Alexis Fitted For Stibestos Panties

Plymouth's Pace-Setting New Belvedere

Here's Plymouth's smart hardtop club coupe, the Belvedere, the pace-setter in the lowest price field with its new concepts in styling and beauty. The car has glistening, lively two-tone colors: Suede Tan with Sable Bronze top; Belmont Blue Polychromatic with Sterling Grey top; Mint Green with Black top. The color used on the roof follows the Belvedere's streamlined contours around the spacious rear window and down over the rear deck, giving the car the continental look. Sparkling chrome molding outlines the top and carries back to separate the two colors at the junction at the rear quarter-panel. The interior is luxurious, with colorful quality fabrics and vinyl blended in perfect harmony with the shades used on the exterior.

New '52 Plymouth Will Be Displayed Here Fri., Jan. 4th

Browning Brothers at Burk Burnett Motors are happy to announce they will have a 1952 Plymouth on their show room floor Friday, January 4th for the public to view. The new Plymouth for 1952 will go on display here and throughout the United States.

A long list of improvements—46 in all—has been incorporated in the engine, the brakes, the electrical system, the chassis, and to the inside and outside of the body.

The new car, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, has been improved and refined to provide "the most gentle ride, the smoothest engine performance and the greatest safety ever built into a car for the lowest price field."

Exceptional engine smoothness is produced through a newly designed combustion chamber; brakes are stronger and longer-lasting; Plymouth's famous Safety-Flow ride has been made even more comfortable by improvements in the springing and to the Oriflow shock absorbers; and the car's beauty is enhanced by numerous styling refinements.

Rent Control Office to Open at Wichita Falls

Rent control became a certainty for the Wichita Falls area recently when representatives of the Office of Rent Stabilization arrived to discuss plans for establishment of an area rent headquarters early in January.

Conferring with leaders in Wichita Falls on plans for the area rent office were Norman Kanely, regional board co-ordinator, and Charles Yeager, information officer, both from the regional rent stabilization office in Dallas.

Kanely confirmed last week's news that Wichita Falls was certified as a critical defense housing area last week in Washington.

The effective date, the maximum rent date, and the exact limits of the area have not yet been announced, Kanely added. Before the rent office can be opened, office space must be rented, furniture shipped in, and an area rent director appointed.

Open House at New Hospital Will Be Held Sunday, January 6th

The public will get its first view of the interior of the $1,200,000 addition to Wichita General Hospital Sunday afternoon, January 6th, when open house will be held.

The new five story building adjacent to the present plant at Eighth and Brook will be opened for the inspection tours from 2:30 P. M. until 5:30 P. M.

Final plans for the special dedicatory ceremony for the new hospital addition, one of the outstanding medical institutions of the Southwest, were completed Saturday. At the planning meeting were Kindel Paulk, chairman of arrangements for the Wichita General Hospital board, Mrs. Dale Shappell, president of the Wichita General Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. Joella Terrill Butler, Paul Ahlstedt, business manager of the hospital, and Ben Blanton, executive vice-president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

To Cut Ribbon

The program will begin on the dot at 2:30 P. M., Paulk stressed. Mrs. R. O. Harvey Jr., who has devoted much of her time the last year to decoration themes and execution of these ideas for the new building, will cut the ribbon at the entrance to the structure.

Dr. George Davis, president of the Wichita Falls Ministerial Alliance, will give the dedicatory prayer and the Wichita Falls High School A Capella Choir will sing "Bless This House."

Student nurses and members of the auxiliary will escort visitors on a tour of the spacious new hospital which is equipped with the most modern equipment available.

Visitors will ride the elevator to the top floor and will be guided on tours of the new building, from the fifth floor to the basement.

Invitations

More than 700 letters of special invitation for the open house will be mailed to notables of the area, officials and leaders of neighboring communities, and to individuals and organizations who have donated funds for securing, constructing and completing the new building, Paulk said.

At a later date, when the new hospital area is in operation, a special open house will be staged for the members of the State Board of Health and members of the medical society who will be given an opportunity to view the institution in normal operation.

