Construction Work Progressing At Rodeo Grounds

Vaughn Construction Company aided by Buster Morgan and other local enthusiasts, are going right along with building the new Rodeo arena and the grandstand seats. Location of the new arena is just South of LaSalle Refinery.

Frame work of grandstand seats is complete on the West side. Addition of the wooden seats will complete this side. With the East side completed, seating capacity will be above 6,000. End sections can be added to bring capacity up to about 10,000. The side sections are so designed that by addition of seats on the seats on either side the capacity could be raised to accommodate around 14,000 people.

The arena proper is raised above the surrounding ground to allow for drainage. Area in front of the seats and the approaches to them will be blacktopped. When completed this will be the very last word in rodeo arenas.

Mary Parr returned to work Monday after a month of illness.

City Commissioners Apply For Federal Aid to Make Extensions On Water and Sewer Departments

TEAM OF SURVEYORS FROM FORT WORTH
OFFICE HERE TODAY CHECKING DATA

City Commissioners of Burkburnett, through City Manager Leon Carver, have made formal application for Federal aid, which if granted, will be used to make further extension to Water Dept. lines, and new sewer lines and disposal plant.

For some time the Commissioners have been studying the local situation to determine if conditions warranted making an application for such aid. Findings were that Burkburnett is in a very good position to receive this aid. Cities in critical housing areas, who have exhausted all revenue and sources of revenue to keep up with unusual growth brought about by large numbers of Armed Forces personnel, are eligible for aid from the Housing and Home Finance Agency and the U. S. Public Health Service.

Last week Carver and Commissioner Clark Gresham went to Fort Worth with all available data and made formal application for aid. Those in the Fort Worth office viewed the application very favorably, and promised to send a team here to check the information immediately. That team is here today, along with a member of the U. S. Health Service.

If the Fort Worth office makes a favorable report, and it is believed they undoubtedly will, then the application will be forwarded to Washington, D. C. Aid from this source could amount to many thousands of dollars. A recent survey showed approximately one-third of the residents of Burkburnett are Army or civilian personnel connected with Sheppard Air Force Base.

THAT PROFIT MOTIVE

Every time a new automobile takes to the roads of America, the oil industry spends $500! That amount is invested in the facilities for producing, refining and distributing the gas and the lubricants the new car needs to operate.

The total thus spent is staggering. Last year alone the number of cars in service jumped by about 2,400,000.

This is particularly significant in the light of the fact that there is still a certain amount of criticism of the profits the oil industry makes. What the critics lose sight of is that those profits make possible all the costly exploring, developing and expanding the industry must carry on if it is to keep pace with an insatiable civilian and military demand for its products. And those profits also make possible the tremendous sums in taxes the industry pays to government each year.

The oil industry is an almost perfect illustration of the importance of the profit motive. As an example, finding new wells to replace those which are exhausted is an exceedingly risky undertaking. Only about one wildcat well out of five turns into a producer. The other four are dry and worthless—a case of money down a rathole. No sane man would risk his capital and time and energy on undertakings such as this unless he saw a chance to make a profit if success smiled on him.

Oil, in all its ramifications, is among the most keenly competitive of industries. That alone makes it certain that profits will be held at reasonable levels. But without the profit, we'd all be thirsting for oil today and there'd be no relief possible.

"TAILS I WIN, HEADS YOU LOSE"

Everyone, right down to those in the low income brackets, feels the tremendous burden of present-day taxation. Everyone kicks about it. But there is one phase of the tax problem which is given much less consideration than it deserves—and that is what it is doing to the whole financial structure of the nation.

Economic Intelligence, a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, dealt with this when it said, "Steeplly progressive taxation has virtually dried up the sources of venture capital, so essential for launching new enterprises. It has become more and more difficult, therefore, for the exceptional man, the ambitious employee, the man with a new idea, to set himself up in his own business. And such activities have been the traditional well springs of our American way of life."

