium.

"One of the chief purposes of the convention is to spread knowledge of God's word among the people of the convention city," Short stated. "Our delegates will make a house-to-house visitation during the week of the assembly itself. My job is to see that they have the necessary supplies to carry out their work."

He will be assisted by a staff of volunteer workers made up of the weight of the dress fabric. Heavy wool fabrics call for heavy textured or opaque hose. Opaque crepe hose should be worn with lightweight wool crepe and lightweight nets or laces with cotton and linen.

of delegates to the convention who will share in the activity of providing for the comfort of the other delegates who will be attending. Some 50 to 100 volunteer workers are expected to assist.

Commenting on the program that is being arranged in Vernon, Short said that even more emphasis is being placed on the spiritual aspects of the program. He described the purpose of the 3-day gathering as advanced Bible training with 15 hours of Bible talks and discussions along with dramatizations to be featured.

Ladies Who "Back-Seat" Drive Evidently Have A Good Cause

Ladies who "back-seat" drive evidently have good cause, the Texas Safety Association said today in noting that more than one-half of the female traffic victims in Texas last year were passengers. The total 1,714 Texas drivers killed were women. There were 136 females killed in pedestrian accidents and seven females killed in bicycle and other types of accidents. Females killed represented only slightly over 29 per cent of the state's 3,406 traffic fatalities.

Of the 998 females killed on the state's streets and highways in 1966, 572 were simply along for the ride. Only 283 of accidents happen most often to young women between ages 16 and 25, with the highest number of fatalities occurring at age 19. The Safety Association suggests that women "nag" their husbands or escorts to drive safely. They also advise women to cut down on romancing the driver in traffic. He needs his hands and mind on the wheel at all times. Ladies should also "buckle up" to avoid becoming a real "femme fatale."

A look at the ticklish question of a lady's age shows that fatal

OUTDOORS --IN-- TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

No animal that roams the woods commands as much respect as Mr. Skunk. Since he is blessed with perhaps the best defense system of any creature, both man and animal give him plenty of room.

That is, all except the great horned owl. This animal, now and then, enjoys dining on tasty skunk. Obviously, the owl has no sense of smell and could care less about the odor.

But all other animals treat the skunk with great respect. And well they should! Any animal that strays close is likely to be spewed with that strong-smelling, familiar odor that can linger for weeks. Give the enraged skunk a wide berth.

His defense system consists of a pair of scent sacs located at the skunk's rear. There is one on each side of the rectum. They are embedded in powerful muscles which, when constricted, can spray the strong "perfume" for 16 feet or more. This yellow liquid is deadly at 10 feet and dangerous at almost twice that distance.

Contrary to what you might have heard, just because a skunk has unloaded at you once doesn't mean he is out of ammunition.

A skunk can fire six consecutive times without reloading. Although the initial burst may be only three or four drops, that's enough to douse an animal or man with enough odor to last for a couple of weeks or longer, especially in damp weather.

Nature has a way of taking care of her young. With the skunk, the smelly spray is his only defense. Otherwise, he is a timid creature that roams mostly at night. It isn't unusual to find skunks after dark downtown in some of our largest cities.

Although there are several species of skunk, the most common is the black one with the broad white stripe running down his back the full length of his body and tail.

There is no sure-fire method of removing this tell-tale skunk odor. His spray contains an ingredient chemically known as n-butyl mercaptan. It contains sulphur. One of the best antidotes, I'm told, is washing the recipient in liberal amounts of tomato juice.

As for doused clothing, about the only alternative is to either burn or bury them. Even then some of the odor seems to linger on. When it comes to smell, nothing can compare to the skunk.

In Texas, skunks breed in either February or March. After a gestation period of 63 days a litter is born. Usually they number from three to seven small skunks, with the average being about five. The young remain in the nest until their eyes are open and they are strong enough to follow their mother.

Although most people take the skunk for granted, the majority do not realize that he plays an important role in pest control. In "The Mammals of Texas" (published by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department), Dr

William B. Davis points out that some 76 per cent of the skunk's diet is composed of various insects. Balance of his diet usually is made up of small rodents like mice and rats.

Although skunks occasionally may feed on the eggs of wild birds, such as those laid by quail and wild turkeys, there is no evidence that the harm they cause in this respect is major. Their usefulness in keeping the woods clean of pest insects and mice far overshadows any harm they might cause.

Conclusion: A skunk, even with his bad odor, is better than no skunk at all.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

One-sixth of the telephone callers to taxpayer assistants at Internal Revenue need a tax form. The good tax folks point out that you should use the tax forms sent to you by IRS, that have your name, address and taxpayer identification number printed on the form. Using the label printed by the Service Center assures that you will be on speaking terms with the computer. You can't speak to the computer unless you use the correct identification number. (You sure don't want the computer to write and say, "Friend, where is your tax return?") If you need additional forms or schedules, you can get them at the nearest Post Office or at most banks. If you need an un-common form, you can pick it up at any Internal Revenue Service Office.