Remodeling of the old plant, at an estimated cost of $600,000, will begin as soon as moving of patients and equipment into the new structure is completed.

The entire project will be completed in about six months at a cost of about $1,800,000 and will result in one of the most complete and efficient hospital plants now in existence.

Babson Discusses Building for 1952

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 4th—Most people are bearish on the building outlook for 1952. Naturally, fewer houses will be built; but it would be a great mistake to think that the demand for new houses is over. The demand for houses, although less, will continue heavy in 1952. Those who need a new home to live in should build or buy whenever the right location is available at the right price.

Letters come to me from cities in the Central West, stating that good citizens, employing many people, are forced to move away because of lack of housing. If these communities have truly patriotic citizens, they will get together and start a campaign to get new houses built.

Reasons for Continued Demand

It is true that the price of new houses has gone up considerably during the past few years; but have they gone up in price more than almost everything else? It is unreasonable for wage workers, manufacturers and even shopkeepers to complain about the increase in building costs when they are getting similar increases for labor, agricultural products, manufactured goods and merchandise. Of course, building will fall off; but when that time comes, and prices are lower, most people won't have the money to take advantage of the bargains!

Also remember that our population is rapidly increasing. There are around 155,000,000 people in the U. S. today with a total annual income of $275 billions, compared with 125,000,000 population and $60 billions National Income only 20 years ago. We also must realize that a well built and well located house is one of the best hedges against inflation, continuing to hold its own, or increase, as the dollar declines in value. For those who own a good home and do not care to build another for rental, here is a suggestion for use of your money.

Consider Building Stocks

Seventy-five per cent of the cost of materials in a home is spent on four things: (1) Cement; (2) lumber and shingles; (3) wall board and plaster; and (4) paint. By buying stocks in one of the leading companies manufacturing these four basic products, it is possible to profit with the building industry. When the next depression comes, the price of these stocks will go down with everything else; but they should come back again in price quickly.

As a final reason for being reasonably optimistic on building, let me mention the very liberal mortgage terms of today. When I built a house 30 years ago, I was obliged to pay 6 per cent interest and got a mortgage for only three years. Today you can borrow money at 4 1-2 per cent and have twenty years to pay it back.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

When we opened that door marked "1952", and stepped in, we entered one of the most significant years in all American history.

In 1952 we shall have to decide whether or not we want any more of that cynically-named "Fair Deal" . . .

We shall have to decide whether America is going to yield to continued inflationary pressures that can only end in wheel-barrow currency and collapse.

We shall have to decide whether to crawl out of Korea, as we are presently trying to do, or whether to face the fact that we are in as desperate a war as ever we have been . . . even though it began as an unconstitutional gesture of arrogance.

In 1952, Americans will have to decide whether they like socialism (which is kid-glove communism), whether "freedom" is just a pretty word or whether it is something that is important enough to put before soft living.

In 1952 we will still have the opportunity of deciding whether our country is worth saving. We might not have the chance again.

Where Are The "Missing?"

Another UN concession to the Reds, made at Panmunjom in a mounting effort to speed the Korean truce, has apparently been in vain. By abandoning all claims to islands we are holding north of the 38th parallel, UN delegates were able to secure agreement from the Reds on the ground rules for the truce. But there is still disagreement on rotation of U. S. troops, and the building up of Red airfields during the truce period.

A further, and later complication, is the UN demand that the Reds explain why the names of 1,000 men previously announced as prisoners, do not appear on the current list, and why "of the tens of thousands" of South Korean troops officially listed as missing in action "you have listed only 7,142—a wholly unbelievable ratio under the conditions of warfare in Korea."

But maybe you want to know about those ground rules, even though you may wonder whether they will ever be called into service.

1. All ground forces will cease-fire within 24 hours.
2. All ground forces will withdraw 1-4 miles within 72 hours (forming a buffer zone two and a half miles in depth.)
3. All ground, Naval and air forces will be withdrawn from the rear and the coastal islands within five days.