Taxes now take close to one-third of the entire national income—which means that, on the average, each of us works one day out of three for the government. In the higher income brackets, taxes take the majority of the income. Thus, if a man takes a chance, risks his time and money and energy, and succeeds, as much as 90 per cent of all he earns may go to government. If he fails, he must bear the loss himself. It is strictly a "tails I win, heads you lose," proposition. Nothing is more dangerous to ambition, incentive, progress.

A nation can destroy itself from within—and no weapon is more powerful than excessive taxation, along with flagrant waste and corruption in government. This is the dark road we have been traveling.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

PAWHUSKA, OKLA., OSAGE COUNTY NEWS: "Secretary of the Treasury Snyder favors giving the American people 'a mental rest for a couple of months' from thinking about taxes. For even so short a period, taxpayers would welcome respite from taxes, but this administration is tax and spending mad, so there'll be no rest from taxes . . ."

BOSTON, MASS., DORCHESTER BEACON: "Washington knew what he was talking about when he wrote in that Farewell Address: 'As a very important source of strength and security, cherish public credit. One method of preserving it is to use it as sparingly as possible.' Wouldn't it be fine if our Administration would adopt that policy, instead of proposing 85 billion dollar budgets and 14,400,000,000 deficits?"

CLARK, S. D., COURIER: "An enlightened people, regardless of where they obtain their information, if that information is true and accurate, are the best governed. It is when people are forced into doing the things they know nothing about that revolutions and dissension occur . . . If we are to maintain our freedoms, of speech and writing, we must take a stand against an absolute control of the information that affects each and every one of us. The news of the day must be given publicity whether we are in accord or not. Only in this manner can we lay claim to absolute freedom."

CASCADE, IDAHO, NEWS: "There are now 3,825 press agents employed by the various departments of the government at Washington and the best way to kill a newspaper is to fill it with the piffle they send out."

BEWARE - WET PAINT

The Truman family will move back into the renovated, refurbished White House on March 28th, when the President returns from Key West, and several days ahead of schedule. That will give them a little time to tidy up the house to receive Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard of Holland when they arrive for a formal visit April 2nd.

But the Trumans will still have to take their "company" out to dinner at a hotel, since the state dining room won't be ready. Drat!

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

It's high time anglers knew just what their rights are concerning waters that are posted "no fishing."

According to Renzo Dee Bowers, a lawyer with an interest in sportsmen's problems, the over all rules prescribing or limiting your rights are these: The exclusive privilege of fishing in nonnavigable, or private streams and lakes, belongs to the owners of the land on both sides, and others cannot fish there without the consent of these owners; but anybody is entitled to fish navigable, or public waters if he can get to them without going upon or across lands of others who do not permit his doing so. In other words, the right to fish navigable or public waters or lakes and streams is not exclusive.

So when a landowner tries to chase a fisherman away from a promising fishing spot the major question is whether the waters are public (navigable) or private (nonnavigable) in nature.

Courts have been ruling on this question for years. They have affirmed that a stream is navigable from a fisherman's standpoint if it is "floatable." Any river or lake is floatable if used, or if it can be used, for driving logs or rafts, or paddling boats and canoes, running motorboats, and the like.

In recent years, there has been an enlargement on the meaning of "navigable." Judges have said that any body of water is navigable and therefore available to any member of the public for fishing notwithstanding objections from bordering landowners, if it is boatable for hunting, fishing or pleasure.

There's a thread of warning for fishermen that runs all through the entire scope of these rights to fish navigable or public waters, even in states where the broadest application is given. It is this: In getting into or upon the waters you fish, you have not the slightest privilege or authority to step, stand or walk upon or across any part of the land bordering upon the stream or lake without permission of its owner. If you do, you risk prosecution or damage suit for trespassing.

The question logically arises as to how one wanting to fish public waters can step gingerly enough to avoid committing an act of trespass. It can be done. It is being done—times without number. You may have to enter or leave the stream only where it touches a highway or other public property. In many locations you can find an agreeable landowner at some point along the river or lake shore who will permit you to enter the water from there. Once in, either afloat or wading, you are entitled to fish anywhere in the river or lake.