Looking back, over the dreary months of talking and stalling, stalling and talking, since the first session at Kaesong last July, it can be seen that progress has been made . . . but toward merely a truce. Perhaps we should put off worrying, until the cease-fire is signed, just how we are to make the agreement stick.

Mental Trouble -- Where?

Of the 1,828,000 draftees examined by the armed services from July to November, 300,000 were rejected for failure to meet mental standards. These men are now to be re-examined by local board authorities at the rate of about 25,000 per month.

We hardly believe you could find 300,000 morons in less than two million men, and apparently the Department of Defense doesn't either. This is probably just one more example of official callousness to the welfare of both the individual and the community. But it is heartening evidence at the same time that the military has decided that you don't process millions of young men in time of national peril quite the way you select cadets for West Point. The brass-hats will now have to pay a little more attention to human aptitudes and variations above and below the norm, in assigning men to the many kinds of work involved in modern warfare.

The net result should be further improvement in our fighting forces . . . even with the better part of those 300,000 initial rejects in uniform.

THIS SHOULD BE GOOD

We can hardly wait for the president's speech January 8th on the "State of the Union."

While he was serenely composing this bit of history in Key West, we were quite incurious. But since he so suddenly discovered some of the facts that bear on our deplorable state, we wonder what revisions have been made in the "sunshine script." We don't expect a very convincing argument for renewing his contract.

Warming Up The Welcome

Sir Oliver Franks, British Ambassador in Washington has informed Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder that His Majesty's Government will pay both principal and interest on the U. S. Loan of 1946 due December 31st. This amounts to $75,000,000 in interest and exactly $44,336,000 in amortization.

It is pointed out that there are no strings attached to the payment, and that we would have extended the obligation and even waived out that the British expect Prime Minister Churchill to get more than their bait back for them in his forthcoming talks with President Truman.

Central Christian Church

The Sunday School of the Central Christian Church had a high attendance Sunday morning. Many of those who were away for the holidays were in their accustomed places. There were new pupils and old ones too. The teachers and parents are looking forward to a period of steady interest and growth. If you are not attending Sunday School we cordially invite you to meet with us and grow. It is a good way to start the New Year.

Mrs. S. S. Reger and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reger spent the week end in the home of Mrs. Reger's brother, L. H. Clark while the children visited in the Johnny Carson home.

Mrs. Dickie Lennard and her relatives spent the holidays with her.

Gene Jenkins, student at Antonio College, enjoyed Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jenkins, 427 W. 3rd St. He is a major in Chemistry and is also employed in the advertising department of the San Antonio Press.

Timely Tips

Dream up unusual dramatics for your Holiday Feasts and you'll be a sensational hostess without gouging deeply into your budget. Let your imagination run rampant and you'll be amazed at the ideas you'll come up with that require little expenditure for the brilliant effect they achieve. Here are a few to start you off:

Run a wide strip of bright-hued satin ribbon smack down the center of your table. Put an appropriate center piece in the middle, and, if the table is long enough, smaller versions of the same ornamentation at spaced intervals down the colored band. Looks very regal!

Make snowflakes from metallic paper. It's easy! Just cut circles or squares, then fold several times and snip round or diamond-shaped holes here and there and scallop or point the edges and presto! you'll have snowflakes when they are reopened. You'll find dozens of ways to use them.

Exciting table ornamentation can be simply made with candles, sprigs of holiday greens topped with glittering Christmas tree ornaments and all tied together with silver, red or green ribbon. It's fun to experiment, and 'twill pay off in making inexpensive entertainment with a zest that seems costly.

New Plywood Glues Withstand Boiling

Although the fabrication of plywood faced with handsome hardwood veneers is far from being a new art, modern methods have developed a product which is far superior to that used by the ancient Egyptians or even by Sheraton, Hepplewhite and other renowned craftsmen of the eighteenth century.

As a U. S. Department of Commerce report aptly sums it up, "Modern engineering and scientific achievements have so improved the technique of plywood manufacture that, despite the remarkable skill of the masters, twentieth century hardwood plywood compares with their product as much as the modern ocean liner compares with the Roman galley."

One reason for the superior quality of today's hardwood plywood is the synthetic resin adhesives that have been developed for bonding together the thin sheets of wood veneer. These resin glues produce joints that are stronger than the wood itself, and that also are heat-resistant and waterproof. Hardwood veneer panels bonded with these glues can even be boiled in water indefinitely or subjected to dry heat at temperatures above the charring point without damage.

Virginia Mayo Dons Sarong For New Role

Virginia Mayo, who in "Captain Horatio Hornblower", wore some of the most costly gowns ever seen on the screen, is attired in a simple South Sea Island Sarong for her dance specialty number in "Starlift." Cast of the Warner Bros. all-star musical comedy, due Sunday and Monday at the Palace Theatre, is sparked by such top performers as Doris Day, Gordon McRae, Gene Nelson and Ruth Roman, with guest stars James Cagney, Gary Cooper, Jane Wyman and Patrice Wymore.

The costume worn by Miss Mayo for the exotic Noche Caribe ballet in STARLIFT was created especially for her by famed designer Leah Rhodes. A quartet of terpsichorean beauties representative of four Oriental countries supports Miss Mayo in the number.

Halfhill-Ramming Nuptials Read

Simplicity was the keynote of the double ring ceremony which united Miss Evelyn Ramming and Sgt. Norman Halfhill of Sheppard Air Base and Rochester, Pennsylvania, at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Clara, Texas on December 15, 1951. Rev. R. L. Young performed the ceremony before the altar which featured pastel arrangements of gladiolas and chrysanthemums and double candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Walter Siber, was a lovely picture in her traditional gown of white satin and imported chantilly lace. The gown, an original creation, was fashioned with a molded bodice of lace over satin. The lace was also used for godets extending into the skirt which fell into a full train. The long lace sleeves had button trim as well as the bodice back. Her fingertip veil of illusion extended from a Juliet cap ornamented with lace bow-knots and pearls. For her bouquet the bride carried white carnations intermingled with satin and lace streamers. She carried out the traditional "something old, something new." For the something old she carried a silk handkerchief which had been carried by her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. John Siber, on her wedding day, and was carried by her matron of honor at her wedding. For her something new she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Candle lighters for the affair were Richard and James Siber. Mrs. Archie Faulk attended her niece as matron of honor. Her dress was of orchid moire taffeta and featured rhinestone trim. She wore matching mitts and carried a nosegay of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Herbert Schroeder of Burk Burnett, and Miss Lorene Schroeder of Waco, Texas served as bridesmaids. Their gowns of blue moire taffeta were fashioned with scalloped portrait necklines and full skirts. They wore matching mitts and carried nosegays of pink chrysanthemums.

Misses Reva Sue Reeves of Burk Burnett and Karla Jean Albright of Oklahoma City were junior bridesmaids. Their gowns of green moire taffeta were fashioned after the senior bridesmaids, but featured yokes of chantilly lace. Their mitts were also of the lace and they carried nosegays of orchid chrysanthemums.

Flower girls were Misses Margaret Ann Faulk and Kathryn Siber. Their dresses of pink moire taffeta featured extremely full skirts and large bertha collars with scallop trim. They wore matching mitts and fresh-flower halos of pink carnations.

Master Kenneth Siber was ring bearer and carried the rings atop a white satin pillow trimmed with imported chantilly lace and ornamented with pearls and satin streamers. He was accompanied by Carol Faulk who wore a yellow taffeta dress designed after those worn by the flower girls. She wore matching mitts and carried a yellow nosegay.

Mr. Hobart Halfhill was best man for his son. Groomsmen were Cecil Cuervo and Louie Rainey. Ushers were Virgil Klinkerman and Herbert Schroeder.

Mrs. Arthur Ramming, organist, provided the traditional wedding processional and recessional. During the ceremony she gave appropriate muted interpretations. She also accompanied Mrs. Walter Kaspar as the latter rendered "Because," "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Della Ramming.

Mrs. Walter Siber presided at the bride's book. The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and featured a centerpiece of mixed pastel flowers. The three tiered wedding cake was beautifully decorated and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Herbert Schroeder served at the crystal punch service and Mrs. Archie Faulk served the cake. They were assisted in serving by members of the wedding party.