Mrs. Lettie Roberts of Houston spent last week here visiting in the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Roberts and family, and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pierce and family visited Mr. Pierce's parents at Grandfield, Oklahoma, Sunday evening.

Price Daniel Asks Co-operation From Senator Connally

Special correspondents for the Houston Post and San Antonio Express Sunday reported that Senator Tom Connally "flatly accused Price Daniel, attorney general of Texas, of losing the Texas tidelands fight, and said he was afraid the state ownership bill will not pass the Senate."

In view of his statement, I have sent Senator Connally the following telegram:

"I regret that at a time when all Texans should be working together to save our tidelands you have apparently decided to make it into a personal political issue. You weaken our cause by dividing our own forces instead of placing the blame squarely upon your federal friends and proteges who filed the lawsuit and engineered this steal against the Texas school fund."

"At this critical time when a vote is near in the Senate I plead with you to turn your back on your Washington friends who instigated and performed this theft rather than upon Texas officials who have been resisting the theft."

"Four public expressions of doubt as to the passage of our state ownership bill in the Senate could also harm our prospects. All other Senators and state officials on our side of the fight are highly optimistic over passage of the bill, and I predict that in spite of your attitude the Senate will pass our bill by a good majority."

"At least until the Senate has acted, I urge you to lay aside political considerations and let's work together for passage of the tidelands bill. It is more important for Texas to win this fight than for either of us to win the Senate race."

City Hall Hot; So Are Firemen At Long Beach

G. C. Posey sent in his subscription renewal from Long Beach, Calif., also this clipping from a Long Beach paper. Posey was on the Burk Volunteer Fire Dept. while he lived here and thought local firemen would get a bang out of the report.

The Long Beach City Hall didn't really burn to the ground last night, but for a while things looked pretty bad.

It all started when Lt. F. J. Stevenson, advised by a custodian that there was a sort of smoky smell up on the sixth floor, told Patrolman Don Phelps to call the Fire Dept.

"Tell them there's no fire, just a funny smell," Stevenson said. "Tell them not to send anything but a salvage truck. Tell them to come quietly—they don't need a siren."

So Phelps called the Fire Department.

"Hey, we've got a smoky smell here at City Hall," Phelps said. "But the lieutenant says not to—"

"THE CITY HALL!" cried the fireman. "GOOD GRIEF!"

And from the corners of the city there arose a great wail of sirens. The banshee screams mounted as huge fire wagons tore through the city, and the City Hall began to quiver on its foundations as the great red wagons raced into view.

Thirty firemen jumped from seven fire engines and trucks, and a battalion chief and an assistant rushed up to take command.

A dozen fire fighters raced into the building past bewildered policemen and sniffing like beagles, traced the smoke to a ventilating shaft. Minutes later they had extinguished a fire in a trash can in the basement.

"Hey, what what that all about?" a policeman asked a fireman who was leaving the building. The fireman grinned. "You're in the 'high-value' district," he said. "When you've got a fire you get the full treatment."

Tribute to a neighbor

We'd like you to meet a neighbor on whom both of us depend. He's the man who operates the service station in your neighborhood. You depend on him to take care of your car, to supply you with products of high quality at reasonable prices. You expect, and get, from him more free service than from any other merchant with whom you do business: whatever you spend, he cheerfully cleans your windshield, checks your oil and tires, furnishes you with free battery water, and renders special services as you need them.

The oil companies depend on him as the independent merchant who distributes their products. He demands, and receives, continuously improved products with which to compete with his business rivals. He insists on reasonable prices that will move his merchandise in volume. His progressive attitude is one of the chief reasons why the oil industry has supplied you with better products at about the same prices over a long period of years.

It's a pleasure to pay this tribute to a neighbor, to thank him publicly for being such a friendly, dependable contact between the oil industry and its millions of customers. He is not on our payroll, but we couldn't do business without him.