Numerous pictures were taken of the wedding party by Miss Edith Birkman of Wichita Falls. Following the reception the couple departed for a short wedding trip. For travel, the bride chose an original Marion McCoy green sheer wool dress with rhinestone and pearl trim. Her hat was of winter white with gardenia corsage.

Out of town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Halfhill, Charles and Nancy of Rochester, Penn., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevens, Frederick, Okla.; Mrs. Jack Albright and daughters of Oklahoma

Plymouth's Cranbrook Four-Door Sedan for '52

Here's the new Plymouth for 1952, a more beautiful, smoother operating, easier riding, safer car which features 46 important improvements. There is new beauty in the car's road-hugging, sweeping appearance, and color harmony perfection in the new interiors, which are Tone-Tailored with quality fabrics. The luxurious interiors blend beautifully with the exterior colors. The car has all the features for comfort, economy, safety and durability which have become traditional with Plymouth. Shown above is the new four-door Cranbrook sedan.

Smooth, Easy Performance Featured in New Plymouth

The new Plymouth for 1952 will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the United States, Friday, January 4.

A long list of improvements—46 in all—has been incorporated in the engine, the brakes, the electrical system, the chassis, and to the inside and outside of the body.

The new car, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, has been improved and refined to provide "the most gentle ride, the smoothest engine performance and the greatest safety ever built into a car for the lowest price field."

Exceptional engine smoothness is produced through a newly designed combustion chamber; brakes are stronger and longer-lasting; Plymouth's famous Safety-Flow ride has been made even more comfortable by improvements in the springing and to the Oriflow shock absorbers; and the car's beauty is enhanced by numerous styling refinements.

The Plymouth has a road-hugging, sweeping appearance, accentuated by changes in the external adornment. A new luxurious standard for interiors is attained with the high quality upholstery fabrics in harmonious colors which blend beautifully with the instrument and door panels.

The smart hardtop club coupe, the Belvedere, is the pace-setter in the lowest price field with its new concepts in styling and beauty. The car has glistering, lively two-tone colors which set it apart and give it the continental look. The color used on the roof follows the Belvedere's streamlined contours around the spacious rear window and down over the rear deck. Sparkling chrome molding outlines the top and carries back to separate the two colors at their junction at the rear quarter panel. Interior of the Belvedere is luxurious, with colorful quality fabrics and vinyl blended in perfect harmony with the shades used on the exterior. Long-wearing carpeting—also in complementary colors—rounds out the ensemble. The following color combinations are available for the Belvedere: Suede Tan with Sable Bronze top; Belmont Blue Polychromatic with Sterling Grey top; Mint Green with Black top.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line, available in an array of eight regular, and two special sparkling new colors. The traditional interior roominess and the many "high-priced car" features for which Plymouth has been distinctive have been retained throughout the new line.

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE
A new, smoother flow of power results from the newly designed combustion chamber in Plymouth's famous floating power engine. The six-cylinder, 97 horsepower engine has a 7 to 1 compression ratio. Longer life for both the main and rod bearings is achieved through an improved type of base metal.

To further insure smoothness of performance and faster getaway, several refinements in the new Synchro-Silent transmission permit faster, easier shifting, and more rapid and positive engagement of gears. The rear axle is improved, and there are provisions which permit more accurate gear and bearing adjustments.

Operating temperatures up to an additional eight degrees without the hazard of losing water or anti-freeze result from further improvements to the pressure-vent radiator cap, which provides a pressurized cooling system.

STURDY BRAKES
The traditionally sturdy Safe-Guard Hydraulic brakes have been given greater ease of operation, and much longer life. New Cyclebond brake linings provide greater braking area and longer braking life. There are heavier backing plates on both the front and rear brakes; an improved drum design on the front brakes for smoother operation and better cooling; an easier operating brake pedal return spring; and a redesigned steering knuckle to provide more positive protection from road splash.

Passenger and driver comfort has been increased with improvements to Plymouth's "Safety-Flow ride." New cushioning-type ports in the Oriflow shock absorbers, increased travel in the front springs and a new interliner for the rear springs provide quieter operation, reduced steering wheel shock, less friction and an improved ride.

Quicker starting in hot or cold weather with less drain on the battery is assured by the new "Follo-Thru" anti-kickout feature of the starter, the foremost among numerous changes in the electrical system. Greater visibility under adverse driving conditions is provided by a ten per cent increase in the speed of the electrically-operated windshield wipers.

BEAUTIFUL STYLING
Luxury and color harmony are the keynotes of the beautiful upholstery and trim selected for the new Plymouth. A fine selection of long-wearing, quality fabrics is available in shades which blend beautifully with the car's exterior colors. An attractive "Lustre-Tone" instrument panel features controls which are conveniently grouped and instruments which are colored and lettered for easy reference while driving. Newly designed to further beautify the Plymouth are the ornament, the top molding, and the medallion on the hood, and the license light and name plate on the rear deck lid. The sweeping, low appearance of the car is further accentuated by the lowering of the rear fender molding.

Solex tinted safety glass is available throughout the Plymouth line as optional equipment at small extra cost. The glass reduces interior temperatures on hot summer days, minimizes fading of upholstery or seat cover fabrics, and reduces sun glare. Among the many features which have been retained in the new Plymouth are the wide, deep chair-height seats, the ease of entrance and exit, the combination ignition and starter switch, automatic electric choke, super-cushion tires, and safety-rim wheels.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line: the Concord series includes a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and the popular all-metal Suburban, and its country club cousin, the Savoy; the Cambridge series has a four-door sedan and a club coupe; and the Cranbrook series includes a four-door sedan, a club coupe, a convertible club coupe, and the pace-setting Belvedere.

City, Miss. Sophie Meyer of Manhattan, Kansas.

Rehearsal
A rehearsal was held Friday night, December 14, after which Mrs. Della Ramming served delightful refreshments to the members of the wedding party. At this time the bride and groom exchanged gifts and presented each member of the wedding party with appropriate gifts.

Mrs. Halfhill graduated from the Burk Burnett High school and attended College in Winfield, Kansas. She taught school in Perry, Oklahoma for two years and at the present is employed by the United Gas Corporation here.

Sgt. Halfhill attended school in Rochester, Penn., and entered the Air Force in 1947. For the past three years he has been stationed at Sheppard Air Base.

Sgt. and Mrs. Halfhill have established residence in Burk Burnett.

Miss Emily Moore, home economics teacher, spent the holidays with her parents at Paris, Texas.

R. H. Henry, Jr., who has been associated with the Gulf Oil Co. in South America for several years, has gone to Houston where he was offered a position in the auditing department of the Houston office.

HOW TO DO IT

Shingles Help Free Car

The motorist who carries a few asphalt shingles in the trunk of his car won't have much trouble working the car free when it gets stuck in snow or ice. An asphalt shingle slipped under an automobile tire will keep the wheel from pinning.

The top side of the shingle should be up when it is placed under the tire. The mineral granules on the top supply a rough surface for the tire tread to grip. The granules are little bits of stone, which are embedded in asphalt roof shingles for several reasons. They add to the wearing qualities of the material. Because stone don't burn, they increase the natural fire-resistance. They provide the means by which the roofing is colored.

Veneers Increase Rare Wood Supply

Most kinds of wood with handsomely figured grain are rare and can be economically used in quantity only when they are cut into wood veneer instead of being used as solid lumber.
A single tree might yield 500 square feet of lumber 1 inch thick, but if the same tree were cut into thin face veneers for fine furniture, wall paneling, or flush doors the yield would be 10,000 square feet or more.
When wood veneers are made into hardwood plywood, only the face veneers need be beautiful in grain figure and color. The inner plies of the plywood are less costly wood, selected for strength and shrinkage-resistance instead of appearance.

STATEHOUSE

By Hugh Williamson

Austin, Texas, Jan. 2 — This is the centennial year of Governor James Stephen Hogg's birth.