And I am so full of turpentine and linseed oil, I am afraid to light a cigarette—and so worn out I don't care if you or anybody else ever gets paid. Now she wants to build a new house. Sometimes I tell you Harry, these women are a menace. Come to think of it, I didn't always figure it that way though.

We found another Truman Democrat in the organization yesterday. Some of the boys wanted to kill him, but I am opposed to violence, so we took him up on Mt. Hood and tied him up to freeze to death. I am against Truman Democrats, but I think it much better if they die from natural causes.

Vernon Duke Withdraws From Commissioner Race

Vernon Duke regrets to announce his withdrawal from the race for City Commissioner. Due to regulations of Civil Service, Mr. Duke would not be allowed to hold public office if elected. He has a responsible position at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Ed's Note: Yes, E. V. our faces are red when we think of the fresh air editorial which turned to hot air. Perhaps it was that we just felt sure that sooner or later Truman would accidentally pick a man for a job who had no blemish of questionable past. Now we can't tell who is investigating whom. Well, we can dream, can't we?

News From The Grade School

We have been enjoying this beautiful spring weather very much. Maybe a little too much because some of us seem to have spring fever. We have very definitely had a decrease in the number of cases of measles. We think the sunshine and warm weather have been of great help in reducing the measles in our school.

We enjoyed the Indian show presented to us by Dr. Newsom. Dr. Newsom was carried away by the Indians when he was five years old. He lived with them for seventeen years and did not see a white person. He told us about the Indian customs that were taught to him by the Indians.

We are having a lot of fun playing ball and jumping ropes. We feel more like working when we can get out on the playground and get good exercise.

7,000 MILES OF LINES ADDED TO THE UNITED GAS SYSTEM

Anything that helps build the Gulf South... helps YOU

Dependable natural gas service is one of the most important factors in the growth and development of the Gulf South. To assure dependable service to United Gas customers, our company has built some 7,000 miles of lines since 1941—to gather gas in the fields, to transport it to markets, and to distribute it within those markets. That's a lot of pipe... and every foot of it was laid right here in the Gulf South.

Our company's expansion is a reflection of the growth of the Gulf South, and it is our desire, like that of every good citizen of this progressive area, to accept the responsibilities which are logically ours to help assure a continuation of this growth.

Tired looking kitchens can be given an inexpensive face lifting by such economical tricks as fresh paint or wallpaper, and clever new curtains. Add to these a sparkling new dining table with comfy chairs, and family breakfasts and guest snacks become perkier affairs, to say nothing of your own happier hours in such a cheerful room.

Just right as the focal point for such a simple kitchen face lifting scheme is a kidney shaped Daystrom chrome table with plastic top that resists heat, stains and scars. The table, which extends to seat six to eight comfortably, is available in a wide variety of gay top colors in pearl or woodgrain finish. Chairs, available in a choice of six styles, are upholstered in attractive, washable plastic in mix or match colors.

This table, one of a group of gracefully designed chrome tables, will be available in stores by spring.

IN MEMORY OF MR. WILLIAM

By those who loved him,
MR. and MRS. ROY McCOY
Why did you have to leave us, Mr. William
While on earth you were so dear.
To each and every one of us,
You always brought good cheer.

We miss you so much your smiling face,
Each time we chance to meet,
But we know you are happy,
At our blessed Savior's feet.

Another voice is hushed,
Another form is stilled,
And hearts that once were glad,
Are now with sorrow filled.

God saw in you a beautiful bud,
To weep for you would be in vain,
God's plans are best, truly we have lost,
But you dear one have gained
Eternal rest.