He was governor of Texas from 1891 to 1895, and in the words of Governor Allan Shivers: "Since then, the highest accolade for a chief executive in this state has been to say: 'He's our greatest governor since Jim Hogg.'"

Governor Shivers made his remarks in a recent speech at the University of Texas. He pointed out that Jim Hogg's contribution to Texas included the successful sponsorship of many protective laws relative to stocks, bonds, land ownership, control of corporations, fidelity insurance, and other fields in which the individual sorely needed protection.

"He successfully advocated basic reform of our election laws, school laws, judiciary procedures, and the prison system," the governor reminded his audience. "He had the legal interest rate cut from 12 per cent to 10 per cent, and he even reduced taxes."

"His most famous achievement, of course, and one of his most important, was the establishment of the railroad commission. Jim Hogg battled the powerful railroad interests from pillar to post and finally brought them under state supervision."

The University of Texas Press has just published a volume called "Addresses and State Papers of James Stephen Hogg." Eugene C. Barker, distinguished professor of American History, emeritus, of the University of Texas, has written a foreword to the volume.

"The explanation of Hogg's position in public feeling," writes Professor Barker, "was to be found in his thoughtful statesmanship, which grew out of his independent judgment and his fearless honesty. He was a democrat in the true sense of the word, desiring always the welfare of the State and the greatest good of the greatest number, uninfluenced by the desire for votes to maintain himself or his party in office. Nobody can read his public and private papers without being convinced of his profound honesty and sincerity."

It is refreshing, in these days of political scandals, to read some of the speeches and letters of a man who considered public service something more than an opportunity to line his pockets.

Governor Hogg was a master of the language. Let's listen to him for a moment as, on April 19, 1890, he opens his campaign for governor, basing his message to the people on the need for a railroad commission. He is at Rusk, place of his birth, and he is talking to an audience of 3,000, among whom are many of his old friends:

"... Under the management of all these railroads an executive committee selected by them, arbitrarily fixed the rates on traffic origin and destination within the State of Texas. In the absence of that committee, one man called a 'commissioner' had the power, which he freely exercised, to raise or lower the rates on every article of commerce received or shipped by the people in this State. By that agreement, under severe penalties, no railroad belonging to the combination could at will reduce the rates below the schedule fixed by the executive committee or the commission; but at pleasure they could be raised as high as the company carrying the traffic wished."

"Thus the railroad companies were protected against competition, insured good rates, rendered indifferent to their obligations to the public, and led to believe their power was superior to the law..."

The railroads knew Jim Hogg before he began campaigning for governor. As attorney general he had sued them and recovered for the State more than a million acres of state lands.

Despite railroad opposition, Jim Hogg was elected in 1890, and early the following year he secured the passage of an act creating the Railroad Commission.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

This snapshot is fine in black-and-white, but if it were in color, the print of the mother's dress would dominate the picture.

Restraint Is a Virtue in Color Photography

MANY users of color film, particularly those who are new at it, tend to see how much color they can get into each picture. The result can be what the writer of the new edition of "How to Make Good Pictures" describes as a "veritable color hash."

He was making specific reference to a picture of a pretty girl who was wearing a brightly colored blouse in a geometric print with an equally bright skirt in a flower design. Unfortunately, the model's pretty face was completely overshadowed by the riot of brilliant color in her costume. The same picture would have been all right in black and white because the printed fabric would have been recorded in shades of gray and would not have dominated the picture.

When shooting pictures in color, you have to think in terms of the color in the scene before you. In nature most of the color combinations tend to be pleasing and harmonious—not clashing, garish, noisy—and it offers a good example to follow in setting up your color pictures. Most beginners tend to crowd too much raw color into their pictures—violent reds, greens, purples, yellow. They have to learn that a very small amount of color will produce a pleasing picture. For example, think of a snow scene with a few dark green evergreens and delicate blue shadows on the snow. That would be subtle, yet complete and very pleasing. Big splashes of poster paint color may be exciting at first glance, but they don't wear very well.

In planning shots it is well to remember that vivid reds and yellows tend to attract attention and are, therefore, helpful as accents at or near the center of interest. Cool dark colors, on the other hand, tend to recede so that gray-greens, blue-greens, dark blues, are especially useful as backgrounds.

Nature will take care of the color arrangement in most of your scenes, but when you can move your subject around to suit yourself, keep color balance and harmony in mind.

Magnolia Party Honors Cross And Johnson

The Town Hall in Burk Burnett Friday, December 21st, was the scene of a combination Magnolia Employees' Christmas party and a party honoring two retiring employees.
Mr. C. F. "Adge" Johnson was retired under Magnolia's annuities and insurance plan with over 32 years of company service. Mr. Johnson started his association with Magnolia back in the hectic days of the Burk-burnett Boom and continued up until poor health brought about his retirement in October of 1951. Mr. Johnson was a production pumper at the time of his retirement but during his long association with Magnolia had held various jobs.

Mr. W. H. "Bill" Cross became affiliated with Magnolia Petroleum Co. in Electra during the boom there when Magnolia was in it's infancy. Mr. Cross saw, in his 38 years with Magnolia, a small Oil Company, develop into one of the present day major Petroleum companies of the Southwest. On his retirement December 31, 1951, Mr.
Cross was one of the three oldest employees from a company standpoint, to retire from this Electra producing district. Bill, a company driller for years, had held down numerous jobs over the past 38 year period. He also was a production pumper at retirement.

Mr. Wm. Willhoit gave the invocation as the party got under way. The menu, consisting of roast turkey, was furnished by Mr. John Durham and all the trimmings were furnished by the employees. The meal was served cafeteria style with hot rolls being donated by B. H.
Alexander.

Mr. John Durham, field foreman, acted as master of ceremonies, assisted by Hugh Williams. Mr. Durham introduced Mr. J. E. Kunkel who had charge of the program which was quite timely with Christmas readings by Miss LaFaye McDonnell, Mr. Kenneth Durham and Mrs. Hugh Preston.

Mr. Kunkel, accompanied by Mrs. Kunkel at the piano, was joined by all present in singing Christmas carols.

Mr. Willhoit, principal speaker, based his talk on Good fellowship and Neighborliness.
Mr. Williams, in behalf of the fellow employees, presented corduroy sport jackets to both Mr.
Johnson and Mr. Cross at which time everyone present was giving an opportunity to pass on his good wishes and hopes for a long and happy retirement to the honor guests.

Guests of honor present were former retired company employees and their wives of Burk-burnett. Included were: Messrs.
and Mesdames A. R. Bunstine, W. C. Gage, G. T. England, C.
N. Ellis and Glenn Connell.
Other guests of honor were Mrs.
Duke Warren and Mrs. Joe Beaver.

Those enjoying the informal affair were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. A. Durham, H. W.
Shields, J. A. Hageman, B. D.

"The Sea Hornet" Is New Saga of Deep Sea Diving

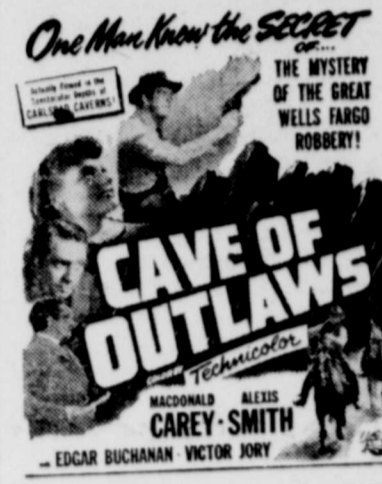

Rugged adventure, romance and dramatic action are excitingly blended into sock screen entertainment in Republic's big, new production, "The Sea Hornet" which shows next Tuesday only at the Palace Theatre, with Rod Cameron, Adele Mara, Adrian Booth and Chill Wills in the starring roles.

Built around the hazardous job of deep sea diving, the story centers upon a sunken ship, the Sea Hornet, which reputedly still has a fortune in gold aboard.

When Cameron's partner and best friend, Jim Brown, loses his life in his first dive to the bottom of the ocean, Cameron is certain it was no accident and he sets out to avenge what he is convinced was a wanton murder.