The St. Louis Institute of Music.
Even after the unsolicited recommendation of Mrs. Lincoln for this recognition, it was necessary that she pass certain stipulated examinations and general qualifications. On receiving the final approval and appointment, Mrs. Lincoln also received membership in the state and national associations of music teachers, as well as the distinction of membership in Pi Mu national honor society for musicians.
Participate in Midwestern Fete
Mrs. Lincoln, accompanied by Mrs. G. G. Tyler, and Misses Marilyn Felty, Garviene Warren and Charlene Heiney, attended the fifth annual Pi Mu day at Midwestern University Saturday. Features of the day's program included student recitals, a luncheon honoring Dr. Carl Blackmore of the St. Louis Institute of Music, and a recital program by Dr. Erno Daniel of the Midwestern faculty.
Monthly meetings of the Pi Mu Society offering social privileges and professional enrichment are open to teachers and students affiliated with the Progressive Series of music studies.
Students Enrolling in Series
Before a student can enroll for study in the Progressive Series, the young musician must be recommended by the local teacher on the basis of musical aptitude, mental alertness, ambition, diligence, perseverance and interest in music. According to Mrs. Lincoln, an interesting parallel in this connection is that music students who meet these requirements are usually honor students scholastically as well.
To date, enrollees for the accredited courses in piano studies include the following: Marilyn Felty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Felty; Garviene Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Warren; Charlene Heiney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Heiney; Patricia Ann Tyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Tyler; Janette Ellis; Kay Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Zimmerman; and Billie Earl Mixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mixon.
Scholarships to be Awarded
An attractive feature of the Progressive Series course for the advanced student of piano is the annual scholarship award. Each teacher has the privilege of nominating one graduate student for the scholarship which carries a cash value of $300.00. If the recipient of the local award passes satisfactorily the required courses at the St. Louis Institute of Music, the scholarship is automatically extended to cover the four-year course of music leading to a degree.

His work in teaching scientific agriculture merited praise from the Chinese government. He was asked to introduce his methods in the schools, "to preach words to a starving world is not sufficient."

OVER THE ROAD or OVER THE ROUGH - you can't beat a GMC!

KNOW why, more and more, GMC's are becoming first choice of so many cost-watching truck operators in every type of hauling?
One of the big reasons, they will tell you, is they can always get a GMC that's exactly "engineered" for their particular kind of work.
There is no need for a GMC owner to strain away with an underpowered truck—or lose profit to a gas eater unsuited to his job.
That's because GMC builds the widest range of truck engines in the industry—GMC famed valve-in-head gasoline engines from 100 to 200 H.P.—GMC exclusive 2-cycle Diesels from 110 to 225 H.P.
And it's the kind of power you don't have to pamper!
Each GMC engine is specially lubricated against wear, specially ventilated against acid-forming fumes even when idling—specially designed for truck duty!

Mrs. Charles Boyd Honored With Bridal Shower

Mrs. Charles (Peanut) Boyd, the former Sida Sue Douglas, was honored with a lovely bridal shower by a large hostess group and friends in the Wesley room of the First Methodist Church, Monday evening, Mar. 24th. The honoree, her mother, Mrs. D. F. Douglas, Charles' mother, Mrs. B. D. Boyd, grandmothers, Johnson and Douglas were presented lovely corsages and received into the room, resplendent in its array of beautiful spring pastels.

Miss Pat Lundberg received the names of seventy-five guests in the bride's book. Miss Virginia Allen and Mrs. Carl Morrison presided at the refreshment table which was set in floral centerpiece of orchid and yellow gladiolus, on an aqua linen cloth. Gold punch was served from the crystal service and dainty cakes in pastels with a "peanut" favor, a prelude to the evening's theme. A huge sign informed the group they were visiting "Gooberville," Texas.

Mrs. Maxine Creel played softly a number of love songs as refreshments were served. Each acting hostess, and girls on the program wore clever peanut corsages.

Mrs. Fred Fewin welcomed everyone to "Gooberville," Texas, a giddy metropolis—full of overflowing with people of great distinction and vivid imaginations.

Carol Benton and Jon Evans were introduced as Mr. and Mrs. Peanut, genial official hosts of Gooberville, and they sang "I Want a Play House With You", accompanied by Miss Butler. Miss Nathalie Foster sang the ever beautiful "Because of You", accompanied by Miss Butler.

The Goobier team: Audre Hubbard, Hugh Fewin, Mary Johnson, Thomas May, Shirlene and Ray Dean Hatcher, Judy Willingham and Donald Pemberton sang "Let Old Mother Nature Have Her Way" and

"Wedding Bells Are Breaking Up That Old Gang of Mine."

Carol crowned Sue (Douglas) Boyd of Gooberville as Jon presented a Navy "bean" box full of gifts to her as he stated this pretty little poem:
I crown you Queen of Gooberville.

Mrs. Peanut to be sure; We men don't even stand a chance against the feminine allure.

We really wish you happiness. But I just have to state, It's the old boys who pay the bills,

And I want to pad that stake. When Peanut sails back to Gooberville.

You'll have these gifts to show, The folks at home wish you kids well, And we want the world to know.

The Navy bean box seemed to be a magic box because the honoree was kept busy unwrapping the many beautiful gifts it contained, yet failing to get to the bottom of the box until an hour later.

C. M. Cantrell Honored With Birthday Dinner

C. M. Cantrell was honored with a birthday dinner Monday evening, March 24th. Mr. Cantrell was 80 years young. His son, Oscar Cantrell, who also has the same birthdate, was celebrating his 38th birthday.

Mrs. Vincent Lilly sang two lovely songs, accompanied by Mrs. Vernon Duke. Mrs. Curtis Smith of Wichita Falls gave two clever readings.

The gifts were presented to Miss Stewart in the form of a fashion show. The bridal dress, bridal bouquet, going away clothes and all other bridal accessories were fashioned from the numerous kitchen articles the guests had brought.

A delicious refreshment plate was served to the following: Misses Corrie Stewart, Nathalie Foster, Patricia Gee, Alice Millikin, Ruth Denton, Mary Johnson; Mesdames Vincent Lille, Rex Frye, Otis Stegall, Harley Evans, Robert Hinkle, Vernon Duke, T. Lynn Stewart, and the hostesses, Mrs. James Mason and Wylie Browning. San Angelo School Donates Money for Tidelands Fight

Students of Robert E. Lee Junior High School of San Angelo have contributed $30 in cash and their moral support to Texas' tidelands fight.

The check, together with information on how the school rallied to the cause, has been received by the Statewide Tidelands Committee, M. K. Weitzel, secretary, announced today.

The school campaign was sparked by a Texas history class, which distributed posters, put news stories in the school paper, distributed lapel tags, and otherwise publicized the tidelands issue.

Governor Allan Shivers wrote Principal Noble C. Smart a letter of appreciation for the school's contribution.

"It is such loyal support as this that makes me confident Texas will be ultimately victorious in regaining title to our submerged lands," Governor Shivers wrote.

Price Not Only Factor In Buying Your Baby Chicks

Results are the determining factors to consider when buying baby chicks.

The poultryman is vitally concerned with good libability, rapid growth, high egg production and large-size eggs.

As a general rule, it is advisable to buy baby chicks from a local hatcheryman because he is usually known personally. It must be remembered, though, the hatcheryman with whom you do business, must have a breeding and disease control program that will provide the desired quality chick.

As an example, some birds have the genetic ability to lay over 200 eggs per year, while others may lay only 120 to 140 eggs.

The hen laying the larger number of eggs requires the same housing space, the same amount of labor and only slightly more feed. Consequently, it is possible to realize a greater return from the higher producing birds with only a slightly higher investment in the cost of the chicks.

Obviously, price is not the chief factor when buying chicks. Wise poultrymen have mentioned time and again, because the cheaper chick may cost more in the long run by not producing the desired results.

Many times poultry raisers buy the right kind of chick to do the job, provide the best equipment and houses, then feed a good starting ration, but crowd them into a brooder house too small.

If any one phase of raising baby chicks were to be considered the most important factor, successful poultrymen would insist it is giving the chicks plenty of room.
